Washington, D. C.—The long expected note from the Sultan of Morocco asking the United States Government to participate in an international conference on the affairs of that country, which have brought about a crisis between France and Germany, has arrived at the State Department. The note came from United States Minister Gunniere, to whom it was handed several weeks ago when the Sultan made a formal announcement that he would not entertain the proposals which had been made by the French Government concerning the policy of the Moroccan Government. Mr. Gunniere made a translation of the note, which has long since reached the European Governments, and mailed it to the State Department.

No decision has been reached as to the course of the Government of the United States in the matter. The question was taken up at a Cabinet meeting and discussed thoroughly.

The German Emperor, through Baron Speck von Sternburg, the German Ambassador here, has urged the President to participate in the proposed conference. Germany contends that it will amicably settle the differences existing between the interested European powers, which have come very close to causing an open breach between the French and German Governments. President Roosevelt has deeply interested himself in the matter and has conferred with the diplomatic representatives of Germany, France and Great Britain many times within the past few weeks.

The course of this Government will be guided to a great extent by the attitude of the Powers which are more deeply interested in Morocco than this country. The United States has practically no commercial interests in Morocco, and there is nothing at stake as far as this country is concerned, but as one of the Powers the United States Government is expected to, and probably will, if it can do so without offense to the German press. The State Department has been informed that the Italian and Austrian Governments will take part in the conference if the other Powers unanimously consent to do so.

Government officers and diplomats here have watched the impending crisis between France and Germany with the greatest of interest and no little anxiety. All of the Powers of the world have been urged by Germany, the prime mover in the proposed plan, to enter into the conference. Thus far France has refused to accede, so far as is officially known, although dispatches from Paris indicate that the French Government has given its consent to the conference.

If Germany and France reach a settlement there will be nothing to prevent the United States Government's acceptance of the invitation of the Sultan of Morocco. While the invitation itself comes from the Sultan, it is well known here that the conference is a German scheme, but it is not expected that this will stand in the way of a favorable action on the part of this Government if the President decides that this Government should enter the international meeting.

Paris, France.—It is considered here that the German press is assuming too much. It is believed that the conference is being hurriedly that everything is running optimistically in the Morocco affair. As yet France has actually accepted nothing. The conversations between the representatives of the two Powers are continuing satisfactorily, but it would be premature to think that definite conclusions have been reached.

The Government was interrogated about the Morocco situation in the Chamber of Deputies.

Commenting upon the situation the Figaro says that the announcement that Great Britain may accept the invitation to take part in the international conference here that the conference is a German scheme. There could not be a better indication of the favorable course of affairs.</

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbianna Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., June 29, 05

Telephone No. 17.

The summer school at the State University is having a large attendance.

Home grown watermelons have made their appearance in South Alabama. U-m-m-m-h!

Mr. Comer says "it's a no such a thing; I did not say I wasn't a candidate for Governor." It is up to the Birmingham Ledger which sprung the story.

The Federal government is hot foot after mormons in Arizona who are living in polygamy. In Utah, however, they are doing things in the same old way.

The people will be glad of an opportunity to vote for two members of the railroad commission. They are dead tired of the Tunstall dynasty and would be rid of it.

Colonel Bankhead serves notice on Captain Hobson that he is a candidate for reelection to congress from the Sixth District. He might have added—will be elected, too.

The president and Mr. Bowen are having a game of tit for tat. But Mr. Bowen got his walking papers, probably deservedly so. But he keeps on "telling things," however.

The Birmingham Ledger says it will have more to say of the "Comer story" when the proper time comes. That paper seems to have the railroad commissioner on the griddle.

Three copies of the Tuscaloosa Times-Gazette comes to The Sentinel. Editor Tom Garner is making a good paper, but, Tom, we don't have the time to read more than one copy each week.

The Tuskegee News says "the Montevallo school is as much of a monument to Miss Julia Tutwiler as it is possible to make it the monument of any one." Some time and somewhere we have heard that Sol Bloch claimed all the glory attached to it.

Jerry Simpson, the one time populist god of sockless fame, pronounces the populist party "officially dead." He says prosperity has been the undoing of that party. As Simpson made his pile while a representative of the populist party in congress, he is not now afraid to talk out in meetin'.

The Sentinel believes that the excursions by Alabama railways for the negro element should be curtailed. We doubt if ever there was an excursion of that kind that bad whisky and the bad negro with a gun did not have a mix up with other negroes loaded with bad whisky. Some conductors refuse to take out a train of that kind. Don't blame them.

Municipal Ownership Impossible.

Mr. Dalrymple, who successfully manages the Glasgow car line, was summoned to Chicago by Mayor Dunne, and he is telling the people in the northwest many plain truths. He tells them that in the management of car lines a profit can readily be turned into a loss, and if the business of car lines is conducted on political lines failure is inevitable. "It is," he added, "dangerous work, and if Cleveland or any other city, takes over the lines and does not manage them in the most economical way it will rue the day it did it." He went on to say: "In Glasgow we have no politics as regards municipal matters. I doubt if I could tell you the politics of any member of our city council."

Such talk as this upsets in this country the entire municipal ownership idea, for no one will claim that politics can be kept out of any branch of an American city government. Municipal operation in this country would be based on politics, and until municipal politics is fairly revolutionized cities in this country can not do what Glasgow is doing. It is a long road to the purification of municipal politics in this country. It means a course of education.

Municipalization has received a black eye at the hands of the expert called here to point the way to its establishment. He sees, in short, that the situation shuts the Glasgow plans out. They are feasible in Glasgow, but absolutely impracticable here, because our city governments are politically rotten.

A city that cannot see its way clear to the utter elimination of all political influence in street railways should never even consider municipalization, for it would bring trouble and disaster only. No cities are so corrupt as American cities, and Mr. Dalrymple sees the situation, and he does not hesitate to speak his mind openly and frankly.—Age-Herald.

Oh, Jerry, How Could You!

In the palmy days of populism and calamity Kansas was a great culture bed for populist orators and agitators. In fact, it was the favorite place for calamity howlers and freak politicians of all kinds. But these days are no more. Populism is officially pronounced dead in Kansas. Jerry Simpson, one of the products of that party, has declared as much. Simpson, in making his declaration, explains the demise of populism in the following language:

"The erstwhile down-trodden farmer of Kansas, according to the latest report of the state bank commissioner, has over $100,000,000 in the bank—more than he ever had before. The state is crying out for 40,000 men to harvest a bumper wheat crop. New developments in the oil and gas fields are attracting home and outside capital in almost unlimited quantities, despite the unsettled conditions due to the struggle with the Standard. The coal, lead and zinc mines are being profitably worked on a large scale. The output of corn and of the side issues of Kansas farming—hay, potatoes, garden truck, poultry, eggs, butter and milk—is steadily increasing. It is not long since the Kansas farmer was struggling to pay off the mortgage on the old home. Now he is a money lender, an investor in mines and railroads and oil wells, a bloated bondholder. What he once wanted the government to own he now wants to own, himself. Populism and prosperity are inveterate foes. Populism is dead in Kansas."

Populism was a product of hard times. It was a calamity party strictly, and with the passing away of calamity the populist party has also "cashed in" not only in Kansas but throughout the nation. Here's hoping there will never be cause to resurrect the party of Jerry Simpson and Mrs. Lease.—Birmingham News.

The editor of The Sentinel has received a telegram stating that Sylacauga has withdrawn her invitation to the Press Association. The annual meeting will probably be held at Codon, on the coast near Mobile.

Our Congressmen.

Several weeks ago Collier's Weekly, a paper that is careful, and does not often go wrong, charged that several Alabama congressmen dodged the vote on the mileage bill in the last days of the last session of congress. The charge was absolutely without foundation. The record was clear and none of the congressmen chose to defend themselves until last week, when Mr. Wiley, of the second district, called the attention of Collier's to the false charge, and that paper retracted it very cheerfully as all good papers do when they get into error.

The facts were plain, and the record of congress is perfectly clear. Mr. Wiley, Mr. Bankhead and other Alabama congressmen were paired against the bill, and when their names were called on the final vote they were present and answered "present," instead of voting, that being the accepted form of procedure when a congressman is paired.

Tom Watson has proceeded to abuse the Alabama congressmen in his own vigorous style for dodging when he knew, or could have known by reading the Record, or asking a question, that no Alabama congressman dodged—not one.

This is not a matter for debate. It is a plain case and any one has the right to read the Record, and the right to ask questions of the clerk of congress and see how many members voted on any question. A congressman's acts are all on record.

Mr. Wiley simply demanded justice and got it.—Ledger.

Programme.

The third quarterly meeting of the Boat Association of boats 8, 11, and 14 will meet at Mt. Chapel church, Sunday, July 16, 1905, 10 o'clock, a. m.

Music and devotional exercises, David Farr.

10:30. The Sunday school as an educational force, J. J. Haynes.

11:00. Child training the hope of the world, Rev. J. G. Walker and Henry Milner.

Adjournment for dinner. 1:30, p. m. Discussion—How long would you retain or class roll the names of scholars who are absent without a cause? Opened by J. W. Johnston.

The supreme need of Sunday school in the rural district, Charlie Walton, J. E. Adams.

Miscellaneous business.

Closing.

ROBT. EVANS,
AUGUSTA FARRELL,
Committee.

WILSONVILLE.

Taliaferro Taylor, of your city, was in our town Sunday.

Gurnett Kytte, of Mississippi, is visiting his father's family.

Jim Kimbrough, of the Southern bridge crew, is at home for a few days.

Will and Johnnie Gwin, of Maplesville, are visiting homefolks for a few days.

Clude Collins, of Birmingham, is visiting the family of J. F. Pope for a few days.

We are sorry to hear that Miss Sallie Elam is quite sick, and hope she will soon be out again.

Prof. Walter Murphv, of the Marion Military Institute, visited the family of J. F. Pope, Friday.

Miss Birdie Kytte gave a birthday party last Friday night in honor of her sixteenth birthday, which proved to be a very pleasant occasion.

We regret to learn that Miss Mary Burgess, cousin of Mrs. Iris E. Taylor, is sick at the Drummers Home. Hope she will be up again in a very short time.

Mrs. Elam chaperoned a crowd of young ladies on a fishing trip one day last week. They all report a very fine time; say they had all the fish they could eat at dinner.

Mrs. Allison, of Cullman, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. J. H. Robinson, who has been on the sick list for the past month. We are glad to learn she is better and hope she will soon be out again.

Racian Riddle, of Fourmile, visited Saturday night and Sunday with his mother, who is not doing well. We are sorry to hear she is worse than she has been for several weeks.

Mrs. G. W. McGowan was called to the bedside of her brother in Oxford the first of last week, who was dangerously ill. We regret to learn that he (Mr. Privett) is no better and no hopes of his recovery.

We are still having very hot, dry weather. We are beginning to suffer for rain. The crops look remarkably well so far, considering the dry weather, but they have reached the point now to suffer greatly if we do not get rain in a few days.

We had the pleasure of shaking hands with your townsmen, Jim White and Henry Milner, one morning last week as they passed through our city on their way to Coosa river or Yellow Leaf creek, fishing. We do not know what kind of success they had, but Mr. White promised to leave a few fish in the river for us.

Mrs. W. R. Self and daughter and son, have returned to their home in Meridian, after having visited in our community for the past two weeks. Miss Sue Self accompanied Mrs. Self home where she will visit the families of W. R. and N. H. Self in Mississippi, and also her brother, Marvin Self, at Oakman, Ala. She will be gone several weeks.

Wilsonville is on a big boom but few people know it so far. In passing up Main street just keep your eye to the left side of the street, and after you have passed several blocks, you will behold a regular barber shop with chair and fixtures for you to step in and get a good shave and a neat hair cut. This establishment is operated by our pleasant and accommodating friend, Benton Lyon.

The Brother Woodmen of the World, together with the many friends of Prof. Walter A. Speer in our community, will be much gratified to hear that the W. O. W. fraternity has, some time ago, settled the amount of his insurance and have also erected a very handsome monument over his grave. The monument represents a full grown tree blighted in its prime, and I am told is a beautiful piece of work. Surely none could be more deserving of this than he, for Prof. Speer was indeed a noble young man of unspotted christian character. A dutiful son, a true brother, a loving husband, a kind and tender father, loyal to the principals of right against wrong, a pleasant neighbor, a true democrat, a consistent member of the Methodist church, a perfect gentleman, cultivated and refined. In fact a more perfect man has not been permitted to press his foot upon the green carpet of earth that spreads out beneath the blue canopy of heaven than he. We cannot understand the mysteries of God. Why was such an one chosen while just in the prime of life? But we bow in humble submission to His holy will. Peace to thine ashes, our dearly beloved brother. Remembrance of thee will be fresh and sweet so long as we live. Rip Van Winkle.

Subscribe for The Sentinel; the newspaper of Shelby county.

HARPERSVILLE.

Our mill was crowded Saturday. This has been a hard year on the farmers.

There is some sickness in our community.

The war between the farmers and King Crab is still on.

The Farmers' Union met at Wheeler's Chapel Saturday evening.

Mr. Birchfield, of Arkansas, is visiting his sister, Mrs. H. E. Florey.

Mr. Hood and wife, of Georgia, are visiting E. V. Caldwell and family.

Miss Lena Ray has returned from Newton, where she has been attending school.

Miss Stella Posey has gone to Knoxville, Tenn., to attend the summer school for teachers.

Prof. Crumley and wife were called to Birmingham last week by the death of Prof. Crumley's mother.

Well, say; what has become of the railroad which was to have run from somewhere in Georgia to Birmingham via Harpersville? Please hurry it up.

Prof. Florey and Miss Stella Posey have been unanimously elected to teach school here another year, and we are glad to state that both have accepted and the school will begin the first of October.

—Jake.

WELDON.

Too late for last week.

W. J. Sewel is in Birmingham on business.

Union Gill transacted business up at Vincent one day last week.

Mrs. Isaac Perryman is very ill at this writing. We wish for her a speedy recovery.

Several of the young people from Fourmile attended divine worship at Union last Sunday.

F. M. Blackerby and wife, of Wilsonville, spent Sunday here with Mrs. Blackerby's parents.

The singing at the residence of J. S. Walton Saturday night was a grand occasion and enjoyed by all.

Such a large crowd was at Union Sunday it would take us a week to tell who was there and who was not.

Mrs. J. T. Bozeman and children, of Birmingham, are visiting Mrs. Bozeman's parents in our community.

We learn that a party of young ladies are down from Birmingham, guests at the J. T. Robinson home at Oakdale.

Rev. B. C. Hughes preached for the good people of Providence church near Creswell Saturday and Sunday.

J. H. Lybrand, the popular postmaster of Creswell, attended divine worship at Union last Sunday. Come again, Bro. Lybrand.

Why don't some energetic teacher make up a school at Union this summer? The junior member of The Weldon News Co. wants to go.

A Mr. Birchfield, of Texas and Louisiana, was in our community last week visiting old friends. We understand he will make his home at Harpersville.

W. E. Lester and brother Roy, of Lester's Chapel, were in our town on business, Friday. Come again, gentlemen; we are always glad to have you with us.

W. S. Walton has accepted a position with W. T. Ray, the shingle manufacturer, as teamster. We learn that Warren and his charming bride will move to our town.

A very pretty wedding occurred from the residence of Rev. B. C. Hughes, Sunday morning, June 11th, the contracting parties being J. S. Rosco and Miss Eunice Adams. The groom is well known, having been reared here, and is to be congratulated on winning such a beautiful and attractive young lady as Miss Eunice. He is a sober, christian gentleman and is held in high esteem by our people. The bride is one of our most popular girls, and to know her was to love her. We wish for the couple much happiness through life, and may every blessing that God can give bring joy and happiness to them. Rev. B. C. Hughes performed the ceremony.

Cures Old Sores.

Westmoreland, Kans. May 5, 1902: Ballard, Snow Liniment Co., Your Snow Liniment cured an old sore on the side of my chin that was supposed to be a cancer. The sore was stubborn and would not yield to treatment, until I tried Snow Liniment, which did the work in short order. My sister, Mrs. Sophia J. Carson, Allensville, Mifflin county, Pa., has a sore and mistrusts that it is a cancer. Please send her a 50c. bottle. Sold by Williams Bros.

Something good for Columbiana is brewing.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Ladies

We cordially invite you to call and see the pretty line of Lawns which we are now showing.

SLIPPERS,

The kind you have been looking for, and the prices are just right.

STRAW HATS

In the latest styles, and prices to suit you.

WIRE FENCING===

The Elwood brand; you know it is the best. We have it, you need it.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

G. B. WALKER,

Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,

DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, - - - ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phons No. 47.

W. A. PARKER'S

LIVERY, FEED,
—AND—
SALE STABLES.
COLUMBIANA - - - ALA.

While others are talking about their candidacy for Governor, Dr. (next Governor) Cunningham is talking to the school boys and girls.

Livery, Feed and Sale Stables,

S. & L. FRIEDBERGER, Proprietors.
(Successors to E. W. Burt.)
H. M. NORMIS, Manager.

Good Horses, Good Carriages, Careful Drivers.

Your Patronage is Solicited.

Telephone 16. - - - - - Bus Meets All Trains.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana: Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
May 18, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 36,644 83	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000 00
Overdrafts..... 104 30	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 1,015 54
Banking house..... 5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check..... 36,820 28
Furniture and fixtures..... 2,000 00	Time deposits..... 923 48
Other real estate..... 3,000 00	Cashier's checks..... 38 31
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 8,225 54	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 19,496 35
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,521 07
Currency..... 5,311 00
Gold..... 637 50
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 1,900 00
Checks and cash items..... 4,388 80
Total..... $ 72,932 54	Total..... $ 72,932 54

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books in his said Bank.

W. L. FARLEY, Cashier.
Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 18th day of May, 1905.
JOHN B. DYKE,
Circuit Clerk.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

THE BICYCLE

YOU'RE LOOKING FOR.

FRESH MEAT

TWICE EACH WEEK.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months.....50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

The Commissioners were in session last Friday and Saturday.

A Sunday school picnic is one of the possibilities of the near future.

Dr. Oliver was re-elected mayor of Calera by a majority of one vote.

Now we hear of another wedding or two—to be at no distant day.

Matrimony has cut quite a swath in the membership of the Sans Souci Club.

And wasn't that a rain last Thursday night? Whew! It was needed badly, too.

The days are growing shorter. Last Thursday was the longest day in the year.

Mrs. Jas. A. MacKnight, of Shelby Springs, was in town shopping last Wednesday.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams visited in Columbiana over last Wednesday night.

J. W. Bandy, the Montevallo druggist, was in town last Wednesday and Thursday.

Henry Norris and Amos Elliott were in Birmingham last Friday looking for some horse flesh.

Corn has been suffering for rain, but the downpour of last Thursday night gave it a new lease on life.

Earnest Hendrick, of Montevallo, has been assisting the Latham brothers in the drug store for the past week.

If you would get the best service from your home paper, do not be niggardly in showing your appreciation.

A little tot stopped us on the street the other day, and said: "Did you know Buster Brown Dowell had a tooth?"

A fine catch of fish were being hawked on the streets last Wednesday. They sold readily at ten cents a pound.

There will be preaching at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and night by the pastor. All are invited.

Columbiana has won three out of four games played with Coal City and played the fifth game to a tie. Pretty good playing, yes!

Mrs. W. F. Davis visited with friends in Montevallo a day or two last week, while Mr. Davis took in the ball game in Talladega.

There is some talk of organizing a military company in Columbiana with J. W. Johnston as captain. Pretty good idea if it can be done.

With two printing offices in town it is a little strange that a business man will send away from home for his job work. That is a good way, not to build up, but to tear down a town.

W. W. Wallace attended a german given to June brides in Anniston one night last week. He reports one of the most pleasant times of his life.

Solicitor Borden H. Burr umpired the ball games at Talladega last week, and our boys say he is all right. Back talk cut no figure in his decisions.

Onnie Saxon has been in the employ of The Sentinel less than a month, but long enough for us to know he has the making of a fine printer in him.

If you want job work that will please you, leave your order at The Sentinel office. We have just received a lot of new job type—the latest designs.

There is nothing necessary to a town's progress and solid development that cannot be obtained by a united and persistent effort on the part of its citizens.

In the first game between Coal City and Columbiana at Talladega last week, not one of the Coal City boys was able to reach second base. 'Twas a clean shut out.

Another street fair is headed this way. It is possible the familiar cry of "See Pearl, the fat girl," will again be heard in this ball-wick. Let us hope not.

Commissioner R. B. Posey brought to The Sentinel office last Friday the first cotton bloom reported this season. He plucked it on the 20th of this month.

Sam Wallace, is having a little vacation from his duties as express messenger, and has been spending it in Columbiana with his brother, W. W. Wallace. He returned to Selma Sunday.

Mrs. Simon Friedberger and children, who have been visiting at their old home in Wilcox county, have returned home, and that wee begone look on Simon's face has taken wings.

Mrs. John S. Pitts and children returned from Vincent, Wednesday, where they had been on a short visit with relatives. Miss Mary Kidd returned with Mrs. Pitts and will be her guest for a while.

The editor of The Sentinel attended a meeting of the executive committee of the Alabama Press Association Birmingham last Friday. Matters of importance in connection with the annual meeting in Sylacauga were up for consideration.

The Mountain Home says the pitching of Harry Roberts won the first game from the Coal City team last week. Well, Harry "do pitch some." He pitched nineteen innings in the two games played, and Coal City got but four hits on him in all that time.

E. W. Chapman, who moved to Montevallo a number of years ago with his family, returned to Columbiana last week and will live in the residence of Dr. Hamner. The people of Columbiana welcome Mr. Chapman and family back to their former home.

A runaway horse created a little excitement in town last Thursday. He started at the cemetery, side-stepped over by the L. & N. depot, ran up Main street, then out to the Southern depot, and then back to town where it stopped of its own accord in the rear of Friedbergers' store.

With attorney W. W. Wallace, the editor of The Sentinel drove to Shelby Springs last Sunday and spent a portion of the day there. It is delightfully cool down there during this heated spell, and the visitors and guests are enjoying themselves to their hearts' content. Manager J. A. MacKnight has made some decided improvements since the Springs have come into his charge, and he is putting forth every effort to make his guests comfortable. There are about forty visitors at Shelby Springs now, among them being Senator Pottus and a party from Selma. Next month the crowd will enlarge to a considerable extent by parties from several points in South Alabama. There is no more delightful place in the South to spend a vacation than at Shelby Springs.

At four o'clock, on the afternoon of Thursday, July 13th, Miss Louisa Alma Wilson of this city, will be married to Mr. William Samuel Hyatt, of Talladega, the ceremony to take place from the Methodist church in Columbiana. Invitations have been issued to out of town friends, and a cordial invitation is extended the friends of the prospective bride and groom in this city to be present at the ceremony.

Jac. S. Pitts, who has been making a tour through Texas for the past two weeks, returned home last Saturday. During his trip he visited Galveston and says the sea wall which has been built about that city to guard against a recurrence of the great disaster of a few years ago, is a sight to see, and that by filling in the city is being raised to a level with the sea wall.

We believe if the council will do a little "log rolling" with the Southern enough chert can be secured, free of cost, to cover Main street and thus solve the dust problem without the hand sprinkler. What has been done once surely can be done again. Montevallo got the chert simply by asking for it.

O. O. Bird, who has been an assistant in the circuit clerk's office for the past several months, will leave this week for the State University where he will take a course in law preparatory to the Junior examination.

Rev. John Milner, who is preaching in Roswell, Ga., came home for a short vacation last Friday, having been called here by the continued and serious illness of Mrs. Ellie Christian's little daughter.

Miss Essie Mason entertained a few friends last Wednesday night and those who were in attendance report a delightful time. Miss Essie is a pleasing entertainer.

Miss Alma Bell, one of Lineville's most charming and talented young women, is in the city a guest for a few weeks of her sister, Mrs. John J. Haynes.

The only sure way for a town to get anything it goes after, is for its citizenship to stand solidly together on every question affecting the general good.

The weather of the past week or more has been of the scorching kind. Palm leaf fans have been in demand.

Geo. E. Mason came in off the road last Saturday for an over Sunday visit with his family.

Last Thursday was the longest day in the year.

Practice Games, Eh?

Editor Doster, scouting defeat for his ball team, hiked out to the National Editorial Association meeting and left his boys to fight it out alone. Doster, however, has been a good friend to the Prattville team.—Columbian Sentinel.

It was understood with the Prattville boys that the first games with the Shelby boys would only be practice games, as our neighbors would need considerable encouragement in their first efforts on an Antigua diamond. Just wait till the next games, and Bro. Whitaker will hie away to some summer resort to mop the perspiration of impending defeat from his brow. However, the Shelby boys are most excellent players, and while here, both by their good playing qualities and gentlemanly demeanor, won the admiration and respect of the Prattville people.—Prattville Progress.

Only practice games, eh! That's good. But the result shows that the Prattville boys need to practice, and to keep on practicing if they hope to ever win from the Columbiana boys. As for making a get-away to a summer resort when the next games are played: Guess again, brother. We are not a quitter. We'll stay right here and help to give the Prattville boys as good a time, if possible, as was given our team in Prattville. Cut out the practice story; when your team wins from Columbiana you will have won the amateur championship of the State.

One, and a Tie.

According to schedule, Columbiana and Coal City crossed bats on the local diamond on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons. They are both excellent local teams, had met in other local contests and played in Talladega to settle who's who.

That question is hardly settled yet, for so closely are they matched that it's anybody's game only after a real hot contest. Columbiana got a little start on Coal City, however, on Tuesday and got in three runs early in the game, and managed to hold down their competitors, who ended the ninth inning with three men on bases. One good hit, might have changed the result, but it did not materialize.

The second game was even more spirited, it being nick and tuck until Coal City was tied in the fifth inning, the score then being 5 to 5. Then came good and almost errorless ball. Inning after inning was played until the fourteenth without changing the score. At the close of this inning the game was called because of darkness.

Borden Burr acted as umpire, and cleaner, better ball was never played in this city. Both teams acted splendidly; the rooting was almost half and half, and a good attendance, all felt that they had their full money's worth. An effort was made to get the teams remain over and play again Thursday, but many of the players had to leave and could not.—Come again, boys, and do so once more.—Talladega Reporter.

Will Editor Ward please tell us how many games a team must win to decide "who's who?" The Columbiana team has won from Coal City three of four games played with that team, and tied the fifth game. Friend Ward must have a curl in his glasses.

A Strange Case.

The Birmingham Ledger of last Thursday, says:

A strange case was that of Sam Perry, of Calais, Ala., which was forced upon local undertakers and others yesterday afternoon. A telephone message was received yesterday at noon by Geo. H. Green, a brother-in-law of Mr. Perry's, and a clerk in the store of J. B. Barriss & Company, at Woodlawn, stating that Perry had taken his life in the Metropolitan hotel, and that his body would be found in a room there. Mr. Green did not receive the message in person and its source could not be discovered.

The brother-in-law of the supposed suicide, immediately came to Birmingham accompanied by a friend. Upon inquiry they found that Mr. Perry was not at the Metropolitan hotel and had not been there. Green stated that he had seen him in Birmingham Saturday night, Perry having arrived late the afternoon. The brothers-in-law parted about 10:30 o'clock, Perry saying that he intend to go to his home on a midnight freight. A search of several hours yesterday afternoon failed to show any traces of the supposed dead man. The police and the sheriff's office were notified but no clue could be found. No local undertakers knew aught of the matter.

Finally Green accompanied by J. B. Sandifer of Woodlawn, went to the union passenger station in hope of finding where Perry had last been seen. Here they found the man, partially delirious but rational at intervals. He admitted having sent the message saying that he was dead but could give no reason for so doing. He was taken in charge by the relatives here preparatory to being sent to Calais. Calais is on the Central of Georgia railway, about thirty miles from here.

Clyde Reynolds, son of J. M. Reynolds, of Montevallo, died in that city last Saturday morning, and was buried Sunday. He had been sick for about two weeks with typhoid fever. Clyde was about 22 years old, a quiet, unobtrusive young man, and was well liked by all who knew him. The Sentinel joins with numerous friends in extending the deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

W. W. Carter has arrived in the city from Wilsonville, and is preparing to open a meat market in the Peters' building. Mr. Carter is a practical butcher, knows the business thoroughly and will give our people the best service possible.

Clarence Smith was down from Wilsonville a few hours, Monday.

Aldrich Mines Unionized.

Some time ago The Sentinel had an intimation that the Aldrich mines at Montevallo would change hands, and that the force of mines would be largely increased. It develops that our informant evidently knew what he was talking about.

We are informed that the union miners have signed a contract with the Montevallo Coal & Transportation company. President Flynn, for the miners, and President P. B. Thomas, one of the new purchasers of the mines, recently held a conference at Aldrich, and the above agreement was reached—that the mines, heretofore on the "open shop" plan, are to be unionized. It is thought that about three hundred men will be at work in these mines in a very short time.

The strike against the Montevallo company was entered into some three years ago, when W. F. Aldrich was sole owner. Since the acquisition of the property by Mr. Thomas and associates a new deal has been made.

All will be glad that the differences between the miners and the operators at Aldrich have been adjusted, for the property there is probably the most valuable coal property in the South.

Fourth of July Meeting.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana.

Please allow me space in your paper to invite everybody to the grand rally, public speaking and basket dinner at the Wright school house, in Beat 9, July 4, 1905. Messrs. A. P. Longshore and D. R. McMillen are especially invited to be present and address the people on any subject they may select (politics excepted).

The occasion is the third quarterly meeting of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, in Shelby county. July 4th and 5th the Hon. E. J. Cook, Secretary of the Alabama Division, and Mr. A. Morris, General Organizer, have promised to be present. Let's celebrate the anniversary of American Independence in a social gathering to the end that the boys and girls of old Shelby county who may soon assume the duties of life, may do so intelligently and with love for the farm and farm work.

Everybody invited with well filled baskets.

Respectfully,

HOSEA PEARSON,
Pres. E. E. and C. U. of A.
Farmer, Ala.

Howard Latham visited with relatives in Montevallo Sunday and Monday.

How long before our ball team will give us two or three games at home? It's up to you, boys.

Prof. S. Dowell, who is employed at Bessemer for a short time, came home Sunday night for a short visit.

John Farrell, who has been taking a post graduate course in Birmingham in stenography, has secured a good position with one of the best business firms in Montgomery at a salary of a thousand dollars a year.

Rev. C. W. O'Hara informs The Sentinel that the best review of a Sunday school lesson for the quarter he ever heard was at Bay Springs last Sunday—a compliment that we know the Bay Springs people will appreciate.

Officers Installed.

The following officers of the Masonic Lodge in this city have been elected for the ensuing year: F. M. Church, W. M.; C. T. Ackers, S. W.; J. T. Leeper, J. W.; L. E. Christian, Treas.; W. A. Abercrombie, Sec.; Henry Milner, S. D.; A. P. Longshore, J. D.; J. R. White, S. S.; J. H. Abercrombie, J. S.; Lewis Timmer, Tyler; H. M. Millstead, Chaplain.

The following officers were installed for the ensuing term at Shelby Lodge, No. 59, K. of P. last Monday night: A. P. Longshore, C. C.; S. Dowell, V. C.; C. T. Ackers, Prelate; A. S. Liles, M. of W.; O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.; Philip Erick, M. of E.; H. D. Latham, M. of A.; E. A. Saxon, I. G.; W. W. Wallace, O. G.

Pension Board to Meet.

President W. S. DuBose requests The Sentinel to say that the Pension Board of Shelby county will meet in Columbiana, on Monday July 3rd.

Notice to Teachers.

The State examination for teachers for Shelby county, will be held in Columbiana, July 3rd, 4th and 5th, 1905. All teachers who expect to take the examination must be present at 10, a. m., Monday, J. O. Dorocait, Supt. of Education.

Special Notice Shelby Co. Division.

You should remit your assessment of $1.15 for the first death claim to W. L. Farley, Secretary and Treasurer, of Columbiana, Ala., before June 27th, as the 30 days after notice of death will expire on that date.

T. A. LEATHERS,
Division Agent.

Acute Rheumatism.

Deep tearing or wrenching pains, occasioned by getting wet though; worse when at rest, or on first moving the limbs and in cold or damp weather, is cured quickly by Ballard's Snow Liniment. Oscar Oleson (Gibson City, Ill., writes, Feb. 16, 1902: "A year ago I was troubled with a pain in my back. It soon got so bad I could not bend over. One bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me." Sold by Williams Bros.

Dissolution. Notice.

The partnership heretofore existing between H. S. Latham, H. D. Latham and H. E. Latham is hereby dissolved by mutual consent, H. S. Latham selling his interest to H. D. and H. E. Latham who assume all liabilities and to whom all accounts are payable. H. S. LATHAM.

Have You a Cough?

A dose of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will relieve it. Have you a cough? Try it for whooping cough, for asthma, for consumption, for bronchitis. Mrs. Joe McGrath, 327 E. 1st Street, Hutchinson, Kans., writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for 5 years, and find it the most palatable medicine I ever used. Sold by Williams Bros.

Summer School Knoxville, Tennessee, June 20-July 26.

A record of the above occasion, Southern Railway will sell tickets to Knoxville, Tenn., at the very low rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip. Tickets will be sold June 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st and 22nd; also July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, with final limit returning fifteen days from date of sale. A full extension until sent, such may be obtained by depositing ticket with Joint Agent and paying a fee of 50 cents. For further information and tickets apply to any Southern Railway Agent or write to J. M. Harrison, District Passenger Agent, Birmingham, Ala.

Notice! Notice!!

All persons holding receipts for cotton in the Columbiana Ware House are requested to bring in same at once and give us their names.

Columbiana Mercantile Co.

That Tired Feeling.

If you are languid, depressed, incapable for work, if indicates that your liver is out of order. Use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, it restores the energies and vitality of sound and perfect health. J. J. Hubbard Temple, Texas, writes: "I have used Chamberlain for the past two years. It has done me more good than all the doctors. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever." 50 cts. Sold by Williams Bros.

For Sale.

The Columbiana Land Co. has the following property for sale, but the prices quoted will only hold good for only a short time:

Good six-room house and one acre of ground in Montevallo; good location, convenient to the Girl's Industrial School, price $750.

Sixty acres (30 acres cleared) one mile north of Columbiana. Part of east half of southwest quarter, and part of west half of southwest quarter, section 11, township 21, range 1 west. Valued at $10.00 per acre; one-third cash, balance on time.

A 5-room dwelling house, near school house in Columbiana, with one acre and a half of land attached, including garden and orchard. Will sell or rent at a bargain.

For Sale.

One 35-horse power boiler.
One 25-horse power Taylor and Chandler engine and sawmill.
One Champion planer No. 1.
Will sell on reasonable terms.
M. L. GELMAN,
Columbiana, Ala.

Opportunities in California

The trade in the Orient is opening up. Our exports to Japan and China multiplied during the last year.

There will soon be a tremendous increase in the trade of the Pacific Coast cities with the Far East.

Big opportunities for the man who lives there. Why not look the field over?

Only $62.50, Chicago to San Francisco or Los Angeles and return, May 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 29, 30, 31, June 1, August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14, 1905. Tickets good for return for 90 days.

Rate for a double berth in a comfortable tourist sleeper from Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and many other points in California, only $7. Through train service from Union Passenger Station, Chicago, via the

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul,

Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line

This is the route of The Overland Limited, leaving Union Passenger Station, Chicago, 6.05 p. m.; and The California Express at 10.25 p. m. The California Express carries tourist sleeping cars to California every day. Both trains carry through standard sleepers.

Complete information sent free on receipt of coupon with blank lines filled.

W. S. HOWELL,
Gen'l Eastern Agent, 381 Broadway,
NEW YORK CITY,

or

F. A. MILLER,
General Passenger Agent,
CHICAGO.

Name	_____
Street address	_____
City	_____ State _____
Probable destination	_____

SPORTING BREVETTES.

F. R. Alexander won the Metropolitan lawn tennis championship in singles.

In the French team for the Vauderbilt Cup race there will be no Panhard cars.

Mr. Harry S. Page won both steeplechases at the Country Club meeting at Brookline, Mass.

New York cricketers defeated their rivals from Bermuda by 164 runs with an innings to spare.

The German schooner Susanne won the annual race from Dover to Heligoland for the German Emperor's Cup.

Bryn Mawr defeated the Philadelphia Country Club in the second game for the Goughnash Cup by a score of eight to three and a half goals.

Mrs. C. T. Stout defeated Miss Gertrude Travers by three up and one to play in the final for the women's metropolitan golf championship at Baltimor.

Murray Olympian, Jr., and "Jack" Hobans finished nine up on P. O. Reinhardt and George Low in a thirty-six hole best ball golf match at Englewood, N. J.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT.

John Redmond was recently received by the Pope.

Charles Edward Munnice is the inventor of smokeless powder.

Count von Lewenhaupt, a Swedish nobleman, has set up as a professional masseur.

Father Albert Negahue is said to be the first all-black Indian priest in the United States.

Colonel Stephen N. Winslow has been connected with the Philadelphia Inquirer for sixty-three years.

The Rev. Courtland Meyers, of Brooklyn, N. Y., has practically broken up policy playing in that city.

James Henry Smith, the New York millionaire, talks so little in business or society that he is known as "Silent Jim."

James Stillman, the New York banker, has given $100,000 to establish prizes for the School of Fine Arts in Paris, France.

The chief scout in the Mikado's army in Manchuria is a Canadian, Lieutenant Thomas Casey Callaghan, who won his military title in the Boer war.

Professor Mark Bailey, who recently resigned from the faculty of Yale University, may be entitled to the first pension under the $10,000,000 Carnegie fund.

Slg. Puccini has induced Slgs. Glacosa and Illisa to write a libretto for an opera based on the life of Queen Marie Antoinette, for which he will write the music.

Slr Clements R. Markham, who has just retired from the presidency of the British Royal Geographical Society, began life as a midshipman in the old days of sailing ships.

Hiram Maxim, on being asked how he came to think of the idea of an automatic gun, said that it was kicked into him at the end of the Civil War after firing an old-fashioned Springfield rifle.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect November 6, 1904.

No. 22	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	W. Mobile	10:55pm	10:00am
1:30am	1:30pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	6:20pm
6:30am	10:00pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
9:40am	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:40pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am
9:15pm	Ar. Asheville	1:15pm
1:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00am
4:50am	Ar. Norfolk	5:00am
12:40pm	Ar. N. York	2:20pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham. Birmingham and New York City serve meals en route.

No. 22	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	W. Mobile	10:55pm	10:00am
1:30am	1:30pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	6:20pm
6:30am	10:00pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
9:40am	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:40pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am
9:15pm	Ar. Asheville	1:15pm
1:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00am
4:50am	Ar. Norfolk	5:00am
12:40pm	Ar. N. York	2:20pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham. Birmingham and New York City serve meals en route.

No. 22	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	W. Mobile	10:55pm	10:00am
1:30am	1:30pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	6:20pm
6:30am	10:00pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
9:40am	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:40pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am
9:15pm	Ar. Asheville	1:15pm
1:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00am
4:50am	Ar. Norfolk	5:00am
12:40pm	Ar. N. York	2:20pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham. Birmingham and New York City serve meals en route.

No. 22	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	W. Mobile	10:55pm	10:00am
1:30am	1:30pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	6:20pm
6:30am	10:00pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
9:40am	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:40pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am
9:15pm	Ar. Asheville	1:15pm
1:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00am
4:50am	Ar. Norfolk	5:00am
12:40pm	Ar. N. York	2:20pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham. Birmingham and New York City serve meals en route.

No. 22	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	W. Mobile	10:55pm	10:00am
1:30am	1:30pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	6:20pm
6:30am	10:00pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
9:40am	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:40pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am
9:15pm	Ar. Asheville	1:15pm
1:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00am
4:50am	Ar. Norfolk	5:00am
12:40pm	Ar. N. York	2:20pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham. Birmingham and New York City serve meals en route.

No. 22	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	W. Mobile	10:55pm	10:00am
1:30am	1:30pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	6:20pm
6:30am	10:00pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
9:40am	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:40pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am
9:15pm	Ar. Asheville	1:15pm
1:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00am
4:50am	Ar. Norfolk	5:00am
12:40pm	Ar. N. York	2:20pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham. Birmingham and New York City serve meals en route.

No. 22	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	W. Mobile	10:55pm	10:00am
1:30am	1:30pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	6:20pm
6:30am	10:00pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
9:40am	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:40pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am
9:15pm	Ar. Asheville	1:15pm
1:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00am
4:50am	Ar. Norfolk	5:00am
12:40pm	Ar. N. York	2:20pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham. Birmingham and New York City serve meals en route.

No. 22	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	W. Mobile	10:55pm	10:00am
1:30am	1:30pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	6:20pm
6:30am	10:00pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
9:40am	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:30pm
1:40pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am
9:15pm	Ar. Asheville	1:15pm
1:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00am
4:50am	Ar. Norfolk	5:00am
12:40pm	Ar. N. York	2:20pm

MANUFACTURE OF CORKS.

Few Businesses in Which There Is So Much Waste as in It.

Cork, as most persons know, is the outer bark of an evergreen oak tree which grows in Spain, Portugal, Algeria, Morocco and to some extent in Italy. Its peculiar properties, especially its lightness and its compressibility, make it valuable for scores of purposes, but its original use, in the manufacture of corks, or stoppers for bottles, still consumes the greater part of all that is brought to market.

The cork oak varies in diameter from six inches to three feet. By a generous provision of nature the tree may be periodically stripped of its outer bark without losing its life.

Twenty years is the usual age at which the first cutting is made. After that the cork may be harvested about every ten years. The first cut, which is called virgin bark, is of little value, as it is coarse in texture and deeply seeded. The tree may be expected to live and yield cork until it is 150 years old.

In Spain and some other European countries corks are still made by hand, each one being pared from a square block by a common knife. In this country, where are made the finest corks in the world, the work is done by machinery, all of which is of American invention and manufacture. Every boy who has ever whittled a cork for a fishing "bob" or a popgun pellet knows how difficult the material is to cut smoothly. To do it well his knife must be as sharp as a razor and must be used with a drawing motion, not a mere pressure, and if the cork is wet, so much the better. The same difficulties confront the manufacturer by machinery, and are met in the same way.

The bark, after having been wet, and then allowed to remain for a time in damp cellars to soften, goes first to the stripping machines, which reduce it to slabs of a size proportionate to the corks to be made. These machines are merely small iron tables, through which appear very thin steel disks, like circular saws, except that they have no teeth. They are really keen edged steel knives, as thin as paper, and running at a high rate of speed, but so smoothly that they seem to the spectator to be standing still.

The little slabs or strips of cork go next to the "blockers." The cutters here are cylindrical steel punches, or tubes, with razor edges. They are arranged in rows or "gangs," and instead of being simply pressed through the cork, are also revolving at high speed, and so cut their way through. Having perforated the slab the cutters back away automatically, while plungers like pistons working in the cylinders come forward and punch out the corks, which, for some purposes, are already finished corks.

They are, of course, perfectly cylindrical, that is, without taper, and in that form they are preferred by bottlers of effervescent liquids because their shape enables them to better resist the pressure of the restrained gases.

But for the use of druggists, who are the great users of corks and need the very finest, a tapering stopper is preferred, and this necessitates another operation. The tapering machines are run mostly by young women. Each machine consists of a little lathe which centres the cylindrical cork automatically and then brings it into contact with the edge of the cutting knife, which, like the cutter of the slicing machine, is a very thin steel disk. As the cork touches this knife a thin shaving rises and curls away, light as a puff of smoke.

One who knows nothing of the machinery could see no reason for it, but during the second that the cork has been in contact with the apparently motionless disk some dozen yards of flying, razor-edged steel have been at work, and the cork is now a perfect truncated cone, with a fine, satin-like surface and an even and regular taper.

By hand a very rapid and skilful cutter can turn out twelve or fourteen gross in a day. With these machines one girl will produce 420 gross.

There are few businesses in which the quantity of waste material is so large as in the manufacture of corks. In the best managed factories it ranges from sixty to seventy per cent. But American ingenuity and industrial development have succeeded in transforming it into a source of profit. By grinding the waste to various degrees of fineness and pressing it with glue or shellac, into various shapes, it is made useful for the inner soles of shoes, for bathroom mats, for insulation in refrigerator plants and the deadening of sound in apartment houses, the making of bicycle handles and the grips of tennis rackets, fly rods and golf clubs, and there are dozens of other uses for the waste which are quite as interesting.

A few years ago one manufacturer of corks was paying a teamster a dollar a load to cart away his waste and dump it on a refuse heap. To-day he receives $60 a ton for the very cheapest quality of this waste. — Edward Williston Frenz, in Youth's Companion.

A Wonderful Western Railroad.

The Rock Island system of roads covers the West like a giant cobweb. On its perimeter the threads are anchored at New Orleans, Galveston, El Paso, Denver, Watertown, St. Paul, Chicago and Birmingham. Within the sweep of its arms lie nineteen States, with an aggregate area of 1,885,000 square miles; nearly forty per cent. of the entire area of the Union, and forty cities and towns with a population of more than 25,000 people.

In 1901 these nineteen States produced crop worth $220,000,000 out of a total for the country of $750,000,000, or eighty-three per cent. of the entire crop; and wheat worth $170,000,000, or forty-eight per cent. of the entire crop. — World's Work.

Everyone is Friendly.

"In all my daily walks and rides for miles here and in the streets of Tokio," says a traveler, "I never heard an offensive word applied to me, nor saw an unfriendly face. Nor in the quieter streets did I ever see what is so common in China, women and children darting in and bolting the doors on the approach of a foreigner. Even the dogs here are friendly and never bark at you."

ADDS TO SPLENDOR.

MAN OF BUSINESS RECOGNIZES ADVANTAGES OF ACETYLENE.

Famous Summer Hotel, the Grand Union of Saratoga, Has Installed This Best of All Artificial Lights—Means Increased Comfort and Health.

Saratoga, June 27.—The very name, "Saratoga," brings to every mind health-giving springs, unsurpassed hotels and beautiful drives. It has been for many years the Mecca for all who admire nature, enjoy good living, and are searching for health, or are simply taking a vacation.

The Grand Union, the largest summer hotel in the United States, set among green trees with its long wings enclosing a court with fountains and flowers, grass and trees, music and light, is throughout the season thronged with guests. With the progressive spirit always shown by its management, the Grand Union has again added to its attractiveness by introducing acetylene gas to make still more brilliant the evening hours. The genial proprietors believe in furnishing their guests with the best of everything, and now, after investigating and finding that Artificial Sunlight can be had, they have installed a complete acetylene gas plant to produce it, and have connected upwards of six thousand Acetylene burners in and about the plant.

Like many discoveries of recent years, which are coming into popular favor, acetylene, one of the most recent, is very simply produced. It is adapted for use wherever artificial light is needed and the necessary apparatus can be understood and operated by any one.

The generator in which Acetylene is produced by the automatic contact of carbide and water might be termed a gas plant, as it performs all of the functions of a city gas plant. The acetylene generator can be purchased for a few dollars and in any size, from one adapted to furnish acetylene to ten or a dozen burners for a cottage, up to the large but still simple machine such as is now furnishing Acetylene for six thousand burners in the Grand Union.

Outside of large cities the use of Acetylene is quite common. The owner of the country home now demands running water, gas and other conveniences which a few years ago were considered as luxuries, and acetylene gas has met his requirements and gives him a better and cheaper light than is ordinarily furnished in cities.

It is well known that rooms lighted with Acetylene are more comfortable, because cooler, and more healthful because the air is not vitiated.

Palma "Remembers the Maine." From the treaty of friendship and commerce signed between Great Britain and Cuba, the most favored nation clause has been expunged. President Palma being unwilling to grant Great Britain advantages in Cuban trade similar to those enjoyed by the United States.

Women Students in Germany. The number of women students at all German universities is rapidly increasing. At Bonn the female students have organized their own Society Hilaritas, which has been a success since the day it was started.

Ever Tried Coffee This Way? It is a well-known fact that even the best of housekeepers cannot make really good coffee without having the proper materials.

They will NEVER make it with coffee of doubtful origin, adulterated, unevenly blended, and possibly dirty coffee that has, perhaps, been mixed up with all kinds of other things on the counter.

But let them take a package of LION COFFEE—the purest and cleanest—and the brand universally used throughout the United States for over twenty-five years. Millions drink it daily, and get the best results it is capable of giving.

Try it once and you will never want to try any other brand of coffee.

HOW TO MAKE GOOD COFFEE. Use LION COFFEE, because to get best results you must use the best coffee.

Grind your LION COFFEE rather fine. Use a tablespoonful of each cup, and add extra for the pot. First mix it with a little cold water, enough to make a thick paste, and add white of an egg (if eggs are used as a settler), then follow one of the following rules:

1st—With boiling water—Add boiling water, and let it boil three minutes only. Add a little cold water and set aside five minutes to settle. Serve promptly.

2d—With cold water—Add your cold water to the paste and bring it to a boil. Then set aside, add a little cold water, and in five minutes it's ready to serve.

THREE DON'TS. Don't boil it too long.

Don't let it stand more than ten minutes before serving.

Don't use water that has been boiled before.

TWO WAYS TO SETTLE COFFEE.

1st—With eggs—Use part of the white of an egg, mix it with the ground LION COFFEE before boiling.

2d—With cold water instead of eggs. After boiling add a dash of cold water and set aside for eight or ten minutes, then serve through a strainer.

Automobile Artillery.

The Portuguese have adopted automobile traction for a new battery of four quick-firing howitzers of the Schneider Canon system of 150 millimeters. They were made at the Creusot works, France, and the motor is designed to draw all the four one behind the other, a load, that is to say, of about fourteen tons, at a speed of at least five and a half kilometers an hour for all slopes. The automobile besides carries five tons of munitions, etc., and the artillerymen, except four, who will sit on the guns. The motor will also draw the guns by cable up hills of a gradient of 12 per cent., after the practice in recent English maneuvers.

To Melt Old Russian Coins.

Old silver coinage to the amount of 2,400,000 pounds, which now lies in the St. Petersburg mint, is to be converted into ingots and exported to England to be exchanged into Russian currency for circulation in China.

The value of toys "made in Germany" yearly is more than $17,500,000.

By census the population of Rome, once mistress of the world, is 506,840.

Diamonds Falling From the Sky.

The Diabole meteorite contains small diamonds in fissures of the metal connected by cracks to the nucleus of sulphide of iron. It seemed likely, then, that sulphur has displaced the carbon from carbide of iron. The meteorite also contains phosphorus and silicon, which might intervene in the separation of carbon. By melting Swedish iron in an electric crucible and adding sulphide of iron, then plunging the crucible into cold water, Moissan obtained little diamonds. The cold water penetrating the carbon crucible cooled the iron towards its heart, where the liquid carbon solidified in the form of diamonds.

Diamonds obtained by adding sulphide of iron are like those made without it, but there are more of them. Diamonds made by addition of silicon are more irregular in form. The addition of phosphate of iron gave no diamonds. M. Moissan concludes that carbon, at ordinary pressure submitted to a high temperature, vaporizes and yields graphite, whereas carbon liquefied under a high pressure yields diamonds.

Treason Against Wagner.

Richard Wagner, the composer, was an ardent republican in 1849. In the archives of Dresden there has just been unearthed a document setting forth a case of high treason against the musician. He was accused of having written to a friend a letter proposing to turn Saxony into a republic. "But whom shall we make president?" he asked. "I see nobody competent for the office except our present sovereign, Frederick Augustus II." Frederick Augustus does not seem to have appreciated the humor of the suggestion that he should doff the crown and content himself with the dignity of a republican president. For this flash of unconscious fun, Wagner had to bolt to Switzerland.

School Children's Eyes.

An examination of 7,166 school children in New York in 1904 brought out the fact that 1,272, or 17 per cent., were suffering from defective eyesight of the worst kinds. If to this figure be added those suffering from less manifest defects, the percentage of defects interfering with study was 33 1-3. Eye strain has had reflex effects on the general health and often exists when not suspected by the hurried oculist. It is for school boards to consider whether the same tasks should be imposed on all pupils; whether pupils having defective vision, likely to prejudice health, should study as many ologies as those who have perfectly sound eyes; whether, in fact, at least one-half of the so-called studies should not be abolished.

Begging in London.

It is calculated that 4,000 persons make a living in London by begging and that their average income amounts to about 30 shillings a week or over $1,500,000 a year. Last year 1,925 persons were arrested for begging in the streets, of whom more than 1,500 were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from one week to three months. Many of these objects of charity were found in possession of sums of money and even of bank books showing very handsome deposits.

REDUCED RATES FOR 4TH OF JULY.

Tickets will be sold via Queen & Crescent Route at One and One-third fare for the round trip, minimum rate 50 cents, July 1, 2, 3 and 4, good returning July 8. Ask ticket agents for particulars.

Long Distance Telegraphy.

There is now direct telegraphic communication between Liverpool and Teheran, in Persia. The stretch of line in question is by far the longest in the world to be worked by single transmission, 4,000 miles of space being covered by a single operation of direct automatic Wheatstone working.

CELEBRATION, FOURTH OF JULY.

On account of the above occasion the Southern Railway will sell tickets at the very low rate of one and one-third fare for the round trip. Tickets will be sold until July 8th, 1905. For tickets and full information apply to any Southern Railway Agent.

J. N. HARRISON, District Pass. Agt.

Congressmen as Farmers.

Congressman Hull, of Iowa, and Congressman Wallisworth, of New York, jointly own a fine farm in Virginia a short distance down the river from Mount Vernon. Former Interstate Commerce Commissioner Yeomans, also of Iowa, was interested in the agricultural venture, but recently he has withdrawn, leaving his two partners to carry on the business. They have a comfortable residence fitted up there with electric lights and other fixings unknown to the ordinary farmer.

World's Richest Woman.

Signora Consino, of South America, is said to be the richest woman in the world. Her silver, copper and coal mines yield her $185

COMMISSION MEETS

They Hold a Meeting—a General Review of Isthmian Affairs.

CANAL TRUSTEES HAVE MET.

Much Important Business Transacted. Shonts and Stevens Will Soon Make a Visit.

Washington, D. C.—The Isthmian canal commission at a meeting which lasted practically all day reviewed and approved the reports of the bi-weekly meetings of the executive committee of the commission held since the last meeting of the full commission in April. Mr. Wallace was a member of the executive committee. Messrs. Haines and Harrod, of the commission, were delegated to go at once to the isthmus and make a careful review of the conditions of the work as they find it, and it is probable that Chairman Shonts and Mr. Stevens, the new chief engineer, will go to the isthmus at the same time, the sailing date being fixed at next Tuesday's meeting.

Chairman Shonts has called the temporary appointment of Engineer Dauchey as chief engineer on the isthmus until the arrival of Mr. Stevens. He has also called authority to the assistant superintendent of the Panama railroad to conduct the road until the arrival of Mr. Stevens.

The traffic agreement between the Panama railroad and the Pacific Mail Steamship Line, which expires July 12, according to the notice given by the government, will not interfere with the through billing of freight over that line to Pacific ports both in North and South America, as heretofore. While no agreement to this effect will be entered into between the government and the steamship line, an oral understanding has been received whereby the old arrangement is to continue, to be interrupted only on ninety days' notice from the steamship company. This arrangement was the outcome of an effort to have the United States agree to bill freight only to steamship lines having American register, there being no other American lines in the Pacific trade.

The two steamships, Havana and Mexico, purchased several days ago by Chairman Shonts from the Ward Line for $650,000 each, will be put into commission between New York and the isthmus at once. The boats are sixteen-knot vessels, and will establish a five days' service.

General Davis, recently appointed by the president as chairman of the advisory board of engineers of the commission, attended this meeting on the invitation of Chairman Shonts. With the visit of the engineering members of the commission to the isthmus with a view particularly to getting together all available data as to the engineering features of the work to be accomplished, the opinion was expressed by the commissioners that no delay because of the resignation of Mr. Wallace would be occasioned, either in carrying on the work on the isthmus or in preparing a plan by which the canal shall be constructed. The commission approved the recommendation of its engineering committee that all bids relative to the dredging of Colon harbor be rejected.

Continuing the Fight.

Montreal.—In the Gaynor-Greene case here Judge Outmet granted the accused the right to argue before him their application for the maintenance of a writ of habeas corpus. The United States claimed that such applications could only be made before a full court. Judge Outmet held, however, that he could hear it in chambers.

The defense announced that they had counsel on the way to England to appeal before the privy council from the supreme court's decision refusing the writ of prohibition asked for against Extradition Commissioner LaFontaine by counsel for Gaynor and Greene.

Boy Bitten by Dog.

Sheffield, Ala.—Eddie Jordan, the young son of Sanitary Officer Jordan, was badly bitten by a dog in East Sheffield while picking blackberries in a field near that portion of the city. The dog tore the flesh in the calf of his leg and above the right knee, inflicting a painful, if not dangerous, wound.

Want Pure Food Law.

Milwaukee, Wis.—The wholesale grocers of the United States, in convention, Saturday fully endorsed a resolution reported by the committee on resolutions favoring "a reasonable and fair national pure food law and one which the various states can to advantage endorse and enact into state law if desired."

Pepperman's Rise.

Washington, D. C.—A Montgomery young man who has had a creditable and unbroken rise in official life is W. Leon Pepperman. Mr. Pepperman has been made assistant chief officer of the administration of the Panama canal commission, with a salary of $3,000 a year.

Col. Clarence Edwards, being the chief until recently, Mr. Pepperman has been Colonel Edwards' assistant as chief of the bureau of insular affairs.

PACKERS INDICTED

Seventeen of the Big Companies Indicted—Statement of Miller, Their Counsel.

PROMINENT MEN TO ANSWER.

Violation of Anti-Trust Law and Illegal Rebating to Railroads Is Charged.

Chicago, Ill.—After an investigation which has lasted something over three months and during which more than 100 witnesses were examined, the federal grand jury Saturday afternoon handed down its report. Seventeen men prominent in the packing industries of the country were indicted for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law and four officials of the Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Company were indicted for alleged illegal rebating to the railroads. Besides these individual indictments bills were voted against five corporations—Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Nelson Morris & Co., Cudahy Packing Company and the Fairbanks Canning Company.

The men indicted for alleged conspiracy in restraint of trade, which constitutes violation of the Sherman act, are: J. Ogden Armour, Charles Armour, of Armour & Co.; Arthur Meeker, general manager for Armour & Co.; T. J. Connor, a director of Armour & Co.; P. A. Valentine, treasurer of Armour & Co.; Samuel McRoberts, assistant treasurer of Armour & Co.; Louis F. Swift, president of Swift & Co.; Charles Swift, of Swift & Co.; Lawrence A. Kaston, treasurer of Swift & Co.; Arthur F. Evans, attorney for Swift & Co.; R. C. McManus, attorney for Swift & Co.; Edward Cudahy, of Cudahy & Co.; D. C. Hartwell, secretary of Swift & Co.; Edward F. Morris, secretary of Nelson Morris & Co., and Ira W. Morris, of Nelson Morris & Co.

The four employees of Schwarzschild & Sulzberger Company who were indicted for alleged rebating with the railroads are all connected with the traffic department of the corporation. Their names are Samuel Weil, B. S. Cusey, C. E. Todd, V. D. Shipworth.

Indictments identical. The indictments voted for alleged violation of the anti-trust law were identical in each instance. The indictments contained each eight counts, which were spread over sixty-three typewritten pages.

The first and second counts in the indictments pertained only to beef sold in domestic trade.

The ninth and tenth counts relate to beef sold in foreign trade. The third count charges a conspiracy in restraint of trade and commerce among the states, and with foreign nations in fresh, dried, smoked, cured, canned and pickled meats and in certain by-products of the packing industry, viz: Sausage casings, sausage containers, oleo stock, tallow and oils and also in butter, eggs and poultry.

Third indictment—The supply of commodities was to be curtailed and restrained whenever necessary to maintain the prices so fixed.

Fourth—The United States was divided up into territories between the defendants and each was to keep its own territory without interference by the others.

Fifth—There was a division as to the volume of trade allowed to each defendant in a given market; if one packer sold more than his percentage during a given week he was obliged to pay an "ante" of so much per hundredweight, according to the territory in which the matter occurred, into a pool to cover the excess of sales, and this fund was divided among the packers who fell short in their sales.

Sixth—Certain corporations, namely, the Aetna Trading Company and the Oppenheimer Manufacturing Company, were to be appointed exclusive agents of the defendants to handle the sausage casings and containers, and those companies were to make arrangements with the several concerns which had been handling such merchandise in the markets of the world for working in harmony and controlling the output and price of the merchandise. This scheme involved the destruction or "tanking" of large quantities of casings whenever the supply was too great.

Miller's Statement.

Attorney John S. Miller, counsel for the packing firms, gave out the following statement:

"I ask for the packers who have been indicted the withholding of judgment until their side of this matter can be properly presented and known. I think the investigation on which these indictments are based was instituted and carried on with the previous conviction that the accused were guilty and the thing to accomplish was to get the evidence. The packers have been prejudiced and condemned by being called a beef trust, by continued and repeated charges without proofs and by gross falsehood and misrepresentation. The Garfield report accurately stated the facts in respect to the packing business, but its results, which were truthful and accurate, did not agree with the exaggerated and false charges that have been made.

"The packers are not violators of the Sherman act. They have endeavored to comply with the law in the best of faith, and in my opinion they have done so."

James Morgan, her husband; Francis Morgan, her mother-in-law, and Lula Morgan, her daughter-in-law, were arrested by George W. Robinson, special officer for the Avondale Cotton Mill company, soon after the injured woman was found and were locked in the Birmingham city jail on charges of assault with intent to murder. When arrested they were all in the house asleep. The officer and others who accompanied him had considerable difficulty in arousing Morgan and his household. They had to break into the house.

The theory of the officer is that Mrs. Morgan was thrown from the second floor window during a quarrel. Morgan claims that she fell from the window.

Morgan and his family live in rooms on the second floor of Daniel's old brick building just across from the Avondale cotton mill on First avenue. They recently removed from Birmingham.

James Morgan is fifty-two years of age, his mother is seventy-four, his daughter-in-law is forty-eight and his wife is about fifty.

Working a Swindle.

Glasgow, Ky.—For several days past parties from all over the county have been coming to town saying that they have been victimized by two alleged agents of a sewing machine company, whose names were variously given as Brown, Kirby, Gibson and Jones. They began operations here about the first of April, and since have most thoroughly canvassed the county and placed several machines. In most instances they sold the machine for $65 and took an old machine and a note for $65, less the price agreed upon for the old machine.

About ten days ago the four local banks received the notes—about thirty to each bank—for collection, and notified the payers that they were due July 1. Nearly every day this week the banks have been visited by the people who signed the notes, and in nearly every instance they say that they were told they could make payments of 25 cents a week, a dollar a month or any other way that suited them best, as the notes would not be due for five years.

A number of the victims have employed attorneys to enjoin the banks from collecting the notes and will fight the matter to the bitter end.

John David Privett Dies.

Anniston, Ala.—John David Privett, one of Calhoun county's oldest and most highly respected citizens, died at the family residence at Oxford Saturday after an illness of over a year, aged 65 years. Although expected for several days past his death came as a shock to the many relatives and friends, by whom he was so tenderly loved. Mr. Privett was a Confederate soldier, a member of the Fifty-first Alabama, Joe Wheeler's original cavalry company, and a consistent member of the Methodist church. He leaves a wife and eight children.

Best Type of Warship.

Berlin.—The German Naval League, in a regular news bulletin, says the lesson of the battle of the Sea of Japan is that the best type of warships is the battleship and the largest displacement equipped with the heaviest possible guns and armor. The League notes that the Japanese torpedo boats attacked after the Russian fleet had been weakened.

A writer in Die Grenzboten, which contains official communications, analyzes the German navy as follows:

Of thirty-eight battleships on paper including those laid down or authorized by the naval programme, thirteen are called "old boxes," scarcely fit for harbor defense. No. 33 has not yet been begun. Of the remainder only ten approach the modern battleships of other powers in size and gun power. The task before the government is defined to be to replace the antiquated ships with modern vessels.

Big Strike Decided Upon.

St. Petersburg.—The union of associations has resolved in favor of the "imminence of a revolution to organize a political strike in all professions beginning Monday next."

Twelve More Killed.

Warsaw.—Twelve workmen were killed and thirteen wounded by troops at Breziny, in the government of Petrokov, Friday night. The workmen were marching in procession and carrying red flags, when they were stopped by a force of infantry, who fired volleys into the crowd and dispersed it. The wounded were taken to hospitals.

Eight thousand cotton mill employees at Zawiercie, in the government of Petrokov, have gone on strike.

Senator Bacon Meets Sultan.

Constantinople.—The sultan of Turkey in private audience received Mr. Leisuman, the American minister, who presented Senator Bacon, of Georgia.

POLICEMAN KILLED

In an Attempt to Arrest Percy Couch Friday Night, Policeman Baiber was Killed.

WAS ARRESTED IN TENNESSEE.

Triod to Escape, Came Back Without Requisition Papers.—Now in Jail at Decatur.

Decatur, Ala.—Percy Couch, who shot Policeman Baiber Friday night, was taken to Huntsville from Fayetteville, Tenn., Saturday afternoon, arriving there about 3 o'clock. Sheriff James Wiggins, of this county, went to meet the party in Huntsville late Saturday evening and brought Couch here at 11 o'clock Saturday night.

Couch was arrested on a passenger train near Fayetteville bound for Nashville. When arrested he admitted he shot Baiber, but did not know he had killed him.

About 12:20 Friday night Couch was going down LaFayette street when he met Henry Gearstman, of South Decatur, and although the two men were strangers to each other, a difficulty resulted. Gearstman claimed Couch was the aggressor and that Couch drew his revolver, when Policeman W. A. Moore approached. Couch then ran behind a bill board on the opposite side of the street from the American Hotel. Moore not feeling able to cope with both men, called Policeman W. A. Baiber, who soon came to his assistance. Baiber started after Couch. Couch said: "Baiber, don't come any farther."

The officer still advanced and Couch fired four shots, all taking effect, one in the back, two in the chin and one in the neck, severing the jugular vein, causing instant death. Couch also fired twice at Policeman Moore. When Baiber fell he fired two shots at Couch, but they went wild.

Couch is a young man of good family, but has been very wild of late. Before the shooting took place it is said he was at the depot wearing a police badge and armed with a billy. His brothers-in-law are John Evans, manager Lavern Hotel, New Decatur, and J. Lee Barnes, manager Hotel Majestic, Atlanta. The authorities have no fear of a mob.

Couch's Arrest Followed.

Huntsville, Ala.—Percy Couch, slayer of Officer Baiber at Decatur, was captured at Winchester, Tenn., Saturday morning and was brought to Huntsville on the afternoon train. He agreed to come without requisition. Couch came to Huntsville after escaping from Decatur and spent an hour or two with a friend. He then boarded the Nashville train, whose conductor had been furnished with a description of him. The conductor recognized him and wired back to the Huntsville police, who notified the authorities at every point of the road. The arrest was made at Winchester, Couch having made an attempt to leave the train.

Decatur, Ala.—Percy Couch, who shot and killed Policeman William A. Baiber Friday night, was brought here from Huntsville Saturday night at 11:40. Fully 2,000 people met the train at the depot. Couch was slipped off the front end of the smoker by Sheriff Wiggins and taken to jail by him and Chief Young and Policeman Hall. Fully 500 people followed them to the jail, and open threats of hanging were made, though these threats were not carried into execution. Couch showed signs of fear.

Pension Examiners.

Montgomery, Ala.—Many of the pension examiners of the various counties, about whose appointments Governor Jelks has had a great deal of trouble for the past few weeks, have been named, and as soon as two or three vacancies are filled and a few others are heard from the list will be completed.

It is thought that with all the trouble and worry it has caused there has been selected a list of men who will give the old soldiers of the state good service and see that they are looked after to the full extent of the amount the state gives.

Condemned Workmen to Death.

Lodz.—A court martial has condemned to death three workmen convicted of participation in the riots of last week. Sixty-nine persons who were wounded in these disturbances have died in the hospitals here during the week.

Big Strike Decided Upon.

St. Petersburg.—The union of associations has resolved in favor of the "imminence of a revolution to organize a political strike in all professions beginning Monday next."

Twelve More Killed.

Warsaw.—Twelve workmen were killed and thirteen wounded by troops at Breziny, in the government of Petrokov, Friday night. The workmen were marching in procession and carrying red flags, when they were stopped by a force of infantry, who fired volleys into the crowd and dispersed it. The wounded were taken to hospitals.

Eight thousand cotton mill employees at Zawiercie, in the government of Petrokov, have gone on strike.

Senator Bacon Meets Sultan.

Constantinople.—The sultan of Turkey in private audience received Mr. Leisuman, the American minister, who presented Senator Bacon, of Georgia.

ARE TO HAVE PEACE.

The President Notified of the Selection of the Plenipotentiaries.

ENVOYS HAVE FULL POWER.

Each Nation Notified Who the Plenipotentiaries Are and Expressed Their Approval.

Oyster Bay.—Official announcement was made by President Roosevelt today of the names of the Russian and Japanese envoys to the Washington peace conference. The character and ability of the men selected by both belligerents is an earnest of the desire their respective governments to conclude, if possible, the tragedy being enacted in the far east. The plenipotentiaries are:

Russian.—Ambassador Muraviev, formerly minister of justice and now ambassador to Italy, and Baron Rosen recently appointed as ambassador to the United States to succeed Count Cassini.

Japanese.—Baron Komura, minister of foreign affairs, and Kogoro Takahira, minister to the United States. President Formally Notified.

A day or two ago the Russian and Japanese governments formally communicated to President Roosevelt the names of the plenipotentiaries they respectively had selected. Acting as an intermediary, the president communicated the names of the Japanese envoys to the St. Petersburg government and those of the Russian representatives to the government at Tokio. Having received from both governments assurances that they were satisfactory, the president according to his agreement with the belligerents authorized the public announcement of the envoys. Some delay was occasioned in the selection of the plenipotentiaries by the instance of the Japanese that the envoys of both governments be clothed with full power to conclude peace and negotiate a peace treaty.

Envoys Must Have Full Power.

The Japanese government indicated pointedly that the emperor would not permit his envoys to enter upon a tentative conference in which the Japanese were to define terms and then let Russia decide whether the conference should proceed to further deliberations. The Japanese government insisted that the plenipotentiaries should have conferred upon them treaty making powers and that the negotiations should be entered upon in a spirit of perfect sincerity. Such, too, was the position taken by President Roosevelt. He maintained that only by clothing the envoys with ample authority to act for their respective governments could a lasting peace be achieved. He strongly urged the St. Petersburg government to accede to what was regarded as a reasonable proposition of Japan. That he was successful in his presentation of the matter to the Russian emperor is indicated clearly in the statement which he issued today.

Preliminary Negotiations Closed.

The president's announcement practically closes the preliminary negotiations for peace. Minor details remain yet to be arranged, but the conference now seems to be assured. While no absolute date for the meeting of the envoys has been fixed, it has been determined that the first session will be held in Washington about the first of August.

Baron Rosen already is en route to the United States, his coming being to succeed Count Cassini as the Russian ambassador to this country. It is probable that Ambassador Muraviev will start for the United States, accompanied by a considerable staff of secretaries, clerks and interpreters. The Japanese contingent of officials and attaches, it is expected, will leave Japan in time to reach Washington by the first of August.

No Place Yet Decided On.

No decision has yet been reached as to the place of holding the sessions of the conference. For the purpose of organization and to determine upon plans for the future, the plenipotentiaries will meet in Washington, but it is regarded as highly probable that at an early date thereafter they will adjourn to hold the business sessions of the conference in some city on the north Atlantic seaboard. In this connection the word "here" in the official statement issued today is likely to be misunderstood. It means merely "in this country."

The sessions of the conference will not, of course, be held in Oyster Bay, although the representatives of both powers will probably go to Oyster Bay to pay their respects to the president. This trip to the president's home probably will be made in two warships, the Mayflower and the Dolphin being under consideration for the mission.

Insurance Commissioner Resigns.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Israel W. Durham of Philadelphia, has resigned as state commissioner of insurance, and ex-Senator David Martin, whom Durham succeeded several years ago as the recognized republican leader of Philadelphia, takes his place. Simultaneously with the announcement of Martin's appointment came the appointment of John C. Groome, of Somerset, to be superintendent of the state constabulary, created by the last legislature.

Marketing Potato Crops.

In line with the classic case of the oyster shippers, cited by President Hadley of Yale University in his book on Railroad Transportation, is the case of the Aroostook potato growers brought by President Tuttle of the Boston & Maine Railroad before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce. Nothing could better show how a railroad works for the interest of the localities which it serves.

A main dependence of the farmers of the Aroostook region is the potato crop, aggregating annually eight to ten million bushels which find a market largely in Boston and the adjacent thickly settled regions of New England. The competition of cheap water transportation from Maine to all points along the New England coast keeps railroad freight rates on these potatoes always at a very low level.

Potatoes are also a considerable output of the truck farms of Michigan, their normal market being obtained in and through Detroit and Chicago and other communities of that region.

Not many years ago favoring sun and rains brought a tremendous yield of potatoes from the Michigan fields. At normal rates and prices there would have been a glut of the customary markets and the potatoes would have rotted on the farms. To help the potato growers the railroads from Michigan made unprecedentedly low rates on potatoes to every reachable market, even carrying them in large quantities to a place so remote as Boston. The Aroostook growers had to reduce the price on their potatoes and even then could not dispose of them unless the Boston & Maine Railroad reduced its already low rate, which it did. By means of these low rates, making possible low prices, the potato crops of both Michigan and Maine were finally marketed. Everybody eats potatoes, and that year everybody had all the potatoes he wanted.

While the Michigan railroads made rates that would have been ruinous to the railroads, had they been applied to the movement of all potatoes at all times, to all places, they helped their patrons to find markets for them. The Boston & Maine Railroad suffered a decrease in its revenue from potatoes, but it enabled the Aroostook farmers to market their crop and thereby to obtain money which they spent for the varied supplies which the railroads brought to them. If the making of rates were subject to Governmental adjustment such radical and prompt action could never have been taken, because it is well established that if a rate be once reduced by a railroad company it cannot be restored through the red tape of Governmental procedure. If the Michigan railroads and the Boston & Maine Railroad had been subjected to Governmental limitation they would have felt obliged to keep up their rates as do the railroads of France and England and Germany under Governmental limitation and let the potatoes rot.—Exchange.

What Horses Will Eat.

Many horsemen have found that the addition of a pound of fair quality of moist brown sugar to a horse's feed of chaff and corn doubles its work-producing power. When no other feed is obtainable a few pounds of flour, mixed with enough water to make them easily drinkable, have great staying powers, but few horses would take this, however hungry, unless they had at some previous time been made accustomed to it. Horses, when there was little grass, have habitually robbed mining camps of fresh, salt or dried meat. It is even more certain that no horse would touch flesh unless at some time accustomed to it. During the early times of the Western gold diggings, when gold was being found in large quantities and horse feed, beyond the grass, was not procurable, many of the rich claim holders fed the horses used in their work on the mine with bread sooner than suffer delay. Bread, even unleavened, is better food for horses than raw flour and water, but it takes time to prepare and is rarely available on an emergency, while flour is much more likely to be. In Singapore it is not uncommon for horses to be given a loaf of bread soaked with a bottle of beer, which they eat greedily. In Iceland horses and cattle are frequently fed on dried fish. Sheep often eat meat, fruit, bread, pastry and the like, and even tobacco in considerable quantity without harm ensuing.

Where Wolves Are Numerous.

According to statements made by settlers, wolves are causing more trouble this year than many years past. It is claimed that the animals this year are more numerous and bolder than usual, and have even attacked men when alone in the Northern woods.

The only explanation for the bolder attitude of the animals is that fewer deer than usual have been killed in the woods this season by hunters, who desire only the heads or horns as trophies and leave the carcasses in the wilds. This is accounted for, not by a more humane attitude of the hunters, but because through the absence of snow in the woods during the open season less opportunity was afforded to kill the big game.—St. Paul Dispatch.

The Yield of Coal.

The United States produces 319,000,000 metric tons of coal per year (1903), worth at the mines $485,000,000 and costing consumers nearer a billion dollars.

No other country produces nearly so much. Great Britain sells (1904) 48,000,000 tons, worth $130,000,000; yet her total production is nearly a hundred million tons below our own.

Germany produced in 1904 192,000,000 tons of coal, coke and lignite, but the strike lowered production somewhat.

SPORTING BREVETTES.

Squadron A defeated Humson at polo by a score of 10½ to 7 goals.

Sydney Page's Tradition easily won the Mermaid Stakes at the Coney Island Jockey Club course.

Charles F. Fox's four-year-old Go Between won the Brookdale Handicap at Gravesend in decisive fashion.

Sydney Page's Hamburg Belle won the Equality Stakes, value $3005, at the Coney Island Jockey Club course.

Mollack athletes won the point trophy at the open games of the Athla A. C., on the "Cove" grounds, West Brighton, S. I.

Members of the American lawn tennis team England won matches in the tournament at the Queen's Club for the championship of London.

The Bryn Mawr second polo team defeated the Philadelphia C. C. second four in the tournament for the Paul Cup by a score of 25 to 16½ goals.

Lawn tennis representatives of England, Australia and Belgium agreed to American's terms on time limit for naming players for international tournament.

Speed traps were set for automobiles along the Boston road, and a test case is to be made in Stamford, Conn., under the direction of the Automobile Club of America.

Holcombe Ward, of the American lawn tennis team abroad, won the final round in the tournament for the championship of London through the default of his team mate, Beals C. Wright.

At the inter-university swimming meeting at the Bath Club, in London, England, the English team, including the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, the Australian amateur champion, R. B. Kierman, nineteen years old, covered the world's records, covering 600 yards easily in 7:14.25.

Terre Haute, Ind.—Fire broke out in the elevator of the Merchants' distillery Thursday afternoon, causing a loss of $100,000. The elevator was destroyed and the spirits house damaged. Firemen prevented a total loss of the plant. The loss is covered by insurance.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect November 4, 1904.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:00pm	Ar. Mobile	10:35pm	10:00am
10:10am	8:00pm	Ar. Selma	11:40pm	7:00am
6:30am	10:05pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:00am	10:35pm
9:40am	11:15pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:00am	7:00am
1:00pm	12:20am	Ar. Knoxville	2:00am	8:00am
4:00pm	1:25am	Ar. Bristol	3:00am	9:00am
7:00pm	2:30am	Ar. Asheville	4:00am	10:00am
10:00pm	3:40am	Ar. Lynchburg	5:00am	11:00am
1:00am	4:50am	Ar. Washington	6:00am	12:00pm
4:00pm	6:00am	Ar. New York	7:00am	1:00pm

No. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham, Birmingham and New York. Car service meals on route.

No. 19	STATIONS.	No. 17
7:00am	Ar. Tusculum	10:25pm
10:00am	Ar. Knoxville	7:30pm
1:00pm	Ar. Chattanooga	4:40pm
4:00pm	Ar. Marion	1:40pm
11:40am	Ar. Selma	11:40pm
1:00pm	Ar. New York	11:40pm
4:00pm	Ar. Asheville	11:40pm
7:00pm	Ar. Lynchburg	11:40pm
10:00pm	Ar. Washington	11:40pm
1:00am	Ar. New York	11:40pm
4:00pm	Ar. Asheville	11:40pm
7:00pm	Ar. Lynchburg	11:40pm
10:00pm	Ar. Washington	11:40pm
1:00am	Ar. New York	11:40pm

No. 19 and 17 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Asheville and New York. Car service meals on route.

STATIONS.		No. 36	No. 38
LV Birmingham	5:15pm	6:10am
AT Chattanooga	5:30pm	8:30am
LV Atlanta	5:45pm	12:10pm
AT Macon	2:10am	2:40pm
LV Jacksonville	6:45am
AT Brunswick	7:25am
LV Brunswick	8:30am

No. 36 carries Pullman Drawing Room Sleeping Car from Jacksonville to Atlanta, Brunswick and Jacksonville.

No. 38 carries Pullman Sleeping Car from Birmingham to Atlanta and Chattanooga to Macon.

STATIONS.		No. 15
LV Rome	7:30pm
AT Chattanooga	8:15pm
LV Knoxville	1:40am
AT Hot Springs	4:22am
LV Knoxville	5:00am
AT Salisbury	11:35am
AT Greenville	12:51pm
LV Washington	5:00pm
AT New York	5:43am

No. 15 carries Pullman Sleeping Car from Rome to Chattanooga, Chattanooga to Salisbury and Salisbury to New York.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1901 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., July 6, 05

Telephone No. 17.

Silence the Voice of the People.

In another place in this issue we copy an article from the Mobile Register relative to the primary and convention plan of nominating officers. The article is a comment on a plank in the platform of the Eufaula State—"Conventions all over the State next year." The Mobile Register shows a trend of sentiment among politicians, a few of them, and a class of metropolitan papers to abolish the primary plan of nominating candidates for office. The Register says that the present system of nominating works a hardship and a great expense to candidates who must canvass the State—or that a man without money or a general distribution of friends may not be able to make the campaign at all, and then it makes this statement:

"Nominations by the State primary method, therefore, is pretty much of a lottery. A man who is popular in his county and district may not be known in other parts of the State; and he cannot use his home influence to barter or exchange for influence elsewhere as might be done in a convention.

And that is just what's ailing with the convention plan of nominating—there is too much barter and exchange, and the voice or the will of the common people is not heard in the conventions—it is the politicians who run things there, and they do it in their own sweet way "and the people be damned." Three years ago the sentiment throughout the State was almost unanimous for the primary plan and that sentiment has not changed—although a few politicians would have the convention plan revived, for there "is nothing doing" for them in a primary.

In a primary election every candidate has equal rights and privileges with his competitors, but can the same be said of the convention system? In a primary election every elector can vote direct for his choice and if his choice is a winner he is gratified. If his choice is defeated there is no room for a grumble or a kick, unless a man be so constructed that he is a knocker no matter what the result.

The primary receives the commendation of all who believe in justice, in equity, and in fair elections. It is the right of an American citizen to voice his opinion upon any subject, and the primary gives him a voice in nominating those for whom he expected to vote. The rank and file voter has no voice in a convention hence the popularity of the primary. To bow to the will of the people is a cardinal principle of Democracy, and when that principle is cast aside or trampled upon, those who bring about such a condition not only attempt to overthrow the will of the people and create dissension and strife, but they dishonor a party that is "of and for the people."

The Sentinel believes the primary has come to stay, and one reason why it should stay is because there is no opportunity for "barter and exchange for influence" as there is in a convention. The man or politician who insists in going back to convention plan of nominating candidates will commit political suicide in Alabama.

Negro North and South.

Last Saturday a negro shot and killed C. W. Wright at Leighton, Lawrence county. Mr. Wright was a prominent citizen, having been tax assessor of the county, and was well and favorably known throughout his county. The shooting is said to have been cold blooded and without provocation, and after the killing the negro fled and was pursued into the swamps where he was in hiding at last accounts. A posse had been formed and it was intimated that if caught he would probably be lynched. Governor Jelks very promptly notified the sheriff of the county that he must protect the negro and that he would look to him to do so, if the negro is caught.

This action on the part of the governor is most commendable, as it shows that the chief executive does not want the state's fair name disgraced while he is governor by lawless acts, no matter if they be to avenge the death of a white man by a desperate and worthless negro.

So much for race feeling and race trouble in Alabama. Now let us see about another race trouble in the north. In the Washington Post, in which appears the foregoing account of the effort to capture and the threatened lynching of a negro in Lawrence county in this state is also an account of a race riot at Lareneville, Ind., in which two white men were shot and one "unknown negro was shot five times and is fatally wounded." The dispatch, dated Vincennes is as follows:

"At Lareneville, Ill., last night, while a carnival was in progress, an altercation arose between Geo. Goins, a negro, and a white man. Goins knocked the white man down when the latter arose and struck Goins, and other white men came to his assistance, while several negroes rallied around Goins. When the rioting ceased through the scattering of the negroes, George Bell, of Neals, was found to be desperately wounded, and A. S. Combs, of this city, was lying near him with his arm broken by a gun shot and two other wounds. Both it is feared, may die. An unknown negro was shot five times and is fatally wounded. Goins was found suffering from four serious wounds.

This thing is becoming so common in the north, since the negro has been migrating northward, that the northern newspapers have ceased to put under scare heads similar happenings in the south.—Montgomery Journal.

SYLACAUGA'S MISTAKE.

That Sylacauga, in withdrawing its invitation to the Press Association, has made a mistake if the opinion of a large majority of those who have kept up with the matter is worth anything, and that the newspapers believe that town has made a mistake may be gathered from what they are saying. In speaking of the affair the Huntsville Mercury says:

"The Alabama State Press association will not meet this year at Sylacauga, as was arranged, and all because of mutual blunders on the part of the representatives of that town and Hon. B. B. Comer. It appears the Sylacauga committee had invited Mr. Comer to make an address to the newspaper delegation on the second day and selected as his subject, 'A Fair Deal for Every Man.' This was a piece of gratuitous assumption, because beyond the address of welcome the press association always arranges its own program of speakers and subjects. Because Mr. Comer owns large property interests in Sylacauga, it is presumed his friends concluded that they would arrange for him to play the grand stand act and enlighten the press of Alabama on the subject of regulation of freight rates by the railroads."

Commenting in the same strain, the Selma Journal says:

"Sylacauga has a right to withdraw its invitation if it desires to do so, but it certainly places itself in an unenviable attitude in waiting such a long time to do so, and in taking this action so near the date of the meeting. The fact that Sylacauga is displeased with the action of the committee and chooses to show its displeasure by being inhospitable, is an immaterial matter to the association. There are doubtless many cities and towns in the State where the spirit which actuated the committee in granting the association from political and religious discussion will be highly appreciated. The association will no doubt be welcomed to some other place where there will be no desire to direct and control its actions and deliberations, and where it may hold a pleasant and profitable session."

We cannot understand why the Birmingham Age-Herald, a paper which usually believes in a square deal, should try to put the executive committee of the association in the wrong light or position. It says the committee stipulated that Mr. Comer should address the association upon the subject of 'Education' if he made any speech. The Age-Herald must have the wires of its grapevine crossed for the committee made no such stipulation as is claimed by that paper. The Sylacauga committee were told by the press committee that speeches of a political or partisan nature at the association's annual meetings were prohibited by the constitution of the association. And why were the Sylacauga people so informed? From the fact that it had been advertised that Mr. Comer was to address the association upon the subject of freight rates in Alabama, and there is more politics to the square inch in that subject than in any other in Alabama today. The committee was informed the day of its meeting in Birmingham that the paper in Sylacauga had made the statement that Mr. Comer would speak upon the subject of freight rates, and we are told the Age-Herald made some statement.

The Age-Herald said also that a resolution to not change the meeting place was carried by only a "small margin," when the fact of the matter is no such resolution was voted upon. The only resolution voted upon was written by a Birmingham newspaper man expressing gratification at the preparation Sylacauga was making to entertain the association, and instructing the secretary to urge every member of the association to attend the annual meeting. That resolution was carried by a unanimous vote, and it was printed in circular form and sent to the members of the association by the secretary. We think the Age-Herald has failed to correctly inform itself therefore is unjust in its criticism of the committee. In its action the committee only safeguarded the association from a violation of its constitution. In so doing it but performed its duty, as was thought the occasion demanded.

It pays to tote fairly.

Primary vs. Convention Plan.

The Eufaula State has announced its platform, the leading plank being "Conventions all over the state next year."

There are serious objections to the primary system now in vogue. The state candidates must canvass the whole state, if they do the work thoroughly; and this is at great expense of time and money; they must be prepared to pay a round sum for printing; and, finally, as it is physically impossible for any one to visit everywhere, the people, like as not, will vote for the man whose name makes the best showing on the ballot, or, may be, whose name they have heard. A man without money or a general distribution of friends may not be able to make the campaign at all; consequently, the seeking of office will be left to men of means; in a word, to a class.

Nomination by the state primary method, therefore, is pretty much a lottery. A man who is popular in his county and district may not be known in other part of the state and he cannot use his home influence elsewhere as might be done in a convention. If he becomes a candidate he takes a great chance of not being heard of in the returns.

It has not been observed, however, that the kind of men nominated by the primary plan has been so very much better or so very much worse than the men nominated by the convention plan; while there is this to say in favor of the primary plan; the nominations are made by the people and not by a ring of skilled barterers and exchangers; and, whatever the short comings (if any) of the men nominated, have the satisfaction of knowing that they had at least a voice in making the selection, their philosophy being akin to Touchstone's: "An ill-favored thing, sir, but mine own."

When it comes to an issue the popular opinion is likely to remain strongly in support of the primary as something that has its faults, truly, but not precisely the grave faults of the convention system.—Mobile Register.

In breaking down the barriers between the sexes the women are beginning to practice toward men the same impoliteness that they formerly reserved for each other. Men no longer as a rule give up their seats to women, because they have been taught by painful experience that the women as a class no longer appreciate the courtesy. In doing so they are rarely rewarded with a word of thanks. The man who lifts his hat when he offers his seat is often frozen with a stare which implies a doubt as to his sanity or his motives. The time may yet come when the man who lifts his hat to a woman except upon a society dress parade will be regarded with contempt for his mental softness.—Prattville Progress.

Marion Military Institute.

"During the past six years the University of Virginia has awarded as many academical degrees to graduates of the Marion Military Institute as it has to those of any other college in the country, and academical and professional degrees to more graduates from the Marion Military Institute than to those from any other college or University outside the State of Virginia." (Chairman U. Ma., 1892) "I believe that the Marion Military Institute is destined to become one of the great schools of the country, if its present policy is carried out and if it is brought to the attention of the people of the South. I was most favorably impressed by the general tone of the teaching staff and the students at Marion."—Dean J. H. Penniman, Univ. of Penn.

For catalogue, address J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

Don't apologize for having eaten onions. It was your privilege to do so.

Alabama Girls Industrial School
Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academical, Pedagogical, Scientific, Commercial, Industrial, Domestic, Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M. D. D.

The Sentinel has received Vol. III, No. 2, of the quarterly bulletins of the Marion Military Institute. This issue shows that the Institute is enjoying a large growth. A modern manual training shop and an electric light and power plant are among the material advances made within the year. Chief though is the noteworthy work the Institute is doing in college life and government. The Bulletin contains interesting extracts from the Government Day addresses at Marion by President Woodrow Wilson, of Princeton, and by Professor Thornton of the University of Virginia.

For Lease or Sale.

Valuable lime manufacturing plant; fine condition; 400 acres of finest grade limestone. For particulars address

Mrs. MINNIE GIST, Guardian,
Calera, Ala.

Jim Jeffries announces that he has quit the ring.

Cures Old Sores.

Westmoreland, Kans. May 5, 1902: Ballard, Snow Liniment Co., Your Snow Liniment cured an old sore on the side of my chin that was supposed to be a cancer. The sore was stubborn and would not yield to treatment, until I tried Snow Liniment, which did the work in short order. My sister, Mrs. Sophia J. Carson, Allensville, Milfin county, Pa., has a sore and mistrusts that it is a cancer. Please send her a 50c. bottle. Sold by Williams Bros.

Something good for Columbiana is brewing.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1905.

No. 21	No. 18	STATIONS.	No. 19	No. 21
7:00pm	7:30am	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:00am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 22	No. 21	STATIONS.	No. 21	No. 22
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 23	No. 22	STATIONS.	No. 22	No. 23
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 24	No. 23	STATIONS.	No. 23	No. 24
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 25	No. 24	STATIONS.	No. 24	No. 25
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 26	No. 25	STATIONS.	No. 25	No. 26
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 27	No. 26	STATIONS.	No. 26	No. 27
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 28	No. 27	STATIONS.	No. 27	No. 28
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 29	No. 28	STATIONS.	No. 28	No. 29
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

No. 30	No. 29	STATIONS.	No. 29	No. 30
7:45am	7:30pm	LY. MOBILE	8:30pm	7:45am
1:00pm	5:45pm	LY. SELMA	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	6:30am	9:45am
9:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	3:30pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	2:10pm	1:00pm
5:45pm	9:45pm	LY. BIRMINGHAM	1:00pm	5:00am
6:00pm	1:00pm	LY. ATLANTA	1:15pm	1:00pm
1:00pm	3:30pm	LY. MOBILE	3:00pm	1:00pm
6:30pm	10:00am	LY. JARHAM	4:30pm	2:10pm
10:45pm	1:00pm	LY. CHATTAHOOGA	4:25pm	1:00pm

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Ladies

We cordially invite you to call and see the pretty line of Lawns which we are now showing.

SLIPPERS,

The kind you have been looking for, and the prices are just right.

STRAW HATS

In the latest styles, and prices to suit you.

WIRE FENCING---

The Elwood brand; you know it is the best. We have it, you need it.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

MCMILLAN & HAYNES,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,
Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,
Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,
Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

G. B. WALKER,
Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

W. A. PARKER'S
LIVERY, FEED,
AND
SALE STABLES.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.

While others are talking about their candidacy for Governor, Dr. (next Governor) Cunningham is talking to the school boys and girls.

Livery, Feed and Sale Stables,
S. & L. FRIEDBERGER, Proprietors.
(Successors to E. W. Burt.)
H. M. NORRIS, Manager.

Good Horses, Good Carriages, Careful Drivers.
Your Patronage is Solicited.
Telephone 16. - - - - - 'Bus Meets All Trains.

BIRMINGHAM
Title and Guaranty Co.
Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.
J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.
W. J. KORSLEY, Local Mgr,
Columbiana, Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE
Columbiana Savings Bank,
Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
May 18, 1905.

RESOURCES.	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	Capital stock paid in.....
Overdrafts.....	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....
Banking houses.....	Furniture and fixtures.....
Other real estate.....	Individual deposits subject to check.....
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	Time deposits.....
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....	Cashier's checks.....
Currency.....	Notes and bills rediscounted.....
Gold.....
Silver, nickels and pennies.....
Checks and cash items.....
Total.....	Total.....

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank of Shelby County of Alabama, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.
Witness my hand and subscribed before me, this 18th

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

THE BICYCLE

YOU'RE LOOKING FOR.

FRESH MEAT

TWICE EACH WEEK.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months..... 50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

There was a big crowd out to the bull game on the Fourth.

Dr. C. C. Oliver, mayor of Calera, was in town last Saturday.

H. E. Latham made a business trip to Birmingham, Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams, of Shelby, were in town Monday.

Outside of the game of ball, the Fourth was very quiet in Columbiana.

Henry Chapman has been making some improvements to his home.

It has been almost hot enough during the past few days to fry chickens.

Sheriff R. F. Cox was transacting business in Centerville one day last week.

The genial, good natured N. N.
Mosteller, of Farmer, was in town
Saturday.

M. A. Denson, of near Monteval-lo, was in town the fore part of the week.

There is a bad hole in the wagon bridge just this side of the Baptist church.

Miss Jessie Johnson of Piedmont, is in the city a guest of Mrs. H. E.
Whitaker.

Preaching at the M. E. church next Sunday morning and night by the pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Campbell, of Montevallo, were in the city on the Fourth.

J. F. Averyt and family were up from Shelby on the Fourth to see the ball game.

The pension board for Shelby county is in session and will be for the next ten days.

Tom Tinney went down to Clanton on the Fourth to play ball with the team in that city.

Jack Taylor, of Wilsonville, is associated with W. W. Carter in the new meat market.

Quite a number of our young people were visitors to Shelby Springs Saturday night.

J. A. MacKnight, of Shelby Springs, was transacting business in Columbiana last Saturday.

J. W. Bandy, Dr. Park and John Adams came up from Montevallo on the Fourth to see the ball game.

Henry Milner was transacting business in Collinsville several days last week, returning home
Friday.

Misses Mary and Celia McMillan are in Collinsville visiting Mrs. A.
B. Milner for a short time. Miss Margaret McMillan is in Childersburg visiting with the family of Robert Edwards.

Bad sidewalks are poor advertisements which never pay any dividends. Did you ever think about it?

Mrs. Roy Christian has returned to her home in Woodlawn, after a very pleasant visit with relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Dyke returned last Wednesday from a visit to their old home near Sterrett, and with friends at Vincent.

Mrs. H. E. Latham went down to Montevallo Monday morning to visit a few days with her parents.
Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hendrick.

Our merchants closed their doors at noon on the Fourth to give their clerical force a holiday, and so that all might take in the ball game.

T. S. Millsap and his two little daughters left Monday morning for Evergreen, where they will visit with friends for about month.

Miss Mary Peters, of Montevallo, has been in the city for several days visiting her father, Judge J.
L. Peters, and Mrs. W. A. Thomas.

Mrs. C. L. Meroney and her two pretty little girls, Eloise and Gertrude, of Montevallo, are in the city, guests at the home of Mrs. M.
E. Parker.

Harry Roberts is loyal to his ball team. He was offered $15 and his expenses to play on the Fourth with the Jacksonville team against Piedmont, but he stayed at home to play.

Will Owen, a negro brakeman on the Southern, and whose home was in this city, was killed near Selma last Friday by being struck with a passenger train. He was buried here Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pitts have a jolly party of young people in their home this week. Miss Hela Gonzalez, of Pensacola, Fla.; Misses Mariana McGraw, Annie Kidd, Virginia Lyde and Oscar McGraw, of Vincent.

Miss Anna Strickland, the accommodating operator at the telephone exchange, has returned from a pleasant two weeks' visit with relatives at Easonville, and is again saying "Number" to those who use telephones.

J. K. Milner, of Gulfport, Miss., was in the city over Sunday visiting relatives. Mr. Milner speaks in the highest terms of his new home and says it is the coming town of that section of Mississippi.
He returned home Monday.

Uncle Sam Gist, of Calera, the Nestor of newspaper making in Shelby county, was in the city
Monday and Tuesday attending a meeting of the Pension Board of which he is a member. Although growing quite feeble, Uncle Sam is full of good cheer always. We acknowledge a pleasant call.

Baseball Players and Foot Racers!

Louis J. Kruger, ex-champion long distance foot racer of Germany
and Holland, writes, Oct. 27, 1901:
"During my training of eight weeks' foot races at Sault Lake City
in April last, I used Ballard's Snow Liniment to my greatest satisfaction.

Therefore, I highly recommend
Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism." 25c, 50c and $1.00.
Sold by William Bros.

Judge D. R. McMillan was over in Coosa county several days last week on legal business. He says the crops in that section are in fine condition.

Mrs. J. K. Milner and family, who have been living in Anniston,
are in the city visiting relatives.
They will leave in a few days for their new home in Gulfport, Miss.

Hon. E. S. Lyman, of Monteval-lo, Ala., was a pleasant visitor at our office Tuesday. He had been the guest of Col. J. H. Nabors for a week and left for his home Wednesday. Being from near the birthplace and boyhood home of the editor of the Journal his visit was, of course, appreciated and enjoyed. Mr. Lyman represents Shelby county in the legislature of Alabama.—Mansfield (La.) Journal.

Complaint has reached this office two or three times about teams and wagons blocking the sidewalk between Friedburger's store and the residence of Rev. C. W. O'Hara.
One day last week this walked was completely blocked all day by wagons from which teams had been unlatched. A few posts and a chain along this walk would keep anyone from using the place as a wagon yard. Under present conditions it is frequently dangerous for people to use the walk. The complaint should be remedied.

A Wet Game.

All through the nine innings of the ball game played here on the Fourth between the North Birmingham team and Columbiana a slow drizzling rain fell, taking most of the ginger and snap out of the players. Yet notwithstanding the rain fully four hundred people saw the game to a finish.

The balls used became wet and soggy and neither of the pitchers did themselves justice, being almost wholly unable to control delivery.

The visitors are fine looking young men, and they won the esteem and admiration of our people because of their gentlemanly bearing and deportment. The game was umpired by George Mason and with the exception of one decision was satisfactory to both teams. At the end of the game the score was 9 to 5 in favor of the home team.

If good weather prevails the two remaining games of the series will be full of snap and ginger, and there will be plenty of sport for the rooters.

Party to the Springs.

And it rained hard!
However, that did not figure with the party of girls who had planned for an evening of enjoyment at Shelby Springs, and on Thursday night, while the rain was coming down in torrents, a hack load of pretty girls, white dresses and a hamper of good things to eat tied themselves to the Springs. The rain soon ceased to fall, the stars came out, and in a short time the jolly party reached its destination, and for nearly three hours all had the biggest kind of a time.

In the party were Miss Alma Bell of Lineville, Miss Mary Peters of Montevallo, Miss Mary Kidd of Vincent, Misses Mildred White, Lallage and Annie Longshore, and Miss Grace Walker, and with
Mrs. Jnp. J. Haynes and Mrs. H.
E. Whitaker, chaperones.

The editor of The Sentinel was invited to accompany the party as utility man, look after the hamper of provisions, etcetera, but some sleek fingered son-of-a-gun got the better of us, and two fine cakes mysteriously disappeared from the basket. But even then there was plenty and to spare.

The drive home was a delightful one, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

A Pleasant Time.

Complimentary to Miss Alma
Bell, of Lineville; Miss Mary Kidd, of Vincent, and Mrs. Roy Christian, of Woodlawn, Mr. and Mrs.
Henry Milner entertained a company of friends at their home last Friday night.

Music, social conversation and the making of figures from chewing gum made up a very pleasant programme, and one which furnished a great deal of merriment.
Miss Rosser Christian won the prize—a beautiful picture—for having made the best figure, and to Lucius Roberts was awarded the booby.

The host and hostess made the evening a pleasant one for their guests, and the occasion will long be remembered. Among those present, aside from the out of town visitors mentioned, were Misses Emmie Abercrombie, Rosser Christian, Carolyn Rowe, Mildred White, Messrs. Roberts, Robertson, Jackson, Mason, Milner, Mrs. D. R. Mc-Millan, Mrs. J. S. Pitts, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Whitaker.

Indigestion.

With its companions, heart burn
flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion on other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by William Bros.

WILSONVILLE.

We were glad to see Jack Taylor back with us Sunday.

Miss Johns, of Childersburg, is visiting Miss Samie Taylor.

Tom Taylor went to Jacksonville on business, yesterday.

Ugo Black, of Ashland, is visiting his brother, Dr. O. E. Black.

J. F. Pope is off on a pleasure trip to his old home in Georgia.

Mr. Brittain, of Bessemer, attended divine services here Sunday.

Mrs. Allison returned to her home in Cullman Monday morning.

Jim Gwin spent Sunday at home trying to console his father in his mother's absence.

Miss Anna Wilson entertained last Friday night in honor of her cousin from Selma.

Garnett Kytte and family returned to their home in Mississippi last Saturday evening.

Mrs. Olie Farr, who has been sick for the past week, we are glad to hear is improving.

Mrs. W. S. Gwin and daughter,
Miss Nellie, are visiting relatives in Virginia for a month or two.

Mrs. Little and Miss Davis, of Birmingham, are visiting Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. J. L. Riddle at the hotel.

We are sorry indeed to hear that
Mr. Privett, of Oxford, Mrs. G. W.
McGowan's brother, died last Friday morning.

H. E. Smith and daughters left us Monday evening for Mississippi on a visit, to be gone some ten days or two weeks.

We are still having very hot weather, and very much in need of a good soaking rain. We have not had a good season yet.

Jim Spearman and family spent Sunday on Fourmile. Jim said it was a ground-hog case; he had to have one more square meal.

Miss Rena Taylor returned home last Friday from the Talladega Blind Institute. Miss Rena is looking well, and we are glad to see her.

Engene Wilkins, of Ohatchee, is visiting his brother, E. M. Wilkins.
We are sorry to hear of his misfortune in spraining his ankle so that he has to use a cane in walking.

We understand there will be several fishing parties out from Wisonville tomorrow (the 4th) on Yellow Leaf Creek. Hope for them a merry, cool time and plenty of fish to eat.

We understand that our mayor and Aldermen have elected Prof.
Veezey and sister as Principal and First Assistant in our school for the coming year. They are from Lafayette, Ala. We hope for a good school again this year.

Two weeks ago, we spoke of a wedding to occur about July 4th.
We are inform by the expected groom that the marriage ceremony has been indefinitely postponed by the expected bride, and entirely without his free will and consent.

Such is life; such things will occur some times, however much we regret it.

We regret to give up a neighbor and butcher, W. W. Carter, who has moved to your town. If you will treat him right, and I know you will, he will supply you with beef and plenty of long wind yarns, for he is an expert in both lines.

Well, tomorrow is the Glorious Fourth, and we can't help but wonder how many people who are now living and looking forward with pleasure to the festivities of the day, will meet either with death or some misfortune. It is generally the case that some one gets hurt on these holidays.

Dr. W. P. Hamner requests us to say that during the months of July, August and September he will be in his office only from the 1st to the 20th of each month.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Roberts are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine boy baby at their home, and are receiving the congratulations of their friends.

A number of our young people enjoyed a fine time at Shelby Springs Tuesday night. Dancing was the program.

Judge and Mrs. D. R. McMillan entertained a party of friends at dinner on the Fourth, and it was a happy gathering.

NOTICE.

All persons holding cotton in the ware house at Columbiana will be charged storage at 25 cents per month after the 1st day of July, 1905.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ills. writes
Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago
I was laid up for four months with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me.
I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affliction.
Sold by Williams Bros.

$3,000.

Certificate of Beneficiary.

Birmingham, Ala., May 23, '05.
Mr. Geo. M. Webb, State Agent.

I want to thank your Secretaries and Treasurers of Pike, Chambers and Shelby Co. Divisions for the prompt payment of my husband's policies in your most estimable company. The above amount—$3,000—was paid me in nine days after the death of my husband.
All it had cost him to leave me this amount of money, was an assessment of $15. I would advise every man and woman in Jefferson county and in the State of Alabama to take a policy in this company for it is the cheapest, safest and best insurance on earth. With best wishes for your popular company in Alabama, I am

Very respectfully,
MRS. SALLIE VINCENT.
E. F. Enslen, Wit. Beneficiary.

Don't Sacrifice

Future comfort for present seeming economy, but buy the sewing machine with an established reputation, that guarantees you long and satisfactory service.

ITS PINCH TENSION

AND...
TENSION INDICATOR, (devices for regulating and showing the exact tension) are a few of the features that emphasize the high grade character of the White.
Send for our elegant H. T.
catalog.

WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO.,
CLEVELAND, O.

A Good Woman Dead.

Died, at the noon hour, June 23, 1905, surrounded by loved ones,
the pure spirit of Mrs. Mary Woolley took its flight to its God.

Truly a good woman has gone from us; quiet, gentle, yet firm, she has left the imprint of a godly lift upon those with whom she came in contact.

She was born in Edgfield District,
S. C., Oct. 8, 1823, and came to Alabama when a child, where she spent her life. At age of six she professed her faith in the Christ and united with the Baptist church, and remained a consistent member through life. On Nov. 23, 1855, she was married to Reason Woolley, a widower with a family of children, to whom she became a mother in every sense.
There were born to her and now survive her, a son and daughter,
R. E. Woolley, of Montevallo, Mrs.
Leonard Falkner of Jefferson county. Our hearts go out in sympathy to the bereaved.

A Friend.

Croup.

Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe, which sometimes extends to the larynx and bronchial tubes;
and is one of the most dangerous
diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's
Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c, 50c and $1.00
Sold by Williams Bros.

No doubt you are tired of hearing about her. but Nan Patterson is going on the stage. She is to do a vaudeville turn in her bare feet—nothing is said as to whether she will wear anything but a smile or not.

There is some sickness in our community.

Have You a Cough?

A dose of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will relieve it. Have you a cough? Try it for whooping cough, for asthma, for consumption, for bronchitis. Mrs. Joe McGrath, 337
E. 1st Street, Hutchinson, Kans., writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup in my family for 5 years, and find it the most palatable medicine I ever used. Sold by Williams Bros.

Summer School Knoxville, Ten- nessee, June 20-July 26.

An account of the above occasion. Southern Railway will sell tickets to Knoxville, Tenn., at the very low rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip. Tickets will be sold June 19th, 20th, 21st, 24th and 25th; also July 1st, 8th, 9th and 15th, with final limit (returning fifteen days from date of sale. An extension until Sept. 15th may be obtained by deposit-ing ticket with Joint Agent and paying a fee of 50 cents. For further information and tickets apply to any Southern Railway Agent or write to J. M. Harrison, District Passenger Agent, Birmingham, Ala.

Notice! Notice!!

• All persons holding receipts for cotton in the Columbiana Ware House are requested to bring in same at once and give us their names.

Columbiana Mercantile Co.

That Tired Feeling.

If you are languid, depressed, incapable for work, it indicates that your liver is out of order. Herbine will assist nature to throw off headaches, rheumatism and ailments akin to nervousness and restore the energies and vitality of sound and perfect health. J. J. Hubbard Temple, Texas, writes: "I have used Herbine for the past two years. It has done me more good than all the doctors. It is the best medicine ever made for chills and fever." 30 cts.
Sold by Williams Bros.

For Sale.

The Columbiana Land Co. has the following property for sale, but the prices quoted will only hold good for only a short time:

Good six-room house and one acre of ground in Montevallo; good location, convenient to the Girl's Industrial School, price $750.

Sixty acres (30 acres cleared) one mile north of Columbiana. Part of east half of southwest quarter, and part of west half of southwest quarter, section 11, township 21; range 1 west. Valued at $10.00 per acre; one-third cash, balance on time.

A 5-room dwelling house, near school house in Columbiana, with one acre and a half of land attached, including garden and orchard.
Will sell or rent at a bargain.

For Sale.

One 35-horse power boiler.
One 25-horse power Taylor and
Chandler engine and sawmill.
One Champion planer No. 1.
Will sell on reasonable terms.
M. J. GERMAN,
Columbiana, Ala.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service.
The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic"
route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit
Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13,
and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Send Colorado booklet and rates.
Name _____
Address _____
Leave about _____
Destination _____

Address
JOHN SEBASTIAN,
Pass. Traf. Mgr., Rock Island System,
CHICAGO.

Rock Island System
SOUTHERN PACIFIC
EL PASO ROUTE COMPANY

IN STRICT CONFIDENCE.

Women Obtain Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Help.

She Has Guided Thousands to Health.—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Mrs. Fred Seydel.

above all, a woman who has had more experience in treating female ills than any living person.

Over one hundred thousand cases of female diseases come before Mrs. Pinkham every year, some personally, others by mail, and this has been going on for twenty years, day after day.

Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman of such experience, especially when it is absolutely free.

Mrs. Pinkham never violates the confidence of women, and every testimonial letter published is done so with the written consent or request of the writer, in order that other sick women may be benefited as they have been.

Mrs. Fred Seydel, of 412 North 54th Street, West Philadelphia, Pa., writes: Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Over a year ago I wrote you a letter asking advice, as I had female ills and could not carry a child to maturity. I received your kind letter of instructions, and followed your advice. I am not only a well woman in consequence, but have a beautiful baby girl. I wish every suffering woman in the land would write you for advice, as you have done so much for me."

Just as surely as Mrs. Seydel was cured, will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure every woman suffering from any form of female ills.

No other medicine in all the world has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Therefore no prudent woman will accept any substitute which a druggist may offer.

If you are sick, write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. It is free and always helpful.

An Odd Australian Will.
The will of an Australian detective provided an unusual way for dividing his property among his six children. His estate, about $35,000, consisted mostly of realty. He ordered that six envelopes should be placed in a box, each child to draw one and have the portion of the property described on the paper inside the envelope.

Irish Climate Good for Tobacco.
It is claimed the moisture of the Irish climate is good for tobacco culture, and that there is plenty of the right kind of soil in the Emerald Isle.

BOYS AND GIRLS
A whole year for 16 cents
ADAMS'S MAGAZINE
The best and cheapest monthly home magazine in the world, containing 24 pages, 10x14 inches, of selected reading matter of unusual interest in every home. Liberal commission to collectors. Send postal card for full particulars and subscription blank form. ADAMS'S MAGAZINE, 131 W. 24th St., N. Y. City.

BUSINESS EDUCATION
—134—
SCHOLARSHIPS FREE
Clip this notice and present or send it to

DRAUGHON'S PRACTICAL BUSINESS COLLEGE
MONTGOMERY, ATLANTA, NASHVILLE,
KNOXVILLE OR FT. WORTH and you will receive booklet containing almost 100 mis-spelled words, explaining that we give away, ABSOLUTELY FREE, 134 scholarships to those finding most mis-spelled words in the booklet. Most instructive contest ever conducted. Booklet contains hundreds of letters from bankers and business men giving reasons why you should attend one of D. P. B. C. Those who fail to get free scholarship will, as explained in booklet, get 10 cents for each mis-spelled word found. Let us tell you all about our great educational contest and our GREAT SUMMER DISCOUNT.

TULANE UNIVERSITY of LA.

NEW ORLEANS.

Full courses in Languages, Sciences, Engineering, Law, Medicine. Splendid department for women in Newcomb College. Tulane makes leaders in all vocations. Its facilities for instruction in Engineering are unsurpassed. Unexcelled opportunities for the study of Sugar Chemistry. Many scholarships in the academic department. Expenses low. Board and accommodations in dormitories at low rates. Next session begins October 1st. Send for catalogue. Address:

THE REGISTRAR, Gibson Hall.

10 CENTS BUYS A PACKAGE
ECONOMY BLUE
Makes Full Quart Best Wash Bluing
15 years on the market. Ask dealer, or we will send by mail package upon receipt of 10c in stamps and your dealer's name.
BAIRD'S McDONALD CO., Louisville, Ky.

DYSPEPSIA
SICK HEADACHE,
TRADE MARK.

CONSTIPATION
PROMPTLY AND PERMANENTLY CURED WITH

Crab Orchard Water.

A Century's Experience, With Successful Results, is the Best Testimonial.

SOLE BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

Crab Orchard Water Co.,

Louisville, Ky.

RISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHILE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Blood Cleansing Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in Stomach. Sold by Druggists.

CONSUMPTION

FITSPERMANENTLY CURED. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. $2.00 a bottle. Free trial bottle. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 351 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

England has just built the biggest troop ship in the world.

Wreck on the Q. and C.

Jackson, Miss.—Train No. 2, the eastbound limited passenger train, Eastbound and Crescent, was wrecked just beyond the Pearl river bridge shortly after 11 o'clock Friday night. None of the passengers was killed, but seven were quite seriously injured, and traffic on the road was tied up for about fifteen hours. The cause of the wreck has not been determined but was evidently due to a defective flange on one of the engine wheels or the displacement of the switch. The accident occurred just in front of siding at the Jackson Brick Company's plant, and the engine, mail car, baggage coach and combination coach left the track. The engine buried itself on the embankment, the tender tumbling over on the opposite side. The mail car fell on its side across the track, the baggage car taking the same course forward by the combination car. How the passengers escaped death is a miracle, for all the coaches were well filled and the equipment that left the rails is a complete wreck. However, none received injuries that will result fatally. All of those hurt were brought to Jackson and placed in charge of Dr. J. F. Hunter, the company's surgeon.

Free Zone Abolished.

Mexico City.—The free zone along the northern border has been abolished by executive order. The zone in question comprises a strip of territory on the Mexican side of the border in which foreign goods could be imported either duty free or at a small percentage of the duties collectable on goods destined for consumption in other parts of the republic. The decree abolishing the zone takes effect tomorrow, but exception is made in favor of goods ordered or en route.

The measure will be hailed with satisfaction on the northern side of the border, but was adopted purely in view of changed local conditions on the Mexican side.

Terrell is Inaugurated.

Atlanta, Ga.—Joseph M. Terrell was inaugurated governor of Georgia for the second time Saturday. Associate Justice Fish of the supreme court administered the oath of office at a joint session of both houses of the general assembly.

Services of Military Needed.

Borisoff, Russia.—There are continued disorders in the city and adjacent country districts and scarcely a night passes without shooting affrays. A bomb was thrown Friday night at four policemen said to be on the terrorist list of death. The services of the military are needed.

More Bombs Are Discovered.

St. Petersburg.—The police have discovered eight completed and twenty-two half-completed bombs and fifty canisters of explosives in a house occupied by a government employee in the village of Veira, near Tsarskoe-Selo.

Big Steamer Is Wrecked.

Constitution, Chile.—The British steamer Tropic is ashore fifteen miles north of Constitution. It is feared she will become a wreck. Ten of her crew have been landed, two were drowned, and the remainder are on board the steamer.

Seventeen-Year Locusts Arrive.

Jackson, Miss.—A c-r-patch from West Station, in Holmes county, says that the seventeen-year locusts have appeared in the neighborhood of that town and are doing great damage to crops and the farmers are much discouraged over the outlook. Locusts have already caused considerable loss and it is feared that they will spread to other counties in the state.

Trainmen Killed in Collision.

Kansas City, Mo.—The "California Limited" on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, collided head-on with a heavy Kansas City Southern stock train at the Gillis street crossing, two miles from the city. Two trainmen were killed and three injured.

Admiral Capp's Father Dead.

Norfolk, Va.—Washington Tazewell Capps, aged seventy-six years, father of Rear Admiral W. L. Capps, chief of the bureau of construction and repair in the navy department, at Washington, is dead. He was a successful Norfolk county trucker.

Howard Must Serve Sentence.

Raleigh, N. C.—Governor Glenn has refused to pardon J. M. Howard, alias Frank Thompson, and H. D. Hawley, of Chicago, sentenced in 1901 to ten years for attempting the gold brick game on a North Carolinian. The case has been carried through all the state and the United States supreme court.

Agrarian Strike in Hungary.

Buda Pest.—A serious strike of farm laborers has broken out in Hungary and as a result the crops are suffering. There have been riots in many places and a number of strikers have been killed by gendarmes. Military assistance has been called for.

Commits Suicide While Waiting.

Norfolk, Va.—B. Frank Vaughan, aged 55 years, prominent in Portsmouth, Va., and employed in the offices of the Baltimore Steam Packet Company, of this city, after casting his vote in the primary election in Portsmouth Thursday what he declared would be his last vote, started to Norfolk and in the ferry waiting room committed suicide by shooting himself in the head.

Drowned in Fording a Creek.

Decatur, Ala.—Late Friday night a telephone message said that John Scarff while attempting to ford Shoal creek in a buggy was drowned in the attempt. Scarff's horse and buggy were swept down the swollen creek, and no trace of them could be found. The accident occurred in the extreme southern part of the county. Heavy rains have fallen here during the past few days, swelling all streams.

The Yield of Coal.

The United States produces 319,000,000 metric tons of coal per year (1903), worth at the mines $485,000,000 and costing consumers nearer a billion dollars.

No other country produces nearly so much. Great Britain sells (1904) 48,000,000 tons, worth $130,000,000; yet her total production is nearly a hundred million tons below our own.

Germany produced in 1904 192,000,000 tons of coal, coke and lignite, but the strike lowered production somewhat.

Austria-Hungary produces and uses less than a quarter as much coal as Germany. Big Russia produces less than little Belgium.

Half a ton of coal per inhabitant is the world average. The United States produces four tons per inhabitant.

Give Russia the Credit.

It is a singular fact that Russia is the country which first gave the greatest encouragement to the woman doctor. The Women's Medical Institute in St. Petersburg, on its foundation, was hailed as the only place in the world where a woman could take out medical degrees. But, in 1886, Minister Warrowsky closed it. Now it has suddenly come to life again, the czar has given it an endorsement, and its students have all the privileges hitherto accorded men. Why and wherefore? Because the war is taking all the men doctors, and if their places are not filled the unhappy empire is at the mercy of any epidemic that may come along.

LASTING RELIEF.

J. W. Walls, Superintendent of Streets, of Lebanon, Ky., says:

"My nightly rest was broken, owing to irregular action of the kidneys. I was suffering intensely from severe pains in the small of my back and through the kidneys and annoyed by painful passages of abnormal secretions. No amount of doctoring relieved this condition. I took Doan's Kidney Pills and experienced quick and lasting relief. Doan's Kidney Pills will prove a blessing to all sufferers from kidney disorders who will give them a fair trial."

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., proprietors. For sale by all druggists, price 50 cents per box.

Great Floating Hotels.

The great fleet of ocean greyhounds which carry America's army of tourists abroad are simply enormous floating hotels. Many of these great hotels of the sea are larger, more costly and accommodate more guests than a Fifth avenue hotel. A first-class hotel can be built for $1,000,000, while ocean steamers of the first class cost from $2,500,000 to $4,000,000. Many of these great hostleries of the sea consume more food in the six days required to cross the Atlantic than a Fifth avenue hotel uses in six weeks. In a single voyage the ocean hotel serves from 35,000 to 40,000 meals.

UNSIGHTLY BALD SPOT

Caused by Sores on Neck—Merciless Itching For Two Years Made Him Wild—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"For two years my neck was covered with sores, the humor spreading to my hair, which fell out, leaving an unsightly bald spot, and the sores, inflammation and merciless itching made me wild. Friends advised Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and after a few applications the sores soon disappeared, and my hair grew again, as thick and healthy as ever. I shall always recommend Cuticura. (Signed) H. J. Spalding, 104 W. 104th St., N. Y. City."

The United States produced $34,551,300 in gold in 1904.

Cures Eczema, Itching Humors.

Especially for old, chronic cases take Botanic Blood Balm. It gives a healthy blood supply to the affected parts, heals all the sores, eruptions, scales, stops the awful itching and burning of eczema, swellings, suppurating, watery sores, etc. Druggists $1 per large bottle, 3 bottles $2.50, 6 bottles $5.00, express prepaid. Sample free and prepaid by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and free medical advice sent in sealed letter.

In 1904 the world produced $351,000,000 in gold.

An Ex-Chief Justice's Opinion.

Judge O. E. Lochrane, of Georgia, in a letter to Dr. Biggers, states that he never suffers himself to be without a bottle of Dr. Biggers' Huokeyberry Cordial for the relief of all bowel troubles, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, etc.

Sold by all Druggists, 25 and 50c. bottle.

"There'll Be No Pie."

An energetic pastor who was making preparations to build a new church received all kinds of advice from parishioners, and the greatest amount came from those who had contributed the least towards the erection of the church. So at the regular services on the following Sunday he said: "I have been receiving lots of advice during the last few weeks. I have been told by certain members of the congregation that it will not do to have too many fingers in the pie. I can assure you that I will attend to that part of it; there will be no pie!"—Harper's Weekly.

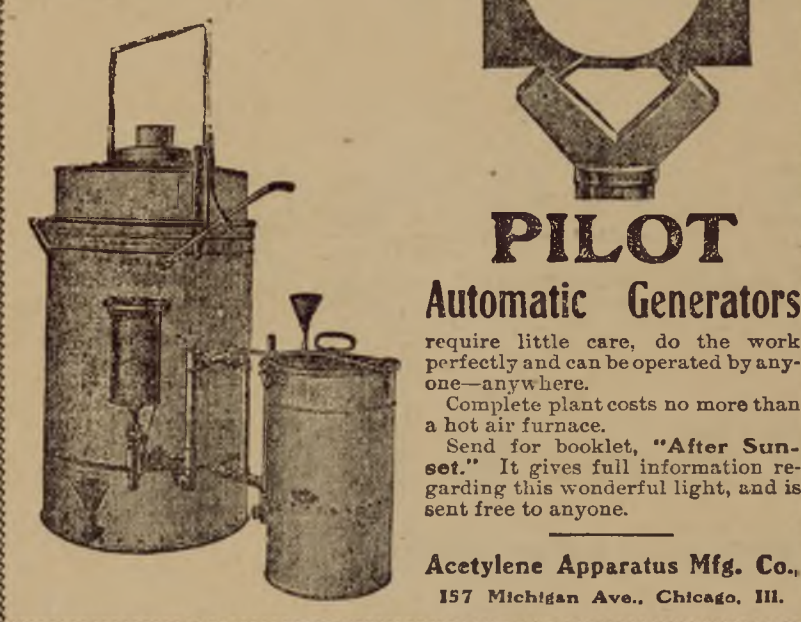

Moses a Helpster in Camping.

Moses made it a law that his people should spend a few days of each year camped out as their fathers had done in the wilderness. I think it would give excellent results if we also made it a national custom in America for everyone to spend a time each summer living in the primitive cabin and primitive ways of the pioneers of our race, says Ernest Thompson Seton, in Country Life in America.

Make Your Own Gas

Any country home, store, hotel, church or building can be as brilliantly and conveniently lighted as a city house.

Acetylene Gas is cheaper than kerosene, brighter than electricity, safer than either.

Acetylene Apparatus Mfg. Co., 157 Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LOUISIANA. Its advantages for practical instruction, both in ample laboratories and abundant hospital material are unequalled. Free access is given to the great Charity Hospital with 500 beds and 50,000 patients annually. Special instruction is given daily at the bedside of the sick. The next session begins October 19th, 1905. For catalogue and information address: PROF. S. E. CHAILLE, M. D., Dean, P. O. Drawer 261, NEW ORLEANS, LA.

BEAUMONT COLLEGE HARRODSBURG, KENTUCKY.

There is absolutely no other school for Women and Girls in the South. It anywhere, offering an extensive curriculum that the greatest benefits for the smallest outlay. Most approved modern improvements—Electric Light, Steam Heating, Complete outfit of Bath-rooms, etc. Grounds of forty acres with universal conveniences, the most uniquely beautiful School Grounds in America. Offers to the ambitious thorough preparation for the great universities. Col. Th. Smith, A. M., Pres. (J. Wm. Davis/1905)

CURED Dropsy Gives Quick Relief.

Removes all swelling in 8 to 20 days; effects a permanent cure in 30 to 60 days. Trial treatment given free. Nothing can be fairer. Write Dr. H. H. Green's Sons, Specialists, Box 5, Atlanta, Ga.

Dainty—Delicious—Attractive to the Eye and satisfying to the appetite

Libby's (Natural Flavor) Food Products

Ox Tongue, Potted Chicken, Deviled Ham, Dried Beef, Brisket Beef, Lunch Tongues, Soups, Corned Beef Hash—all as good as they are wholesome. Easy to serve

The Booklet, "How to Make Good Things to Eat" sent free.

Address Libby, McNeill & Libby Chicago

Mozley's Lemon Elixir

The Ideal Summer Medicine

Cures Coughs, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Headache, Colic, Disordered Liver and Kidneys, and keeps the system in perfect condition by regulating the bowels.

Tones Up the System enables you to enjoy the Summer. Pleasant to take; gentle in action, but thorough in result. 50c. and $1.00 at drug stores.

"ONE DOSE CONVINCES."

Am. 27, 1905.

Conviction Follows Trial

When buying loose coffee or anything your grocer happens to have in his bin, how do you know what you are getting? Some queer stories about coffee that is sold in bulk, could be told, if the people who handle it (grocers), cared to speak out.

Could any amount of mere talk have persuaded millions of housekeepers to use the leader of all package coffees for over a quarter of a century, if they had not found it superior to all other brands in Purity, Strength, Flavor and Uniformity?

Lion Coffee,

This popular success of LION COFFEE can be due only to inherent merit. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity.

If the verdict of MILLIONS OF HOUSEKEEPERS does not convince you of the merits of LION COFFEE, it costs you but a trifle to buy a package. It is the easiest way to convince yourself, and to make you a PERMANENT PURCHASER.

LION COFFEE is sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages, and reaches you as pure and clean as when it left our factory.

Save these Lion-heads for valuable premiums.

SOLD BY GROCERS EVERYWHERE

WOOLSON SPIKE CO., Toledo, Ohio.

SKIN HUMORS

STATE HAPPENINGS

Of General and Local Interest as They Occur.

Rents New Engine.

Uniontown, Ala.—Mayor W. J. Vaiden has returned from Birmingham, where he went to purchase another engine for the water works.

It is understood, however, that he only rented one temporarily, until another one can reach here from New York, that being the only place one suitable for the purpose was obtainable. The temporary one has arrived and is now being put in place.

Revenue Raid.

Troy, Ala.—Deputy Collector W. F. Russell and Deputy Marshal C. M. Cox returned to Troy Friday from a very successful raid in Henry county. They raided six illicit distilleries, most of them complete outfits, and all of them near Balkum and Brown's Cross Roads in Henry county, in a radius of about six miles. Four blind tigers were also raided in Henry county and tax and penalty collected. Calvin Starlin was brought to Troy by United States Commissioner Tutwiler, charged with operating one of the distilleries, and was bound over to await the action of the next federal grand jury under a $200 bond. Warrants were issued for the parties said to be operating the other distilleries. One of the distilleries was caught in full blast.

Killed on Island.

Athens, Ala.—The county comes forward with another killing, making the second in the county within the past two or three weeks. On Robinson's island in the Tennessee river last Sunday a man named Patterson shot and instantly killed a man named Davis. The island is remote from the county seat and the news was delayed in reaching here.

The trouble seems to have grown out of a whipping said to have been administered to Patterson by Davis and a man named Robinson. It is said they held him and whipped him with switches, and turned him loose. He went off and armed himself and returned to the home of Davis and called for him and Mrs. Davis informed him that her husband was down on the island somewhere. He left with the information that where he found him she could come and get him. He had hardly gotten out of sight of the house when he met Davis and at once fired on him, killing him instantly. He made no effort to escape and has not been arrested. There is some question as to which county he is liable, as Limestone and Lawrence have both claimed this land for years, and first one and then the other gets the taxes. The island has long been the home of disturbance, and for years it was charged that many things dark and shady were frequently done there.

Dredge Can't Leave Port.

Mobile, Ala.—Recently a sixteen-hundred-ton dredge, the Gaveston, arrived here from the Texas coast for repairs, preparatory to going across the ocean to German waters. The dredge has a German bottom, though flying the American flag. She was built at Bremen and registered in Germany. She came across with a German crew, but when she took contracts here had to change her flag. When she arrived here she had American engineers.

Two German stokers were employed here as assistant engineers and the engineers complained to the government officials here. This caused some kind of legal complications, which will have to be settled in Washington before the dredge can leave port.

Died from Wounds.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—John Leach, a 16-year-old boy, was accidentally shot in the hip by a companion named Henderson on the evening of the Fourth while out rabbit hunting, and died Friday morning from the wound. The two boys were sitting on an old log. It seems, when the dogs jumped a rabbit, when they both went in pursuit. In some way Henderson's gun went off, burying the contents in the hip of Leach. His companion carried him within a mile of his home when he became frightened, thinking he might be lodged in jail, and left him in the woods. He returned to his home, changed his clothes and went to church. The wounded boy crawled to within hearing distance of his home and was found by his mother. He told the story, which was denied by Henderson until Friday morning, when he found his friend was dying. No arrest has been made.

Bank at Clio.

Ozark, Ala.—The Clio Banking Co., Clio, Ala., was organized Friday with capital stock of $40,000.

Another Case of Fever.

Washington, D. C.—Governor Magoon has called to the Panama canal commission that Peter Henning, a German non-employee, was taken ill June 26 at Colon with yellow fever.

Root's Commission Forwarded.

Washington, D. C.—Elliott Root's commission as secretary of state has been presented at the state department and forwarded to Oyster Bay for the president's signature.

Against Water Company.

Anniston, Ala.—A decision of vital interest to nearly every citizen of the state as well as the city has been handed down by Judge Coleman, of the Anniston city court. The decision was in the case of the Anniston Water Supply company vs. Thomas E. Kilby, mayor, and the city council of Anniston. Not long since the Water Supply company petitioned the city to issue a permit for excavation on certain streets of the city for placing meters.

The council laid aside the petition in order that the permission of the owners of property adjoining could be secured in writing. The water company endeavored to mandamus the council, but Judge Coleman in his opinion decided by dismissing the mandamus. The case will probably not be appealed, as a similar case was reported a few days ago, the supreme court handing down a decision in the Birmingham Water Works case. The next step of the water company will be watched with interest.

Alabama at Departments.

Washington, D. C.—William L. Jones was appointed postmaster at Shawnee, Wilcox county, vice Francis Tate, resigned.

Patents issued: Rufus Crawford, Pleavna, hay press; George W. Fallin, East Lake, carburette; Harry I. Jefferies, Tuscaloosa, trolley head; Charles W. Negley, Florence, bed brace.

Enlarging Plant.

Ensley, Ala.—The Shepherd Lumber company is making a number of improvements on its plant in the northern part of the city. A number of new buildings are being erected and additional machinery is being installed.

The great building activity in progress in this city has made a strong demand for lumber.

Officer Eason Had Close Call.

Anniston, Ala.—Officer Seah Eason had a close call for his life Thursday. Jim Terrell, a negro whom he had arrested on a charge of giving whiskey to a minor, in an unguarded moment took his gun from him and shot him. The ball grazed his abdomen and struck his left arm. If Mr. Eason had not knocked the weapon from his side, the shot would have been fatal. As soon as the shot was fired the negro left for parts unknown, carrying the officer's gun with him. A searching party was organized, but the negro made good his escape, and the chase was abandoned. Mr. Eason's wounds were slight, and he was able to resume his duties Friday morning.

Cuts Off Water Supply.

Uniontown, Ala.—Quite a serious accident occurred about 2 o'clock at the electric plant, where is also located the machinery and pumping station of the water works. The air lift engine which pumps the water into the stand pipe broke half in two, the break, it is thought, being caused by the foundation not being solid, it having been used for a good many years. The town will be thrown without water for a day or two, when it is hoped everything will be in first-class shape.

Well-Known Young Man Arrested.

Birmingham, Ala.—Frank E. Davidson, Jr., a well-known young man of this city, has been arrested by the secret service agents of the government on a charge of impersonating government officials. The defendant was arrested in Sumter county and brought to Birmingham and placed under $1,000 bond to appear before United States Commissioner Birch next Tuesday for preliminary hearing. The warrant charges that Davidson secured goods and valuables in Gadsden by claiming to be a secret service officer. Davidson has a large acquaintance in Birmingham. Up to a few years ago he took big interest in military affairs here.

Lightning's Work.

Eufaula, Ala.—During a thunder storm which swept over the city Friday the home of C. P. Roberts, in the suburbs, was struck by lightning and one of the chimneys was shattered. Two of the inmates who were occupying a room upstairs were stunned and the house was set on fire, but owing to a heavy rain which was falling at the time but little damage was done and the flames were soon extinguished.

Pleasure Boat Fined.

Mobile, Ala.—The new bay steamer Pleasure Bay, owned locally, which arrived here Wednesday, is in trouble. She was fined $100 by Collector of Customs Tebbetts for failing to comply with a navigation law, in not entering for record within twenty-four hours.

Postmaster at Elmira.

Washington, D. C.—Jas. O. Glascock has been appointed postmaster at Elmira, Marion county, vice Frances M. Holly, resigned.

Big Boston Blaze.

Boston, Mass.—Fire Friday night in the lumber yard district of the South End did about $200,000 damage to the yards and wharfing property.

Greenville, Tex.—Will Manning, white, was hanged here Friday for poisoning his wife December 31, 1904. Manning's wife died suddenly and he was soon thereafter sentenced to serve a life sentence for assaulting his sister.

THE POTEMKINE A PIRATE

Mutineers Issued Proclamation Declaring War on All Russian Ships.

OFFICIAL STORY OF TROUBLE

The Potemkine Issued Notice to Powers That She Would Attack All Vessels of the Czar—Must Join Mutineers or Risk a Shaking—Rebel Battleship Seized Coal From an Italian Collier.

Odessa, Russia.—The mutineers on the battleship Kniaz Potemkine declared war on the Russian marine. With a desperation born of necessity she seized an Italian collier and replenished her empty coal bunkers; and with a boldness that passes belief she issued a proclamation of war on all Russian vessels refusing to join the cause of mutiny.

Meanwhile the spirit of mutiny spread to the merchant marine. A transport crew near Sebastopol mutinied and murdered its officers, and all Russia has been feverishly called upon by the ever-active revolutionaries to rise in a general revolution.

The Government story of the events at Odessa, as published in the Official Messenger, has been in great part already covered in the statements made in official quarters and cable to the United States since the commencement of the outbreak. After detailing the activity of the Socialist Revolutionary Committee in stirring up the strikers ashore and the arrival of the mutinous crew of the battleship Kniaz Potemkine at Odessa on June 27, the account proceeds:

"Mutiny of the war ships provided the Revolutionary Committee with a good opportunity to influence the masses. The committee visited the battleship and assured the mutineers that the garrison of Odessa had laid down its arms and that the whole Black Sea squadron had joined hands with the crew of the Kniaz Potemkine. According to eye witnesses, officers took an active part in the councils on board the battleship, especially two young cadets. The result of the anarchist intrigues among the workmen and mutinous sailors became immediately evident. The troops were unable to use their arms against the crowds of workmen in the vicinity of the harbor for fear of the possibility of an enfilading fire from the battleship. The harbor, therefore, was at the mercy of the mob, which pillaged warehouses and vessels, burned casks of wine and spirits and started a drunken orgie.

"With nightfall the fires started by the rioters soon attained terrible dimensions. Nearly everything in the harbor was destroyed, the mob refusing to allow the firemen to fight the flames. Among the property destroyed were the warehouses and stores of the Russian Navigation and Commerce Company, the agency and stores of the Danube Navigation Company, the Bois stores on the Platoff piers, the Odessa Harbor railroad station, the Harbor Master's office, part of the warehouses of the Russian Navigation Trading Company, and of the Roseysky and Roshinine companies on the new pier, the shipping office on Platoff Pier, part of the coal depot, all of the buildings of the Quarantine Harbor, and twenty wagons and six steamers belonging to various companies. The railway freight sheds were pillaged and many riotous and looters were burned alive while intoxicated.

"Several times during the night of June 28 the mob attacked the troops and police with revolvers, but every time they were scattered by a volley from the soldiers. The number of rioters killed or wounded is not yet known, but must exceed several hundreds. The damage can only be estimated in millions of roubles.

This story confirms the report that the Kniaz Potemkine on the evening of June 29 fired three blank shots, as prescribed by the Russian naval code for the funeral of a sailor, and followed these up with two live shots, destroying part of a house. Otherwise the battleship did no damage. The Government report then proceeds to relate the arrival of Rear-Admiral Kruger's squadron during the morning of June 30, as follows:

"As the squadron approached the Odessa pier the Kniaz Potemkine cleared for action, advanced to meet it and cut through its line. As the Kniaz Potemkine passed the mutineers excited an ovation from the crew of the Georgi Pobedonosetz. Rear-Admiral Kruger thereupon signalled the squadron to swing around and return to Sebastopol but the crew of the Georgi Pobedonosetz prevented that vessel from following, and put ashore all their officers, disarmed, with the exception of Lieutenant Grigorieff, who blew out his brains.

"On the advice of the revolutionists a committee of twenty was elected to take charge of the vessel under the direction of a boatswain's mate and apparently against the latter's will. Dissension prevailed among the crew, only part of which was influenced by the revolutionists and wanted to follow the Kniaz Potemkine. The latter threatened to fire on the Georgi Pobedonosetz if she tried to rejoin the squadron at Sebastopol. The anti-revolutionary section, however, ultimately gained the upper hand, and when in the afternoon of July 1 the two battleships weighed anchor the Georgi Pobedonosetz put on full speed, entered the harbor and sent the boatswain's mate and some sailors ashore to signify her submission."

Moroccan Negotiations Progress. The negotiations between France and Germany on Morocco were said to be moving toward an agreement. A dispatch from Fez indicated that the Moors were beginning to show less admiration for Germany.

Our Squadron Reaches France.

The American squadron, under Admiral Sigsbee, reached Cherbourg, France. A cataphaque to receive the body of John Paul Jones has been erected on the cruiser Brooklyn.

EQUITABLE PROSECUTIONS

Hendricks Has Proof Insurance Chiefs Speculated With Trust Funds.

CRIMINAL ACTION IS LIKELY

State Probers Unearth Evidence That Policy Holders' Money Has Been Used in Wild Wall Street Deals—Grand Jurors Begin Work—May Uncover Criminality in Shipbuilding Fiasco.

New York City.—Law breaking officials of the Equitable Life Assurance Society are being attacked from all sides. District Attorney Jerome has already put the Equitable crimes into the hands of the Grand Jury, which has just begun what will be a history-making session. Some high financiers may soon face jail. Gage E. Tarbell is helping on the criminal action against his associates.

In swearing in the July Grand Jury in Part I. of General Sessions, Judge Warren W. Foster took occasion to announce that this particular Grand Jury would probably be called upon to give a lot of extra time and attention to the very important investigation of the Equitable Society's affairs now on foot in the District Attorney's office.

It is said that the Grand Jury will also delve into the United States Shipbuilding Company scandal. This was mixed up with the Equitable's affairs through the Mercantile Trust Company. That the shipbuilding graft may develop criminal ends is evident because of the recent restitution of funds sunk in it, including $190,000 to Mrs. Ida E. Wood.

Attorney-General Mayer is expected speedily to begin the prosecution of all men who acted as directors in the Equitable without holding five shares of stock. This was in violation of the law. Mr. Mayer had his attention called to this by Senator Brackett. The penalty for the offense is a fine of $2,000. Only about ten of the men who have acted as directors in the Equitable recently, it is said, are innocent of the charge.

A receivership proceeding now conducted by the Equitable, a New York law firm is preparing to go into court to take this action to safeguard the rights of the policy holders. Proof of speculation on margins by officers of the Equitable Life Assurance Society with the funds of the policy holders is in the hands of Superintendent of Insurance Hendricks, so it was announced, and is soon to be made the basis of criminal action.

Judge Foster's significant charge to the Grand Jury makes clear that the criminal aspects of Equitable affairs will come under immediate scrutiny, and the preparation of evidence by Mr. Hendricks will expedite the jurors' work. Coupled with this announcement, which staggered financiers and insurance men, was the further assertion that no time would be lost in bringing the criminal proceedings against those who had used the money of the policy holders to dabble in the most dangerous sort of Wall Street speculation. It is not known that any of the money so risked was lost, but, it is said, that makes no difference in the legal status of those who made such a misuse of the Equitable's funds for their own enrichment. Superintendent Hendricks, it is said, will insist that both Attorney-General Mayer and District Attorney Jerome shall proceed against everybody involved and push the cases against them vigorously.

MOB TORE A MAN TO PIECES.

Spectators at a Bullfight Averged the Death of a Matador.

City of Mexico.—One of the most horrible tragedies ever enacted in a bull ring in Mexico is reported from the City of Durango. An intoxicated spectator, who was responsible for the death of Silverio Chico, a famous matador, was literally torn to pieces by a mob.

The sixth and last bull of the exhibition proved to be particularly large and fierce, and the cleverness of Chico in "playing" the animal gained him great applause. Just as he lunged forward, his sword penetrating the heart of the animal, the intoxicated spectator hurled a piece of iron pipe. It struck the matador on the head, and he fell insensible in front of the bull. The enraged animal gored him six times before he fell over dead.

As soon as the people realized what had happened there was a rush for the offender. He was thrown into the ring, where his head and limbs were severed from his body and then hacked and torn to bits.

THE POLICY HOLDER'S RISK.

Health Must Be Good When Insurance Takes Effect, Says Court.

Boston.—The Massachusetts Supreme Court has upheld the condition in a policy of life insurance that the insured must be in sound health on the date the policy takes effect. The fact that the insured had no knowledge of his poor condition of health or that he had no intention to deceive the company the court held immaterial as regards the question of the company's liability.

CHICAGO COUNTS 2,272,700.

Population Guess Made on Basis of Directory Censuses.

Chicago.—Final figures of the Chicago Directory Committee issued give the city a population of 2,272,700, its based on the recent censuses. The number of new names contained in the book is 31,670.

The census shows the largest increase in office buildings ever known in Chicago.

FATAL STORMS IN TEXAS

Tornado, Lightning and Downpour Cause Great Damage.

Seven Children Numbered Among the Dead—Many Houses and Public Buildings Wrecked.

Nocona, Texas.—A tornado and thunderstorm passed a few miles west and south of here, killing fifteen persons, injuring forty or fifty and destroying a number of houses. Nine were killed at Montague.

Reports from the storm swept district give the following list of dead: Mrs. C. C. Shackelford, Miss Shackelford, Mrs. S. L. Timbleson and three children, Mrs. Mary Lester and four children, Caleb White, Irb Williams, Mrs. Irb Williams and Frank Eakin.

Among the seriously injured are Miss Nannie Austin, J. J. Woodson, Frank Woodson, four children of Z. W. Shackelford and a child of Mrs. Lester.

Many farmhouses were swept away. The schoolhouse, three miles west of here, was damaged. The Baptist and Methodist churches at Belcher were considerably damaged. The Methodist Church at Montague was wrecked and the Court House damaged.

The Dixey schoolhouse, six miles west of here, was blown away bodily. Large hailstones fell here, breaking many windows.

Crops in the path of the tornado were destroyed.

Nocona is on a spur line of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, 417 miles from Gainesville, in Northern Texas.

At Montague fifteen dwellings as well as four stores were demolished. Hundreds of head of stock were killed outright by the wind.

INFANT BLOWN INTO A LAKE.

Brewer Hupfel's Grandson Drowned—Wind Struck Baby Carriage.

Newburgh, N. Y.—The twenty-month-old grandson of A. G. Hupfel, the New York brewer, was drowned in the lake on the Hupfel estate near here. It was fastened in its carriage, which was blown into the lake.

The child, Anlon G. Brandon, son of Frank Brandon, was a pet of his grandfather. It had been sent out with its nurse for an airing. The nurse had strapped the baby in its carriage so that it should not crawl out. The child went to sleep after a while, and, leaving the carriage near the edge of the lake, the nurse went away for a few moments.

When she returned the carriage and baby had disappeared. The nurse searched frantically all around the nearby roads, thinking some one might have rolled the carriage away. She never suspected that the baby and carriage had disappeared into the lake.

She finally notified the child's parents and all the help on the estate were turned out to search for the baby. The nurse showed where she had left the baby carriage standing, and the marks of the wheels showed where it had gone to. The hood of the carriage had been up and acted as a shield to catch the wind.

Men were put to work to drag the lake, and it was not long before they found the carriage. The baby was still in it. The child had been dead some little time.

PHILANTHROPIST ENDS LIFE.

R. D. MacGonigle, Deserter by Friends When Money Is Gone, Takes Poison.

Pittsburg, Pa.—R. D. MacGonigle, millionaire gas man, famous all over the country as an author, lecturer and philanthropist, killed himself in the Hotel Lincoln. He had given away the bulk of his fortune in charity and then lost the remaining $300,000. Recently his friends deserted him, and the blow drove him to death.

MacGonigle was last seen alive when he went to his room early in the evening. He appeared to be in the best of spirits at that time. When he failed to leave his room next morning the door was forced open, and he was found dead in his room, an empty vial on the dresser having contained a solution of chloral.

Mr. MacGonigle was fifty-three years old, and a few years ago his fortune was estimated at several million dollars. He was the founder of the Allegheny Light Company, afterward absorbed by the Philadelphia Company.

He devoted almost his entire life to charity. He founded the Kingsley House, the Pittsburg Golf Club, the Pittsburg Country Club and the Duquesne Riding Club, which holds the Pittsburg Horse Show.

PATIENTS DROWN IN HOSPITAL.

Over 900 Guanajuato Flood Victims—Property Lost, $2,000,000.

Guanajuato, Mexico.—Gov. Obregon estimates the loss of life from the recent cloudburst and consequent flood at over 900.

The hospital was flooded so quickly that the patients there were drowned. The magnificent Juarez Theatre was flooded to the floor of the first balcony, and soldiers who had taken refuge there had to climb to the upper balcony to save themselves. The property loss is now estimated at $2,000,000.

President at Hay's Funeral.

President Roosevelt attended the funeral of John Hay in Cleveland and took a train for home immediately afterward.

John Hay's Simple Funeral.

The funeral of Colonel John Hay, Secretary of State, took place at Cleveland, the services being marked by extreme simplicity. President Roosevelt, Vice-President Fairbanks and present and former members of the Cabinet attending.

Yellow Jack in Panama.

Nurses arriving from Panama declared the conditions there are growing worse and that nurses are leaving the place in large numbers.

BIG PACKERS INDICTED

Federal Grand Jury at Chicago Finds True Bills Against Beef Trust.

TWENTY-TWO OFFICIALS ON LIST

Four Corporations Also Indicted—Nelson Morris and Michael Cudahy Left Out on Account of Their Age, But Their Managers Must Answer to Criminal Charges in the Federal Court.

Chicago.—Twenty-two officials of the big packing companies and four corporations were indicted by the Federal Grand Jury. Then the jurors filed into Judge Bethen's court, reported their findings, and were dismissed with the thanks of the Court.

Four corporations and eighteen individuals are named in the principal indictment, which charges a conspiracy in restraint of trade and a conspiracy to monopolize or attempt to monopolize any part of such trade or commerce in violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust law.

Penalties for violations of either of these charges, which appear in different counts in the principal indictment, are a fine not to exceed $5000 and imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both, in the discretion of the Court. The fine only is applicable to corporations.

Four other individuals are named in a separate indictment which is based on the provisions of the interstate commerce law, making it unlawful to solicit or receive any rebate or concession in respect of the transportation of any property interstate or foreign commerce. The penalty prescribed under this charge is a fine of from $1000 to $20,000.

Originally the interstate commerce law provided a punishment of both fine and imprisonment for such violations, but the imprisonment provision was stricken out when the law was amended.

After a session extending intermittently over a period of three months the Federal Grand Jury finished its investigation into the packing industry. The head officials of the packing companies anticipated the Grand Jury's action by sending their attorneys to the office of the United States District Attorney to make arrangements for bonds.

The indictment forms contained the names of Nelson Morris, head of Nelson Morris & Co., and Michael Cudahy, president of the Cudahy Packing Company. District Attorney Morrison made an address, in which he conveyed to the Grand Jury his impression that because of the advanced age of these two men and the fact that their concerns are practically in the hands of a younger generation the Government was disposed to be lenient.

After taking the matter under advisement the Grand Jury decided to have the names of the two aged packers stricken from the indictment.

A list of those indicted follows: J. Ogden Armour, president; P. A. Valentine, vice-president; Samuel M. McRoberts, secretary; Arthur McVey, manager beef department; Thomas J. Connors, a director; Charles W. Armour, manager Armour & Co., Kansas City, all of Armour & Co.

Louis F. Swift, president; Edward F. Swift, vice-president; Charles Swift, manager export department; Laurence A. Carlton, treasurer; D. Edwin Hartwell, secretary; and Albert H. Needer, general counsel, all of Swift & Co.

Arthur F. Evans, special counsel; Robert C. McManus, special counsel; Edward Morris, vice-president, and Ira N. Morris, secretary, all of Nelson Morris & Co.

Edward A. Cudahy, vice-president of the Cudahy Packing Company; Gayward Tilden, of Libby, McNeill & Libby.

Samuel Weiss, secretary and former vice-president; Beth S. Cusey, general traffic manager in New York, and Chester E. Todd, traffic manager in Kansas City, all of Schwarzhild & Sulzberger.

Corporations indicted—Armour Packing Company, Swift & Co., Fairbank Canning Company, Cudahy Packing Company.

SWEDEN CLOSES WAR PORTS.

Proclamation Issued, to Become Effective Immediately.

Stockholm, Sweden.—The apparently peaceful aspect of affairs which followed the excitement after Norway's declaration of her secession from the sovereignty of King Oscar was broken suddenly by the issuance of a proclamation, to become effective immediately, declaring Stockholm, Karlskrona, Gottenburg and Farsund to be war ports, and denying entrance to all foreign warships.

This will be followed by a notice to the Powers, through the ambassadorial representatives, announcing the action taken by the Government, so that all ships of war of other nations now within these ports will be withdrawn.

The proclaiming of the four ports as war ports is the most serious and significant action taken since the Norwegian announced their intention to secede, and is in effect the first step in preparing for an armed conflict to force the secessionists to return to their allegiance.

Oyama and Linevitch Negotiate. Oyama and Linevitch were reported to be negotiating to arrange an armistice in Manchuria.

Tiflis, Trans Caucasus.—Bomb-throwing continues daily. Two Dynoviks were killed and thirteen persons wounded by a bomb and a policeman was shot Saturday night.

Memphis, Tenn.—Judge Moss turned his attention from "the lid" to Magistrates who are violating the law passed by the recent legislature by trying misdemeanor cases outside their districts. The grand jury was instructed to indict these Magistrates.

MINOR EVENTS OF THE WEEK

WASHINGTON.

President Roosevelt announced that the treaty envoys chosen are Komura and Takahira for Japan, Muraviev and Rosen for Russia, who will meet in Washington as soon as possible after August 1.

The Acting Secretary of the Treasury received and accepted the resignation of sixty draftsmen employed in the bureau of the Supervising Architect. These employees had to be laid off on account of lack of work in the office, there being only enough in hand to keep about forty men busy. Since 1902 $50,000,000 has been expended on new public buildings and for improvements to old ones, but the work of preparing plans has been done with such rapidity that drawings for only two or three buildings are now in progress. Unless there is another public building bill at the coming session, the force in the drafting room will be still further reduced.

Former Secretary Morton was at the Navy Department to introduce his successor, Charles J. Bonaparte, to the chief officials of the department. Mr. Bonaparte assumed his new duties the same morning.

OUR ADOPTED ISLANDS.

There is every indication that the sugar season in the Hawaiian Islands will be one of the best in recent years.

The coffee growers of Porto Rico feel much encouraged by the efforts which are being made to popularize their product in the United States. There is a big crop in prospect.

A sergeant and six men of the Second Cavalry have killed Feliardo, the scourge of Cavite, Philippine Islands. He was the boldest bandit in the island, and was the hero of numerous escapes.

Judge Warren Ickis, formerly a lieutenant in the Fifty-first Iowa Regiment, died of septicaemia on Mindanao Island.

DOMESTIC.

Two white women, Mrs. Mary Jay, thirty years old, and May Woodling, twenty-eight years old, were murdered in a house in the Tenderloin section of Scranton, Pa. In each case the woman's skull was crushed with a hatchet.

The New Jersey Court of Errors and Appeals has finally decided to wear robes, and will appear in them for the first time at the next term.

Gentiles organized in Salt Lake City, Utah, to defeat a Mormon plot to seize the choice tracts of the Uintah Indian reservation about to be opened by the Government.

The Rev. Dr. Wylie, of the Scotch Presbyterian Church, New York City, in a sermon suggested jail as the proper place for "high finance" directors who juggle with trust funds.

Congressman Driscoll, attorney for Superintendent Hendricks, of New York, in the Equitable investigation, replied to James H. Hyde's defense of his father, and showed how the elder man made huge profits at the expense of the policy holders.

Joseph M. Terrell, Governor of Georgia, has offered rewards of $500 each for the arrest and conviction of the first five members of the Watkinson mob and $200 each for every other member.

Uniform food laws for all the States were considered by a convention of wholesale grocers in session at Milwaukee, Wis.

The American Institute of Homoeopathy, meeting at Chicago, Ill., elected William E. Green, of Little Rock, Ark., as president.

Because of ill-health, George H. Witata, a prominent attorney of Fremont, O., killed himself at Bellevue, O.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1901
at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., July 13, 1905

Telephone No. 17.

It will take Watkinsville, Ga., a long time to live down the disgrace which has recently come to it.

Russia is a rotten country if there ever was one. It fairly seethes with revolution, riots and rebellion.

The location of the court house site is about as warm a campaign as was the court house election.

Cut out politics in matters pertaining to the upbuilding of Columbiana, and the town will prosper.

Elihu Root is the new secretary of state. He'll have to keep moving if he makes as good a secretary as his predecessor.

The latest is that Comer will champion Joseph Johnston for Governor. Nothing in it; Comer wants that job himself.

The outlook for a successful State Fair at Birmingham is brighter than attended any previous exposition in that city.

The Columbiana ball team still holds the amateur championship of Alabama. And it will be the same way when the season closes.

Comer will not launch his campaign for governor before the Press Association, and because of the slip up in his program some of his admirers are miffed.

Mr. Comer's pronouncement was another play to the grand stand. But we apprehend the people do not care to see an extremist in the governor's chair.

According to the Centerville Press the Press Association should pay no attention to the provisions of its constitution. Nunnallee does not mean it; he just likes to talk.

Chicago Chronicle continues to slap the South whenever opportunity offers. The Chronicle is lost to all sense of decency, therefore its jabs at the South cut no ice.

Oh, my! A New York fire company refused to go into a parade where Booker Washington was leading in a carriage. Good for the fire ladders. Each of them deserve a medal.

The Birmingham ball team has been sluggish pretty hard during the past week. The Vagabonds should take another hitch in their galluses or they may slip down a notch in standing.

Many leading republicans of Ohio say they will support Patterson, the Democratic nominee for governor. They say the trust magnates (republican leaders) are choking the life out of the Buckeye State.

The negroes in Kansas are getting to be as exclusive as whites are. In the little town of Potter they have a cemetery of their own, entirely separate from the white. They evidently don't intend to get mixed up with the white trash in the general rising.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Gorky has refused a flattering offer to come to America and go on the lecture platform. He says his place is among the outraged people of his own country and he will not desert them. His example is worthy of emulation by a whole lot of people who think the world is simply dying to hear them spout from the lecture platform.

Bowie Opposes Canal.

Washington, July 3.—(Special)—“Down in Alabama we are very much interested in the canal situation and anxious to see how the whole matter comes out. Alabama as a Southern state regards the building of the canal of great importance.” Representative Sydney J. Bowie of Alabama gave expression to the above tonight.

“However,” he added, “I have always agreed with Senator Morgan that the shift at the last moment from Nicaragua to Panama was a put up job and disgrace. I have never believed the Panama route practicable, and the people who engineered the deal know it was not; that is the reason they were for it. Naturally, I would rather have a canal at Panama than none at all but I am confident if one is to be built it will be through Nicaragua. It seems to me that if the chief engineer, Mr. Wallace, had found the Panama route practicable, drawing as he was a $25,000 salary, he would prefer having his name go down in history as its chief constructor rather than to resign upon financial consideration. He has already gone on record as discrediting the report and plans of the original commission under which the Panama route was selected.”

It is encouraging when a city, especially a Pennsylvania city, has a public official who has a conscience and lives up to it. For example, a Philadelphia company tried to sell some inferior building material to the city of Chester but the City Engineer turned it down with the remark: “The poorhouse will be my home before I recommend material that I know is not worth buying.” Now, if that engineer had been “easy” he would have colluded with the Philadelphia firm and received a real nice rake-off for his part of the job. Such an official is causing expressions of surprise, especially from the Philadelphians, to whom graft and bribery are the usual factors in all trades or bargains for the city. They don't understand an honest official, though Mayor Weaver appears to be giving them some lessons.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Rural Routes.

Anniston, Ala. July 1st, 1905. To the Editor of The Sentinel:

The Department at last is catching up with its rural free delivery work and petitions are now being examined within sixty or ninety days from the time they are filed, whereas, formerly it took from six to twelve months. If the routes are favorably acted upon at all, the government usually establishes them within about sixty days after the receipt of the report, so that final action can be expected in ordinary cases within six months from the filing of the petition.

We have nearly ninety routes already established in this District, but there is considerable territory yet unsupplied with this service. It pays the carrier a salary of sixty dollars per month for routes twenty-four miles or over in length and in the same proportion for shorter routes.

The requirements for the establishment of the routes are simple and blanks and all necessary information will be furnished by me cheerfully on request.

I am very anxious to extend this service over all available territory in my district and anyone interested can get all desired information. The service wherever established is giving great satisfaction and has resulted in decided benefit to those communities which have forwarded their petitions and secured favorable action.

Very respectfully,
SYDNEY J. BOWIE.

“The business meeting of the Alabama Press Association promises to be interesting at the approaching meeting.”—Centerville Press.

They are always so, brother, to those who are interested in the success of the association. But the knocker is generally opposed to anything that is successful.

Comer is a good man, but an extremist upon anything which affects the public is not the right kind of a man to put in the Governor's chair. Show Tunstall and Sanders the back door and elect two good men to fill their places, and keep Comer where he is. Tunstall is the greatest barnacle that was ever fastened upon any administration.

The Centerville Press is growing facetious. It says: “The executive committee of the Alabama Press Association should not deny the boys the right to say ‘now I lay me down to sleep.’” The brother should not worry; he will not be deprived of anything he needs, so he may say his little “lay me” without fear of being disturbed.

Whew! what a stink has been raised by the recent discovery in Washington of grafting in the cotton statistics. The Republican party appears to be an incubator for the production of thoroughbred grafters.

Editor Max Hamburger, of the Mobile Herald, is bound that something shall be doing for the members of the Press Association when they visit Mobile and Coden next week.

The candidate who advocates a convention is afraid to trust the people, and the people will do well if they refuse to trust him, says the Mountain Eagle.

DIDN'T YOU RUBBER, EROTHER?

The newspapers who are carefully guarding the interests of the railways, and their unwise friends, made a mess of it in rubbing in to the arrangements of the good people of Sylacauga and rubbing the fur the wrong way on a number of editors and publishers who have heretofore taken no very decided stand on the fair freight rate question.—Opelika News.

Now if the News man will publish the resolution he introduced and tried to get the committee to adopt at its recent meeting, the public will see that the News man is somewhat on the rubber himself, for his resolution, if adopted, would have upset completely the arrangements of the good people of Sylacauga. As to “rubbing the fur the wrong way on a number of editors and publishers”—we have frequently noticed that friend Wear says some very harsh things of newspapers that disagree with him on the fitness of Mr. Comer for Governor.

The old saying that “naught is a naught, and figure is a figure,” does not seem to hold good in the government's report on the cotton situation.

An exchange says “if Dr. Cunningham should be elected Governor,” etc. No “if” about it. He will be elected because the people want him.

Editor Nunnallee has coined a new word in his sprightly Press—“increaser.” Where did you get it, brother?

Cunningham is not talking very much these days, but his pile of sawdust is growing all the time.

The usual number of “Fourth of July accidents” was swelled considerably this year.

Cotton was sure soaring skyward last week—going up in one day more than one hundred points.

A number of the newspaper boys are coaching the “business government.” He needs it.

Baseball Players and Foot Racers!

Louis J. Kruger, ex-champion long distance foot racer of Germany and Holland, writes, Oct. 27, 1901: “During my training of eight weeks' foot races at Sault Lake City in April last, I used Ballard's Snow Liniment to my greatest satisfaction.

Therefore, I highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism.” 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by William Bros.

Marion Military Institute.

The University of Virginia places the Institute on its list of accredited Colleges. The University of Pennsylvania accept the degrees of the Institute, admitting graduates without examination. Other leading universities accord the Institute the same recognition of merit.

Applicants for admission must present testimonials of good moral character and of creditable standing in the school last attended.

Personal attention and individual instruction is given every student. All professors live in the Institute. A home is in each building for the social and moral culture of the students.

For catalogue address, J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

HARPERSVILLE.

Too late for last week.

Hot, hotter, hottest!

That rain did come.

“Craps” will soon be laid by.

There is some sickness in our community.

The glorious Fourth has come and gone.

Mrs. Robert Davis is visiting in Anniston.

Just put your ear to the ground and see if you don't hear the new railroad coming.

Mr. and Mrs. Hood, after spending several weeks here, returned to their home in Georgia last week.

If you are on the Harpersville rural route, and don't get any letters, just tell the carrier, Steve Gary, and he will write you one.

There was a couple married here a few days ago—the bride being but thirteen years old, and the groom not old enough to pay poll tax.

H. M. Abecrombie, an old Shel by county boy, but who is traveling now for the Birmingham Ledger was here recently in the interest of that paper.

News has just reached us of the sad death of Mrs. R. P. Tucker, of Vincent, which occurred in an infirmity last Saturday night where she had gone to have an operation performed. She was a christian woman, a loving wife and a kind and affectionate mother. She leaves a husband, four small children and a father, besides a host of friends to mourn her death. To the bereaved we extend our sympathy.

A few of our farmers still have some cotton on hand which they are holding for a big price—twelve or fifteen cents. We are glad to see farmers in such a condition that they can hold their produce, but most of us poor creatures have to dispose of what we make before it is really gathered, and we curse the administration and say all sorts of things about the merchants, but no one's to blame but ourselves. Work more and buy less, and see if times will not be better.

La, me! How bad Sylacauga did do the Press Association. We have a great mind to invite the Association to Harpersville, but won't this time for blackberries are sorry, there is no fruit, flour is getting low in the barrel, the last meat has been taken down and most all gone, sugar is way down in the barrel—can't hardly reach it, credit most gone and no money, and for these many reasons and more, too, we won't invite it this time, but will wait for a more convenient season.

Jake,

Alabama Girls Industrial School

Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academical, Pedagogical, Scientific, Commercial, Industrial, Domestic. Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M., D. D.

For Lease or Sale.

Valuable lime manufacturing plant; fine condition; 400 acres of finest grade limestone. For particulars address

MRS. MINNIE GIST, Guardian,
Calera, Ala.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1905.

No. 21	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 17	No. 21
7:00pm	5:30am	Ar. Mobile	10:30am	10:30am
1:00pm	5:45pm	Ar. Selma	1:30pm	2:00pm
5:30am	10:05am	Ar. Birmingham	6:00am	6:30am
9:40am	10:20am	Ar. Chattanooga	6:30pm	6:30pm
11:1pm	10:37am	Ar. Knoxville	7:00pm	7:00pm
5:40pm	10:40am	Ar. Bristol	7:30pm	7:30pm
6:00pm	10:45am	Ar. A. Bristol	7:50pm	7:50pm
1:00pm	10:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	8:00pm	8:00pm
6:10pm	10:55am	Ar. W. Lynch	8:10pm	8:10pm
12:40pm	11:00am	Ar. N. York	8:20pm	8:20pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. Car serves meals en route.

No. 18	STATIONS.	No. 17
7:30am	Ar. Selma	9:30pm
9:10am	Ar. Knoxville	10:30pm
9:30am	Ar. Chattanooga	11:00pm
10:37am	Ar. Birmingham	11:30pm
11:40am	Ar. Selma	11:40pm

No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 17
7:30pm	Ar. New Orleans	6:10pm
1:40pm	Ar. Meridian	6:30pm
3:20pm	Ar. Memphis	6:50pm
4:20pm	Ar. Union City	7:10pm
5:00pm	Ar. Marion	7:30pm
5:30pm	Ar. Selma	7:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Lynchburg	8:00pm
2:00pm	Ar. W. Lynch	8:10pm
2:20pm	Ar. N. York	8:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	8:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	9:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	9:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	10:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	10:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	11:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	11:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	12:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	12:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	1:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	1:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	2:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	2:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	3:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	3:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	4:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	4:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	5:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	5:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	6:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	6:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	7:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	7:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	8:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	8:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	9:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	9:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	10:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	10:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	11:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	11:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	12:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	12:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	1:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	1:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	2:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	2:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	3:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	3:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	4:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	4:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	5:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	5:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	6:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	6:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	7:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	7:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	8:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	8:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	9:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	9:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	10:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	10:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	11:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	11:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	12:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	12:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	1:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	1:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	2:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	2:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	3:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	3:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	4:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	4:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	5:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	5:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	6:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	6:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	7:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	7:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	8:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	8:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	9:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	9:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	10:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	10:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	11:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	11:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	12:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	12:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	1:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	1:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	2:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	2:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	3:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	3:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	4:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	4:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	5:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	5:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	6:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	6:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	7:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	7:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	8:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	8:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	9:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	9:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	10:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	10:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	10:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	10:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	11:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	11:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	11:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	11:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	12:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	12:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	12:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	12:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	1:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	1:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	1:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	1:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	2:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	2:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	2:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	3:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	3:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	3:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	3:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	4:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	4:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	4:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	5:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	5:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	5:40pm
6:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	5:50pm
7:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:00pm
7:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:10pm
8:10pm	Ar. Selma	6:20pm
8:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	6:30pm
9:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	6:40pm
9:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	6:50pm
10:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:00pm
10:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:10pm
11:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	7:20pm
11:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	7:30pm
12:10pm	Ar. Selma	7:40pm
12:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	7:50pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:00pm
1:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:10pm
2:10pm	Ar. Selma	8:20pm
2:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	8:30pm
3:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	8:40pm
3:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	8:50pm
4:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:00pm
4:40pm	Ar. Chattanooga	9:10pm
5:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	9:20pm
5:40pm	Ar. Birmingham	9:30pm
6:10pm	Ar. Selma	9:40pm
6:4

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

THE BICYCLE

YOU'RE LOOKING FOR.

FRESH MEAT

TWICE EACH WEEK.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months..... .50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

There are a good many weeds in town yet. Kill 'em.

Sam Wallace was up from Selma several days last week.

Give the ball game a big crowd both today and tomorrow.

And where would you like to have the court house located?

J. T. Leeper was one of a house party at Shelby Springs last week.

Winning three straight games is getting to be a habit with the Columbiana team.

Mrs. S. V. McCauley has returned from a short visit with friends in Montevallo.

Horace Hammond was down from Birmingham, Sunday, visiting his mother.

Wm. Sessions, of Dry Valley, was in town one day last week to see the ball game.

H. S. Latham, of Montevallo, was in the city Saturday and Sunday visiting his children.

C. L. Meroney, of Montevallo, was visiting at the home of Mrs. M. E. Parker, Sunday.

The town was full of farmers last Saturday, a sign that they are well up with their work.

Miss Jimmie Mansfield, of Goodwater, is in the city a guest at the home of Mrs. M. T. Wood.

To anxious enquirer: Yes, the weeds about town will be cut down—sometime, we hope.

The merchants who advertise in The Sentinel are doing business all right enough. Are you one of 'em?

Miss Jimmie Juhan, a pretty girl of Carrollton, Ga., is in the city a guest of Miss Carrie Rowe.

Mrs. Simon Friedberger is entertaining her sister, Miss Kate Oster, of Catherine, for a few weeks.

To those who are busy time flies on the wings of the wind. It is the man who's doing nothing whom time bores.

Joe Sessions and Walter Lucas, two former students in the Columbiana high school, are in the city for a short visit with friends.

Some people are inquisitive from habit—for instance, the news gatherer on a paper. When he asks you what you know, tell him.

It may be interesting to the Columbiana ball team to know that the Prattville boys have been playing good ball for the past few weeks.

A lady not a hundred miles from Columbiana was recently remarking about the clothes other ladies wore to church. When asked what text the preacher used for his sermon, she answered: "I vow I don't know; I didn't hear it." And there you are.

The North Birmingham ball team played a thirteen inning game with Calera last Thursday, the former winning out by a score of three to two.

The roofer who will not stand up for his home team should be used as a bench by the whole crowd. In other words, "set down" upon him.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will change its time from Friday afternoon to Monday afternoon. It meet with Mrs. T. J. Weaver.

The ball game will be called at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. The fans should take due notice, for they are expected there in force.

Rheumatism has had its grip on us for the past two weeks. Must be we are getting old, but we don't want anyone else to intimate as much to us.

G. B. Wheeler, who is teaching at Davis' school house, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office last Saturday. He will read The Sentinel for the next few months.

There will be a Sunday school picnic on the mountain east of Columbiana, on Friday of this week. All the Sunday schools in the town will help to swell the crowd.

Miss Amma Strickland, who has been central operator in the telephone exchange here for the past year, has resigned her position and has been succeeded by Miss Grace Walker.

Luck counts for a lot in a ball team, but knowing how to play counts for a great deal more. That is why Columbiana's ball team is so successful—the boys know how to play ball.

Postmaster and Mrs. J. I. Abercrombie will leave the first week in August for a few weeks' visit with relatives in Mississippi. During their absence Prof. S. Dowell will be in charge of the postoffice.

Hon. W. E. W. Yerby, editor of the Greensboro Watchman, and who is one of a house party at Shelby Spring this week, was in Columbiana for a short time Sunday morning. Mr. Yerby is one of best known newspaper men in the State, and his paper wields a wide influence in his section.

Miss Alma Bell, who has been a guest or her sister, Mrs. Jno. J. Haynes, for the past month, will leave for her home in Lineville next Saturday. Miss Bell, by her charming manner and pleasing personality has made many friends here especially with the younger crowd, and all regret that she is soon to leave Columbiana.

The editor of The Sentinel and his wife will leave for Mobile and Coden next Tuesday afternoon to attend the annual meeting of the Alabama Press Association, and will be gone until the following Monday. During that time the office will be in charge of Onnie Saxon, and any favors shown him during our absence will be appreciated by us.

Notice

To District trustees and others: The County Board of Education will meet in Columbiana, Saturday, July 15, 1905. Anyone desiring changes in Districts, or any other business with said body, will please meet us and make known their wishes.

J. O. DOROUGH, Supt.

COLUMBIANA IS STILL CHAMPION.

A Fine Exhibition of Playing Ball by Columbiana and North Birmingham.

Yes, they played ball! As recorded in our last issue the North Birmingham boys lost the first game to Columbiana, Tuesday afternoon, and when the game was lined up for Wednesday ginger and snap was there in plenty, and it was a battle royal.

In the first, the home team got three runs to its credit and was retired on a fly. Roberts was in fine trim and the visitors were retired in one, two, three order, being unable to find the horse hide for a single hit.

It was the same old story all the way through the game—the visitors were simply outclassed. Lack of space forbids a record of the game by innings, merely touching on some of the best features.

A pretty and rapid double play in the second half of the fifth inning drove the fans frantic. With a visitor on first Dowell got a hot liner at short, fielding it to Denny at second and he to Joe Roberts at first. It was quick and successful.

Other sensational features were two running fly catches in right field by Leon Pope, and a running fly by Chapman. In the seventh Denny conjured his willow and hiked the ball into the woods for a three bagger; it was relayed by two men before it got back to the diamond.

At no time in the game did a visitor reach third until the last half of the ninth when two errors on the part of the locals gave the visitors two runs—all they made in the game.

Roberts did fine work and had excellent support by Avory behind the bat and by the field. Strong and Murphy was the battery for the visitors and they played excellent ball, but the field support was not good.

At the end of the game the score stood 10 to 2 in favor of the locals; Roberts struck out 16 men and Strong 5. Umpires, Mason and Cruse.

Thursday's game was called at 10 o'clock, as the visitors were to leave at 1:30. The line up was the same as the day before with the exception that Cruse was in the box for the visitors.

Notwithstanding Roberts had a sore arm caused by pitching the two previous games, yet he showed up in fine fettle, and from his work no one would have thought he was suffering considerably with his arm, and the game was played with the same ginger and snap that attended the previous games. The visitors played ball for all they were worth, taking every possible chance, but fate and ball players were against them, and after the one run made in the first inning they did not get a man past second base. The home team did errorless work, and the finish showed 5 to 1 in favor of the locals. Roberts had ten strike-outs to his credit, and Cruse nine.

One thing the spectators will always remember—it was the cleanest ball playing ever seen in Columbiana. Each game was a gentleman's game—perfectly free from bickering and wrangling of any character, and the North Birmingham boys won the admiration of all our people by their gentlemanly bearing, and it was a pleasure to have them with us.

ly bearing, and it was a pleasure to have them with us.

Just one more point to add—Joe Roberts' coaching is like giving the boys a drink of cordial—it inspires confidence and, well, it makes them play ball, that's all.

GREAT BIG TIME

FOURTH OF JULY.

Wright's School House Scene of Glorious Time.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana.

The grand rally at Wright's School House, on the Fourth, was a success in every sense of the word. The crowd was estimated at 1,200 people. The meeting was indeed all that one could anticipate. Good behavior, good speaking, cannonading, balloon ascension and a bounteous good dinner carefully prepared by the good ladies of the surrounding country, were among the events of the day. The following was the program for the day:

Forenoon—Welcome address by E. L. Crampton, reply by Rev. D. R. Miller.

Prayer, Rev. N. T. Lucas.

Speech, N. W. Abbott.

Afternoon—Speech by Judge A. P. Longshore. Subject, Declaration of Independence.

Speech, subject George Washington, J. H. Wilder.

The following letter received early in the day from Hon. D. R. McMillan, will explain itself:

Columbiana, July 4, 1905.

Hon. Hosea Pearson, Pres.

My Dear Sir—I regret more than I can express to you that I cannot be with you today. I had looked forward to this day and this occasion with most pleasant anticipations. But I have some import business engagements that demand my attention and seem to preclude the possibility of my being with you.

Let me express the hope and belief that the day may be a most enjoyable and profitable one for all who may attend, and that the grand and laudable movement of the farmers may receive that encouragement, by your meeting today, which the cause so justly merits. The cause for which the farmers of our country are, at this time, so industriously contending, I am glad to say, is being more and more recognized as the grand cause upon which, from a material standpoint, depends the success and well being of our whole body politic. I had hoped to talk to the young men today—the young farmers—on the dignity of labor. The success of the cause, I apprehend, is more dependent upon such a course being pursued by the farmers as will tend to dignify their calling than on anything else. It is too much the case that our most brainy young men are leaving the farm and engaging in other pursuits. This should not be. They are needed on the farm. Whenever the calling is brought to that point of dignity and recognition which it deserves, our best and most promising young men will be seen entering it. Then will success—true and genuine success—crown your efforts.

Assuring you of my hearty sympathy, and again expressing to you my regret at not being able to be with you, I am, my dear sir, Yours very sincerely,

D. R. McMILLAN.

A vote of thanks is here tendered the entire community of the Wright School House for the entertainment given the delegates and visitors of the Shelby Union, and others. HOSEA PEARSON, Farmer, Ala. President.

Wanted in Southern League.

Harry Roberts, pitcher for the Columbiana ball team, received a telegram last week from the manager of the Atlanta team, asking him to join his team for the rest of the season.

The friends here of Mr. Roberts would regret to lose him from the home team and at the same time would like to see him playing in the Southern League, but his business is such that he could not now leave, so he wired answer that he was "not in condition to play with them this season."

WILSONVILLE.

Oscar and Osie Tinney spent Sunday with homefolks.

John Millstead has been shaking hands with friends here for the past few days. He says when he gets rich he is coming home to stay.

We have just had a good rain for which let us all be thankful, as it is the best one we have had for several weeks, and we are very much in need of it.

J. F. Pope, after spending ten days on a pleasure trip to Georgia, has returned home. He reports a pleasant time, and his looks show that he has been well taken care of while gone.

Mrs. Iris E. Taylor has been sick for the past few days, but we are glad to hear that she is better. Her mother, Mrs. J. L. Riddle, is not improving as we would like to see her doing.

Mrs. J. W. Kytte, Spear Kytte and wife and Mrs. J. F. Pope were called to Birmingham last Saturday on account of the illness of John Kytte's baby. We regret very much to learn that the baby died Sunday. We sympathize very much with you and Miss George, John, as we know it is hard to give up our little jewels.

Mrs. G. W. McGowan returned from Oxford last Friday. She was accompanied home by Miss Ollie Privett, her niece, who will remain here the rest of the summer to the delight of some young men as well as young ladies.

Mrs. James Ewing and her grandson, Emerson Brown, came from Birmingham where they have been living for the past year, to remain with us now. Mrs. Ewing said she had to come back to Wilsonville to get good water to drink, so her friends will find her at the old home place hereafter.

The Presbyterian protracted meetings will begin here next Sunday morning. There will be prayer services at the church Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of this week, conducted by Rev. Thompson, the pastor. Everybody is invited to attend, and as our people are changing some and suspended business operations for the Fourth of July as a National holiday, we hope they will do likewise during this series of meetings and attend them and receive a spiritual blessing. We should all remember that we can serve God and obtain a blessing by attending upon His Word whether it be of our denomination or not, if we have the right spirit within us.

BASE BALL.

TALLADEGA VS. COLUMBIANA

Wednesday and Thursday

JULY 12-13.

Columbiana Ball Park

Admission, 25 Cents

You're Going.

$3,000.

Certificate of Beneficiary.

Birmingham, Ala., May 23, '05.

Mr. Geo. M. Webb, State Agent.

I want to thank your Secretaries and Treasurers of Pike, Chambers and Shelby Co. Divisions for the prompt payment of my husband's policies, in your most esteemed company. The above amount—$3,000—was paid me in nine days after the death of my husband. All it had cost him to leave me this amount of money, was his membership fees, and one assessment of $1.15. I would advise every man and woman in Jefferson county and in the State of Alabama to take a policy in this company for it is the cheapest, safest and best insurance on earth. With best wishes for your popular company in Alabama, I am

Very respectfully,
Mrs. SALLIE VINCENT.
E. F. Enslin, Wit. Beneficiary.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ill., writes Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago I was laid up for four months with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affliction. Sold by Williams Bros."

Notice of Commissioner's Sale.

In pursuance of, and in accordance with the terms and directions of a Commission, issued and addressed to undersigned, by the Hon. A. P. Longshore, Judge of the court of Probate in and for Shelby county, Alabama, bearing date the 21st day of May, 1905, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash at public auction in front of the court house of said county, on Monday, the 14th day of June, 1905, within the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate, to-wit: That part of northeast quarter of southeast quarter, and southeast quarter of southeast quarter of section 32, township 19, range 2, as described by notes and bounds as follows: Commencing near the northern corner of said forty on the west side of the creek, and running south through the center of the line to the east and west line near the southeast corner of northeast quarter of southeast quarter, thence west 24 rods from said corner to the southeast corner of southeast quarter of southeast quarter of said section, and thence west half of southeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 5, township 23, range 2, containing 23 acres more or less, which lands are to be sold under the decree of said court for the purpose of a division between and among the joint owners thereof, who are as follows: John E. Cruse, John Harris, Paul Harris, George Harris, Mary Ward, Aunt Crum, Julia Harris and Chris Harris, a 1/2 interest each of Virginia Harris deceased.

H. E. WHITTAKER, Commissioner.
McMillan & Haynes, Attorneys.

Indigestion.

With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by William Bros.

ANOTHER SPLENDID

Fraternal Organization Giving to its Members the Greatest Benefits Ever Offered, to Organize Here Soon.

The National Union Fraternal Life Association of Georgia will soon organize here. Its members are entitled to the following benefits as soon as the Division or lodge is full: $1,000 in case of death; $1,000 in case of accident (total disability), payable $100 per year for ten years, and in case the member dies he gets $1,000 in addition to accident benefit. Ten orphan children are fully provided for, free of cost, in each lodge or Division. This benefit is in addition to money coming to them from the death of parent.

Each member after twenty years, in good standing, is given a paid up life membership, nothing more to pay of dues or assessments.

The total cost to join is $5.00. This includes dues for the first six months of $1.00, and the Mortuary, assessment of $1.00. Nothing more is paid by the member until the end of six months, then each member pays $1.00. When a death occurs in your lodge or Division, then the beneficiary is immediately paid, and each member pays $1.25. The dollar goes into your bank to provide for the next death and 10 cents goes for expense and 5 cents goes for the accident and orphan benefit.

There is no Fraternal Society or Insurance Company in the world, that offers these four benefits to its member. It is likely to cost about $4.00 a year to secure these benefits. Can any man afford to ignore this, if he can become a member?

This Society permits ladies to join on the same terms as men. The success of this institution in Georgia and Florida has been remarkable, and we predict a very large measure of success for it in Alabama, as our people are as wide awake to a good thing as any elsewhere.

Only a limited number are accepted in each Lodge or Division. Thus every one should try to become members as soon as possible.

Group.

Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe, which sometimes extends to the larynx and bronchial tubes, and is one of the most dangerous diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c, 50c and $1.00 Sold by Williams Bros.

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line

is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the

Chicago & North-Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways.

W. B. KNISKERN,
P. T. M. C. & N.-W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.

Please mail free to my address, California booklets, maps and full particulars concerning rates and train service.

FILL IN THIS COUPON
AND MAIL IT TO-DAY.

LABOR WORLD.

Glassblowers at Bridgeton, Conn., recently went on strike.

The strike of the 14,000 agricultural laborers in Porto Rico has ended.

The Tailoresses' Union, of Sydney, New South Wales, has a membership of 985.

It is estimated that 150,000 of the 350,000 ironworkers in the United States are organized.

On the whole employment in Great Britain improved in March as compared with the preceding month.

Final arrangements have been made for the consolidation of the rival factions of painters in Philadelphia, Pa.

A Philadelphia (Pa.) court has decided that workmen employed by the city must be paid in full for Saturday.

The Susquehanna (Pa.) Coal Company is reopening the old Bear Ridge shaft and Slattery colliery, near Port Carbon.

Five hundred skilled mechanics will shortly be put to work in the new shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Trenton, N. J.

It is announced that the American Flint Glassworkers' Union will shortly begin the erection of three lamp chimney factories.

French officials' reports show that during the last year the trade unions of that country increased their membership to 1,637,953.

Shippensburg (Pa.) clerks, by forming an association, induced the merchants of that place to make a 7 o'clock closing agreement.

As compared with a year ago there was considerable improvement in the iron and steel trades generally, and in the cotton industry of Great Britain.

The Western Federation of Miners in its convention at Salt Lake City, Utah, adopted a resolution committing the Federation to the "Industrial Union" movement.

Killed in Theatre Fire.

Henry Baker, a ticket taker, was suffocated and several firemen overcome in a fire in Keith's Theatre, New York City.

Taft Party Starts.

Secretary Taft's Philippine party, including Miss Alice Roosevelt, started for San Francisco, Cal., from Washington, D. C.

General Porter Honored.

General Porter was made senior special ambassador to receive the body of John Paul Jones from Paris, France.

SHIP LOST OFF CAPE HORN.

German Steamer Agnes Founders in Storm.

San Francisco, Cal.—The ship Aryan arrived from Baltimore, Md., bringing the captain and ten men of the crew of the German ship Agnes, which foundered in a snow storm off Cape Horn. The boat's crew picked up was one of three which abandoned the Agnes before it sank. A search for the other two was fruitless.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect November 6, 1904.

No. 21	No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	iv. Mobile.	10:55pm	10:00am
1:00pm	8:50pm	iv. Selma.	4:30pm	9:00am
8:30am	10:00pm	iv. Birmingham.	6:30am	10:35pm
6:00pm	ar. Chattanooga.	iv.	6:30pm
1:00pm	ar. Knoxville.	iv.	2:00pm
5:45pm	ar. Bristol.	iv.	9:50am
6:10pm	ar. Asheville.	iv.	1:15pm
1:50am	ar. Lynchburg.	iv.	3:00pm
8:55am	ar. Washington.	iv.	10:00pm
12:40pm	ar. N. York.	iv.	2:25pm

Nos. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Birmingham, Birmingham and New York. Cafe cars serve meals en route.

No. 11	STATIONS.	No. 11
7:15am	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 9:20pm
9:10am	iv. Akron.	ar. 7:30pm
9:50am	iv. Greenboro.	ar. 6:45pm
10:37am	iv. Selma.	ar. 4:30pm

No. 11	STATIONS.	No. 11
7:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
12:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:00pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am

No. 11	STATIONS.	No. 11
7:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
12:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:00pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am

No. 11	STATIONS.	No. 11
7:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
12:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:00pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am

No. 11	STATIONS.	No. 11
7:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
12:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:00pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am

No. 11	STATIONS.	No. 11
7:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
12:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:00pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
7:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
8:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
9:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
11:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am

No. 11	STATIONS.	No. 11
7:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
12:30pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:00pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:20pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
2:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
3:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
4:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:25pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
5:55pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans.	ar. 8:45am

GOVERNMENT REPORT

On the Growing Crops of the United States, on July The First.

REPORT ON CROP CONDITION. Average Condition of Growing Crops on July 1 Was 87.3—Compared With Former Years.

Washington, D. C.—Preliminary returns to the chief of the bureau of statistics of the department of agriculture show the acreage of corn planted to be about 94,011,000 acres, an increase of about 2,080,000 acres, or 2.3 per cent on the area planted last year.

The average condition of the growing crop on July 1 was 87.3 as compared with 88.4 on July 1, 1904, and a ten year average of 87.6.

The average condition of winter wheat on July 1 was 82.7, as compared with 85.5 last month, 78.7 on July 1, 1904, and a ten year average of 77.8.

The average condition of spring wheat on July 1 was 91.0, as compared with 93.7 last month, 93.7 on July 1, 1904, and a ten year average of 89.3.

The average condition on July 1 of spring wheat and winter wheat combined was 85.8, as compared with 84.5 on July 1, 1904, and 80 at the corresponding date in 1903.

The amount of wheat remaining in the hands of farmers on July 1 is estimated at about 21,257,000 bushels; equivalent to about 4.4 per cent of the crop of last year.

The average condition of the oat crop on July 1 was 92.1 as compared with 92.9 last month, 89.8 on July 1, 1904, and a ten year average of 88.5.

The average condition of winter rice on July 1 was 92.7 as compared with 88 on July 1, 1904, and a ten year average of 89.1.

The average condition of spring rice on July 1 was 93.0 as compared with 90.8 on July 1, 1904, and a ten year average of 88.4.

The average of rice is less than that of last year by about 172,000 acres or 26 per cent, and the condition on July 1 was 83 against 88.2 one year ago.

The acreage of potatoes, excluding sweet potatoes, is less than that of last year by about 19,000 acres or 6 per cent. The average condition on July 1 was 91.2 as compared with 93.1 on July 1, 1904, and a ten-year average of 92.1.

The acreage of tobacco is less than that of last year by about 54,000 acres, or 6.7 per cent. The average condition on July 1 was 87.4 against 85.3 one year ago.

Another Mine Accident.

Birmingham, Ala.—Three men were killed, and three others were seriously injured in the mines at Sayreton, operated by the Republic Iron and Steel Company, Tuesday afternoon at 6 o'clock by rock falling from the roof of the slope. Sayreton is one and a half miles beyond North Birmingham.

The killed: John Owens, white; Patrick Bailey, white; Frank Scott, a negro. George Kennedy, white, was slightly but not seriously injured; Henry Finley, colored, was probably fatally crushed by the falling stone, and Zeb Perryman, colored, was seriously injured, but it is thought that he will recover.

It is claimed that a car in the mines was off the track near the first slope heading and several of the miners, including those killed and injured, were trying to get it back on the track when, without a moment's warning, a huge stone broke loose from the roof and fell with terrific force on them.

The three men who lost their lives were killed almost instantly. The bodies of those killed and the injured were quickly recovered.

Three Killed in Explosion. Huntsville, Ala.—The boiler of the big saw mill at Goliath, in a remote section of Madison county, exploded with tremendous force Monday morning and killed three white men.

The dead are Allen Hall, the fireman; Frank Wallace and Ed Beech. Several persons about the establishment were injured by flying debris, and two or three mules and oxen were killed, one of the latter animals being cut half in two by a flying iron rod. The explosion was due to the carelessness of the fireman, Hall, who allowed the water in the boiler to run low.

The force of the explosion demolished the whole building, blew lumber in every direction, demolished wagons standing in the adjacent yard and blew the bodies of the dead men a distance of thirty-five yards. One report claims that the water in the well a few feet from the boiler was blown out.

Clearing Out Channel.

Sheffield, Ala.—The channel of the Tennessee river at Kingston, Tenn., is being cleared so that the barges can pass through; a bar 700 feet long and 60 feet wide is the place being worked at present. In ten days the McPherson, the dredge boat now at that place, will return to the canal about seven or eight miles above here. Captain Fletcher and a force of fifty men will be left in charge of that point on the river.

Prosecution to Follow.

Washington, D. C.—The scandals of the department of agriculture are now in the hands of the department of justice. Secretary Wilson, of the former department, has referred all the papers in the cotton leak to the attorney general. This, it is believed, was done at the suggestion of the president, who, it is said, wanted this action taken before the Southern Cotton Growers' Association made similar demands.

Attorney General Moody is out of the city and Solicitor Henry M. Hoyt is acting attorney general. From a public standpoint it would be well if the matter could rest entirely in his hands. He is well qualified in every respect to go into the law of the case, and in addition is an official who will not fear to prosecute all who are connected with the scandal. If Mr. Hoyt has his way there will be no whitewash. It is believed here that the acting attorney general will find a way to prosecute Holmes, and his superiors if under his supervision other department officials, confederates of Holmes, are uncovered. Few believe that Holmes could have acted alone in the matter.

Shoots Himself Before Mother.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Guy Robertson, living at Sylvan, shot and instantly killed himself late Saturday evening. According to reports from Sylvan young Robertson attended a game of ball and returned late in the afternoon so that his mother could use the horse and buggy. Upon his return he was met by his mother, who was waiting for his return.

She noticed as he entered the room that he went to the bureau and took from a drawer a revolver, which she asked him to return to her. He told her that he would replace it himself, and stepped back only a few feet, pressed it to his temple and fired. Death resulted immediately.

Alabama Still in the Third Rank.

Washington, D. C.—In a report on iron ores issued by the geological survey it is stated that Alabama last year contributed three varieties of ore, 2,894,423 tons being red hematite, 787,514 tons being brown hematite and 17,944 magnetite.

The state occupies third, first and sixth places respectively in these classes. The total production of all classes, 3,699,884 tons, is an increase of 14,921 tons over the 1903 output of 3,684,960 tons, and maintains Alabama as third in rank.

Goldfield Has $200,000 Fire Loss.

Goldfield, Nev.—Two blocks of Goldfield's business and residence sections have been destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $200,000. The fire originated in the basement of Mrs. Wilson's millinery store, spread to R. Komero's brokerage office and automobile establishment which blew up. A new $40,000 hotel being built lasted about twenty minutes, and the Nevada Detective Agency and Grandview hotel, both across the street, soon followed.

Buck Lewis Shot.

Guntersville, Ala.—John A. Dotson shot and fatally wounded Buck Lewis about three miles north of Guntersville Tuesday. Reports say Dotson had been endeavoring to call at Lewis' house to see his daughter, but Lewis prevented him.

This made the young man angry and securing a pistol he went to the field where Lewis was plowing, crept up behind him and fired a 44-caliber pistol ball through his back and stomach. Officers are in search of Dotson.

Big Fire Loss at Guntersville.

Guntersville, Ala.—Fire which started in F. C. Whittaker's furniture store Tuesday morning destroyed that establishment, John Gilbreath's grocery store, the Bank of Guntersville, the grocery store of A. R. Hooper, and Sam Henry's general merchandise store. The loss is estimated at $35,000, and very little insurance was carried.

Miss Wheeler to Marry.

Washington, D. C.—Miss Julia Knox Wheeler, daughter of General Joseph Wheeler, will be married to William J. Harris, a prominent insurance man of Georgia, July 27. The ceremony will be solemnized quietly by the Rev. Ernest M. Stires in St. Thomas church, New York.

Shipbuilding Plant Is Sold.

Richmond, Va.—The shipbuilding plant of the William R. Trigg Company here has been sold by order of court to Frank Samuel and H. G. Lloyd, both of Philadelphia, for $268,000. It is understood that the purchase of the plant by Messrs. Lloyd and Samuel was made for the bondholders.

Wife Offers Reward.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Mrs. H. A. Lindgreen has offered one thousand dollars for any clue of her husband whom it is thought was assassinated and thrown into the Warrior some two months ago.

Executive Appointments.

Montgomery, Ala.—E. C. Coats, of Marengo county, was appointed tax commissioner for that county by Governor Jelks Friday.

Mobile, Ala.—In the People's Bank has been deposited a check to the credit of Mrs. C. T. Hearin, the amount of which is $100,000. The check was paid on a single policy on the late Charles T. Hearin by the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

A NEW GAME OF DECEIT.

Passing Confederate Money on Unsuspecting Foreigners.

When you see a bill fluttering to the ground from the pockets of a pedestrian don't pay any attention to it, and if the finder volunteers to split it with you hang on to your money. Michael Arzmann wishes he had followed this advice.

Michael had a bad streak of luck yesterday. He is a hard working employee in the rolling mills. For two years he has been saving his money to bring his wife from Germany. She arrived in Milwaukee a few days ago. Michael had found a suitable flat and paid $3 down to clinch the bargain. Clutching $7.50 in his hand he started off to pay the balance of the first month's rent. Crossing Sixth street viaduct he saw a man ahead of him drop a bill which appeared to be money. He picked it up, thought it was $50, and was in the act of calling to the stranger to notify him of his loss when another approacher caught him and said:

"Get on to the guy trying to show off that he has money. I know him well. Used to pal with him. He would not even thank you if you returned the money. He has stacks of that. I'll tell you what. You keep the bill and just give me one-half in change and no one will be the wiser."

"Good God, do I look as if I had that much money about me? This is all that I have," showing the $7.50.

"You seem to be an honest chap, and on second thought I do not need the $25 as bad as you, seeing that your wife has just blown into town. Give me what you've got and I'll call around for the balance later on."

Michael turned over his money and pocketed the bill.

Michael hurried to his landlady. With a profound bow he handed her the newly found bill.

"Man, what are you trying to do?" exclaimed the landlady fiercely. "I'll teach you that I am not to be trifled with."

She jumped upon the next car and saw Inspector Riemer. After he had heard her charges against Arzmann, whom she accused of trying to pass counterfeit money on her, he sent for the unsuspecting Slavonian. As soon as the inspector saw the scrap of paper he smiled:

"That's Confederate. The war is over."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

Trail Signs.

First among the trail signs that are used by Indians and white hunters, and most likely to be of any use to the traveler, says a writer in Country Life in America, are axe blazes on tree trunks. These may vary greatly with locality, but there is one everywhere in use with scarcely any variation. This is simply the white spot, knuked off by knife or axe, and meaning "Here is the trail."

The old blazes and other woodland tribes use twigs for a great many signs. The hanging broken twig, like the simple blaze, means, "This is the trail." The twig clean broken off and laid on the ground across the line of march means, "Break from your straight course and go in the line of the butt end," and when an especial warning is meant, the butt is pointed toward the one following the trail and raised somewhat in a forked twig. If the butt of the twig were raised and pointed to the left it would mean, "Look out, camp," or "ourselves," the enemy, or the game we have killed is out that way."

The old blazes and other woodland tribes use twigs for a great many signs. The hanging broken twig, like the simple blaze, means, "This is the trail." The twig clean broken off and laid on the ground across the line of march means, "Break from your straight course and go in the line of the butt end," and when an especial warning is meant, the butt is pointed toward the one following the trail and raised somewhat in a forked twig. If the butt of the twig were raised and pointed to the left it would mean, "Look out, camp," or "ourselves," the enemy, or the game we have killed is out that way."

Two shots in rapid succession, an interval of five seconds by the watch, then one shot, means, "Where are you?" The answer, given at once and exactly the same, means, "Here I am; what do you want?" The reply to this may be one shot, which means, "All right; I only wanted to know where you were." But if the reply repeats the first, it means, "I am in serious trouble. Come as fast as you can."

Artificial and Natural Silk.

Several processes are now employed in Germany, Switzerland and France for the manufacture of artificial silk, and one of the German associations is said to be negotiating for the establishment of a factory in the United States. In one of the latest patented cellulose dissolved in ammoniated oxide of copper is directly separated from this solvent in the form of threads by the aid of an acid. Under the microscope all artificial silks are seen to differ from natural silks by possessing thicker threads. The artificial silks are also distended by water, the threads increasing from one-third to one-half in thickness, while natural silks do not perceptibly distend when wet. Artificial silk is used instead of straw for making hats. It serves well for passmenneries and embroideries, and produces an excellent quality of human hair.

A Cute Oklahoma Woman.

The women of the Yankee States may think that they are clever at driving bargains, but the claim is made here now, without evasion or equivocation, that in Guthrie lives a woman without a parallel for commercial wit. Several months ago she entered a large department store in New York City to buy a yard of silk, which the clerk told her would cost her thirty-five cents.

Her purchase left a remnant of one and one-half yards. The clerk suggested that she buy the remnant. "What will you take for it?" asked the Guthrie woman. "Twenty cents, Madam," replied the clerk politely. "Well, I'll take it, but you can keep the yard you've just torn off." The clerk was staggered for a moment, but appreciating the humor of the proposal smilingly made the exchange. Not the least merit of this story is that it is true.—Kansas City Times

EQUITABLE DISCLOSURES

Amazing Testimony From Crafters Who Looted the Concern.

CRIMINAL PROSECUTION NEAR

The New York World Publishes a Summary of the Sworn Evidence Upon Which the Hendricks Report Was Based—Confessions of Depew, Schi2, Hyde, Alexander and Others.

New York City.—A summary and large section of the testimony upon which the Hendricks report on the scandals in the Equitable Life Assurance Society was based were made public by the New York World.

So damning a document has never before emanated from a public office. It calls into question the veracity, honor and even the common honesty of men who have long stood high in financial and social circles in New York. It does more. It actually convicts some of them on their own testimony of offences punishable by penitentiary sentences.

Nothing that has occurred since the beginning of the plutocratic age in America has been so startling in its revelations of greed, graft and wholesale buccaneering.

It has shattered forever the glamour that has heretofore surrounded certain multi-millionaires of the eminently respectable class, and shows in revolting details the methods employed by them to rob the trust funds of widows and orphans left in their hands.

Every member of the ring which preyed on the Equitable is now in danger of relentless criminal prosecution.

The testimony shows that the guilty officials of the Equitable have diverted more than $20,000,000 of the funds of the society within the last few years. A summary of the most important features of the testimony follows.

Chauncey M. Depew, a director, testified that the Depew Improvement Company, a suburban land enterprise, of Buffalo, had obtained from the Equitable a loan of $250,000 on property which the State Insurance Department had valued as only $150,000, and which was afterward sold on foreclosure for $50,000. As a member of the Executive Committee of the Equitable Mr. Depew said he had voted for the loan, but denied that he advised it. He admitted that later he with others interested had agreed to protect the Equitable against loss, but said, as a lawyer, he did not consider that promise binding. Mr. Depew testified that since 1889 he had been paid $20,000 annually by the Equitable for legal counsel, and that for thirty years he had received money from the Equitable "on a sort of general retainer."

Mr. Depew said he lifted young Hyde's salary to $100,000 a year at Hyde's request because of what his father did. He raised Alexander's salary to make it even with Hyde's.

James H. Hyde on his own testimony, is shown to have been in eight syndicates which sold securities to the Equitable, and he testified that he was merely formal, as the money has not reached the treasury. He admitted that the society paid for the Cambion dinner and that it purchased for him a $20,000 private car. When the capital stock of the Equitable Trust Company was increased he grabbed the profit for himself.

Hyde said that it was true that several persons carried on the payrolls of the Equitable did most of their work for him personally.

Former President Alexander testified that he was in eight syndicates; had offered to return the profits made in two, but even this small share of his loot had not been received. He admitted the charge that a host of members of his family were carried on the payrolls at salaries ranging as high as $25,000 annually. He admitted sanctioning the leases of Equitable property to Hyde's safe deposit companies at a nominal rental at the expense of the society.

James H. Schiff admitted that up to the time of the exposure he had been neither a policyholder nor a stockholder in the Equitable, though, as a director, he threw a great part of his investment business to his firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. He admitted selling bonds to the Equitable which he thought undervalued for life insurance societies; selling Japanese bonds to the society and buying them back at a lower figure; selling Metropolitan Street Railroad bonds on which the society suffered a large loss. The sensational part of the Schiff testimony was his impassioned charge that the records of the society had been falsified in so far as they showed sales of Union Pacific stock to the company by his firm. Yet the books of the company show that Schiff voted to approve these records, and the officials of the company produced checks in payment for this stock made out to his firm and indorsed by it.

Valentine P. Snyder testified that in operations conducted by him to effect the merger of the Bank of Commerce and the Western National Bank the Equitable Society lost about $1,200,000. Evidence was presented showing the purchase of Western bank stock by the Equitable for 399 and its sale for 150. More extraordinary yet, it bought Equitable Trust Company stock for about 100 and sold it for half as much to George Gould and E. H. Harriman on the same day.

Huge Railway Earnings.

Railway earnings continue good and the traffic outlook is favorable.

Special Venezuelan Commissioner.

President Roosevelt appointed W. J. Calhoun, of Chicago, Ill., a special commissioner to go to Venezuela and go over all the points in dispute between this country and the South American republic.

Gage E. Tarbell Retained.

Gage E. Tarbell, Second Vice-President of the Equitable, will be retained in that position and in absolute control of the agency force, it was announced in New York City.

CHIEF OF POLICE KILLED

Major-General Count Shuvloff, of Moscow, Shot.

DEMONSTRATION BY CROWDS

The Count Was Popular With the People—Murdered While Receiving Petitions—Encounter Between Troops and Mutineers—More Riots Feared by Police of Kustelnj, Roumania.

Moscow, Russia.—Major-General Count Shuvloff, Prefect of Police here and formerly attached to the Ministry of the Interior, was assassinated while receiving petitions. One of the petitioners drew a revolver and fired five times at the Prefect. The assassin was arrested.

The assassin waited in the anteroom of the Prefecture till the other petitioners had been received, and then, entering the audience room he advanced toward Count Shuvloff, firing five shots at close range.

One bullet wounded the Count in the pericardium, another pierced his abdomen, a third hit him in the arm, and the fourth in the shoulder, while the fifth bullet fired by the assassin struck the leg of an official who was standing near.

According to the physicians the bullets were poisoned. The victim speedily lost consciousness and died.

The assassin, who was dressed as a peasant, was not identified. He was recently arrested as a political suspect, but escaped from the police station before his examination.

A great crowd gathered in front of Count Shuvloff's house and made a demonstration to show the people's indignation and sorrow at the assassination of the Prefect, who was very popular. He owes his death to his custom of granting audiences to and receiving petitions from all classes.

The Grand Duchess Elizabeth, widow of the Grand Duke Sergius, attended the first requiem for Count Shuvloff.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—The assassination of Count Shuvloff at Moscow is considered a purely political crime, as the Count, who was less than forty years old, was regarded as being of the best type of Russian official. He came from one of the most famous families in Russia. He was a son of Count Peter Shuvloff, the statesman who represented Russia at the Berlin Conference, was formerly Colonel of the Guard Regiment known as the St. Petersburg, and was one of Emperor Nicholas' personal friends.

As Prefect of Odessa, where he succeeded General Zelenoi, who was extremely severe, Count Shuvloff earned the esteem of all by his firm but lenient course, making himself particularly popular with the students.

The impression exists here that the Count was killed for preserving order. The situation throughout the Caucasus continues critical. The people are in a great state of agitation.

The streets and squares of Tiflis are occupied by troops, but the city has been quiet since the proclamation of martial law.

Several persons have been arrested at Tiflis in whose lodgings wholesale quantities of bombs were found. Bombs have also been found in the quarters of an employee at the arsenal at Tiflis.

Business at Batum has been at a standstill. The shops and banks, with the exception of the Imperial Bank, have been closed.

A general strike has been declared at Minsk. In a fight between Cossacks and rioters there many persons were wounded.

Warsaw, Poland.—Three bloody encounters between troops and striking shoemakers, in which about twenty persons were killed or wounded, occurred.

The strikers were marching through the city from house to house, demanding the lowering of rents by twenty per cent. Many proprietors out of fear complied with the demands of the strikers.

At Byelostok Cossacks dispersed crowds in the streets. Some shots were fired.

Fear of Another Mutiny.

Kustelnj, Roumania.—The Russian squadron has been delayed here, owing to the fear that another mutiny was feared should the vessels put to sea.

The fact that fifty-five sailors from the Kniaz Potemkin who surrendered have been imprisoned on board differing vessels of the squadron awaiting trial for rebellion has caused intense indignation among the crews, and as a consequence there were fears of another mutiny.

St. Petersburg.—The Government will commence regular proceedings for the extradition of the crew of the Kniaz Potemkin as ordinary criminals. But the discussion of the mutiny on the subject the Russian Foreign Office pointed out that Roumania's promise to give the mutineers an asylum was made before Roumania had been apprised of the other crimes committed by the Russian sailors. Besides, the Foreign Office reminded Roumania that, according to the Roumanian law, deserters are extraditable.

Christian Endeavorers Meet.

Eight thousand delegates were present at the opening of the International Christian Endeavor Convention in Baltimore, Md.

Japs Seize Cape Notoro.

Japanese seized Cape Notoro, an important strategic point on Saghalien Island.

COTTON BROKER DROPS DEAD.

R. L. Bruner Passes Away in Chair on Porch in Knoxville.

Knoxville, Tenn.—R. L. Bruner, forty-three years old, widely known in the South as a stock broker and a member of the New York and New Orleans Cotton Exchanges and Chicago Board of Trade, died suddenly while seated in his chair on the porch of his home.

Death was due to heart failure brought on by an acute attack of indigestion.

MINOR EVENTS OF THE WEEK

WASHINGTON.

During the absence of the President official circles are navigating to various summer resorts for the remainder of the season.

The President's proclamation for the opening to settlement of the Uintah Indian reservation, in Utah, will be issued about the end of July. About 1,000,000 acres are embraced in the reservation.

OUR ADOPTED ISLANDS.

Preparations are being made in Honolulu for the reception of Secretary Taft and his party of sightseers.

There has been a strike of longshoremen at San Juan, P. R., and the cargoes of vessels were unloaded by laborers brought from interior towns.

The Philippine Commission, at Manila, has passed an act granting to John I. Sabin and Louis Glass, of San Francisco, Cal., a franchise to construct telephone and telegraph systems throughout the Philippine Islands.

It was announced at Manila that Felizardo, a bandit, who has long terrorized the Province of Cavite, had been killed by a detachment of the Second Cavalry. The fact is that he was only wounded and made his escape. His chief subordinate surrendered and two of his men, who ranked as leaders, were killed.

President Roosevelt has approved the issue of $500,000 of bonds by the Territory of Hawaii to refund the gold bonds of the Republic of Hawaii, issued under an act of the Legislature of June 13, 1896.

DOMESTIC.

Charles J. Bonaparte, Secretary of the Navy, in an address at Baltimore, Md., warned against "graft" in political life in this country.

Representatives of the Japanese Government have purchased five highly bred stallions in Lexington, Ky., to be sent to the royal stud.

Two severe thunderstorms passed over Medway, Mass. James Jay, a fifteen-year-old boy, was struck and instantly killed by lightning while walking in the street with a companion.

Before both Houses of the General Assembly at Atlanta, Joseph M. Terrell was inaugurated as Governor of Georgia for a second term.

Carl Zuber was killed by George Leatherwood, his cousin, at McNeill, Miss. The boys had been out to the creek bathing, and on the way home got into a quarrel. Zuber was cut with a knife and died almost instantly. The parents of both boys are well known.

Fred Ross, of Denver, Col., who was knuckled out by Jack Donnelly, of St. Louis, Mo., in the sixteenth round of a prize fight, is dead. His neck was dislocated and a blood clot gathered on the brain.

A package of dynamite was found at the New York City end of the Brooklyn Bridge after it had been kicked about for an hour.

Former Interstate Commerce Commissioner Yeoman declares in an interview that the Panama Canal is the "biggest lumbago of the age" and cannot be completed.

From inquiries received at a fire two months ago Chief Herman Meininger, of the Milwaukee (Wis.) Fire Department, died.

The largest militia encampment in the history of Massachusetts was opened at Westfield under command of Lieutenant-General Nelson A. Miles.

The Yoakum lines in Texas have purchased $200,000 worth of land in the heart of Dallas for terminals for their four railways.

Fifteen packers in Chicago, Ill., gave bonds in $5000 each.

Franklin D. Strong, of East Hampton, Mass., was killed at Trinidad, Col., by plunging over a twenty-foot bank in an automobile which he had just bought and was using for the first time.

Fort Grant, established many years ago on the San Carlos reservation, in Arizona, is to be abandoned because of the peaceful character of the Indians.

Kansas is financially embarrassed as the result of the Devil's failure. The State is unable to pay the salaries of 2000 employees.

FOREIGN.

The three notes which form the Franco-German agreement on Morocco were made public at Paris and Berlin.

Julian Cendoya, an American banker and agent of the Ward Line, was seized by Cuban men at his home near Santiago, Cuba, and forced to pay $2000 as ransom.

The London (Eng.) Standard's Christiania correspondent says that the Norwegian throne has been offered to Prince Charles of Denmark, second son of Crown Prince Frederick.

William Orr died at Toronto, Ontario. He was one of the men who rode the steamer Caroline from her moorings and sent her over Niagara Falls during the rebellion of 1837-8.

A duel with swords was fought by Eusebio Morales, an attorney, and formerly fiscal agent of the United States at Panama, and Julio Arjona, a well-known newspaper man and Conservative politician.

A luncheon in London, England, to the visiting riflemen of the Seventh Regiment, N. G. S. N. Y., at his residence, Dorchester House.

The customs revenue of Shanghai, China, for the first half of the year was $4,100,000, against $2,900,000 in 1904.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., July 20, 05

Telephone No. 17.

Missouri now has a knife into the Standard Oil company.

Sweden and Norway continue to make faces at each other.

Germany and France seem intent on getting into a mix-up. Well if they must, let 'er go.

The heavy rains of the past few days are said to have sadly injured the crops in South Alabama.

Because railroads happen to be corporations is no reason why they should be made targets for frenzied people.

If anyone asks you whether or not the Columbiana boys can play ball, send them to Talladega for an answer.

Hobson says he is going to trot Bankhead another heat. We predict the same result to the race as it was two years ago.

The primary is a good thing with which to choke off the politicians, and the people are not going to let go of so good a thing.

All newspaper men in Alabama will regret to learn that the printing plant of the Eufaula State has been destroyed by fire.

A boom has been started for Root for president in 1908. There are others, too. The man with the big stick, for instance.

Secretary Wilson says he is going to make a clean sweep in the cotton leak investigation. It is to be hoped he will, but—

It is the trickster and juggler who wants the convention plan of nominating. He can't beat the primary and he knows it.

"President Sachet Powder Castro" is the way some papers are spelling it now. There must be some kind of smell about that man.

Out in Kansas they have an original idea for closing saloons which become obstreperous—they use dynamite, and then it is all over.

We have not heard of anyone scrambling to get into Congressman Bowie's place. He would have a tough proposition ahead of him.

A number of the beef trust magnates seem to have been caught in the legal drag net. Now if there are no holes in the meshes all right.

The politicians who favor the convention plan for nominating officers might just as well go to the rear and sit down. The people will have none of it.

Morton has put a plaster on the mouths of officials of the Equitable, and says he will do what talking there is to be done. Morton always did role with an iron hand.

The program for the Alabama Chautauqua, to be held in Talladega August 1-16, is out and looks interesting. The Alabama Chautauqua is always an interesting affair.

The big heads in Russia seem doomed for death. The last to go was the prefect of police of Moscow, said to be one of the most brutal and inhuman men in all Russia, and that is saying a great deal.

Captain Hobson does not seem to like it because there is likely to be four candidates for congress from the Sixth district. He says it is a put up job to divide the vote which he thinks would come to him.

Birmingham is adept in changing methods. Only a short time since the city council passed an ordinance that no alderman or city official should be permitted to accept a street railway pass. And now they have passed another ordinance requiring the street railway companies to give all alderman and city officials free passes. And lest modesty may prevent some officials from asking for free passes, it is provided that the passes must be requested by the Mayor. This is but a step in the line of gratuities that may be exacted from other public carriers and licensed providers.—Our Mountain Home.

We do not believe the people will endorse Mr. Comer's piratical views as concerns the railroads of Alabama. He is as frenzied as Lawson, and all know that Lawson's frenzy is an attack of fever brought on because he could not get control of the copper trust.

Scarcity of Labor.

Never in the history of this section and the South has there been a greater demand for labor or a greater scarcity of labor. On the farms, in the cotton factories, at the saw mills and everywhere there has been an effort to secure more labor and a better class of labor without success. The labor is not only scarcer but more inferior than ever before. There is great complaint among the farmers in reference to the negro labor. Labor now demands more and works less, and it is difficult to induce many to work at all. The situation is the same in manufactories, and is a serious one. The situation is becoming more and more acute each year, and if it continues, many farms must remain uncultivated. What is the remedy? In the first place the vagrancy law should be rigidly enforced. There is no doubt there is an organized effort on the part of the negro labor to control the situation on the farms, and they now take their loafing days with impunity whenever they see proper. If their conduct does not suit their employers or those who advance to them, some one else is ready to assume their debts and help them out of their troubles. This is doing much to demoralize farm labor and the labor in the factories.

There is no question but that the present labor is inadequate for the country and the farmers and manufacturers must make an effort to secure another class of labor. Whether it should look to China or India or elsewhere to furnish this labor, The Progress is not prepared to say, but it does assert that some changes in the labor system must be made soon, and the quicker the better.—Prattville Progress.

Only a few days ago the editor of The Sentinel prepared an article for the Mobile Herald, along this same line of thought, and in it suggested that the industrial and commercial organizations take up the subject of immigration of Northern white labor to Alabama. We believe it to be the only way in which the labor question can be satisfactorily solved in this State, or any other where the people are at the mercy of negro labor. The Northern white laborer, be he a farm hand or mechanic, will do double the amount of work in a given length of time than the average negro. The white labor will cost more money than the black, but the results obtained will be satisfactory to the employer.

The police commission of Birmingham refuse to investigate charges that are brought against any of its members. A member of the commission runs a notorious saloon in Birmingham and further comment is not necessary. The people should raise a hornet's nest about that town until that saloon keeper is fired from the police commission.

"The suggestion of a well known business man of Gadsden that all the commercial organizations in the State join in a petition to the Governor to use his best efforts for the enforcement of the vagrancy law is sensible and timely," says the Birmingham News.

It has been claimed that there is no law by which the parties who gave up the figures on the cotton statistics can be prosecuted, but Attorney General Moody says different, and is now preparing to prosecute.

The Selma Journal says "there's an overwhelming interest taken in Mr. Comer's recent manifesto." That "overwhelming interest" is surely in confinement, as nothing has been heard of it up in this section.

The Sentinel believes Mr. Comer should be kept where he is. Then push high-and-mighty Tunstall into the ditch, elect a good man to fill his place—one who believes in giving both the people and the railroads a square deal.

The scrappers of Kentucky will keep up the fight on Caleb Powers until he will come out of his difficulty scot free—the very thing they do not want.

Panama and the canal is going to prove a boomerang to the Republican party, and will yet be its political undoing.

From Commissioner Posey.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana.

Much is being said just now in Shelby county regarding the location of the new court house which the Commissioners have about decided to build at Columbiana, and being a member of that board I desire to say a few things on that subject, so that the people may know where I stand.

In the first place I will state I am not in favor of building a new court house at present. You will remember that when there was such a contest over the election two years ago, to remove the court house from Columbiana to Calera, that the Commissioners, all of them and Judge Longshore signed an instrument of writing, had it published in both papers and recorded in Court's minutes that they would not build a new court house until it was absolutely necessary. I signed that pledge and I meant it. Now because Judge Pulham and the grand jury recommend a new court house it does not make it absolutely necessary that it must be built right now. Some argue that the present building is a disgrace to the county, but that is all bosh. It is much better than the houses which nine-tenths of the taxpayers in Shelby county live in.

The matter of a location seems hard to decide. If it is to be built I am in favor of building it on county property and nowhere else. It can be built where the old one now stands, or on the old jail lot; either one is a much better place than the Friedberger lot in my opinion, and they are paid for. Some will say if it is built on the old lot there won't be any place to hold court while it is being built, and there won't be any place to keep the records and books. Well, there is plenty of room in the new jail to keep the books, and it would not hurt much if we didn't have one term of court, but if we could not get along without it there are plenty of places in Columbiana where a court could be held.

I will say again that I am not in favor of building a court house if the county has to buy property to build it on when it already has much more suitable property than that which is offered by other parties. And I doubt seriously if the Commissioners can buy other property upon which to build it. If they have the power to go off the county's land to locate the court house, they have the power to remove it to anywhere in the county without a vote of the people. I hope the matter will be settled to the satisfaction of all, and can be if the Commissioners are permitted to attend to their own business.

Yours for the people,
R. B. POSEY.

Harpersville July, 14.

As to whether the dispensary system pays or not, the Camden News Era offers the following regarding the dispensary at that place: "It has bought and paid for the building where it does business. It has bought an academy for the schools and paid for it. It has contributed so much to the school fund that a competent superintendent and corps of teachers is regularly employed. Furthermore" says the New Era, "it is said there is no illegal liquor selling in the town of Camden." There is no doubt but that the dispensary is a money maker.

Holmes, the man who juggled with the government's cotton figures, is to be vigorously prosecuted for giving up state secrets. He ought to be given about twenty years in the Pratt mines—that is about the worst punishment he could receive.

Every man has a right to his opinion upon public matters, and any effort to muzzle him is not appreciated by himself nor a fair-minded public. It smacks too much of bossism.

The people are ready to begin heaving boulders at the head of the first candidate who sticks his head above the water who favors the convention plan of nominating.

The editor of The Sentinel will be out of town for the next few days, so whatever good there may be in next week's paper give our apprentice credit for it.

According to the action of the County Commissioners Shelby county's new court house is to be built on the corner which is occupied by the old jail.

The primary gives the people an opportunity of putting the sleek politicians on the rear bench. And by the same token that is just where they ought to be.

Ouch! Talladega has a law which forbids the sale of soda water on Sunday. It's a good thing for the councilmen of that city that the women cannot vote.

They are having new kind of fishing parties up at Washington. Throw a hook and line into "graffers' pond" and you will land a load.

The Democrats in Ohio are already making it warm for the Republican candidate for Governor of that State.

It is said that Rockefeller is a "victim of the money passion." The woods are full of those kind of people.

Programme

Fifth Sunday meeting to be held at Mars Hill Baptist church, on July 29, 30, 31:

FRIDAY.

7 30 p m—Sermon, by E. G. Walker.

SATURDAY.

9 00 a m—Prayer service.

9 30—The double relation of Father and Son as brethren in Christ and duties of each. G. S. Smitherman.

10 00—The importance of missionary and colportage work in the Shelby Association and how to sustain it. C. R. Miller.

10 15—What is meant by the term "Full Fellowship" in church letters granted. B. C. Hughes.

10 45—The decay of correction discipline in our churches. J. G. Thornton.

11 30—The advantages of societies auxiliary to the church. J. W. Willis.

1 30 p m—The duty of the church member to the Deacons. N. T. Lucas.

2 00—The duty of the Deacons to the Pastor. J. A. Davis.

2 30—The duty of the pastor to the church. G. W. Crumpton.

3 00—How to reach non-attending members. J. W. Partridge.

4 00—Question box.

SUNDAY.

9 00 a m—Prayer service.

9 30—How to study and how to teach the Sunday school lesson. C. W. O'Hara.

10 00—Christian Education. Dr. A. P. Montague.

10 30—Denominational literature. Frank Willis Barnett.

11 00—Missionary sermon, W. B. Crumpton.

Conveyance from Parkwood, on L. & N., to the church. A cordial invitation extended other Associations. C. W. O'HARA, Chairman Committee.

Alabama Girls Industrial School

Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academical, Pedagogical, Scientific, Commercial, Industrial, Domestic. Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M., D. D.

Marion Military Institute.

"During the past six years the University of Virginia has awarded as many academical degrees to graduates of the Marion Military Institute as it has to those of any other college in the country, and academical and professional degrees to more graduates from the Marion Military Institute than to those from any other college or University outside the State of Virginia." (Chairman U. Ma., 1892)

"I believe that the Marion Military Institute is destined to become one of the great schools of the country, if its present policy is carried out and if it is brought to the attention of the people of the South. I was most favorably impressed by the general tone of the teaching staff and the students at Marion."—Dean J. H. Penniman, Univ. of Penn.

For catalogue, address J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ills. writes Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago I was laid up for four months with rheumatism. I tried Bullard's Snow Liniment, one bottle cured me."

I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affliction. Sold by Williams Bros.

For Lease or Sale.

Valuable lime manufacturing plant; fine condition; 400 acres of finest grade limestone. For particulars address

MRS. MINNIE GIST, Guardian, Calera, Ala.

$3,000.

Certificate of Beneficiary.

Birmingham, Ala., May 23, '05.

Mr. Geo. M. Webb, State Agent. I want to thank your Secretaries and Treasurers of Pike, Chambers and Shelby Co. Divisions for the prompt payment of my husband's policies in your most estimable company. The above amount—$3,000—was paid me in nine days after the death of my husband. All it had cost him to leave me this amount of money, was his membership fees, and one assessment of $15. I would advise every man and woman in Jefferson county and in the State of Alabama to take a policy in this company for it is the cheapest, safest and best insurance on earth. With best wishes for your popular company in Alabama, I am

Very respectfully,
MRS. SALLIE VINCENT.

E. F. Enslin, Wit. Beneficiary.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES.

A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Ladies

We cordially invite you to call and see the pretty line of Lawns which we are now showing.

SLIPPERS,

The kind you have been looking for, and the prices are just right.

STRAW HATS

In the latest styles, and prices to suit you.

WIRE FENCING==

The Elwood brand; you know it is the best. We have it, you need it.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

B. WALKER,

Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, - - - ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phons No. 47.

W. A. PARKER'S
LIVERY, FEED,
—AND—
SALE STABLES.

COLUMBIANA - - - - - ALA.

While others are talking about their candidacy for Governor, Dr. (next Governor) Cunningham is talking to the school boys and girls.

Livery, Feed and Sale Stables,

S. & L. FRIEDBERGER, Proprietors.
(Successors to E. W. Burt.)
H. M. NORRIS, Manager.

Good Horses, Good Carriages, Careful Drivers.
Your Patronage is Solicited.

Telephone 16. - - - - - 'Bus Meets All Trains.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.
W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.,
Columbiana: Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
May 18, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 36,644 83	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts.....	164 50	Undivided profits, less current ex-	1,615 54
Banking house.....	5,000 00	penses and taxes paid.....
Furniture and fixtures.....	2,000 00	Individual deposits subject to
Other real estate.....	5,000 00	check.....	30,899 26
Due from banks and bankers in		Time deposits.....	873 18
this State.....	8,225 54	Cashier's checks.....	38 41
Due from banks and bankers in		Notes and bills rediscounted.....	19,436 23
other States.....	5,521 97
Currency.....	5,514 00
Gold.....	857 50
Silver, nickels and pennies.....	1,900 00
Checks and cash items.....	4,383 80
Total.....	$ 72,932 51	Total.....	$ 72,932 54

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 18th day of May, 1905.
JOHN R. DYKE,
Circuit Clerk.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

THE BICYCLE

YOU'RE LOOKING FOR.

FRESH MEAT

TWICE EACH WEEK.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months.....50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Members of the Sans Souci are becoming scarce.

J. F. Norris was in Birmingham last Thursday.

Ernest Hendrick, of Montevallo, is visiting in the city.

Hon. E. S. Lyman was in Columbiana last Thursday and Friday.

The Board of Education will issue a fine catalogue soon of our public school.

Mrs. L. C. Armstrong has returned from a visit with relatives in Birmingham.

The Sentinel received a pleasant call from P. O. West of beat 4 one day last week.

Attorney Jno. J. Haynes was transacting legal business in Calera last Saturday.

State Senator W. R. Oliver, of Calera, was in town last Thursday on a business mission.

D. McGuire, of Helena, has had a mule to stray away. See notice elsewhere in this issue.

Mrs. S. J. Hebson, of Sylacauga, is in the city visiting her daughter, Mrs. Joe P. Roberts.

T. S. Millsap and little daughters are home from a visit of two weeks with friends at Evergreen.

The Misses Vera and Beatrice MacKnight, of Shelby Springs, were in town last Thursday.

Miss Mary Wilson, of Birmingham, was down to attend the Wilson-Hyatt wedding last week.

An excursion over the Southern Chattanooga passed through Columbiana early yesterday morning.

Mrs. Philip Erlick and mother, Mrs. Stanfield, are in Bessemer visiting relatives for a few weeks.

W. F. Thetford, who is spending some time at Shelby Springs, was in town a few hours last Friday.

The pension board for this county having performed its duties for this regular meeting, adjourned today.

When you want to quit doing business just stop advertising. That will do the job all right enough.

Mrs. C. B. Duran, after a short visit with her sister, Mrs. H. E. Latham, returned to her home in Calera last Saturday.

Jno. J. Haynes is soon to begin improving his property. He will raise the building a foot higher and add two or three rooms.

You may not think it, but when the farmer gets his paper he looks over the columns to see where he trades to the best advantage. That puts it up to the man who does not advertise except in an intermittent way.

The fans will be in their glory at the ball game today.

Dr. Oliver, of Calera, was in town one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Lefkovits expect to go down to Mobile this week for a short stay.

Mrs. J. H. Gunn and daughter, of Calera, were in attendance at the Wilson-Hyatt wedding on last Thursday.

Prof. Glenn and Miss Holcombe, of Calera, were among the out of town guests at the Wilson-Hyatt wedding last Thursday.

Miss Minnie Wilson, of near Longview, one of Shelby county's best young women, was in town last Saturday visiting friends.

C. R. Pittman, who came down from Talladega last week to attend the Wilson-Hyatt wedding, is a nephew of Judge Longshore.

Calvin Weldon, of Wilsonville, was in town Friday and left an order at this office for some commercial work for R. G. Weldon Co.

Misses Mary and Celia McMillan, who have been visiting Mrs. A. B. Milner in Collinsville for the past two weeks, returned home Thursday.

O. O. Bird is able to be out again after a few days' illness. He says you can't keep him in the house when there is a game of ball in town.

We hate to give it away on the boys, but the secret of the excellent playing of the Columbiana ball team is: they do not 'jaw' the umpire.

A number of farmers who had been holding their cotton, sold out last week for ten cents. Something like three hundred bales were sold in Columbiana.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hyatt went down to Calera last Friday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bowden. From there they will go to their home in Talladega.

No players were ever more true to their team than Will Averyt, Sam Harrell and Denny Blackford, and they are always there with the goods when the horse hide comes their way.

If "Dolly Varden" is not too ancient and wants her communication published, she must send to this office her name, otherwise "Dolly's" lament will go into the waste basket.

The little folks, yes, and the big folks, too, of the Columbiana Sunday schools had a great big time at the union picnic last Friday, and the little red bug is having his time right now.

There is but one thing in the way of this being an ideal time for picnics—the pesky little chigger will persist in being present, and he is generally remembered longer than the picnic.

That was a close call for the dispensary one day last week when the wind storm tore away a part of the big tree which stands in front of that establishment. The chair warmers moved, too, without any insistence.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bowden, of Calera, were in the city last Thursday to attend the Wilson-Hyatt wedding.

THE OLD, OLD STORY REPEATED ONCE MORE

Miss Loulah Alma Wilson United in Marriage to Mr. William S. Hyatt.

At the Methodist church, Thursday afternoon, at 4:30, July 13, 1905, Miss Loulah Alma Wilson of this place was married to Mr. William S. Hyatt, of Talladega, Rev. G. T. Harris, pastor of the Methodist church, officiating.

The church was handsomely decorated with palms, ferns and cut flowers, the color scheme being pink and white.

The attendants and ushers were Misses Rosser Christian, Carolyn Rowe, Messrs. Lucius Roberts and Mell Wilson. The maid of honor was Miss Mildred White, and the groomsmen being Mr. T. D. Boynton, of Talladega. The bride wore a costume of white silk and carried carnations, the groom being dressed in conventional black.

Just prior to the ceremony, accompanied by Mrs. A. M. Elliott and Mr. W. W. Wallace upon organ and violin, H. E. Whitaker sang "O Promise Me" and "Sweetest Story Ever Told," and then as the familiar strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march pealed forth the bridal party entered the church preceded by the ushers, marching down the aisles to the altar, where the man of God pronounced the words which bound these two together so long as both shall live. And as the march was resumed the wedding party filed out.

The bride is a daughter of the late Rev. T. M. Wilson and is a lovable young woman of high christian ideals and charming personal graces, and her popularity here is shown in the large attendance on her wedding. She is a graduate of the Alabama Girls' Industrial School at Montevallo, and was a teacher in Columbiana's public schools last year.

The groom is a young man of high moral character, prominent in the order of Elks, stands well in the town where he lives, and is an employee of Our Mountain Home, Talladega, and in which town they will make their home.

May all their anticipations of married life be happily realized.

A reception was tendered the young couple by Miss Rosser Christian and Miss Carolyn Rowe at the home of the latter, on Thursday night.

STRAYED.

One red mare mule, about fifteen hands high, between 10 and 12 years old, strayed from my farm at Pelham, June 11th. Any information leading to recovery of animal will be rewarded by

D. McGUIRE,
Pelham, Ala.

20 2

Baseball Players and Foot Racers!

Louis J. Kruger, ex-champion long distance foot racer of Germany and Holland, writes, Oct. 27, 1901: "During my training of eight weeks' foot races at Sault Lake City in April last, I used Ballard's Snow Liniment to my greatest satisfaction.

Therefore, I highly recommend Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by William Bros.

Let the railroad rates in Alabama be regulated, but do not adopt piratical methods in doing so.

TWO STRAIGHT FROM TALLADEGA.

Two Games of Snappy Ball is Played Here—Visitors Lose Both.

'Twas a cinch! That's what everybody said, and it must be so, and results corroborate the statement.

Talladega's recently organized ball team came to Columbiana last week for two games of ball with the champion amateurs, and the latter pulled down both of them.

Columbiana was first to the willow and Harry Roberts made a safe hit to first and on Dowell's two-bagger moved up to third, and when Denny sent it to the woods for two bags Roberts and Dowell scored, but Denny died on third.

Sawyer, for the visitors, lined out a three-bagger the first thing, but he got no further for the next three men went down in one, two, three order before Roberts' pitching.

In the next half Hubbard's south paw fooled the locals and he got three clean strike outs to his credit. Roberts returned the compliment on the first three men up.

The locals found another cipher in the third inning, while the visitors made a touch-down for one run, their first.

In the fourth inning both teams broke even, each having a cipher marked up on the board.

In the fifth the locals batted Hubbard's south paw all over the field which, together with a few errors added three runs to the credit of the locals before they were retired. Roberts had his pitching clothes on and the visitors were again retired in one, two, three.

In the sixth the first man up was the first man down for the locals. Then came a safe hit, followed by a little bundle of errors on the part of the visitors and the bases were full of red men. Lyons batted a hot liner to Camp at short, who throw to Striplin at second and he to Burr at first, making one of the quickest double plays ever seen on the local diamond. In the visitors' half they failed to connect with the first bag.

In the seventh Columbiana drew another goose egg, while the visitors pulled down one run—the last time they touched home plate in the game.

In the eighth and ninth the locals picked up one run in each, and it was all over, with a total of 2 for Talladega and 7 for Columbiana. Batteries, Hubbard and Donahue, Roberts and Averyt; struck out by Roberts 18, by Hubbard 8; umpire Dr. Williams.

Thursday's game opened with a regular foot race, each team scoring two runs. Both drew a cipher in the second and ditto the third for the locals. In the visitors' half they batted Smith, who was pitching for Columbiana, all over the field, bunching their hits to good advantage and pushed three men over home plate. At the end of the inning Smith was sent to the bench, Saxon was sent to right which Roberts was playing, and with Roberts in the box the visitors failed to get past second base during the remaining six innings.

In the fifth inning the locals pulled their belts to another hole, and pulled down four runs. With three men on bases, Denny picked up his bat—the one with pitch on the end—and sent the horse hide to the woods for three bags, scoring three runs; Chapman followed with a two bagger, scoring Denny.

For the next two innings it was give and take, but in the eighth the locals picked up one run, and in the ninth found four more, causing the scorers to cry for more white paper. The result was 12 to 9 in favor of Columbiana.

Features of the game were long running fly catches by Dowell and Denny, and a long throw by Chapman from left cutting a runner off at home plate.

Batteries Sawyer and Donahue, and Smith, Roberts and Averyt, Roberts striking out ten men in the six innings he pitched. Umpire, A. P. Longshore, Jr.

The Talladega team is made up of a fine lot of young men, but they are handicapped in playing ball from the fact that they have practiced but little together, having but recently organized. We hope to have them with us again in the near future.

Clarence Smith, who is in the employ of J. F. Pope, Wilsonville, has been given a two weeks' vacation and is visiting with friends in Columbiana this week.

The people all over the country, regardless of politics, are beginning to think that Senator Morgan was right after all regarding the Panama canal—that it is impractical and will never be built.

YOUNG WAR HERO ON PITIFUL QUEST.

Fred. L. Moore in Search of His Parents—Selling Papers to Pay Expenses.

One day last week a young man, who appeared to be a mere boy, was in Columbiana selling newspapers and asking aid to prosecute a search in which everybody ought to have a heart interest.

He gave his name as Fred. L. Howe, and said he was a mascot of the 20th Kansas Volunteers in the Philippines, and while in that faraway country of deviltry and superstition was wounded several times. As a result of a wound received at Pekin, young Howe was left partially deaf and in such a condition that he cannot speak above a whisper. He is only twenty-three years old and says he ran away from home in 1898, and being too young to enlist, he served in the Spanish-American war with the Kansas regiment as a mascot. Although he fought in the Philippines and bears the scars of several wounds and is afflicted for life because of service for his country, the government cannot recognize him because he was not an enlisted man. He produced letters from officers of the Kansas regiment to corroborate his statements.

At the outbreak of the war with Spain, young Howe was living with his parents in Maysville, Ky. On account of his age and his size he could not enlist in the army so he ran away from home and started for San Francisco. At Ottawa, Kans., he was taken by the Kansas regiment as a mascot and sailed with that organization for the Philippines.

When the Kansas regiment returned to the United States, Howe went with the 9th Infantry to China and was at the battle of Pekin where he received the wounds which afflicted him for life.

The boy returned to the United States and went directly to his old home in Kentucky only to find that his parents had moved away, no one knew whither. He has not been able to find them although he has searched for them constantly ever since his return from the Orient. He is now twenty-three years old, and says he will continue his search as long as he lives.

As he told in whispers some of his experiences to a crowd of listeners, great tears rolled down his cheeks. In speaking of his mother whom he so longed to see, he was most visibly affected, and more than one quarter was dropped into his hand by those who heard his story, and all hoped that ere long his search might successfully terminate.

EDITORS TO HAVE BIG TIME ON THE COAST.

Coden People Arrange a Most Delightful Programme for Press Association.

The following program has been arranged by the people of Coden and Bayou la Batre for the entertainment of the Alabama Press Association at its annual meeting, beginning next week:

Thursday, July 20, arrival of visitors, who will be received by the reception committee and escorted to their quarters, attended by the band. Evening, a moonlight sail on Portersville bay on fast schooners. Friday morning, address of welcome by a prominent Mobile orator, after which the hall will be turned over to the convention. Evening, grand concert by Alabama's best musical talent. Saturday morning, convention in session. Evening, soiree dansante. Music by the 1st Regimental band of Meridian. Sunday morning, religious services, sermon by prominent divine. Evening, sacred concert in hall. Monday, trip to Dauphin Island, surf bathing, sea shell gathering on the beach of the Gulf, basket picnic. Tuesday morning, fishing excursion, an oyster roast, crab bake. Evening, vaudeville performance at opera house. Wednesday, grand barbeque and public speaking at Bayou la Batre. Thursday morning, match sailing race on Portersville bay by fast boats. Evening, farewell banquet in convention hall.

The 1st Regimental band of Meridian will be in attendance during the entire week.

W. S. Hyatt will go to Columbiana today where he will be united in marriage with Miss Loulah Alma Wilson tomorrow afternoon at 4:30. Messrs. T. D. Boynton and C. R. Pittman will go down tomorrow to attend the marriage. Mr. Boynton will be best man—Our Mountain Home.

Notice of Commissioner's Sale.

In pursuance of, and in accordance with the terms and directions of a Commission, issued and addressed to undersigned, by the Hon. J. J. Longshore, Judge of the Court of Probate in and for Shelby county, Alabama, bearing date the 24th day of May, 1905, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash at public auction in front of the court house of said county, on Monday, the 14th day of June, 1905, within the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate, to-wit: That part of northeast quarter of southeast quarter and southeast quarter of southeast quarter of section 32, township 19, range 2 w., described by notes and bounds as follows: Commencing near the northeast corner of said quarter on the west side of the creek, and running south through the center of the line to the east and west line near the southeast corner of northeast quarter of southeast quarter, thence west 21 rods from said corner thence to the southeast corner of southeast quarter of southeast quarter of said section; and southwest quarter of southeast quarter of section 32, township 19, range 2 w., and the west half of northeast quarter, and east half of southeast quarter of northwest quarter and the northeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 5, township 20, range 2 w., containing 234 acres more or less, which lands are to be sold under the decree of said court for the purpose of a division between and among the joint owners thereof, who are as follows: John C. Cross, John Harris, Paul Harris, George Harris, Mary Ward, Annie Cross, Julia Harris and Chris Harris, all being the heirs of Virginia Harris, deceased.

H. E. WHITAKER,
Commissioner,
McMillan & Haynes, Attorneys,
July 13-31

Indigestion.
With its companions, heart burn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms; sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Horbier treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by William Bros.

ANOTHER SPLENDID

Fraternal Organization Giving to its Members the Greatest Benefits Ever Offered, to Organize Here Soon.

The National Union Fraternal Life Association of Georgia will soon organize here. Its members are entitled to the following benefits as soon as the Division or lodge is full: $1,000 in case of death; $1,000 in case of accident (total disability) payable $100 per year for ten years, and in case the member dies he gets $1,000 in addition to accident benefit. Ten orphan children are fully provided for, free of cost, in each lodge or Division. This benefit is in addition to money coming to them from the death of parent.

Each member after twenty years, in good standing, is given a paid up life membership, nothing more to pay of dues or assessments.

The total cost to join is $5.00. This includes dues for the first six months of $1.00, and the Mortuary assessment of $1.00. Nothing more is paid by the member until the end of six months, then each member pays $1.00. When a death occurs in your lodge or Division, then the beneficiary is immediately paid, and each member pays $1.25. The dollar goes into your bank to provide for the next death and 10 cents goes for expense and 15 cents goes for the accident and orphan benefit.

There is no Fraternal Society or Insurance Company in the world that offers these four benefits to its member. It is likely to cost about $6.00 a year to secure these benefits. Can any man afford to ignore this, if he can become a member?

This Society permits ladies to join on the same terms as men. The success of this institution in Georgia and Florida has been remarkable, and we predict a very large measure of success for it in Alabama, as our people are as wide awake to a good thing as any elsewhere.

Only a limited number are accepted in each Lodge or Division. Thus every one should try to become members as soon as possible.

Croup.
Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe, which sometimes extends to the larynx and bronchial tubes; and is one of the most dangerous diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give Forehead Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally to the throat. 25c, 50c and $1.00 Sold by Williams Bros.

Opportunities in California

The trade in the Orient is opening up. Our exports to Japan and China multiplied during the last year.

There will soon be a tremendous increase in the trade of the Pacific Coast cities with the Far East.

Big opportunities for the man who lives there. Why not look the field over?

Only $62.50, Chicago to San Francisco or Los Angeles and return, May 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 29, 30, 31, June 1, August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14, 1905. Tickets good for return for 90 days.

Rate for a double berth in a comfortable tourist sleeper from Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and many other points in California, only $7. Through train service from Union Passenger Station, Chicago, via the

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line

This is the route of The Overland Limited, leaving Union Passenger Station, Chicago, 6.05 p. m., and The California Express at 10.25 p. m. The California Express carries tourist sleeping cars to California every day. Both trains carry through standard sleepers.

Complete information sent free on receipt of coupon with blank lines filled:

W. S. HOWELL,
Gen'l Eastern Agent, 38 Broadway,
NEW YORK CITY,
or
F. A. MILLER,
General Passenger Agent,
CHICAGO.

Name	_____
Street address	_____
City	_____
State	_____
Probable destination	_____

MANY KILLED BY EXPLOSION ON U. S. GUNBOAT BENNINGTON

San Diego Bay Was the Scene of the Disaster. Those Who Were Not Killed Struggled Fiercely With the Waves.

TWENTY-EIGHT DEAD IN MORGUE And Scores of Men Are Lying Grievingly Injured in Sanitariums and Hospitals.

San Diego, Cal.—Twenty-eight dead bodies are lying in morgues, on piers and on a deck of a ruined vessel of the United States; scores of men are lying grievously or painfully injured in sanitariums and hospitals, and fifteen sailors are missing and probably have found death in the waters of the harbor as a result of an explosion of a boiler on the United States gunboat Bennington at 10:10 o'clock Friday morning.

The following is an official revised list of the casualties. The total number known to be dead so far is thirty-nine.

F. W. Brown, John Newcombe, B. A. Hilger, A. Bensel, A. Kamerer, F. C. Perry, C. Rusing, A. H. Scrogg, C. Haegbloom, R. B. Carr, S. F. Saunders, E. Dresch, G. Quinn, C. Kuns, J. Hishier, J. Brownlee, F. Geiss, Ensign N. K. Perry, twenty-one unidentified.

The total seriously wounded number twenty-two, as follows:

W. M. Fickwell, J. Hunt, F. A. Ezell, E. B. Furgus, R. A. House, H. F. Sanders, Robinson, G. A. Toelley, F. W. Brown, J. M. McManey, J. Schultz, P. Carpenter, F. W. Shacklette, C. T. Clark, M. G. Chambers, G. R. Hallett, C. W. Tyler, D. R. McClintock, L. Archer, B. F. Seavey, B. R. Hoffman, J. C. Baruch, W. W. Worthen and one unknown man.

The list of wounded numbers fifty-four, the following names having been ascertained: O. A. Nelson, — Taylor, E. A. Starkeworth, H. E. Wise, H. M. Stewart, — Brockman, F. R. Connell, A. G. Burg, — Pfeuffer, R. Savage, — Knoblock, C. Wilson, W. Hofreuter, L. A. Greis, O. D. Rich, H. C. Shepard, H. C. Dean, S. Eckell, W. M. Taylor, C. E. Miller, I. K. Strobel.

The Bennington at the time of the accident was lying in the stream just off the Commercial wharf at the foot of H street. The warship had received orders from the navy department at Washington to sail for Port Hartford, where she was to meet the monitor Wyoming and convey the vessel to Mare Island navy yard. Steam was up and everything was in readiness for sailing when, suddenly and without warning whatever, the starboard boiler exploded with a deafening roar. The explosion was terrific. People standing on the shore saw a huge cloud of white steam rise above the Bennington. Columns of smoke were hurled into the air for a distance of nearly twice the height of the spars of the vessel.

An Awful Disaster. It was apparent that an awful disaster of some kind had occurred on board the warship. The ferryboat Ramona was coming across the bay at the time of the accident. Captain Bertelsen, of the Ramona, immediately gave orders to change the course of the boat, and instead of continuing his trip to the San Diego side of the bay he hurried to the aid of the stricken warship. The tug Santa Fe, the launch McKinley, the government launch General De Russey and a large number of other launches and water craft which were near the scene at the time also rushed to the assistance of the Bennington and endeavored to lend every assistance possible.

By the time the Ramona had arrived many of the sailors of the Bennington who had jumped into the bay to escape the scalding steam had been rescued and the removal of the wounded, which had already been commenced, was being conducted in perfect order. The crews of the Santa Fe, De Russey and other boats present lent valuable aid in picking up the wounded sailors and transferring them to the shore.

At the time of the accident Commander Lucien Young and Surgeon F. E. Peck were on shore. The two officers as soon as they learned of the disaster hurried to the water front, where Commander Young immediately took charge.

On board the Bennington were presented terrible scenes. The force of the explosion had torn a great hole in the starboard side of the ship, and the vessel was already commencing to list. A section of the upper decks was carried away from stem to stern.

Bitten by a Snake.

Anniston, Ala.—Miss Alice Speer who was bitten by a snake at the home of her father, Edmond Speer, Saturday morning, is reported to be much better. The circumstances connected with Miss Speer's being bitten were rather remarkable. On retiring Friday evening she left one of her skirts on the floor in her bed room, and the snake, it appears, entered the room during the night, secreting himself in the folds of the garment.

Blood and wreckage were distributed over the entire ship, the after cabin and the vicinity of the ship adjacent to the exploded boiler resembling a charnel house. Over it all hung the great cloud of white smoke.

The Work of Rescue. The scene of hurrying ambulances, hacks and carriages of every description which had been summoned added to the excitement. Every physician who could be reached by telephone was called to the water front. Within a comparatively short time nearly a dozen physicians were on the scene and attending the wounded.

A dozen or fifteen were blown overboard by the force of the terrific explosion. Captain Wentworth, who was looking at the Bennington when the disaster occurred, says he saw human bodies hurled over a hundred feet upward. The air was black with the smoke which enveloped the ship. When it cleared away only a few men could be seen on the decks, while a number were foundering in the water. A boat was lowered from the vessel's side and most of them were picked up and taken on board. The shock of the explosion penetrated every section of the ship, blood and ashes being found as far as the stern of the captain's cabin. Portions of the upper deck were carried away and great damage was done in all sections.

Most of the dead were taken ashore where the undertakers and physicians were assembled, the former to take charge of the dead and the latter to minister to the needs of the living. The bodies of many of the men taken from the wrecked interior of the ship were mutilated almost beyond recognition. The faces of many were covered with blood and ashes. Commander Young, as soon as he reached the ship, gave orders that the airtight compartments be closed to prevent the listing ship sinking and that the magazines be flooded to avoid further explosions. Temporary quarters ashore were arranged for the wounded, and sixty citizens volunteered and hurried in launches to the relief of those on the ill-fated ship.

Some of the volunteers were unable to stand the sickening sight which met their gaze on the Bennington. As fast as the wounded could be removed they were hurried in ambulances, carriages, wagons and automobiles to the hospitals.

Removing the Bodies. For a long time the hot steam prevented access to the space between decks, where most of the dead bodies lay, and it was not until late in the afternoon that the last were removed from the boiler rooms. Several bodies were so tightly wedged in by a bulkhead that the wood work had to be hewn away to free them. Most of the bodies yet unidentified have been mangled beyond hope of recognition.

The boiler which exploded, it is said was regarded as unsafe. Commander Young stated that during a recent return from Honolulu the steam pressure was kept reduced in that particular one.

When the explosion occurred the engineer was inspecting the boilers as a preliminary to the vessel's leaving port, and he was not seriously injured.

Officers and men who were able to assist in the rescue acted in a brave manner. Pumps were used to keep the water from the upper compartments, the magazine was flooded and men fought their way through the steam into the darkened hold to search for their comrades. In the worst danger, and when it was feared the ship would sink before she could be beached, the young officers and men stuck manfully to their posts.

Albert H. Ryan, of this city, who was rowing near the ship at the time of the accident, plunged into the water, and was rescued by several sailors.

The ship's inner works are a tangled mass of machinery, and she probably will have to be dismantled in order to examine her injuries.

Lieutenant Yates, executive officer in charge of the Bennington at the time of disaster, was in the aft cabin. He rushed out to be met by a blinding scalding cloud of steam as it swept the vessel. Speaking of the occurrence he said: "I remained seated in my chair several seconds after it occurred, and did not know what had happened. I then rushed out, and the steam, even at the extreme part of the ship, was so dense that I could not get a breath of air until I ascended the rail."

Withdraws Land From Entry. Washington, D. C.—The Secretary of the Interior has withdrawn from entry 115,000 acres in the Tucson, Ariz. land district for forest reserve purposes.

Savannah, Ga.—The first bale of Georgia cotton of the present season's growth was sold at Alban Thursday for 23 cents per pound. The bale will be shipped to this city and auctioned tomorrow at the cotton exchange.

Young Girl Kills Herself. New Orleans, La.—Because her sight, hearing and speech had been destroyed by a strange affliction under which she suffered, Miss Lilly Goldberg, of Jeanette, La., suicided Saturday at her temporary home in this city by drinking carbolic acid.

Miss Goldberg was a beautiful girl, 16 years of age, and had been brought here by her parents for medical treatment, but the efforts of the physicians were attended with but scant success. In despair the girl took the fatal dose.

Vessels Will Be Watched. Norfolk, Va.—Yellow fever having been discovered at New Orleans, the United States marine hospital service will keep a very rigid watch on all vessels arriving in Hampton Roads from that port. Craft from New Orleans will be held in quarantine the usual five days.

Jerry Simpson Very Low. Roswell, N. M.—Hon. Jerry Simpson, former congressman and nationally famed as "Socksless Jerry" of Kansas, is seriously ill at his home here, having ruptured one of the blood vessels of his heart. Death may result at any moment.

Big Saw Mill Fire. New Orleans, La.—J. G. Powell's saw mill, situated on the river front at Lake Charles, together with all the machinery, the planer and part of the lumber, was burned Friday afternoon. Loss estimated at $90,000; insurance light.

Kelly Still Defiant. Topeka, Kas.—State Treasurer T. T. Kelly today refused formally the demand of Governor Hoch to give a new bond for $750,000 to cover that impaired by the failure of C. J. Devlin, one of Kelly's principal bondsmen, and the governor announced that he would declare the office of state treasurer vacant because of Kelly's refusal.

Southern Pacific Train Wrecked. San Antonio, Tex.—The westbound Southern Pacific passenger train which left San Antonio Friday morning was wrecked at Dryden, twenty-one miles east of Sanderson. The engineer was killed and the fireman is probably fatally injured. The engine and two cars were thrown into the ditch. No passengers were hurt, it is reported.

Killed by Lightning. Talladega, Ala.—An 18-year-old negro girl by the name of Bertha McDerry was killed by lightning at McDerry's Station. The girl had started to take an umbrella to her sister, who had got caught in a shower while on her way to the station, and when a few yards from the house was struck by lightning, which killed her instantly.

Engineers Surveying Railway. Florence, Ala.—A corps of railway civil engineers is surveying from Dickson, Tenn., to Florence, but for what road is not known. The line surveyed commences at Dickson and passes through Wayne county, along Buffalo and Green rivers, on to the head of Big Cypress, which stream it parallels to within three miles of Cloverdale, thence direct to Florence.

Salvation Army Girl Sentenced. Chicago, Ill.—Inga Hanson, the former Salvation Army girl, convicted of perjury in connection with a suit for personal damages against the Chicago city railway, will have to go to the penitentiary to serve an indefinite term, according to a decision given Friday by Judge George H. Kernsten. The decision denied a motion to vacate sentence in the case.

Mustered Out. Jackson, Tenn.—The McMullin Rifles were formally mustered out Saturday night and the new military company mustered in by Dr. George Hamilton, assistant surgeon of the Second Tennessee. R. A. Wells was elected captain, Dave Stovall first lieutenant and Horace Blankship second lieutenant. Fifty men were enlisted.

Young Marksman. Martin, Tenn.—The Gun Club of Martin has some splendid shots, but we doubt if any club in the state has a younger or smaller member than Maurice Baker, son of W. G. Baker. He is only 12 years of age and handles a gun like a veteran. In a trial shoot yesterday he broke 46 clay pigeons out of 50.

Negro Assassin Killed by Posse.

Sumner, Miss.—Frank Allen and J. Barksdale were shot by two negroes, Will and Henry Harris, brothers, on the plantation of Tom G. James at Sharkey, about fifteen miles from here Wednesday. Allen is seriously wounded and may die. Barksdale is slightly wounded. The shooting was done with a shot gun, the negroes firing from ambush.

Landslide in Naples. Naples, Italy.—A landslide here Friday destroyed the dry basin, which was built in 1900 at a cost of $800,000, and otherwise caused great damage.

Bomb Thrown in Center of Town. Byelostok, Russia.—A bomb was thrown in the center of the town Friday, killing several persons and severely wounding a number of others, including the chief of police and his son.

STATE HAPPENINGS Of General and Local Interest as They Occur.

Freight Trains Collide. Anniston, Ala.—Thursday morning at 11 o'clock freight trains north and south-bound collided on the tracks of the Southern railway in front of the union depot, and the caboose of the south-bound train was derailed and badly damaged. The exact cause of the wreck could not be ascertained, but it was thought to be due to either defective trucks on the south-bound freight or to a misplaced switch. As the accident was foreseen no one was materially injured. The hind trucks of the derailed caboose were torn from the car, and the side of the caboose striking the engine was badly smashed.

A Big Barn Burns. Center, Ala.—The large barn at the residence of Dr. S. C. Tatum, in Center, was destroyed by fire Wednesday night, together with enormous quantities of hay and corn and a number of horses and cattle confined in the building. The loss will amount to more than $3,000, with insurance of about $1,200.

Will Keep Trophy. Montgomery, Ala.—By winning the Clark trophy Thursday afternoon, the First Infantry rifle squad becomes its owner. No shooting was done for the Ligon and other individual medals. The following was the score made:

First infantry squad, 200 yards, 214 out of possible 300. Five hundred yards, 125 out of possible 200. Second infantry, 200 yards, 113 out of possible 300. Five hundred yards, 29 out of possible 300.

Big Coal Company Organized. Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Another corporation which will add very materially to Tuscaloosa's progressive march is a mammoth coal development company, which has just been formed. There is more than three thousand acres of coal land in the tract, and when the mines are opened it will mean a very much better price of coal in this section. The class of coal there is very similar to that mined at Brookwood. It is said that nearly all of the stock is owned by Tuscaloosa people. A. S. Vandegriff and J. W. Miller are at the head of the company.

A New Inventor. Eufaula, Ala.—Henry Persons, of this city, is proving to be quite a genius and has on file an application for a patent that promises to prove useful and convenient. His invention consists of a covering for steam launches, and folds by means of an ingenious combination of hinges so constructed as to be water-proof, and can also be locked and when not in use can be easily folded and carried as part of the luggage, taking up but very little space.

$50,000 Suit Against Mayor. Birmingham, Ala.—As a sequence of the charges recently preferred by Mayor George B. Ward against Police Commissioner George G. Phillips, the commissioner, through his attorneys, Gaston and Curtis, Friday filed suit in the circuit court against Mayor Ward asking damages to the extent of $50,000.

Shot Wife by Mistake. Birmingham, Ala.—William Early check weighman at the Coalburg collieries, ten miles from the city, shot and fatally injured his wife about 2 o'clock Saturday morning, mistaking her for a burglar. Early is wild with grief over his awful mistake. It seems that his wife got up to get some hot water for the baby. The kitchen is out on a rear porch of the home. Early did not hear his wife get up, but when she re-entered the door slammed a little. This awoke Mr. Early, who secured his pistol quickly and fired on the approaching figure. The minute the bullet pierced the body of the woman she cried out, "My God, you have shot me."

The husband instantly saw his mistake and hurriedly picked her up and placed her tenderly on a bed. Neighbors were summoned and physicians did everything in their power until the injured woman could be brought to the St. Vincent's Hospital. She will hardly recover.

Putting Down Pavement. Huntsville, Ala.—The Miller Paving company, of Memphis, has taken a contract to put down about 900 lineal feet of paving on the government building site here. The work has begun and will be completed within ninety days.

Open Cotton Bolls. Eufaula, Ala.—B. A. Warren, of this county, who resides at Batesville comes to the front with the first open cotton bolls of the season. Mr. Warren exhibited two here this week that were fully open and quite ready to be picked. Under the influence of the hot sunshine that is now prevailing the staple will open rapidly, and the first new bale is not considered to be a great way off.

Big Suit Filed. Birmingham, Ala.—Suit has been instituted in the circuit court by C. B. Powell, guardian of H. M. Harton, against the Ensley Realty Company, Ensley Development Company, Douglass H. Gordon, Jefferson County Savings Bank, John H. Eubank, Eugene F. Enslen, Delia W. Enslen, Lula B. Harton and J. W. Minor.

Petitioner asks for the appointment of a receiver for the Ensley Development Company, and further that the defendants be enjoined from transacting the affairs of the company. Judge Coleman after reading and considering the complaint granted the injunction as prayed for, and the petitioner furnished bonds as required.

The amount involved in the case is between $75,000 and $100,000, and the action taken, it is understood, is for the purpose of arriving at a settlement.

Found Dead in Bed. Ensley, Ala.—Mrs. E. A. Richard, aged 22, wife of a well-known engineer at the Ensley blast furnaces, was found dead in bed Saturday morning at the Richard home, Tuxedo Park, Ensley.

Mrs. Richard went on a picnic Friday evening, being tired from the out-attack of nightmare. Saturday morning Mr. Richard arose and made the fire as usual in the kitchen. When he returned to awaken his wife he was startled to find her dead.

Bessemer's New Car Line. Bessemer, Ala.—Bessemer citizens have organized a company to construct and operate an electric car line around the various suburbs of that place.

The new line is intended to extend to Jonesboro, Dolomite, Ensley, Thomas and other mining and manufacturing camps in the lower part of the county, and will be used as a branch later for a line to Tuscaloosa county.

It is proposed to secure $25,000 subscriptions from among the citizens with which to make the survey and start the first work. Then outside capital will be sought. F. A. Sawyer, special southern representative of the New York Commercial, stated to the people who have taken up the matter that there will be no trouble in disposing of bonds for the new concern and that within a few months a first-class electric car line can be in course of construction.

Land Office Closed Too Soon.

Montgomery, Ala.—It now develops that the United States land office at Huntsville was closed prematurely, and the peculiar feature about it is the received of the land office, H. V. Cashin, the negro in charge, is primarily responsible for it. It was a case where a man cut his own official head off and unwittingly deprived himself of at least one year's salary. A republican official tells the story. "The closing of the Huntsville land office," said the official, "was due entirely to a clerical error in the office, of which, of course, the head of the office was responsible. It was due to a mistake in figures giving the number of acres of land in the territory of the land office and under the jurisdiction of the land office in question. But for this mistake the Huntsville land office could at least have been continued in existence a year longer, if not indefinitely."

"Under the rules of the land office at Washington," continued the official, "every land office must have within its jurisdiction 100,000 acres of public land. When the Huntsville office was asked for the number of acres of the official accepted as correct the totals handed down to him by his predecessor and abstracted the land that had been sold since he came into office, and as a result he made a most unfortunate mistake for himself. He reported to the government that he had only $5,000 acres, whereas a recent investigation by the land office in this city revealed that the Huntsville office at the time it went out of business had over 150,000 acres within its jurisdiction."

"Capt. Robert Barber, register of the Montgomery land office, never takes anything for granted," said the official, "and when he was called on by the Washington office for a statement of public lands within the jurisdiction of his office he and his clerk went back over the books, made a map of all the government lands and marked each section off that had been sold. In this way a correct footing was made, and the result was that over 50,000 acres of land were found yet in possession of the government more than the Huntsville office had given the government credit for."

A New Corporation. Birmingham, Ala.—The Gibson Building and Investment Company has been incorporated with $15,000 capital stock. George A. Gibson, C. S. Ellis and F. H. Patterson are the incorporators. The domicile of the company is Birmingham.

New Live Stock Company. Brundidge, Ala.—The Ramage Live Stock Company, of Brundidge, with a capital stock of $15,000, has filed a notice of its incorporation with the secretary of state. The company will erect stables and conduct a general livery, feed and sale business, handling buggies, etc. The incorporators are J. T. Ramage, A. G. Seay, E. M. Hightower, W. C. Hicks and M. F. Johnson.

Engine Is Derailed. Uniontown, Ala.—Thursday night about 7 o'clock, as train No. 15, due here at 5:25 p. m., was speeding on to Meridian, it struck a tap sitting on the rail, which threw the front wheel of the engine from the track. Luckily the baggage car and the passenger coaches stayed on the track, and the damage was repaired, causing a delay of about three and one-half hours, when the train pulled out. Fortunately the accident was not serious enough to block up traffic for any length of time.

Deputy Eubanks Shoots a Negro. Ensley, Ala.—Deputy Sheriff Clint Eubanks arrested Luther Jenkins alias Mike Johnson, a negro, at No. 8 mines Friday afternoon, and narrowly escaped serious personal injury at the hands of the negro while making the arrest. Jenkins ran at the deputy with an axe and was in the act of striking him down with it when the officer shot him twice to stop his advance. The negro was not seriously wounded and was carried to Birmingham, where he was placed in the county jail to await officers from Russell county, where he is wanted for disposing of mortgaged property.

Met Horrible Death.

Birmingham, Ala.—W. R. Collins, yard foreman for the Southern railway, met an awful death Friday morning at 9 o'clock by being crushed under a freight car which had been turned over in a collision on a crossing between a Southern and a Central of Georgia railroad freight train. Collins was standing on the opposite side of the car and did not see his impending danger, when he was caught and horribly mangled. His head was almost severed from his body. He was 32 years of age and leaves a widow and sister.

Graphite Mines.

Talladega, Ala.—The graphite mines near here in a short while will turn out two tons of graphite per day. The ore is on the surface, easily mined, and contains 6 per cent of graphite. All of the product of the plant is sold to one firm in New York. It is used for making lead pencils and as a mixture for axle grease and other lubricators. This mineral should not be confounded with pyrites, which is also mined near by, and from which the $300,000 plant at Talladega draws material for the manufacture of its chemicals.

Quarantine Proclamation.

Montgomery, Ala.—After consultation Saturday night with Drs. Wilkerson and Watkins Gov. W. D. Jelks issued a proclamation because of yellow fever in New Orleans to the following effect:

"No person from New Orleans shall be permitted to enter the state of Alabama except on through trains destined to points beyond the state. This action is taken because yellow fever is at New Orleans and because the state board of health recommends quarantine to the extent stated as necessary to the protection of the people of Alabama."

Selma Establishes Quarantine.

Selma, Ala.—Upon receipt of a telegram Saturday afternoon from the acting state health officer, Dr. Bandurant, the local board of health held a meeting, at the conclusion of which they informed the city authorities that they deemed it best to establish quarantine against New Orleans.

Queen and Crescent Wreck.

Birmingham, Ala.—Northbound passenger train No. 2 on the Alabama Great Southern railroad (Queen and Crescent), which left here Saturday morning at 3:45 o'clock, on time, met with an accident at mile post No. 105, thirty-eight miles north of Birmingham, between Springville and Whitney, and several cars in the train were derailed. A dozen or more people, trainmen and passengers, were hurt, but fortunately none fatally.

Town Without Lights.

Uniontown, Ala.—Thursday morning as the engineer at the electric plant was preparing to close down the plant the piston rod on the engine blew off, doing no great damage, but coming near killing the engineer, who was only a short distance from the engine. The accident, though comparatively a slight one, was unable to be repaired by night, hence we were without lights Thursday night.

Make Investigation.

Anniston, Ala.—Representative business men are at the head of a project for ascertaining the real mineral resources of this section.

Building A. D. & G.

Dothan, Ala.—The Atlanta, Dothan and Gulf railroad is now under full headway. W. S. Wilson, who has the contract and who is building it for the company, has over 200 men at work on it. He has about seven miles graded.

First Wins Victory.

Montgomery, Ala.—The shoot of the National Guard squads resulted in a victory for the First regiment again Friday.

Lieutenant Daniel, of the Third regiment, Talladega company, won the Ligon medal, his score being 39 out of a possible 50. Captain Solomon, of Fort Deposit, won the Advertiser medal for the second best shot, getting 36 out of 50.

Des Moines, Ia.—Five miners were blown to pieces by the explosion of twenty-five pounds of dynamite in a storage powder house at the West River Side Coal mine early Friday.

Heads, arms and legs were scattered for a distance of 500 feet. The men, five in number, were engaged in sinking a new shaft, and during the early morning a severe rain storm came up which compelled the men to stop work. They sought shelter from the storm in the powder house. While in the house lightning struck a tree near the building and from there ran to the house, igniting the dynamite as well as two kegs of powder.

Not a piece of wood larger than a foot long remains of the building.

Italian Charged With Peonage.

Montgomery, Ala.—Deputy Marshal Taylor brought in Salvatore Capitana and a bunch of Italian witnesses Saturday night from Maplesville, charging Salvatore with holding the others in a state of peonage. It is charged that Italians were brought to the saw mills of John I. Ensigen to work and forced to remain when they wanted to go back to the north. Ensigen came over to make bond for the accused.

Macon County Sheriff Dies.

Tuskegee, Ala.—News of the death of T. J. Conner, the sheriff of this (Macon) county, has just been received. He died Thursday at Hot Springs of uric acid poison. Mr. Conner has been in feeble health for some time, and went to Hot Springs last week to regain his health. His remains reached here Saturday evening.

Birmingham, Ala.—News has been received here of the total destruction of the saw mill of Mrs. A. L. Livingstone, at Toletine, on the Southern railway, between Jackson and Mount Vernon. The loss is about $10,000, with no insurance. The fire was caused by a bolt which had slipped off a pulley and was dragged through a pile of sawdust.

Montgomery, Ala.—A special from Laverne says: "E. O. Bishop shot and killed Gordon Reddock Friday night. Both are prominent merchants. The

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect November 6, 1904.

No. 23	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:50am	lv. Mobile, Ala.	10:35pm	10:00am
1:10am	5:00pm	lv. Selma, Ala.	4:35pm	3:03am
3:30pm	10:00pm	ar. Birmingham	6:20am	10:35pm
4:40am	Ar. Chattanooga	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:10pm
4:40pm	Ar. Bristol	6:30pm
1:10pm	Ar. Asheville	1:10pm
6:50am	Ar. Lynchburg	3:00pm
4:55am	Ar. Washington	10:00pm
1:30pm	Ar. N. York	8:25pm
No. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars from Mobile, Ala. to Chattanooga, Tenn., Birmingham, Ala. and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.
No. 18	STATIONS.	No. 17	No. 16
7:30am Tuscaloosa, Ala.	Ar. 9:25pm
9:10am Akron, Ohio	Ar. 7:30pm
6:00am Greensboro, N.C.	Ar. 6:40pm
10:37am Richmond, Va.	Ar. 3:40pm
11:45am Selma, Ala.	Ar. 4:30pm
No. 17	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:30pm New Orleans, La.	Ar. 8:45am	8:10pm
1:40pm St. Louis, Mo.	Ar. 12:45pm	1:00pm
2:40pm Demopolis, Ala.	Ar. 6:25pm	12:50pm
4:20pm Ar. Unionville	Ar. 6:15pm	11:50am
5:10pm Ar. Knoxville	Ar. 6:05pm	11:40am
8:20pm Ar. Selma	Ar. 4:55pm	10:45am
12:10pm Ar. Montgomery	Ar. 4:15pm
1:30pm Montevalle, Ga.	Ar. 3:30pm
2:30pm Calera, Ala.	Ar. 1:52pm
2:40pm Columbiana, Ala.	Ar. 1:30pm
4:40am Ar. Birmingham	Ar. 6:40pm
7:20am Talladega, Ala.	Ar. 12:20pm	8:00pm
8:20am Ar. Anniston	Ar. 11:35am	7:50pm
8:40am Ar. Jacksonville	Ar. 11:00am	7:30pm
9:00am Ar. Piedmont	Ar. 10:45am	6:55pm
9:30am Ar. Cave Springs	Ar. 9:58am	6:50pm
10:30am Ar. Rome	Ar. 8:55pm
7:50pm Ar. Atlanta	Ar. 8:00am
STATIONS.	No. 23	No. 21	No. 23	No. 16
Ar. Birmingham	6:10am	5:15pm	11:30pm
Pell City	7:30am	6:30pm	12:25am
Anniston	4:00am	8:20am	2:00am
Heflin	4:45am	9:05am	2:45am
Edwardsville	5:10am	9:30am	3:10am
Prichard	5:40am	9:40pm	3:40am
Tallapoosa	5:40am	9:40pm	3:40am
Bremen	5:40am	9:40pm	3:40am
Douglasville	7:10am	10:20pm	4:37am
Atlanta	8:20am	11:30am	5:47am
STATIONS.	No. 23	No. 21	No. 23	No. 16
lv. Atlanta	6:10am	5:15pm	11:30pm
Lithia Springs	6:50am	5:00pm	8:22pm
Ar. Decatur	7:30am	5:15pm	8:50pm
Bremen	7:58am	6:15pm	12am
Tallapoosa	8:18am	6:34pm	1:24am
Ar. Marietta	8:38am	6:54pm	1:44am
Edwardsville	8:50am	7:00pm	2:11am
Heflin	9:00am	7:10pm	2:30am
Prichard	9:10am	7:20pm	2:40am
Pell City	10:38am	8:52pm	4:07am
Birmingham	11:45am	9:59pm	5:10am
STATIONS.	No. 23	No. 21	No. 23	No. 16
Ar. Birmingham	1:10pm	6:45pm	11:30pm
lv. Anniston	7:35pm	8:34am	12:00pm
lv. Atlanta	11:00pm	12:15pm	12:00pm
Ar. Decatur	12:20pm	9:00am	12:00pm
Ar. Jessup	6:40am
Ar. Jacksonville	9:35am
Ar. Brunswick	8:30am
No. 36 carries Pullman Drawing Room Sleeping Car from Atlanta, Ga. to Jacksonville and Atlanta to Jacksonville and Brunswick.
No. 2 carries Pullman Sleeping Car Birmingham to Atlanta and Atlanta to Macon.
STATIONS.	No. 2	No. 15
lv. Rome	7:20pm
Ar. Knoxville	1:40am
Ar. Hot Springs	4:35am
Ar. Greenville	5:20pm
Ar. Salisbury	11:38am
Ar. Greensboro	12:51pm
Ar. Washington	5:50pm
No. 15 carries Pullman Sleeping Car Rome to Chattanooga, Chattanooga to Salisbury and Salisbury to New York without change.
STATIONS.	No. 2	No. 15
lv. Chattanooga	5:58am
Ar. Chattanooga	12:30pm
Ar. Louisville	8:10pm
Ar. St. Louis	7:32am
No. 2 carries Pullman Sleeping Car Chattanooga to Cincinnati and Cincinnati to Louisville.
No. 2 Pullman Sleeping Cars Chattanooga to Cincinnati.
STATIONS.	No. 40	No. 88
lv. Birmingham	6:10am
lv. Atlanta (East time)	1:00pm
Ar. Charlotte	8:55pm
Ar. Richmond	12:01am
Ar. Lynchburg	4:04am
Ar. Charlottesville	9:24am
Ar. Washington	10:15am
Ar. Baltimore	12:05pm
Ar. Philadelphia	2:20pm
No. 88 (Washington/Southwestern Limited) Solid Vestibule train Atlanta to New York, carrying Pullman Sleeping Car Birmingham to New York, carrying Pullman Dining Car to Washington, carrying Pullman Observation Car Atlanta to Washington, carrying Pullman Dining Car Washington to New York, Pullman Club Car Atlanta to Washington, carrying Pullman Dining Car Washington to New York, Pullman Dining Car Spartanburg to Washington.
*Daily. *Daily Except Sunday.
J. N. HARRISON, D. P. A., Birmingham, Ala.
R. E. O'NEAL, T. P. A., Birmingham, Ala.
J. H. HARRISON, T. P. A., Birmingham, Ala.
S. H. HARDWICK, P. T. M., Washington, D. C.
O. W. H. TAYLOR, P. A., Washington, D. C.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbian Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., July 27, 05

Telephone No. 17.

Shelby's New Court House.

The Commissioners of Shelby county have closed a contract with the Bynum Construction Company of Montgomery, to build a court house for this county costing $72,000. It is to be a fire-proof building, and the contract calls for its completion by Sept. 1, 1906. The work is to begin within the next sixty days, and will be built on the present site of the old court house, or on the Walls lot just across the street.

There is no doubt but that Shelby county would have had a new court house several years ago but for the fight for the county site between Calera and Columbiana. At an election more than a year ago the taxpayers decided by a most decisive vote not to remove the county site from Columbiana, and the Commissioners seeing the need of a new building have made the above contract.

Good Ball Games Coming.

On Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week the C. O. B's ball team of Birmingham is coming to Columbiana for three games. This team is the champion of the Birmingham district, and the best games of the season is promised. Remember the dates, and be there with your rooting clothes on.

Miss Emma Hicks is very sick at the home of T. J. Weaver with typhoid fever. It is hoped she will soon recover.

A pretty girl babe arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Millstead last Wednesday morning. Mother and child are getting along nicely, and the father will recover.

Teachers' Institute.

Shelby County Teachers Institute to be held at Wilsonville Aug. 4 and 5th, 1905.

FRIDAY 10:30 A. M.

Devotional exercises Rev. O. P. Bentley.

Enrollment of Teachers. Welcome address.—L. B. Riddle. Response.—J. C. Harper. Adjournment for dinner.

1:30.

Essay on School Government.—Mrs. Kate H. Wallace.

Uniform course of study for county schools.

(a) Grading.—C. H. Florey.

(b) Practicability.—J. S. Strook.

(c) Difficulties.—J. W. Moore.

(d) Enforcement.—Jas. M. Baldwin.

Teaching current events.—G. B. Wheeler.

8:00 P. M.

Educational address.

SATURDAY 9:00 A. M.

Teaching self respect and respect for others.—C. W. Chesser.

Teaching Principles of Morality.—Bertie Allen.

Teaching self reliance.—C. L. Moore.

Teaching correct English.—Miss Willie Hill.

How to secure co-operation of Patrons, Teacher and children.—E. G. Humphreys.

Resolutions.

Adjournment.

The special feature of this institute will be the establishment of a uniform course of study for county schools. We earnestly request that every teacher in the county avail himself of opportunities presented here. We expect to have a full and thorough discussion of every phase of the subject of uniform study for county schools. We hope to have Teachers of experience with us.

The good people of Wilsonville will extend to you a cordial welcome into their homes, and give every encouragement possible to help you along in the work of the Institute.

J. O. Dorrough.
Co. Supt. Ed.

Alabama Girls Industrial School

Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academical, Pedagogical, Scientific, Commercial, Industrial, Domestic, Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M., D. D.

WILSONVILLE.

We rejoice to see the very hot weather of the past few days broken by light showers of rain.

Miss Eva Privett, of Jacksonville, Ala., is visiting her aunt Mrs. G. W. McGowan.

Several young ladies visited the Misses Bentley last week. Your correspondent failed to learn their names and where from.

Misses Tex and Amos Wilson left Saturday to spend a short time at Talladega Springs.

W. H. Pope and family are visiting Fayetteville and Oxford for a few weeks.

Jim Evans and family are visiting Columbiana and Ironaton for several days.

Mrs. F. M. Wilkins is spending this week with her parents in Columbiana.

W. J. Tinney and family spent Sunday in our city. Will had just returned from Florida. He says Ala., is good enough for him.

W. W. McGowan, of Selma, is in our city for a few days. It seems natural to see Walter on our streets.

Claude Tinney, of Calera, is at home on the sick list, we hope he may be well in a short time.

Mrs. J. L. Riddle is better and we hope she will be able to visit around some soon, for she certainly has had a serious time of it, for several months past.

We regret very much indeed to hear that Mrs. Iris E. Taylor is sick. She has fever caused from the long, but faithful nursing of her mother, whom she has cared for as though she were a helpless infant. Watching over her both day and night for the past five months, breaking down her own physical condition, but never a word of murmur of complaint, has she made, but seemed happy in discharging her duties, with love for afflicted mother. We hope she will soon be well again.

Last Wednesday morning, Dr. J. B. Boyer started on a professional call to Birmingham, but was taken sick on a local train after leaving home and had to get off train in Columbiana. After spending the day in bed at the White House, returned home where he was quite sick for few days. We are glad to see him at his work again. We would advise you Dr. to not go at all, or go offener in the direction of the Dispensary and perhaps it will not make you sick next time.

L. B. Riddle and family are present, visiting Mrs. Riddle's relatives at Campbranch for a few days.

Miss Sammie Taylor left us last Wednesday to visit friends in Childersburg and other points.

Some of our people were very much surprised, this morning, when the news came to us that Mr. Arlin Kytte and Miss Wheeler of Harpersville, they were married at the home of the bride Sunday evening. May many, many years of happiness cover their lives.

We wish we had more time and space so that we might more fully sanction Mr. R. B. Posey's views on the new court house, but we have not; we will say, however, that we agree with you, Mr. Posey, and hope you will win.

Rip Van Rinkle.

Too late for last week.

Mrs. Hutsie Nelson and two children from your city visited her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Wilkins Saturday and Sunday.

A young lady and gentleman from Talladega whose names we do not know are visiting Misses Annie and Nettie Wilson.

Miss Mary Burgess who has been visiting relatives here for several weeks past, left us for her home in Mobile, Ala., Saturday. Miss Mary is a charming young lady and we regret giving her up. Hope she will come back again in the near future.

Rev. J. C. Brooks has been on the sick list since Friday. He was not able to fill his appointment last Sunday at old Chapel Church. We are glad to hear that he is much better at this writing and hope he will be entirely well in a few days.

We had the pleasure of attending services at the Presbyterian church Sunday and hearing Bro. Thompson preach. He is a very enthusiastic young preacher and we predict for him a very bright future. Let all who can, attend his meeting this week. He will be assisted by Rev. Duglinson of your city.

Mr. R. W. Weldon has been on the sick list for the past two weeks not in bed we, are glad to say, but laying around. It might be that if a certain young lady would only return home, he would soon be all O. K. again.

Rev. O. P. Bentley has been visiting at Goodwater for several days.

Mr. R. N. Wilson who has been working in Selma for some time, at the carpenters trade, spent a few days with his family here last week.

Jim Ray has moved his saw mill from Fourmile near Wilsonville, down in the neighborhood of Shelby. We welcome our old friend and neighbor W. W. Carter, back to Wilsonville again as one of our citizens.

This speaks well for our little town, for almost in every case, where a person has lived here for a while and leave, will invariably come back, or have great desire to do so. It remind us of the old adage "The Hay will return to its Waller."

Mr. H. E. Smith and daughter returned home from Mississippi last week; they report a pleasant trip, and seemed glad to return.

Mr. J. L. Riddle from Fourmile has been sick for several days at the Drummers Home; we hope he will be well in a few days. Mrs. Riddle, his wife, we are glad to learn, while still in a critical condition, that her physician is more hopeful of her case; and we trust that before long she may be able to get out some.

Mrs. Ed Lindsey and little son are visiting relatives in Tallapoosa, Ga. We wonder how our friend Ed is getting on keeping bachelor's hall?

The energetic, accommodating and prosperous firm of R. G. Weldon Co. are advertising a clearance sale, for this week—The ladies would do well to visit his store during the week and examine his stock and prices as you may obtain bargains.

I have been asked the question several times lately, where our young friend Calvin Weldon, went so often up the Harpersville road. I am told that about anywhere from three to seven times every week, he can be seen going up the said road about sun down or dark and returning about sun up next morning or sooner. I am afraid we will loose him; would be glad if some one would look after him.

One day last week as I was preambulating the streets of Wilsonville, I happened to notice a certain, handsome, progressive, young widower from the Fourmile neighborhood, had just received and was putting up a new buggy. He seemed to be in a hurry to get it in running order and leave town as quick as possible; for fear, I suppose of being interrupted. A few days later the writer happened to be passing his place and ran upon him along by the side of the road. As I came nearer to him, I saw that he was in earnest conversation; but did not see any one for him to be talking with; and just at this point, and before he was aware of my presence, I heard him use these words "Oh if I only possessed words sufficient to tell how much I love thee and how well," and just at this time looking up and seeing me so close to him, his next expression was somewhat changed as he exclaimed. "Whoa thine mule what do you mean by plowing up all this field of cotton? I will not give him away by calling his name; but would just say to the young ladies, that it might be well for you all to be ready and on the look out as there is no telling just when Walter may drive up in his new buggy."

Mr. J. F. Pope is having a new cover put on his dwelling house now occupied by L. B. and G. W. Riddle.

When we get the crop of weeds saved and cured, that is around the public square and highways of our little city, I think we will have hay of this nature sufficient to supply all of Shelby Co., and we will sell it cheap.

RIP VAN WINKLE.

Ruthville, Tenn.

Married, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, at the home of the bride's mother, Miss Delia Thomas of Ruthville, to Mr. G. B. Wheeler, of Rockford, Ala. Attendants: Mr. Ula Rawls and Miss Ada Taylor, Mr. Kin Web and Miss Anna Gibbs. Mr. Will Taylor and Miss Hontas Graham. Miss Thomas was the youngest daughter of Mary Thomas nee Franklin, widow of Wm. Thomas (deceased), who gave five sons to the Confederate army of which one went down in death at Franklin, Tenn., two others returned maimed for life. Miss Delia forged to the front under many adverse circumstances, walking for more than a mile through rain and snow to school all her childhood days, fortune favoring. She attended school from home until she became qualified to teach and taught some of our most successful schools. Modest, plain, unassuming, yet dignified, she became one of the most noble young ladies of our country, becoming a member of the M. E. Church in early life. She was a leading spirit in her church at old New Hope, which she seemed to love so well, helping to fight the battles against sin and immorality. We can but congratulate Mr. Wheeler in gaining the heart and hand of this sweet girl. We will say of Mr. Wheeler, that though a stranger to us, he had every appearance of the true typical Southern manhood. May their lives be made happier by this union and blessed with peace and plenty.—Fulton (Tenn) Commercial.

Obituary.

Whereas, in the providence of Almighty God, it has pleased Him, on the morning of the 17th of July, 1905, to call from our midst our beloved Brother Dilard Baldwin and whereas Bro. Baldwin was a faithful and true man and Mason. A member of Wilsonville Lodge No. 510 A. F. & A. M. we therefore bow in humble submission to the will of our Heavenly Father and pronounce Him just in all things. Bro. Baldwin was almost a centenarian, being 91 years and 10 days old. He gave to Masonry the best part of his life. We revere his memory and commend his life as a true and loyal citizen. He was a consistent member of the M. E. Church. That he has laid aside the working tools of life to rest under the shade of the trees in the better land. Let us strive to meet him in the sweet bye and bye. He was buried Masonically in the the cemetery at Union Church on July 18th, 1905.

Final Settlement.
E. A. Bentley, deceased, of Shelby County, Ala. Estate of.
This day came M. F. Bentley, Administrator of the Estate of E. A. Bentley, deceased, and filed her statement, accounts, vouchers and evidences, for a final settlement of her said administration: It is ordered, that Monday, the 14th day of August, 1905, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement, if they think proper.

A. P. Longshore,
Judge of Probate.

Marion Military Institute.

"During the past six years the University of Virginia has awarded as many academical degrees to graduates of the Marion Military Institute as it has to those of any other college in the country, and academical and professional degrees to more graduates from the Marion Military Institute than to those from any other college or University outside the State of Virginia." (Chairman U. Ma., 1802)
"I believe that the Marion Military Institute is destined to become one of the great schools of the country, if its present policy is carried out and if it is brought to the attention of the people of the South. I was most favorably impressed by the general tone of the teaching staff and the students at Marion."—Dean J. H. Penningman, Univ. of Penn.
For catalogue, address J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

Cheerfully Recommended for Rheumatism.

O. G. Higbee, Danville, Ills. writes Dec. 2, 1901: "About two years ago I was laid up for four months with rheumatism. I tried Ballard's Snow Liniment; one bottle cured me. I can cheerfully recommend it to all suffering from like affliction. Sold by Williams Bros."

For Lease or Sale.

Valuable lime manufacturing plant; fine condition; 400 acres of finest grade limestone. For particulars address

Mrs. MINNIE GIST, Guardian,
Calera, Ala.

$3,000.

Certificate of Beneficiary.

Birmingham, Ala., May 23, '05.
Mr. Geo. M. Webb, State Agent.
I want to thank your Secretaries and Treasurers of Pike, Chambers and Shelby Co. Divisions for the prompt payment of my husband's policies in your most esteemable company. The above amount—$3,000—was paid me in nine days after the death of my husband. All it had cost him to leave me this amount of money, was his membership fees, and one assessment of $15. I would advise every man and woman in Jefferson county and in the State of Alabama to take a policy in this company for it is the cheapest, safest and best insurance on earth. With best wishes for your popular company in Alabama, I am
Very respectfully,
Mrs. SALLIE VINCENT,
E. F. Enslin, Wit. Beneficiary.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Ladies

We cordially invite you to call and see the pretty line of Lawns which we are now showing.

SLIPPERS,

The kind you have been looking for, and the prices are just right.

STRAW HATS

In the latest styles, and prices to suit you.

WIRE FENCING==

The Elwood brand; you know it is the best. We have it, you need it.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

G. B. WALKER,

Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER, DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, - - - ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phons No. 47.

W. A. PARKER'S LIVERY, FEED,

—AND—
SALE STABLES.
COLUMBIANA - - - - - ALA.

While others are talking about their candidacy for Governor, Dr. (next Governor) Cunningham is talking to the school boys and girls.

Livery, Feed and Sale Stables,

S. & L. FRIEDBERGER, Proprietors.
(Successors to E. W. Burt.)
H. N. NORRIS, Manager.

Good Horses, Good Carriages, Careful Drivers.

Your Patronage is Solicited.

Telephone 16. - - - - - 'Bus Meets All Trains.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana: Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
May 18, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts	$ 36,644 83	Capital stock paid in	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts	104 90	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	1,615 51
Banking house	5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check	30,820 20
Furniture and fixtures	2,300 00	Time deposits	973 18
Other real estate	3,000 00	Cashier's checks	38 51
Due from banks and bankers in this State	8,225 54	Notes and bills rediscounted	10,490 25
Due from banks and bankers in other States	5,521 07
Currency	2,914 00
Gold	137 50
Silver, nickels and pennies	1,000 00
Checks and cash items	4,383 80
Total	$ 72,952 34	Total	$ 72,952 34

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank of Shelby County, Ala., who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.
Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 18th day of May, 1905.
JOHN R. DYKE,
Circuit Clerk.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

THE BICYCLE

YOU'RE LOOKING FOR.

FRESH MEAT

TWICE EACH WEEK.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months..... 50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

R. G. Weldon, of Wilsonville, was in town Friday.

Mr. Walter Riddle was in town Monday on business.

Miss Jessie Byrd, of East Lake, is visiting at Mrs. B. L. Moore's.

Clarence Smith, of Wilsonville, was a visitor to the city Sunday.

Ernest and Minor Hendricks, of Montevallo, were in the city last Sunday.

Rev. W. I. Sinnott, of Tusculoo-sa, was in the city last week, visiting friends.

Quite number of visitors in the city this week attending Commissioners Court.

We learn that Shelby county is to have an indeed handsome court house at once.

Capt. J. W. Bolin and son were among the spectators at the ball games last week.

Mr. Jas. Mason, of this city, who has been at work in Talladega, was visiting his family last week.

Miss Lillie Mae Liles is visiting her aunt, Mrs. L. G. Pettyjohn, in Birmingham for a few weeks.

The Columbiana ball team will likely go to Chattanooga during the season for a series of games.

Misses Cora and Kate Morgan, of Pratt City were visiting relatives and friends in this city last week.

The rooms of the Columbiana
Commercial Club are now nicely furnished with modern furniture.

Dr. C. T. Acker, of this city, who had been called off to the bed side of his mother, returned home Sunday.

R. B. Posey, member of the board of commissioners, is in the city attending a meeting of the Commissioners.

Nolan Burnett left Tuesday for Bessemer where he has accepted a position in a machine shop of that place.

Commissioners' court was in session Monday and Tuesday receiving bids for the erection of the new court house.

Quite a number of Shelby county citizens have been talking to the commissioners this week about tax matters.

We learn that Dr. DuBose has been quite sick for the past week, but learn that he is improved, and able to be up.

The Sentinel is shy on local items this week, but the matter furnished by friends during our absence is of unusual interest to our army of readers.

Dr. Hamner has gone to Linevill for a short visit with relatives.

C. Q. Wade, of Clanton, is in city visiting friends.

Mrs. W. G. Parker is visiting in Stanton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Pearson, of Bridgeton, are visiting in the city.

Prof. Dowell is assisting Rufus Lester in invoicing the Heard stock of goods.

Mrs. J. P. Christian visited with relatives in Shelby several days
last week.

Osce Bird has gone to Columbus,
Ga., for a short visit with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erick are home from a short visit with friends in Bessemer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. J. Haynes visited with relatives in Vincent last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Henry Milner and children who visit el friends in Clanton, returned home yesterday.

Miss Emmie Abercrombie has gone to Birmingham for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Jones.

Hon. E. S. Lyman and C. L. Moroney, of Montevallo, were in the city the fore part of the week.

Miss Florence Fallaw, of Opelika, is in the city visiting friends, and all are glad to have her with them again.

Rufus Lester has purchase the stock of goods formerly owned by J. T. Heard and has removed it to his own store room.

Mrs. J. P. Hebson, after a pleasant visit with her daughter, Mrs.
Joe P. Roberts, has returned to her home in Sylacauga.

Shelby county will have a $72,000 court house. We'll be so proud that you will have to take off your hat when you look our way.

Our base ball team has a proposition to play three games in Columbiana with the Prattville team.
We would be glad to see them come

Rev. C. W. O'Hara is attending the Baptist State Convention at Sheffield, and Mrs. O'Hara is visiting her son in Montgomery this week.

The hook in our job department is full, but if our friends will have a little patience with us, we hope to catch up with our work in the course of a few days.

Do not condemn a man because he has an opinion of his own, and sticks up for it. He may differ with you, but he thinks he is right, just as you think of your opinion.

Miss Margaret Browne has returned from a visit with friends in Washington and New York.
Her sister, Miss Myra, is still in New York and will remain some weeks longer.

Program of the Teacher' Institute and of the county Sunday School convention will be found in this issue, and they will be of interest to all who may attend either or both meetings.

The Sentinel is a little late this week, the editor and his wife having been off on a trip with the Alabama Press Association for the past week. For the good things which appear in this issue thanks are due those who were in charge during our absence.

SAD DEATH OF A GOOD WOMAN.

Former Resident of This Place
Dies Very Suddenly in Pratt City.

Our whole community was indeed shocked when a telegram to
Jno. H. Robertson, yesterday from Pratt City, announced the death of his daughter, Mrs. Alphonse Verchot, at Pratt at 7 o'clock that morning.

On Monday of this week Mrs.
Verchot gave birth to a sweet babe and nothing had been heard from her bedside since that time until yesterday when the message came freighted with sorrow.

Mrs. Verchot, better known to our people as Bessie Robertson, was born in this county some twenty-three years ago, and for the past few years had lived in Columbiana with her parents. She had ripened in to the full bloom of perfect womanhood, was dearly loved for the sweet, pure traits of her gentle nature and it is not wondered at that the sorrow is so universal because of her death.

During her life time she had hung many pictures of charity and hope in the halls of sad hearts, and now the earth is bedewed with tears in memory of this sweet girl whose soul has gone into the white hush of the unseen beyond—out beyond the boundless and infinite reach of pain and sorrow. About a year ago the deceased was married to
Mr. Alphonse Verchot, of Pratt
City, and she had gone to her new home with the beautiful rainbow of promise spanning her own little world of happiness. With such surroundings it is more than sad to know that about the home to which she had contributed so much happiness there is now an almost unfathomable gloom of sorrow.
She gave her life that another might live, thus exemplifying the great depth of mother love.

To the sorrowing husband, the grief-stricken parents, sister and brothers may the Great Physician administer, in his boundless love and compassion, a soothing influence and ease the aching hearts so torn with grief.

As we go to press arrangements have not been completed for the funeral, but it will occur today, and interment will be in the German graveyard south of town.

Programme
Shelby County Sunday School convention August 17, and 18, 1905,
Calera, Ala.

THURSDAY.

10 00—How to Begin Right: The help we need and how to get it.
Bible study led by—Judge Carthel.

10 30—Problems of the school:
Punctual attendance.—S. W.
Bailey. Miss Mary Kidd
Order of exercises.—J. R. White.
Classification and Grading.—R.
T. Lewis.
Preparation for the lesson.—Jno.
F. Averyt. J. F. McGraw.
General Discussion.

11 40—Our past year's work.
Report of President, Secretary and Treasurer.
Report of President of Beat Associations.

Enrollment of Delegates.
Appointment of Committees.
Recess.

2 00 p. m.—How to obtain wisdom for our work.
Devotional Service, led by—Joseph Duglinson.

2 15—The primary work.—Miss

Agnes Averyt, Miss Berta Allen.
General Discussion.

3 45—Looking after the absent One.
G. T. Harris.
General Discussion.

THURSDAY NIGHT.

7 30—Prayer and Praise Service.—
J. T. Black.

8 00—Our duty to the State work.
Judge Carthel.

8 30—Child Training.—R. T. Lewis.
FRIDAY MORNING.

9 00—How to get a better and wider view of our work.
Devotional Services, led by—
J. W. Willis.

9 30—The work and winning of a child.—D. R. McMillan.

10 30—Problems of the Beat Association:
How to help every Sunday school
J. E. Adams, N. A. Abbott.
A contribution from each School.
R. E. Coper, C. E. Abbott.
An accurate Report from each school.—Miss Driscoll Vincent.
Walter Lester.

How to reach neglected places.—
Henry Milner, L. N. Bowden.

11 00—Pledges for State and county work.

11 30—Helping the big boys.—Jno
J. Haynes. W. T. Smith.

Selection of next place of meeting.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

2 00—Devotional exercises.—J. V.
Johnston.

2 30—How to reach the masses.—R.
F. Lewis.

General Discussion.

3 15—Individual work.—C. P. Mc-
Lane, Miss Stella Posey.

General Discussion.

4 00 Decision Day.—Judge Carthel.

FRIDAY NIGHT.

7 30—Prayer and praise Service.—J.
W. Partridge.

8 00—The outlook in the State and Shelby County part.—Judge Car-
thel.

How I propose to help the Sunday School work in this county during the coming year, led by
A. P. Longshore.

The president of the Beat Association, Superintendents of Sunday Schools and ministers of the Gospel are ex officio delegates. Let every school in the county appoint at least three delegates who will promise to attend. Each beat officer will be expected to report in person as to the condition of his work. If your school has not paid its pledge arrange to redeem it.
Let us all pray and work for a rich spiritual blessing upon our Sunday School workers at the coming convention, and expect it. God is not slow to answer such prayers.

Baseball Players and Foot Racers!

Louis J. Kruger, ex-champion
long distance foot racer of Germany
and Holland, writes, Oct. 27, 1901:
"During my training of eight
weeks' foot races at Sault Lake City
in April last, I used Ballard's Snow
Liniment to my greatest satisfaction.

Therefore, I highly recommend
Snow Liniment to all who are troubled with sprains, bruises or rheumatism." 25c, 50c and $1.00.
Sold by William Bros.

HARPERSVILLE.

Farmers are about through work.

There is some sickness in our community.

Miss Hannah Caldwell is visiting relatives in Georgia.

Professor Crumley and family have moved to Birmingham.

Mrs. T. G. Florey and little son visited Birmingham relatives last
week.

R. G. Davis has moved into the house vacated by Prof. Crumley.

Miss Charles, of Birmingham, is visiting Miss Maggie East on Water street.

Jim Jones, (Uncle John's Jim) was in town a few days ago, with a load of watermelons.

There were some gentlemen in our community a few days ago, looking out a location for a turpentine mill.

Uncle "Billy" Norris, the Columbiana peddler was in our community a few days ago, with sacks for the men and lace for the women.

T. J. Martin and R. B. Posey attended preaching at Macedonia church in the Northern part of the county last Sunday.

Joe Florey is spending a few days at Cook Springs in the interest of his health which we hope will soon be restored.

Mr. Kytie, of Wilsonville, and Miss Georgia Wheeler of this place were married at the bride residence near here Sunday evening.

Jake.

Master Joe Peters, of Montevallo, has been in the city for the past week visiting his father, Judge J.
L. Peters. The Sentinel feels interested in Joe as he was an employe on the paper for several months while we were in Montevallo. He is a fine boy, and his father has reason to be proud of him.

THREE STRAIGHTS FROM WYLAM.

Three Games of Snappy Ball is Played Here—Visitors
Losing All.

'Twas a cinch!

As was scheduled the three games of ball between Columbiana and Wyham was played on the home diamond Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, all of which resulted in victory for the home team.

The first one Monday afternoon was indeed a fine game, both teams were in the best of fettle and in the presence of at least four hundred spectators, among which were rooters of all description, the home team put the visitors out of business by a score of 6 to 0. Harry Roberts, champion amateur pitcher was in his "old time form" putting sixteen of Wyham's men to the bad.
He was wonderfully backed up by his never failing catcher Will Averyt. Crews pitched a magnificent game for Wyham, and although the visitors never saw the home plate, yet, they played such a game as would have put any other team save Columbiana out of business.

Tuesday was not so good a game as Monday, Tinney pitching for the home team and Crews for the visitors, and they did good work but failed to receive the proper support there being several errors on each side which were costly. This game resulted in a victory for Columbiana by a score of ten to eight.

But Wednesday morning at nine thirty the game of the series was called by Umpire Lawley. Again the visitors were called on to face
Roberts in the box while the home team went up against Crews for the third and last time. Columbiana went to the bat first but failed to score, then Wyham had a turn scoring Kilpatrick. Then it was goose egg after goose egg up to the seventh, when Columbiana scored Dowell tying the game up, and the game in the eighth Chapman placed a shadow on the home plate and here it stood one to two in favor of Columbiana, but fate had decreed that it should not stop here for Wyham in the last half of the ninth trotted McKay across the home plate tying the game again, then for five straight inning it was a pitchers' battle, each side exchanging goose egg for goose egg. But as Columbiana went up for her half of the fifteenth all was anxiety, but fate seemed against her for quick and fast two outs were made.
Then Chapman the third man faced Crews and all was silence in the grand Stand, when the batter made a safe drive for left field reaching first easily. Then it was that the scorers broke the silence by crying "Dinny to the bat."

All eyes were fixed upon this young Goliath as he stepped in front of Crews; pulled up his pants and took his position close to the plate.
This was a supreme moment, the tension was too great to last long, on all sides you could hear those inspired with confidence yet with a tremor of fear, say, "you can do it old boy, now for a home run." The pitcher took his position and with vigour backed up by steam he sent it down out across the plate, but it was met as it crossed the plate by a heavy swing from the bat of "Dinny" which sent it far beyond the fielders to the tall timber. Here the tension gave away and the spectators went wild as Chapman came marching home from first followed closely by the champion amateur slugger of the State.
Then for a time pandemonium reigned. This placed the score four to two in Columbiana's favor which was not frustrated by the visitors in their last half of the fifteenth.

Oscar Lawley, of Birmingham, umpired all three of the games and all speak in the highest terms of the fair and impartial way in which he administered the rules of base ballism all times. The Wyham boys are indeed gentlemen and our people will always welcome them here. Columbiana has played sixteen games, winning 13, tie-ing 1. Harry Roberts stands today without a doubt the Champion amateur of the state, and with a good showing he can make good in the Southern League. In his first game with Wyham he struck out 16 and the last 19 placing in all to his credit 35 strike outs.

Pleasant Shaw is in the city this week.

STRAYED.

One red mare mule, about fifteen hands high, between 10 and 12 years old, strayed from my farm at Pelham, June 11th. Any information leading to recovery of animal will be rewarded by

D. McGUIRE,
Pelham, Ala.

Notice of Commissioner's Sale.

In pursuance of, and in accordance with the terms and directions of a Commission, issued and addressed to undersigned, by the Hon. A. P. Longshore, Judge of the court of Probate in and for Shelby county, Alabama, bearing date the 22d day of May, 1905, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash
at public auction in front of the court house
of said county, on Monday, the 14th day of August, 1905, within the legal hours of sale,
the following described real estate, to-wit:

That part of northeast quarter of southeast quarter, and southeast quarter of southeast quarter of section 32, township 10, range 2 w., of section 32, township 10, range 2 west, and the west half of northeast quarter, and east half of southeast quarter of northeast quarter, and the northeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 5, township 30, range 2 w., containing 20 acres more or less, which lands are to be sold under the above said court for the purpose of a division between and among the joint owners thereof, who are as follows: John C. Cross, John Harris, Paul
Harris, George Harris, Mary Ward, Annie
Harris, Julia Harris and Charles Harris, all being the heirs of Virginia Harris, deceased.

H. E. WHITAKER,
Commissioner.

McMillan & Haynes,
Attorneys.

ANOTHER SPLENDID

Fraternal Organization Giving to its Members the Greatest Benefits
Ever Offered, to Organize
Here Soon.

The National Union Fraternal Life Association of Georgia will soon organize here. Its members are entitled to the following benefits as soon as the Division or Lodge is full: $1,000 in case of death; $1,000 in case of accident (total disability) payable $100 per year for ten years, and in case the member dies he gets $1,000 in addition to accident benefit. Ten orphan children are fully provided for, free of cost, in each lodge or Division. This benefit is in addition to money coming to them from the death of parent.

Each member after twenty years,
in good standing, is given a paid up life membership, nothing more to pay of dues or assessments.

The total cost to join is $5.00.
This includes dues for the first six months of $1.00, and the Mortuary assessment of $1.00. Nothing more is paid by the member until the end of six months, then each member pays $1.00. When a death occurs in your lodge or Division, then the beneficiary is immediately paid, and each member pays $1.25. The dollar goes into your bank to provide for the next death and 10 cents goes for expense and 15 cents goes for the accident and orphan benefit.

There is no Fraternal Society or Insurance Company in this world that offers these four benefits to its member. It is likely to cost about $6.00 a year to secure these benefits. Can any man afford to ignore this, if he can become a member?

This Society permits ladies to join on the same terms as men.
The success of this institution in Georgia and Florida has been remarkable, and we predict a very large measure of success for it in Alabama, as our people are as wide-awake to a good thing as any elsewhere.

Only a limited number are accepted in each Lodge or Division.
Thus every one should try to become members as soon as possible.

Indigestion.

With its companions, heart burn,
flatulence, torpidity of the liver,
constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and
other nervous symptoms, sallow
skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Hering's treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle. Sold by William
Bros.

Croup.

Is a violent inflammation of the mucous membrane of the wind pipe, which sometimes extends to
the larynx and bronchial tubes;
and is one of the most dangerous
diseases of children. It almost always comes on in the night. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's
Horehound Syrup and apply Ballard's Snow Liniment externally
to the throat. 25c, 50c and $1.00
Sold by Williams Bros.

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points
via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island
System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service.
The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic"
route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit
Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco
and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long,
specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13,
and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Send Colorado booklet and rates.

Name.....

Address.....

Leave about.....

Destination.....

ALABAMA STATE EVENTS.

Items of Interest Gathered as They Transpire Over the Entire State.

An Alleged Bigamist. Wetumpka, Ala.—A white man by the name of Caldwell is lodged in the Wetumpka jail on a charge which is an unusual one in Elmore county. Caldwell came to the Beatsville neighborhood some years ago, settled there and married an Elmore county girl. They are now the parents of an attractive child. Some time ago an advertisement giving the description of a man appeared in the Atlanta Constitution. As the description fitted Caldwell exactly, a neighbor answered the advertisement and it developed that the man's wife, the mother of two of his children, is living in South Carolina. Sheriff Robbins was apprised of the situation and acting with promptness drove over to Beatsville and returned with a prisoner charged with bigamy.

Shooting at Epes. Livingston, Ala.—A report reached here Thursday night of a serious shooting at Epes in this county. One Dr. Cook shot and seriously wounded a Mr. Lewis of that place. The particulars of the difficulty are not given, but it is understood that Dr. Cook was drinking and after having had some trouble with Mr. Lewis approached him again when the difficulty was revived. Lewis is reported to have been shot through, besides having received several blows from the pistol in the hands of Dr. Cook. Dr. Cook was held under a bond of one thousand dollars. The recovery of Lewis is considered somewhat doubtful.

Squadron Reviewed. Montgomery, Ala.—The review of the First cavalry squadron, A. N. G., by Brigadier General Louis V. Clark, was the most brilliant military affair seen in Montgomery during the last three weeks, during which time the citizen soldiery of Alabama has been in full possession of the capital.

Reviews as a general thing are very prosaic affairs. The one of Thursday was anything else. There was a medley of color, of movement, and of martial things that would delight the hearts of the most practical.

A gay crowd assembled to watch the maneuvers. The sides of the parade ground were lined with Montgomerians of every class and description. Society and the military mingled and there was a generous outpouring of ex-Confederates, who came to see how the boys of today rode.

Building at Albertville. Albertville, Ala.—Albertville's burned district is being rapidly cleared up and the work of rebuilding will commence in a few days. Several handsome brick stores will be built instead of the frame buildings destroyed by the recent fire.

Riggs Bros. are already at work with a large force of hands building a large brick store to replace the one burned recently.

J. P. Emmett is having excavations made for the erection of a mammoth three-story brick structure just north of the Bank of Albertville.

Conductor Arrested.

Decatur, Ala.—Acting under instructions issued from State quarantine headquarters, Chief Inspector of Quarantine Wallace effected the arrest of Southern Railroad Conductor Martin Payne at the union station here on Thursday afternoon. Payne was arrested on two warrants sworn out by Chief Inspector Wallace, one in Colbert and the other in Madison county. The warrants charge that Conductor Payne illegally ejected from his train Quarantine Officers Lem Jones at Leighton and John Almon at Huntsville. At the time the officers were in the discharge of their duty, acting under state law. Constable John B. Hinds served both warrants on Conductor Payne.

Local Southern Railroad Attorney S. T. Wert was present at the station with bonds ready for Payne. Each bond was for $200. Payne was allowed to take his train on to Chattanooga after the warrants were served and the bonds properly filled out. The train was only delayed a few minutes.

End of the Artillery Encampment.

Montgomery, Ala.—Camp Robert F. Ligon, which has for the past six days harbored the First artillery, Alabama National Guard, ceased to exist at 4:50 o'clock Thursday morning. At that minute a bugle was blown and every tent in the camp was struck.

The men of the battalion and the camp were given a careful inspection by Inspector General R. F. Ligon and Captain J. C. Goodfellow. The camp was found to be cleanly and wholesome and the men and the equipment made a fine showing.

No Huntsville Quarantine.

Huntsville, Ala.—It is very improbable that Huntsville will quarantine against any of the districts infected with yellow fever. The plague does not excite terror here. During every epidemic in past years refugees have been welcomed here and no case of the disease has ever been communicated to resident citizens, although the fever developed among the refugees.

On Trial at Gadsden. Gadsden, Ala.—The preliminary trial of L. H. Pinkerton and Oscar Brown, the two white men charged with the murder of Bill Smith, the negro barber, was commenced before Judge C. D. Clark Wednesday and is still on trial. There are some twenty-five witnesses in the case and so far only about ten have been examined. John R. Lowe, who is driver of the fire engine of the Gadsden fire company, was standing in his door when the shooting took place and swore positively that Pinkerton did the shooting. G. W. Ensley, who was with Pinkerton and Brown, swears that Pinkerton did the shooting. No evidence has been brought out against Brown, who is defended by Colonel B. H. Nicholson.

Brewton Taking Steps. Brewton, Ala.—A meeting of the Escambia County Board of Health was held here Thursday afternoon to discuss the yellow fever situation, and as a result the mayor and town council were requested to have the day and night marshals meet all trains and question passengers coming in and see that none are allowed to stop in Brewton who have been in the fever infected district.

There is no particular uneasiness on the part of the people here, but it is fully expected that they will assist in every way in putting the town in a good sanitary condition.

Farmers' Institute.

Auburn, Ala.—The third day's session of the Farmers' Summer School was marked by the record-breaking attendance since the establishment of the school three years ago. The actual number of farmers in attendance is 149. In addition to the representatives from thirty-three counties in the state there is quite a delegation present from the state of Georgia. The attendance includes representatives of fruit growing, stock breeding, truck gardening, and those engaged in the raising of the ordinary staples of cotton and corn. The county of Chilton is the banner county, with fifteen representatives present. Among many representative farmers present are J. M. Thornton, of Talladega; J. J. Robinson, Jr., of Lafayette; J. P. Maxwell, of Dallas county; Mr. Whitfield, of Marengo county; Mr. Dixon, of Escambia county. A large representation is also present from Clarke county. The experiment stations at Athens, Albertville, Evergreen and Wetumpka are represented.

Queer Case at Girard.

Girard, Ala.—The judicial minds of Magistrates L. F. Knowles and Chas. Pittman, of this city, are puzzled over rather a queer case. John Griggs, a 17-year-old white boy, was arraigned before them yesterday on a charge of skinning a cow belonging to Miss Annie Hunt and selling the hide. He promptly pleaded guilty.

It seems that there is no law to cover this particular offense in the manner the magistrates would like. They reserved their decision for a few days. Homer Cheek, another boy, was charged with the same offense, but his trial was postponed.

Hale Was Respired.

Montgomery, Ala.—Because it is definitely known that Wesley Hale, a negro condemned to die on the scaffold in Birmingham on August 4 will be a valuable witness in an important case now pending in Jefferson county, he was on Thursday given a respite of sixty days by Governor Jelks in order that he may testify. He will testify against Andrew Shelton, suspected of being an accomplice of Hale. The respite was recommended by Judge D. A. Greene and Solicitor H. D. Heflin, of the Jefferson county criminal court.

Decatur's Progress.

Decatur, Ala.—On September 1 the new Carnegie library, costing $10,000, will be opened to the public. The arrangements have already been made for securing the books. On the day of opening there will be appropriate ceremonies. This is one of the finest buildings in the city.

The work on the new opera house for New Decatur has been started. The building will cost $20,000. It is being erected by a private stock company and it is expected that it will be open to the public by September 1. The stage will be on the first floor and there will be a gallery and balcony. At the present time there is not an opera house in either Decatur or New Decatur.

Within the next few weeks the new city hall for New Decatur will be completed. The building will be two stories high, built of brick, and will cost $5,000.

Close of Convention.

Huntsville, Ala.—The Madison County Sunday School Convention adjourned Friday afternoon after a session of two days. Officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows: George T. Marsh, president; W. H. Pettus, recording secretary and statistical secretary; A. H. Turner, treasurer; executive committee, E. E. Pettus, chairman; N. M. Rowe, L. W. Prosser, A. M. Booth, S. I. Terry.

To Be in Shape Again.

Talladega, Ala.—The insurance companies have sent their adjustors and settled with the state for the losses sustained by the recent fire that destroyed the shops of the School for the Deaf and Dumb of this city.

Work was at once begun in tearing down the old walls and clearing off the new site for another building. The new building will be of brick, two stories in height, and 50x100 feet in dimensions. It will be built further back and made as near fireproof as possible.

Orders have been placed for new and improved machinery, which will be put in as soon as the walls are ready for it, and the hope is to have it as near ready as possible for the next session. Mr. McDonald says he hopes to have a model shop of it, since it has to be rebuilt.

Changes in Tuscumbia Offices.

Tuscumbia, Ala.—Two important changes on the Memphis division of the Southern railway have been announced, effective August 1. Frank A. Devere, chief train dispatcher, has been transferred to the Mobile division, of which he has been made trainmaster, with headquarters at Selma. Mr. Devere has been in the service of the Southern for seventeen years, most of which time has been spent in the train master's office at Tuscumbia, he having been train dispatcher for fifteen years, the last four as chief.

R. C. Bibb, local agent at this point, has been promoted to the Huntsville agency of the Memphis division, which ranks second to that of Memphis in importance and salary. Mr. Bibb came to Tuscumbia from Leighton less than two years ago and his transfer to Huntsville is the second promotion within two years. He is to be succeeded at Tuscumbia by S. H. Hunt, local agent at Scottsboro.

Big Farmers' Meeting.

Anniston, Ala.—In compliance with the call of Capt. James Crook, president of the Calhoun County Association of Southern Cotton Planters, there will be a picnic and grand rally at Oxford Lake on Saturday, August 12th, to discuss the present conditions and future prospects of the cotton crop in this and adjoining counties.

Harvie Jordan, of Monticello, Ga., president of the Southern Cotton Association, and one of the largest cotton planters in the south, will be present to address the people on the work of the association. Hon. Sydney J. Bowie has consented to address the gathering as will Captain Crook and others who are well conversant with the needs and conditions of the southern planters.

Played Old Joke on Him.

New Decatur, Ala.—J. B. Butler, a young man from New York, came here a few days ago to take the position of bookkeeper at Cathcart's saw mill. He told the boys about the mill that he had hunted big game in the Adirondacks, etc. The other boys asked him if he had ever hunted snipe. He said he had not, but would like to do so. The other night a party was arranged, a hack secured and Butler was taken by the crowd to Blue Springs, about four miles from the city, where he was given the bag to hold. He got back to the city the best he could after the crowd had left him. It was about day, however, when Butler arrived in town. He never caught on to the joke, but said he did not care to stay in a place where brother hunters would run off and leave him to walk home. After arriving in town Butler caught the first train for New York city.

Florida Not to Be Quarantined.

Montgomery, Ala.—Alabama will not quarantine Tampa or any section of Florida on the strength of the single case of yellow fever on record in that city. It is the opinion of Dr. W. H. Sanders, state health officer, that there is no urgent need to put a ban on the Florida city if there is no spread of the disease. Such a recommendation was communicated Friday to Governor Jelks in Blount Springs, and although there have been reports that Tampa would be restricted, no action will be taken on the part of the state.

Negro Endeavors.

Montgomery, Ala.—At the second day's session of the Varick Christian Endeavor Society prominent visitors were present and made speeches. Bishop J. W. Airstock, D. D. conducted the devotional exercises Thursday morning, assisted by Rev. William Finley, P. E., of Gainesville district, and Rev. M. S. Cast, the poet of the state.

Dies on Operating Table.

Selma, Ala.—J. T. Evans, Jr., fireman at the Estelle cotton mills, died of chloroform Friday night on the operating table of a local infirmary. The drug had been administered preparatory to an operation in a comparatively safe case, but appears to have been given in too great quantities. Deceased was 28 years of age.

Dies from Gas in the Well.

Greenville, Ala.—A negro named Ed Womack was preparing to blast a rock at the bottom of a sixty-foot well on the plantation of C. E. Hamilton, near town, and did not know of the presence of gas until he had been lowered into the well. He called to his assistant at the windlass to draw him up, but before he reached the surface was overcome by the gas and expired. He was a good negro.

COTTON GOES HIGHER

No Doubt as to Strength of Market, Which Has a Good Undertone

NEW YORK IS NOW BULLISH.

Spinners Want the Stuff and It Has to Come at Big Prices.

New Orleans, La.—The cotton market has turned and is going up hill again. Prices opened slightly higher and much better with a good undertone to the market. While a few operators are on the fence, most of the opinions are bullish. The fears of an immediate stampede of the market are seemingly past due, to the good work of the bulls Saturday, who responded well and blocked every move of the bears. The market now has another chance to assert its natural strength which it was not slow in availing itself of, as the advance set in early during the morning session and has held well. A few reports show improved conditions in the crop generally, but the bearish effect of these reports are more than offset by the good outlook for the demand.

The sentiment in New York was decidedly bullish Saturday, which was caused to a great extent by the reports from Liverpool and the good demand for cotton goods. Bradstreet's says in this connection that special activity is noted in cotton goods, which are in demand at high prices with scarcity of desirable makes reported.

The technical position of spots is unchanged and very little business doing. The holders still act firm and can well afford to do so, as there is no obvious reason why there would be much of a decline in the staple, as the spinners will surely come in the market with further demands and the holders can at any time let go of their cotton at a much higher price than was even thought of at the beginning of the season. The holders are preserving a much better front now than was shown when the price was between 8c and 9c.

A dispatch from Fall River says: There was a marked advance in the price of regular goods during the week and everything points to higher prices, both for raw and finished material.

Thorough Tests Made.

New York.—With no less than twenty-five cases of possible yellow fever detained under observation in the quarantine island on Saturday, Dr. H. A. Doty, health officer of the port, said that twenty-four hours must elapse before it could be determined whether any suspects were infected with the dread plague.

Two sailors, both apparently seriously ill, were taken today from the steamer Segurana, which arrived from Colon and were isolated in the pest house on Sinburne Island. Eight more of the crew who had been ill during the voyage, but who were convalescent, and seven passengers, two from the cabins, all of whom showed increased temperatures, were taken to Hoffman island for detention until the results of blood examinations are known. In addition to these, two suspects were taken to Hoffman today from the steamer Eldorado from New Orleans, and six cases from the steamer Avona, which recently arrived from Colon.

Big Land Sales in Jackson.

Scottsboro, Ala.—The following real estate deals have been made in the past week. The lands are all valuable timber lands:

J. L. Langston to J. C. Payne, 123 acres, $675; J. C. Isbell to J. W. Isbell, 30 acres, $720; J. W. Gilford to Henry R. Gilford, 40 acres, $100; Brantley Sanders to John A. Swafford, 12 acres, $500; Brantley Sanders to J. L. Langston, 30 acres, $100; Brantley Sanders to Langston & Swafford, 113 acres, $20,000; Joseph McCullough to W. L. Sanders, 437 acres, $30,000; W. L. Sanders to R. B. Sanders, 160 acres, $16,000; R. E. Sanders to W. L. Sanders, 100 acres, $12,000; also 200 acres, $12,000.

Darden's Remains Arrive.

Lafayette, Ala.—The remains of William C. Darden reached here Saturday evening on the 6 o'clock train for interment. He died at his home in Oklahoma last Tuesday. Mr. Darden formerly resided here and had many relatives prominent in this city, a brother, George W. Darden, in Oneonta, Ala., one in Birmingham, Robert R. Darden, and one in Oklahoma, John B. Darden.

Sell Mineral Lands.

Ensley, Ala.—D. W. Morris & Bro. have completed the sale of some valuable mineral property they had near Oneonta, in Blount county, on Friday. It is understood that they received a very handsome price, but the figures were not given out. It is rumored that they intend investing extensively in Ensley real estate and improvements in the near future.

PEACE TERMS UNKNOWN.

Sato Knows Nothing of What Japan Will Demand.

New York.—Aimar Sato of the Japanese peace delegation made a statement to the Associated Press Saturday night in which he denies that he has ever, in any interview, given any outline of the terms upon which Japan will negotiate peace or that he has announced that Japan will make any demands whatever. He said:

"I wish to be clearly understood that I have never given out anything that could be construed as a demand of the Japanese peace commission or anything that could be taken as a condition upon which Japan would enter into negotiations for peace. I wish also to deny that I am the spokesman for Baron Komura. Sensational articles have been published which are fabrications, and in which I have been misquoted. I don't know upon what terms peace may be negotiated. I don't know that the Japanese envoys will consider peace terms. I know of no humiliating or other demands."

WAR OFFICE PREPARING.

Linevitch Will Be in Good Condition if Peace Negotiations Fail.

St. Petersburg.—The intimation of Mr. Sato, Baron Komura's secretary, that Japan will claim full indemnification for the cost of the war, besides the Island of Sakhalin, has gained recruits for the war party from among the class which had hoped Russia would be able to offer the railroads to Port Arthur and Dalny, the Island of Sakhalin and other valuable considerations in lieu of a direct cash indemnity.

The war office is not slackening preparations for continuing the war in case peace negotiations are unsuccessful. The gap in General Linevitch's army at Mukden has been filled and the railroad is working to its full capacity carrying reinforcements to form fresh corps.

A dispatch from Irkutsk announces the completion of work on the trans-Baikal line.

VLADIVOSTOCK IN DANGER.

Japs Have Landed at Several Points and Are Working Inward.

Kherson, Manchuria.—The Japanese are apparently concentrating a considerable force far to the eastward with the aim of operating against Kirin and Ninguta and getting in between Vladivostok and the Russian Manchurian army.

It is reported that the Japanese have landed at several places in the Siberian littoral between Nicolaevsk Dekastries, and that the telegraph line to Nicolaevsk has been cut. These landings, however, are reported to be for small forces.

The rains are moderating and the roads are passable.

Officers Raid Still.

Huntsville, Ala.—Deputy Collectors Root and Anderson and Deputy Marshals Thompson and Arnold made a raid near Elkwood, Madison county, Thursday afternoon and captured a large illicit distillery that had just made a run.

The furnace had fire in it and the boilers were hot, but the operators had received warning of the approach of the officers and had made away with every movable article about the place.

T. W. Worden was arrested and a search of his premises revealed several gallons of fresh corn whisky. Worden was brought to Huntsville Friday night and committed to jail to await a hearing before Commissioner Greenleaf.

Official Changes.

Scottsboro, Ala.—Tax Collector Jim Ridley and Assessor Prince, who have filled their respective offices with credit, have wound up their business in full with the state and now retire to private life. W. A. J. Wann and W. D. Rorex, the new officers to the positions, will now take charge. All of the county officials were elected last November and shortly after assumed their respective offices except the collector and assessor, who under the law had their time of incumbency extended until the first of the coming month.

A Happy Reunion.

Lafayette, Ala.—The happiest reunion ever enjoyed by the Confederate veterans of Chambers county was held in this city Saturday. About two hundred and twenty-five were present, speeches were made, a big barbecue served and cigars by the citizens of Lafayette and all had a good time. The town was thronged with people, but the best order was maintained throughout the day, it being specially noticeable that there was no drunkenness nor profanity to mar the pleasures of the day for these grand old soldiers. Gen. G. P. Harrison, of Opelika, made the address of the day.

Professor Higley Dies.

Huntsville, Ala.—Prof. Irwin Buell Higley, a well-known and popular traveling man from Birmingham, died Friday morning in the McGee hotel, where he had been ill for several weeks. Professor Higley traveled for the Jesse French Piano company, and spent about half of his time in Huntsville. He was about 40 years old and unmarried.

APPROVAL OF TARIFF

Substantial Reductions in Several Most Generally Used Commodities.

NO INCREASES ACCEPTED.

All Roads Ordered to Sell Tickets and Check Baggage Where There is a Station.

Montgomery, Ala.—At a meeting of the state railroad commission Saturday, at which all the members were present, revised tariffs ordered by the commission at its July meeting were approved except that in no case where a new rate is an increase over the old will be accepted. Taken as a whole, there have been very substantial reductions in several of the most generally used commodities. The Louisville and Nashville, for instance, showing the following average reductions: Cotton, 25 per cent; fertilizer, 24 per cent; native hay and grain, 9.6 per cent; brick, stone, gravel and sand, 53 per cent; cement, 50 per cent; lime and plaster, 32 per cent; lumber, laths, shingles, staves and headings, 10 per cent; all these being on class rates.

On the call of the docket the Seaboard was ordered to stop trains at Armstrong until January; new rates on the Alabama Northern approved; the Tuskegee road was ordered to show cause why it should not reduce passenger fares; all roads were ordered to sell tickets and check baggage where there is a station, and the Southern was refused permission to cease stopping fast trains at Edwardsville. It was also shown that arrangements had been made for a depot at Rutherford, on the Seaboard.

New Tariff Order.

The following is the order putting the new schedule of rates into force, which is signed only by Associate Commissioners Tunstall and Sanders: Before the railroad commission of Alabama, Montgomery, Alabama, July 29, 1905.

In the matter of revised tariffs. In compliance with an order of this commission made May 6, 1905, requiring the railroad companies operating in Alabama to submit to the commission revised tariffs for the purpose of correcting "inequalities, inaccuracies, and discriminations existing in the rates applying in this state," the several companies have submitted their revised tariffs. These tariffs have been carefully examined and checked; and all proposed increases eliminated. With such eliminations, said tariffs are now found to be in compliance with the former order of this commission; and it is ordered that the same be, and they are hereby approved; Provided, that no increase of any rate in said proposed new tariffs is approved; but such increases are hereby disapproved and disallowed.

W. C. TUNSTALL,

W. T. SANDERS,

Associate Commissioners, Railroad Commission of Alabama.

British Squadron in the Baltic.

St. Petersburg.—The cruise of a British squadron in the Baltic sea being announced on the heels of the meeting between Emperor William and Emperor Nicholas as Bjorkee has created a great stir here and has given a new turn to conjecture about the purpose of Emperor William's trip to Russian waters.

The German Emperor is now credited in some quarters with a design to enlist Russia's support in securing for the Baltic the status of a mare clausum, and the immediate declaration that the British fleet intends to pass the Belts is regarded as Great Britain's cry of check-mate. Nothing official is obtainable concerning the cruise, the foreign office maintaining that it has not been apprised of its purpose, or the details of the programme, and it declines to discuss the subject seriously in the absence of further information.

To Have New Bridge.

Demopolis, Ala.—The city is going to have a new bridge built across the ravine on Franklin street, the old one having been pronounced unsafe. This is a pretty big job, as the span is quite long. The contract has not been given yet.

Cotton is beginning to open, rapidly now and picking will begin in earnest in about fifteen days.

Cut on Face and Arms.

Ensley, Ala.—A negro woman by the name of Nora Henderson, who lives in Ensley, was seriously cut about the face and on both arms Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock at Hill Top, on the South Ensley car line, by Whelan Carter, a negro man.

One Man Killed.

Florence, Ala.—A fatal accident was caused at the Dyas Lumber company's saw mill at Dyas Saturday by a governor belt on the main engine slipping. The fly wheel burst, killing Jeff Kelley, white, and seriously injuring Ned Reeves, a negro. The building is practically wrecked, and will require two or three weeks to repair.

MINOR EVENTS OF THE WEEK

WASHINGTON. A statement made public at the Department of Commerce shows that immigrants to the number of 112,315 arrived at ports of the United States during the month of June.

Dr. Horace Newton Allen surrendered his portfolio as Minister to Korea at the State Department. He has held the post for eight years.

OUR ADOPTED ISLANDS.

Considerable excitement has been displayed in political circles of Honolulu over the trip of Governor Carter to the States to tender his resignation of the Presidency, which was refused. Advice from Yap, in the Caroline Islands, says that the contest, over the $1,000,000 estate of King O'Keefe, of the islands, has been compromised, the estate being equally divided between the American and native wives.

Since the departure of Secretary Taft, Miss Alice Roosevelt and party from Honolulu, en route to the Philippines, affairs in the Hawaiian capital have assumed their normal trend.

DOMESTIC.

Captain Drake telegraphed from San Diego, Cal., to the Navy Department, at Washington, D. C., that he expected eventually to raise the Bennington.

The funeral of General Wilton W. Blackmar, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was held in Boston, Mass.

The sentence of Emil Totterman, who was to be executed for murder on August 1, was commuted by Governor Higgins, of New York State, to life imprisonment. Totterman was sentenced for stabbing to death Sarah Martin in a New York City lodging house.

Samuel Harper, father of Dr. Harper, president of the University of Chicago, died in Chicago, Ill.

United States Senator John H. Mitchell was sentenced to serve six months in jail and to pay a fine of $1000. Sentence was pronounced by Judge John Harmon in the Federal Court at Portland, Ore.

Peter Peter Hansen, a Scandinavian poet of considerable merit, and at one time prominently mentioned for poet laureate of Denmark, died in Cedar Falls, Iowa, suddenly at the age of eighty years.

John Q. Cannon, of Salt Lake City, Utah, was arrested at Lethbridge, Northwest Territory, on a forgery charge.

Governor Hoch, of Kansas, declared the office of State Treasurer T. T. Kelly vacant because of Mr. Kelly's failure to furnish a bond.

It was discovered that John Gale, a prisoner in the Joliet (Ill.) Penitentiary, had been sentenced to be hanged twenty-three years ago and that his case had been forgotten.

Theodore P. Shonts, Chairman of the Panama Canal Commission, and John F. Stevens, chief engineer of the commission, sailed for Panama from New York City.

The City National Bank, of Kansas City, Mo., closed its doors because it held too much paper signed by C. J. Devlin, of Topeka, who recently failed.

The iron steamboat Sirius, with an excursion party of 350 aboard, struck a rock near North Brother Island, New York City, and was beached.

Queen Amelia of Portugal has endeavored herself to the pilots of Lisbon by the presentation of her own yacht as a cutter for their use.

FOREIGN.

The Turks have been meeting with some success against the insurgents at Sanna, the capital city of Yemen Province.

Among the foreigners who have recently received the Cross of the Legion of Honor is William S. Dilling, president of the American Chamber of Commerce of Paris, France.

N. S. W., that a hurricane devastated the Marshall Islands.

The elections to the Serbian Parliament at Belgrade resulted in a victory for the Government.

Havana has declared quarantine against New Orleans, La., because of yellow fever at the latter port.

Jean Jacques Henner, the well-known artist, died at Paris, France, after a long illness.

Senator Borrelli, who was one of the chief engineers in the construction of the Mont Cenis tunnel, died at Genoa, Italy.

Russian Peace Envoy Witte and American Ambassador McCormick exchanged visits in Paris, France.

King Alfonso, Incognito, made an automobile trip over the frontier of Spain into France.

By an explosion in a coal mine at Palermo, Sicily, twelve men were killed and many wounded.

An official of the British Foreign Office in London was quoted as saying that England desires a defensive alliance with France to check Germany's ambitions, and that Britain's support was assured to France in any action taken on the Moroccan question.

The Belgian Government has issued a statement warning Americans against forming erroneous impressions of the Congo Free State from the report of the agent of the Italian Government, Dr. Bacari.

A joint committee of the Riksdag began work on a bill to settle the dispute between Norway and Sweden.

Mr. Ralfour's ministry was defeated by a majority of three on a vote in the House of Commons at London, Eng.

The high prices of meat in Germany have been causing a general popular agitation.

The Swedish Ministry at Stockholm resigned.

Serious disturbances were reported from Spain, owing to the general distress.

A bomb thrown in the centre of Byelokost, Russia, killed several persons and severely wounded a number of others, including the chief of police and his son.

The first German squadron, commanded by Grand Admiral Von Koenig, arrived in Copenhagen, Denmark, and exchanged salutes with the forts and the Danish squadron.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Aug. 3, '05

Telephone No. 17.

WOULD SUBSTITUTE WHITE FOR NEGRO LABOR.

(The following article was written by the editor of The Sentinel for the "Editors' Edition" of the Mobile Daily Herald published during the recent meeting of the Alabama Press Association.)

Dear Mr. Hamburger: You have asked me for a little story upon any subject I may choose to write—any subject that may be of interest to a reading public. Some things I may say will, possibly, arouse some criticism, but I hope I may at least be given credit with a conscientious expression of what I believe.

Your letter has reminded me of the pleasant time the newspaper "boys and girls" had in your city three years ago last May. It calls to mind that in Mobile, probably, was established the first public school in Alabama, and the time was away back yonder "befo de wuh." I have also a very clear remembrance of the beautiful environments of Mobile—with pine forest lifting their long stems heavenward, through which the winds sigh weirdly; and I think, too, of the gifted woman, living in Mobile, who wrote "Beulah," and wonder how much of the vague sadness which transpire all her writings is due to the early music of her childhood. Your city, like the woman whose name is like a benediction on it, is beautiful in future and deific in soul. A glamour of romance, of poetry, of chivalry, of bravery surround this, one of the oldest settlements on the coast. In summer the sea breezes fan it into delightful coolness; in the winter the warm south wind comes to it as if fresh from a bank of wild violets. It is at once a poem and a romance. Earth seems in love with heaven as it lies dreamily gazing upward, and heaven bends down, smiling with sunlight, to kiss the full, pouting lips of earth. These and many other pleasant thoughts of Mobile aroused from a dormant state by your letter, crowd my memory. Mobile is an Alabama city, and all have a more or less interest in it because it is a part of Alabama.

There are those who remember how, during that awful four years of carnage between brothers of like race and kindred tongue, Alabama walked through the fires of adversity; destruction and death swept over and around her, and in 1865 she emerged from that terrible strife, bleeding, torn—utterly impoverished, but not wholly despairing. Her people once more essayed the task of climbing into the sunshine of prosperity. Impoverished as they were, progress was slow and difficult, but they mounted, round by round and step by step, until after years of struggle and self-denial their patience and labors are being rewarded on every hand, and her future is bright with golden promise. Capital to develop the natural resources of Alabama is all that is needed to place our State at the apex of the financial world. Much northern capital is now invested in Alabama, and much more can be had if these natural advantages can be placed in a proper light before the owners of this capital.

Alabama has solved the negro problem, so far as social and political relations are concerned, but it has yet to solve the labor problem. Negro labor is fickle, unstable and unreliable. The negro does not love labor of any kind, and will do only so much of it as is necessary to his existence—as will keep starvation from his door. Our State just now has a virulent case of "immigration." I would suggest that the industrial and commercial organizations of Alabama consider the immigration of white labor to our State; not the dago, the Hun nor the Pole—none of this vicious and peace-disturbing class—but that class which can be relied upon at all times and in all places. There are thousand of white men in the northern states who, I am confident, would be glad to come to Alabama if once convinced or assured they would not have to compete with the negro laborer. They are men who, while in straitened circumstances so far as this world's goods are concerned, are honest and whose integrity cannot be questioned—men who are good, law-abiding citizens. True, this white labor will cost more than the black, but the difference for the better is so much in favor of the white that the increase in cost is actually a gain, and I do not exaggerate in the least when I say the average northern white laborer will do double the amount of work in a give length of time than the negro, and when the work is done it is satisfactory to the employer. We all know that one must tramp upon the heels of a negro all the time to get anything like satisfactory results; not so with the white laborer of the north—he is "a servant worthy of his hire." I venture the assertion that if white labor be employed in Alabama—in the fields, the factories, the mills and on the railroads—the wealth of the State will double in ten years. It is only through the employment of labor which brings the best results can any firm, corporation, community or State hope to rank in the successful column. As said before, the white labor costs more money than the black, but it makes more money for the employer than the negro. And while on this line of thought, I wish to say that the servant problem—a trial and a botheration to the good housewife—can be solved only and satisfactorily through the employment of white girls. This statement may shock many of the good women of the South, but I believe it to be true nevertheless. Nearly all of the largest and best hotels and private homes in the north employ only white servants, and why? Because they render the best service, are faithful and economical, and last, but not least, are honest. Rarely, indeed, does the flatterer in a northern home suffer from dishonest servants, for the servant knows that only through honesty and capability can he hope to secure and retain employment. And let me add that one white servant girl will do the work of three ordinary negro house servants, and this is particularly true of the Norwegian and Swedish girls. This is not sentiment, but fact, and having lived all my life in a northern state, with the exception of the last nine years, I believe I know whereof I speak. A northern man by birth, yet Alabama is my home by adoption, and I am as much interested in the prosperity of the State and the success of her people as any one can be, and I verily believe that the substitution of white labor for black would be one of the greatest blessings, from both a moral and a monetary standpoint, that could come to Alabama. We have a great State, and it will become greater. It has come up from its christening of crimson in 1861-65 strong and vigorous in its second growth—standing out flush with honest pride like unto a full-blown rose—bright and sparkling as the dewdrop which has just received the first kiss of the morning sunlight. Taken in its entirety, Alabama has a pleasure for every palate, and her people extend a cordial welcome to every worthy pilgrim.

Alabama Press Association Meeting.

The recent annual meeting of the Alabama Press Association at Coden was one of the best within the history of that organization, and the attendance of bona fide newspaper workers was greater than ever before.

On the morning of July 19th, the representatives of The Sentinel arrived in Mobile, in the "wee sma' hours," and inquiring of a policeman as to a good hotel he directed us to the Southern, classed some where in the third or fourth class, and where we took stock in that establishment to the amount of $1.50 for two rooms for about three hours. In the morning we moved—to the best hotel in the city—the Bienville—where a rate had been made the newspaper men of $1.50 per day, and we were given a room which was a palace in comparison with the one we had occupied at the Southern for nearly twice the sum required at the Bienville.

All day long the member of the Association came in on different trains, and by night nearly all had arrived. During the day Frank S. Conway, formerly publisher of the Huntsville Republican, but now deputy collector of the port at Mobile, came to the hotel and made up a party for a ride on the bay in the revenue cutter "Alert," commanded by Lieut. S. M. Rock. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. O'Neal of Huntsville, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Pepperman and Mrs. M. A. Pepperman of Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Whitaker of Columbiana, C. J. Hildreth of New Decatur, J. T. Bealle of Northport and Judge O. G. Simpson of Tusculumbia. Mr. Conway was a most entertaining host, and as we sped past the wharves, the docks, the grain elevators, the floating dock, we noticed many ships from foreign ports—some from Germany and Norway—some of them monster in size. Mr. Conway explained many things that made the trip very interesting to the party, and it was a most delightful one.

Wednesday night the press boys and girls were guests of Max Hamburger, that prince of good fellows who manipulates the affairs of state on the Mobile Daily Herald, and accepted an invitation to go to Monroe Park and hear that delightful little comic opera, "Boccaccio." The members of the Association are under many obligations to Mr. Hamburger for his thoughtfulness in providing entertainment for them while in Mobile.

Thursday morning, the M. & O. railroad supplied a special train to transport the party to Coden where the business session of the Association was to be held, and where royal entertainment had been prepared by the big hearted people of that little summer resort for the pencil pushers. No tickets were required on the M. & O. train to and from Mobile for any of the newspaper party during the entire week, the little yellow badges worn by the members being sufficient "guarantee of good faith" to the conductors. For this courtesy the members are under obligations to Col. Ed. Russell, and who did all he could to make the stay in Coden a pleasant one for all.

The business sessions were held in a pretty pavilion built out in the water upon an island made of oyster shells, and no place could have been more pleasant and delightfully cool for the meeting. The building had been beautifully decorated by the good women of Coden—comfort being the essential thing, and it was there in plenty.

The first session was taken up with routine business—calling the roll, paying dues, application for membership, etc.

Thursday night two large schooners were placed at the disposal of the newspaper party, and all who desired had an opportunity for a sail on the bay, and but few failed to come up to the trough. A few moments after leaving the pier the moon came up, and as it flashed its shimmering light across the waters no prettier sight was ever presented to any party. The first Regiment band of Meridian, which was engaged for the week, was with the party, and its entrancing music added to the pleasure of the occasion. When it was not playing and improvised chorus of voices sang songs that everybody could sing—well, as brother Hildreth of the New Decatur advertiser says: "Talk of you Italian nights! They are not a circumstance to this." At midnight the schooners tied up, and while all had enjoyed themselves hugely, they were tired, and in a very few minutes after landing the whole party was in the land of dreams.

Thursday morning most of the party assembled in the pavilion and the adoption of a new constitution occupied the attention of all more than an hour. Then followed an address by President C. H. Greer of the Marion Standard, an address by Col. Ed. Russell, the annual oration by H. G. Benners, a poem by Frank Crichton, and a paper by W. E. W. Yerby on "The Newspaper Correspondent in the Jap War." The effort of Mr. Yerby was an excellent one and he received congratulations from many at its close. We should not forget the address of welcome, made by Col. Rhodes of the Birmingham News, on behalf of the Coden people, and the happy response of Howard S. Doster of the Prattville Progress. Both gentlemen were in their happiest mood, and their remarks were heartily applauded. After dinner the Association was entertained by Miss Lula Judson with an essay on "The Peculiarities of Editors." Mrs. Craighead of Mobile, in a neat little talk, asked the co-operation of the press with the Woman's Federation in bettering the condition of the public schools of Alabama, which was followed by an address on "The Relation of the Newspaper to Fire Insurance," by J. H. Hard of Bessemer. For the next hour the Association was presented with a number of surprises—all of them most happy. On behalf of the National Editorial Association, W. H. H. Judson presented Major W. W. Screws, the veteran editor of the Montgomery advertiser, with a $350 silver service as a token of esteem from that body. Following this came a beautiful loving cup from the employes of the Advertiser presented by Mr. Hanson, the advertising manager. At the close of Mr. Hanson's little talk, Col. R. N. Rhodes of the Birmingham News, who wears a smile which never comes off, arose and said he held in his hand a beautiful gold watch which came to Major Screws from his partner and associate, Frank P. Glass. As these beautiful tributes, tokens of love and esteem, were heaped upon Major Screws, the pavilion rang with applause, for no one was present who does not love him for his bigness of heart and nobility of character. As the gray-haired veteran arose it was seen he was so filled with emotion that utterance was almost impossible, yet in a few words he expressed his gratification, and said that while he prized these offerings which he knew were prompted by good fellowship, yet above these he prized far more the goodwill and love of his associates in the newspaper field throughout Alabama. Then followed a regular love feast for a few minutes, and many attested to the integrity and nobility of the grand old man who celebrated on that day his fortieth anniversary as editor in chief of the Montgomery Advertiser. In the evening a delightful concert was given the Association by Mobile talent, and it was a fitting finale of a most pleasant day—one long to be remembered by those who were present.

Next week we will have something more to say of the entertainment furnished the Association at Coden.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend the meetings at the Baptist church this week.

Troy State Normal.

The State Normal College at Troy offers excellent advantages to those who desire to take higher courses of study. While it is the youngest State institution for education except the Girls' School at Montevallo, it is one of the best and largest, and last year had an enrollment of 433. The faculty is composed of fifteen specialists who have been most thoroughly schooled in the particular branch which they teach. Courses are offered in pedagogy, civics, mathematics, languages, science, manual training, instrumental and vocal music, art and elocution. This school makes a specialty of training teachers for the public schools, and the expenses are moderate in comparison with the advantages offered; they range from $125 to $150 per annum. The location of the school is healthy and of easy access.

If you are thinking of taking a normal course a letter to President E. M. Shackelford, Troy, Ala., will bring you a late catalogue, and any other information you may desire.

Final Settlement.

E. A. Bentley, In the Probate court Deceased, of Shelby County, Ala. Estate of. July 15, 1905.

This day came M. F. Bentley, Administrator of the Estate of E. A. Bentley, deceased, and filed her statement, accounts, vouchers and evidences, for a final settlement of her said administration. It is ordered that Monday, the 14th day of August, 1905, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement, if they think proper.

A. P. Longshore, Judge of Probate.

Alabama Girls Industrial School Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academic, Pedagogical, Scientific, Commercial, Industrial, Domestic. Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M., D. D.

Marion Military Institute.

The University of Virginia places the Institute on its list of accredited Colleges. The University of Pennsylvania accept the degrees of the Institute, admitting graduates without examination. Other leading universities accord the Institute the same recognition of merit.

Applicants for admission must present testimonials of good moral character and of creditable standing in the school last attended.

Personal attention and individual instruction is given every student. All professors live in the Institute. A home is in each building for the social and moral culture of the students.

For catalogue address, J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

$3,000.

Certificate of Beneficiary.

Birmingham, Ala., May 23, '05.

Mr. Geo. M. Webb, State Agent.

I want to thank your Secretary and Treasurers of Pike, Chambers and Shelby Co. Divisions for the prompt payment of my husband's policies in your most esteemable company. The above amount—$3,000—was paid me in nine days after the death of my husband. All it had cost him to leave me this amount of money, was his membership fees, and one assessment of $15. I would advise every man and woman in Jefferson county and in the State of Alabama to take a policy in this company for it is the cheapest, safest and best insurance on earth. With best wishes for your popular company in Alabama, I am

Very respectfully,
Mrs. SALLIE VINCENT,
E. F. Enslin, Wit. Beneficiary.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Ladies

We cordially invite you to call and see the pretty line of Lawns which we are now showing.

SLIPPERS, The kind you have been looking for, and the prices are just right.

STRAW HATS In the latest styles, and prices to suit you.

WIRE FENCING=== The Elwood brand; you know it is the best. We have it, you need it.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

MILLAN & HAYNES, Attorneys-at-Law, Columbiana, - - - Ala. Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors IN CHANCERY. Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS, Attorney-at-Law, AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY. Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law. Montevallo, Ala. Special facilities for making Abstracts.

G. B. WALKER, Attorney-at-Law, Columbiana, - - - Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER, DENTIST. COLUMBIANA, - - - ALA. Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phons No. 47.

W. A. PARKER'S LIVERY, FEED, AND SALE STABLES. COLUMBIANA - - - - - ALA.

While others are talking about their candidacy for Governor, Dr. (next Governor) Cunningham is talking to the school boys and girls, Livery, Feed and Sale Stables, S. & L. FRIEDBERGER, Proprietors. (Successors to E. W. Bart.) H. M. NORRIS, Manager.

Good Horses, Good Carriages, Careful Drivers. Your Patronage is Solicited. Telephone 16. - - - - - Bus Meets All Trains.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co. Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles. J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr. W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr, Columbiana: Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Columbiana Savings Bank, Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 39,818 02	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000 00
Overdrafts..... 50 64	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 2,156 16
Banking house..... 2,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check..... 33,536 37
Furniture and fixtures..... 3,000 00	Time deposits..... 2,784 59
Other real estate.....	Cashier's checks..... 101 60
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 9,336 23	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 16,006 50
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,542 07
Currency..... 5,117 00
Gold..... 653 00
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 1,237 19
Checks and cash items..... 3,698 07
Total..... $ 75,563 22	Total..... $ 75,563 22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier, of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

W. L. FARLEY, Cashier.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July 1905.

JOHN R. DYKE, Circuit Clerk.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

THE BICYCLE

YOU'RE LOOKING FOR.

FRESH MEAT

TWICE EACH WEEK.

Roberts & Robertson

Long Years of Service.

H. M. Millstead, who recently sold his cotton gin to Robert O'Hara, installed his gin in Columbiana twenty-seven years ago, and has been constantly in the business ever since that time. In conversation with The Sentinel man, Mr. Millstead said: "I was told when I began operating my gin that the average length of life of a man in that business was ten years; if that is so I have lived nearly three times as long as the average."

Mr. Millstead has not yet decided as to what business he will take up, but says he intends going to Texas to visit a brother and sister whom he has not seen for thirty years. The Sentinel knows that the reunion will be a delightful one, and wishes for Mr. Millstead a most pleasant trip.

Stop that Cough.

When a cough, a tickling or an irritation in the throat makes you feel uncomfortable take Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Don't wait until the disease has gone beyond control. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, 354 West 5th St., Salt Lake City, Utah, write, "We think Ballard's Horehound Syrup the best medicine for coughs and colds. We have used it for several years; it always gives immediate relief, is very pleasant and gives perfect satisfaction." 25c 50c, and $1.00 sold by Williams Bros.

There Were Others.

In his notes upon the recent outing of the Alabama Press Association, Editor Stevenson, of the Roanoke Leader, says:

One of the most delightful features of the outing was the moonlight sail on the bay. The scene was beautiful. The band played the old time melodies, and an improvised choir of excursionists supplemented their efforts. Whitaker, of the Columbiana Sentinel, distinguished himself as a song-bird.

And friend Stevenson might have added there were others in that improvised choir, among them Miss Wear of Opelika, Miss LeGrand of Birmingham, Editor O'Neal of the Huntsville Mercury, Editor Smith of the Fort Deposit Reflector and others. Did you ever hear a chorus of voices on the water? If you never have, you have missed something.

Tickled Him.

An exchange tells this story of two young men who went to church. They arrived late and the church was crowded, but they found two seats, one directly in front of the other. Shortly afterward a lady came in and the one in rear gave up his seat to her unnoticed by his companion. When heads were bent in prayer lady's plume tickled the neck of the man in front. He thought it was his companion with a straw, and reaching around grabbed his neighbor around the neck and held on grimly. The religion in the neighboring pews was made half mockery by smothered laughter.

Herbina.

Restores the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drink. C. L. Caldwell, Agt. M. K. and T. R. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes, April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbina. It has made me sound and well." 50c. sold by Williams Bros.

At the Baptist State Convention in Sheffield, Capt. H. C. Reynolds was elected a member of the board of trustees of Howard College. At this convention Rockefeller gave to Howard College $25,000 on condition that the college raise $72,000. It will be remembered that Captain Reynolds and his sons recently gave this college $1,000 and his election to the board of trustees is an honor worthily bestowed. Captain Reynolds will soon take the field in an effort to raise the $75,000 required by Rockefeller, and it will be no fault of his if the sum is not raised.

Card of Thanks.

We are indeed grateful to those who were so kind and attentive during the sickness and death of our loved one, and trust that when like sorrow comes to them that they will be surrounded by equally as kind and solicitous friends as were we.

Alphonse Verchot,
Jno. H. Robertson and family.

HARPERSVILLE.

Farmers are about through laying by their crops.

Woods Martin and family of Harpersville, La., are visiting relatives at this place.

Quite a number of our people attended the Baptist Sunday School convention at Vincent last Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The surveyors of the A. & B. railroad is expected through here this or next week.

Building of a seventy thousand dollar court house meets the hearty approval of the non-taxpayers in this section of the county.

Marion Looney's teaching a summer school at Wheeler's Chapel.

Mr. East is having his gin worked over and expects to be ready to gin the first bale that comes in.

Steve Kirk and family are visiting relatives in Cherokee county for a while.

J. S. Black has gone to Birningham for several weeks stay.

Work on new steel bridge across Kelly's Creek will begin about the last of this month.

Not near the amount of gorn and cotton will be made in this valley this year as was last, but we hope for a much better price.

Miss Stella Posey returned home last Sunday from Knoxville, Tenn., where she had been attending the summer school for teachers.

Jake.

From Commissioner Posey.

Editor Sentinel Columbiana-

In my first article of two weeks ago, I fully explained my position on the building of a new court house, but things did not go as I wished and I suppose the mansion is to be built.

The contract has been let to B. C. Bynum, a gentleman of fine repute and one who knows how to build houses, and one who I believe can be relied upon. There were several other bids received but his was the lowest. The first cost on the building will be about $72,000, and by the time it is finished and ready for court the cost will run up to ninety thousand or more.

I contend that a fifty thousand dollar building would do if we had to build one, but a majority of the court thought otherwise and so declared. Of course, it is always manly for the minority to yield to a majority and I did so. Some say that the county can pay for it in fifteen years, others say forty years, while others say it will take ninety-nine years. For my part, I don't know how long, but I do not expect to live to see Shelby county out of debt.

The plans and specifications for the building call for one of the nicest and best court houses in the State, and I am going to contend so far as able, that these plans are complied with in every detail.

This is my last article on the court house, but I still say that we could have gotten along very well for some time yet with the present one, and that if a new one had to

INVEST

WHERE YOUR MONEY IS SAFE AND YOUR DIVIDENDS SURE:

THE STEPHENSON LAND & LUMBER COMPANY, of Stephenson, Wis., offers you that opportunity. To increase its business it will sell 30,000 shares of Treasury Stock at $1.00 per share. New and up-to-date plant.

PAYS 3 per cent Monthly Dividends.

Lumber and Shingle Mill at Koss, Mich., on the Wisconsin and Michigan Railroad. Have a mill pond that holds three million logs. Our yards contain 40 acres of land with sidetracks running through it. 40 thousand feet of lumber, 30 thousand lathes and 60 thousand shingles daily. There is no mortgage on our plant; we sell this stock to get additional working capital. Shares $1.00 each. Invest today. Make checks payable to

GEO. PERKINS & CO.

Fiscal Agents,

320 Grand Ave.,

Milwaukee, Wis.

be built, a cheaper one would have answered equally as well. For fear that you will call me a "grumbler" I will close by saying: Hurrah for the new court house!

Very Respectfully,

R. B. POSEY.

Harpersville, July 28th.

For Lease or Sale.

Valuable lime manufacturing plant; fine condition; 400 acres of finest grade limestone. For particulars address

MRS. MINNIE GIST, Guardian, Calera, Ala.

"During the past six years the University of Virginia has awarded as many academical degrees to graduates of the Marion Military Institute as it has to those of any other college in the country, and academical and professional degrees to more graduates from the Marion Military Institute than to those from any other college or University outside the State of Virginia." (Chairman U. M. I., 1902)

"I believe that the Marion Military Institute is destined to become one of the great schools of the country, if its present policy is carried out and if it is brought to the attention of the people of the South. I was most favorably impressed by the general tone of the teaching staff and the students at Marion."—Dean J. H. Penniman, Univ. of Penn.

For catalogue, address J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

The successful merchant is the one who advertises his wares all the year round. It is the continual hammering which brings trade. A month or two will not do it.

Bob Strickland is playing with the visiting ball team this week.

Summer School Knoxville, Tennessee, June 20-July 26.

An account of the above school, Southern Railway will sell tickets to Knoxville, Tenn., at the very low rate of one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip. Tickets will be sold June 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st and 22nd; also July 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th, with final limit returning fifteen days from date of sale. An extension until Sept. 30th may be obtained by depositing ticket with Joint Agent and paying a fee of 50 cents. For further information and tickets apply to any Southern Railway Agent or write to J. M. Harrison, District Passenger Agent, Birmingham, Ala.

Notice of Commissioner's Sale.

In pursuance of, and in accordance with the terms and directions of a Commission, issued and addressed to undersigned, by the Hon. A. P. Longshore, Judge of the court of Probate and for Shelby county, Alabama, bearing date the 21st day of May, 1903, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash at public auction in front of the court house of said county, on Monday, the 13th day of Aug., 1903, within the legal hours of sale, the first and second quarter of southeast quarter of section 32, township 16, range 2 west, and the southwest quarter of southeast quarter of section 32, township 16, range 2 west, and the northeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 32, township 16, range 2 west, containing 23.5 acres more or less, which lands are to be sold under the decree of said court for the purpose of satisfying a judgment against the joint owners thereof, who are as follows: John C. Cross, John Harris, Paul Harris, George Harris, Mary Ward, Annie Crato, Julia Harris and Chris Harris, all being the heirs of Virginia Harris, deceased.

H. E. WHITAKER, Commissioner.

McMillan & Haynes, Attorneys.

July 13-26

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line

is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the

Chicago & North-Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways.

W. B. KNISKERN,
P. T. M. C. & N.-W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.
Please mail free to my address, California booklets, maps and full particulars concerning rates and train service.

FILL IN THIS COUPON
AND MAIL IT TO-DAY.

MISS ELLA OFF, Indianapolis, Ind.

SUFFERED FOR MONTHS.

Pe-ru-na, the Remedy That Cured

Miss Ella Off, 1127 Linden St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"I suffered with a run down constitution for several months, and feared that I would have to give up my work."

"On seeking the advice of a physician, he prescribed a tonic. I found, however, that it did me no good. On seeking the advice of our druggist, he asked me to try Pe-ru-na. In a few weeks I began to feel and act like a different person. My appetite increased, I did not have that worn-out feeling, and I could sleep peacefully. In a couple of months I was entirely recovered. I thank you for what your medicine has done for me."—Ella Off.

Write Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio, for free medical advice. All correspondence is held strictly confidential.

TORTURING HUMORS

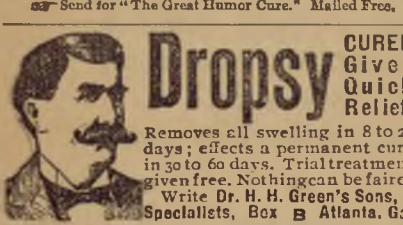

Instantly Relieved and Speedily Cured by Baths with

CUTICURA

Soap to cleanse the skin, gentle applications of Cuticura Ointment to soothe and heal, and mild doses of Cuticura Pills to cool the blood. A single set, costing but One Dollar offer cures.

Sold throughout the world. Potter Drug and Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Preps. For Send for "The Great Humors Cure." Mailed Free.

Dropsy

Removes all swelling in 8 to 30 days; effects a permanent cure in 30 to 60 days. Trial treatment given free. Nothing can be fairer. Write Dr. H. H. Green's Sons, Specialists, Box B Atlanta, Ga.

Avery & Company

SUCCESSORS TO AVERY & McMillan, 51-53 South Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga. —ALL KINDS OF—

MACHINERY

Reliable Frick Engines, Boilers, all Sizes. Wheat Separators.

BEST IMPROVED SAW MILL ON EARTH.

Large Engines and Boilers supplied promptly. Shingle Mills, Corn Mills, Circular Saws, Saw Teeth, Patent Dogs, Steam Governors, Full line Engines & Mill Supplies. Send for free Catalogue.

OUR SPECIALTY

Three two dollar shirts for five dollars. MADE TO YOUR MEASURE. Write for samples and measurement blanks. MODEL SHIRT CO. Indianapolis, Ind.

FISCH'S CURE FOR

Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.

CONSUMPTION

Napoleon the Statesman.

It is a lamentable fact that but one side of Napoleon Bonaparte is well known to the public. In the public eye he is merely seen as the archangel of war—a fighter of battles, and a master of military tactics. Viewed as a statesman, Napoleon shines as resplendent as he does whilst rallying the old guard or directing his legions. Thomas E. Watson, in his "Napoleon," has given the other side of the great Corsican. The chapter devoted to the First Consul shows Napoleon as the master of finances and the promoter of public works that are today models all over the world. Napoleon was a statesman as well as a warrior. He possessed constructive ability of the highest order. His genius shone all over the world as a great statesman after he had conquered his enemies. Perhaps he was deficient in the arts of the diplomat. This part of his administration was trusted to others who betrayed him. However, despite all of this, he wrote his name as a constructive statesman, and as one of the greatest financiers that ever lived.

The Durability of Banknotes.

That Uncle Sam's notes stand a great deal of rough and careless handling is a fact that impresses itself upon any one who has ever chanced to note the manner in which the average cashier pulls and jerks the bills before he pushes them through the window to the waiting patron. A single treasury note measures 3 1/8 inches in width and 7 1/4 inches in length. It will sustain without breaking lengthwise a weight of forty-one pounds; crosswise, a weight of ninety-one pounds. The notes run four to a sheet, a sheet being 8 1/4 inches by 13 1/2 inches long. One of these sheets lengthwise will suspend 108 pounds, and crosswise 177 pounds. It will be observed that a single note is capable of sustaining, crosswise, a weight of ninety-one pounds, which is twice the amount by nine pounds of the weight the note can sustain lengthwise, while in the case of the sheet the crosswise sheet lacks thirty-nine pounds of double the sustaining power of the lengthwise sheet.

When King James Saw the Lion.

Just 300 years ago this month King James I of England visited the lions then kept in London Tower—the show from which is derived "the lions" in the sense of the sights of a place. The king had had an area built onto their cages for fights with bears, dogs and bulls, but the two lions that entered it on this day simply stood blinking. Two "racks of mutton" and "a lusty live cock" were successively thrown to them and devoured. After this the king caused a live lamb to be easily let down to them by a rope, and being come to the ground the lamb lay upon his knees and both the lions stood in their former places and only beheld the lamb, but presently the lamb rose up and went unto the lions, which very gently looked upon him and smelled on him, without sign of any further hurt. However, a lion-and-mastiff fight that followed was better "sport."

All About Eggs.

An egg weighs about two ounces, of which fifty grains compose the shell. The chick from the egg will weigh from an ounce to an ounce and a half. When six months old the clear meat is one-third more than the bone. Yet cases are known where the weight of the chick has been nearly as great as that of the egg, less the shell, when the egg was put under the hen. A chick should gain three ounces a week after the sixth week it will fledge.

Powerful Magnet.

A huge electro-magnet has been set up in a certain hospital in England. It drew out splinters of steel which had become lodged in the eyes of patients. In one instance it drew out a piece of hammer head which had been driven into the muscles of a patient's upper arm, and in another case drew out a piece of cold chisel in a forearm.

Struck the Sultan's Fancy.

The Sultan of Turkey recently granted an audience to Senator Bacon, of Georgia, and was so charmed with that genial American citizen that he incontinently conferred upon him the Grand Cord on of the Cheftakat and gave Mrs. Bacon a lot of porcelain manufactured in the imperial potteries.

Germany breeds 250,000 canaries every year.

EVER TREAT YOU SO?

Coffee Acts the Jowah and Will Come Up

A clergyman who pursues his noble calling in a country parish in Iowa tells of his coffee experience:

"My wife and I used coffee regularly for breakfast, frequently for dinner and occasionally for supper—always the very best quality—package coffee never could find a place on my table."

"In the spring of 1896 my wife was taken with violent vomiting, which we had great difficulty in stopping."

"It seemed to come from coffee drinking, but we could not decide."

"In the following July, however, she was attacked a second time by the vomiting. I was away from home filling an appointment at the time, and on my return I found her very low; she had literally vomited herself almost to death, and it took some days to quiet the trouble and restore her stomach."

"I had also experienced the same trouble, but not so violently, and had relieved it each time by a resort to medicine."

"But my wife's second attack satisfied me that the use of coffee was at the bottom of our troubles, and so we stopped it forthwith and took on Postum Food Coffee. The old symptoms of disease disappeared, and during the 9 years that we have been using Postum instead of coffee we have never had a recurrence of the vomiting. We never weary of Postum, to which we know we owe our good health. This is a simple statement of facts." Name given by Postum Company, Battle Creek, Mich.

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

SOME FIERCE FISHES.

A Violent and Fearless Creature is the Serravallo of South America.

It is not always the large sharks and animals that are the most dangerous, says Youth. On the New England coast there is a small shark not over three feet in length, known as the dogfish, that inspires dread in the fishermen. During the summer season these fish come in by the thousands, the school filling the bays and harbors, driving away the edible fish and ruining the fishing for the time being.

So suddenly does this occur that one day the writer found all the fishermen codfishing on the banks about eight miles off shore, and the next day not a bite was had. The lines did not reach the bottom before they were seized by the dogfish that fairly filled the water. So ravenous were they that they bit at the sails that dragged overboard, ate jellyfish or anything that came in their way. On the Maine coast several casualties have occurred that resulted in the loss of human life.

An illustration of the danger that sometimes lies in small fish is the case of a fish which is common in the rivers of South America—the serravallo. It is probably the most fearless of all fish, very small of peculiar shape, with powerful jaws, so strong and sharp that they can bite a piece out of an animal as neatly as though it had been done with a pair of scissors. In some places it is impossible to fish, as the moment a fish is hooked thousands of these vicious creatures flock to the spot and tear it to pieces before it can be brought to the surface. The fish apparently does not know what fear is, and has in more than one instance jeopardized human life.

A traveler in crossing a river on horseback was attacked by these fish, the blood from his horse's legs attracting them in such multitudes that the animal was devoured as it swam. The rider leaped from his back and swam to shallow water surrounded by the throng. Though protected by his clothing, he was bleeding from a hundred wounds, and had not the shallow water been near he would have shared the fate of the horse.—Philadelphia Ledger.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

The Arabs have a saying that all sunshine makes the desert.

A good and peaceable man turneth all things to good.—Thomas a Kempis.

If we had lost our chief good, other people's good would yet remain, and that is worth trying for.—George Eliot.

A reformer who does not understand human nature does more harm to the cause of reform than would a regiment of sinners.

God has put in our power the happiness of those about us, and that is largely to be secured by our being kind.—Henry Drummond.

If good men and women would look at life as it is, instead of as they would like it to be, there would be fewer unsolved problems to vex their souls.

For true religion comes not by violence, but chiefly, I think, from being brought up with good men, reverencing their ways and words.—S. R. Crockett.

"Possession is nine points of the law" because men will fight harder to retain what they have than they will to regain what they have lost, or to gain what they never had.

The sublime vital fact in conversion surely is that we have now entered upon a voluntary, lifelong, personal relation to God, and so thrown ourselves open to the presence and power in our lives of the personal Spirit of the loving, mighty God.—Henry Churchill King.

A Thrifty Chauffeur.

An entirely new and lucrative profession was described by Mr. Labouchere, speaking in the House of Commons on the vote for the salary of the president of the Local Government Board, the debate on which dealt almost exclusively with the motor peril.

"When in Italy recently," said the honorable gentleman, "I had a motor-car, and I engaged a chauffeur. The first week he ran over some one; the second week he ran over some one else; and the third week he repeated the incident. I had to pay the fines and indemnities, so I said to a friend of mine, 'I shall have to get rid of this man.' 'Oh,' said the friend, 'what's his name?' I told him and he said, 'Ah! I know the man. He was employed by a friend of mine and did the same thing. He sticks his family in the way.'"

When the loud laughter had subsided Mr. Labouchere went on to say that the accidents at once ceased when he told the chauffeur that he would have to pay the fines and indemnities himself in the future.—London News.

Calling Dog by Telephone.

"I left my dog accidentally at a friend's house yesterday," said a young girl. "My friend tried to get him to run after me, but he would not leave. He plainly held that I would soon return—that, since I had gone without him, I would come back inevitably for him, and he stuck to the room where I had parted from him, feeling it was his duty to do so."

"Finally my friend called me up on the telephone."

"Your dog won't go," she said. "He thinks you will be back, and we can't drive him out."

"Hold him up to the 'phone," said I. "She held him up."

"Peter," I said, "come home, I am waiting at home for you. Come straight home, Peter, good little dog."

"Peter wagged his tail, wriggled down out of my friend's arms and set off homeward like a flash of lightning."—Evening Bulletin.

Decline of Bark Industry in Maine.

Again this year the peel of bark in eastern Maine will be small, compared with that of other years. The cause ascribed is over-production and the low price which has been ruling for the past year, namely, $6 a cord. The bark industry, according to the lumbermen, is slowly going out of Maine. A large part of the old growth has been cut off, and the bark of the second growth is not as heavy and is more inclined to curl, not being worth much to the tanneries. In addition, operators are obliged to go farther into the woods for stock, and the expense of getting it out is greatly increased. With the decline of the bark industry has come a decline in supplying telegraph poles and ties.—Lewiston Journal.

FITS permanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer, $2 trial bottle and treatise free. Dr. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Cabbages were introduced into England in the sixteenth century.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

Cromwell is said to have originated the board of trade idea.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. Saxena, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

A baby was born the other day on a Gotham trolley car.

15 YEARS OF TORTURE

Itching and Painful Sores Covered Head and Body—Cured in Week by Cuticura.

"For fifteen years my scalp and forehead was one mass of sores. Words cannot express how I suffered from the itching and pain. I had given up hope when a friend told me to get Cuticura. After bathing with Cuticura Soap and applying Cuticura Ointment for three days my head was as clear as ever, and to my surprise and joy, one cake of soap and one box of ointment made a complete cure in one week. (Signed) H. B. Franklin, 717 Washington St., Allegheny, Pa."

Lawyers' Fees.

The vast majority of lawyers do no better than make a fair living, and, if an average could be made, it would be found that a large number must earn ridiculously small sums. An estimate recently made showing that there are and five lawyers in New York who make $100,000 a year, not ten who make $75,000, not fifteen who make $50,000, and not twenty-five who make $25,000, is probably not far wrong. "Above all things," a successful lawyer remarked not long ago, "never take a lawyer's word about his salary. He doesn't mean to prevaricate, but the appearance of prosperity is so large a part of his capital that 'bluffing' about his income is a natural habit. I can tell you what I make in a year, but I shouldn't expect you to believe it, and I shouldn't wish you to believe it, because it would probably be unconsciously exaggerated."

Origin of Dog Days.

According to the generally accepted doctrine, the dog days begin on July 3 and end on August 11, but there have been disputes as to every possible point about them. It was universally agreed that they were connected with the Dog star, but which one? The real Dog star, Sirius—or Procyon, the Little Dog? Then there were disagreements as to the particular performance of the star that fixed the dog days; as to their number, which varied in different estimates between thirty and fifty-four, and whether they were to be reckoned before, after or around the star's performances.

Durability of Woods.

Some interesting experiments have been made to ascertain which wood lasts the longest. It was found that birch and aspen decayed in three years, maple and red beech in five years and elm and ash in seven years. Oak, Scottish fir and Weymouth pine decayed to the depth of half an inch in seven years; larch and juniper were uninjured at the end of seven years.

THE PLAYWRIGHT-STAR.

Odette Tyler, Famous Actress, Values Doan's Kidney Pills.

Miss Odette Tyler is not only one of the best known dramatic stars in America, but has written and produced a successful play of her own. Miss Tyler has written the following grateful note, expressing her appreciation of Doan's Kidney Pills:

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.: Gentlemen—My experience with your valuable remedy has been equally gratifying to both myself and friends.

(Signed) ODETTE TYLER.

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box.

Niagara's Power.

The Niagara River descends 100 feet and develops 2,500,000 horse power between the base of the great cataract and the foot of the stream. This energy, represented by the normal discharge of 222,000 cubic feet of water a second, is now expended in excavating the great gorge in which the White Horse Rapids, the Whirlpool and Niagara Glen are located.

Most Ancient Letter.

What is said to be the oldest letter in the world has been found in some excavations in ancient Attica. M. Wilhelm, secretary of the Austrian Archaeological Institute, who succeeded in deciphering it, asserts that it was written four centuries before Christ. It is engraved on a leaden leaf, folded in two.

Cornstalk Paper.

Paper made from cornstalks is the latest outcome of American ingenuity. Such paper, it is stated, can be produced at one-third the cost of that from wood fiber and rags.

Religion in Germany.

In Germany Protestants form 62.5 per cent of the population. Roman Catholics, with adherents of the Greek church, 36.1 per cent.

Benefited Herself.

A San Francisco woman who founded an institution for destitute women in 1868 has lost her money and entered the home.

Thousands of Women ARE MADE WELL AND STRONG

Success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Rests Upon the Fact That It Really Does Make Sick Women Well

Thousands upon thousands of American women have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Their letters are on file in Mrs. Pinkham's office, and prove this statement to be a fact and not a mere boast.

Overshadowing indeed is the success of this great medicine, and compared with it all other medicines and treatment for women are experiments.

Why has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound accomplished its widespread results for good?

Why has it lived and thrived and done its glorious work for a quarter of a century?

Simply and surely because of its sterling worth. The reason no other medicine has even approached its success is plainly and positively because there is no other medicine in the world so good for women's ills.

The wonderful power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound over the diseases of womanhood is not because it is a stimulant—not because it is a palliative, but simply because it is the most wonderful tonic and reconstructive ever discovered to act directly upon the uterine system, positively curing disease and displacements and restoring health.

Marvellous cures are reported from all parts of the country by women who have been cured, trained nurses who have witnessed cures, and physicians who have recognized the virtue in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and are able enough to give credit where it is due. If physicians dared to be frank and open, hundreds of them would acknowledge that they constantly prescribe Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in severe cases of female ills, as they know by experience that it will effect a cure.

All women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling, inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration, or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences and be restored to health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Anyway, write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It's free and always helpful.

In a Pittsburg office building a system of washing the air and removing all dust has been introduced.

WOMEN

will find in MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR, the ideal laxative, a pleasant and thoroughly reliable remedy, without the least danger or possible harm to them in any condition peculiar to themselves.

Pleasant in taste, mild in action and thorough in results. Tested for 35 years.

50c. and $1.00 per bottle at all Drug Stores.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR

"One Dose Convinces."

WANTED--

Address of (1) persons of part Indian blood who are living in Kentucky.

(2) of men who were drafted in Kentucky.

(3) of mothers of soldiers who have been drafted in Kentucky.

(4) of men who served in the Federal army, or (5) the nearest kin of such soldiers or sailors, now deceased.

NATHAN EICKHOFF, Attorney, Washington, D. C.

BEAUMONT COLLEGE

HARRISBURG, KENTUCKY.

There is absolutely no other school for Women and Girls in the South, where, offering so extensive a curriculum, thus, the greatest benefits for the smallest outlay. Most approved modern improvements—Electric Lights, Hot Water Heating, Complete outfit of bath-rooms, etc., etc. Grounds of forty acres by universal consensus, the most uniquely beautiful school grounds in America. Offers to the ambitious thorough preparation for the great universities. Col. Th. Smith, A. M., Pres. (Alum., Union U.).

NEEDLES, SHUTTLES, REPAIRS.

FOR ALL SEWING MACHINES, Standard Goods Only. Free Catalogue to BLUELOCK MFG. CO., 315 Locust St., ST. LOUIS, MO.

Absurd Theory.

An American professor has lately caused some excitement by proclaiming his opinion that the Garden of Eden was situated somewhere near the North pole.

M. Combes, who until a short time ago was prime minister of France, is a physician.

Now that the worries of the premiership no longer trouble him he is practicing medicine in his native village.

Cures Blood Poison, Cancer, Ulcers.

If you have offensive pimples or eruptions, ulcers on any part of the body, itching bones or joints, falling hair, mucous patches, swollen glands, skin itches and sores, sore lips or gums, cutting, festering sores, sharp, gnawing pains, then you suffer from serious blood poison or the beginnings of deadly cancer. You may be permanently cured by taking Botanic Blood Balm (B. B.) made especially to cure the worst blood and skin diseases. Heals every sore or ulcer, even deadly cancer, stops all aches and pains and reduces all swellings. Botanic Blood Balm cures all malignant blood troubles, such as eczema, scabs and scales, pimples, running sores, carbuncles, scrofula. Druggists, $1 per large bottle, 3 bottles $2.50, 6 bottles $5, express prepaid. To prove it cures, sample of Blood Balm sent free and prepaid by writing Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Describe trouble and free medical advice sent in sealed letter.

Turkey's Postal Affairs.

Postal conditions in the interior of Turkey are still in a patriarchal stage of evolution. When a postman arrives in a village on muleback he distributes the letters in a public place, giving each his own, and then putting the undelivered ones in the hands of relatives or acquaintances of those to whom they are addressed. Yet it is said that 90 per cent reach their destination.

The Baroness Rosen, wife of the new Russian ambassador, is a strikingly attractive looking woman, and her daughter, Elizabeth, 16 years old.

CRAB Orchard Water

Is a Certain Cure for

DYSPEPSIA, SICK HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION.

Stimulates the Liver, cures Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Irregularities of the Bowels.

A natural product, prepared by concentration; a genuine natural water.

CRAB ORCHARD WATER CO., Louisville, Ky.

TULANE UNIVERSITY of LA.

NEW ORLEANS.

Full courses in Languages, Sciences, Engineering, Law, Medicine. Splendid department for women in Newcomb College. Tulane makes leaders in all vocations. Its facilities for instruction in Engineering are unsurpassed. Unexcelled opportunities for the study of Sugar Chemistry. Many scholarships in the academic department. Expenses low. Board and accommodations in dormitories at low rates. Next session begins October 1st. Send for catalogue. Address: THE REGISTRAR, Gibson Hall.

THERE IS MONEY IN CORN STALKS.

Write for free catalog. I. A. Madden, Atlanta, Ga.

IF IT'S CHILLS YOU HAVE, IT'S OXIDINE YOU NEED

It is sold under ABSOLUTE GUARANTEE, and if you are not cured your druggist will refund your money. Made also in Bottle-less Form. Sold by all druggists for 50 cents per Bottle.

PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG CO. MYERS, DALLAS, TEX. AND MEMPHIS, TENN.

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

CASCARETS

CANDY CATHARTIC

THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

GUARANTEED CURE for all bowel troubles, appendicitis, biliousness, bad breath, bad blood, wind on the stomach, bloated bowels, foul mouth, headache, indigestion, pimples, pains after eating, liver trouble, sallow skin and dizziness. When your bowels don't move regularly you are sick. Constipation kills more people than all other diseases together. It starts chronic ailments and long years of suffering. No matter what ails you, start taking CASCARETS today, for you will never get well and stay well until you get your bowels right. Take our advice, start with Cascarets today under absolute guarantee to cure or money refunded. The genuine tablet stamped C. C. Never sold in bulk. Sample and booklet free. Address: Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

Libby's Natural Flavor Food Products

When you are at a long to know what to serve for luncheon, dinner or supper—when you crave something both appetizing and satisfying—try

Libby's (Natural Flavor) Food Products

Once tried, you will always have a supply on hand

Ox Tongues Chili Con Carne

Veal Loaf Ham Loaf Brisket Beef

Ham Loaf Soups

Your Grocer has them

Libby, McNeill & Libby, Chicago

The Secret of Good Coffee

Even the best housekeepers cannot make a good cup of coffee without good material. Dirty, adulterated and queerly blended coffee such as unscrupulous dealers shovel over their counters won't do. But take the pure, clean, natural flavored

LION COFFEE, the leader of all package coffees—the coffee that for over a quarter of a century has been daily welcomed

FAMOUS OLD ARTICLE

Reprinted by Russian Press.
Russia in Favor of Its Alliance Views.

AUTHOR WAS SENT INTO EXILE.

Editor of Novoe Vremya Says the Article is Worthy of the Closest Scrutiny.

St. Petersburg.—The republication here Sunday by the Novoe Vremya, of an article written in 1859 by Alexander Hertenzen, the Russian author and political agitator, in which strong plea is made for a Russo-American alliance, and in which the American and European systems of government are compared favorably to that of America, is not without interest, and is of considerable significance, particularly in view of the general political situation and the fact that Russia is today upon the point of establishing a general assembly and granting the country some sort of constitution.

The presence of the Russian peace plenipotentiaries in the United States also adds significance to the republication of the article, as likewise does the Novoe Vremya's relation with the government. The Novoe Vremya is fully aware that the relaunching of Hertenzen's ideas is acceptable to the government, and in fact the printing of it may be called semi-official.

Was Exiled for Views.

Hertenzen died in Paris January 21, 1870, after many years of exile because of his advanced ideas, which were not acceptable to the Russian government. During his exile he published in London a newspaper of liberal tendencies called Zorokko (The Bell), and in which he carried on a relentless propaganda for the constitutionalism of Russia. The circulation of Hertenzen's works in Russia was prohibited until within the past few months, when the ban was removed.

The opening paragraph of the article published by the Novoe Vremya is a strong and logical plea for an alliance between Russia and America, quoted by Hertenzen from a Philadelphia newspaper printed in 1859 and citing physical and political reasons therefor. The idea of a possible alliance is one of the principal themes of the article, which, continuing, says that Russia should free herself from old-world prejudices and fallacies, and turn to her great neighbor across the Pacific and learn a good lesson from her political and commercial success.

Best and Most Natural Ally.

"Russia having reached the Pacific," says the article, "there stands between the two nations only the broad ocean, but naught of antiquated prejudices of envy. If Russia can free herself from the St. Petersburg traditions her best and most natural ally is the United States of America."

Hertenzen notes a lack of sympathy on the part of other European nations for Russia, and refers to America's kindness to that country.

"Both countries overflow with strength, energy and the spirit of organization," continues the article. "Both are without pasts and both began their national lives by breaking with traditions."

Hertenzen commends America's handling of questions of state, declaring that American institutions fulfill all the demands of the democratic republic. He eulogizes the American constitution and the electoral system, saying that Russia should study these carefully and follow many of the features thereof. He says that the European system of government means war, misery and poverty, and asks why Russia follows Europe.

The Novoe Vremya, referring editorially to the article, says that it is worthy of the closest scrutiny.

Injury May Result Fatally.

Bessemer, Ala.—James Brown, a white miner, was possibly fatally injured by an explosion of gas in the Virginia mines near this place Thursday night at 10 o'clock as he entered a room some distance down the main shaft.

He had entered the mines as usual with a light on his cap. He had a safety lamp, but without warning there was an explosion of gas overhead and the man was horribly burned and bruised about the face and head.

He lives at the mines and has a family. Reports from his bedside are very unfavorable and it is believed that he can not survive the shock and injuries received.

The accident is being investigated by the state mine inspectors. The injured man has a wife and two or three children. Full particulars could not be learned.

Union Springs Quarantined.
Union Springs, Ala.—Up to this time Union Springs has not been quarantined against Montgomery and in consequence of the fact a number of surrounding towns that have been quarantined against the capital city have also been quarantined against Union Springs and therefore caused some inconvenience to the traveling public, as this is the crossing point of four trains each way, twice a day on the Central of Georgia railroad.

DR. WYMAN'S REPORT.

Battle With Yellow Fever Will Cost $2,000 a Day.

Oyster Bay.—In answer to President Roosevelt's direction that he be furnished with a report on the yellow fever situation in Louisiana, particularly in New Orleans, Surgeon General Wyman, of the marine hospital service in Washington, Friday evening telegraphed the President that he was making arrangements to undertake government control of the fever situation as requested by Governor Blanchard. Dr. Wyman's telegram, which the president directed to be made public, is as follows:

"Washington, August 5.—The President: Replying further to your telegram of 4th, submit the following report:

"Service has had skilled officers in New Orleans since first knowledge of the fever. Under the law they are there to see that the interstate quarantine regulations are enforced and to offer assistance in their enforcement. Detention camps have been established and are in operation to permit exit of people without endangering others and train inspectors are placed by the service on all trains leaving New Orleans. Our skilled officers in New Orleans have been and are materially aiding the local authorities in the suppression of the disease. Before formally assuming charge in accordance with the request I have deemed it necessary to curtail unnecessary expenses. Surgeon White in his telegram today estimates the same at $1,500 or $2,000 per day.

"The epidemic fund will not stand this expenditure. I have wired Surgeon White arrangement that the government should maintain and pay for medical and executive control, but that the labor of caring for patients should be borne by the city itself. This has been the rule heretofore. I am proceeding on these lines. Will report further.

"WALTER WYMAN, Surgeon General."

The President was induced to direct Surgeon General Wyman to take charge of the situation, not only by the telegram received from Governor Blanchard, but similar telegrams from other sources. Among those received was the following from the mayor of New Orleans:

"New Orleans, August 4.—Hon. Theodore Roosevelt: Officials and all business interests in this community united in urging Governor Blanchard to request the President of the United States to instruct United States marine authorities to assume control of health situation in New Orleans for the eradication of yellow fever. Mindful of the signal success which crowned the work of the federal authorities in battling with the disease in Havana and elsewhere and confident that their signal work will prove equally effective here, I cheerfully join in Governor Blanchard's petitioning for your executive interposition in behalf of the people of New Orleans.

"MARTIN BEHRMAN, Mayor."

Selma Issues Pamphlet.

Selma, Ala.—Meeting of the auxiliary committee of public safety composed of five citizens from each ward was held at the city council chamber Saturday morning and a temporary organization formed, which will be completed on Tuesday evening at 6:30. The chairman for each ward, who is a member of the board of health, was given authority to fill any vacancies that might occur. It was decided to have about ten thousand pamphlets printed giving instructions and educating the people as to the necessity of exterminating the mosquito. These will be ready for distribution Tuesday evening. The meeting was quite an enthusiastic one and there is going to be a systematic, careful warfare waged against the stegomyia facia and its ilk.

Justice McClellan's Views.

Montgomery, Ala.—The Age-Herald, in its Montgomery correspondence on Sunday morning, printed a full and comprehensive statement from Chief Justice Thomas C. McClellan, giving the side of the supreme court on the capital improvement and extension disagreement. It goes over the whole ground and quotes some of the highest architectural authorities on the country on the two-story plan, as adopted.

In this statement the chief justice discussed the history of the movement so far as the supreme court is concerned and tells of what has been done and how it was brought about. He relates much that has not yet come out and shows why the supreme court judges felt that they were right in the plans agreed upon. Some of the criticisms of the judges are handled in a way to make mistake or meaning impossible and the people of the state have been put into possession of the entire situation so far as the court is concerned.

More Fire in Decatur.
Decatur, Ala.—Fire Saturday night at 10 o'clock caused a loss of more than five thousand dollars by the total destruction of A. G. Bethard's planing mill. The family lived about the mill and they escaped in their night clothes. The fire is supposed to have originated from the boiler room from fire left there after work hours. There was no insurance. A horse belonging to Mr. Bethard was roasted in the flames.

Killed by Circular Saw.

Gadsden, Ala.—News of a horrible accidental death at Maple Grove, in Cherokee county, reached Gadsden early Saturday morning.

From the best information at hand it seems that Mell C. Towers, son of C. C. Towers, was working in the saw mill of Mrs. C. C. Towers near Maple Grove, and late Friday afternoon he was busy in the saw mill dust pit, and when he got ready to leave he very thoughtlessly raised up his full length, his head striking the rapidly revolving saw. When his head came in contact with the saw it was split open and his eyes cut out. He fell to the ground with an agonizing cry, and his horror-stricken fellow-employees ran to his assistance. He was tenderly picked up and taken to his home, where medical attention was given him, but he was beyond all earthly aid.

Sheffield Declares Quarantine.

Sheffield, Ala.—The city council has just declared quarantine against all points infected with yellow fever.

Sylacauga Endorses Quarantine.

Sylacauga, Ala.—At a meeting of the mayor and board of aldermen held Friday afternoon, the action of Mayor S. P. McDonald in establishing quarantine against Montgomery, New Orleans and all infected points was fully indorsed and the mayor was directed to put inspectors on all passenger trains on the Louisville and Nashville and Central of Georgia railroads, which has been done.

This action on the part of the city officials has not been met in a business way, as all trains are allowed to run on regular schedule.

Negro Frightened Away.

Sheffield, Ala.—A bold and daring attempt at robbery or crime was committed at the home of R. R. Hill on Nashville avenue, this city, when a negro attempted to get in the room of Miss Hill.

The young lady heard the noise at her window, which awakened her, and she screamed at once for her brother, who was in another part of the house. Even then the negro continued to effect his entrance to the room, which had a screen window. However, some ladies in the adjoining house heard her screams for help and came to her rescue, which frightened the negro away, and he made good his escape.

Successful New Industry.

Gadsden, Ala.—The first run of soil pipe by the Coosa Pipe and Foundry company was made last Thursday afternoon with six floors in operation. The cast was a decided success in every respect and was made after everything was placed in readiness. Morris Bush, the energetic manager, and Robert Campbell, the superintendent and pioneer pipe maker of Gadsden, were both present and had everything in ship shape for the run, which was made without a hitch of any kind and a perfect lot of pipe was the result.

Returning to Montgomery.

Montgomery, Ala.—It can be truthfully said that this city has entirely resumed its normal condition and every vestige of panic or fear has subsided.

In fact it was reported at the Union depot Saturday that a great many people, mostly women and children, who left three days ago had come back to their homes.

Freight Train Is Ditched.

Montgomery, Ala.—A freight train on the Pensacola division of the Louisville and Nashville was ditched Saturday morning about three miles from the Nadawah. All the crew escaped injury except Ely Matthews, a negro brakeman, who was caught beneath a freight car. It is believed his injuries will prove fatal.

Aerialist Meets With Accident.

Sheffield, Ala.—Prof. Samuel Whittaker, who exhibited at the world's fair in St. Louis his daring ride 350 feet down a wire in a solid sheet of flame, met with a serious accident at Rustic park, Sheffield's summer resort. The negro who holds one end of the canvas let one end fall and precipitated Professor Whittaker to the ground, causing a serious injury to his hip.

Census Is Disappointing.

Sheffield, Ala.—Prof. A. J. Iro has completed the school census of Sheffield and is tabulating the result. His work shows a population of about 5,000 inhabitants for the city, less than was anticipated.

To Hold Court in Huntsville.

Huntsville, Ala.—Judge David D. Shelby has practically decided to hold a special term of United States court in this city for a few weeks, beginning August 28. Assistant District Attorney N. L. Steele is now making preliminary arrangements for the court's special term. The docket of this court is crowded.

Train Service Interrupted.

Memphis, Tenn.—The local Illinois Central officials here report that although the quarantine regulations are extremely strict, there has as yet been no curtailment in its train service on this account, all trains running as far south as Harahan, a point this side of New Orleans, passengers and crews changing cars in both directions. Up to the present time there has been no clash with the quarantine authorities.

SENSE OF HUMANITY

Compels Russian Commander on Sakhalin to Surrender Shattered Forces.

Tokio.—The bulk of the Russian garrison of Shakhalin Island surrendered to the Japanese July 31. A report giving details has been received as follows:

"An independent cavalry column on the afternoon of July 28 attacked the enemy south of Paleo and routed him, driving him southward, capturing two field guns, besides a number of rifles and a quantity of ammunition.

"On July 29, the cavalry, being reinforced, vigorously pursued the enemy south of Taylan, which lies twenty-five miles south of Bykoff. The enemy halted at Ono, twenty-five miles south of Taylan, and at 5 o'clock on the morning of July 30 sent a letter under a flag of truce to the Japanese commanding officer from Gen. Liapoff, the Russian governor, saying that the lack of bandage materials and medicines, and the consequent inability to succor the wounded, compelled him, under a sense of humanity, to terminate hostilities.

"The commander of the Japanese force replied, demanding the delivery of all war supplies and property of the Russian government, the uninjured and the delivery of all maps, records and papers relating to the Russian civil and military administration and requiring their delivery in reply at 10 o'clock on the morning of July 31, otherwise an attacking movement would be immediately started.

"Col. Tolivitch, on behalf of Gov. Liapoff, met Col. Koizumi, Japanese Chief of Staff, on the morning of July 31, and accepted the proposed terms. "Gov. Liapoff, seventy officers and 3,200 men of the Russian garrison then surrendered.

"The spoils, consisting of clothing, papers and military supplies, are now under investigation."

Explosives on Board.

San Francisco.—An attempt to blow up a ship in mid ocean has been reported by Capt. C. Touse, of the French ship Asniere, which has arrived here from Swansea, England, loaded with coal. He left that port in January last, and six weeks later, when far out at sea, a dozen capped fuses, such as are used by miners to explode charges of dynamite, were discovered in the hold of the ship among the coal. Had one of the fuses become ignited by a shock in a part of the hold where coal gas had accumulated, the ship would undoubtedly have been blown to atoms. Two or three of them had exploded, but fortunately at points where there was no gas, and consequently no damage was done. The presence of the fuses among the coal was discovered only by accident, when, during some rough weather, men were sent down into the hold to level the coal, and found them.

Encouraging Developments.

New Orleans, La.—The latest report was a great improvement over those during the middle of the week, and the fact that there were only two new sub-foci, one up town and one down town, is a source of special encouragement. An effort is being made to determine the number of cases of fever under treatment, and allowing ten days, which is a liberal estimate for a patient to either recover or die, it is figured that there are now 233 cases under treatment.

The citizens of New Orleans have pledged themselves to put $250,000 to defray the cost of labor and material, and Surgeon White, of the marine hospital service, has received a formal order from Surgeon General Wyman to take charge.

President Roosevelt and Surgeon General Wyman have both been wired by the citizens' committee of New Orleans that all the funds that the service may require outside its own stated expenditures will be supplied by the people of the city. This action was taken at a special meeting of the finance committee held in the St. Charles hotel. It followed the news received from Surgeon White that Surgeon General Wyman had asked for a definite statement of the financial intentions of the people here, and had given a definite statement himself of what the marine hospital service could do with the funds at its disposal.

Japanese Burn All Buildings.

St. Petersburg.—A dispatch from Godyzadani, the Russian headquarters in Manchuria, says that the Japanese who landed recently at Castries bay have returned aboard their warships. All the buildings along the shore of the bay were burned.

Chinese Defer Action.

Yokohama.—The meeting of Chinese on Sunday resolved to boycott American bankers, shippers and its agents, but deferred action with regard to other lines of business.

Bride and Groom Quarantined.

Union Springs, Ala.—Yesterday Mr. Nathan E. Knight and Miss Aldora Dukes, of Pike county, came to this place and were united in marriage in the court house by Judge Singleton. It was their intention to return to Troy Friday night, but they found themselves quarantined and are now domiciled at the Brown house in this place, enjoying the honeymoon period of married life.

UNCLE SAM IN CHARGE

President is Requested by Louisiana Officials to Take Speedy Action.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT CAUSES EXCITEMENT.

Quarantine Now Practically Extends as Far North as St. Louis—Forty

More Doctors Needed.

New Orleans, La.—With no intention of admitting the fever situation to be beyond control, but in the hope of reviving confidence here and elsewhere in the south, official and business interests decided Friday to send a request to President Roosevelt to have the United States government assume full charge of the struggle now in progress to wipe out the yellow fever from New Orleans and Louisiana. Public sentiment approves the action taken. The expectation is that within the next two days Surgeon General Wyman, with all the resources of the government, will be enlisted actively in the campaign.

The action taken was the result of a meeting held late Friday at the cotton exchange. President A. Britton presided. There were present Mayor Behrman, Chairman Janvier, of the citizens' committee; President Souchon, of the state board of health; President Kohnke, of the city board of health, representatives of each of the exchanges and commercial bodies; Surgeon White, of the marine hospital service and a number of representative citizens. In conferences which preceded the meeting, Presidents Souchon and Kohnke had given to Mayor Behrman their cordial assent to the proposed action.

Serious, But Not Hopeless Situation. All of those present participated in the discussion. It was the consensus of opinion that while the situation had grown serious, it was not hopeless. This view was concurred in by Dr. White. At the same time it was believed that if government control was resolved upon there would be an immediate restoration of confidence throughout Louisiana and the other states in the south where there has been criticism of the local authorities for not sooner making public the existence of the fever.

It was also the belief of those present that General Wyman would be able to send a force of physicians to New Orleans thoroughly equipped for the handling of a yellow fever situation because of their experience in Cuba, Mexico and at different points in the United States and that the government would have the facilities for enforcing a scientific campaign not possessed by the local authorities. When the local officials first took charge of the situation it was confidently hoped that the fever could be stamped out with a reasonable delay, but the progress has not been as expected, and so frightened have become the people in the south over the increase in the number of cases that New Orleans is threatened with a serious paralysis of her trade by reason of the radical quarantines that are now being instituted.

At the conclusion of the meeting it was announced that the following resolution, offered by Mr. Janvier, had been adopted, Mr. Farrar alone voting in the negative:

"Resolved, That this meeting indorse the proposition to ask the United States government to take control of the yellow fever situation in New Orleans and Louisiana, and the governor of the state and the mayor of the city be requested to take immediate steps to carry this proposition into effect; and that the hearty cooperation of the state and city governments, state and city health boards, the New Orleans Medical society and of the people generally, be pledged in such action as may be taken by the government."

Immediately after the meeting adjourned a telegram signed by the mayor and the other interests represented at the meeting was addressed to Governor Blanchard, telling him of the action taken and furnishing him with a copy of the resolution. The governor was asked to forward a request to President Roosevelt directing the United States public health and marine hospital service to take charge at once. Prompt action was urged upon the governor.

Sent to Jail.

Ensley, Ala.—Albert Peterson, a negro accused of shooting another negro about ten days ago at Averytown, was ordered to the county jail for safe keeping pending a preliminary trial by Justice of the Peace J. M. Donaldson Thursday.

Lineville, Ala.—Lineville has the finest non-railroad depot in the state, perhaps in the United States. That qualifying phrase non-railroad depot is put in because Lineville's depot, which is now completed, is over eight miles from a railroad.

A patriotic citizen of the town put the thought in practically the same form when he said: "Lineville has the finest depot nine miles from a railroad of any town in the country."

Mosquitoes Cause Yellow Fever. Washington.—The public health and marine hospital service has issued a circular on the prevention of yellow fever. The directions given look to the suppression of the mosquito as the only means of preventing its spread.

"No mosquitoes, no yellow fever," is the motto announced in big black letters at the top of the circular.

The document continues as follows:

"The infection of yellow fever is carried by mosquitoes and by no other means is the infection spread.

"Persons take the disease by being bitten by mosquitoes that previously have bitten a yellow fever patient.

"The mosquitoes to become infected must bite a yellow fever patient during the first three days of his attack. These first three days, therefore, are the most important for preventing the access of mosquitoes to a fever patient.

"It is often difficult to decide during the first three days whether a patient has yellow fever, hence the necessity in threatened communities of placing a mosquito bar immediately around every patient who has a fever of any kind, and for three days at least."

The necessity of drainage and screening is dwelt upon with much emphasis.

The postoffice department is sending 15,000 copies of the circulars to postoffices of the following states: Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama, Florida and Arkansas.

The circulars are sent out in bundles of 15 to 25 for distribution in the various towns by the local boards of health. They will be posted in conspicuous places.

Editor Killed.

New York.—Robert Criswell, editor of a weekly publication, who was arrested recently on a charge of criminal libel, preferred by Representative Joseph L. Rhinock, of the Covington (Kentucky) district, was killed Thursday night by an express train at the Seventy-second station of the subway. The libel charge against Criswell grew out of the publication of articles reflecting upon Mr. Rhinock and censuring Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio for having introduced Miss Alice Roosevelt to the Kentucky congressman during the visit of the President's daughter in Cincinnati. Criswell was arrested July 12 and was held in $1,000 bail for trial. The accused man published an apology in a subsequent issue of the paper.

A Spectacular Raid.

Chicago.—Lake Michigan furnished one of the most unique and spectacular gambling raids ever attempted in this country Thursday. The police and gamblers raced around the lake, first into Michigan waters, then close to the shores of Illinois, and then into the jurisdiction of Indiana. Fourteen marine gamblers were arrested as they floated ashore in a launch at South Chicago. The others escaped to Indiana harbor, Indiana. Chief of Police Collins announced two days ago that he would no longer permit the operation of the floating poolroom, the City of Traverse.

It was the expectation of the authorities that the betting fraternity would leave Chicago on the City of Traverse, but instead of this a small excursion steamer which carried them to the City of Traverse, lying at anchor within the jurisdiction of Indiana.

Cold Deal for Revisionists.

Washington, D. C.—The coming reciprocity conference under republican auspices in Chicago is getting the cold shoulder from the leading republicans.

The revisionists are discouraged over the outlook. Members of the cabinet, who were invited to attend, have hastened to decline. The secretary of commerce and labor and the commissioner of corporations were asked to come, but both side-stepped with alacrity. Farther than that, it is said, the department of commerce and labor declined to assign any of its experts to assist the statisticians of the conference.

Cleaning Ensley.

Ensley, Ala.—The good effects of the work being done in Ensley to clean up the city and bring about better sanitary conditions are already being felt.

The mosquito has almost been exterminated except in a few isolated sections, and the authorities are going after them with all the known remedies available.

Knoxville Invites Refugees.

Knoxville, Tenn.—By official action of the city board of health, Knoxville has invited all fever refugees, whether suspects or not, to come within its gates. It has been proven in years gone by that yellow fever can not propagate in this altitude.

Washington, D. C.—J. R. Kennedy and J. F. Armstrong, Alabama clerks in the treasury department, have been promoted, the former to $1,200, Armstrong to $1,000.

Aniston, Ala.—Grier Lisle, the negro who fell from a moving freight train between Cooke Springs and Birmingham Saturday evening, was brought to this city by his wife Thursday night in an unconscious condition.

INSURANCE INQUIRY ON

Legislative Committee to Hold Its Sessions in New York City.

Quick Reports Are Promised—Question of Attorneys and Stenographers to Be Chosen.

New York City.—Most of the members of the Legislative Insurance Investigating Committee arrived in town at night. Assemblyman James T. Rogers, Speaker Nixon and Archie E. Baxter, Clerk of the Assembly, went to the Hotel Cadillac.

The party was joined later by Senators William W. Armstrong, the Chairman, and William J. Tully. Assemblymen Ezra P. Prentice, William W. Wemple, Robert L. Cox, Frank Johnson, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Assembly, and C. R. Hotelling, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. The party then went to a theatre. Assemblyman McKeowan and Senator Riordan came down from Albany by boat, arriving in this city the next day.

Albany, N. Y.—All the members of the Insurance investigation committee were present at the organization of the committee at the Capitol.

The session lasted several hours. Just before adjournment it was agreed to reassemble in the New York City office of the Attorney-General at 27 William street. It was agreed that no hotel be made the headquarters of the members of the committee, but that each one should select the hotel of his choice.

Attorney-General Mayer sat with the eight committeemen during their deliberations, but said that nothing of any importance was transacted, the matter of organizing and getting to work being the only discussion. In view of the limited appropriation the selection of the principal counsel will be difficult. The committeemen believed that two or three good lawyers ought to be secured.

"The big insurance companies will be represented by prominent lawyers," said Senator Riordan, "and our committee should have all the assistance it can get. I am in favor of employing the very best lawyers it is possible to secure."

Several stenographers will be necessary. For the places applications were received from Burt Sackett, the Senate stenographer; George E. Shotwell, stenographer of the Senate Finance Committee; Henry Lammert, stenographer of the Assembly, and George W. Henderson, of the Law Reporting Company, Incorporated, of New York.

The official Senate and Assembly stenographers and Mr. Shotwell, Senator Malby's stenographer, had everything "fixed," as they believed, to be named the official stenographers of the committee.

Their fond dreams were shattered, however, when J. Calvin McKnight appeared before the committee in advocacy of the offer of the Law Reporting Company. Mr. McKnight, who spent the day with Chairman Odell at Saratoga, came to Albany on an early train and met Mr. Henderson. When the committee was ready to take up the consideration of selection of stenographers a letter from the Law Reporting Company was read which sent cold chills up and down the spines of the committeemen who had pledged their support to the legislative stenographers. This corporation asked to be made the official stenographer of the committee, offering to perform the work for two cents a folio for the original copy and two cents a folio for each additional copy.

Cheap and Quick Reports.

This figure for a stenographic report of proceedings is perhaps the smallest ever made in this or any other State. It is explained in the letter signed by George W. Henderson as president that the Law Reporting Company has the contract to supply fifty copies to the New York City News Association ten minutes after each word is uttered and sixteen extra copies to various organizations and individuals.

The company stipulates to supply eight expert court stenographers and twelve typewriter operators, and to deliver ten minutes after the adjournment of each session of the committee the original and as many extra copies of a verbatim transcript of the proceedings as the committee desired.

The first matter settled was the selection of Sergeant-at-Arms and his assistant. The men chosen were Frank W. Johnson, of Buffalo, and Charles R. Hotelling, of Selkirk, the Sergeants-at-Arms of the Assembly and Senate, respectively. Mr. Hotelling is to be the Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms to the committee, and will receive equal pay with Mr. Johnson—$5 a day.

Some of the Subjects.

Chairman Armstrong said it would be necessary to look up the records of the lawyers before making a selection.

"The question is, does life insurance constitute a private business, or is it in a sense a public trust and should we safeguard the interests of the policy holders as we would the depositors of a savings bank?" said Assemblyman Cox.

The matter of investments and expenditures must be taken into account, and any legislation proposed should have the security of policy holders in view.

"But there is another subject which must be discussed. That is the fraternal and assessment insurance companies. We should inquire into the question of whether rates are too high or too low to make insurance safe."

COACH GOES OVER A CLIFF.

Three Passengers Dead, Seven Hurt—Yellowstone Park Driver Drunk.

Cody, Wyo.—Word has been received here of a fatal accident which occurred in the Yellowstone National Park. A drunken driver with a six horse coach, loaded with tourists, drove over a precipice. The entire outfit went to the bottom of the cliff, killing three passengers and injuring seven others. No details could be ascertained.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Aug. 10, 05

Telephone No. 17.

The People be Durned.

A short time ago the County Superintendent received a notice from Montevallo regarding the proposed change in the boundaries of that school district, and he was requested to have said notice published in The Sentinel and send the bill to Montevallo. A few days later Hon. E. S. Lyman was in Columbiana, and while here asked if the Superintendent had given us the notice referred to above. We told him no; he then said for us to get it from the Superintendent, as that officer had been requested to give the notice to The Sentinel, and to send the bill for publishing to him at Montevallo.

We called on the Superintendent and asked for the notice as we were told to do, when he swelled up in his official dignity and said he would exercise his own judgment as to what paper the notice should appear in. This Superintendent acknowledged receiving a letter from Montevallo, and admitted that the letter requested the publication be given The Sentinel. He also admitted that the letter also said that the bill for publishing the notice be sent to Montevallo.

We have in the above a showing of petty officiousness which we doubt was never before duplicated, and never will be again unless it be by this same individual. Here was a notice of publication which private individuals said they would pay for, accompanied by the request that it be published in this paper. Instead of doing as requested by the parties who are entitled to consideration in the matter, and especially so when they expected to pay the cost of publication, Mr. Superintendent totes it up to his "organ," and by so doing intimates to the people of Montevallo that they attend to their own business. "I am running the educational machine of this county, and don't you forget it." By so doing Mr. Superintendent makes the taxpayers of the county pay a bill for printing that private parties had said they would pay. If that isn't the quintessence of narrow-contraiteedness we have never seen a case. How do the taxpayers like this manner of heaping up expense on them in order to give his "organ" a dollar or two?

Section 3040 of the Code, says: "The party in interest, or at whose instance the publication of notice is to be given by advertisement in a newspaper, may designate the newspaper in which such advertisement shall be made. If the officer charged with duty of making the advertisement disregards such designation, and makes advertisement in some other paper, he must pay the cost thereof, and shall not be entitled to reimbursement."

It is evident the County Superintendent cares no more for the above quoted law than he does for the wishes of the people of Montevallo.

The "Ten for one" edition of the Birmingham News is a fine paper, and shows up the resources and wealth of Birmingham and Jefferson county in a most magnificent manner. The edition reflects credit upon Colonel Rufus N. Rhodes and his associates. The News is a great power, published in a great city which promises to become greater.

The Bullock county Breeze says it sees no reason why Morgan and Pettus should have a lifetime lease on the senatorships from this State. The Breeze man must have been overlooked in the distribution of seeds.

An attack made upon Governor Jelks in a recent issue of the Opelika News is wholly uncalled for. The fact that the News is a red-hot Johnston organ probably explains its bitterness.

The Montgomery Advertiser is not alone in its support of Cunningham for Governor. There are many, many others. Stick a pin here—Cunningham will be elected, too.

The first bale of cotton was marketed in Montgomery last week, and sold for fifteen and a half cents.

Bull weevil is said to be in the cotton over in the Cahaba valley, and the matter is to be investigated.

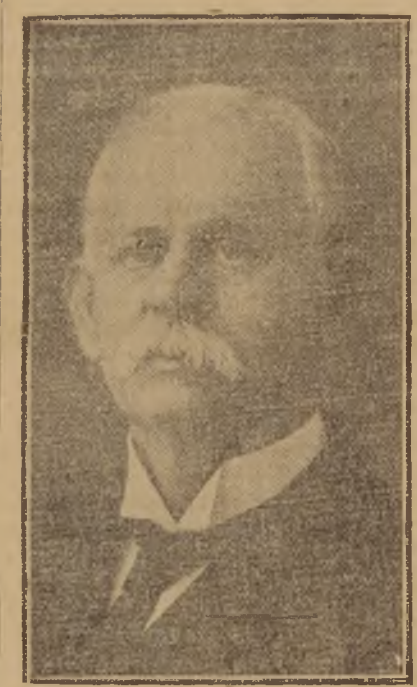

Alabama Press Association Meeting.

Among the most interesting of the papers read at the meeting was one by Wear of the Opelika News, urging the members to organize an association for the purpose of getting and maintaining rates from foreign advertisers. The result of the reading was to have a committee appointed to report at the next meeting. Under present conditions the publishers of weekly newspapers are at the mercy of foreign advertisers and intent of the new movement is to make these foreigners pay a fair and equitable price or stay out.

President Greer, of the Marion Standard, was re-elected without opposition; R. E. L. Neal, of the Selma Journal, and H. S. Doster, of the Prattville Progress, were elected Vice President; S. H. Morris, of Fayette, Treasurer; W. W. Screws, Historian; H. Y. Brooke, orator; J. C. Lawrence, poet; Miss Virginia Clay, essayist. There was but one contest in the election of officers—for Secretary. Jacob Pepperman, who has served the Association so faithfully for the past year, was re-elected over J. C. Lawrence. M. W. Meeks, of Gadsden, and John C. Williams, of Talladega, were elected life members, they having been members of the association of twenty-five continuous years. They are grand men, both of them, and the Association honored itself when it made these two high minded gentlemen life members.

The session of Friday closed the business end of the meeting, and on Saturday plans for visiting different places were carried out. The Sentinel man, with a number of others, "a fishin' went," and such a time. With Editor O'Neal, of Huntsville, the writer left the big schooner in which we had been transported to the fishing waters, and in a row boat pulled away from the crowd. The trout fishing was fine, and we had good luck; we hooked a big shark, so the boat-

GRAND OLD GENTLEMAN.

Major W. W. Screws, who recently celebrated his fortieth anniversary as editor in chief of Montgomery Advertiser.

man told us, and it almost pulled us overboard. Hildreth, of New Decatur, says, "of course Whitaker's shark got away," and he might have added we were mighty glad of it. Having caught all the fish we wanted we again boarded the schooner and the boatman cooked them on a little 2x1 stove, and such cooking. It was just simply the finest in the land.

Sunday morning, Brother Martin, of the Ozark Tribune, preached at the pavilion, and his eloquence was listened to by a large congregation. In the afternoon, the Regimental band furnished a delightful sacred concert, and also again at night, helped to push the time away with its fine music.

Bright an early Monday morning, those who had not departed for their homes, gathered on the pier where three large schooners has been placed at the disposal of our party, and soon they were headed for Dauphin Island, being towed by a little tug which evidently had been out of commission for a long time as it was hardly equal to the occasion of towing three big schooners, but it did finally land us at Dauphin. Here a large number enjoyed the surf bathing which is said to excel that at Atlantic City, while others employed the time in gathering shells for souvenirs. We had dinner aboard the schooners, and then started for Coden. A squall caught us and for about two hours the boats tumbled and tossed, the elements having but little consideration for people with weak stomachs, and it was not long before some were telling their troubles to the fishes and feeding them with the dinner which they had eaten only a short time before. During the trip across Mississippi Sound the tug broke down and for two hours or more we moved along at a snail's pace, while a swarm of mosquitoes, apparently as large as swallows (judged by their persistency in poaching), preyed upon us most unmercifully. However, about midnight we tied up at the pier, a tired party, yet not altogether displeased with our trip.

In the meantime, we had heard that "yellow jack" had made its appearance at New Orleans, and on Tuesday morning most of us hiked for home, not caring to take any chances of being quarantined.

The meeting this year is said to have been one of the best, if not the best within the history of the Association, and much good will come from it. None will ever forget the kindly attention of the good people of Coden who exerted themselves to make their visitors have a good time, and if a single visitor failed in this it was his fault. Mr. Joulain, mine host at the Hotel Joulain, is one of the best natured men we ever met, and while he had taken more people than he could comfortably care for, yet he did his best, and when one does that all grumblers should take a back seat.

NOTES.

Everybody had the "bestest" time.

Everybody is a friend of Max Hamburger of the Mobile Herald. It was a pleasure to again meet Mr. and Mrs. Ward of Talladega.

The bathing at Coden is simply fine, and beats a dose of medicine for making one feel all right.

Brother Martin, of the Ozark Tribune, wants to go back to Coden next year. Not a bad idea, brother.

Stevenson, of the Roanoke Leader, is a fine fellow, and his heart is right, too, on the public school question.

Martin, of the Ozark Tribune, is not only a good newspaper man, but an able minister of the gospel as well.

Judge Simpson, of the Tusculum Dispatch, is remembered by all for his courtly manner—a polished gentleman ever.

Walker, of Athens, with his charming wife and sister, are among the popular people who attend the meetings.

Doster and Yerby were the two Chesterfields of the party—obliging, always, and willing to help along a good time.

No man has more friends in the Association than General Stanlev, of Greenville Advocate—truly he is one of nature's noblemen.

John C. Williams is a born diplomat as was proven by his paper on "The Relation of the Newspapers to the Railroads." Williams is good anywhere you may put him.

When Hildreth dropped into the water it was a general saying that the tide was coming in, for he is about as broad as he is long, and that means something.

Editor Smith and his charming wife, of Fort Deposit Reflector, were always in the midst of an admiring crowd, and they enjoy roughing it just a little better than anybody.

Bruce Kennedy was among the happiest of the crowd when Major Screws received his ovation. By the way, Kennedy's "Message to the Editors" in the Mobile Herald, made a hit.

When Harry Brooke was dressed in his overalls and topped it all with an old straw hat he looked like a farmer, and he had his share of the fun when any was running around loose.

Wear, of the Opelika News, was ready for a scrap at any and all times, but it was in a good natured way. He was accompanied by Mrs. Wear and their charming daughter and handsome son.

About the handsomest people in the party were R. E. L. Neal and Mrs. Neal of the Selma Journal. They are an antidote for the blues all the time, and there is a chum my feeling between them that does one good to see.

Colonel Rhodes, of the Birmingham News, was there with that smile which never comes off. He is one of those men who are apparently placed upon earth to pour oil upon troubled waters, and he was a favorite with all.

Uncle Isaac Grant and Major Screws, whose locks are silvered with the frosts of many years, are grand men loved by everybody in the Association. M. W. Meeks is another good old man who travels in the same class with Mr. Grant and Major Screws.

It was a pleasure to again meet Mr. and Mrs. O'Neal, of Huntsville, who are so pleasantly remembered with the trip to St. Louis last year. No man loves more to pull a struggling fish from the water than Mr. O'Neal.

Editor Judson, Mrs. Judson, with their two daughters Misses Lula and Grace, were as pleasing and gracious as ever, although Judson was ready at any and all times to keep up his end of a scrap. He's a stickler for a square deal—a good trait in any man.

To Secretary Jacob Pepperman much credit is due for the pleasant time the newspaper boys and girls had, for he spared no pains nor time to make the meeting a successful one, even often inconveniencing himself that others might be accommodated. His amiable wife and charming daughter, Mrs. M. A. Pepperman and her little babe, contributed to the pleasure of everybody.

On invitation of Editor M. W. Meeks, the Association will meet next year in Gadsden. The following delegates were elected to the National Editorial Association to meet in Indianapolis next year: W. H. H. Judson, H. S. Doster, W. E. W. Yerby, Geo. W. Read, H. E. Whitaker, M. W. Camper, H. W. Walker, J. H. Hard, M. Tucker, J. C. Williams, A. W. Holston, R. E. L. Neil, E. Lesser, C. H. Groer, W. T. Wear, F. L. McKenzie and H. L. Martin.

The Alabama Chatanqua at Talladega, is said to be better this year than ever before.

The yellow fever situation is bad enough, and the sensational stories being sent out about it are doing a world of harm.

It is said that yellow fever germs will not live in this high altitude. That may be so, but it is best not to take any chances.

The Montgomery Advertiser says that the mosquito is a sort of a rural free delivery for yellow fever. If this be so, we move its abolishment.

It has been reported here that there are two cases of yellow fever in Birmingham, but as the papers of that city have said nothing about it, we are of the opinion that somebody is just talking.

The State Fair at Birmingham this year promises to be better and grander than ever. Work is progressing rapidly on the buildings and everything is being put in ship-shape. That it will be a successful fair there is no doubt.

If we remember rightly, Governor Johnston left Montgomery when the yellow fever struck that city a few years ago, and if we have been correctly informed, he pointed out to the quarantine officers in Birmingham an elderly woman who had left Montgomery the day previous to the departure of the Governor and she was made to leave that city. We are told that she left the train at Calera and what she had to say about Governor Johnston was a plenty.

Troy State Normal.

The State Normal College at Troy offers excellent advantages to those who desire to take higher courses of study. While it is the youngest State institution for education except the Girls' School at Montevallo, it is one of the best and largest, and last year had an enrollment of 433. The faculty is composed of fifteen specialists who have been most thoroughly schooled in the particular branch which they teach. Courses are offered in pedagogy, civics, mathematics, languages, science, manual training, instrumental and vocal music, art and elocution. This school makes a specialty of training teachers for the public schools, and the expenses are moderate in comparison with the advantages offered; they range from $125 to $150 per annum. The location of the school is healthy and of easy access.

If you are thinking of taking a normal course a letter to President E. M. Shackelford, Troy, Ala., will bring you a late catalogue, and any other information you may desire.

Final Settlement.
E. A. Bentley, deceased, In the Probate court of Shelby County, Ala.
July 15, 1905.

This day came M. F. Bentley, Administratrix of the Estate of E. A. Bentley, deceased, and filed her statement, accounts, vouchers and evidences, for a final settlement of her said administration. It is ordered, that Monday, the first day of August, 1905, be appointed a day on which to make said settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement, if they think proper.

A. P. Longshore,
Judge of Probate.

Alabama Girls Industrial School

Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academic, Commercial, Industrial, Scientific, Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M., D. D.

Marion Military Institute.

The University of Virginia places the Institute on its list of accredited Colleges. The University of Pennsylvania accept the degrees of the Institute, admitting graduates without examination. Other leading universities accord the Institute the same recognition of merit.

Applicants for admission must present testimonials of good moral character and of creditable standing in the school last attended.

Personal attention and individual instruction is given every student. All professors live in the Institute. A home is in each building for the social and moral culture of the students.

For catalogue address, J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Ladies

We cordially invite you to call and see the pretty line of Lawns which we are now showing.

SLIPPERS,

The kind you have been looking for, and the prices are just right.

STRAW HATS

In the latest styles, and prices to suit you.

WIRE FENCING---

The Elwood brand; you know it is the best. We have it, you need it.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

B. WALKER,

Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,

DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

W. A. PARKER'S

LIVERY, FEED,
—AND—
SALE STABLES.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.

While others are talking about their candidacy for Governor, Dr. (next Governor) Cunningham is talking to the school boys and girls.

Livery, Feed and Sale Stables,

S. & L. FRIEDBERGER, Proprietors.
(Successors to E. W. Burt.)
H. N. NOIRIS, Manager.

Good Horses, Good Carriages, Careful Drivers.
Your Patronage is Solicited.

Telephone 16. - - - - Bus Meets All Trains.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.
W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.,
Columbiana, Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts	$ 30,418.52	Capital stock paid in	$ 20,000.00
Overdrafts	30.64	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	2,150.16
Banking house	5,000.00	Individual deposits subject to check	31,536.37
Furniture and fixtures	2,000.00	Time deposits	2,754.39
Other real estate	3,000.00	Cashier's checks	101.60
Due from banks and bankers in this State	9,333.23	Notes and bills rediscounted	10,906.50
Due from banks and bankers in other States	5,542.57
Currency	5,317.00
Gold	685.00
Silver, notes and pennies	1,257.19
Checks and cash items	3,608.07
Total	$ 75,953.22	Total	$ 75,953.22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July, 1905.

JOHN R. DYKE,
Circuit Clerk.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

WE WILL APPRECIATE
YOUR ORDER AT ANY TIME.

FRESH BREAD TWICE A WEEK.
LIKE YOUR MOTHER ONCE MADE.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
No copy one year $1.00
No copy six months 50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Clarence Smith was down from Wilsonville last Sunday.

Geo. D. Baldwin, of Siluria, was doing business in town last Friday.

The persistent advertiser is the man who does the business. Ever notice it?

If you are not looking for trouble, better take that chip from your shoulder.

Hosca Pearson, Esq., of Farmer, was in town last Thursday for a few hours.

The man who butts into every conversation he hears is the most nuisance ever.

Miss Lucy Smith, of Alpine was in the city the fore part of the week
visiting friends.

Mrs. W. A. Brown, of Sylacauga, is in the city a guest of her sister,
Mrs. Jno. S. Pitts.

E. B. Nelson has returned to Empire, after a short visit with his family in this city.

Dr. and Mrs. T. G. Nelson, of Ab-ernant, are in the city visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Alice Haygood, of Montgomery, is in the city visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nelson.

In this issue is found the advertisement of the Fourth District Agricultural School at Sylacauga.

Miss Stella Powell, of Childersburg, was in the city several days last week a guest of Mrs. Henry Milner.

The county superintendent evidently has no regard for the wishes of the people in some sections of the county.

If there is any water standing about your premises, just drop a little kerosene in it—that will do the mosquito.

There will be preaching at the Methodist church next Sunday morning and night by the pastor.
You are invited.

Henry Milner attended the Masonic Conference which was held in Helena last week, and reported an interesting time.

J. P. Phillips, of Shelby, was in town last Friday, and came to this office and had his subscription pushed up to 1906.

B. C. Bynum, he who is to build Shelby county's new court house, was up from Montgomery a couple of days last week.

Praise a man and he will forget it the next day, but criticise him and he will have it in for you even in the other world.

There is but little change in the yellow fever status. Montgomery has one case in the detention hospital, while New Orleans is full of
it.

A party of merry makers visited Shelby Springs Monday night, and from the report which comes to us all had a good time.

Our job department has kept The Sentinel rang on the move during the past week. Good work and good stock is the attraction.

Occ Bird is having a siege with fever, but his friends hope to see him get the best of it soon. He is at the home of his brother George.

Master Arthur Elliott is now agent for the Saturday Evening Post. Arthur is an energetic little fellow, and he will appreciate your subscription.

The Sentinel received a pleasant call from W. F. Thetford last Thursday. He has been one of a house party at Shelby Springs for the past two or three weeks.

The Columbiana ball team will go to Talladega next Saturday and proceed to do Pell City a job. Quite a number of fans from here will accompany the team.

Alphonse Verchot and Miss Cora Morgan, after a short visit with relatives and friends in Columbiana, returned to their homes in Pratt City last Friday.

Commissioner R. B. Posey, of Harpersville, was in the city Monday to attend a called meeting of the County Board. He paid The Sentinel a pleasant call.

Ont down the weeds; that is the order of the town council, and if you don't heed the mandate you will be in all kinds of trouble. The ordinance is a good one.

Samuel Templein, who moved from near Wilsonville to Birmingham a few weeks ago, has returned to this county, and says old Shelby is good enough for him.

Mrs. J. P. Roberts and children have gone to Sylacauga for a visit with relatives. Miss Lodie Hobson, a sister of Mrs. Roberts, has also gone home to Sylacauga.

Rev. Mr. Dunnington has been enjoying some good exercise during the past week—mowing the grass in the Presbyterian church yard.
He has set a good example for many.

Hon. E. S. Lyman, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. L. H. Lyman, passed through Columbiana last Wednesday on his way to Kensington, Conn. He will be gone for several weeks.

Miss Lucy Smith, of Alpine, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office Monday morning. She is spending a few weeks at Shelby Springs.
Miss Smith ordered The Sentinel sent to her address.

Uncle Jeff Elliott gave to us one day this week a branch about two feet long, broken from one of his pear trees, upon which were twenty-seven fine pears. They were good to look at, and tasted better.

The C. O. B. ball team failed to show up last week as it promised, and nothing is known why the team failed to meet its engagement unless it lost its nerve, and did not want to take chances on being defeated.

Rev. J. D. Upshaw, formerly pastor of the Baptist church in Columbiana, but now at Fort Deposit, was in the city a day or two last week.
He is conducting meeting out at Bethel, and reports considerable interest and a large attendance.

Miss Gussie Riddle, one of Birmingham's charming young women, and who has been a guest of Miss Rosser Christian for several days, returned to her home yesterday.

Oscar McGraw and John Kidd, of Vincent, were in the city over
Sunday guests at the home of Jno.
S. Pitts. Mr. McGraw will attend the State University again this year and will probably finish. He is preparing himself to enter the legal profession.

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church closed last Friday night. Rev. Mr. Heard, of Rockford, who did the preaching, made many friends here during his stay. The Sentinel learns that Rev. Heard will probably be called to the pastorate of the Baptist church in this city.

Cures Sciatica.

Rev. W. L. Riley, L. L. D. Cuba
New York, writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pains from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment; the first application giving my first relief and the second entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation.
25c, 50c and $1.00 sold by Williams Bros.

The Sentinel has accorded the county superintendent every court-sey in publishing his notices regarding educational matters in this county, but when he is requested to give a publication to this paper by the parties who are to pay for it he gets a swell on himself and says he will do as he pleases about the matter.

Harry Roberts pitched for the Talladega team in a game of ball at that place last Thursday against the Birmingham Travelers. The score was eight to two in favor of Talladega. Mr. Roberts struck out sixteen men in six innings.
Denny Blackford also played with the Talladega team and got three two-bagger hits to his credit.

W. R. Self, a former resident of Shelby county, but now of Meridian, Miss., is visiting his mother and other relatives in Wilsonville for a short time. He was in Columbiana last Saturday and while here came in and handed the newspaper man a dollar for another year's subscription. He was paid up to the first of next year, but said to make it 1907.

The Sentinel is in receipt of an announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Mona Myers, of Gadsden, to Mr. J. H. Davies, of Montevallo. The nuptials will be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Myers, in Gadsden at eight o'clock on the night of August 16th. Miss Myers has been teaching in the Girls'
School at Montevallo, for the past two years and is an accomplished and talented young woman. Mr.
Davies is a prominent merchant of Montevallo—a member of the firm of Davies & Jeter.

Every town of consequence in Alabama is making war on the mosquito and Columbiana will not be behind in this matter. Yellow fever is spread by mosquitoes, and while there is not much danger of that dread malady reaching here, yet there is also a mosquito which transmits malaria fever to the human race, and for that reason the war on the pest should be unrelenting. Do not have any water standing in barrels or any other receptacles about the premises, and a little kerosene poured on the water in your cistern will prevent the breeding of mosquitoes in there.

SAY, NOW WILL YOU BE GOOD?

An Ordinance Which Should Receive the Support of
All Our People.

To Citizens Shelby County:
I wish to call your attention to the following ordinance adopted by the City Council of Columbiana, and recommend its adoption by every household in the county, whether abiding in the corporate limits of a town or not.

Respectfully,
Chas. T. Acker,
County Health Officer.

1.—Be it ordained by the Mayor and Council of the City of Colum-biana that it shall be unlawful for any person to allow any ponds, pools or collections of stagnant water to remain on his premises within the city, and that all such ponds, pools and collections of stagnant water shall be immediately drained or filled by the owner of the premises on which same may be located, or by the occupants thereof.

2.—Be it further ordained that all owners or users of water barrels, cisterns or tanks, shall screen the same or cover the water therein with kerosene oil.

3.—Be it further ordained that all person within said city shall cut down and burn all weeds upon their premises.

4.—Be it further ordained that all persons shall gather up all tin cans, empty bottles, and broken vessels from their premises and deposit same in barrels or boxes so that they may be hauled away by the city garbage wagon.

5.—Be it further ordained that all persons shall immediately clean up their premises, back and front, and keep same clean.

6.—Be it further ordained that no one shall throw or deposit any garbage, refuse matter, or trash upon the streets of the city.

7.—Be it further ordained that all persons shall at once cut and burn all weeds on the sidewalks and streets around their premises.

8.—Be it further ordained that anyone violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not more than One Dollar
($1.00) nor more than Fifty Dollars
($50.00), and may also be imprisoned in the city prison or sentenced to hard labor for the city for not more than twenty-five days.

9.—Be it further ordained that it shall be the duty of the City Marshal to inspect all premises at once and as often thereafter as may be necessary, to enforce this ordinance, and report all violations of same to the Mayor.

Adopted and approved August 5, 1905.

W. B. Browne, Mayor.
W. L. Farley, City Clerk.

Herbine.

Renders the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drink C. L. Caldwell Agt.
M. K. and T. R. R., Checotah, Ind.
Ter., writes, April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen.
The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbine. It has made me sound and well." 50c. sold by Williams brothers

HARPERSVILLE.

The baseball craze has struck our town.

The Baptists have a new pool in connection with their church.

Charley Flory, of South Alabama, is visiting his mother's family.

Two Misses Garner, of Atlanta,
Ga., are visiting E. B. Cates' family.

Miss Straight, of North Alabama, spent last week with Dr. Lane's family.

Barney Russell, of Blount county, is visiting his father, Judge Russell.

T. J. and Web Martin visited Renfro Martin at Selma last Monday and Tuesday.

Wade Hampton Posey, of Birmingham, spent last Sunday with his father's family.

The Harpersville ball team went down to Creswell and defeated the team there one day last week.

Misses Stella and Lockie Posey attended the Institute at Wilsonville last Friday and Saturday.

Miss Hannah Caldwell returned home last Saturday from Georgia where she has been visiting relatives.

The negroes had a two days' picnic near here last week, and are protracting their meeting this
week.

The school patrons of the Harpersville school are requested to meet at the Academy, Saturday evening, at 3 o'clock.

Jim Wood left here a few days ago, and some of our people are singing that old familiar song: "A charge to keep I have."

Everybody interested are requested to meet at the Harpersville century early Saturday with a tool for the purpose of cleaning off same. Come early, or send some one.

Jacko.

WILSONVILLE.

O. W. and Claude Tinney spent
Sunday in the city with relatives.

W. R. Self, of Meridian, Miss., is visiting relatives here at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter, of Jacksonville, visited Mrs. McGowan last week.

Unless we have rain within a few days, crops will be badly injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilby, of Atlanta, are visiting Captain Bolin's family
at present.

Miss Sue Self is visiting her mother for a few days before returning to Camp Hill.

Mrs. S. M. Bentley, of Rockford, is visiting with Rev. O. P. Bent-ley's family.

Jno. W. Millstead, of the Southern R'y., spent several days at home last week.

This weather is awfully hot and dry. Sunday and Monday will long be remembered.

Ben Riley, of Anniston, who is with the Southern R'y., is at home for a few days.

The Misses Posey, of Harpers-ville, attended the Institute last Friday and Saturday.

H. E. Smith is at East Saginaw for a few days in the interest of the Helm Portrait Co.

Miss Ollie Privett, of Jacksonville, is spending the summer with her aunt, Mrs. McGowan.

Mrs. McGee, of Talladega, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Brooks at the Methodist parsonage.

Rev. C. D. Brooks preached very interesting sermons at Methodist church Sunday morning and night.

We are glad to know that Mrs.
J. L. Riddle has improved sufficiently to visit her, Mrs. Jim Spearman.

Miss Coleman, of Anniston, spent a few pleasant days of last week in the city with friends and relatives.

There is a series of meetings in progress at Fourmile church this week, conducted by O. P. and C. J.
Bentley.

Miss Blanche Clark, the popular milliner for R. G. Weldon Co., is at present visiting relatives in Kentucky.

There is a good deal of sickness around our town at present, but glad to know there is nothing of a serious nature.

The many friends of Mrs. Iris F.
Taylor will be glad to hear that she has recovered from her spell of fever, and is able to be out again.

Captain Bolin has made a remarkable record of melon sales this season—having sold from $2 to $10 worth daily since the melons came in.

There was a very nice, clean little show here Saturday, and all who attended seemed to enjoy it.
The management of Jas. Shelby's new show is real good.

A series of meetings will begin at Old Chapel church next Sunday.
We understand that the pastor,
Rev. C. D. Brooks, will be assisted by Rev. J. C. Branscomb, of Talladega.

Wilsonville and Klein crossed hats at Klein last Wednesday which resulted in a victory for Wilsonville by 5 to 4. There will be a game here between the same boys
Thursday.

Calvin Trumlin and family are visiting Mrs. A. L. Jackson. Mr.
Trumlin is one of the best citizens of Tallapoosa, Ga., and has many friends here who are always glad to see him.

The Shelby County Teachers' Institute convened here last Friday and Saturday with a fair attendance, and all seemed to enjoy the meeting very much, both teachers and home-folks.

We are glad to see R. G. Weldon and E. W. Holland looking so much improved this week. One has been attending a Baptist convention and the other a Methodist quarterly meeting, and both report good meetings and plenty of everything good to eat. We think the eating part of the program is what improved their looks so much. If these opportunities came around to often we fear they might become corpulent.

Mr. Editor, you must excuse Old Rip in forgetting his items for your valuable paper last week. His silence was not on account of a lack of news, for in a great, enterprising place like Wilsonville there is always a great many things of importance and interest to mention continually transpiring; so the indisposition of Old Rip is the only excuse for his silence last week, and in this it will be impossible for him to mention all the things of interest.

Mr. Editor: We would be glad if you would order as a good rain and a lower temperature, and send them up at once, as we are very much in need of them both just now, and greatly oblige

INVEST

WHERE YOUR MONEY IS SAFE AND
YOUR DIVIDENDS SURE.

THE STEPHENSON LAND & LUMBER COMPANY,
of Stephenson, Wis., offers you that opportunity. To increase its business it will sell 30,000 shares of Treasury Stock at $1.00 per share. New and up-to-date plant.

PAYS 3 per cent
Monthly Dividends.

Lumber and Shingle Mill at Koss, Mich., on the Wisconsin and Michigan Railroad. Have a mill pond that holds three million logs. Our yards contain 40 acres of land with sidetracks running through it. 40 thousand feet of lumber, 30 thousand lathes and 60 thousand shingles daily. There is no mortgage on our plant; we sell this stock to get additional working capital. Shares $1.00 each. Invest today. Make checks payable to

GEO. PERKINS & CO.

Fiscal Agents,

320 Grand Ave., Milwaukee, Wis.

Fourth District Agricultural School, Sylacauga, Alabama.

Competent and experienced instructors. Scientific and Agricultural courses. Thorough preparation for college. Beautiful and well arranged buildings and grounds. Next session begins Sept.
12th. For further information and catalogue, address
T. C. MOORE, President.

the people at large and especially your old friend, Rip Winkle.

On July 29, in the early morning, our people were very much surprised, indeed, at the startling news that Mrs. E. J. Ewing had suddenly died. She was in her usual health, or seemed to be, and was arranging things in her room, when without a complaint she sank to the floor dead. Mrs. Ewing was 82 years of age. She was buried Sunday in Wilsonville cemetery. A large crowd followed the remains to their last resting place.
Among those present at the funeral were her son Lewis Ewing, of London, Ill., and her grandchildren, G. W. Brown and Mrs.
C. F. Davidson, of Birmingham, and
W. A. Barnes and wife, of Sylacauga.

Your Rip Winkle being on the sick list, he asked me to write up the items this week, and such as I have given you is all we could gather in an hour.

RIP WINKLE, Protem.

Commissioner R. J. Griffin, of Helena, is in the city attending a special meeting of the County board. We acknowledge a pleasant call.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan,
Prop., Sullivan's House, El Reno, O.
T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's
Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c and $1.00, sold by Williams Bros.

Wanted,

Wanted, two (2) experienced insurance men with horse and buggy;
each $1.50 per day, and a liberal commission.

T. A. Leathers.

Division Agent, Columbiana, Ala.

Stop that Cough.

When a cough, a tickling or an irritation in the throat makes you feel uncomfortable take Ballard's Hore-hound Syrup. Don't wait until the disease has gone beyond control.
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, 354
West 5th St., Salt Lake City, Utah, write, "We think Ballard's Hore-hound Syrup the best medicine for coughs and colds. We have used it for several years; it always gives immediate relief, is very pleasant and gives perfect satisfaction." 25c, 50c, and $1.00, sold by Williams Bros.

The town council says you must cut down the weeds on your premises. Good idea. Now let the city dads have the weeds along the streets shaved.

In cleaning up your premises you may save a long spell of sickness for some member of your family, and incidentally a big doctor's bill.

The town council of Columbiana says you must cut down the weeds, and otherwise clean up your premises. Now will you be good?

Had you noticed it? The population of Columbiana is increasing all the time.

The federal government is now in charge of the yellow fever situation.

Notice of Commissioner's Sale.

In pursuance of, and in accordance with the terms and directions of a Commission, issued and addressed to undersigned, by the Hon. A. P. Longshore, Judge of the court of Probate in and for Shelby county, Alabama, bearing date the 21st day of May, 1905, I will proceed to sell to the highest bidder for cash
at public auction in front of the court house
of said county, on Monday, the 14th day of Aug., 1905, within the legal hours of sale, the following described real estate, to-wit:
That part of northeast quarter of southeast
quarter and southeast quarter of southeast
quarter of section 32, township 15, range 2 w., described by notes and bounds as follows:
Commencing near the northeast corner of said forty on the west side of the creek, and running south through the center of the line to the east and west line near the southeast corner of northeast quarter of southeast quarter, thence west 3/4 mile from said corner thence to the southeast corner of southeast quarter of southeast quarter of said section; and thence northeast corner of southeast
quarter of section 32, township 15, range 2 w., and the west half of northeast quarter, and east half of southeast quarter of southeast quarter, and the northeast quarter of northwest quarter of section 32, township 15, range 2 w., containing 250 acres more or less, which lands are to be sold under the decree of said court for the purpose of a division between and
among the joint owners thereof, who are as follows: John C. Cross, John Harris, Paul
Harris, George Harris, Mary Ward, Annie
Crum, Julia Harris and Chris Harris, all being the heirs of Virginia Harris, deceased.

H. E. WHITAKER,
Commissioner.

McMillan & Haynes,
Attorneys.

If you are not for Comer for Governor, then you are shaking a red rag in the face of the Opelika News.

Better go after those weeds in your yards or the marshal will be coming your way with his galling gun.

There is a reported discovery of lead ore near Vincent, in the northern part of this county.

Bishop Hargrove Dead.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 3.—Funeral services over the remains of the late Bishop R. K. Hargrove of the M. E.
Church, South, who died here this morning, will be held at the West End Methodist Church tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. Bishop C.
B. Galloway will officiate, assisted by Bishop O. P. Fitzgerald and others. The interment will follow at Mt. Olivet.

Bishop R. K. Hargrove of the Southern Methodist Episcopal Church died at his home shortly after midnight last night. He had been in feeble health for a year past and seriously ill since Friday. He was born in Pickens County, Alabama, September 17, 1855, and after being graduated from University of Alabama, was for a time instructor in mathematics there. In 1887
he entered the Alabama conference, and during the civil war a chaplain in the Confederate army. Later he was Pres. of Centenary Institute at Sumnerfield, Tenn., going then to the Kentucky conference, returning from there to accept the presidency of the Tennessee Female College at Franklin.

In 1873 he represented the Southern Church the Cape May commission and in 1882 was elected Bishop.
The board of trustees of Vanderbilt University made Bishop Hargrove its President in 1889, in which position he served until last spring when he resigned because of feeble health.

TWENTY YEARS OF IT.

Emaciated by Diabetes; Tortured With Gravel and Kidney Pain.

Henry Soule, cobbler, of Hammondsport, N. Y., says: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me eight years ago, I've reached seventy and hope to live many years longer. But twenty years ago I had kidney trouble so bad I could not work. Backache was persistent and it was agony to lift anything. Gravel, whirling headaches, dizziness and terrible urinary disorders run me down from 168 to 100 pounds. Doctors told me I had diabetes and could not live. I was wretched and hopeless when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, but they cured me eight years ago and I've been well ever since."

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box.

Alfonso Turned Flip-Flaps.

One evening when the young King of Italy was the guest of King Edward in Buckingham palace Alfonso thought things were moving rather slowly. With the view of livening up the spirits of himself and his fellow guests, his juvenile majesty proceeded to turn flip-flaps down a corridor, to the immense delight of every one present. After the laughter has subsided Alfonso justified himself by quoting the opinion of Horace, "Dulce est desipere in loco," which he translated thus liberally: "It is delightful to play the fool at a fitting time."

FOR THE LIVER AND BOWELS
MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR
 IT PROMPTLY CURES CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS, INDIGESTION, SOUR STOMACH AND ALL DISORDERS OF THE LIVER AND BOWELS. SO CURE A BOTTLE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

White Quick FOR A Big Bargain

To better advertise the South's Leading Business College, four scholarships are offered young persons of this county at less than cost. WRITE TODAY.

GA-ALA. BUSINESS COLLEGE, Macon, Ga.

OUR SPECIALTY

Three two dollar shirts for five dollars.

MADE TO YOUR MEASURE.

Write for samples and measurement blanks.

MODEL SHIRT CO.

Dept. S. Indianapolis, Ind.

BEAUMONT COLLEGE

HARRDSBURG, KENTUCKY.

There is absolutely no other school for Women and Girls in the South. It offers the greatest benefits for the smallest outlay. That approved modern improvements—Electric Lights, Hot Water Heating, Complete outfit of Bath-room, etc., etc. Grounds of forty acres, universal consensus, the most thoroughly beautiful school grounds in America. Offers to the ambitious thorough preparation for the great universities. Col. Th. Smith, A. M., Pres. (Alum, Univ. of Va.)

RISO'S CURE FOR

CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
 Best Cough Syrup, Cures Croup, Whooping Cough, etc. In time. Sold by druggists.

THERE'S MONEY IN CORN STALK.

Write for free catalog. I. A. Madden, Atlanta, Ga.

Thompson's Eye Water

If afflicted with weak eyes, use

Free to Kiss.

An Irish judge stated that if any woman were brought before him on a charge of slapping or scratching a man's face because he had attempted to kiss her he would at once dismiss the charge. He, however, only awarded one shilling damages against a man who had kissed a widow without getting scratched.

Places Made for Them.

It is the amiable custom of the house of lords to preserve, duly "docketed," places in their cloak room for young peers awaiting their coming of age. To show how thoughtful they are in this respect there is a place reserved for the baby Marquis of Donegal against the arrival of his 21st birthday.

To Be an Italian Knight.

Dr. Joseph Spencer Kennard is to have the distinction of being knighted by the King of Italy at the January levee. Dr. Kennard recently removed from Tarrytown, N. Y., and his novels in the Italian tongue have received larger royalties than any Italian novelist, save Gabrielle D'Annunzio.

Countess Lonyay has decided to dispose of all her jewelry and valuables associated with her first marriage to Rudolph of Austria, and the sale will take place by auction in the French capital. The collection has already been placed in the hands of a leading jeweler.

Russell Sage at 89 looks to be only 60, and is seen in the haunts of busy men.

BABY'S INSTINCT

Shows He Knew What Food to Stick To

Forwarding a photo of a splendidly handsome and healthy young boy, a happy mother writes from an Ohio town:

"The enclosed picture shows my 4-year-old Grape-Nuts boy.

"Since he was 2 years old he has eaten nothing but Grape-Nuts. He demands and gets this food three times a day. This may seem rather unusual, but he does not care for anything else after he has eaten his Grape-Nuts, which he uses with milk or cream, and then he is through with his meal. Even on Thanksgiving Day he refused turkey and all the good things that make up that great dinner, and ate his dish of Grape-Nuts and cream with the best results and none of the evils that the other foolish members of the family experienced.

"He is never sick, has a beautiful complexion, and is considered a very handsome boy. May the Postum Company prosper and long continue to furnish their wholesome food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in every pkg.

OUT TO PULL ALONG.

What's the use in sighin' if your soul can sing a song?

Rainy day or sunny, you've got to pull along!

Hurricane a-blowin', or tide a-runnin' strong.

Time is a-flyin'—is a-flyin'!

What's the use in wishin' for the dead an' dusty years?

Didn't they have crosses? Didn't they have cares?

What's the use in weepin'? World will never heed your tears:

Time is a-flyin'—is a-flyin'!

Take the road contented—an' the old world at its best;

Travel soon is ended; there'll be time enough for rest.

When the Shadow comes an' scatters dust an' daisies o'er the breast:

Time is a-flyin'—is a-flyin'!

Time is a-flyin'—is a-flyin'!

—Atlanta Constitution.

THE WHITE LIES

OF JULIETTE

Inconvenience of Always Telling the Truth Pointed Out in a Girl's Journey.

From the French.

JULIETTE TO HER FATHER.

DEAR FATHER—No one could possibly feel more keenly than I your reproaches yesterday morning when I was just leaving for Cherbourg with my governess, Miss Harriet, and my little brother, Paul. In spite of your having forbidden it, the last thing I did before my departure was to brush my cheeks with my powder puff.

This you perceived as you bade me good-bye. Caught unawares, I denied the fact as stupidly as I did energetically, and you did not spare your denunciation.

Of course I am heartbroken to think that I have ever displeased you, dear papa, so I immediately made up my mind that the best way to prove my repentance and show my respect for your counsels was to be conform blindly to your counsels.

This is how I set to work to practice them that very day.

No sooner had we taken our seats in the train, Miss Harriet, Paul and I, than the guard came to take our tickets. According to your instructions we had bought Paul's at half price.

"I am sure that child ought to pay the full fare," said the guard; "he is certainly more than seven years old."

"He is eight years old, sir," I said, openly.

"Ten francs more, then," replied the guard.

We paid and the train started. Miss Harriet was not at all pleased with my interference, and she scolded and spluttered away until she finally wound up by telling me that she did not think we appreciated her sufficiently.

"I heard your father say the other day that I was stupid," she said. "You needn't deny it, for you can't!"

Of course I had to tell her the truth. "He didn't say you were stupid," I answered, "but he did say that you were a goose."

Mercy! That was worse than ever. She looked at me as if she would like to eat me up. She did not say much, but I think, dear papa, that you had better be on the lookout for another governess.

We reached our destination without further adventure, except at the custom house, when we were asked to declare the brandy, the cologne, the same for my aunt at Cherbourg and all the rest of the things. This cost fourteen more francs.

After an hour's ride in the carriage we at length threw ourselves into the arms of your sister. Thin and bony, more homely than ever—I am still being perfectly frank, you see—she stood waiting for us on the threshold of the old house which you are so anxious to sell to her.

"Why didn't your mother come with you?" she asked me at once.

"Oh, mamma was delighted to get rid of us so that she could have a good time with papa," I replied, for was it not the truth?

"She is not ill, then?"

"No, indeed."

"She wrote me that she was ill. Ah! I understand perfectly; I am to have all the care and worry of taking care of the children while she amuses herself."

She did not seem pleased, somehow. I tried to caress her and soothe her.

"But you love me, little one, don't you?" she said.

"Yes, aunt," I replied.

"As much as your mother?"

I was about to tell a lie. Fortunately I remembered your words in time, so I answered her truthfully.

"Oh, no, indeed, aunt, not nearly so much."

"Is it because you think your mother is prettier and more agreeable than I?" she persisted.

"That is exactly the reason," I replied.

She frowned at me as blackly as Miss Harriet had done, but she gave me one last chance to redeem myself.

"Why, how old do you think I am?" she demanded crossly.

Again I was absolutely frank and said just what I thought.

"Nearly sixty, I should judge."

"Little fool, I am only forty-five," and as she seemed quite inclined to box my ears I thought it was high time to get the presents that I had brought to her.

"Here is a centerpiece that mamma sent you," I said as quickly as I could get hold of it.

"It is very pretty," and aunt appeared delighted. "But what especially touches me is the thought of all the stitches that my sister-in-law has taken for me herself."

"Oh, but she didn't embroider it herself," I said hastily, for I remembered how pained you would feel at such a departure from the truth; "the waitress did the work on it."

Aunt scowled more fiercely than before, and I handed her your box of chocolates.

"What! From Potin's?" exclaimed aunt, smiling, all her frowns vanishing as if by magic. "His chocolate is always the best, but it is so expensive."

This time, dear papa, it concerned you, so I told her the truth at once.

"The box is from Potin's, aunt," I said. "Mamma had it given to her on New Year's Day, but papa got the chocolate at the little shop on our corner."

Aunt looked as if she had a whole thunderstorm inside of her, and the frowns were in full force as she said sourly:

"I hoped that your parents would have the decency to come and see me themselves. Your father wants to sell me this house, and as he said he had had it specially repaired for me, perhaps I might be suited very well!"

"How curious!" I remarked, saying exactly what I thought. "There haven't been any workmen here for three years, for I heard papa say so!"

"Ah!—And do you also know why your father wants to sell the house?"

I was tempted to be silent, but, instead, I said frankly:

"It is too noisy here to be endurable, and, besides, there are stables close by."

I cannot describe, dear papa, the unfortunate effect of these undeniable truths. My aunt left the room hastily and banged the door behind her.

I should have renounced them and there the attempt to be truthful if Gaston de Tournettes had not just that instant jumped from his horse and come hastily into the room. I wished to announce his arrival to my aunt, but he stopped me, saying that he had heard of my intended visit here and had come to see me the instant he knew I had reached the city.

He said that he wanted to speak to me and not to my aunt. Thereupon he began to say many very pleasant things to me, and finally asked openly if I liked him.

Ah! my dear papa, if it had been disagreeable to me before to tell the truth I assure it was quite different this time.

"Indeed, you please me very much, Monsieur Gaston, and you always have."

"Then you are not afraid to become my fiancée?"

"On the contrary, I shall be delighted to do so," I said frankly, remembering how you had said he was the most eligible bachelor of the season.

"And you will love me?" he continued.

"I love you already—"

But I will stop here, dear papa, for it seems to me that I can see you frowning this time, and I can hear your voice growling:

"Naughty girl! You have said as many impertinent and awkward things as you have told the truth!"

So let me hasten to reassure you, dear papa. This is all a story that I have made up to tell you.

Paul paid no more than half fare and Miss Harriet is convinced that we could none of us get along without her, and that we think she is the very salt of the earth! The brandy passed the customs officers beneath their eyes and noses, and they never suspected a thing.

My aunt is delighted with mamma's centerpiece, which she thinks is all her own work, and she is perfectly satisfied with the cheap chocolate in the Potin box. She will certainly buy the house. And as for poor Gaston de Tournettes, he is still ignorant of my sentiments!

I merely wished to show you, a trifle maliciously perhaps, but perfectly respectfully, I assure you, that the truth you talked so much about is not always expedient to tell. Indeed, you would not think it was modest or fitting for a lady to issue from her well and travel about through the world without being adorned and veiled to a certain extent.

You had far better trust to woman's tact, fluency and taste to render her sociable, amiable and even pretty and bewitching without losing any of her natural grace! Cover her with a little anodyne in the shape of a few innocent lies and she may journey freely without fear of injury.

Thus, dear papa, do not scold me so severely another time. I promise that I will tell only nice, white, innocent little lies, and you must admit now, yourself, that they make life vastly more agreeable and easy to live! In fact, there is no getting along without them!

JULIETTE.

The Country Editor.

The worm will turn. Sometimes it takes the worm a long time to make up its mind to do it, but sooner or later it does. Every man who has served time as editor of a country newspaper has experienced the trouble referred to in this little anecdote, but not all of them have had the courage to resent it.

Let there be a society function in the little city and the local editor present, some will approach him with a smile and say:

"Well, getting some news to put in your paper?"

Of course they mean well, but they seem never to realize that perhaps even a country editor can lay aside his professional duties long enough to go out in society and meet his friends on a social basis.

"Deacon" Bobbys, one of the best known country editors in Missouri, suffered this sort of thing for years, and although it rankled in his bosom, he never let on, but smiled in return and nodded assent. But at last patience ceased to be a virtue. Not long ago he attended a social affair in his home town, going as an invited guest. While mingling with his friends a local grocer greeted him with the remark:

"Good evening, 'Deacon." Getting some news for your paper?"

"Yes, that's what I'm here for," replied "Deacon." "By the way, Mr. Sands, are you here to drum up some trade for your store?"

Of course the grocer got mad about it, but "Deacon" only grinned and resumed mingling with his friends.—From W. J. Bryan's Commoner.

Cloves.

The word clove is derived from a Spanish word meaning a nail—the similarity in shape between a clove and a tiny nail is easily recognized. Cloves are the flower buds of a tree which grows to a height of fifteen to forty feet. These flower buds are the principal products of the tree. They are gathered carefully, exposed to the smoke of wood fires, and afterward to the heat of the sun; or again they may be dried by the sun alone. Cloves are much used both in savory and in sweet dishes. In braizing, making a soup, stew or ragout, no cook would think of dispensing with an onion stuck with cloves.

British Postoffice Rules.

The rules of the British postoffice are presumably liberal regarding what may be sent by mail. But there is, of course, some red tape, as this wall from a person who wished to send a copy of a will by mail goes to show.

He writes: "The postoffice allows you to do a good deal that you never want to do. You may, for instance, send a live bee by post; you may even, with the special permission of the postmaster general, send what the Postoffice Guide describes as 'any living creature.' But if you try to send a copy of a will to America your troubles begin. It seems absurd that while, apparently, a baby can be sent by post a will can not. But, as the postal assistant pointed out when the would-be sender of the latter article returned for the third time to the office with the thing done up right at last, 'You see, it isn't printed matter, and it isn't exactly manuscript, and it isn't commercial. That's where the difficulty comes in.'"

Wright Lorimer.

Wright Lorimer, the star and producer of the big Biblical drama, "The Shepherd King," said to be the largest and most expensive theatrical production ever attempted in this country, is a native of Massachusetts. He received his preparatory education at the Worcester (Mass.) academy, and his collegiate education at Colgate University, afterwards taking a special course in English literature at Oxford University. Mr. Lorimer declined a chair of English literature at the Stanford University and determined to make the stage his field of action. His first appearance on any stage was made as a super with the Dearborn Stock Company in Chicago. "The Shepherd King" is said to be the only successful Biblical play of modern times, being in effect a dramatization of the book of Samuel.

Cricketeer's Autograph.

Dr. W. G. Grace, the most famous cricketer in England, probably has given his autograph as often as any other celebrity. At a match not long ago he wrote his name in the notebook of a little girl. A couple of weeks later, much to his surprise, the same little lady shyly sidled up to him with the necessary documents and the request for his autograph. "But I gave it to you only a few days ago," laughingly said the veteran. "Oh," came the answer, "I changed that one for two bishops." Dr. Grace laughed heartily as he replied: "Well, my dear, if a cricketer is worth two bishops I don't believe I ought to give you another autograph. But your naivete is so delicious I suppose I must. So there you are."

A Rathskeller Car."

A unique piece of rolling stock has been added to the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad. It is a "rathskeller car," which will make daily runs between Pittsburg and Cleveland. The distance is so short many people do not think it necessary to take a Pullman, and the car has been introduced to meet the requirements of business men who make the trip often. The car, which is said to have cost $27,000, is a combination cafe and club affair, the general rathskeller effect being carried out both in convenience and comfort. The decorations are similar to those found in all rathskellers. The trains to which the rathskeller will be attached make the run between Pittsburg and Cleveland in three hours.

Some of the farmers in France have long pedigrees. The French Agricultural Society has offered a prize for the farmer of the longest standing in the Seine Inferieure. This brought to the front an old farmer named Lot, who, besides proving that he was the doyen of his district, produced documents showing that the farm had been in his family for 227 years. In another neighboring district a farmer named Bernarge produced a pedigree of 217 years. Such instances of long descent are far from uncommon in France.

Hetty Green's Son.

"Ed" Green, the Texas railroad man and son of Mrs. Hetty Green, has become a practical floriculturist. He has purchased a parcel of land near Dallas for $250 an acre and will start a flower farm there. The enterprise will be chartered with a capital stock of $250,000, practically all of which Mr. Green will own, and a fine system of irrigation is to be inaugurated, the water pressure to be of city power.

The adopted daughter and heiress of the late Collis P. Huntington, the well-known railway magnate—Princess Hatzfeldt—has long been a recognized leader of Anglo-American society. Fond of country life, she goes in greatly for hunting and entertains her friends magnificently at Drayton Manor, her beautiful place in Wiltshire.

Dr. Yung Wing, of Hartford, Conn., was the first Oriental who ever graduated from an American college. He took his degree at Yale in the class of 1854. In 1876 he was the Chinese minister to the United States. Dr. Yung Wing is in his 76th year, but is still in good health, and his intellectuality is as bright as in his younger days.

Among the valuable lessons which most other nations can advantageously learn from the experience and practice of Germany is a scientific treatment of insanity in its incipient stages as a physical and possibly curable disease.

Bishop Charles C. Grafton, one of the acknowledged leaders in the "High" Church doctrines of the Episcopal religion, has established a monastery for members of the Benedictine order, of Fond du Lac, Wis.

FEAR FOR NIAGARA.

IMMENSE VOLUME OF WATER DIVERTED FROM FALLS.

Commercial Enterprises Are Making Heavy Drains on This Famous Show-Place—Its Tremendous Electrical Power or the Inducement.

Niagara Falls, August 7.—The volume of water being diverted from the historic Niagara Falls is reaching such proportions that the people of the State are trying to pass laws which will prevent the possibility of a practical wiping out of this sublime natural spectacle.

Water sufficient to develop nearly five hundred thousand horse-power continuously, twenty-four hours per day, for industrial purposes, is now being taken from the river above the Falls, and further developments requiring more water are contemplated.

Probably the largest user of the electricity produced by the waters of the mighty river is the concern which by the five or six thousand degree heat of the electric furnace brings lime and coke into unwilling union, thereby producing what is known as Calcium Carbide.

Dry calcium carbide is lifeless as so much broken rock, but in contact with water it springs into activity and begets abundantly the gas Acetylene. The light resulting from the ignition of acetylene is the nearest approach to sunlight known.

These facts, though of comparatively recent discovery, were soon seized by men with an eye to the commercial possibilities and to-day calcium carbide is being shipped everywhere and used for despoiling darkness in buildings of all descriptions, from the ordinary barn of the farmer to the country villa of the wealthy, as well as for lighting the streets of a large number of towns.

Acetylene can be easily and cheaply installed, and the manufacture and sale of acetylene generators has become a business of recognized standing, has assumed large proportions and is steadily growing.

Camille Flammarion, the celebrated astronomer, proposes to introduce in the French chamber of deputies a bill to make compulsory a perpetual calendar of his own. According to his plan the year should start at the vernal equinox (March 21), and every quarter should contain two months of thirty days and one month of thirty-one days. This would make 364 days and a fete day, not to be counted in any month, would complete the year, while every leap year there would be two such fete days. The same dates would always occur on the same days of the week, and one calendar would last a lifetime.

Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 331 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Books were not bound in cloth until 1823.

For the round trip to Detroit via Queen & Crescent Route. Tickets on sale August 13th and 14th, good returning until August 21st. Ask ticket agents for particulars.

Aristocratic Vegetarians.

Vegetarianism is becoming quite a fad among British aristocrats. The new cult includes such devotees as Lady Anglesey, Lady Essex, Baron and Gwendolen Herbert, Lady Windsor, Baron and Baroness De Meyer, Lord Buchan, Lord Charles Beresford, Neville Lytton and Conan Edward Lytton, now provost of Eton. Fruit seems much to the fore and fruit luncheons are the latest fad.

Queen Blunders in Titles.

Some queer blunders are made in addressing royalty and other titled personages. Lady Dufferin, in India, was once addressed as "Your Enormity." An Abyssinian missive came to Queen Victoria, addressed to the "Queen of Kings, Empress of the Great Red Sea." Her Highland tenants used to say: "Come awa' in and sit doon, Queen Victoree."

Edward's Gold Plate.

King Edward is the owner of a vast store of almost priceless gold plate, the accumulated treasure of successive sovereigns. It is stored in Windsor castle, but is brought to London, carefully guarded, on the occasion of a court entertainment. These treasures are equaled only by those of the winter palace in St. Petersburg.

A WOMAN'S ORDEAL

DREADS DOCTOR'S QUESTIONS

Thousands Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and Receive Valuable Advice Absolutely Confidential and Free

There can be no more terrible ordeal to a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions in regard to her private life, even when those questions are asked by her family physician, and many continue to suffer rather than submit to examinations which so many physicians propose in order to intelligently treat the disease; and this is the reason why so many physicians fail to cure female disease.

This is also the reason why thousands upon thousands of women are corresponding with Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. To her they can confide every detail of their illness, and from her great knowledge, obtained from years of experience in treating female ills, Mrs. Pinkham can advise women more wisely than the local physician.

Read how Mrs. Pinkham helped Mrs. T. C. Willadsen, of Manning, Ia. She writes:

"I can truly say that you have saved my life, and I cannot express my gratitude in words. Before I wrote to you telling you how I felt, I had doctored for over two years steady, and spent lots of money in medicines, but it all failed to do me any good. I had female trouble and would daily fainting spells, backache, bearing-down pains, and my monthly periods were very irregular and finally ceased. I wrote to you for your advice and received a letter full of instructions just what to do, and also commenced to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I have been restored to perfect health. Had it not been for you I would have been in my grave to-day."

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., AUGUST 17 1905.

VOL. 30. NO. 50

GENERAL STATE NEWS.

Current News Garnered as It Falls From the Plant of Report.

Will Have Motor Cars.
Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Superintendent F. W. Monish, of the Tuscaloosa Belt Railroad, has gone on a business trip to Chicago and Omaha. In the very near future the belt line will establish a motor car system, which is said to be the best and the most up-to-date means of locomotion in existence. The cars are built after the style of an electric car, with the exception of the front end, which is of a V-shape, this being of special advantage in making time. The doors open and close by compressed air, and are also heated in the same manner, while the lights both for the headlight and the interior of the car are furnished direct from the gasoline engine. The cars will seat fifty people and make splendid time. These cars are now in operation in Omaha of the Union Pacific Railroad, also at Portland, and are giving splendid satisfaction. When this line is established Tuscaloosa will be the second city east of the Mississippi river to establish this system.

Charged With Forgery.
Scottsboro, Ala.—Thurman Mitchell, a neat looking young white man, was brought down from Bridgeport by the sheriff of the county and lodged in jail here Thursday night on the serious charge of forgery. It seems that Mitchell, who is said to belong to a good family of South Pittsburg, Tenn., and who had just married, went to the bank at Bridgeport and presented a check purporting to have been issued by a Mr. Baumgartner, of South Pittsburg. The cashier of the bank became suspicious at Mitchell's actions and telephoned Mr. Baumgartner, who at once announced it a forgery and requested the bank officials to hold Mitchell, which they did, and in a preliminary trial the justice remanded him to jail without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

Troy Notes.
Troy, Ala.—Slim J. Seals, who has been for three years in the quartermaster's department at San Francisco, has been transferred to Fort Oglethorpe, which is Old Chickamauga. Mr. Seals was reared here and has many friends in this section, who are always pleased to have news from him. He married a Chattanooga girl. Andrew Hughes was brought before Commissioner Tutwiler Friday morning by Deputy Marshal J. F. Greene, charged with illicit distilling near Harper, in Houston county. Deputy Collector Russell and Deputy Marshal Greene raided his distillery several weeks ago, but he was not at home at the time. He was bound over.

Arrested on Two Charges.
Huntsville, Ala.—On a charge of burglary and grand larceny Wilburn Strong, a well-known young man of New Market, has been arrested and lodged in jail. The jewelry store at New Market was burglarized a few nights ago, and several of the stolen watches were sold in Huntsville. The police traced all of the watches back to Strong, and the young man was placed under arrest. The arrest of Strong came as a surprise. He is related to some of the best people in Madison county.

Gadsden's Narrow Escape.
Gadsden, Ala.—Gadsden narrowly escaped a most disastrous fire at 2:15 o'clock Thursday morning, when flames were discovered by Officers Roper and O'Bannon pouring out of the second story of the building owned by Thomas G. Ewing and occupied on the first floor by Dr. R. F. Thornton and W. I. Fullington. The fire was caused by defective electric light wiring and caught in the office of Dr. Thornton, the wall being in a blaze and the flames pouring out off the windows when discovered. The alarm was sounded and the fire engine and reel wagon were on the scene in a few moments.

Killed by Lightning.
Brewton, Ala.—Charles Lewis, a negro employee of the Walden turpentine farm, near town, was killed by lightning Wednesday during a thunder storm. His dead body was found on Thursday under a tree, where it is supposed he took refuge from the rain.

County Bar Organized.
Gadsden, Ala.—The members of the Gadsden bar met at the court house Wednesday for the purpose of organizing the Etowah County Bar Association, and there were present nearly every lawyer in the city, called together by a paper which was circulated several weeks ago for this purpose. The officers elected are as follows: R. A. D. Dunlap, president; W. T. Murphree, J. E. Blackwood and H. T. Davis, vice-presidents; A. B. Brindley, secretary and treasurer.

Two Bales of New Crop.
Brewton, Ala.—The first cotton of the new crop to be marketed in Escambia county has been received at Atmore, two bales having been brought into that market.

Run Day and Night Shifts.
Sheffield, Ala.—The Sheffield rolling mill Thursday put on a day and night shift in an effort to meet the demand for cotton ties and fill its contracts for special bar iron.

Ambrose Cobb Shot.
Pratt City, Ala.—Gus Scherfort, a white man, charged with shooting and seriously wounding Ambrose Cobb, an aged farmer living west of town, about 10 o'clock Thursday night, was brought here Friday morning by Deputy Sheriff Sstes and turned over to the city warden. He was later taken to the county jail at Birmingham. It is said that Mr. Cobb was shot accidentally by Scherfort, who was engaged in a quarrel with his (Scherfort's) father at the time Cobb came up and tried to make peace between the men.

Made His Escape.
Tusculum, Ala.—The negro tramp who made an attempt on the life of Quarantine Officer Ed Little, of this city, near the Alabama-Mississippi state line Thursday morning, shooting the officer in the hand with a 44-calibre Colt's revolver, successfully eluded the posse of officers and citizens who left Tusculum soon after the occurrence to give chase and if possible effect the negro's capture. The Decatur dogs struck the trail where the negro alighted from the train near Cherokee, which was followed for two hours, but finally lost in the woods along the Tennessee river, north of Cherokee.

Escaped Serious Accident.
Brewton, Ala.—What might have been a very serious accident occurred on the Cedar Creek Railroad Thursday. Capt. T. R. Miller and wife and a number of guests were returning in their private car from a trip up the road. Their car was immediately behind the engine, and four carloads of logs were behind it. In coming down a long hill a few miles from town the log cars ran over the private car, turning it sideways on the track and crushing it badly. All of the occupants escaped serious injury, only a few of them getting bruised up a little.

Governor Returned to Blount.
Montgomery, Ala.—Gov. William D. Jelks left Friday afternoon for Blount Springs, where he is spending the summer with his family. He came to his office on the announcement of a case of yellow fever here and has remained as long as there seemed any danger of its spreading. Before leaving the governor paroled Jim Frost, a young boy, convicted in Bibb county last year of forgery in the second degree. The application for clemency was signed by the trial judge and solicitor and recommended by the board of pardons.

Opinion of Fever Expert.
Montgomery, Ala.—"I do not believe that the yellow fever in New Orleans will be stamped out until after frost." This was the statement made by Dr. John Guiteras, the yellow fever expert, formerly connected with the United States marine hospital service, but now stationed at Havana, Cuba, when he was in this city Friday. Dr. Guiteras is recognized the world over as a yellow fever expert, and during the yellow fever at New Orleans the last time he did much toward stamping the disease out. He came here from Tampa, Fla., and left for Mobile, where he intends to stay several days, and then goes to New Orleans.

Mr. Spurrier Honored.
Ensley, Ala.—Harry Spurrier, who for sixteen years has been in the employ of the Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company as foreman of the construction department at this place, was presented with a handsome and costly solid silver set of 106 pieces Saturday afternoon by his fellow employees.

Mayor N. W. Scott, president of the Carnegie Library Association, will call the executive committee together for the purpose of discussing plans for the early erection of the library building.

Negro Killed Resisting Arrest.
Brewton, Ala.—News has reached here of the killing of a negro by G. K. Fountain at the Williams-McLaughlin Company's turpentine camps near Local, in the western part of the county, a few days ago. Mr. Fountain was attempting to arrest a negro by the name of James Reese, who was indebted to the firm and who was trying to escape from the camp, when Columbus Donnelly, another negro, fired upon him with a 44-caliber revolver. Mr. Fountain, seeing his only chance was to shoot, fired two shots at Donnelly, one of them taking effect in the neck and throat, the wound producing death some hours later. The evidence at the preliminary trial showed that the shooting was done in self-defense, and Mr. Fountain was discharged from custody.

Killed by Live Wire.
Tusculum, Ala.—Jim Waltrip, colored, employed as a section laborer on the Southern Railway, was killed by a live electric wire in this city Saturday morning. He was working under the approach of Spring Creek bridge, under which the trolley and electric light wires of the Sheffield Company run, and accidentally came in contact with a heavily charged wire and was a corpse in two seconds.

Sue for Damages.
Gadsden, Ala.—Three damage suits aggregating $90,000 were filed in the city court of Gadsden Thursday by Mrs. Etta Cash, Mrs. Mary A. Watts and Mrs. Sallie Maddox, seeking to recover from the owners of the Curtis-Attalla Lumber Company the sum of $30,000 each for the deaths of their husbands, which were caused by an explosion of a boiler at the saw mill and was a corpse in two seconds.

Two Bales of New Crop.
Brewton, Ala.—The first cotton of the new crop to be marketed in Escambia county has been received at Atmore, two bales having been brought into that market.

YELLOW FEVER NEWS.

The Latest Reports From the Infected District.

New Orleans.—Following is the official record up to 6 p. m. Sunday: New cases, 60. Total cases to date, 963. Deaths, 12. Total deaths to date, 154. New foci, 14. Total foci to date, 202. Total cases under treatment, 343.

The heavy increase in the number of cases which began four or five days ago is beginning to manifest itself in the death list, which can be expected to grow steadily for the next few days. The number of new cases Sunday seems small in comparison with Saturday's record, but it is really nineteen short, as that number of cases were turned in by an inspector just after the hour for closing the report.

Among the cases today is Louis Cucullu, Jr., cashier of the People's bank, who resides far out on North Johnson street. Another case is Maurice Kenny, ex-councilman and ex-member of the legislature. Two of Kenny's daughters were stricken Saturday. Only five of the new foci are above Canal street.

Surgeon White on Sunday made a change in his organization, by which he hopes to accomplish results much quicker. The fumigation and screening work was all done by a central department under Dr. Gessner, which sent squads out on notification of cases by physicians. Sunday afternoon Dr. White assembled all of his subordinates in conference and decided to place the screening and fumigation work under the several district headquarters. Dr. Gessner will be given charge of one of the districts.

Corpus Investigates.
Assistant Surgeon Corpus has just concluded a thorough investigation of conditions in Algiers, that part of New Orleans on the west bank of the Mississippi river. There had been two cases in Algiers since the outbreak of fever and Dr. White determined to ascertain by a house to house canvass if there had been any spread from them. Dr. Corpus reported Sunday that he had found not a single suspicious case, which indicates that the prompt steps taken to screen and fumigate the original cases have been effective in preventing a spread.

Dr. White says that if he could learn of every case in the city and apply the proper methods immediately he is confident that he could stamp out the disease here in a short time. The great cause for the spread has been the concealment of cases and the change of residence of people who have been infected. Dozens of cases are on record which show conclusively that the people had moved away from a house where infection had existed. This Dr. White proposes to stop, and while no drastic measures are being taken, he is enforcing his authority. The effectiveness of the district headquarters, which are making close investigations of the seventeen districts, is responsible for a large number of the new cases which have been reported during the last few days, and as the efficiency of that force increases, an increase in the number of cases daily can be expected. Physicians who have failed to report cases that are discovered are given an opportunity to correct their omission, but a second offense will result in prosecution under the law. This has also brought out a large number of cases that were under cover.

First Death at Patterson.
Patterson, which is the largest center of infection outside of the city, reported three new cases Sunday and the first death. The victim is a young lady. She died Sunday morning and this has naturally depressed the spirits of the people. They have had thirty-nine cases there so far. They have opened an emergency hospital which now has seven patients.

At Bon Ami, in Calcasieu parish, there is now only one case of yellow fever, with no new cases and no suspicious cases. At the detention camp near Tallulah, in Madison parish, there are two cases, one of which is in a serious condition.

State Health Officer Sanders, of Alabama, and Quarantine Officer Moore, of Mobile, are making an inspection of the Mississippi coast towns for the purpose of determining whether it would be wise to lift the Alabama embargo against the Mississippi coast. They reached Gulfport Sunday night without having struck any suspicious illness at any point visited up to that time.

Assistant Surgeon H. G. Egbert reported to Dr. White Sunday and Assistant Surgeons Mullins and Green are expected.

Assistant Surgeon Berry has passed the crisis in his attack of fever and is now on the mend.

While the Italians are gradually becoming pacified and amenable to reason, they are still inclined to run away, and to conceal illness which develops in their families. They are not admitted to most of the localities in Louisiana, no matter how many health certificates they have. Some of the parish boards of health have formally excluded them. The following notice received at the state board of health office is a sample:

Convent Bars Italians.
Convent, La., St. James Parish.—By resolution of our board we have concluded to exclude all Italians and Syrians from entering into St. James parish, with or without health certificates or detention camp certificates, and baggage properly fumigated and stamped."

In the city as soon as an Italian family appears in a neighborhood the people notify the police, who in turn notify the marine hospital service and an inspector is immediately sent to make inquiries and arrange to have them watched.

While the mortality rate in the early stages of the visitation indicated that the type of yellow fever was particularly malignant, it is now apparent that it is not much worse than the fever in 1897. The death rate according to the official record, which shows 963 cases and 154 deaths, is just 16 per cent.

During the last two weeks in July the death rate appeared to be 25 or 30 per cent. The falling off is due to two things. One is that nearly all the cases are being reported now and the other is that many of the Italians are being given proper care and treatment. Yellow fever requires careful nursing and very little medicine and absolute abstinence from solid food for a week or more. A large proportion of the deaths are due to patients who have practically recovered indulging in solid food before the stomach is prepared for it. One case occurred Sunday. An Italian had been discharged from the emergency hospital as cured and warned to abstain from solid food for several days. He went out, but yielded to his hunger and was found dead a few hours after in a garret.

Burial of Archbishop Chapelle.
Following a solemn requiem mass, participated in principally by downtown members of the church, the body of Archbishop Chapelle was laid to rest Friday, the date of interment having been advanced a day in view of the fact that the health authorities considered it unwise to have a public funeral, which would have had the effect of drawing together an immense assemblage of people from all parts of the city. The lower section of New Orleans, in which the cathedral is located, is now so generally infected that there is constant danger from the stegomyia wherever people mass together. Later in the year there will be mass funeral services. The mass lasted for two hours, and the interment was private. Burial was made in a crypt under the cathedral, where lie the bodies of six of the predecessors of the archbishop.

Will Continue Salaries.

Though the wholesale grocery and other houses here have suffered severely by the quarantines, which have closed many towns to them, it is announced that they have decided to reduce no salaries nor to cut down their forces. Drummers in the country who are unable to move from place to place have been notified that they will continue on the salary lists.

Baton Rouge has decided to honor the certificates of the marine hospital service. Doctors and physicians of Nachitoches have addressed the parish and municipal health boards and asked them to obey the proclamation of the state board of health. Towns in St. Andry parish are also falling into line, and the Southern Pacific is beginning to resume service to that parish.

Dr. Tichenor and the yellow fever nurses sent from here are at Bon Ami, and confidence is being restored there. Conditions are not as bad as they were expected to be found. There have been no new cases, and the two cases under treatment have been segregated and screened.

Guilty of Obstructing Highway.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—In the county court at Ringgold, Ga., Friday Miss Alice MacGowan and Mrs. Grace MacGowan Cooke, well-known literary workers, were found guilty of obstructing a public highway.

The court ordered the jury to bring in a verdict of guilty, but at the same time ordered that no sentence be passed until after the supreme court had passed on the case, as the two laws under which the ladies were indicted seemed both obsolete and invalid. An appeal was immediately taken.

Miss MacGowan and her sister, Mrs. Cooke, erected a fence across what is known as a third-class country road which passed through their fine summer place in North Georgia. Country people living nearby immediately objected, and indictments followed.

Bessemer, Ala.—In a difficulty Saturday afternoon between John Andrews and George Ellerson at Parson's livery stable, on fourth avenue, Andrews was seriously cut and the other badly hurt by being struck with a piece of iron. Both are negroes. They quarreled over a debt that Ellerson is said to owe Andrews. It seems that Ellerson had been garbished, and he refused to pay the debt while the garnishment was pending.

RIFT IN WAR CLOUDS

Discussion of Terms, But Consideration of Main Points Postponed.

MAY YIELD SAKHALIEN ISLAND.

Sessions Are Friendly, but Secrecy Makes News a Matter of Deduction.

Portsmouth, N. H.—There is a rift in the clouds. The prospects of a successful issue of the "Washington conference" have brightened somewhat as a result of Saturday's developments. The discussion of the terms submitted by Japan has actually begun, but this has been accomplished by postponing the consideration of the two main issues, indemnity and the cession of Sakhalin.

As far as ascertainable the Japanese were responsible for the tactics by which this hopeful stage was entered upon. As the mantle of secrecy has been thrown around the proceedings by mutual pledges not to divulge what happened within the council chamber, there are missing links in the chain of evidence, and it is impossible to judge whether this signified a back down on either side on the main points.

On the face of things, both sides are still uncompromising as ever upon two issues, the struggle over them being merely postponed. Some sort of private understanding arrived at by Baron Komura and Mr. Witte during the recess at the navy yard Saturday is hinted, but there is not the slightest confirmation obtainable.

No evidence of a change in the uncompromising attitude on the part of Baron Komura or Mr. Witte on the main points is observable. Nevertheless, the Japanese who are attached to the Nippon mission plainly manifest elation and some of them privately assert that Mr. Witte would never have consented to the discussion of the terms had he not been prepared to yield on the question of Sakhalin.

All this appears yet to be largely surmises or deduction, but certainly the curtain of mystery which has now been rung down must conceal important maneuvering from the public gaze. The Russian reply with its non possumus as to indemnity and Sakhalin was presented Saturday morning. Yet in spite of this at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the plenipotentiaries met, and after agreeing to discuss the conditions seriatim entered upon the condition of the first Japanese terms.

The proposition to discuss conditions in this way is believed to have emanated from the Japanese side. The first condition of secondary importance—one of those which Russia had passed upon as conditionally acceptable as a basis of discussion—yet little progress was made.

Four hours were spent in debating it, but no conclusion was reached. As there are two conditions, and this one is of minor importance, the outlook is still gloomy.

Both of Saturday's sessions are described as "friendly," but no details were divulged. Mr. Witte, however, made no concealment of the fact that the rigid secrecy which the Japanese insisted upon imposing upon the proceedings is distasteful to him. With much earnestness he spoke Saturday night to the Associated Press upon the subject. At the time he was laboring under considerable excitement because of the published assertion, which had been called to his attention, that he had pleaded for an armistice. For the dignity of Russia and the pride of his country he asked that an absolute denial should be given to the report.

Recurring to the question of secrecy of the proceedings, he said he did not understand the Japanese desire to conceal what was taking place, nor could he appreciate the logic of the argument adduced in support of their position.

"We desire," said he, "that everything pertaining to the conference should be done in the daylight. Russia is ready to be judged by the whole world. We have nothing to conceal and nothing to fear. Before the conference began all sorts of reports and misstatements emanated from the other side. Now that the world needs enlightenment, now that the moment has come to face the supreme tribunal of public opinion, we are not permitted to place before the world the evidence in our possession from which a just verdict could be returned as to the issue between the belligerents. The Russian envoys stand ready to publish the text of the Japanese conditions, the full reply of Russia, present and past."

Cure for Leprosy.
Manila.—American surgeons connected with the board of health of Manila declare that they have discovered a positive cure for leprosy. Of twenty-five cases treated all have improved, six cases being absolutely cured. Several patients, portions of whose bodies were gone, have recovered. All of the cases have been under observation for at least six months, and it is absolutely impossible to discover a trace of the germs of the disease in the blood of the patients. The method used is a system of X-rays. The surgeons do not desire their names to be mentioned at present. They will ask for the rewards which have been offered by various governments for a cure for leprosy.

Resignation of Sam Moore.

Tusculum, Ala.—Sam Moore, time-keeper and chief clerk in the office of Trainmaster Lasseter, of the Memphis division of the Southern Railway in this city, a position he has held for a number of years, has resigned as such and accepted a position as train dispatcher on the Northern Alabama Railroad at Sheffield. Stenographer Morrison, in the trainmaster's office, will probably succeed Moore.

Railroad Changes.
Anniston, Ala.—Richard H. Cobbs, Jr., who now holds the position as chief clerk to W. E. Knox, superintendent of the Alabama Mineral division of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company in this city, will on the 15th of the present month leave for Birmingham to take the position of chief clerk to Assistant Superintendent Smith, of the Louisville and Nashville at Birmingham.

CHINESE BOYCOTT NOW ON.

Ex-Senator McLaurin Thinks Commercial Bodies Should Act.

Washington, D. C.—The state department has abandoned all hope of bringing about through governmental agencies a satisfactory conclusion to the Chinese boycott of American goods. Former Senator McLaurin, of South Carolina, saw Assistant Secretary Loomis and bears from him a letter virtually announcing that the government has done everything in its power to arrange matters, but without success.

The assistant secretary suggests that one or two Americans be appointed to go to China and personally lay the matter before the Chinese business men.

"The government has done all it can in that matter," said Mr. McLaurin, "and the president has also done everything in his power. We cannot make Chinese buy goods. It is up to the commercial bodies of the United States to appeal directly to the commercial bodies of China. Really about the only course left seems the modification of the laws regarding Chinese immigration. The present situation is not at all surprising. Mr. Wu, when minister to the United States, told me that just such a condition would exist within a few years, and upon the strength of his statement I made a speech in the Senate against the Chinese exclusion law."

Mr. McLaurin has been mentioned as a member of the commission to visit China and look into the situation.

RAINS RUIN CROPS.

Farmers in Wilcox Disconsolate Over Condition of Products.

Camden, Ala.—The incessant rains are doing great damage to crops of all kinds. The cotton crop has shed to a ruinous degree. The bottom crop on the lowlands is beginning to rot; there will be no middle crop, and if the wet weather continues the top crop will be counted as lost. With some farmers the corn will be very good. The forage crop will be short.

The Farmers' Cotton Seed Oil Company has erected a ginney near the mill site and is putting in a system of Pratt elevators with a ginning capacity of four eighty-saw gins. This company also established a bottling works plant.

Many new residences are in course of erection, and the business part of the town has already a new appearance, with many improvements to be added. A new spirit has taken possession of this people, and there seems no end to the building, repairing and beautifying that is going on at present. The many vacant lots, relics of the two devastating fires of 1868-9, are being filled with new business houses. Some of the old-time buildings have been torn away, and new brick structures are going up in their places. The block south of the court house square will present almost a solid brick front.

There is another enterprise, known as the Camden Bottling Works, established on Claiborne street. This makes two such additions for the town. The bakery will begin business Monday. Other small enterprises are in sight.

Lyman Hall Dying.
Atlanta, Ga.—A special to the Constitution from Danville, N. Y., says that President Lyman Hall, of the Georgia School of Technology, who has for several weeks been ill at a sanitarium at that place, is dying, and his physicians have no hope for his recovery.

Chapelle's Successor.
Wichita, Kas.—Catholics here believe that Right Rev. Bishop Theophile Mereschaert, of the Oklahoma and Indian Territory diocese, will be appointed successor to the late Archbishop Chapelle, of New Orleans. The selection is made by the bishop and priests of the archdiocese of New Orleans, which includes Louisiana, Texas, Tennessee, Oklahoma and the Indian Territory.

Bishop Mereschaert, who makes his home in Guthrie, O. T., is at present in Rome on his quadrennial visit to the pontiff. He is a Belgian by birth, and his familiarity with the French language is considered an indication that he is in line for the archbishopric of New Orleans.

Cure for Leprosy.
Manila.—American surgeons connected with the board of health of Manila declare that they have discovered a positive cure for leprosy. Of twenty-five cases treated all have improved, six cases being absolutely cured. Several patients, portions of whose bodies were gone, have recovered. All of the cases have been under observation for at least six months, and it is absolutely impossible to discover a trace of the germs of the disease in the blood of the patients. The method used is a system of X-rays. The surgeons do not desire their names to be mentioned at present. They will ask for the rewards which have been offered by various governments for a cure for leprosy.

Resignation of Sam Moore.
Tusculum, Ala.—Sam Moore, time-keeper and chief clerk in the office of Trainmaster Lasseter, of the Memphis division of the Southern Railway in this city, a position he has held for a number of years, has resigned as such and accepted a position as train dispatcher on the Northern Alabama Railroad at Sheffield. Stenographer Morrison, in the trainmaster's office, will probably succeed Moore.

IS AGAIN AT LARGE

Putilin, a Former Russian Priest, Was Desperate Leader of His Brothers.

SOME VERY DARK DEEDS DONE.

After Being Sentenced to Penal Servitude for Life He Escaped From an Island Prison.

St. Petersburg.—It is reported from Saghalien that in the course of events accompanying the recent invasion of the Japanese there occurred the mysterious disappearance from the island of a convict named Putilin, formerly a priest of Marrinsk, who a year ago was sentenced at Tomsk to penal servitude for life for a series of blood-curdling murders.

A man of immense strength Putilin was very popular among his fellow prisoners, and was a favorite with the convict guards. He played an important part in the propagation of a convict regiment to repel the Japanese, but it is suspected that he took advantage of the disorders accompanying the invasion to make good his escape.

The news of his escape has caused a wave of terror throughout Eastern Siberia. Many believe that the convict priest will throw himself on the mercy of the Japanese if he has not already done so, but some with tremor aver that Putilin will undoubtedly return to the scene of his former crimes.

In the heyday of his prosperity Father Putilin was one of the most honored and respected men in the neighborhood of Marrinsk. But, with his three brothers (all priests and wealthy house owners), Father Putilin in reality lived for years a double life. At night time the criminal quartette, masking their faces, sallied out and waylaid wealthy travelers on the czar's highway. On one occasion they even held up and robbed a Siberian emigrant train.

Finally the four brothers were brought to justice by an anonymous letter, which advised the police that a brass bound chest under the altar of Father Putilin's church, if searched, might be found to contain stolen property.

Concealing themselves in the church at midnight police and detectives to their amazement witnessed the honored priest, Father Putilin, holding a benediction service, in which he blessed his three masked brothers, and sprinkled their murderous revolvers with holy water.

During the trial no fewer than seventeen murders were brought home to this quartette of robber-cleymen.

Surveying New Road.
Lineville, Ala.—The surveyors of the Atlantic and Birmingham Railroad are camped in Lineville this week surveying a route from Roanoke via Lineville and Talladega to Birmingham. This survey traverses one of the richest farming and mineral sections of the state, and the people here feel confident that the advantages of this route will secure the location of the road. The Birmingham and Lineville Railroad is being rapidly pushed to completion. More than 100 teams are moving dirt on the grade between Lineville and Pyriton, and it is believed that the grading will be completed within thirty days.

Another Rural Route.
Troy, Ala.—A rural route station has been approved by the department at Washington for Milo, in this county. Pike county stands second in the state in the number of rural routes, Jefferson county being the only county in that state that has a greater number than Pike.

Given Ovation Along Route.
Chautauqua, Binghamton, N. Y.—President Roosevelt, on his return trip from Chautauqua to his Oyster Bay home, passed the day and night Friday traveling through three states—New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. All along the entire route that afternoon and evening rain fell heavily, but the storm seemed to have little effect on the determination of the people to see the president, and it possible to hear him speak. During Friday afternoon he made brief addresses from the rear platform of his car at Salamanca, Hornellsville, Elmira and Waverly.

For School Tax.
Roanoke, Ala.—The election held in Randolph county Thursday on the question of levying a local tax for the public schools resulted in a victory for the levy by over two to one. The towns were overwhelmingly in favor of the tax. Roanoke gave three to one, Rock Hill four to one and Wedowee two to one. Only three beats out of fourteen went against the measure. A light vote was polled.

Royston, Ga.—The coroner's jury in the case of the homicide of County School Commissioner and former State Senator W. H. Cobb Thursday found a verdict of voluntary manslaughter against Mrs. W. H. Cobb, who did the shooting, and ordered her arrested.

Tusculum, Ala.—A movement is on foot to establish a high school for boys either in this city or Sheffield. Prof. E. Colom, of Nashville, will likely have charge of the school.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1901, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Aug. 17, 05

Telephone No. 17.

The Court House Site.

It appears that the corner heretofore occupied by Friedbergers' livery stable has been chosen as a location for the new court house building, and the old stable has been torn away preparatory to beginning work by the contractor.

That the location chosen is not the one desired by a large majority of the people in the county is a well known fact, and the movement was combatted by Commissioners Griffin and Posey, but all to no purpose. Commissioners Shaw and Dyke voted for the Friedberger corner, Posey and Griffin refusing to vote on that proposition. Here is shown an instance, the only one known, where two is a majority of five, as the Probate Judge can vote only in case of tie, and there was no tie, although Judge Longshore was for the Friedberger corner. A syndicate was formed whereby the Friedberger corner was "swapped" for the property upon which the old court house and old jail stands, and through this deal it is claimed by some that the county is not out anything, while a counter claim is made that the syndicate will realize a handsome profit on the deal. The location on the Friedberger lot will call for the building of new waterworks and a long sewerage at a cost of several thousand dollars which makes it appear that the county is loser in the deal.

A great deal of pressure was brought to bear in this matter, and it appears that those who are in the syndicate, to use the expression of one of them, "had the longest pole" and the best pull, and thus controlled the situation. The above is the modus operandi of the whole matter without any coloring.

Whether or not the rights and interests of the taxpayers have been encroached upon in this deal rests with them to determine, and a great many are "a thinkin' on" the subject. The Sentinel did not think the Friedberger corner the most desirable place, especially when the county owned property which was at least as good if not better, but we appear to have been on the losing side, therefore have nothing more to say upon the subject, preferring the taxpayers to do their own thinking upon the matter.

That Shelby county is to have a fine court house—one of the best in the State—is plainly indicated in the price to be paid, and it ought to be at a first cost of $72,000. Whether or not taxes will be shovelled up because of this debt remains to be seen. We know nothing of the plan by which the debt is to be paid.

Congressman Clayton seems to think Cunningham is all right for Governor, and now the Opelika News has a knife up its sleeve for Mr. Clayton. It appears that Clayton is not bothering his head about what the News says of him.

We were shown a late copy of the New Orleans Picayune last Friday, but in all its sixteen columns there was not one word about the yellow fever in that city. It was a little strange.

Birmingham has raised the quarantine against Montgomery. But few towns in the State apprehended any danger in connection with Montgomery's one case of yellow fever.

There is some talk of an extra session of the legislature. Governor Jelks says if an extra session is called it will not be until after the yellow fever has been squelched.

Governor Jelks and State Health officer Sander should not lose their heads in the little controversy which has been going on between them. Harsh words do no good.

The federal government which is now in charge of the yellow fever situation has a job on its hands sure enough. Last Saturday 105 new cases developed.

It looks very much like the peace negotiations are all off. Russia does not like the demands of Japan, while Japan says pay or fight. And now it look like fight.

The war incident between the Governors of Louisiana and Mississippi over the yellow fever quarantine is a closed incident.

Birmingham has a good case of cleaning up fever.

Say, you little fellows; you are expected to pay the fiddler, and—that's all.

But few express any doubt of Cunningham's nomination and election.

The special tax for public schools was defeated in DeKalb County last week.

An effort was made to burglarize the postoffice in Talladega one night last week.

Captain Hobson should drop his world beater navy and come down to things rational.

There is enough yellow in the South now without supplementing yellow journalism.

It is thought now that only a heavy frost will stamp the fever out of New Orleans.

The peace conference promises to be a lively scrap before the Japs demands for indemnity have been complied with.

An exchange says: "The peek-aboo shirt waist is no longer popular in New Orleans. The stegomyia is doing some good after all."

The city of Tusculumbia has decreased in population 1,224 in the past two years, as shown by the school census which has just been taken.

At Montgomery the quarantine officer gets you "a goin' and a comin'." That is, you must register at the depot in and out if you stop in that city.

It has been recently discovered that two is a majority of five. Naught is a naught and figure is a figure, but all the same the taxpayers hold the sack.

In the location of the court house the few big fish swallowed the numerous little ones although they are to be found in every section of the county.

Although Russell Sage is almost ninety years old, his hand has not lost its cunning in holding onto a dollar. We know a number of local Russell Sages.

Secretary Shaw has launched his little presidential boom, and is using the official pruning knife on those who hold federal jobs who have lined up for Fairbanks. Oh, pshaw!

A goodly number of Columbiana people have cut and burned the weeds on their premises in compliance with an ordinance recently passed by the council. But there are a great many who apparently pay no attention to the order.

The newspapers of Montgomery are to be commended in that they have at no time tried to deceive the people about the yellow fever in that city. There has never been but one case there this season and is has been hustled to a place several miles from the city. It pays to be honest with the people.

The people of Tuscaloosa are not flinging any bouquets at Captain Hobson for saying that the locks in the river at that place are nothing but mere playthings, and should be blown out with dynamite. By the way, Tuscaloosa is in the Sixth district, too—the one which Captain Hobson would like to represent in congress.

The edict has gone forth that Republicans in every congressional district in Alabama must get busy. Everybody is satisfied with Representative Bowie, especially so the Democrats, so there'll be nothing doing among the Republicans in the Fourth district. As one Republican has said: "What's the use; Bowie has a cinch." There's one Republican who knows a sure thing when he sees it.

For Immigration.

The officers of the Alabama immigration association will issue a letter to the people of Alabama within the next few days setting forth the objects of the association and outlining the plan along which it will work.

Secretary J. B. Babb and Vice President Mitchell of Alabama City have been in conference regarding the matter, and they expect to have the letter ready for publication within the next few days.

The officers have decided that it is not best to address a letter to the various industries of the state asking them how many laborers they want and how much money they are willing to expend in securing these laborers, but instead they will get in personal touch with the companies and secure the desired information in that manner.

At the conference between Secretary Babb and Mr. Mitchell it was decided to first secure laborers for the farms, and also farmers for Alabama. With that idea in view they have secured options on about 38,000 acres of good land in Alabama and they are on the lookout for more. This land can be bought at a very reasonable price, and a good class of immigrants will be brought to the state to settle on the land.

The first effort of the officers, representing the executive committee will be to secure several hundred families of immigrants from the northern part of Europe—Norway, Sweden and Germany. It is also the intention of the committee to get as much American labor as possible and also secure Americanized laborers.

The officers have not yet decided who they will recommend as immigration officers, but they have several in view and are making inquiries to learn something of them. The officers will not make any recommendation to Governor Jelks as to whom to appoint unless he requests that they do so.—Age-Herald.

WILSONVILLE.

Allow me with the citizens of our town and community to express our heartfelt thanks for your promptness in ordering the rain for us the past week. Our locals were written Monday morning and mailed to you that evening, and I must say that we appreciate you complying with our request and making the order so promptly.

For on last Monday evening we had a glorious rain, and in fact it has been raining most too much; now we request that you countermand the order to a certain extent, as we are now having a little more rain than we need. This reminds me of a time when a man of your town, many years ago when wooden shoe pegs were used, decided to go into the mercantile business. After getting everything, as he thought, in stock, some one came in and called for ten cents' worth of shoe pegs. He told his customer they were out just then, but would have them in a few days, whereupon he ordered ten dollars' worth. In a few more days he received ten bushels of them, also a letter stating that that was all that could be found in Selma, but that the balance of the order would be sent in a few days. Your merchant replied: "For God's sake keep the money, but don't send any more pegs."

We are glad to see the spontaneous growth of weeds, briars and bushes have been cut down in our cemetery; but we notice that they have not been removed from the enclosure. We are sorry to say that our people, although the best in the world, are negligent in the discharge of their duty to their dead. There is much needed to be done in this line here; many graves need to be refilled, head boards to be erected again, lots to be restaked, and in fact, much to be done that our loved dead ones deserve from us. The negroes have met and cleaned up and remodeled theirs, and can't we white people do equally as well? I think our religious duties demand of us that we look after the silent cities of our loved ones more than we do. Can't we all spend one day at least every six months in our cemeteries? Let's do this; it will do us good. A hint to the wise is said to be sufficient. We take great pains in our homes, our places of business, our churches and our schools to beautify them and make them attractive; so let us take equally as great pains in beautifying our silent cities. I will suggest that we set Tuesday, August 22nd, as a day to be observed in this way, and I earnestly request that all who feel interested in this, whether you have dead buried here or not, to be present on that day and give us a helping hand. Bring your dinner with you and let's spend a whole day in this work. Ladies are also very cordially invited to be with us. If the ministry of our town will join us, we will have a memorial day of it also. Don't forget the day—August 22nd, Tuesday.

We are glad to see the ever pleasant face of our friend H. E. Smith in our midst again. Bro. Smith says he is going to stay at home now for a while as he has had too many good things to eat while away from home, and has become too corpulent, his weight now being 135 pounds. He wishes to reduce his flesh without taking anti-fat treatment, which he thinks he can do very successfully by eating at his own table for a few days.

Dr. Johnson, of Cropwell, is in our midst now and will remain with us during this week, and perhaps longer. He is both carpentering and extracting teeth. The Doctor is one of the old reliables; honest in his work and reasonable in his charges, and I would advise all who need work in the dental line to call and see him at the Drummers' Home this week.

There is very little news in town this week.

The farmers say that the continued rain is making cotton shed a little too much.

Reuben Horsley, of Birmingham, is visiting for a few days with relatives here.

Khevie Thomas, Henry Robertson and John O'Hara attended preaching at the Baptist church here Sunday morning.

Reuben Wilson, who has been carpentering at Selma for some time past, came home yesterday to spend a few day with his family.

We understand that our mayor and council have agreed that we shall have another room added to our school building, and to be completed for our fall term. This will add greatly to the comfort of the pupils. The school opens Sept. 14th.

Dr. Clarence Smith has been holding down Pope's drugstore the past week in the absence of Dr. Robertson, who has been off on a furlough. He returned this morning with that same smiling, handsome face and is ready to serve his customers as usual. Mr. Smith can be found at the brick where he will be delighted to wait upon you in the general merchandise business.

Mosquito Circular.

"No mosquitoes, no yellow fever" is the motto, announced in big black letters at the top of a circular of instruction that the government is sending out.

The document continues as follows:

"The infection of yellow fever is carried by mosquitoes and in no other way is the infection spread.

"Persons take the disease by being bitten by mosquitoes that have previously bitten a yellow fever patient.

"The mosquitoes to become infected must bite a yellow fever patient during the first three days of the attack. These first three days, therefore, are the most important for preventing the access of mosquitoes to a fever patient.

"It is often difficult to decide during the first three days whether a patient has yellow fever; hence the necessity of threatening communities of immediately putting a mosquito bar around a patient who has fever of any kind, and for at least three days."

The necessity of screening and drainage is dwelt upon with much emphasis.

The postoffice department is sending out 15,000 copies of the circulars in Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and Arkansas.

The State Fair at Birmingham this year promises to be better and grander than ever. Work is progressing rapidly on the buildings and everything is being put in ship-shape. That it will be a successful fair there is no doubt.

Troy State Normal.

The State Normal College at Troy offers excellent advantages to those who desire to take higher courses of study. While it is the youngest State institution for education except the Girls' School at Montevallo, it is one of the best and largest, and last year had an enrollment of 433. The faculty is composed of fifteen specialists who have been most thoroughly schooled in the particular branch which they teach. Courses are offered in pedagogy, civics, mathematics, languages, science, manual training, instrumental and vocal music, art and elocution. This school makes a specialty of training teachers for the public schools, and the expenses are moderate in comparison with the advantages offered; they range from $125 to $150 per annum. The location of the school is healthy and of easy access.

If you are thinking of taking a normal course a letter to President E. M. Shackelford, Troy, Ala., will bring you a late catalogue, and any other information you may desire.

Alabama Girls Industrial School Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academic, Pedagogical, Scientific, Commercial, Industrial, Domestic, Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M., D. D.

Marion Military Institute.

The University of Virginia places the Institute on its list of accredited Colleges. The University of Pennsylvania accept the degrees of the Institute, admitting graduates without examination. Other leading universities accord the Institute the same recognition of merit.

Applicants for admission must present testimonials of good moral character and of creditable standing in the school last attended.

Personal attention and individual instruction is given every student. All professors live in the Institute. A home is in each building for the social and moral culture of the students.

For catalogue address, J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none so plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Our New Fall Goods!

We desire to inform the public in general that we are now receiving our stock of New Fall Goods. Ladies, come and see

Our New Dress Goods Line.

You are sure to be pleased. All the latest styles and shades. For men and boys a new line of

Hats, Shoes and Clothing

of the latest Fall Styles and Patterns is now coming in. If you want something neat and nobby we have it for you. We also have a substantial line of Overalls, the Best, Men's and Boys'.

We invite you to come and see what we have. Goods are the best, and the prices right.

MILNER - & - CHRISTIAN.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

G. B. WALKER,

Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER, DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, - - - ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

W. A. PARKER'S LIVERY, FEED,

AND
SALE STABLES.
COLUMBIANA - - - ALA.

While others are talking about their candidacy for Governor, Dr. (next Governor) Cunningham is talking to the school boys and girls.

Livery, Feed and Sale Stables,

S. & L. FRIEDBERGER, Proprietors.
(Successors to E. W. Burt.)
H. M. NORRIS, Manager.

Good Horses, Good Carriages, Careful Drivers.

Your Patronage is Solicited.

Telephone 16. - - - - Bus Meets All Trains.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana: Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts.....	$ 30,818.32	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 30,000.00
Overdrafts.....	50.64	Undivided profits, less current ex-
Banking house.....	5,000.00	penses and taxes paid.....	2,436.16
Furniture and fixtures.....	2,000.00	Individual deposits subject to
Other real estate.....	3,000.00	check.....	34,550.37
Due from banks and bankers in		Time deposits.....	2,784.50
this State.....	0.36 23	Cashier's checks.....	101.00
Due from banks and bankers in		Notes and bills rediscounted.....	16,366.50
other States.....	5,512.57
Currency.....	5,117.00
Gold.....	955.00
Silver, nickel and pennies.....	1,320.19
Checks and cash items.....	5,628.07
Total.....	$ 75,563.22	Total.....	$ 75,563.22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Parkey, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July, 1905.

JOHN R. DYKE,
Notary Public.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

WE WILL APPRECIATE
YOUR ORDER AT ANY TIME.

FRESH BREAD TWICE A WEEK.
LIKE YOUR MOTHER ONCE MADE.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months..... 50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I knew not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

H. C. Dubose, of Monroeville, was in the city several days this week.

Joe P. Roberts made a business trip to Shelby Springs last Thursday.

J. F. Averyt was up from Shelby last Wednesday to see the ball game.

Hon. J. T. Leeper was a visitor in Montevallo several days last week.

A. P. Longshore, Jr., and Joe Bird were visitors to Birmingham last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lawley, of Attala, are in the city visiting relatives and friends.

Alphonse Verchot, of Pratt City, was visiting in town the forepart of this week.

There has been rain in plenty in this section of the country during the past week.

Mrs. H. E. Latham visited her parents in Montevallo several days last week.

Mrs. Lee Kymbly, of Hubbard City, Texas, is in the city visiting friends and relatives.

W. F. Davis was on the sick list several days last week, and is not yet able to be on duty.

The county should now buy a pneumatic tube to connect the jail with the new court house.

J. Q. Wade, of Clanton, was in the city several days last week on business, and visiting friends.

Mrs. A. H. Weaver has returned from Calera where she has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Bailey.

Misses Mamie and Mildred Meroney, of Montevallo, in the city guests at the home of Mrs. M. E. Parker.

A party of Columbiana young people were visitors to Shelby Springs on Wednesday night of last week.

The Clanton ball team just happened to get in the wrong class, that's all. It was a snap for the Columbiana team.

Gordon DuBose, of Ensley, was in the city over last Sunday looking after some business matters and visiting his father.

O. O. Bird, who has been on the sick list for the past two weeks, is improving, and will probably be out in a little while.

John C. Cross and R. A. Blackberry, of Quito, were in the city on Monday looking after some legal matters in the Probate Court.

W. B. Morgan, of Pratt City, was in the city the fore part of this week visiting relatives. We understand Mr. Morgan will probably return to Columbiana and take charge of the German saw mill.

In the two games of ball played with the Clanton team here last week; it was hardly fair practice work for the Columbiana boys. The first game was a shrt out for the visitors and with twenty runs on the board for the home team. The second game showed a score of thirteen to three in favor of the locals. At no time was Clanton in the game; they were outclassed at every point.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Bessie Steele to C. B. Davidson, which will take place in the Methodist church at Montevallo next Tuesday night, the 22nd, inst. They have many friends in and around Montevallo who extend congratulations in advance of the happy event.

Miss Lucile Mahan will arrive in Columbiana tomorrow for a visit with Mrs. H. E. Whitaker. Miss Lucile is blind, but is an accomplished musician, her operation upon the piano being something wonderful for one of her age—and especially for one who is totally blind.

The Sentinel furnishes the best bond and linen stationery for its customers, and guarantees the workmanship to give satisfaction. We have also received a new lot of job faces for commercial work. We are not asking you to take just any old thing.

During the sickness of Agent Davis the office has been in charge of George Bird, and he says the duties of the office have sure made him attend to his knitting. There is the making of a good office man in Mr. Bird.

George Randall, of Marion Junction, was in town last Saturday. We understand Mr. Randall is interesting himself in a boys' school which he and others are trying to establish near Ebenezer in beat 4.

In this issue of The Sentinel will be found the new advertisement of the Latham Drug Co. These gentlemen are in the market for your drug business and they feel like telling you about it.

Miss Olive Nelson entertained a number of young people on Tuesday night, complimentary to Miss Lucile Meroney, of Avondale, and Misses Mildred and Mamie Meroney, of Montevallo.

Miss Rob Wallace, of Klein, arrived in the city last Sunday for a visit with her sister, Mrs. W. A. Parker. Miss Rob has numerous friends in Columbiana all of whom are glad to see her.

Captain Jno. W. Bolin, from near Wilsonville, has the thanks of The Sentinel for a fine watermelon. It was of the Georgia rattlesnake variety—the best in the world, and weighed 17 pounds.

One of the hardest rains that ever fell in this section, came down last Thursday—it was a regular flood. It came in good time, however, as the ground was getting very dry.

Mrs. J. W. Haygood, who has been in the city for the past two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nelson, returned to her home in Montgomery last Sunday.

N. V. McClinton, one of the good old farmers of beat 4, was in town last Saturday. He is a great friend of The Sentinel and never fails to send it on when in town.

Miss Lucile Meroney, of Avondale, is a guest of Miss Olive Nelson.

Miss Amy Searlrough, of near Anniston, is a guest this week of Miss Rosser Christian.

J. S. Falkner, who is now employed in Ensley, was in the city over Sunday visiting friends.

Charles Leeper, of Birmingham, is a guest in the city of his brother, J. T. Leeper, for a short time.

The rains last week made the trains run on a kind of a go as you please schedule. The track was pretty soft in a number of places.

Mrs. J. H. Mason and family left last Thursday for Talladega where they will make their future home, Mr. Mason being employed in that city.

Those who may have noticed saw a peculiar sight in the heavens last Friday night—a double circle around the moon. It was a pretty sight even if peculiar.

When you have a house to build you always want the best carpenter you can get. Bring your job work to The Sentinel office and have it done by a printer.

The attention of our readers is called to the change in the advertisement of Milner & Christian in this issue. They are advertising their new fall goods which are coming in.

A fine boy babe arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts on Monday night, and if Harry had had a game of ball to play on Tuesday he would have skinned the world, Grandpa Chapman says he is a fine boy, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. S. Pitts entertained a number of friends at their home Monday night, complimentary to Mr. Brown, of Sylvaunga, and Miss Rowie Black, of Birmingham. A most delightful time was had by those who were present. In a word contest the prize was won by Miss Margaret Browne. Light refreshments were served.

A Card.

To whom it may concern:

We, the church at Summer Hill, in Conference, do hereby certify that the report circulated on Sister Sanfrey Nelson (daughter of Rev. T. M. Nelson), as having killed a man at Sycamore is an absolute falsehood and without foundation. She is a member with us in full fellowship, without a blemish on her christian character, and is worthy of the respect of all good people. She was raised among us, and we know whereof we speak. We do not know how this report could have started, but shame upon the individual who made and circulated such a falsehood on this innocent, harmless and meek character. For it must needs be that offenses come, but woe to that man by whom the offense cometh. Done by order of the church in conference, Aug. 5, 1905.

J. L. BUSBY Moderator.

J. E. JOHNS, C. C.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, Prop. Sullivan's House, El Reno, O. T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c and $1.00. sold by Williams Bros.

DISPENSARY APPEARS TO BE MONEY MAKER.

Tuscaloosa Reaps Rich Harvest
From its Dispensary.

Tuscaloosa, Aug. 8.—The Tuscaloosa dispensary continues to do a thriving business. The report for the month of July shows a splendid business for the month, in fact the best business for the year excepting the month of January. The total sales for the month of July amounted to $10,390.75. The net profit for the month were $3,940. The largest day's sale amounted to $829.65, while the average sales were 416.63. The total sale for the first seven months of this year amounted to $68,594.50; the net profit for the seven months amounted to something like $19,950.

Broke Even.

The contest between Pell City and Columbiana ball teams in Talladega last Saturday to decide which team is entitled to the amateur championship of the State, they broke even—Columbiana winning the first game by a score of 2 to 1, and Pell City winning the second game by a score of one to nothing. The third game is to be played in the near future.

In the first game Harry Roberts struck out thirteen men and allowed but one safe hit, while Montgomery for Pell City struck out two men and allowed six safe hits. The second game was called in the last half of the sixth inning because of darkness, the score at the end the fifth (rule decision) being one for Pell City and nothing for Columbiana. The game was won for Pell City by Wagner, one of Birmingham's league players—one of the Coal Barons' team. Mr. Pratt, of Pell City, umpired the games, and the Columbiana boys say he gave all a square deal.

Wanted,

Wanted, two (2) experienced in surance men with horse and buggy; each $1.50 per day, and a liberal commission.

T. A. Leathers.
Division Agent, Columbiana, Ala.

HARPERSVILLE.

The rain last week has improved crops wonderfully.

There is some sickness in our community, although no serious case.

Miss Jennie Norris, of Russellville, is visiting Harpersville friends.

Mr. Green, of the Tuscaloosa Female College, was in our community last Saturday looking up girls for his school.

Uncle John Jones was off all of last week in Talladega county visiting the fair sex. We wouldn't be surprised if some one will not have to say yes or no pretty soon.

Yes, Mr. Editor; Governor Johnston did leave Montgomery when the yellow fever was there, but he never stayed out of the State twelve months while he was Governor, and draw his salary all the same. "Rah" for Johnson. (Jake, we didn't think it of you.)

Comey may run for Governor, but running will be about all. Mark what I tell you: Cunningham will be the next Governor, and so will Bowie continue to go to congress from this district.

Earl Martin and family, of Birmingham, are spending a few days with T. J. Martin and family, Earl's father.

Jake.

Stop that Cough.

When a cough, a tickling or an irritation in the throat makes you feel uncomfortable take Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Don't wait until the disease has gone beyond control. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Anderson, 354 West 5th St. Salt Lake City, Utah, write, "We think Ballard's Horehound Syrup the best medicine for coughs and colds. We have used it for several years; it always gives immediate relief, is very pleasant and gives perfect satisfaction." 25c 50c, and $1.00. sold by Williams Bros.

Keystone.

We are here; we are glad we are here.

Keystone is one of the prettiest places in Shelby county. Nature has given us a beautiful landscape, and plenty of pure running water. We are located at the foot of the celebrated Oak Mountain, and on the banks of Buck Creek. We are in a good community, and blessed with good citizens. We have a progressive company here, known as the Keystone Lime and Lumber Company, of which R. E. Bowden is at the head. He is a broad-minded business man, and a promoter of wonderful capacity. We have nine lime kilns, a saw mill and several other industries. The company store, destroyed by fire some time ago, has been rebuilt and ready for occupancy by the 15th, inst.

Mrs. Lanham and Mrs. McElroy of Selma, are visiting here this week. They are charming women and we welcome them in our midst.

H. A. Hendrix, our general bookkeeper, will leave in a short time for a visit to Monroe county. Lee Hill will succeed him.

H. Clay Fulton, who has been in charge of the Company store here, will go with the Ramsey McGinnis Co. as store manager at Echols, on the 15th, inst. H. K. Sessions, who has been store manager for the Climax Coal Co. at Maylene for the past five years, will succeed Mr. Fulton. Mr. Sessions is a wideawake business man, and we congratulate the Keystone Lime Co. in securing his services. A good company and a good business man make things go easy in a business way.

Tyler Coalman and Monroe Tardy of Birmingham, all commercial evangelists." were in our town this week.

Messrs. Bowden and Carter transacted business in Birmingham this week.

Misses Tabor and Lucile Cary are the guests of their brother Edgar. Jno. B. Farrell passed through our town, Monday, enroute to Birmingham.

The Rev. Jno. May was a pleasant caller this week.

There is plenty of work here for all who are energetic; others need not apply.

We recommend Keystone to all good people, but we are not going to bore you any longer this time. Friend.

Cures Sciatica.

Rev. W. L. Riley, L. L. D. Cuba New York, writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pains from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment; the first application giving my first relief and the second entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c and $1.00 sold by Williams Bros.

Pierce Mason left Tuesday morning for Talladega Springs to visit relatives and friends for a short time, before returning to Greensboro to school.

Herbina.

Render the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drink. C. L. Caldwell Agt. M. K. and T. R. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes, April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbina. It has made me sound and well." 50c. sold by Williams brothers

TO THE PUBLIC!

Prescriptions Accurately Compounded.

Accuracy in compounding prescriptions, the purest drugs and no substitution of one drug for another, is a motto we adhere to strictly in our prescription department. And we fill prescriptions day or night.

The Purest Patent Medicines.

Without any boastful spirit we wish to say we carry the largest stock of standard patent medicines of any store in this section.

In the Sundries
Department

We have a beautiful line of fine stationery and toilet articles, magazines, and the best stock of cigars. We'll appreciate your trade.

LATHAM DRUG CO.

.. INVEST ..

WHERE YOUR MONEY IS SAFE AND
YOUR DIVIDENDS SURE.

THE STEPHENSON LAND & LUMBER COMPANY,
of Stephenson, Wis., offers you that opportunity. To increase its business it will sell 30,000 shares of Treasury Stock at $1.00 per share. New and up-to-date plant.

PAYS 3 per cent
Monthly Dividends.

Lumber and Shingle Mill at Koss, Mich., on the Wisconsin and Michigan Railroad. Have a mill pond that holds three million logs. Our yards contain 40 acres of land with sidetracks running through it. 40 thousand feet of lumber, 30 thousand lathes and 60 thousand shingles daily. There is no mortgage on our plant; we sell this stock to get additional working capital. Shares $1.00 each. Invest today. Make checks payable to

GEO. PERKINS & CO.

Fiscal Agents,

320 Grand Ave.,

Milwaukee, Wis.

Fourth District Agricultural School, Sylacauga, Alabama.

Competent and experienced instructors. Scientific and Agricultural courses. Thorough preparation for college. Beautiful and well arranged buildings and grounds. Next session begins Sept. 12th. For further information and catalogue, address T. C. MOORE, President.

Opportunities in California

The trade in the Orient is opening up.

Our exports to Japan and China multiplied during the last year.

There will soon be a tremendous increase in the trade of the Pacific Coast cities with the Far East.

Big opportunities for the man who lives there. Why not look the field over?

Only $62.50, Chicago to San Francisco or Los Angeles and return, May 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 29, 30, 31, June 1, August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14, 1905. Tickets good for return for 90 days.

Rate for a double berth in a comfortable tourist sleeper from Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and many other points in California, only $7. Through train service from Union Passenger Station, Chicago, via the

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line

This is the route of The Overland Limited, leaving Union Passenger Station, Chicago, 6.05 p. m., and The California Express at 10.25 p. m. The California Express carries tourist sleeping cars to California every day. Both trains carry through standard sleepers.

Complete information sent free on receipt of coupon with blank lines filled.

W. S. HOWELL,
Gen'l Eastern Agent, 381 Broadway,
NEW YORK CITY,
or

F. A. MILLER,
General Passenger Agent,
CHICAGO.

Name _____
Street address _____
City _____ State _____
Probable destination _____
CALIFORNIA

COMMODORE NICHOLSON RECOMMENDS PE-RU-NA

COMMODORE Nicholson of the United States Navy, in a letter from 1837 R street, Northwest, Washington, D. C., says:

"Your Peru-na has been and is now used by so many of my friends and acquaintances as a sure cure for catarrh that I am convinced of its curative qualities and I unhesitatingly recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint."

Our army and our navy are the natural protection of our country.

Peru-na is the natural protection of the army and navy in the vicissitudes of climate and exposure.

We have on file thousands of testimonials from prominent people in the army and navy.

We can give our readers only a slight glimpse of the vast array of unsolicited endorsements Dr. Hartman is constantly receiving for his widely known and efficient remedy, Peru-na.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Address: THE REGISTRAR, Gibson Hall.

WANTED-- Address of (1) persons of part Indian blood who are not living with any tribe, (2) of men who were drafted in Kentucky, (3) of mothers of soldiers who have been denied pension on account of their marriage, (4) of men who served in the Federal Army, or for the nearest kin of such soldiers or sailors, now deceased.

NATHAN RICKFORD, Attorney, Washington, D. C.

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHILE ALL ELSE FAILS. Back Cough Syrup, Throat Lozenges, In time. Sold by druggists.

CONSUMPTION

Rich Bureau Chief.

Gifford Pinchot, chief of the government forestry bureau, is a wealthy man, but keeps his position through love of the work connected therewith.

He is practically the first American to make forestry a profession. His salary of $3,500 is not much of an object to him, and doubtless he would be just as enthusiastic if the government did not pay him anything. He has thrown himself heart and soul into the work, giving to it all his time and strength, and working much harder and many hours longer than the ordinary government clerk, who is solely dependent upon the government for his support.

Muscular Christianity.

Rev. R. B. Scott, pastor of the Baptist church in Fairmount, Va., is evidently a believer in muscular Christianity. In the midst of the service Sunday night a man named World entered the church and informed the minister that his (World's) house, near by, was being robbed. The pastor made the announcement from the pulpit, cut short the closing exercises, and the congregation resolved itself at once into a sort of posse comitatus to hunt burglars. Upon reaching World's house it was found the burglar had fled.

Of the 136,561 freight cars ordered for American railroads last year 55,000 were of steel construction.

HEART RIGHT When He Quit Coffee.

Life Insurance Companies will not insure a man suffering from heart trouble. The reason is obvious.

This is a serious matter to the husband or father who is solicitous for the future of his dear ones. Often the heart trouble is caused by an unexpected thing, and can be corrected if taken in time and properly treated. A man in Colorado writes:

"I was a great coffee drinker for many years, and was not aware of the injurious effects of the habit till I became a practical invalid, suffering from heart trouble, indigestion and nervousness to an extent that made me wretchedly miserable myself and a nuisance to those who witnessed my sufferings.

"I continued to drink coffee, however, not suspecting that it was the cause of my ill-health, till, on applying for life insurance I was rejected on account of the trouble with my heart. Then I became alarmed. I found that leaving off coffee helped me quickly, so I quit it altogether, and having been attracted by the advertisements of Postum Food Coffee I began its use.

"The change in my condition was remarkable, and it was not long till I was completely cured. All my ailments vanished. My digestion was completely restored, my nervousness disappeared, and, most important of all, my heart steadied down and became normal, and on a second examination I was accepted by the life insurance Co. Quitting coffee and using Postum worked the cure." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason, and it is explained in the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

BUILDING IN CHINA.

NATIVE LABOR NOT SO EFFICIENT AS FOREIGN WORKMEN.

Ordinary Coolie Labor is to be Had for from $2.50 to $4 per Month and the Chinaman Boards Himself—Cost of Living and Prices of Materials.

Consuls in China constantly receive inquiries as to opportunities for the establishment of various industries in Chinese open ports, with requests for information as to the cost of buildings, the matter of securing sites and the kind of labor to be had. The matter of sites has come to be a rather serious one in Amoy and several other open ports, but, as a rule, locations can be obtained for almost any industry under fair conditions and at prices which would be considered very fair in the United States.

Building materials vary greatly in quality and price. Imported materials are high in price, and the time required to secure them often is a serious drawback to their use. Native materials, price and everything considered, are likely to be most generally used. In Amoy, probably an average port in this respect, lumber is practically as costly as it is in the United States, and for the better grades costs more. Brick and tiles are comparatively cheap, especially the more common grades, the average value of the brick and tiles of all kinds passing through the imperial customs last year in Amoy being $7.13 gold per 1,000, the better grades bringing this average price up higher than the common grades justify. At present a very fair grade of brick can be bought in Amoy, laid down at the building site, for about $12 a thousand (local currency), or about $5.60 gold. Lime, however, is unusually expensive. It is made by the natives from oyster and other shells, is indifferently burned, and is used as sparingly as the owner of the building will permit. Brick and tiling are larger and heavier than similar goods in the United States, and if carefully burned are very good materials, both in Amoy and in other ports which have come under my observation. Their chief faults are the result of careless work and a lack of facilities to care properly for them during manufacture.

It is in the matter of labor, however, that the most uncertain element lies, and what is true of building is true in a larger and more vital sense of labor in an industry after it has been established. Chinese labor can be had at a very low price. Ordinary coolie labor is to be had from $2.50 to $4 gold per month, and the coolie theoretically boards himself. An ordinary Chinese literary graduate can be had for from $15 to $25 a month. But this really means little unless there can be an adequate understanding of the sort of labor that is to be had and other labor conditions, which are to be met. Chinese labor varies greatly, not only among men in the same port, which is to be expected in any country, but among the different tribes—races they may be called—in different provinces and ports. It is the general statement of men who are familiar with all of China that the further south one goes in the empire the less satisfactory the labor becomes. The Chinese of the north are large and strong physically as compared with the men of the southern provinces, and there may also be noted a difference in disposition, energy and temperament, with the advantage in favor of the northern man. I think it is safe to say that a northern coolie at $8 Mexican per month is worth more than a southern coolie at $6 per month. No Chinese labor will compare with foreign labor in efficiency, on the whole, although a foreign food and care on a foreign basis, will very often do better than most foreign laborers, and probably this indicates what may be done in China with better industrial conditions. Chinese labor is tractable, on the whole, generally reliable and will average up well with that of other nations in fidelity to the interest to an employer.

There is probably nothing upon which opinion is so divided among foreigners and others in China than upon the matter of labor. That Chinese labor is cheaper than other labor, all things considered, however, is amply demonstrated in the fact that wherever it is allowed to come into full competition with other labor it soon has possession of the field. In establishing industries in China it is well to remember that foreign supervision for Chinese labor costs considerably more than supervision for the same industry in the United States. While there is probably no really sound reason why living should cost more for foreigners in China than their living would cost in the United States, it is a fact that most foreigners in China insist upon living on a different scale from what they would in the United States and Europe, and foreign labor costs more. Gradually this state of things will probably be changed, but at least for several years to come the item for foreign labor will be a very considerable one in all expense accounts.

There are promising fields for many industrial enterprises in China and the Far East generally, but before American or other foreign interests enter them there should be a careful investigation of the special conditions to be met and the difficulties to be overcome. A closed sugar establishment at Swatow and a spinning concern at Shanghai losing money indicate that all is not as satisfactory as it might be, although other concerns declaring dividends of as high as 20 per cent per annum on their capital stock indicate what may be the result of investments carefully made and energetically pushed.—United States Consular Report.

STORY OF A GREAT DIAMOND.

How the Regent Came Into the Possession of the Duke of Orleans.

One of the most beautiful diamonds in the world is the Regent. It belongs to France. Beside its dimensions, which are considerable, it unites various qualities which further augment its value. When rough it weighed 410 carats. Its present weight is only 136 carats. Its cutting, which is of great excellence, required two years of work. It was valued in 1791 at 12,000,000 francs. This diamond was purchased in the rough state by the grandfather of William Pitt for 342,000 francs. The Duke of Orleans, then Regent of France, acquired it in 1717 for the sum of 3,375,000 francs.

According to St. Simon, who gives an interesting recital of the purchase of the stone, there is quite a different version from that ordinarily accepted.

"Through an extremely rare opportunity an employee in the diamond mines of the Grand Mogul was able to extract one of very large size. He found means of embarking and reaching Europe with his diamond. He took it to England, where the king admired it, without, however, deciding to buy it. A model of glass was made in England and the man was sent with the diamond and model to Law, who proposed it to the Regent for the King. The price frightened the Regent, who refused to buy it.

"The state of the finances was an obstacle on which the Regent insisted. He feared incurring censure for so large a purchase, while there was trouble in providing for the most pressing necessities and many people were left in suffering.

"I applauded this sentiment, but I said to him that it was not suitable to exercise the same economy for the greatest King of Europe as for private individual; that the honor of the Crown should be considered and the opportunity of procuring a diamond which would eclipse all others in Europe should not be lost. I did not leave the Duke of Orleans until I had obtained the promise that the diamond should not be purchased. Law, before speaking to me, had represented to the possessor of the diamond that it would be impossible to procure the sum that he had hoped for, and the loss that would be occasioned by breaking it up into pieces, so that the price had been reduced to 2,000,000 francs, including the scraps that would come from the cutting. The bargain was concluded in this way. The interest of 2,000,000 francs was paid until the whole amount could be raised, and in the meantime 2,000,000 francs in precious stones was hypotheated."

In the celebrated robbery at the Garde Meuble, in 1792, this stone was stolen and concealed behind a roof timber of a barn. As a result of a proclamation it was recovered by a municipal officer named Sergeant.

The Regent was the most beautiful jewel in the coronation crown of King Louis XV. Later, it was held by Vanderbergh, a banker, as a pledge for his advances. A historian of the times states that the wife of the banker took the opportunity of wearing it while it was in her husband's possession.

The First Consul in his turn pledged the Regent to the Batavian Government to procure the funds which were lacking after the 18th Brumaire. Later he ornamented his Austerlitz sword with the celebrated diamond, which, in the words of Vatout, might well have dispensed with ornament.—Jewelers' Circular-Weekly.

DIFFERENT KINDS OF MULES.

Classification Depends Upon Work They Are to Do.

"The classification of Missouri's great product, the mule, is the hardest of all live stock," said John Grant to a Kansas City Star reporter.

"To most people the animal is simply a mule, with a strong inclination to emphasize his presence with a kick. To most buyers he is good or bad, large or small, smooth or rough, will probably bring a certain price on the market or will not be wanted at all. Among dealers who supply the different demands he is classified according to weight, bone, size, color, age, mouth, teeth, broken or unbroken, length and breadth, and also in regard to the locality of the buyer. In the first place, green, unbroken mules are never wanted. Once in a while we receive a few and generally have to sell them at a sacrifice. The principal classes of mules known to the market are cotton mules, lumber mules, railroad mules, sugar mules, farm mules, levee mules, city mules and miners. Miners are classed as surface and pit mules.

"Cotton mules are the commonest kind in regard to number. Their build makes little difference so long as they are smooth. Lumber mules are the largest, heavy boned, rugged grades, 15.3 to 16.2 hands or better. They are used in the big lumber camps for logging, and must have the weight for good heavy pulling. Similar to the lumber mule is the railroad mule. They are used in grading, hauling and all the work that is known in the construction of railroads. Sugar mules belong to the fancy class. They must be smooth, built rangy, small head and neck, small bones. Farm mules vary in size, but are formed from the rejected one of the foregoing classes.

"Levee mules, as the word implies, are used near steamboats and docks for the heavy work. They are generally single workers and must be of the rugged class. Their looks matter little so long as they are sound and fit for hard work. A city mule includes the small, light grades, such as you see on delivery and transfer wagons. The high prices in the last year have reduced the number greatly.

"The miners are the hardest class to supply. They must be either a dark bay or black in color. White and sorrel mules are never used. Where the miners have long shafts, in the Pennsylvania coal regions especially, they say a white mule resembles a ghost and frightens the other mules beyond control. The piters must be long in body, heavy boned and have good weight.

"The Government buys all classes of mules, but that is done according to contract and prices hold a wide range. They never buy a low priced animal and they are rigid in their examinations."

There's one thing a woman seldom lets get by her without at least a look, and that's a mirror.

"Tama Jim" Wilson.

"Tama Jim" is the name by which James Wilson, secretary of agriculture, is known in the middle west. It was "Sunset" Cox, famous in congress a generation ago, who gave this sobriquet to the Iowa statesman. Wilson was a new member of congress then, and to distinguish him from another and better known James Wilson in the same body, who hailed from the Buckeye State, Cox called the new man "Tama Jim" Wilson, Tama being the name of the county in which Wilson lived. Wilson is the only cabinet member except Secretary of the Interior Hitchcock who thus far has served continuously through the McKinley and Roosevelt administrations up to the present. Born in Scotland seventy years ago, he has been by turns school master, farmer, legislator, congressman, professor in an agricultural college and fourth secretary of agriculture. In his pedagogic days he was so poor that he had to go barefoot in summer, but he managed to save enough to start the purchase of a farm, which he worked with such intelligence that it brought him a comfortable fortune.

What London Eats.

The supply of meat in the Smithfield market during 1904 amounted to the little matter of 410,519 tons, of which the sum of 1,556 tons were condemned. In fact, Dr. Collingridge, the medical officer, made himself unusually busy during the past year. Out of a single consignment of rabbits from Australia he threw out 10,334 as a little spoiled. In another case a box invoiced as rabbits was found to contain immature kids. They were consigned from the Netherlands, and might better have been at school.

As for fish, 243,806 tons of them were delivered at Billingsgate. Of this amount 1,098 tons were condemned. In the matter of milk Dr. Collingridge reports that on every thirteen samples was either impoverished or adulterated, or both. He blames the foreign free trader for this state of affairs. From 10,000 to 15,000 oysters are sold daily in London during the season. Last year no illness attributed to them was reported.

The Danger Spot in India.

It seems rather strange that at the very time Russia appears utterly exhausted by a disastrous war the British empire should be carefully and systematically strengthening its defenses in India. That it has been always Russia's ambition to reach the open sea through the conquest of India is a fact too well known to be even called into question. That her defeat at the hands of Japan has in any way altered that determination is not at all probable; on the contrary, the failure to secure the coveted ports in far east Asia has probably increased the desire to secure them elsewhere, either on the peninsula of India or in the Persian gulf. An attempt in either direction England would be compelled, in self-defense, to oppose.

Bad Ears Cause Drowning.

In drowning accidents where expert swimmers suddenly lose all control of their powers, the usual explanation of cramps is beginning to be looked upon as insufficient. It has been noticed that persons having disease of the middle ear, who have already shown symptoms of vertigo, are especially liable to such accidents, and as the semi-circular canals are the organs of direction, it is suggested that even a slight hemorrhage in that delicate structure from a blow by the waves would result in utter helplessness. Persons with ears not perfectly sound are therefore warned against swimming in rough water.

A Modern Solomon's Temple.

Prince Luca Esterhazy, who has enormous possessions in Transylvania, is about to erect a church on his estates which will be a model of King Solomon's temple. Count Esterhazy is a mystic, almost a recluse, and has for years been engaged in the study of ancient oriental architecture. He made a special study of the Biblical account of the building of Solomon's temple, and while he does not intend so lavish expenditure on cedar, gold and ivory as marked the venture of the Hebrew king, his church will be an exact copy of the original.

An Economical Queen.

Queen Helena, of Italy, is regarded by her subjects as altogether too economical. Her majesty's annual allowance is about $3,000,000, but it is said she has actually appeared in a gown a year old. Added to this is a suspicion that she contributes liberally to the support of poor relatives in Monte-negro, who are by no means popular in Italy. Her majesty's subjects think that with such a revenue from public funds she should be able to keep a good deal of money moving.

Mr. Anthony Hope has written a book, which is to be published in September, in "A Servant of the Public," as it is entitled, he studies the relations between the "Philistines" and the "artist," showing in the life of a famous actress and her friends how the occupation of the stage and temperament have their necessary effect on the life and action. It is said that the "author endeavors to exhibit all sides and takes none."

Big Sawdust Pile.

At Cheboygan, Mich., is the largest sawdust pile in the world. It is a hill, 1,080 feet long, 875 feet wide, 3,625 feet in circumference, ranges from 20 to 50 feet in height and covers twelve acres. It is the accumulation of one lumber company since 1877.

The library of Theodor Mommsen, the famous German historian, has been purchased by a woman whose name is not revealed and presented by her to Bonn University. It is like Lord Acton's library, now belonging to Cambridge, a superb historical selection.

AMERICA'S BRIGHTEST WOMAN.

Mary E. Lease Feels It Her Duty to Recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mary E. Lease, formerly political leader and orator of Kansas, now author and lecturer—the only woman ever voted on for United States Senator, writes:

Dear Sirs—As many of my friends have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have been cured of bladder and kidney troubles, I feel it my duty to recommend the medicine to those who suffer from such diseases. From personal experience I thoroughly endorse your remedy, and am glad of an opportunity for saying so. Yours truly, (Signed)

MARY ELIZABETH LEASE.
Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
Sold by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box.

Honoring Vermont Heroes.

In view of the honors now being paid to John Paul Jones it is interesting to note that two other revolutionary worthies are to be honored the present week. Vermont is to honor one of her favorite sons, Ethan Allen, the leader of the Green Mountain boys and the hero of Ticonderoga, and a daughter, Ann Story. Mrs. Story took the place of her husband, a pioneer who penetrated the then wilderness of Vermont to make a home for his family, and was killed in an accident. Mrs. Story took his place, defied Indians and assisted as a patriot in running down and capturing a horde of Tory spies in revolutionary times. She made her home for a time in a cave, deftly dug out on the bank of Otter Creek. The Colonial Dames are to erect a monument to her at Rutland. Allen's memory is to be honored by a memorial tower, at whose dedication are to be present among other notables Vice-President Fairbanks and Ethan Allen Hitchcock, secretary of the interior.

Bit Into a "Pony."

During an interval in the June examination at Belgrade University, according to the London Globe, a professor saw the boys buying cakes in the playground. It struck him that just a bite or two between whistles would not be amiss; so he, too, purchased one of the same aids to indigestion. At his first chew his teeth met a piece of paper, and on inspecting it he found that it contained the answer to one of the questions in the examinations carefully worked out.

Glennon Inspecting Cathedrals.

Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis, has started for Europe, intending to visit and closely inspect the cathedrals of England, France and Germany, especially those of London, Paris and Cologne. From these monuments of mediæval times he hopes to derive inspiration regarding the construction of his own metropolitan church in St. Louis. When that structure shall have been completed it will be, the archbishop promises, as fine as anything of its kind in the United States.

May Succeed Kitchener.

It is probable that should Lord Kitchener resign his position as commander-in-chief of the British forces in India he will be succeeded by Lieutenant-General Sir William Nicholson. The latter has seen a good deal of actual service, including campaigns in Agrianistan, Egypt, Burma and South Africa. He was British attaché with the Japanese army during the early portion of the Russo-Japanese war.

At the opening of Countess Fabrice's millinery shop in London James Van-Allen is said to have exhibited his love for lavish expenditure by buying forty hats and presenting them to his women friends, including the Duchess of Manchester, her daughter, Lady Curzon, and Princess Hatfield—all of which was very fine and good for trade.

NO SLEEP FOR MOTHER

Baby Covered With Sores and Sealed—Could Not Tell What She Looked Like—Marvelous Cure by Cuticura.

"At four months old my baby's face and body were so covered with sores and large scales you could not tell what she looked like. No child ever had a worse case. Her face was being eaten away, and even her finger nails fell off. It itched so she could not sleep, and for many weary nights we could get no rest. At last we got Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The sores began to heal at once, and she could sleep at night, and in one month she had not one sore on her face or body.—Mrs. Mary Sanders, 709 Spring St., Camden, N. J."

It is said that more than 4,000 lives, 200 ships and $100,000,000 have been expended at various times in efforts to reach the North pole. On this computation, should the goal ever be achieved, every acre of ground in the Arctic region will have been bought and paid for at better than market rates.

Edgar Wallace, of London, set a trap in his room for a mouse. After he had gone to sleep the trap snapped and he awoke to find the room rapidly filling with gas from a burner that he had left half turned on. He turned off the gas and then opened the trap and released the mouse—a life for a life.

Miss Maggie J. Waltz, of Calumet, Mich., is editing the only Finnish publication for women in this country. She is greatly interested in benefiting the condition of the women in the United States.

Some of the people who subscribe to unpublished editions of C. C. refuse to endorse the idea that publicity is the remedy for all social imperfections.

Wonderful Litts Family.

The last of the Litts family, one of the most remarkable in New York, has gone with the passing away of Thomas, who died in Monticello. He died suddenly from the effects of the extreme heat while at work in a field near his home. He was 80 years of age, and for the last half century had been one of the most commanding and prominent figures in Sullivan county because of his size and wonderful strength. He was sergeant in the One Hundred and Forty-third regiment of New York Volunteers, and was the strongest man in the regiment. Every member of the family of ten—five males and five females—was as strong as a giant, and the wonderful feats of strength performed by them won for them almost national fame. Thomas Litts, while attending the old-time logging and having bees, on different occasions has been known to pick up a barrel of elder and drink from the bung-hole. A brother carried a barrel of pork on his back a mile without resting on a wager, the pork being the wager.

Quite a Difference.

Leander swam the Hellespont, which is nowhere more than four miles wide, night after night for Hero's bright eyes. But these latter-day swimmers were promised nothing but notoriety for their more difficult exploit, and Leander won more of that than any of them.

FITs are a permanent cure. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Fitful, listless, irritable, nervous, Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

The guinea was first coined in Charles II.'s reign.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

Greenland now has nearly 12,000 inhabitants.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of. Fits, cough, cures, J. W. O'Brien, 322 Third Avenue, N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1904.

Glass containing manganese is slowly turned violet by sunlight.

E. H. Green's Sox, of Atlanta, Ga., are the only successful Dropsy Specialists in the world. See their liberal offer in advertisement in another column of this paper.

The name "calomel" means "beautiful black."

Mozley's Lemon Elixir.

THE BEST FAMILY MEDICINE

For Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Colic, Diarrhea, Headache and anything caused by a disordered Liver. Removes

"That Drowsy Feeling" by putting your digestive organs to work, inducing regularity and, in fact, makes you feel like a

"NEW MAN."

50c. and $1.00 per Bottle at all Drug Stores.

One Dose Convinces.

CONCENTRATED

Crab Orchard Water...

A SPECIFIC FOR

3 DYSPEPSIA, 3 SICK HEADACHE, 3 CONSTIPATION.

The three "ills" that make life a burden. Nature's great remedy. In use for almost a century. Sold by all druggists.

CRAB ORCHARD WATER CO.,

Louisville, Ky.

Am. 33, 1905.

NEEDLES, SHUTTLES, REPAIRS

FOR ALL SEWING MACHINES. Standard Goods Only. Free Catalogue to all. B. L. CO. 913 Locust St., ST. LOUIS, MO.

ARE YOU SICK? IS IT CHILLS? TAKE OXIDINE

Every Bottle is Guaranteed. Made in Regular and Tasteless Forms.

Manufactured by PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG CO., Price 50c

For sale by all Druggists. Dallas, Tex. and Memphis, Tenn.

GUARANTEED CURE for all bowel troubles, appendicitis, biliousness, bad breath, bad blood, wind on the stomach, bloated bowels, foul mouth, headache, indigestion, pimples, pains after eating, liver troubles, yellow skin and diseases. When your bowels don't move regularly you are sick. Constipation kills more people than all other diseases together. It starts chronic ailments and long years of suffering. No matter what ails you, start taking CASCARETS today. For you will never get well and stay well until you get your bowels right. Take our advice, start with Cascarets today under absolute guarantee to cure or money refunded. The genuine tablet stamped C. C. No. 1000 in bulk. Sample and booklet free. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York.

BEAUMONT COLLEGE

HARRODSBURG, KENTUCKY.

The school is situated in the heart of the South, offering to students the best of advantages. The school is the only one of its kind in the South, offering to students the best of advantages. The school is the only one of its kind in the South, offering to students the best of advantages.

Dropsey

Removes all swelling in 8 to 20 days. Cures all dropsy, permanent cure in 25 to 60 days. Trial treatment given free. Notwithstanding the fact that it is a cure for all dropsy, it is a cure for all dropsy.

THERE IS MONEY IN THE CORN STALK.

Write for free catalog. I. A. Madden, Atlanta, Ga.

OXIDINE

Every Bottle is Guaranteed. Made in Regular and Tasteless Forms.

Manufactured by PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG CO., Price 50c

For sale by all Druggists. Dallas, Tex. and Memphis, Tenn.

ARE YOU SICK? IS IT CHILLS? TAKE OXIDINE

Every Bottle is Guaranteed. Made in Regular and Tasteless Forms.

Manufactured by PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG CO., Price 50c

For sale by all Druggists. Dallas, Tex. and Memphis, Tenn.

GUARANTEED CURE for all bowel troubles, appendicitis, biliousness, bad breath, bad blood, wind on the stomach, bloated bowels, foul mouth, headache, indigestion, pimples, pains after eating, liver

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., AUGUST 24 1905.

VOL. 30. NO. 51

ALABAMA STATE EVENTS.

Items of Interest Gathered as They Transpire Over the Entire State.

Foot Amputated.
Birmingham, Ala.—J. H. Terrell, a white man employed in the yards of the Southern Railway at First avenue and Twenty-seventh street, has his foot mangled Saturday afternoon about 7 o'clock by a switch engine. He was carried to the Copeland infirmary in Lige Loy's ambulance. It was found necessary to amputate the foot just above the ankle. No other injuries were received. Terrell, it is stated, was attempting to cross the tracks, when his foot was caught in a switch. He was only a short distance in front of the engine, and before he could extricate his foot the accident had occurred.

Fell From Roof.
Birmingham, Ala.—R. E. Ogden, superintendent of the Grasseil Chemical Company, who was seriously but not fatally injured by falling from the roof of one of the stock houses at the works of the company Friday morning, is improving. His injuries consist of a broken leg, a fractured arm and body bruises. That Mr. Ogden escaped more serious injuries is considered remarkable. He was on the roof of one of the stock houses, when his support gave way, causing him to fall forty feet. In falling he struck several pieces of timber.

Richardson Goes to Bailey Springs.
Huntsville, Ala.—Congressman William Richardson returned to the city Friday night from the reunion of Camp Fred A. Ashford, United Confederate Veterans, at Prewitt Springs, near Town Creek. There was a large crowd present, and Judge Richardson delivered an address. Judge Richardson went to Bailey Springs Saturday to confer with Senator John T. Morgan on matters relating to the improvement of the Tennessee river. Senator Morgan is now keenly interested in the Tennessee, and will assist in securing legislation allowing the great power at Muscle Shoals to be developed.

End of an Old Feud.
Scottsboro, Ala.—On Sand Mountain, in Dutton precinct, John W. Heel shot and instantly killed B. F. Woolloom, using a double-barreled shotgun. Woolloom was passing Heel's house in a wagon in company with his two sons, all three being armed with shotguns. Just as the trio reached a favorable spot Heel fired, killing the elder Woolloom instantly, and as he rolled from the wagon it is said the two sons were so frightened that they ran, leaving their dead father and their guns.

It is alleged that the killing grew out of an old feud, the two neighbors having engaged in various vexatious lawsuits, and it is said each had threatened the life of the other. Heel surrendered to Constable Nichols, who brought him here and placed him in jail to await a preliminary trial.

Negro Excursionists Drowned.
Norfolk, Va.—Owing to the inability of Engineer D. L. Reig to control his airbrakes, an excursion train from Kingston, N. C., bound for this city, plunged through an open draw in a bridge over the western branch of the Elizabeth river at Bruce station, eight miles from Norfolk, Thursday afternoon, and half a hundred persons, mostly negroes, were drowned.

Distillery Raided.
Troy, Ala.—Deputy Collector E. N. Winters and Deputy Marshal C. M. Cox have returned to Troy from a raid in Dale county. They raided an illicit distillery near Haw Ridge, where they destroyed a complete distillery outfit said to belong to Russell Moring and Ezekiel Brooks, who were arrested by Deputy Marshal Cox and brought to Troy. United States Commissioner C. S. Tutwiler bound them over to the next court.

Serious Cutting Affray.
Gadsden, Ala.—There was a serious cutting affray on Walnut street Tuesday afternoon about 6 o'clock, in which Jasper Martin was seriously and perhaps fatally cut by T. P. Ferguson. There are numerous rumors as to how the fight commenced. Some say it was caused by Martin making fun of some paupered by Ferguson, while others say Ferguson became angry because Martin would not drink with him. However, both men, who are painters, met on the corner of Sixth and Walnut streets in front of the Cumberland Presbyterian church, and in a few moments, it is stated, Ferguson struck Martin, and, getting his knife out, began cutting him. The men fought all the way up Walnut street to near Eighth, where Ferguson lives. Martin was cut and slashed in nine different places.

Gone to Mobile.
Demopolis, Ala.—Prof. W. A. McLeod, who for the past eleven years has had charge of the Demopolis public school, and has been a very prominent citizen of this county, left with his family Friday for Jackson, where they will spend a few weeks, after which they will go on to Mobile, where they will make their future home and where Professor McLeod will be co-principal of the Mobile Military Institute.

News of Opelika.
Opelika, Ala.—The educational board of Lee county has issued a strong address to the voters of the county urging them to awake to the importance of securing the one mill tax for school purposes, and it is confidently predicted that this county on September 20 will register its vote in favor of education by a rousing majority.

Homer Fuller, who has held the position of night baggageman at the union depot here for the past two years, has been promoted to assistant ticket agent at Montgomery, and has left for his new field.

Walter R. Samford, the successful contestant at the inter-collegiate oratorical contest at Greensboro some time since, has gone to Montegale, Tenn., where the interstate contest will be held soon. Mr. Samford will be Alabama's representative, and his subject will be "The Injustice of a Protective Policy."

Mahan-Baird.
Centreville, Ala.—A marriage of unusual interest occurred at Briarfield, in this county, on the 17th inst. The contracting parties were Miss Christabel Mahan, of Briarfield, and Mr. A. D. Baird, of Colorado, Spanish Honduras. More than a year ago Miss Mahan made a visit to her brother, who is a prosperous merchant in Honduras. While there Mr. Baird met her and was immediately captivated by the many charming qualities of this beautiful American girl. His love was reciprocated, Miss Mahan returning to her ancestral home some weeks ago to prepare for her approaching marriage. The ceremony was performed in an impressive manner by Rev. Father Madding, of Selma. Miss Mahan, now Mrs. Baird, was born and reared in Bibb county, and is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Anna Mahan, of Briarfield.

A Prospective New Jail.
Demopolis, Ala.—Steps have been taken by the county commissioners looking to the building of a modern jail, and the publication of a notice asking for bids for the building of the new jail was authorized. The grand jury at the last term of the circuit court in this county condemned the county jail in the strongest terms, and called the attention of the county commissioners to the fact that former grand juries had done the same. These things, together with the fact that a wholesale jail delivery occurred only a few weeks ago, has induced the commissioners to act, and the county will soon have a modern jail.

Preparing for Winter Trade.
Anniston, Ala.—The Southern Railway Company, which recently purchased the compress of Robinson Bros. on the company's track near the Southern freight depot, has begun improvements which will greatly increase the capacity and efficiency of that plant. The improvements aggregating in the whole about $6,000. To the compress proper the Southern has added four large rooms, increasing the storage capacity by 40,000 square feet. To enhance the efficiency of the compress two new boilers of modern make have been installed in the engine room, while by way of improving the building the company is building a new roof and erecting a new platform preparatory to meeting the demands of the winter trade.

County Seat Fight.
Anniston, Ala.—By a decision handed down by Judge Pelham the question as to whether the county seat of Cleburne will remain in Edwardsville or be removed to Heflin will be left to the voters of the county. Some time ago the governor was petitioned by a majority of the voters of the county to order an election to decide the question. The petition was granted and election commissioners were appointed. This was followed by quo warranto proceedings on the part of the people of Edwardsville, who claimed that the act was unconstitutional and that a majority of the qualified electors had not signed the petition. The case was heard by Judge Pelham, who dismissed the quo warranto writ. The election commissioners will set the date for the contest in the near future.

Charged With Grand Larceny.
Centreville, Ala.—Sheriff Crawford left here Friday for Cornelia, Ga., in response to a telegram from the sheriff of that place stating that Augustus J. Bell, a white man, who is wanted in this county for grand larceny, has been arrested and placed in jail. About a year ago the grand jury of Bibb county indicted Bell for grand larceny, but he fled the state. He will be tried at the approaching term of the circuit court.

Funeral of Mr. Brown.
Scottsboro, Ala.—The burial of Hon. J. E. Brown was conducted at the family residence in this city Friday afternoon by Rev. Dr. Claybrook, of Huntsville. A special train bearing the members of the Huntsville bar and other prominent citizens of that city was furnished by the Southern Railway. Every business house in the town was closed out of respect to the deceased. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful.

School Tax to Be Voted Upon.
Demopolis, Ala.—Prof. W. S. Compton, county superintendent of education, appeared before the court and asked that a notice be given that in September a vote will be taken on the subject of the imposing of a one mill school tax, but the commissioners think the time too short for this election to take place in September, and it was postponed until November. The county superintendent has been an ardent advocate of local taxation for school purposes, and it is believed now that a vote will give Marengo county this law.

Two Wrecks on Road.
Mobile, Ala.—Two wrecks on one trip is fairly good for a freight train. It was a northbound freight on the Southern which left here early Thursday morning. Some cars were derailed near Mackintosh. The track was cleared and the northbound mail allowed to pass.

The freight went about two miles north and stopped. Before a flagman could be sent out a southbound freight ran into the train: this time, however, with little damage. No one was hurt.

Ruinous to Cotton Crop.
Selma, Ala.—Farmers in the city Friday report that the heavy rains of the past week have ruined the cotton crop. This report is not confined to any one locality of the county, but seems to be general, and from every direction comes the same report. Too much rain is stated to be the cause, and it is expected that the crop this year will be shorter than it has ever been in this county during any previous year. The cotton plant itself is reported to be in a healthy condition, and in most fields the growth is exceptionally large, but the rains have caused the cotton to rust in the bolls, and most of the bolls that are not ruined by rust are dropping off of the plant. In many cotton fields it is reported that the water is standing in great ponds so great has been the rainfall. While this is reported to be the general condition on most of the farms in the section surrounding this city, there are a few farms where the crop will be above the average. But where the crop is reported good there has not been such rainfall as there has been in other parts of the county.

Louisiana Visitors.
Brewton, Ala.—Mrs. J. Z. Carson and children, of New Orleans, are visiting friends in Alco, having arrived Friday afternoon. A report was circulated to the effect that they were directly from New Orleans, which caused a little excitement, but it was soon learned that they had been in Kentucky for several weeks on a visit. They will remain here and wait for the yellow fever to die out before returning to their homes in New Orleans. Mr. Carson is one of the efficient conductors on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and spent a few hours in the city Friday afternoon, leaving at night to take his regular run.

Tampered With Mail.
Birmingham, Ala.—Bossey Kirksey, a negro, was bound over to the grand jury in the sum of $500 by United States Commissioner H. A. Wilson Friday on a charge of tampering with the mails. Kirksey is a youthful negro, and is said to have been a mail carrier between Eutaw and Faulkner, two settlements in Greene county. He was suspected of tampering with the mails, and a decoy letter was sent out by postoffice inspectors, which resulted in the arrest of the negro. In default of bond the negro went to jail.

Death of an Esteemed Citizen.
Tuscaloosa, Ala.—A telegram has been received here from Alton, Ill., announcing the death of P. H. Hannon, one of Tuscaloosa's most substantial citizens. Mr. Hannon came to Tuscaloosa when the Montgomery division of the Mobile and Ohio Railway was constructed, and since that time has been an efficient passenger engineer on this road. In years he was the oldest man and second in service on the division. Mr. Hannon left here last month for a vacation, thinking perhaps a change might be beneficial. He was a loyal Knight Templar and had a host of friends here. He is survived by a wife.

Walking Boss Is Killed.
Sheffield, Ala.—Oscar Harris, the colored "walking boss" of the Cole furnace, met with a fatal accident when a cap flew off of a blow pipe and struck him in the stomach. It was thought at first that he was not seriously hurt, but it soon developed that the wound was fatal. He died about twenty-four hours afterward.

Held for Murder.
Tuscaloosa, Ala.—John Sauber, who is charged jointly with Will Hunter, with the murder of A. J. Lingren, who mysteriously disappeared last April, while crossing the Warrior river bridge, was tried Friday morning before Justice J. W. Green. He was held to await the action of the grand jury under $1,000 bond.

Mr. Alvarez Dead.
Mobile, Ala.—Mr. Joseph F. Alvarez died Thursday morning at his home in Whistler after an illness of three months. Mr. Alvarez was 77 years of age and one of the oldest citizens of this county. For many years he was an engineer on river boats here. He is survived by his wife, one daughter, Mrs. R. B. Chastang, and three sons, Messrs. Emanuel, Edward and Clarence Alvarez, besides many relatives here.

YELLOW FEVER NEWS.

The Latest Reports From the Infected District.

New Orleans, La.—The fever situation at 6 p. m. Sunday was as follows: New cases, 45; total cases, 1,385; deaths, 4; total deaths to date, 196; new foci, 11; total foci to date, 306; cases under treatment, 381.

No better evidence of the fact that the visitation of mosquito fever is not only being controlled here, but that there is a chance for its eradication, can be found than in the daily reports of new cases and deaths.

For several days now the number of new cases has shown a decline, while the number of deaths has been remarkably low, considering the number of cases reported a week ago. The death list indicates that practically every case that develops is now being reported, and that means that the modern method of treatment to prevent spread is being applied. When that condition is assured the end of the visitation is in sight, and it looks as though that condition is approaching.

No Reason for Alarm.

Comparisons with the visitation of 1878 show that there is no reason for alarm in the present instance. They prove the fact that the disease is being controlled. They also indicate that if it had not been checked and controlled at the time it was that the visitation this year would have been as serious as that of 1878. Up to August 10 of this year there had been three more deaths than there had been in 1878 up to the same date, the fever making its appearance here during the latter part of May in both years.

After August 10 in 1878 there was a steady increase in the number of deaths, there being in the ten days following 228. This year in the same period there were sixty-eight deaths. This shows a marked difference in that this year there is a decrease, while in 1878 this was the period of marked increase, which continued up to the first week in September, when there were ninety deaths in one day. While the marine hospital surgeons are not indulging in any comments, they are much more hopeful than they were two weeks ago when they took hold the situation.

In today's lists are ten cases reported by medical inspectors, while the others were turned in by physicians. The list of suspicious cases reported is not larger than usual. Of the four deaths one was in the charity hospital and the other two down town.

Spreads Among Italians.
News from outside the city contains nothing of special interest. The infection on Riverside plantation in St. Mary's parish has spread among the Italians there until there have been sixty-one cases all told to date. There have been thirteen new cases since the last report, four days ago.

Nothing has been heard from Dr. Deveron, who went to the mouth of Bayou La Fourche, where 100 cases of suspicious sickness were reported a few days ago by the health officer. The latter learned today that three of the six positive cases there which he saw died Friday night. A strict quarantine has been put on the settlement, and several refugees coming up the bayou in luggers have been turned back.

Assistant Surgeon Corput went to Port Barrow, in Ascension parish, Sunday and found two positive cases. One case was reported from there three weeks ago, and a suspicious case was reported two days ago.

Dr. Gustine, the health officer of Kenner, reports five new cases at Hanson City, in Jefferson parish, making fourteen all told in that settlement.

Nurse Dies of Fever.

One new case developed at Sarpy plantation (Terre Haute), where an emergency hospital has been erected and will be opened Monday. Patterson reports ten new cases and one death. The death is Charles Rodehorste, a nurse, who was sent there by the state board on the first appeal for help.

Surgeon Wasdin reports four new cases at Mississippi City with only nine patients under treatment.

Fumigation Day Generally Observed.
This was the day set aside for general fumigation of dwellings, and it was pretty generally observed. Sulphur and pyrethrum were used on the recommendation of Dr. White and it is safe to say that the slaughter of mosquitoes was enormous.

Only Four Cases in Mexico.
Mexico City, August 20.—The superior board of health today reports only four cases of yellow fever in the republic, all being at Vera Cruz, and isolated.

Shreveport Detention Camp Vacant.
The two yellow fever patients who have been at the detention camp for three weeks past were discharged Sunday and left immediately for their homes in the north.

Cairo Health Officers Busy.
Yellow fever quarantine inspectors were busy Sunday. A man tried to enter Illinois from Birds Point, Mo., on a Kentucky health certificate. He was refused admission. He then purchased a Missouri health certificate at Birds Point and entered Illinois. He was arrested and sent out of the state.

A car load of negroes came from Tennessee bound for the mining town of Zeigler, Ill. The negroes were provided with certificates. The car was locked and placed under guard until it left Cairo.

Surgeon Guiteras, yellow fever expert, came from New Orleans Sunday morning and returned Sunday night. He said he did not expect yellow fever would be entirely stamped out in Louisiana until frost came.

Erecting Emergency Hospital.

Past Assistant Surgeon Corput went to Terre Haute plantation in St. Charles parish and supervised the work of erecting an emergency hospital there. It will be ready for occupancy in a day or two.

Patterson reports six new cases and no deaths.

There were no new cases at Mississippi City.

Regarded as Very Bright.

Though the number of deaths today from yellow fever exceeded those of the past two days, the total was so small in comparison with years when real epidemics prevailed that the situation continues to be regarded as infinitely more bright and hopeful than a month ago when it first became known that yellow fever had taken a firm grip in one of the most thickly populated sections of the city.

At that time also New Orleans was in a distressingly insanitary condition, and all the conditions seemed favorable for an exceptionally high death rate in August, which always heretofore has been one of the most fatal months of the epidemic season.

Steady Improvement in Conditions.

Dr. White went over some portions of the infected districts today. He saw few features of the work that have not already been described. Reports to his headquarters from the emergency hospital indicate a steady improvement there in conditions due to the fact that the work is so perfectly organized now that with many of the patients who are brought in there is chance to save their lives. At the beginning a considerable proportion of those taken to the hospital arrived there in a moribund condition.

Refugees Must Clear Alabama.

Montgomery, Ala.—State Health Officer Sanders on Friday said in answer to many requests that persons from infected yellow fever districts that are in other states and want to come through Alabama going to other states will not be allowed in the state until their seven days are up, no matter if they do not want to stop within the borders of Alabama.

Widespread Infection Formed.

The most important news outside of the city came from LaFourche parish, where the parish health officer, Dr. Stark, reports widespread infection in the Levee settlement at the mouth of Bayou LaFourche. He says there are probably a hundred cases of sickness there, and he saw about one-third of them. He diagnosed six as yellow fever, and classes the others as either a mild type of yellow fever or dengue. This point is eighty miles south on the Southern Pacific road. The inhabitants of the settlement are mostly fishermen and oystermen, and they have been in close communication with New Orleans. They are mostly Italians and Austrians. The state board has dispatched Dr. J. A. Deveron to assist Dr. Stark in treating the infection.

Dr. A. R. Montez today took charge of the situation at Terre Haute plantation in St. Charles, and reported two new cases. Dr. Bienvenue has been dispatched to LaPlace, in St. John parish, where twenty-one cases were found Wednesday. Assistant Surgeon Corput will have another tour through this section Friday.

Negotiations Are Satisfactory.
Paris, France.—A semi-official note was issued Friday with the object of allaying the increasing inquietude relative to the indefinite prolongation of the Franco-German negotiations concerning the proposed conference on Moroccan reforms. The note gives assurance that the negotiations are proceeding satisfactorily with the prospect of a final agreement in the near future.

Americans Not Perceptibly Affected.
Yokohama.—The anti-American boycott committee has virtually abandoned the proposed general boycott in accordance with the instruction from Shanghai. These instructions merely give advice not to buy American merchandise, though members may sell to Americans. So far American interests here have not been perceptibly intercepted owing to the strong stand taken by them.

Livingston Raises Quarantine.
Livingston, Ala.—The quarantine of this place against Montgomery has been raised. Health certificates will still be requested of persons getting off here.

Hong Kong.—The application of the Chinese commercial union in this city to meet and discuss the anti-American boycott has been refused by Sir Matthew Nathan, governor of the colony.

Killed in Runaway.
Tuscaloosa, Ala.—News has been received here announcing the death of T. L. Burchfield, which occurred at the home of the deceased at Kellerman. It was the result of a runaway accident, which took place recently.

ITEMS FROM THE STATE CAPITAL.

Warm Fight Predicted.

Since it is almost a positive fact that B. B. Comer is going to be in the race for governor, the politicians are looking forward to one of the warmest fights for governor the state has ever witnessed. The race will no doubt be between Lieut.-Gov. R. M. Cunningham and B. B. Comer, president of the railroad commission. Others may announce, but the race in the end will narrow down to these two.

The announcement by Mr. Comer that he would run if no one else would run upon the platform which he was elected as railroad commissioner can be taken as an assurance that he is now in the race.

Cunningham has expressed his views upon the question of the regulation of freight rates, and he favors the state taking action to see that the people are not imposed upon. He practically stands for the same thing Mr. Comer does. But Comer has won one fight on this platform, and he is looked upon as the champion of the cause. It seems to be the platform that is the whole thing in the coming campaign. Since both Cunningham and Comer are somewhat on the anti-railroad platform it is rumored that a conservative candidate may come into the field and contest for honors. This man is supposed to be H. S. D. Mallory, of Dallas. Colonel Mallory is as well known as either of the two other candidates, and he would make a good race, but at this time it is not expected he will make the race.

For Lieutenant-Governor.

Several prominent Alabamians are mentioned in connection with this office. Henry B. Gray, of Birmingham, is an avowed candidate, and W. H. Samford, of Troy, and W. W. Quarles, Selma, are mentioned as most likely candidates.

The race for secretary of state seems to be between Frank Julian, of Tusculum, and A. C. Sexton, now of this city, but who lives in Cullman.

Brooks Smith, of Hale, and Editor J. R. Rosson, of Cullman, are candidates for state auditor. The name of W. W. Brandon is also connected with the office of state auditor.

Robert Poole, present commissioner of agriculture, is being spoken of in connection with the office of state treasurer.

Major H. C. Gunnels, of Anniston; Joel DuBose and I. W. McAdory, of Jefferson, will no doubt fight it out before the people for I. W. Hill's place as state superintendent of education.

Capt. W. M. Sedden, of Marengo; J. C. Adams, of Dale, and J. M. Thornton, of Talladega, may be candidates for commissioner of agriculture.

Next to the fight for governor the prettiest fight will be over the places of Associate Commissioners Tunstall and Sanders, of the railroad commission, which become vacant soon. Comer intends to have men put on the commission of his way or thinking if there is any possible chance. In a short time announcements for the places will be forthcoming.

Railroad Company Increases Stock.

President H. Austill, of the Mobile and West Alabama Railroad Company, whose headquarters are in Mobile, has filed with the secretary of state an account of the proceedings of that company's stockholders at their September, 1904, meeting, when the capital stock was increased from $6,000,000 to $10,000,000, and the board of directors was authorized to issue as much as $20,000,000 of first mortgage bonds.

These proceedings were had in order to "raise money to complete construction of the railroad" of the company.

Other notices of corporations were filed as follows with the secretary of state:

East Pratt Coal Company, of Birmingham, incorporated with a capital stock of $20,000; incorporators, John T. Morgan, K. B. McConnell and D. S. Acuff.

Rokeby Realty Company, of New Jersey, appointing as its Alabama agent G. J. Perry, and office at Birmingham.

Death of Mr. Rambo.

News was received in Montgomery Friday of the death of Mr. George Rambo, formerly a well-known resident of this city. His friends will be grieved to learn that Mr. Rambo died Monday night in a hospital in Brooklyn, N. Y., where he had been carried for treatment for heart trouble. Until two years ago the years of Mr. Rambo's life had been spent in Montgomery. He was for a number of years a popular railroad conductor and at other times a trusted employee of the Southern Express Company. He was a man of strong character and attractive nature, and he had drawn about him during his life in Montgomery a circle of strong friends.

Stroke of Apoplexy.

Birmingham, Ala.—F. M. Walker, an engineer on one of the switch engines in the Louisville and Nashville freight yard, was stricken with apoplexy Friday night at his home at No. 1517 Avenue E. Medical attention was called and for a while grave fears were entertained for his recovery. Saturday morning, however, he was considerably better, and bids fair to have a complete recovery.

Tinner Falls Ninety Feet.
C. L. Downer, of Princeton, Ind., a tinner working on the new Exchange Hotel here, fell a distance of ninety feet Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from a scaffold projecting from the seventh story. The man, remarkable to say, will live unless unforeseen complications arise.

System Under Fire.

Montgomery's system of registration quarantine, which has been more or less under fire since its installation, will again be up for trial. In official circles it is regarded as extremely improbable that it will be changed, notwithstanding the attacks made upon it. Acting Mayor McIntyre stands for the system which has been both so praised and so condemned. The acting mayor and the other aldermen who favor it are not contending that it is a perfect system, nor are they willing to admit that the train style of quarantine is a perfect system. The registration system is held to be as effective as a train quarantine by its friends, as well as more compact and easier worked. The matter of saving to the city in money is considerable, although all the city officials are ready to declare that the cost of the quarantine in such a time is not to be considered.

Military Officers.

Ajutant-General W. W. Brandon has issued commissions to officers in the Second regiment as follows, the same having been examined and recommended as qualified: Captain H. B. McKenzie, First Lieutenant A. M. McDowell, Second Lieutenant P. A. Sapp, Company G, Eufaula; First Lieutenant James F. Walker, Second Lieutenant E. H. Hagler, Company F, Tuscaloosa; Captain H. B. Patecock, Second Lieutenant J. H. Powell, Company H, Opelika; W. H. Stoddard, second lieutenant, Company I, Luverne; Julian C. Smith, second lieutenant, Company K, Tuskegee; Captain J. A. Holmes, Jr., Company E, Wetumpka.

The canvass for the colonelcy of the Second regiment is proceeding quietly, with no developments beyond the fact that Colonel Graves has no open opposition.

State Pension Board.

The state board of pension examiners on Friday completed its labors relating to the different county pension rolls and devoted the rest of the day to summarizing its work already accomplished. The board also took up on Friday the work of culling from the rolls the names of old soldiers who have married, departed from the state in the last year and otherwise disqualified for drawing pensions from the state. As soon as this feature of the work is completed the board will prepare its report and submit it to the state auditor. This is expected to be done soon.

Mr. Harris Dies in Texas.

A telegram from Dallas, Tex., announced the death of Mr. Thomas W. Harris, a prominent business man of Alexander City, which occurred there on Friday. His many friends and relatives in this city and state will regret to learn of his death. One of his sisters, Mrs. H. V. Owens, lives in Montgomery.

The Governor Explains.

Blount Springs, Ala.—Gov. W. D. Jelks said Friday at the Blount Springs Hotel that if a special session of the legislature was called, which he anticipated doing, to be effective before the yellow fever scare had subsided, he would advise the legislature to appropriate every dollar of such surplus as could be safely spared from the treasury to the public schools of this state, the money to be distributed over two years, covering the two fiscal years beginning October, 1905.

The impression might have gone abroad that this money was to be appropriated for one season's school. The governor said that that would disturb, if all was allowed to be expended in one year, the school arrangements in the state. He desired that it should be divided, and will expect either the accumulation from the increased assessment through the 3 mill tax to provide for as much additional for the fiscal year beginning October, 1907, or perhaps the legislature in its regular session in January, 1907, would appropriate an additional amount, making the whole appropriation for the following years at least equal to the money to be disbursed in the two coming fiscal years.

Pure Food Show.

Birmingham, Ala.—The Retail Grocers' Association will conduct a pure food show in Birmingham commencing November 6 and continuing ten days. Demonstrations will be made during each day of the show, and the stipulations are that each participant or exhibitor must present a certificate showing the food handled to be pure. The Grocers' Association has elected J. R. Ellard, of Avondale, president; J. W. Fahn, vice-president, and A. A. Jones, secretary-treasurer. The pure food show will be the first ever held in North Alabama.

Iron Market Active.

Birmingham, Ala.—The announcement was made Friday in iron circles in Birmingham that the demand for spot iron is exceedingly active, and while the demand is in small lots, the aggregate is considerable, and aids the general conditions. The Alabama iron manufacturers are making no concessions on the quotations in order to secure business. The iron market is reported in a most satisfactory condition.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1901
at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Aug. 24, 05

Telephone No. 17.

The Superintendent "Toots."

The Superintendent of Shelby County's public schools, who is a little dear in his own estimation, is very solicitous that the editor of The Sentinel shall not get out of meat and bread, but does not deny that he wholly ignored the request which came from Montevallo to have a public notice published in The Sentinel; that he intimated to the people of that place "I don't give a damn for your requests; I am IT." A public expression of monumental bigotry and egotism that only the narrow-minded despot would display. A letter to The Sentinel from Montevallo says: "We requested the Superintendent to have the notice published in The Sentinel because of its wide circulation here," but it seems that the request got a throw down from the autocrat of whom it was made.

He says further: "The taxpayers will not have to pay one cent for the publication of the notice in question," no, for the law says he must dig it up himself if he does not place the notice where the parties interested dictate—and you can rest assured he will have to pay it, for the editor of his "organ" is not of the contributing kind.

He sent us a letter to publish for him, giving his brilliant(?) ideas why the special school tax should carry in Shelby county. It reached us a day or two after we had gone to press for that week, and we informed him that it had reached us too late, but that we would use it the week following, but he said it didn't matter, which was true as gospel, for there wasn't much to it for a fact. So much for his story that we kept one article over at least two weeks which he had given us.

"There are so many things the editor of The Sentinel doesn't know," he writes. True enough; but we are not not a County Superintendent, you know. If we were we would borrow an old blue back spelling book and learn that "t-o-o-t-s" is not the correct way to spell "toots," and that "c-u-r-t-e-s-y" is not the correct way to spell "courtesy." Neither is "h-o-w-e-l" the correct way to spell "howl." But from these little errors we gather that Mr. Superintendent cares as little for his orthography as he does for a courteous request from the good people of Montevallo. The people of Shelby county are proud of their county Superintendent, nit.

But he need not lose any sleep over the editor of The Sentinel being out of bread and meat—we are busy always, doing the job work of the town and a good part of the county, and are not seeking a feat of the public adder to keep a live (at the expense of the taxpayers). We are not next, therefore do not get a bounteous "hand-out" from the county officers (at the expense of the taxpayers). We try to give value received for what we get. Wonder if the public schools of Shelby county are getting what the school funds is paying for?

"Throw Off the Mask."

Referring to the Booker Washington and Wannamaker dinner, John Temple Graves, editor of the Atlanta News, declares that Washington has "thrown off his cloak of conservatism—dropped the mask he has worn to deceive the Southern people, and has progressed with the lunch tray of president of the United States to the even higher expression of escorting upon his arm to the dinner table, in one of the most famous hotels in the United States, a white woman of the highest social position in America."

Mr. Graves then sounds the alarm, and says:

"Speaking for the great mass of unchanged and unchanging southerners to which we belong, we do not hesitate to give warning here and now that we are but entering the first stages of the social battle upon whose issue hangs southern civilization. We have no desire to be sensational, and we have made it a rule to be constitutionally fair, but we cannot believe that the great bulk of the southern people will ever tolerate under any conditions or out of respect to persons that invasion of our racial integrity and social purity which has been the glory and the safety of the south. It becomes us now more than ever to put down the iron heel of our condemnation upon the first expression of this spirit, and to adopt whatever policy of exclusion and non-assimilation which may be necessary in this rapidly approaching crisis, to preserve the status of the south.

"We have no prejudice against the negro's progress and prosperity. We have been willing, and are willing now, to help him upward and forward in every legitimate way, and our willingness in the past has been borne upon the promise and upon the promises of the negro leader that this question of social equality should not be projected into the realms of the races.

"Booker T. Washington has forgotten and foreworn the promises and practices upon which he has mounted to success, and his increasing aggressiveness and departure from this realm is enough to sound alarm loud and clear to the social life of the south. If the issue must be made it should be made promptly and made unitedly that 'the northern woman who enters a dining hall or a banquet room or an assembly on the arm of a negro, can never thereafter enter another upon the arm of a southern gentleman.' The southern fanatics may mock at this assertion and profess to laugh the proposed social boycott to scorn, but those who know the increasing Americanism of the south and the increasing culture and force which are joined with the patriotism of this people and the respect which they bear to the entire republic, may have full confidence that there will be but few indeed to the north of us who will wish to purchase a moment's notoriety with a distinguished negro at the price of their racial recognition by the south.

"There is a deeper fact in this Saratoga dinner than many brilliant thinkers will observe, and the future will develop that the warning of today is not to humiliate either our northern friends or our southern brethren."

Cunningham on Booker T.

Lieutenant Governor Dr. R. M. Cunningham speaking of the act of Booker T. Washington, negro president of the Tuskegee Institute, in escorting the daughter of former Postmaster General Wannamaker to dinner in the United States hotel at Saratoga, yesterday, says:

"It is impossible for any intelligent man who resides in a section where whites and negroes live in large number side by side to find words that will condemn too emphatically such conduct on the part of the principal of the negro school at Tuskegee.

"Thinking persons throughout the South understand that the two races differing as they do in character, blood temperament, and ideals, must develop separately in all social ways. The white race will never permit racial social equality. To no so would invite conditions—deplorable, too—in which the virtues of both races would be lost and the vices of each perpetuated. The whole Southern country would in the logic of event speedily sink to the level of West Indian civilization. It is idle in any thinking man to attempt to blind himself to, or to explain away, that awful fact.

"Though I might easily do so I am not disposed to criticize severely white Americans north who, like John Wannamaker, see fit thus to lower the social bars that separate the whites and blacks wherever they come together in large numbers the world over. The peril to the north where the negro is comparatively a curiosity, is insignificant. To us here in the South, it is constant, concrete and terrible.

"Washington knows this—if he knows anything. His conduct in accepting these attentions from Northern white people proves conclusively that he is an unwise leader of his race. It contradicts emphatically the policies he has preached and the professions he has made. It impairs his usefulness to his people—for while he may be immune from the injury that will follow the credulous and ignorant, will suffer incalculably.

"If he had sat down and studied how he could most effectively array the whites against the blacks in the South he could not have hit upon a plan that would have been so effective as the one he has adopted."

"The white man of the South has resolved that the negro shall be protected in his rights of life, liberty, property and fair industrial opportunity, but that the lines of social demarcation between the two races shall be kept drawn ineffaceably. This resolve is formed not in harshness to the black man but in justice to him, to the whites and to civilization.

"The sooner that leaders of the negro race recognize this and reckon it wisely the better will be for them, for their people and for the peace and progress of the section in which they live."

Thomas Dixon Jr., on the Negro.

In a speech a short time ago, Booker T. Washington made this declaration:

"The negro race has developed more rapidly in thirty years of its freedom, than the Latin race has in one thousand years of freedom."

Thomas Dixon, Jr., author of "The Leopard's Spots," calls Washington down in the following manner:

"Think for a moment of the pitiful puerility of this statement falling from the lips of the greatest leader the negro race has ever produced.

"Italy is the mother of genius, the inspiration of the ages, the creator of architecture, agriculture, manufactures, commerce, law, science, philosophy, finance, church organization, sculpture, music, painting, and literature, and yet the American negro has outstripped her thousands of years of priceless achievement.

"Education is the development of that which is. The negro has held the continent of Africa since the dawn of history, crumpling acres of diamonds beneath his feet. Yet he never picked one up until a white man showed to him its light. His land swarmed with powerful and docile animals, yet he never built harness cart or sled. A hunter by necessity, he never made an ax, spear or arrow head worth preserving beyond the moment of its use. In a land of stone and timber, he never carved a block, sawed a foot of lumber or built a house save of broken sticks and mud, and for four thousand years he gazed upon the sea yet never dreamed of a sail.

"Who is the greatest negro that lived according to Booker T. Washington. Through all his books he speaks this man's name with bated breath and uncovered head—Frederick Douglass of sainted memory! And what did Saint Frederick do? Spent a life in bombastic vituperation of the men whose genius created the American Republic, wore himself out finally drawing his salary as a Federal office holder, and at last achieved the climax of negro sainthood by marrying a white woman.

"I repeat, education is the development of that which is. Behold the man whom the rags of slavery once concealed—nine millions strong! This creature with a racial record of four thousand years of incapacity, half-child, half-animal, the sport of impulse, whim and conceit, pleased with a rattle, tickled with a straw, a being who, left to his own will, roams at night and sleeps in the day, whose native tongue has framed no word of love, whose passions once aroused are like tigers—equality is the law of our life—when he is educated and ceases to fill his useful place as servant and peasant, what are you going to do with him?"

Good Ball Game.

Special to The Sentinel.

Wilsonville, August 22.—A very exciting contest between Shelby and Wilsonville teams took place this afternoon on the local diamond resulting in a victory for Wilsonville by a score of 9 to 5. Features of the game were the pitching of Weldon and heavy stick work of the home boys. Carter, Harrell and Averyt, of Shelby, executed a fast double in the sixth. Wilsonville score 9, hits 12, errors 5. Shelby score 5, hits 2, errors 5. Batteries: Wilsonville, Weldon and Lyons. Shelby, McClain and Kifer. Carter and Averyt. Struck out by Weldon 3, by McClain 5, by Carter 2. Three base hit, E. Pope. Umpire, Lyons. Attendance, 250.

F. M. Wilkins.

WILSONVILLE.

Rev. J. C. Jackson and wife, of Tallapoosa, Ga., made their son, A. L. Jackson, a short visit last week.

We are told that a protracted meeting will also begin at the Baptist church here next Sunday morning.

Rev. Thompson, of Childersburg, filled his regular appointment at Presbyterian church here Sunday morning and night.

J. F. Pope, Mrs. Pope and Miss Sallie Elam left Wilsonville last Tuesday for St. Louis, where they have gone to purchase fall supplies in millinery and drygoods.

Rev. I. B. Bradley, of Nashville, Tenn., began a series of sermons here Sunday morning at the Christian church. The meeting will go on indefinitely, so we understand.

We understand that the meeting at Old Chapel church last week was quite a fine one. Dr. Branscomb, of Talladega, doing some very fine preaching. There were fifteen additions to the church.

We are glad to see the lumber placed on the ground for the addition to our new school house. When this is completed I think we will have room sufficient to keep the patrons from complaining about the pupils being too much crowded to be comfortable. The K. of P's will also have a nice lodge room above the new addition.

We hear a good deal of talk about our new court house. The majority of our citizens think that we have been unreasonably imposed upon in this matter, as we were told most emphatically before the election for removal came up that if we did not wait to build a new court house to be sure to vote for Columbiana, for if Calera won that it meant a new court house; but if Columbiana won the one we had was good enough for twenty years. But now since we voted for your town, we are not only going to have to build a new one, but we are going to have to purchase ground upon which to build it. It seems to be a gross imposition on the people. Every man who has expressed himself in our body (9) is in favor of building it on county property if built at all. Our people are not going to forget those who were interested in the deal.

Rip Van Winkle.

After His Visit.

Enslay, August 15.—(Special).—Gordon DeRose, president of the First National bank of Enslay, returned from a trip to Shelby county.

ty, his old home, yesterday.

In speaking of his trip today Mr. DeRose said: "Shelby county is one of the finest counties in the state and is growing very rapidly. It is very probable that the Birmingham and Atlantic railroad will be built through the county and will touch Columbiana, the county seat, which will open one of the finest agricultural sections in the state and give the county an easy outlet to Birmingham and to the south-west.

"The court house controversy, which for years has been a live and aggravating issue in the county, has about reached an amiable adjustment by the erection, at Columbiana, of a new court house to cost something over $90,000. Material for this building is now being put on the ground and work will begin at once.

"The court house will not be erected on the old site but about two blocks distant in front of the Central hotel. The place selected is centrally located and a very handsome location yet there is some opposition to it and threats of an injunction against the building of the court house on the new lot are heard in some quarters, but I am of the opinion that this threat will not be carried into effect.

"The people of Shelby county have had enough trouble about the court house matter, and I believe they will allow the controversy to drop and all join in the new enterprise and help to build up the town and county.

"With the new railroad, of which the people are confident, and the new court house, Columbiana will take on new growth and should become one of the best county towns in the state."

Wanted,

Wanted, two (2) experienced insurance men with horse and buggy; each $1.50 per day, and a liberal commission.

T. A. Leathers.

Division Agent, Columbiana, Ala.

Troy State Normal.

The State Normal College at Troy offers excellent advantages to those who desire to take higher courses of study. While it is the youngest State institution for education except the Girls' School at Montevallo, it is one of the best and largest, and last year had an enrollment of 433. The faculty is composed of fifteen specialists who have been most thoroughly schooled in the particular branch which they teach. Courses are offered in pedagogy, civics, mathematics, languages, science, manual training, instrumental and vocal music, art and elocution. This school makes a specialty of training teachers for the public schools, and the expenses are moderate in comparison with the advantages offered; they range from $125 to $150 per annum. The location of the school is healthy and of easy access.

If you are thinking of taking a normal course a letter to President E. M. Shackelford, Troy, Ala., will bring you a late catalogue, and any other information you may desire.

Cures Sciatica.

Rev. W. L. Riley, L. L. D. Cuba New York, writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pains from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment; the first application giving my first relief and the second, entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c and $1.00 sold by Williams Bros.

Alabama Girls Industrial School
Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academic, Pedagogical, Scientific, Commercial, Industrial, Domestic, Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M., D. D.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, Prop. Sallivans House, El Reno, O. T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief. 25c, 50c and $1.00, sold by Williams Bros.

Marion Military Institute.

The University of Virginia places the Institute on its list of accredited Colleges. The University of Pennsylvania accept the degrees of the Institute, admitting graduates without examination. Other leading universities accord the Institute the same recognition of merit.

Applicants for admission must present testimonials of good moral character and of creditable standing in the school last attended.

Personal attention and individual instruction is given every student. All professors live in the Institute. A home is in each building for the social and moral culture of the students.

For catalogue address, J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Our New Fall Goods!

We desire to inform the public in general that we are now receiving our stock of New Fall Goods. Ladies, come and see

Our New Dress Goods Line.

You are sure to be pleased. All the latest styles and shades. For men and boys a new line of

Hats, Shoes and Clothing

of the latest Fall Styles and Patterns is now coming in. If you want something neat and nobby we have it for you. We also have a substantial line of

Overalls, the Best, Men's and Boys'.

We invite you to come and see what we have. Goods are the best, and the prices right.

MILNER - & - CHRISTIAN.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

G. B. WALKER,

Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

There will be an eclipse of the sun, visible in the United States, on Wednesday morning, August 30th. The moon will begin to cast its shadow across the face of the sun at 5:15, until it covers about three-fourths of the disc, and will go off at 7:35. Better get up a little early if you want to see this sight.

Livery, Feed and Sale Stables,

S. & L. FRIEDBERGER, Proprietors.
(Successors to E. W. Bart.)
H. M. NORRIS, Manager.

Good Horses, Good Carriages, Careful Drivers.

Your Patronage is Solicited.

Telephone 16. - - - - - Bus Meets All Trains.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HURSLEY, Local Mgr., Columbiana, Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts..... $ 38,818 32	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000 00
Overdrafts..... 20 41	Undivided profits, less current ex-
Banking house..... 5,000 00	penses and taxes paid..... 2,156 16
Furniture and fixtures..... 2,000 00	Individual deposits subject to
Other real estate..... 5,000 00	check..... 23,536 37
Due from banks and bankers in	Time deposits..... 2,784 59
this State..... 9,393 23	Cashier's checks..... 101 00
Due from banks and bankers in	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 16,066 50
other States..... 5,512 57
Currency..... 5,117 00
Gold..... 665 00
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 1,327 19
Checks and cash items..... 3,628 07
Total..... $ 75,563 22	Total..... $ 75,563 22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true and correct statement of the condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

W. L. FARLEY, Cashier.
JOHN R. DYKE,
Circuit Clerk.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

WE WILL APPRECIATE
YOUR ORDER AT ANY TIME.

FRESH BREAD TWICE A WEEK.
LIKE YOUR MOTHER ONCE MADE.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months......50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

George Mason is off the road a few days.

Miss Annie Finley is visiting friends in Birmingham.

Judge Longshore was a visitor to Birmingham last Saturday.

Dr. W. P. Hamner is visiting his family in Lineville for a short time.

W. S. Nelson, of Ensley is visiting relatives and friends in Columbiana.

Sam'l Erick, of Bessemer, was in the city last Friday visiting his brother Philip.

Miss Fannie Cason has gone to Gadsden for a visit with her brother W. S. Cason.

Miss Ida Sinnott, of Tuscaloosa arrived in the city last Friday for a visit with friends.

Town marshal Nelson is able to be on duty again, after an illness of about two weeks.

Miss Alma Stumps, of Talladega Springs, is in the city a guest of Miss Lydia Nelson.

Misses Bessie Johnson and Lavada Seales spent a few days at the Springs last week.

J. L. Peters was in Montevallo several days last week looking after some legal matters.

Mrs. Upshaw and daughter, Miss Lillian, of Gadsden, are visiting at the home of S. W. Nelson.

Miss Bettie Aronson, of Calera, was in the city last Sunday visiting Miss Gertrude Gordon.

It is said the public roads in some portions of the county are in a most deplorable condition.

Mrs. Shoff and daughter, of Shelby Springs, were guests of Mrs. Philip Erick last Friday.

Mrs. Jennie L. Wilson visited her daughter, Mrs. L. N. Bowden, in Calera several days last week.

Dr. W. S. DuBose has gone to Monroeville for a visit of some weeks with his son, H. C. DuBose.

Mrs. W. C. Williams, of Shelby, visited her mother, Mrs. Christian, in this city several days last week.

Sh! We are told by a little bird that another wedding is soon to be. No, we can't tell you now who it is.

Property has been changing hands in Columbiana pretty freely for the past few days—all bringing good prices.

Latham & Bird, the new drug firm, have something of interest to say to the reading public in this issue of The Sentinel.

The friends of Agent W. F. Davis are glad he has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to be able to resume his duties at the Southern station.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Norris left last Sunday morning for Texas where they go to visit relatives for two weeks.

Last Saturday was one of those cold, drizzling rainy days which always makes one feel like the world is steeped in blue.

Chas. Brooks an engine driver on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, was in the city over last Sunday visiting his family.

L. N. Nabors, of Montevallo, who is spending his vacation at Shelby Springs, was in the city last Friday for a few hours.

County court is in session this week, and a good many people are in town, either as witnesses, jurors, or parties to cases being tried.

The Sentinel received a pleasant call on Wednesday of last week from R. E. Bowden, of Keystone, and Dr. W. P. Hays, of Helena.

The continued rain is doing a great injury to the cotton crop, and many farmers are blue over the outlook for a crop this year.

Minor and Ernest Hendrick, of Montevallo, and W. W. Camp, of Chattanooga, were over on the Coosa last week on a fishing trip.

Aaron Lefkovits and sister, Mrs. N. Weinberger, of Laurel, Miss., are in the city visiting their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Max Lefkovits.

H. S. Latham, of Montevallo, was in the city a day or two last week looking after some business matters, and visiting his children.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Abercrombie, who have been visiting relatives in Mississippi for the past three weeks, returned home last Friday.

L. N. Hardin, a newspaper man of Nashville, was in the city a few hours last Saturday, and while here paid The Sentinel a fraternal call.

W. E. Millender, of near Harpersville, is attending county court this week. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call from him Monday.

L. M. Dyke, of Attalla, always the same genial and good-natured man, was in the city a day or two last week looking after some business matters.

Several plain drunks have been conspicuous on our streets within the past week. Not a very good example to set the young men of our town and county.

The Columbiana Graded Schools will open on Monday, September 18th. Already the little folks are beginning to talk about what they are going to do this coming school year.

Major Wright, of Ocala, Fla., who has been at Shelby Springs, for the past few weeks, was in Columbiana one day last week. Major Wright is the step-father of Governor Jelks.

Dr. Wilson, of Birmingham, was in the city last week for the purpose of being examined by the medical board of this county and to secure a certificate to practice medicine if he stands the examination.

T. G. Florey, who is acting as juror in county court this week, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office Monday morning. He reports the cotton around Harpersville as being in a sorry condition, but at least a fair crop.

At a meeting of the members of and deacons of the Baptist church last Thursday night, Rev. Hurd, of Rockford, was called as pastor of the Columbiana charge. Rev. Mr. Hurd held a series of meetings in this city a short time ago, and our people here formed a very favorable opinion of him, not only as a preacher of the gospel but as a man. He will remove to Columbiana with his family in the near future. On behalf of the good people of our town The Sentinel extends a most cordial welcome to Rev. Mr. Hurd and his family, believing they will be pleased with Columbiana and our people.

A few days ago Joseph Spencer, formerly of Columbiana but now of Selma, and Miss Vera MacKnight, daughter of J. A. MacKnight, of Shelby Springs, quietly slipped over to Atlanta and were married. These young people have many friends here who wish them a joyous and happy life. We are told they will make their future home in Birmingham where Mr. Spencer will go into the real estate business.

A recent letter from J. W. Bandy, of Montevallo, says he has sold his drug business in that town to John Irby, of Selma, and that now he is looking for a location. He thinks some of going to Birmingham to engage in the mercantile business, or to California. Mr. Bandy is a good business man, and will not be idle very long.

L. B. Riddle, a prominent merchant of Wilsonville, was in Columbiana a few hours last Wednesday. He favored The Sentinel with a pleasant call. Mr. Riddle reports his mother, who has been in poor health for several months, as being much improved.

Mrs. H. E. Whitaker and her little friend, Miss Lucile Mahan, went down to Montevallo Tuesday to attend the wedding of Miss Bessie Steele, and from there will go to Woodlawn to visit relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Paralee Nelson, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. L. Moroney, at Montevallo, for a week past, returned home last Sunday.

Miss Grace Walker will leave next Saturday for Atlanta, Ga., where she will spend several days attending the millinery openings.

Miss Ethel Early, of Anlander, N. C., will arrive in the city today for a visit of several weeks with her sister, Mrs. S. Powell.

Mrs. J. H. Lane, of Sylacauga, is in the city visiting relatives. Mr. Lane came over Sunday and remained until Monday.

Rev. J. W. Willis has resigned the pastorate of the Baptist church in Montevallo, and has removed to Rock Hill, N. C.

Prof. S. Dowell went to Birmingham Tuesday to meet his sister who is coming from North Carolina for a visit.

Mrs. J. P. Roberts and children have returned from a short visit with relatives and friends in Sylacauga.

A freight wreck just this side of Talladega last Sunday, delayed the trains on the Southern several hours.

Mrs. T. P. Roberts of Oxford is in the city for a few weeks visit with relatives.

COLUMBIANA DIRT CHANGING HANDS.

Thirty Thousand Dollars Worth of Property Sold and Traded in the Past Week.

More property has changed hands in Columbiana within the past week than has before within the past two years. In fact, it kept a man busy to keep up with the sales and trades.

J. R. White sold the White House to L. M. Dyke, and then turned around and bought the large warehouse and the Mardis farm near the Louisville and Nashville depot. Following this J. R. White and A. M. Elliott purchased the livery stock of Friedberger Bros., and are now erecting a big stable just west of Mr. Elliott's residence.

Mr. Dyke did not keep the White House but a few days, but sold it to T. S. Millsap who has been in charge of the Central Hotel for the past year, and Mr. Millsap will probably take possession about the first of September. Mr. Dyke also sold to Jno. S. Pitts the two story brick building in which the dispensary is being operated.

Chas. Brooks, who is running an engine on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, has leased the Central Hotel and Mrs. Brooks will be in charge.

H. E. Latham sold his interest in the drug store heretofore known as the Latham Drug Co. to Osce Bird. And I. Gordon has purchased one of Rev. C. W. O'Hara's residences on West College street.

Other trades and sales are on tap, and will probably be closed up within the next few days.

Columbiana property is worth something these days, and while no fictitious values are placed upon property, nor exorbitant prices asked. These sales and trades show a confidence in Columbiana's future that has never before been shown. We are informed also that a number of residences are to be built yet this fall.

Herbina.

Renders the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drink. C. L. Caldwell, Apt. M. K. and T. B. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes, April 18, 1902: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbina. It has made me sound and well." 50c. sold by Williams brothers.

Attention, Delegates.

All delegates attending the Shelby Association, which meet with the Baptist church at Montevallo on Tuesday, August 26th, coming either by rail or private conveyance, will please report on arrival to the committee on entertainment at the church, who will assign them to homes provided for them. C. L. MORONEY, Chm.

They are Quarantined.

John K. Milner and family, J. R. Hill and family and Mrs. Cowling, of Gulfport, Miss., are now quarantined over in Georgia, and will remain there until the latter part of this week when they will come to Columbiana. They left Gulfport on Tuesday of last week, and under quarantine rules will have to stay out of Alabama for ten days from the time they were in an infected district. Yellow fever was in Mississippi City when they left Gulfport.

The Boll Weevil.

J. P. Pearson, of Bridgeton, ex-Circuit Clerk, was in the city last Saturday, and on being asked as to the condition of crops up in his section, replied:

"Corn up in my section is all right, and we will make a fine crop. But cotton is mighty sorry. I made thirty bales last year, and from the same ground this year if I get ten bales I will be fortunate. The fact of the matter is: we have boll weevil in our cotton—the regular Texas kind. I am positive that it is the genuine kind from the reason that two or three of my neighbors are just home from Texas where they have been visiting, and they say the weevil in our cotton is identical with the Texas boll weevil. However, we are going to have the matter thoroughly investigated and see if our information is correct. As for myself, I have no doubt of it whatever."

Mr. Pearson said that other crops were looking fine especially corn, and he invited the news gatherer of The Sentinel to come up and eat some corn bread made from home grown corn.

GRASP YOUR OPPORTUNITY NOW!

Your dollar today has greater power than ever before. For the next

THIRTY DAYS

we offer our stock of summer Clothing Shoes, Dry Goods and Hats at factory cost and less for CASH. Come at once.
The savings on all lines are enormous, but the quantities are uncertain. Don't delay.

J. H. ABERCROMBIE & SON.

Ice Cream Supper.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church, South, will give an ice cream supper at the residence of Mrs. Philip Erick on next Monday night, August 28th. All are invited. Children will be served at 6 o'clock.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank our friends and people of this community for their generous kindness and help shown and given us during the illness and death of our little daughter and sister, Mandie Irene. May the Lord bestow upon them a spiritual reward which is far superior to any reward we can give for such help and kindness.

W. H. SHRAEDER AND FAMILY.

Notice.

The National Union Fraternal Life Association, Alabama Div., No. 9, will be organized Thursday night, Aug. 24th, at College Hall, Columbiana. Ladies as well as gentlemen are invited to attend. J. W. HARRELL, Div. Mgr.

During the past week Howard Latham sold his interest in the drug store operated by himself and his brother Henry to Osce Bird, and the firm name has been changed to Latham & Bird, druggists. Mr. Bird is well known to the people of Shelby county, and The Sentinel believes he has come into good property. Mr. Latham and Mr. Bird are young men, and their is no doubt but that they will be successful in the drug business. Howard Latham has made many friends during his stay in Columbiana, and it is regretted he is to leave us. He has not yet decided just where he will go.

In this issue will be found the new advertisement of J. H. Abercrombie & Son who are making a special sale on summer goods for the next thirty days. Are you looking for bargains? Better see them for that is what they are offering.

Dr. Morgan of Shelby Springs, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office Monday. The doctor says the newspapers are giving Booker Washington too much advertising, and that is just what he is after—not the too much but the advertising.

The Ladies Missionary Society of the Methodist church will serve ice cream on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Philip Erick, next Monday night. All are cordially invited to go and eat just as much cream as you wish to.

Mrs. W. B. Browne and children are at Shelby Springs where they have taken a cottage for a couple of weeks.

W. R. A. Milner, who has been confined to the house for a week past, is able to be at the store again.

Pierce Mason returned Monday from a short visit with relatives and friends at Talladega Springs.

Miss Alice Porter is now operator at the Central office of the Telephone Exchange.

Henry Latham was in Montgomery on Saturday and Monday.

Born to Dr. and Mrs. W. Hamner, a boy.

HARPERSVILLE.

Frank Cater, of Lincoln, visited his mother on South Side last week. Mrs. Dan McRae, of Birmingham, is visiting her father, A. H. Glaze.

Miss Hannah Caldwell has gone to St. Louis to study the art of millinery.

Misses Lillie and Ida Parker, of Birmingham, are visiting Harpersville friends.

Mrs. A. M. Jones is very sick at this writing. We hope for a speedy recovery.

T. G. Florey is at Columbiana this week acting as juror in the county court.

H. D. LATHAM.

OSCE BIRD.

LATHAM & BIRD,

DRUGGISTS.

WE cordially invite everybody to come to see us. We keep in stock only the best grade of drugs and at a uniform price to all.

OUR prescription department is one of the best in the State, and we promise not only accuracy in compounding, but the use of the purest drugs—a matter you should always consider when using medicine in your family. Again we repeat the invitation—come to see us. Courteous and honorable treatment is assured you.

.. INVEST ..

WHERE YOUR MONEY IS SAFE AND
YOUR DIVIDENDS SURE.

THE STEPHENSON LAND & LUMBER COMPANY, of Stephenson, Wis., offers you that opportunity. To increase its business it will sell 30,000 shares of Treasury Stock at $1.00 per share. New and up-to-date plant.

PAYS 3 per cent.
Monthly Dividends.

Lumber and Shingle Mill at Koss, Mich., on the Wisconsin and Michigan Railroad. Have a mill pond that holds three million logs. Our yards contain 40 acres of land with sidetracks running through it. 40 thousand feet of lumber, 30 thousand lathes and 60 thousand shingles daily. There is no mortgage on our plant; we sell this stock to get additional working capital. Shares $1.00 each. Invest today. Make checks payable to

GEO. PERKINS & CO.

Fiscal Agents,

320 Grand Ave.,

Milwaukee, Wis.

Fourth District Agricultural School, Sylacauga, Alabama.

Competent and experienced instructors. Scientific and Agricultural courses. Thorough preparation for college. Beautiful and well arranged buildings and grounds. Next session begins Sept. 12th. For further information and catalogue, address

T. C. MOORE, President.

Prof. Strock and wife, of Vincent, attended preaching here last Sunday.

A very interesting meeting is going on this week at the Creswell Baptist church.

The Baptist have postponed their meeting here until the third Sunday in next month.

A protracted meeting will begin at the Harpersville Methodist church next month.

Dr. E. V. Caldwell is up at Vincent now busy rolling apples and measuring out quinine.

Miss Stella Posey spent most of last week in Birmingham with her friend, Miss Lina Bell Gilbert.

Steve Gary, our mail carrier, had a tussle with chills last week and the mail was carried by Calvin Simmons.

Mrs. Bedah Graves (nee Bedah Simmons), of Montgomery, visited her mother, Mrs. Simmons, last week on East Highlands.

J. S. Jackson, one of Shelby county's best farmers and who lives in the Fourmile country, was in Harpersville last Saturday.

Our people were all too busy doing nothing, last Saturday, to stop and clean up our cemetery, and our fathers, mothers, sisters, children and friends sleep in a place grown up with briars, bushes and grass where a hog would be ashamed to be found. We weep around the bedside of the dying, shed a tear or two at their funeral, go back home to our business and it is all soon forgotten, not thinking that we, too, some day must die and be buried on this or some other spot, and will soon be forgotten. Shame, shame, shame.

JAKE

Gas Light for Country Homes.

Small country homes, as well as large ones, may be lighted by the best light known—ACETYLENE GAS—it is easier on the eyes than any other illuminant, cheaper than kerosene, as convenient as city gas, brighter than electricity and safer than any.

No ill-smelling lamps to clean, and no chimneys or mantels to break. For light cooking it is convenient and cheap.

ACETYLENE is made in the basement and piped to all rooms and out-buildings. Complete plant costs no more than a hot air furnace.

PILOT Automatic Generators

make the gas. They are perfect in construction, reliable, safe and simple.

Our booklet, "After Sunset," tells more about ACETYLENE—sent free on request.

Dealers or others interested in the sale of ACETYLENE apparatus write us for selling plan on PILOT Generators and supplies—it is a paying proposition for reliable workers.

ACETYLENE APPARATUS MFG. CO., 157 Michigan Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL.

Blacksnake a Household Pet.

One of the men employed at the zoological gardens in New York has a blacksnake that has the run of his house. It has the reputation of being the best rat catcher in the entire borough of the Bronx. It is also a family pet.

Foolish Woman.

A woman in Connecticut wants a divorce simply because her husband, who is an expert shot, keeps in practice by shooting at glass balls on her head. Women are so unreasonable.—Baltimore American.

Sugar Ages Wood.

A process has been invented by an Englishman of giving artificial age to wood. He replaces the sap of trees by beet sugar or saccharine.

Ruydard Kipling used to be an expert at carpentering and has successfully constructed many miniature ships.

The Chattanooga Investment Company begins business with a capital of $50,000.

South Carolina is the one state in the Union that has no divorce law.

A combination of southern cotton oil mills is now talked of.

Over 5,250,000 women in Italy earn their living.

England's bicycle factories are now booming with work.

Germany has 6,500,000 female wage-earners.

It is healthier at Panama than at New Orleans.

The Bennington boiled her water too much.

While mud reigns in Manchuria Linovitch is reasonably secure.

The airship boys are not unduly conspicuous these days.

The shark is attracting this summer more attention than the sea serpent.

The slipper is still the best way to reclaim bad boys if applied in time.

WRONG SORT
Perhaps Plain Old Meat, Potatoes and Bread May Be Against You for a Time.

A change to the right kind of food can lift one from a sick bed. A lady in Weldon, Ill., says:

"Last spring I became bedfast with severe stomach trouble accompanied by sick headache. I got worse and worse until I became so low I could scarcely retain any food at all, although I tried every kind. I had become completely discouraged, had given up all hope and thought I was doomed to starve to death, till one day my husband trying to find something I could retain brought home some Grape-Nuts.

"To my surprise the food agreed with me, digested perfectly and without distress. I began to gain strength at once, my flesh (which had been flabby) grew firmer, my health improved in every way and every day, and in a very few weeks I gained 20 pounds in weight. I liked Grape-Nuts so well that for 4 months I ate no other food, and always felt as well satisfied after eating as if I had sat down to a fine banquet.

"I had no return of the miserable sick stomach nor of the headaches that I used to have when I ate other food. I am now a well woman, doing all my own work again, and feel that life is worth living.

"Grape-Nuts food has been a godsend to my family; it surely saved my life and my two little boys have thriven on it wonderfully." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.
Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

IN CANDY LAND.

"In Candy Land the little folks wear candy buttons on their cloaks, And candy buttons on their shoes—Indeed, on everything they use."

"Why, I should think the things would break!"

"They do; and then the children take The broken pieces, great and small, And eat until they've eaten all."

"In Candy Land the girls all know With candy needles they must sew; The boys who work have candy tools, And they have candy books in school."

"In Candy Land they think it nice, To go to skate on candy ice; They rest themselves in candy chairs, And go to bed up candy stairs."

The candy-lover on my knee In wonderment still questioned me:

"And if the candy stairs should break?"

"The children must the pieces take, And very quickly down must sit, And eat up every single bit."

"What if the candy buttons break?"

"The pieces then the children take, And very calmly down they sit, And eat up every single bit."

"In Candy Land the girls and boys Play every day with candy toys; They always eat on candy plates, And do their sums on candy slices."

"Sometimes the children eat all day To get the broken bits away."

"And must the children eat them all?"

"Yes, every piece, both great and small, This is the law in Candy Land; And you must own 'tis wisely planned; For in that land, as you can see, So many things must broken be."

That bits of candy soon would strew The sidewalks, roads, and houses, too; So children must the pieces eat, That Candy Land be clean and neat."

The candy-lover on my knee In blank amazement looked up at me.

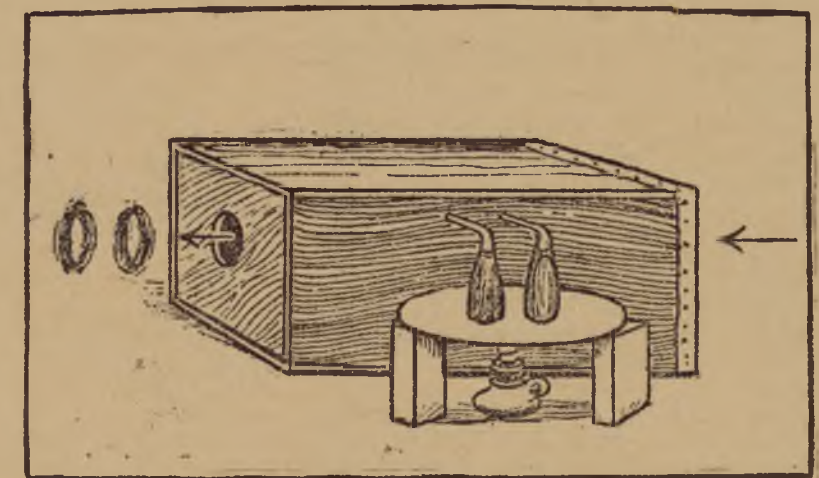

"Why, Candy Land's a dreadful place!"—Then dawned a wise look on his face—"I used to think it would be grand To go to live in Candy Land; But now I only wish to go Each day and stay an hour or so!"

—St. Nicholas.

FUN IN MAKING SMOKE RINGS.

Have you ever watched a smoker blow rings of smoke from his mouth? Here is a way to make smoke rings without being a smoker, and it will be found one of the prettiest experiments that you ever made.

You must have a pasteboard box about a foot square at the bottom, and in the middle of the bottom cut a round hole as large as a silver dollar. Pin a handkerchief tightly over the open top of the box and then burn touchpaper in the hole until the box is full of smoke.

THE SMOKE RINGS AND THE SMOKE BOX.

Now rest the box on its side, and when you lightly tap the handkerchief smoke rings will come out of the hole just like those from the smoker's mouth.

To make larger rings of smoke and to perform little feats with them, get a wooden box instead of the pasteboard one and let it be about two feet square at the bottom. Over the open top tack tightly a piece of heavy muslin and stand the box on its side, as before. The hole in this box should be three or four inches in diameter. To keep the box full of smoke arrange two bottles, one filled with strong ammonia and the other with hydrochloric acid, and support them on asbestos so that they can be heated from below by an alcohol lamp. The corks of the bottles will have to have either rubber or bent glass tubes fitted in them, the other ends of the tubes entering the box by means of two small holes.

When you heat the bottles with the lamp the fumes will rise through the tubes and enter the box, where they will mix and form a dense white smoke. Having filled the box in this way the bottles need not be heated again until the smoke becomes thin.

When you tap on the muslin, large, beautiful rings of smoke will come out of the hole, and you can bring them out forcibly and fast if you tap the muslin hard, or gently and slowly if you tap it lightly.

You will perhaps be surprised to hear that you can make one of the smoke rings blow out a lighted candle that is placed across the room from the box. Of course the candle must be placed exactly opposite to the hole, when a quick, hard tap on the muslin will send a ring of smoke that will extinguish it.

And your friends will be surprised when you blow out the candle by tapping the muslin on the box, even after the box has been emptied of smoke. The tap on the muslin sends a current of air strong enough to extinguish the flame.

The accompanying illustration shows how the box should be arranged. Any boy can make it.—New York Evening Mail.

THE STRENGTH OF BIRDS.

Birds can eat and digest from ten to thirty times as much food in proportion to their size as men can. If a man could eat as much in proportion to his size as a sparrow is able to consume he would need a whole sheep for dinner, a couple of dozen chickens for breakfast and six turkeys for his evening meal. A tree sparrow has been known to eat 700 grass seeds in a day. Relative to the bird's size, these seeds were as big as an ordinary lunch basket would be to a full grown man.

A bird's strength is equally amazing, says the Indianapolis News. A white-tailed eagle weighing twelve pounds, with a wing-spread of six feet, has been known to pounce on a pig weighing forty-two pounds, raise it to a height of 100 feet and fly off with it. The bird had covered a distance of half a mile before the pig's owner succeeded in shooting the thief.

Birds can and do work far harder than human beings. A pair of house martins when nesting will feed their young ones in twenty seconds—that is, each bird, male and female, makes ninety journeys to and fro in an hour, or about 1000 a day. It must be remembered that on each journey the bird has the added weight of catching the worm.

Even so tiny a bird as the wren has been counted to make 110 trips to and from its nest within 430 minutes, and the prey it carried home consisted of larger, heavier and harder-to-find insects than were caught by the sparrows. Among them were twenty good-sized caterpillars, ten grasshoppers, seven spiders, eleven worms and more than one fat chrysalis.

ANTS' COWSHEDS.

One of the most interesting studies of insect life is the relationship between ants and plant-lice, or aphids. These plant-lice supply honeydew from the juices which they take as food from plants. The ants are very fond of this sweet substance, and care for the aphids in a manner that seems to us surprisingly intelligent. They sometimes carry them bodily to a better feeding ground and drive away certain of their enemies. It is claimed that they even build sheds of mud in the crotches of shrubs and small trees. On account of this insect relationship, one may truthfully call the ants "farmers," the aphids "cows," and these protecting mud cases "cowsheds."—St. Nicholas.

MOTHER GOOSE GEOGRAPHY.

The old "Banbury Cross" familiar from the Mother Goose rhyme was a real cross in the English town of Ban-Novelty in Statistics.

Statistics of all sorts and even of the most trivial nature seem to have a very considerable fascination for some people. A Mr. F. G., for instance, has taken the trouble to calculate that while Graef, a well-known German artist, was painting his portrait some years ago, over 20,000 strokes of the artist's brush were required to transfer his visage to the canvas. About a year and a half ago F. G. was again "oiled" by the late Charles Furse. Although this artist had an entirely different style from Graef, F. G. was surprised to find that the total number of strokes of the brush was about the same. It is unfortunate that he did not count the bristles in the respective brushes of the two artists, and the number of hours required for the work. Without these figures the bare number of strokes is of little value. By dividing the number of strokes by the number of hours and multiplying this figure by the number of bristles, the number of bristle points actually sweeping the canvas per hour could have been accurately determined. As it is the number of strokes unaccompanied by any data as to size of brush, time required or the pattern of the clothes he wore, is of little scientific value.

Wooden Pavements.

In view of the return to wood pavements in a small part of the streets of lower New York, certain facts as to wood paving tabulated in the Sanitary Record are of great interest. From these it appears that in provincial towns in England the creosoted soft wood pavement has a life of from twelve to fifteen years, and hardwoods from fifteen to eighteen years. At St. Pancras, London, where there is a traffic of 411,318 tons per yard of width per annum, the greatest wear of the Australian wood jarrah was 0.18 inch, or less than one-fifth inch per annum. The best wood for paving purposes, according to London experience, are the Australian karri and jarrah, while Australian and California gums are said to promise well.

There Was No Danger.

A very stout old lady was recently passing a cab stand. One of the horses laid down his ears, and, with a vicious look, made as if to bite her arm.

The lady uttered a cry and hastily jumped aside, while she reprimanded the owner of the horse for his carelessness in allowing the animal to frighten her.

"E won't bite you, mum," said the John encouragingly; then, seeing her still hesitate, he added, "Lor' you needn't be afraid; 'e's a vegetarian."

Three Human Lungs.

Three human lungs—one white, one black and one gray—from an instructive exhibit in an Edinburgh museum. The first came from an Eskimo, who breathed the pure air of the Arctic regions; the second from a coal miner, who inhaled much coal dust; the third from a town dweller, kept in city dust and smoke.

Vaccinating Chickens.

It has been discovered that fowls can be rendered immune from the ravages of cholera by means of vaccination with cultures of the cholera bacilli. The discovery will prove a great boon to poultry raisers, who often lose their entire flocks in a few days from cholera.

His First Shave.

The earliest known mention of shaving is in the Bible (Genesis xlv, 14): "And he (Joseph) shaved himself and came before Pharaoh." Shaving the beard was introduced by the Romans about 300 B. C.

Curious Ancient Law.

Many curious instances of old laws may still be found in England. In Chester the man who falls to raise his hat when a funeral is passing becomes liable by an old law to be taken before a magistrate and imprisoned.

Tip for Our Heiresses.

The true worth of a girl in Albania is sometimes readily estimated. When she desires to marry she collects all her money and mounts it on her head, so that observers may note her financial value.

China's Canals.

The canals which form a network throughout a great part of China abound in fish. The rice fields, which are irrigated with the water from these canals, make ideal hatching places for them.

It is announced unofficially, but from an authoritative source, that Governor La Follette, of Wisconsin, will relinquish the office of governor early in September and go to Washington as United States senator in October.

Race Suicide in France.

The National Alliance for Increasing the Population of France declares that France is on the way to become a third class power, owing to the diminishing birth rate.

Appropriate Change.

On the occasion of a cyclist's wedding at Epping, near London, the other day the bride and bridegroom rode to church on single machines and returned on a tandem.

Foreigners in London.

So large has the foreign population of East London now become that even the official notices outside the police station have to be printed in Yiddish as well as English.

Cy Perkins, the New Hampshire millionaire, who died the other day, never drove anything swifter than a pair of steers.

Russian officers in camp receive money to pay for their meals.

FITspermanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kille's Great Nerve Restorer, 32 trial bottle and treatise free. Dr. R. H. Kille, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Coal has been discovered near Adrianovka in the Transbaikalia.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

The phosphate rock is found in pockets, not veins.

Do not believe Pls's Cure for Consumption has a sequel for coughs and colds.—JOHN F. BORZA, Trinity Springs, Ind., Feb. 15, 1903.

The capital invested in electric lines of the United States is $2,107,634,000.

Yellow Fever and Malaria Germs Are instantly killed by the use of six drops of Sloan's Liniment on a teaspoonful of sugar. It is also an excellent antiseptic.

The fisheries of Japan annually yield about 3,000,000 tons of fish.

RAW ITCHING ECZEMA

Diets rich in fats, Ears and Ankles For Three Years—Instant Relief and Speedy Cure by Cuticura.

"Thanks to Cuticura I am now rid of that fearful pest, weeping eczema, for the first time in three years. It first appeared on my hand, a little pimple, growing into several blotches, and then on my ears and ankles. They were exceedingly painful, itching, and always raw. After the first day's treatment with Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills, there was very little of the burning and itching, and the cure now seems to be complete. (Signed) S. B. Hege, Passenger Agent B. & O. R. R., Washington, D. C."

Bonaparte's Long Speech.

While Charles J. Bonaparte, the new secretary of the navy, was connected with the Baltimore Reform League it was decided to investigate the conduct of a prominent federal official. Friends of the crooked official learned this and decided to "pack" the council, so that the report might be voted down. Bonaparte listened attentively to the argument against the report, and then rose to give his own views, bitterly attacking the official and urging that the charges be immediately accepted. He saw, however, that his words would have little effect on that portion of his audience which sided with the accused man, so when he had finished his discourse he began over again, repeating his speech, word for word, pause for pause, gesture for gesture—not once, but a dozen times, until towards morning the friends of the accused official were fast asleep. Mr. Bonaparte and his associates then approved and adopted the report.

Bread Is Radio-Active.

Sir William Ramsay believes that it is quite possible that in some cases bread is radio-active. He thinks that the radio-activity would not do any harm, as is shown by the presence of radium in the waters at Bath and at Wiesbaden. In both cases the water has to be drunk on the spot in order to get the full value of the cure. Sir William Ramsay thinks that this is partly due to the radio-active properties of the water. He is inclined to think that there are radio-active gases in the air. The "freshness" of the air at certain times, he believes, is due to their presence.

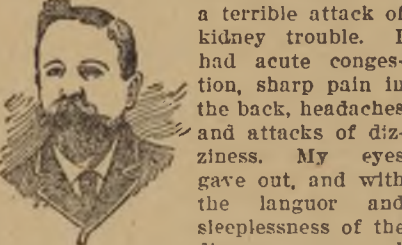

Mourn an Albanian Princess.

All Albania mourns the loss of the Princess Urditese. She died of heart failure caused by the sight of the devastation created by the earthquake at Skutari. She was the best friend of the poor. Her brother has been a prisoner at Constantinople for sixteen years, as it is feared the Albanians might choose him to be their ruler.

LOST 72 POUNDS.

Was Fast Drifting Into the Fatal Stages of Kidney Sickness.

Dr. Melvin M. Page, Page Optical Co., Erie, Pa., writes: "Taking too many iced drinks in New York in 1895 sent me home with a terrible attack of kidney trouble. I had acute congestion, sharp pain in the back, headaches and attacks of dizziness. My eyes gave out, and with the languor and sleeplessness of the disease upon me I wasted from 194 to 122 pounds. At the time I started using Doan's Kidney Pills an abscess was forming on my right kidney. The trouble was quickly checked, however, and the treatment cured me, so that I have been well since 1896 and weigh 188 pounds."

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists. Price, 50 cents per box.

President Jacob Gould Schurmann, of Cornell University, has received a diploma appointing him a member for life in the American Academy in Rome. This academy was founded in 1834 for the purpose of furthering the advancement of the fine arts and is perhaps the most prominent of its kind in the world.

It is said that the wife of M. Witte, the Russian peace plenipotentiary, is a Jewess—a fact that has closed many doors to him in Russian court and official circles and been a certain obstacle to him in his public career. The wife was originally married to one of her own race, whom she divorced to marry Witte.

Mrs. L. M. Caldwell and two sons, Roy and Ray, aged 15 and 10 years, of Des Moines, Ia., went through the thrilling experience of being struck by lightning on the side of Pike's Peak and lived to complete the trip to the summit and back.

Sir John Madden, chief justice of Victoria, has discovered a new plan of punishing old offenders. He adds up all their previous terms and makes the total their sentence. The other day he sentenced an offender to nine years and one month—his aggregate record.

THE TURN OF LIFE

A Time When Women Are Susceptible to Many Dread Diseases—Intelligent Women Prepare for It. Two Relate their Experience.

The "change of life" is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and the anxiety felt by women as it draws near is not without reason.

Every woman who neglects the care of her health at this time invites disease and pain.

When her system is in a deranged condition, or she is predisposed to apoplexy, or congestion of any organ, the tendency is at this period likely to become active—and with a host of nervous irritations, make life a burden. At this time, also, cancers and tumors are more liable to form and begin their destructive work.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, head aches, backaches, dread of impending evil, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and incontinence, and dizziness, are promptly heeded by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

These symptoms are all just so many calls from nature for help. They are crying out for assistance and the cry should be heeded in time.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was prepared to meet the needs of woman's system at this trying period of her life. It invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried thousands of women safely through this crisis.

For special advice regarding this important period women are invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., and it will be furnished absolutely free of charge.

Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:— "I had been suffering with falling of the womb for years and was passing through the Change of Life. My womb was badly swollen; my stomach was sore; I had dizzy spells, sick headaches, and was very nervous."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

"I wrote you for advice and commenced treatment with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as you directed, and I am happy to say that all those distressing symptoms left me and I have passed safely through the change of life, a well woman. I am recommending your medicine to all my friends."—Mrs. Annie E. G. Hyland, Chester-town, Md.

Another Woman's Case.
"During change of life words cannot express what I suffered. My physician said I had a cancerous condition of the womb. One day I read some of the testimonials of women who had been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I decided to try it and to write you for advice. Your medicine made me a well woman, and all my bad symptoms soon disappeared."

"I advise every woman at this period of life to take your medicine and write you for advice."—Mrs. Lizzie Hinkle, Salem, Ind.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Hyland and Mrs. Hinkle it will do for any woman at this time of life.

It has conquered pain, restored health, and prolonged life in cases that utterly baffled physicians.

FOR THE LIVER AND BOWELS
Mozley's Lemon Elixir
IT PROMPTLY CURES CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS, INDIGESTION, ACID STOMACH AND ALL DERANGEMENTS OF THE STOMACH AND BOWELS. 50 CENTS A BOTTLE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

Write Quick FOR A Big Bargain
To better advertise the South's Leading Business College, four scholarships are offered young persons of this county at less than cost. WRITE TODAY.
GA-ALA. BUSINESS COLLEGE, Macon, Ga.
TULANE UNIVERSITY OF LA.
NEW ORLEANS.

Full courses in Languages, Sciences, Engineering, Law, Medicine. Splendid department for women in Newcomb College. Tulane makes leaders in all vocations. Its facilities for instruction in Engineering are unsurpassed. Unexcelled opportunities for the study of Sugar Chemistry. Many scholarships in the academic department. Expenses low. Board and accommodations in dormitories at low rates. Next session begins October 1st. Send for catalogue. Address:
THE REGISTRAR, Gibson Hall.

NEEDLES, SHUTTLES, REPAIRS.
FOR ALL SEWING MACHINES, Standard Goods only. Free Catalogue to Dealers. BIELOCK MFG. CO., 915 Locust St., ST. LOUIS, MO.

WISCO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in Time. Sold by druggists.

It is afflicted with weak eyes, use
Thompson's Eye Water
NO CURE—NO PAY.
This is our GUARANTEE on OXIDINE.
If you have Chills and Fever, use it and get well.
Made in Regular and Tasteless Forms. Price 50 cts.
Manufactured by PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG CO., For sale by all Druggists. Dallas, Texas and Memphis, Tenn.

DATE 'EM
"THE SHOES THAT PUT ST. LOUIS ON THE MAP"
When you buy a Pair of Shoes for your boy or girl, Write the Date in the lining, in ink.
Clover Brand SHOES
STAND EVERY TEST
Get the DICTIONARY
That is FREE with every pair of Webster's from size 7 1/2 up.
IF YOUR DEALER SAYS "NO" HE IS REFUSING YOU YOUR MONEY'S WORTH Wertheimer-Swartz Shoe Co.
LARGEST FINE SHOE EXCLUSIVISTS
ST. LOUIS, U. S. A.

Plantation Chill Cure is Guaranteed
To cure, or money refunded by your merchant, so why not try it? Price 50c.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., AUGUST 31 1905.

VOL. 30. NO. 52

FAMINE IN SPAIN

Whole Provinces Around Seville Threatened With Starvation.

MANY THOUSANDS OUT OF WORK

Men Commit Crimes So as to Be Put in Jail, Where They Can Get Food—Rioting Begun.

Seville, Spain.—Heart-rending reports continue to reach the provincial authorities from the outlying famine-stricken districts. The latest reports received are from Osuna and Almolag, the respective mayors of which notify the authorities that their resources are exhausted and that they are unable to further assist the famished laborers and the women and children, as the distress is too acute. At Ecija the population has looted the baker stores.

The mortality among infants and aged persons is attaining terrifying proportions, and in many localities the working people are living on roots. The government has organized public works on a small scale, employing about 600 men, but this is a mere drop in the ocean of misery, as a moderate calculation shows that 200,000 are out of employment.

Cardinal Sancha, having exhausted the available charitable funds, is going from house to house in Seville begging for contributions, while the employees of several banks and commercial houses have decided to devote a portion of their wages toward the relief of the destitute.

Count Romanones, minister of agriculture, has just concluded a personal inquiry in the depressed districts, following on the relief of a fund of $800,000 voted by the government. His report creates the impression that heroic measures for relief are necessary. The count journeyed from end to end of Andalusia, and everywhere in the four provinces comprised therein he was confronted with pictures of desolation.

The territory most stricken forms a circle, embracing Seville, Jerez, Cadiz, Malaga and Cordova, where natural forces appear to have combined against the people's welfare. The rivers for years past have been gradually filling with sand, hindering navigation and commerce. The district always has been dry, but this year a two months' drouth, beginning in the spring, destroyed all hopes for the reaping of crops and rendered the landscape practically a desert, resembling portions of Morocco.

The population is almost entirely composed of day laborers, who depend on agricultural employment, and when that fails, which is a frequent occurrence, though more marked this year than ever before, practically every body is thrown into a condition of indigence.

Most Robust Citizens Emigrate.

It is calculated that a third of the population emigrated in recent years to South America, and these immigrants naturally included the most robust. The conditions of the interior were ameliorated thereby. The soil, owing to lack of irrigation, is becoming more and more unproductive, and the patience of the people is now nearly exhausted.

The absence of the landlords and unfulfilled electioneering promises, added to the fact that women and children are suffering the agonies of slow starvation, have led the people to listen to agitators who incite them to violence, the result of which is seen in attacks on farms, the seizure and killing of flocks of sheep and the threat of armed invasion of the towns.

Murmurs of revolution awakened apprehension, and the farmers everywhere are taking refuge in the cities, while the police regard acts of pillage with indifference, refusing to arrest men who frequently accuse themselves in order to obtain food.

Attache Dismissed.

Washington, D. C.—The secretary of the interior has dismissed from the service of that department Inspector George F. Wilson on account of disclosures made in connection with the investigation of the charge made against United States Senator Mitchell, of Oregon. It was stated by some of the witnesses in that case that Wilson had promised favorable recommendations in some of the cases in which the witnesses were interested for a consideration in money, and it was claimed in one case that he had accepted $200. When called upon for an explanation he admitted that he had received the money, but said that it had been exacted to entrap the man from whom it was taken and that he had intended to return the amount. This explanation was unsatisfactory, and Wilson was removed. Wilson was appointed from Rhode Island.

Charles H. Hix Is Superintendent.

Norfolk, Va.—President James M. Barr, of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, has issued a circular announcing the resignation of Frank Huger, general superintendent of the Seaboard system, and the appointment in his place of Charles H. Hix, at present division superintendent of the Seaboard, with headquarters at Richmond, Va. His headquarters at general superintendent will be at Portsmouth, Va.

Strange as Fiction.

New York.—A story as strange as that constituting the plot of any novel will be told to Governor Higgins, of New York, by a New York city lawyer who he endeavors to secure the pardon of a man who chose to serve a sentence of three years' imprisonment in Sing Sing prison for theft, of which he was innocent, to shield the name of a woman from scandal. Carl Fisher-Hansen, the lawyer, said that he would at once appeal for the pardon of the prisoner, whose name he would not reveal, at the request of the woman whose reputation the prison had saved at an expense of his own liberty. The woman, Mr. Fisher-Hansen said, had visited his office within a few days and said that her husband had just died and that she now wanted to do justice to the prisoner. They had been friends, and more than a year ago, when her husband returned unexpectedly, he caught the other running away. To save her from scandal the man confessed that he had broken into her home to steal, whereupon he was arrested, and is now in Sing Sing.

The prisoner was a young college student, who disappeared from one of the colleges when he was arrested. No one has ever known what became of him, as he was tried and sentenced under an assumed name.

The woman in the case has also paid a penalty for her indiscretion, as a servant who knew of the affair has collected $86,000 in blackmail from her. She is a member of one of the best families in New York, and her husband owned several factories in New Jersey.

Burned to Death.

Readfield, Me.—Three persons lost their lives early Saturday in a fire which destroyed the Maranacook Hotel at Lake Maranacook. Five other persons were burned or otherwise injured. The hotel management believes the bodies are those of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Martin and child, of Boston, for the reason that all the other guests have been located and the bodies corresponded with theirs. More than four score guests and employees escaped in night attire, many of them leaping from the windows. That there had been loss of life was not known until a search of ruins revealed the charred bodies.

Limits Powers of Prefects.

St. Petersburg.—The fears expressed by the liberals that elections to the duma among the peasantry would be swayed by the government administrative officials, who hitherto have exerted a great influence in consular affairs, has been met by the issuance of an order by the ministry of the interior strictly limiting the powers of the prefects to the extent of their punitive authority, which insures the independence of the communes in matters of local self-government. The execution of this order is considered to be a guarantee of the independence of the peasantry in the conduct of the elections.

Shot From Ambush.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—Long distance telephone messages to Chattanooga from Tracy City, Tenn., tell of a tragedy which occurred there at 10 o'clock Thursday morning, in which two non-union miners were killed and two others seriously wounded by unknown parties. The men were shot from ambush, and a reward of $1,000 has been offered for the arrest and conviction of the parties who committed the terrible deed.

On Thursday morning the mines of the Tennessee Consolidated Coal Company were opened for the first time in fourteen months. Scarcely had the men started to work when fire was opened upon them from ambush, and in less than a minute Mine Foreman J. B. Rust and Dick Kenney were instantly killed, while John McGovern, also a mine foreman, and another man whose name has not been learned were seriously wounded. McGovern was shot through the leg and will recover. The other man is not fatally wounded.

Negroes Commend Lynchers.

Chicago, Ill.—A dispatch to the Record-Herald from Dallas, Tex., says: "The burning at the stake of Tom William, a negro, for attacking a white woman, was commended at the state convention of negro Baptists here Friday. Rev. Mr. Jackson, of Dallas, declared that if any action was taken by the convention in reference to the lynching a resolution should be passed commending the whites. Other pastors asserted the negroes aided the whites in the capture of Williams. Every law-abiding negro was said to be in favor of lynch law in cases of the kind. The convention refused to pass resolutions denouncing the burning."

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Phelps Binion, a negro, was arrested Thursday evening at Holt charged with having made an attempted criminal assault on Mrs. Joseph Cunningham. It is reported that had the screams of Mrs. Cunningham not frightened him from his purpose the crime would have been committed.

Serious Situation in Warsaw.

Warsaw.—A serious situation prevails here. Business is almost suspended. Police patrol are stopping all persons in the streets, including the occupants of carriages, demanding from them proofs of their identity. There have been many arrests and many persons have been injured in the disturbances. The prisons are overflowing.

PEACE CONFERENCE

Still in Session—Japan Will Have a New Proposition to Offer.

DISSENSION AMONG THE JAPS.

Many of Them Are in Favor of Not Yielding Another Inch—The Conference Guarded.

Portsmouth, N. H.—There was no rupture in the peace negotiations Saturday. Peace is by no means assured, but an important crisis has been tided over, and the fact that the life of the conference has been prolonged a few days adds materially to the chances of a favorable issue.

According to the Russian version it was Japan and not Russia which weakened Saturday afternoon. M. Witte publicly announced after the sitting that it was Baron Komura who asked for an adjournment until Monday, in order to have time to submit a new proposition. Yet it is known that M. Witte has received instructions sent after the president's intercession at Peterhof through Ambassador Meyer to agree to the division of Sakhalin and to permit liberal compensation for the Russian prisoners of war and the cession of the Chinese Eastern Railroad, but to continue absolutely to refuse to pay war tribute under any guise. This was described as Russia's "ultimatum," leaving over the same old question of money, the stumbling stock to an agreement.

Move Passes to Russia.

In the regular course of procedure after the presentation of the Japanese compromise proposition on Wednesday the diplomatic move passed to Russia, and it was M. Witte's turn naturally to present the counter proposition of his government. If he succeeded, as is intimated in withholding his card, and forcing the Japanese to play again, he undoubtedly gained a point in the game. But no adequate account of the proceedings at Saturday's meeting is forthcoming. The plenipotentiaries by agreement excluded the secretaries. There were no minutes. There is no record. This in itself is extremely significant. When men who are fighting a desperate battle lock themselves in a room alone it is the best evidence that they are terribly in earnest. It is a hopeful sign.

All that is formally announced is that the minutes of the last session were approved, and upon Baron Komura's motion the conference adjourned until Monday at 3 o'clock, but whether or not the counter proposition of Russia was submitted at Saturday afternoon's session it seems to be "up to Japan" to formally renounce her demand for the "frais de guerre" and try to obtain a partial recompense in another way—for instance, by a bona fide sale of the northern half of Sakhalin. Emperor Nicholas' response to Mr. Meyer and his instructions to M. Witte marked his last word so far as indemnity is concerned. Compromise by which Japan can secure a comparatively moderate sum of money is still open.

But the gulf to be spanned is still wide between the two adversaries. Russia is now willing to divide Sakhalin. Japan on Wednesday claimed the entire island by right of occupation, offering only to sell back the northern half at the price of the "cost of the war." And it should be borne in mind that the elimination of articles 10 and 11 (surrender of Russia's interned warships and limitation of Russia's sea power) was conditional upon her acceptance of this proposition. Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira want time to consult their governments before agreeing to yield further. The most competent Japanese authorities said Saturday night: "The question of peace or war still hangs in the balance."

Dissension in Japanese Camp.

For the first time there appears to be some dissension in the Japanese camp as to the advisability of making another conciliatory step. Many of the attaches are strongly of the opinion that they should not recede another inch. The most prominent of them said Saturday night to the Associated Press:

"We only offered one-half of Sakhalin upon condition that we should receive for it the price we fixed. The island is ours by right of conquest. If Russia imagines we will give up half of it for nothing she is mistaken. Our answer should be 'come and take it.'"

The main hope of peace rests as before upon the fact that both sides are at heart sincerely anxious to end the war, that all the principles involved in the quarrel have been settled in favor of the victor and that with each day's prolongation of the negotiations the pressure on both sides will increase.

Washington, D. C.—A report came from Detroit Saturday which makes an entirely new slate for cabinet reorganization. It brings a new name into discussion. This new story is to the effect that Trewn H. Newberry, a former mayor of that city, is to be made postmaster-general, and that he will assume the office when the present incumbent, Mr. Cortelyou, is promoted to the secretaryship of the treasury.

not to allow a mere question of money to stand between them. The medium between Baron Kaneko, who is acting for Japan in the pour parlors with the president and the Japanese plenipotentiaries, has been discovered. It is Mr. Uchida, the Japanese consul general at New York. After Baron Kaneko's visit to Oyster Bay Friday a long account of the interview was transmitted by telegraph in cipher to Baron Komura by Mr. Uchida.

Envoys Were Not Slighted.

Portsmouth, N. H.—In an authoritative quarter it was learned Saturday night that the latest suggestions offered to the emperors of the two warring powers as to amicable adjustment of their differences were communicated simultaneously to the envoys of Russia and Japan. This action on the part of the president was taken in order that no possible ground for offense could be taken by the plenipotentiaries because of his direct appeal to the emperors. While the terms suggested by the president are not disclosed, it is known that they were framed on broad humanitarian lines and in the interest of the most enlightened civilization. It is permissible to say, in the way of the authority referred to:

"If the civilized world could know at this time the precise nature of the propositions made to Russia and Japan by President Roosevelt, it would seem that the force of public opinion of the great neutral powers of the world would induce the plenipotentiaries and their governments to pause and consider seriously the results before breaking off finally the present conference without an agreement. Indeed, they might scarcely dare in the face of the world's opinion to refuse to accept in principle at least the suggestions offered by the president."

Paris.—Owing to the reports from Portsmouth indicating that the question of peace between Russia and Japan hinges solely on Russia paying an indemnity to Japan, the Matin has cabled a rather remarkable appeal to John D. Rockefeller at Cleveland, O. The appeal in part follows:

"The question of money threatens to unloose afresh and with redoubled violence the scourge of war. President Roosevelt is making noble and heroic efforts to end a struggle between two nations whose populations amount to one-seventh of the entire population of the globe. His initiative honors America in the opinion of civilized nations. The question arises as to whether another American would not share the glory of Mr. Roosevelt and complete his work by overcoming the sole obstacle now hindering peace. He would thus demonstrate the might of money in powerful and generous hands."

"The Matin, constituting itself spokesman for this sentiment, addresses the richest citizen of the world."

The appeal concludes with a lengthy argument showing the immense benefits such an act would confer upon civilization.

Rockefeller Is Silent.

Cleveland, O.—Mr. Rockefeller declined to make any statement Saturday night concerning the cablegram from the Paris Matin, which had been received early in the evening at Forest Hill, his summer residence.

New York's Mayoralty.

New York.—The expected has happened, and the Citizen's Union has decided to endorse District Attorney Jerome for mayor. It is expected that the republicans will also endorse him unless in the meantime Mr. Jerome should give out a statement refusing absolutely to accept an endorsement for any office except district attorney. This, it is believed, Mr. Jerome will do. It is not believed by his friends that under any circumstances will he become the fusion candidate for mayor. An announcement from Mr. Jerome is expected early next week.

There is still a belief that the field will be left clear for Mayor McClellan. If there is another candidate he will cut little figure. A significant evidence of this is that the Times and Sun, two papers that were against him in the last election, are out for Mr. McClellan in the present campaign.

Fears Fever May Make Trouble.

San Francisco, Cal.—Sir Patrick Manson, medical adviser to the British colonial office, and a recognized authority on tropical diseases, in a speech before the board of directors of the merchants' association of this city outlined his theory that yellow fever may yet become a source of worry here in the changed conditions which will follow the completion of the Panama canal, urging the utility of what now passes as quarantine either in yellow fever or the bubonic plague. Owing to the advantages that San Francisco possesses over London for the study of tropical diseases, an advantage due to the fact that it has a colony of 10,000 Chinese, as well as many Japanese, Filipinos and Hawaiians, he suggested that a school should be established here for the study of tropical medicine.

Troops May Go to Tracy City.

Nashville, Tenn.—Discussing the mining trouble at Tracy City, Governor Cox said Saturday night that the Third regiment, N. G. S. T., now in camp at Harriman, is under orders to be in readiness to start for the scene of trouble promptly upon receipt of instructions. It is understood that cars are being placed on the railroad sidings near the camp to await the troops.

YELLOW FEVER NEWS.

The Latest Reports From the Infected District.

New Orleans, La.—Fever situation at 6 p. m. Sunday was as follows: New cases, 31; total to date, 1,743; deaths, 13; total, 255; new foci, 12; total, 402; cases remaining under treatment, 199.

The record shows the smallest number of new cases since August 6, and the largest number of deaths on any since the fever made its appearance. The unusual number of deaths is attributed in a measure to the change in the weather, Saturday night being cool and pleasant, in great contrast to the weather of the preceding week. Three well known merchants are among the thirty-one. Of the deaths, eight are Italians. Two died in the charity hospital, and two in the emergency. All but two of the deaths were down town.

Sunday was a very quiet day among the health authorities. Surgeon Guitras will return to Patterson tomorrow and Surgeon von Emdorf will go to Leeville to look into the situation there.

Natchez Blames New Orleans.

The principal news from outside the city was the announcement from Natchez of the discovery of six cases there and the attempt to blame New Orleans for them. This is regarded as rather strange, in view of the fact that of all tight quarantines against New Orleans, Natchez has maintained the tightest, not even allowing its own people to enter if they had been near New Orleans.

Other reports from the country are as follows:

Patterson—No new cases and no deaths.

Amelia—Two cases.

Bayou Boeuf—One case.

Pecan Grove—Three cases and one death.

Elizabeth plantation—One death.

Hanson City—Four new cases and one death.

St. Rose—Two cases.

Port Barrow—Two cases.

Ninth Ward of Jefferson Parish—One case.

Lake Providence—Three cases.

Gulftort—Three cases.

Mississippi City—No new cases.

The Southern Pacific at the request of the state board of health has put on a special coach for the accommodation of people traveling between infected points on that road. It will be run every other day.

Holt and Kohnke Clash.

Quite a controversy has developed between City Health Officer Kohnke and Dr. Joseph Holt, at one time president of the state board of health. Dr. Holt in the course of an address before a meeting, passed some severe strictures on the city health officer, who when he read the papers, wrote him asking if he had been correctly quoted. Dr. Holt made a rather warm reply, in the course of which he said:

"You are evidently trying a bluff game, but whether so or not, you can pop your whip and wade in, for I make to you neither apology nor explanation."

To this Dr. Kohnke made response, in which he told him politely that he should have ascertained the correctness of his impressions before giving them public utterance.

Dr. Holt had several thousand copies of Dr. Kohnke's first letter and his own thereto struck off, and generally distributed in the city. Dr. Kohnke has written a letter to the public giving all correspondence and concludes with this statement:

"The heat of battle of this community against a common enemy affords the opportunity for the improper exhibition of personal antagonism and individual preference against which those who are busily engaged in serious work find little time to defend themselves. At the proper time it will be shown that the health officer acted promptly, properly and vigorously in the emergency presented. Until then fair-minded men will reserve their judgment."

Crowds Detained at Cairo.

Cairo, Ill.—Crowds of through passengers were detained Sunday at the central station because they were not supplied with permits and a guard was placed over them until they could be sent on their way. A number of arrests were made of persons who were trying to evade the quarantine officers. A lady arrived on a steamer from Memphis Sunday en route to Indianapolis. She had no permit and her train did not leave till in the morning. She was permitted to go to a hotel and was pledged to stay inside of the place until her train departed. Many similar cases were experienced.

The editor of the Paducah Register arrived from the north Saturday night without a permit. He was allowed to go to a hotel last night on Cutting Affray.

Troy, Ala.—News was received here Friday of a serious cutting affray in Josie beat, this county. Henry Reeves and Walter Townsend in a fight used knives on each other, and both were seriously carved. It required twenty or more stitches to sew up the wounds inflicted upon Townsend and about a half dozen to sew up those of Reeves. The cause of the difficulty has not been learned.

condition he would leave the city Sunday morning. A car containing thirty people bound from Chicago to Paducah arrived late Saturday night, and their train was held for several hours. It is said they were abusive to the inspectors and were locked in the car by the guards until the train pulled out this morning.

Situation at Natchez.

Vicksburg.—Physicians of the Natchez board of health at noon Sunday examined and pronounced as yellow fever two patients, a white woman and a negro man. Examining further, five negroes convalescent from yellow fever were found in the northeast end of town, together with seventeen suspicious cases of sickness, thirteen of which are undoubtedly yellow fever. The infection is traced to a negro woman who came from New Orleans on July 19th. Lake Providence, La., reports five new cases, making a total of fifteen.

Mississippi Will Not Quarantine.

Jackson.—No state quarantine will be established against Memphis. Governor Vardaman and Secretary Hunter, of the state board of health, have thoroughly satisfied themselves from a personal investigation that no yellow fever exists in that city, and a clear bill of health is given.

Decatur Quarantines.

Decatur, Ala.—Decatur has quarantined against Mississippi and Louisiana and against Tennessee on a straight line north of Corinth, Miss., on account of yellow fever. The quarantine went into effect at noon Sunday. No person from the sections named will be permitted to stop in Decatur without a health certificate.

Refugees Evade the Law.

St. Louis, Mo.—The constabulary of St. Louis, East St. Louis and St. Clair counties patrolled the Mississippi front Friday night in vain efforts to locate a steam launch bearing the name of Eva Alma, which passed the quarantine station without stopping Thursday night. The launch is believed to be the same one that kept towns along the river from Memphis to Cape Girardeau in a state of uneasiness, it being reported that the occupants were yellow fever refugees. It is reported from Jefferson barracks that United States soldiers have captured the launch and the refugees were taken off and placed in quarantine.

Raids on Distilleries.

Birmingham, Ala.—Raids upon alleged illicit distilleries have been reported to the office of Collector J. O. Thompson as follows:

Three miles southeast of Lamar, Randolph county, by Deputy Collector J. N. Ware and W. A. Farmer; no arrests made.

Three miles south of Big Creek, Houston county, Deputy Collector Knox Booth and C. L. Pittman arrested Jack Braxton and carried him to Troy. He was arraigned there before Commissioner C. S. Tutwiler and held to the federal grand jury in a $200 bond.

Five miles west of Big Creek, Houston county, Revenue Agent D. A. Gates; no arrests.

Near Big Creek, Houston county, D. A. Gates; no arrests.

Must Have Immigrants.

Birmingham, Ala.—Col. R. A. Mitchell, president of the Dwight Cotton Mills, of Alabama City, and vice-president of the Alabama State Immigration Society, said that the society was determined to have plenty of immigrants, and have them quickly, as the state was certainly very much in need of them. Some of the other organizations of the state, said Colonel Mitchell, whose object is to promote immigration, have displayed a feeling of hostility toward the society, as if the society were in some way working against them. This, said Mr. Mitchell, is an entirely erroneous idea, and the Alabama State Immigration Society will be glad to co-operate with these organizations in securing immigration and do all in their power to accomplish this end.

Yellow Scourge at Honduras.

Los Angeles, Cal.—While New Orleans has been fighting yellow fever, the little government of Honduras has been battling with the dread scourge since May 25, on which date it broke out in Puerto Cortez, the principal seaport on the northern coast. Advice received from A. Ellsworth, a large plantation owner, states that the fever is spreading and in all probability will not be stamped out before November. Scores of deaths occur daily in some towns.

Nashville Open to Refugees.

Nashville, Tenn.—At the regular meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Thursday there was a lengthy discussion held on the yellow fever situation, and it was decided to send out to the commercial bodies throughout the South a statement that this city was not and never had been closed against the inhabitants of infected cities.

Editor Johnson Dead.

Cullman, Ala.—Judge John A. Johnson, widely known as the oldest editor in the state of Alabama, died at his residence Thursday.

Havana, Cuba.—President Palma on Friday signed the bill passed by the house July 21 and by the senate August 12 for the liquidation of the remaining half of the revolutionary soldiers' pay.

ITEMS FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

Renewed Litigation.

Henry B. Gray, of Birmingham, has filed quo warranto proceedings against the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company in the city court of Montgomery. He wants to know by what authority the Louisville and Nashville is operating a railroad from Montgomery to Decatur.

The proceedings were filed Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The answer of the Louisville and Nashville was made returnable before Judge A. D. Sayre on September 4.

Mr. Gray, who is a stockholder of the South and North Company, claims that the general assembly of 1854 gave a franchise to the South and North Railroad of Alabama, a domestic corporation, to operate this railroad, and that operation by the Louisville and Nashville is an usurpation of the granted privilege.

Henry Byrd Caught.

Henry Byrd, the confessed murderer of his wife, Ellen Byrd, was caught hiding and skulking in the woods on the Griel place, five miles from town, Friday morning. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff S. S. Belser, assisted by J. Lee Walker, and Patrolmen D. F. Lowe and J. A. LaPrade.

"Yas, sah, I killed her. I killed her because I loved her. I wanted her ter come back ter me, an' she wouldn't do it and I shot her."

This was what Byrd told his captors. He met the woman in the road Saturday night as she left the home of her employer, Mr. J. A. Barnes. He says he begged her to come back to him, and when she refused he put the pistol to her head and pulled the trigger. He dragged her body to the ditch and partially covered it with weeds.

A Remedy Offered.

A woman in Sylacauga has heard that yellow fever "air regin'" in Montgomery and she writes to the "city mayor" to tell him she has an infallible remedy for it and to offer it to the city for a moderate price.

The letter is quite a literary gem. The Sylacauga woman was misinformed as to the yellow fever situation in Montgomery. She is on a hopeless quest when she seeks to sell Montgomery a remedy for yellow fever, for even if the city should ever be unfortunate enough to harbor another refugee with yellow fever, the disease would be fought out on the stegomyia mosquito theory. The Sylacauga correspondent of the mayor avers, however, that her remedy was the only one which stopped the fever in her home town when it prevailed some years ago. She does not in the least indicate the nature of her remedy, holding that information in reserve until the negotiations have gotten under way.

Executive Appointments.

C. T. Weatherly, of Benton, Lowndes county, was Saturday appointed a notary public and ex-officio justice of the peace by the Governor.

Other executive appointments Saturday were as follows:

Constable—J. B. Knight, of Elba. Notaries Public—J. C. Travis, of Evergreen, A. S. Boyd, of Birmingham; Eugene Heilpern, or Montgomery, and J. A. Welsh, of Mobile.

Can Ride in Sleepers.

All passengers from Montgomery, Mobile and Birmingham who expect to spend seven days out of Alabama will hereafter be given the privilege of boarding sleeper sleepers. This modification of a quarantine regulation of the state which has been carefully enforced in the past was made Friday by State Health Officer W. H. Sanders. The order was issued Friday afternoon and copies were sent to the quarantine supervisors stationed at Mobile, Montgomery and Birmingham.

To Improve Grounds.

The special committee of the Capitol Building Commission, composed of State Treasurer J. Craig Smith and Dr. Thomas M. Owen, Secretary, have let the contract for grading and improving the South half of Capitol Square.

The work of filling in will begin at once, and as soon as possible thereafter the important work of landscape gardening will begin.

Will Be Settled.

No communication has been held between Governor Jelks and State Health Officer W. H. Sanders about the justice of Alabama quarantine officers interfering with through passenger traffic. The complaint of Governor Blanchard and Louisianians on this score, therefore, which threatens a controversy between him and Governor Jelks will be attended to by the latter himself unless the matter is later taken up with Dr. Sanders.

Open Cotton.

Gadsden, Ala.—A great deal of cotton is reported as being open throughout this section of the country. This is very unusual and is due to the severe drouth, which lasted for more than a month.

Nagasaki.—The British steamer Baralong and the Japanese transport Kingio collided at 10 o'clock last Tuesday in the inland sea. The transport was sunk and 160 men were drowned.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the post office at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Aug. 31, '05

Telephone No. 17.

Our Special Edition.

Nothing preventing the special edition of The Sentinel will appear next week as a supplement to our regular edition. We have been delayed a number of times during the work upon this effort which has made its appearance much later than was at first intended, but if it meets the approval of our readers we are satisfied.

"Barkis is Willing."

Mr. Comer has signified that "Barkis is willing," and apparently the old lady gave her consent without much urging, and he will be a candidate for Governor. There was no need for him to intimate anything of the kind, for it is a well known fact that Mr. Comer is ambitious and has had a gubernatorial bee in his bonnet for so these several years.

It is the inherent right of any American citizen to be a candidate for office if he so wishes—anybody can be a candidate, but it isn't any and everybody who can be elected, and as Rufus Sanders used to say, "that is the mainest thing," and we believe when the final reckoning comes Mr. Comer will be short on "the mainest thing"—votes.

He announces his platform as a straight out fight on the railroads of Alabama, and The Sentinel does not believe the people of this State will stand for anything of that kind. Mr. Comer's intention is a vigorous fight upon the greatest upbuilders of towns, communities, States and countries in the world—the railroads. He is an extremist in his views upon the subject, and has a mania to give the railroads the hot end of the deal, and is willing "to be sacrificed" (by being elected Governor) for his country's sake. He says the railroad rates in Alabama are outrageous, out of all reason, and a daylight robbery of the people—that the iron heel of the railroad corporations is grinding the life out of the people—possibly not his exact words, but the sentiment of all his arguments just the same. Much that Mr. Comer says about the railroads should be taken with considerable degree of allowance, for they caught up with him once upon a time.

As said before, the railroads are the greatest factors in building up a State. We have in mind where the railroads carried freight free nearly, if not quite, all the material for the buildings of one of the greatest educational institutions in Alabama. We know of another instance where all the machinery of a manufacturing plant was freighted free by a railroad from St. Louis to an Alabama town, and these are but two instances of probably hundreds of others. The railroads operating in Alabama have in a measure made the State, and we do not believe the people—a very large majority of them—at least—will endorse a man who has openly avowed to "do the railroads" if he is elected Governor. That is Mr. Comer's platform—the platform of the extremist, and the extremist if given dominating power does not always yield it to the best interests of the people. For this and other reasons The Sentinel does not believe that Mr. Comer will receive the endorsement of the people in the primaries.

And The Sentinel is as much opposed to the election on the railroad commission of such men as Tunstall as we are opposed to the election of Mr. Comer, for we believe both the people and the railroads will be better off when the Tunstall dynasty is shelved for all time to come. He is a barnacle on both the people and railroads and has been for years. Send Tunstall and all those like him to a rear seat, elect two conservative men on the railroad commission, and to keep the brakes on the erratic Mr. Comer.

Wants Good Roads.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana. Will you allow me a little space in your valuable paper? I have heard some of the people, who are in favor of building the new court house, say that the county would build it and the taxpayers would never know the difference. Now I don't believe it; but if that be true, why can't we have better roads in Shelby county? Within the past eight years there have been thousand of dollars paid for improvement of the roads in Shelby county, and with a very few exceptions the roads are in worse condition now than they were a decade ago.

Some of the public roads in Shelby county are a shame and a disgrace to civilization. I would like to know who is responsible for the roads in this county? Some of them have not been worked this year. On some roads the men have all paid off, and the Overseer sent the funds to the Probate Judge and where it goes then the Lord only knows so far as I have been able to find out.

Will the Commissioners, or some one who has authority, please see to having the roads put in passable condition by the time the new court house is completed?

As for myself, I'm not in favor of building the court house, but then, I haven't any right to say anything about it "cause I don't live in town nohow." I have heard several people say that "the old court house is better than the house I live in," and it's a fact.

When it comes to so vital a question as paying out seventy-five or one hundred thousand dollars I believe it would be just and right for the Commissioners to consult the taxpayers before they act, and find out what the people want. I believe a large majority of the voters of Shelby county are opposed to building any court house at all, much less on the new location. The Commissioners remind me of a man who is so far in debt that he can see no way out; so he says to his wife and children: "Well, we will go ahead and get what we can and enjoy ourselves while we live. I never expect to get out of debt nohow." I am proud that I am an American; I'm proud of the Constitution that was framed by our forefathers, and I'm proud of the Declaration of Independence. The words that were spoken by George Henry (give me liberty or give me death) are still ringing in my ears, and it seems to me that we Americans here in Shelby county haven't got the liberty we ought to have, but I may be mistaken.

May the time speedily come when we will have better schools, better roads and better times, even here in Shelby county.

Jas. H. Walton.

Another Rural Route.

Anniston, Ala., Aug. 25, '05. Editor Sentinel, Columbiana. Dear Sir:—I have received notice that a rural free delivery route from Shelby, Ala., will be established November 1st. This will give your county over a dozen routes and indicate a much better condition than existed a year ago. There are four or five petitions pending which will be examined this fall, and some of them no doubt will be acted upon favorably. However, it is manifest that much of the available territory in your county is still uncovered by this service. As the rural free delivery of mail is beneficial from every standpoint, I hope parties interested will write me for blank petitions so as to still further extend the same.

Very truly yours,

SYDNEY J. BOWIE.

The president and attorney general Moody seem to be playing at cross purposes, and Mr. Moody signifies his intention of leaving the cabinet January first. There promises to be a shake up in the cabinet all around.

Ex-Mayor Drennon, of Birmingham has resigned his membership on the board of trustees of the Tuskegee Institute right now. He has no sympathy with Washington's social aspirations with white people.

The Selma Times says the Southern newspapers are giving Booker Washington too much notoriety by saying so much of him. And by the same token the Times seems to be doing its full quota.

Many people think the carrying of a rabbit's foot brings good luck, but a member of Birmingham's police commission has a "rabbit's foot" he is making strenuous efforts to rid himself of.

Wanamaker and his daughter seem to have an aggravated case of negrophobia. Too bad that Washington is not a widower—there might be something doing in the Wanamaker family.

Editor Nunnalee, of the Selma Times, has been mentioned as a probable candidate for State Auditor, but he says not on your life. He just wouldn't have it nohow.

Yellow fever is spreading, and there appears to be no hope of its eradication until a good frost comes.

The big stick does not seem to have much effect at Portsmouth.

Birmingham's police commission is a red hot wire just now.

WILSONVILLE.

Brindley Nivens is at home mixing with his many friends.

Mrs. J. T. Wilkins is the guest of her son, E. M. Wilkins, at present.

G. W. Brown, of Birmingham, paid a flying visit to our town Sunday.

J. R. Black was called to Oxford last Friday by the death of his brother's child.

We were glad to shake hands again with Davis Riddle who is here now on a visit to his mother.

Mrs. Wm. Black, of Oxford, came down Sunday to visit her sister, Mrs. J. R. Black, for a few days.

We very much regret to hear that Mrs. J. L. Riddle is again on the back ground; hope she may be better again soon.

The work is progressing nicely on our new school building and when it is completed, I think we will all be proud of it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pope and Miss Sallie Elam returned from St. Louis last Wednesday whither they had been to purchase fall goods.

R. N. Wilson came home yesterday from Selma where he has been at work. He will be with us several days as he is on the sick list.

The meeting at the Christian church is still in progress. Up to the present Rev. I. B. Bradley has been preaching some fine sermons.

The Baptists began their annual protracted meeting Sunday morning. Rev. Mr. Smith, of Alexander City, I understand, will assist the pastor.

Miss Annie Boyer returned home yesterday from quite an extended visit to relatives in Kentucky and Tennessee. Miss Annie looks well and reports having had a very pleasant visit.

We would love to shake hands with Bro. Jake on what he had to say about the cemetery (or rather the people) in last week's edition of your valuable paper. There were but two persons who answered to the call from our place on August 22nd, to work in our cemetery. Two or three others have been in since then and looked after their lots. Some lots and graves in our cemetery seem to be sadly neglected by the surviving members of their families.

It seems that our good people sometimes forget the golden rule: "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," as was the case, I am sorry to say in our little town last week. On Wednesday night, which was the regular night for our union prayer meeting, the bell rang for prayer service at the same hour that there was preaching at the Christian church, a thing that has never been done in our town before. It has always been omitted when meetings were in progress at any other of the churches in our town. We never lose anything by being respectful and courteous to others, although we may not agree in detail with them. If we expect courtesy from others we must at least have the proper spirit within us to extend the same to them.

Rip Van Winkle.

Shelby Springs, Aug. 21.—Considerable excitement has been caused here by the elopement of Miss Vera MacKnight, third daughter of J. A. MacKnight, manager of Shelby Springs, with Joseph M. Spencer, of Meridian, Miss. Miss MacKnight was a great favorite with the guests here and young Spencer had been paying her marked attention for several weeks. Finally he went to Mr. MacKnight a few days ago, and asked his consent to marry the young girl, who is not yet seventeen. Her father advised delay, because of his daughter's youth, but made no objection to the match. At the close of the hop that night, the young couple, accompanied by a few friends, made their escape and took the next train from Calera into Georgia. Going to Decatur, young Spencer obtained a license, and the knot was tied by a justice of the peace.

Gee, Gosh!

Honolulu, Aug. 18.—A dispatch by wireless telegraph from Hilo, says that Hans, the Hawaiian wife of Kailua, a Chinese, gave birth to one child on last Thursday, two on Sunday, one on Monday, two on Tuesday morning, and one on Tuesday night. All are dead. Send word to the big stick man—there might be something doing in the way of a pension.

The Japs have made a final proposition, and say to the Russian bear: accept, or fight.

Herbine.

Readers the bile more fluid and thus helps the blood to flow; it affords prompt relief from biliousness, indigestion, sick and nervous headaches, and over-indulgence in food and drink C. L. Caldwell Agt. M. K. and T. R. R., Checotah, Ind. Ter., writes, April 18, 1903: "I was sick for over two years with enlargement of the liver and spleen. The doctors did me no good, and I had given up all hope of being cured, when my druggist advised me to use Herbine. It has made me sound and well." 50c. sold by Williams brothers.

"Blowing Our Own Horn."

Through the courtesy of the Board of Education, The Sentinel has been favored with a copy of the new catalogue of our public schools which has been recently issued, and from it we make the following extract. Parents with children to school will do well to read it:

"Columbiana has the only absolutely free school for a whole county in the State of Alabama. The citizens of Columbiana have voluntarily taken upon themselves the burden of placing it within the reach of every white child in Shelby county to get a good education free of any charge whatever. Children may come here from any part of the county and the school is open to them without money or without price. Board may be had in good families at very reasonable rates (eight dollars per month), and parents who have children to educate can secure desirable residences or lots upon the most liberal terms. Some of the most progressive citizens of the place will build houses either for sale or for rent to those desiring homes.

"No town in the State can boast better school advantages at any price. No town in the State offers better inducements to the conservative investor. Court house or no court house, our school is doing more for the intellectual life of the county than any other two schools in it. While expenses are so light, we have no cheap-John school or methods here. Our teachers are all graduates and experienced, each one being chosen solely on his or her merits and recognized ability to do the work of the special department over which he or she presides. At a cost of a large outlay of money we have employed the best instructors to be had. All personal motives and private considerations have been disregarded in the effort to get the very best teachers in the land."

The Sentinel congratulates the Board of Education on getting a catalogue that is a credit to the school and the town, and which sets forth the advantages of our educational institution so fully, and yet with no attempt to color in the least.

The doors of the school will open on Monday, September 18th.

Troy State Normal.

The State Normal College at Troy offers excellent advantages to those who desire to take higher courses of study. While it is the youngest State institution for education except the Girls' School at Montevallo, it is one of the best and largest, and last year had an enrollment of 433. The faculty is composed of fifteen specialists who have been most thoroughly schooled in the particular branch which they teach. Courses are offered in pedagogy, civics, mathematics, languages, science, manual training, instrumental and vocal music, art and elocution. This school makes a specialty of training teachers for the public schools, and the expenses are moderate in comparison with the advantages offered; they range from $125 to $150 per annum. The location of the school is healthy and of easy access.

If you are thinking of taking a normal course a letter to President E. M. Shackelford, Troy, Ala., will bring you a late catalogue, and any other information you may desire.

Cures Senatica.

Rev. W. L. Riley, L. L. D. Cuba New York, writes: "After fifteen days of excruciating pains from sciatic rheumatism, under various treatments, I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment; the first application giving my first relief and the second entire relief. I can give it unqualified recommendation. 25c, 50c and $1.00 sold by Williams Bros.

Alabama Girls Industrial School

Montevallo, Alabama.

Session of 1905-6, begins Thursday, Sept. 14. Tuition free; living expenses $92.00 per session. Academic, Pedagogical, Scientific, Commercial, Industrial, Domestic, Musical and Artistic courses taught. For information address the President, Rev. Francis M. Peterson, A. M., D. D.

Rheumatism.

When pains or irritation exist on any part of the body, the application of Ballard's Snow Liniment gives prompt relief. E. W. Sullivan, Prop. Sullivan's House, El Reno, O. T., writes, June 6, 1902: "I take pleasure in recommending Ballard's Snow Liniment to all who are afflicted with rheumatism. It is the only remedy I have found that gives immediate relief." 25c, 50c and $1.00. sold by Williams Bros.

Marion Military Institute.

The University of Virginia places the Institute on its list of accredited Colleges. The University of Pennsylvania accept the degrees of the Institute, admitting graduates without examination. Other leading universities accord the Institute the same recognition of merit.

Applicants for admission must present testimonials of good moral character and of creditable standing in the school last attended.

Personal attention and individual instruction is given every student. All professors live in the Institute. A home is in each building for the social and moral culture of the students.

For catalogue address, J. T. Murfee, Marion, Alabama.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

Our New Fall Goods!

We desire to inform the public in general that we are now receiving our stock of New Fall Goods. Ladies, come and see

Our New Dress Goods Line.

You are sure to be pleased. All the latest styles and shades. For men and boys a new line of

Hats, Shoes and Clothing

of the latest Fall Styles and Patterns is now coming in. If you want something neat and nobby we have it for you. We also have a substantial line of

Overalls, the Best, Men's and Boys'.

We invite you to come and see what we have. Goods are the best, and the prices right.

MILNER - & - CHRISTIAN.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

B. WALKER,

Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,

DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, - - - ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

There will be an eclipse of the sun, visible in the United States, on Wednesday morning, August 30th. The moon will begin to cast its shadow across the face of the sun at 5:15, until it covers about three-fourths of the disc, and will go off at 7:35. Better get up a little early if you want to see this sight

Fourth District Agricultural School,
Sylacauga, Alabama.

Competent and experienced instructors. Scientific and Agricultural courses. Thorough preparation for college. Beautiful and well arranged buildings and grounds. Next session begins Sept. 12th. For further information and catalogue, address
T. C. MOORE, President.

BIRMINGHAM
Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.
J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.,

Columbiana, Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE
Columbiana Savings Bank,
Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 20,538.52	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000.00
Overdrafts..... 30.64	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 2,156.16
Banking house..... 5,000.00	Individual deposits subject to check..... 2,000.00
Furniture and fixtures..... 2,000.00	Time deposits..... 2,784.50
Other real estate..... 3,000.00	Cashier's checks..... 101.60
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 9,336.23	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 16,466.50
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,512.57
Currency..... 5,317.00
Gold..... 955.00
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 1,387.10
Checks and cash items..... 4,678.07
Total..... $ 75,653.22	Total..... $ 75,653.22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.
W. L. FARLEY, Cashier.
Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 26th day of July, 1905.
JOHN R. DYKE, Circuit Clerk.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

WE WILL APPRECIATE
YOUR ORDER AT ANY TIME.

FRESH BREAD TWICE A WEEK.
LIKE YOUR MOTHER ONCE MADE.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
per copy one year.....$1.00 per copy six months.....50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Getting coal is a problem with some of our people.

D. W. Kidd, of Vincent, was in town last Wednesday.

No one ever repeated a slander-our story for a good purpose.

I. Gordon made a business trip to Sylacauga one day last week.

E. A. Turner, of Calera, was in town a day or two last week.

A rainy night will do more than duty to keep a man at home.

Howard Latham visited in Montevallo a day or two last week.

Edgar Cary, of Keystone, was in the city last week attending court.

G. F. Peter, of Maylene, was in attendance on county court last week.

Tomorrow is the first of September and cool fall weather will soon be with us.

Mrs. J. W. Millstead and children, of Wilsonville, are visiting relatives here.

W. A. Lyon is among the new subscribers to The Sentinel during the past week.

State Senator W. R. Oliver, of Calera, is in the city last week attending court.

The great pork packers will never be able to equal the old fashioned country ham.

This is the season of the year when the chigger bites one in the most difficult spot to reach.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Vest, of Wilton, were in the city a day or two last week visiting friends.

Attorney Jas. Kay has removed his office to one of the rooms over Roberts & Robertson's store.

Miss Nora Hawkins, of Birmingham, is a guest of Miss Emmie Abercrombie for a short time.

Lane Hebson, of Sylacauga, is in the city visiting his sister, Mrs. J. P. Roberts, for a short time.

Edwin Nelson, of Sycamore, is in the city visiting friends, and relatives near Shelby Springs.

J. E. and R. W. Allen, the market men of Montevallo, were in the city last week attending court.

There is one thing we could cheerfully do for some of our enemies: put flowers on their graves.

The chigger has a good appetite; and wouldn't you have if you could feed on sixteen-year-old girls?

Mrs. O. B. Jones and daughter, of Birmingham, are in the city visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Abercrombie.

N. W. Abbott, of Calera, was a caller at this office Tuesday.

Osce Bird was confined to his room two or three days last week suffering with a slight relapse of fever.

Dr. W. P. Hamner returned Thursday from Lineville where he had been visiting his family for a few days.

It appears as if there were more people in attendance at county court last week than at any previous term.

There was an unusually large crowd of farmers in town last Saturday, and the merchants did a thriving business.

The Bullock County Breeze is running a "Ntshell Biography" department which is quite a feature of that paper.

The worst thing about the white shoes and stockings the girls are wearing these days is that they are not always white.

G. E. Abbott, of Shelby, was in the city Friday and while here renewed his subscription to The Sentinel for another year.

Henry Little, a conductor running on the Southern out of Wilton, was in the city last week, a witness in county court.

"She really ought to be ashamed of herself, but please do not say I told you," is what one woman said to another a few days ago.

Geo. W. Morgan and C. L. Moroney, two prominent merchants of Montevallo, were in the city a few hours on Wednesday of last week.

The catalogue of the Columbiana Graded Schools is a fine piece of work, mechanically, and it tells all about the school of which Columbiana people are so proud.

Miss Scottie McKenzie, of Talladega, well known to the young people of Columbiana, will teach in the Seventh District school at Albertville the coming session.

Captain J. W. Bolin, of near Wilton, was in the city last Thursday, and while here came in and ordered The Sentinel sent to his daughter at Sterrett, Mrs. W. J. Tinney.

Mrs. Mary Walker and her granddaughter, Miss Mattie Walker, and Ernest Garrett, of Poll City, have been in the city guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Abercrombie.

Aaron Lefkovits and sister, Mrs. N. Weinberger, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lefkovits for the past few days, departed for their home in Laurel, Miss., last Friday.

Mrs. J. Stanfield, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Philip Erlick for some time, departed for St. Louis last Thursday where she will visit relatives before returning to her home in Cincinnati.

J. K. Milner and family, J. R. Hill and family and Mrs. Cowling and two children, of Gulfport, Miss., arrived in the city last Saturday and will remain until after the yellow fever has been stamped out. They were in Georgia under quarantine regulations a week before coming to Columbiana. Mr. Milner says he joined the get-away club and was among the number "who also ran." According to fast reports there are seven cases of the fever in Gulfport.

The Sentinel has heard it rumored that J. R. White will plat a part of the Mardis place of which he has recently become owner, and that he will build several cottages for rent. We believe Mr. White will realize handsomely from the investment if he decides to build the cottages. Later.—Since writing the foregoing, we learn that Mr. White has traded his farm for Rev. H. M. Millstead's residence.

The Shelby Association of the Baptist church is in session in Montevallo this week. The delegates from here are Dr. Rowe, J. L. Peters and Prof. S. Dowell. Rev. C. W. O'Hara, secretary of the association, is also in attendance from here. The visitors will get the best of everything that is to be found in Montevallo.

Mrs. J. H. Lane, who had been visiting relatives in Columbiana for a week, returned to her home in Sylacauga last Thursday. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. T. P. Roberts, who will visit in Sylacauga before returning to her home in Oxford.

T. D. Sowell, who is now employed in Ensley but who formerly lived in Shelby county, was in the city last week attending court, and while here ordered The Sentinel sent to him at Pelham as he soon will return to that place to live.

The Misses Shoaff, of Shelby Springs, were in the city Monday night guests of Mrs. Philip Erlick. These young women are talented musicians and added much to the pleasure of the entertainment at Mrs. Erlick's Monday night.

Dr. W. P. Hamner requests The Sentinel to say he will not in future make visits to other towns for the purpose of doing dental work, but can be found in his office in Columbiana every day in the week except Sunday.

J. R. Chandler, of Hattiesburg, Miss., was in the city several days last week. He is a son of Dr. Chandler, of Vincent, and took advantage of the yellow fever epidemic to come home and visit his relatives and friends.

The Sentinel is informed that J. T. Barnett has leased the Central hotel, and that he will take possession of the property on September 1st. The Sentinel trusts that Mr. Barnett may be successful in his new venture.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Friedberger have gone to Catherine for a visit. Mr. Friedberger will return this week but his wife will stay down there with relatives for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Camp, of Wilton, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Latham last Sunday and Monday. The two ladies are sisters.

Harry Roberts and Henry Chapman went up to Vincent last Monday to play ball with that team against Easonville.

In the game of ball between Vincent and Easonville Monday, the former was victor by a score of 10 to 5.

Our merchants should tell the public through The Sentinel about the fall goods they are now receiving.

John Strickland, who has been visiting up about Pelham for several weeks past, has returned home.

Pleasant Evening.

The ice cream social given by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist church at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erlick, on Monday night, was a delightful affair. Mr. and Mrs. Erlick threw open the doors of their pleasant home to the ladies and their visitors, and until about 10:30 a pretty scene was presented. Tables had been arranged the full length of the long veranda, and while busy hands supplied the wants of those who desired refreshments, a merry crowd was in the parlor making merry with laughter and song—an additional charm and pleasure of the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Erlick, assisted by the ladies of the society, were untiring in their efforts to entertain, and theirs was not a labor of disappointment. Some fifteen dollars were added to the treasury of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Old Maids' Convention.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church have in rehearsal the laughable "Old Maids' Convention" which they will produce at the Academy on Friday night, September 8th. Whoever presented the "Old Maids" have always been greeted with big audiences, and The Sentinel feels that the same results will obtain here. If you want eighty laughs in eighty minutes do not miss the "Old Maids."

Married at Gadsden.

The Sentinel inadvertently overlooked a wedding in which a business man of Montevallo, and a Gadsden girl were the contracting parties, which occurred on the 10th, inst.

On that date Mr. J. H. Davies, jr., of Montevallo and Miss Mona Myers, of Gadsden, were married at the home of the bride's parents in the latter city.

The bride is a charming woman and a graduate of the Girls' School at Montevallo. She is an accomplished musician and for the past two sessions has been a teacher in the music department of that school.

The groom is a prominent business man of Montevallo, and a member of the firm of Davies & Jeter. He is a successful business man as well and he is to be congratulated on winning so charming a woman as he has for a wife.

They are now at home in the St. George hotel at Montevallo, and all wish them a happy and prosperous life. Joe, here's to you and yours.

Tragedy at Talladega.

Talladega, August 27.—A sensational encounter and a probable killing occurred in the telegraph office here at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Graves Embry, a lawyer, accused C. E. Bondurant, a telegraph operator, of wrecking his home and attacked Bondurant with a shoe knife, while the latter was sitting at his instrument, cutting him in the abdomen and side and severing a rib. Bondurant finished a message after receiving wound. Embry yelled and raved like a mad man after parties rushed in and separated the men and also while in the hands of sheriff.

Both men are prominent here. Mrs. Embry is a woman of great beauty and is now in Atlanta. The affair has created profound sensation.

Misses Emmie and Beatrice Abercrombie entertained a number of their friends last Thursday night in honor of their guests, Miss Nora Hawkins, Miss Mattie Walker and Mr. Ernest Garrett, and a most delightful time is reported by those who were present. The Misses Abercrombie are pleasing entertainers, and the occasion of last Thursday night will be remembered a long time by their friends.

The Sentinel received a pleasant call on Monday from Hon. J. M. Thornton, of Talladega, who is traveling over the State in the interest of the Immigration and Industrial Association of Alabama. He came here to make a talk to the farmers and our people of immigration and the labor question. Mr. Thornton expects to make a trip North in a short time in the interest of the immigration department of the association and we believe his trip will be conducive of much good to all Alabama. We thoroughly enjoyed our half hour's chat with Mr. Thornton.

Colonel Sam Will John, of Birmingham, was in attendance on county court last week. Colonel John said that he believed the city of Birmingham would do away with its police commission, as it should do.

GRASP YOUR OPPORTUNITY NOW!

Your dollar today has greater power than ever before. For the next

THIRTY DAYS

we offer our stock of summer Clothing Shoes, Dry Goods and Hats at factory cost and less for CASH. Come at once.

The savings on all lines are enormous, but the quantities are uncertain. Don't delay.

COLUMBIANA, AUG. 22.

J. H. ABERCROMBIE & SON.

Montevallo.

Mrs. D. L. Wilkinson is visiting relatives in Montgomery for a few weeks.

Miss Lucy Reynolds, a teacher in the public schools of Bessemer, who has been visiting relatives in the city, has returned home.

Geo. W. Meredith, passenger agent of the Southern at Anniston, was in the city a few days ago attending the Davidson-Steele wedding.

Miss Elizabeth Winston, stenographer at the Girls' Industrial School who has been absent for several weeks on a vacation, will return this week.

The Misses Creagh, managers of the Hotel St. George, were called home recently by the death of a brother. He was in the oil business in Beaumont, Tex., and while working around one of the pits was overcome by the heat, and fell in, causing instant death.

Mr. and Mrs. John Irby, of Tuscaloosa, have arrived in Montevallo and will make this city their future home. Mr. Irby has purchased the drug store of J. W. Bandy, and will take possession at once. Mr. Bandy will go to Birmingham to engage in the wholesale business.

On Tuesday evening of last week Miss Bessie Steele of this place, was married to Charles Davidson of Birmingham. The wedding occurred from the Methodist church here, and there were a large number of guests present. The ceremony was performed by Dr. F. M. Petersen, president of the Girls' Industrial School. These young

H. D. LATHAM.

OSCE BIRD.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

WE cordially invite everybody to come to see us. We keep in stock only the best grade of drugs and at a uniform price to all.

OUR prescription department is one of the best in the State, and we promise not only accuracy in compounding, but the use of the purest drugs—a matter you should always consider when using medicine in your family. Again we repeat the invitation—come to see us. Courteous and honorable treatment is assured you.

people have many friends here who wish them a world of happiness. They will live in Birmingham where Mr. Davidson has a lucrative position with the Swift Packing company.

The people in this section are not feeling in the best of humor over the court house matter. They think the commissioners show very poor business judgment in trading four dollars worth of property for one in the location. It is a pleasure to know that two of the commissioners did not vote for any such a proposition.

J. T. Barnett, we are informed, has leased the Central hotel, and is to take possession on the first of September. T. S. Millsap, the present occupant, has purchased the White House and is to have possession on the first, and J. R. White will remove to his new home near the L. & N. depot.

When negroes gather on the sidewalks to that extent that white women have to take to the middle of the street, it is high time the makes were made to move on. Such a spectacle was witnessed in Columbiana last Saturday.

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line

is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the

Chicago & North-Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways.

W. B. KNISKERN,
P. T. M. C. & N.-W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.
Please mail free to my address, California booklets, maps and full particulars concerning rates and train service.

FILL IN THIS COUPON
AND MAIL IT TO-DAY.

CLEMENTINA GONZALES, OF CENTRAL AMERICA, RESTORED TO HEALTH. PE-RU-NA THE REMEDY

Miss Clementina Gonzales, Hotel Provincina, Guatemala, C. A., in a recent letter from 247 Cleveland Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I took Peruna for a worn-out condition. I was so run down that I could not sleep at night, had no appetite and felt tired in the morning. I tried many tonics, but Peruna was the only thing which helped me in the least. After I had taken but a half bottle I felt much better. I continued to use for three weeks and I was completely restored to health, and was able to take up my studies which I had been forced to drop. There is nothing better than Peruna to build up the system."—Clementina Gonzales.

Address The Peruna Medicine Co., of Columbus, Ohio, for instructive free literature on catarrh.

Significance of Thunder.

In the season of thunderstorms it is interesting, if not exactly profitable, to read an ancient interpretation of them. The Prognostication Everlasting of one Leonard Digges, published in 1856, tells us that thunder in the morning denotes wind; at noon rain, and in the evening a great tempest. He goes further still, and declares that "Sunday thunder should bring the death of learned men, judges and others; Monday's the death of women; Tuesday's plenty of grain; Wednesday's bloodshed; Thursday's plenty of sheep and corn; Friday's the slaughter of a great man and other horrible murders; Saturday's a general pestilential plague and great dearth."

Permanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. 21 trial bottles and treatise free. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Former Archduke Leopold has become a private in the Swiss Army.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children's Teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c. a bottle.

Governor Stokes, of New Jersey, favors taxation of bachelors.

I am sure Plav's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—J. J. Thomas, 1000 W. 10th St., Norwich, N.Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

London has over 115 miles of tramways.

Use the great antiseptic, preventative, Sloan's Liniment. Six drops of Sloan's Liniment on a teaspoonful of sugar will kill yellow fever and malaria germs.

John Jacob Astor owns twenty-two automobiles.

SALT RHEUM ON HANDS

Suffered Agony and Had to Wear Bandages All the Time—Another Cure by Cuticura.

Another cure by Cuticura is told of by Mrs. Caroline Cable, of Waupaca, Wis., in the following grateful letter: "My husband suffered agony with salt rheum on his hands, and I had to keep them bandaged all the time. We tried everything we could get, but nothing helped him until he used Cuticura. One set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Pills cured him entirely, and his hands have been as smooth as possible ever since. I hope this letter will be the means of helping other sufferers."

A rich, retired New York business man has been chosen first reader in the new Christian Science church at Ninety-sixth street and Central park, west, the finest edifice of all in Mrs. Eddy's cult. He is Edwin T. Hatfield, who has been a student in the New York Christian Institute under Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson. Mr. Hatfield is the son of a noted New York clergyman who officiated for twenty-three years at the Seventh Presbyterian church.

Rural 'Phones.

There are said to be nearly fifty different rural telephone lines in Crawford county, Kansas, owned by farmers.

SENATOR SULLIVAN

Says He Has Found Doan's Kidney Pills Invaluable in Treating Sick Kidneys.

Hon. Timothy D. Sullivan, of New York, Member of Congress from the Eighth New York District and one of the Democratic leaders of New York State, strongly recommends Doan's Kidney Pills.

Senator Sullivan writes:

It is a pleasure to endorse a remedy like Doan's Kidney Pills, having found them of the greatest value in eliminating the distress caused by sick kidneys, and in restoring those organs to a condition of health. My experience with your valuable remedy was equally as gratifying as that of several of my friends. Yours truly, (Signed)

TIMOTHY D. SULLIVAN, Foster-Mulburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists. Price, 50 cents per box.

WHALING HAS REVIVED.

GOOD LUCK OF THE PROVINCE-TOWN AND NEW BEDFORD MEN.

The New England Copper Bottoms Come Lazily Homeward Loaded with Fat Freight of "Sparum" and Ivory from the Seven Seas.

"Thar sh' blo-o-ows!" The ancient call, trumpeted by leathern lungs from cloud-aspiring "crow's-nests," rings anew o'er all the time-honored Atlantic "whale grounds." As of yore, the New England "copper bottoms" come snoring homeward, bearing fat freight of "sparum" and ivory from far southern seas. Again is profit accruing from a pursuit long deemed unremunerative, for the Phryseter family has multiplied apace in recent years and sperm whaling is coming to its own again.

With the exception of the schooner John R. Manta, of Provincetown—four months at sea on her maiden voyage not one of the whaling vessels now sailing from New England ports is less than twenty-two years old, while many of the lot were built for other work. The Ellen A. Swift, twenty-two years old, and the Pearl Nelson, twenty-three, were codfishermen originally; the Adella Chase, twenty-nine, was a mackerel catcher; the Charles H. Hodgdon and Mary E. Simmons, forty years each, and the Eleanor B. Conwell, forty-two were Grand Bankers, while the Pedro Varella, forty-eight years old, was a revenue cutter.

Of the tiny Atlantic fleet of the present, two were constructed in the 80's, five in the 70's, five in the 60's, six in the 50's, two in the 40's, while the bark Canton, patriarch of the whaling fleets of the world, made her first courtesy to Father Neptune away back in 1835—sixty-nine years ago.

All engaged in the pursuit are well preserved and in fine fettle, however, and good for many more years of similar service, and the splendid success achieved by the mass during the last three years presages the revival of the work and the speedy enlistment of more, perhaps, newer, bottoms.

Some startling lucrative voyages have marked the progress of the business of late. The Morning Star, the Canton, the Sunbeam and others of the older ships have excelled their best previous records in point of phenomenally rich cargoes brought home to swell the bank account of owners and officers. Even the smallest of the schooner class have "struck luck," and the renewed spectacle of lone whalers "boiling" here and there over all the track of the sea from the Azores south to Walvis Bay, west coast of Africa, reminds of the palmy days of the American whale fishery, when "spouts" were legion in all the western ocean.

Take the case of the schooner Eleanor B. Conwell. That craft left Fayal, where she had landed her previous catch, early in October, 1903, to cruise south "sparmin'."

The hurricane that swept the Azores on October 9, caught her in its track, and stripped her of all boats, etc., driving her to Cape de Verde to report. Obligated to proceed to St. Kitts, West Indies, to procure new boats and repairs, she did not resume whaling until March, when she was rushed north to the Hatteras grounds. She found whales there, and in twenty-seven days after sighting her first "spout" she was homeward bound, a full ship, reaching New Bedford June 23, with 400 sperm and decks still bearing traces of the last "cut," the last whale having been taken only four days prior to arrival.

The bark Canton, whose sixteen months' voyage, ending September, 1902, yielded 2,200 barrels of sperm, a record equalling the best of the palmy day voyages, garnered mightily among the whale herds south during the voyage just ended, 2,350 sperm constituting her total catch from May, 1903, to August 26, last. The date of arrival at her home port.

The bark Sunbeam, too, whose catch of the voyage immediately preceding is said to have been worth $65,000, was a prime factor of fortune, this lucky box of a ship reaching New Bedford on June 26, from a twenty-two months' trip with a grand total of 2,900 barrels of sperm, almost the banner catch, time and quantity considered, of the entire whaling record.

The Sunbeam's latest voyage, good for $45,000, proved a money winner from A to Z. When she entered Fayal in October, 1902, only two months from home, she had 650 barrels of sperm on board. When next she touched there (April, 1903), after a southern cruise, her total was 1,375 barrels. The summer trip proved less productive than the two next preceding, still 225 barrels additional were under hatches when the bark reached Fayal in August.

The luck of the Sunbeam is being shared by the rank and file of the fleets sent out for long or short cruises by the world-famous firm of J. & W. R. Wing and their contemporaries. The Leonora, still at sea, took 800 sperm from May to September; the Morning Star at Fayal, September 22, had taken 1,335 barrels of oil during the fourteen months preceding; the John R. Manta had secured, when only two months from port, 230 sperm worth $3,600, and a fifteen-pound lump of ambergris of first quality, worth $4,500 more. But the star of the luckiest of the one score luck Atlantic "blubber hunters" pales in the light of the masterly record established by the bark Josephine on her present voyage.

The Josephine left New Bedford September 19, 1903. She cruised in the South Atlantic and Indian oceans last winter. She not only secured a rich haul of sperm whales, but found numbers of valuable bone-bearing right whales in waters long unfrequented by baleen hunters, and when she was last reported she had taken 1,200 barrels sperm, 500 barrels right whale oil and 7,000 pounds of "bone," all worth $61,000, the lot secured in one year and one day after leaving home.

No less than 6,779 barrels of sperm oil were taken by vessels cruising in the Atlantic during the six months ending September 4, 1904. It is not surprising then, that one should hear in Eastern whaling marts the declaration oft repeated, "Sperm whale is comin' to its own again."—Boston Herald.

BEATEN NATIONS SLOW PAY.

Modern Instances Where War Indemnities Were Demanded.

The paying of an indemnity is comparatively a new thing. Before the Napoleonic wars nations seldom fought but for the sake of conquest. The winning party took whatever it wanted in territory or in certain rights, but did not insist upon an indemnity.

During the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries the map of Europe was changed frequently, but the amount of money paid in indemnities was very small. Napoleon conquered a large part of Europe, invented all kinds of wonderful kingdoms and provided kings by recruiting them from his own dear family. But that was the worst that befell those countries, and besides clothing and feeding Napoleon's soldiers and going without English goods the conquered countries did not suffer otherwise financially. Nowadays, as nations do not go to war to conquer territories, they have to be repaid in some other way, and as a rule the victors ask for full payment for their expenses.

The older way, however, was the safer one, for in many modern instances the conqueror does not get his money. It is extremely hard, you know, to get money out of a bankrupt State. In 1877, when Russia had beaten Turkey, she asked an indemnity of $160,000,000, the exact amount of the cost of the war. Today, in the year 1905, Russia has not yet received half of that sum. In 1896, when Turkey nearly conquered Greece, she began by asking $50,000,000. But King George's family kindly interposed and the amount was reduced to $10,000,000, but half of that sum has not been paid to date.

In 1806, when Prussia, to the great astonishment of most of the interested spectators, beat Austria and her five allies, she not only asked for the amount of money the war had cost her but asked also for a few extra millions to punish Austria for the trouble she had given her. Although the war lasted only two months, Austria had to pay $32,500,000.

Indemnities have been paid in smaller wars in Asia. China has had to pay on many occasions, and does not seem to be any poorer for it. But the one enormous indemnity which is far ahead of any other ever demanded was the one France had to pay to Germany in 1871. And the wonder was that France, exhausted by a warfare almost entirely on her own territory, was able to pay the milliard francs in a few years. The indemnity was much more than the war actually cost the Germans, but let us not forget that Germany had to settle an old score. Napoleon probably had cost them just as much. A great amount of the French indemnity has not been used yet, and the purpose for which Bismarck used it principally was to develop the secret service of the German empire.—Washington Post.

ROCKEFELLER'S SUNDAY SCHOOL.

His Active Personal Interest in Religious Instruction and in Prayer.

It was my privilege in July to visit the noted school superintended by Mr. John D. Rockefeller, "The Oil King." It was July, and the weather was hot; nevertheless the superintendent was found in his place, the school was in session, the attendance was good and the scholars were enthusiastic.

Mr. Rockefeller's school is the Euclid Avenue Baptist, in Cleveland, Ohio. He has been superintendent for thirty-five years. Mrs. Rockefeller has been superintendent of the primary department during the same period. In the winter they are in New York City, but during the summer they are in Cleveland. They are regular in attendance.

The school begins at 9.30 a. m. and lasts for one hour. The average attendance is about 500. The Sunday School meets in the chapel and in the Sunday School rooms. The church is a downtown church, and is not an aristocratic church, as some have supposed. Mr. Rockefeller is in touch with his entire school. He is an ideal superintendent in that he delegates the work to others, but has supervision over it all. He was in the primary department during the opening session and in the main school for the closing.

Mr. Rockefeller is seldom absent from the prayer meeting. Mr. Rockefeller believes in formation and also in reformation.

While I was talking to Mr. Rockefeller a young man walked past us. Mr. Rockefeller said: "That young man came into our prayer meeting two years ago, on the 6th of November. He came in drunk, but he went away converted, and has been a faithful worker ever since." This shows how much personal attention is paid to the individual. Church Economist.

What Komura Looks Like.

Baron Komura is a diplomat of the purely Oriental type, suave and un-readable. In appearance he is small, black-eyed and slender. His countenance is wrinkled like old parchment, his jaw pointed and firmly set, and his moustache black, scanty and stiff. His bristly hair is streaked with gray. He is well versed in diplomatic usages, and especially with the effective roundabout diplomacy characteristic of the Russians.—New York World.

The number of divorces is increasing rapidly in England.

Among the Sultan's plate are babies' baths of solid gold.

A Sliding Boat.

The sliding boat of M. de Lambert, a French inventor, is designed to avoid friction by skimming on the surface of the water, and it is made to do this by inclined planes fixed under the boat at carefully regulated distances apart and at an angle determined by many trials. When at rest the weight is supported on two narrow parallel floats resembling certain Asiatic canoes, the sliding planes sinking just beneath the surface. A light weight model of wood and aluminum is twenty feet long and ten feet wide between the inclined planes, and while it weighs 1,200 pounds, it requires a motor of only twelve horse-power, although other boats of the capacity need motor of sixty to 100 horse-power. As the boat is started the planes rise on the water, where they are supported by a thin layer of air, and easily glide along at fifteen to twenty-two miles per hour.

A Story of Pearls.

There is a romantic story attaching to the great rope of pearls worn by the Princess Fredericka of Hanover, at recent functions. They are magnificent specimens and very old. Centuries ago a princess of the house loved them so that they were buried with her. But in process of time the great grief of her relatives grew gradually fainter and fainter until they began to whisper what a shame it was that such glorious jewels should be wasted. Then one day the princess' tomb was opened, the pearl necklace taken from her neck. But the pearls were spoilt; they had lost their luster and beauty. Their new owner wept over them and dreamed about them, and her dream told her that three generations of lovely women would have to wear them before their luster returned. Three lovely princesses did wear them and they are now pearls without peers.

Father John of Cronstadt.

Father John of Cronstadt, whose extraordinary influence over the czar, no less than his propaganda against the revolutionaries, continually rouses the ire of the secret committee, is 86 years of age. In personality he answers to the description of the average Russian peasant, only in his case abstemiousness has wrought a refining effect on his features. He is short of stature, with a somewhat florid complexion, and his small, twinkling gray eyes have that furtive appearance characteristic of the Russian working classes. In spite of his great age he is remarkably active, and his long brown hair is untouched with silver. Father John was once esteemed a miracle worker, but it is said he has lost his reputation since the ships he blessed were sunk and the men he blessed were killed in battle with the Japs.

Shot a Rare Butterfly.

In the British museum is a rare butterfly, which was obtained in a most unusual way. Probably no other butterfly in any collection in the world was taken in the same manner. On the steamship bound to Sydney, New South Wales, several men were amusing themselves by shooting at a mark with a revolver. Just as one man was about to shoot he noticed a remarkably large butterfly fluttering toward the ship. When it hovered above the deck he fired and actually managed to hit it. The insect fell to the deck, considerably mangled. The creature was so beautiful, even in its mutilated condition, that the pieces were carefully collected and finally they reached a British entomologist, who found that it was a specimen of an entirely new species never before seen by the scientific world.

Agod Physician's Advice.

A famous physician, now hale and handsome at 75, sums up his half century of medical practice and observation in these simple rules of health: "Be temperate in all things, in matters of amusements or study as well as in regard to foods and drinks. To be temperate in all things, however, does not imply that one must be a prohibitionist about anything. Don't be afraid to go to sleep, for sleep is the best restorer of wasted energies. Sleep a certain number of hours every night and then remember that a short nap during the day is a safer rejuvenator than a cocktail. Don't worry either about the past or the future. To waste a single hour in the regretful past is as senseless as to send good money after that which has been irrecoverably lost."

Brazil's Only Ambassador.

The elevation of Brazil's representative at Washington to ambassadorial rank and the appointment of Don Joaquim Nabuco to that post jointly constitute an incident of much importance. Brazil has no other ambassador abroad. In the regard of that republic and its people the relations of the country with the United States overtop in consequence of other foreign connections. The selection of such a man as Senor Nabuco, who is a genuine leader in his own country—an orator and scholar, as well as statesman—to be the first ambassador to this country proves a disposition on the part of the Brazilians to seize and signalize the opportunity presented.

Empress Haruko, of Japan, is 56 years of age, and is two years the senior of her husband, and accredited with being one of the most beautiful women in Japan.

Mme. Duse, who has a strong aversion to being interviewed, was recently beaten by the Copenhagen reporters. One acted as water at the hotel, another acted as shoemaker's assistant, a third drove her cab, and the fourth was assistant stage machinist, and all used bits of conversation for long interviews.

Kitchener's Ruse.

Since it has been decided that Lord Kitchener shall be supreme in the military affairs in India an anecdote of the Khartoum expedition has come to light. One evening the general's forces neared Khartoum a dervish spy was discovered in camp and taken to headquarters for examination. Information as to the enemy's position and plans was of the highest importance, but neither the richest bribes nor the direst threats could elicit one word from the prisoner; he affected to be both deaf and dumb. Scarcely was his hearing over—hearing it can be called—when another spy was led in, who proved equally obdurate. They were led away bound and placed for the night in a well guarded tent. About half an hour later a third spy was dragged in, who also would reveal nothing, and was finally placed in the tent with the others. Soon the guard outside heard a murmur of voices from within; the dumb spies had found their tongues, but it was impossible to hear their talk distinctively or to understand it. An hour or more passed, then the door of the tent was thrown open and the third spy appeared and asked to be conducted to headquarters. It was the sirdar, who in disguise had discovered all he needed to know. Lord Kitchener always takes the greatest pains to make himself master of the vernacular of any country to which he is sent. He seizes every opportunity of talking with the poorer folks until he speaks like a native.

Inventor of the Watch.

A monument has just been erected in Nuremberg to Peter Henlein, inventor of the pocket watch.

Henlein was so worried by his wife who accused him of witchcraft because of the many hours he spent in solitude trying to perfect his invention, that he took refuge at the home of a married daughter, where he quickly disposed of one of his persecutors by soundly thrashing him. Because of this he was sent to prison, and there he perfected his invention.

A few years later he was tried for murder, but settled the matter by paying an indemnity to the family of his victim and taking refuge in the convent of the Carmelites, where he remained till his death in 1540, continuing his manufacture of watches, which enriched the order he had joined.

No Royal Race Suicide.

There are no signs of race suicide in the British royal family. Victoria had four sons and five daughters. King Edward is the father of six and the baby boy born to the Prince and Princess of Wales the other day makes an even half dozen for them, five being sons. The other stems have done as well—the Empress Frederick eight and her son, Emperor William, seven; Princess Alice, six, and one of her daughters, the empress of Russia, five; Prince Alfred and Princess Helena, five each; Princess Beatrice, four; Prince Arthur, three, and Prince Leopold, two. The Cumberland and Cambridge branches are equally prolific.

Garibaldi's Death Request.

Garibaldi left directions in his will for the cremation of his body, but his wishes were overruled by the Italian government. The soldier's instructions were minute and perhaps a bit self-conscious. "Facing the sea, you shall erect a pyre two meters high, built of acacia wood, myrtle and other aromatic trees and plants growing at Caprera. On this lay a sheet of iron, on which shall be placed my body, dressed in the red shirt. A handful of the ashes place near the coffins of my daughters, Rosa and Anita." The rest were to be blown away by the winds as seeds of liberty for other parts of the world.

The Hardest Metal.

The success of tantalum as a material for electric lamp filaments has drawn attention to the remarkable properties of the metal, and may lead to many demands if the supply can be sufficiently increased. Chief of these properties, as Dr. Mollwa Perkin points out, is extreme ductility, combined with extraordinary hardness. A diamond drill rotating 5,000 times a minute for three days and three nights penetrated only a quarter through a sheet of tantalum one-twenty-fifth of an inch thick, and the diamond was much worn. This hardness suggests the use of the metal for drills in place of the diamond.

Mr. Hoe's Motto.

Robert Hoe, the famous builder of printing presses, has this for his favorite maxim: "It is better to get behind a thing and push it along than to get in front of it and drag it after you. In other words, it is the work not the man, that should attract attention." This expression of reserve helps to explain why it is that Mr. Hoe is never interviewed in the newspapers. He has an air of elegant leisure, but works as hard as any of his employees, thoroughly understanding every detail of his vast business.

Queen Alexandra's Voice.

Queen Alexandra of England is, like most women, ill at ease on the rostrum. Her voice is low and sweet, with just the suspicion of foreign accent about it. There is almost pathetic note in its tones that lingers in the memory hauntingly. However, all her subjects loyally declare that she is a most charming speaker and that the foreign tinge is but an added charm to the voice.

Dr. Ami, of the Geological Society, of Canada, believes that diamond wealth is hidden between the Great Lakes and Hudson's Bay.

STOP, WOMAN!

AND CONSIDER THE ALL-IMPORTANT FACT

That in addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are confiding your private ills to a woman—a woman whose experience with women's diseases covers a great many years. You can talk freely to a woman when it is revolting to relate your private troubles to a man—besides a man does not understand—simply because he is a man. Many women suffer in silence and drift along from bad to worse, knowing full well that they ought to have immediate assistance, but a natural modesty impels them to shrink from exposing themselves to the questions and probably examinations of even their family physician. It is unnecessary. Without money or price you can consult a woman whose knowledge from actual experience is great.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation. Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. All letters are received, opened, read and answered by women only. A woman can freely talk of her private illness to a woman; thus has been established the eternal confidence between Mrs. Pinkham and the women of America, which has never been broken. Out of the vast volume of experience which she has to draw from, it is more than possible that she has gained the very knowledge that will help your case. She asks nothing in return except your good-will, and her advice has relieved thousands. Surely any woman, rich or poor, is very foolish if she does not take advantage of this generous offer of assistance.

If you are ill, don't hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once, and write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice. When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health so many women, you cannot well say, without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me."

"Roasted" a Duke.

The Duke of Norfolk's dislike of pompousness has given rise to many stories. A school treat was being held in Arundel park, his splendid ancestral home, and the duke was crossing one of the lawns, when a teacher, unaware of the duke's identity, rushed across to him and shouted: "Come off the grass at once! It is the people like you whose behavior get parks shut to the public!" On another occasion, it is said, the duke went to a convent to preside over a gathering. The sister who opened the door thought the unobtrusive stranger was seeking assistance and gently told the duke there was nothing for him!

Governor's Credit Was Bad.

Edward C. Stokes, governor of New Jersey, recently invited a friend to dine at a Trenton restaurant and afterwards discovered that he had forgotten his pocketbook. "I am the governor of New Jersey and will settle this little matter when I come in, again," explained Governor Stokes to the cashier. "I'm President Roosevelt, and you'll settle now," said the cashier, who was new. Happily the governor found somebody who would vouch for his honesty.

Relics of the Romans.

An old Roman vault has been uncovered at Chiswick, in England, by workmen who were preparing for the foundation of a modern flat building. Many pieces of valuable pottery of centuries ago have been found, as well as what is believed to have been part of a subterranean passage.

Secretary Dudley, of the Civil Service Commission, has an answer that he treasures. "By what means are infectious diseases communicated?" and the candidate replied: "By mails, telephone and telegraph."

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.

Is not a new and untried remedy. More than 1/2 of a Century attests its wonderful curative and health-giving properties, and serves to show that it has no equal as a cure for Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick-Headache, and all other ills arising from a

TORPID LIVER.

Being strictly a vegetable compound, it has no harmful or even unpleasant effects. Its action is gentle but none the less thorough—cleansing the stomach and bowels of all impurities, and toning up the entire system to a healthy condition—leaving the person feeling good, because every organ is made to perform its part perfectly.

One Dose Convinces.

Am. 35, 1905.

Pollock-Stephens Institute.

Birmingham, Ala.

Select Day and Boarding School for Girls.

Open Sept. 27th.

Catalogue on application. Address

Madame Catherine Deschamps Elford, Principal.

BILIOUS BILIOUS BILIOUS

OXDINE

Made in Regular and Tasteless Forms. For sale by all Druggists. Manufactured by PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG CO., DALLAS, TEX. AND MEMPHIS, TENN. PRICE 50 CENTS.

Dyspepsia,

TRADE MARK

SICK HEADACHE, CONSTIPATION

Promptly and Permanently Cured with

Crab Orchard Water

A century's experience with successful results is the best testimonial. Sold by all druggists.

Crab Orchard Water Co., LOUISVILLE, KY.

Avery & Company

SUCCESSORS TO

AVERY & McMILLAN,

51-53 South Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.

—ALL KINDS OF—

MACHINERY

Reliable Frick Engines, Boilers, all

Sizes. Wheat Separators.

BEST IMPROVED SAW MILL ON EARTH.

Large Engines and Boilers supplied promptly. Shingle Mills, Corn Mills, Circular Saws, Saw Teeth, Patent Dogs, Steam Governors. Full line Engines & Mill Supplies. Send for free Catalogue.

DYSPEPSIA

"Having taken your wonderful 'Cascarets' for three months and being entirely cured of stomach catarrh and dyspepsia, I think a word of praise is due to 'Cascarets' for their wonderful composition. I have taken numerous other cathartics and remedies but without avail and I find that Cascarets relieve more quickly than all the others I have taken would in a year." James McGuire, 108 Mercer St., Jersey City, N. J.

Cascarets

Best For The Bowels

THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

CANDY CATHARTIC

Pleasant, Palatable, Potent, Taste Good, Do Good, Never Sicken, Gripe or Cramp, and are the most reliable sold in bulk. The genuine tablet stamped C. C. G. Guaranteed to give you money back. Guaranteed to give you money back. Guaranteed to give you money back.

Annual Sale, Ten Million Boxes

PAXTINE TOILET ANTISEPTIC

FOR WOMEN

troubled with ills peculiar to their sex, use Paxtine. It is marvellously successful. Thoroughly cleanses, kills disease germs, stops discharges, heals inflammation and local soreness, cures leucorrhea and nasal catarrh. Paxtine is in powder form to be dissolved in pure water, and is far more cleansing, healing, germicidal and economical than any other antiseptic for all

TOILET AND WOMEN'S SPECIAL USES

For sale at druggists, 50 cents a box.

Trial Box and Book of Instructions Free.

THE R. PAXTON COMPANY BOSTON, MASS.

TULANE UNIVERSITY of LA.

NEW

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., SEPTEMBER 7 1905.

VOL. 31. NO. 1

PEACE DECLARED.

The Japanese Have Decided to Accept Division of Sakhalin Without Payment of Money, or Other Indemnity.

JAPS WILL RETURN INTERNED SHIPS

The Conference is Now at Work on Elaboration of the Treaty, Which Will Soon be Completed.

Portsmouth, N. H.—The long and bloody war between Japan and Russia is ended. The terms of peace were settled by M. Witte and Baron Komura at the session of the conference Tuesday morning, and this afternoon preliminary arrangements for an armistice were concluded, and the actual work of framing the "Treaty of Portsmouth" was by mutual agreement turned over to Mr. De Martens, Russia's great international lawyer, and Mr. Dennison, who for twenty-five years has acted as the legal adviser of the Japanese foreign office.

The treaty is expected to be completed by the end of the week.

This happy conclusion of the conference which a week ago would have been shipwrecked had it not been for the heroic intercession of President Roosevelt was sudden and dramatic. For the sake of peace, Japan, with the magnanimity of a victor, at the last moment yielded everything still in issue. Russia refused to budge from the ultimatum Emperor Nicholas had given to President Roosevelt through Ambassador Meyer. No indemnity under any guise, but an agreement to divide Sakhalin, and reimburse Japan for the maintenance of the Russian prisoners, were his last words. They had been repeatedly reiterated in M. Witte's instructions, and in the form of a written reply to the Japanese compromise proposal of last Wednesday were delivered to Baron Komura Tuesday morning.

M. Witte went to the conference declaring he was powerless to change the dot of an "i" or the crossing of a "c" in his instructions. Emperor Nicholas' word had been given not only to him, but to President Roosevelt, the head of a foreign state.

Psychological Moment Ushered In By Witte.

When Baron Komura therefore first offered the new basis or compromise Tuesday night (the complete renunciation of indemnity, coupled with a proposition for the reduction of Sakhalin at a price to be fixed by a mixed tribunal, consisting of representatives of the neutral powers—in fact, it was in words, the project offered by the President, M. Witte again returned a non-possimus. It was what M. Witte termed in his interview with the Associated Press the "psychological moment." M. Witte did not flinch. He expected a rupture as he expressed it afterwards; he was stunned by what had happened. Baron Komura gave way on all the disputed points. With the presence that enabled the Japanese to gauge the mentality of their adversaries on the field of battle and upon the sea, they had realized in advance that peace could be obtained in no other way. They had warned their government. President Roosevelt, it is said, also advised Japan it was better to meet the Russian position than to take the responsibility of continuing the war for the purpose of collecting tribute.

The Mikado at the session of the cabinet and elder statesmen Tuesday had sanctioned the final concession. When Baron Komura yielded the rest was mere child's play.

Envoys Determined to Neutralize Sakhalin.

Articles 10 and 11 (Interned warships and limitation of Russia's power in the far east) were withdrawn. Japan agreed that only that portion of the Chinese Eastern railroad south of Chantfu, the position occupied by Oyama, should be ceded to Japan. Both sides, once the deadlock was broken, wanted a "just and lasting peace," and in that spirit it was decided to practically neutralize Sakhalin, each country binding itself not to fortify its half of the island, and Japan assuming an obligation not to fortify the La Perouse strait between Sakhalin and Hokkaido, which would bar Russia's commercial route to the Pacific.

The plenipotentiaries went further. They decided to add a new clause in the nature of a broad provision for mutual commercial privileges by which each country will secure for the other the benefit of the "most favored nation" clause, and the "open door."

The new treaty, therefore, will be a wonderfully friendly document of a character, almost, to raise the suspicion that the two countries have not negotiated peace, but have ratified the basis of a future alliance. There is, however, no evidence as rumored that any secret clauses are to be appended to the present treaty.

Before leaving the conference building felicitations were exchanged with the President at Oyster Bay. Both Baron Komura and M. Witte telegraphed. The former confined himself to apprising Mr. Roosevelt of the conditions upon which peace had been concluded.

Witte Praises President.

M. Witte frankly laid the tribute at the President's feet. In his message he said:

"History will ascribe to you the glory," and added the expression of Russia's hearty appreciation of the President's generous initiative. Mr. Roosevelt replied with words of thanks and congratulations.

Then began the jubilation. M. Witte and Baron de Rosen returned to the hotel for luncheon. The Japanese had returned at the conference hall to take luncheon with Mr. Pelice. The news that peace had been concluded had preceded the Russian plenipotentiaries and such scenes of wild rejoicing have never before been witnessed in the state of New Hampshire as greeted them upon their arrival at the hotel. M. Witte, dazed at the sudden and happy termination of the conference, was fairly overpowered by the tremendous ovation he received. He could only express his gratitude by shaking the hands of everybody, and in response to the volley of questions fired at him as to the terms, he murmured "we pay not a copee and we get half of Sakhalin."

Later, in his room, when he had partially recovered himself, he declared that he could not have dreamed of such a victory, for that he regards it as a diplomatic triumph of the first magnitude he makes no attempt to conceal. And that is the verdict here. The Russians are overjoyed at the result.

"We have had our Liao Yangs and Mukdens on land," they say, "and our Tushimas on sea, but the Japanese have their Portsmouth."

Declared That M. Witte Has Outwitted the Japs.

Although M. Witte is not a diplomatist, they declare that he has outmaneuvered the Japanese, yielding one by one to the conditions until he forced them into a corner on the main issue of indemnity and left them no escape except surrender or to convert the war into a war to collect tribute. The Russians declared that diplomatically the Japanese made their colossal blunder when they agreed to consider the conditions seriatim.

The Japanese correspondents plainly showed their disaffection with the terms during the afternoon. They stood aloof, silent in the midst of general jubilation for as the afternoon advanced the air was filled with the sounds of rejoicing. Bells were ringing in Portsmouth and in Newcastle, and the fleet in the harbor was adding to the din with their sirens and bells. One of the Japanese, however, gave the true note when he remarked:

"Tell me that the Mikado has approved it, and I shall be satisfied."

In that sentence is compressed the Spartan heroism of the Japanese nation, and later when Mr. Sato issued the official explanation of the reasons that moved the Japanese plenipotentiaries, and it showed that the Emperor had approved, there was a perceptible change in the feelings of the Japanese. Considerable disappointment continued to be manifested. Baron Komura followed the rule he has set himself and declined to make any statement. Mr. Takahira said:

"For the sake of humanity and civilization, and as we believe in the interest of both countries, and the world at large, we have made peace. Japanese Contend That They Acted for the Best.

"The Russians may indulge in boasting now. They may call it a decisive victory, but we are confident that upon calm consideration the world will applaud our course. To yield on the question of our expenses of the war was the only road to peace. We had attained the object of the war, we had established our predominant position in Korea, we had obtained the lease to Port Arthur and the adjacent territory, we had obtained the Chinese Eastern railroad and the evacuation of Manchuria. We had even obtained important fishing rights along the Russian littoral. These covered the objects which we have kept steadily in view for nineteen months of bloody war. These objects insured, the resumption of the great works of peace we had planned. To have now set ourselves a new object—that of obtaining money from Russia to defray the expenses of the war—would have involved a continuation of the sacrifice of blood and treasure. At the end—what? We could not go to Moscow or St. Petersburg. The internal conditions in Russia had to be considered. Our very successes might have created conditions which would make it impossible to secure indemnity. Besides in the final analysis there was the recognition of the fact that to obtain indemnity a country must hold the other by the throat. That is the lesson of history. We renounced such a purpose that our people might return to peaceful work and that commerce and normal life of the world might proceed."

The work of drafting the treaty will probably be completed by the end of this week. It is expected that it will not be a difficult task, as the treaty, except for phraseology, is included in the minutes of the meeting.

Mr. De Martens has authorized Mr. Dennison to do work in his room at his hotel.

Enthusiastic Ovation is Tendered the Japs.

The whole truth they learned when Mr. Sato made the Japanese official announcement later in the evening. The great Japanese demonstration did not begin until after 6 o'clock in the evening, as the Japanese plenipotentiaries and their official secretaries remained at the yard during the afternoon. When it came it was even more remarkable than that for the Russians, for all present appreciated the sacrifices the heroic little nation had made for peace. The crowd which awaited them as they dashed up in an auto was even larger than that which greeted M. Witte. The cheering came in volleys. Again and again the crowd hurraed and waved their hats. As the car came under the porte cochere, both plenipotentiaries gravely lifted their hats and held them in their hands as they passed through the line of cheering people to the elevator. Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira looked straight ahead and seemed almost embarrassed by the ovations. Even the ringing cheers from all sides did not move them. Only the gravity of the day's work seemed to impress them. They felt the full responsibility which had been upon their shoulders. Solemnity was written upon their faces as they entered the hotel, and the sounds of jubilation greeting them on every side did not shut out from their thoughts the home country and the possible effects of the news of the sacrifice that had been made for peace. Neither plenipotentiary stopped to shake hands, but accompanied by Mr. Sato, they immediately went to their rooms.

"I'll be back in a moment," said Mr. Sato, as the elevator took him to the second floor, where he deposited in Baron Komura's room the precious records of the day's proceedings. When Mr. Sato entered the lobby a few minutes later with the official announcement, even the summer girls crowded in and pushed and sought to get on the inner circle. Mr. Sato fairly fought his way to the rear veranda and ascending the band stand read the Japanese statement in the same monotone in which all of his previous announcements have been made.

Jap Correspondents Can't Believe the News.

Near by the group stood the still incredulous Japanese correspondents. They waited for the last word to be read. It confirmed M. Witte's announcement that Japan received nothing for the cost of the war and gave up half of Sakhalin.

"We did not believe it this morning," said Mr. Fukutomi, correspondent for the Osaka Asahi, as he walked away, shaking his head. "Japan expected a great deal more than this. Division of Sakhalin was not to be thought of. It was ours by the blood of our soldiers and we should have kept it. Russia brought on this war, and should have paid for it."

He was interrupted by a reporter: "But the Emperor ordered it."

"Yes," said one, "it's the Emperor's work."

The attitude of the group at the mention of the emperor's name immediately changed.

"Yes," assented one, "the Emperor has spoken, and Japan will obey. The Emperor is all-wise and Japan is satisfied."

The incident was a striking illustration of that wonderful devotion of the Japanese for their sovereign and of the implicit confidence they place in his every action. Disposed at first to criticize Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira for yielding, when they reflected that this had been done by order of the emperor, their criticisms ceased, and a few moments later some of the more conservative were commending the Emperor's magnanimous act.

News Received in London.

London.—The announcement that the Portsmouth conference had concluded peace was received in London just in time for brief bulletins to be printed in the Tuesday afternoon papers.

Sir Eric's first expression, after he had been handed the dispatch, was: "It is simply extraordinary."

The foreign office, according to Sir Eric, had no idea that Japan intended to yield on all points.

Sir Eric Barrington also said that the treaty was released by the announcement of the decision of the Portsmouth conference, but that the terms would not be given out till the government had been officially notified of the result of the peace conference.

Jap Explanation.

Portsmouth, N. H.—The following statement was issued by Mr. Sato on behalf of the Japanese plenipotentiaries:

"The question of the final disposition of the island of Sakhalin and the reimbursement to Japan of her war expenses, have, from the first, been issues on which absolute divergence of views existed. The difference of opinion upon these points—not one, but both—has frequently threatened the existence of the conference. But his majesty, the Emperor of Japan, responding to the dictates of humanity and civilization, has in a spirit of perfect conciliation and in the interest of peace, authorized his plenipotentiaries to waive the question of reimbursement of war expenses, and has consented to a division of Sakhalin upon terms which are mutually acceptable, thus making it possible to bring the important work of the conference to a successful issue."

The official account of this afternoon's meeting was given by Mr. Sato on his arrival at the hotel. It is as follows:

"In the afternoon session of August 29 the conference discussed the details of the treaty of peace. It has been decided to entrust the drafting of the clauses to Privy Councillor De Martens and Mr. Dennison, legal adviser of the foreign office of Japan, with instructions to finish the work as soon as possible."

Roosevelt First Figure.

Berlin.—Japan has won a great moral victory, Russia a great diplomatic one, and President Roosevelt becomes the first figure in international statesmanship, that is what Berlin thinks of the result of the Portsmouth conference.

Astonishment at the result was felt by the foreign office, as it was everywhere else. Certainly it was the first exclamation of one of Russia's principal bankers who was expecting a different outcome. That Russia would not have to pay any indemnity was at first scarcely believable. The Berlin stock exchange had been preparing for news of a rupture of the negotiations, and for consequent disorder in the market.

St. Petersburg Electrified.

St. Petersburg.—The dispatches from Portsmouth brought the first news of the ending of the peace conference. The news came as an electrifying surprise, as official and diplomatic circles had been practically without hope of peace all during the day.

President Roosevelt and household received the joyful tidings with immense gratification.

Saw Battle of Waterloo.

A Belgian woman, Mme. Rolland, of Senefelt, attained her 104th birthday on June 12. She is credited in Belgium with being the only surviving witness of the battle of Waterloo, having been seated on a wall in the neighborhood of the battlefield during a part of the engagement. Last year, when the French monument to Waterloo heroes was unveiled on the battlefield, Mme. Rolland was allotted a place of honor as the most noteworthy spectator present at the ceremony.

The British Museum has in its collection a rare butterfly, which was obtained in a remarkable manner. On a steamship bound for Sidney, N. S. W., several men were shooting at a mark with a revolver. As one of them was about to fire he noticed a butterfly hovering over the ship. He shot at it and brought it to the deck, considerably mangled. The insect was so beautiful that the pieces were collected and sent to an English entomologist. The butterfly proved to be of a species entirely unknown to the scientific world.

The Australian jungle fowl, instead of a nest builds a huge earth mound, often fifteen feet in height, with a circumference of 150 feet. These mounds are under cover and are so enveloped in foliage that in spite of their size they can scarcely be discovered.

Appeal in Walker Case.

An appeal from the decision of the Federal Court of Alabama to the United States Court was filed Friday in the case in which Capt. E. W. Walker, ex-United States marshal, is endeavoring to collect $2,268 which he claims is due him by the government for fees, mileage and other allowances, while he was in the United States Marshal's office.

The case in Judge Jones court was decided in favor of Capt. Walker. The appeal from this decision was filed by District Attorney Warren Reese acting for the government.

ALABAMA NEWS.

Current Events Gathered as They Happen.

A Shooting Scrape.

Selma, Ala.—On Thursday afternoon in the southern part of the city across the railroad, there took place a shooting scrape between Pearle Tate and Jesse Moore, negro boys, and Clifford Jenkins, a white boy.

Jenkins drives a delivery wagon for a soda water factory, and a few days ago he was annoyed by several negro boys. Thursday when he made his rounds he carried a pistol with him, and when he drove up to the store where he had the previous difficulty, the two negro boys were waiting for him. A quarrel ensued between Jenkins and Moore, and Jenkins pulled his pistol and shot Moore, inflicting a painful, but not dangerous, wound.

Pearle Tate, the other negro boy, then pulled his pistol and began shooting at Jenkins. One of the balls entered Jenkins's right thigh and another the calf of his right leg. Neither wound is serious. After shooting Jenkins Tate made his escape.

The new quarantine regulations were extended so as to cover the entire state of Mississippi, with the exception of Meridian and points between that city and Selma, on the Southern railway. Quarantine was established against Natchez a few days ago when the fever broke out in that place, but as the fever is spreading so rapidly it was thought best to place the entire state of Mississippi, with the exception of Meridian and intermediate points, under the ban.

Memphis, Tenn., was also placed under the ban, and no one from that city will be allowed in Selma unless he can exhibit a health certificate which proves that he has been away from there at least five days. A strict quarantine has also been established against Pensacola and no one from that city will be allowed to come direct to Selma. These stringent quarantine regulations are being established in the hope that the plague will not spread to this city.

Row at Madison Park.

Montgomery, Ala.—Ed Jones, a negro from Autauga county, is in the Montgomery county jail charged with attempting to commit murder at Madison Park, eight miles from the city, late Tuesday night.

It is said the wife of Jones left him in Autauga county and went to live with her father, Louis Phillips, at Madison Park. Jones came to Montgomery Tuesday and went out to Madison Park late that night and engaged in a fight with Phillips. When he fired his pistol Phillips rushed in on him and the wife of Phillips struck him down with a heavy piece of wood. The Phillips family securely bound him with a rope and brought him to Montgomery.

As the negroes came into Montgomery with Jones he escaped from them. They reported his escape to police headquarters and Patrolmen Avant and Cantay soon had Jones under arrest. He was locked up at police headquarters about 2:30 o'clock Thursday morning.

Yesterday Jones was committed to the county jail to await a preliminary hearing before Justice M. H. Screws.

Sudden Death.

Selma, Ala.—Thursday morning shortly before 7 o'clock at his home on Mabry street the body of P. H. Norris, one of this city's best known citizens, was found cold in death lying on his bed. The wife of the deceased had gone into his room to awake him for his breakfast and after calling him repeatedly she went over to the bed to shake her husband when she discovered that while he slept the angel of death had come. He had evidently been dead about two hours when discovered, as his body was perfectly rigid and cold.

Second Mule Market.

Montgomery, Ala.—Montgomery, the south's second mule market, finds its market for mules and live stock throughout Alabama, parts of Georgia, Mississippi, Florida, and not a few have been shipped to the West Indies. Between 8,000 and 9,000 of the long-eared animals were sold by Montgomery dealers in live stock during the past year.

Thieves Captured.

Huntsville, Ala.—A telephone message from Scottsboro announces the capture of the negro man and woman who assaulted and robbed J. T. O'Neal, a prominent planter, near Huntsville, a few days ago. The prisoners will be brought here at once. The man and woman assaulted Mr. Neal while he was alone in his peach orchard and he had to make a desperate fight to keep from being slashed up with a razor in the man's hands. The couple took $45 out of Mr. Neal's pockets.

Chicago, Ill.—An acute stage has been reached in a new labor war in Chicago. Nineteen of the larger job printing houses of Chicago were without union compositors Thursday evening, the result of a series of strikes inaugurated by Typographical Union No. 16 against members of the Chicago Typothetae, the purpose of the strikes being to compel the Typothetae as an organization to accede to demands for the "closed shop" and that eight hours constitute a day's work.

Barbecue at Mt. Zion.

Decatur, Ala.—One of the biggest barbecues ever given in this section of the State took place at Mt. Zion, this county, about ten miles west of here, Thursday. The barbecue was given by the Junior Order of United American Mechanics, and was attended by fully 2,000 people. About 150 people attended from the Decatur.

During the day several speeches were made by prominent men of the state on vital questions affecting the people one way or the other. The first speaker was State Senator S. A. Lynne, who spoke on the subject of "Education and the Junior O. U. A. M." His speech was well received. Hon. B. B. Comer, chairman of the State Railroad Commission, addressed the vast audience on the subject of "The Resources of the State Education and the Junior Order." Mr. Comer did not say that he would be a candidate for governor, but he intimated as much in the course of his remarks.

Enforces Quarantine.

Demopolis, Ala.—On Thursday morning the board of mayor and council held a meeting and settled the differences existing between that body and the board of health since Quarantine Officer G. G. Griffin was removed from the trains without the appointment of a substitute, and it was ordered that an officer be at once put on the trains, Carney Devlin being appointed to the place. An ordinance was passed placing a rigid quarantine against Mississippi—Meridian excepted—Louisiana, Pensacola, and all infected sections. It was also ordered that, in addition to a certificate from a health officer, a certificate from the mayor or a justice of the peace will be required for parties coming to Demopolis.

Selma-Raised English Walnuts.

Selma, Ala.—C. W. Harrison, a well-known negro, presented Thursday to a number of citizens some English walnuts that he had raised at his home at 203 St. Phillip street. The walnuts are above the average size of those purchased in stores and have a good taste.

The tree, which is a young one, is bearing a good crop this year, but as it grows older the output will be greater. The tree grows without much trouble and in a few years there will be a number of such trees bearing fruit in and around Selma.

Election Ordered.

Greenville, Ala.—At a recent meeting of the commissioners of the county, an election was ordered to take place on the 9th of October to vote on levying a school tax. There is scarcely a doubt that the tax will be levied and Butler county added to the long column of counties which are endeavoring to eliminate illiteracy.

Will Outline His Platform.

Montgomery, Ala.—Lieutenant Governor R. M. Cunningham spent Thursday in Montgomery. He took occasion to tell the newspaper men who asked him about politics that in a short while he would make a public address in which he would declare his principles and outline his platform in his race for Governor of Alabama.

Close of Year.

Montgomery, Ala.—Another business year began Friday. It is natural for those who live in the cotton region to date their commercial year from September 1, when the great staple is fairly making its way to market. Very little cotton reaches Montgomery during the month of August, but for several months to come the weekly receipts here will be heavy.

The prospect of a very large yield of cotton in the Montgomery territory proper was very flattering until about one month ago. Since then a number of causes have operated to cut off expectations and no one now expects receipts for the current year to equal those of the year which expired last night.

Huntsville Celebrates.

Huntsville, Ala.—At the weekly prayer service of the Dallas Avenue Baptist church the advent of peace and the end of the bloody and destructive war between Russia and Japan was celebrated. Rev. H. E. Rice, the pastor, read appropriate quotations from the scriptures bearing on the subject and R. E. Pettus made an address relative to the peace terms.

Citizens at Work.

Montgomery, Ala.—The special sanitary committee, composed of the aldermen of the city and twenty-one citizens, organized Thursday night in the council chamber and started out to do something to prevent yellow fever from reaching Montgomery.

Russian Settlers.

Panama.—Fifty Russian families left Panama Thursday afternoon for Chiriqui. Arrangements have been made by which the same number of Russian families will be settled every month in different portions of the republic. The government gives each family $500 and thirty acres of land.

Mt. Sterling, Ky.—Eighteen hundred Hungarian miners have been imported from Virginia to Beattyville, Lee county, to take the place of striking miners. The miners struck at the Richardson mines and fears of a clash are rife. Much bitterness is held against the foreigners. It is said the men will be guarded in their work.

New South Wales is overrun with mice. In one store in the town of Merion the other day 10,000 were caught.

YELLOW FEVER NEWS.

The Latest Reports From the Infected District.

New Orleans.—Official report to 6 p. m. Friday was as follows:

New cases, 39; total cases to date, 1,958; deaths, 4; total deaths to date, 281; new food, 10.

For the first time in several weeks the number of new cases on a week day was below forty, which is regarded as cumulative evidence of the steady improvement in the local situation. The deaths continue to be few, but for the first time since the fever broke out not one of them is an Italian. One is a negro, and all lived down town.

Among the new cases is Father Hoes of St. Ann's church, whose parish has had considerable infection, and he has labored among his people from the beginning. A nest of three cases was discovered just across the protecting levee above Carrollton, in Jefferson parish, the patients being Italians. Hospital street, which has had 160 cases so far, for the first time fails to report a new case. Assistant Surgeon W. C. Rucker, of the marine hospital service, is down with a slight fever, but his case has not yet been diagnosed as yellow fever. Past Assistant Surgeon Currie, who has been in command in Algiers, has just recovered from an attack of appendicitis.

Outside Cases.

The country infection is still a source of anxiety, because now that the city is being cleared of infection, there is danger of reinfection from the country, despite all the precautions which have been made.

There has been no cases traced to the country since the new regulations have been in effect, but the fact that Vicksburg and Natchez, with their air-tight quarantines, have let in infections, leads to the determination on the part of the state authorities to exert themselves to control the situation. Strong measures are being adopted wherever there is evidence of the laxity in the situation in any country community. One wealthy sugar planter who refused to allow or contribute to the emergency hospital on his place, where quite a number of Italians are infected, will have his place declared a public nuisance and the state board will take control and force him to pay the bill.

Cases Traced to Leeville.

The two cases discovered at La Rose in LaFourche parish, 25 miles from Leeville, have been traced directly to Leeville, one of the patients being Dr. Tertrau, who attended several cases in Leeville.

The following reports were received today:

Patterson—Three cases, one death. Waveland Plantation—Three cases, one death.

Kenner—Four cases, one death. Hanson City—Two cases. Amelia—Five cases.

Bayou Beauf—One case. Bayou Cook—Plaquemine Parish—Six new food, one case.

Port Barrow—Two cases. Lake Providence—Two cases. Gulfport—Two cases.

Mississippi City—Two cases. Natchez—Two cases.

Business Outlook is Bright.

The new business year in New Orleans opening Friday, September 1st, finds the yellow fever situation so evidently under control that based on present conditions, business men and financiers are looking forward to exceptional activity in all lines of industry when the fever is finally stamped out and free intercourse resumed.

Mayor Behrman wired the President on August 29:

"New Orleans hastens to give expression to her profound admiration of your wonderful accomplishment. It must prove a source of lasting pride to all true-hearted Americans to feel and to know that the whole civilized world is paying homage to the chief- tain of our great country from whose master mind emanated an achievement in the cause of humanity which will rival any of the master strokes which ever have been or ever will be recorded in history."

Under date of August 31 the President replied with the following sympathetic words:

"Hon. Martin Behrman, Mayor New Orleans: No telegram has touched me as deeply as the telegram from you showing that in the midst of her great trial New Orleans is so keenly alive to all that affects the interests of the world and the honor of our own country. You have given fit expression to the feeling of your brave and gallant people, for only those with lofty souls can in the midst of their own grief find time to think of others. I trust I need not say how deep and constant my anxiety is for the welfare of your city and state.

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

New Road in Georgia.

Pelham, Ga.—The Pelham, Bainbridge and Gulf Railroad Company received a charter on Thursday. The company proposes to construct a railroad fifty-two miles long from this place, where it will connect with the Atlantic Coast Line, through Bainbridge to Fairchild, Ga., on the Chatahoochee river. Ultimately, it is said, the road will be extended to some point on the gulf coast. Construction is to be begun at an early date.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1901, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Sept. 7, 05

Telephone No. 17.

Volume Thirty-One.

With this issue The Sentinel enters upon the 31st year of its existence. Readers of the paper are the best judges as to whether or not it is filling the mission of a weekly newspaper, and we are perfectly satisfied to leave the matter with them.

Bad Case of Rickets.

The Mistake who officiates as County Superintendent of this county, is in the middle of a case of rickets. In the Advocate he says the editor of The Sentinel is still suffering "intensely." He also charges us with throwing big "dictionary" words such as "autocrat" and "bigamy." We plead not guilty; never heard of the words until they were coined by the "official head" of educational matters in this county. He also tries to make the members of the Board responsible for his shortcomings. But it won't work. His littleness in ignoring a courteous request from the good people of Montevallo—a matter in which they are interested, not he—shows his lack of fitness for a place which is too broad for him to fill.

The request came from Democrats of Montevallo, and not from members of his own party, which probably explains the action of this unctious individual. In other words the cat may look at the king (from afar) but so far and no farther.

Paralyze Business.

"Elect Comer Governor of Alabama and give him a legislature and railroad commission equally as virulent and business of the State will become paralyzed."—Hartford Journal.

And that's the whole truth in a nutshell. Mr. Comer prejudiced to the most extreme point against the railroads, wants a legislature elected which shall be equally prejudiced as himself, and then what he will do to the railroads will be a plenty—even to putting them out of business, if necessary.

The supporters of Mr. Comer declaim long and loud that the people are for Mr. Comer. Never was there a more mistaken idea. The people are not going to elect a judge (Mr. Comer) and a jury (Legislature) to try a case when both judge and jury, according to Mr. Comer and his friends, are already prejudiced and have formed and expressed an opinion in the matter. Such a procedure would be a farce. The Sentinel does not believe the people of Alabama will stand for any such a deal. That is not the American idea of fairness and justice.

Elect Mr. Comer governor and give him a legislature and railroad commission to his liking and, as the Journal puts it, "business of the State will be paralyzed."

The Sentinel congratulates editor Jno. C. Williams on his re-appointment as Superintendent of Education in Talladega county. He is worthy of the place in every sense of the word, and the people and teachers of that county should be, and no doubt are, pleased at his retention. He is broad in his views, greatly interested in education, not only in his own county, but throughout the State. It would be a good thing if the Shelby county superintendent would understudy Mr. Williams.

The Selma Times, which was such an ardent supporter of Captain Hobson for congress in the last campaign, says Captain Bankhead will beat him worse than ever in the coming election. Captain Hobson has lost out in a good many sections of the Sixth district.

In the last issue of the Alabama Odd Fellow, editor Jacob Pepperman, who is secretary of the Alabama Press Association, hands a hot one to the editor of the Bullock County Breeze.

Peace, sweet peace, has come to Russia and Japan. President Roosevelt is receiving lots of praise for the part he took in the negotiations.

H. A. Wilson, editor of the Birmingham Times (rep), died at his home near Jamison last week.

The dispatches of yesterday say Japan is preparing for battle.

Outlook for Cotton Crop.

Montgomery Advertiser. Commissioner of Agriculture R. R. Poole received a batch of highly "bullish" replies yesterday from leading cotton authorities in Mississippi, Georgia, Texas and Tennessee whom he had wired a day or two ago seeking estimates of the cotton crop condition this year and the prospective yield as compared with 1904.

But one telegram put the crop condition estimate within hailing distance of the revised Government report issued a few weeks ago, giving the average for the whole production of the United States.

All the States heard from by Commissioner Poole, except Tennessee, indicate very poor crop conditions and Tennessee, it would be remembered contributes a small fraction of the total yield. W. W. Ogilvie, Commissioner of Agriculture of that State, advises Mr. Poole that the estimated condition is 82. The next highest estimate to this is that of Walter Clark, president of the Mississippi Cotton Growers' Association, for that State, being 69. Mr. Clark also adds in his telegram that yield of Mississippi this year will be according to the most reliable estimates, 66 per cent, of the total yield for the State last year.

Next under Mississippi's estimated crop condition is that of East and North Texas, the estimate being made by Col. E. R. Peters, President of the Texas Cotton Growers' Association. For East and North Texas Colonel Peters makes the crop condition 63.8. In his reply to Commissioner Poole's telegram he makes the assertion that this year's North and East Texas yield will be the "poorest cotton crop ever known" for these sections.

Even a little more "bullish" than Colonel Peters' estimate of the general crop condition throughout the State is sent in to Mr. Poole by H. M. Thomas, who is recognized by many as the greatest cotton operator in Texas. He puts the condition at 62.

A prominent cotton man in Georgia whose name would not be given out by Mr. Poole telegraphed that "from the best information obtainable this year's cotton yield in Georgia will be about 66.67 per cent, of last year's."

Alabama's estimated yield for 1905 is 65 per cent, of last year's. These are the figures of Mr. Poole issued some time ago before he left for Southwest Alabama and reiterated by him on his return to his office here Tuesday.

The adverse agencies that have borne down on the crop condition estimates in this way are generally reputed to be rain and scarcity of labor in cultivation. The campaign waged by the Southern Cotton Association for a reduction of cotton acreage this year while not so successful as to bring about 25 per cent., counted in pulling down the conservative estimates of yield all through the cotton-growing States.

Commissioner Poole expects to hear from reliable person in Louisiana on condition estimates and estimates of yield also. Oklahoma Territory and North and South Carolina have been also queried on the same lines.

Where's Mr. Comer?

Mr. Comer has sounded the slogan "give us the Georgia freight rate" all over Alabama, and now comes Georgia with a howling complaint that shippers in that State are being discriminated against in favor of Alabama shippers. Will Mr. Comer and his friends please adjust these state-ments? A cog seems to have slipped somewhere.

The Post is heartily in favor of better railroad rates in Alabama, but it does not believe they will ever be secured by M. Comer. He is an unqualified judge or juror to try any rail road rate case. His opinion has been fixed before hearing the evidence, therefore he is not the proper man. The state of Alabama or no defendant would accept any judge or a juror to hear a case in its courts when that judge or juror's opinion of the case had already been fixed even before hearing the evidence. Hence, Mr. Comer is not a safe man neither to the railroad nor to the people of Alabama. The railroads have done too much for the development and advancement of Alabama to not give their interest a fair and impartial hearing on these rate questions.—Headland Post.

Two new exchanges come to our table this week—the Columbia Breeze and the Headland Post. Glad to get them.

The Crops.

At this writing most of the crops are safe. Speaking of the country at large, the season has been a favorable one. Some sections have had too much rain, and some have had too little, but no great disaster has afflicted the farming community.

It is now said that the wheat

REPORT OF CITY TREASURER

From January 1, to July 1, 1905.

RECEIPTS.

Cash on hand January 1, 1905.	$ 1184 63
Loans by Columbiana Savings Bank	2142 48
L. M. Dyke, for painting in Dispensary	20 50
License taxes.	38 50
Coal sold.	4 55
Taxes and street tax.	1147 44
Dispensary sales.	6193 99
Overdrawn.	50 69
Total.	$ 10782 78

DISBURSEMENTS.

Loans paid the Columbiana Savings Bank	$ 2453 25
Printing.	13 10
State, county and revenue license.	775 62
Paid on piano note.	40 63
Tuning piano.	5 00
Henry Chapman on house	50 00
Attorneys fees, E. H. Dryer	277 65
Merchandise—City and School.	12 47
Repairs on city prison.	2 64
Work on streets.	61 78
Repairs on watchman's clock.	2 00
Lumber for bridges.	8 32
Pine for school house.	3 50
Repairs on school house.	2 65
City election managers.	3 00
Insurance on stock of whiskies.	68 00
Commencement expenses.	17 95
Land for J. S. Jackson for flouring mill.	295 00
Dispensary salesman's salary, six months.	210 00
Marshal's salary, six months.	180 00
Streets overseer's salary, six months.	120 00
City Clerk and Treasurer's salary, six months.	120 00
Rent Dispensary building.	150 00
Night watchman's salary, fifteen months.	37 50
On whisky and beer bills.	4380 22
Teachers' salaries.	1475 00
Janitor's salary.	25 00
Councilmen's salaries, one year.	100 00
Total.	$ 10782 78

There Will Soon be a Rush

for Fall and Winter Millinery. We will be ready for your first order. 500 Styles of the nobbiest ready-to-wear and Pattern Hats ever presented to the the Trade. Watch for our Opening Announcement.

Be First—With our Hats you will surely be right in style and price. The best way to know what's new is to see the newest. Our new goods are coming in now every day. Don't forget the place, and remember to come to see us. We can please you.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

crop will exceed 700 millions bushels. The corn crop will be 2698 millions of bushels. The oats will be 950 millions of bushels. Rye, 30 millions of bushels, barley 141 millions of bushels, hay 60 millions of tons and cotton at least 10 millions of bales.

These six crops, at the market price in New York today, are valued at 4,150 millions of dollars, and this is not the whole story. It does not take into account the potato crop nor the fruit crop nor the early and late vegetables. But the figures are sufficient to show that the harvest is abundant and that in the face of an abundant harvest prices have been well maintained.

We doubt if in the history of the country there has been a year in which the agricultural prosperity has been so generally distributed; certainly the South is in a better position today than ever before in its history. It has curtailed its cotton crop, but it has raised more of its supplies at home. It has less need to buy on credit. As a result, it will have a larger surplus than ever before, a surplus in agricultural machinery, improved household implements, in all those things that make for the comfort of the home and for more profitable farming in the years to come.—Government Report.

HARPERSVILLE.

Wilson Florey, of South Alabama, is visiting his mother's family.

The Methodist meeting closed Saturday night with two accessions. Miss Rhoda Lane is visiting Birmingham friends.

Our ball team was defeated in several games last week.

The little baby of Mr. and Mrs. Ruff Simmons died and was buried here last week.

Our farmers have saved very little fodder this season.

Just four more weeks and then our school will begin.

T. J. Martin has gone into the mercantile business with Gorman & Florey at Vincent.

Anyone wanting to patronize a good school and have their children trained right should by all means send to the Harpersville school.

Mrs. Thorpe and son Leon, of Ironaton, visited relatives here Sunday and Monday.

Silas Cater, of Birmingham, visited his mother's family last week.

Dr. A. W. Lane visited Birmingham over last Sunday.

The Sentinel reaches Harpersville regular every Thursday, and our people are just as eager for it as they are for their daily bread.

Several of our young people will leave in a few days for the different colleges of the State. E. V. Caldwell will go back to the Medical College at Mobile; J. M. Kidd to Tuscaloosa; S. W. Caldwell to Auburn; Miss Lena Ray to the Birmingham Seminary, and Miss Lockie Posey to Montevallo. We wish for all of them much success in their studies, a pleasant time, and a safe return to their homes next summer.

We notice from the papers that Governor Jelks is contemplating calling an extra session of the Legislature in the near future. One purpose, it seems, is to get rid of some surplus money which has accumulated under a Democratic administration—probably going to swell the public school fund another year. We want to see all the money spent for public schools that is a available, but to spend several thousand dollars or a million in one year and then drop back in the same old rut the next year does not appear to be very wise. If the State can't continue the same amount every year why not take a part or all of this money and build good school houses in our rural districts. Some of the school houses in this country, yes,

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

NEW FALL GOODS.

Our New Fall Goods!

We desire to inform the public in general that we are now receiving our stock of New Fall Goods. Ladies, come and see

Our New Dress Goods Line.

You are sure to be pleased. All the latest styles and shades. For men and boys a new line of

Hats, Shoes and Clothing

of the latest Fall Styles and Patterns is now coming in. If you want something neat and nobby we have it for you. We also have a substantial line of Overalls, the Best, Men's and Boys'.

We invite you to come and see what we have. Goods are the best, and the prices right,

MILNER - & - CHRISTIAN.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

B. WALKER,

Attorney-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - Ala.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER, DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, - - - - - ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

in this county, are not fit to shelter sheep in the winter, yet we send our children there never thinking that these school houses need repairing. Every school patron should bear his part. Give us longer terms of school and better school houses for the rural districts is the wish of

Jake.

Fourth District Agricultural School,

Sylacauga, Alabama.

Competent and experienced instructors. Scientific and Agricultural courses. Thorough preparation for college. Beautiful and well arranged buildings and grounds. Next session begins Sept. 12th. For further information and catalogue, address

T. C. MOORE, President.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana: Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 39,818 22	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000 00
Overdrafts..... 50 64	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 2,156 16
Banking house..... 3,000 00	Furniture and fixtures..... 33,546 37
Other real estate..... 2,000 00	Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 9,330 23
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,542 57	Currency..... 5,117 00
Gold..... 1,137 00	Silver, nickel and pennies..... 1,337 19
Cheques and cash items..... 3,638 07	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 16,968 50
Total..... $ 73,563 22	Total..... $ 73,563 22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July 1905.

JOHN R. DYKE, Circuit Clerk.

GROCERIES

ALWAYS FRESH.

WE WILL APPRECIATE
YOUR ORDER AT ANY TIME.

FRESH BREAD TWICE A WEEK.
LIKE YOUR MOTHER ONCE MADE.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months..... 50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Don't knock, but help pull.
That's the best way.

Things around the new court house corner are humming.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. W. J.
Horsley, on Saturday, August 26th,
a girl.

Walter Riddle, of Wilsonville, was in the city a few hours last Friday.

Few people in Columbiana saw the eclipse—they did not get up early enough.

W. W. Wallace visited several days with his mother at Klein,
last week.

B. C. Bynum, the contractor, went home to Montgomery and remained a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hyatt, of Talladega, visited with Mrs. J. L.
Wilson a day or two last week.

Osce Bird, who has been confined to his room for the past two weeks, is not able to be at the store yet.

The friends of Captain Reynolds, in this city, will regret to learn he has been quite ill for several days.

The Columbiana Graded Schools will open one week from next Monday. Look up your books, children.

The Sentinel hears that Captain
J. V. Johnston will soon begin the erection of a new residence on East College street.

White & Elliott have their new livery barn finished, and are ready to accommodate the public with a good team on short notice.

The genial J. E. Adams, of Weldon, was in the city a few hours last Thursday. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call.

Dr. C. T. Acker visited his parents and attended the Shelby Association of the Baptist church in Montevallo a day or two last week.

Miss Annie Longshore and her visitor, Miss Ina Sinnott, were in attendance at the Shelby Association of the Baptist church in Monte-vallo last week.

B. M. H. Armstrong, of Shelby, was in the city last Friday and made The Sentinel a pleasant call.
He renewed his subscription, and said to send it along.

Simon Friedberger returned from Catherine last Thursday. Mr.
Friedberger is fighting a case of fever which is trying to get its clutches fastened on him.

Stop talking about your neighbors and give your town a boost.
No one cares to hear your gossip, while you will be in a crowd when you say a good word for your town.

Geo. D. Campbell, who is now employed on the Selma Times, was in the city the fore part of the
week.

The Commissioners are in session this week looking after some tax matters.

Robert Strickland is down from Birmingham for a short visit with his parents.

Hugh Walthall, of Birmingham was visiting in the city the fore part of the week.

Miss Annie Longshore will attend the Girls' School at Monte-vallo the coming session.

Gene Spencer, of Birmingham, was in the city this week visiting relatives and friends.

Hon. D. R. McMillan has been over in Coosa county this week looking after some legal matters.

Gone a glimmering from Colum-biana—the amateur championship in the base ball world. We're sick abed.

The City Drug Store is making a cut in all patent medicines, and if you are in need of anything in this line now is the time to get it.

The second base ball nine from Columbiana drove over to Shelby last Friday, and the ball team of that place drove the knife into them hard and deep by a score of 15 to 5.

Miss Margaret Browne was called to Montgomery last Friday by the serious illness of her aunt, Mrs.
J. M. deCottes. The Columbiana friends of Mrs. deCottes hope she will soon recover.

There is to be a general mass meeting of all "The Old Maids" in the country at the Academy Friday night. They want everybody in this section of the country to come and see them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Norris and Mrs. Leo Friedberger returned last Thursday from a two weeks' visit with relatives in Texas. Mr. Norris says Texas is about the hottest place he ever got into.

T. S. Millsap is now in charge of the White House which he recently purchased, while J. T. Barnett is the new landlord at the Central.
They have the best wishes of The Sentinel that they may be successful.

Remember that "The Old Maids" will take the town Friday of this week, and will hold a convention at the Academy on Friday night to orate and narrate upon "horrid man." The Presbyterian church is the beneficiary. Of course you're going.

The kid ball team from this place defeated the kid team at Shelby on Wednesday of last week by a score of 19 to 4. They now think of challenging the second nine of Columbiana, and think they can win the pennant from the larger boys.

Dr. Wm. C. Williams, of Shelby, was a caller one day last week, and left an order with our job department for some stationery. Dr.
Williams is very proud of the heir which recently came to his home, and thinks he is the finest boy in the world.

A telegram came last Friday bearing the sad news to Mrs. S.
Dowell and Miss Ethel Early that their brother, Dr. Early, had died that morning at Newburn, N. C.
In their sorrow Mrs. Dowell and Miss Early have the sympathy of
all our people.

Remember the "Old Maids" at the Academy Friday night.

J. H. Mason was down from Talladeaga a day or two last week.

Henry Robertson will attend the Marion Military Institute this year.

Dr. Smith, of Saginaw, died last
Sunday morning of typhoid fever.
We have been unable to learn other particulars.

Judge J. L. Peters went down to Montevallo Monday, and on Tuesday took his son, Master Joe, to Marion where he will attend school
this year.

Mrs. W. A. Abercrombie delightfully entertained a party of friends on Wednesday afternoon of last week, and a pleasant time is reported by those who were present.

Arthur Armstaong, who is employed with the Alabama Engraving Co., Birmingham, is at home for a few days' visit with his mother. Arthur is very much taken with his work.

Mrs. Pattie Bradford, stenographer for R. G. Dan & Co., Birmingham, was in the city last Saturday and Sunday visiting Mrs. H.
E. Whitaker. They were school girls together at Montevallo.

In the first game of ball with Pell City last Monday something unusual happened to the Columbiana team—a shut out; score, 6 to 0.
In the second game the score was 2 and 2 and ten innings played.

The attention of our readers is called to the new advertisement of
T. J. Weaver & Co. in the issue.
Their new stock of fall and winter millinery is coming in and they invite the inspection of the ladies.

Hon. E. S. Lyman, of Montevallo, was in the city Tuesday on business. Mr. Lyman returned from Connecticut last week where he and his mother and son Willis have been visiting relatives for several weeks. He informs us that he will send Willis to Marion to school
this year.

Last Saturday afternoon Mrs.
Max Lefkovits and Miss Rosser
Christian entertained at the home of Mrs. Lefkovits complimentary to the visiting girls in town. A little bird brings the information to The Sentinel that of all the many entertainments given in Columbiana this season none has been more delightful than this. In a guessing contest Mrs. Jno. S. Pitts drew the first prize, and Miss Ina Sinnott was awarded the visitor's prize. Dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Lefkovits and Miss Christian are pleasing hostesses, and left the impress of their gra-ciousness upon each of their guests.

Complimentary to their sister,
Miss Ethel Early, Prof. and Mrs. S.
Dowell entertained a number of friends at their home on Tuesday night of last week. In an advertisement contest the prize was won by Miss Emmie Abercrombie, the booby prize going to Mr. Crossett, of Shelby. In the drawing contest Miss Essie Mason was awarded the prize, and Henry Latham was given the booby. Delicious refreshment were served during the evening, and a most delightful time was had by all present. Prof. and Mrs. Dowell are entertaining people, and the evening will be pleasantly remembered for a long time.

The latest styles in millinery and head wear will be shown at the "Old Maids' Convention" at the Academy Friday night. Admission 15 and 25 cents. Better go early so as to get a seat; there'll be a jam.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co. bought the first bale of cotton offered this year last week, and paid for the same 11.10. Pretty good for a starter, although the prediction is made that it will go to thirteen cents by the first of November.

W. E. Riddle and W. A. Thompson are soon to open a grocery store in the Mrs. Moore building opposite Milner & Christian's.
Both Mr. Riddle and Mr. Thompson are well known to the people of this section of the county; are honorable and upright men, and we are told will put in a stock of goods which will be up to date in every particular. The Sentinel wishes for them a share of the people's patronage.

Stand By Your Town.

The following from our excellent exchange, the Prattville Progress, is so sensible and timely that we give editorial space to it:

It is not the site of a town, but its character, that makes it a desirable place to live. A live, prosperous town is a desirable one, and a town may live and prosper and yet be small. Every citizen in a town should be interested in its prosperity. One of the ways to help a town is to speak well of it. It is true patriotism to stand by your own town and interest, as well, says an exchange.

Another way to help your town is to beautify it. Beautify your own property all you can, then do all you can to beautify your streets.
Be friendly with everybody and courteous to strangers. Your civility will help make good impressions and will be carried away and cherished. Never forget that you are part of the town and that your own deportment helps to make up the stranger's estimate of the place.

Sell all you can and buy all you can at home. Every dollar that is sent or carried away from the town makes it that much poorer.

If you have the means invest in something that will give somebody employment. Do not kick at a proposed improvement simply because it is not at your door. A town that is always improving is also speaking itself out. If a rich man starts a project, encourage him; if a poor man starts one help him. Don't be afraid to thrust your hands into your pockets to help a public enterprise. More towns have been killed by such refusal than other ways. The citizens of any prosperous town are always public spirited and united.

Stand together, work together for the very best interests of the whole town. Always stand ready to do your part. Don't grumble and spend your time prophesying failures, but help to make every enterprise a success, be it great or small.
Be energetic and enterprising and your example will be imitated.

Good Night.

How sweet at evening time comes to us the tender words, "Good Night!" Good night, sweet dreams!
rest for the tired frame! the toil of the long day is over. The plodding feet mounting the daily hill of labor stop for a while. The restless brain, ever thinking, thinking, sinks into the downy realms of dreamland, to rest beside still waters under rose tinted skies, amidst perfumed breezes and the soft orchestra of nature, or else passes into sweet oblivion.

"Good Night!" the mother whispers it above the dreamy eyes of childhood, as she kisses the tender lips of the little traveller to the Land of Nod.

"Good Night!"—And we kiss the old lips of age, drawing so close to the great river.

And at last, "Good Night!" We bend over white faces and unreplying lips with eyes that faint would pierce the mist of shadows of our voiceless grief, longing for the times and the far and golden day when on some fairer shore we may clasp hands and press lips again with those we love and say: "Good Morning!"—LaGrange Graphic.

State Union at Cordova.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana.

The city of Cordova is nestled among the hills of Walker county, on the west bank of the Warrior river, 33 miles west of Birmingham, at the junction of the Frisco and Southern railway. These roads furnish twelve passenger trains daily. The population of Cordova is 2,500 or more; is supplied with electric lights and water works. Five veins of coal are successfully operated, varying from three to 12 feet thick hence this is a manufacturing town—a town of working men, payrolls, but no

dudes.

Uncle Sam, at the solicitation of Colonel Bankhead, is opening up the Warrior river to navigation.
August 22nd was a public day, devoted to public speeches, a grand barbecue and street parade, arranged by the generous, big-hearted people of Cordova and the Walker county Union. The 23rd, 24th and 25th, with night sessions each, was devoted to the organization of a State Union, which resulted in the election and installation of the following officers: I. A.
Worley of Marion, President;
Hosea Pearson of Shelby Vice President; J. E. Cook of Marion,
Secretary-Treasurer; Rev. Bean of Jefferson Chaplain; J. B. Huttis, doorkeeper; John Short, Conductor; J. F. Hill of Shelby, Sergeant-at-Arms.

A Delegate.

For Rent.

House of six rooms, two acres of ground, good well, good cistern and outhouses. Just the home for anyone who has girls to send to school. Call on or address
Mrs. S. V. McCauley,
Montevallo, Ala.

Here are the two sides of the question pretty well presented by the Roanoke Leader: "A good, gentle, Christian mother in a home is a veritable angel of light, but an ill-timpered, cross-grained, back-biting woman can do more to send her children to the devil—and her husband along with them—than a whole regiment of preachers can

H. D. LATHAM. OSCE BIRD.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

WE ARE

Using a Sharp Knife

And cutting prices on Patent Medicines all to flinders.

do to save them in a life-time.
And when she succeeds the family circle will be once more complete.

Misses Carrie and Dinnie Rowe returned Monday from a visit of several weeks with friends and relatives in Carrollton, Ga.

R. E. Bowdon and Walter Hill, of Keystone, were in the city Tuesday. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call.

Clarence Smith was down from

Wilsonville a few hours Monday.

Mrs. L. N. Bowdon, of Calera, was in the city over Sunday, visiting her mother, Mrs. J. L. Wilson.

Miss Lucile Mahan, who has been visiting Mrs. H. E. Whitaker for the past two weeks, returned to her home near Ashby last Thursday. She will attend the school for the blind in Talladega this year
again.

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

Opportunities in California

The trade in the Orient is opening up.
Our exports to Japan and China multiplied during the last year.

There will soon be a tremendous increase in the trade of the Pacific Coast cities with the Far East.

Big opportunities for the man who lives there.
Why not look the field over?

Only $62.50, Chicago to San Francisco or Los Angeles and return, May 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 29; 30, 31, June 1, August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13;
and 14, 1905. Tickets good for return for 90 days.

Rate for a double berth in a comfortable tourist sleeper from Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and many other points in California, only $7. Through train service from Union Passenger Station, Chicago, via the

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line

This is the route of The Overland Limited, leaving Union
Passenger Station, Chicago, 6.05 p. m., and The California Express at 10.25 p. m. The California Express carries tourist sleeping cars to California every day. Both trains carry through standard sleepers.

Complete information sent free on receipt of coupon with blank lines filled.

W. S. HOWELL,
Gen'l Eastern Agent, 35 Broadway,
NEW YORK CITY,

or
F. A. MILLER,
General Passenger Agent,
CHICAGO.

Name	_____
Street address	_____
City	_____ State _____
Probable destination	_____

A WOMAN'S SUFFERINGS.

Weak, Irregular, Backed "11th Pains—Made Well and 30 Pounds Heavier.

Mrs. E. W. Wright, of 172 Main St., Haverhill, Mass., says: "In 1898 I was suffering so with sharp pains in the small of the back and had such frequent dizzy spells that I could scarcely get about the house. The urinary passages were also quite irregular. Monthly periods were so distressing I dreaded their approach. This was my condition for four years. Doan's Kidney Pills helped me right away when I began with them, and three boxes cured me permanently."

Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box.

Since the death of Secretary Hay raised anew the interesting problem of the authorship of "The Breadwinners," there has been a renewed and lively demand for the work. It has been a fairly steady seller ever since its great boom ended, more than twenty years ago, but the supply of copies of such a book kept on hand is naturally not very large.

The South Australian Jockey Club and the Adelaide Racing Club have been urging the government to assist in suppressing bookmaking and in excluding bookmakers from all race courses.

Permanently cured. No its nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. $2 trial bottle and treatise free. Dr. H. H. Kline, Ltd., 381 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Great Britain is barely holding her own in trade with Argentina.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

In 1893 Japan had only 167,000 tons of merchant steamships.

Pilo's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. SAMCEY, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1903

The population of Bangkok is estimated at 500,000 souls.

The Great Antiseptic, Sloan's Liniment, for all mosquito bites. It kills yellow fever and malaria germs.

Two thousands vessels of all descriptions disappear every year.

CUTICURA GROWS HAIR

Scalp Cleared of Dandruff and Hair Restored by One Box of Cuticura and One Cake of Cuticura Soap.

A. W. Taft, of Independence, Va., writing under date of Sept. 15, 1904, says: "I have had falling hair and dandruff for twelve years and could get nothing to help me. Finally I bought one box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap, and they cleared my scalp of the dandruff and stopped the hair falling. Now my hair is growing as well as ever. I highly prize Cuticura Soap as a toilet soap. (Signed) A. W. Taft, Independence, Va."

An old soldier of 1870 has been going about Paris for thirty years with no features, eyes, cheeks, lips and nose having suffered severely by the explosion of a shell. Modern science has restored his face. A mask was made, part of silver, part of wax, neatly tinted, two eyes in enamel, an excellent nose and serviceable lips in rubber.

The Princess of Wied, who is a prominent figure in the court circles at Berlin and whose husband is in the line of succession to the throne of Holland, buys all the ill-used horses that come to her notice and gives them the benefit of a stay in her well-appointed stables.

A Berlin doctor lays it down that the piano should never be used by a child under 16 years of age. Out of 1,000 girls who played before the age of 12 he found 600 cases of nervous diseases.

It is estimated that to collect one pound of honey from clover 62,000,000 heads of clover must be deprived of nectar and 3,750,000 visits from the bees must be made.

The highest elevator in the world has been opened on the Burgenstock, a mountain near Lake Lucerne. It lifts tourists 500 feet to the top of a vertical rock.

OUST THE DEMON.

A Tussle With Coffee.

There is something fairly demoualical in the way coffee sometimes wreaks its fiendish malice on those who use it. A lady writing from Calif. says:

"My husband and I, both lovers of coffee, suffered for some time from a very annoying form of nervousness, accompanied by most frightful headaches. In my own case there was eventually developed some sort of affection of the nerves leading from the spine to the head.

"I was unable to hold my head up straight, the tension of the nerves drew it to one side, causing me the most intense pain. We got no relief from medicine, and were puzzled as to what caused the trouble, till a friend suggested that possibly the coffee we drank had something to do with it, and advised that we quit it and try Postum Coffee.

"We followed his advice, and from the day that we began to use Postum we both began to improve, and in a very short time both of us were entirely relieved. The nerves became steady once more, the headaches ceased, the muscles in the back of my neck relaxed, my head straightened up and the dreadful pain that had so punished me while I used the old kind of coffee vanished.

"We have never resumed the use of the old coffee, but relish our Postum every day as well as we did the former beverage. And we are delighted to find that we can give it freely to our children also, something we never dared to do with the old kind of coffee." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Postum Coffee contains absolutely no drugs of any kind, but relieves the coffee drinker from the old drug poison. There's a reason.

SONG FOR THE UNSUCCESSFUL:

He worked and he hustled from morning till night, But somehow he couldn't succeed; He used his best efforts, he tried with his might, But somehow he couldn't succeed.

He bore up with fortitude under the strain, Whenever he failed he tried over again; His character stood without ever a stain— But somehow he couldn't succeed.

He bent to his task in the world with a will, But somehow he couldn't succeed. The sweets that he coveted to him were but nil.

But somehow he couldn't succeed. He plodded along in the very same way Day in and day out, with but little to say; He bent to his labors, gave little to play— But somehow he couldn't succeed.

He answered a jibe or a jest with a smile, But somehow he couldn't succeed. His heart always generous, though heavy the while,

But somehow he couldn't succeed. Whenever a thorn pierced his flesh on the road,

He shut his teeth tight and shifted the load; He plucked not nor reaped from the seeds that he sowed— And somehow he couldn't succeed.

He was one, only one, from the millions hurled Who somehow could never succeed; He traveled his way through a cold, dreary world.

And never, could never succeed. But he used his best efforts in playing his part, The burden he carried off made the tears start.

And yet through it all a song welled from his heart: This man who could never succeed.

—Milwaukee Sentinel.

IN THE OVEN.

BY R. W. CHILD.

AM inclined to think that a girl's wit is quicker than a man's in a tight place, if the place is tight enough." Mr. Colchester had spoken after we had been silently sitting for several minutes watching the mist that was creeping over the moonlit water and listening to the chirp of the crickets in the grass. He always began a story by stating the moral. His way was to present some conclusion and then prove it by a personal experience.

"I was thinking of my sister," he explained. "She once saved us both from a fearful death. If it had not been for her ready wit I should have been a biscuit!"

At this every one straightened up perceptibly. Mr. Colchester's stories were always interesting.

"Perhaps all of you do not know that my father was a cracker manufacturer," he continued, "and that he had a shop with machinery and three ovens in it. Of course that would be considered nothing to-day, when there are bakeries that supply thousands of people in every part of the country, but when I was a boy I remember I used to wonder that there were enough mouths to consume all that my father's workmen made.

"I often went down to the shop, for it was really fascinating to watch the mixers turning the great rolls of dough over and over, and see the cutting machines chopping a long strap of it into little sticky lumps. Then old Carberry, the baker, would toss the pieces which had been patted and molded by hand on the tiled floor of the oven. Sometimes my sister Margaret used to go with me, for we were great chums, and it was on one of those occasions that we got into trouble.

"The day, I remember, had been rainy, and after a discouraging attempt to amuse ourselves in the house, Margaret said, 'Let's take umbrellas and go down to the bakery.'

"I was so glad of the suggestion that I forgot it was the noon hour, when the men would be gone and the machinery shut down. It wasn't until we saw the deserted room that we remembered it.

"(Well, said I, 'we are bright, aren't we? But let's look round—I'll tell you, let's look at the cool oven.'

"Cool oven!" exclaimed Margaret, in surprise.

"I explained to her that in the ordinary course of business only two ovens were used, and that unless there were extra orders there was always one oven which was out of commission, being shut off from the furnaces below by the big sheet-iron dampers.

"I raised the latch of the heavy door and bent down to look across the flat, tiled surface inside.

"It's just like a cave, isn't it, Bob?" cried my sister; and I laughed at the idea and asked her whether she expected to see a bear or a robber walk out.

"Of course I don't," she said, for she always was on her guard against my making fun of her. 'Let's crawl in.'

"All right," said I, touching the brick walls to make sure I hadn't made a mistake; and then I followed her inside through the gloomy opening.

"Will it get my dress dirty?" Margaret asked, out of the darkness.

"No, indeed," said I. 'They have to keep these ovens clean as can be. They're fussy about every speck of dust.'

"I had hardly finished when the iron door behind us shut with a resounding clang. One of the workmen who had come back to work had closed it!

"O Bob," cried my sister, with a little scream of fright, 'we're shut in!'

"Like two biscuits," I laughed.

"All we have to do is to shout and some one will come."

"But Margaret was really scared, and groped her way near me to put her hand on my shoulder. I confess the darkness and the close, stuffy air were far from cheerful.

"I began to call as loud as I could, and not getting any answer, I crept over to the solid iron door and began kicking it with my heels. After a moment I stopped, breathing hard from my exercise, and then I heard Margaret's voice behind me, saying:

"(Wait a minute, Bob! Listen!"

"I strained my ears, and from the outside I could hear a rumbling that seemed to come from far, far away.

"It's the machinery!" I cried. 'It's after 1 o'clock, and they have begun to work again. No wonder they couldn't hear us!'

"By that time I had become really frightened, and I suppose I must have temporarily lost my head. I shouted wildly until my throat was sore, but it seemed only to fill our oven trap with noise. There was no hope whatever that it would penetrate the thick brick walls. Suddenly I was startled into silence by a sound of scraping iron underneath us—a familiar noise to my ears. Some one had pulled open the great damper that shut us off from the fires in the cellar below! They were going to heat our oven!

"What was that?" exclaimed my sister, touching my hand with her cold fingers. 'What did that noise mean, Bob?' She seemed to know our danger by instinct. I did not answer, for with a sinking heart I felt on my face the first breath of warm air!

"Tell me, Bob," demanded Margaret. 'They are heating this oven, aren't they?' She had caught my wrist and pressed it as hard as a girl could squeeze.

"Yes!" I gasped, trying to speak bravely. I remember I felt that if I were alone I should not care nearly so much, but the idea that my little sister would have to die, too, put me into another panic.

"A second breath of air a good deal hotter than the first fanned my cheek. I jumped up with a scream, and beat and kicked upon the rough brick walls and on the iron door of blind terror. Then, exhausted, I crawled along the floor to the place where Margaret sat. She was crying quietly—I could tell because when I put my arm about her I could feel that she was shaking.

"They will never, never hear us!" she sobbed.

"Don't cry, Margy," said I, patting her wet cheek while I tried to arouse my own courage. 'Perhaps there is another way.'

"I tried to think, but the heat had then become almost unbearable; it stung my nose and seemed to suffocate me. Once when I touched a place on one of the tiles I drew my hand back in real pain. There was no hope of breaking the latch of the iron door, and no one could hear us, though we put our mouths to a little crack at the top of the door and screamed. I was sure we would be baked. My arm was still round my sister, and her hand was still in mine, as if she were seeking the comfort of the touch.

"It was becoming hotter and hotter, but neither of us spoke for several seconds. Then suddenly Margaret started up and cried out, eagerly, 'Tell me, Bob, quick! Have you got a piece of paper?'

"I felt in my pockets. 'Yes, I have an old postal card!' I exclaimed.

"What are you going to do with it?"

"They can't hear us, but we can make them see!" she cried. 'Hurry! Give it to me—and your jack-knife!'

"I handed them to her, and she began to pick at the hem of her skirt with the point of the knife.

"We need thread," she explained, excitedly, 'and if this is a chain-stitch on this hem we can get it!' I lighted a match. 'And it is, Bob, it is!' she cried. I realized that she had caught an end of thread and was carefully ripping it out.

"Now, Bob," she commanded, handing me the card, 'punch a hole in the card and tie it through.' Her voice was weak. From my own struggle to keep my senses in the awful heat, I knew that she was nearly at the collapsing point.

"What are you going to do with it?" I gasped.

"The door!" she answered, faintly. 'Dangle the card through the crack in the door! Then I understood her plan at last, and crawling painfully over on my knees I thrust the postal card down the little crack between the door and the iron jamb.

"Pull it up, and let it down!" cried Margaret, with a final effort, and I jiggled the string so that the paper would dance upon the wall outside. My head swam with the effect of the terrible heat, and it seemed ages before any one came.

"Then suddenly the latch was lifted, the door swung open, and in spite of the blinding daylight which poured in I could see the astonished face of old Carberry, the baker, peering in at us!

"I caught my sister's dress, pulling her toward the opening with all the strength that was left in me, and fell over after her into the old man's arms.

"That is why I say," concluded Mr. Colchester, as he looked round upon us with a smile, "that it was a girl's wit that kept me from being baked like a biscuit. And that is the reason why I say that a girl's wit is the best in a tight place—providing the place is tight enough."—Youth's Companion.

"Man is Nature's Enemy." "Man," says Professor Lankaster in his Romanes lecture at Oxford, "is nature's rebel." Natural selection having, as supposed, lifted him from so low—the monad—to his present high estate, is now believed by many of its advocates to be a failure as regards raising him any higher. Having done so much in the past, it is thought to be incapable of doing "the little more" which is of such great importance. While in the case of other creatures their actions are supposed to lay to the hands of natural selection, so that this beneficent force becomes the alma mater of new races, in the case of man it has been otherwise. His own actions have defeated the aims of natural selection for his welfare. Darwin held similarly pessimistic views. "In one of my latest conversations with Darwin," writes Dr. A. R. Wallace, "he expressed himself very gloomily on the future of humanity." And this was on the grounds that under present conditions the fittest did not survive. Many evolutionists, therefore, as Mr. Francis Galton and Dr. A. R. Wallace, have suggested ways in which natural selection may be assisted rather than thwarted in producing a more perfect race. The remedy proposed by Prof. Lankaster is that men should acquire greater control over nature by means of a deep study of science. And in the reformed education advocated by Prof. Lankaster Latin and Greek are to be eliminated as injurious.—London Globe.

Destroying Germs.

The inspector of the disinfection office of Turin, Italy, has instituted an innovation in destroying germs in dwellings. He uses a one per cent. solution of sal soda for cleansing the floors, whereby the bacilli of diphtheria and typhus are killed in one minute.

Father of European Royalty.

James I of England and VI of Scotland, from whom nearly all the royalities of Europe descend, inherited sovereignty through his mother, Mary Queen of Scots. His father, Lord Darnley, was the son of Matthew Stuart, Earl of Lenox, and Margaret, the daughter of Queen Margaret Tudor, widow of James IV of Scotland, and her second husband, Archibald Douglas, Earl of Angus. In the royal collection at Windsor castle is a portrait of Archibald, who was the head of the second branch of Douglas and grandson of the famous earl, "Bell the Cat." He was a man of handsome person and reckless and unprincipled character.

Author's Experience With Fire.

Horatio F. Brown, a London writer on Ventian subjects, has had a singular experience with fire. The original draft of Brown's first and well-known work, "Life on the Lagoons," perished in the blaze which destroyed the office of its publisher, Kegan Paul, in 1883. The manuscript of his "Study in the Venetian Inquisition" was burned in a mail car in Switzerland two years later, and a similar fate overtook both of his "Calendar of Venetian State Papers" at the fire at Spottiswoode's in 1892 and that of his "Studies in Archaeology." The latter was consumed in the burning of Cecil Rhodes' house, Rondesbosch, Capt Town, in 1895.

"Humble" Swedish Royalty.

The so-called humble origin of the Swedish royal family has received a share of attention lately from people who seem unaware that Bernadotte's present day representatives are allied by descent and marriage to several of the older reigning houses of Europe. Prince Gustavus Adolphus, now the Duke of Connaught's son-in-law, is a great-grandson of the German emperor, William I, and his ancestors also include King Gustavus II, of Sweden, of the previous royal line, King George II of England, grand dukes of Baden and highnesses of Bavaria and Wurttemberg.

Matsuchendo, the ringleader of the Potemkin mutineers, is thus described in the Neue Freie Presse: "This 'bloodthirsty' mutineer possesses the naive and the smile of a little child. In his eyes you may read the melancholy of the steppes and the dreaminess of the woods. He never speaks of his aged mother, who lives in a small Russian village, without tears in his eyes. He presented every member of the Potemkin's crew with a souvenir and was heartbroken at the failure of his plans."

Gambling on Large Scale. Not long ago a foreign prince lost $50,000 in one night playing bridge whist in a swell London club. King Edward was much annoyed on hearing of the circumstances and wrote to the club officials suggesting that the play should be restricted to lower stakes.

Now some of the younger members threaten that if his majesty's advice shall be taken they will desert and join a notorious club where many fortunes have been lost and won. At this place the eldest son of a very rich peer is said to have lost $400,000 in a few nights' play.

Odd Visiting Cards.

Korean visiting cards sometimes measure a foot square. The savages of Dahomey announce an intended visit by sending in advance a wooden board or the branch of a tree artistically carved. When the visit is paid the "card" is returned to the possession of its owner, who will doubtless use it for many years. With the natives of Sumatra the visiting card is composed of a piece of wood about a foot long, decorated with a bunch of straw and a knife.

Gorky Lost His Voice. As a youth Maxim Gorky, the Russian author, possessed a tenor voice of much charm, and he had well-grounded hopes of making a name and fortune on the operatic stage. But one night the house in which he slept was struck by a cyclone and Gorky was caught up by it and thrown some distance. When he recovered from his injuries he found that his singing voice had disappeared.

Titled Engine Driver.

Probably the only occasion on which a titled lady acted as engine driver was when the Marchioness of Tweeddale drove the engine of the first train that crossed the new Forth bridge. Notwithstanding its enormous length and the keen wind that was blowing in her face the marchioness carried out her self-imposed task, and was congratulated on the uniform speed that she maintained.

Crown Prince's Bravery.

The other day the crown prince and princess of Germany while riding in a motor car came suddenly upon an equestrian whose horse reared and became unmanageable. The prince leaped out, seized the horse and quieted it, while the princess with rare presence of mind snatched the incident with her camera.

Discarding Heathenish Custom.

Mrs. Wu Ting-fang, wife of the former Chinese minister, had her feet enlarged to the normal size by means of an operation. Chinese women were very much excited over the occurrence, but it is said that it will become fashionable to have the operation performed, many Chinese women already desiring to follow her example.

An amusing Greene county, Mo., farmer has rigged his farm wagon up with a gasoline motor and runs into Springfield several times a week auto style.

THE IDEAL WIFE

Shapes the Destiny of Men—The Influence of a Healthy Woman Cannot Be Overestimated.

Seven-eighths of the men in this world marry a woman because she is beautiful in their eyes—because she has the qualities which inspire admiration, respect and love.

There is a beauty in health which is more attractive to men than mere regularity of feature. The influence of women glorious in the possession of perfect physical health upon men and upon the civilization of the world could never be measured. Because of them men have attained the very heights of ambition; because of them even thrones have been established and destroyed.

What a disappointment, then, to see the fair young wife's beauty fading away before a year passes over her head! A sickly, half-dead-and-alive woman, especially when she is the mother of a family, is a damper to all joyousness in the home, and a drag upon her husband.

The cost of a wife's constant illness is a serious drain upon the funds of a household, and too often all the doctoring does no good.

If a woman finds her energies flagging, and that everything dreads her, dark shadows appear under her eyes, her sleep is disturbed by horrible dreams; if she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, whites, irregularities, or despondency, she should take means to build her system up at once by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

This great remedy for women has done more in the way of restoring health to the women of America than all other medicines put together. It is the safeguard of woman's health.

Following we publish, by request, a letter from a young wife.

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley of 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope, few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so that I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

Write Quick FOR A Big Bargain

To better advertise the South's Leading Business College, four scholarships are offered young persons of this county at less than cost.

WRITE TODAY.

G. A. A. A. BUSINESS COLLEGE, Macon, Ga.

Pollock-Stephens Institute.

Birmingham, Ala.

Select Day and Boarding School for Girls. Opens Sept. 27th.

Catalogue on application. Address

Madame Catherine Deschamps Elford, Principal.

FOR THE LIVER AND BOWELS

NOTHING CAN EQUAL

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR

IT PROMPTLY CURES CONSTIPATION, BILIOUSNESS, INDIGESTION, ACIDITY, ACID AND ALL OBSTACLES OF THE STOMACH AND BOWELS. 50 CENTS A BOTTLE AT ALL DRUG STORES.

Rosen's Modesty.

They tell a story about the modesty of Baron Rosen, the new Russian ambassador. Wishing at one time to make friends with some Japanese, he paid court to their wives, and one Japanese lady, showing interest in European dress, he ordered for her a complete outfit, with every garment included and directions as to the order in which they were to be put on, he being too modest to suggest. In some way the gown got on top and the other garments beneath. Following directions, Mme. Chrysanthemum put the gown on first and the other garments on top of it, making a very peculiar combination, to say the least.

New York's "Richest" Rich.

New York has the richest baby, the richest boy, the richest bachelor, the richest spinster, the richest married man and the richest widow in the whole wide world. Parts of this big claim might be overthrown on close scrutiny, but we continually hear of little John Nicholas Brown, the richest baby in the world; James Henry Smith, the richest bachelor; William Ziegler, Jr., the richest boy; Miss Stickney, the richest spinster; Rockefeller, richest of all, etc.

Gen. De Sonnaz, a leading member of the Italian senate, who died in Rome recently, was at his desire dressed in his general's uniform, with all his medals and decorations, just before he expired. He then called for a glass of champagne, and with his relatives gathered around his bed drank a toast "To the king's health and the prosperity of Italy."

Richard B. Reed, of Salem, Mass., said to be the oldest letter carrier in the country, has completed a half century of service. When he first went on duty it was as a "penny post," and he delivered the entire mail of the city, being paid by the recipients of the mail.

Mrs. Ada F. Howle eleven years ago was a prominent Milwaukee society woman. Today she is renowned throughout the United States and Canada as the best authority on Jersey cattle breeding and dairying in this country.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES

Color more goods brighter and faster colors than any other dye. One box package colors silk, wool and cotton equally well and is guaranteed to give perfect results. Ask dealer or we will send post paid at 10c a package. Write for free booklet—How to Dye. BLEACH and MIX COLORS. MONROE DRUG CO., Unionville, Mo.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every woman who is in poor health and ailing.

Its benefits begin when its use begins. It gives strength and vigor from the start, and surely makes sick women well and robust.

Remember Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound holds the record for the greatest number of actual cures of woman's ills. This fact is attested to by the thousands of letters from grateful women which are on file in the Pinkham laboratory. Merit alone can produce such results.

Women should remember that a cure for all female diseases actually exists, and that cure is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Take no substitute.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it is free and always helpful.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Succeeds Where Others Fail.

25,000 FREE SAMPLES

GILBERT'S

GRAVEL WEED COMPOUND.

The Great Tonic is Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease; therefore, when, through neglect or other cause, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow. It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorders of these most important organs.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need your attention first. If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking GILBERT'S GRAVEL WEED COMPOUND, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince any one. Write us for a sample of this famous remedy—it will be sent free of charge.

THE T. H. GILBERT DRUG CO., Huntsville,

GENERAL STATE NEWS.

Current News Garnered as It Falls From the Plant of Report.

Corner Stone Laid.

Tuskegee, Ala.—The exercises attending the laying of the corner stone of the Masonic temple took place here Monday afternoon at 3:30 p. m., presided over by R. S. Teague, of Montgomery, grand commander of the Grand Commandery of Knight Templars of Alabama, who represented the most worshipful grand master of the state.

On the corner stone are inscribed the words: "Masonic Temple, erected 1905 by Tuskegee Lodge, 57, A. F. and A. M., and James E. Cobb Chapter, No. 129."

The laying of this corner stone no doubt marks the beginning of a new era in the Masonic history of Tuskegee.

Killed By a Woman.

Dothan, Ala.—Joe Taylor was shot and killed by Laura Harris at Cottonwood, ten miles below here, Wednesday. Taylor is said to have gone to the home of the woman intending to raise a quarrel. On finding the doors locked, he is said to have attempted to force an entrance, when the woman killed him with a shotgun. The woman has been placed in jail.

The Enterprise Lumber Company, which is building the road from Dothan to St. Andrews Bay, has located the large mills here and is getting them up as fast as possible. W. S. Wilson, who is doing the grading, has about ten miles graded.

While playing in the yard Monday the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gresham was kicked by a horse. He kicked the boy just above the eye and crushed the skull and it was thought for a day or so he could not live, but up to now he is living and may get well.

The cotton crop in this section is the poorest for many years. It will barely make a half crop and it will soon be all picked out. All other crops are good.

Laying Court House Corner Stone.

Prattville, Ala.—The largest crowd ever gathered in Prattville witnessed the ceremonies of laying the corner stone of the court house Thursday. Early in the morning people from the country began to arrive, and by 10 o'clock there were 2,000 people waiting for the beginning of the ceremonies.

The orator of the day, Dr. R. M. Cunningham, was introduced by G. C. Spiggen, and after prayer by the Rev. John R. Caldwell, the band played "Nearer, My God, to Thee," and the people joined singing. The doctor made an appropriate address, which was well received. The box deposited in the corner stone contained many interesting bits of history of Autauga county and Prattville.

When the corner stone was lowered to its place the people repaired to Magnolia Grove, where was provided a bountiful barbeque dinner. There were estimated to have been 2,500 or 3,000 persons who partook of this dinner. There were preparations made for 3,500 to 4,000. There was nothing to mar the occasion and the pleasures of the day were complete.

Good Institution.

Evergreen, Ala.—The thirteenth annual session of the Alabama Agricultural school opened on last Monday with a large number of pupils, patrons and friends of the school present.

An appropriate programme of exercises had been arranged by President J. A. Limer, which included short but pointed talks from Rev. C. S. Talley, Rev. J. W. Stewart, Hon. J. F. Jones, Rev. A. G. Moseley and President Limer. The exercises were interspersed with a beautiful vocal solo by Miss Lucie Daughdrille, of Marion, and instrumental selections by Mrs. Taylor, of Selma; Misses Pearl Williamson and Dorothy McCreary, of Evergreen.

The work of the school began on Tuesday with more than two hundred pupils present, and the prospects are that three hundred will have matriculated by the first of October. Prof. W. W. Monroe from Fayette, Ala., and Prof. S. Greer from Pikeville, Tenn., have returned to resume their work in the school. Their families will follow later.

Miss Lucy Lowe Dead.

Huntsville, Ala.—Miss Lucy Lowe, a prominent member of the Huntsville chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, died very suddenly Wednesday afternoon. Miss Lowe was a sister of Miss Sarah Lowe and of the late William Lowe, member of congress from the Eighth Alabama district. She was a daughter of the late Gen. B. M. Lowe.

Death at Aberfoil.

Aberfoil, Ala.—Calvin J. Smith died at his home near here Wednesday. He had been a resident of this community over fifty years. He was one of the old veterans of the Third Alabama regiment, was wounded at Chancellorsville, shot through the lungs, and although he lived to be 74 years old he still suffered at times from the old wound. He was a useful citizen and a good, true man.

Tried to Run Line.

Bay Minette, Ala.—State Quarantine Officer A. J. Giddens, who is stationed on the Perdido River on the line between Baldwin county and Escambia county, Florida, brought into Bay Minette Thursday morning two boys, Beck and Matthews, both of whom were working over the line in Escambia county. The boys decided they would cross the line, but found the bridge they approached guarded. They then went away, but afterwards, crossed at a point where the guard could not see them. Knowing the boys, he suspected that they might take such action and they were promptly captured. They were brought here to Dr. J. C. McLeod, who is acting for Dr. Mohr, of Mobile, in so far as this county on Perdido river is concerned. Dr. McLeod sent the boys back across the line. Whether they will be arrested for violation of the quarantine laws or not has not been made public. The records here are that the several guards on the Perdido river are turning people back every day and night.

Foundry Plant to Be Rebuilt.

Anniston, Ala.—General Manager H. H. McCord, of the Western Steel Car and Foundry company, has received authority to rebuild the malleable cast iron foundry plant at this place and the work of rebuilding has begun. The company will expend $50,000 in rebuilding and equipping the foundry, and when completed will furnish more than 150 skilled men with work. These men will receive the highest wages on account of the skill that is required of them. The malleable foundry was burned several years ago and threw about 100 men out of employment, besides crippling to a considerable extent the working of the plant.

Shoots Ox On Bridge.

Selma, Ala.—Peter Morse, a negro, caused much excitement on the county bridge Thursday afternoon by shooting at another of his race.

A steamboat had just passed through the draw of the bridge and a great crowd was passing over at the time of the shooting. Four shots were fired, one of which struck the negro in the leg and the other hit an ox which was on the bridge, killing it. The dispute had arisen over the ownership of a guitar. Morse was captured shortly after the shooting.

Schooner Is Run Down.

Mobile, Ala.—Information has been received in this city to the effect that the steamer Mobile of the Munson line, plying between Mobile and Havana, had run down and sunk the schooner Vila y Hermosa on her last trip to Havana. Captain Clark, of the schooner, with his family and crew were saved and carried to Havana. It is probable that the accident occurred near the Cuban coast, as the schooner cleared with a cargo of lumber for Havana and had had time to discharge her cargo and start on the return voyage.

Opening of School.

Scottsboro, Ala.—The opening of the Scottsboro Baptist institute on Thursday morning was an auspicious occasion. The large college hall was thronged with visitors, patrons and pupils. Addresses were made by Hon. C. W. Brown, of Glinyaida, and Judge J. A. Bilbro, of Gadsden. Over one hundred students were enrolled.

Cotton picking has begun in Jackson county, and hands are in great demand. The crop is very poor and will not make more than one-half the amount made last year.

Gadsden Schools Well Attended.

Gadsden, Ala.—Gadsden's free public school opened up its fall term last week with the largest attendance in its history on opening day. The number of students now enrolled is 650, which will be increased to at least 850 in another month. Prof. W. E. Striplin and his able corps of teachers and the pupils are already down at hard work, and great results are expected from this term.

N. H. Snodgrass Is Married.

Scottsboro, Ala.—N. H. Snodgrass, the wealthiest and one of the most prominent young planters in Jackson county, surprised his many friends when he arrived from Fort Payne by private conveyance Tuesday accompanied by his bride. He was married in Fort Payne recently to Miss Lidia Thomason of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Snodgrass will reside at his handsome country home near Scottsboro.

Lineman Burned by Wire.

Huntsville, Ala.—Lineman Edward Daugherty, of the Southern Bell Telephone Company, was probably fatally burned Friday by touching a live electric wire. Daugherty was suspended by a rope and his clothing blazed several minutes before help could reach him. Will Gray, a lineman, was killed on the same wire and same pole last April.

Attempted Assault.

Bessemer, Ala.—Considerable excitement was created Friday morning about 10 o'clock when it was reported that an unknown negro had attempted criminal assault upon the person of Mrs. M. G. Lowry, a white woman, living at Reader's Gap.

Local officials and a posse of indignant citizens hurried to the scene of the reported crime about one mile beyond Reader's Gap on the Little Shades road, but no trace of the negro could be secured. Dogs placed on the trail failed to follow it up.

Mrs. Lowry is a widow 64 years of age and has several sons and daughters living in and around Bessemer. She is very feeble and was greatly excited, so much so that she could give no definite description of the negro.

She came to town herself and reported the matter to Deputy Sheriff Jerry Fountain, stating that the negro had accosted her on the road, asking her about where he could find some chickens and then demanding where she was going. Becoming alarmed at the negro's manner she started to run and the negro pursued her, she claims, until she screamed, and then he turned and ran into the woods.

Ashland's Progress.

Ashland, Ala.—Work has begun on five new store buildings in Ashland, and the contract for a new bank building has been let.

The corn crop in this county is very good, but the cotton crop is somewhat short. It is not believed that the crop will be so good as last year's.

The A. and B. railroad, projected through this county, it is thought, will be built soon. As yet the exact location of the road is not known. The right-of-way through this county is guaranteed to the company by the citizens.

A Bank for Slocomb.

Slocomb, Ala.—The National Bank of Slocomb has been organized with $35,000 capital. The stockholders are J. R. Faircloth, Joe Baker, R. D. Crawford, J. P. Crawford, H. G. Forrester, of Dothan; C. E. Segrest, of Midland City; S. D. McGee, J. M. Fitcher, Y. L. Brackin, Dr. G. W. Smith, A. L. Kelley, W. J. Smith, E. F. Smith, Dr. M. E. Daughtry, J. C. Davis, Joe Morgan, R. L. Casey, of Slocomb. The officers are: J. R. Faircloth, president; C. E. Segrest, vice president; S. D. McGee, cashier.

J. F. Hilton Killed.

Anniston, Ala.—J. F. Hilton, father of O. A. Hilton, of this city, was killed at Edwardsville Friday by a freight train. Mr. Hilton, with C. H. Burgess, was out driving in an automobile and attempted to cross the track of the Southern railway when a train bore down upon them. Both of the men jumped from the vehicle, but not soon enough for Mr. Hilton to escape a horrible death under the wheels of the engine. Mr. Hilton was seventy years old and was a pioneer citizen of Cleburne county.

Witte Drinks to President's Health.

New York.—Col. George Harvey entertained at dinner Thursday night at the Metropolitan club the Russian peace envoys, M. Witte and Baron De Rosen, the members of their suites and a company of men distinguished in the different walks of life.

M. Witte spoke first, saying he had insisted upon being accorded that privilege that he might have the honor to propose a toast "to the health of the illustrious statesman, Theodore Roosevelt."

M. Witte's last words were drowned with cheers. When these were ended he resumed speaking in French: "At the same time it is my pleasure and I believe it my duty to propose a toast to the prosperity of the great and marvelous American people who are so admirably personified in the president. I drink to this glorious republic and its president, Mr. Roosevelt."

Colonel Harvey followed M. Witte and proposed a health toast to the Russian emperor, which was drunk standing.

Colonel Harvey referred to the friendly relations that have always existed between Russia and the United States.

In conclusion he offered a greeting "from the great white nation of the west to the great white nation of the east."

Baron De Rosen spoke next. "Peace," he said, "was the passionate desire of Russia, but Russia wanted the peace that comes of right to the just man armed, and not the peace given to the beaten craven."

Elihu Root, secretary of state, spoke briefly. He congratulated the envoys on the success of their mission. He referred to the courage which had enabled the representatives of both great nations to make peace, for he said it required "more courage to make peace than to make war."

Auspicious Opening at Auburn.

Auburn, Ala.—The Alabama Polytechnic Institute opened Thursday with the largest enrollment in the history of the institution. The number matriculated was considerably larger than that of last year, which was the highest up to that date.

An English burglar says that the fraternity never rob a house in which a squire-eyed servant is employed.

PEACE TREATY IS SIGNED

Conference of Plenipotentiaries Comes to an End at Portsmouth Navy Yard.

TEXT OF THE AGREEMENT

Simple Ceremonies Mark the Close of One of the World's Most Remarkable Meetings—Cannons and Bells Peal Forth a Joyous Salute—Komura and Rosen Make Short Speeches—Religious Services of the Russians.

Portsmouth, N. H.—The war between Japan and Russia is ended. At 3:47 o'clock in the afternoon the Treaty of Portsmouth, re-establishing peace between the two empires, was signed by the plenipotentiaries sent here by the Czar and the Mikado. A moment afterward a salute of nineteen guns was fired at the United States Navy Yard on Kittery Point, the church bells in Portsmouth, New Castle and Kittery were rung, and flags were hoisted everywhere.

Only six Americans were allowed to witness the act which ended the great war. These were Admiral Mead, Captain Winslow, Captain Gibbons, Governor McLane, Mayor Marvin and Assistant Secretary of State Peirce.

Through the courtesy of Mr. Peirce, the newspaper correspondents were admitted to the navy yard, and for two hours stood in the mud outside the conference building in a mixed group composed of automobiles, buggies and dressed horsemen.

Both the Russian and Japanese missions on their arrival at the navy yard were received by Admiral Mead, while two companies of marines commanded by Major Moses rendered military honors and a band played.

On entering the building the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries retired to their respective apartments, while their secretaries went into a private room to read over and finally compare the French and English copies of the treaty. This occupied half an hour, while the six guests conversed with the attaches and junior officials in the conference room. At 3:40 o'clock the secretaries went into the conference room and said that the treaty was ready for signature.

M. Korostovetz informed Baron Komura that all was ready, and Mr. Yamaza performed the same service for the Russian envoys. The plenipotentiaries then entered the room and took their seats. On the Russian side of the table sat M. Witte, Baron Rosen, M. Pokotiloff, Counting de Rosine and M. Korostovetz. Baron Komura sat opposite M. Witte. The others on the Japanese side of the table were Mr. Takahira, Mr. Demission, Mr. Yamaza and Mr. Sato.

When all were seated the secretaries brought in the four copies of the peace treaty and laid them upon the table. The two French copies were placed in front of M. Witte and Baron Rosen and the two English copies before Baron Komura and Mr. Takahira.

At 3:47 o'clock the four envoys signed their names simultaneously to the papers in front of them, and then exchanged them for the others. Each envoy had to sign his name four times. M. Witte was the only envoy who signed two names, "Serge Witte." The others signed "Komura," "Takahira" and "Rosen."

Not a word was said in the room when the treaty was being signed.

At 3:49 o'clock an official ran down the steps from the conference room and said to Captain Rowe of the marine guard, "Go ahead, Captain."

The officer ran to the corner of the building and waved a red flag, which was immediately followed by the roar of the guns as they thundered forth an Ambassador's salute of nineteen guns. This announced to Portsmouth and the surrounding towns and villages that the treaty had been signed. The salute was followed by the ringing of church bells, the raising of flags and the blowing of the whistles of the towboats and steamers in the harbor.

In the meanwhile, inside the conference room, a remarkable scene was in progress. Throwing his pen aside, M. Witte, without a word, reached across the table and grasped Baron Komura's hand. The conference followed his example, and the Russian and Japanese delegates remained for a moment in silence, their right hands tightly clasped across the conference table. The war was over—Russia and Japan were once more friends.

There was nothing staid about this simple ceremony. It rang true, and deep impressions of the attitudes and reticence of the two missions and the invited witnesses.

Baron Rosen was the first to break the silence. Rising from his seat, the Ambassador, looking Baron Komura straight in the eye, said a few words which one had only to hear to know that they came straight from his heart. Baron Komura replied that he shared entirely the views of Baron Rosen.

spurring brevities.

A. H. White, the intercollegiate golf champion, defeated Frederick Herreshoff.

W. Gould Brokaw's ponies won three races at the Narragansett Pier Horse Show.

Miss Wina Barger defeated Mr. Taylor Townsend in a swimming match at Newport, R. I.

The Frayer-Miller car won the six-day non-stop automobile contest at Cape May, N. J.

"Dick" Stevens won the singles in the national lawn tennis championship contest at Newport.

After this there was general hand-shaking, and a buffet luncheon was served in the cafe across the hall, the Russians and Japanese informally drinking each other's health. Shortly before 5 o'clock the Russian mission left the yard for the thanksgiving service at Christ Church, and the Japanese returned to the hotel.

Article 1 stipulates for the re-establishment of peace and friendship between the sovereigns of the two empires, and between the subjects of Russia and Japan respectively.

Article 2—His Majesty, the Emperor of Russia, recognizes the preponderant interest from political, military and economic point of view, of Japan in the Empire of Korea, and stipulates that Russia will not oppose any measures for its government, protection or control that Japan will deem necessary to take in Korea in conjunction with the Korean Government, but Russian subjects and Russian enterprises are to enjoy the same status as the subjects and enterprises of other countries.

Article 3—It is mutually agreed that the territory of Manchuria be simultaneously evacuated by both Russian and Japanese troops; both countries being concerned in this evacuation their situations are absolutely identical. All rights acquired by private persons and companies shall remain intact.

Article 4—The rights possessed by Russia in conformity with the lease by Russia of Port Arthur and Dalny, together with the lands and waters adjacent, shall pass over in their entirety to Japan, but the properties and rights of the Russian subjects are to be safeguarded and respected.

Article 5—The Governments of Russia and Japan engage themselves reciprocally not to put any obstacles to the general measures (which shall be alike for all nations) that China may take for the development of the commerce and industry of Manchuria.

Article 6—The Manchurian Railway shall be operated jointly between Russia and Japan at Kouang-Tcheng-Tse. The two branch lines shall be employed only for commercial and industrial purposes. In view of Russia keeping her branch line with all rights acquired by her convention with China for the construction of that railway, Japan acquires the mines in connection with such branch line which falls to her.

Article 7—Russia and Japan engage themselves to make a conjunction of the two branch lines which they own, at Kouang-Tcheng-Tse.

Article 8—It is agreed that the branch lines of the Manchurian Railway shall be worked with a view to assure commercial traffic between them without obstruction.

Article 9—Russia cedes to Japan the southern part of Saghalien Island as far north as the fiftieth degree of north latitude, together with the islands depending thereon. The right of free navigation is assured in the bays of La Perouse and Tartar.

Article 10—This article recites the situation of Russian subjects on the southern part of Saghalien Island, and stipulates that Russian colonists there shall be free and shall have the right to remain without changing their nationality. Per contra, the Japanese Government shall have the right to remove Russian subjects to leave the territory which is ceded to her.

Article 11—Russia engages herself to make an agreement with Japan, giving to Japanese subjects the right to fish in Russian territorial waters of the Sea of Japan, the Sea of Okhotsk and Bering Sea.

Article 12—The two high contracting parties engage themselves to renew the commercial treaty existing between the two Governments prior to the war, in all its vigor, with slight modifications in details, and with a most-favored-nation clause.

Article 13—Russia and Japan reciprocally engage to resettle their prisoners of war on paying the real cost of keeping the same, such claim for cost to be supported by documents.

Article 14—This peace treaty shall be drawn up in two languages, French and English, the French text being evidence for the Russians, and the English text for the Japanese. In case of difficulty of interpretation, the French document to be final evidence.

Article 15—The ratification of this treaty shall be countersigned by the sovereigns of the two States within fifty days after its signature. The French and American embassies shall be intermediaries between the Japanese and Russian Governments to announce by telegraph the ratification of the treaty.

Two additional articles are agreed to as follows:

Article 1—The evacuation of Manchuria by both armies shall be completed within eighteen months from the signing of the treaty, beginning with the retirement of troops of the first line. At the expiration of the eighteen months the two parties will only be able to leave as guards for the railway fifteen soldiers per kilometre.

Article 2—The boundary which limits the parts owned respectively by Russia and Japan in the Saghalien Island shall be definitely marked off on the spot by a special limnographic commission.

Both copies of the treaty, the Russian and the Japanese, have been enclosed in handsome red morocco folders. The folders are tastefully decorated with a gold border. A leather portfolio encloses everything.

Czar Writes Lively About Peace.

The Russian Emperor, from Tsarko-Selo, sent to General Linewitch a message saying that duty to conscience and to the Russian people commanded him not to expose the army to further horrors of war.

Railway Smash in England.

Ten persons were killed and twenty injured in a wreck on the Great Eastern Railway at Witham, England.

In Honor of Mark Hanna.

President Thwing, of Western Reserve University, announced that Andrew Carnegie had given $25,000 toward the endowment of a chair of political economy to bear the late Senator Hanna's name.

Chief of Bureau Resigns.

Dr. D. E. Salmon, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, at Washington, D. C., resigned, after being exonerated by Secretary Wilson on charges that he mixed commercialism and science in his work.

JAPAN WILD WITH ANGER

Popular Outbursts and Protests Against Peace Terms.

MASS MEETING OF THE PEOPLE

Crowd in a Theatre Dispersed Later by Police—Office of the Government Organ Attacked by a Mob—Disorders Not General and the Majority of the People Ready to Accept the Result.

Tokio, Japan.—Turbulence on the part of the people attendant upon the popular anger over the terms of peace arranged with Russia took place. A mass meeting to protest against the action of the Government was called, to take place at Hibiya Park, but the metropolitan police closed the gates, and attempted to prevent the assembling of the people. The municipality protested against the action of the police, and finally the gates were thrown open, and a large crowd gathered and voted in favor of resolutions declaring the nation humiliated, and denouncing the terms upon which the treaty of peace was arranged. The crowd was serious in its conduct, rather than angry, and the police handled it discreetly. The gathering eventually dispersed in an orderly manner.

Later on, however, a crowd attempted to hold a meeting in the Shintomi Theatre, and the police dispersed it. A portion of the crowd then proceeded to the office of the Kokumin Shinbun, the Government organ, and began looting. Three employees of the paper, armed with swords, appeared at the door of the building and checked the attack, and the police again dispersed the crowd. It was thought that the trouble had passed, when suddenly a portion of the crowd made a rush at the building, hurled stones and damaged some of the machinery. Several persons were injured during the attack, but the police eventually cleared the streets of the crowd and arrested a number of rioters. The disorder was not general, and the situation was not regarded as being serious.

Similar meetings have been held at Osaka and Magoya, which, in round terms, denounced the Government, and asked them to resign.

General sentiment throughout the country seemed to favor reactionary measures, but it appears clear that the majority of the people will eventually accept the result of the peace conference, however disappointing it may be.

Authorities Prepare for Trouble. The press telegrams outlining the peace terms have further incensed the sentiment against the settlement. The radicals and hotheads continued to urge various expedients to express the popular disapproval. As a precautionary measure the police reserves have been increased. The police carefully watched the developments of the situation, and the force will be doubled should violence occur. If it did, its speedy suppression was assured.

The Government was silent. The conservative element predict that the country will approve the settlement when its conditions are thoroughly understood. They declare that the present agitation does not represent either the ultimate sentiment of the people or a sufficiently strong minority to merit serious consideration.

Nagasaki.—The peace news was received without enthusiasm in the chief centres of Kinshiu Province. There is a general feeling of chagrin that Japan has been deprived of the rightful fruits of victory, but there is disappointment especially at the fact that permanent security from Russian aggression has not been secured. The diplomatic failure is considered to be due to the negotiations beginning prematurely.

Yokohama.—There have been no demonstrations. The people quietly awaited the official announcement of the text of the treaty.

LOST SEVENTEEN IN STORM.

Those Who Remained on the Tropic Saved With Steamer.

Charleston, S. C.—The British steamship Tropic, Captain Barber, arrived after a voyage of nearly three months. The second mate, purser and fifteen seamen are missing.

Sailing from Valparaiso, Chile, on June 21, the Tropic met with bad weather, and, on June 28, while off Putu, and about fifteen miles from Constitution, the lookout reported "breakers ahead." Before the ship could be got about she had gone hard aground 400 yards from the beach. The second mate, purser, and fifteen seamen put out in the lifeboat for Constitution, but never returned nor reached the city. Next morning the captain, with a kite, sent a cord to men on shore, a hawser was rigged and the crew were taken off the ship. After the storm it was seen that the boat was almost uninjured, her cargo was jettisoned and she floated.

AUTOISTS HURLED FAR.

Man and Woman Thrown From High Bridge to Tracks.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Coming up from Atlantic City in a motor car Neil Wolfe and Miss Marie Hamill were thrown from a bridge over the Camden and Atlantic Railroad, near Aco, N. J., thirty feet to the tracks. Miss Hamill was killed instantly. Mr. Wolfe died on his way to a hospital at Berlin. The chauffeur escaped injury. The jamming of the steering gear is supposed to have caused the accident.

MASSACRED BY TARTAR NOMADS

People of an Armenian Village in Caucasus Killed.

Thlis, Caucasus.—A dispatch from Elizabethopol says that all of the inhabitants of the Armenian village of Minkend, in the district of Zangezur, have been massacred by Tartar nomads. Other villages of the district are surrounded by Tartars, and the governor is urgently appealing for reinforcements.

END TROUBLE IN DEATH

Francis B. Stevens and Others Take Their Own Lives.

Nephew of M. Witte, the Russian Peace Plenipotentiary, One of the Number.

Westbury, L. I.—Francis Bowes Stevens, Jr., a grandson of the late Commodore Stevens, of Hoboken, N. J., founder of the Stevens Institute, killed himself at his home near Westbury, L. I. He leaves a widow, who was Miss Adele Horowitz, of Baltimore. Their only child, a daughter, died some years ago.

Mr. Stevens was one of the best known of the well-to-do residents of Westbury. He lived in a farmhouse on the Jericho Turnpike, a mile from the railroad station. Many of the best-known families in New York society were his near neighbors during the summer months.

Between 10:15 and 10:30 o'clock one of the maids saw Mr. Stevens lying face downward on the floor of his room. She summoned Mrs. Stevens and the other persons in the house. They found that Mr. Stevens was dead. In his right hand was a revolver which had been in the house a long time. One chamber was empty. The bullet had entered the right temple, and death was instantaneous.

Sweetened Death With Sugar.

New York City.—Infatuated with Miss Frances Westin, nineteen, and handsome, Caffaro Feriano, a Porto Rican of good family, shot and killed himself in front of her apartments, at No. 14 West One Hundred and Seventeenth street.

The police say Feriano went there to kill Miss Westin. She left the house a few minutes before Feriano arrived and did not return until after he was dead.

On him was found an undressed note saying that as he could not live without Miss Westin he would "end it all as sweetly as I can." To make the end sweet I have placed sugar on my revolver and in my pocket." Sugar had been smeared on the pistol and his left hand clutched three lumps of sugar.

Witte's Family Tragedy.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—A sensation has been caused at Moscow by the suicide of Mne. Witte's nephew, M. Khotinsky, who shot a girl through the heart. He then turned the revolver on himself, inflicting a wound from which he died in a hospital.

Khotinsky was a volunteer in a dragon regiment. Four of his brothers died under tragic circumstances.

PEARY IN GREENLAND.

Explorer is Now Well on His Way to the Frozen North.

New York City.—Commander Robert E. Peary's final message from Etah, North Greenland, before starting on the last stage of his attempt to reach the North Pole, was contained in a letter received by Henry L. Bridgman, Secretary of the Peary Arctic Club. Mr. Peary said that his ship, the Roosevelt, would leave Etah with twenty-five Eskimo assistants, 200 dogs, coal and full supplies.

Cape Sabine will be established as a base for the break into the ice-bound Arctic regions.

No ice had been encountered. No difficulty in procuring men and dogs for the voyage, which so far had been extremely favorable. Passengers were all well.

RUSSIAN CRITICISM OF TREATY

St. Petersburg Papers Say It Does Not Conduce to Peace in Far East.

St. Petersburg, Russia.—There was much comment in the papers on the Anglo-Japanese treaty, which, it was claimed, was not conducive to peace, because it upset the balance of power in the Far East and made Great Britain and Japan predominant. The Novoye Vremya expresses

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Sept. 14, 05

Telephone No. 17.

To Our Readers:

Owing to the increasing demand on The Sentinel for advertising space, we are making arrangements to soon begin printing both sides of the paper at home. This we believe, will be more satisfactory to both the people and the publisher.

The Good Road Matter Again.

The dominating principle in the Brownlow-Latimer bill for National aid to highway improvement is that good roads are State and National necessities, therefore their construction is a joint State and National development and progress. It is necessary that road building be systematized, that it be done on approved plans, and that the roads constructed be of a quality that is the best. Everybody is interested in better roads, whether living in the city or in the country. The farmer may be more directly interested, because he has more frequent use for the roads, but the town or city dweller is directly interested because he is dependent on the farmer for most of the things he eats, and ease of transportation to market certainly affects, not only the price, but the quality. There is no subject in which all the people are interested to the same extent as they are in the highways, and how any public man, especially a Senator or Representative in Congress, can persuade himself to oppose legislation that insure their improvement is more than we can understand. If the people will make the demand of right that they be given this relief, the proposed measure for National aid will be quickly passed. It need not be expected, however, that Congress will go ahead of such demand in the matter. It is just simply up to the people to act. Surely there is some one in each community able and willing to take the initiative in holding meetings and getting up petitions to Congress. We wish that every one of our readers would write to one of our U. S. Senators for Senate Document No. 204, Second Session, Fifty-Eighth Congress, and get full information on the road question. It will only cost a postal card to do this.

Keep Before the People.

"Ask the next fellow you meet who the candidates for the presidency of the United States were in 1896 and the chances are you've got him for a while and he's got to do some thinking before he recalls their names, although it doesn't seem so long since the same names were on the tip of every tongue," writes Mr. M. O'Keefe in Clothier and Furnisher. "This is simply an illustration of how soon you are forgotten if you don't keep your name before the people. Every time it's repeated by type or tongue it's a help to advertising you and your business, and when you let up on the proper means of getting it there, there's always some other fellow gaining a lap on you and gradually coming to the front."

"Just when our people are expected form some opinion upon this rate question, the Macon Telegraph rises and makes this remark: The 'reformers' in Alabama want 'the Georgia freight rate' and they believe they will accomplish a great thing if they get it. The 'reformers' in Georgia assert that 'the Georgia freight rate' is 'oppressive' and 'extortionate'!"—that it gives wholesale merchants in Alabama a great advantage over the wholesale merchants in Georgia. And there you are gentlemen! The honest soul in search of the truth sees in both states a campaign on for governor—politics, politics, politics.—Mobile Register.

"Governor Jelk's menagerie" is the way the Jasper Mountain Eagle speaks of the Legislature. And the Talladega Mountain Home, in commenting on the reference, says "there is no doubt that some of its members are quite foxy."

The editor of The Sentinel had material all this week in scouring matter to fill its columns. Advertisers recognizing the worth of The Sentinel as a circulating medium are using its columns liberally. We are soon to begin printing both sides of our paper so as to not cut down the amount of home reading matter.

For want of space several communications are crowded out of this issue. We hope to be printing to more pages soon.

From the following we gather that the Opelika News does not like the Birmingham Age-Herald: "A gentleman just from a few weeks' trip to the Pacific slope is quoted as saying that out in that country they asked him ten cents per copy for the Age-Herald. If that is the price of the Age-Herald out there we would like to know what they get for a sure enough newspaper."

The Overland Limited to California

leaves Union Passenger Station, Chicago, 6.05 p. m. daily, arrives San Francisco the third day in time for a dinner. Route—Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line. All ticket Agents sell via this route. Ask them to do so. Handsome book, descriptive of California, sent for six cents postage. F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, or W. S. Howell, 381 Broadway, New York.

The Real Estate and Building Edition of the Birmingham Ledger, recently issued, was a fine paper. Thirty-four pages were filled with interesting facts about Birmingham and the Birmingham district. One excellent feature was illustrations of the many fine buildings in Birmingham. The Ledger, and those associated with it are to be congratulated upon the fine exhibit made and the excellence of the edition. Such advertising will help any town.

How to Go to California.

Travel via the Chicago, Union Pacific & North-Western Line. Two fast through trains per day. The Overland Limited, electric lighted, less than three days on route. The California Express, through service to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland. The best of everything. Full particulars on application to W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M., C. & N. W. Ry., Chicago.

The Clanton Banner is again rightside up with care after a vexatious time with a broken press. Editor Crichton, who is a sort of philosopher in his way, did not permit the breakage to ruffle his temper, but done the best he could with a job press. No wonder he's popular in Chilton county.

Book on California

56 pages, 76 illustrations. Describes California and the route there. Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line. This is the route of The Overland Limited. Leaves Union Passenger Station, Chicago, 6.05 p. m. daily. Arrives San Francisco the third day in time for dinner. California book sent for 6 cents postage. F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, or W. S. Howell, 381 Broadway, New York.

Death in Shelby Co. Division.

Dr. G. H. Smith, of Saginaw, Shelby Co., Ala., one among the most prominent physicians in this county—a pure christian gentleman and a good citizen—died Sept. 2, 1905, of typhoid fever. To the policy holders: you should respond cheerfully and promptly to the assessment and continue the protection for your loved ones. The widow and five children, one of whom is an invalid, will be greatly benefited by the prompt payment of the death claim of more than $700. It only cost him $4.15 to leave his loved ones the above amount.

T. A. Leathers, Division Agent of the Mutual Life I. A. of Ga.

Those who desire this home cheap, safe insurance should make application without delay before Division is full.

HARPERSVILLE.

Mrs. Florey has moved to Vincent.

Cotton picking has commenced in earnest.

There are still a few chills in our community.

The base ball season is about over, but the all day singings continue.

Our school house is being repaired now—a long and much needed want.

John Lee, of your town, has moved to Harpersville and is fireman at the gin.

Joe Florey returned last Sunday from the Springs very much improved in health.

In stating last week who would attend the different colleges this year we unintentionally omitted the name of A. W. Lane, who will go back to the Atlanta Medical College.

The Horse Swappers' Convention is advertised here for September 30th. So if you have a blind horse, or a one eyed mule, or a bob-tailed pony, "beshore and come."

L. M. Moore and Brown Crumpton have both received notice that they would be required to assist His Honor, Judge Pelham, in holding court at Columbiana this fall.

Professor Florey wants everybody little and big, old and young, rich and poor, from Maine to California to know that he has a little baby girl at his home. I am told that it don't favor the Professor the least bit and it is very pretty. Jake.

Masonic Conference.

The Fourth semi-annual communication of Shelby County Masonic Conference was called to order at 10:00 a. m., W. M. R. Ray presiding. There were present the following delegates and visitors: Angus M. Scott, Lecturer, Charlton Lodge 528, T. G. Bush, jr., Wilsonville Lodge 510, R. G. Weldon, Wm. Tinney. Shelby Lodge, 140, F. A. Church, Henry Milner. Bentley Lodge, 607, A. W. Tucker, A. T. Warlick. Calera Lodge, 445, J. R. Cargile, W. H. H. Whatley, W. H. Moss, M. S. Wilson, I. W. Bailey, Wilson Parker, W. M. Armstrong. Central Lodge, 70, F. M. Peterson, C. L. Meroney, R. L. Woolley. Robert J. Redding Lodge, 623, Ernest West, J. S. Kellum, G. H. Howell, Chas. Berry, Wm. Winslow, Jim Griffin, Thos. Ellington, J. B. Sessions, K. S. Sessions. Aldrich Lodge, Jim Coshatt. Helena Lodge, 410, R. V. Ray, John Bishop, T. H. Griffin, R. H. Walker, sen., R. H. Walker, jr., T. A. Johnson, L. N. Ray, James Johnson, J. B. Stoi, R. E. Bowdon, E. D. Nuse, E. E. Echols, J. H. Fulton, H. Clay Fulton, W. R. Cross, C. C. Murrah, J. E. Johnson, L. P. Cosper.

Visitors from other lodges—R. E. Sessions, Jamison Lodge, 411. An E. A. Lodge was opened in due form and the E. A. work was exemplified by Bro. A. M. Scott. Labor was dispensed with and A. F. C. Lodge was opened in due form, and work partly exemplified. Labor was dispensed with and an M. M. Lodge was opened in due form.

The following committees were appointed by the W. M.:

Memorial committee, F. M. Peterson, R. G. Weldon, R. E. Woolley. Finance Committee, C. L. Meroney, F. A. Church, T. F. Johnson. There being no further business the Lodge was called from labor to refreshments until 2 p. m.

2 p. m. Tuesday. The M. M. Lodge and Masonic Conference was called from refreshments to labor, F. M. Peterson presiding. The work in the E. C. degree was exemplified by Bro. A. M. Scott. There being no further business the lodge was called from labor to refreshments until 8 p. m.

8 p. m. The M. M. Lodge was called from refreshments to labor, the work of E. A. was exemplified also. The F. C. work was exemplified, showing the difference when given by the W. M. and S. D. No further business. Lodge was called from labor to refreshments until 8 Wednesday morning.

8 a. m. Wednesday. The Lodge was called from refreshments to labor, Bro. F. M. Peterson presiding, and instruction in the M. M. degree was given by Bro. A. M. Scott. No further business the Lodge was called from labor to refreshments until 2 p. m.

2 p. m. Wednesday. The Lodge was called from refreshments to labor, Bro. R. V. Ray presiding. Instruction in the M. M. degree was conducted by Bro. A. M. Scott. Also instruction in opening and closing the E. A., F. C. and M. M. lodges were given.

There being no further business the Lodge was called from labor to refreshment until 7:30 p. m.

Calera was unanimously elected for place of next meeting of Shelby County Masonic Conference. Time of meeting fourth Monday in July, 1906.

The following officers were elected for the Shelby County Masonic Conference, for the ensuing year: Master of Calera Lodge be Master of Conference.

Bro. Peterson, S. W. Bro. Ray, J. W. Bro. A. H. Avery, Sec. and Treas. Bro. F. A. Church, S. D. Bro. Tucker, J. D. Bro. Tinney, S. S. Bro. Kellum, J. S. Bro. Bentley, Chaplain. Bro. Ozley, Tyler.

Report of Committee on Resolutions was read and adopted, and ordered spread on the minutes.

After the report of the Finance Committee, there being no further business to come before the M. M. Lodge it was closed in due form and F. C. and E. A. Lodge declared closed. HENRY MILNER, Sec.

Pacific Coast Excursions.

Rock Island service to California and Pacific Northwest this summer, permits you to do this. Low round trip rates to Los Angeles, San Francisco or Portland on special dates in May, June, July, August, September and October. Liberal arrangements for stop-over among the mountains of Colorado and in California—side trips to the Yellowstone, Yosemite, etc. Write for Colorado and California books and Rock Island folder. John Sebastian, Passenger Traffic Manager, Rock Island System, Chicago.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, } Probate Court. Shelby County. } In the matter of the application of L. E. Christian to sell real estate for division among joint owners: The said L. E. Christian having this day filed in said court his petition for the sale of certain real estate described in his petition for division among the joint owners thereof, to-wit: L. E. Christian, W. L. Christian, non-resident who resides in Cincinnati, in the state of Ohio, Walter Christian, a minor who resides in Shelby County, Ala., and Miss Rose Christian, who resides in Shelby County, Ala., alleging that said property cannot be equitably divided among them. The 9th day of October, 1905, was appointed for the hearing thereof, and it is ordered that notice be given by publication for three successive weeks in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in said county, at which time said non-resident and all other parties interested may appear and contest the same if they see fit. A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

There Will Soon be a Rush

for Fall and Winter Millinery. We will be ready for your first order. 500 Styles of the nobbiest ready-to-wear and Pattern Hats ever presented to the

the Trade. Watch

for our

Opening Announcement.

Be First—With our

Hats you will surely be right in style and price. The best way to know

what's new is to see the newest. Our new goods are coming in now every day. Don't forget the place, and remember to come to see us. We can please you.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

New Grocery Store!

EVERYTHING NEW.

We desire to notify the people that we have opened a grocery store in the Moore building, and we ask for a share of your patronage. Our groceries are all NEW and FRESH—nothing stale. A full line of staple and fancy groceries, cigars, tobacco and provisions will be kept on hand. Be glad to have call on us.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

J. W Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES.

A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

"CRITERION"

The Very Best

CLOTHING

On the Market.

Had You Thought About It?

We cordially invite your inspection of our stock of this popular brand of clothing—none better in the world. It is made of

The Best Fiber

and made up in the latest styles and most durable manner, hence its great popularity. You can buy this clothing at no other store in Columbiana. We can please you in price.

Every Garment Guaranteed

by the manufacturers to be just as it is represented or money refunded. They know the excellent quality of the goods or they could not afford to make such an offer to purchasers.

Come in to see us.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

MILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law, Columbiana, Ala.

Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors IN CHANCERY. Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law, AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY. Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law. Montevallo, Ala. Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER, DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, ALA. Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

$83 to Pacific coast.

Tickets will be on sale from Chicago, via the Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line, during the autumn months at this low rate. Correspondingly low rates from other points. Daily and personally conducted excursions in Pullman Tourist sleeping cars, through without charge to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland, only $7.00 for double berth. Full particulars on application to W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M., C. & N. W. Ry., Chicago.

Fourth District Agricultural School, Sylacauga, Alabama.

Competent and experienced instructors. Scientific and Agricultural courses. Thorough preparation for college. Beautiful and well arranged buildings and grounds. Next session begins Sept. 12th. For further information and catalogue, address T. C. MOORE, President.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana, Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts..... $ 38,818 52	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000 00
Overdrafts..... 20 44	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 2,156 40
Banking house..... 5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check..... 33,350 37
Furniture and fixtures..... 2,000 00	Time deposits..... 101 60
Other real estate..... 3,000 00	Cashier's checks..... 16,968 50
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 9,336 23	Notes and bills rediscounted.....
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,512 57
Currency..... 5,117 00
Gold..... 625 00
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 1,257 19
Checks and cash items..... 3,698 07
Total..... $ 72,955 22	Total..... $ 72,955 22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank of Shelby County, Ala., who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank. W. L. FARLEY, Cashier. Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July, 1905. JOHN R. DYKE, Notary Public.

'Sfact!

"It's the Talk of the Town!"

That Fall Has Arrived,

But that's nothing. We have been here all the time with the largest and best stock of GROCERIES in town. Of course you are aware of the fact, but we just wanted to jog your memory. Canned goods, this year's growth, are coming in. Bear this in mind, too.

We Want Your Patronage.

Our goods and prices will get it.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
one copy one year.....$1.00
one copy six months.....50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Circuit Court convenes the first week in October.

The woods are beginning to take on a variegated hue.

Every boy is a puzzle, and 'tis a wise father who can solve it.

Several cases of chills and fever are reported in and near town.

Howard Latham made a business trip to Greensboro one day last week.

Atlanta certainly has a freak mayor—and to the chagrin of that city, too.

The yelp of hounds can now be heard nearly every night—'possums are ripe.

J. H. Robertson and son James were visitors to Wilsonville one day last week.

Miss Olive Nelson returned last Sunday from a short visit with relatives in Montevallo.

Fall weather has gone into commission and will give away only to the coming of Jack Frost.

The cool mornings of the past week make one feel like he could jump over a ten board fence.

E. B. Teague returned to Birmingham last Saturday, after a short visit with Columbiana friends.

Several cases of typhoid fever are reported. Columbiana is fortunate in not having any cases.

Philip Shriner, Minor and Ernest Hendrick, of Montevallo, were in the city last Sunday visiting relatives.

There is another think coming to those who thought the warm weather had been called in for this season.

Miss Essie Mason returned from Birmingham last Saturday, where she had been on a short visit with relatives.

Geo. Bird has been staying in the City Drug Store for a few days, during the sickness of his brother, O. O. Bird.

Note the change in the advertisement of Roberts & Robertson in this issue. They are talking groceries to you.

Judge Peters has returned from Marion where he had gone to put his son Joe in the Military Institute at that place.

Mrs. S. V. McCauley came up from Montevallo last week for a few days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Whitaker.

We have heard of five candidates for sheriff and not one of them is a Democrat. One of them is canvassing the county now.

Dr. J. B. Wren, of Talladega, was in the city one day last week to assist in the removal of Rev. Mr. Duglinson to that city.

E. B. Nelson was down from Empire a day or two the fore part of the week visiting his daughter, Mrs. W. A. Abercrombie.

J. M. Ray, the sawmill man from near Farmer, was a caller at this office last Friday and left an order for a supply of stationery.

Andrew Jackson is now in the employ of the Friedberger brothers. He is a fine boy and will give his employers faithful service.

A man should not censure his wife for being fond of dry goods—until he rids himself of a fondness for wet goods, at least.

Harry and Lucius Roberts were in Anniston last Saturday. The former pitched for Jacksonville against Pell City in a game of ball.

Take A Trip West.

Spend your vacation on the Pacific Coast or in almost any of the western states this summer at low cost. Round trip excursion tickets via Rock Is and System are on sale certain dates throughout the summer. You can go out via Colorado, visiting Yellowstone Park and returning southern route by way of El Paso, or vice versa. A long return limit and cheap rates for side trips to every point of interest. Full particulars, literature and Rock Island folder, from John Sebastian, Passenger Traffic Manager, Rock Island System, Chicago.

Hugh Walshall, after a visit of a week with his cousins, Mrs. W. A. Parker and W. W. Wallace, returned to Birmingham last Saturday.

A great deal is said about the man behind the gun, and the man behind the plow, but the man behind a baby carriage is seldom mentioned.

Pierce Mason left Monday for Greensboro where he will again be a student at the Southern University. Pierce expects to finish the course this year.

Few weekly papers in the State have a better line of advertising than the Jasper Mountain Eagle. It speaks volumes for the town and its business fraternity.

Mrs. T. C. Roberts was in the city over Sunday visiting relatives. She was on her way home to Oxford from Sylacauga where she had been visiting a daughter.

Our merchants are now receiving their stocks of new fall goods, and the latest fashions and styles are being displayed. A liberal use of printer's ink will find purchasers.

Vacant houses are at a premium in Columbiana. The man who will build a half a dozen cottages for rent will have a better bonanza than if his money was planted in a bank.

Automobiles and motor cycles galore were in town last Sunday. The automobile club of Birmingham was putting in the day at Shelby Springs, and also made a run to this place.

Cunningham thinks it wrong to inject politics into a fraternity picnic, and a majority of the people admire him for it. And by the same token that's the kind of a man the people will elect Governor too.

Milner & Christian have a change in their advertisement this week. They talk to the public about "Criticism" brand of clothing which they are handling this season. If you are in the market for a suit of clothes, better see them about it.

The school bell will ring in Columbiana next Monday morning.

Mrs. J. H. Abercrombie is visiting with relatives in Birmingham and Woodlawn.

The old jail, built in 1842, has been torn down. It was an eye sore to everybody.

All should attend the protracted meeting in progress at the Methodist church this week.

We have a few copies of the special edition of The Sentinel yet on hand—but only a few.

The special edition of The Sentinel seems to have met the approval of the people of Columbiana.

Presiding Elder J. W. Johnson will assist Rev. G. T. Harris in his protracted meeting a part of the time.

John P. Pearson, of Bridgeton, was in the city last Monday. He reports cotton pretty sorry up in his section.

Misses Mary and Kate Kroell, of Montevallo, were in the city a few days last week, guests of Mrs. Philip Erick.

Max Lefkowitz returned last Thursday from a business trip to Bessemer. He says business is quiet up there now.

Chas. Brooks is erecting two new cottages on East College Street, and both are rented. W. W. Albright has the contract.

A. Stein and Dr. Oliver, of Calera, were in Columbiana last Wednesday on business. The Sentinel acknowledges a call from Mr. Stein.

The Sentinel's job department has been pushed the past week to keep up with the work. First class stock and good work is what the business fraternity seem to want.

Empty houses are at a premium in Columbiana—none to be had at any price. There's money in it if some one would put up a half a dozen or more cottages to rent.

Mr. and Mrs. Duglinson, of Talladega, were in the city several days last week, called here by the serious illness of their son, Rev. Joseph Duglinson, who is down with typhoid fever.

In this issue will be found the announcement of Thompson & Riddle, the new grocery firm. They will be ready for business in a few days in the Moore building. Remember to call on them.

Personally Conducted

Excursions in Pullman Tourist sleeping cars from Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Portland without charge, via the Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line. Colonist one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October at only $33.00 from Chicago, with correspondingly low rates from other points. Double berth in tourist sleeping cars only $7.00. Booklets, with maps and full information sent on receipt of 4 cents in stamps. W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M., B. & N. W. Ry., Chicago.

Beautiful Women.

Plump cheeks flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all woman beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent constipation and helps digest what you have eaten. Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Mid-Ottawa, Tex. writes, May 31, 1901: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria. Sold by William Bros."

Old Maids' Convention.

The Academy was packed with a crowd of people last Friday night—an extremely good humored one, too—which had gathered to witness the deliberations of an unusual convention—a solemn convocation of old maids(?) whose hopes and prospects—so they said—had been blighted like unto a beautiful flower which had been nipped by the blighting touch of Jack Frost—not wholly withered, but slightly faded; most of them of a certain age, but a few whose ages are not so certain.

A little after 8 o'clock, the "Maids" (in ages past) charged the auditorium of the Academy front and rear, and as the delegates met upon the stage there was a love feast such as you may have read of but seldom see—every maid kissed every other maid—we suppose because the men had all taken to the woods. They came by the W. & R. (Walk and Rest) railroad, and as that line has no particular schedule, the delegates were a little late in arriving; in fact, too late to secure hotel accommodations (the truth is, the hotel men got scared of them) so they brought their baggage and contraptions with them—dogs, cats, bandboxes, corkscrew curls, etcetera, galore.

The president, Sister Marabrah Lovejoy, who had a generous supply of primness on hand, presided with a will which brooked no interference. Secretary Sister Aramilla Haywood called the roll and not a single absentee was noted. The reading of the minutes brought on a discussion and for a short time it looked as if there would be something doing. For showing a mutinous spirit Sister Mary Ann Barnes had to be disciplined and all because she was not chasing a man. Sister Asenath Baker was so possessed with longing for man that she went off in a dead faint, and for a minute the scene looked like a rough house or a hospital.

An experience meeting followed, and the many harrowing tales told would make the ice man weep scalding tears. The market report on the eligible men of Columbiana, given by Sister Sarah Ann Spinkster, was a feature of the evening, and many of the local hits were new and some—not so new. The audience was convulsed (we believe that is the correct word) by the "sweet and entrancing" music of the Combonian Sextette (first and last appearance) beside which there is no comparison with any other musical (?) organization. Sister Sophia Potter sang a song—a murderous parody on the Swanee River—in which she "longed for some man's nice, nice home," which was generously applauded, as was the essay of Sister Rhoda Larkins. One poor little, forlorn spinster, Sister Fredora Bodkins, with a dipper jammed into her ear for a trumpet, sent up a pitiful complaint of "I can't hear a thing," and for her benefit voices were pitched in the key of high C.

At this stage in the proceedings there came a rap at the door and the president asked Sister Rhoda Larkin to see who the intruder might be. She announced that it was Professor Pinkerton with his wonderful Transform (Hyer) machine, and then there was a scene—every spinster began primping and powdering for dear life. On being introduced, Professor Pinkerton said his machine had Edison knocked out, for it had the power to transform the ugliest, oldest, scrawniest and the most prim antiquated piece of femininity into the most beautiful of women. The Professor was glib of tongue, and his smiling countenance and debonaire manner caused the sisters to have palpitation of the heart.

One sister, with a voice like a crow, said she wanted to be made over and be b-e-a-u-t-i-f-u-l and have a voice like a nightingale, and after a tearful farewell to her sisters, took a "vee drap of the craythur," stepped into the machine and it was all over with her. A blonde sister wanted to be a very dark brunette—not too dark, but just dark enough. She was given a dose, a turn of the crank, and out came a negro girl. Sister Amy Little wanted to be a man—would not be anything else. The Professor was dumbfounded, tried to explain, but no explanations would go with that sister—a man she would be or there was going to be something doing with the Professor. She was given a double dose of the elixir, pushed into the cabinet, a turn was given the crank, and the machine was busted, and the remaining sisters, heartbroken and disconsolate, but mad as hornets, made the Professor wish he was at Manchuria or some other faraway land, and as the curtain went down they were pulling his hair, scratching his eyes and otherwise transforming him.

It was an enjoyable evening for the audience, and as for the "Old Maids"—well, Robert Louis Stevenson says, "they are the dearest old dears on earth."

The Pauline DuBose Society of the Presbyterian church in the city, since writing the above, we learn the "Bachelors' Club" of Columbiana will hold an open session before long, and the front row of seats will be reserved for the "Old Maids."

GRASP YOUR OPPORTUNITY NOW!

Your dollar today has greater power than ever before. For the next

THIRTY DAYS

we offer our stock of summer Clothing Shoes, Dry Goods and Hats at factory cost and less for CASH. Come at once. The savings on all lines are enormous, but the quantities are uncertain. Don't delay.

COLUMBIANA, AUG. 22.

J. H. ABERCROMBIE & SON.

The people of Columbiana regret exceedingly that Rev. Joseph Duglinson is seriously ill with typhoid fever. He was removed from the home of Judge McMillan, in this city, to the home of his parents in Talladega last week, and recent advices from his bedside as to his condition are not very encouraging. Rev. Mr. Duglinson is loved by all our people, and it is the sincere wish of all that he may soon recover and return to this city.

Abcess.

ABCESS' with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation of debility. W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss. writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abcess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world. Sold by Williams Bros."

A. J. Johnson, living on rural route 2 out of Wilsonville, called and renewed his subscription to The Sentinel one day last week. Mr. Johnson says his cotton will hardly make a good half crop this year.

M. L. Almon, of near Wilsonville, was in Columbiana Monday with two bales of cotton. He called at The Sentinel office and paid his subscription to 1906. He says his crops are in fairly good condition, and that his cotton will yield a two-third crop.

Sprains.

S. A. Read, Cisco, Tex. writes, March 11, 1901: "My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains. Sold by Williams Bros."

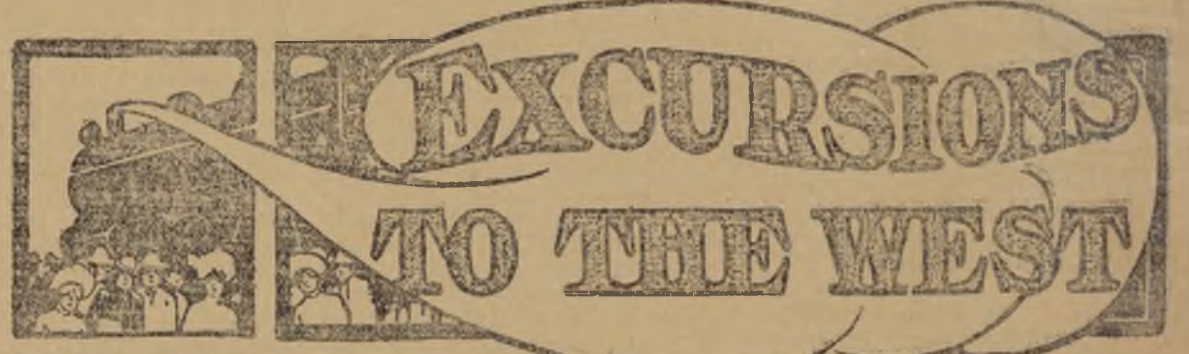

For Sale.

One good horse cheap for cash. Works well. For particulars apply to W. A. Thompson, Columbiana, Ala.

Neglected Colds.

Every part of the mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. W. Hendrick, Valley Mills, Tex. writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat trouble; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by Williams Bros.

Hon. W. F. Aldrich and J. L. McCaughy, of Montevallo, were in the city Monday on business.

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Send Colorado booklet and rates.

Name.....

Address.....

Leave about.....

Destination.....

Address

JOHN SEBASTIAN,

Pass. Traf. Mgr., Rock Island System, CHICAGO.

LIEUT. F. S. DAVIDSON.

PE-RU-NA STRENGTHENS THE ENTIRE SYSTEM.

F. S. Davidson, Ex-Lieut. U. S. Army, Washington, D. C., care U. S. Pension Office, writes:

"To my mind there is no remedy for calarrh comparable to Pe-Ru-NA. It not only strikes at the root of the malady, but it tones and strengthens the system in a truly wonderful way. That has been its history in my case. I cheerfully and unhesitatingly recommend it to those afflicted as I have been."—F. S. Davidson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Pe-Ru-NA, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. S. B. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

An English burglar says that the fraternity never rob a house in which a squint-eyed servant is employed.

WHY TAKE CALOMEL?

When Mozley's Lemon Elixir, a purely vegetable compound, with a pleasant taste, will relieve you of Biliousness, and all kindred diseases without griping or nausea, and leave no bad effects.

50c. and $1.00 per bottle at all Drug Stores.

MOZLEY'S LEMON ELIXIR.

"ONE DOSE CONVINCES."

Not a Single Fly. A gentleman at Woodlawn, who has been traveling in Virginia, tells a story of a "fly-time" experience in a boarding house near Wadesville.

"One day while I was there bushing away flies," he said, "a lady from New York came out to engage board, but seemed determined to put up at a place where there were no flies. Our jolly landlord, who was from the Emerald Isle, endeavored to secure her as a boarder and showed her the house. Before going to the dining room she said to him:

"You must know one thing; I would never board in a house where there is a single fly in the dining room."

"Never fear on that account, ma'am," retorted mine host, "all the flies in this house are married and have large families."

AGED MINER'S RECORD.

Patrick Sweeney, a 70-year-old miner residing at Coaldale, Pa., claims to have the most remarkable record of any miner in the world. He has, according to his figures, driven nine miles of gangway himself and mined enough coal to supply the country for half a year. During this time he was never seriously injured, but he assisted in carrying from the mines 15 men who had been killed and 300 injured. In his home town he has for many years been looked upon as being the leading citizen. He has acted as pall-bearer at 997 funerals and has stood sponsor of 714 children.

STRONGER THAN MEAT.

A Judge's Opinion of Grape-Nuts.

A gentleman who has acquired a judicial turn of mind from experience on the bench out in the Sunflower State, writes a carefully considered opinion as to the value of Grape-Nuts as food. He says:

"For the past five years Grape-Nuts has been a prominent feature in our bill of fare.

"The crisp food with the delicious, nutty flavor has become an indispensable necessity in my family's everyday life.

"It has proved to be most healthful and beneficial, and has enabled us to practically abolish pastry and pies from our table, for the children prefer Grape-Nuts and do not crave rich and unwholesome food.

"Grape-Nuts keeps us all in perfect physical condition—as a preventive of disease it is beyond value. I have been particularly impressed by the beneficial effects of Grape-Nuts when used by ladies who are troubled with face blemishes, skin eruptions, etc. It clears up the complexion wonderfully.

"As to its nutritive qualities, my experience is that one small dish of Grape-Nuts is superior to a pound of meat for breakfast, which is an important consideration for any one. It satisfies the appetite and strengthens the power of resisting fatigue, while its use involves none of the disagreeable consequences that sometimes follow a meat breakfast." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

SATIN COMING IN.

In selecting a ball gown the main desire is to have it as effective as possible while keeping it at the same time becoming and fashioned after the latest modes. Especially for the debutante and younger members of society is a gown of tulle, chiffon, and silk mousseline, attractive, but the great drawback is its extreme perishableness. It is well-nigh impossible to make a net gown last through one season even, so that if there cannot be many "best" gowns provided in the outfit it were well to have these few of some lasting and serviceable material, says the Washington Times.

Already advance winter textures are for sale, but also there are some few of last year's materials still left to be disposed of, and it is among the silks and satins, which, while not of latest fashion, perhaps are still almost equally attractive, that the real bargains are to be found. Even if the gown is not to be made up immediately it is well worth while, if one can find just the piece of silk or satin desired, to invest at once, that it may be on hand and made up early in the autumn or winter.

Satin is to be immensely fashionable this season of 1905-1906, and in all shades from the palest to the most brilliant will be worn for dinner, opera and balls. If made of a heavy quality the gown is generally more or less simple, but the thinner varieties, in so far as they are all softer and more pliable, need a certain amount of trimming and elaboration to be sufficiently effective. Among the new satins or silks is the so-called "radiant," an exquisitely pretty material, soft and shimmering which is already very fashionable and is destined to meet with still wider popularity as time goes on. A white or black satin gown if the material is of the best and the cut and fit perfect, may be absolutely plain, save for some little lace or maline about the décolletage and still be wonderfully effective. There need be no girldie to this gown, although waist and skirt are separate, the bodice being fastened in back beneath a band shirring.

Satin and dull finish crepe de chine are both more than ever popular and many of the handsome and most expensive models in evening gowns for this season and the next are of richly embroidered crepe. The dresses in embroidered crepe are not at all difficult to make up, and in many cases make most effective gowns at comparatively little cost.

Brocade in both large and small flower designs is destined to be even more fashionable than last winter, when the material had not been seen to any extent for some little time. Brocade must not be too much cut up with bands of lace and embroidery, as unless the pattern is very vague and indefinite, all trimming tends to shorten the figure unbecomingly.

Flowered silks and taffetas of solid shade always wear well and are bound to be attractive if a becoming shade is chosen. Color contrasts are worked in with the flowered silks even more than with the solid shades.

THE KAREN WOMEN.

Like the Siamese, says Outing, the Karen women are not good to look upon and do not improve their appearance by style of ornaments they affect. When very young their ears are pierced to admit a small round stick, which is gradually increased in diameter until by the time the little girls have become women their ears easily accommodate a two-inch disc of blackened bamboo. This stretches the ears hideously, as may be imagined; and when the ornament is laid aside temporarily—well—picture the thin strips of pendent ear lobe! As a rule the Karen women wear their hair long, but, like the Siamese, some cut it short, and others again keep it cropped close, except on top of the head, where it is allowed to grow to its natural length—which does not add to their by no means overabundance of good looks. Sometimes the unmarried woman wears a breast cloth, but for the most part men and women wear a long girldie, and sometimes even that is set aside in hot weather.

To thoroughly appreciate Japanese women one should begin the far eastern trip at the Malay peninsula, journeying thence through Siam, Anum, Cambodia and China—though content to preferring a good looking Chinese girl to the alleged Japanese beauty.

Bracelets and necklaces of bamboo are the other usual ornaments, except when they can afford a narrow neckband of silver which protects, so it is believed, against many evils that lurk along life's wayside even in the jungle. The men also wear this neckband and bamboo an inch in diameter and about four inches long stuck through their ear lobes. Some of the boys are rather good looking. They wear their hair in a knot like a horn on the forehead, or at one side or the other of the head, or on top; and usually a turban crowns the topknot. All in all, the Karens differ not a great deal from the Siamese in physiognomy, but the people in this section of the far east shade into one another rather easily.

DO NOT BE A GIRL LOAFER.

A girl loafer. That does not sound very pretty, does it? And yet there are a good many girls whom the title fits. In other words, there are girls who spend their time doing absolutely nothing. Circumstances do not render it necessary for them to earn their living, and so they stay at home and fritter the precious moments away in useless pursuits or idleness. Don't a good many of them lie in bed in the morning and let their mothers get up and get breakfast? "And don't you think they also dress up in their best clothes and spend the afternoons enjoying themselves, while their mothers stay home and prepare the evening meal? And when they are home they spend their time reading trashy novels or trimming equally trashy hats.

When a girl goes to a party and is late in getting to bed she looks on it as quite proper and natural that she should lie in bed late the next morning, and all of the family accepts the fact as a matter of course. But, if the mother is up half the night with an ailing baby, neither her lazy daughter nor any other member of the family seems to think it necessary that she should stay in bed and make up her broken sleep. Perhaps if some of these girls could appreciate the enormous value of time they would not waste it. Our lives are such tiny drops in the ocean of time, and we can never, never call back one precious lost minute.

Dear girls, don't allow yourselves to be called by that ugly word "loafer," and yet you will be if you deserve it. If your brother lie around the house all day, half dressed and doing nothing, they would be called "loafers," so why not you as well as they? "Loafing" is a habit that grows on one with a fatal rapidity, and unless you want to be held irrevocably in its clutches you must break away from it at once.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

WORRY AND BEAUTY.

There is a saying that "Every time a sheep bleats it loses a mouthful of hay." Every time a woman worries she loses a little of her attractiveness and takes marks of age.

If your servant scorches the soup or overcooks the meat, never mind. You cannot afford to worry about it, and if you scold her you make up your mind to lose some of your beauty, to let go some of your magnetism.

If the members of the family are habitually late try to remedy it, but don't worry about it. If you do you will grow older in the process.

If your husband or children do things which do not please you do not nag at them. This will only aggravate the evil you complain of and it will cost you some of their love and respect. Every time you nag you will lose a little of your power to charm and attract them to you.

If the cleaners spoil your favorite dress don't get angry about it. An outbreak of hot temper will take away much more of your attractiveness than your dress could supply.

If you lose your pocketbook don't worry about it. Worrying will not bring it back, but it will take out of your face and disposition that which money can never replace.

If you meet with bitter disappointment don't fret, don't cry over it. If you do you pay a penalty which you can ill afford. No woman can fret and nag and worry and keep away the marks of age or retain her beauty and power to please.—Success.

TO PLUMP OUT THIN FACE.

The pretty and fashionable girl must no longer have a long oval face. It is decreed that the plump-faced damsel is quite smart, and large cheeks, red as roses, are just what every girl is aiming to possess. Beauty doctors are devising means to plump out thin faces. Not so very long ago oval faces were considered one of the greatest beauty points, and it was little less than a crime to have a round, plump, healthy-looking face, but today this has changed somewhat.

All sorts of oils are good for making the face fat, but they very often work too readily, and if the process is kept up bad results are often the outcome. It requires constant care to plump out a thin face, and the first step to be taken is the teeth. No face will become fleshy if any teeth are missing, and a trip to the dentist will work wonders. There are some very good skin foods which bring good results, and if a certain course is pursued it would be no time before a change is noticed. If the face is heated by hot applications for five or ten minutes and a skin food massaged into the pores the efforts will be duly shown in a short time. Rubbing the face at night with cold cream will plump it out, also.—Newark Advertiser.

NEW SHADES.

A woman wrote to a friend in Paris to ascertain the fashionable shades, and this was her reply: "Wear ash gray, Havana brown and smoke blue. Sometimes wear gunpowder blue and celery green or spinach green. Rose, heliotrope, orchid pink and blotting paper pink are seen a great deal and champagne yellow, ivory white and pearly gray are worn by the best dressed people in town. Don't forget that sealskin brown is very smart and that chamois yellow and raspberry red are also worn, as are pink brown, magnonette green and pansy purple. Opal yellow is for evening wear, lemon yellow for dinner and evening and turquoise blue for day and night."

FASHION HINTS.

Two letter monogram belt buckles may be found ready made. A bit of old crape is the very best thing for dusting one's gowns. The flat French sailor hat with a ruching of lace is being worn abroad. Many of the lawn negligees are worn over a colored lining of China silk.

The most popular style of hairdressing for the moment is the coronal plait.

With the linen coats and skirts are worn the most elaborate of lingerie waists.

Colored kid gloves are quite a success and are worn by many modish women.

The handsomest woman often disguises her loveliness with an unbecoming head-dress. Those pretty petticoats of pale colored lawn have their uses with gowns that match.

Perfecting the Microscope.

Improvement of the microscope has been the air of recent inventors. In the ultra microscope a new method of illumination gives visibility to particles heretofore outside of the line of sight, and in the still later ultra-violet microscope the mode of illumination is a chief feature. The second instrument uses light of a wave-length of 275, while the shortest wave-length is 550. The difference depends upon the quartz lenses, the source of light being cadmium electrodes, and the detail obtainable with the short rays is remarkable. The naked eye sees nothing through such a microscope, an eyepiece containing a fluorescent screen being necessary to convert the rays and make visible a picture of the object in green. The fluorescent screen is only for focussing, however, and the real objects are obtained by photography, the plates being very sensitive to the rays from the cadmium electrodes. The results differ much from those of ordinary illumination, some structures being penetrated by the cadmium rays, while others are not.

Diaz's Moderate Wealth.

Contrary to the general opinion in Mexico and abroad, President Diaz is not a very wealthy man. Intimate friends of the Mexican executive, who have knowledge of his affairs, declare that his fortune does not exceed $1,000,000. He owns a plantation in the state of Oaxaca, some property in the City of Mexico and a house in Paris. This latter was purchased during his first term as president of Mexico, when he feared that he might be compelled to leave the country hurriedly and seek refuge in a foreign land. The salary of President Diaz is now $50,000 a year. For many years it was $30,000, and in the early days of his administration, when Mexico was weak financially, he drew out only enough for his necessary expenses, leaving the remainder in the treasury. He is now serving his twenty-fifth years as president of Mexico.

Gorki's Real Name.

The real name of Maxim Gorki, the Russian author, is Alexei Maximovitch Plesjov. He is now about 37 years of age, and he won his first pronounced literary success with a short story published 12 years ago. He is in the artisan class, and at the age of 10 was apprenticed to a shoemaker. He ran away from this employer, as he did later from a designer. Subsequently he was by turns a painter of holy images, cook's assistant on a Volga steamer, baker, apple dealer, peddler of beer, lawyer's clerk, chorus singer, herdsman and reporter. In 1892 a broken down student suggested that he turn author. Next year his first successful story appeared.

General Booth, head of the Salvation Army, has returned to London from his four months' tour of Australia, and is in fine health in spite of his 76 years and the journey of 30,000 miles which he has just finished.

FITSPERMANENTLY CURED. Not so nervous as after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. $2.00 per bottle. Treatise free. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 381 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Virgil in his day spoke of the "waving woods" of Italy.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Cuts, teething, soothes the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c a bottle.

Thecherer once saw Napoleon on the Island of St. Helena.

Flo's Cure is the best medicine we ever used for local affections of throat and lungs.—Wm. O. Emerson, Vauburn, Ind., Feb. 19, 1900.

The ink plant of New Granada is a curiosity.

In Your Home Sloan's Liniment is the best antiseptic to keep handy. Kills yellow fever and malaria germs.

About 1,500,000 persons are employed in the coal mines of the world.

He Was Unsympathetic.

When the shah was in Paris last year he was accompanied by an official named Mahmoud Khan, who is not with him now. A French journalist who remembered Mahmoud well put some questions about him the other day to a member of the shah's retinue. "What has become of Mahmoud Khan?" inquired the journalist. "He is dead, monsieur," was the answer. "Poor fellow! But surely he was young and seemed to enjoy excellent health." "It was excellent," assented the Persian functionary. "Was he ill very long?" "No, monsieur. He was not ill at all. He died quite suddenly." "Indeed! How did it happen?" The Persian functionary explained (with a slightly embarrassed air): "He was not sympathetic to the grand vizier."

Only an American.

Two years ago in a speech before the Ohio Society of New York the late John Hay facetiously traced his derivation as follows: "I was born in Indiana, I grew up in Illinois, I was educated in Rhode Island, I learned my law in Springfield, Ill., and my politics in Washington, my diplomacy in Europe, Asia and Africa. I have a farm in New Hampshire and desk room in the District of Columbia. When I look to the springs from which my blood descends, the first ancestors I ever heard of were a Scotchman who was half English, and a German woman who was half French. Of my immediate progenitors, my mother was from New England, and my father was from the south. In this bewilderment of origin and experience I can only put on an aspect of deep humility in any gathering of favorite sons and confess that I am nothing but an American."

Piano's Deadly Work.

A Berlin doctor lays it down that the piano should never be used by a child under 16 years of age. Out of 1,000 girls who played the age of 12 he found 600 cases of nervous diseases.

FRUITFUL FURNACES.

INTENSE HEAVY PRODUCES PRECIOUS STONES.

Scientists Have Succeeded in Plucking Real Diamonds and Rubies from the Crucible of the Furnace.

Recent advices from France state that Professor Moissan, the eminent scientist and inventor, has actually succeeded in making genuine diamonds and rubies. He employs for this purpose the electric furnace, which has been so improved that a degree of heat can be produced approaching the extreme temperatures which were undoubtedly a factor in the formation of minerals and gems in the interior of the earth.

The rubies obtained are of large size, weighing ten or fifteen carats, and in quality and color equal and even surpass those found in the earth. The natural forces attending the formation of diamonds seem to have been more complicated, and so far the diamonds resulting from the efforts of the scientists have been very small, but still they are positively identified as the carbon crystal—the diamond. They are remarkably clear and bright, and on a small scale as fine specimens as nature's own product.

The electric furnace has enriched chemistry with a whole series of new compounds. Probably the one of most value to mankind at large is Calcium Carbide. The simple application of water to Calcium Carbide generates the gas Acetylene, which is now being commonly used for lighting.

The peculiar merits of Acetylene light are its brilliance and high candle power, ease of installation, economy and its adaptability for lighting buildings of every description regardless of their location.

Belgium's Population.

Belgium still retains the distinction of being the most densely populated country in Europe. Consul McNally, at Liege, reports the final footings of the present census, fixing the population at 7,074,910. Of these 3,514,491 are males and 3,560,419 females. Thus, Belgium has 45,828 more females than males.

The population of the leading cities is as follows: Antwerp, 291,949; Brussels, 194,196; Liege, 168,532; Ghent, 162,482; Mechelen, 58,101; Bruges, 63,728; Verviers, 49,158; Louvain, 42,194; Ostend, 41,181.

YELLOW CRUST ON BABY.

Would Crack Open and Scab Causing Terrible Itching—Cured by Cuticura.

"Our baby had a yellow crust on his head which I could not keep away. When I thought I had succeeded in getting his head clear, it would start again by the crown of his head, crack and scale, and cause terrible itching. I then got Cuticura Soap and Ointment, washing the scalp with the soap and then applying the ointment. A few treatments made a complete cure. I have advised many mothers to use Cuticura, when I have been asked about the same ailment of their babies. Mrs. John Boyce, Pine Bush, N. Y."

Norwegian Revolutionists.

A correspondent at Christiania describes the four leaders of the Norwegian revolution—Michelsen, Berner, Lovland and Nansen. Michelsen, minister of state, is the real head of the movement. He is a merchant, much interested in his business, overworked and in such poor health that he thinks of leaving Christiania because of its insupportable climate. Berner, president of the storting, is a man in the late 60's, old-fashioned in attire, deliberate in speech and action and stubbornly tenacious of his purposes. Lovland, minister of the exterior, is a farmer's son. He was a school teacher and an editor before he entered politics. He is a consummate diplomat, who knows particularly how to bide his time. As for Nansen, he helped chiefly by lending his popular name to the movement. He is, as he always was, a dreamer, and has no political aspirations.

U. S. SENATOR TOWNE

Credits Doan's Kidney Pills With a Gratifying Cure.

Hon. Charles A. Towne, Ex-U. S. Senator from Minnesota, brilliant lawyer, clever business man, brainy lawyer, whose national prominence made him a formidable candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1904, writes us the following:

Gentlemen—I am glad to endorse Doan's Kidney Pills. The remedy was recommended to me a few months ago when I was feeling miserably; had severe pains in the back; was restless and languid; had a dull headache and neuralgic pains in the limbs and was otherwise distressed. A few boxes of the pills effectually routed my ailment and I am glad to acknowledge the benefit I derived.

(Signed) CHARLES A. TOWNE. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents per box.

Royal Cook Decorated. King Edward's chef, M. Menager, was among those to receive birthday honor on the occasion of his majesty's recent birthday. He is believed to be among the most accomplished chefs in the world. He was decorated with the Victorian medal. Other recipients of that distinction are understood to feel that in conferring the medal on a cook King Edward has rather cheapened the honor.

Jews for Palestine.

The section of the Zionists which favors the colonization of Palestine has chartered an Austrian Lloyd steamer to convey a number of Jewish emigrants to the Holy Land. They will sail from Trieste in a few days.

CONCENTRATED

CRAB ORCHARD WATER.

Nature's great remedy for Dyspepsia, Sick Headache Constipation.

Stimulates the Liver, regulates the Bowels and keeps the entire system in a healthy condition. A natural product with a record of a century. If afflicted try it. Sold by all druggists.

Crab Orchard Water Co. LOUISVILLE, KY.

25,000 FREE SAMPLES

GILBERT'S GRAVEL WEED COMPOUND

The Great Tonic is Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease; therefore, when, through neglect or other cause, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

It is to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorders of these most important organs.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need your attention first.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking Gilbert's Gravel Weed Compound, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince any one. Write us for a sample of this famous remedy—we will send free of charge.

THE T. H. GILBERT DRUG CO., Mountville, Ala.

Regular sizes sold by all druggists at 50c and 1.00 per bottle.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 & $5.00 SHOES FOR MEN

W. L. Douglas $4.00 Gilt Edge Line cannot be equaled at any price.

W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes have by their excellent style, easy fitting, and superior wearing qualities, achieved the largest sale of any $3.50 shoe in the world. They are just as good as those that cost $5.00 to $7.00—the only difference is the price. If I could take you into my factory at Brockton, Mass., the largest in the world under one roof making men's fine shoes, and show you the care with which every pair of Douglas shoes is made, you would realize why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the best shoes produced in the world.

If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makers, you would understand why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market today.

W. L. Douglas Strong Made Shoes for Men. $3.50, $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $11.00, $12.00, $13.00, $14.00, $15.00, $16.00, $17.00, $18.00, $19.00, $20.00, $21.00, $22.00, $23.00, $24.00, $25.00, $26.00, $27.00, $28.00, $29.00, $30.00, $31.00, $32.00, $33.00, $34.00, $35.00, $36.00, $37.00, $38.00, $39.00, $40.00, $41.00, $42.00, $43.00, $44.00, $45.00, $46.00, $47.00, $48.00, $49.00, $50.00, $51.00, $52.00, $53.00, $54.00, $55.00, $56.00, $57.00, $58.00, $59.00, $60.00, $61.00, $62.00, $63.00, $64.00, $65.00, $66.00, $67.00, $68.00, $69.00, $70.00, $71.00, $72.00, $73.00, $74.00, $75.00, $76.00, $77.00, $78.00, $79.00, $80.00, $81.00, $82.00, $83.00, $84.00, $85.00, $86.00, $87.00, $88.00, $89.00, $90.00, $91.00, $92.00, $93.00, $94.00, $95.00, $96.00, $97.00, $98.00, $99.00, $100.00.

W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes have by their excellent style, easy fitting, and superior wearing qualities, achieved the largest sale of any $3.50 shoe in the world. They are just as good as those that cost $5.00 to $7.00—the only difference is the price. If I could take you into my factory at Brockton, Mass., the largest in the world under one roof making men's fine shoes, and show you the care with which every pair of Douglas shoes is made, you would realize why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the best shoes produced in the world.

If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makers, you would understand why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market today.

W. L. Douglas Strong Made Shoes for Men. $3.50, $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $11.00, $12.00, $13.00, $14.00, $15.00, $16.00, $17.00, $18.00, $19.00, $20.00, $21.00, $22.00, $23.00, $24.00, $25.00, $26.00, $27.00, $28.00, $29.00, $30.00, $31.00, $32.00, $33.00, $34.00, $35.00, $36.00, $37.00, $38.00, $39.00, $40.00, $41.00, $42.00, $43.00, $44.00, $45.00, $46.00, $47.00, $48.00, $49.00, $50.00, $51.00, $52.00, $53.00, $54.00, $55.00, $56.00, $57.00, $58.00, $59.00, $60.00, $61.00, $62.00, $63.00, $64.00, $65.00, $66.00, $67.00, $68.00, $69.00, $70.00

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., SEPTEMBER 21 1905.

VOL. 31. NO. 3

ALABAMA STATE EVENTS.

Items of Interest Gathered as They Transpire Over the Entire State.

Relieved of His Money.

Birmingham, Ala.—A white man who refused to give his name to the police was "roped" into an alley running into Second avenue, between Twenty-second and Twenty-third streets, Saturday night and relieved of a roll of money containing something over $35. He reported the robbery to Policemen Cates and Bennett, who made an investigation and landed Homer Henderson, a negro, behind the bars two hours later. They arrested a negro woman, who gave her name as Lula Dillard. It is expected a third woman will be arrested. From what the police say it seems the man induced the stranger to go into the alley, and the two negro women got his money, which has not been recovered.

Man Pushed From Train by a Negro.

Chickasaw, Ala.—About 9:15 o'clock Saturday morning Frank Haynes, of Greenville, Tenn., was found badly hurt beside the track one mile east of Pocahontas. He was seen by the engineer on the "Messenger Boy" and the train was quickly stopped and Mr. Haynes was placed in the baggage car and carried to Carbon Hill, where he was examined and cared for by the Frisco surgeon at that place. Mr. Haynes was conscious and told how he came to be there. He boarded a freight train at Gunt early Friday night and was on his way to Birmingham. Soon after passing Pocahontas a negro came along the train and pushed him off. The fall caused a badly crushed arm and leg and several bruises. It is supposed his pocketbook and hat were taken from him before being pushed off the train.

Car Damaged.

Birmingham, Ala.—A street car on the South Highlands line was damaged by fire Saturday afternoon, and the fire department was called into service. A large crowd was attracted to the scene of the accident, Humboldt and Twentieth streets. The accident was caused by the controller burning out and setting fire to the woodwork beneath the car. The damage was slight.

Filched Journals.

Birmingham, Ala.—In Henry Adams the police believe they have a negro who has been systematically robbing the Louisville and Nashville railroad yards of brass journals. He was arrested Saturday while leaving the yards, where he is employed, with two buckets of brass. He dropped the buckets when the police gave chase.

President in Alabama.

Birmingham, Ala.—The itinerary of President Roosevelt upon his visit to Alabama has been made public. The chief executive will spend but two hours here, from 4:30 to 6:30 on the afternoon of October 23. He will spend two hours in Tuskegee and two in Montgomery the same day. Elaborate preparations have been made by the Commercial Club for his entertainment while he is here.

Gets Twenty Years.

Decatur, Ala.—The jury in the case of Emmett Parham, accused of murdering his wife and placing her body on the Southern Railway track near Trinity some weeks ago, found Parham guilty and brought in a verdict of twenty years in the penitentiary. The case tried at Moulton, the county seat of Lawrence county. Only circumstantial evidence was introduced. Parham will appeal to the supreme court. Mrs. Parham's body was horribly mangled by passing trains prior to the finding of her body. She and her husband had been separated, and on the evening of the murder they quarreled in the depot at Trinity.

Contract Is Awarded.

Huntsville, Ala.—The Farmers' Warehouse Company has awarded a contract for building the warehouses in this city to Gildwell Bros., of Fayetteville and Huntsville, the bid of that firm being $12,600 for the four buildings. Jesse Young has been elected manager of the new concern, which is expected to be ready for business November 1.

Negro Holds Up Deaf and Dumb Man.

Birmingham, Ala.—W. M. Galloway, a negro, has been arrested by the police on a charge of highway robbery. A man giving his name as Williams, deaf and dumb, notified the police by writing on a piece of paper that he was held up and robbed of $7 and a watch. He gave a good description of the negro who held him up. The police arrested Galloway as filing the description. This is the first arrest on such a serious charge ever made on a description furnished by a deaf and dumb man.

Traction Lines to Consolidate.

Lexington, Ky.—It developed Friday that a deal is about to be closed for the sale to Chandler Bros., a Philadelphia brokerage house, who is supposed to represent the Randall-Morgan traction interests, of the Lexington street railway properties, the Blue Grass Traction Company, the Frankfort Traction Company and several other traction properties, the deal involving about $3,000,000.

Railroad Is Building Park.

Athens, Ala.—The Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company is building a beautiful park just west of the handsome new passenger station in this place. The park will reach the entire length of a block and will cover almost an acre. Several hundred car loads of soil is being hauled to build up the ground, which is rather low, and when completed it will be fenced and laid off by a landscape gardener and planted to trees and shrubbery, with fountains placed therein.

Mrs. Robert J. Lowe Dead.

Birmingham, Ala.—Mrs. Robert J. Lowe, one of the most prominent women in Alabama, died suddenly here Friday of heart disease. She was the daughter of the late Governor Cochran, of Eufaula, Ala., and her first husband was the late Rev. Bishop Jackson, of the Episcopal diocese of Alabama. Mrs. Lowe leaves a husband and three children. The interment was at Eufaula.

Held in First Degree.

Montgomery, Ala.—A special to the Advertiser from Luverne says that the grand jury has indicted for murder in the first degree E. O. Bishop, who killed Gordon Reddock. The sensational tragedy, which occurred several weeks ago, was alleged to have been caused by bad feeling existing between members of the two families.

Fine Horse Stolen.

Athens, Ala.—Mr. William T. Yarbrough, of this place, had a most valuable horse stolen from his barn during Friday night. The thief went to his barn back of his residence, propped open the gates, stole a bridle and a fine Mosely quilted saddle, saddled the horse and rode him away. The horse was worth several hundred dollars.

Big Mill Incorporated.

Florence, Ala.—Ground has been broken in East Florence for an immense corn handling plant on the bank of the Tennessee river between the river and the railroad. The concern will be financed by a stock company, and papers of incorporation have been filed in the probate judge's office. The company is capitalized at $15,000.

Hotel Robbery.

Gadsden, Ala.—A hold robbery was committed at the Sulphur Springs hotel Friday night by some unknown white man while the guests were at supper. The burglar entered the second story by a window from a ladder and procured some $40 in money and valuable jewelry from Mrs. Pendleton, of Bessemer, and other guests. There is no clue to the robbery.

Injured by Explosion.

Gadsden, Ala.—Ed Kircus, a white carpenter, was the victim of a dynamite explosion at the steel plant Saturday, by which he lost several fingers on his left hand and had a narrow escape from death. Mr. Kircus was shooting the dynamite at the furnace and the fuse was a short one, and he did not have time to get away before the explosion occurred.

War on Vagrants.

Huntsville, Ala.—The authorities have been making things unpleasant for tramps and vagrants during the past few days. Many vagrants have been arrested and fined, and the purpose of the officers is to reduce the idle population of the city. A majority of the men so far arrested are white.

Kills His Father-in-Law.

Evergreen, Ala.—George Etheridge, who shot and killed Travis Smith, his father-in-law, Friday several miles south of this place, came to town just before night and surrendered to the sheriff and is now in jail. Mr. Etheridge claims self-defense.

Southern Orders More Equipment.

Knoxville, Tenn.—An order by the Southern Railway for ninety new engines, 750 gondola cars and 750 flat cars has been made public at division headquarters in this city.

A Deserter.

Birmingham, Ala.—Notification has been received at police headquarters of the desertion from the United States army of Joel B. Byars, who enlisted in the service in Bessemer on January 31 of the present year. The escape was made on the 7th of the month from Fort Logan, Col.

Huntsville Man Attempts Suicide.

Huntsville, Ala.—Abe W. Wise, former chief of the fire department and a prominent secret society man, attempted suicide by taking morphine. He is expected to die.

Governor Glenn Wires Respite.

Charlotte, N. C.—A special from Asheville says that Governor Glenn, who is attending the state fair at Concord, N. H., has wired the sheriff of Madison county a ten-day respite for Peter Smith, a white man, 64 years old, who was under sentence to be hanged at Marshall for committing a criminal assault on a 16-year-old girl. Smith still denies his guilt.

COTTON TO BE HELD

For Eleven Cents Was the Decision of the Asheville Meeting.

MUST REMAIN THE MINIMUM.

Banks Will Help the Farmers to Hold by Financing the Matter—Others Will Help Also.

The executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association held its meeting at Asheville, N. C., last week, and the question of fixing a minimum price of this crop was the matter of greatest interest to the people and country at large. The eyes of the whole cotton world were centered on Asheville during the 6th and 7th days of September, while the executive committee was in session.

The price finally agreed upon after long and tedious deliberation was 11 cents, basis middling, at all interior points in the south. The condition of the crop up to August 25 was found to be 73.03 per cent, as compared with a condition of 84 per cent for the same period a year ago. The estimated yield of the crop as reported by over 15,000 correspondents from all the cotton growing counties indicated a yield this season of 9,588,133 bales, as compared with a crop of 13,600,000 bales last year. Letters from farmers all over the belt advised a minimum price all the way from 10 cents to 12 1/2 cents, but the final result was 11 cents and farmers all over the south will be expected to stand firmly together this fall and winter to maintain that price. By determined effort prices can be forced up above 11 cents later on, and farmers should determine now to move their crops slowly and not rush the market. The only way we can secure and maintain our price is to refuse to sell for less and make the buyers come to our figures. If cotton is thrown on the market and sold anyway, it will be difficult to force prices up until much later in the season. Let those who are able and can hold back do so, and thereby help those who are forced to sell to meet their maturing debts and obligations with the supply merchants and guano dealers. Bankers will be glad to advance from 8 to 9 cents a pound on cotton in storage and thus assist in financing the situation. We are up against a hard fight, but it will be easier to get 11 cents for a small crop than 10 cents for a 13,600,000 bale crop.

Stand by Your Guns.

We are now well entrenched with plenty of ammunition in the shape of corn and meat, our banks have plenty of money, the enemy is in retreat, and if we don't whip this fight and force the price of cotton to above 11 cents, then the farmers of the south ought to have a guardian appointed to look after their business interests. The mills of the world have taken a crop of 13,600,000 bales of American cotton during the last twelve months at an average of 9 cents per pound. There will be no check in consumption during the next twelve months. The price of cotton goods is very high and going still higher. The whole civilized world is in a prosperous condition, and it is unreasonable to say that the farmers should not this season receive an average of 11 cents per pound for a crop of cotton now estimated to be under 10,000,000 bales. All you have got to do is to stand pat for your price, refuse to sell under 11 cents and the market will soon advance to that figure. If much cotton is offered under 11 cents, as a matter of course the market can be depressed and held down.

Other Organization Will Help.

The cotton agent of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of Texas was present with us at Asheville and took part in the secret sessions of the executive committee. He came as the representative of the union and assisted in fixing the price at 11 cents, stating that such a price would be acceptable to the 300,000 members of the union. We can now depend upon the effective co-operation of all the members of the union, as the new president of the union, Mr. Calvin, of Paris, Tex., has written me encouraging co-operation to more completely win out in the fight ahead. We also have pledged the active co-operation of the membership of the American Society of Equity and the Farmers' Alliance of North Carolina in enforcing the demand for the minimum price of 11 cents. This makes the position of the producers almost impregnable, and with all of these powerful farmers' organizations working in harmony for mutual protection I feel safe in saying that the fight can and will be easily whipped. There will be no misunderstanding among these organizations this season on this matter. We will all work in harmony together, and a knowledge of this fact ought to be most encouraging.

Shanghai.—The British vice consul who left here last Friday for Quinsan to insist upon the release of a British subject who was held prisoner there by the Chinese authorities, returned today with the man.

St. Petersburg.—The Russian losses in ships at Port Arthur and the sea of Japan, according to official statistics published this morning, amount to $113,000,000.

If the Farmers' Union wanted one price and the S. C. A. another, there would be difficulty ahead, but both organizations are now together and will work together to win out on the price agreed upon.

Sell but little cotton in September and October. Gives the mills a chance to exhaust present supplies, which can be done in six weeks, and then we can easily dictate terms and win another big victory. Sell no middling cotton for less than 11 cents.

HARVIE JORDAN.

Birmingham Boy Is Killed.

Gadsden, Ala.—Grover Ross, the 14-year-old son of Dick Ross, of Birmingham, was killed Saturday at the furnace of the Alabama Consolidated company by being run over by the switch engine which drew the hot pot. Young Ross was employed at the furnace as water boy, having only recently come to the city from Mobile. He was in the habit of jumping onto the switch engine as it went to the dump with the hot pots, as the spring from which he got water was near. He had been repeatedly warned not to jump on the switch engine. He tried it again, however, missed his footing and fell under the wheels, cutting off his arm just above the wrist and one leg above the knee.

Drinks Bottle of Laudanum.

Spartanburg, S. C.—Arthur Sterrett, a traveling salesman for a Baltimore drug goods house, arrived here at 1 a. m. and, securing a room at Spartan inn, drank a bottle of laudanum. His action was noted by an employee, but physicians were unable to save him, and he died at 5 o'clock. Sterrett was 35 years of age and unmarried. His headquarters were in Charlotte. No cause is assigned for his action.

Komura's Condition Favorable.

New York, N. Y.—The following bulletin was issued Sunday night on the condition of Baron Komura, the Japanese envoy, who has been ill in this city for some time:

"The condition of Baron Komura at 6 o'clock p. m., in the opinion of both physicians in attendance, was satisfactory in every respect. Dr. Desaifield will see him once tomorrow."

"SATO."

University in Fine Condition.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—The future for the University of Alabama seems to grow brighter and brighter from day to day. The enrollment is growing steadily every day, and it is probable, says President Abercrombie, that the 350 mark will have been reached by the beginning of the second term. The exact number, as shown by the register Saturday, was 283. The students, after their week of merriment, have settled down to work and the classes are all thoroughly organized. In every way the university is in a most healthy condition, and great work will doubtless be accomplished during the session of 1905-'06.

To Celebrate Chickamauga.

The two Confederate Veteran camps of Montgomery, assisted by Sons of Eterans and the four local chapters, Daughters of the Confederacy, will celebrate the anniversary of the battle of Chickamauga at Electric Park two nights of this week.

A committee from Camp Lomax, consisting of Judge J. B. Fuller, Capt. Paul Sanguinetti and Joseph May, has charge of the arrangements for the celebration. In their work they are having the co-operation of the local chapters of Daughters of the Confederacy and Camp Holtzclaw, sons of Veterans.

Although the battle of Chickamauga was fought on September 22 and 23, the celebration will take place Thursday and Friday evenings, September 21 and 22, these dates being more convenient to the veterans and the park management.

Fatal Case of Cholera.

Lomza, Russian Poland.—It has now been established that a fatal case of cholera occurred among raftsmen from Bielostok, on the Narev river. All the members of the crew have been isolated and other precautionary measures have been taken.

Two Arrests Made at Elections.

San Antonio, Tex.—A special from Saltillo, Mexico, the former capital of Coahuila, says: "Reports from the election for governor from the state of Coahuila are all in, showing that Lic Miguel Cardenas is re-elected practically without opposition. It is reported here that only two arrests have been made in the whole state."

Famous Outlaw Is Killed.

Manila.—Felizarbo, chief of the outlaws in the province of Cavite, who for a long time have made trouble for the authorities, was surrounded Saturday near the Batangas border, and jumped over a cliff. He was killed by a fall and his death, it is believed, will end the disturbance in the province of Cavite.

Purchase 1,000 Tons Bessemer.

Youngstown, O.—The United States Steel Corporation has purchased from the Bessemer Pig Iron Association 10,000 tons of Bessemer pig at $15 valley forge, September delivery. It is unofficially said that the negotiations are on for the purchase of from 30,000 to 40,000 tons for February delivery.

Oa, in Argyle, is possessed of the shortest name in Great Britain.

BURGLAR SHOOTS VICTIM

Mrs. W. C. Morrell Attacked in Her House at Greenwich, Conn.

Bullet Enters Her Jaw—Nurse Knocked on the Head—Suspected Man Arrested Later.

Greenwich, Conn.—A masked man, probably a burglar, broke into the house of Mrs. Antoinette Morrell, the daughter of Edmund C. Converse, early in the morning, knocked out a nurse maid with the butt of a pistol, and shot Mrs. Morrell in the jaw, disfiguring her for life.

Within an hour John Brown, a hostler, who has been making love to the Morrell cook, was arrested, charged with the crime. The local police began looking for another man who was supposed to be in on the job.

Edmund C. Converse owns a big country estate at Stanwich, a few miles from Greenwich. His daughter, Mrs. Morrell, who has been separated from her husband for a year and a half, has been living in a house on his estate. Of late Mr. Converse has been altering his mansion. He closed it, went to live in Mrs. Morrell's house, and rented for her the Anderson farmhouse, on the Boston road, just over the Cos Cob line from Greenwich.

This is a large, old fashioned place, set back from the road and in rather a lonely situation. Mrs. Morrell lived there with Mrs. Plaisted, a companion, and four female servants. A gardener and a coachman lived in the barn, a little apart from the house.

There were no men in the house at night.

Isabelle Burns, a family servant, was roused by the sound of some in her room working at the fastening of her window, which opens on the roof of a back piazza. Supposing something was the matter with the children she sat up and saw a man fumbling with the catch.

Miss Burns screamed at the top of her voice. The man whirled, flashed in her face a little electric searchlight, and cracked her over the head with the butt of a revolver. She raised her hands to defend her head, when he struck her again, breaking one of her fingers. Then he turned and started down the hall toward the staircase.

Pandemonium broke loose in the house. Mrs. Plaisted, who slept on the second floor, toward the front of the house, was the first out of her room. As Mrs. Plaisted, running by instinct toward the children's room, popped her head above the stairs she almost ran into the burglar. He fired straight at her.

It was a complete miss, but she fell on her face from the fright of it. Just back of her, and cutting off approach from the staircase, came Mrs. Morrell. The burglar raised his gun and fired straight into her face. He was so close that the powder marked her jaw. She fell, and as she fell he gave her the butt of the pistol on the head. The burglar hurried over her, ran down the staircase, through the house, and banged out of the kitchen door. The maids, who slept in the back part of the house, say they heard a voice saying: "Quick! Beat it!" and the sound of buggy wheels.

Mrs. Morrell was lying in the dim light of the hall, bleeding terribly. Miss Burns, the nurse, had the force thought to get to the telephone, and call up Deputy Sheriff Ritch, who represents the police force of Greenwich and Cos Cob, and a doctor.

Ritch, realizing that the burglar would try to get out of the region as quickly as he could, telephoned to officers along the line of the New York, New Haven and Hartford for three or four stations up and down, telling them to get to the railroad and arrest any early morning passenger whose clothes were wet. It was raining heavily at the time. He sent Jack Creamer, his deputy, to hold down the Greenwich station.

At 4:20 a small, inoffensive and very wet man plodded through the dark and wet to the station and sat down on a bench, as though waiting for the early train. Creamer looked him over, drew his gun and put him under arrest. He was taken to the town jail, protesting loudly. The police searched him and found two suspicious facts. The first was that he was drenched to the skin. He had been traveling without regard to the rain. The second was that he carried on his person a letter from Kate Tierney, the Morrell cook. It was not an incriminating document, simply a love letter with a little gossip, but it established at once his connection with the Morrell home. He gave his name as John Brown, a hostler, and that was the name on the love letter.

FALLS THROUGH TRESTLE.

Several Passengers Injured Near Head of Tide Station in Maine.

Alna, Maine.—A mixed freight and passenger train on the Wiscasset, Waterville and Farmington Railroad went through a trestle near Head of Tide station. Several passengers were injured, but none were killed. The engine, mail car and a combination freight and baggage car, which comprised the forward part of the train, left the rails. The passenger cars were not derailed.

Two Die in Fire.

Two persons were burned to death in a fire which destroyed the summer home of William Thompson at Harmony Grove, N. H. The victims of the fire were William Thompson and Mrs. Lydia Thurston. The cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

Washington, D. C.—Rural free delivery route No. 1 ordered established November 15 at Diamond, Marshall county, serving 500 people and 133 houses.

Sheffield, Ala.—The Haley Furniture Manufacturing Company has bought several acres of land adjoining its factory and will improve and enlarge its already valuable plant and add a planing mill. An investment of about $40,000 will be made.

ITEMS FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

Bishop Confers Subdeaconship.

In the presence of a great congregation at St. Peter's church here Saturday morning Bishop Edward P. Allen, of Mobile, conferred subdeaconship on Patrick J. Castello, of Montgomery. It was a new ceremony to Montgomery, and the bishop was followed closely. Mr. Castello will be ordained a deacon. He was educated at Cullman, Ala., and at Emmittsburg, Md. Bishop Allen will go to Birmingham, where on Sunday he will dedicate the Church of Our Lady of Sorrow.

Frank Adeock Pardoned.

A pardon has been issued to Frank Adeock, a white man convicted March 19, 1904, in the Jefferson county criminal court of manslaughter. Adeock's sentence in the penitentiary was for two years and the term would have expired in two months. The convict had made a good servant of the State.

Alabama Planters Pledge.

The farmers of Montgomery county met here Saturday in an important session, the feature of which is a formal pledge that unless they can get 11 cents or more per pound they will hold their cotton indefinitely. In this determination they are strongly backed by all the banks and merchants of this city. The meeting before adjournment addressed an appeal to the cotton producers of Alabama and the entire south to hold the staple for a minimum price of 11 cents.

New Corporations.

Notice of the organization of a new bank in Ozark, which was perfected in the early part of September and known as the Dale County Bank, has been filed with the secretary of state, the capital stock designated being $50,000. Alabama Fuel and Steel Company, of Augusta, Me., filing a copy of its charter and naming as its state agent H. F. DeBardeleben, of Birmingham.

Union Land Company, of Birmingham; capital stock, $48,000; incorporators, W. R. Brown, F. B. Fowlkes and Leo K. Steiner.

Mail Clerk Reported.

O. C. Addison, a United States railway clerk, will be reported to his department for disrespect of the quarantine of the city of Montgomery. It is charged by Chief Inspector J. J. Sullivan that Addison not only showed his disrespect of the city quarantine, but that he signed the name of J. L. Williams to a quarantine blank handed him by a regularly commissioned quarantine officer.

Addison was one of the mail clerks on Louisville and Nashville passenger train No. 6, which reached Montgomery from Mobile at 5:50 Saturday evening. The other mail clerk was a negro. Quarantine Officer George Lamar, represented the city of Montgomery on this train. It is the custom of the quarantine officers to merely hand the mail clerks filled out affidavits and allow them to sign them without taking their time answering and writing down the questions. This was the course pursued by Officer Lamar. The negro mail clerk readily acceded. Addison balked, but when told that it was required he signed the name of J. L. Williams to the affidavit.

Judge Appointed.

Governor Jelks Saturday requested Hon. A. H. Alston, supernumerary judge, to go to Dadeville, in Tallapoosa county, and hold court, beginning Monday, in place of the regular judge, Hon. S. E. Brewer, judge of the Fifth circuit.

Judge Brewer was in Montgomery Saturday and told the governor that he believed he was incompetent to preside over the court at Dadeville because up until his election last year he was solicitor of the circuit and helped procure the indictments that are to be tried next week.

On this statement of the facts the governor complied with Judge Brewer's request and Judge Alston will sit at Dadeville Monday and until the indictments in which Judge Brewer figured are fully disposed of.

Textbook Trouble—A Possible Suit.

On account of an alleged default of their contract Governor Jelks, chairman of the state text book commission, has instructed Attorney-General Massey Wilson to bring suit for damages against the several publishing companies which were to furnish books for the public schools of Alabama. Attorney-General Wilson was not prepared to say what amounts are to be claimed of the publishers. His judgment will be depended upon after he has thoroughly examined each of the contracts.

Aradarko, O. T.—Fire that started from the explosion of a lamp at Clement, near here, destroyed the entire east side of the main business street. Loss, $60,000.

Train Hopper Killed.

Clarksville, Tenn.—George Dudley was fatally injured here by being run over by a train in the Louisville and Nashville yards. The boy attempted to board a car which was being drawn by the swift engine and missed his hold. He fell beneath the wheels, which passed over both legs. The limbs were fearfully mangled and the boy lived but few hours after the accident.

YELLOW FEVER NEWS.

The Latest Reports From the Infected District.

New Orleans, La.—The fever situation for the last twenty-four hours shows a big decrease, the report being: New cases, 24; total cases, 2,571; deaths, 2; total deaths, 333; new foci, 6; cases under treatment, 323; cases discharged, 1,913.

The list of new cases Sunday is the lowest since July 31.

Unpleasant Experience at Jackson.

Dr. Charles Chassaignac, the state board physician, who is in charge at Tallulah, returned to the city Sunday forenoon to attend to some private business before taking up his residence in Tallulah, to return there until the eradication of the infection. He reports having had quite an unpleasant experience in Jackson, Miss., when he tried to transfer from the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific train to the Illinois Central. Two guards with the chief of police looking on forcibly put him back on the train and compelled him to go on to Meridian. He had a permit from Dr. Hunter, the health officer of Mississippi, but the guards said that it was of no value to them.

Country Cases.

The state board is in receipt of requests from several localities in the state asking that experts be sent to diagnose suspicious cases of fever, and efforts are being made to comply with them all. Some of these come from sections of the state which have hitherto been free from infection.

The country reports were:

Kenner, seven new cases, one death. La Fourche Crossing, two new cases. La Rose, one death. Tallulah, nine new cases. Barrataria, six new cases. Terre Bonne parish (two days), 22 new cases.

Patterson, ten cases, no deaths.

Dr. Brady, who made an inspection of the district between Thibodeaux and Cote Blanche, on Bayou La Fourche, reports that at the latter place there have been but ninety cases and six deaths, with thirty-six now under treatment. This point is midway between Leeville and Thibodeaux.

In summing up the proceeds of the festival, while official figures are not obtainable, it is believed that the fever fund will be enhanced about $12,000 as the result.

Mississippi Situation.

Jackson, Miss.—The Mississippi yellow fever summary for the past 24 hours is as follows: Mississippi City, Gulfport, Hanksboro and Pearlinton, no new cases or deaths.

Three More in Vicksburg.

Vicksburg, Miss.—Three new cases of yellow fever developed here today. All are negroes. One of them is a mail clerk, making the second case to come out of the postoffice.

The town was thoroughly fumigated Sunday, nearly two car loads of sulphur having been burned.

Nine Cases in Natchez.

Natchez, Miss.—Only one new case of yellow fever was reported Sunday, the patient being Edward Evans, son of Mrs. Evans, who was reported sick with yellow fever Saturday. There are nine cases under treatment.

Dr. Lavinder was again called to Kemps Levee, La., and left this morning accompanied by Dr. Atkinson and Dr. Sessions. One case was reported there Saturday.

No New Cases in Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, O.—No new yellow fever cases were reported here today and the cases now under treatment at the branch hospital are progressing satisfactorily. Physicians state that there is no danger of the disease spreading here.

Improvement in Pensacola.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Sept. 21, 05

Telephone No. 17.

Thieves broke into the home of Mrs. S. J. Hammond, on East College street, last Sunday night while the members of the family were at church, and stole a small amount of money. They had prepared to carry off the silverware, but were frightened away, probably by the return of the family. The windows and the kitchen door had been opened. On returning from church Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Wood sat on the gallery until time to retire, and on going into the house the discovery was made that thieves had been there.

WILSONVILLE.

There is considerable sickness in and around here at present.

Davis Riddle is on the sick list at his sister's, Mrs. Jim Spearman.

Eugene Wilkins is visiting his brother, F. M. Wilkins, for a few days.

Mrs. J. W. Kytte has returned from a visit with her people in Georgia.

W. W. Wallace of your city, was a pleasant caller in our midst last Friday.

W. T. Taylor is quite sick and from what we hear, if grunting will help to relieve, he surely will be well soon.

Mrs. Gus Ballard and daughter, Mrs. Will Williams, of Talladega, visited Mrs. M. J. Pennington, Mrs. Ballard's sister, this week.

Good morning, Mr. Editor. I am glad to be able to send you a few lines from this, the garden spot of Alabama, again.

Mrs. Wm. Black, sister of Mrs. J. R. Black, returned to her home in Oxford today, after a pleasant visit of three weeks with her sister.

Miss Hanna Caldwell, of Harpersville, has accepted the position of milliner for J. E. Pope. We heartily welcome Miss Caldwell to our community.

We are sorry indeed to learn that Mrs. J. L. Riddle is gradually growing weaker from her long continued illness, with little or no hope of rallying again.

Mrs. L. B. Riddle visited her father's family at Sugawh this week, some of whom are quite sick with fever. We are glad to learn that they are better.

Prof. Veyzee and his sister arrived here Thursday to begin school on Monday, but as the building was not complete school will open Wednesday, Sept. 20th.

Miss Clark returned a few days ago from Atlanta and can now be found at her post of duty. Miss Emma Kytte is assisting her again this season in the millinery parlors of R. G. Weldon & Sons.

Our school building is not yet complete but will be in a few days, and when finished will be quite a pretty, convenient and comfortable structure; one that any town or community might feel proud of.

Mrs. J. B. Boyer and her daughter, Miss Annie, left Thursday for Ensley to be at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Z. T. Enqua, who, we are sorry to learn, is in a very critical condition, with no hope of for her recovery.

The farmers around here are taking advantage of the pretty weather, and having cotton picked and ginned at a lively rate. It would be hard to find farmers anywhere who are more energetic and prosperous than those in beat 9.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pope, H. E. Smith, Mr. Ray, Tonio Daniel and Hornio Stoudenmire all attended the Sunday school convention at Sylacauga this week. Mr. Smith says he like to get foundered on good things to eat, as they had them in abundance.

Rip Van Winkle.

To The Portland Exposition.

Greatest variety of attractions to the Pacific Coast tourist. You can spend some time in the Rocky Mountain, visit Yellowstone Park, attend the Portland Exposition, sojourn in Southern California, return over Southern Route by way of El Paso, through New Mexico. Or, you can go via Minneapolis and St. Paul and Northern route in either direction. Send for Rock Island folder and details of summer excursion rates. John Sebastian, Passenger Traffic Manager, Rock Island System, Chicago.

Non-Resident Notice and Administrator's Notice.

The State of Alabama, Shelby County. In the matter of estate of John Strain, dec'd. In Probate Court, do hereby certify that on September 18, 1905, On this day comes Wm. Strain, Sr., Administrator of the estate aforesaid, and filed his petition for an order to sell the real estate of said estate, to-wit: lots of lots of Sec. 26, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, nels. of nels. of Sec. 24, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, also about 5 of an acre in the northwest corner of nels. of nels. of Sec. 28, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, 135 feet east and west, and 135 feet north and south, sw. 1/4 of nels. of Sec. 28, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, and nels. of nels. of Sec. 28, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, and all that part of the southeast quarter of Sec. 21, Tp. 21, R. 1 East that lies south of Beeswax Creek, containing in all 166 acres more or less, and situated in Shelby County, Ala., alleging that it is necessary to sell the same for the payment of debts of said estate and that the personal property of said estate is insufficient, therefore it is ordered by the Court that the 30th day of October next, be set for the hearing of said petition, and it appearing that Bee Strain, an heir of said estate, is a non-resident and lives in the State of Texas, and that John Strain, an heir of said estate, is a non-resident and lives in the State of Florida, it is ordered that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published at Columbiana, in said county, notifying them and all others interested in the same to appear and contest the same if they think proper.

A. T. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

COMMENTS ON OUR SPECIAL EDITION.

Beautiful Special Edition.

The Columbiana Sentinel celebrated its entry into middle life by a beautiful special edition. The occasion was the passing the 30th year of the paper's life. Mr. H. E. Whitaker, the editor, issued a magazine supplement filled with fine illustrations. It contains well written history of Shelby county.—Birmingham Ledger.

Handsome Industrial Supplement.

The Columbiana Sentinel celebrated its thirty-first anniversary by issuing a handsome industrial supplement that is neatly printed and profusely illustrated. H. E. Whitaker, editor of The Sentinel, is to be congratulated on his enterprise.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Highly Creditable.

The Columbiana Sentinel celebrated its thirty-first anniversary by publishing a splendid supplement to its regular edition, which ought to be in the hands of every citizen of Shelby county. It is most highly creditable both as to matter and the way in which it is presented. Columbiana is a good town and it is fortunate in having its advantages so well presented as they are in The Sentinel.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Very Fine Paper.

The special edition of the Columbiana Sentinel is quite an up-to-date affair and shows up the town in many respects and speaks much for that section of the country, and we congratulate the distinguished editor for the very fine paper which has reached our office. Whitaker is a fine man in many ways. Your paper is fine, brother.—Ozark Tribune.

Interesting and Instructive.

The thirty-first anniversary edition of the Columbiana Sentinel was issued last week, and a real interesting and instructive paper it was. It was handsomely illustrated and presented many historical matters relating to Columbiana and Shelby county. We extend congratulations to Editor Whitaker on his splendid success.—Our Mountain Home, Talladega.

Is a Great Credit.

The thirty-first anniversary edition of the Columbiana Sentinel comes to us this week a large illustrated magazine supplement with all about the men and things of Shelby county. It does great credit to brother Whitaker, and his patrons should appreciate his good work in their behalf.—Talladega Reporter.

A Splendid Effort.

We beg to acknowledge receipt of the Thirty-first Anniversary Edition of the Columbiana Sentinel.

The edition comprises in all about twenty-eight pages, and a cover. It contains many illustrations, a historical sketch of Columbiana and Shelby county, the biography of the county's prominent citizens—in fact, it is an exhaustive exploitation of Columbiana and Shelby county. It is a splendid effort and brother Whitaker is entitled to the thanks and unstated support of his people.

We congratulate the Sentinel, and wish for it many more anniversaries, and the increased popularity it so richly deserves.—Fl. Deposit Reflector.

Nothing Doing.

Peoples Advocate, Columbiana.

Much Valuable Information

The Columbiana Sentinel has just issued its thirty-first anniversary edition in pamphlet form. The edition is profusely illustrated and is the most excellent history of the county, its public men and leading representative citizens, and contains much valuable information about the resources of Shelby, one among the richest counties in mineral resources in the state, and yet about which so little is known to the outside world. It is such valuable industrial and historical data as is contained in this anniversary edition of the wide awake Sentinel, that will call direct attention to the county and its resources, and it largely circulated as it ought to be by the enterprising citizens of Shelby, who have contributed so liberally to making a success of the annual edition, it will be of invaluable benefit to the county and to that section of Alabama. The Journal congratulates the publisher on his enterprise and the evident success that has attended his efforts to properly advertise his county—success shown by the liberal patronage of the people of Columbiana and the county.—Montgomery Journal.

Shows Up Resources.

We acknowledge the receipt of the 31st Anniversary Edition of the Columbiana Sentinel published by H. E. Whitaker. It is well illustrated and shows up the resources of Columbiana and Shelby County in a striking way. We congratulate the editor and publisher.—Ala. Christian Advocate.

Result in Much Good.

Editor Whitaker of the Columbiana Sentinel, issued one of the most creditable anniversary editions of his paper last week we have seen from any press in the State of recent years. It was filled with good reading matter, of especial interest to the people of Columbiana and Shelby county. Mr. Whitaker's enterprise is most commendable, and will doubtless result in much good to his town and county.—Greensboro Watchman.

Interesting Reading.

The Press wants to congratulate the Columbiana Sentinel, on its big edition of last week. It was in magazine form, and was tastefully gotten up mechanically, and was full of interesting reading matter, that will prove valuable to Columbiana and Shelby county. Editor Whitaker is giving the people of that town and county a paper that they should feel proud of and support properly.—Centerville Press.

Highly Creditable.

The Columbiana Sentinel issued a thirty-page supplement on September 7th that was highly creditable and shows the enterprise and sterling worth of Editor H. E. Whitaker to Shelby county and the town of Columbiana. The supplement is filled with interesting history of the county from its earliest settlers to the present, its resources and advantages, nice illustrations of business houses in Columbiana, its citizens and a number of points in Montevallo. Editor Whitaker is entitled to the highest praise from his people for the special effort.—Franklin Times, Russellville.

Is A Gem.

The 31st Anniversary Edition of the Columbiana Sentinel has reached our desk and is a gem. It is in magazine form and contains twenty-eight pages, besides cover. The edition is full of facts concerning Columbiana and her people and is a credit to the town. Its enterprising editor, H. E. Whitaker, deserves the solid support of every citizen of Columbiana.—Marshall Banner, Albertville.

Handsome Edition.

We are in receipt of an interesting and handsome souvenir edition of the Columbiana Sentinel. It is a concise history of Shelby county. Twenty years ago, before reaching manhood, we spent three years in Columbiana, and have never outgrown our attachment for the place and its people. We congratulate editor Whitaker.—Bullock County Breeze.

Valuable History.

The thirty-first anniversary number of the Columbiana Sentinel is a highly creditable

OUR FALL AND WINTER MILLINERY OPENING

—takes place—

OCTOBER 4, 5, AND 6.

French Pattern Hats, Turbans, Ready-to-wear Hats and Millinery Novelties.

500 styles. The greatest and most attractive stock of Millinery in Shelby county. Be First—With our Hats and you'll surely be right in price and style. Come to see us; a cordial welcome awaits you all the time.

Remember the Opening

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

New Grocery Store!

EVERYTHING NEW.

We desire to notify the people that we have opened a grocery store in the Moore building, and we ask for a share of your patronage. Our groceries are all NEW and FRESH—nothing stale. A full line of staple and fancy groceries, cigars, tobacco and provisions will be kept on hand. Be glad to have call on us.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts.....	Capital stock paid in.....
Overdrafts.....	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....
Banking house.....	Individual deposits subject to check.....
Furniture and fixtures.....	True deposits.....
Other real estate.....	Cashier's checks.....
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	Notes and bills rediscounted.....
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....
Currency.....
Gold.....
Silver, nickels and pennies.....
Checks and cash items.....
Total.....	Total.....

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farney, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank of Shelby County. Bank who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July 1905.

JOHN R. DYKE, Circuit Clerk.

paper and Editor H. E. Whitaker is to be congratulated upon his successful efforts. The edition contains a complete history of Shelby county and fully sets forth its resources, as well as the progress of Columbiana, in attractive style. It is well illustrated and is valuable for historical purposes. The Columbiana Sentinel is one of the most progressive weekly papers in the State.—Birmingham News.

Very Creditable.

The Columbiana Sentinel has issued a very creditable anniversary edition upon the occasion of its 31st birthday. It was replete with information in regard to Shelby county, her people and institutions and the progressive publisher, Brother Whitaker, is to be congratulated.—Pine Belt News, Brewton.

Attractive and Interesting.

The 31st Anniversary edition of the Columbiana Sentinel is a very attractive and interesting bit of newspaper enterprise. It is printed in admirable shape and has a full supply of good illustrations and is filled with most readable matter treating of Columbiana historically, socially, financially and in every way. Right at the back is a very fair likeness of the editor, Mr. H. E. Whitaker, to whom praise is due not alone for getting out such a fine edition but for his working for the upbuilding of his town.—Tuscaloosa Times-Gazette.

No Space Uncovered.

The history of Shelby county, profusely illustrated with portraits and landscapes of the city of Columbiana and its vicinity is before us in the form of a supplement to the Columbiana Sentinel. It includes the town of Montevallo with views of the Seminary. The author goes thoroughly into his subject, and leaves no space uncovered. For those interested, it will be found a work of much research and most profoundly treated.—New Decatur Advertiser.

Showing Up His Town.

Editor Whitaker, of the Columbiana Sentinel, issued an illustrated edition a few days since showing up his town to fine advantage. The Sentinel and its editor are to be congratulated on getting up so good an edition.—Limestone Democrat, Athens.

Brim Full of Good Things.

The Columbiana Sentinel came so, just exchange table last week with a supplement

SHIELD BRAND Fits Well WEARS Well CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERYT, Shelby, Ala., R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

"CRITERION"

The Very Best

CLOTHING

On the Market.

Had You Thought About It?

We cordially invite your inspection of our stock of this popular brand of clothing—none better in the world. It is made of

The Best Fiber

and made up in the latest styles and most durable manner, hence its great popularity. You can buy this clothing at no other store in Columbiana. We can please you in price.

Every Garment Guaranteed

by the manufacturers to be just as it is represented or money refunded. They know the excellent quality of the goods or they could not afford to make such an offer to purchasers.

Come in to see us.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER, DENTIST. COLUMBIANA, ALA. Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

Attorneys-at-Law, COLUMBIANA, ALA. Office up stairs, bank building.

Dr. Neison, of Abernath, is visiting relatives in town.

Robert O'Hara is at home for a short visit with his parents.

BROWNE & LEEPER, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors IN CHANCERY. Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS, Attorney-at-Law, AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY. Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law. Montevallo, Ala. Special facilities for making Abstracts.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Vol. 31, No. 3.

Columbiana, Ala., September 21, 1905.

Supplement.

AMERICAN SILK GOWNS.

THE PRESIDENT'S WIFE HAS INTERESTED HERSELF IN FOSTERING SILK WORM CULTURE.

Secretary Wilson Believes that Many Portions of the Country Well Adapted to the Industry. Department Will Furnish the Eggs and Mulberry Trees Free.

The Japanese have a class of laborers who work for their board and keep alone. All they want is a place to live and plenty of food in the shape of leaves from a particular kind of tree, and they are willing to turn millions of dollars into the pockets of their employers. In fact, Japan sent to the United States over $2,000,000 worth of their products during the last year, and they never received one cent of this vast sum. France, Italy, China and various other countries, too, have laborers of this kind, but in the her for the samples she recently sent him.

Life History of a Silk Worm.

The various stages in the life of a silk worm are interesting. First, we have the tiny eggs which hatch into the caterpillar or larva. This larva, when hatched, upon coming into contact with the air, increased in volume larger than it had in the egg, and it quickly begins to gnaw the under surface of the mulberry leaf. It eats day and night at all hours, except when asleep, and in about thirty days grows 14,000 times larger than it was at birth. As it grows it molts its skin probably four or five times. The most interesting period in its career is when the worm reaches an age of 20 or 21 days, when its appetite almost ceases, its size diminishes, and its general appearance is sickly. Very soon, however, it begins to move about, lifts up its head, and turns in every direction, seeking a place in which to spin a net to hold the cocoon which is to be spun. For sometime, through the veil which very soon is to surround it, the diligent larva, with its back turned outward, may be seen

The Poor Worm Must Die.

However, in the silk worm culture, where the cocoons are gathered for their silk alone, it is necessary to kill the worm before it breaks the tiny threads. This is done quickly, however, by either the use of hot, moist air or steam, or the modern painless method of destructive gases. The methods of reeling the silk from the cocoons vary according to the country where the industry thrives.

The history of silk culture in the United States dates far back to the days of the early colonists of Virginia, South Carolina and Georgia, while it was introduced in New England about the year 1600. In 1901, Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, after a visit to the South investigating agricultural conditions and possibilities, came to the conclusion that something should be done to ameliorate the condition of the extremely poor people of that section, and particularly the colored race. Silk culture was among the ideas which suggested themselves to him, and his interest in that line led to an appropriation by Congress of $10,000 to continue the investigations of the subject. Congress during its session of 1902-1903 repeated the appropriation, and additional appropriations have been since made.

Good Outlook for New Industry.

It is believed that there are many portions of the United States well adapted to silk raising, many places which might well become silk centers, where labor can be employed practically at rates comparable to those of Southern Europe. The establishment of a silk mill in such a location is believed feasible by the Department officials, and can be made to pay. Foreign capital is becoming interested in the subject, the proprietor of a large estate in Italy especially giving the matter careful consideration. What the success of silk culture would mean in the United States might well be indicated when it is learned that nearly $100,000,000 was sent out of this country to be expended in the purchase of both raw silk and the manufactured article.

Carnegie Did Not Say It.

"I never said," declares Andrew Carnegie, in an interview, "that to die rich is to die disgraced."

George Washington did not live to repudiate the little hatchet. William Tell passed to his rest with no opportunity to turn from the mythical apple the arrow that was to go on saving Switzerland for ages. Jefferson did not ride on horseback to the Capitol to take the inaugural oath. Mr. Carnegie, living and able, meets common report before it has hardened into tradition and declares that the facts are otherwise. Yet his advantage over the

MRS. THEODORE ROOSEVELT.
In Gown Made of American Grown Silk.

United States, where the pay for labor is the highest in the world, the possibilities for employment of this class of help are just as great as in the countries where it flourishes. The question arises at once, what sort of an industry is this which employs the time and services of its help and then pays them nothing?

Mrs. Roosevelt's Helping Hand.

These "willing workers" are nothing more than the lowly silk worm, living on the leaf of the mulberry, and then diligently spinning the glistening strands of silver into an egg-shaped form that the keeper may reap the reward, and the president's wife has made a compact with Secretary of Agriculture Wilson to foster their growth in the United States. Mrs. Roosevelt takes a deep interest in the question of American silk growing, and believes that there is in the industry much hope for the farmers' wives and other women who need an income from work at home. Our first lady of the land, by the way, has the rare attribute of much modesty, combined with great generosity, and except to her close circle of friends has nothing to say about her many philanthropies—mostly directed toward the advancement of women's interests.

As to silk growing, Mrs. Roosevelt became interested in it something over a year ago, securing Secretary Wilson's powerful support; she stands sponsor for what promises to become a very considerable American industry. At the last Inauguration she wore a magnificent silk gown, made of American silk and woven on American looms.

Money in Raising Cocoons.

The silk worm thrives most any place where mulberry trees will grow. The raising of them, according to Fauny Brigham, requires only 65 days a year. Forty thousand worms hatch from a single ounce of eggs, and their cocoons when dried weigh about 80 pounds, worth on an average a dollar a pound.

It is Mrs. Roosevelt's idea that silk worm culture in the United States will be conducted principally by the farmers' wives and daughters, as it is in Europe. Secretary Wilson is convinced that there is a good profit in the industry, and he will send to anybody, free of charge, all the mulberry cuttings or seedlings required to start silk worm growing. It takes about three years, with good care, to get the mulberry trees ready for cropping, when the Department will send the beginner all the eggs which the grove will feed. The silk raiser is, therefore, really under no money expense for starting the project, his share being only a little patience and industry. A shining example noted is Miss Ethel Pritchett, of Albany, Indiana, who is sixteen years old, and who has produced silk cocoons from Italian eggs finer than anything shown by Italy. Secretary Wilson highly praised completing its task. It is calculated that with its head alone the silk worm makes 60 movements every minute, describing arcs of circles, crossed in the form of the figure 8. Meanwhile the web grows closer and the veil thickens, and in about seventy-two hours the worm is completely shut up in its cocoon. If the worm in the cocoon is unmolested, it emerges in about four or five days with wings, becoming a member of the insect world.

SKAINS OF RAW SILK AND BAGS OF COCOONS READY FOR REELING.
ALSO A FRENCH OPERATOR AT THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

heroes of history is a doubtful one. Protesting not too much, says the N. Y. World, the ironmaster protests probably too late. The public will believe his denial and cling, nevertheless, to the ear-tickling phrase,

ECHOES OF PERRY'S FIGHT.

SHIPS SUNK BY AMERICAN FORCES RECENTLY DISCOVERED.

They Will Be Raised from Beds of Mud and Preserved as Records of War of 1812.

Following Commodore Perry's thrashing of the British fleet in his great Lake Erie fight, three of the British war boats were sunk in the Thames River, near Lake St. Clair. The question has arisen to whom do these vessels belong? After lying forgotten, covered with mud and water, for nearly a century, they have been discovered, and it is proposed to raise them. Over this, and their removal to Detroit, an international controversy is threatened.

These ships were a part of the fleet which resisted Commodore Perry at Put-in-Bay. At that time the whole northwestern country, including Detroit, had fallen into British hands. After Perry's crushing defeat, the battered remnant of the British fleet slipped away to Detroit, taking the British General Proctor aboard, and with arms, ammunition, government papers and other plunder from Detroit, made speed to Lake St. Clair. The little fleet of four took refuge on the Thames, and in the famous land and naval battle which followed, the ships were all sunk. Tecumseh, the Indian chief, who was allied with the British, was killed, and General Proctor later committed suicide.

Gunboats Recently Discovered.

These vessels have remained forgotten until recently, when unusually low water in the Thames revealed one of them. A plan was originated to recover them and present them to Detroit as memorials. Divers and experts have been at work, and have located three of the vessels at points one, two and six miles by stream from Chatham. The ships are nearly covered with sand and earth.

In the one most exposed the hull was found to contain boxes and barrels of cannon balls and other war stores. Further search is expected to bring to light chests of silver and other valuables which the records show were taken on to the boats.

Canadian newspapers are vigorously protesting against the American seizure of these ancient relics, but it is stated that as the vessels are now private property, the explorers will be able to effect a bargain whereby they can obtain undisputed possession.

To Cast the Largest Bell in the World.

At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic a plan was presented by Col. Frank Hume, an officer who served with distinction in the army of the Confederacy, which, if carried out, will mean that the largest bell ever cast will be hung in the Arlington cemetery, the former home of Robert E. Lee, overlooking Washington and the wide sweep of the Potomac River, and where are also buried some of the Confederate dead. It is Col. Hume's idea that this bell should be rolled during the funeral rites of the military heroes of the country when they are buried within these historic grounds.

Mr. Hume unfolded his plan to the Grand Army veterans, his purpose being to hang the bell cast from a large number of obsolete cannon now stored at the Government arsenal at Watervliet and other points. The president of one of the largest bell foundries in the country, who was communicated with, stated that the idea was a feasible one, but that the cost of the undertaking would be large. The belief is that the funds, however great they may be, will be raised, not only through contributions by the G. A. R. veterans, but by those who were the

A MAN WITHOUT A PULL.

Rapid Rise of Frank H. Hitchcock.—Now First Assistant Postmaster General.

Several accounts have appeared in the papers and magazines descriptive of the rapid rise of First Assistant Postmaster General Frank H. Hitchcock. Starting with a subordinate clerkship in the Department of Agriculture some 15 years ago where his duties consisted mainly in labeling and storing away the skins and skulls of mice, rats, and other mammals collected by the animal and bird division of the Department of Agriculture, Mr. Hitchcock has been advanced rapidly to the head and directing force of first one and then another separate branch of the government, the last appointment being to the Post Office Department and later incidentally to membership in the Keep investigating committee to which was referred the important duty of investigating the Government Printing Office and which will further look into the question of duplication of work by the various bureaus and branches of the government at Washington.

FRANK H. HITCHCOCK, FIRST ASSISTANT POSTMASTER-GENERAL.

While these advances have been gratifying to Mr. Hitchcock's friends and doubtless to himself, they have entailed severe extra work. When he left the department of Agriculture to become chief clerk of the Department of Commerce and Labor he still had several uncompleted publications of the former Department which occupied all his spare evenings for months. Upon Secretary Cortelyou's resignation from the Department of Commerce and Labor to engage in the work of electing Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Hitchcock went with him as his principal assistant, his uncompleted duties, however, still following him as they had previously and were not even completed upon his appointment to the Post Office Department. It is doubtful if he has yet caught up with important lines of statistical work which he undertook to do prior to accepting his present appointment.

Mr. Hitchcock is very properly described in a current number of "The World To-day," as "the man without a pull," as his remarkable rise in the service of the government has been the result of ability unaided by political influence. His qualifications are perhaps most correctly summed up in the words of Secretary Wilson, who, in expressing regrets at his loss to the Department of Agriculture, said:

"He has industry, application and intelligence. He is a born organizer; can pick good men, tell them what to do and how to do it, and get the best work out of them. He is of a class—not a big crowd—that make themselves indispensable. The government can't get along without men like Mr. Hitchcock."

Zebras.

"What is algebra?" asked the teacher.

"It's a white mule covered with black stripes. I saw one at the circus."

ANTI-PASS SENTIMENT.

IT IS GROWING IN CONGRESS AS WELL AS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY.

Many Legislators Have Already Set Their Faces Against the Acceptance of Railroad and Telegraphic Favors.

When Congress convened last fall it met in extra session upon the call of the President, and this session continued over into the regular session, which met December 5th. There was no interval between the two sessions. It was thus apparent that there could have been no traveling back and forth, no returning of the Members of Congress to their homes following the special session and coming on to Congress again for the regular session; yet the House of Representatives by a large majority passed a resolution voting themselves extra mileage for this extra session, amounting to nearly $200,000—a mileage grab for imaginary travel.

Fortunately for the honor of Congress, the Senate refused to even consider the question. But the incident brought out the fact that the majority of the Members of Congress, including some of our most renowned legislators, and including nearly all the Representatives who voted for this indefensible grab at graft, habitually travel on free railroad passes. Many of them not only secure train passes from the railroads but Pullman passes as well and also free meal privileges on dining cars.

Anti-Pass Cranks Will Soon be Common.

There have been several men in Congress during recent years who have, sometimes perhaps with too much ostentation, refused railroad passes, and they have been generally looked upon as cranks and denominated anti-pass freaks. A contemporary remarks, however, in connection with the coming to Congress of Governor La Follette, of Wisconsin, and one of two others who have "reform" ideas, that it is recorded in charming verse anent an old-fashioned preacher of the gospel in an English village that "those who came to scoff remained to pray," and among the numberless political possibilities of the not far off future is looming up a change of heart in many Congressmen who have hitherto laughed to scorn attempts to prohibit them from asking or accepting such railroad favors—amounting in fact to nothing more nor less than so much cash.

It is a promising sign that a number of national legislators of their own volition have effected this reform, wisely seeing that consistency demands it and likewise noting the popular feeling throughout the country against the practice.

It is a fair sized business in itself which provides the issuance of railroad and telegraphic "courtesies" to legislators. The practice is, of course, not confined to Congress, but occurs in every state legislature, to say nothing of other public officials.

LARGE CROPS AND CHEAPER RATES.

The farmers of the Northwest are jubilant not only over their large crops but the reduction of the transportation charges. The reduction of grain rates, according to a St. Paul dispatch, ranges from five cents a hundred pounds from the most distant points, to a half cent from points nearest St. Paul and the head of navigation on the Great Lakes. These rates are going into operation over two trans-continental railroads, and it is said they will be met by all other roads doing business in the same territory and tributary to it. With the large Northwestern wheat crop of two hundred or so million bushels, the aggregate of this in favor of the farmers reduction is a large one. There can be no increase of rates made elsewhere, it is stated, to even the receipts up in the interests of the railroads. The reduction is looked upon as one of the evolutions in transportation.

Every reader of this paper should have this book.
Cut off the coupon and mail to us with $1.50.

Illustrated
by
Ernest
Haskell

By
Eugene P. Lyle, Jr.
Published August 1st

18TH THOUSAND
ALREADY

All Bookstores,
$1.50

The Missourian

The romantic adventures of John Dinwiddie Driscoll (nicknamed "The Storm Cent" at the Court of Maximilian in Mexico, where his secret mission comes into conflict with that of the beautiful Jacqueline. The best romantic American novel of recent years.

"Has what so few of its class possess, the elements of 'reality,' wrought by infinite pains of detail, verisimilitude, suggestion."

—St. Louis Republic.

"A remarkable first book, of epic breadth, carried through unswervingly. A brilliant story."—N. Y. Times Saturday Review.

"There is no more dramatic period in history, and the story bears every evidence of careful and painstaking study."—N. Y. Globe.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.
133-137 East 16th St., New York.

CUT OFF HERE AND MAIL TO US WITH $1.50.
DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY,
133-137 East 16th Street, New York.
Send me a copy of "The Missourian" by Eugene P. Lyle, Jr.
Name.....
Address.....
City.....

THE PANAMA CANAL.

ITS ESTIMATED COST LARGELY A MATTER OF GUESS WORK.

If Congress Investigates, It Is Recalled That Senator Mitchell, Convicted of Land Frauds, Is Chairman of Committee.—Senator Morgan
Still Believes in Nicaragua Route.

During the dull season at Washington the newspaper writers had difficulty in furnishing their papers with any political news of sufficient interest to print. The most possible has been made of the department scandals, which have been served up in various forms and dilated upon to the full extent which it was believed the reading public would stand; some little interest has attached to the Washington phases of the Peace Conference, while here and there political rumors, presidential booms and other stories have come to light in an almost vain endeavor to remind the people that when Congress is out of session and the President is away, there is a National Capital.

The Panama Canal work has come in for considerable share of newspaper talk and it is of some interest to speculate as to what will happen in this connection when Congress meets.

There are dark threats of searching and sweeping investigations, even to the extent of going back over the whole Isthmian Canal problem and re-opening the question as to whether Congress was right in throwing over the Nicaragua route and adopting the Panama project.

Cost of Undertaking Unknown.

While figures have been floating around as to the possible cost of the Panama route those who have been on the Isthmus and assume to know even ever so little say that the estimated cost of $135,000,000 for the construction of the canal might as well be $135,000 so far as being anywhere accurate is concerned. It is a fact that one of the highest officials until recently connected with the Panama Commission admitted that neither he nor anybody else knew anything whatever about the ultimate cost of the completed Panama Canal. All the figures have been based on the French estimates which are declared to be entirely unreliable and the American engineers have not nearly completed even the surveys. This talk of insurmountable obstacles, impossible conditions and ultimate cost of a billion dollars for a canal is said to be peaches and cream and like soothing balm and honey to old Senator Morgan of Alabama, Colonel "Pete" Hepburn of Iowa, and others who have always favored the Nicaragua route, prognosticating the failure of the Panama scheme, and

Two Statesmen in Chorus:
"I Told You So."

From the Washington Post.

MORGAN AND HEPBURN ON THE CANAL.

who are now apparently getting ready for some vehement "I-told-you-sos."

Committee Chairman Convicted of Land Crafting.

Right at the threshold of the proposed congressional action this winter over Isthmian Canal affairs is the embarrassment in the Senate because of the Chairmanship of the Oceanic Canal Committee which is held by Senator John H. Mitchell, of Oregon, convicted and under sentence for complicity in land frauds. The question of the chairmanship of that important committee last year developed strong opposition to Senator Mitchell.

Senators said that he was not the right man for the place, but following a long line of senatorial precedents, he was given the coveted honor. He has, however, never been able to enjoy it. It is now a question whether the Senate will think it has sufficient provocation to summarily deprive him of the place, while his case is on appeal, and name another chairman.
Senator Mitchell was originally a Nicaragua route man, but he, with others, came over to the Panama plan until only Senator Morgan was left, a venerable and solitary figure, fighting earnestly against the project and predicting, time and again, that the route was impracticable. Some of the younger Senators who were wont to shake their heads and remark that the "old man was getting daffy," during some of his wonderful and never-ending speeches, are not so sure now.
Probably Senator Morgan will have some ten or twelve more long speeches, requiring from a day to three or four days each, to deliver when he returns here in December. It is predicted that he will be certain to be replete with information about the Isthmian situation which no other mortal has been able to collect.

Gleanings In Bee Culture

teaches you about bees, how to handle them for honey and profit. Send for free copy. Read it.
Then you'll want to subscribe a 6 month's trial
25c. Don't delay but do it to-day.
(A. I. ROOT CO., MEDINA, OHIO.)

YOUR FEEBLE OLD WAGON

has many years service in it.
Replace its shaky wheels with

ELECTRIC METAL WHEELS

Made to fit any skein. Straight or staggered oval steel spokes, cast in the hub, hot riveted in the tire. Broad tires saves rutting and draft. Any height desired. Write for free catalogue for particulars.

ELECTRIC WHEEL CO.,
BOX 63, QUINCY, ILLINOIS.

BOOKS—BOOKS

We have published some good ones specially suited for farmers. Books that will help every farmer to make more out of his farm. Write for our catalogue.

WEBB PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Paul, Minn.

AGENTS WANTED

To Canvass for the

UNITED STATES

SENATOR NUMBER

NOW PUBLISHED

The issue contains portraits of the

NINETY MEMBERS.

Two from each State in the Union.
This collection was made from recent exclusive sittings for a photo.

BOSTON BUDGET

The Pictures

12 by 8 inches in size.

are protected by copyright and can not be reproduced legally elsewhere. The group forms the most valuable collection of statesmen ever offered to the American people. The number will be of unrivalled value to individuals, schools and libraries.

Price 50 Cents Delivered

For terms and other particulars address

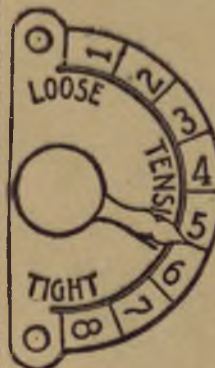

THE BUDGET COMPANY,

WM. GRANT JAMES, Treas.

220 WASHINGTON STREET

BOSTON, MASS.

A Tension Indicator

IS JUST WHAT
THE WORD IMPLIES.

It indicates the state

of the tension at a glance.

Its use means time saving
and easier sewing.

It's our own invention
and is found only on the

WHITE
Sewing Machine.

We have other striking improvements that appeal to the careful buyer. Send for our elegant H. T. catalog.

WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO.
Cleveland, Ohio.

EXCAVATION WORK.

With Greatest Economy

use the

Western Elevating Grader
and Ditcher.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION.

Western Wheeled Scraper Co.
AURORA, ILL.

Send for Catalog.

SILOS

Pine, Fir, Cypress and Yellow Pine.

Write for Catalogue.

EAGLE TANK CO., 281 N. Green Street

Chicago, Ill.

PHOTOGRAPHERS Throw Your Bottles and Scales Away

DO YOU KNOW that dirty bottles and scales cause you trouble?
Obviate this by using our Developers, put up READY TO USE.
Simply empty our tubes into the developing tray and add the water—we don't charge you for the latter. Large quantities of developer made up at one time oxidize and spoil. With our developers you only make up enough for immediate use.

Send 25 cents for half a dozen tubes sufficient for 24 ounces of developer for Velox, Azo, Cyko, Rotox, or other papers, or 60 ounces of Plate and Film Developer—a Developer which will not stain the fingers or nails, and is non-poisonous. We have a Sepia Toner for gaslight papers, 6 tubes, 25c.

NATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHIC CHEMICAL COMPANY
11th St. and Penn Ave., Washington, D. C.

DINING TENT AND THE HOUSE

A SECTION OF THE CAMP

EVERY BODY HAVING A GOOD TIME

Childrens' Summerings

SCENES AT JUVENILE CAMP OUTSIDE OF WASHINGTON

By DOROTHY DUNNE.

A kind of philanthropy which does good, beyond any doubt or question, is that which takes thousands of children every year out of the heated and crowded cities into the country where the air is pure and nature is clothed in beauty. Every year, as the hot weather approaches, camps are established short distances outside of most of the large cities. Some of these are sustained by popular subscriptions, some assisted by municipal appropriations, some are the projects of enterprising newspapers which early in the season start them going, and then ask through their columns for individual donations, and some are supported on a semi-medical popular basis. To those who have always lived in the country, or in small cities or towns, the significance of this annual provision for tens of thousands of little citizens may not be apparent. It is a painful fact, however, that a number of our large centers of population contain thousands of children who have never seen a green field, and who have only the slide-walk and the gutter for play grounds.
To such even a short sojourn in the country is the opening of a new page in their book of life.

Washington is Hot in Summer.

While in Washington there is no such condition among the children, for the city is comparatively clean and well-kept, with a splendid arrangement of public parks and the most wonderful collection of trees in its streets of any large city in the country, still it is on the border of the Southland, its pavements are of asphalt and the almost torrid sun of mid-summer sometimes makes existence terribly trying to the poor, so that the establishment of a Country Camp a few miles beyond the city limits has partaken of the most common sense kind of charity possible. There the little ones of the local byways and congested tenement districts of the city are taken for healthful recreation in God's great out-of-doors. There, away from the noises of the town and the squalid surroundings, they find, for the time being, the stimulation of nature, the songs of birds, the perfume of flowers, green grass and refreshing breezes. In a word, this camp, like many others throughout the country, is a children's paradise.

All Kinds of Fun.

Nor have the children been left to derive all their pleasure and fun from communion with nature only. There were provided eight big swings, usually all moving with happy occupants, a dozen baby swings for the little tots, four or five teeter ladders, punching bags, see-saws, horizontal bars, rings, and other wholesome apparatuses.
Two large boxes filled with sand have provided delightful occupation for tiny human ants. Ample open space in the vicinity has allowed for games of ball and other field sports, and a swimming hole in the adjacent Rock Creek has all summer brought joy and happiness to the boy members of the Camp.

One of the prime favorites at Camp
Good Will has been Maud, a little donkey presented to the children by Colonel Biddle, one of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia.

Maud Not a Kicker.

"Maud ain't like that fightin' and kickin' mule in the picture paper," said one little fellow, whose former pallid cheeks were beginning to take on a tinge of healthful peach-blush red.
"She is a nice donkey, she is, an' plays with us fellows just like she was another feller. She's got sense, too, an' she likes to play with the girls, an' she won't hurt them, either. I wish I could take Maud home with me when I go."

Other hangers-on at this camp are the bunnies, the chickens and the Moo cows. The barnyard at Camp Good
Will is not its least interesting feature.
One fine cow was donated through Colonel Biddle, while two cows, known as the "doctors' herd," were purchased from a fund raised by Washington physicians, who contributed $1 each.
These, with two animals that have been loaned to the committee, give the poor children a liberal and plentiful supply of fresh milk. A number of hens were also donated, and from their eggs have been raised broods of chickens, giving the children employment and useful instruction. A horse was donated, and a coal merchant loaned a wagon for the summer. Farm utensils were donated by a church. If there is any scheme worthy of gifts or assistance, is it not such a one as this?

Smiling and Happy Little Faces.

The camp overlooks the picturesque gorge of Rock Creek Park, and the air is always pure and fresh. But best of all are the happy smiles of contentment of the little children who may have never before known such happiness.

"This is awful nice," said a little fellow who has been a cripple since infancy. "I wish I could always live out here with the birds and flowers and Maud."

For rainy days an old Maryland barn served as a splendid play house.
In this, Sunday services were held and sometimes during the week amateur theatricals were given for the amusement of the little campers. An ample water supply reaches the camp through a pipe laid by the direction of the Washington city government.

Not Used to Nature.

It was related that some of the children are awed by "the big dark," as they term it, and the intense stillness during their first night or two in camp, when the silence is only broken by the occasional cry of a night bird and the chirping of crickets. The contrast between the noises of the night in town and the stillness of the after daylight hours in the country is so great that it is awesome at first, but soon wears away, and the children grow to appreciate the quietness and balm of nature in the suburban night.

The dining tent afforded room for all with its long tables and benches, spotlessly clean. With the ringing of the first bell for the frugal evening meal, they stopped play and washed their hands and faces. With the second bell, they formed in line and marched to their places at the table, where, standing, they repeated in unison this patriotic grace:

For peace and for plenty,
For freedom and for rest,
For joy in the land,
From the east to the west.

For the dear starry flag,
With its red, white, and blue,
We thank Thee from hearts
That are tender and true.

Then the little folk sat down and a great clattering followed as they did justice to the plentiful supper that was spread before them.

Plain Wholesome Food.

The bill of fare on a day when the camp was visited was as follows:

Breakfast—Real milk, oatmeal or hominy grits, fried potatoes, bread and butter and either hush, eggs or sausage.

Dinner—Corned or roast beef, variety of vegetables, principally from the camp garden, milk, bread and butter.

Supper—Milk, bread, butter, cold meat, cake and cooked fruit.

Several special treats of ice cream and other goodies have been sent by merchants and others in Washington.

An instructive feature of the camp life consisted in tri-weekly rambles over meadows and through woods under a kind naturalist who explained to the children in simple language the wonders and mysteries of nature.

A Washington lady had a class of 15 girls at the camp who were instructed in kitchen garden lessons.

One Washington physician, who is a subscriber to the camp fund, says of this work for the poor children of Washington:

"This is the most practical life-saving institution ever started by Washington charity."

Very Easy Money.

"This is a great country, Mary Ann. We will prosper finely, I don't doubt."

"And what makes you think so, Pat?"
"Sure, Oi've just learned that yez can buy a five dollar money order for three cents, and Oi'm told that wan of Uncle Sam's money orders is as good

The Red Stones

Rowland Harvey was a gentleman by profession with refined tastes in horse flesh, old wines and big game shooting. These being expensive things and his worldly possessions amounting, in American money, to some fifteen dollars odd, the clothes on his back and a file of unpaid bills, he looked upon the world with a somewhat cynical eye at the time of which this small adventure is written.

Mr. Harvey was lank, muscular and bronzed, with a handsome mustache, splendid health and a somewhat shiny suit of clothes.

He was contemplating a new start in life, and not wishing to be trammelled with the possession of unnecessary property, had determined to dispose of his present cash holdings and start square. With fifteen dollars he could spend at least one enjoyable evening, living on the fat of the land and feasting on a rare dish or two of which he had learned in foreign travels—for good clothes he cared nothing. Careless of appearance, he had, however, been a man of some parts, and he felt that his entertainment would be incomplete if a mental diet was not included in his bill of fare; so it was to that end, on a drizzly Thursday evening, close onto seven o'clock, that he strolled into a second-hand book store and idly scanned some tattered volumes of old tales. Most of them were trash, but at last he found one which suited his bizzarre fancy—a quaint little volume bound in brown seant memories of the classics.

"Hang it all," he exclaimed aloud. "I can't make head nor tail of it." A touch on the arm aroused him.

A little, ferrity sort of man, seated at the next table, leaned across toward him.

"Excuse me," he said, "but you are puzzling over Greek; can I be of any service? I—er—in fact, I used to be a teacher of the language."

A Startling Translation.

"The deuce you did," said Harvey. "Good. Give me a hand and I shall be awfully obliged."

"With pleasure," said the other, seating himself at Harvey's table. The latter pushed the paper across to the newcomer, tearing off, however, the bottom portion containing the diagram.

"This—er—is a most extraordinary document," said the little man. "It is, pardon me, a jest of some sort, or may I ask how you secured it?" There was latent suspicion in the tone. Harvey glanced up sharply, and returned a vague and evasive answer.

"It seems to be," said the small man, "in the nature of a—er—confession, a crime—jewels—precious stones—a curious document altogether. Shall I read it to you?"

"Yes," said Harvey, with concealed interest.

The little man adjusted his spectacles and began:

"I am dying. Antonio also is dead,

Brayford Grange. He forgot his dinner. He had not taken his seat two minutes before he saw Vyse's sneaking little face peering into all the carriages as he walked along the platform. Harvey swore below his breath and concealed himself behind his paper. In another minute the train was off. Arrived at his destination, Harvey procured some candles and after a desultory chat with the landlord on fishing prospects, slipped in a question about the mill house. Yes, it was still uninhabited, a ruin, half a mile or so away.

It was just eleven o'clock when Harvey, candle in hand, alighted on the mill house floor, having wrenched off a shutter. There was no sound beyond the gurgle of the water. He pulled out his diagram and the situation was now clear to him. It represented the opening mentioned and a cross set in the center of the fourth board on the left hand side admitted of no doubt as to the position of the iron bar.

He lit a second candle, crossed the floor with delicate tread, and found himself at the edge of a large square opening.

The Glean of Dark Waters.

Below, he could just catch the gleam of dark, swift water. Across the opening at a depth of some six feet ran two parallel beams, slimy and rotten with age. To get at the bar he must lower himself on to one of these. Setting the candle on the edge of the opening, he cautiously dropped down. The next second he was standing firmly, peering into the space. With a quick impulse and a feeling of disgust that he was about to be disappointed, he selected the fourth board on the left side, as directed, and attacked it with his knife. It yielded at the first touch and fell with a splash into the dark water below, disclosing to view a rusty iron bar, from which depended a thin, rotten-looking line. He caught hold of it and pulled in terror, lest it should snap in his grasp. There was weight at the end. Finally, inch by inch, he coaxed it upward and hauled it in, apparently a bundle of weeds. However, by the feel of the thing there was something in the midst of it, and with trembling fingers he disclosed a small, dripping black bundle—a bag—sodden, and nearly rotted to pieces.

Ransom for a King.

A slash of his knife laid the bag open, disclosing to view a hoard of small, gritty-looking pebbles of varying sizes—rubies—wealth untold. He picked out some of the largest and endeavored to clean them on his coat sleeve. Two needed washing before he could make anything of them, and he slipped them into his pocket. The largest of all was less begrimed, and taking it gingerly between his finger and thumb, he raised it toward the light. There he held it in blank amazement, for peering over the edge of the opening, his face twitching with excitement, was the man, Vyse, carrying in his hand with obvious fear, a cheap, nickel-plated revolver.

"Oh," said Harvey, "so you're there? How about the police?"

The little man lifted the revolver with shaking hands.

"Give 'em to me, give 'em to me, curse you, they're mine."

"You infernal little shyster," cried Harvey, "put that gun down. Put it down, I tell you, or I will wring your scraggy neck." And with a quick movement he reached upward to seize the weapon.

Vyse started in terror. The next instant there was a flash and a report and the bullet scored Harvey's forehead. He struck with his other hand, but lost his balance, slipped, and fell.

Mr. Vyse shrieked with fright and lay grovelling on the floor, as Harvey sank into the water with a dull splash. The bag of jewels, already open, followed him, emitting a tinkling sound, as one by one the famous Raymond rubies sank toward the soft, black ooze of the river bed.

When he recovered his senses, a matter of probably some five seconds, Harvey was swimming mechanically in the calm back-water with the mill house behind him. He still held the big ruby tightly pressed between his first and second fingers.

Glancing about him, he struck out for the nearest bank, and then began to swear vehemently. His arm hurt him for one thing and he yearned for the blood of Vyse with a most unholly longing. His hand instinctively sought his pocket with the idea of finding a handkerchief to wipe the water from his face. He did not find it, but instead he found the two other large rubies which he had placed there not five minutes before. Then he stopped swearing and began to laugh. After all, three immense rubies were not so bad. They would bring him a figure well into the thousands, a very good night's work—further his keen sense of humor conjured up a vivid picture of a little, ferrity man, running, terror stricken, through the dark night, quivering with a guilty remorse for a murder which he had never intended and never committed.—London Mail.

Pointed Paragraphs

From the Chicago Chronicle.

Most of the serious slips occur after the cup has been to the lip.

Some people never realize that they are wrong until they are found out.

Our idea of a pleasant conversationalist is one who knows how to make a long story short.

It is easier to make a new quarrel than it is to patch up an old one.

Many a man who thinks he thinks has a wife who does most of his thinking.

The self-made man will be a good thing—if he ever gets himself finished. It is always difficult to separate the man who claims to have a soul above mere gain from a little of his money.

What a delightful world this would be to live in if our neighbors knew half as well as we do what is good for them.

To Be Married in October.

"But do you really love me just as I am?"

"Just as you are, dear. There is not a thing about you that I would change except your name."

IN UPPER CURRENTS.

MAN'S SUCCESSFUL ATTEMPTS TO INVADE THE REALM OF BIRDS.

Balloons Have Carried Daring Aeronaughts Higher than Loftiest Mountains.—High Air Currents Blow Two Hundred Miles an Hour.

The recent sensational balloon flights of Roy Knabenshue in New York City at which half of the street population of the town was either on the roof tops, hanging out of windows, or racing up and down the streets in trolley cars, automobiles, cabs and afoot, in an endeavor to keep in sight of the air machine sailing majestically over the city, invites some attention to the high places of the earth and the success attained by men thus far in penetrating into and ascending above the clouds. Mr. Knabenshue's performance was conducted on a plane of only 1,000 or 1,500 feet. He sailed around over the gigantic New York office buildings at a distance only two or three times their height. Had he attempted to circle the Eiffel Tower in Paris instead of the Flat Iron Building in New York he would have had to go higher or endanger his car.

ROY KNABENSCHUE NAVIGATING OVER NEW YORK.

The balloon, however, has ascended into the sky as high as it has been possible for man to exist. In 1901, M. Berson went up to the record height of 35,000 feet—almost seven miles—and nearly 3,000 feet above the region of the highest clouds. The following year a balloon from Strasburg Observatory reached a height of 73,000 feet. This balloon was, of course, unoccupied.

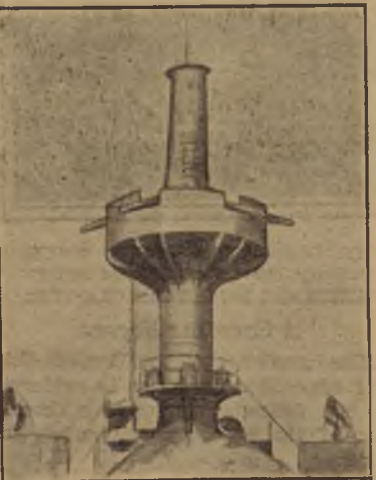

Of things more substantial than balloon ascensions, the Eiffel Tower which rises 984 feet is the highest building in the world. Mount Everest rises 28,995 feet, the loftiest peak on earth. Its summit has never and probably never will be reached by man unless in an airship. Dr. Workman, of Worcester, Mass., holds the highest record for mountain climbing which is 23,993 feet. His wife is a close competitor and has the woman's mountain climbing record for 21,910 feet.

Something was learned of the upper air currents at the time of the vast volcanic disturbances in the Island of Krakatoa in the East Indies, a seismic disturbance to which the recent Mont Pelee eruption was a slight ebullition. With the final bursting of the mountain, hundreds of thousands of tons of impalpable ashes were discharged hourly into the heavens, rising to a height of probably 20 miles, where the mass took on a dull reddish hue. Through this phenomenon science discovered that at that height a vast wind constantly rages at the rate of 200 miles an hour. This fierce air current swept the ashes of Krakatoa entirely around the globe.

PRACTICE OF THE BLACK ART.

Change in the Navy as a Result of Japan's Sea Victory.

There is no teacher to compare with experience and the wise man profits by the experience of others. Uncle Sam has applied to his own war fleet one of the lessons of the Japanese naval battles. Heretofore what are known as the fighting tops of battle ships have been supplied with small caliber quick firing machine guns, the idea being when vessels came together to sweep the enemy's deck of every living thing. But it has been found that one or the other ship either goes to the bottom or is placed 'hors de combat' before they get close enough to allow the little guns to do serious execution. Therefore those little war devils are being removed and range-finders installed in their place. For the protection of the vessel from torpedo boat attacks, reliance will be placed on the small guns mounted on deck.

FIGHTING-TOP OF DESTROYED RUSSIAN BATTLESHIP "PERES-VIET."

The range-finder in the tops will tell the crews of the big guns below how to aim. And this is certainly one of the most marvelous and eerie things of modern warfare—that a gun and its crew can be entirely out of sight of the obstacle at which they train their guns and can be mathematically instructed how to hit that object. Such is truly a practice of the black art. Japan followed it and the accuracy of Togo's gunners was one of the startling things about that terrible battle in the Straits of Korea.

COFFEE

DOES

HURT

Make the trial yourself—leave off Coffee 10 days and use

POSTUM

FOOD COFFEE

in its place.

That's the only way to find out.

Postum is a sure rebuilders and when you cut out the coffee and use Postum instead, you get a taste of health, for the aches and ails begin to leave. You may THINK you know, but you don't until after the trial. Remember

"There's a Reason."

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

THE RACYCLE SPROCKETS

Like No. 2 Grindstone are Hung Between the Bearings

No. 1 (Bicycles) No. 2 (The Racycle)

Which Stone will Turn Easier?

The Racycle Rides Further with one-quarter less work

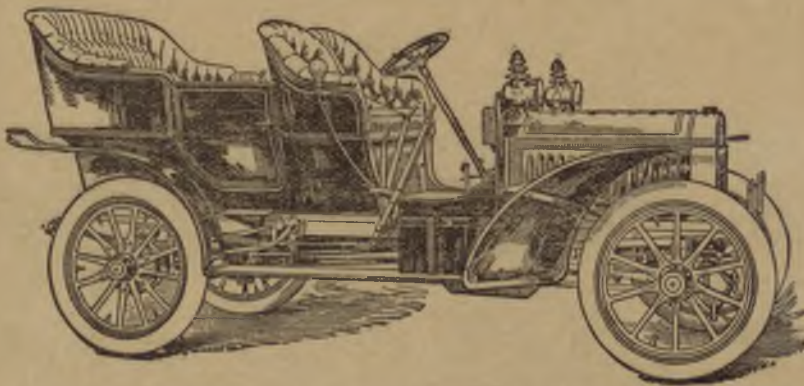

MIAMI CYCLE & MFG. CO.
MIDDLETOWN, OHIO.

OLDS MOBILES for 1905

THE CAR THAT GOES

Highest Workmanship.

Lowest Prices.

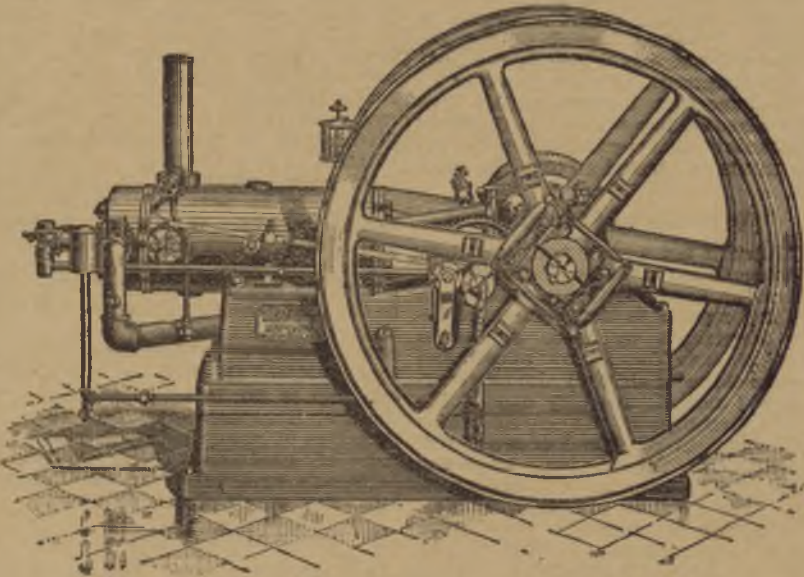

Cars for Immediate Delivery.

Olds Motor Works
DETROIT, MICH.

International Harvester Co. GASOLINE ENGINES

When equipped with an I. H. C. gasoline engine, the farm, the dairy, the mill, the threshing machine, or the husker and shredder can be operated more economically than with any other power. Farmers who have water to pump, wood to saw, feed to grind or corn to shell, can do this work at a minimum cost with I. H. C. engines.

I. H. C. HORIZONTAL ENGINE

I. H. C. gasoline engines are made in the following sizes: 2, 3 and 5 H. P., vertical type, stationary; 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, stationary; and 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, portable.

WRITE FOR GASOLINE ENGINE BOOKLET.

International Harvester Co. of America

(Incorporated)

7 Monroe Street

Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.

"BELOW HE COULD JUST CATCH THE GLEAM OF DARK, SWIFT WATER."

leather with the date, 1905. It was dedicated to the "Most high and puissant, the Marquis de Noailles," and purported to be the private memoirs of a period when to keep a diary was an indiscretion.

It was too early to dine—as he intended to dine—so he turned into a neighboring cafe, ordered a glass of absinthe and began to inspect his purchase.

It proved interesting and not a little scandalous; and, heedless of the passage of time, he had read maybe twenty pages, when a slip of paper detached itself and fell to the floor.

The Puzzling Diagram.

He picked it up and glanced at it, a half sheet of modern note paper covered with writing in modern Greek. At the bottom was a diagram. With casual interest, Harvey began stumbling through it, picking out a word here and a sentence there by the aid of his almost forgotten school-boy education.

Suddenly he sat up and rubbed his eyes, for in the midst of the Greek he had come across some scattered English words. One was Raymond, another was Brayford Grange, and then there was some mixed Greek and English reference to a mill house.

His interest was now thoroughly aroused, for, as he was well aware, these names were connected with the tale of a famous jewel robbery of the '90's, a crime with which the whole country had rung at the time, and for which an innocent man came near losing his life.

In the summer of 1899, to be precise, an eccentric old gentleman had taken Brayford Grange on the Thames. Among other hobbies he had a mania for jewels which he kept unmounted in trays in a safe. The Raymond rubies were world-famous. Late one night the safe was rifled and the old man brutally murdered.

The crime was the sensation of the day. The Scotland Yard people recovered the greater portion of the stolen property, but the rubies, the most famous of all the jewels, were never found, nor were the perpetrators of the crime captured. After a nine days' wonder, public interest subsided, and nothing had been heard since of jewels or murderers.

Harvey scanned the paper with redoubled care. He remembered that the crime was said to be the handiwork of a foreigner, but the crabbed modern Greek was too much for his for I killed him. The red stones are safely hidden. Go and fetch them and sell them to Massena, the Jew. It was Antonio who killed the old Englishman, Raymond, against my wish. Many of the jewels have been taken from us through Antonio's folly, and are past recovery, but the red stones are safe. Go to the old millhouse at the end of Brayford Grange, by the river, and there you shall find them if you follow these instructions.

"On the lowest floor of the millhouse is an opening. Down this descend, using caution. The stones are in a bag of soft leather, inside of a canvas bag, to which is a cord of strong silk and this is attached to a bar of iron, the whereabouts of which you will find plainly by the diagram. The water is of great depth. I die at the hand of Antonio's brother, who thought to discover this hiding place. To you alone I leave the secret."

There was no signature, no hint as to the writer's identity.

The little man looked up. His face was pale and his eyes spoke greed.

"And the diagram," he said, speaking quickly in his excitement.

"Ah, yes, the diagram," said Harvey, "there must have been one."

"There was! You tore it off as sure as my name is Mr. Vyse."

"Well, then, Mr. Vyse," retorted Harvey, coolly, "what then? It was mine to tear and that paper is my property."

"I am a poor man," the other retorted. "I have been poor all my life and this paper—do you think—"

"I don't think at all," said Harvey, curtly, "I know one thing and that is that I wish you a very good evening."

"Wait," said Vyse. "You have forgotten one thing. Raymond—ah, yes, I recall the case well. Raymond died without friend or relative and his property reverted to the Crown. There would be a reward offered for such information as I could give the police," he said, spitefully.

A Dangerous Bluff.

"You venomous little beast, you sneaking humbug. Polite! Oh, yes, I know all about treasure trove and the law and all that sort of thing. If you'd been decent, I'd have shared a bit with you for your pains. But blackmailing don't go with me. Call all the police in London if you want and you will get locked up for a lunatic." And he strolled out of the cafe.

Harvey caught the late train for

New Farm Plants

Work of the United States Department of Agriculture.

GUY ELLIOTT MITCHELL.

A feature of the work of the Department of Agriculture which holds out enormous promise is the work of foreign agricultural exploration and the introduction of new and rare seeds and plants.

American agriculture is a comparatively new thing. Our climatic and soil conditions are largely different from those of old countries whence our fathers came, and the bulk of our agricultural products have been introduced from abroad. Because our traditions did it before us, is a sufficient excuse for the majority of men to go ahead planting and cultivating in the same old way. But as a matter of fact the original producers of any of our common crops, a hundred or two hundred years ago, may have started wrong or have started in some particular locality with some particular crop not very well adapted to that section. For two hundred years our ancestors may have been making a living by growing that crop, and yet it may be that in some section of France, or perhaps Turkestan, where the soil and climate exactly corresponds, a particular plant is being grown to-day which is far superior as a money producer.

This is not a mere theory, for every little while some agricultural explorer of the Department sends in a new species, or perhaps merely a new variety of some common grain, for instance, which upon trial proves to be a much heavier and better yielding than the kind that our farmers have been growing since the Indians occupied the land.

Secretary Wilson takes much stock in his agricultural explorers, and he has some energetic young men who are both botanists and linguists and have become almost as familiar with the agricultural productions of some little known and difficult to reach corners of the globe as they are with the farms of the United States. The writer is indebted to David G. Fairchild for an intensely interesting talk on foreign have in mind, because we have only a very small supply of the new seed for test, and not enough this year for distribution, but our agents have tried it in various states, and in every instance I think, where the experiment was intelligently made, the yield of the new variety was very much larger."

The Dates of Persia.

Mr. Fairchild has made plant explorations through many of the most interesting countries of the globe—Peru, where the Incas once practiced agriculture and irrigation on a splendid scale; Chili, a temperate country, where many plants were found suitable for our conditions; China, India, Chaldea, and numerous others. At the last place, near Bagdad, are found the immense date groves of the land of Babylon, where are produced probably three-fourths of all the dates of commerce. These vast date forests extend for a distance of seventy miles up and down the Tigris. Many fine date suckers were obtained by Mr. Fairchild and shipped to the United States, and are now growing in Arizona, and some day the great Colorado river of our Southwest, where the conditions are exactly favorable for date growing, may not only produce all the dates which America uses, but export this wholesome fruit. Dates picked, packed and shipped by American methods will bring a higher price than the imported products, which, if the history of their packing were known, might not be eaten with such avidity by the fastidious. The saccharine of the date itself cures or candies the fruit, and some of the trees which have already fruited in Arizona and California have yielded very fancy and fine dates. For a long time to come, all of the dates produced in the United States will come from the Tigris and North African trees, imported through the department, and their progeny—date suckers—will command fancy prices.

third of the United States. Herein lies the importance of this work. The finding of Japanese bamboo was no discovery; the importance lies in finding that they will thrive in our climate. Not only are they the most ornamental plant in the world, but they are probably the most useful wood in Japan, not only for the making of fancy furniture and knick-knacks, but for almost every use. "Tell me what you can use wood for," said Mr. Fairchild, "and I will tell you what use the Japanese can make of bamboo."

Better Than the Congressional Free Seed Farce.

Dozens of other extremely interesting and promising plants were found, quantities purchased and sent home for tests. The number of these discoveries and introductions is so great, and such an exhaustive test is in each case made by the Department before anything is recommended for introduction, that it is practically useless for farmers or fruit growers to write the Department for samples of the strange and interesting things which its agricultural explorers have secured, and which are described from time to time in the magazines. Until any product has been tested and is determined to be practicable for growth in the United States, it is not possible to secure any seeds or specimens. In fact, the Department has none. Those that are sent in are immediately distributed among the Government experiment stations and to a few practical growers who are especially able to properly attend to the experiments under the direction of the Department. However, the possibilities of these tests are very great, and Congress would be well warranted in diverting some of the immense annual appropriation for "free seeds" into this channel of introducing to American farmers something which may prove of real and national benefit.

No Resignation for Secretary Wilson.

There are many good and sufficient reasons why Secretary Wilson whom the sensationalists have indirectly if not directly held accountable for the cotton scandal in his Department, will not resign. Whether or not Mr. Wilson is even indirectly responsible for the criminal doings of trusted employees, he is the man directly responsible for a most wonderful development and evolution in the Department of Agriculture. And a man who can revolutionize agriculture in an agricultural nation in a space of eight years and with all win the confidence of the farmers generally can not be spared.

JAMES WILSON, SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE.

Perhaps the most striking characteristic of the late President McKinley was his sound judgment of men and his ability to surround himself with the ablest counsellors obtainable. We owe to this keenness in recognizing unusual ability the introduction into the Cabinet of Secretary Hay of the State Department, Secretary Root of the War Department, Secretary Taft as Governor of the Philippines and later Secretary of War, and Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture. All of these won marked success. Mr. Hay became our foremost diplomat, if not the world's; Mr. Root carried the burden of a war upon his shoulders and at the same time reorganized his great Department and the army; and Judge Taft's administration in the Philippines was so able and successful that it brought him a place in President Roosevelt's Cabinet. With Mr. Root he is now talked of for President, and if not that, a place on the Supreme Bench.

But of services rendered the country looking to its internal development, that of Mr. Wilson in the great and surpassing domain of agriculture has never been equalled. He came to the Cabinet both a practical farmer and a trained scientist. From the tail end of the Cabinet Departments he has raised the Ministry of Agriculture to a conspicuous position, outshining several of the other Departments, and American agriculture has come to have a new and greater world meaning because of his active constructiveness and never flagging energy.

Secretary Wilson is rendering the American farmer a notable service and he has won the confidence of the people to a great degree as is evidenced by the many tributes paid him since the recent trouble in his Department. Rather than being censurable for the "graft" discovered, it is to Secretary Wilson's high credit that so little of this sort of thing has occurred. It is impossible to build up such an immense organization as is the present Department of Agriculture without some evil creeping in and without some designing individuals getting onto the pay rolls for the purpose of private gain other than their salaries.

Secretary Wilson will not resign to meet the demands of a few sensation mongers, simply because the country which is benefitting so largely through his splendid work will not hear of it any more than they would agree to Secretary Taft's resignation following the disgrace of every army officer, or to President Roosevelt's retirement every time that one of his appointments turns out badly.

SOME AFTER THOUGHTS.

District Attorney Jerome, of New York, says he is a man of peace. He is putting up a pretty good fight, though, on the New York grafters.

Scientists are debating how long a man can live under certain conditions after his neck has been broken. Among the politicians there are a good many with necks intact who have been dead ones for some time.

In deciding a divorce suit, a Cincinnati judge has stated that "a man is entitled to some supper, and a hot supper at that, when he gets home." The evidence shows that this man got a great many hot roasts upon his return home, but not of the kind that he could eat.

"Why would you not get married in August?" asks Nikola-Groely Smith, in writing recently of summer weddings. The reason a good many of us would not is due to a disinclination to violate the law against bigamy.

Prices in Nebraska and Missouri are quite uniform. A Nebraska man claims to have killed six anti-trust bills in the state legislature for $5,000. That's what they charge in Missouri, $1,000 a piece—dozen rates, $10,000.

A Hawaiian woman bore seven children at once. Photograph has been forwarded to the White House.

There are a great many tall bank cashiers who are so short at the banks that they have had to go abroad on health trips.

A London scientist has cabled the yellow fever authorities that he has something good for mosquitoes. What is wanted is something extremely hot—which will make them very sick at the stomach.

At what time shall a man retire from active life? asks the "Boston Globe." What particular kind? Automobile dodging or defending himself from insurance agents?

"Non possumus" simply means "nothing doing."

Chairman Shonts says they "are working on the Canal with loyalty and zeal." The bids have been opened, however, for dredges and steam shovels.

NO OTHER WAGONS APPROACH

In Perfect Adaptability Under all Conditions to

The Strong Old Hickory

MANUFACTURED BY

Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Co.
LOUISVILLE, KY.

LARGEST PRODUCERS OF FARM WAGONS IN THE WORLD

Mason & Hamlin

PIANOS AND ORGANS
STANDARD OF THE WORLD

Foster's Ideal Cribs

Accident Proof

A Quarter of a Century of unflinching service

proves the
ABSOLUTE RELIABILITY
of the

Remington TYPEWRITER

WYCKOFF, SEAMANS & BENEDICT
317 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

Kirk's AMERICAN GROWN SOAP

Is a "green" soap, consistency of "paste," perfect cleanser for automobile machinery and all vehicles; will not injure the most highly polished surface. Made from pure vegetable oils. If your dealer does not carry AMERICAN GROWN SOAP in stock, send us his name and address and we will see that your wants are supplied. Put up in 12½, 25 and 50 lb. pails.

JAMES S. KIRK & COMPANY
CHICAGO, ILL.

PENSIONS.

Over one Million Dollars allowed our clients during the last six years.

Over one Thousand claims allowed through us during the last six months. Disability, Age and Increase pensions obtained in the shortest possible time. Widows' claims a specialty. Usually granted within 90 days if placed with us immediately on soldier's death. Fees fixed by law and payable out of allowed pension. A successful experience of 25 years and benefit of daily calls at Pension Bureau are at your service. Highest references furnished. Local Magistrates pecuniarily benefited by sending us claims.

TABER & WHITMAN CO.,
Warder Bld'g, Washington, D. C.

THE IMPROVED BOSTON GARTER

Faultless in Construction, Self-adjusting, Always Easy.

Our new Velveteen Grip

Cushioned Clasp Button holds the Stocking Securely. No Slipping, Tearing or Unfastening in use.

Be Sure You Get the Genuine

Of your Dealer or sample pair, by mail: GEORGE BOSTON CO., Cotton 254, BOSTON, MASS. Silk 301

VIEWS TAKEN BY AGRICULTURAL EXPLORER FAIRCHILD, SHOWING THE IRRIGATION OF A DATE GROVE; A NATIVE ARAB POLLENATING A DATE TREE; DATE SUCKERS BAGGED READY FOR SHIPMENT TO WASHINGTON, AND CAMELS BROWSING IN A FIELD OF BEERSEEM OR EGYPTIAN CLOVER.

plants. Mr. Fairchild speaks five or six different languages and knows pretty nearly every plant that grows. He is one of Secretary Wilson's "bright young men," and he has organized and is in charge of the section of Plant and Seed Production, at present a modest branch of the Department, but one which is destined, in my judgment, to become one of its most important bureaus. This division already has some ten thousand plants new to America, which are being grown and tested all over the country.

New Plants of Promise.

"There is not a state nor a territory in the country," said Mr. Fairchild, "in which the crops, staple and subsidiary, are not capable in many cases of being supplanted by more successful ones. I have found new plants and new varieties of old ones almost everywhere I turned, in every one of the grand divisions of the earth, which somewhere in our own country will constitute an improvement upon the crops our farmers are already growing. Our farmers are growing perhaps barley or wheat or some other staple crop and are making money from it, and are satisfied, yet it may be that there is a variety or a strain more exactly adapted to their conditions of soil and climate which will yield them several bushels more per acre with the same labor. I could mention varieties of several staple crops which, upon the tests made in this country during the past year or two, have shown a very large increase over the ordinary yield of those crops. I will not name the kind of grain I

Seedless Grapes, Malting Barley and Luxuriant Hops.

On a tour of investigation through Europe, Mr. Fairchild secured many important fruits and vegetables. The Sultanina seedless grape was sent in from Italy. The Huasco seedless raisin grape was another find. The best malting barley in the world was found growing at an old town in Moravia. Introduced under the name of Hanna barley, it has already proved of value to those regions where it has been grown, especially on the Pacific coast. It is not only earlier, but heavier yielding than other barleys; and if it is found that it can be generally substituted for the barleys now grown, its increased yield of from one to two and a half bushels per acre will add enormously to the aggregate output. A study of the hop regions of Europe disclosed the fact that the American hop is far inferior in quality to the best European varieties. The importation of young plants for the purpose of producing better American hops was undertaken by the Department as a result of this discovery.

Bamboo Will Thrive in U. S.

The Jordan almond, the finest variety in the world, was found growing in Spain, and at once recognized as far superior to the almonds produced in the United States, so a supply was immediately secured and shipped. A discovery which Mr. Fairchild thinks of great importance are the hardy bamboos of Japan. These are now being tested in California and the Southern States. Mr. Fairchild thinks they will thrive throughout the southern

A Peculiar Horse.

The excellence of the English Colonial educational systems is evidenced by the following interesting description of the horse by a Bombay student:

"The horse is a very noble quadruped, but when he is angry he will not do so. He is ridden on the spinal cord by the bridle and sadly the driver places his foot on the stirrup, and divides his lower limbs across the saddle, and drives his animal to the meadow. He has a long mouth, and his head is attached to the trunk by a long protuberance called the neck. He has four legs; two are in the front side and two are afterwards. These are the weapons on which he runs, and also defends himself by extending those in the rear in a parallel direction toward his foe, but this he does only when in a vexatious mood. His fooding is generally grasses and grains. He is also useful to take on his back a man or woman as well as some cargo. He has power to run as fast as he could. He has got no sleep at night time, and always standing awoken. Also there are horses of short sizes. They do the same as the others are generally doing. There is no animal like the horse; no sooner they see their guardian or master they always crying for fooding, but it is always at the morning time. They have got tall, but not so long as the cow and other such like similar animals."

The Missoula Nursery

Producers of Northern grown acclimated trees and the best varieties for planting in Northern States.

Every Variety of STANDARD FRUIT

Thoroughly tested, Apples, Pears, Plums, Cherries and Trees Ornamental, Small Fruit Plants, Shrubs, Vines and Roses.

THE EVERBEARING STRAWBERRY

A SPECIALTY OF
FLOWERING PLANTS AND SHRUBS

Cut Flowers and Floral Designs. Also Vegetable Plants shipped by express. Catalogue and Price List Free. Mail orders have prompt attention.

MISSOULA NURSERY CO.
MISSOULA, MONTANA.

'Slaet!

"It's the Talk of the Town!"

That Fall Has Arrived,

But that's nothing. We have been here all the time with the largest and best stock of GROCERIES in town. Of course you are aware of the fact, but we just wanted to jog your memory. Canned goods, this year's growth, are coming in. Bear this in mind, too.

We Want Your Patronage.

Our goods and prices will get it.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months..... 50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Miss Lois Porter, of Coleman, is a student in the Columbiana schools again this year.

G. E. Abbott, of Shelby, was in town Monday and honored The Sentinel with a call.

Edgar Cary and his sister, of Keosauqua, were in the city Sunday and Monday visiting friends.

Mrs. T. P. Roberts, who visited relatives here last week, has returned to her home in Oxford.

A number of new cottages are being built, and we hear of several more to be built in the near future.

Misses Zenma and Clara Pitts left Wednesday for Rome, where they will attend Shorter College again this year.

The brick is being placed on the ground for the new court house, and the laying of the foundation is to begin at once.

Dr. W. S. DuBose, who has been visiting his son in Monroeville for the past several weeks, returned to Columbiana last Friday.

G. W. Davis, of Shelby, was a pleasant caller last Friday. He ordered The Sentinel sent to his address for the next year.

Messers, Thompson & Riddle are now ready to serve the public at their new store. Their stock of goods is now throughout.

Notice the new advertisement of the Shield Brand Clothing in this issue. These goods are handled by Averyt & Averyt at Shelby, R. G. Weldon Co. at Wilsonville.

Miss Ora Scott, of Leeds, who was a student in the Columbiana schools last session, is again a student. She is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mason.

W. H. Reneau, of near Maylene, was in the city last Friday to make arrangements for the entry of his son Robert into the Columbiana schools. The Sentinel acknowledged a very pleasant call from Mr. Reneau and his son. For the present the young man is stopping at the home of Judge McMillan.

The columns of The Sentinel are crowded for space because of the fall advertising coming in. However, in about two weeks we will begin printing The Sentinel all at home, and we hope our readers will bear with us until that time, when we hope to make The Sentinel a better local paper than ever.

In this issue will be found an advertisement of the State Fair. It will be held in Birmingham from October 23, to November 2, and it promises to be the greatest State Fair ever held in Alabama. You should make your arrangements to take in the Fair for several days, and see what that kind of an institution is as an advertiser. The whole fair will be benefitted by the Fair.

Jno. J. Haynes and the editor of The Sentinel spent last Thursday in Montevallo. It was opening day of the Girls' Industrial School, and about 250 girls were enrolled that day. The yellow fever quarantine caught two or three of the teachers and they would probably not reach Montevallo till several days later. It was Mr. Haynes' first trip to Montevallo and he was very much taken with that pretty town.

Columbiana Schools Open.

The Columbiana Graded Schools opened last Monday morning under the most auspicious circumstances, and the seats were filled with children, and young women and young men, each apparently determined to get all possible out of the present school year.

Quite a number of townspeople were present, but not as many as they should have been. Short talks were made by Judge McMillan, Judge Longshore, Mayor Browne, J. O. Dorrough, W. W. Wallace and Professor Dowell. We would that all could have heard the talk made by Professor Dowell—as he spoke of the hopes, the expectations, the desires of himself and co-workers for the coming session. It was his desire that each pupil should get all possible out of the work which was to be done this year, and it could only be done by the co-operation of pupils, teachers and patrons.

The Sentinel wants to impress upon the parents that they occasionally visit the schools—it will encourage, not only the children, but will be a great help to the teachers. The schools are in the hands of competent, earnest people, and an occasional visit from the parents will aid them a great deal. Impress it upon your memory and go.

Rumor of a New Train.

There is a rumor that the Southern train known as the "Dude" and which has been running to Childersburg from the north and there turning around, is soon to be run to Wilton Junction and connect with the midnight train out of Birmingham for Mobile. This train would be of great convenience to people between Childersburg and Wilton, and The Sentinel hopes there is something to the rumor.

Beautiful Women.

Plump cheeks flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all woman beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent constipation and helps digest what you have eaten. Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Mid-othian, Tex., writes, May 31, 1901: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria. Sold by Williams Bros."

Tours to Colorado and California.

On numerous dates, May to October, 1901, excursion rates are in effect to Colorado, California and the Pacific Northwest. By specifying "Rock Island" west of Chicago, you secure the most for your money in the way of sight-seeing and side trips to take. Stop in Colorado, take in the Rocky Mountain resorts, visit Yellowstone Park, then to Portland Exposition. Return via California. Full information from John Steinman, Passenger Traffic Manager, Rock Island system Chicago.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to express our thanks and appreciation to the people of Shelby and community who so faithfully assisted us to administer to the wants of our beloved Winnie during her fatal illness. Their devotion to her will ever be with us as a sweet memory.

May the God of mercy bless and protect them, and in a similar hour, may they have as kind and loving friends as we did during our sad affliction.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Abbott and Family.

Sprains.

S. A. Read, Cisco, Tex., writes, March 11, 1901: My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains. Sold by Williams Bros.

Strayed or Stolen.

From my farm near Brierfield Ala. One large brindle hound dog, with a faint stripe down his nose, two white feet in front, with white toes on hind feet. The white on left fore leg extends up the leg farther than on the right one. He left on Aug. 23rd, 1905.

Any information or return of the dog will be suitably rewarded. J. R. SMITH, Jr. Fox 632, Birmingham Ala.

Death in Shelby Co. Division.

Dr. G. H. Smith, of Saginaw, Shelby Co., Ala., one among the most prominent physicians in this county—a pure christian gentleman and a good citizen—died Sept. 2, 1905, of typhoid fever.

To the policy holders: you should respond cheerfully and promptly to the assessment and continue the protection for your loved ones.

The widow and five children, one of whom is an invalid, will be greatly benefitted by the prompt payment of the death claim of more than $700. It only cost him $1.15 to leave his loved ones the above amount.

T. A. Leathers.

Division Agent of the Mutual Life E. A. of Ga.

Those who desire this home cheap, safe insurance should make application without delay before Division is full.

The Pacific Coast.

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round, where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where with a minimum of labor you can grow profitable crops, where business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment? Both health and opportunity await you on the Pacific Coast.

Special low rates via the Chicago, Union Pacific & North-Western Line, 50¢ cents in stamps to W. B. Kniskern, P. T. M. C. & N. W. Ry., Chicago, for booklet and full information.

THE GREATEST FAIR IN THE SOUTH:

ALABAMA STATE FAIR

AT BIRMINGHAM,

OCTOBER 23—NOVEMBER 2—TEN DAYS.

New and Complete Grounds—Fine Buildings.

Exhibit your Farm and Garden Products, Needle Work, Art, Fruits, Preserves, Etc.

LIBERAL PREMIUMS—SPECIAL PRIZES.

Show Rings for Cattle, Sheep, Hogs and Horses. Big Poultry Exhibit, Horse Show at Night. All Prizes in Cash and Guaranteed to Exhibitors. Get Ready for the Fair.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

R. M. WILLIAMS, Sec'y, Birmingham, Ala.

All The Money in California

is not from its gold fields. Fortunes are made from the wheat fields and the fruit farms. Why not investigate the chances there? T. rough train service Chicago to California, via Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line. Rate for double berth, $7 Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara or Sacramento. Tourist folder, with complete information, sent free on request, P. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, or W. S. Howell, 34 Broadway, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bird are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby boy at their home.

Neglected Colds.

Every part of the Mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy.

W. Hendrick, Valley Mills, Tex., writes: I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat trouble; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by Williams Bros.

For Sale.

One good horse cheap for cash. Works well. For particulars apply to W. A. Thompson, Columbiana, Ala.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, Probate Court, Shelby County. In the matter of the application of L. E. Christian to sell real estate for division among joint owners. The said L. E. Christian having this day filed in said court his petition for the sale of certain real estate described in his petition for division among the joint owners thereof, to-wit: L. E. Christian, W. E. Christian, non-resident who resides in Shelby County, Ala., and Miss Roscoe Christian, who resides in Shelby County, Ala., alleging that said property cannot be equitably divided among them. The 9th day of October, 1905, was appointed for the hearing thereof, and it is ordered that notice be given by publication for three successive weeks in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in said county, at which time said non-resident and all other parties interested may appear and contest the same if they see fit.

A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

H. D. LATHAM.

OSCE BIRD.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

WE ARE

Using a Sharp Knife

And cutting prices on Patent Medicines all to finders.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana, Ala.

Subscribe for and read The Sentinel.

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line

is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the

Chicago & North-Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways.

W. B. KNISKERN,

P. T. M. C. & N. W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.

Please mail free to my address, California booklet, maps and full particulars concerning rates and train service.

FILL IN THIS COUPON AND MAIL IT TO-DAY.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3.00 & $3.50 SHOES
W. L. Douglas $4.00 Gilt Edge Line cannot be equalled at any price.

W. L. Douglas makes and sells more men's $3.50 shoes than any other brand in the world.

$10,000 REWARD to anyone who can improve this statement.

W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes have by their excellent style, easy fitting, and superior wearing qualities, achieved the largest sale of any $3.50 shoe in the world. They are just as good as those that cost you $5.00 to $7.00—the only difference is the price. If I could take you into my factory at Brockton, Mass., the largest in the world under one roof making men's fine shoes, and show you the care with which every pair of Douglas shoes is made, you would realize why W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes are the best shoes produced in the world.

If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makes, you would understand why Douglas $3.50 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.50 shoe on the market to-day.

W. L. Douglas Strong Heel Shoes for Men, $3.50, $2.00, Boys' School & Dress Shoes, $2.50, $2, $1.75, $1.50

CAUTION.—Insist upon having W. L. Douglas shoes. Take no substitutes. Some genuine without his name and price stamped on bottom.

WANTED. A shoe dealer in every town where W. L. Douglas shoes are sold. Full line of samples sent free for inspection upon request. Fast Color Eyelets used; they will not wear away. Write for Illustrated Catalog of Fall Styles. W. L. DOUGLAS, Brockton, Mass.

Pollock-Stephens Institute.
Birmingham, Ala.

Select Day and Boarding School for Girls.
Opens Sept. 27th.
Catalogue on application. Address
Madame Catherine Ossohamps Elford, Principal.

Write Quick FOR A Big Bargain
To better advertise the South's Leading Business College, four scholarships are offered young persons of this country less than cost. WRITE TODAY.
GA-ALA. BUSINESS COLLEGE, Macon, Ga.

It will be interesting and an innovation if Major Higginson brings over the French composer, Vincent d'Indy, to conduct some of the Boston symphony concerts this season. The Boston orchestra has always been very conservative in the matter of star conductors, as for example in the Richard Strauss episode. D'Indy is a remarkable man, and his poetic ideas and original harmonies have stirred the musical world, though his music has no such world-wide vogue as that of Richard Strauss.

Hens Find Money.
While some hens were scratching under the Caldwell & Brill Company's elevator at Baraboo, Wis., they unearthed a bill-book containing notes, drafts and certificates to the value of $1,000. The papers are the property of the Prairie Du Sac Bank, which was robbed about two years ago. The papers were evidently placed there by the robbers.

Ancient Salt Mines.
The famous salt deposits of Petite Anse, La., are known to have been mined by the aboriginal Americans, as is testified by the stone hammers and other tools found when the deposits were rediscovered in 1814 by John Marsh.

Veteran Bicyclist.
T. W. Davis is the champion bicyclist of his age in the world. He is 77 years old and has ridden 107,781 miles on his bicycle. He began riding at the age of 61.

British Match Users.
More matches are used in Britain than in any other country in the world. It has been estimated that every Briton uses an average of eight matches per day.

The automobile has taken a strong hold in Peru. Lima is to have a service of automobile omnibuses, each designed to carry thirty passengers.

HONEST PHYSICIAN.
Works With Himself First.

It is a mistake to assume that physicians are always skeptical as to the curative properties of anything else than drugs.

Indeed, the best doctors are those who seek to heal with as little use of drugs as possible, and by the use of correct food and drink. A physician writes from Calif. to tell how he made a well man of himself with nature's remedy.

"Before I came from Europe, where I was born," he says, "it was my custom to take coffee with milk (cafe au lait) with my morning meal, a small cup (cafe noir) after my dinner and two or three additional small cups at my club during the evening.

"In time nervous symptoms developed, with pains in the cardiac region, and accompanied by great depression of spirits, despondency—in brief, 'the blues'! I at first tried medicines, but got no relief, and at last realized that all my troubles were caused by coffee. I thereupon quit its use forthwith, substituting English Breakfast Tea.

"The tea seemed to help me at first, but in time the old distressing symptoms returned, and I quit it also, and tried to use milk for my table beverage. This I was compelled, however, to abandon speedily, for while it relieved the nervousness somewhat it brought on constipation. Then by a happy inspiration I was led to try the Postum Food Coffee. This was some months ago, and I still use it. I am no longer nervous, nor do I suffer from the pains about the heart, while my 'blues' have left me and life is bright to me once more. I know that leaving off coffee and using Postum healed me, and I make it a rule to advise my patients to use it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

The Queen Bee.

The queen is a fair and stately bee, differing from the workers both in shape and color. She is longer than a honey bee by one-third, and somewhat longer than a drone, but not quite so big round.

The queen is treated with the greatest respect and affection by the bees. A circle of her offspring often surround her, testifying in various ways their dutiful regard, offering her food from time to time, and all of them politely backing out of her way, to give her a clear path when she moves over the combs. So strong is the feeling of the workers for the queen, that if for any reason she is removed, the whole colony is filled with consternation and dismay. Her death, when it is too late in the season to raise another queen, means the final extinction of the colony.

A good queen will sometimes lay from two to three thousand eggs a day, or nearly the weight of her own body, and continue doing it for weeks in succession. At the beginning of the season the queen lays eggs in the worker cells. She walks over the combs, puts her head into each open cell as she comes to it, as though to discover whether it is occupied or is in fit condition to receive an egg. I have often watched her faithfully she goes about her work, from an observatory hive, for hours.

Books in British Museums.

In the reading room of the British Museum the desks are crowded with students all day long, and in addition to the books of reference some 20,000 in number, which fill the open shelves of the room from 3,000 to 4,000 volumes are given out every day. Theology in a wide sense, including the Bible, biblical literature, church history and works on the religious rites and ceremonies of all races and creeds, is easily at the head of the list, with about 800 volumes. Topography comes next, with about twenty fewer, and of these books on London amount to a quarter, books on English topography to another quarter, the other half being for the rest of the world. History and biography come next, English history being mostly in French, and books on France and the French provinces second.

Essays, criticisms and miscellaneous literature take the fourth place, and are followed by fiction—not less than five years old—moral philosophy, poetry and the fine arts, the drama, law and philology, political economy and so on down to politics, mathematics and chemistry, which have about forty volumes apiece, and lastly works on naval and military subjects, which seldom have more than three or four volumes each. It is a curious list and throws a useful light on the sort of studies taken up by the readers in the museum.

Counterfeit Relics.

An article in a recent number of the Birmingham (England) Mail states that a factory in that town is turning out weekly about 1,200 flint-lock muskets, and that a large number of these antiquated firearms is also made at Liege, Belgium. It is known in the trade that many of these newly made weapons fall into the hands of travelers, who regard them in the light of a "find," and a story is told of a Birmingham manufacturer having received a letter from a dealer asking him to procure some old flint-locks, for which the dealer had several customers, when the manufacturers wrote that he could not supply old muskets, but was prepared to make him any number of new ones required. These were, of course, given the appearance of age. The demand for old weapons is so great, especially in the American season, that the genuine articles would go but a little way to satisfy it.

FITS permanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. 24 trial bottles and treatise free. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 331 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

The deepest cold mine in the world is at Bendigo, in Australia.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c. a bottle.

Japan is pushing the construction of railways in Korea rapidly.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of. A rough cure.—J. W. O'Brien, 322 Third Avenue, N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1903.

London and Liverpool are both at the level of the sea.

For Mosquito Bites
And the poisonous sting of all insects Sloan's Lintiment is the great antiseptic.

The Japanese Postal Savings Bank pays interest at the rate of 5-1/2 per cent.

Deaths From Drink.
The rate of mortality from drink is 123,000 per annum in the United Kingdom, or, in other words, one death in seven is partly or wholly caused by it.

DISFIGURED BY ECZEMA

Wonderful Change in a Night—In a Month Face Was Clear as Ever—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"I had eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was so disfigured I could not go out, and it was going from bad to worse. A friend recommended Cuticura. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Ointment and Resolvin I changed wonderfully. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month the treatment had removed all scales and scabs, and my face was as clear as ever. (Signed) T. J. Solh, 317 Stagg Street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

Where Diamonds Have Been Found.

United States localities that have yielded diamonds are: Shelby county, Alabama; Amador, El Dorado, Butte, Nevada, Trinity, Del Norte and Tulare counties, California; Brown and Morgan counties, Indiana; Russell county, Kentucky; Cass Co., Michigan; Clermont county, Ohio; Monroe, Roane and Union counties, Tennessee; Pierce Dae, Washington, Ozaukee, Waukesha and Racine counties, Wisconsin. A diamond of Cass county, Michigan, weighed 10 7/8 karats, and one of Waukesha county, Wisconsin, 15 1/2 karats.

West Point's Oldest Graduate.

Gen. Herman Haupt, of Washington is the oldest living graduate of West Point Military Academy, and a man distinguished in civil war military history and in railway and engineering circles. General Haupt graduated from a West Point in 1835, in the same class with General Meade. President Jackson appointed him a cadet when he was only 13 years old. He graduated when he was 18, and so probably can claim the additional distinction of having graduated younger than any other cadet.

Great Italian Actress.

Signora Duse, the great Italian actress, who has been appearing in London, has a wonderful power of facial expression. One moment she is apparently a girl of 16; at the next without any make-up she resembles an old woman of 60. She is an actress who feels her part intensely. She is reported to have said on one occasion: "If I played 'Camille' two night in succession, especially the death scene, I should die. I am sure I should die; the part is so real to me."

Ancient Counterpane.

Mrs. Lutie Whitlock, of Martin, Tenn., has in her possession an ancient and highly prized counterpane that her grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Freeman, made 116 years ago, when she was a young girl in Virginia. She carded the cotton, spun and wove the cloth, also carded and spun all the thread it is made of. It is an exceedingly handsome piece of work, containing some forty or fifty designs of the finest embroidery stitching, etc. It has been handed down and kept in perfect condition ever since it was made in 1789.

Deceiving to the Eye.

Electricity is fatal to the discernment of certain colors. Yellow and pink, two totally different colors, look strangely alike by electric light. Heliotrope is also like pink, and subtleties of shade are quite lost in it. No light shows up shades and colors like candles did, when those commodities were made of wax. It is certain that all the modern artificial illuminants mix up colors and shades inextricably, and electric light is worst of all.

First Chinese Patent.

China has just granted its first patent. This is for an electric lamp, the inventor of which is an inhabitant of Nankin, the old capital of the Chinese empire, who calls his lamp the "bright moonlight," and asserts that it is far superior to foreign glow-lights that hitherto have been sold at Shanghai and other Chinese cities.

Sample of German Nerve.

Some German papers have lately been discussing whether "Yankee Doodle" is really Yankee at all. The opinion is expressed by Herr Johann Le-walter that the tune was originally a country dance of a district of the former province of Kur-Hesse, called the "Schwalm."

Books in British Museums.

In the reading room of the British Museum the desks are crowded with students all day long, and in addition to the books of reference some 20,000 in number, which fill the open shelves of the room from 3,000 to 4,000 volumes are given out every day. Theology in a wide sense, including the Bible, biblical literature, church history and works on the religious rites and ceremonies of all races and creeds, is easily at the head of the list, with about 800 volumes. Topography comes next, with about twenty fewer, and of these books on London amount to a quarter, books on English topography to another quarter, the other half being for the rest of the world. History and biography come next, English history being mostly in French, and books on France and the French provinces second.

Counterfeit Relics.

An article in a recent number of the Birmingham (England) Mail states that a factory in that town is turning out weekly about 1,200 flint-lock muskets, and that a large number of these antiquated firearms is also made at Liege, Belgium. It is known in the trade that many of these newly made weapons fall into the hands of travelers, who regard them in the light of a "find," and a story is told of a Birmingham manufacturer having received a letter from a dealer asking him to procure some old flint-locks, for which the dealer had several customers, when the manufacturers wrote that he could not supply old muskets, but was prepared to make him any number of new ones required. These were, of course, given the appearance of age. The demand for old weapons is so great, especially in the American season, that the genuine articles would go but a little way to satisfy it.

FITS permanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. 24 trial bottles and treatise free. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 331 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

The deepest cold mine in the world is at Bendigo, in Australia.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c. a bottle.

Japan is pushing the construction of railways in Korea rapidly.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of. A rough cure.—J. W. O'Brien, 322 Third Avenue, N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1903.

London and Liverpool are both at the level of the sea.

For Mosquito Bites
And the poisonous sting of all insects Sloan's Lintiment is the great antiseptic.

The Japanese Postal Savings Bank pays interest at the rate of 5-1/2 per cent.

Deaths From Drink.
The rate of mortality from drink is 123,000 per annum in the United Kingdom, or, in other words, one death in seven is partly or wholly caused by it.

DISFIGURED BY ECZEMA

Wonderful Change in a Night—In a Month Face Was Clear as Ever—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"I had eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was so disfigured I could not go out, and it was going from bad to worse. A friend recommended Cuticura. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Ointment and Resolvin I changed wonderfully. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month the treatment had removed all scales and scabs, and my face was as clear as ever. (Signed) T. J. Solh, 317 Stagg Street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

Where Diamonds Have Been Found.

United States localities that have yielded diamonds are: Shelby county, Alabama; Amador, El Dorado, Butte, Nevada, Trinity, Del Norte and Tulare counties, California; Brown and Morgan counties, Indiana; Russell county, Kentucky; Cass Co., Michigan; Clermont county, Ohio; Monroe, Roane and Union counties, Tennessee; Pierce Dae, Washington, Ozaukee, Waukesha and Racine counties, Wisconsin. A diamond of Cass county, Michigan, weighed 10 7/8 karats, and one of Waukesha county, Wisconsin, 15 1/2 karats.

West Point's Oldest Graduate.

Gen. Herman Haupt, of Washington is the oldest living graduate of West Point Military Academy, and a man distinguished in civil war military history and in railway and engineering circles. General Haupt graduated from a West Point in 1835, in the same class with General Meade. President Jackson appointed him a cadet when he was only 13 years old. He graduated when he was 18, and so probably can claim the additional distinction of having graduated younger than any other cadet.

Great Italian Actress.

Signora Duse, the great Italian actress, who has been appearing in London, has a wonderful power of facial expression. One moment she is apparently a girl of 16; at the next without any make-up she resembles an old woman of 60. She is an actress who feels her part intensely. She is reported to have said on one occasion: "If I played 'Camille' two night in succession, especially the death scene, I should die. I am sure I should die; the part is so real to me."

Ancient Counterpane.

Mrs. Lutie Whitlock, of Martin, Tenn., has in her possession an ancient and highly prized counterpane that her grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Freeman, made 116 years ago, when she was a young girl in Virginia. She carded the cotton, spun and wove the cloth, also carded and spun all the thread it is made of. It is an exceedingly handsome piece of work, containing some forty or fifty designs of the finest embroidery stitching, etc. It has been handed down and kept in perfect condition ever since it was made in 1789.

Deceiving to the Eye.

Electricity is fatal to the discernment of certain colors. Yellow and pink, two totally different colors, look strangely alike by electric light. Heliotrope is also like pink, and subtleties of shade are quite lost in it. No light shows up shades and colors like candles did, when those commodities were made of wax. It is certain that all the modern artificial illuminants mix up colors and shades inextricably, and electric light is worst of all.

First Chinese Patent.

China has just granted its first patent. This is for an electric lamp, the inventor of which is an inhabitant of Nankin, the old capital of the Chinese empire, who calls his lamp the "bright moonlight," and asserts that it is far superior to foreign glow-lights that hitherto have been sold at Shanghai and other Chinese cities.

Sample of German Nerve.

Some German papers have lately been discussing whether "Yankee Doodle" is really Yankee at all. The opinion is expressed by Herr Johann Le-walter that the tune was originally a country dance of a district of the former province of Kur-Hesse, called the "Schwalm."

The Farm

Chicks Fed on Corn Meal.

When chicks are fed on corn meal, do not make it into dough, as it is not sufficient, but with each mess of corn meal mix fresh milk instead of water, and the value of the mess will be increased. Give the chicks a variety of feed, as they will eat any kind of seeds or small grain, especially broken wheat. The chicks are liable to get wet by wading in the milk, although it is excellent. If this is not the case, the milk will become sour and breed disease. Mix the milk with corn meal and let the mess be eaten up clean; then the chicks will relish it and thrive on the mixture.—Farmers' Home Journal.

Pig Notes.

It is better to raise eight good pigs than twelve inferior ones. There will be more money in the former than in the latter, though they outnumber them. Quality is more important than quantity.

All troughs and feeding pens should be kept scrupulously clean. Do not let any food remain after they get through with the food in the trough. It sours, molds, and is unhealthy.

Be sure the pigs have a trough for themselves that cannot be reached by the mother or the other hogs. It teaches them to eat and prevents any shrinkage during weaning. It is a self-weaner.—Indiana Farmer.

Roost and Nest Boxes.

A poultry exchange gives the following excellent plan for roosts and nest boxes:

"One of the most important arrangements in the poultry house is the proper location of both roosts and nest boxes, and the plan here described has been found all that is desirable. Its advantages are the placing of the roosts low, the chance for a dropping board under the roosts and the location of the nest boxes where it is quiet and dark, a condition quite pleasing to laying hens.

"Make a frame of the desired length and of a width so that the nest box

Advantages of Silage.

The difficulty of securing succulent feed during the dry period of summer, and also during the winter season, has been met in several ways with varying success. But for general feeding upon most dairy farms throughout the Central States corn silage is the most economical succulent feed which can be obtained for cows at a season when pasture is not available. When fed with other grains so as to make a balanced ration, it tends to heavy milk production and is always very cheap feed. By the use of the silo, green feed can be had at less cost than for silage, since with the silo corn may be used to a greater extent. Professor W. J. Fraser, of the Illinois Experiment Station, states in a recent bulletin, No. 101, that in Illinois corn is the best single crop for silage, and combined with cowpeas or soy beans, the feeding value may be somewhat increased.

The time to cut corn for silage is when fully tasseled, and when the ears are just beginning to show the dents on nearly all the grains. It is found from that at this stage the dry matter and nutrients as well as at the highest point. If ripe, silage will not settle well into the silo, and so will not be sufficiently protected to prevent spoiling.

Corn for this purpose is most easily handled by cutting with a binder, using a silage cutter and large knife to take the bundles without cutting the bands. In filling the silo the leaves and stems must be thoroughly mixed, and after it is put in the shock well tramped next to the wall. After filling, the top six inches should be wet once and tramped occasionally for a week to obtain a compact layer, which will preserve the silage.

Records of the cost of silo filling on nineteen different farms in various parts of Illinois show that the cost ranges from forty to seventy-five cents per ton, the average being fifty-six cents. Of 372 comparisons made between silage and unsilage milk, sixty per cent. were in favor of the silage milk.—Orange Judd Farmer.

A Pig House.

A veteran raiser of swine has set about raising his animals on the colony plan, somewhat after the plan of raising poultry. He has no difficulty after the first week when the pigs learn which house is their own. The pigs are placed on the range with these colony houses as soon as they are old enough to graze. The houses are built low and arranged so that the ends are open near the top, using slats of heavy material with a wide board at the bottom. The back is solid, and there is a good roof which is waterproof.

The front is arranged so that the bottom board may be removed; it is hooked in place at each end, and over the entire front is placed a sloping roof, somewhat in form like the roof of a veranda. This roof furnishes shade, and with the partly open front and sides, there is plenty of ventilation. The pigs graze all they wish and then go into the pen to rest or to get out of the hot sun. At night they occupy it very rarely, sleeping on the grass. With the smaller pigs care is taken to place the bottom board of the front in place and hook it at night. Any feeding that is done is given in a trough at the side of the colony house. The illustration shows the construction of these houses, which should be small enough so they may be placed on a stone boat or sled and carried under cover in the fall.—Indianapolis News.

In the early days of the railroads in England, it was customary for an engine driver, when about to cross a road, to give warning of his approach by blowing a tin horn.

Books in British Museums.

In the reading room of the British Museum the desks are crowded with students all day long, and in addition to the books of reference some 20,000 in number, which fill the open shelves of the room from 3,000 to 4,000 volumes are given out every day. Theology in a wide sense, including the Bible, biblical literature, church history and works on the religious rites and ceremonies of all races and creeds, is easily at the head of the list, with about 800 volumes. Topography comes next, with about twenty fewer, and of these books on London amount to a quarter, books on English topography to another quarter, the other half being for the rest of the world. History and biography come next, English history being mostly in French, and books on France and the French provinces second.

Counterfeit Relics.

An article in a recent number of the Birmingham (England) Mail states that a factory in that town is turning out weekly about 1,200 flint-lock muskets, and that a large number of these antiquated firearms is also made at Liege, Belgium. It is known in the trade that many of these newly made weapons fall into the hands of travelers, who regard them in the light of a "find," and a story is told of a Birmingham manufacturer having received a letter from a dealer asking him to procure some old flint-locks, for which the dealer had several customers, when the manufacturers wrote that he could not supply old muskets, but was prepared to make him any number of new ones required. These were, of course, given the appearance of age. The demand for old weapons is so great, especially in the American season, that the genuine articles would go but a little way to satisfy it.

FITS permanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. 24 trial bottles and treatise free. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 331 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

The deepest cold mine in the world is at Bendigo, in Australia.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c. a bottle.

Japan is pushing the construction of railways in Korea rapidly.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of. A rough cure.—J. W. O'Brien, 322 Third Avenue, N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1903.

London and Liverpool are both at the level of the sea.

For Mosquito Bites
And the poisonous sting of all insects Sloan's Lintiment is the great antiseptic.

The Japanese Postal Savings Bank pays interest at the rate of 5-1/2 per cent.

Deaths From Drink.
The rate of mortality from drink is 123,000 per annum in the United Kingdom, or, in other words, one death in seven is partly or wholly caused by it.

DISFIGURED BY ECZEMA

Wonderful Change in a Night—In a Month Face Was Clear as Ever—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"I had eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was so disfigured I could not go out, and it was going from bad to worse. A friend recommended Cuticura. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Ointment and Resolvin I changed wonderfully. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month the treatment had removed all scales and scabs, and my face was as clear as ever. (Signed) T. J. Solh, 317 Stagg Street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

Where Diamonds Have Been Found.

United States localities that have yielded diamonds are: Shelby county, Alabama; Amador, El Dorado, Butte, Nevada, Trinity, Del Norte and Tulare counties, California; Brown and Morgan counties, Indiana; Russell county, Kentucky; Cass Co., Michigan; Clermont county, Ohio; Monroe, Roane and Union counties, Tennessee; Pierce Dae, Washington, Ozaukee, Waukesha and Racine counties, Wisconsin. A diamond of Cass county, Michigan, weighed 10 7/8 karats, and one of Waukesha county, Wisconsin, 15 1/2 karats.

West Point's Oldest Graduate.

Gen. Herman Haupt, of Washington is the oldest living graduate of West Point Military Academy, and a man distinguished in civil war military history and in railway and engineering circles. General Haupt graduated from a West Point in 1835, in the same class with General Meade. President Jackson appointed him a cadet when he was only 13 years old. He graduated when he was 18, and so probably can claim the additional distinction of having graduated younger than any other cadet.

Great Italian Actress.

Signora Duse, the great Italian actress, who has been appearing in London, has a wonderful power of facial expression. One moment she is apparently a girl of 16; at the next without any make-up she resembles an old woman of 60. She is an actress who feels her part intensely. She is reported to have said on one occasion: "If I played 'Camille' two night in succession, especially the death scene, I should die. I am sure I should die; the part is so real to me."

Ancient Counterpane.

Mrs. Lutie Whitlock, of Martin, Tenn., has in her possession an ancient and highly prized counterpane that her grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Freeman, made 116 years ago, when she was a young girl in Virginia. She carded the cotton, spun and wove the cloth, also carded and spun all the thread it is made of. It is an exceedingly handsome piece of work, containing some forty or fifty designs of the finest embroidery stitching, etc. It has been handed down and kept in perfect condition ever since it was made in 1789.

Deceiving to the Eye.

Electricity is fatal to the discernment of certain colors. Yellow and pink, two totally different colors, look strangely alike by electric light. Heliotrope is also like pink, and subtleties of shade are quite lost in it. No light shows up shades and colors like candles did, when those commodities were made of wax. It is certain that all the modern artificial illuminants mix up colors and shades inextricably, and electric light is worst of all.

First Chinese Patent.

China has just granted its first patent. This is for an electric lamp, the inventor of which is an inhabitant of Nankin, the old capital of the Chinese empire, who calls his lamp the "bright moonlight," and asserts that it is far superior to foreign glow-lights that hitherto have been sold at Shanghai and other Chinese cities.

Sample of German Nerve.

Some German papers have lately been discussing whether "Yankee Doodle" is really Yankee at all. The opinion is expressed by Herr Johann Le-walter that the tune was originally a country dance of a district of the former province of Kur-Hesse, called the "Schwalm."

Books in British Museums.

In the reading room of the British Museum the desks are crowded with students all day long, and in addition to the books of reference some 20,000 in number, which fill the open shelves of the room from 3,000 to 4,000 volumes are given out every day. Theology in a wide sense, including the Bible, biblical literature, church history and works on the religious rites and ceremonies of all races and creeds, is easily at the head of the list, with about 800 volumes. Topography comes next, with about twenty fewer, and of these books on London amount to a quarter, books on English topography to another quarter, the other half being for the rest of the world. History and biography come next, English history being mostly in French, and books on France and the French provinces second.

Counterfeit Relics.

An article in a recent number of the Birmingham (England) Mail states that a factory in that town is turning out weekly about 1,200 flint-lock muskets, and that a large number of these antiquated firearms is also made at Liege, Belgium. It is known in the trade that many of these newly made weapons fall into the hands of travelers, who regard them in the light of a "find," and a story is told of a Birmingham manufacturer having received a letter from a dealer asking him to procure some old flint-locks, for which the dealer had several customers, when the manufacturers wrote that he could not supply old muskets, but was prepared to make him any number of new ones required. These were, of course, given the appearance of age. The demand for old weapons is so great, especially in the American season, that the genuine articles would go but a little way to satisfy it.

FITS permanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. 24 trial bottles and treatise free. Dr. R. H. Kline, Ltd., 331 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

The deepest cold mine in the world is at Bendigo, in Australia.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c. a bottle.

Japan is pushing the construction of railways in Korea rapidly.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of. A rough cure.—J. W. O'Brien, 322 Third Avenue, N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1903.

London and Liverpool are both at the level of the sea.

For Mosquito Bites
And the poisonous sting of all insects Sloan's Lintiment is the great antiseptic.

The Japanese Postal Savings Bank pays interest at the rate of 5-1/2 per cent.

Deaths From Drink.
The rate of mortality from drink is 123,000 per annum in the United Kingdom, or, in other words, one death in seven is partly or wholly caused by it.

DISFIGURED BY ECZEMA

Wonderful Change in a Night—In a Month Face Was Clear as Ever—Another Cure by Cuticura.

"I had eczema on the face for five months, during which time I was in the care of physicians. My face was so disfigured I could not go out, and it was going from bad to worse. A friend recommended Cuticura. The first night after I washed my face with Cuticura Soap and used Cuticura Ointment and Resolvin I changed wonderfully. From that day I was able to go out, and in a month the treatment had removed all scales and scabs, and my face was as clear as ever. (Signed) T. J. Solh, 317 Stagg Street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

Where Diamonds Have Been Found.

United States localities that have yielded diamonds are: Shelby county, Alabama; Amador, El Dorado, Butte, Nevada, Trinity, Del Norte and Tulare counties, California; Brown and Morgan counties, Indiana; Russell county, Kentucky; Cass Co., Michigan; Clermont county, Ohio; Monroe, Roane and Union counties, Tennessee; Pierce Dae, Washington, Ozaukee, Waukesha and Racine counties, Wisconsin. A diamond of Cass county, Michigan, weighed 10 7/8 karats, and one of Waukesha county, Wisconsin, 15 1/2 karats.

West Point's Oldest Graduate.

Gen. Herman Haupt, of Washington is the oldest living graduate of West Point Military Academy, and a man distinguished in civil war military history and in railway and engineering circles. General Haupt graduated from a West Point in 1835, in the same class with General Meade. President Jackson appointed him a cadet when he was only 13 years old. He graduated when he was 18, and so probably can claim the additional distinction of having graduated younger than any other cadet.

Great Italian Actress.

Signora Duse, the great Italian actress, who has been appearing in London, has a wonderful power of facial expression. One moment she is apparently a girl of 16; at the next without any make-up she resembles an old woman of 60. She is an actress who feels her part intensely. She is reported to have said on one occasion: "If I played 'Camille' two night in succession, especially the death scene, I should die. I am sure I should die; the part is so real to me."

Ancient Counterpane.

Mrs. Lutie Whitlock, of Martin, Tenn., has in her possession an ancient and highly prized counterpane that her grandmother, Mrs. Lucy Freeman, made 116 years ago, when she was a young girl in Virginia. She carded the cotton, spun and wove the cloth, also carded and spun all the thread it is made of. It is an exceedingly handsome piece of work, containing some forty or fifty designs of the finest embroidery stitching, etc. It has been handed down and kept in perfect condition ever since it was made in 1789.

Deceiving to the Eye.

Electricity is fatal to the discernment of certain colors. Yellow and pink, two totally different colors, look strangely alike by electric light. Heliotrope is also like pink, and subtleties of shade are quite lost in it. No light shows up shades and colors like candles did, when those commodities were made of wax. It is certain that all the modern artificial illuminants mix up colors and shades inextricably, and electric light is worst of all.

First Chinese Patent.

China has just granted its first patent. This is for an electric lamp, the inventor of which is an inhabitant of Nankin, the old capital of the Chinese empire, who calls his lamp the "bright moonlight," and asserts that it is far superior to foreign glow-lights that hitherto have been sold at Shanghai and other Chinese cities.

Sample of German Nerve.

Some German papers have lately been discussing whether "Yankee Doodle" is really Yankee at all. The opinion is expressed by Herr Johann Le-walter that the tune was originally a country dance of a district of the former province of Kur-Hesse, called the "Schwalm."

Books in British Museums.

In the reading room of the British Museum the desks are crowded with students all day long, and in addition to the books of reference some 20,000 in number, which fill the open shelves of the room from 3,000 to 4,000 volumes are given out every day. Theology in a wide sense, including the Bible, biblical literature, church history and works on the religious rites and ceremonies of all races and creeds, is easily at the head of the list, with about 800 volumes. Topography comes next, with about twenty fewer, and of these books on London amount to a quarter, books on English topography to another quarter, the other half being for the rest of the world. History and biography come next, English history being mostly in French, and books on France and the French provinces second.

Counterfeit Relics.

An article in a recent number of the Birmingham (England) Mail states that a factory in that town is turning out weekly about 1,200 flint-lock muskets, and that a large number of these antiquated firearms is also made at Liege, Belgium. It is known in the trade that many of these newly made weapons fall into the hands of travelers, who regard them in the light of a "find," and a story is told of

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

ESTABLISHED 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., SEPTEMBER 28 1905.

VOL. 31. NO. 4

ALABAMA NEWS.

Current Events Gathered as They Happen.

Turn Out Repaired Cars.

Gadsden, Ala.—The Gadsden Car Works, the property of the Alabama Great Southern road, which has now been in operation for one month, has turned out seventy-five cars repaired and ready for the road. Over 100 skilled mechanics are now given employment at the shops, and many more are needed. New switches are being put in and room made for others. The foundry department will be placed in operation on the first of January, and this will give employment to 100 more men.

Violent Deaths in Gurley.

Huntsville, Ala.—A special from Gurley states that three fatalities have occurred there in the last two or three days. The 4-year-old son of Horace Kennedy fell into a pot of boiling water and was so badly scalded that he died within a few minutes. Mr. Harris, a well-known citizen of that neighborhood, took an overdose of chill tonic by mistake and died from the effects of the drug in a few hours. A 14-year-old boy named Hill was thrown from a wagon on the Madison and Jackson road and one of the wheels of the heavily loaded wagon passed over his neck, killing him instantly.

Killed by Switch Engine.

Selma, Ala.—A telegram was received Friday by Mrs. B. B. Sadler announcing the death of her son, Lonnie, in Artesia, Miss., from being run over by a switch engine. The young man was at work as switchman for the Mobile and Ohio Railroad at Artesia. About a month ago he had his foot mangled by a car and came to his former home to remain until he recovered. He went back to work last Monday, and while switching in the yard at Artesia he met his death beneath the iron wheels. He was only 21 years of age, and his death came as a great shock to his parents and loved ones. The remains have reached here, where the funeral will take place.

To Get Two New Railroads.

Birmingham, Ala.—From an authentic source it is learned that the Mobile and Ohio Railroad and the Illinois Central have perfected an agreement relative to the joint use of certain tracks which will bring both roads into Birmingham. The Illinois Central will come into Birmingham from Jasper over the Frisco tracks. Jasper will be reached over the tracks of the Northern Alabama from Haylesville, and the road will build from Corinth, Miss., to Haylesville. The deal will result in the Illinois Central using the tracks of the Mobile and Ohio from Jackson, Tenn., to Corinth. In return for that privilege the Mobile and Ohio will use the Illinois Central's line from Corinth to Haylesville. It will use the Northern Alabama to Jasper and probably the Ensley Southern into Birmingham.

Killed in Gin Accident.

Athens, Ala.—Frank Campbell, one of the leading citizens of this county, residing at Ventnor, on the State line, where he was a large land owner and depot agent, postmaster and merchant, was killed Saturday at his place by being caught in his gin, which he had for the first time this season started up. The machinery had just got started when, in some manner, he was caught and his right arm dragged into the ginhead and cut so badly that it had to be amputated at the shoulder, and immediately after the operation he died.

Head-End Collision.

Opelika, Ala.—A head-on collision occurred on the Western Railway of Alabama at East Alabama Junction, about two and one-half miles north of Opelika, between east-bound passenger train No. 40, which left Montgomery at 9:15 o'clock, and engine No. 32. Train No. 40 was en route to Atlanta and No. 32 was en route to Opelika when the collision occurred. The train was in charge of Conductor Dillard and Engineer Wells. The light engine was in charge of Engineer Estes. The engineer and fireman of train No. 40 jumped and were not injured. Engineer Estes, on No. 32, jumped and was badly bruised. He was brought to an infirmary in Opelika. Both engines were badly wrecked. None of the passengers were injured, but they were considerably jarred.

Rolling Mill to Run Double Shift.

Bessemer, Ala.—Two shifts of operators will be put to work in the Bessemer Rolling Mill on October 1. Superintendent J. F. Kent has made this announcement, along with the statement that it is impossible to supply the demand with the present working force on one shift.

To Get a New Railroad.

Jacksonville, Ala.—The survey of the railroad from there to Anniston, connecting with the Seaboard system at Jacksonville, has been completed, and the general expectation of our people is that the road will be speedily built. Valuable deposits of iron ore lie almost the entire length of the road and will afford tonnage, not to speak of stone, sand and other valuable materials.

Fire at Abbeville.

Abbeville, Ala.—The stables occupied by J. C. Espy & Bro. burned Friday night. It was with the greatest difficulty that the live stock was gotten out of the burning building. Two bugles and some harness, together with a carload of hay and grain, were consumed by the flames. The Farmers' Warehouse adjoins the stables, and several hundred bales of cotton were lying in the streets. Twenty-six bales were saved. The remainder was saved. The barn of W. W. Espy, across the street from the stables, was also burned. By heroic efforts the Farmers' Warehouse and the residence of Carl Espy were saved from the flames.

Four Residences Burn in Anniston.

Anniston, Ala.—Four residences were destroyed by fire Friday in the southern part of the city, almost beyond the reach of plugs. Firemen were aided in saving several other residences that were in line with the flames. The flames originated from a defective flue in the house of L. T. R. Lester, occupied by J. B. Duke. The household effects of Dr. Duke, worth $250, were almost wholly destroyed. The house, valued at $600, was burned. Mr. Lester had $400 insurance. The household effects were uninsured. The total loss is $2,500.

Suicide in The Theory.

Birmingham, Ala.—Suicide is the only theory Coroner Paris can advance for the death of James Cook, a young man, whose body was found in a secluded spot of the woods near Walker's chapel, a little church about six miles north of Birmingham. His aged mother and brothers hold the same view, and the evidence given at the inquest had a tendency to show that Cook was despondent. No one seemed to know the cause of his trouble, but it was brought out that he was addicted to drink. This is thought to have been the immediate cause of the rash deed.

Had a Narrow Escape.

Demopolis, Ala.—Thursday Balam Nixon, who lives about seven miles southeast of this city, had about as narrow an escape with his life as has ever been known. He was driving his buggy across the railroad crossing between the passenger and freight depots when his buggy was caught between two freight cars that were being switched. He managed to get out of the vehicle with only bruises on his legs. The buggy was a complete wreck. Nixon was carried to a doctor's office, where his injured limbs were dressed.

Rural Routes Established.

Washington, D. C.—Rural free delivery route No. 1 has been ordered established November 15 at Haleburg, Henry county, serving 345 people and 86 houses; Columbia, Houston county, route 4, population 416, houses 99; Shortersville, Henry county, route 2, population 440, houses 110.

George B. Rutledge appointed regular, George W. Martin substitute, rural carrier route 1, at Summerfield.

Percy C. Ramsey appointed regular, Eli Laney substitute, rural carrier route 1, at Daviston.

Subscribe for $125,000 of Stock.

Huntsville, Ala.—Huntsville and Madison county citizens have set to work to meet the proposition of the Nashville and Huntsville Railroad by subscribing to $125,000 of the stock. The railroad, which will be financed by the Knickerbocker Trust Company, of New York, will be built from Nashville to Birmingham. All counties in Tennessee have complied with the requirements of the company.

Secured Improvements.

Florence, Ala.—Dr. James T. Pitt, the Florence postmaster, will return from Washington, where he has been for the past few days looking after the interests of his office. A telegram from him announced that he had secured an additional clerk and arranged for the mail formerly carried on the 9 a. m. Southern train to be brought from Tusculumbia on the electric cars.

New Sheffield Incorporation.

Tusculumbia, Ala.—The certificate of incorporation of the King Grove and Range Company, of Sheffield, has been filed for record in the probate office in this city. The company is organized with a capital of $100,000, of which $25,000 is paid in, and will manufacture stoves, ranges, hollow ware, metal castings, agricultural implements, etc.

Young Man Killed.

Brewton, Ala.—News has reached here that on Sunday night near Ridge-way postoffice, a few miles north of Canoe Station, in this county, Burrell Glover, a young white man about 25 years of age, was murdered and robbed. The crime was committed about 10:30 o'clock, and the body was found several hours later with a bullet wound in the left side, ranging toward the heart, which is supposed to have produced instant death.

Local Taxation Carried.

Ashtand, Ala.—The election for proposed taxation passed off quietly, but only a small vote was polled. There were only 39 votes polled against taxation in the county. Some beats went solidly for it, and Ashtand beat, the largest in the county, had only two votes against it. This gives Clay the banner so far, as she goes nearly 12 to 1 in favor, while Elmore only went 13 to 1.

ITEMS FROM THE STATE CAPITAL

Judge Gaston Appointed.

Judge John B. Gaston has been appointed and has accepted the chairmanship of the two joint committees who will arrange a program for the reception of President Roosevelt on October 23, when he will visit this city and remain here for two hours or more. The selection of Acting Mayor McIntyre is indeed a happy one. Judge Gaston is a master of details at anything he undertakes, and the people of Montgomery can feel assured that the entertainment of Montgomery's distinguished guest will be a most graceful one.

J. Frank Joseph Dead.

His hundreds of friends will be grieved to know that J. Frank Joseph, for many years a prominent business man of this city, died at his home, corner of Adams and Hull streets, at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Death came to him in his 51st birthday.

Fires in August.

During the month of August the Montgomery fire department answered ten alarms, and the losses by fire were comparatively light.

These facts are gleaned from the monthly report of the department completed by Assistant Fire Chief E. J. Griffith Saturday.

Two of the alarms were sent in by the Gamewell system, and the remaining eight calls were by telephone. Citizens of Montgomery have long shown a preference for using the telephone to sound alarms of fire.

The character of buildings involved in the August report were: One two-story brick building, one two-story frame building and seven one-story frame buildings. One of the fires was outside the city limits. The value of buildings at risk was $79,050. The value of the contents of these buildings was $800, due to the fact that the contents of some of the buildings were figured in the approximate value of the buildings themselves. The loss on buildings during the month was $2,455. The insurance on these buildings was $46,850. Insurance paid on the buildings damaged by fire amounted to $1,255. The loss on contents of buildings during August was $300, which amount was paid by insurance companies.

The fire loss during August over the insurance, meaning property not insured, was $1,200. This represented the loss by the burning of the grand stand at Riverside, one of the largest fires of the month.

Other fires during August causing material loss was damage to the restaurant and store of J. W. Powell, on Adams street, and a loss of about $400 in damage to the cooperage works in North Montgomery.

Minor Capitol News.

The contract was let by Private Secretary to the Governor J. Kirk Jackson for the repairs of the roof of the capitol, the sum to be paid being $560. It is to be done in sixty days, and to include a perfect set of gutters, as well as good roof. Webber & Johnson, of Montgomery, are to do the work.

W. J. Dansby has been reappointed superintendent of education of Choctaw county by State Superintendent of Education I. W. Hill.

W. T. Brown succeeds Judge J. W. Inzer, resigned, on the board of trustees of the State Normal School at Jacksonville. Mr. Brown is a resident of Ragland, St. Clair county, being president of the Ragland Coal Company.

James Parker, a young negro of 23 years, has escaped from the camp of convicts of Sweat Brothers at Lowrey, and the state department has been notified. He got away September 19, and is still at large. Parker was convicted in May, 1900, of murder and given a life sentence.

Judge J. M. Carmichael, president of the state convictee board, has received word from Associate Inspector M. W. Camper, at Florence, that his (Mr. Camper's) daughter, who has been so ill, is still quite low, but improving.

The Farmers' and Merchants' Bank has been organized at York with a capital of $10,000. J. F. Woods and others are incorporators.

These minor appointments have been made by the governor: Justices of the peace—A. M. Morton, Enon; M. W. Britt, Midway. Constables—E. L. Bowers, Decatur; G. W. Brown, Berry. Notaries—F. K. Hales, Jr., Mobile; W. L. Cox, Killen.

Montgomery Prepares to Entertain.

Montgomery on October 23 will give a reception to President Roosevelt fitting the chief executive and the capital city of Alabama. The reception committee has been announced, and the president will be shown every attention and courtesy possible during the short while he is to be the guest of the city.

Reunion is Off.

There will be no reunion this year of the United Confederate Veterans of the Alabama division. Col. Harvey E. Jones, adjutant-general and chief of staff of the divisions, said that owing to the unrest and uncertainty of all business and of individuals due to the quarantine, Egbert H. Jones camp, of Huntsville, had requested that the annual reunion be postponed indefinitely. The reunion was to have been held in Huntsville.

Injunction Against Quarantine.

Lafayette, La.—Sheriff Lacoste and Attorney Caffery have returned from an overland trip to Crowley, having placed in Judge Pugh's hands the petition for injunction against the Police Jury maintaining quarantine against Lafayette.

The judge would not sign the order for mandatory and prohibitory injunction, but issued a writ on President Billeaud, of the police jury, and about thirty guards on duty about town to show cause next Monday evening why the prayer of petitioners should not be granted.

Murders His Baby Sister.

Marinette, Wis.—Leon Crambeau, 7 years old, charged with murdering his six-months-old sister, was placed in jail here. A coroner's jury found that the boy set fire to the bed clothes in the baby's cradle and burned the baby to death. The youngster is supposed to be a pyromaniac. He had started fire several times before.

Court House Burns.

New Madrid, Mo.—The court house here was burned Sunday morning. The fire is thought to have been incendiary. Many tax and drainage records were destroyed, but the others records were saved. Six murder trials are pending, but all indictments returned at this term were burned, which may make continuances necessary.

Lumber Deal Consummated.

Maplesville, Ala.—Information has reached here that the E. E. Jackson Lumber Company of Ridgelyville has purchased all of the property of the Gregory Lumber Company at Stanton Mills. The mill at Stanton has been running for more than twenty-five years. The deal is a large one.

R. V. Selman Is Injured.

Albertville, Ala.—Wednesday while unloading a car of wagons for the Albertville Hardware Company R. V. Selman happened to quite a serious accident by having a wagon fall on his left leg, breaking it in two places. The injured man was at once carried to his home, where he was given medical attention and is resting easy.

Both Killed By Train.

Raleigh, N. C.—Walter Craven, a carpenter, aged 18, and Leslie S. Geringer, a Southern railway telegraph operator, were run over by a freight engine and killed. They stepped in front of the engine to avoid a passenger train, both being terribly mangled.

Found Dead in Jail.

Birmingham, Ala.—R. Leemay, a white man arrested Friday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy, was found dead in his cell in the county jail shortly after 10 o'clock. Leemay was placed in jail in the afternoon, and at the time was badly intoxicated. He had evidently been on a continued "spree" and was in a bad condition.

Executed for Killing Stepdaughter.

Ardmore, I. T.—Rufus Bynon, who murdered his 8-year-old stepdaughter at Ran in 1900, was executed here Friday in the rear of the federal jail in a stockade built for the purpose. There were no witnesses. This was the first legal execution ever held in this part of the territory.

Breaks Child's Neck by Caress.

Gravel Smith, Ky.—Jason Chumbley, a resident of this county, returned home to visit his wife and child. Upon his arrival he grasped his 6-year-old daughter by the chin to kiss her, lifting her head back. The little one sank to the ground dead. A physician found that her neck had been broken by her father.

Shoots His Father.

Cullman, Ala.—A sad accident occurred twenty miles north of this place which cost pleasant P. Powell, an old and respected citizen of the county, his life. The particulars, as nearly as could be ascertained, were that Mr. Powell had imbibed a little too freely and procured a pistol which his son decided that he had no use for, and in his efforts to dispose his father of the weapon it was discharged, the ball striking the old gentleman in the left side with fatal results. Deceased was 61 years of age and had resided on San Mountain all his life.

Contract for New High School.

Jonesville, La.—Bids have been opened for the new high school building for Jonesville. The contract was awarded to Giles B. Hanks, of Utility, La. Work will commence immediately. The contract calls for completion by December 1.

Saw Mill and Planer Destroyed.

Lake Charles, La.—Fire early Sunday morning destroyed the saw mill, planer and 50,000 feet of dressed lumber belonging to the Toomy Lumber Company, at Toomy. The loss is estimated at $10,000, uninsured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Burglary at Furnace Hill.

Sheffield, Ala.—Two sneak thieves burglarized the stores of W. M. McAlister and Louis Gusmus, of Furnace Hill, but carried off only $50 and a few pocket knives. The police have obtained several clues, but have made no arrests.

Lodz, Poland.—Two men and a girl have died of Asiatic cholera in this city. The sanitary committee has requisitioned $9,000 to fight the disease.

THE MODERATES WIN

Registration Board of Cuba Named—No Important Disturbance Reported.

PALMA'S PARTY THE WINNER.

Congressman and Police Chief Killed During Political Disturbance at Cienfuegos.

Havana, Cuba.—Returns from the entire island confirm the complete victory of the government in the elections for members of the boards of registration. There were no important disorders.

The election in Havana passed off quietly, and telegrams from the interior say there were no disorders except at Placetas, in the province of Santa Clara, where many shots were fired, but no one was killed.

The liberals admit the complete victory in Havana of the moderates, the party of President Palma. They claim that they did not vote because moderate policemen stationed at the polls prevented them from doing so. A representative of the Associated Press visited a majority of the polls here, but at none of them noted any indication of restraint on voters. Good order was maintained throughout the city, and with the exception of a man being shot and probably fatally injured and another being seriously hurt by a rock there has been no trouble.

Crowds which gathered in the Liberal Club rooms were dismissed by orators, who informed them that the moderates were victorious and requested the liberals to retire to their homes. The Liberal Club was closed and barricaded. A number of liberals say that this was done because they had received word that the government intended to search the place for arms.

Dead Officials Buried.

Official dispatches received from Cienfuegos announce that the bodies of Congressman Villuendas and Chief of Police Illance, who were killed during a disturbance at the Hotel La Suiza, were buried. Liberals who formerly were soldiers carried the body of Villuendas to the grave on their shoulders, and the same honor was shown to Illance by moderates.

The government claims to have discovered a liberal plot to dynamite the city hall, court house and other public buildings of Cienfuegos. Liberals, it is asserted, tried to corrupt the secretary of the chief of police, offering a large bribe. The secretary accepted the money and then told the chief. This led to a search of the Hotel La Suiza and the discovery of dynamite bombs and other explosives in Villuendas' room.

No American Intervention.

Acting Secretary Ade, at Washington, has received a cablegram from Jacob Sleeper, the American charge at Havana in Minister Squires' absence, relative to the riot in Cienfuegos, which was nothing more than a confirmation of the report received from his government by Minister Quesada. It is stated at the state department that nothing has yet developed warranting any thought of intervention by this government in Cuban affairs.

Slain and Burned.

Jacksonville, Fla.—The charred remains of Lulu Wise and her four children were found in the smoking ruins of her home, near this place, which was burned before daylight. The skulls of the woman and all of her children were crushed, indicating that they had been murdered and the house burned to conceal the crime. The woman had not lived with her husband for two years. At that time it was stated that he beat her and threatened to kill her. She had him arrested, and he was sentenced to jail for a short term. After the expiration of his sentence he disappeared, and it could not be ascertained that any one had heard from him. The woman supposed he was dead. A coroner's jury was summoned, but the hearing was adjourned until next Thursday.

Two Hundred Jews Arrested.

Warsaw, Poland.—The police have surrounded parks in which thousands of Jews were promenading. All of them were searched and 200 placed under arrest.

Ginners to Issue Report.

Dallas, Tex.—Announcement is made by the National Ginners' Association that it will issue its first report of bales ginned up to the night of September 25 in time to reach its members on Saturday morning, September 30, or Monday morning, October 2. It is stated that this report will not be as complete as the next one, which is to be issued on October 18, as by that time the association will have its force better organized.

A. G. S. Wants Belt Line.

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—It seems that the Tuscaloosa Belt Railway has not been sold as yet. This statement was given out by an official of that company here. It was not denied, however, that negotiations to that effect were pending. It is understood that the trunk line is desirous of purchasing this line. Besides the Louisville and Nashville is the Alabama Great Southern, which already passes through this city.

Girl Is in Trouble.

Mexico, Mo.—A deputy United States marshal from St. Louis Friday arrested Miss Dixie Tuttle, aged 23, daughter of Thomas Tuttle, reputed to be one of the wealthiest farmers in Audrain county, on the charge of having sent improper letters and postal cards through the mails. The letters and postals concerned were signed "Charlie," and violently attacked Miss Eighty One Turley, a school teacher. After an investigation covering six months the postal authorities arrested Miss Tuttle, charging her with sending them. She protests her innocence. The arrest has caused a sensation here.

Rear End Collision.

Epos, Ala.—A rear end collision of a fast and local freight occurred two miles south of here. Engineer Addison, Fireman Coleman and a brakeman of the through train jumped, and each sustained slight injuries. The train crew on the caboose of the local freight saw the approach of the other train in time to get off and escaped without injury. Eight cars of the local were demolished, the caboose of which was literally torn to pieces. The engine of the through freight was badly damaged and placed across the track, and a number of cars attached were derailed. After seven hours' delay traffic was resumed. W. D. Addison, the injured engineer, lives at Birmingham. He was placed on the north-bound and sent home.

Woman Arrested.

Chicago, Ill.—Much secrecy is being used by the police regarding a woman prisoner who was arrested Saturday night by Detective Kane, of Chicago, and Detective Prim, of Cincinnati, O. The woman is being held in connection with a $3,500 diamond robbery, which is said to have taken place in the Ohio city several weeks ago. The prisoner gave her name to the police as Annie Brady. Chief of Police Collins issued an order to the policemen at the station where she is being held to allow no persons to see her. The alleged robbery for which the woman is being held is said to have occurred when she was employed as a servant. She is said to have taken money and jewelry worth $3,500 from her mistress.

Loads of Buckshot.

Beaumont, Tex.—A double murder occurred at Lockport, La., near Lake Charles, Saturday night, R. B. Holloway, of that place, and Tom Bowman, of Orange, Tex., being the victims. The identity of the assassin has not yet been determined. Bowman and another man from Orange were in Holloway's saloon, when Bowman stepped out of the front door, going home. A minute elapsed, when a shot rang out, and Holloway, who was standing behind the bar, received a load of buckshot in his left side, below the heart, and fell to the floor. He expired in a few minutes. Fifteen minutes later another shot was heard, and upon investigation the dead body of Bowman was found a short distance from the saloon, the top of his head being blown off.

Infant's Body Found.

Birmingham, Ala.—The body of an infant, with part of its head off, was found by Dan Weaver, a negro, and a young white boy near North Birmingham Park and the fact reported to the coroner, who is making a thorough investigation. Due to the fine silks and linen in which the body was clad, Coroner Paris is of the opinion that people of means know something of the affair, and he thinks there was murder. The body was found under a rock, which covered a hole which had been made by nature.

Alleged Distillers Bound Over.

Troy, Ala.—Deputy Marshal C. M. Cox brought to Troy Seaborn Taylor, Henry Taylor and Sam Taylor, charged with jointly operating an illicit distillery near Newville, in Henry county. They were arraigned before Commissioner Tutwiler and bound over to await the action of the next federal grand jury. An illicit distillery reported to belong to the Taylors was raided by the officers several weeks ago, but no arrests were made until the 20th inst.

Two Deaths From Cholera.

St. Petersburg.—Two deaths from cholera have occurred at Blockwerk, on the Volstula river. The victims were members of the same family in which a death from cholera was reported last Wednesday.

To Raise Cantaloupes.

Athens, Ala.—The farmers of this section have become quite interested in the growth of berries and cantaloupes, and to this end the Athens Strawberry and Cantaloupe Growers' Association has been organized, with many of the leading farmers of this section as members, and already more than 100 acres have been pledged to the association to be planted by the owners in the two fruits for the next season.

Shoots at Boys.

Huntsville, Ala.—J. T. Neal, a well-known farmer, has been arrested on a charge of shooting into a crowd of boys with a shotgun while the boys were trespassing on his land. Two of the boys were severely hurt, one being struck by fifteen shot and the other by a dozen. Mr. Neal is the farmer who was recently held up and robbed by a negro man and woman, who are now in jail on charges of highway robbery.

AGREEMENT REACHED

Norway and Sweden Make a Tranquil Adjustment and are Friends.

DISSOLUTION AND NOT WAR.

After Protracted Session of Conference Delegates Get Together on All Points.

Karlstad.—After protracted sessions extending over some week the Norwegian and Swedish delegates who met here to settle the terms of separation of the two countries have arrived at an agreement on all points. The terms were not made public.

In anticipation of the agreement large crowds assembled around the buildings in which the meetings had been held to witness the departures of the delegates. The Norwegians emerged upon the conclusion of the session and were on their way to Christiana a few minutes after an announcement was made of the outcome of the negotiations. The Swedish delegates remained inside for some time, but when they did show themselves they received an ovation and were escorted to their hotel by crowds which sang the Swedish anthem. They left at midnight for Stockholm.

The delegates refused to discuss the terms of the agreement, simply saying that they would be given out early next week. An agreement had been anticipated for some days, as both sides had been adopting conciliatory attitudes. The negotiations which are now concluded are peculiar in nature. On one side the delegates were former Swedish ministers who at the time of the Riksdag decision were leading members of the committee which framed the Swedish conditions to assent to dissolution. On the other side the delegates were men who led Norway in its revolution of June 7, but who were not guided by any decision of the Riksdag. On the contrary, their every act was looked upon with suspicion by men more radical.

When Sweden's conditions were made known many voices in Norway were raised against acceding to them. Premier Michelsen, of Norway, was more conservative and, seeing the consequences to Norway of a breach, was willing to enter into an agreement so long as it was honored by Norway and preserved as much as possible her national pride.

To Preserve Friendship.

The purpose of the Swedish delegates was to make a provision preserving the good feeling of the two peoples. From this viewpoint, of course, Sweden was compelled to insist on the demolition of the frontier fortifications which Norway, notwithstanding the close connections of the two countries, had erected against Sweden's entirely unfortified frontier.

The first purpose of the Swedish delegates was to hurt as little as possible the feelings of Norway, and the Swedish delegates throughout the proceedings have tried to find a way in which the fortress located farthest from the frontier could be made less threatening, while the others, they contended, should be demolished. It is believed this point was successfully carried.

The Swedish delegates were also anxious to preserve free and untrammelled the intercourse between the two countries, and they therefore proposed that certain agreements be made regarding transit and waterways which were equal in benefit to both and which would prevent one country from interfering with the other. It is believed that these matters were also settled to the satisfaction of both sides.

Finally Sweden did not consider that she could leave unprotected the interests of the poor Norrmann Landplanders, who, for their very existence, depended upon the use of pastures in both countries at different seasons for their reindeer. The Norwegians held out against the granting of this right, which had been established for centuries, but it is thought they at last gave in.

That Sweden never objected to an arbitration is shown by the Riksdag decision, in which arbitration was first mentioned and which agreed perfectly with Sweden's expressed desire for peace.

Rich Man Killed by Railroad.

Charleston, W. Va.—In an accident on the Cabln Creek branch of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad Jack Pennell, engineer, of Point Pleasant, a son-in-law of Hon. Rankin Wiley, of that place, and Fireman Frank Sawyer were killed. Pennell was wealthy, but was too fond of railroading to quit the business.

Lynched Right Negro.

Little Rock, Ark.—Responsible citizens of Conway, at which place the negro Frank Brown was lynched Friday, say that there was no mistake, that he was the man wanted. Mrs. Lawrence positively identified Brown as the man who assaulted her some days ago and killed her 2-year-old child. The coroner's jury returned

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Sept. 28, 05

Telephone No. 17.

Pay Your Poll Tax.

The tax collector begins his rounds next month, and the Sentinel wants to remind its readers that they pay their poll tax. Next year there is to be an important election, and all will want to vote, and you cannot do it if you fail to pay your poll tax before the first day of next Feb'y. Some are due for two or three years, and they should now pay up, or they cannot vote for Governor, congressman, sheriff or representative next year. There are also two commissioners to elect.

Russell M. Cunningham, the next Chief Executive of Alabama, has made a formal announcement as a candidate for Governor, and his letter will appeal to all people who believe in a conservative administration of the laws of our State. Mr. Cunningham is not a crank (unless it be upon the subject of education, and that is a pretty good sort of crank to be), nor is he an extremist, and by no means is he a slow-poke; but he is just one of those plain sort of men to whom it is safe to tie at all times. And by the same token the people of Alabama—those who do not believe in piratical methods or warfare—will elect him Governor.

Hon. W. H. Samford, who until a few days ago, was a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has decided he would rather be Attorney General. Mr. Samford has a right to be a candidate for any office he desires, but we are of the opinion that the Democrats of Alabama will nominate Col. A. M. Garber, of Talladega. In the language of Our Mountain Home, Talladega, The Sentinel "believes Mr. Garber will be nominated, and moreover, we think he ought to be. He is eminently qualified for the position; his party services are recognized; and he has the endorsement of many of the party as expressed in the recent primary, and since in the press of the State." Mr. Samford would have a large following for Lieutenant Governor, but for Attorney General The Sentinel believes Colonel Garber has all comers skinned a block.

The Crenshaw County Critic is somewhat of a political acrobat. A few weeks ago the Critic was boasting Joseph F. Johnson for Governor in every issue, and it comes to us this week with the name B. B. Comer at its masthead for Governor. Harry Brooks is always doing something out of the ordinary.

WILSONVILLE.

Messrs. Leon and Elzin Pope have also returned to college for another year.

Davis Riddle, who has been here for the past week, sick, we are glad to see is able to be out again.

Mr. Emory Adams and Miss Emma Blackley were married yesterday (Sunday) at the residence of Rev. O. P. Bentley.

Mrs. N. H. Self, who has been quite sick for a few days, is much better at this writing, and we hope she will be up in a few days.

We understand that Mr. Ben Riley and Miss Jessie Harkins were married Sunday. They both live in Old Chapel neighborhood.

The many friends of W. T. Taylor will be glad to know that he has "grunted" out his spell of sickness, and is able to be out again.

George Smith, of Columbus, Ga., visited his father's family last week. George is looking fine and his many friends were glad to see him.

Misses Minnie Weldon and Hattie Bentley returned to Marion, Ala., to school one day last week, where they will resume their studies for another year.

Our school building is about complete, and school opened Monday morning with about fifty pupils, instead of opening as we stated last week, on the 18th.

The farmers are busy hauling in cotton which is selling as fast as it can be ginned, for a good price. This has been a fine season for getting out the crop, but it is now getting very dry and dusty with us.

Mrs. J. B. Boyer returned home from Ensley last Thursday where she had been called to the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Z. T. Fuqua who died on September 18th. Miss Ayi did not return with her mother, but will be home in a few days. Mrs. Fuqua had many friends and acquaintances here who will regret very much to hear of her death.

Died in Wilsonville, Ala., at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. Jim Spearman, Mrs. Mary E. Riddle, at 2 o'clock, a. m. Sunday, Sept. 24, 1905. Mrs. Riddle had been sick for more than a year. She was born July 13, 1847, at Forsyth.

COMMENTS ON OUR SPECIAL EDITION.

Splendid Success.

We congratulate brother Whitaker upon his splendid success in issuing an anniversary edition of the Columbiana Sentinel. It is a credit alike to the editor and to his people whose generous patronage aided him. We congratulate Shelby county on being able to keep so useful a man in her borders as H. E. Whitaker. He deserves the support of every citizen of the county.—Tuskegee News.

A Valuable Edition.

The 31st anniversary edition of the Columbiana Sentinel, published by H. E. Whitaker, is before the public. Columbiana is a small town, and the energy and tact displayed in getting out such a creditable edition in so small a place, marks the proprietor and editor as a newspaper man of a high order. This issue contains complimentary articles about the county by some of the gifted citizens, besides articles by the editor and other making it a valuable edition to the citizens, especially of the county and to the State. This issue contains about 30 pages of three columns to the page and is issued in splendid shape, handsomely illustrated with tinted tones. The Advocate congratulates Brother Whitaker on his splendid souvenir edition and the people of Columbiana for making it possible for him to get it out.—Greenville Advocate.

Very Creditable.

Dr. Francis M. Peterson, President of the Alabama Girls' Industrial School, Montevallo, says in a letter to us:

My Dear Mr. Whitaker:

Allow me to congratulate you on your paper of last week. It was, indeed, a very creditable number, and indicates quite a good deal of work—and successful work—on your part. Your notice of our school is appreciated.

A Great Paper.

The following comes from the pen of Hon. Eli P. Smith, managing editor of the Birmingham News: My dear Mr. Whitaker:

I have just read the anniversary edition of The Sentinel and desire to pronounce it a great paper, highly creditable to you and to Shelby county, and I want to congratulate you upon your splendid effort.

Highly Creditable.

The following is an extract from a letter written by Thos. M. Owen, State Historian, Montgomery:

My Dear Mr. Whitaker:

Your 31st anniversary edition of the Columbiana Sentinel is highly creditable to you, and you are to be congratulated upon your enterprise in bringing it out. As you may well imagine I am particularly interested in the historical sketches, which you have included and which give a value to the edition altogether beyond ordinary publications.

Admired It

W. B. Reynolds, of the firm of Reynolds & Robbins, Birmingham, writes: Dear Whitaker: On my return from an extensive trip through the Northwest, I found a copy of your Anniversary Edition, which I have read and admired very much. I was especially interested in the articles of Messrs. Lyman and Peters, but the enterprise and unselfish spirit that you have displayed in getting out such an edition impressed me most of all. The town and county are certainly under obligations to you, and I hope you will be repaid for the labor and expense you have bestowed upon the work. I always enjoy getting The Sentinel, and miss it when I fail to see it.

Ga. At the age of seven years her father, Mr. J. M. Davis, moved to Tallapoosa county, Ala., where she was married, on Sept. 28, 1865, to Mr. J. L. Riddle, a young and prosperous farmer. In 1872 they moved to Shelby county and have been citizens of this county since that time, with the exception of a few years when they returned to Tallapoosa county. Some twenty-three years ago they returned to this county and settled in the Four Mile neighborhood, where she spent the remainder of her life, until her last and only sickness came upon her. Her health giving way, and not being able to attend to the duties of housekeeping, she came to Wilsonville over a year ago, where her children, most of whom lived, could wait upon her in her afflictions, which they most cheerfully did. She was a great sufferer during the whole time of her afflictions, which lasted in all about two years. She was a true Christian woman who never murmured at her condition, although at times her suffering was intense. She was filled with the promises of God and looked forward to a life eternal of peace and happiness. She, of course, was anxious to get well and remain with her loved ones here, but knowing that this could not be, she waited patiently for the end, and would sometimes say: "Oh how long will it be?" She was never heard to murmur or complain, but would say "it is God's will, and I humbly submit." Her sufferings are over, her anxieties have ended and now her spirit is forever at rest with Him who gave it. She leaves a husband and seven children to mourn her departure. A good woman has gone. Your loss is her eternal gain. I would say to the bereaved that you can go to her; there is one more attraction in heaven to call you on. Be submissive to God's will; trust in Him as she did and some time in the sweet bye and bye you can be a united family in God's own presence, where sickness and death never come. Her funeral was preached by her pastor, Rev. Sam'l Crumpton, assisted by Rev. O. P. Bentley, at the Baptist church Sunday eve, to the largest concourse of the people we have ever seen in this church, showing with what esteem she was held by the people of this community, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Wilsonville cemetery to await the resurrection morn. Peace to her ashes. We will ever cherish her memory and try to cultivate the same spirit of meekness, and hope to meet her in the sweet beyond.

Rip Van Winkle.

Card of Thanks.

To the good people of Wilsonville and vicinity:

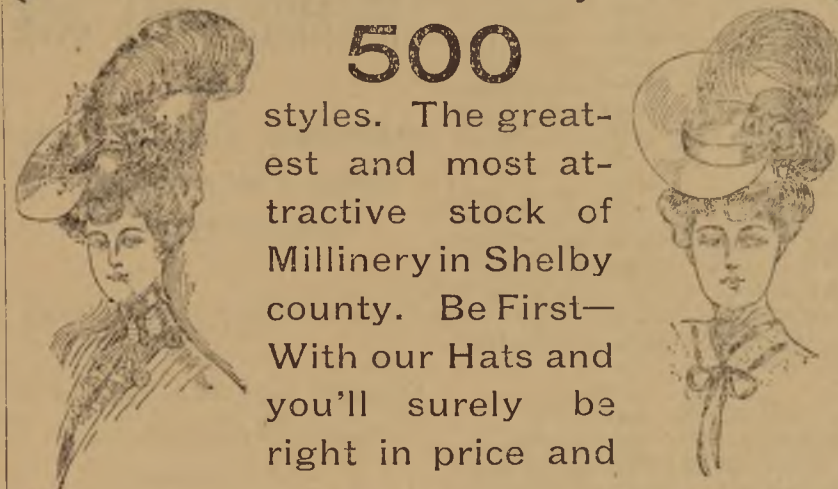

With grateful hearts, we take this method of trying to express to you our sincere thanks and profound gratitude for the many acts of kindness shown us in the long and continued illness of our wife and mother. You have been faithful and obliging, and we hope that each one who in any way contributed to her comfort and ours will accept this feeble expression of our thanks. Sincerely, J. L. RIDDLE AND FAMILY.

OUR FALL AND WINTER MILLINERY OPENING

—takes place—

OCTOBER 4, 5, AND 6.

French Pattern Hats, Turbans, Ready-to-wear Hats and Millinery Novelties.

500 styles. The greatest and most attractive stock of Millinery in Shelby county. Be First—With our Hats and you'll surely be right in price and style. Come to see us; a cordial welcome awaits you all the time.

Remember the Opening

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

New Grocery Store!

EVERYTHING NEW.

We desire to notify the people that we have opened a grocery store in the Moore building, and we ask for a share of your patronage. Our groceries are all NEW and FRESH—nothing stale. A full line of staple and fancy groceries, cigars, tobacco and provisions will be kept on hand. Be glad to have call on us.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts..... $ 33,818.32	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000.00
Overdrafts..... 50.00	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 2,156.16
Banking house..... 5,000.00	Individual deposits subject to check..... 39,556.37
Furniture and fixtures..... 2,500.00	Time deposits..... 2,784.50
Other real estate..... 3,000.00	Cashier's checks..... 101.60
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 9,330.23	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 16,960.50
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,542.57
Currency..... 5,117.60
Gold..... 955.00
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 1,327.19
Checks and cash items..... 3,628.07
Total..... $ 75,565.22	Total..... $ 75,565.22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier, of Columbiana Savings Bank of Shelby County, Alabama, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said bank, as shown by the books on file in said bank. W. L. FARLEY, Cashier. Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July, 1905. JOHN R. DYKE, Circuit Clerk.

of kindness shown us in the long and continued illness of our wife and mother. You have been faithful and obliging, and we hope that each one who in any way contributed to her comfort and ours will accept this feeble expression of our thanks. Sincerely, J. L. RIDDLE AND FAMILY.

of whom is an invalid, will be greatly benefited by the prompt payment of the death claim of more than $700. It only cost him $4.15 to leave his loved ones the above amount.

T. A. Leathers, Division Agent of the Mutual Life

Non-Resident Notice and Administrator's Notice.

The State of Alabama, Shelby County.

In the matter of estate of John Strain, deceased.

Wm. Strain, Sr., Administrator.

On this day comes Wm. Strain, Sr., Administrator of the estate aforesaid, and filed his petition for an order to sell the real estate of said estate, to-wit:

1/2 of Sec. 20, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, ne 1/4 of Sec. 20, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, also about 1/2 of an acre in the northwest corner of Sec. 20, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, 165 feet east and west, and 135 feet north and south, sw 1/4 of Sec. 20, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, and ne 1/4 of Sec. 20, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, and all in part of the southeast quarter of Sec. 21, Tp. 21, R. 1 East that lies south of Rossy Creek, containing in all 170 acres, more or less, and situated in Shelby county, Ala., alleging that it is necessary to sell the same for the payment of debts of said estate and that the personal property of said estate is insufficient, therefore it is ordered by the Court that the 30th day of October next, be set for the hearing of said petition, and it appearing that Wm. Strain, an heir of said estate, is a non-resident and lives in the State of Texas, and that John Strain, a newspaper published at Columbiana, in said county, notifying them and all others interested in the same to appear and contest the same if they think proper.

A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

3-31

Death in Shelby Co. Division.

Dr. G. H. Smith, of Saginaw, Shelby Co., Ala., one among the most prominent physicians in this county—a pure Christian gentleman and a good citizen—died Sept. 2, 1905, of typhoid fever.

To the policy holders: you should respond cheerfully and promptly to the assessment and continue the protection for your loved ones.

The widow and five children, one

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

"CRITERION"

The Very Best

CLOTHING

On the Market.

Had You Thought About It?

We cordially invite your inspection of our stock of this popular brand of clothing—none better in the world. It is made of

The Best Fiber

and made up in the latest styles and most durable manner, hence its great popularity. You can buy this clothing at no other store in Columbiana. We can please you in price.

Every Garment Guaranteed

by the manufacturers to be just as it is represented or money refunded. They know the excellent quality of the goods or they could not afford to make such an offer to purchasers.

Come in to see us.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER, DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, ALA. Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

I. A. of Ga. Those who desire this home cheap, safe insurance should make application without delay before Division is full.

BROWNE & LEEPER, Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors in Chancery, Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS, Attorney-at-Law, AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY, Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, Montevallo, Ala. Special facilities for making Abstracts.

McMILLAN & HAYNES, Attorneys-at-Law, Columbiana, Ala. Office up-stairs, bank building.

FOR SALE BY—

EVERY & AVERY, Shelby, Ala., R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

SHIELD BRAND

FITS WELL WEARS WELL

CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

FOR SALE BY—

EVERY & AVERY, Shelby, Ala., R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

SHIELD BRAND

FITS WELL WEARS WELL

CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

FOR SALE BY—

EVERY & AVERY, Shelby, Ala., R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

SHIELD BRAND

FITS WELL WEARS WELL

CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

FOR SALE BY—

EVERY & AVERY, Shelby, Ala., R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

SHIELD BRAND

FITS WELL WEARS WELL

CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

FOR SALE BY—

EVERY & AVERY, Shelby, Ala., R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

'Sfact!

"It's the Talk of the Town!"

That Fall Has Arrived,

But that's nothing. We have been here all the time with the largest and best stock of GROCERIES in town. Of course you are aware of the fact, but we just wanted to jog your memory. Canned goods, this year's growth, are coming in. Bear this in mind, too.

We Want Your Patronage.

Our goods and prices will get it.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA MERCANTILE CO'S

Wholesale and Retail Stores

We will be Closed

on Saturday

September 30th,

and Monday

October 9th.

Jewish Holidays.

Are now full and complete in every line. Not a thing has escaped the cultured eye of our buyer that would add the greatest pleasure to our customers. There is no law against paying big prices, but it is not sensible. Our full and winter stock comprises the greatest gathering of serviceable goods at lowest prices. We offer new novelties and new ideas at such low prices not procurable elsewhere. The plain talk of the price that is right is our most convincing argument. As we close Saturday Sept. 30, and Monday Oct. 9th, do your shopping the day before. We are still the working man's friend, the farmer's protector, and the largest produce and cotton buyers in this section; bring your cotton to us and make our store your headquarters when in town.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Copy one year $1.00
Copy six months .50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

W. H. Brymore, of Shelby, was in town last Saturday.

Claude Nelson is home from Birmingham for a short time.

Clarence Smith was down from Wilsonville last Sunday visiting friends.

The elbow sleeves are a Jonah to a woman who is not possessed of pretty arms.

The genial Dr. Morgan, of Shelby Springs, was in the city a few hours last Saturday.

The cool days now make the lump of ice grow larger, but the lump of coal—oh, my!

Dr. Wm. C. Williams, of Shelby, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office last Friday.

Mrs. M. J. Oster, of Catherine, is in the city a guest of her niece, Mrs. Simon Friedberger.

J. R. Hill and family are in Montevallo for a short visit with Dr. and Mrs. E. G. Givhan.

The county commissioners made a trip to Montgomery last Wednesday on court house matters.

The Methodist people had an excellent meeting last week, and much interest was manifested.

W. W. Carter is again in charge of our meat market. He just can't keep out of the business now.

A good rain is needed very much, not only for late vegetation, but to fill up the wells which are becoming low.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Latham returned from a visit with relatives last Thursday. The people of Columbiana regret that Mr. and Mrs. Latham expects soon to remove from Columbiana. They will carry with them the best wishes of all.

Little Miss Polly Friedberger had a birthday Monday, and invited a number of her little friends to help her celebrate the occasion.

The Columbiana Graded Schools opened with 128 pupils, and since about twelve more have been enrolled.

Miss Bessie Milner, daughter of J. K. Milner, left last week for Marion where she will be a pupil at the Judson this session.

Hon. E. S. Lyman, of Montevallo, was in the city last Friday on legal business, and while here paid The Sentinel a friendly call.

Attorney Jno. J. Haynes bought, on Tuesday, the brick residence belonging to L. M. Dyke, now occupied by Philip Erick.

W. E. Riddle, of the new grocery firm of Thompson & Riddle expects to remove his family to Columbiana about the first of the year.

Miss Leona Thornhill, of Lamson, is here to spend the winter with her aunt, Mrs. Simon Friedberger, and will attend the Columbiana Graded Schools this year.

Claude Duran, of Calais, was in town Sunday visiting relatives. He expects to move to Birmingham this week where he has a position with a produce company.

Walter Hill, of Keystone, was in the city a short time last Sunday. He had been at the bedside of his father sick, but is improving.

C. L. Meroney & Co., J. M. Reynolds, Dr. A. K. Parks, Dr. D. L. Wilkinson and Mrs. M. Wooley, all of Montevallo, were among the patrons of our job department last week.

The Sentinel is in the field for your job work, and guarantees the best stock, reasonable prices and work to suit you or you need not take it. Our best solicitor is the work we do.

It is with pleasure that The Sentinel notes the increasing improvement of Rev. Joseph Duglinson. Advice from Talladega say he is improving each day, and that it is only a question of time until he fully recovers.

There is plenty of evidence about the town that Buck, Berry and old Spot are free to do business, even if it does discomode the pedestrian. If you keep your eyes about you it is possible, but hardly probable, that you will get through safely.

The Chicago Glee Club, that excellent musical organization which is always popular with everybody who has heard its singers, will be at the Academy in Columbiana on Wednesday night, October 18th. The glee club was in Columbiana last season, and its merits are known to all the people of this section. That a crowded house will greet these favorites there is not the least doubt. Just bear the date in mind—that will be enough; you'll be there.

The protracted meeting which has been in progress at the Methodist church for the past two weeks, closed last Friday night. Some excellent sermons were preached by the pastor, Rev. G. T. Harris, during the meeting and great interest was manifested. Presiding elder J. W. Johnson preached several sermons, and his magnetic presence added greatly to the success of the meeting. The Sentinel is informed that there were fourteen accessions to the church during the meetings.

Miss Margaret Browne returned from Montgomery last Monday. She was accompanied by her aunt, Mrs. J. M. deCottos, who will visit here for a few weeks. Mrs. deCottos is society editor of the Montgomery Advertiser, and is one of the brightest newspaper women in the South. She has been in ill health for some time and is here for a rest and to recuperate. Mrs. deCottos is a sister to Mayor Browne.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Miss Mary Esther Mason to Mr. Louie Earle Christian, on Wednesday night, October 11th, at 8 o'clock, in the Methodist church. The many friends of these young people extend best wishes in advance of the happy event.

The Sentinel congratulates Talladega on getting the A. & B. railroad. The secret of Talladega's success is that all her people pull together when it comes to a matter of building up their town, and the result is they have one of the best towns in Alabama.

Next week The Sentinel will go to our readers all home print. In other words, we will have discarded the patent outside and will print it ourselves. Increased advertising patronage, and a desire to print all of our paper is the reason for the change.

Only a few more days and the birds will be ripe, and some of our sports are really nervous waiting for the game law to expire. It is said quails are plentiful this season. Hunters should be careful about getting onto posted farms, however.

Miss Lena Christian, of Oxford, was in the city a one day last week enroute to Brewton to visit friends. Miss Christian was a visitor of Miss Rosser Christian last year for a few weeks, and is pleasantly remembered by our people.

Mr. and Mrs. McAdams, of Pensacola, Fla., are visiting the parents of Mrs. McAdams at Shelby, Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Cardwell. Mr. and Mrs. McAdams were in this city a few hours Monday.

Dr. Hamner visited his old home in Chambers county a few days last week.

Sprains.

S. A. Read, Cisco, Tex. writes, March 11, 1901: My wrist was sprained so badly by a fall that it was useless; and after using several remedies that failed to give relief, used Ballard's Snow Liniment, and was cured. I earnestly recommend it to any one suffering from sprains. Sold by Williams Bros.

Low Round Trip to California.

If you are ever going to California, this summer is the time to go. The rates are unusually low. Only $62.50 Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento or Santa Barbara and return, May 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 29, 30, 31 and June 1, also August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13 and 14. Double berth in tourist sleeping car. Chicago to California leave Union Passenger Station, Chicago, 10:25 P. M. daily. Route—Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line. F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, 1245 Railway Exchange, Chicago.

Old Maids' Convention.

By request the Old Maids' Convention will be repeated at the Academy next Wednesday night, Sept. 4th. The Spinsters seem to be very much taken with Columbiana and the young bachelors we have, and we suppose the people will be out in force to hear them.

Millinery Opening.

T. J. Weaver & Co. will have their millinery opening on October 4th, 5th and 6th. The display this year is unusually good, and the ladies of Columbiana and vicinity will be delighted with the new shapes and styles which will be shown at this opening. Remember the dates.

Voice Culture.

Miss Edna Mae McNeal, of Shelby, will be in the city on Wednesday, October 4th, and would like to meet all those who desire to take a course in voice culture. She will be at the Academy at the close of school on the above date. Miss McNeal has the reputation of being an excellent teacher of the voice, and we hope she may be successful in organizing a vocal class in Columbiana.

Alabama State Fair.

The Alabama State Fair will be held in Birmingham October 23 to November 2, ten days. New and elegant buildings have been erected and the management is making every effort to make it the best fair ever held in Alabama. Liberal premiums are offered for exhibits of farm and garden products, needle work, art, fruits, preserves. Special attention will be given to live stock and poultry exhibits and a horse show will be held at night. R. M. Williams, secretary, will send catalogue to all who write for it.

Mrs. W. P. Hamner, who has been visiting at Lineville for the past three months, has returned home.

Hosea Pearson, of Farmer, was in town last Monday and paid The Sentinel a very pleasant call.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co. has something in this issue to interest the public. Read it.

Alphonse Verchot, of Pratt City, was in Columbiana over Sunday visiting relatives.

Postmaster Abercrombie was in Birmingham several days last week.

Strayed or Stolen.

From my farm near Briarfield Ala. One large brindle hound dog, with a faint stripe down his nose, two white feet in front, with white toes on hind feet. The white on left fore leg extends up the leg farther than on the right one. Ho left on Aug. 23rd, 1905.

Any information or return of the dog will be suitably rewarded.

J. R. SMITH, Jr.
Box 632, Birmingham Ala.

Notice.

The Shelby County Division of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America will meet at Camp Branch on Friday, October 20th, at 10 o'clock, A. M. All local Unions will please send full delegations to said meeting.

Hosea Pearson, Pres.
Shelby County Union.
N. W. Abbott, Chm. Ex. Com.

Beautiful Women.

Plump cheeks flushed with the soft glow of health and a pure complexion, make all woman beautiful. Take a small dose of Herbine after each meal; it will prevent constipation and helps digest what you have eaten. Mrs. Wm. M. Stroud, Midlothian, Tex. writes, May 31, 1901: "We have used Herbine in our family for eight years, and found it the best medicine we ever used for constipation, bilious fever and malaria. Sold by Williams Bros.

Programme.

The fourth quarterly meeting of the Sunday School Beats' Association of beats 8, 11 and 14, will convene at Liberty Church the 1st Sunday in October, 1905.

First after Sunday school will be music and devotional exercises by the President, which will be followed by a sermon by the pastor. At 1 o'clock, the Sunday school as an Educational Force, by Jno. J. Haynes.

How to Break Bad Habits, and to Cultivate Good Ones—Rev. C. W. O'Hara.

What I Owe to the Sunday School—Henry Milner and Prof. S. Dowell.

Am I My Brother's Keeper?—Rev. A. C. Messer and C. W. Walton.

All the schools in the beats are requested to send letters and representatives.

J. W. SHAW, Pres.
J. E. ADAMS, Sec. and Treas.

Abcess.

ABCESS' with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss. writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abcess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Colo.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world. Sold by Williams Bros.

THE GREATEST FAIR IN THE SOUTH.

ALABAMA STATE FAIR

AT BIRMINGHAM,

OCTOBER 23—NOVEMBER 2—TEN DAYS.

New and Complete Grounds—Fine Buildings.

Exhibit your Farm and Garden Products, Needle Work, Art, Fruits, Preserves, Etc.

LIBERAL PREMIUMS—SPECIAL PRIZES.

Show Rings for Cattle, Sheep, Hogs and Horses. Big Poultry Exhibit; Horse Show at Night. All Prizes in Cash and Guaranteed to Exhibitors. Get Ready for the Fair;

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

R. M. WILLIAMS, Sec'y, Birmingham, Ala.

All The Money in California

Is not from its gold fields. Fortunes are made from the wheat fields and the fruit farms. Why not investigate the chances there? T. rough train service Chicago to California, via Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line. Rate for double berth, $7 Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara or Sacramento. Tourist folder, with complete information, sent free on request. F. A. Miller, General Passenger Agent, Chicago, or W. S. Howell, 381 Broadway, New York.

Neglected Colds.

Every part of the Mucous membrane, the nose, throat, ears, head and lungs, etc., are subjected to disease and blight from neglected colds. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is a pleasant and effective remedy. W. Hendrick, Valley Mills, Tex. writes: "I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for coughs and throat trouble; it is a pleasant and most effective remedy." Sold by Williams Bros.

All About California

Its resources, its opportunities, its wonderful climate and kindly soil. How to get there, how long it takes, and what it costs via the Chicago, Union Pacific & North-Western Line, are all told about in booklets sent post-paid to my address for 4 cents in stamps. W. B. Kniskern, P. O. M. O. & N. W. Ry., Chicago.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, } Probate Court.
Shelby County.
In the matter of the application of L. E. Christian to sell real estate for division among joint owners:
The said L. E. Christian having this day filed in said court his petition for the sale of certain real estate described in his petition for division among the joint owners thereof, to-wit: L. E. Christian, W. L. Christian, non-resident who resides in the State of Ohio, Walter Christian, a mine who resides in Shelby County, Ala., and Miss Rosser Christian, who resides in Shelby County, Ala., alleging that said property cannot be equitably divided among them. The 9th day of October, 1905, was appointed for the hearing thereof, and it is ordered that notice be given by publication for three successive weeks in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in said county, at which time said non-resident and all other parties interested may appear and contest the same if they see fit.

A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

Sept. 4-9t

H. D. LATHAM.

OSCE BIRD.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

A Few Cut Prices:

Euthymol Tooth Paste.....	25c size now.....	20
" Toilet Powder.....	25c size now.....	20
Colgate's Dental Powder.....	25c size now.....	20
" Tooth Paste.....	25c size now.....	20
" Violet Talcum Powder.....	25c size now.....	20
" Cashmere Bouquet Talc.....	25c size now.....	20
Rubifoam.....	25c size now.....	20
Cuticura Soap.....	25c size now.....	20
Packer's Tar Soap.....	25c size now.....	20

CUT PRICES on all Soaps, Toilet Articles, Perfumes and Patent Medicines. Prescriptions accurately compounded. Give us a call.

LATHAM & BIRD.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana: Ala.

Subscribe for and read The Sentinel.

Opportunities in California

The trade in the Orient is opening up.

Our exports to Japan and China multiplied during the last year.

There will soon be a tremendous increase in the trade of the Pacific Coast cities with the Far East.

Big opportunities for the man who lives there. Why not look the field over?

Only $62.50, Chicago to San Francisco or Los Angeles and return, May 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 29, 30, 31, June 1, August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14, 1905. Tickets good for return for 90 days.

Rate for a double berth in a comfortable tourist sleeper from Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and many other points in California, only $7. Through train service from Union Passenger Station, Chicago, via the

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line

This is the route of The Overland Limited, leaving Union Passenger Station, Chicago, 6.05 p. m., and The California Express at 10.25 p. m. The California Express carries tourist sleeping cars to California every day. Both trains carry through standard sleepers.

Complete information sent free on receipt of coupon with blank lines filled.

W. S. HOWELL,
Gen'l Eastern Agent, 381 Broadway,
NEW YORK CITY,
or
F. A. MILLER,
General Passenger Agent,
CHICAGO.

Name	_____
Street address	_____
City	_____ State _____
Probable destination	CALIFORNIA

IN THE BEST OF HEALTH SINCE TAKING PE-RU-NA.

IN POOR HEALTH. PAINS IN BACK. SICK HEADACHES. PE-RU-NA CURED.

Mrs. Lena Smith, N. Cherry street, cor. Line, Nashville, Tenn., writes:

"I have had poor health for the past four years, pains in the back and groins, and dull, sick headache, with recurring dizziness."

"A friend who was very enthusiastic about Peruna insisted that I try it."

"I took it for ten days and was surprised to find I had so little pain."

"I therefore continued to use it and at the end of two months my pains had totally disappeared."

"I have been in the best of health since and feel ten years younger. I am very grateful to you."

Catastrophe of the internal organs gradually saps away the strength, undermines the vitality and causes nervousness. Peruna is the remedy.

A serum for hay fever is used by physicians in the Island of Heligoland.

DISFIGURING HUMOR

Brushed Scales From Face Like Powder—Doctor said Lily Would Be Disfigured For Life—Cuticura Works Wonders.

"I suffered with eczema all over my body. My face was covered; my eyebrows came out. I had tried three doctors, but did not get any better. I then went to another doctor. He thought my face would be marked for life, but my brother-in-law told me to get Cuticura. I washed with Cuticura Soap, applied Cuticura Ointment, and took Cuticura Resolvent as directed. I could brush the scales off my face like powder. Now my face is just as clean as it ever was.—Mrs. Emma White, 641 Cherrier Place, Camden, N. J., April 25, '03."

Sherborne.

Sherborne, where the pageantry hefitting a 1,200 anniversary is now in progress, is not only beautiful in herself; she has a lovely name in sound and sense, for it means in the old Saxon "clear brook." Dorsetshire people attach a deal of importance to the curse on any confessor with which the knightly bishop of Sarum accompanied his gifts of lands to the bishopric. The fact that misfortune befall everybody, including Sir Walter Raleigh, who entered upon the unblended enjoyment of these lands, is held to prove the old Norman's curse. If you remind the old Dorsetshire woman that the man who kept his head in the days of Raleigh was a rarity, and that, therefore, sudden death could hardly be held to prove the fulfillment of the curse, she naturally remains unconvinced.

In Sensible Switzerland.

Whenever the temperature reaches a certain point in Switzerland the schools are dismissed. This is on the theory that after a certain degree of suffering has been reached by both teachers and pupils, the one cannot impart nor absorb instruction that would be of any value, and so the time spent in attempting it is wasted.

"Green Goods" King.

James McNally, once noted as "the king of green goods men," is serving as a waiter in a Coney Island hotel. Fifteen years ago he was worth $500,000. Now he has reverted to his original estate, for he began life as waiter in a cheap restaurant.

GET POWER.

The Supply Comes From Food.

If we get power from food, why not strive to get all the power we can. That is only possible by use of skillfully selected food that exactly fits the requirements of the body.

Poor fuel makes a poor fire and a poor fire is not a good steam producer.

"From not knowing how to select the right food to fit my needs I suffered grievously for a long time from stomach troubles," writes a lady from a little town in Missouri.

"It seemed as if I would never be able to find out the sort of food that was best for me. Hardly anything that I could eat would stay on my stomach. Every attempt gave me heart-burn and filled my stomach with gas. I got thinner and thinner until I literally became a living skeleton, and in time was compelled to keep to my bed."

"A few months ago I was persuaded to try Grape-Nuts food, and it had such good effect from the very beginning that I have kept up its use ever since. I was surprised at the ease with which I digested it. It proved to be just what I needed. All my unpleasant symptoms, the heart-burn, the inflated feeling which gave me so much pain disappeared. My weight gradually increased from 98 to 116 lbs., my figure rounded out, my strength came back, and I am now able to do my housework and enjoy it. The Grape-Nuts food did it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A ten days' trial will show any one some facts about food.

"There's a reason."

MALARIA—AGUE.

In a series of articles previously published, I gave full directions and description for the successful home treatment of all kinds of fever, including malarial fever, but there has been a great demand this summer for more upon the subject of malaria or ague as it is popularly called.

If I were to go into a detailed or technical description of the sickness called ague, I would use up all of the space that is allotted to me, and you would receive no practical information. I think you are able to recognize the disease. Formerly it was supposed that ague was caused solely by damp marshy lands and damp cellars, because of its being more prevalent in such places, but it has during recent years been quite conclusively demonstrated that the cause originates in the bite of certain kinds of mosquitoes, and that one may with perfect safety and freedom from malaria sleep for months in the open air of the worst kinds of swampy places if fully protected from the bite of mosquitoes. Recent research also demonstrated that this knowledge was common property over two thousand years ago, and that several hundreds of kinds of mosquitoes were known and classified. Now while I am convinced that the bite of the poisonous insect is the cause, I do not believe that a person in perfect health would suffer, and in fact experience proves that many people are immune, although exposed to the same cause.

Our loss is, therefore, keep the blood pure and the alimentary canal free from impurities. The right kind of food in the right quantities and properly eaten, with sanitary surroundings is the safeguard which must be used for prevention.

First, good wholesome food that is not difficult to digest; second, not to overeat; third, to maintain all food very thoroughly; fourth, no liquids while eating; fifth, an abundance of pure water between meals and on arising in the morning; sixth, a good warm bath with plenty of soap and water at least twice a week; seventh, a perfect emptying of the colon at least one daily. This is a very important point in the prevention or successful home treatment of ague. The disease is much more likely to be fastened to one whose colon is filled with stagnant and impacted fecal matter, which should have been promptly eliminated. If there is the slightest sign of constipation the colon should be thoroughly cleansed by the use of from two to three quarts of warm water in which has been dissolved one tablespoonful of salt to the quart of water. This should be injected by means of a long, flexible soft rubber tube called a colon tube, such as is used in hospitals in administering what is called a "high enema."

About the only medicine that will be needed for keeping the system in excellent fighting condition in case the above suggestions are followed is either the good old-fashioned herb remedy, compound gentian syrup (not tincture) or about one grain of capsicum or common red pepper, taken just at the finish of breakfast, and another at dinner. The best way to take capsicum is in soluble capsules.

When the disease has become established, the Home Club method of treatment as given in Vol. 2 of the Club Books should be rigidly followed in addition to the observance of the dietetic and hygienic rules above given.

CLUB NOTES.

Sleeplessness.

One of our exchanges gives the following cure for insomnia:

"I suppose all of us are suffering from the invasion of electricity. My old friend Bounce, who was a victim of insomnia for forty years, thinks he sleeps now better than any other man on earth. He lost his way in the Adirondacks and stayed over night in the cabin of a forester. His sleep was the deep sleep of a just man made perfect, and in the morning he found that he had not moved half an inch all night."

"It's the insulation," the forester insisted. "You city folks are killing yourselves with contact. If you'll break the contact you'll be able to sleep and get your nerves back."

This matter of "contact" was finally explained to mean that our bedposts are in contact with the floors, the floors with the walls and the walls with mother earth, so that whatever personal magnetism a man has in him goes away in the night time, leaving him like a log on his mattress. The forester had obtained four glass insulators from telegraph poles somewhere and screwed them on the posts of his guest bed, so that the electricity could not run away. Bounce, the very day he got home insulated his bed, and from that moment to the present his insomnia has been banished.

I have frequently recommended the insulation of the bed for insomnia as well as for others forms of nervousness. Try it.

Summer.

Dear Sir—I am an old Home Health Club member. My record number is 2164. Have loaned my Club Books to friends in California. Would like some information regarding my present condition. I am seventy-six years old, and physicians say I have a bad case of anemia, also itching piles. I have great faith in you and in the Home Health Club and will greatly appreciate any suggestions you may have to offer. If either of the conditions mentioned are discussed in any of the Club Books which I do not have, let me know and I will procure it.

Truly yours,

K. R.

How to enrich the blood and cure anemia by a simple home method is fully described in the cloth bound book of Home Health Club lectures, the price of which is only $2 per copy. It contains about 120 of the most valuable lectures. In addition to the instructions which I have sent you in a private letter regarding the treatment for itching piles, you will also find excellent instructions in the book above referred to, on constipation and piles of all kinds.

Cambridge.

Dr. David H. Reeder, Laporte, Ind.: Dear Sir—I would be greatly pleased and I think benefited as well to learn your opinion of the enema as a means of treating diseases and as a remedy for ordinary constipation. Shall we use it or not? Our home doctors differ. I would also like to ask about the different forms and causes, especially the causes of urticaria. We hear a good deal of it during this hot weather.

Assuring you that your opinion will be highly appreciated, and hoping to have it soon, I remain, D. S.

In some cases the enema is quite necessary and does a vast amount of good. As a general cure-all I cannot recommend it so highly as some do. In some cases it is positively harmful. Each case must be studied separately and treatment given according to the specific needs.

The enema properly taken is better in the majority of cases than severe physic, but under proper living neither is required.

Urticaria, hives or nettle rash is caused by stomach disorders and frequently follows very quickly after eating strawberries and some other acid fruits, shell fish, etc., especially lobsters and crabs. Any one who is subject to attacks should use great care in the diet and should never eat late at night nor overload the stomach. Masticate all food quite thoroughly and see that constipation does not at any time exist.

Slater.

Dr. David H. Reeder, Laporte, Ind.: Dear Sir—Seeing your name in our paper, I wish to inquire about fleas. We have them all over our house and barn. Can you suggest a remedy?

Respectfully,

JAMES J.

I must confess that the destruction of fleas is not in my line. I do not remember ever having been bitten by a flea, and for that reason, perhaps, have held no particular enmity toward the active little pests. Perhaps some of our readers who live where the fleas are plentiful can give the desired information. It will be thankfully received by many.

Kankakee.

Dr. David H. Reeder, Laporte, Ind.: Dear Doctor—I would like to know the cause of taking cold as often as two and three times a week. Will get up in the morning and have a bad cold in the head and nose will run for three or four hours and then it gradually leaves me again. Am also troubled with headache and sick stomach. Sometimes vomiting nothing but bitter gall and it makes me very sick and weak. It generally lasts only one day at a time. Will be very thankful for any information you may give.

Yours truly,

MRS. L. Y.

The condition which you call a cold which you take two or three times per week is an acute catarrhal difficulty, or what some would call hay fever. It can be cured in nearly all cases by the use of the tissue elements advocated by Dr. Schuessler, of which I have so often spoken of in Club Notes. The tissue elements will also relieve the headaches and sick spells.

GALL STONES.

I have a request for a lecture upon the subject of Gall Stones. It is an interesting subject and I will comply with the request giving a full description of a safe and practical method of home treatment in the near future.

All readers of this publication are at liberty to write for any information pertaining to the subject of health. Address all communications to the Home Health Club, or to Dr. David H. Reeder, Laporte, Ind., with name and address in full and with at least four cents in postage.

Snake Hunters.

"Down South the negroes are great snake hunters," said Captain John H. Coyne, of Tampa, Fla. "There seems to be an irresistible fascination about the sport, and many prefer it to any other form of amusement. It is in the marshes and bays that the colored people hunt their game, which is caught by long poles with forked ends and string slip nooses. Many are captured for the sake of their oil, which is supposed to be a fine remedy for rheumatism and other ailments to which the flesh of black and white is alike heir. Then live snakes are used in the mysterious ceremonies of 'Voodoo,' and the several uses to which they are put and the tortures which they are often forced to undergo are supposed to annihilate witches, remove 'spells' put upon victims by malicious persons, and to insure the presence of good luck. When one of the snake hunters is bitten he treats it as a light matter. He enlarges the bite with his penknife and drains it with his lips. It is seldom one of them dies of snakebite."—Milwaukee Free Press.

A Regular Life.

The scene was a third-class smoking compartment, five on a side. The speaker was stout, florid, with short-cut gray hair, and was very self-satisfied. The effeminate degeneracy of modern young men was his theme.

"Look at me! Sixty years of age—never had a day's illness in my life, and can do my four miles an hour. Why? Because from when I was twenty till I was over forty I lived a regular life. No delicacies for me! No late hours! Every day, summer and winter, I went to bed at 9, got up at 5, lived principally on porridge, worked hard—hard, mind you, from 8 to 1, then dinner, then an hour's walking exercise, and then—"

"Beg your pard'n, guv'nor," interrupted a young working man sitting opposite, "but wot was you in for?"

A Humorous Hint.

Truth notes a specimen of American humor, received the other day by a London firm. It ran:

"Our cashier fell unconscious at his desk this morning. Up to this time, a p. m., we have been unable to get a word out of him, except your names."

"May we say to him, with a view to his immediate recovery, that we have your check, as we think that is what is on his mind?"—New York Press.

Picture Postal Cards.

The picture postal "craze" has hit us Americans at last, and forcibly. Ten years or more ago the picture postals had already a wide circulation in Europe. They were pretty, generally clever, often worth something as souvenirs, and formed an agreeable method of remembering the folks at home. Now the picture postals are bringing in their American wake the postal albums, a sure sign of the popularity of this pictured private mailing card. At the N. E. A., to cite one example, the mail was considerably increased by the sending of Asbury Park postal souvenirs.

But there is one development of the postal picture "craze" that we not only deplore, but protest against, namely, the obscene card. While passing recently through several cities we noted their frequency on the newsstands. Many have a certain cleverness of the risqué and unrefined that can well be dispensed with. Europe was flooded with questionable cards of this sort; the United States should be no further culture-ground for them. Our law forbids the transmission of obscene matter through the mails; it is obvious, however, that where there is much selling, there must be some sending. We protest, however, particularly against the display of these cards, be it in Boston or elsewhere. It is a kind of publicity that we believe can be checked and soon stamped out by a counter-publicity of the facts by the press.

The Boston and Maine railroad is testing peat as a fuel for its engines. So far the test has been very satisfactory. The source of supply is in the town of Lexington, Mass., and it is said that this single deposit would furnish enough fuel for all the railroads entering Boston.

FITs permanently cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer, $2.00 per bottle and treatise free. Dr. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 531 Arch St., Phila., Pa.

Genuine Russian caviar is one of the most costly commodities.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic, 25c. a bottle.

Madrid still has the mediaeval night watchmen.

Do not believe Jico's Cure for Consumption has any special merit. It is a cheap, worthless, and dangerous medicine. J. J. Jico, 100 N. 10th St., New York, N. Y.

The white coast of the Gulf of California abounds in pearls.

Draws the Poison.

Sloan's Liniment, the great antiseptic, draws the poison from mosquito bites and stings of all insects. It kills yellow fever and malarial germs.

The Atlantic Ocean has an average depth of 16,000 feet.

Senator Morgan's Vitality.

One of the most wonderful men in the United States senate is John T. Morgan, of Alabama. He is 81 years old, and two years from this time he will complete thirty years' continuous service in the senate. During the recent short session he spoke for more than four hours for two successive days. The physical effort of speaking for four hours on one day is more than many senators care to attempt. On every foreign subject he knows all there is to know and has the knowledge at command without reference books or documents. No other man knows so much about the isthmian canal. Once some one asked how long he could really talk. "It depends upon the subject," he replied. "If it were a matter that I thoroughly understand I could talk for two or three days; if it were a matter I knew nothing about I could talk for two or three weeks."

Woman 171 Years Old.

A remarkable case of longevity is instanced by the Canadian Gazette, which records that a Chinese woman passed through Montreal the other day who claimed to be 171 years old. She had nothing to prove her age, only the word of her friends added to confirm her remarkable statement. As an official put it, she seemed as if she had been dug out of the great wall of China, built some 5,000 years ago. She was on her way home from Demarara to China in order to make her last resting place in the celestial kingdom, for she feared she had not many more years to live. She was bent nearly double, and her face looked like crinkled yellow parchment. It appears that she left China when 70 years old, and has resided in Demarara for the last 100 years.

Birds Lost at Sea.

In the far north, and particularly along the ocean coast, birds are frequently storm driven and lose their bearings, so that many of them are lost at sea. They keep floating in the air aimlessly, striving to live, until exhaustion compels them to drop into the waves, which engulf them. There is a well authenticated case on record of an ocean liner bringing into New York on a winter's day a large white owl which had dropped on to one of the forward spars in an exhausted condition more than 800 miles off the coast of Newfoundland.

Most Cultured Romanoff.

Grand Duke Constantine of Russia is said to be the most cultured Romanoff now living. He has translated a great deal of Shakespeare into his native tongue and in amateur theatricals has appeared as Hamlet. His seven children are all being brought up thoroughly to understand English literature.

Codfish Cheese.

"Codfish cheese" is the name given to a canned preparation of fresh cod, now put up in Newfoundland. It is used for hash or fish cakes.

LIGHTING LORE

ACETYLENE EXCELS AS AN ILLUMINANT.

Gas For Lighting Formerly Confined to Cities and Large Towns, Now in General Use in the Country.

The satisfactory lighting of suburban and country homes requires that the means used shall be convenient, safe, economical and furnish a brilliant, penetrating, effulgent light.

Everybody admits that these are not the characteristics of the candle or kerosene lamp, which, formerly, were the only feasible means of producing light for domestic use in the rural districts.

For generations there was a crying need, a yearning for something better, which was not satisfied. A few years ago deliverance came in the shape of the chemical compound, Calcium Carbide, from which, by the simple application of water, the gas Acetylene is derived. Acetylene meets all the requirements fully and admirably and is being generally used.

Common lime and carbon in the form of coke or coal are the raw materials which, fused in an intensely heated furnace, make Calcium Carbide, and there is no difficulty in obtaining it in any part of the country.

The machine into which the Calcium Carbide is fed and from which the Acetylene is distributed through the building to be lighted, is but little larger than a thirty-gallon milk can, and of the same general form. It is easily and cheaply installed, either in the cellar or in an outbuilding.

The light from burning Acetylene is exquisite, and lighting experts agree that it surpasses all other known illuminants. It does not taint the air nor strain the eyes, and is not objectionable in any respect. Every up-to-date rural residence should be equipped with Acetylene light.

Mikado's Large Income.

The yearly allowance of the Mikado, which is at the same time that of the whole imperial family, is now $1,500,000. Besides, he has the yearly income of $500,000 from the interest on the $10,000,000 which was given to him from the war indemnity received from China ten years ago, of $250,000 from his private estates, which amount to $5,000,000 or more; of $500,000 from the forests, covering an area of 5,124,873 acres and valued at $12,487,300, at $100 an acre; in all $1,250,000. Thus his yearly net income amounts to $2,750,000. There are in all sixty members of the imperial family, inclusive of eleven married and four widowed princesses, who are members of the family by marriage, not by birth.

France's Internal Waterways.

France has 3,045 miles of canals and 4,065 of rivers improved for purposes of navigation. The government has expended on these waterways about $500,000,000 since the war with Germany.

Avery & Company

SUCCESSORS TO

AVERY & McMillan,

51-53 South Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.

—ALL KINDS OF—

MACHINERY

Reliable Frick Engines, Boilers, all Sizes. Wheat Separators.

25,000 FREE SAMPLES

GILBERT'S

GRAVEL WEED COMPOUND.

The Great Tonic is Guaranteed to Give Satisfaction.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease; therefore, when, through neglect or other cause, kidney trouble is permitted to continue, fatal results are sure to follow.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorders of these most important organs.

Your other organs may need attention—but your kidneys most, because they do most and need your attention first.

If you are sick or feel badly," begin taking GILBERT'S GRAVEL WEED COMPOUND, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince any one. Write for a sample of this famous remedy—will be sent free of charge.

THE T. H. GILBERT DRUG CO., Huntsville, Ala. Regular sizes sold by all druggists at 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

NEEDLES, SHUTTLES, REPAIRS.

FOR ALL SEWING MACHINES. Standard Goods Only. Free Catalogue to Dealers. BUREAU OF SEWING MFG. CO., 913 Locust St., ST. LOUIS, MO.

MONEY $$$

Write to E. E. Behr, La Crosse, Wis.

IT'S CHILLS YOU HAVE, IT'S OXIDINE YOU NEED

It is sold under ABSOLUTE GUARANTEE, and if you are not cured your druggist will refund your money. Made also in Tasteless Form. Sold by all druggists for 50 cents per Bottle.

PATTON-WORSHAM DRUG CO.

MRS. DALLAS, TEX. AND MEMPHIS, TENN.

Mothers Are Helped

THEIR HEALTH RESTORED

Happiness of Thousands of Homes Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's Advice.

A devoted mother seems to listen to every call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells her to guard her health, and before she realizes it some derangement of the female organs has manifested itself, and nervousness and irritability take the place of happiness and amiability.

And there are high-class workmen behind this saw, masters of their craft, whose skill and pride of workmanship have helped to make the Atkins Saw, Corn Knife, Perfection Floor Scraper, etc., are sold by all good hardware dealers. Catalogue on request.

E. C. ATKINS & CO., Inc.

Largest Saw Manufacturers in the World

Branches: New York, Chicago, Minneapolis, Portland, Oregon, Seattle, San Francisco, Memphis, Atlanta and Toronto, Canada.

Accept no Substitute—Insist on the Atkins Brand

SOLD BY GOOD DEALERS EVERYWHERE

PAKING TOILET ANTISEPTIC

FOR WOMEN

Troubled with ill peculiar to their sex, used as a douche is marvellously successful. Thoroughly cleanses, kills disease germs, stops discharges, heals inflammation and local soreness, cures leucorrhoea and nasal catarrh.

Examine its powder form to be dissolved in pure water, and is far more cleansing, healing, germicidal and economical than liquid antiseptics for all TOILET AND WOMEN'S SPECIAL USES.

TOILET BOX AND BOTTLES OF CONSTRUCTION FREE. THE R. PATTON COMPANY BOSTON, MASS.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3.00 & $3.00 SHOES

W. L. Douglas $4.00 Cilt Edge Line cannot be equalled at any price.

W. L. DOUGLAS MAKES AND SELLS MORE MEN'S $3.00 SHOES THAN ANY OTHER MANUFACTURER.

$10.00 REWARD to anyone who can disprove this statement.

W. L. Douglas $3.00 shoes have by their excellent style, easy fitting, and superior wearing qualities, achieved the largest sale of any $3.00 shoe in the world. They are just as good as those that cost $5.00 to $7.00.—The only difference is the price. If I could take you into my factory at Brockton, Mass., the largest in the world under one roof making men's fine shoes, and show you the care with which every pair of Douglas shoes is made, you would realize why W. L. Douglas $3.00 shoes are the best shoes produced in the world.

If I could show you the difference between the shoes made in my factory and those of other makes, you would understand why Douglas $3.00 shoes cost more to make, why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater intrinsic value than any other $3.00 shoe on the market to-day.

W. L. Douglas Strong Made Shoes for Men, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, $5.50, $6.00, $6.50, $7.00, $7.50, $8.00, $8.50, $9.00, $9.50, $10.00.

CAUTION.—Insist upon having W. L. Douglas shoes. Take no substitute. Some persons without his name and price stamped on bottom.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 5.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.
W. B. Browne, Mayor
W. L. Farley, Clerk
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnson, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Tuesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duganlinson, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every fourth Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 140, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet at 7:30. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abernethy, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited to meet at 7:30. P. Longshore, C. C. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 1, 1905.

*No. 22	*No. 16	STATIONS.	*No. 13	*No. 21.
7:00pm	5:35am	lv. Mobile	4:55pm	8:00am
1:10pm	5:45pm	lv. Seama	4:30pm	2:00am
7:30pm	5:55pm	ar. Chas. Bay	6:20am	6:30pm
9:40am	6:05pm	ar. Chas. Bay		6:30pm
1:11pm		ar. Knox		2:00pm
6:40pm		ar. Bristol		9:50am
		ar. A. N. ville		1:15pm
		ar. Lynde		3:00am
		ar. W. h. g. n. lv		10:00pm
12:43pm		ar. N. York		3:25pm

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Oct. 5, 05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 12, 1904 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

The advertisement of the Commercial Club in this issue of The Sentinel speaks for itself. That Columbiana is now the best cotton market in this section is becoming apparent to all the farmers, and the way the fleecy staple has been coming in the past few days is evidence of the fact that the farmers are finding it out. The farmer will do well to study the market offered them here; and then they are where, if they sell here, they can do their trading and buy goods at prices that cannot be met anywhere else. It is surely to the farmers interest to bring his cotton to Columbiana.

Thank You.

We wish to congratulate Bro. Whitaker, of the Columbiana Sentinel, on the splendid anniversary edition of his paper. This edition shows much talent, work and enterprise, and not only reflects great credit on the editor, but on the entire people of Shelby county. The Sentinel deserves the liberal patronage and support of the people of that section. Here's to Bro. Whitaker and his excellent paper! May they live long and prosper!—Prattville Progress.

A petition was circulated last week by W. A. Tallant asking for a stock law election for beat 1.

The Kansas corn crop for this year is estimated at 393,000,000 bushels. And what do you think of that!

How would you like to solicit life insurance now with all the insurance scandals staring you in the face?

Some men ask the newspapers to settle questions they wouldn't have the nerve to broach in their own household.

The Sentinel believes that Shelby county is in the Cunningham column for Governor, and the Garber column for Attorney General.

D. J. Meador, of Marengo, is a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, and he will have a strong following all over the State.

Do not forget to pay your poll tax. Next year there is an important election and you cannot vote unless you pay your poll tax this year.

Samford says no one has been authorized to say he is a candidate for Attorney General. But Mr. Samford does not say he is not a candidate.

Has Editor Hare's resignation as a trustee of Booker Washington's school been lost in the shuffle? No one seems to have seen or heard anything of it.

We may be mistaken in our prediction, but we believe Colonel Garber will be nominated and elected Attorney General just as sure as the election comes off.

Cunningham believes in a regulation of railroad rates, but he does not believe in the piratical methods advocated by Mr. Comer, and that is why the Comer crowd has it in for Cunningham.

New York is now working on a scheme whereby it is hoped to establish a permanent world's fair in that city. It appears to us that the world's fair business has been overwork in this country.

Bob Taylor refuse to stump Tennessee with Senator Carmack. That's the first time we ever heard of Bob Taylor refusing anything.

The Opelika News thinks it is just awful if the State Committee does not call an early primary. Extremists, you know, do not want the people to think, but jam right in no matter where you land.

There seems to be a difference of opinion over the State as to whether county superintendents were elected for two or four years in the election of 1904. Two years is a plenty under present conditions in this county.

Shelby county roads are not in the condition that they should be, even if there is a special road tax on the property holders of the county. But, then, the powers that be do not care very much for the roads or the people.

If you are in arrears for poll tax for any of the years of 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, you must pay up before next February the first if you expect to vote in the election of 1906. The best way is to keep your poll tax paid each year.

The Republicans of Maryland have put a plank in their State platform which says "we'll have no negro domination and social equality in ours." What! And from Republicans, too? The man with the big stick should discipline his followers in Maryland.

A small boy was struck by an automobile in Atlanta a few days ago and instantly killed. The driver of the machine was arrested on a charge of manslaughter. Imprisonment of reckless drivers of the "go-devils" would have a tendency to break up such a dangerous practice.

The Sentinel congratulates Roanoke on getting the A. & B. railroad, and also Editor Stevenson who made his paper, the Leader, such a strong factor in pulling the road to his town. The Leader is deserving of the undivided support of every business man in Roanoke.

When Tunstall is elected railroad commissioner by the people we are ready to believe the moon is made of green cheese. We are opposed to Comer because of his piratical utterances about the railroads, and against Tunstall because he has been a public leech to these many years.

The New Decatur Advertiser has entered upon its sixteenth year. Editor Hildreth is making a great paper, and from its advertising columns we apprehend the business men of New Decatur appreciate his efforts. Here's hoping he will still be at the helm when the Advertiser adds another sixteen to its years.

It is said that H. W. McElderry, of Talladega, will probably be a candidate for associate railroad commissioner. The Sentinel hopes Mr. McElderry will not be a candidate, but that he will do all he can to secure the nomination of Colonel Garber for Attorney General, for if he is a candidate for State office it will hurt Mr. Garber's candidacy.

A prosperous farmer said to the writer a few days ago: "I have lived in Shelby county for thirty-six years, and The Sentinel is the best paper the county has ever had since I have lived here—and it grows better all the time." Such kindly remarks have a tendency to spur a newspaper man to do his very best. We believe The Sentinel goes to its readers this week better than ever before, and its growing subscription list and increasing advertising patronage is the best evidence that it is growing in public favor. The subscription is one price to all—one dollar per year. We have no fifty cent rate for anybody. We had much rather charge nothing for it than to make one man pay a dollar, and let the next man who comes along have it for fifty cents. That would not be a square deal, and then, it's not business. We would like to have every man in the county on our list, but we do not want them at half price.

FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY.

Naturally, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this place have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the town. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free of charge to you—a considerable item.

Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

If you desire to purchase goods of any description, our merchants carry full and complete lines, and will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet.

All we ask of you is: Give the Columbiana cotton market a trial.

Columbiana Commercial Club.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 30,818 55	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000 00
Securities..... 50 64	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 2,156 10
Banking house..... 5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check..... 33,536 37
Furniture and fixtures..... 2,600 00	Time deposits..... 2,784 50
Other real estate..... 3,600 00	Cashier's checks..... 101 60
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 0,336 23	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 16,365 50
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,542 57
Currency..... 5,112 60
Gold..... 665 00
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 1,557 38
Checks and cash items..... 3,628 07
Total..... $ 73,563 22	Total..... $ 73,563 22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier, of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said bank, as shown by the books on file in said bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July, 1905.

JOHN R. DYKE, Circuit Clerk.

WILSONVILLE.

Brindly Nivens was in town Sunday shaking hands with his many friends who are always glad to see him.

We have just had rain enough in the past few days to settle the dust, which had become very deep and disagreeable.

Miss Annie Boyer returned home last Friday from Ensley, accompanied by her grandmother, Mrs. M. Hatchings, of Allensville, Ky.

W. J. and Oscar Tinney spent Sunday in town with their father's family. We are sorry to learn that Will has lost about thirty fine fat hogs with cholera.

We were glad to shake hands with our young friend, Miss Vera Jackson, Sunday eve, as she passed through our town on her way from her home in Florida to enter school again at Marion.

Mrs. Rosie Teague has charge of the musical department of our school. Her class consisted of ten pupils to begin with. Miss Rosie taught here last year to the entire satisfaction of all her pupils and patrons. We would be glad to see her have at least twenty pupils this year.

Walter Avery is in town for a few days using his influence with the men in trying to get them to insure their lives so as to protect the widows and orphans should death come upon them and take away the support that they now have. I think it a duty man owes to his family to have his life insured in some good reliable company, unless he has already a sufficiency for his family after he has left them. So now is a good time to insure your lives.

Rip Van Winkle.

Strayed or Stolen.

From my farm near Brierfield Ala. One large brindle hound dog, with a faint stripe down his nose, two white feet in front, with white toes on hind feet. The white on left fore leg extends up the leg farther than on the right one. He left on Aug. 23rd, 1905.

Any information or return of the dog will be suitably rewarded. J. R. SMITH, JR. Box 632, Birmingham, Ala.

Not an empty residence in Columbiana, and several new ones now being built are already rented. The man with the money to put up several cottages in Columbiana for rent would find it a paying investment.

Now that you are selling your cotton, or part of it at least, don't you think it would be a good idea to pay off the printer who has been carrying you for a year or two? How about it?

Non-Resident Notice and Administrator's Notice.

The State of Alabama, Shelby County.

In the matter of estate of Chilled Strain, deceased.

Wm. Strain, Sr., Adm'r. September 18, 1905.

On this day comes Wm. Strain, Sr., Administrator of the estate aforesaid, and filed his petition for an order to sell the real estate of said estate, to wit:

sell of sell of Sec. 25, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, ne 1/4 of ne 1/4 of Sec. 28, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, also about 1/2 of an acre in the northwest corner of ne 1/4 of ne 1/4 of Sec. 28, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, 165 feet east and west, and 165 feet north and south, and ne 1/4 of ne 1/4 of Sec. 28, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, and ne 1/4 of ne 1/4 of Sec. 28, Tp. 21, R. 1 East, and all that part of the southeast quarter of Sec. 21, Tp. 21, R. 1 East that lies south of Beeswax Creek, containing in all 16 acres more or less, and situated in Shelby county, Ala., alleging that it is necessary to sell the same for the payment of debts of said estate and that the personal property of said estate is insufficient, therefore it is ordered by the Court that the 30th day of October next, be set for the hearing of said petition, and it appearing that Wm. Strain, an heir of said estate, is a non-resident and lives in the State of Texas, and that John Strain, an heir of said estate, is a non-resident and lives in the State of Florida, it is ordered that a newspaper published at Columbiana, Shelby county, notifying them and all others interested in the same to appear and contest the same if they think proper.

A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law, AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY. Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN, Attorney and Counselor-at-Law. Montevallo, Ala. Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER, DENTIST. COLUMBIANA, ALA. Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

"CRITERION"

The Very Best

CLOTHING

On the Market.

Had You Thought About It?

We cordially invite your inspection of our stock of this popular brand of clothing—none better in the world. It is made of

The Best Fiber

and made up in the latest styles and most durable manner, hence its great popularity. You can buy this clothing at no other store in Columbiana. We can please you in price.

Every Garment Guaranteed

by the manufacturers to be just as it is represented or money refunded. They know the excellent quality of the goods or they could not afford to make such an offer to purchasers.

Come in to see us.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

THE GREATEST FAIR IN THE SOUTH.

ALABAMA STATE FAIR

AT BIRMINGHAM,

OCTOBER 23—NOVEMBER 2—TEN DAYS.

New and Complete Grounds—Fine Buildings.

Exhibit your Farm and Garden Products, Needle Work, Art, Fruits, Preserves, Etc.

LIBERAL PREMIUMS—SPECIAL PRIZES.

Show Rings for Cattle, Sheep, Hogs and Horses. Big Poultry Exhibit, Horse Show at Night. All Prizes in Cash and Guaranteed to Exhibitors. Get Ready for the Fair.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

R. M. WILLIAMS, Sec'y, Birmingham, Ala.

MILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law, Columbiana, Ala. Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors IN CHANCERY. Columbiana, Ala.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana, Ala.

Russia confesses that the warships it lost in the war with Japan cost $113,000,000.

It looks very much as if nothing but frost would break the grip of yellow fever.

Comer is a one idea man, and Alabamians do not want a governor of that kind.

The Montgomery farmers have made a pledge to not sell their cotton for less than eleven cents.

President Roosevelt is to be entertained by a "mosquito lecture" when he visits New Orleans next month.

Four men in the meat combine were fined $25,000 in the United States district court in Chicago one day last week.

It looks very much as if the searchlight of investigation is to be turned on all the big life insurance companies in New York.

The Age-Herald says New Orleans refugees are welcome in that city, provided they have no New Orleans mosquitoes up their sleeves.

The Headland Post has entered upon the fourth year of its publication. It is a good paper, and deserves well at the hands of the Headland people.

The good angels of the big life insurance companies, if they ever had any, appear to have deserted them, and considerable dirty linen is now being held up to public view.

The Talladega Reporter proposes to be on the safe side. Editor Ward says he will support the best man for Governor, at which the Scottsboro Citizen says, "definite, very."

The town of Talladega has nearly four times the population of Columbiana, yet it has only a little more than twice the number of children in the public schools than we have.

It seems that Governor Jelks is not so much in favor of an extra session as he thought he was. It would be an expensive luxury(?), and we do not believe there is any need of it.

From a recent cartoon in the Age-Herald one is led to believe that both heads have been knocked out of the Comer barrel, and that there will be something doing from now on.

"Verily," says the Selma Journal, "the world do move. Who would have thought a few years ago that there was a close connection between life insurance and republican majorities?"

Editor Hood of the Montgomery Journal, is being mentioned as a candidate for auditor of state. A good man for the place, but nothing in it for a man who has labored a lifetime for his party.

It is passing strange that a broad-minded city like Birmingham should ever have charged a dollar, or any other sum, for a health certificate. There is an opportunity for graft in such a proposition.

The baseball season for the Southern league is over for this year, and the teams finished in the following order: New Orleans, Montgomery, Atlanta, Shreveport, Birmingham, Memphis, Nashville, Little Rock.

The postoffice department has ruled that all boxes on rural free delivery routes must be numbered. The instructions provide that only good waterproof boxes shall have this recognition. The numbering will begin with the first box from the starting point on the route, and thence up to the last box on the route. If your box is not waterproof, better get one.

Hon. Rufus N. Rhodes, editor of the Birmingham News, has been chosen to give the address of welcome on the occasion of President Roosevelt's visit to Birmingham on October 23rd. Colonel Rhodes is a fluent, graceful speaker, and we doubt not will do the honors of the occasion in a manner pleasing to Birmingham people.

Many are the jokes cracked at the expense of Clay county and her people because so many of them live in the hills and are just plain folks. But in its adoption of the special tax for public schools it has given "enlightened" Lee county, which defeated the tax, an object lesson. Only thirty-nine votes were cast against the proposition in Clay, while 562 were cast for it. Hurrah for Clay! that is the banner majority, according to the number of votes cast, given by any county that has voted upon the proposition.

Harry Brooke, editor of the Crenshaw County Critic, was recently found guilty, by jury, of an assault upon J. C. McLendon, editor of the Laverne Journal, and his fine fixed at one cent. The verdict is a farce upon its face. It looks very much as if the verdict was for no other purpose than to make Brooke pay the costs of the suit. He has appealed from the verdict, and he has done the correct thing. If he was guilty as charged his fine should have been commensurate, and if not he should have been discharged.

And now it is claimed that "An Act to Better Provide for the Revenue of the State," is not a lawful act, as it did not pass both houses of the last Legislature. If this be true, all privilege taxes which have been collected by probate judges under that act, have been unlawfully collected. The legality of the act is to be tested in Jefferson county, where the Central Trust Company of New York has asked for a writ of mandamus to compel probate judge Samuel E. Greene to file a mortgage without the payment of the privilege tax. The outcome of the case will be watched for with interest.

Judge Alton B. Parker has been vindicated in his statement that the great corporations of this country had contributed largely to the last Republican campaign fund. One insurance company alone contributed $50,000 to the fund, but it was like pulling teeth to get the company's officers to admit it. President Roosevelt, after having received the benefits of such contributions, now wants a law enacted prohibiting any such transactions in the future. Wonderful how good some people become when they can no longer use a corporation as a tool. President Roosevelt was very emphatic in his denial of the charges made by Judge Parker at the time they were made, but now he is as mute as a mouse when the evidence is in sight.

We know that every community has its chronic kicker, says an exchange, and we presume that some of these may at times have complained at the home paper for its many omissions of news items, its bad print, its lack of progressiveness, and various and sundry other defects that their imagination and their inclination to see faults in everything make real to them. To such we can only say that no reasonably minded man expects metropolitan paper with Associated Press reports, or its equivalent, to be published in a small town. No doubt, too, there are some of these kickers who have never yet paid the arrears on their subscription, and worse still, some of them may refuse to subscribe, but borrow the paper from their neighbors.

A Plain Truth.

Mr Comer takes advantage of every public gathering, be it educational, religious, fraternal or social—to which he is honored by an invitation—to boost his political campaign. This, we think, is bad taste, and shows a disposition to "but in" where he has no business. The executive committee of the Alabama Press Association did a very wise thing when they refused to allow politics to be injected in the annual meeting a few weeks ago, and it would have been to the credit of the Masonic fraternity had those in charge refused Mr. Comer the privilege of making political utterance at a general rally at Blount Springs a few days ago.—Atmore Spectrum.

The order recently issued requiring mail boxes on rural free delivery routes to be numbered has been held up by the department pending an investigation. Petitions have been filed with the department by country merchants from all over the country protesting against numbering the boxes, claiming that it will ruin their business—that the mail order houses and department stores will fill the mails with advertisements that will be detrimental to the country merchant. An investigation is being made by the department.

England and Japan have recently made an agreement that in case either becomes involved in war the other is to come to its assistance. The agreement is short and a nutshell—comprising less than eight hundred words.

A lead pencil five inches long was found in the appendix of a man recently operated upon in Chicago. That beats the record.

After you have read your copy of The Sentinel, hand it to a friend who is not a subscriber. But don't make a practice of it.

Colonel Garber is the popular candidate for Attorney General, and we believe he will be nominated easily.

Montevallo's Additional Dormitory.

From the Age-Herald.
Lieutenant-Governor Cunningham says, in the course of his direct and forcible address to the electors of Alabama, "I am in favor of an appropriation of not less than $50,000 to build an additional dormitory for the Girls' Industrial School at Montevallo. The students of that school are young ladies who are being taught an occupation to enable them to make a living. It seems to me that the necessity and advantages of this school should appeal to all our people."

Dr. Cunningham certainly voices public sentiment when he says the Montevallo school should be made large enough to hold all the girls of this state who desire to acquire an education together with a knowledge of a gainful occupation. Georgia has turned its old capitol building at Milledgeville into a similar school, and that state adds freely to the accommodations, so that no Georgia girl is refused admission. This is not the case at Montevallo. Many a girl who has command of enough money to pay her board and other living expenses is turned away because the lack of a dormitory. This should not be. It is not so at Tuscaloosa or Auburn, and Montevallo is conducted on a basis similar to that of the two institutions for young men.

The girls of Alabama deserve better treatment at the hands of the state, and Dr. Cunningham is eminently correct when he says the addition of a dormitory at Montevallo is a matter that appeals to all our people.

Boy's Essay on Lodges.

Lodges are places where men pay so much a year for a place to be when they are not at home at night. There are many different lodges; the odd fellows and elks and eagles and others, even the good templars. But the last is not much good, because if you tell your wife when you come in about 2 o'clock in the morning that you have just come from the good templars lodge, she will say, "Have you? Then what's the matter with your breath?"

In all the lodges they keep a goat for you to ride when you join. You get on the goat and then—but I can't tell any more, for there are too many women and other people who will read this that don't belong to the lodges.

One of the first lodges was when Columbus came to this country. The Indians here saw him coming and they said, we must not let him find out all we know, so we will have a lodge and call it the red men. Then came the eagle. They gave it that name because they fly high. Their motto is faith, hope, charity and prize fights.

Lodges are good things, pa says. The night he joined one lodge he came home at 3 o'clock, and when ma asked what kept him out so late he said, "I'll take a little of the same," and lay down on the floor and slept till morning.

The best thing about lodges is that when you die the lodge buries you free of charge. The grand-high-muck-a-muck of the lodge recites a little speech about "Our departed brother is gone from our midst." Then they give the widow money for the fatherless orphans. Ma is anxious for pa to give the lodge a chance to help us.

The economy practiced by the postoffice department is of a rare and curious quality. Extensions of the rural free delivery are causing the annual deficit to grow larger and larger, and no provisions are being made to increase the revenues. Appropriations for the supply department were exhausted two months before the end of the last fiscal year and the service has been seriously crippled by the shortage. In many instances it is said clerks and postmasters are providing necessary supplies at their own expense. But the government is making surveys for pneumatic tube service at an estimated cost of $250,000, between the Kansas City postoffice and the union depot, where the mail wagons cover the trip in ten minutes, and a purchasing agent is working overtime buying costly cancelling machines, typewriters, adding machines, cash registers and automatic stamp sellers, each requiring skilled employes to operate them.—Atchison Globe.

The State Fair at Birmingham this year promises to be better than any of its predecessors, and you should make your arrangements to attend two or three days. There will be reduced rates on all railroads.

Senator Morgan has written a letter to Governor Jelks advising the calling of an extra session of the legislature. The Senator may be right in his deductions, but the people will hardly think so.

Will Be a Plenty.

Opelika News.
If we are not very badly mistaken Capt. Hobson has lost ground politically since he made his race for congress about as rapidly as any would be politician ever did. Last year he was almost a universal favorite in this state. His race against Bankhead attracted national attention and thousands of Alabamians, who had nothing against Bankhead sympathized with Hobson in that campaign. But it is different now. Many people have changed their estimate of the naval hero. He has made a political record and in doing so has lost many admirers.

Here is the way one of his former admirers, the Selma Times, talks about the hero now:

"L. B. Musgrove, who resides at Jasper, in the 6th district, is out in a long interview, in which he predicts that Capt. Hobson will defeat Congressman Bankhead in the approaching election. Mr. Musgrove talked that way before, if we remember aright. We never were much of a Bankhead man and supported Hobson in the last race, but at that time Hobson had no record behind him. He has talked a great deal, however, since the last election, and as a choice between the two we prefer Bankhead succeeding himself next time. We honestly believe that he will defeat Hobson a great deal worse this time than he did before. Hobson is brilliant, but he is cranky. We want no cranks in congress. John Bankhead is not a very smart man, but he has plenty of common horse sense, and as between the two we prefer the latter.

"It is our opinion that Hobson will not know what struck him when the voters of the 6th district get through with him next time. He has any amount of self-assurance, but he will fall short of his ambition again, we think. But he will about succeed in making Capt. Bankhead spend all he saves out of his salary every two years, and if Hobson keeps on lecturing and spending his money to break into congress, Bankhead may have that tired feeling bye and bye."

Has Every Man His Price?

Alabama Christian Advocate.

The remark is frequently made that "every man has his price." Indeed so often is the assertion made and with such bold assertion that we fear it is becoming the creed in many political and circles. It may be that the growth of such an idea is responsible for the increase of "graft." Make the creed universal, and high thinking and noble living will be a thing of the past, and patriotism and business integrity will be only meaningless words. One thing may be said with absolute certainty, the person who asserts or assents to the awful and degrading proposition that "every man has his price" may himself be bought and generally bought cheap.

But the assertion is false. We refuse absolutely to believe that all manhood and womanhood is on a level with goods and chattels, and that human character is a mere matter of merchandise. Al knees in this our day and time have not bowed to the Baal of "graft" and all months have not kissed him. There are those who like Samuel, the great prophet, will be able to say even to the end of life that they have never taken a bribe from any man, or who would like Job, the great patriarch, endure the direst personal and family afflictions and losses rather than perjure themselves as be false to the King of truth. Purity of purpose and integrity of character have not taken their departure forever from the earth.

SHIELD BRAND
FITS WEAR WELL CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERY, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

Then go to

Denson & Dawson

at Montevallo, A. a.

for your

Dry Goods, Hats, Clothing, Shoes, Groceries,
Feed Stuffs, Cook and Heating Stoves, Trunks,
Harness, Saddles, Hardware, Furniture.

—We also sell—

The Celebrated Barbour Buggies and Virginia Wagons

the best that rolls on four wheels. We also carry a swell

Line of Fancy Candies. Come to see us; we will save you money.

DENSON & DAWSON.

The Alabama Division or Lodge No. 9,

OF THE

National Union Fraternal Life Association

PROVIDES

$1,000 IN CASE OF DEATH

(When the Division is Full)

$1,000 IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

(Total Disability)

Paid Up Membership in Twenty Years.

The Orphan Children of Members Educated Free of Cost. This in Addition to Money Coming to Them by Death of Parent.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.

Dr. A. T. Rowe, President, Columbiana
W. E. Harrison, Treasurer, Columbiana
J. W. Johnston, merchant, Columbiana
Jno. R. Dyke, Circuit Clerk, Columbiana
A. P. Longshore, Probate Judge, Columbiana
R. F. Cox, Sheriff, Columbiana
J. O. Dorrough, Supt. of Ed., Columbiana
Jas. Finley, farmer, Columbiana
Jno. J. Haynes, attorney, Columbiana
J. L. Peters, attorney, Columbiana

C. W. O'Hara, minister, Columbiana
H. E. Whitaker, Ed. of Sentinel, Columbiana
F. A. Church, mason, Wilsonville
S. J. Spearman, merchant, Wilsonville
W. A. Stone, farmer, Columbiana
G. E. Abbott, blacksmith, Shelby
Emory L. Barber, farmer, Shelby
Terrell Bice, merchant, Shelby
S. Z. T. Champion, farmer, Sterrett
W. A. Brasher, tax collector, Columbiana

For membership, further information and Agency Contracts, call on or write J. W. Harrall, Division Manager, Columbiana, Ala.

This is a Home Company, managed by Home People. The Money is kept at Home in the Bank, Under Bond, Ready for Death Claim in Advance.

COST The membership fee is only $5.00, paid but once. At the end of six months, and each six months thereafter, $1 00. Nothing more to pay until a death occurs in the above Division; then each member pays $1.25 for each death.

WOMEN are accepted on equal terms with men. Only 1,000 persons can join. While organizing, will admit healthy persons between ages of 16 and 50 years. After division is full, no one can join until there is a vacancy—then none over 40 years.

Good organizers for other counties can secure good money-making contracts by addressing

ROBT. H. JONES, Gen'l Superintendent,
615 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Bring your job work to The Sentinel office—the best work.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor.
W. L. Farley, Clerk.
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Thursday nights. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duglison, Pastor.

BAPTIST—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 140, A. F. & A. M. Meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abercrombie, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,
Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,
Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,
Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

In the death of Mayor Carr, Montgomery loses one of its best citizens. The entire city is in mourning.

The yellow fever situation is much more encouraging the past few days than it has been for several weeks.

Pat Crowe, the famous and notorious kidnapper, has finally been captured and will have to face a court of justice.

Three more grafters in connection with the cotton crop report leakage have been indicted by the federal grand jury.

When we have to cut our subscription price to fifty or seventy-five cents to keep up a circulation, then we'll get out of the business.

The monthly crop bulletin from the department of agriculture says the average condition of cotton on September 25th, was 71.2.

When the president goes to New Orleans he should take his big stick along, as the New Orleans mosquito is a persistent little cuss.

According to the government report of September 25th, Alabama has ginned 330,308 bales of cotton of the growth of 1905. Georgia has ginned nearly double that number, while Texas heads the list with 777,446 bales.

President John A. McCall says he contributed the policy holders' money last year to the defeat of free silver and not to the success of the Republican party. This, notwithstanding every one knows that not only was free silver a dead issue last year, but Judge Parker was an open and avowed gold standard candidate.

Quarantine officers who interfered with rural mail carriers down in Mississippi and Louisiana a short time ago, are now in trouble with the federal government for interfering with the mails. A pretty grave offense, too.

The Sentinel invites the farmers to read the advertisement of the Columbiana Commercial Club on this page. If they will study their own interests they will find that this is the market of this section at which to sell their cotton.

There was monkey and a parrot time when the policy holders of the Western Life Indemnity met in Chicago a few days ago. The lie was passed several times and the meeting broke up in great confusion. Cause of trouble: policy holders were being squeezed as usual.

The Selma Times condemns Dr. Cunningham because of the "railroad lawyers, railroad officials, and professional politicians" who are "lining up" for him. The Times' editorial is headed, "The Announcement has fallen still born," which indicates that there is no "lining up." There is something contradictory in this.—Mobile Register.

"A town that never has anything to do in a public way is on the road to the cemetery. The man who is so selfish as to have no time to give to city affairs is making the shroud. The man who will not advise is the hearse-driver. The man who is pulling back from any public enterprise throws bouquets on the grave. The man who is so stingy and selfish as to be howling 'hard times' preaches the funeral sermon and sings the doxology, and thus the town lies buried, free from all sorrow and care."

Gruits by Proxy!

There you are again, still braying about the populist administration not keeping up the public roads. When the Democrats were in power you could hardly walk along the public roads in Shelby county. * * Everything is lovely when the Democrats are in power, but when they get out of power everything goes wrong with them. We guess the roads are good in Kansas by this time.—Advocate.

"When the Democrats were in power you could hardly walk along the public roads in Shelby county," says the editor of the Advocate—by proxy. That was pretty bad, but it's worse now. People hardly attempt to travel the public roads since the present goody goody administration has been in power, but to be on the safe side they drive through the fields—just any old way rather than pull the life out of their teams over the magnificent (!) highways of the county; they prefer to view their splendor and beauty from afar, for it is not only the more safe, but an intimate acquaintance with the public roads of this county leaves a bad taste in the mouth and destroys the populist mirage which the editor of the Advocate—by proxy—would have the people believe is such a God-send. And then, you know, this populist administration has had several thousand dollars raised by a special road tax law, but that fund did not appear to better the condition of the highways in the least. Building "marble palaces" appears to be more to the liking of the present administration than the building of public roads.

As for the roads in Kansas—we haven't the least doubt but that they are in good shape. You see, the populist party has been dead in Kansas for some time which accounts for the good roads and general prosperity which that State is now enjoying. We haven't the least doubt but that the roads in Kansas are a little better even than the public roads in Georgia.

Mr. Bowie's Plan.

Congressman Sydney J. Bowie, of the Fourth district, a man of unusually clear conception, has a plan for the disposal of the surplus now in the state treasury, which is published in today's Birmingham News. Mr. Bowie's idea is to utilize it in paying off the Alabama state bonds which are due on January 1 next and he presents a strong array of facts and figures to sustain his position. He also argues that the surplus is real and not imaginary as some have contended. In a word, "the goods" are there.

Mr. Bowie would liquidate these bonds, thereby enhancing the credit of the state and better enabling it to refund the remainder of its debt at a satisfactory rate of interest charge of $48,000, which with other interest money saved could be devoted to the public schools and he would turn over to the school fund the net earnings of the convict department. He would also give them any other available funds.

The plan will doubtless meet with much favor. Certainly if we are to have an extra session of the legislature to dispose of the surplus no better programme could be carried out by the lawmakers than that outlined by Mr.

Bowie, who has given the matter much thought and who is the devout friend of public education as well.

The chief opposition to an extra session is based upon the fear that it will be converted into a political affair right on the eve of an important campaign. The Birmingham News having confidence in the ability and patriotism of Governor Jelks does not charge him with any such motive, but in the absence of any statement from him of a good reason for the assembling of the lawmakers just as the campaign is opening it has been unable to endorse the extra session.

The Bowie plan is certainly worthy of serious consideration if the governor still entertains the idea of an extra session.—Birmingham News.

All a Bluff.

The Republicans will put out a full State and Congressional ticket in this State next year, says J. O. Thompson, chairman of the rep-pop-nig party of Alabama. That is about all they will do—or really expect to do. Mr. Thompson is only working to keep up courage, and not that he nor his co-workers expect—or even have the slightest hope of—electing a single Republican in the State of Alabama in 1906. He makes an earnest appeal to all Republicans of the State to refrain from participating in Democratic primaries. Nothing will please the Democrats better if Mr. Thompson proves himself a good herdsman by keeping his little flock out of our pasture.—Washington News.

President and Tuskegee.

The mayor and council of Tuskegee extended the invitation to the president to visit that town, says the Mobile Register, and they were grieved to learn that in the presidential mind Tuskegee and the Tuskegee Institute of Booker T. Washington were one and the same. To visit Tuskegee, therefore, was to see and inspect the institute. Naturally, the mayor and council wished to know what part Tuskegee was to play in the proceedings. The president's secretary answered, advising the mayor to see Booker Washington and arrange a programme. This, indeed, made the mayor weary. We are surprised that he did not withdraw the invitation. He made a protest, however, and the president ordered that Tuskegee be given one-half hour!

The president will be "delighted" to meet his loyal friends of Tuskegee, no doubt, but, really, where there is so little time he must not be expected to linger—for he has an engagement with friend Booker. Possibly, however, the people of Tuskegee will console themselves with the thought that but for the institute the president would not be likely to visit Tuskegee at all.

The Sentinel would be glad to add your name to its subscription list. It is trying to give its readers the worth of their money. Four pages of home printed matter, and a fine four page supplement is what we are furnishing now. All for a dollar a year—not seventy-five, nor fifty cents, please, but just a good dollar.

There should be life insurance companies organized in the South. Keep the money at home, and no longer keep up a lot of sharks in New York who don't give a darn whether the policies of the insured are protected or not.

The "stand-patters" are looking for something to drop at Washington since the president has returned and says he expects to get busy.

Up to Wednesday night of last week, 2,700 bales of cotton had been marketed in Talladega this season.

Col. Garber has thousands of friends all over Alabama, and they will all be pulling for his nomination when the time comes to do the work. Mark it down; he is the next Attorney General.

Mrs. Hobson, who is said to be a very handsome woman, will accompany Captain Hobson in his political campaign. That rather handicaps Colonel Bankhead, but he'll pull through all the same.

Cunningham is heartily in favor of immigration, but he wants only such emigrants as will make good citizens, and conform to the laws of our country without any rebellion. Cunningham is about right on almost any subject.

The Brundige News says it is not particularly in favor of either Cunningham or Comer for Governor. Well, brother, there is a big lot of able and capable men in Alabama from which to choose your favorite. Tell us who he may be.

The Centerville Press says the "nigger and the mule" have come to the parting of the ways, and says something else will have to be substituted for holding the plow handles. How about white labor, brother? That will solve the problem.

The Greene County Democrat says that Mr. Comer, in a speech at Eutaw a few days ago, announced his candidacy for Governor of Alabama. Has this been done and all the daily papers of the State been scooped in giving out this bit of news?

Fairbanks, the man who wants to be president, is dubbed by the New York papers as the "human iceberg." He is so cold in his personality that when he appears before an audience overcoats and wraps are in demand. Yet he wants to be president!

The Opelika News can see nothing good in Cunningham. Let's see: Cunningham is a warm champion of education, and Lee county, the home of the News, defeated the proposition to levy a special tax for public schools. Is the News for or against education?

Editor Nunnalee, of the Centerville Press, criticizes Cunningham's letter announcing his candidacy for Governor, and yet friend Nunnalee admits he did not read the letter. As the Press man is a Comer champion he fights shy of Cunningham's letter as it might have a tendency to convince him that Comer is not the whole thing. Tote fair, brother.

Alabama.

We may learn something of Alabama's need of better schools by facts where argument alone would fail. Alabama pays less to educate her people than any one of all the states in the Union and Alabama makes less per acre on the farm than any other state.

Iowa pays $25 per pupil to educate her children and Alabama $5.41 per pupil. Iowa has 15 illiterate people in every one thousand and Alabama 144. The farms in Iowa are worth ten times as much as the same area in Alabama, yet Alabama lands are as productive as the lands in Iowa.

Massachusetts pays $12,000,000 for education, Alabama $1,000,000, Massachusetts pays $12,800,000 more than Alabama and the laborers of Massachusetts receive in wages $400,000,000 more than the laborers of Alabama.

Some of the countries in northern Europe have only 10 illiterate persons in every ten thousand people. Alabama in every ten thousand has 1440 illiterate persons. Alabama has no immigration from northern Europe, but we get our share from Italy and China and other countries that have an illiterate population. Laborers of northern Europe will not go to Alabama and associate with our illiterate population.

Alabama has 300,000 ignorant white people and 100,000 that can not even read or write.—Tallapoosa Courier.

Cereal Crops.

The yield of wheat for 1905 promises to be the largest ever raised in the United States except in 1901, when it amounted to 748,460,000 bushels, which would furnish about 160,000,000 bushels for export. This in the face of a short harvest in Russia is what is holding the price of domestic wheat firm in spite of the prospect for a large crop. The Indian corn harvest is accounted the largest in our history, the next heaviest out-turn having been 2,669,440,000 bushels, in 1890. As contrasted with last year the excess value of this golden grain ought to amount to about $124,000,000. The oat crop of 1902 and of 1899 were each larger than that of this year, but the latter follows with the rank of third, nearly 36,000,000 bushels larger than last year. The gain in rye over a year ago was more moderate, and the totals of barley and potatoes were smaller this year than in 1904. There is not much significance to be attached to the former decrease. Blight and decay hurt the potato crop, except in New England and portions of the Missouri Valley, where the prospects for yields are good. But even after allowing for the momentary loss on these two crops, wheat, corn, oats and rye harvests promise a total of from $215,000,000 to $230,000,000 added value to the nation's agricultural yield, compared with a year ago.

The editor of The Sentinel hasn't the nerve to collect a dollar from one man for a year's subscription, and then tell the next man to come along: "Take it along for fifty cents." That is not a square deal with the man who is asked to pay a dollar. And, then, we are not publishing a fifty cent paper.

If you like The Sentinel say a good word for it to your neighbor, and especially if he is not a subscriber. But please to remember that it is not a half-price sheet. One dollar gets it for twelve months; no more, no less.

From Maine to California it is boodle, graft, and graft and boodle. Mighty few States but that has a big scandal in the administration of its public affairs. Alabama is among the few exceptions.

The sunny mornings of the past few days had put gladness into the hearts of everybody. Plenty of sunshine makes all the world look good to the eye.

The Sentinel man has been complimented by nearly all our business men for changing his paper from a "patent" to all home print.

Remember to pay your poll tax when the collector comes around. You can't vote unless you do, and every patriotic citizen wants to vote.

Of all that is good, Columbiana affords the best. Seeing is believing; come and see.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Oct. 12, 05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1901 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbian Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,
Russell M. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

Oh, my! The Republicans of Massachusetts have declared for a reduction of the tariff.

Mobile is now running Birmingham a close second in murders and highway robberies.

You can have a good time at the coming State Fair in Birmingham any day you choose to go.

We wonder if the comic page—"Alice in Wonderland"—has any reference to Alice doing the Orient?

A conference on immigration and quarantine is to be held in Chattanooga on November 9th and 10th.

Birmingham school boys on their way home, by way of diversion, egg the residences along their way.

The officers of the big insurance companies are looking out for themselves, and the policy holders be durned.

Jerry Simpson, the one time populist idol of Kansas, is in a dying condition in a hospital in Wichita, that State.

Several candidates have already announced for sheriff of Jefferson county, and each one of them is working his rabbit's foot for all it is worth.

Governor Jelks says there will be no extra session this winter. His recent sale of Alabama bonds, he says, obviates the necessity of an extra session.

The Comer organs are getting uneasy or impatient because their idol fights shy of making any declaration as to his future intentions in relation to the governorship.

It looks very much as if editor Harry Martin of the Ozark Tribune, would have to go up against Congressman Clayton himself, as he has not yet found a man who is willing to take the job.

The stock of goods of the Tyler Grocery company, of Birmingham, of which John E. Morris, the Saginaw lumberman, is a partner, was almost wholly destroyed by fire one night last week.

Rockefeller has been making another big contribution, and we expect to see coal oil shoot skyward almost any time. John D. gets the credit of making his big contributions, but all the same the people pay the freight.

Robert Barber, register of the government land office at Montgomery, got in the way of the big stick, and his head came off. The referees had it in for Barber because he favored a white Republican party in Alabama.

About all the duties those officials of the big fire insurance companies had to perform was to sit around and look pleasant. McCall has not been looking so pleasant since he has been on the toasting fork of investigation.

Hon. E. M. Robinson, of Mobile, has announced his candidacy for lieutenant governor, and will support Cunningham. Mr. Robinson is one of Alabama's best men, and he will keep the trails over the State so hot that other candidates will not have much time to sleep.

At this distance it begins to look or smell, as the case may be, that Tom Lawson lifted the right lid.

Marketing Cotton.

The Sentinel has never pretended to be "cotton wise", and has seldom, if ever, presumed to tell farmers when to sell their cotton, or when to hold it, thinking they knew, probably more than we as to conditions, and what we say now can be taken for what it is worth.

Just now there can be no reasonable doubt of the fact that the cotton crop will be short this year. There are two reasons for this: There has been a material reduction in the acreage planted, and the season up to the present time has been unpropitious in nearly all the cotton states, if not all, for the production of a full crop. All this means that if the farmers are judicious in marketing their crop they will realize a handsome profit from what they have raised. The executive committee of the Cotton Association has urged and advised the producers to hold the present crop for at least an eleven cent price, and this seems to be warranted by the situation today.

Consumption and the general activity in the industrial world, and the demand that will be stimulated in the Orient by peace, and the open door of the far East are, we believe, reasons why cotton produced in the South will be in great demand before the season advances very far. Fights between bulls and bears may make prices go up one day and down the next, but if the farmer will not lose his head, and not sell more at a low price than is absolutely necessary—feed the market just enough to whet its appetite, he will get a good price for his cotton. Do not glut the market; if you do, prices will continue to drop and you will be the loser. This is our opinion based upon conditions as we see them, and whether or not it coincides with the farmers' views, yet the argument presented is worth considering.

New State Auditor.

Governor Jelks made the following appointments last Saturday, and caused some surprise: To be judge of the Walker county law and equity court, Thomas L. Sowell of Walker county.

To be state auditor to succeed Col. T. L. Sowell, resigned, Judge J. M. Carmichael of Dale. To be president of the state board of convict inspectors, Dr. Shirley Bragg, now physician inspector.

To be physician inspector to succeed Dr. Shirley Bragg, Dr. Nat G. Clark of Ensley.

The appointments are effective October 15, at which time Col. T. L. Sowell, whose appointment to the judgeship of his county has caused all the shift, will assume the judicial functions of his new office, relieving Judge Peyton Norvell, who resigned last week.

Kind Words.

The Columbiana Sentinel is now an all home print newspaper, and presents a neat and attractive typographical appearance. The Sentinel has always displayed enterprise and ability, and the Journal has often had occasion to commend Editor H. E. Whitaker on his energy and public spirit. With first issue of the all home print the Sentinel becomes a model in all things that go to make an up-to-date weekly. —Montgomery Journal.

We are glad to see our friend Editor Whitaker of the Columbiana Sentinel continue to manifest evidences of prosperity. His recent special edition was a hummer and now he is publishing four pages at home instead of two. —Limestone Democrat (Athens).

Senator Ben Tillman says that "eleven cent cotton and an abundance of money has made the negro independent and indolent." The country can well dispense with the idle negro, but eleven cent cotton sounds so enticing that we hope that price will come to stay.

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

WILSONVILLE.

There were quite a number of people in town Saturday.

Cotton is coming in at a lively rate, and keeps both gins busy.

Miss Lucy Smith, of Alpine, was a pleasant visitor to our town last week.

Miss Catherine Smith, of Alpine, is visiting her brother and friends here.

Mrs. F. M. Wilkins is visiting her father's family, Hutsey Nelson, of your city, this week.

Bro. Johnson, of Talladega, the presiding elder of the M. E. church, was in our town Saturday morning on his way to Blue Springs church to hold his last quarterly meeting in this circuit for the present year.

Elder Joe McPherson, of Nashville, Tenn., will preach at the Christian church here next Sunday morning and night.

J. M. Ray and family, of Farmer, visited the family of Wm. Tinney Saturday night and Sunday. Jim came up in his muleobile.

We regret to have to give up our neighbor and friend, W. W. Carter, and family. Wilsonville's loss is Columbiana's gain. We hate to give up good citizens, but wish him well in his new home.

Rustin Hazelet, of Talladega county, is visiting among his many friends here for a few days. Rustin used to live here, and we are glad to see him back on our streets again.

It looks now like fall had a notion to set in.

C. W. Avery is still with us, and now is a good time for the farmers and all others wishing life insurance to see him as he is representing a good company, and offers a pretty contract.

Virgil Hammond, of Howard Cpl lege, came down Saturday and spent Sunday with Tony Daniel.

We are glad to learn that that L.

B. Riddle's baby, who has been sick during the past week, is much better and we hope it will soon be entirely well.

Mrs. M. J. Pennington is able to be up again, after a few days' illness. We hope that she will not have any more chills, as we know how they make a person feel.

We regret to learn that W. T. Taylor had another very hard chill Sunday. We hope he won't have any more, for we are afraid he will grant himself to death if he is sick long. Rip Van Winkle.

LaFayette, Ala., Oct. 5, 1905. Mr. Geo. M. Webb, Birmingham, Ala.

Dear Sir:—I have today received of Mr. M. R. Buckalew, Sec. Treas., of the Chambers Co. Div. of the Mutual Life Industrial Association of Ga. One Thousand Dollars in payment of my husband's policy, C. C. Bray, who died on Sept. 30, 1905—only five days having elapsed since payment of the above $1,000, and it only cost my husband one assessment of $1.15 and his membership fee. I thank you for the prompt attention given this matter. Without this I would have been left in very destitute circumstances.

I beg to remain yours very truly, (Signed) Mrs. Susan Bray, Cusseta, Ala.

NOTICE:—Those whose insurance notes are due will please remit promptly to me by P. O. Order, or pay to W. L. Farley at the bank and greatly oblige

T. A. Leathers, Division Agent, Columbiana, Ala.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, Probate Court, Shelby County.

In the matter of the application of L. E. Christian to sell real estate for division among joint owners.

The said L. E. Christian having this day filed in said court his petition for the sale of certain real estate described in his petition for division among the joint owners thereof, to-wit: L. E. Christian, W. L. Christian, non-resident who resides in Cincinnati, in the state of Ohio, Walter Christian, a minor who resides in Shelby County, Ala., and Miss Rosser Christian, who resides in Shelby County, Ala., alleging that said property cannot be equitably divided among them. The 7th day of November 1905 was appointed for the hearing thereof, and it is ordered that notice be given by publication for three successive weeks in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in said county, at which time said non-resident and all other parties interested may appear and contest the same if they see fit.

A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

WATCH FOR OUR

REMOVAL SALE

ADVERTISEMENT.

Columbiana Mercantile Co.

SAXON & JOHNSON, CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS.

Dealers in Shingles - - - - - Estimates Furnished We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans, Collars, Belts, Purses, Handkerchiefs.

All the Pretty New Novelties which will Delight the Ladies.

Come to see me before Making a purchase. Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY,

Montevallo, Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business July 25, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 28,818 52	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts.....	50 64	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....	2,156 16
Banking house.....	5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check.....	33,536 37
Furniture and fixtures.....	2,000 00	Time deposits.....	2,784 50
Other real estate.....	3,000 00	Cashier's checks.....	101 60
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	9,336 23	Notes and bills rediscounted.....	16,900 50
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....	5,542 57
Currency.....	5,117 00
Gold.....	863 00
Silver, nickels and pennies.....	1,347 19
Checks and cash items.....	6,698 07
Total.....	$ 75,565 22	Total.....	$ 75,565 22

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier, of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

W. L. FARLEY, Cashier. Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 25th day of July, 1905. JOHN R. DYKE, Circuit Clerk.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none so plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

"CRITERION"

The Very Best

CLOTHING

On the Market.

Had You Thought About It?

We cordially invite your inspection of our stock of this popular brand of clothing—none better in the world. It is made of

The Best Fiber

and made up in the latest styles and most durable manner, hence its great popularity. You can buy this clothing at no other store in Columbiana. We can please you in price.

Every Garment Guaranteed

by the manufacturers to be just as it is represented or money refunded. They know the excellent quality of the goods or they could not afford to make such an offer to purchasers.

Come in to see us.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

ALABAMA STATE FAIR

AT BIRMINGHAM,

OCTOBER 23—NOVEMBER 2—TEN DAYS.

Including Magnificent

HORSE SHOW

CONTINUING SIX NIGHTS.

Five or More Races Each Afternoon

Between some of the most noted Running Trotting and Pacing Horses in the World.

Splendid exhibits of

LIVE STOCK

AGRICULTURAL AND

Mineral Products, Machinery and

POULTRY.

Balloon Ascension and Bomb-Bursting Parachute Leap Each Day. Reduced Rates on all Railroads.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

R. M. WILLIAMS, Sec'y, Birmingham, Ala.

The Best Doctor.

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Tex. writes, July 19th, 1902. "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horebound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the eight years." Sold by William Bros.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana, Ala.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Vol. 31, No. 6.

Columbiana, Ala., October 12, 1905.

Supplement.

WITTE IN RUSSIA

RETURN OF THIS SUCCESSFUL DIPLOMAT NOT A MARCH OF TRIUMPH.

Despicable Manner in Which Divine Royalty is Wont to Accept Valuable Services of Subjects.

Charles E. Kern.

There is pathos in the attitude of the great Russian statesman, M. Witte, largely to whose diplomacy the Czar owes the favorable conclusion of the war with Japan, in his presentation in person to his majesty, of a report on the details of whose historic meetings at Portsmouth which were so managed as to "save the face" of Russia, as they say in the far East. It is difficult for an American to understand the nature of this meeting between Czar and subject, and although we as a people cannot admire M. Witte's braggadocio, we must in fact feel sorry for a man who returns to his country after accomplishing so much in her behalf and finds it at once necessary to plan an intrigue in order to prevent effacement.

ing upon the return of M. Witte to his home.

Would have Presidential Bee.

"The men who make European and Asiatic history to-day can never hope to approach their royal masters, who are in many cases mere puppets, except in a manner indicating the utmost humility. The American who would perform such service as that of M. Witte would return home with a straight backbone and with the presidential bee buzzing under the crown of his hat. He would accept as his right every bit of credit pertaining to his successful work, and no one would expect him to perform any act of humiliation in the presence of the President or any one else."

The fact is, M. Witte began his act of humility while in this country. He referred to the Czar at all times as his august master and while crossing the Atlantic ocean, when accorded deserved honor for his diplomacy, was quick to disavow being worthy of the least credit for his labors, stating in effect that he was a miserable creature who breathed because of the goodness of his "august master" and that anything he had done in connection with the peace negotiations was merely in obedience

WORKING GIRL'S CHANCES.

CHOOSE CONGENIAL OCCUPATION THEN HOLD FAST TO THE FIRST GOOD JOB.

It is Not the Kind of Work but the Manner of Working That Brings Forth the Dollars.

"It is not my specialty, madame," said the little French milliner who had just finished a beautiful berouche hat for me, when I asked her to make one of those pretty mousseline shoulder raches; and she would do nothing outside her specialty. So it is in all the big cities where women flock to make a living or a name; whether in Paris, London, New York, Chicago, San Francisco, one must have one's highly perfected specialty in order to win even moderate recognition.

"Don't scatter" is the very best advice to the girl worker. "Oh, I know how to do ever so many things," says the latest entry on the books of a big employment agency.

"Can you cook?" asks the manageress with breathless eagerness.

"Yes," is the reply rather shamefacedly.

"Good! I'll put you down under Cooks."

"But, I don't want to cook. I've been through our academy and I've graduated in all the latest accomplishments. Besides, I've come up to the city to make money—a lot of money."

"You'll make a lot of money if you'll cook," says the manageress in her take-my-advice tone. "Why, any girl that can pretend to cook, if she don't know a soufflé from a hoe cake can make more money in this town than a whole class of academy graduates with ten accomplishments apiece."

It is not the kind of work, but the manner of working that brings in the dollars.

A girl of twenty-three, thrown suddenly on her own resources, made the lives of her friends miserable by a constant cry of "What can I do?" A yellow streak of snobbishness made it all the more difficult to help her. Without even facility in writing, she begged assistance in becoming a paid contributor to a scandal-mongering newspaper. Fortunately, she lacked as much in perseverance as in literary ability. Her next venture was in trained nursing; but, being placed in the colored ward, her southern prejudices drove her out of the hospital just three days later than her date of entry. From a spasmodic effort to acquire a knowledge of stenography, she set out on a quest for a place as nursery governess. A practical friend met her just after her first rebuff, and much against her will pushed her into a situation in a fashionable millinery establishment, at $3 a week. Now it developed that trimming hats is that girl's gift.

It usually takes about three years in the workshops of the swell milliners to arrive at the degree of proficiency which commands a salary of $25 per week, but the girl in question made hats for her friends evenings. Her friends sent their friends, and inside of a year she had saved enough to take a trip to Paris during the summer. She bought not a single model but gathered impressions, went back to New York, rented a couple of rooms in a side street between the shopping and the residence sections, dropped a little note to each of her patrons saying she had taken a flyer abroad—and the rest was easy.

Choose a Congenial Occupation.

The secret of success is finding out one's special bent or talent. Usually the thing that it is easiest to do, that one likes best to do, is the work in which one will be able to make greatest progress. A very few are favored with inspiration along original lines. Some unfortunates commit the folly of choosing a profession or trade because of the results secured in it by others, rather than because of any personal inclination or adaptability.

Voluminous statistics show that a girl need not be limited in her choice of work, for some one hundred and fifty occupations, meeting every need or desire of existence—from doctor to undertaker—have already been exploited by women. However, for the average girl, comparatively few trades and professions seem within her scope. Outside of the enormous number who become teachers, very few women are afforded the opportunity to acquire a profession; consequently, certain trades required for carrying on of routine work in business offices, shops and factories, have come to be regarded as the only money-making channels open to the girls who arrive at the end of their school days confronted with the question, "What shall I do for a living?"

Always Room for Good Ones.

Most discouraging of all the obstacles to the girl seeking her living is the constantly repeated falsehood that the occupations open to the average female intelligence are overcrowded. Thirty years ago the same statement was made to almost every female applicant for employment as bookkeeper, clerk, agent, stenographer, saleswoman, etc. At that time less than one per cent. of all the women wage earners were employed in clerical positions. In twenty years the percentage of women in this class increased to five per cent. of the total employed, while the figures of the last census promise a still more encouraging advance. It is further shown that in the last decade of the 19th century the number of woman bookkeepers in the United States increased by about 50,000, the number of woman clerks by over 10,000, the number of saleswomen by over 100,000, the number of stenographers and typewriters by 65,000; and the list might be continued through every profession or trade entered by women. All show a greater or less increase, proving that there is always room for the competent. It is only by adding real effort, perseverance and determination to a natural talent, however, that the top is reached. The woman who spends months, even years, in acquiring skill or knowledge in some line of work that appears attractive because of the few women in it, and not because she has any special talent for it, makes a fatal mistake.

Stick to a Good Job.

A weary little public school teacher, worried into a state of hysteria by a long year with a class of unruly slum children, threw up her position, and, misled by the success of a friend, undertook to become a stenographer. She had just the qualities that make a good teacher, but none of the alertness, endurance and steady nerve that are indispensable in the shorthand writer. She remembered that her friend had spent only three months on a course of lessons, but forgot that at the end of the three months had come a position at $5 per week with eight hours of un-interrupted typewriting each day, after which, in order to make headway toward a better salary, every evening from half past seven to eleven was spent in speed practice. The little teacher put in a hot summer in a private business school and later, through the kindness of friends, obtained a position in a section of the country most unhealthy. The choice of the right work determines at the start the measure of success.

SENATOR MARTIN'S CASE.

Renomination of Virginia Statesman Cost a Small Fortune.

Senator Martin of Virginia is out of pocket $11,500 in expenditures to secure a renomination to the United States Senate. This is more than one-third of the salary he would receive during the whole six years of his new term. The expenditure, it seems, was necessary. The Senator had a popular opponent who set a hot pace and kept it up to the end. There was nothing for Mr. Martin to do but to canvass the State from end to end and this, with other necessary expenses, ran the total high. This fight of Senator Martin for renomination and the necessary large expenditure, which is looked upon as entirely legitimate and free from any corruption, has aroused considerable comment among politicians and prominent men at Washington, as being an exceptional clear cut example of present political methods and necessities.

"Martin's troubles are now practically over," said a prominent Southerner, stopping at the national capital, who has all his life been familiar with the practical methods of political nominations and elections. "Martin can draw a check or two more and then close up his book because Virginia is not a close State; but suppose it were, and that Senator Martin was now obliged to meet a Republican antagonist, able to give him the fight for the election that Governor Montague gave him for the nomination, so that he had to spend $11,500 additional—a total of $23,000. This would leave him $7,000 of salary for his full time of six years of service."

SENATOR MARTIN.

Might Have Cost Thirty Thousand.

"Nay, more. Virginia is a State where campaigning is rather primitive. Money still has a good value in most of the sections. There is not the holding up and bleeding of candidates at every turn that there is in some of the more closely contested States, so that it is entirely conceivable that Senator Martin might have legitimately expended more than his entire $30,000 in order to be re-elected; a man, too, of character and ability, who has served his State so well in the Senate that people might have thought he could have had the renomination for the asking, if it was not actually forced upon him."

"But the case is typical, although it may not be usual. Politics are everywhere getting to be very expensive where two men want the same place I have seen the increase in cost grow and grow. What I hear asked now, among thinking men is, what is the effect upon our national legislation when it would appear that only wealthy men can think of running for election and where there can be no contest for the honor by any but the wealthy. Is the situation telling upon our public affairs? and if so, what is the remedy; what can we do about it?"

FORTY PIES A MINUTE.

PITTSBURG MAN INVENTS A MACHINE TO MAKE PIES BY THE MILLION.

Annual Output Would Reach Half Across the Continent.—Would Drive Mother Out of Business.

"Pies like mother used to make!" Is that possible? And yet it is learned by dispatches from Pittsburgh that a man there can make such appetizing delicacies at a rate of twenty-four thousand pies in ten hours, or forty in a minute through the aid of a machine which he has just perfected. If the machine can do what is claimed for it and turn out good wholesome pies there should be enough to go around to everybody even following the fiercest political campaigns. The statement made by the inventor from the Smoky City certainly is a marvel when it is figured just what the machine's capacity for pie-making is. Suppose we have the machine running ten hours a day, six days in the week, allowing for holidays and breakdowns, making the lemon meringue pies, for which the machine is specially adapted, we have, with say 300 working days a year, the sum total of 7,200,000 pies a year. If these pies are like mother used to make, then of course they are each about nine inches in diameter and an inch and a quarter thick. Mother al-continent and furnish pie to every man, woman and child in the United States.

H. L. SONS, THE PIE MAN.

The story of the actual performance of the pie machine is truly wonderful. In fact two machines are necessary. In the first the crust is produced. Instead of pie pans, molds like waffle irons are used to form the crust. As the molds pass along on an endless chain, they move a lever at one end which permits the pie dough to enter the pans, shaped something like waffle irons, and they then pass between two sets of burners which take the place of the oven. Of course before the dough is released the irons are heated to the proper temperature. The dough is contained in a huge tank above the machine, a feed pipe running down, and by means of a piston, just enough dough is forced down to fill one of the molds as it passes under the pipe. The strokes of the piston are so regulated as to be timed with the arrival of each pan under the pipe. As soon as the crust is baked they are removed by an attendant who stands at one end of the machine. These crusts are then arranged on a large pan which is taken up by another attendant who places the crusts in the second machine.

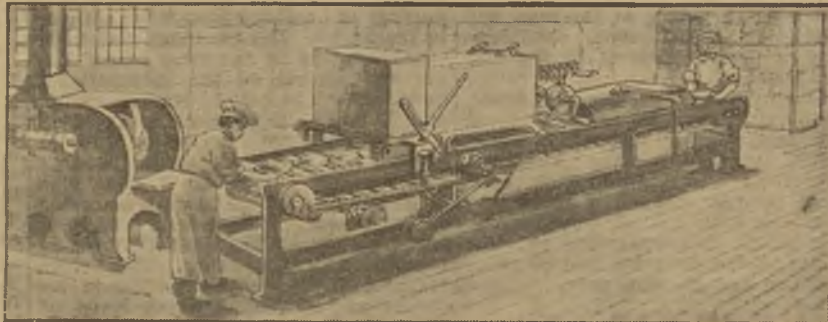

Filling by the Ton.

This is also of the endless chain type, with two vast vats at one end, one of which contains the lemon filling and the other the meringue. By carefully regulated ratchets the filling and the meringue are fed alternately. The pies then pass on to an overhead burner which gives the top of the meringue a rich brown. The pie, thus completed, is passed out from under the baker and is ready for disposal by the American pie eater.

A RUG FIT FOR A KING.

Shah's Gift to Edward of a Wonderful Product from the Eastern Hand Looms.

Never outside fairyland has been seen such a wonderful carpet as that which King Edward received the other day as a present from the Shah of Persia—a token of his appreciation of the affectionate hospitality extended to him on the occasion of his last visit to England.

AT THE RATE OF FORTY A MINUTE.

ways used a couple of eggs and a lemon to each pie and so the Pittsburgh baker would use 7,200,000 lemons, and 14,400,000 eggs. Laying these 7,200,000 pies out in one long row, we would have a distance of about 1,022 miles from the first pie in the row to the last. A reckless chauffeur in an up-to-date automobile, traveling at a rate of 25 miles an hour, including necessary stops, could make the journey across these pies in a little less than three days.

A Pie Tower Magnificent.

Again taking "Mother's pies" as a basis, the products of this machine in a year, if piled one on the other would give us a monstrous column over 142 miles high. Of course a generous housekeeper would divide the pies in fifths, so that if our 7,200,000 pies were so shared, we would be able to feed 36,000,000 people, or nearly one-half the population of the United States, or more than 100 times the number of people living in Pittsburgh. By using different shifts and working the machine to its full capacity the pie line would extend nearly across the

When this marvelous production of Persian artists and weavers was spread out before his majesty at Buckingham Palace he must have been reminded of some of the scenes depicted in the "Arabian Nights."

It had been known for some days past that a special Ambassador from the Persian monarch was to wait upon the King, and there was some speculation as to the object of his mission. The secret was well kept, and it was not until the arrival of the ambassador at the palace that any information could be gained as to the contents of the great packing case over which he kept vigilant guard.

For more than two years quite a little army of designers and weavers has been constantly at work upon the carpet, and the result has been the production of what even in Persia must be considered a royal masterpiece.

The design is very curious, complex and certainly most ingenious; the colors are perfect and faultlessly blended; and the manufacture is flawless. The rug has been made entirely by hand.

Every reader of this paper should have this book.
Cut off the coupon and mail to us with $1.50.

Illustrated
by
Ernest
Haskell

By
Eugene P. Lyle, Jr.
Published August 1st

13TH
THOUSAND
ALREADY

All Bookstores,
$1.50

The Missourian

The romantic adventures of John Dinwiddie Driscoll (nicknamed "The Storm Centre" at the Court of Maximilian in Mexico, where his secret mission comes into conflict with that of the beautiful Jacqueline. The best romantic American novel of recent years.

"Has what so few of its class possess, the elements of reality, wrought by infinite pains of detail, verisimilitude, suggestion."
—St. Louis Republic.

"A remarkable first book, of epic breadth, carried through un-sparingly. A brilliant story."
—N. Y. Times Saturday Review.

"There is no more dramatic period in history, and the story bears every evidence of careful and painstaking study."
—N. Y. Globe.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.
233-237 East 16th St., New York.

Cut off HERE and MAIL TO US WITH $1.50.
DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY,
135 East 16th Street, New York.
Dear Sir:—I enclose $1.50 for which send me the book.
Name.....
Address.....
City.....
State.....
Key No. 233

M. WITTE

Only those who have been within the charmed circle of the court at St. Petersburg can imagine the conditions influencing this interview between the Czar and his representative who has carried off the honors of the diplomatic game that has recently been played to determine the terms on which peace could be concluded between Russia and Japan.

The American imagines the Russian statesman and diplomat returning to the presence of the Czar with form erect and countenance beaming with just pride in having performed service for which he would naturally expect to be received with honor. But those who have been at the Imperial Court of Russia know that such scene is enacted upon the return of M. Witte.

With Bowed Head and Humbly

They know he will return to the presence of his royal master, the Czar, if he has already reached St. Petersburg with bowed head, regretting that he has been unable to serve his master in a more worthy manner, and praying, with the hunted countenance of a criminal, that he be forgiven for having performed so poor a service. He will protest that if there can be found any act of his own worthy of favorable comment that that act is due wholly to having obeyed the royal will and having properly interpreted the royal purpose. He will conclude that act of humiliation by begging forgiveness of his august master for his shortcomings. No mental in America could play the part of humility so earnestly as will the distinguished diplomat M. Witte.

"The attitude of statesmen of monarchical governments toward their royal masters is one that cannot be understood by Americans and is known only to those who have been in close touch with them abroad," said a high official of the State Department in comment-to the will of his master, the Czar.

Expectations That He Would Fail.

The return of M. Witte to St. Petersburg also has a special interest because, as is fully understood in the inner circles of the Diplomatic Corps at Washington, his appointment as a peace commissioner to represent the Czar was given him not for his benefit but was brought about by his enemies, who expected that his failure to effect a successful peace negotiation would be his permanent political undoing. It was M. Witte who opposed the war and favored its conclusion long before peace was arranged. He was detested by the military party, and the intrigues of the Russian court placed him in an uncomfortable position before the Czar. It was argued that if he could be sent on the impossible mission of making peace when the entire court was convinced that the attitude of Japan would make the peace conference a failure, he would return discredited and forced for the first time in his career to approve the continuance of the war, which was desired by certain of the court dignitaries up to the time peace was declared.

Still Working for his Downfall.

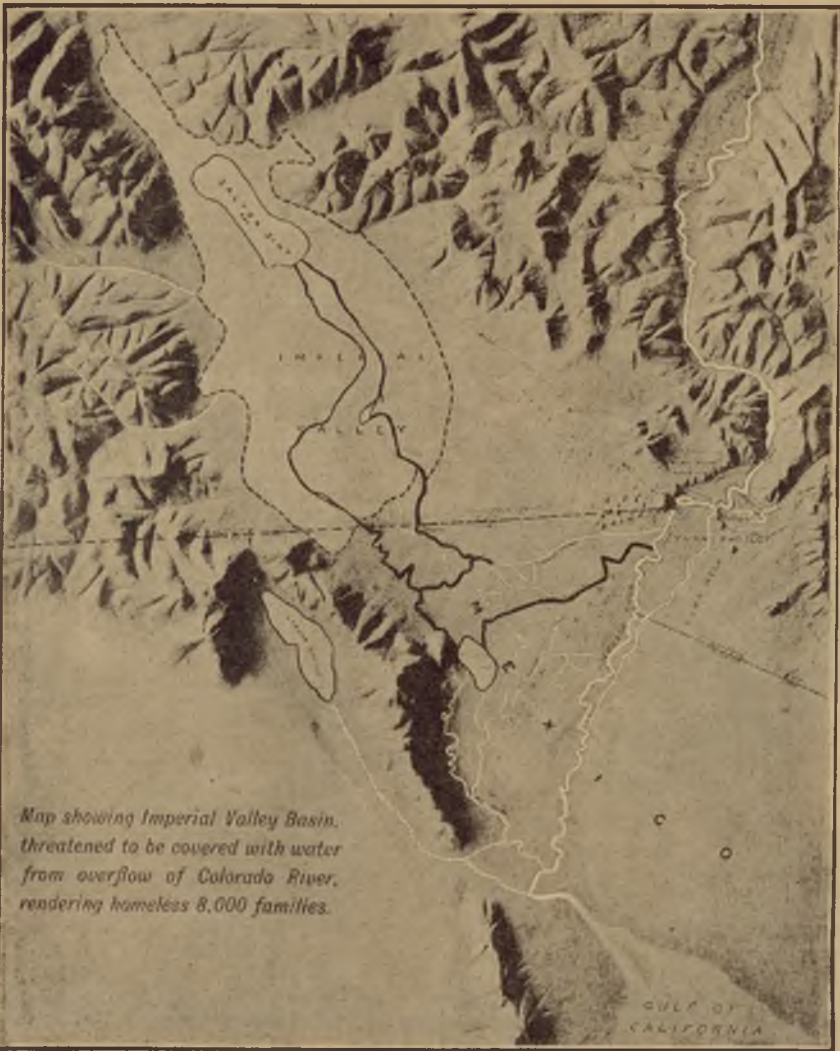

Now that the good fortune and the artful diplomacy of M. Witte have confused his enemies he is no better loved by them than he was when they conspired to intrust him with a mission they believed he could not successfully perform. It is learned at Washington that even now those same enemies are planning future traps for the eminent statesman who has been favored by the god of fortune. When he appears before his august master in the traditional attitude of a slave there will be many of his enemies to endeavor to persuade the Czar that the formal words of self depreciation which he must utter to conform to court etiquette are in fact only plain truth.

GREAT INLAND SINK.

FIERCE RAMPAGE OF COLORADO RIVER DESPOILS THOUSANDS OF FERTILE ACRES.

Huge Engineering Difficulties Must be Overcome; or Otherwise Eight Thousand Families Will Be Rendered Homeless and Destitute
C. J. BLANCHARD at Los Angeles.

The great Colorado river of the southwest the Nile of America, is on its bad behavior. Like old travellers who forsake the beaten highways, the Colorado, grown tired of its channel, is seeking a new route. Its desire for change naturally is the cause of much consternation on the part of the railroad which happens to be located near by, and of some little disquietude among several thousand settlers whose farms are apparently threatened unless the erratic stream can be induced to return to its old pathway to the sea. A glance at the map will make clear the unusual conditions which at present prevail in the Colorado Delta.

Below the town of Yuma, Arizona, the stream has cut its banks at three places and passing through old, dry channels, is now pouring westward and northward into Salton Sink. Augmented by the volume of this great stream the Sink has already become a vast inland sea, spreading out for 60 miles in one direction and 30 miles in another, and growing daily.

The Giant Force of Nature.
Passengers on the train now exclaim with wonder as they look out upon the broad sea reaching to the western horizon, where but a short time ago the desert reigned supreme in its awful desolation. Glance at the map again and note the faint line near the international boundary, and encircling the large area marked Imperial Valley. All the land included within this line is below sea level, the lowest portion situated in Salton Sink where it is 287 feet below. To those who visit this remarkable region it is apparent that in ancient geological times the Gulf of California extended far northward. The Colorado River, carrying as it does a vast load of silt and detritus from a drainage basin covering 225,000 square miles, built a bar entirely across the Gulf and created a huge inland sea which covered all of what is now known as Imperial Valley. The shore line of this great sea can be distinctly traced by the old beaches which are found there.

SIXTY FIVE MILES OF LAKE.

Enormous Salt Beds.

Under an almost tropical sun the sea evaporated, uncovering a great level plain over large portions of which was laid a deep deposit of rich river sediment wanting only irrigation to produce abundant harvests. At the lowest depression in the valley, where evaporation has not yet carried off all the water, the salts were deposited thickly and large works have long been established there marketing thousands of tons of this mineral. For centuries the Colorado has been

THE JOY OF AGE.

Misinterpretation of Dr. Osier's Statement.

Dr. William Osier, late professor in John Hopkins University, Baltimore, met with a great deal of undesired notoriety because he was misunderstood when he said the creative faculty disappeared usually at the age of forty years. He did not mean to convey the impression that man's usefulness ceased at that time, but that the imaginative faculty was not as active then as it was in earlier years, when men are green and raw in judgment and put forth many things that they wish to have suppressed later on. His little jest about chloroforming those who "lag superfluous on the stage" was meant to apply only to teachers who failed to move with the advanced thought and had a special humorous reference to himself, but the miscomprehension and exaggeration of the press has magnified his utterance and given it a sweep he never intended.

Must Seek New Fields.

When the acquisition of knowledge is used merely as a means through which to earn bread, that is the end of a man's career, whether he be thirty or forty or a thousand years old. Men who seek no new fields of exploration nor carry forward to fulfillment any work they attempt in early days are mere drones in the hives of life.

Dr. Osier, who is close to the sixty year line, has gone to England to take a professorship of medicine in Oxford University, which will without doubt lead to an increase of his professional fame, which did not come to him until after he had passed the half century post in his journey of life. His parting injunction to his medical associates in America, at the Washington meeting in May, was to follow the Golden Rule in all their actions, and to cultivate that moderation which is said to be the golden thread running through all the virtues. This advice is not new, but it cannot be repeated too often in an age when many men are striving to shove their neighbors to the wall in their desire to occupy the middle of the road themselves. Man is naturally a selfish animal and needs to be often reminded that he must do unto others as he would have them do unto him, even if he desires to attain more worldly success. The man who has no consideration for his laboring fellows is likely to find no consideration extended to him when the hour of misfortune comes.

Best Work Late in Life.

Dr. Osier never depreciated age, knowing that man's best work is done after age has mellowed his understanding and strengthened his judgment. There are numerous examples of what virility in age can do all along the track of history. It was seen in Benjamin Franklin, William E. Gladstone, is seen in Edward Everett Hale, Lord Kelvin, Charles H. Haswell, engineer and author, still at the age of 97 at his desk in New York, and other names will occur by scores to general readers.

It is an inflexible law of nature that the being who does not progress must retrograde. There is no place on this fearful ascent of life where, spiritually and intellectually, we are not forced to go forward lest we slip back. But it is a happy provision in nature that even in the longest life there is no arbitrarily fixed point of time where expansion must cease as if by a fiat, where there are no more heights before the soul to climb, no more views to be obtained, no broadening and expanding of the vision possible. Always and forever a new bud may be formed on the topmost bough of the old tree, even though the trunk be partly hollow, and the nourishing sap mount slowly through the bark.

CHINESE GRAVEYARD CUSTOMS.

Peculiar Custom of Placing Cooked Food on the Graves of the Departed.

Assorted foods, literally by the wagon load, are annually taken out to Cypress Hills Chinese Cemetery by members of New York's Chinese colony, says the New York Times, and these offerings, which are to us such strange evidences of affection and remembrance, are placed with picturesque rites, on the graves where the departed Celestial brothers of the colonists are awaiting the convenient—or is it the auspicious?—season for transshipment to the land which these most stolid of sentimentalists insist on believing to be the only one where the dead can rest comfortably. These annual illustrations of the fact that the Chinaman has feelings like the rest of us, even if he does choose different ways of showing them, attracts the usual amount of attention, some of it deservingly curious and some openly disrespectful, but neither variety affects the performance of the ceremonies or enables us to get a bit nearer the mysterious Mongol mind. It is hard to believe that our far-traveled Chinese really think that anything is accomplished for the dead by putting roast pig and boiled rice on a grave, and yet they do it year after year.

A Bright Retort.

The ancient story of the Chinaman who, when asked at what hour the spirits consumed the food thus offered to them, replied that it was at the same hour chosen by our dead for smelling flowers we similarly place, is always pertinent to discussion of this mystery, and reflection on the story has the admirable effect of giving a new standpoint from which to study the "outlandish" custom of our useful but unloved guests. In all these things it is the thinking so that constitutes right, propriety and congruity. The Chinese ceremonies do show affectionate or pious remembrance, and whether the dead are indifferent or not, the reflex action on the living is effectively brought to bear.

Black Friday.

"Now, children," said the Sunday school teacher, addressing the juvenile class, "can any of you tell me anything about Good Friday?"
"Yes, ma'am, I can," replied a boy. "He was the colored man what don't the housework for Robinson Crusoe."

A Good Buggy For Sale.

Leesville (Mo.) Light: Luke Belmont's new buggy is for sale. He got married last week, you know.

TOBACCO FOR THE NAVY.

Government Selects Supply for Officers and Men.

The American naval officer and the Jacky smoke and chew. This is a fact of which the Government takes official cognizance and recognizes in a way that makes such habits inexpensive incidents to life on board ship. Recently the Navy Department had under consideration the award of a contract for 150,000 pounds of cut plug tobacco, and in November next bids will be called for another supply of like amount. The contract under which the supply is now being furnished was secured on a basis of a bid of 40 cents a pound. Twenty-nine bids are now under consideration, the prices ranging from 30½ cents a pound to 48 cents. The contract will not necessarily be let to the lowest bidder, but to the one supplying at the lowest price the grade best suited for the purpose.

Practical Chewing Tests.

Each bidder is required to submit a sample of the tobacco to be furnished, and these, after the factory labels are removed and secret identification marks substituted, are divided into small lots, part being sent to a chemist for analysis, and a goodly supply going to the various navy yards for distribution among officers and men for practical test, the opinion of the officers and "Jackies" being taken before the award is made. Final results are reached by the process of elimination, until the selection of the chewers dwindles down to two or three samples which are bound to be favorites. These favorites are then taken up with regard to the chemical test, and the contract is awarded, so that perhaps the lowest bidder has no consideration whatever when the final result is obtained.

While heretofore the navy supplied the men with the tobacco (a very inferior article) free of cost, the Government now insists upon the best grade, which it sells to the sailor at the contract price, plus a very small percentage to cover the cost of handling. Only such tobaccos are considered which are manufactured from pure leaf tobacco of the growth of the current or preceding year in which the contract is made, and which shall have undergone a natural sweat.

How to Tell Counterfeits.

Any visitor to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing where Uncle Sam is printing the much sought-after greenbacks, comes away impressed with the intricacies of the manufacturing of a paper note. Few, indeed, understand the rule of four adopted by the Government as an aid in thwarting the plans of counterfeiters. Acquaintance with the rule of four, might help many people of the outside world in detecting counterfeit money. Every note printed by the Government—national currency and not bank notes—contains a number and a letter, no two bills having the same number. These are printed, as the visitor can see, in the blocks of four as they leave the plate printer's table. For instance, a number will be found on a note, 58,383 with the letter C in the upper left hand and lower right hand corners; another bill bears the number 79,988 D; another 42,566 B. These numbers and letters have a relation for each other and are easily determined. The last two numbers on the note determine, when divided by four, the letter to be found in the two corners. Should the last two numbers be divisible by four, with a remainder of one, the letter appearing should be A; if two remain, B; if three remain, C; and if the last two numbers are exactly divisible by four, with no remainder, the letter appearing should be D.

Rest the Bones of Pocahontas.

The proposition to bring back to the ancient city of Jamestown the body of Pocahontas, in connection with the exposition at that place, has aroused considerable indignation, both in England and in America, by people who believe that such a step is nothing more than a move intended as a side-show feature of the exposition. While it is true there have been instances of a disturbance of a grave made hundreds of years before, as in the recent case of Admiral John Paul Jones, still the cases cannot be compared. One is a man who had much to do with the preservation of the American nation and navy; the other was the central figure in a bit of fiction surrounding the settlement of this country by English settlers. Pocahontas, it is true, was a native American, which John Paul Jones was not, but Pocahontas married an Englishman, lived and died in England, and the traditions of her later life were surrounded by all that is English.

The London Standard, in commenting on the movement to bring her body to America, cites pages from a book by an American writer tending to show that the life of Pocahontas was a tradition and poetical version and adding: "If the original myth is really believed by the people of Jamestown, we only hope they will do something to answer the audacious skeptic that has impugned it."

Toothache or Appendicitis?

A movement looking to the better care of children is spreading. It is proposed now that the tooth brush drill be a part of the curriculum of our schools, and that dentists should visit regularly the children attending them. Doctors have spoken very strongly on the usefulness of taking tonics and similar medicines in order to promote better digestion, or to purify the blood, when a constant system of poisoning is going on in the mouth. It is claimed that much poor blood and weakness in children comes from dental decay. A noted physician declares that appendicitis is caused by bad teeth. Take your choice—either have your teeth extracted or your appendix cut out. The doctors get you either way, going or coming.

To Be Reunited.

"Have you seen my poor, dear little duckling?" asked the distressed but bewitching young mother duck.
"Ah! madame," replied the polite but still hungry fox, "I have inside information on that point; you will soon meet your little one."

STOP LAND-GRABBING.

THE DUTY OF CONGRESS IS TO AMEND FAULTY AND ANTI-QUATED LAND LAWS.

President Hill, of the Great Northern Railroad, calls attention to enormous disposals of Government Land Without Settlement Into Homes.

From the Philadelphia Bulletin.

There will be people ill-natured enough to charge that President Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, did not come into court with entirely clean hands in the vigorous denunciation of the land-grabbers contained in his recent speech before the National Irrigation Congress at Portland. This, however, does not necessarily detract from the truth of his charges. Perhaps few men in the country are better qualified to speak upon the blighting effects of the dishonest policy which has appropriated millions of acres of valuable lands, only to exclude from them the actual settlers who would have developed them.

President Hill is a railroad manager, and railroads depend for profit upon a traffic afforded by a populous and well-cultivated country. A railroad tending through territory without farms or farmers, towns or industrial communities must suffer serious disadvantages. Where great tracts of land are owned and controlled by mere speculators, development is impossible. It is very likely that President Hill spoke by the card when he charged that those who go upon Government land at this time for the purpose of making homes are only a handful.

Rapid Disposals of Public Lands.

His figures, showing the rapid increase in area of public lands which have passed into private ownership since 1898, possess a significance that is startling. Nearly 90,000,000 acres, a total area equal to three times that of the State of Pennsylvania, have been awarded to private owners in the six years from 1898 to 1903, inclusive, very little of which—according to President Hill—has become the property of homestead seekers. The bulk of it has become the holdings of the lumber kings, cattle barons, and speculators pure and simple. It is evident that there are more men who deserve the penalties of the law which have lately been inflicted upon Senator Mitchell, of Oregon.

The duty of Congress in this connection is unmistakable. The laws under which this vast domain has been secured by private interests with no intention of opening it to development should be repealed or amended to prevent any further looting of the public lands.

The Modern Rush.

From the Chicago Times-Herald.

He didn't have time to chew
The food that he had to eat;
But he washed it into his throat
As if time was a thing to beat.
At breakfast and lunch and dinner
'Twas a bite and a gulp and a go—
Oh, the crowd is so terribly eager,
And a man has to hurry so!
A bite and a gulp and away!
To the books and the ticker! A bite
And a drink and a smoke and a seat
At a card table half of the night;
A pressure, a click and a pallor,
A cloth-covered box and a song;
A weary old fellow at forty,
Who is deaf to the noise of the throng.

Agents Wanted

To Canvass for the

United States Senator Number

NOW PUBLISHED.

The issue contains portraits of the

NINETY MEMBERS

two from each State in the Union. This collection was made from recent exclusive sittings for the

BOSTON BUDGET

The Pictures

12 x 8 inches in size

are protected by copyright and can not be reproduced legally elsewhere. The group forms the most valuable collection of state-men ever offered to the American people. The number will be of unrivaled value to individuals, schools and libraries.

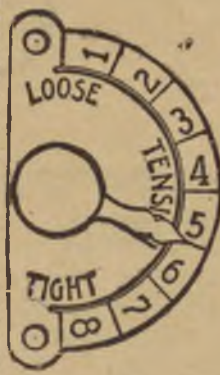

Price 50 Cents Delivered

For terms and other particulars address

The Budget Company,

220 Washington Street,
Boston, Mass.

A Tension Indicator

IS JUST WHAT THE WORD IMPLIES.

of the tension at a glance.

Its use means time saving and easier sewing.

It's our own invention and is found only on the WHITE Sewing Machine.

We have other striking improvements that appeal to the careful buyer. Send for our elegant H. T. catalog.

WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO.
Cleveland, Ohio.

PENSIONS.

Over one Million Dollars allowed our clients during the last six years.

Over one Thousand claims allowed through us during the last six months. Disability, Age and Increase pensions obtained in the shortest possible time. Widows' claims a specialty. Usually granted within 90 days if placed with us immediately on soldier's death. Fees fixed by law and payable out of allowed pension. A successful experience of 25 years and benefit of daily calls at Pension Bureau are at your service. Highest references furnished. Local Magistrates pecuniarily benefited by sending us claims.

TABER & WHITMAN CO.,
Warder Bld'g, Washington, D. C.

Gleanings in Bee Culture

teaches you about bees, how to handle them for honey and profit. Send for free copy. Read it. Then you'll want to subscribe. 5 months trial 50c. Don't delay but do it today.

A. I. Root Co., Medina, Ohio.

Mason & Hamlin

PIANOS AND ORGANS
STANDARD OF THE WORLD

Foster's Ideal

Cribs

Accident Proof

EXCAVATION WORK.

With Greatest Economy use the Western Elevating Grader and Ditcher.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION.

Western Wheeled Scraper Co.
AURORA, ILL.

Send for Catalog.

PHOTOGRAPHERS Throw Your Bottles and Scales Away

DO YOU KNOW that dirty bottles and scales cause you trouble? Obviate this by using our Developers, put up READY TO USE. Simply empty our tubes into the developing tray and add the water—we don't charge you for the latter. Large quantities of developer made up at one time oxidize and spoil. With our developers you only make up enough for immediate use.

Send 25 cents for half a dozen tubes sufficient for 24 ounces of developer for Velox, Azo, Cyko, Rotox, or other papers, or 60 ounces of Plate and Film Developer—a Developer which will not stain the fingers or nails, and is non-poisonous. We have a Sepia Toner for gaslight papers, 6 tubes, 25c.

NATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHIC CHEMICAL COMPANY
11th St. and Penn Ave.,
Washington, D. C.

A VICTIM of CIRCUMSTANCE

By C. R. FENN.

My servant showed her in, and I gave a start, for the new patient was Estelle Varnay, the charming young actress, of whom all the country, the theatregoing section of it, at least, were talking. Hers was a sad face, there had been deep trouble there, I thought, as I asked her to sit down. Her voice was extremely musical.

"Dr. Raymond," she said, "I have been told that you were a specialist on nerves, and, therefore, I came to ask you if you could do anything for me. I feel the strain, and then—" She checked herself quickly.

"Your profession is a very arduous one, madam."

"Yes; and yet to me the world has been kind. But I was told that, perhaps you could authorize me to take this"—handing me a slip of paper, containing on it the name of a drug—"as a stimulant—harmless, I believe, and more efficacious than other medicines. I was tired out last night with the new place, and I have so much to do—so much. Tell me, could you recommend it?" And there was a quaint, appealing touch in her voice.

"Humph! I'm not sure. It is only in the experimental stage as yet. Still, it might have the effect you wish. One has, though, to proceed very cautiously with a drug like that."

"Oh, yes," she said eagerly. "But, of course, I will be careful. I promise that."

"Then let me see," I said, and I walked across the room to my desk, where I wrote out the required prescription. "I must ask you to report progress. Let me see you again." And that was the beginning.

THREW THE LONG COAT OVER THE PROSTRATE FORM.

Subsequently I saw Miss Varnay on a good many occasions, and she seemed brighter; while now it was I who suffered as our friendship grew, and I hated the thought of the battle she had had to wage with the world, for her life was not all flowers and incense to her beauty and histrionic talent.

Her season in town was only brief—for once in a way I had read the theatrical announcements with sedulous care—and then she was going to the Argentine for a tour through South America, which commenced at Buenos Ayres; and a month later I called upon her at the hotel where she was staying, and asked her to be my wife; but the look which came into her face told me at once how vain were my hopes.

Yet the way in which she refused was, perhaps, worth it all.

"If you can talk like that to me," she said, tenderly, as she laid a hand on my arm, "you can be a friend, and I want a friend. But for the rest there is only one answer now. Can you be a friend?"

"You have hundreds?" I said doubtfully.

"No—scarcely one."

I took my leave, and went back home sad at heart, feeling that work was the only panacea, though may be at times the doctrine of toil is rather overdone.

And as I thought and thought, the night bell rang.

It was nothing extraordinary. Sometimes the police require my help, but as I opened the door it was not to see silver buttons and a bull's eye lantern but a wizened looking man.

"You are a doctor?"

"Yes."

"Then let me come in."

I did as the visitor desired, and led the way to my consulting room, where I turned up the light, to see that the man—a clean shaven, one-time smart individual—did indeed require aid.

"Heart?" I muttered.

"Yes," he said.

"Who are you?"

"It doesn't matter. I'm going, and somehow, the red lamp—its habit—I came in"; and he sank into a chair with the air of a runner who is far spent.

Not much help was required. I was sure of that, for there was a tell-tale something pressing the end.

"I want to be blotted out of the world," said the newcomer—"forgotten forever—I know it's near"; and he sat farther back in his chair. "I am quite beat. Good-bye."

"Come, come," I said. "That for a story"; and I forced him to swallow some brandy and water. "Now—"

"It is no use, doctor."

"But I tell you it is."

"No, no. I am one of the beaten. Let me go."

"Be a man."

"Let me die," he said, in a faint voice. "It is the only thing I ask now. Here, doctor, you are the last—and you seem a friend. Take it; it's gold! take it—no scruples"; and he thrust a small bag into my hand.

The bag fell with a clinking sound to the floor, as I leaned over my visitor.

"Dead. Quite dead," I muttered.

There could be no doubt of that.

Not a scrap of identification—not so much as a letter, a card, an initial on his linen. It was hopeless. Not a word of his story, of how he came to be fainting at my door, of what trouble it was, the nature of the blow that had caused him to quit the world without a regret.

What could I do? Here was a man who wished to hide everything, to be a nameless victim; and he had selected my surgery in which to die.

But there would be police inquiries, every kind of publicity, necessary and unnecessary—the unknown, the mystery of Dr. Raymond's surgery, etc.—I saw it all! Lurid contents bills, a crowd in the street, and—ting, ting, the bell again—this time a District Messenger boy who handed me a note.

"Dear Dr. Raymond—Please come to me at once. I badly need your help. You will think perhaps that I have not been fair to you; but I dared not explain. Yet now come—please. You have proved yourself a friend.—Yours sincerely,

"ESTELLE VARNAY."

"Very well," I said to the messenger. "There is no answer."

In her private sitting-room at the hotel I found her; but she was not alone. I went forward eagerly.

"Is there something to be explained away?" I said. "Can you—"

She checked me with a glance.

"It is not that."

"No?"

"No, no. It is because—"

"You said farewell this afternoon, and told me not to hope," I jerked out.

"I know," and she held out her hand toward the young man, who seemed to wish to blot himself out in a corner of the apartment. "Come," she whispered to the stranger, "this is our friend"; and then to me, "Do you care for me still?"

I bowed my head.

"Then," she cried earnestly, "surely only the better part of that feeling will be left to a man like you—deep friendship—when I tell you that this man is my affianced husband, and that, therefore, there was only one answer I could make to you."

"Your affianced husband?" I cried.

"Yes," she said excitedly! "You should hear all. He came to England on business, and suddenly he seemed to be lost, for we heard nothing, and we might never have heard but for the detectives—"

"But for you, Estelle," murmured the stranger.

"He killed a man in a fight—not in self-defense, but in defense of a woman who was being ill-treated, and—"

"It was about like that," said the stranger; "but, sir," he went on, turning to me, "I did not want my own name, Dallas, in this. Well, well. I don't suppose I should have struggled to be free of it if it had not been for her."

"His enemies were ruthless," cried the girl. "It was not his fault, and he is my love. I have lived and worked to save him—he who would not help himself by declaring who he was."

"You are an actress, Miss Varnay. Tell me—you are not acting now—is this all true?"

"This man is no friend, Estelle," came in a husky voice, and the speaker, a youngish-looking, beardless, but strong man, muffled in a long cloak, took a step forward, and I noticed the well-cut, refined features. "We will manage without his aid."

"You will help us?" she pleaded.

"Yes, if I can," I replied.

"There," she cried, "I knew it! Lawrence, Dr. Raymond is our friend."

"I hope I am, Mr. Dallas," I said, and I held out my hand, which the other now eagerly grasped.

"You can help. Believe me, I shall endeavor to show my gratitude."

A sudden idea had struck me.

"There might be a way," I said.

"Oh, tell it to me!" she pleaded.

"I will. But we must leave here at once, and go to my house."

The girl acquiesced at once, and enroute passing through the shadowy streets I learned fully how the escape had been accomplished, and how she had contrived and plotted to get a message through to him, succeeding where probably others would have failed, just because a lovely woman's wit is transcendent when difficulties are great.

A medical man is like a priest so far as the inviolability of those things which come to his ears are concerned, but I should be sorry to be the repository of many such secrets. But just then calm thought was impossible, for I could feel that the girl's arm touching mine trembled, and I thought "what might have been."

"Here is the house," I said, at last, rousing myself. "You feel that you are in no immediate danger, sir?"

"On the contrary, I feel that I am always in danger."

"Ah! Keep back in the shadow—good!"

Two policemen passed us, talking, and it was only when they had turned the corner that the girl gave a sigh of relief.

"Now quick! Come!" I said.

For I had made up my mind. My visitor of the night—the bearer of an impossible burden, of a tremendous sorrow, wished to be lost, to be unknown. Was I doing him a wrong? I thought not. It was not he, but his form, his existence, or, rather, what had been his existence, that I wished to subserve in the interests of these two. That there would be inquiries about a piece of cold clay seemed a matter of extreme doubt. It was not probable that anyone had seen that solitary wayfarer of the night who lay there dead, and now that all was well with him, he would, I doubted not, have cheerfully consented to aid the cause of these two friends—my friends.

"This is what I propose," I said, averting my glances from the girl. "You are in convict garb?"

"Yes, yes."

"Then, quick, come with me!" And leaving the girl who had sunk into a chair, I led the ex-captive up to my dressing-room, through the hall, past the surgery door, which was ajar, showing the light within. "Now you must change," I said.

The transformation did not occupy him long, and when we rejoined Miss Varnay he was a different looking individual, and might have walked the streets with safety.

I felt eager for them to go.

"Good-by," I said; and the girl seized my hand.

"Will there be no—"

"Pursuit?" I cried. "No. Mr. Dallas will have no need to look around now. I promise you that."

"How can I thank you?" she said, wistfully.

"By insuring the success of my plan. Farewell! Go!"

It was an hour later that the scheme was completed, and then the cast-off garments of old ex-prisoner had another owner, and I wiped my streaming brow.

"There can be no mistake," I said to myself, and I took a turn up and down the room before throwing the long cloak Dallas had carried over the prostrate form. "Now for it," and giving one more glance around I seized my hat and went out into the street, where I did not have to look long for what I sought—a constable, leisurely making his round.

"Officer!" I said.

He turned sharply.

"Dr Raymond, sir!" he said. "What's wrong?"

"A man is lying dead in my surgery—heart failure—and he is wearing convict clothing."

"Dead, sir! I will come at once."

Half an hour later all that was mortal of a supposed captive who had fought his way to freedom was taken away. If doubts arose I never heard of them—in fact, the affair died away except in my mind.

She had told me that if matters had been different I should not have asked in vain; but, ah, she loved that man as though he were a god. Heaven grant that he loves her as well. Well, it is not every man who owes that has that much to the credit side in the ledger of the past.

The Happy Dutch Cow.

Pastoral scenes are proverbial for their quiet beauty and the spirit of contentment which they breed, but you must go to Holland to find the highest type of this idea.

In Holland cows are as much a part of the family as the Irishman's pig, for one member of the family always sleeps in the stable to watch, and often the place is made a sort of family sitting room.

The cow stable is generally a large building, paved with brick, upon which the cow lies, straw being scarce. There is a brick paved passage down the centre, at one end of which is a fireplace, and the windows are covered with white curtains as dainty as those used in the house proper.

Sometimes the entire family will gather in the stable in the evenings, enjoying the warmth of the fire and exchanging the talk of the day, while the cattle, always placed with their heads facing the central passage, chew their cuds and seem to thoroughly enjoy the human companionship.

These cows are seldom brown, most of them being either black or white or of the two colors mixed, and because of the fertility of their pasturage and the care taken in their keep they are capable of giving large yields of rich milk. In no place in the world are cows as a rule made as much of, and from the annual yield of butter it would seem that the care is not taken in vain.

Norway's Caution.

From the Detroit Free Press.

Having taken note of how things are going in Russia, it is not surprising that Norway should have displayed no greater haste in securing a ruler.

KAISER AN ART CRITIC.

Small Talks on Continental and Canadian Affairs.

It is well known that the German Emperor has a fine taste in matters of art. He has recently given a demonstration of his own imperial will and severe judgment in such matters. Sometime ago the German Protestant community of Moscow solicited his aid in building a church, to be named the Temple of SS. Peter and Paul. His majesty readily undertook to be responsible for all the lamps and candelabra to be used, and asked for their designs for these things, as well as for a plan of the interior. On examination, the Kaiser found the designs so far out of harmony with his own taste and with the style of the building that he at once set to work correcting and sketching, and when the whole had been made to his mind, he entrusted them to the architect charged with the restoration of the Metz Cathedral, with instructions to execute the work "according to my ideas and intentions."

On his recent visit to Paris, the Shah of Persia was fanned night and day by relays of perspiring attendants.

KAISER WILHELM.

Little Prince Edward of Wales is already showing a delightful sturdiness of character. He has a profound dislike for arithmetic and shares in the axiom: "Multiplication is vexation."

The matter of a minute may be fraught with the greatest importance. The old saying, "First come first served," holds good when sons of the British aristocracy make their entry into this world. In 1891 twin sons were born to the Countess of Clan-carty, the elder of whom made his infantile bow to the world as Lord Kilconnel, a future double baron and viscount, an earl, a marquess of Holland and lord of 25,000 acres, while his younger brother had to content himself with the modest appellation of Master Power Francis Le Poer Trench, and the prospect of a younger son's portion.

Mlle. de Rosen, daughter of the Russian Ambassador, when she makes her debut in society will receive from the Czarina the badge and the title of "Titular Maid of Honor to her Majesty."

The Canadian Government House at Ottawa, known as Rideau Hall, is a quaint, old-fashioned palace of gray stone, replete with queer chimneys, and odd corners. It is on the east bank of the wild Rideau River, and in winter, when the trees are leafless, is in full view from the other bank. The Canadian Government House social functions during the "season," include a couple of dances at Christmas time, a state ball after Easter, musicale in the Lenten season skating and tobogganing parties every Saturday in winter, several garden parties in the early summer and a never-ending round of dinners. Many of the customs and courtesies traditional of the old monarchical days are faithfully preserved.

Russia's cross of St. Andrew has a remarkable peculiarity attaching to it. All who are decorated with it have the right once to demand a pardon for a Russian subject condemned to death.

Japan was the last nation to enter the circle of the world's powers but her Emperor's decree makes the pedigrees of other sovereigns look shabby. He is the 121th in unbroken, direct descent, the founder of the house being contemporary with Nebuchadnezzar, 600 B. C.

Five thousand dollars is about the average cost of a dinner in the Turkish Sultan's palace. The meal comprises fifty or more dishes daily and the Sultan generally partakes of from five to six. Every dish, before it reaches the royal table, is tasted in the kitchen by the royal Grand Vizier to guard against poison. It is then sealed and taken to the Sultan. The vast cost of these repasts comes from the fact that the guests and retainers who dine at the Sultan's expense daily number several thousand.

van Calava.

Swell London Attire.

The latest notes from London state that fashionable young men during the spring and summer seasons have been ideally clad in green. The outfit was as follows: Olive green Trilby hat, Lincoln green flannel suit (like Robin Hood's archers) with sea green stripes, emerald green tie, pea green striped flannel shirt with collar to match, and sage green socks relieved with pale green spots. The boots were to be left to the taste of the wearer. A green whangee cane was considered the thing. An American contemporary remarks that in this country a shotgun would be the most effective.

A Tempest in a Watermelon.

Great oaks from little acorns grow! So also has a law suit, in which $10,000 damages are claimed, arisen out of a 35-cent watermelon. It appears that a groceryman, of Washington, D. C., had caused the arrest of one of his neighbors, charging her with the theft "of one watermelon, of the value of 35 cents," and that when the police court judge heard the testimony he solemnly declared her not guilty. The lady has felt very much hurt over the charges of her grocer, and so now has entered suit in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia for $10,000 damages.

COFFEE DOES HURT

(Make the trial yourself—leave off ' Coffee 10 days and use

POSTUM

FOOD COFFEE

in its place.

That's the only way to find out.

Postum is a sure builder and when you cut out the coffee and use Postum instead, you get a taste of health, for the aches and ills begin to leave. You may THINK you know, but you don't until after the trial. Remember

There's a Reason.

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellsville," in each pkg.

THE RACYCLE SPROCKETS

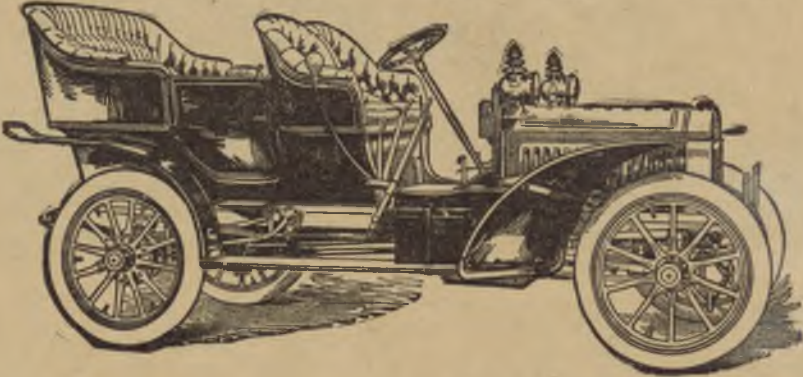

Like No. 2 Grindstone are Hung Between the Bearings

Which Stone will Turn Easier?
The Racycle Rides Further with one-quarter less work
MIAMI CYCLE & MFG. CO.
MIDDLETOWN, OHIO.

OLDSMOBILES THE CAR for 1905 THAT GOES

Highest Workmanship. Lowest Prices.

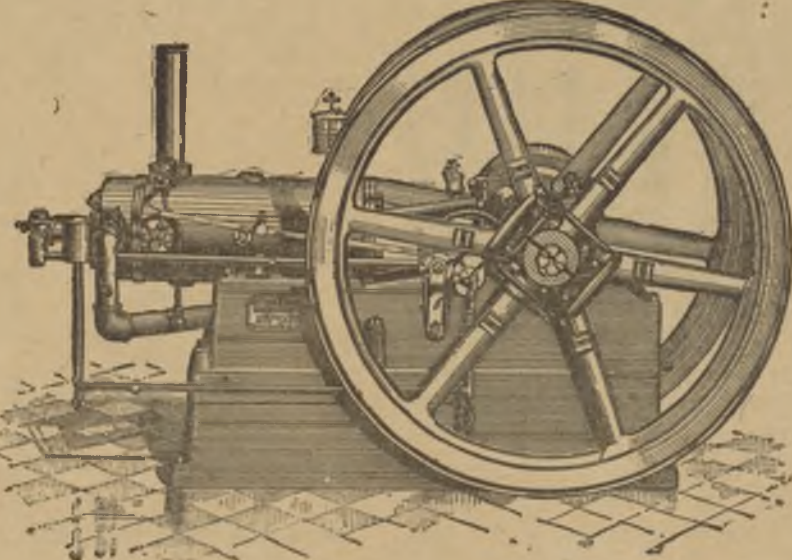

Cars for Immediate Delivery.
Olds Motor Works
DETROIT, MICH.

International Harvester Co.

GASOLINE ENGINES

When equipped with an I. H. C. gasoline engine, the farm, the dairy, the mill, the threshing machine, or the husker and shredder can be operated more economically than with any other power. Farmers who have water to pump, wood to saw, feed to grind or corn to shell, can do this work at a minimum cost with I. H. C. engines.

I. H. C. HORIZONTAL ENGINE

I. H. C. gasoline engines are made in the following sizes: 2, 3 and 5 H. P., vertical type, stationary; 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, stationary; and 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, portable.

WRITE FOR GASOLINE ENGINE BOOKLET.

International Harvester Co. of America

(Incorporated)

7 Monroe Street

Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.

FARMER and PLANT BREEDER.

Work of Assistant Secretary Willet M. Hays.

GUY ELLIOTT MITCHELL.

The country has realized for some time that it has in its Secretary of Agriculture a real farmer; its new Assistant Secretary is likewise a farmer, and unless all records and appearances are false, a good one. He has the valuable faculty of knowing how to do things, and at the same time to be able to tell others how. This Assistant Secretary is Willet M. Hays. Professor Hays was Secretary Wilson's choice for Assistant Secretary, after Colonel Brigham's death, and it appears as though Professor Hays' appointment was anything but a political one. There is a fine entente cordial between these two broad-gauge men and the work of the Department has taken a distinct forward sweep since Mr. Hays' appointment. He put his shoulder to the wheel at once and seemed able to dispense with the usual two or three months of "breaking in," which an Assistant Secretary for a big department usually undergoes. He fits his environment well wherever he happens to be. Instructing his classes in the field at the University of Minnesota, located just between the Twin Cities, you would have suspected that Professor Hays seldom visited St. Paul or Minneapolis; on the other hand, when you see him walking along the streets in Washington you would scarcely expect him to be able to drop a straight furrow. But in coming cityward and wearing a crease in his trousers he has not lost his straightforward way of taking people at their word and believing just what they say. I asked him for a photograph to accompany this letter, remarking that I would like to have one of him as he looked as I last saw him "down on the farm" (he would be arrested if he went around Washington looking as he was then), and he gravely responded that he had no photograph such as I wanted, but that he would send me one taken at a later date.

WILLET M. HAYS, ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF AGRICULTURE.

HYBRIDIZING WHEAT IN THE FIELD.

Breeding up Plants.

The work which has made Professor Hays most famous is his plant-breeding

SHOWING IMPROVEMENT IN TIMOTHY BY BREEDING.

experiments. He is the wizard of farm plant life as Luther Burbank is of horticulture. He has taken wheat and bred it up, by selection and hybridization covering periods of five and ten years, so that the improved strain yields probably 25 to 30 per cent. heavier. He has done the same with flax and with timothy and with corn and other farm crops. This has entailed the most painstaking work, continued year after year, but always with gratifying results. The average wheat yield of the Northwestern States—Minnesota and the Dakotas—ranges, as I remember, from thirteen to fifteen bushels to the acre, which is about the average for the entire United States. Increase this say one-fourth by simply using this new seed, as in the case of thousands of acres in the State of Minnesota, and figure out the gain to the country. And this is only from results already obtained in seed improvement.

To Double the Wheat Yield.

The wheat breeding work is going on steadily, and Professor Hays says that he has probably not yet reached the half-way point in increased yield. In the work of simple wheat breeding by selection each grain is planted and cultivated separately, a thousand of them in rows, each one like a tree, and then the best ten heads are selected from those thousand plants, and the plumpest grains again selected from those ten heads. Then you are ready for the planting of next year. And so on for ten years. In hybridization there are many more pains taken. Here the best specimens of two different varieties are crossed upon each other by hand pollination and the complex system of selection simultaneously carried on year by year. But the labor is more than justified by the results.

Other experiments have been successfully carried along under Professor Hays with the idea of changing the constituents of the crops—putting more protein or muscle-producing elements in the grain and forage crops just as the beet grower works to put more sugar into his beets.

Practical Farm Teaching.

All this work is technical; it might be the doings of the recluse. The other side of Professor Hays' make-up stands forth when he gets out on a swing 'round the circle and preaches what he knows; when he distributes literature and delivers lectures to the farmers in halls or from the rear platforms of trains—a practical educator.

More agriculture in our national system of education is his slogan, practical farm education that will enable a man to farm better and make more money at it. He urges the consolidation of the small rural schools—bringing four or five of them into one good-sized school where more competent teachers can be hired and a much broader education afforded. The interesting thing about his boys at the University of Minnesota was that they were there to study plants and animals and then go back to the farm. They were at a college, to be sure, but they were taking a sort of high school agricultural course, many of them for one or two years, and were not figuring on getting a diploma and then leaving the farm and striking out for some city, as is unfortunately the history of so many of the graduates of the agricultural colleges.

HYBRIDIZING WHEAT IN THE FIELD.

Working through the Boys.

"Do your new methods stick with the boys when they get back on the old farm?" I asked. "How do the boys' fathers take it?"

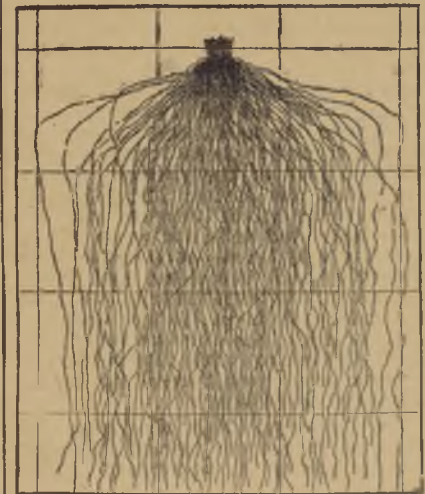

"Oh, they think at first when the boys go home and want to make changes that we are teaching them a lot of new-fangled notions. After the first year perhaps they let the boy take a try on a small scale. Then with the good results shown by the trial they are more than likely to come around by the second or third year and there is apt to be quite a shaking up of methods in the work on the old place. You can't expect to make much headway teaching the older farmers, but you can get at them through the boys."

A WHEAT FLOWER (ENLARGED).

A seventy-page bulletin which Professor Hays wrote for the Department of Agriculture some four years ago on the subject of plant breeding brought his work into great prominence. In it he outlined numerous possibilities of increased production of all crops through plant breeding. Every man knows that the American trotting horse has been wonderfully improved by breeding. And Professor Hays drew a parallel, step by step, between the improvement of the Wealthy apple, tracing its history and improvement from the tree developed by Peter M. Gidden of Minnesota, and Messenger, an imported English racing horse, which became the leading progenitor of the American racing or trotting horse, and he thus showed that plants were capable of the same development by breeding as are animals.

WHEAT ROOT SYSTEM.

If you are interested in learning something about plant breeding you might write to your Congressman for a copy of Bulletin 29 of the Department of Agriculture, or probably Professor Hays himself has a few extra copies.

FROM POLE TO EQUATOR.

Arctic Explorer Now Penetrating the Heart of Africa.

Whether in the frigid grip of the north polar country or the burning sands of tropical Africa, the Duke of Abruzzi seems equally at home. This Italian scientist, who made such a high reputation by his recent arctic explorations, has started for unknown regions of Central Africa with a fully equipped expedition, proposing to explore the Ruwenzori Mountains and climb their highest peaks. This range crosses the Equator in the vicinity of the Lakes Nyanza, whence flow the waters of the Nile. It is some eighty miles long, a vast pile of black rock hurled upward in some ancient convulsion of Nature.

The English explorer, Stanley, found Ruwenzori twenty years ago. It was pointed out to him as a big salt mountain. As the sun ascended, it assumed shape before his view—a great mountain clothed in snow—and it took him weeks of travel to find out that it belonged to a range. Stanley believed that the Ruwenzori range and the Mountains of the Moon, which can be found on old maps, are identical. According to the old geographies, the waters of the Nile rise in the Mountains of the Moon.

The Duke of Abruzzi has a difficult task before him to conquer the Mountains of the Moon, even though their summits fall somewhat short of that orb. A large quantity of supplies must be carried on the backs of natives, and though the start will be made in the most torrid of tropical climates, the party will soon ascend into temperate regions and then trudge for months in a truly polar climate.

Milk In Your Tea.

"The use of plenty of milk with tea," says The Lancet (London), "is a wise precaution and must be regarded as a sound physiological proceeding, since the proteids of milk destroy astrin-gency and probably prevent the otherwise injurious action of tannin on the mucous membrane of the stomach. In the intestinal juice the proteids are separated and the tannin probably combines with the sodium salts. The im-moderate drinking of tea is an unquestionable evil, but, on the whole, we are inclined to think that the evils of tea-drinking have been exaggerated. The real difficulty is to convince people that a lightly drawn infusion gives them their money's worth."

SCHOOL GARDEN WORK.

The Department of Agriculture is just issuing an attractive illustrated bulletin on school gardens. In his introductory, Dr. Galloway, Chief of the Bureau of Plant Industry, says, that as agriculture in its broadest sense is the primary basis of wealth in the United States, it seems essential that efforts should be made in our general educational system to bring early to the mind of the child facts which will be of value as emphasizing the importance and necessity of agricultural work. There is no better way to do this, he says, than through a well-managed and well conducted system of school garden training which early awakens interest in an industry which means much to the future prosperity of the country.

When the work of handling Congressional free seed distribution was turned over to the Bureau of Plant Industry several years ago efforts were made to arouse interest on the part of members of Congress with large city constituencies, who might be able to encourage the school garden movement through the distribution of specially prepared seed packages. Since then millions of packages of seeds have been distributed

GROWTH OF RAILROADS.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION PLACES PAR VALUE AT 13 MILLIONS.

More than Three Quarters of a Billion Dollars Paid Out Annually by the companies in Salaries to Over a Million Regular Employees.

The annual report of the Interstate Commerce Commission, giving railroad statistics at the end of 1904, shows the enormous total of 297,073 miles of railroad in the United States. More recent railroad construction has brought this figure up to more than 300,000 miles. The number of railroad corporations included in the report was 2,104. That the railroads are prosperous is shown by the fact that only 1,323 miles of road were in the hands of receivers.

The total number of locomotives in use was 46,743 and of cars, exclusive of those owned by private companies, 1,798,000. Of these, 39,000 were in the passenger service and 1,652,000 engaged in hauling freight. Practically all the passenger locomotives and cars were equipped with air brakes and automatic couplers, and the same was true of freight locomotives and a large majority of freight cars.

The number of persons on the pay rolls of railroads in the United States was 1,296,000, with annual wages and salaries amounting to $817,598,000.

The par value of the amount of railway capital was $13,213,124,000, or a capitalization of $64,265 per mile.

Six Per Cent. Dividends.

Of the total capital stock outstanding, 42 per cent. paid no dividends. The amount of dividends declared during the year was $221,941,000, or a little over 6 per cent. on dividend-paying stock. The number of passengers reported as carried by the railways in the year was 715,419,000. The number of tons of freight carried was 1,309,899,000, an increase over the previous year of over five and one-half million tons.

UNEXPLODED PROJECTILES.

Danger Lurks Therein—Chinese Inquisitiveness Proves Fatal.

The dispatch coming from the Far East of the killing of nearly a dozen people by the explosion of a mine near Cherof, brings to light incidents going to show that the land in the vicinity of Port Arthur is a fertile field of unexploded land mines and shells.

When the Russians were shelling the Japanese positions near the village of Suishiyang many shells fell in the localities desired by the gun-painters, but the ordnance was of such a defective quality that they failed to explode. A good lot of these projectiles have lain where they fell, objects of the careful investigation and inspection of the wondering and speculative villagers. On one occasion a dispute arose as to the danger in these innocent-looking pieces of iron, and a bold native, to prove his contention that they were harmless, as well as his bravery, struck one of the missiles with a big stone. This was going a little too far, and unfortunately he hit it on the nose, the tender spot of projectiles. It exploded with a terrible noise, killing ten of the interested spectators.

Another Chinese discovered a shell which had found a resting place in the fresh water lake just behind the Russian naval dockyard of Port Arthur. At that time the lake was one mass of ice and the head of the shell was just sticking up through the frozen mass. John Chinaman was attracted by the shining brass screw at the top and went out on the ice to try to get it off. Good metal was worth having in the land of the Oriental, and this is what attracted him. He used an old nail to remove the tempting object. His inquisitiveness was a dear lesson for his family, although the pieces were never found.

NO OTHER WAGONS APPROACH

In Perfect Adaptability Under all Conditions to

The Strong Old Hickory

MANUFACTURED BY

Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Co.
LOUISVILLE, KY.

LARGEST PRODUCERS OF FARM WAGONS IN THE WORLD

Kirk's A Quarter of a Century of unfailing service

AMERICAN CROWN SOAP

Is a green soap, consistency of paste, a perfect cleanser for automobile machinery and all vehicles; will not injure the most highly polished surface. Made from pure vegetable oils. If your dealer does not carry American Crown Soap in stock, send us his name and address and we will see that your wants are supplied. Put up in 12 1/2, 25 and 50 lb. pails.

James S. Kirk & Company
CHICAGO, ILL.

BOOKS—BOOKS

We have published some good ones specially suited for farmers. Books that will help every farmer to make more out of his farm. Write for our catalogue.

WEBB PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Paul Minn.

Well Drilling Machines

Over 70 sizes and styles for drilling either deep or shallow wells in any kind of soil or rock. Mounted on wheels or sills. With engines or horse powers. Strong, simple and durable. Any mechanic can operate them easily.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE
WILLIAM BROS., Ithaca, N. Y.

Repeaters

are the original solid top and side ejectors. This feature forms a solid shield of metal between the shooter's head and the cartridges at all times, throws the empties away from him instead of into his face, prevents smoke and gases from entering his eyes and lungs, and keeps the line of sight unobstructed. The MARLIN action works easily and smoothly, making very little noise. Our new automatic recoil-operating locking device makes the Marlin the safest breech-loading gun ever built. 22-page catalogue, 300 illustrations, cover in nine colors, mailed for three stamps.

The Marlin Fire Arms Co.
New Haven, Conn.

proves the
ABSOLUTE RELIABILITY
of the

Remington TYPEWRITER

WYCKOFF, SEAMANS & BENEDICT
237 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

Sandwich

SELF FEED FULL CIRCLE TWO HORSE

HAY PRESS

The Baler for speed. Bales 12 to 18 tons a day. Has 40 inch feed hole. Adapted to bank barn work. Stands up to its work—no digging holes for wheels, Self-feed Attachment increases capacity, lessens labor, makes better bales and does not increase draft.

Send for Catalogue

SANDWICH MFG. CO.,

124 Main Street, Sandwich, ILL.

SILOS

Pine, Fir, Cypress and Yellow Pine.
Write for Catalogue.

Eagle Tank Co., 281 N. Green St.,
Chicago, ILL.

IF YOU WANT A JACK

Send for our Jack Catalogue. Sure to contain the description of exactly what you want
Hydraulic Jacks our Specialty

Watson-Stillman Co.,
46 Dey St., N. Y. City.

The Missoula Nursery

Producers of Northern grown acclimated trees and the best varieties for planting in Northern States.

Every Variety of Standard Fruit

Thoroughly tested Apples, Pears, Plums, Cherries and Trees Ornamental, Small Fruit Plants, Shrubs, Vines and Roses.

THE EVERBEARING STRAWBERRY

A SPECIALTY OF

FLOWERING PLANTS AND SHRUBS

Cut Flowers and Floral Designs. Also Vegetable Plants shipped by express. Catalogue and Price List Free. Mail orders have prompt attention.

MISSOULA NURSERY CO.
MISSOULA, MONTANA.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Phone 20

Call us up

FIRST and best of fall goods, prove their worth in every way. Values that you cannot fail to see. Made for you the way you want it. Satisfaction is a part of the bargain. Come here first and you'll go no further. We don't sell what we can't recommend. 'Nuff said.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months.....50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Chicago Glee Club, October 18th.

Considerable cotton came to town last Friday.

A. P. R. Dahl, of Calera, was in the city Monday attending court.

Clarence Smith was down from Wilsonville visiting friends last Sunday.

Mrs. M. T. Wood has gone to Anniston to visit her sister, Mrs. Mansfield.

Miss O'Brien, of Birmingham, is the new stenographer in the office of Browne & Loeper.

Prof. S. Dowell and Dr. Chas. Acker will attend the tuberculosis conference in Calera.

Lucius Roberts has gone to Birmingham where, we are told, he has a position in a hardware store.

That prince of good fellows, C. C. Whitson, of Talladega, was in the city last week attending circuit court.

Presiding Elder J. W. Johnson, of Talladega, was in Columbiana Tuesday attending quarterly conference.

Mrs. H. E. Whitaker visited in Montevallo and Wilton last Thursday and Friday, returning home Saturday.

Master Alvin, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lefkovits, has been quite sick for several days, but is improving.

John Alexander, mail carrier on rural route No. 1 out of Montevallo, was a caller at The Sentinel office last Friday.

The next regular appointment at the M. E. church will be on the fifth Sunday instead of on the fourth as usual.

Oscar Lawley, of Birmingham, was in the city last week visiting with friends. He returned home Monday morning.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co. has rented the room recently vacated by I. Gordon, and it is being used for a ware room.

Louis N. Bowdon, of Calera, who was in the city last week attending court, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office Friday.

The busiest place in Columbiana is at O'Hara's gin. All day long the farmers are lined up there awaiting their turn at the gin.

W. N. Lee, one of the staunch Democrats from near Bridgeton, is foreman of the grand jury this term of the circuit court.

The Commissioners' Court adjourned last Friday until this week. It met Monday and drew the jurors for the next year.

Roberts & Robertson have a change in their advertisement in this issue. They want your trade and will make you prices that is surprising.

Kept On Ice.

There is nothing so palatable as Fresh Oysters when they are right off the ice. That is the way you will find them when you buy of us. Better leave your order for a hundred.—Roberts & Robertson.

Everybody is going to hear the Chicago Glee Club next Wednesday night, and that means you.

M. M. Kuffner, associate mine inspector, was in the city a short time last week and while here came in and had his name enrolled on our subscription list. Mr. Kuffner is an old Shelby county boy, and his many friends are glad to know he holds so responsible a position as associate mine inspector.

Miss Ethel McMath, of Montevallo, was in the city Sunday a guest at the home of Mrs. W. F. Davis. Miss McMath is a teacher in the Girls' Industrial School and has many friends here who are always glad to see her.

Howard Latham has gone to Birmingham where he has purchased a drug store in West End. Mrs. Latham will follow him in a few days. They carry with them to their new home the best wishes of all our people.

John Weldon, of Wilsonville, was in the city a short time last Wednesday night, and left an order for stationery with our job department announcing their millinery opening for October 12th, 13th and 14th.

In this issue will be found an advance notice of the big removal sale the Columbiana Mercantile Co. is now preparing for. Price will cut no figure in this sale we are told, so look out for bargains.

Read the State Fair advertisement in this issue. The horse show at that time promises to be a great affair. There are other attractions in which you will find something of interest.

Pierce Mason came home from Greensboro Monday to attend the marriage of his sister, Miss Essie Mason, to L. E. Christian. He goes back to Greensboro tomorrow.

Judge John Pelham remained in Columbiana last Sunday instead of going home to Anniston as is his usual custom. Solicitor Burr spent Sunday at his home in Talladega.

Saxon & Johnson, the contractors, have a card in this issue. They are first-class workmen and if you contemplate building would like to give you figures.

Fresh Sausage.

We can fill your order for fresh sausage which we keep on ice. You know it is the right kind.—Roberts & Robertson.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14th, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe! Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by Williams Bros.

Pretty Millinery.

The ladies of Columbiana and vicinity have had an opportunity for the past few days to inspect a pretty line of millinery which has been on display at T. J. Weaver & Co's, and they have improved the opportunity. Especially on last Saturday was the store visited by a large number.

Mrs. Weaver and Miss Walker are to be congratulated on the handsome display of the latest styles in pretty millinery—many of the patterns hats having a chic appearance that brought exclamations of delight and admiration from the visitors. Their display, we believe, is even better than it was last year. An attempt to describe the beauty of some of the hats would only detract from what they really are, and we say go and see for yourselves.

J. H. Nabors, one of the staunch Democrats of beat 7, is in the city this week serving as a juror in circuit court. He called at this office Monday and pushed his subscription up to 1907. Mr. Nabors has been a constant subscriber to The Sentinel ever since its first publication more than thirty years ago.

Of course you're going to hear the Chicago Glee Club. It will be at the Academy next Wednesday night.

Mrs. A. B. Milner arrived in the city from Collinsville Monday to attend the Mason-Christian wedding, and to visit her mother, Mrs. M. E. Mason.

Miss Jannie Wallace, who, because of illness, was out of school several days last week, was able to resume teaching Monday morning.

W. L. Christian, of Cincinnati, is in the city for a short visit with his mother, and to attend the Mason-Christian wedding.

Mr. Max Kohlhaugen, of Birmingham, formerly of Cincinnati, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erick for a few days.

Remember the Chicago Glee Club will be at the Academy in Columbiana next Monday night, October 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Christian, of Birmingham, are in town to attend the Mason-Christian wedding.

W. W. Wallace visited with his mother near Klein last Saturday and Sunday.

Notice.

Siluria, October 9, 1905.

To the members of the F. E. and C. U. of America:

All delegates and members of the Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of America are cordially invited to come and take part in the deliberations of the county meeting of the F. E. and C. U. to be held Friday, Oct. 20th, at Camp branch.

T. M. Duncan, Pres.

W. H. Lyons, Sec.

Lands for Sale and Rent.

I desire to sell about 1,000 acres of land, light sandy soil, in parcels from 40 to 323 acres each. There is as much as 300 acres of hard and yellow pine timber. Will sell at a bargain. All land being in beat 8, Shelby county, Ala., except 138 acres in beat 1 within one and a half miles of court house at Columbiana, Ala. For further information in regard to land and prices, call on or write.

Walter E. Lester.

R. F. D. No 2, Box 36.

Columbiana, Ala.

Fire at Montevallo.

About 8 o'clock on Monday night of last week, the home of Mrs. S. V. McCauley was burned at Montevallo.

Mrs. McCauley had gone to spend the evening with a neighbor, and the house was in flames before she knew anything about it. The good people of Montevallo did all they could to save at least a portion of the contents as the building was too far gone to try to save it when the fire was discovered. Aside from some bedding but little was saved. A fine piano was among the furniture which was burned. The origin of the fire is not known.

The loss is considerable to Mrs. McCauley as it was only partially insured. She requests The Sentinel to thank those who worked so hard to save her furniture. Mrs. McCauley is now in Columbiana with her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Whitaker.

A Brothers Comment.

The editor of the Sentinel has a brother away down in Alabama running a newspaper, and his paper is also called the Sentinel. We have just received a copy of the 31st anniversary edition of Harry's paper. It contains thirty pages filled to the guards with half-tones, and page after page of historical matter written by some one who knows how to handle a pen better than a sword. The covering is printed on heavy book paper in colors. It is an edition that we Californians would buckle up to, and no doubt but those Alabamians think the same thing of the Sentinel's industrial enterprise.—Hollywood (Cal.) Sentinel.

Fresh Bread.

Leave your order with us for Fresh Bread, the best in the world—just like the kind your mother used to make.—Roberts & Robertson.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main St. Ottawa, Kans., writes, "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c $1.00. Sold by William Bros.

Wise Sister Mary.

Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow; it strayed away one summer day where animals should never go. Then Mary sat her down and tears streamed slowly from her eyes; she never found the lamb because she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother John, who kept a village store; he sat down and smoked his pipe and watched the open door.

And as the people passed along and did not stop to buy, John still sat down and smoked his pipe and blinked his sleepy eye.

And so the brokers seized his stock, but still he lingered near, and Mary came to drop with him a sympathetic tear.

"How is it, sister, can you tell why other shoppers here sell all their goods so quickly and thrive from year to year?"

Remembering now her own bad luck the little maid replied: "These other fellows fatten, John because they advertise."

W. W. Carter, our market man, has moved his family from Wilsonville to Columbiana. We are glad to have them with us.

On Monday of this week, Mrs. S. V. McCauley purchased the residence of T. J. Weaver, on East College street.

Mrs. Simon Friedberger and her children have gone to Epps for a short visit with relatives.

Strayed or Stolen.

From my farm near Brierfield Ala. One large brindle hound dog, with a faint stripe down his nose, two white feet in front, with white toes on hind feet. The white on left fore leg extends up the leg farther than on the right one. He left on Aug. 23rd, 1905.

Any information or return of the dog will be suitably rewarded. J. R. SMITH, Jr. Box 632, Birmingham Ala.

Cures Chills and Fever.

G. W. Wirt, Nacogdoches, Texas, says: "His daughter had chills and fever for three years; he could not find anything that would help her till she used Herbine. His wife will not keep house without it, and cannot say too much for it." 50c. Sold by William Bros.

The best things are at the top. Are you climbing the stairs, or are you looking for the basement?

BIG REMOVAL SALE

WITH THE

COLUMBIANA MERCANTILE CO.

BEGINNING AT ONCE AND CONTINUING UNTIL

JANUARY 1, 1906.

This big company will have to vacate the corner store on January 1st, and move their goods into their own room adjoining the corner. Now in order to do this their HUGE STOCK consisting of everything in the mercantile line will have to be reduced and that AT ONCE. They are, therefore, putting the knife to every department. This will be, without doubt, the opportunity of a lifetime for those who want goods at a bargain. We hope the people of the community and county at large will take advantage of it.

WATCH the Big Signs on the building, then come inside and be convinced. REMEMBER, we will pay you more for your produce and Cotton than any other merchants in this section, proving that we are the "working man's friend and the farmers' protector." This is not foolish talk; come and see for yourself.

Yours to serve,

Columbiana Mercantile Company,

Wholesale and Retail

Alabama State Fair.

From present indications the great State Fair at Birmingham, which opens on October 23rd and continues for ten days, will be an unprecedented success. Work is progressing with almost magic rapidity on those buildings which have not been already completed and everything will be in tip-top shape for the opening day.

The live stock exhibit promises to be the finest ever seen in Alabama. There will be handsome premiums for beef cattle, including Hereford, Shorthorns, Aberdeen, Angus and other breeds, and also for dairy cattle, including Jerseys, Holsteins, Ayrshires, etc.; for sheep of all breeds, Angora goats, and for Berkshire, Poland China and other breeds of hogs.

The races during the fair will witness competition of some of the world's most noted running, trotting and pacing horses, and there will also be mule races as well as pony races for boys.

A distinctive feature of the big fair will be the horse show, which will be held during six nights of the fair, beginning on the evening of October 23rd. The feature of the horse show will be the appearance of the Barney Demorest combination of equestrians, which includes the high jumpers Kingful, with a record of 7 feet 1 1/4 inches, and Major McKink, with a record of 6 feet 11 inches. These noted performers will ridden by ladies, of which there are three with the Demorest combination, said to be the finest riders and drivers of their sex in the world. The Horse Show arena, which is 200x400 feet, and is situated directly opposite the mammoth grand stand, will be brilliantly lighted with large arc lights, and will be one of the finest and most spectacular exhibitions of its kind ever seen in the South.

The agricultural exhibit will be a splendid one, and will be a credit to Alabama. It will occupy a space 250x300 feet and will include all the various products of Alabama farms. This exhibit will be managed by the state's representative, and will include at least nine separate county exhibits.

The merchants of Birmingham are going to make handsome exhibits of their various lines of merchandise in separate booths in the main Exhibit Building and in the Mines and Machinery Hall.

The Poultry Show will embrace all known varieties of chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks, etc. Liberal premiums are offered, and from present indications there will be at least 2,000 fowls on exhibition.

Cassie Chadwick's diamonds(?) are to be sold at public auction. It is hoped this will be the last of Cassie in public life.

"A Thing of Beauty
Is a Joy Forever!"

Our millinery may not wear forever,
but the ladies all exclaim

"The Hats are Beautiful!"

And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

We have in stock

The Prettiest Line of Novelties

in the way of

Belts and Fashionable Neckwear

ever shown in Columbiana.

Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

New Grocery Store!

EVERYTHING
NEW.

We desire to notify the people that we have opened a grocery store in the Moore building, and we ask for a share of your patronage. Our groceries are all NEW and FRESH—nothing stale. A full line of staple and fancy groceries, cigars, tobacco and provisions will be kept on hand. Be glad to have call on us.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor - and - Builder,

Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Bring your job work to The Sentinel office--the best work.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Phone 20

Call us up

FIRST and best of fall goods, prove their worth in every way. Values that you cannot fail to see. Made for you the way you want it. Satisfaction is a part of the bargain. Come here first and you'll go no further. We don't sell what we can't recommend. 'Nuff said.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months.....50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be, I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Chicago Glee Club, October 18th.

Considerable cotton came to town last Friday.

A. P. R. Dahl, of Calera, was in the city Monday attending court.

Clarence Smith was down from Wilsonville visiting friends last Sunday.

Mrs. M. T. Wood has gone to Anniston to visit her sister, Mrs. Mansfield.

Miss O'Brien, of Birmingham, is the new stenographer in the office of Browne & Loeper.

Prof. S. Dowell and Dr. Chas. Acker will attend the tuberculosis conference in Calera.

Lucius Roberts has gone to Birmingham where, we are told, he has a position in a hardware store.

That prince of good fellows, C. C. Whitson, of Talladega, was in the city last week attending circuit court.

Prosiding Elder J. W. Johnson, of Talladega, was in Columbiana Tuesday attending quarterly conference.

Mrs. H. E. Whitaker visited in Montevallo and Wilton last Thursday and Friday, returning home Saturday.

Master Alvin, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Lefkovits, has been quite sick for several days, but is improving.

John Alexander, mail carrier on rural route No. 1 out of Montevallo, was a caller at The Sentinel office last Friday.

The next regular appointment at the M. E. church will be on the fifth Sunday instead of on the fourth as usual.

Oscar Lawley, of Birmingham, was in the city last week visiting with friends. He returned home Monday morning.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co. has rented the room recently vacated by I. Gordon, and it is being used for a ware room.

Louis N. Bowdon, of Calera, who was in the city last week attending court, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office Friday.

The busiest place in Columbiana is at O'Hara's gin. All day long the farmers are lined up there awaiting their turn at the gin.

W. N. Lee, one of the staunch Democrats from near Bridgeton, is foreman of the grand jury this term of the circuit court.

The Commissioners' Court adjourned last Friday until this week. It met Monday and drew the jurors for the next year.

Roberts & Robertson have a change in their advertisement in this issue. They want your trade and will make you prices that is surprising.

Kept On Ice.

There is nothing so palatable as Fresh Oysters when they are right off the ice. That is the way you will find them when you buy of us. Better leave your order for a hundred.—Roberts & Robertson.

Everybody is going to hear the Chicago Glee Club next Wednesday night, and that means you.

M. K. Kuffner, associate mine inspector, was in the city a short time last week and while here came in and had his name enrolled on our subscription list. Mr. Kuffner is an old Shelby county boy, and his many friends are glad to know he holds so responsible a position as associate mine inspector.

Miss Ethel McMath, of Montevallo, was in the city Sunday a guest at the home of Mrs. W. F. Davis. Miss McMath is a teacher in the Girls' Industrial School and has many friends here who are always glad to see her.

Howard Latham has gone to Birmingham where he has purchased a drug store in West End. Mrs. Latham will follow him in a few days. They carry with them to their new home the best wishes of all our people.

John Weldon, of Wilsonville, was in the city a short time last Wednesday night, and left an order for stationery with our job department announcing their millinery opening for October 12th, 13th and 14th.

In this issue will be found an advance notice of the big removal sale the Columbiana Mercantile Co. is now preparing for. Price will cut no figure in this sale we are told, so look out for bargains.

Read the State Fair advertisement in this issue. The horse show at that time promises to be a great affair. There are other attractions in which you will find something of interest.

Pierce Mason came home from Greensboro Monday to attend the marriage of his sister, Miss Essie Mason, to L. E. Christian. He goes back to Greensboro tomorrow.

Judge John Polham remained in Columbiana last Sunday instead of going home to Anniston as is his usual custom. Solicitor Burr spent Sunday at his home in Talladega.

Saxon & Johnson, the contractors, have a card in this issue. They are first-class workmen and if you contemplate building would like to give you figures.

Fresh Sausage.

We can fill your order for fresh sausage which we keep on ice. You know it is the right kind.—Roberts & Robertson.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14th, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Bullard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Bullard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by Williams Bros.

Pretty Millinery.

The ladies of Columbiana and vicinity have had an opportunity for the past few days to inspect a pretty line of millinery which has been on display at T. J. Weaver & Co's, and they have improved the opportunity. Especially on last Saturday was the store visited by a large number.

Mrs. Weaver and Miss Walker are to be congratulated on the handsome display of the latest styles in pretty millinery—many of the patterns hats having a chic appearance that brought exclamations of delight and admiration from the visitors. Their display, we believe, is even better than it was last year. An attempt to describe the beauty of some of the hats would only detract from what they really are, and we say go and see for yourselves.

J. H. Nabors, one of the staunch Democrats of beat 7, is in the city this week serving as a juror in circuit court. He called at this office Monday and pushed his subscription up to 1907. Mr. Nabors has been a constant subscriber to The Sentinel ever since its first publication more than thirty years ago.

Of course you're going to hear the Chicago Glee Club. It will be at the Academy next Wednesday night.

Mrs. A. B. Milner arrived in the city from Collinsville Monday to attend the Mason-Christian wedding, and to visit her mother, Mrs. M. E. Mason.

Miss Jannie Wallace, who, because of illness, was out of school several days last week, was able to resume teaching Monday morning.

W. L. Christian, of Cincinnati, is in the city for a short visit with his mother, and to attend the Mason Christian wedding.

Mr. Max Kohlhaugen, of Birmingham, formerly of Cincinnati, is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erick for a few days.

Remember the Chicago Glee Club will be at the Academy in Columbiana next Monday night, October 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Christian, of Birmingham, are in town to attend the Mason-Christian wedding.

W. W. Wallace visited with his mother near Klein last Saturday and Sunday.

Notice.

Siluria, October 9, 1905.

To the members of the F. E. and C. U. of America:

All delegates and members of the Farmers Educational and Co-operative Union of America are cordially invited to come and take part in the deliberations of the county meeting of the F. E. and C. U. to be held Friday, Oct. 20th, at Camp branch.

T. M. Duncan, Pres.

W. H. Lyons, Sec.

Lands for Sale and Rent.

I desire to sell about 1,000 acres of land, light sandy soil, in parcels from 40 to 323 acres each. There is as much as 300 acres of hard and yellow pine timber. Will sell at a bargain. All land being in beat 8, Shelby county, Ala., except 138 acres in beat 1 within one and a half miles of court house at Columbiana, Ala. For further information in regard to land and prices, call on or write.

Walter E. Lester.

R. F. D. No 2, Box 36.

Columbiana, Ala.

Fire at Montevallo.

About 8 o'clock on Monday night of last week, the home of Mrs. S. V. McCauley was burned at Montevallo.

Mrs. McCauley had gone to spend the evening with a neighbor, and the house was in flames before she knew anything about it. The good people of Montevallo did all they could to save at least a portion of the contents as the building was too far gone to try to save it when the fire was discovered. Aside from some bedding but little was saved. A fine piano was among the furniture which was burned. The origin of the fire is not known.

The loss is considerable to Mrs. McCauley as it was only partially insured. She requests The Sentinel to thank those who worked so hard to save her furniture. Mrs. McCauley is now in Columbiana with her daughter, Mrs. H. E. Whitaker.

A Brothers Comment.

The editor of the Sentinel has a brother away down in Alabama running a newspaper, and his paper is also called the Sentinel. We have just received a copy of the 31st anniversary edition of Harry's paper. It contains thirty pages filled to the guards with halftones, and page after page of historical matter written by some one who knows how to handle a pen better than a sword. The covering is printed on heavy book paper in colors. It is an edition that we Californians would buckle up to, and no doubt but those Alabamians think the same thing of the Sentinel's industrial enterprise.—Hollywood (Cal.) Sentinel.

Fresh Bread.

Leave your order with us for Fresh Bread, the best in the world—just like the kind your mother used to make.—Roberts & Robertson.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main Str. Ottawa, Kans., writes, "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c $1.00. Sold by William Bros.

Wise Sister Mary.

Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow; it strayed away one summer day where animals should never go. Then Mary sat her down and tears streamed slowly from her eyes; she never found the lamb because she did not advertise. And Mary had a brother John, who kept a village store; he sat down and smoked his pipe and watched the open door.

And as the people passed along and did not stop to buy, John still sat down and smoked his pipe and blinked his sleepy eye.

And so the brokers seized his stock, but still he lingered near, and Mary came to drop with him a sympathetic tear.

"How is it, sister, can you tell why other shoppers here sell all their goods so quickly and thrive from year to year?"

Remembering now her own bad luck the little maid replies: "These other fellows fatten, John because they advertise."

W. W. Carter, our market man, has moved his family from Wilsonville to Columbiana. We are glad to have them with us.

On Monday of this week, Mrs. S. V. McCauley purchased the residence of T. J. Weaver, on East College street.

Mrs. Simon Friedberger and her children have gone to Epps for a short visit with relatives.

Strayed or Stolen.

From my farm near Brierfield Ala. One large brindle hound dog, with a faint stripe down his nose, two white feet in front, with white toes on hind feet. The white on left fore leg extends up the leg farther than on the right one. He left on Aug. 23rd, 1905.

Any information or return of the dog will be suitably rewarded. J. R. SMITH, JR. Box 632, Birmingham Ala.

Cures Chills and Fever.

G. W. Wirt, Nacogdoches, Texas, says: "His daughter had chills and fever for three years; he could not find anything that would help her till she used Herbine. His wife will not keep house without it, and cannot say too much for it." 50c. Sold by William Bros.

The best things are at the top. Are you climbing the stairs, or are you looking for the basement?

BIG REMOVAL SALE WITH THE COLUMBIANA MERCANTILE CO. BEGINNING AT ONCE AND CONTINUING UNTIL JANUARY 1, 1906.

This big company will have to vacate the corner store on January 1st, and move their goods into their own room adjoining the corner. Now in order to do this their HUGE STOCK consisting of everything in the mercantile line will have to be reduced and that AT ONCE. They are, therefore, putting the knife to every department. This will be, without doubt, the opportunity of a lifetime for those who want goods at a bargain. We hope the people of the community and county at large will take advantage of it.

WATCH the Big Signs on the building, then come inside and be convinced. REMEMBER, we will pay you more for your produce and Cotton than any other merchants in this section, proving that we are the "working man's friend and the farmers' protector." This is not foolish talk; come and see for yourself.

Yours to serve,

Columbiana Mercantile Company,

Wholesale and Retail

Alabama State Fair.

From present indications the great State Fair at Birmingham, which opens on October 23rd and continues for ten days, will be an unprecedented success. Work is progressing with almost magic rapidity on those buildings which have not been already completed and everything will be in tip-top shape for the opening day.

The livestock exhibit promises to be the finest ever seen in Alabama. There will be handsome premiums for beef cattle, including Hereford, Shorthorns, Aberdeen, Angus and other breeds, and also for dairy cattle, including Jerseys, Holsteins, Ayrshires, etc.; for sheep of all breeds, Angora goats, and for Berkshire, Poland China and other breeds of hogs.

The races during the fair will witness competition of some of the world's most noted running, trotting and pacing horses, and there will also be mule races as well as pony races for boys.

A distinctive feature of the big fair will be the horse show, which will be held during six nights of the fair, beginning on the evening of October 23rd. The feature of the horse show will be the appearance of the Barney Demorest combination of equestrians, which includes the high jumpers Kingful, with a record of 7 feet 1 1/2 inches, and Major McKinn, with a record of 6 feet 11 inches. These noted performers will ridden by ladies, of which there are three with the Demorest combination, said to be the finest riders and drivers of their sex in the world. The Horse Show arena, which is 200x400 feet, and is situated directly opposite the mammoth grand stand, will be brilliantly lighted with large arc lights, and will be one of the finest and most spectacular exhibitions of its kind ever seen in the South.

The agricultural exhibit will be a splendid one, and will be a credit to Alabama. It will occupy a space 250x300 feet and will include all the various products of Alabama farms. This exhibit will be managed by the state's representative, and will include at least nine separate county exhibits.

The merchants of Birmingham are going to make handsome exhibits of their various lines of merchandise in separate booths in the main Exhibit Building and in the Mines and Machinery Hall.

The Poultry Show will embrace all known varieties of chickens, turkeys, geese, ducks, etc. Liberal premiums are offered, and from present indications there will be at least 2,000 fowls on exhibition.

Cassie Chadwick's diamonds(?) are to be sold at public auction. It is hoped this will be the last of Cassie in public life.

"A Thing of Beauty Is a Joy Forever!"

Our millinery may not wear forever, but the ladies all exclaim

"The Hats are Beautiful!"

And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

We have in stock

The Prettiest Line of Novelties

In the way of

Belts and Fashionable Neckwear

ever shown in Columbiana.

Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

New Grocery Store!

EVERYTHING NEW.

We desire to notify the people that we have opened a grocery store in the Moore building, and we ask for a share of your patronage. Our groceries are all NEW and FRESH—nothing stale. A full line of staple and fancy groceries, cigars, tobacco and provisions will be kept on hand. Be glad to have call on us.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor = and = Builder,

Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 7.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor
W. L. Farley, Clerk
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, W. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duglison, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 140, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. E. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abernethy, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS. meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. A. P. Longshore, C. C. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

MILLAN & HAYNES.

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office upstairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST,
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

The insurance crookedness in New York is to be investigated by the federal grand jury. Possibly something "will be bidding" then.

That great Cuban patriot, General Gomez, says "liberty is death in Cuba, and for what is happening in Cuba the United States government has a direct responsibility." And then he goes on to say that no one dares confess his political opinions for fear of assassination, for which purpose the most desperate criminals are allowed by the government to be at large, and "conditions are worse than it ever was under the most ferocious periods of the Weyler government." They must indeed be bad if what General Gomez says is true.

Did you ever stop to think that when a business man looks for clerks that he does not hunt for the youth who talks "sassy," uses slang, smokes cigarettes or taps beer kegs? They look for the boy who is neat in appearance, gentlemanly in his actions, clean in his talk and courteous to those whom he meets. Although you may think that no one watches you or your character, it is safe to say that there is not a business man in town but who knows the character of every boy in it. If you wish to become a useful man it is you and you alone that must accomplish it.

An exchange says that the following are a few things a person ought to "cut out." Going around with a gloomy face, fault finding, nagging and worrying. Taking offense where none is intended. Taking big things and doing little ones. Dwelling on fancied slights or wrong, scolding and flying into a passion over trifles. Charging and criticising. See the best rather than the worst in others. Dreaming that you would be happier in other places or circumstances. Belittling those whom you envy because you feel that they are superior to yourself.

Neglected Duty.

One of the reasons advanced for a late primary is that the young men who will come of age before November, 1906, may have the opportunity of casting their ballots. A great many of them will reach the proper limit before the primary is called and they ought to be given a chance to participate.

There are many thousand white men in Alabama who have never taken the trouble to register. There are many who having registered have failed to pay their poll tax. There are many who have done neither of these things. Those who are over 45 years of age of course are exempt from poll tax, but if any of that class owed any poll tax before reaching 45 years of age, they must pay it before they can vote. Men cannot escape payment of poll tax by waiting to reach the exempt limit and claim they are not subject. They must get a clear poll tax receipt before their ballots will be received. As this tax is cumulative it would seem the part of wisdom to pay it each year and not wait two or three or five years when it would be burdensome. The Tax Collectors throughout the State are now on their rounds. Any person subject to poll tax who does not pay all of it on or before the 1st day of February next, will be shut off from the privilege of voting in primary elections as well as the regular elections. Many important positions are to be filled next year and every patriotic citizen ought to want to have a voice in selecting candidates.

Why so many men refuse to register is something hard to understand. It will take only a few minutes of time and without a registration certificate a man is disfranchised and by his own act. He has nobody but himself to blame. There are over 250,000 white men in Alabama entitled to registration, yet less than 190,000 men all told have qualified themselves as voters by registration. This shows a lack of interest in State affairs. It is unpatriotic to the last degree.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Garber's Candidacy

Colonel Garber's letter announcing his candidacy for Attorney General has a good ring to it, just such a statement as might be expected from him. He has many friends all over the State and as the regulation of railroad freight rates in Alabama seems to be the paramount issue in the coming campaign, we quote from Colonel Garber's letter that part as to the regulation, or the enforcement of the law governing corporations. He says:

"Doubtless it will be conceded as a general proposition, one not open to serious controversy, that railroad corporations engaged in the business of common carriers are public corporations, and are bound to serve the people in the transportation of freight and passengers for a fair, just and equitable compensation. It is for this very reason, and because of this service which they are bound to render to the public and the resultant or reciprocal benefit to the people that the state confers upon them its sovereign power to condemn the property of its citizens against their will and without their consent, upon making just compensation. While it is true that under the construction of the United States, congress has the sole power to regulate interstate commerce and that such regulation is beyond the power of the state, yet the state does have the power to regulate interstate traffic, to compel and require that only just, fair and equitable rates, without discrimination or rebates to favored shippers or classes, be charged within the state, provided only that a just and fair compensation be allowed the carrier for such service. I am convinced that in many instances that railroad rates in Alabama are too high, and that unjust and unfair discriminations have been made. It seems to me that Alabama, with her vast and rapidly developing mineral resources, her great agricultural productiveness, her growing cities and rapidly increasing population, stands in the front rank of the states of the South, and that under these conditions her people are justly entitled at the hands of the railroads not only to fair and equitable local rates, but to fair and equitable through rates as well. And it is my opinion that the railroads, which as we have seen are public corporations, owe to the people and should be required to give to the people, the lowest rates which it is possible to do, at the same time earn for themselves a fair and reasonable return upon the capital invested. I believe that with such an equitable basis of local rates in our states, our farmers could supply our towns and cities with many products now brought from other states, and this would be equally beneficial to all classes of our people in keeping the money at home that now goes to other states for such products. I furthermore, believe that this regulation of railroad rates, either by the legislature or by the railroad commission, acting under authority of law, should be done in a spirit of justice and fairness, without prejudice and upon a thorough investigation and discussion of the whole question.

"The people desire nothing but what is fair and right, and it is not conceded to them, it is the duty of the law making power to secure it for them by law; and it would certainly be the duty of the attorney general to sustain and uphold such a law. At present it is made by law the duty of the attorney general (Acts of Alabama 1903, page 104), upon the certification of railroad commission, through its president that a railroad has failed or refused to comply with an order of the commission, to take appropriate action in the courts to enforce such order. If I am attorney general, I shall prosecute such actions vigorously and to the best of my ability."

Significant.

The following from the Birmingham Times, a Republican paper published by J. H. Pingham, a man who has been a Republican all his life, makes is a significant utterance:

"The negro has never had, and perhaps never will have, a proper conception of the meaning of politics and the chief end of political parties. He cherishes the delusion that special, individual benefits should follow the success of any party with which he is affiliated, forgetting, or never realizing, that the aim of every party worthy of membership is to bring about conditions beneficial to the whole people. The negro, no more than any other citizen, can expect exclusive benefits at the hands of a political party. This fact is being borne home to him, and he is dissatisfied with politics. It is well that he is, and it will be a good day for the great mass of negroes when they leave matters of government to their more intelligent neighbors and apply themselves more particularly to becoming useful and helpful citizens. The door of opportunity is wide open to the negro, but the entrance is through industry and not through politics."

"That Blount Springs water must have a very queer effect," says the Opelika News. Yes, we agree with you, for it seems to have kind o' mixed up Mr. Comer until he don't know whether wants to or not; although the News is trying very hard to push him into the ring.

The Columbiana correspondent of the Age-Herald says Shelby county's new court house is to have a solid marble front. The farmers of Shelby county are more interested in having passable roads than they are in marble court houses.

Colonel Garber's statement as to his position on the regulation of railroad freight rates will make him friends all over Alabama. And he has enough of them to elect him Attorney general, too. Mark it down.

During the past two or three weeks farmers from all over the county have been anathematizing the supposed good roads in Shelby, but do not look for any relief under the present administration.

The Greensboro papers are for Comer, but we do not hear them saying very much about Tunstall for associate railroad commissioner.

Most of the State papers are full of praise for Governor Jelks because he made good on refunding the State debt.

A coal and wood yard would be a paying business for some man who is a hustler.

More residences are being built in Columbiana now than ever before at any one time.

The fee system should be abolished, for it has come to be another way of grafting.

An investment in Columbiana property will be a wise one, as it is increasing in value all the time.

Tom Lawson seems to have known something about the rottenness of the big insurance companies.

President Roosevelt's visit to Birmingham has been changed from October 23 to the following day—the 24th.

Jack Frost has visited this section several times during the past week, and late vegetables have been touched by his icy fingers.

Mr. Comer has not yet been able to get his own consent. He evidently sees the handwriting on the wall, and its interpretation—Cunningham.

The big insurance companies are trying very hard to keep the lid on, but the federal grand jury will soon begin to pry and then something will have to give way.

The Sentinel does not believe that Tunstall will ever ask the people to elect him associate railroad commissioner. He might as well try to walk through a stone wall.

As the president passes through Mississippi wonder if his mind will travel back to the Indianola affair wherein he heaped injustice and humiliation upon the good people of that town?

Alabama is to have a Republican daily paper, and it is to be published in Birmingham. Chas. P. Lane, of Huntsville, is to be editor in chief. It will make its appearance about January 1st.

The coming of a good frost would be a god-send to the people of Pensacola, as yellow fever is worse there now than it has been in New Orleans any time this season. The people are panic stricken and are leaving as fast as they can get away.

If They Would.

What a time the world would see if the farmers of the United States were to organize a trust—or a union.

Not just a few farmers of scattered sections, but all the tillers of the soil from Maine to California and from Puget Sound to Cape Sable.

The agricultural products of the United States—cereal, cotton, fruits, live stock, tobacco, hay, potatoes, sugar, dairy products, etc.—have a value of something like $6,000,000,000 annually.

Think of it! Six thousand millions of dollars created every year by the nation's tillers of the soil, breeders of live stock and dairy operators. By the side of these stupendous figures, the millions of Standard Oil, the colossal accumulations, of the great insurance corporations, the earnings of railway companies and the income of the Federal government pale into comparative insignificance. The operations of what we are accustomed to designate as the "giant corporations" seem but puny play in the shadow of American agriculture's almost incomprehensible immensity.

There are nearly 6,000,000 farms in the United States and they are worth in the neighborhood of $25,000,000,000. Of the total number nearly 4,000,000 are operated by their owners.

Think what might happen if the farmers of the land were to decide to form an agricultural trust. And all the farmers should join. And every member of this trust should loyally support the giant organization, the direction of whose affairs should be in the hands of men with plenty of brains. And the farmers were to say to some of the little trusts, "Do this!" or "Do that!" What would happen?

It would simply have to be done. Capital would have to fold its arms and remain quiet. The arms of government would be paralyzed. The price of grain, of cotton, of meat, of tobacco, would be whatever the greatest of trusts said it must be. In short, when the farmers cracked the whip the world would have to dance.

The farmer, however, is an even tempered, generally contented individual who believes that it is wise to let well enough alone. He is accumulating wealth at a wonderful rate. He owns a big slice of the land of the country, and it is appreciating in value every year. His crops find ready sale in the markets of the world, and if the prices are not always quite what he thinks he should receive, he is doing very well on the whole, and there is little likelihood that he will make a move for an agricultural trust.

Golly! But what a monster it would be! The thought induces us to marvel afresh at the greatness of the American farmer.—Ex.

Marble Veneer.

The Commissioners' Court has decided to give the new court house a six-inch marble veneering—in other words, there will be a layer of marble on the outside walls, the main body of the walls to be brick. This costs $7,500 more than would the brick, and the city of Columbiana is to pay $500 of the amount.

One of the Commissioners informs The Sentinel that this plan was adopted at the meeting of the commissioners last week.

Say a kind word occasionally for your home papers—they do more gratuitous work for their town than all other agencies put together. And when you want them to do a job of work for you do not try to jew them down to a starvation price. The conscientious newspaper publisher will not ask more than a fair price for his work.

Theodore H. Price, the cotton broker, has issued another four page circular which is filled with argument to convince the cotton grower that the time to sell is now, as this is another bumper crop. This is the best evidence in the world why the grower should hold his cotton for at least a ten cent price.

The LaFayette Sun has recently passed the twenty-eighth year of its existence. It is one of the best weeklies in the State, and is deserving of all the good things which may come its way.

Several tenant houses would readily find renters if they were built in Columbiana. As an investment nothing would bring better or surer returns.

Mississippi and Texas cotton growers are holding their cotton for an eleven cent price, and there is every indication that they will get it.

Remember to pay your poll tax. It is essential that you do this if you expect to vote in the next election.

Government reports that Southern mills used more cotton last year than Northern mills.

GREAT REDUCTION SALE

TO CONTINUE UNTIL

FURTHER NOTICE.

SHOES.
$5.00 patent leather shoes to go in this sale at.....	$3.95
$4.00 $4.50 patent leather shoes to go in this sale at.....	3.45
$3.50 patent leather shoes to go in this sale at.....	2.95
All other shoes cut in like proportion.
HATS.
$3.50 hats to go in this sale for.....	2.35
$2.50 hats to go in this sale for.....	1.85
$1.75 hats to go in this sale for.....	1.25
$1.25 hats to go in this sale for.....	.95
SUITS.
Suits, values up to $15.00 to go in this sale for.....	8.75
Suits, values up to $10.00 to go in this sale for.....	6.50
GUNS.
$5.00 single barrel guns for.....	3.75
$20.00 double barrel guns for.....	12.50
TOBACCOS.
Buckeye, Cherry Red, and Brown's Mule tobaccos, double thick per plug.....	10c
Liberty Bell, Schnapps, Hickory and Sweepstakes, per pound.....	35c
SOAPS.
4 bars of Octagon Soap for.....	15c
6 bars of Lenox Soap for.....	20c
5 bars of Big Deal Soap for.....	20c
4 boxes Celluloid Starch for.....	15c

Prices reduced on everything in stock. Come in and let us save you money. Fair dealing to all. ALL GOODS IN THIS SALE FOR CASH.

J. H. ABERCROMBIE & SON.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Oct. 10, 05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,
Russell M. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

Report of Grand Jury.

To the Honorable John Pelham, Judge of the Circuit Court of Shelby County:

The Grand Jury regularly empanelled for the Fall Term, 1905, of the Circuit Court of Shelby County, would respectfully report as follows:

1st. That we have made diligent and careful investigation of all crimes and misdemeanors that have been reported to us, or come to our knowledge. In making such investigation, we have docketed 88 cases, have examined 140 witnesses, and with the indictments already returned and those now returned have found 72 indictments.

2nd. We made a personal inspection of the county jail and found these two institutions properly conducted and the inmates well cared for. Our attention is called to the fact that the last Grand Jury recommended that a suitable fence be built around the county jail. This has not been done. It is our judgment that a fence around the jail of such a character as to prevent approach to the windows of the jail by outsiders, giving opportunities to escape, and to prevent prisoners from holding conversations with passers-by, and from bandying words and insults, is an imperative necessity. We again call the County Commissioners' attention to this matter and insist upon this fence being constructed before the next term of Court.

3rd. We have examined into the condition of the County Treasurer and find his books neatly and correctly kept.

Amount on hand to credit of—
County Treasurer's Report to Grand Jury, Fall Term, 1905, Circuit Court, W. E. Harrison, Treasurer:

General Fund.
To cash on hand last report.....	$ 700.29
To cash received since.....	2995.43
By amount paid out since last report.....	$3695.91
By cash on hand.....	$1130.61
Amount of indebtedness, $12,156.70.	$3628.91
Due Jan., 1906, $8,000.00.
Due Jan., 1907, $4,156.70.
Fine and Forfeiture Fund.
To cash on hand last report.....	$ 20.14
To cash received since.....	434.20
By amount paid out since last report.....	$ 483.27
By cash on hand.....	$110.07
Outstanding claims against the fine and forfeiture fund.....	$430.37
Special Fund.
To cash on hand last report.....	$ 307.89
To cash received since.....	703.30
By amount paid out since last report.....	$1101.28
By cash on hand.....	$1101.28

W. E. HARRISON, Treas.

4th. We have examined the bonds of all the county officers with regard to correctness and sufficiency. We report these bonds solvent and correct. We find the Sheriff's account with the State for feeding prisoners to be correct, and we report that no illegal fees have been charged by the Probate Judge upon his books. With the Solicitor we have examined the books and papers of the County Superintendent of Education and report his books correctly and neatly kept.

W. N. Lee, Foreman.

We thank our Solicitor for his able and official counsel and assistance. Also our Bailiff for his prompt and faithful attendance.

Minority Report.

Resolved, That the following be incorporated in the report of this Grand Jury to the Judge of the present session of the Shelby County Circuit Court:

The Grand Jury, in common with many citizens of this county, view with much concern and alarm the orders and contracts made by the Commissioners' Court looking to the building of the court house now being constructed. We are in full accord with recommendations of the last Grand Jury that a new court house should be built provided it could be done without increasing the then tax rate. We are advised that other counties in the State comparing favorably with taxable values with Shelby have recently built or contracted for court houses commensurate with their needs for $25,000 to $45,000, and we believe such an one would have been ample and sufficient for this county, and more in keeping with the ability of the taxpayers to pay for. In our opinion it is totally unnecessary, palpably extravagant and disregardful of the burdens placed on the taxpayers to contract for the payment of $85,000.00 or more of money to be collected for this purpose. The tax rate authorized by the Constitution for county purposes we are advised is barely sufficient to meet those purposes. The people have voted, without knowledge on their part that so expensive a court house was contemplated by the Commissioners, an educational tax of 10 cents on the hundred dollars for three successive years, and unless the roads and bridges are to be entirely neglected in the future, a special tax for their benefit will be, as it has been for several years, necessary. There is no escape as we see it from the levy of a special tax to the limit of the Constitution for many years to pay for the expensive court house contracted for, if indeed an issue of bonds can be avoided. We wish to express our emphatic dissent from the extravagant proceedings of the Commissioners' Court in this matter and believe that some measures should be undertaken to rectify them in the interest of the taxpayers.

Thank You.

Congratulation to Editor Whitaker of the Columbiana Sentinel. His paper is now all home print and keeping the interests of Columbiana and Shelby county prominently before the public.—Talladega Mountain Home.

The Leader is pleased to note that the Columbiana Sentinel has become all home print paper. It was always a good paper. It is now a better one. By rights its advertising patronage should continue to increase.—Roanoke Leader.

The Columbiana Sentinel came to us all home print this week. We congratulate Bro. Whitaker upon the change, feeling sure he will find it a paying venture.—Atmore Spectrum.

Montgomery seems to have been going the pace as there is a deficit of several thousand dollars in its city treasury.

Tuberculosis Conference.

A conference on tuberculosis was held last Wednesday night at the Methodist Church in Calera, under the auspices of the Medical Society of Shelby county. The attendance was very good and much interest was shown by those present in the address of the evening. The programme was interspersed with a number of excellent musical selections.

Among those present were: Dr. F. M. Peterson, president of the Girls Industrial School at Montevallo, and several teachers and pupils of that institute, some of whom took part in the evening's exercises. Dr. J. C. LeGrande, editor of the Alabama Medical Journal of Birmingham; Dr. D. F. Talley, of Birmingham; Dr. C. C. Jones, of East Lake, former president of the State Medical Association, and Eli P. Smith, associate editor of The Birmingham News, were also among those in attendance from out of town.

The conference was presided over by Dr. W. C. Williams, of Shelby, president of the County Medical Society, who presided with dignity and was very happy in the introduction of the several speakers. Dr. W. H. Sanders, president of the State Board of Health, who is deeply interested in the anti-tuberculosis campaign, was down on the programme for an address, but because of pressing public duties was unable to be present. However, a letter written by him to Dr. J. H. Gunn, of this place, was read, in which he expressed his regret at his inability to attend the meeting and heartily endorsed its aims and objects, saying that he hoped good results would be accomplished.

The meeting was opened with a musical selection by the Calera quartette, who sang "Come where the Lillies Bloom." The audience then stood while Dr. F. M. Peterson, of Montevallo, invoked the divine blessing upon the work of the evening.

The first speaker of the evening was Eli P. Smith of The Birmingham News, who discussed tuberculosis from the viewpoint of a layman. Mr. Smith recounted his own practical experience with the disease and strongly advocated the open air, and diet and rest treatment. He also said that consumption can be cured in the Alabama climate if the beginning is made in time and the patient adapts himself to the proper manner of life, pointing out that in Eastern states today many consumptives are being cured through this treatment. He commended the educational movement begun in this state with a view to informing people as to the methods to be adopted to prevent and abate tuberculosis.

After a beautiful solo by Miss McNeal, of Shelby, Dr. C. C. Jones was introduced and delivered an able and comprehensive address on the question of tuberculosis.

SAXON & JOHNSON,
CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS.
Dealers in Shingles - - - - - Estimates Furnished
We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES.		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 44,753.71	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 20,000.00
Overdrafts.....	431.65	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....	2,578.66
Banking house.....	5,000.00	Individual deposits, subject to check.....	30,331.23
Furniture and fixtures.....	2,031.00	Savings deposits.....	918.81
Other real estate.....	3,000.00	Interest-bearing deposits.....	1,320.20
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	12,727.61	Cashier's checks.....	84.60
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....	5,053.42	Notes and bills rediscounted.....	14,296.25
Currency.....	6,101.00	Calls payable.....	8,500.00
Gold.....	2,015.00
Silver, nickels and pennies.....	1,268.80
Cheques and cash items.....	4,449.35
Total.....	$ 87,253.08	Total.....	$ 87,250.00

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said bank, as shown by the books on file in said bank.
W. L. FARLEY, Cashier.
Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest:
W. B. Browne, J. T. Parlier, J. T. Parlier.

from the standpoint of the medical fraternity. He presented figures to show the fearful ravages of this disease and dwelt strongly upon the care which should be taken to prevent its spread. He also took up the historical side of the proposition briefly pointing out the progress which medical science had made in battling with this great scourge. He declared that what is needed most is to educate the people and particularly the school teachers on the means to be adopted to prevent the propagation and spread of tuberculosis. He also pointed out the virtues of the open air treatment and the importance of the diet. Dr. Jones heartily endorsed the work begun in this state along the line of educating the popular mind on consumption and said that the press could prove a powerful factor to this end.

A vocal duet by Mrs. Boanland and Miss Blevins, of Calera, was well rendered. Short talks then following by Dr. J. C. LeGrande, editor of the Alabama Medical Journal; Dr. Peterson, Dr. Wilkinson, Dr. Acker, of Columbiana; Dr. Williams, of Shelby, Professor Dowell, of Columbiana, and others. All were interesting and instructive.

The remainder of the evening's programme was as follows:
"Doc Sifers"—A recitation by Miss Hays, of Montevallo.

"God Be With You Till We Meet Again." The Calera quartette and the audience.

Much credit is due to Dr. J. H. Gunn, of Calera, for the success of the conference.

A Word From Sterrett.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana. Perhaps it will be of interest to hear from us as we are not often represented in the fair columns of our worthy paper.

Our city is large in area, but is much noted for open space, and there is a beauty, grandeur and wholesome effect in this for we can get plenty of fresh air and have no danger of being run over or hurt—there being plenty of room to avoid accidents.

We are alive and progressive and trust to be more so. It is of interest to note the advancement here in the last year. Three nice new residences increased trade, increased energy in our various lumbering enterprises. Church painted inside and outside, and our citizens have decided to put up a new and commodious school building, and hope to have this done by Christmas. This is commendable in view of the fact that education is one of the greatest needs of today, and should be on broad lines—moral, physical and intellectual combined. In the moral training of the children of today as well as the physical and intellectual lines the future welfare of our nation, and of the world.

We have a Sunday school which has been running for a year and it has done much good. Every community should have a Sunday school for they are great aids and blessings to the church as spiritual feeders, enlargers of Biblical knowledge, and point the unsaved to the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world.

The general health of this section is very good.

Sam Perry is all smiles—twins. C. W. Chesser is all smiles, too—twins.

Cricket.
(We would be glad if Cricket would send us a letter every week.—Ed.)

NOTICE.—Those whose insurance notes are due will please remit promptly to me by P. O. Order, or pay to W. L. Farley at the bank and greatly oblige
T. A. Leathers,
Division Agent,
Columbiana, Ala.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama. Probate Court, Shelby County.
In the matter of the application of L. E. Christian to sell real estate for division among joint owners:

The said L. E. Christian having this day filed in said court his petition for the said real estate described in his petition for division among the joint owners thereof, to-wit: L. E. Christian, W. L. Christian, non-resident who resides in Cincinnati, in the State of Ohio; Walter Christian, a minor who resides in Shelby County, Ala.; and Miss Rose Christian, who resides in Shelby County, Ala., alleging that said property cannot be equitably divided among them. The 7th day of November, 1905, was appointed for the hearing thereof, and it is ordered that notice be given by publication for three successive weeks in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in said county, at which time said non-resident and all other parties interested may appear and contest the same if they see fit.

A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

"CRITERION"

The Very Best

CLOTHING

On the Market.

Had You Thought About It?

We cordially invite your inspection of our stock of this popular brand of clothing—none better in the world. It is made of

The Best Fiber

and made up in the latest styles and most durable manner, hence its great popularity. You can buy this clothing at no other store in Columbiana. We can please you in price.

Every Garment Guaranteed

by the manufacturers to be just as it is represented or money refunded. They know the excellent quality of the goods or they could not afford to make such an offer to purchasers.

Come in to see us.

MILNER & CHRISTIAN.

ALABAMA STATE FAIR

AT BIRMINGHAM,

OCTOBER 23—NOVEMBER 2—TEN DAYS.

Including Magnificent

HORSE SHOW

CONTINUING SIX NIGHTS.

Five or More Races Each Afternoon

Witness some of the most noted Running Trotting and Pacing Horses in the World.

Splendid exhibits of

LIVE STOCK

AGRICULTURAL AND

Mineral Products, Machinery and

POULTRY.

Balloon Ascension and Bomb-Bursting Parachute Leap
Each Day. Reduced Rates on all Railroads.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

R. M. WILLIAMS, Sec'y, Birmingham, Ala.

The Best Doctor.

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Tex. writes, July 19th, 1902. "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the eight years." Sold by William Bros.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana, Ala.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Vol. 31, No. 7.

Columbiana, Ala., October 19, 1905.

Supplement.

MONEY FOR POLITICS.

LEGISLATION TO PROHIBIT CORPORATIONS MAKING CAMPAIGN PAYMENTS.

Question of Taxing Patent Medicines to Be Discussed by Congress—One Method Suggested to Meet Deficit.

There are prospects that two pieces of legislation will be strongly advocated at the coming session of Congress, both of which, however, will be vigorously opposed. They relate to the

REAL HEART OF THINGS.

Its Found Not in the Great Cities; But in Country Homes.

"In time the great cities may become dominant, but it will be many years hence, and I would be sorry should I live to see the day," said James J. Hill, President of the Great Northern railroad. "The national welfare depends upon the prosperity of the farm lands, the mining districts, the lumber camps—not on the growth of big cities. The agricultural interests in particular represent the greatest strength of the country, and will for many years to come.

Yet men stand appalled at the spectacle of a metropolis. Let us take New York, as our most striking example—where the visitor gazes at the crowded markets, the endless traffic, the hurrying throngs, the skyscrapers, the roaring factories, the bustle of commerce, all the urban reek and riot, and heedless of what lies behind, the hidden motor power, cries: "Here is the heart of things; here is the pulse of the national life; here the life blood of the nation centers, life blood which, flowing through the veins of commerce, gives vigor to all the land." New York, the heart of the country? Rather New York the parasite—the blood sucker.

A Giant Exhibition.

At best, New York is but a monster exhibit of the products of mines, farms, cattle ranges, mills and factories, and of the rural homes where genius is born, nourished and inspired. What more speaking symbol of these things than the city's skyline. In itself that skyline of marvelous architecture, save as it excites wonder, admiration and a sense of enterprise and activity amounts to nothing. What it signifies in each ascension and depression is the comparative values of the country's material resources.

Concisely, it represents capital, labor and raw material. Of these three the city produces not one—in appreciable quantity. The raw material, the men to handle it, the gold to buy and sell the finished product, come out of the ground and from the open spaces.

New York, Chicago, St. Louis, or any other city, has its inception in the open country, and its existence is and ever will be dependent upon the latter. None recognizes this more quickly than the city man. He knows from experience that the city suffers first, last and most from any national disaster. To go no further back than the coal strike of three winters ago—New she even produce the men to handle them. A glance at biographies will show that our captains of industry, merchant princes, men of art, professions, laborers, are country bred, from A. T. Stewart (to go no further back) to the Rockefeller, Clewes, Depeves, and all the rest of the present day leaders.

Even The People From The Country.

Dr. John H. Girdner, an eminent New York physician, said recently: "Build a wall around New York city allow no new men to enter, and in fifty years the city will depopulate itself. This city makes too many demands upon those who live and work in it. Thousands drop out each month. It is the fresh country people flocking here day by day that furnish the brains, sinews and pluck to carry the metropolis to its destiny. Its success in the past has been due to this out-of-town element and will continue to be."

"Men, men, men," is the constant cry that New York sends out over the country and the response is adequate, eager and satisfying. It is in this fact that assurance of the city's still greater advance lies. Capital flowing in from the country made Wall street a by-word to all the world. Material drawn from the country has made her the greatest manufacturing town in the United States. Men attracted from the country have made her financial mistress of the western hemisphere.

Cities Not Self-Dependent.

Not only is she dependent upon the open spaces for men, material and money, but even for trade. As compared to the amount of money spent in this city by out of town buyers, the sum expended by its own inhabitants dwindles into insignificance. In recognition of this, the Merchants Association of New York annually arranges with railroads for cheap transportation, and with hotels for rock bottom rates, and runs excursions to gather in the out-of-town buyers.

During the month of August over 400 buyers from the south and west were in New York, and during September this number largely increased. Reckoning under the average of past years each merchant spent more than $10,000, and thus through the efforts of the Merchants Association alone more than $400,000,000 is left in the city each year. But this is merely a fraction of the trade which the city receives from the rest of the country. A conservative estimate places the gross income at $1,250,000,000.

Each American city is a clearing house for the rural or mining districts surrounding it, and New York the THEATRE TRUST WAR.

THE INDOMITABLE BELASCO GIVING THE SHOW COMBINE A FIGHT FOR ITS LIFE.

Threatened With Extinction, He Has Organized an Opposition Which Has Attracted Some of the Brightest of the Theatrical Stars.

David Belasco for a number of years has been waging a war against the theatrical trust. He has been assisted in years past by Minnie Madlern Fiske, the wife of Harrison Grey Fiske, owner and editor of the Dramatic Mirror. This year the Shubert Brothers broke off all business relations with Klaw and Erlanger, the moving spirits of the theatre trust, and now a combination with a capital of $1,500,000, of Belasco, Harrison Grey Fiske, John C. Fisher, Frank L. Perley and the Shubert Brothers has been formed, acquiring about thirty theatres, extending from Boston to St. Louis, in which they might produce theatrical productions without the dictum of the trusts.

David Belasco, ever since his severance of relations with the trust has made strenuous efforts to acquire a theatre in the nation's capital, as he has found that the cosmopolitan nature of its people assists him greatly in determining whether new productions will be a success or not. In September, however, announcement was made that he, in conjunction with the Shubert Brothers, had acquired control of the Lafayette Theatre in Washington, and also had taken up a 90-year lease on the ground on which the theatre is built, giving them absolute possession of the property.

Loosing the Dogs of War.

But it is now war to the knife between the two forces, trust and anti-trust, thrust and anti-thrust. Whether the trust will be successful and absorb the independents, remains to be seen. Probably not, so long as it has to deal with men who know their actor proteges, know the method of the trust, know how to produce a play with unsurpassed taste and know that the American people will pay admission to witness an incomparable production all the more willingly because of the herculean efforts made to present it to them. Belasco, in the new combination which he has organized seems to have gotten his knife well in between the ribs of his antagonist and is beginning already to twist it vigorously.

ENVIRONMENT A MOULDER OF CHARACTER.

By H. S. BIGELOW.

The other day I saw a group of boys carefully scanning a theatre poster. The picture showed a man in the act of plunging a dagger in the throat of a woman. The boys did not run or scream. But their eyes were big and the intensity of their faces showed that the horror of the picture was not lost upon them. Near by were two younger children playing together in the gutter. Their faces were smeared with the mud made by the dish water running over the sidewalk, and the children were amusing themselves floating cigar stumps in the disgusting pool.

Reflecting upon that sad sight there came to mind other childhood scenes. There stood out in memory a little lake that nestled among the hills where sweet-breathed cattle browsed and where the branches of great trees were mirrored in crystal waters. There were the boathouse and the swimming hole and the spring-board; and there were summer nights, too, when the leaves were still and stars were bright and the spirit of the child looked up in silent wonder.

In the race of life, in the contest of physical endurance, in the moral tests that come, that child has not a fair chance who has sprung out of the mud of the streets.

To know the breath of lilacs and the rustle of autumn leaves, to be up with the lark, to wet one's feet in the dew of the pasture, to go to bed with the song of the whip-poor-will—these memories are like guardian angels.

The children whose horizon is a brick wall, who must play on cobble stones and go swimming in the canal and be chased by the police, if they do not grow up to be ideal citizens, shall we, of holier memories, sit in judgment upon them? Shall we not remember their bonds?

Worse Than Tobacco Cigarettes.

London is reported to be in the throes of a new vice—a vice which is not only getting society into a turmoil, but is also attracting the attention of the medical fraternity. It is the tea-leaf cigarette habit—one in which women are becoming the chief adepts, and which they find great difficulty in overcoming. Once the taste for the new "weed" is acquired, it is said the sensation of smoking tea cigarettes is quite pleasant. Dizziness is caused by constant smoking and the victims clutch madly for invisible and imaginary objects to support themselves. They finally drop in an exhausted and stupefied condition, and then follows that wild state of dream-land said to be as varied as that caused by powerful narcotics.

MARY, MOTHER OF WASHINGTON

Handsome Monument Erected by Patriotic Citizens.

The monument of Mary Washington, the mother of George Washington, stands on the western side of Fredericksburg, Virginia, almost under the shadow of Marye's Heights, of bloody Civil War memory. Mary Washington died of cancer, August 25, 1789. It was in April that year, that Washington rode from Mount Vernon, to say farewell—a final farewell—to his mother before starting for New York to be inaugurated first President of the United States. In a letter to his sister Betty Washington, who lived in Fredericksburg, Washington wrote, after learning of his mother's death, "When I was last in Fredericksburg I took my final leave of my mother, never expecting to see her more."

Neglected Tomb.

For a hundred years the grave of this good woman lay unprotected, on what had been part of the farm of her daughter Betty Washington, but which became a common of the city of Fredericksburg. For half a century the grave was marked by a little stone slab, but this disintegrated, and disappeared. Various fruitless efforts were made to build a monument, and in 1830 a New York banker, Silas E. Burroughs, offered to give an elaborate monument. The cornerstone was laid with imposing ceremonies by President Andrew Jackson, but Burroughs met with financial reverses and the work on the monument was suspended. In 1889 some patriotic women formed the Mary Washington Monument Association, and by subscription erected the monument after buying the land in which the bones of Washington's mother rest.

MONUMENT TO MARY WASHINGTON.

A Story on Balzac.

The French alienist, Esquirol, on being asked by a student, is there any sure test by which the sane can be distinguished from the insane? Invited his questioner to dine with him and observe. When the student entered the dining room two other guests were present—one an elegantly-dressed and apparently highly educated man, while the other was somewhat uncouth, noisy and extremely conceited. As the pupil bid his host good night, he remarked: "The problem is very simple after all; the quiet, well-dressed gentleman is certainly distinguished in some line, but the other is evidently a lunatic, and ought to be locked up at once." Smiling at his pupil, Esquirol told him that he was wrong. "The quiet well-dressed man," he said, "who talks so rationally, has for years labored under the delusion that he is God, the Father, while the other is M. Honore de Balzac, the greatest French writer of the day."

EX-SENATOR W. E. CHANDLER.

practice of making political contributions and to the question of taxation upon certain patent medicines, although this latter is but a feature of the general subject of overcoming the Treasury deficit.

It is expected that the President will refer in his annual message to the question of campaign contributions, and it is known that there are many Senators and Representatives who would favor prompt action in the enactment of prohibitive legislation.

Chandler's Bill to Prohibit Contributions.

As far back as 1901, Senator Chandler of New Hampshire, introduced a bill to prohibit those national banks or corporations which do an interstate or foreign business from making any political contributions, and to prohibit any corporations from contributing to campaigns involving the election of United States Senators and Representatives. The bill was almost immediately favorably reported to the Senate, but it was near the end of the short session and it failed of passage. The evident fact that it could not be taken up and passed may account for the entire lack of opposition to it. What strength will develop against such a measure this winter is problematical. It is no secret that many corporations regularly contribute to both political parties. Mr. Havemeyer, of the sugar trust, has declared in plain language that he has contributed to the Democrats and Republicans alike.

Publishing the Donations.

The discussion next winter is likely to centre largely around the President's plan for the publication of all campaign contributions, with a view to framing such a law as will prevent money from being spent for corrupt practices. Every one recognizes that in order to have the great political issues properly contested there is a certain need of money. The publication and distribution of speeches and all classes of literature is quite generally regarded as not to be condemned, but as of advantage in having the questions of the day properly understood by the voters.

Leaders in Congress are but a unit in declaring that it is only when money is expended in order to corrupt voters that the expenditure can be criticised. But it is generally believed that this subject will give rise to an immense amount of debate in the next Congress. There are a score of Senators and a large number of Representatives who will wish to go on record saying things about the corporations and the practice of corporations making contributions to political campaigns.

Propose Tax On Medicines.

The question of the taxation of patent medicines, which contain considerable alcohol, is bound to receive serious consideration by Congress, especially if the present rate of the Treasury deficit continues. The deficit is running about $5,000,000 a month now, which is considerably less than last year, still it is possible that it may increase to an annoying extent and necessitate some action by Congress. There has been a number of expenses which has caused the deficit, and there are other extra expenses ahead, while it is, of course, not certain to what extent Congress will increase or pare down appropriations. A number of congressional leaders have had in mind, as a partial increase in the revenue desired, a tax on patent medicines.

Patent Medicine Men Will Fight.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has been called upon for unofficial information and an opinion on these non-revenue producing alcoholics. The patent medicine people recognize that a fight is ahead and they propose to meet it. They will resist efforts to impose special taxes upon them, claiming with apparent force that the alcohol used in their medicines has already paid its tax.

THE REAL HEART OF THINGS

York faced for weeks a coal famine that paralyzed her activities and almost killed her poor. Manufacturers could not secure enough fuel to run their plants and women on the "east side" paid ten cents for as much coal as would fill a quart pail. The suffering in this city was out of all proportion to that of the rest of the country.

All food products come from the outside. New York uses three million eggs every day, and beef arrives in whole train loads daily. The city must go to the country for its building materials, for wool, cotton, everything that is needed to run its factories, stores and banks.

Dependent on the Country.

The reckless expenditures of the city dweller are continually giving rise to the question: "Where does the money come from?" From the country, of course. Every wild-cat scheme that is hatched in New York, from Wall Street to Madison Square, inaugurates its proceedings by sending circulars into the country, to catch the dollars of the farmer. The operations of the stock exchange are all based on the condition of the country. A short wheat crop, a slump in the production of grain, or the prospect of one, turns the floor of the Exchange into a pandemonium. Year by year the eyes of the moneyed interests are turned to the earth, figuratively speaking, and the keenest minds of the metropolis are speculating as to what success the farmer is going to have with his crops. The results of that speculation involve millions of dollars. All the country knows what happens in New York when the cotton crop fails. The beef strike last year caused meat to vanish from a million family dining tables in New York city. In summer eggs at 35c a dozen are too expensive as an article of diet for more than half the city's population.

Material and money she gets from the outside; and rarely, indeed, does main clearing house for the whole country. All the mighty spectacle of commerce is merely the dramatic and gorgeously staged representation of the nation's money, material and men, which build up the metropolitan mechanism and set it in motion.

Prehistoric Sculpture.

An idea of the small brain capacity of primitive man can be gathered from a crude stone head, now on exhibition, which was recently found in a field at Moriches, Long Island. The head, while crude in its workmanship, is pronounced by ethnologists as doubtless true to nature—a representation of some savage and prehistoric people who lived ages ago. The head is not a particularly pleasing bit of sculpture, as it calls up a vision of men and women with small brain development and huge repulsive jaws but a degree above the other animals.

Fortunes in Church Steeples.

It is the opinion of Rev. Dr. Forbes, Secretary of the Board of Extension of the Methodist Episcopal Church, that enough money has been expended, or it may be said wasted, in building steeples, to pay off all the church debts of the country. Besides, he says, steeples are a relic of barbarism, and money used in their construction can be more usefully expended. A good many people will hardly agree with the reverend doctor in his opinion that church steeples are useless or serve no good end. Grace and beauty are lent to thousands of otherwise commonplace looking towns and cities by the spires rising here and there from their midst. Everything cannot be strictly utilitarian, and if a thing serves to please the eyes and senses of hundreds or thousands of people, it is far from being useless.

BLANCHE BATES, One of Belasco's Stars.

tions will be a success or not. In September, however, announcement was made that he, in conjunction with the Shubert Brothers, had acquired control of the Lafayette Theatre in Washington, and also had taken up a 90-year lease on the ground on which the theatre is built, giving them absolute possession of the property.

A Famous Theatre Site.

Lafayette Theatre is a comparatively modern playhouse, and occupies the site on which formerly stood the Seward mansion, in which Secretary Seward of Lincoln's cabinet lived when an attempt was made to assassinate him the same night President Lincoln was shot. In later years the house was occupied by Secretary Blaine.

Last year David Belasco found all theatres in the national capital with closely barred doors. He was arranging to make the initial production of "Adren" Mrs. Leslie Carter's latest success, and found no building in Washington suitable for a conversion into a theatre, except Convention Hall, probably the largest auditorium south of New York, and in years previous used for an ice palace, for six day bicycle races, athletic meetings, and other institutions requiring great space. This had a hall some 150 feet in length by 125 feet in width, with a roof carried on huge semi-circular arches rising to a height of nearly fifty feet above the floor. Such a barn as this Mr. Belasco in a few days converted into a modern playhouse through the magic touch of gold, which he has found to be the most offensive and defensive weapon against the combine.

DAVID AND GOLIAH.

Money Spent Like Water.

The regulations of the District of Columbia to protect theatre patrons against the danger of fire, are extremely rigorous, and it was these that the trust used as a weapon to thwart Belasco in his endeavor to have this last production first appear in Washington as have other plays, which are known as general successes. The burden of expense for this work did not fall upon the owners of Convention Hall, but upon Mr. Belasco, who paid, in order to make this hall into a modern fire-proof theatre, an amount aggregating nearly $25,000.

The present theatrical combine or "trust," had first conducted a legitimate booking syndicate, charging for the service five per cent. of the profits, an enterprise advantageous alike

Every reader of this paper should have this book.
Cut off the coupon and mail to us with $1.50.

Illustrated
by
Ernest
Haskell

By
Eugene P. Lyle, Jr.
Published August 1st

13TH
THOUSAND
ALREADY

All Bookstores,
$1.50

The Missouriian

The romantic adventures of John Dinwiddie Driscoll (nicknamed "The Storm Centre" at the Court of Maximilian in Mexico, where his secret mission comes into conflict with that of the beautiful Jacqueline. The best romantic American novel of recent years.

"Has what so few of its class possess, the elements of reality, wrought by infinite pains of detail, verisimilitude, suggestion."
—St. Louis Republic.

"A remarkable first book, of epic breadth, carried through unswervingly. A brilliant story."—N. Y. Times Saturday Review.
"There is no more dramatic period in history, and the story bears every evidence of careful and painstaking study."—N. Y. Globe.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.
133-137 East 16th St., New York.

CUT OFF HERE AND MAIL TO US WITH $1.50.
DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY,
133-137 East 16th St., New York.
Name _____ Address _____
Day _____ Night _____
Key _____

THE SAVING OF OREGON.

HOW DR. WHITMAN BRAVED
BLIZZARDS AND DEATH.

Determined to Save Country From British—Daniel Webster Opposed to Retaining Territory.

A bloody trophy in possession of the government at Washington is an Indian hatchet. The tomahawk reeks with red and horrid association. It is the weapon with which Dr. Marcus Whitman, the Indian missionary and his wife were slain in 1847 and with which the first blow of the tearful Whitman massacre was begun—an enormous crime which nearly obliterated the white American settlers in the Oregon country, sent a thrill of horror and indignation throughout the American republic and saved to the American people the great northwest country out of which Oregon, Washington and other states were created. It is one of the very cruel chapters in history—a chapter embracing eight years of war between settlers and savages the result of which was that the Hudson's Bay Company and the British crown were compelled to relinquish their claim to the territory. Another result was the virtual annihilation of the Cayuse tribe of Indians. So much tragic history centers about this rusty hatchet that it is one of the rarest relics of the government. A government official familiar with the period says "The Whitman massacre was the result of the machinations of England to secure by treaty or otherwise all cans across the continent and in the autumn entered the valley of the Oregon.

Develish Work.

The British agents slowly poisoned the minds of the savages against the new comers but it was not till 1847 that the savages in council determined to massacre all the American settlers in their country.

The site of Dr. Whitman's dwelling was on the north bank of the Walla Walla river at what is now the town of Wapula. The Indians surrounded the houses of the mission their weapons hidden under their blankets. At dawn of November 29, 1847 an Indian entered the doctor's house and asked for medicine. As the missionary turned to his medicine chest the savage buried his tomahawk in the good man's brain. Mrs. Whitman was killed a minute later by the same savage with the same weapon. The murder of the missionary was the signal for the wholesale slaughter to begin. The butchery commenced on all sides. The crash of firearms, the groans of the dying, screams of women, yells of the painted demons filled the air. The Indians women and children danced and sang as the atrocious work went on. They mutilated the dead. Women and children of the settlers sank under bloody knife and club. The massacre lasted all day and then murdering parties started in every direction. Everybody in the Whitman mission was killed and many settlers all through the woods were slain. The Cayuse attacked a mission among the Nez Perces but these Indians beat them back and took the sides of PALATIAL R. R. STATION.

NEW WASHINGTON STATION THE FINEST IN THE WORLD.

Construction of Structure and Building of Adjacent Largest of Freight Yards to Cost $22,000,000.

With all the talk relative to Government control of railway rates, and the probability of Congress giving the subject at least consideration, the busy solons of the Senate and House this winter may not appreciate that within a radius of eight miles of the Capitol building there is work of railroad improvement going on having a value of over $22,000,000.

Just across the Potomac River, between Washington and the historic but sleepy town of Alexandria, the Pennsylvania railroad is well along in constructing the largest freight yards in the United States, at a cost of $7,000,000, while the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio railroads are expending $15,000,000 in the city itself in eliminating grade crossings and erecting a new Union station—a station which, when completed, will be the largest passenger station in the world, even exceeding that at Hamburg, Germany.

Compares in Size with Capitol.

The new station, in itself but five feet shorter than the Capitol building, will face a plaza 500 feet wide by about 1,000 feet long, decorated with artistic balustrades, terraces and fountains. Nine streets will lead into the plaza, which itself will provide a space for massing troops and spectators for public ceremonies. To give the required elevation to the station so as to admit the two passenger tunnels from the South, it was necessary to fill in the site of the station, some 1,000,000 cubic yards of earth being required to form the new plaza, the fill for a considerable area being over 35 feet in depth.

Sanitary Train Sheds.

Unlike most railroad stations, the architectural beauty of the Washington station will not be marred by the usual gigantic semi-circular train shed, but each pair of tracks will be covered over with a sort of umbrella train shed, which will protect alighting and departing passengers from the elements, but will also allow the smoke and gases to rise into the atmosphere. The baggage trucks will pass to the cars through tunnels to the end of the tracks, where the trunks and parcels will be brought to the surface by elevators, so that at no time will the passengers be in danger of collision with the baggage. The train concourse will be the largest single room in the world, nearly 700 feet long, the entire vista being unbroken by the usual labyrinth of pillars. The ceiling is to be constructed in what is technically known as of the self-supporting type. There will be 33 passenger tracks, 27 on the main floor level and six on the tunnel floor where trains from the South will arrive through the double tunnel under Capitol Hill. A feature of the station will be the absence of stairs, so that even in a large crowd, for which Washington is famous during inaugural or convention times, there will be no danger of accident to the passenger arriving or departing.

Presidential and Diplomatic Entrance.

There will be special entrances and also rooms for guests of the nation, the diplomatic corps and for the President of the United States, who will thus be enabled to quietly seek their train without hindrance.

In the original bill introduced in Con-

EUROPEAN GOSSIP.

Tales of Diplomatic and Court Intrigue.

It seems that Mr. W. W. Astor has bought the historic Hever estate in Kent, England, and is improving it. It includes 2,000 acres of land and a moated castle, nearly six hundred years old, where at one time Henry VIII. maintained Anne of Cleves. On this estate Mr. Astor has put to work about one thousand men, with due apparatus, and is making changes rated as improvements which the calculating natives estimate will cost him a million and a quarter pounds. He is building a lake, a model village, roads, bridges and gardens, and is doubtless having a good deal of the sort of fun that Mr. Kipling in a recent story has suggested as a suitable recreation for tired Americans.

Though the Sultan is himself a total

THE SHAH OF PERSIA.

abstainer, the finest vintage wines are always offered to such guests as dine at the palace.

The recent visit of the Shah of Persia to England recalls a former call of his upon Queen Victoria, when London was startled at the Oriental methods employed by this picturesque Eastern potentate. Thousands of dollars worth of damage was done in the famous Buckingham Palace by the noachal orders of the Shah. The sheep which provided his mutton were brought into the palace rooms, which had been placed at his royal disposal, and slaughtered upon the magnificent and costly rugs and other such extravagant practices were the order of the day. While the meat which the Shah eats is always supposed to be slaughtered before his eyes, it was believed at the time that these performances were simply the carrying out of an Eastern regalia, to show Western barbarians what the Orient was accustomed to.

The Queen's maids of honor have very little to do. They live at home, and when the Queen is in London they are conveyed to Buckingham Palace after luncheon in royal carriages, and remain in a suite of charming salons until required to accompany the Queen and her unmarried daughter out driving. They must dress very well and not appear in the same clothes too often, and, above all, study the wishes of Her Majesty in regard to colors and modes. The millinery embargo, that is, not to wear a picture hat, must be followed to the letter. With a salary of $1,500 and the attachment of "Honorable" to their names, the fair maids-of-honor manage to worry along until they marry.

STATION AND PLAZA WHEN COMPLETED.

RAISING THE STREET LEVEL THIRTY-FIVE FEET.

MAINLY TYPE OF WHICH WILL BE STREET LEVEL.

gress allowing the railroad companies to construct this station, provision was made to drive a tunnel directly beneath the Capitol building, with elevators running immediately from the Senate Chamber and the House Chamber into private Congressional stations. This would have enabled the United States Senator from Oregon, for instance, to pass out of the Senate and walk directly aboard his Pullman sleeping car without exposure to the open air until he reached his far western home. A great convenience this, doubtless, to delicate legislators; but a literal undermining of Congress by the railroads probably wisely excluded from the architectural plans.

The Brickbats Never Touched Him

I had a funny dream last night. Thought that John D. Rockefeller was running for office.—
Yes!
And he was about to make a speech in a brickyard, when I woke up.

King Alfonso recently had a curious adventure at Madrid. He had left Granda one morning incognito. He guarded his identity so strictly that no one suspected his presence and when he presented himself at the royal palace the sentry refused him admittance. The King inspected the apartments being prepared for President Loubet of France, who was preparing to visit the youthful Spanish monarch, and then sent a summons to the astonished ministers to come and hold a council.

The Empress-Dowager of China is thoughtful of her subordinates. Here is an edict of hers issued recently which will bear out the idea: "Wong Wen-Shao, the grand secretary, has served under us many years, and he has shown great diligence and faithfulness. He is now over 70 years of age, and in the daily audiences his obeisance is now very difficult, and our sympathy must be shown him. Let him be relieved from the grand council."

cil in order that he may be saved trouble." As a dismissal this could hardly be improved upon.

Father John of Cronstadt, whose extraordinary influence over the Czar, no less than his propaganda against the revolutionaries, continually rouses the ire of the secret committee, is 86 years of age. In personality he answers to the description of the average Russian peasant, only in his case abstemiousness has wrought a refining effect on his features.

VAN CALAVA.

COUNTING UNCLE SAM'S CASH.

Occurs Every Time a New Treasurer is Appointed.

Owing to the recent change in the office of Treasurer of the United States, a task of no small magnitude is going on in the Treasury Building. Every time one Treasurer gives way to another the cash must be counted and verified before the new official becomes responsible for the money under his care.

As soon as a change is made the Secretary of the Treasury appoints a Committee of Three to select a force to count the cash. This committee picks out a number of clerks in the various offices of the Department, and they are set at work to count the millions. Perhaps there may be forty men selected to perform this huge count; maybe fifty or eighty. It is always considered an honor to be one of these counters.

The total sum counted by these men is somewhere in the neighborhood of five hundred and thirty millions in money, bonds, notes and everything else. One vault alone contains over a hundred millions in silver dollars. Another has a heavy amount of silver fractional currency, and many tons of nickel five-cent pieces and pennies.

The working cash is handled first, and in order to give it a chance to do regular duty it is counted at night. Most of the money is counted in bulk and stored away in bags, each containing a certain sum. These are weighed, and if there is even one dollar short, there is instant detection of the wrong count. As each bag is filled by a clerk, who attaches his name by a tag, any discrepancy in the number of coins or any coin missing from the sack is charged to him. This is done, not only to check any tendency toward dishonesty, but also to cause each counter to exercise the greatest care. The new Treasurer is Charles H. Treat, of New York, who takes the place of Ellis H. Roberts.

The Unemployed in Germany.

It seems from consular reports that there are none. Colonies for the so-called "unemployed" take them out of this class immediately and make pauperism unknown. Each city supports large offices where hunters for work go and register. They get a bath, have their clothing disinfected, and if the unions which support these institutions have no work for them in cities, they are sent to the farm colonies in the country, where they can work at farming, land reclamation, and in other productive capacities. The system of these unions is said to be very comprehensive; they are open to all, and besides providing opportunities for workers, have systems of old age pensions, insurance against accidents, and other benefits.

Agents Wanted

To Canvass for the

United States
Senator Number

NOW PUBLISHED.

The issue contains portraits of the

NINETY MEMBERS

two from each State in the Union. This collection was made from recent exclusive sittings for the

BOSTON BUDGET

The Pictures

12 x 8 inches in size

are protected by copyright and can not be reproduced legally elsewhere. The group forms the most valuable collection of statesmen ever offered to the American people. The number will be of unrivaled value to individuals, schools and libraries.

Price 50 Cents Delivered

For terms and other particulars address

The Budget Company,
220 Washington Street,
Boston, Mass.

PHOTOGRAPHERS
Throw Your Bottles and Scales Away

DO YOU KNOW that dirty bottles and scales cause you trouble? Obviate this by using our Developers, put up READY TO USE. Simply empty our tubes into the developing tray and add the water—we don't charge you for the latter. Large quantities of developer made up at one time oxydize and spoil. With our developers you only make up enough for immediate use.

Send 25 cents for half a dozen tubes sufficient for 24 ounces of developer for Velox, Azo, Cyko, Rotox, or other papers, or 60 ounces of Plate and Film Developer—a Developer which will not stain the fingers or nails, and is non-poisonous. We have a Sepia Toner for gaslight papers, 6 tubes, 25c.

NATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHIC CHEMICAL COMPANY
11th St. and Penn Ave., Washington, D. C.

A Tension Indicator

IS JUST WHAT
THE WORD IMPLIES.

It indicates
the state
of the tension at a glance.

Its use means time saving
and easier sewing.

It's our own invention
and is found only on the

White
Sewing Machine.

We have other striking
improvements that appeal to the careful buyer. Send for our elegant H. T. catalog.

WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO.
Cleveland, Ohio.

PENSIONS.

Over one Million Dollars
allowed our clients during the last six years.

Over one Thousand claims allowed through us during the last six months. Disability,
Age and Increase pensions obtained
in the shortest possible time.
Widows' claims a specialty.
Usually granted within 90 days if placed with us immediately
on soldier's death. Fees fixed by law and payable out of allowed pension. A successful experience of 25 years and benefit of daily calls at Pension Bureau are at your service. Highest references furnished. Local Magistrates benefited by sending us claims.

TABER & WHITMAN CO.,
Warder Bld'g, Washington, D. C.

Gleanings in Bee Culture

teaches you about bees, how to handle them for honey and profit. Send for free copy. Read it.
Then you'll want to subscribe. 6 month's trial 25c. Don't delay but do it to-day.

A. I. Root Co., Medina, Ohio.

Mason & Hamlin
PIANOS AND ORGANS
STANDARD OF THE WORLD

Foster's Ideal
Cribs

Accident Proof.

EXCAVATION WORK.

With Greatest Economy
use the

Western Elevating Grader
and Ditcher.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION.
Western Wheeled Scraper Co.
AURORA, ILL.

Send for Catalog.

DR. WHITMAN
STARTING
EAST ON HIS PERILOUS TRIP ACROSS THE ROCKIES.
PLEADING HIS CAUSE BEFORE
WEBSTER AND
THE PRESIDENT.

the territory west of the Rockies and north of the 42nd parallel of north latitude."

First White Women to Cross Rockies.

It was in 1836 that Dr. Marcus Whitman and the Rev. Mr. Spaulding, with their wives—the first white women to cross the Rock Mountains went among the tribes of the Far Northwest. The country was then in the control of the Hudson's Bay Company a British monopoly with nearly a thousand employees. Its power over the Indian tribes was nearly absolute. It had a string of fortified Canadian posts from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The company owned by men in London desired to exclude American settlements and to foster British immigration. The Washington government so far from having any conception of the value of the northwestern country stubbornly maintained that it was worthless and inaccessible by land. The great Webster said that it was a land fit only for savage beasts and still more savage men.

Dr. Whitman established his mission among the Cayuse in the state of Washington near what is now Walla Walla, then Fort Walla Walla, trading post. In 1842 while attending a dinner given at the fort in honor of some British officers news came that a company of British immigrants were on their way and had already crossed the Rocky Mountains. There was great excitement at the table and a young officer unconscious of the presence of the American missionary jumped to his feet exclaiming "Hurrah for Columbia! (the Oregon country). America is too late! We have got the country."

Dr. Whitman perceived that it was the purpose of the British to claim the country by right of settlement. He left the table rode rapidly to his wilderness home and after a brief pause there set out for Washington. His parting words to his wife were "I am going to cross the Rocky Mountains, reach Washington this winter, God carrying me through and bring out an immigration through the mountains next spring or this country is lost."

An Awful Journey.

Winter had set in and the old chronicles tell it was a severe one marked by terrific storms and deep snows.

Dr. Whitman reached Washington crippled by frozen hands and feet. The news he brought caused excitement among the populace and concern among many of the government officers. He saw Daniel Webster Secretary of State represented to him the grandeur and value of the Oregon country, told him of the need of immigrants and explained the reason that had induced him to brave the rigor of the season by making the trip. Mr. Webster was about to conclude the Webster-Ashburton treaty renouncing any claim we might have to the great northwest for a Newfoundland cod-fishery. Webster was not impressed with Whitman's patriotic enthusiasm. He considered the country of no value. He thought it would be as well to let Great Britain have it. Not satisfied with his interview with the Secretary of State Dr. Whitman sought President Tyler who heard him with attention, and promised that the diplomatic deal for the trading of Oregon should be held up and that a military escort should be given to the missionary's train.

In the spring of 1843 Dr. Whitman led a party of one thousand Ameri-

the settlers, dispatching parties of braves after the murderous Cayuse.

American Immigration Won the Day.

The surviving settlers were not slow in seeking revenge and they made the name "Paleface" a fearful word to the redskin murderers of the northwest forests. War to the death was carried on against the Indians for eight years. Government troops were in the country, and a stream of immigration had set in. The leaders of the Cayuse who attacked the Whitman mission were captured by the Nez Perces on the upper John Bay river and five of them were hanged at Oregon city.

The graves of Dr. Whitman and his wife are pointed out near where they fell at Wapula on that bloody November morning 1847.

In the light of this does it not seem that the government might have been a little considerate in its treatment of the late chief Joseph and his Nez Perces band?

The World Moves Quickly.

How the thought of the world passes from one thing to another, and then forgets. Attention for months was centered upon Port Arthur, and then it was transferred to the movements of the naval fleets, the meeting of which was so disastrous to Russian hopes. It will be remembered that when Rojstevsky entered the China Sea he wired to the Czar: "If I am victorious, Togo will inform you." To the public Port Arthur is no more than one of the countless red spotsches that disfigure history, and the naval battle of all history is already relegated to dry discussions as to what branch of service was most disastrous to ship and lives.

Enforcing the Laws.

From the Washington Star.
There was nothing original in Gov. Folk's address at Chautauqua, N. Y., recently, but the well-known truth he enunciated took on greater weight for his indorsement. He is no closet philosopher, giving to the public the results of reading and speculation, but a man of affairs who has done things and noted the consequences. He was elected District Attorney in St. Louis in the expectation that he would ignore the laws and let those who were violating them continue to flourish on their iniquities. Instead of that, he enforced the laws and saw conditions all around him rapidly improve. When therefore, such a man tells us that a cure for many of the ills we are enduring as a people is the simple execution of the laws, he has the strongest possible claim upon our attention, and his advice is worth following. Laws are of little use unless their enforcement is demanded and backed up by public sentiment.

Literature and Music Prosper.

During the past year the Library of Congress made entries for copyrights to the extent of 106,577, an increase of 7,141 over those made in 1903. Of these, compositions of a musical character head the list, there having been entered for copyright 23,740. Periodicals in single numbers follow closely behind, with a total number of 21,041. The classification of "books" showed entries to the number of 29,516, some 16,691 of which were books and the remainder booklets, leaflets, circulars, cards, newspapers and magazine articles.

THE SCANDAL OF SIGNA.

BY WYLLARD.

"Two thousand a year is not a great income," said Lady Jane, ironically. "Still, it rescues dear Noel from absolute want. It was so nice of his god-mother—always a most unassuming person, too; indeed, I mistook her for the dressmaker on one occasion when she came to call, and I am afraid she slipped off my visiting list quite a year ago."

"That is a pity, since the whole family are inclined to canonize her now!" said Signa dryly. "However, she does not seem to have borne malice, as she has promoted Noel to the position of an eligible."

"Hardly eligible, my dear! Two thousand goes such a very little way unless one lives in Bayswater or the country. Poor Noel!"

"Oh, I did not mean among us!" said Signa, with a laughing sneer and a glance out of the window at the respectable Sloane street trees, decorously dusty though just in bud. "But possibly some young person in the middle classes may take pity on him now, even though it means Bayswater!"

Lady Jane glanced rather uneasily at Signa's straight young back, which was all that presented itself to her to help out Signa's meaning. And Lady Jane was often at a loss to know whether Signa was in earnest or ironical. She was beginning to think, with despair, that when her youngest daughter talked sense—the sense of Sloane street and the duchess, it meant revolt, and would end in Signa doing some dreaded and unconventional thing, such as wanting to take up a profession or refusing a really sound offer, for instance. Sometimes—since his godmother had behaved in such a really laudable manner—she thought with a sigh, that even two thousand a year and Bayswater would be better than an awful scandal, of which she lived in terror. If Signa must marry a poor man, better Noel, who was, somehow, so satisfactory to all the family, than one of those younger sons with whom the girl delighted to warm men and women into laughing, applauding human beings, not above joining in that last swinging chorus of the others, and one could seeeta seemed no more a drawing room in Pont street, but the cotton-fields of Louisiana. Lady Bloomfield's own high cackle rose high above the voices of the others and one could see the men drawing breath to demand an encore, even as she rose, flushed with the excitement of her success, from the piano, and she heard, all across the room the manager ask who she was. Two minutes later, someone brought him over and introduced him, and they stood by the instrument, talking quickly and earnestly—so deep in conversation, indeed, that Signa would not be interrupted to sing again. It was only when she looked past his broad back that she caught sight of Verney, nonchalant, eyeglass in eye, evidently not at all upset by her reckless interpretation of the notorious negro melody.

"Yes, of course I will!" said Signa to the manager. "I should like it," and she nodded to Verney over his shoulder. Her smile was brilliant.

Half London was in the stalls of the Baccante on the great benefit night, and the boxes were taken by select parties who thought the auditorium a little public for the light of their presence. I was tickled to see the duchess levelling her glasses at Poppy le Marchant when that young lady danced the conger-eel-dance in aid of the charity, and admitted the tolerance of her attitude. Lady Jane was in the box, too, and Sir Wilfred and sister, the one who married into the state; but Signa herself was not present, and when I went round to pay my respects to her grace, I learned that she had pleaded a headache and stayed at home. The cause, I thought, was not far to seek, as Signa would have persisted that she had lumbago if it would have saved her accompanying a party of which the duchess made one.

Batsburg had tacitly promised the Bracebridge of the Guards, who was sitting between Noel Verney and Mrs. Children Hundreds, almost sprang upright in his seat.

"By jove!" he said. "Its Signa!" The house did not recognize her all at once and the boxes apparently not at all. But even the awful presence of the duchess and the appalling consequences which loomed in the near future could not restrain the men. They laughed at every wicked point in the song and when he was off the stage they yelled to have him back again. It sounded as if the whole hall were one confused, impetuous demand, and though they did not call her by name, it was obvious that Signa was recognized. I wondered what she would do, and almost held my breath when the small ragged figure returned for a brief moment, but only just in sight at the wings. There was a growing terror in Signa's eyes—an expression most alien to them. Either the passing of the excitement, or the realization of her own daring, or else that clamoring audience, was terrifying her. She bowed hastily and pattered off, in spite of the cries to her to sing again. I feared the demand was too strong, and that they would force her to come back, and I turned to look round for Verney. But he had disappeared, and he was not in the duchess box, though I looked there with fear and trembling. Her grace was still sitting, calm and smiling, at the front of the box; there was something ominous in her tacit refusal to recognize what everyone knew. Lady Jane's face was like a mask; I thought Lady Leamington was crying, but I could not see her plainly.

The next turn fell flat, though there was a gallant effort to applaud and carry it through. But so many of the men had vanished that it looked as if a wind had swept the stalls bare. It was fatally easy to get behind. They were waiting for Signa.

I sat out two turns; then I followed Verney. He had, as I suspected, left his place before Signa had made her bow, and was waiting for her behind. By the time I got round, the wings seemed to be full of men, chattering in excited voices, and at a little distance stood Verney, cool and languid, talking to Batsburg. I heard the manager say, sulkily, "At the side-door—yes, there is a way round." and I went then and there in the direction indicated because I wanted to see the end of the comedy. There was a brogram waiting there; I stood unnoticed on the pavement until they came out—indeed! it was I who opened the carriage-door. Signa had changed her clothes rapidly, and slipped away from her dressing-room while the men were still awaiting her in the wings. But she was crying bitterly, and it so much surprised me that I felt the whole scene a little unreal. Verney put her into the carriage, hesitated, and stood with one foot on the step.

"Shall I come, too, Signa?" he said. Her voice came out of the darkness, muffled.

"I am frightened, Noel!"

"At last?" he said, quietly. "Well, I am not."

"I thought it would be fun to scandalize you!"

"Do you mean that I was the cause this time?"

"How dare you have two thousand a year?" said Signa irrelevantly. Neither of them noticed me.

"So you thought you would fling your independence of my opinion at me once for all, and see if I could be scared away, eh?"

"Something like that."

"Well, you cannot. Nothing could. I am going to take the onus of the affair on myself from this time forth however, and tackle the family."

"Will you stand by me, Noel?" Signa must really have had a fright to say that!

"There shall be no occasion. They shall not dare to refer to it. Union is strength—it is you and I together now."

He jumped into the carriage, and I closed the door and told the coachman "Home," because by that time they were past thinking of anything but themselves. Lady Jane confessed afterwards that the engagement was the greatest relief she had ever known. She had feared that it would never come off, because it appears that, owing to her blundering and excellent intentions, she had caused a breach between them which Signa would not give Verney a chance to heal. Batsburg was an angel—a fat angel—in the disguise of a frock coat and his Benefit was the medicine that killed or cured.

The amusing part of it is that the Duchess has ignored the whole affair, and as she has declined to acknowledge what everyone knows—that Signa was the sensation of the great War-Fund Benefit—she will have to go to the wedding, on which occasion Signa will make her bow and retire from her war with right and proper behavior—for the present.

"SHALL I COME TOO, SIGNA."

frighten her chaperons.

Lady Jane is a dear, good soul, but she is accustomed to be unwise in her management of Signa. She allowed her new approval of Noel to be read in the growing maturity of her manner. Hitherto she had been cousinly in her treatment of him—she was not his aunt or that might have been her attitude—and when things looked very black in the matrimonial market she comforted herself aloud with his advantages. Signa hated the obvious. Her temper had been decidedly uncertain since Captain Verney had come into what she henceforth styled his "Bayswater income," and she sallied forth this very afternoon in a mood that was ripe for mischief.

She found it at Lady Bloomfield's afternoon crush where the Bohemian element was mingling with the severely social, and everybody was discussing the great "Benefit night" at the Baccante Theatre of Varieties in aid of the War Fund. The Baccante is a very superior music hall, and that lent a zest to the way in which everyone was buying tickets—in aid of the charity!

There was a fat man in a long frock-coat standing in the centre of the group of the smartest women present when Signa arrived. He was Batsburg, the proprietor of the Baccante and the originator of the benefit, but Signa hardly glanced at him. There was no doubt that she was in a very bad mood indeed, and her eyes, roaming about for some evil deed to prove this, did not alight upon Batsburg, as the special means arranged by the Powers of Darkness to help her. It was not with any thought of the fat man and his glossy curls in her mind that she sat down at the piano and volunteered a song. There had been music going on all of that afternoon; but Signa's performance was entirely different, and everyone listened, and indeed, crowded in from the other rooms to hear. She has a singularly clear voice, strong enough to fill a concert-room, and trained by Da Capri. He never thought that his excellent training would go to help Signa to give Lady Bloomfield's guests a treat such as that performance of "Hyar there! Clear the road for Lisbeth."

They were a noisy audience when Signa's singing had suddenly transformed them from well-dressed luke-house a sensation that night, and we were all a little eager; it had not been announced on the boards, but had floated round society through the private channels, and we kept asking each other who was this new star of Batsburg? The program was as good as could be, but the performers were old acquaintances; and while we stormed the stage with applause after each item, all felt that Batsburg owed us a new sensation yet. It came between numbers 9 and 10—an "extra turn" which was merely slipped upon the notice board. The band struck up a new air, a catchy thing that no one had heard, and yet, I believe, we all tried to hum it and then into the centre of the wide strip of stage left bare in front of the back-cloth a little ragged London gamine came swinging his impudent dirty face turned to the audience with the sang froid of his inimitable breed. He stood still a minute, and then coolly looking us over, he began to shy personalities at our comments that made the victim shout claim him a success.

There was no doubt about his reality—he was a true arab, apparently brought straight out of the streets, without a dab of paint on him that could be discerned, and supremely jaunty and insolent. Probably, he was one of the boys who sold bogus programmes at the side doors of the hall, or, for a few stray coppers, sang versions of the songs to be heard inside, and Batsburg had primed him up to recognize the front rows of the audience and discourse on their private affairs and was getting quite personal when one concluded that the urchin had been coached by someone who did know. Batsburg had been among these people for weeks in connection with the benefit, and, though, his use of his knowledge might be in doubtful taste, there was no denying that it taught on—the stalls roared as each stinging remark, pointed by one grimy forefinger came clearly across the footlights through the jaunty music.

Suddenly the boy began to dance a kind of double-shuffle and to the air which the band still played softly, broke into a song, introducing the names of people in front of him. His voice was a sweet, true boy's voice, but marred by that awful East End accent, and it rang through the theatre loud and strong. Young Quick Wit a Strong Factor.

Some of the noblemen of Europe owe their present positions and stations of honor to the presence of mind and forethought of their ancestors during extremely critical moments. A hicough, for instance, is the cause of the Kinskys' princely rank in Austria. It seems that during the midst of some great court function at Vienna the Empress Maria Theresa had the misfortune to hicough so violently as to cause, not only herself, but her court, great embarrassment. In the midst of her bewilderment young Count Kinsky stepped forward, and with a most clever assumption of intense mortification and humiliation, asked her pardon for his breach of good manners. The Empress received his apology with not only good grace, but gratitude, and before long the young nobleman was bestowed with high court honors and decorations.

Another story is told how the Emperor Napoleon III when out hunting one day, being a very poor marksman, fired at a pheasant, but instead hit General Massena, destroying the sight of one of his eyes. No one could doubt who had fired the shot, but General Massena turned round and soundly berated General Berthier, who had been standing behind him, which castigation Berthier at once accepted and appeared overcome with remorse. Napoleon was grateful to both for thus shielding him, and overwhelmed them both with honors and dignity.

DRINK GALLONS OF WATER.

Practice Said to Account for Japs' Hardihood.

The Nichi-Nichi, a prominent Japanese paper, in commenting on the remarkable health of the Japanese soldier in the field attributes not a small degree of his endurance and immunity from disease to his habit of drinking about a gallon of water every day of his life. The statement was verified by an attaché of the Japanese treaty commission who studied medicine at Harvard and practiced at home.

"The Japanese soldier is not permitted to drink much water on the march. He merely wets his lips, rinses his mouth, and takes a small swallow now and then. But in camp he drinks freely. A quart immediately on rising, more after breakfast; and several quarts during the evening. Of course it is largely habit. He has not studied the system's requirements."

A TYPICAL JAP SOLDIER.

from the physician's standpoint. All he knows about it is that he is thirsty and drinks to satisfy that thirst."

Americans Use Too Little.

"Your people," he went on, "neglect their needs as a rule, in respect to both water and air. They do not drink enough and do not bathe enough. I would not say they are unclean; it is only that they are less particular in their cleanliness. It is a difficult task in the point of view. The Japanese think a daily bath the very least attention to the body. Many bathe several times a day—a simple sponging, cleansing the pores and giving the soul a chance to breathe. And the air bath is equally a habit. My people cannot at first live in the close American houses. They crave the freedom and perfect ventilation of their bamboo cottages. Drinking and bathing are national traits. We believe that cleanliness of the internal tissues is as necessary to health and comfort as cleanliness of the skin. The waste materials of the body are often poisonous. Their retention is the cause of many sleepless nights, headaches rheumatic pains fits of indigestion. Water in abundance, inside and out, is necessary to every human being."

Wash Inside And Out.

The Nichi-Nichi discourses further on the subject, stating in a naive way the benefit of free indulgence in nature's drink:

"Health is a gift of the gods, and the way to health lies through the domain of cleanliness. As we wash our linen so should we wash our bodies inside and out. Water is the sweetener of life. In its free use you shall be as sweet and pure as a mountain brook; as strong as the lion of the sea; as broad as the wind-swept rice fields. You shall hold your head in the stars and your life shall be as peaceful as a summer day."

The largest pin factory in the world is not as has been stated, in the United States but in Birmingham, Eng. where are 370000000 are manufactured every working day. All the other pin factories in England turn out about 19'000'000.

How to Become Disease Proof.

It has already been suggested that the appendix should be removed from every infant as a routine measure. But this is clearly insufficient, says the British Medical Journal. The surgery of the future must include far more than this. The tonsils and turbinate bones of the nose must be cut out, because they may harbor germs. What Arbuthnot Lane calls the "human cess-pool" (that is the large intestine), must be removed along with a considerable part of the upper portion of the alimentary canal, because it won't be needed when we begin to live on M. Berthelot's tabloids and pills. The too readily decaying teeth will be pulled out in early life and the germ proof store variety inserted. The failing human eye will be anticipated by spectacles in early youth. Deficient moral sense and degeneracy will be treated by ventilation of the brain and removal of the offending areas.

Thus protected against the perils of civilization, the man in the coming centuries will be able in his journey through life to defy the countless enemies that seek to rob him of health—sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything.

FRONTIER HOSPITALITY.

The Prairie-Dog said to the Snake, "Your home is my hole, prithce make, I'll ask the Owl too, And 'twixt us and you A rattling good game we will shake."

COFFEE

DOES

HURT

Make the trial yourself—leave off Coffee 10 days and use

POSTUM

FOOD COFFEE

in its place.

That's the only way to find out.

Postum is a sure builder and when you cut out the coffee and use Postum instead, you get a taste of health, for the aches and ails begin to leave. You may THINK you know, but you don't, until after the trial. — Remember —

"There's a Reason."

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

THE RACYLE SPROCKETS

Like No. 2 Grindstone are Hung Between the Bearings

No. 1 (Bicycles) No. 2 (Racyle)

Which Stone will Turn Easier?

The Racyle Rides Further with one-quarter less work

MIAMI CYCLE & MFG. CO.
MIDDLETOWN, OHIO.

OLDSMOBILES THE CAR THAT GOES

for 1905

Highest Workmanship. Lowest Prices.

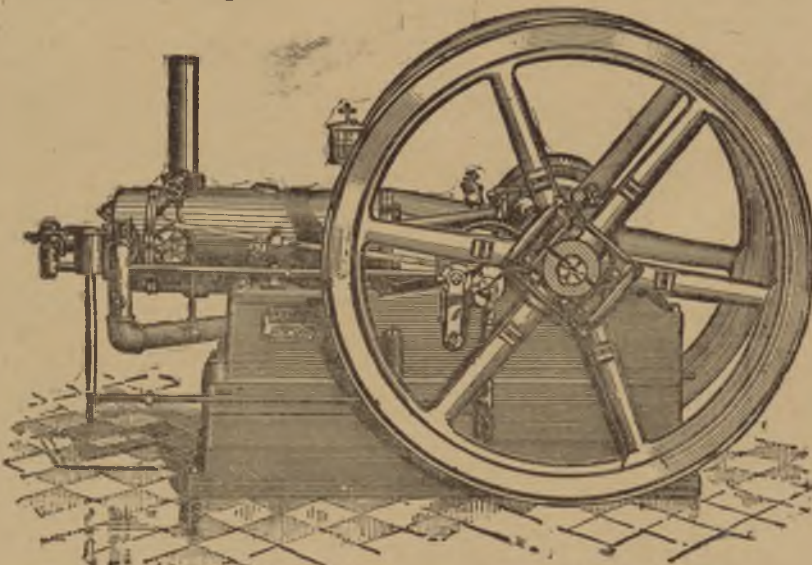

Cars for Immediate Delivery.

Olds Motor Works
DETROIT, MICH.

International Harvester Co.

GASOLINE ENGINES

When equipped with an I. H. C. gasoline engine, the farm, the dairy, the mill, the threshing machine, or the husker and shredder can be operated more economically than with any other power. Farmers who have water to pump, wood to saw, feed to grind or corn to shell, can do this work at a minimum cost with I. H. C. engines.

I. H. C. HORIZONTAL ENGINE

I. H. C. gasoline engines are made in the following sizes: 2, 3 and 5 H. P., vertical type, stationary; 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, stationary; and 6, 8, 10 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, portable.

WRITE FOR GASOLINE ENGINE BOOKLET.

International Harvester Co. of America
(Incorporated)

7 Monroe Street Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.

The Seedless Apple Fraud

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE DENOUNCES SCHEME AS HUMBUG

GUY ELLIOTT MITCHELL.

One of Uncle Sam's duties, and it is an extremely important one, is showing up, and where possible, stopping frauds and fakes and preventing the people from being mulcted of their savings. Through its issuance of "fraud orders" the Postoffice Department prevents millions of dollars every year from being squandered on worthless projects and fake schemes exploited through cunning advertisements. The vigilance of the Government against lottery concerns is another instance. So much is done now through clever advertising that officials have come to be very chary about giving their indorsement to any schemes which have not been pretty thoroughly tried out.

The Spencer "Seedless" Apple.

A case in point was the efforts of the Colorado seedless and coreless apple concern, headed by a Mr. Spencer, which attempted last year to secure the either paper stock or nursery stock, in New York State.

The attractive plan proposed by the parent Spencer company, as learned at the Department of Agriculture, is that these subsidiary or local seedless apple companies may be formed in the various States. The local company is to pay a cash bonus to the mother company and also issue it 51 per cent. of its stock—a controlling interest. The public is to be let in on the remainder, 49 per cent. To facilitate the sale of this stock Assistant Pomologist W. A. Taylor says that the company some time ago issued a statement to the effect that the retail price of trees will be held up to $3 each, while the cost to the local company will not exceed 50 cents, and it is estimated that on a local investment of $5,000, $60,000 could be quickly rounded up.

"It seems," said Mr. Taylor, who in speaking of the matter appeared to be entirely convinced of the shadyness of cern which this tremendous advertising is causing our principal competitors in the export apple trade. The Tasmanian government council has instituted an official inquiry whether this new development is likely to so revolutionize the character of the fruit which we export to Europe, and which is in competition with them, as to necessitate their securing and growing this seedless variety.

Colonel Brackett states that thus far no tree or scion of this alleged remarkable apple has been placed in the hands of any disinterested experimenter, and it is significant that there are not as yet any trees or scions for sale, although it is stated that several million trees are being grown in New York, Iowa, Utah and Colorado.

PHOTOGRAPH OF "SEEDLESS" APPLES SOLD TO MESSRS. SHEARN FOR 30 SHILLINGS APIECE.

It is questionable whether the Fraud Order Office of the Postoffice Department will be able to bar the use of the mails to the company owing to the skillful preparation of its literature, though such action, it is stated, would be sustained by all reputable fruit men and nurserymen.

The wonder of the whole story is that in the face of such lamentable failures where the promoters have consented to exhibit their apples the work still goes forward of successfully fooling the people. It is not denied that there is an apple which may be called seedless and with an imperfectly developed core; but it is a freak and worthless, and, moreover, is thousands of years old. Wherever the Spencer apple has been exhibited it has been a fizzle. One claim made by the company is because the apple is bloomless it offers no opportunity for the codling moth to lay its eggs, that, therefore, the apple cannot be wormy. One of the apples reluctantly submitted by the Spencer people to Colonel Brackett, the Pomologist of the Department, contained, when cut, a good, fat codling moth worm, while all the apples submitted to the Department and to the St. Louis Exposition apple judges contained either seeds or cores. The apples were, moreover, small and inferior; but the newspaper account of these events tell a different tale.

THE "SEEDLESS" APPLE PRESENTED TO KING EDWARD.

Farm Bulletins.

The great demand upon the Department of Agriculture for some of the Farmers' Bulletins, which are distributed free, has necessitated the reprinting of quite a list of these valuable little pamphlets. Among others of general interest which are available are:

- (No. 41) Fowls; Their Care and Feeding.
- (No. 44) Commercial Fertilizers; Their Composition and Use.
- (No. 63) Care of Milk on the Farm.
- (No. 64) Ducks and Geese; Standard Breeds and Management.
- (No. 113) The Apple and How to Grow It.

- (No. 121) Beans, Peas and Other Legumes as Food.
- (No. 32) Silos and Silage.
- (No. 154) The Home Fruit Garden; Preparation and Care.
- (No. 33) Peach Growing for Market.
- (No. 34) Meats; Composition and Cooking.
- (No. 192) Barnyard Manure.
- (No. 200) Turkeys; Standard Varieties and Management.
- (No. 214) Beneficial Bacteria for Leguminous Crops.

Proper Seasoning of Farm Implements.

It is full time that all mowing machines, harvesters, and other horse implements should be left out in the field to obtain the benefit of the fall weather. Plows and harrows will, of course, be needed yet, and these will be kept under cover for awhile, but can be left out later after the fall plowing. This practice of fall weathering of implements is quite general in many farming sections and is encouraged from year to year by a large class of farmers. It insures thorough weathering of the wood and produces in the metal parts of the machinery a fine brown color. The practice is an entirely satisfactory one to the implement sellers as a class.

Pickles and Babies.

An exchange made an unfortunate error in its "Answers to Correspondents" recently.

"Fond Mother" wrote in to find out what she should do for her children who had the whooping cough. In the make up the compositor got some items transposed and the answer read: "If not too young, skin them thoroughly; immerse in scalding water, sprinkle plentifully with salt, and leave for a week in strong brine." Horrors! He misplaced the answer to "Anxious Housekeeper's" query for a pickled onion recipe.

Everything Was the Same.

A young Oxford student one day received an unexpected visit from his pretty sister, and was very indignant that she came without a chaperon. "Look here," said the young man, "I will not have any of the fellows see you in my rooms, so if anyone knocks at the door you just get behind that screen."

In a few minutes a knock was heard, and the girl ran behind the screen as her brother went to open the door. An old gentleman stood on the threshold, who, after profusely apologizing for his intrusion, said: "I am just home from Australia, and many years ago I occupied these rooms; would you allow me, sir, to look at them once again?" "Certainly," said the student, "come in." "Ah," exclaimed the old man, "everything is just the same. Same old table, same old fireplace, same old screen." Then, catching sight of the girl, "By jove, same old dodge." "Sir," exclaimed the student, "that is my sister." "Gad, sir," was the rejoinder, "same old story."

A Few Afterthoughts.

The Chinese women are being weaned from the old custom of binding their feet, and it is stated that the practice now obtains only among the American women.

There is no authority for the statement that the railroad companies would seriously object if Congress spends the entire session discussing the tariff and reciprocity.

"I reflect with sorrow over the justification of the claim you make of having lent me your constant support," says Lord Curzon, the viceroy of India, recently deposed at the instance of Premier Balfour. If the Premier understood just what Lord Curzon indicated, and had the nerve, he probably called back, "you'r another."

The customs officials are alarmed at the apparent fact that there are more Havana cigars in the country than is warranted by the imports of Havana tobacco. They have probably omitted to calculate to include the hickory and cabbage-leaf crop.

The King of Spain is again touring the European courts, looking for somebody who will accept him.

The idea that the scarcity of servant girls is due to their all having become writers of novels, is probably suggested by the quality of current fiction.

Germany and France have reached an agreement over Morocco that is "entirely satisfactory to both parties." How about the feelings of the third party?

Helen Bertram has been up before a New York magistrate for failure to pay her debts. At the same time, her husband is playing in "The Prodigal Son."

A Trial by Telephone.

Robert Willard, a farmer living near Elkhart, in Logan county, Illinois, upon being arrested by Constable Pettit on a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct, pleaded guilty by telephone. When he was informed of the $14 fine by the justice in Lincoln, he agreed to send the amount by mail. The case is unique in central Illinois jurisprudence.

The constable found Willard busily engaged in a cornfield and read the warrant to him. Willard agreed that it was all right, but pointed to the work that he was doing and declared that he could not possibly lose a day or two by driving to Lincoln and waiting for trial. He suggested the use of the telephone, and when the constable somewhat dubiously acquiesced, the two repaired to the farmhouse. Finally they got connection with Justice Rudolph, in Lincoln, and over the wire the unique trial was held. The justice received a letter later with the fine enclosed.

NO OTHER WAGONS APPROACH

In Perfect Adaptability Under all Conditions to

The Strong Old Hickory

MANUFACTURED BY

Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Co.
LOUISVILLE, KY.

LARGEST PRODUCERS OF FARM WAGONS IN THE WORLD

Kirk's A Quarter of a Century

AMERICAN CROWN

SOAP

is a green soap, consistency of paste, a perfect cleanser for automobile machinery and all vehicles; will not injure the most highly polished surface. Made from pure vegetable oils. If your dealer does not carry American Crown Soap in stock, send us his name and address and we will see that your wants are supplied. Put up in 12½, 25 and 50 lb pails.

James S. Kirk & Company
CHICAGO, ILL.

BOOKS—BOOKS

We have published some good ones specially suited for farmers. Books that will help every farmer to make more out of his farm. Write for our catalogue.

WEBB PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Paul Minn.

Well Drilling Machines

Over 70 sizes and styles for drilling either deep or shallow wells in any kind of soil or rock. Mounted on wheels or on skids. With engines or horse powers. Strong, simple and durable. Any mechanic can operate them easily.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE
WILLIAM BROS., Ithaca, N. Y.

Marlin

Repeaters

are the original solid top and side ejectors. This feature forms a solid shield of metal between the shooter's head and the cartridge at all times, throws the empty away from him instead of into his face, prevents smoke and gases from entering his eyes and lungs, and keeps the line of sight unobstructed. The MARLIN action works easily and smoothly, making very little noise. Our new automatic recoil-operating locking device makes the Marlin the safest breech-loading gun ever built. 122-page catalogue, 300 illustrations, cover in nine colors, mailed for three stamps. The Marlin Fire Arms Co., New Haven, Conn.

proves the
ABSOLUTE RELIABILITY
of the

Remington TYPEWRITER

WYCKOFF, SEAMANS & BENEDICT
327 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

Sandwich

SELF FEED FULL CIRCLE TWO HORSE

HAY PRESS

The Baler for speed. Bales 12 to 18 tons a day. Has 40 inch feed hole. Adapted to bank barn work. Stands up to its work—no digging holes for wheels, Self-feed Attachment increases capacity, lessens labor, makes better bales and does not increase draft.

Send for Catalogue

SANDWICH MFG. CO.,

124 Main Street, Sandwich, Ill

SILOS

Pine, Fir, Cypress and Yellow Pine.
Write for Catalogue.

Eagle Tank Co., 281 N. Green St.,
Chicago, Ill.

IF YOU WANT A JACK

Send for our Jack Catalogue. Sure to contain the description of exactly what you want
Hydraulic Jacks our Specialty
Watson-Stillman Co.,
46 Day St., N. Y. City.

The Missoula Nursery

Producers of Northern grown acclimated trees and the best varieties for planting in Northern States.

Every Variety of Standard Fruit

Thoroughly tested Apples, Pears, Plums, Cherries and Trees Ornamental, Small Fruit Plants, Shrubs,
Vines and Roses.

THE EVERBEARING STRAWBERRY

A SPECIALTY OF
FLOWERING PLANTS AND SHRUBS

Cut Flowers and Floral Designs. Also Vegetable Plants shipped by express. Catalogue and Price List Free.
Mail orders have prompt attention.

MISSOULA NURSERY CO.
MISSOULA, MONTANA.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF "SEEDLESS AND CORELESS" APPLES FURNISHED BY THE SPENCER COMPANY.

Indorsement of the Fruit Division of the Department of Agriculture. The apple men of the Department were extremely doubtful of the claims made by Mr. Spencer that he had evolved a seedless apple which would revolutionize the apple industry of the country, and they were wise in refusing to give it indorsement. Colonel Brackett, the Pomologist of the Department, now states that the seedless and coreless apple propaganda is apparently one of the most carefully considered and intelligently worked out schemes for fooling and defrauding the public which has ever been attempted along agricultural lines. Taking advantage of the remarkable results of fruit and plant improvement made by Luther Burbank and other wizards of plant science, the statement was sprung upon an unsuspecting newspaper press and public that a wonderful seedless and coreless apple had been discovered. Hundreds of columns of newspaper descriptions of this fruit have since appeared in not only the daily and weekly papers, but in magazines and scientific journals.

CROSS SECTION OF SPENCER SEEDLESS APPLE, REPRODUCED FROM SPENCER CATALOGUE.

Plans for Sinking Money.

It now turns out that the Spencer seedless apple, so far as its being a new and valuable production is concerned, is an entire fake, and it would appear that the plan is more of a stock and bond selling proposition than a nursery stock raising one. The seedless and coreless apple is almost as old as history. Pliny, the Roman naturalist, described it two thousand years ago. Hundreds of references appear in the books of horticulturists about this freak, the whole story having been described by Professor Bailey of Cornell about fifteen years ago. The bad faith of the Spencer apple people is shown in their circulating a partial quotation from Professor Bailey written about the seedless apple years ago, and having no reference to the so-called Spencer seedless apple.

The reason now appears for the careful educational work done among the newspapers last year. The Spencer Seedless Apple Company of New York has been organized with alleged nurseries in Niagara County, has issued a magnificent catalogue with a full colored lithograph of the "Spencer seedless apple," and also showing cross sections of the apple with no semblance of core or seed.

Newspapers Which Bit.

This catalogue contains numerous extracts from papers all over the country lauding the Spencer seedless apple almost to the skies. The truth is, that some of the most conservative papers were successfully roped in and unconsciously published articles specially written for them by the propagandists themselves, and these very papers are now quoted in the catalogues distributed by the company. Such eminent names appear as the New York Times, the Buffalo Inquirer, both of which had enthusiastic editorials, the American Inventor, the New York Farmer, the Scientific American, the Buffalo Commercial, the New York Herald, the National Nurseryman, the Denver Times and a score of others.

The Public to Pay the Profits

This New York apple company is but one of the subsidiary companies, with apparently the right to sell stock, Must Make the Fakirs Smile.

A somewhat amusing feature, as related by Colonel Brackett, is the con-

Courtesy Harper's Weekly.

THE BELLES OF THE SEASON.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Phone 20

Call us up

FIRST and best of fall goods, prove their worth in every way. Values that you cannot fail to see. Made for you the way you want it. Satisfaction is a part of the bargain. Come here first and you'll go no further. We don't sell what we can't recommend. 'Nuff said.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months.....30

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

George Bird was on the sick list several days last week.

As a disagreeable day, last Sunday is entitled to the palm.

It isn't so much where a man parts his hair as what he has under it.

Mrs. G. T. Harris and children are visiting relatives at Oxford for a few weeks.

O'Hara & Son have been kept on the jump night and day at their gin for the past week.

Pierce Mason returned to Greensboro, Saturday, where he is attending the Southern University.

Rev. G. T. Harris visited his father in Munford several days last week, returning home Saturday.

Prof. S. Dowell has been suffering with a severe cold for a week past, and is feeling none to good as yet.

Miss Maude Bell, of Lineville, is expected in the city this week for a visit with her sister, Mrs. John J. Haynes.

A number of our people will go to Birmingham on the 24th—the day President Roosevelt is to visit that city.

Miss Robbie Wallace, of Klein, was in the city last week a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. A. Parker.

I. S. Chancellor, of near Vincent, was among the number who renewed their subscription to The Sentinel last week.

Rev. G. T. Harris is holding protracted meeting at Shelby this week. He is being assisted by Dr. Slaughter, of Helena.

Rev. John Milner, who spent several weeks in Michigan during the summer months, has returned to his charge in Roswell, Ga.

City marshal Thomas and night watchman Pitts are getting "up-pity"—each having donned a regulation policeman's uniform.

Miss Celia Davis, who has been a guest of Mrs. L. E. Christian for the past week, returned to her home in Huntsville, Monday.

Dr. Nelson of Abernath, who has been quite sick at the home of his brother, Hardy Nelson, in this city for the past three weeks, we are glad to be able to state is improving.

Rev. C. C. Heard, the new Baptist pastor, preached two able sermons at the Baptist church last Sunday. The one at night was especially strong, his subject being on the "Rich Fool."

W. L. Christian, who officiated as best man at the Mason-Christian wedding last week, has returned to Cincinnati where he has a responsible position in the general freight office of the Louisville and Nashville railway.

State Examiner J. T. Gorman was in the city last week looking after the interests of the State in connection with our county officials. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Gorman. He is a warm supporter of Lieutenant Governor Cunningham for Governor, and is a Democrat after our own heart. He says Lee county—his home—will give a nice majority for Cunningham in the primary.

On the fourth page of this issue will be found the statement of the Merchants' & Planters' bank of Montevallo, and on the third page will be found the statement of the Columbiana Savings bank. The business of both these institutions has increased since their last published statement. They are Shelby county institutions, and we are glad to see them prosper.

Rev. C. C. Heard, the newly elected pastor of the Baptist church, has arrived in the city and is preparing for the reception of his family which will arrive in Columbiana from their former home in Rockford about November 1st. The Sentinel bespeaks a cordial welcome to Rev. Mr. Heard and his family from the good people of Columbiana.

It will be of interest to the people of this county to know that Rev. Sam. P. West has resigned the position of business manager of the Alabama Christian Advocate. He has held the position for so long a time that his name has become synonymous with that of the Christian Advocate. Rev. H. Truwick has also resigned as editor of the paper.

All of our people will be glad to know that Rev. Mr. Duglison is growing better all the time, but it is regretted that he will not be able to resume preaching in the Presbyterian church here before about the beginning of the new year.

Mrs. L. A. Christian, who was visiting here last week, has gone to Marion Junction to attend the silver wedding of an uncle, and from there will return to her home in Woodlawn. Mr. Christian returned home last Thursday.

Kept On Ice.

There is nothing so palatable as Fresh Oysters when they are right off the ice. That is the way you will find them when you buy of us. Better leave your order for a hundred.—Roberts & Robertson.

Circuit Court adjourned last Thursday until Monday of this week. Judge Pelham was compelled to be in Anniston the latter part of last week, hence the adjournment of court here.

Randolph Nash was recently elected by the County Commissioners to supercede Jas. Finley as overseer of the county poor farm. The change becomes effective January 1st, next.

The Sentinel received a pleasant call Monday from Hon. E. S. Lyman, J. M. Reynolds, A. M. Piper and G. F. Harper, all of Montevallo. They are attending court.

Attorney W. F. Thetford, of Montgomery, was in the city last Friday and Saturday. The Sentinel acknowledges a call.

Billy Strong, of Montevallo, is a witness in circuit court this week.

G. E. Abbott, of Shelby, was in the city Saturday.

A Deserving Young Woman.

The following from the Huntsville Tribune will be of interest to the people of Montevallo where Miss Pettus taught in the public school of that place last year:

Among the teachers of the Jim Pride Huntsville District School, hard at work, is a young woman of whom Alabama should be proud. Not proud alone of her distinguished lineage, but proud of her individuality, her womanly determination to be self-sustaining and useful to her fellow man. The worthy young woman to whom we refer is Miss Alice Pettus, daughter of Alabama's distinguished and lamented citizen, Hon. Frank L. Pettus and granddaughter of Senator Pettus. In our humble judgment this modest girl is the greater of the three, and to her more manly heads should be bared. Her effort, her example, deserves the commendation of every man who respects the highest type of southern womanhood. There are many others who deserve like commendation but none more than Miss Pettus. In the pathway of such Alabama girls, let us all scatter flowers.

Fresh Sausage.

We can fill your order for fresh sausage which we keep on ice. You know it is the right kind.—Roberts & Robertson.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co., so The Sentinel is told, will put a second story and possibly a third on their store building in the early spring. After the first of January, when the firm will move out of the corner building, it will not have room for the stock of goods it carries, and to build becomes a necessity. That is a pretty good start in the building business for 1906.

Birds are ripe, and the local ninnies are preparing to move on the feathery tribe in earnest.

Mrs. Edgar Cary and Miss Tabor Cary, of Keystone, are in the city this week visiting relatives.

Mrs. C. A. Carter, of Shelby, was in the city several days last week visiting her son Rollie.

Geo. Kroell and his two sons, P. J. and John, are in the city this week attending court.

Crowds Going To The Circus.

Intense interest has been aroused in this community by the announcement that Ringling Brothers' immense circus is to exhibit in Birmingham, Oct. 30th. Several big excursions will go from this vicinity and local people will be well represented at the big show. Those who go from here should make every effort to arrive in time to see the magnificent new free street parade, which if given in the morning preceding the opening performance, Three miles of parade sections and each section is a show in itself—a parade such as the world has never seen before. In this wonderful display are shown 100 beautiful dens, lairs and cages of rare wild animals, a herd of forty big and little elephants, 650 horses, and 1250 people. One section of procession is devoted to magnificent and costly floats representing Germany, Russia, England, France, India, Persia, Scotland, the United States, and other countries. The performance that follows, and which includes the superb spectacular production of The Field of the Cloth of Gold, is the most magnificent display of arenic wonders ever presented by any amusement enterprise in America. The menagerie is filled to overflowing with rare beasts and birds, including the only baby elephants bred and successfully raised in the United States, the only rhinoceros in captivity and the last living pair of giraffes.

As we go to press the trial of Edgar Cary, charged with assault with attempt to kill, is being heard.

WELL KNOWN YOUNG PEOPLE ARE WEDDED.

Pretty Marriage Scene Occurs at the Methodist Church in Columbiana.

The Methodist church on Wednesday night of last week was the scene of one of the prettiest weddings within the history of Columbiana. At that time Miss Mary Esther Mason and Mr. Lonie Earle Christian were joined in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. G. T. Harris.

Long before the time for the ceremony the church was filled with an audience of friends of the bride and groom. The chancel of the church was a solid bank of ferns, palms and potted flowers and presented indeed a beautiful scene, while the windows were capped with pretty decorations giving to the whole a pretty tone.

As the hands of the clock pointed to the hour of eight, from the organ came the sweet tones of Lohegrin's wedding march played by Mr. Pierce Mason, brother of the bride, and down the aisles filed the wedding party, preceded by the ushers, Mr. Henry Milner and Mr. Geo. E. Mason, followed by the attendants, Mr. Clarence Smith and Miss Rosser Christian, Mr. W. W. Wallace and Miss Lalle Tice, and Mr. Lucius Roberts and Miss Maude Edwards, and then the matrons of honor, Mrs. A. B. Milner and Mrs. J. H. McCulla, while bringing up the rear came the bride and the maid of honor, Miss Celia King Davis. Down the opposite aisle marched the groom attended by the best man, W. L. Christian. The party met and formed in a semi-circle in front of the altar with the bride and groom in the center, and here in the presence of many friends they faced the man of God and pledged their lives one to the other so long as both shall live. The responses were low yet distinct, and after the minister had invoked the blessings of the Deity upon the sacred contract just made, the party filed out to the strains of Mendelssohn's march and was driven to the home of Judge and Mrs. D. R. McMillan where a reception was tendered the wedding party and the members of the families.

The bride was costumed in white taffeta, trimmed in medallions and lace, wearing a veil in which were entwined orange blossoms. She carried bride's roses. The ladies in the attendant party were gown-d in white silk and carried white carnations, while the groom and best man, W. L. Christian, and the gentlemen in the party were in full evening dress.

The bride was born and reared in Columbiana and is loved for her many personal graces by all who know her. She has been a teacher in the public schools of this place for several years, and the love of the children for their former teacher was shown in their large attendance at the wedding. She is a daughter of Mrs. M. E. Mason, and is truly a christian young woman, not only in precept but in practice, and her kindly, uniform treatment of all are the least of the many admirable traits of her character.

The groom is one of Shelby county's finest and best young men, and as he has lived in this county all his life has many friends in every section of Shelby. Combined with a keen business tact is a true conception of what is just and right as between man and man in all his business dealings. He is a member of the firm of Milner & Christian, and his genial nature and cordial demeanor has drawn to him a large circle of admiring friends. He and his bride are earnest and faithful members of the Methodist church, and are representatives of two of the most widely and favorably known families in central Alabama. A handsome home is being built by the groom into which they hope to move about the first of the new year. With their many friends The Sentinel joins in the wish that their future will be all their fondest hopes may have anticipated. They were recipients of many handsome presents which show the popularity of these worthy young people.

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mrs. Ross Edwards and Miss Maude Edwards, of Sylacauga; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McCulla, of Birmingham; Miss Pearle Edwards, of Childersburg; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Christian, Woodlawn; Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams, Shelby; W. L. Christian, Cincinnati; Miss Celia King Davis, Huntsville; Miss Lalle Tice, Montevallo; Clarence Smith, Wilsonville; and Mrs. A. B. Milner, Collinsville.

C. L. Meroney, of Montevallo, has been in the city this week attending court.

BIG REMOVAL SALE

WITH THE

COLUMBIANA MERCANTILE CO.

BEGINNING AT ONCE AND CONTINUING UNTIL

JANUARY 1, 1906.

This big company will have to vacate the corner store on January 1st, and move their goods into their own room adjoining the corner. Now in order to do this their HUGE STOCK consisting of everything in the mercantile line will have to be reduced and that AT ONCE. They are, therefore, putting the knife to every department. This will be, without doubt, the opportunity of a lifetime for those who want goods at a bargain. We hope the people of the community and county at large will take advantage of it.

WATCH the Big Signs on the building, then come inside and be convinced. REMEMBER, we will pay you more for your produce and Cotton than any other merchants in this section, proving that we are the "working man's friend and the farmers' protector." This is not foolish talk; come and see for yourself.

Yours to serve,

Columbiana Mercantile Company,

Wholesale and Retail

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14th, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well."

It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity. Sold by Williams Bros.

The Columbiana Sentinel came to us last week all home print which made it much more readable and interesting. Ed. Whitaker believes in a "fair deal for every man" and he knows he can best do this by giving his readers all home news.—Headland Post.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main Str. Ottawa, Kans., writes, "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c $1.00. Sold by William Bros.

Strayed or Stolen.

From my farm near Brierfield Ala. One large brindle hound dog, with a faint stripe down his nose, two white feet in front, with white toes on hind feet. The white on left fore leg extends up the leg farther than on the right one. He left on Aug. 23rd, 1905.

Any information or return of the dog will be suitably rewarded. J. R. SMITH, Jr. Box 632, Birmingham Ala.

Cures Chills and Fever.

G. W. Wirt, Nacogdoches, Texas, says: "His daughter had chills and fever for three years; he could not find anything that would help her till she used Herbine. His wife will not keep house without it, and cannot say too much for it." 50c. Sold by William Bros.

Land for Sale and Rent.

I desire to sell about 1,000 acres of land, light sandy soil, in parcels from 40 to 320 acres each. There is as much as 300 acres of hard and yellow pine timber. Will sell at a bargain. All land being in beat 8, Shelby county, Ala., except 138 acres in beat 1 within one and a half miles of court house at Columbiana, Ala. For further information in regard to land and prices, call on or write.

Walter E. Lester.

R. F. D. No 2, Box 36.

Columbiana, Ala.

"A Thing of Beauty
Is a Joy Forever!"

Our millinery may not wear forever
but the ladies all exclaim

"The Hats are Beautiful!"

And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

We have in stock

The Prettiest Line of Novelties

In the way of

Bolts and Fashionable Neckwear

ever shown in Columbiana.

Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

New Grocery Store!

EVERYTHING
NEW.

We desire to notify the people that we have opened a grocery store in the Moore building, and we ask for a share of your patronage. Our groceries are all NEW and FRESH—nothing stale. A full line of staple and fancy groceries, cigars, tobacco and provisions will be kept on hand. Be glad to have call on us.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor = and = Builder,

Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

A Shelby County Boy.

The many who have heard him, say that the second Baptist church of Rome has a second Talmage in Rev. H. W. Fancher the young pastor recently called to that church. Mr. Fancher has already won the love and confidence of his congregation, and complimentary sayings of his sermons and pastoral efficiency are being spoken on all sides. It is indeed gratifying to know that Rome has in the pastor of the Second Baptist church so fine an influence and example to follow as is supplied in the character and teachings of Mr. Fancher. He is a native of Alabama, being born in Montevallo where he received his early education. In 1899 he took A. B. degree at Howard College, Birmingham, Ala., and finished full course of Th. M. degree at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1902.

For two years he was pastor of the Baptist church at Demopolis, after which he studied a year in the Graduate School of Harvard University. Nothing better could happen to a church than to have the new life and enthusiasm of a young man like Mr. Fancher infused into it and the Second Baptist church of Rome is to be congratulated upon the particularly fortunate circumstance of securing him as pastor.—Woodbury (Ga.) Messenger.

Pelham Monument.

Anniston.—The monument over the grave of "Gallant John Pelham" at Jacksonville, was unveiled last Wednesday in the presence of a large crowd. On account of the inclemency of the weather the exercises were held in the State Normal School, standing room being at a premium in the place. President Daught of school acted as master of ceremonies. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mayor H. L. Stevenson and Miss Mary Forney, historian of the John H. Forney Chapter, U. D. C., under whose auspices the monument was erected. An address was made by Mrs. Amelia F. Wylie of Montgomery, founder of the Jacksonville Chapter, U. D. C. Lieutenant Governor Cunningham was the orator of the day, and made a splendid address. He paid high tribute to the U. D. C's, the veterans and to the Gallant, "Pelham," but did not touch on any political matters. The Lieutenant Governor was warmly greeted when he came upon the stage, but when he was introduced to speak the applause was deafening and prolonged through several minutes. The cordial and warm reception given Dr. Cunningham seemed to inspire him, and a speech more logical or eloquent is seldom heard.

Reversed.

Southern railway company vs Johnson. Action for damages for personal injuries.—Appeal from Shelby Circuit Court. 1. Damages; carrier and passenger; negligence.—Where a person, who had previously notified the conductor of a train that he intended to travel thereon, attempts to board the train while it is in motion, and is thrown to the ground by the movement of the train before he succeeded in getting aboard, the relation of carrier and passenger does not exist; and in such case, where the only evidence of negligence was, that while the party was trying to board it, the train suddenly accelerated its speed by putting on more steam, no cause of action is shown. Reversed and remanded. Simpson, J.

Julian Announces.

Tusculum.—Frank N. Julian, editor of the North Alabamian of this city, has announced his candidacy for the office of Secretary of State, subject to the action of the Democratic party. He has served as assistant clerk and clerk of the House of Representatives, was clerk of the late Constitutional Convention, and made a close race for Secretary of State two years ago, being defeated by a small majority by Thomas J. Heflin, now Congressman from the Fifth Alabama District. He is the only

SHIELD BRAND
FITS
WELL
CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERYT, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY,

Montevallo, Ala.

Statement of the condition of the

MERCHANTS' AND PLANTERS' BANK OF MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

located at Montevallo, Ala., at the close of business
October 7, 1905.

RESOURCES.	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 33,107.92	Capital stock paid in..... $ 15,000.00
Deposits..... 729.00	Unpaid profits, less current ex-
Banking house furniture and fix- tures..... 2,490.00	cesses and taxes paid..... 3,307.00
Overdrafts..... 42.30	Individual deposits subject to check..... 30,571.75
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 6,915.72	Cashier's checks..... 117.22
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 4,371.56
Currency..... 6,290.00
Gold..... 159.00
Silver, nickel and pennies..... 540.00
Checks and cash items..... 218.88
Profit and loss..... 55,095.50
Total..... $ 55,095.50	Total..... $ 55,095.50

STATE OF ALABAMA,) Before me came Wm. Lyman, Cashier, Mer-SHELBY COUNTY,) chants' and Planters' Bank, of Montevallo, Ala. who being duly sworn, deposes that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.
Wm. LYMAN, Cashier.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 11th day of October, 1905.
M. A. RHODES,
Notary Public.

ATTORNEYS:
C. L. McRONEY,
D. L. WILKINSON,
Jno. H. McMath, Directors.

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line

is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the

Chicago & North-Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways.

W. B. KNISKERN,

P. T. M. C. & N.-W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.

Please mail me by my address, California booklets, maps and full particulars concerning rates and train service.

FILL IN THIS COUPON
AND MAIL IT TO-DAY.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 1, 1905.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS	No. 13	No. 21
7:00pm	8:30am	Waycross	8:30am	8:30am
1:10pm	5:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:30pm	10:00am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	7:00am	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
7:15pm	9:30am	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
10:45pm	12:00pm	Waycross	4:30pm	2:30pm
1:15pm	3:30pm	Thomasville	1:30pm	1:30pm
4:45pm	6:30pm	Waycross</

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 26, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 8.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor.
W. L. Farley, Clerk.
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Dunnellon, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 110, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abercrombie, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. A. P. Longshore, C. C. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,
Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,
Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,
Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

The gun that "isn't loaded" is the most dangerous of all.

The Sentinel believes that a late primary would be the better.

The little people are already beginning to talk of the coming of Santa Claus.

This is a pretty good old world to live in after all, and the best one we have any personal knowledge of.

The Illinois Central is to go into Birmingham, and the people of that bustling city are correspondingly happy.

The Opelika News came to us last Friday eight pages instead of four as usual. We are glad to see this evident prosperity of the News.

The next quadrennial general conference of the M. E. church, South, will be held in Birmingham beginning the first Thursday in May, 1906.

Mr. Comer should announce whether or not he is a candidate, if for no other reason than to ease the agony of which the Opelika News is possessed.

When one reads the Prattville Progress he is possessed of a comradie feeling that does him good. Friend Doster is making a fine paper of the Progress.

Mr. Comer says "the people will decide whom they want for Governor." They always do, and this time they will decide in favor of Mr. Cunningham.

There are many bones scattered along the path of ambition.

The Talladega Reporter asks the pertinent question: "If your business isn't worth your mentioning it in the paper, why should the paper do so?"

The State of Florida has appropriated from its general fund a sum of not more than $40,000 to aid Pensacola in stamping out yellow fever at that place.

It was hoped that Alabama would escape the yellow fever, but a man and his wife died at Castleberry, in Connecuh county, last Friday, of that terrible fever.

Mr. Comer says he will be a candidate if the people want him. Bee Bee wants to be coaxed, but the people of today are not given to coax any man to accept public office.

Old life insurance companies should be made to show in the face of their policies just how much money the companies intend to contribute to the Republican campaign fund.

It is said a Shelby county man recently traded a neighbor a bushel of turnips for a bushel of Ben Davis apples, and now other neighbors are trying to figure out who got the worst end of the bargain.

Birmingham is populated with men who do things. At a meeting of the State Fair stockholders, one night last week, $25,000 was raised for the purpose of opening the fair with all of its debts paid.

Graft has now got a hold on the canal job, and there promises to be something doing in the investigation which is to be made.

Next Spring.

There is considerable building going on now in Columbiana, but the indications are that in the spring of 1906 there will be more building here than has been done in this city for a number of years.

The Sentinel is informed that the Baptist people of this place will build a handsome brick edifice in which to worship, and that they are now shaping their plans to that end. The first intention was to repair the old one but at a recent conference of the members they decided to build a brick next spring. The Sentinel congratulates our Baptist friends on this stand, and believe that it will be money saved to them in a building in the end.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co. will add one story, possible two, to their business house just as soon as winter is over, and from what we can learn it will be a handsome structure.

There are a number in the city who will build residences next year, and there is little doubt but that Columbiana will forge ahead and keep pace with the other towns in this section.

It is not unlikely that the Birmingham, Columbus & St. Andrews Bay railroad will be contracted next year, and Columbiana is in line to be one of the towns in middle Alabama it will touch.

All these conditions have a tendency to make the business fraternity of Columbiana spread out and enlarge the stocks carried, and otherwise keep in the public eye. Columbiana will be up and coming next year, and there is no need to stick a pin here to remember the fact—the signs are with us, and of a most substantial nature.

Poll Tax.

It is a shame says the Birmingham Ledger, for any man to refuse to register and be a voter. The only requisite is intelligence and the payment of a poll tax of $1.50 a year. This poll tax goes to the schools, not into the general fund. It is so small a gift to the schools that all voters should pay it gladly even when past the age of 45. The State only asks a man to pay poll tax for twenty-four years, after that he is exempt. There are thousands of men in this state who do not pay this little sum to the schools. It is a shame to them.

It is a matter of choice whether this gift be made to the schools but no man can vote unless he pays it, if within the age of 45.

The Ledger has always wondered that negroes will not pay poll taxes for their own schools, even if they are not on the voting list. The poll taxes of negroes goes to the negro schools, and the poll taxes of white men go to the white schools. Other school money is not divided that way, but the poll tax money is.

Many negroes are seeking by law to get on the voting list, but they have not qualified by paying the poll tax necessary. No law can get a negro on the voting list if he has not paid his poll tax.

A white man who will not pay $1.50 a year to the white schools for the privilege of a voice in selecting city, or county, or state, or federal officers, is not fit to vote. Any man between 21 and 45 can earn $1.50 any day, and he ought to be glad help educate the children of the state. A man who will not do it ought to get out of the state and go to some desert.

Mr. Comer is still shy on his announcement. He is waiting for the people to push him in the race, but they are not pushing to any great extent.

While the president is apparently very indignant over the insurance companies' contributions to Republican campaign funds, Mr. Cortelyou, the man who knows all about it, is saying nothing.

Pensacola certainly deserves the sympathy of the whole country in its noble and heroic fight against yellow fever. It is a heroic fight against fearful odds, and a good ally is near at hand—Jack Frost.

There are some people in Mexico who know a good thing when they see it—for instance the firemen on the Mexican railway who are out on a strike because they are not furnished Alabama coal with which to feed their engines.

We noticed a day or two ago in one of the big State dailies the headline: "Hobson Says He Will Win in the Sixth." We also have a faint recollection of Mr. Hobson saying the same thing in the last campaign. In the next election we believe Bankhead's majority will be greater than it was last year.

The Collinsville Courier issued a fine eight-page paper last week, saying many good things for its town and business men. The Courier is always good but last week it was better than ever. Editor Mosteller is giving his people a good paper, and is deserving of the healthy patronage he seems to have.

Bro. Yerby, of the Greensboro Watchman, says he believes that in a few years Greensboro will have a public school building that will be a credit to the town. Why put off for a few years, brother, doing a good deed? Greensboro has a way up reputation in educational matters, but from what the Watchman says it is sadly derelict in interest in its public schools. Yerby should harp on a public school building until one is built commensurate with a town whose age is nearly a hundred years.

The time is past when editors of country papers are look upon as objects of charity—they are now a strong factor in the great wheel of progress. They are the cake of yeast in the dough-ball of energy. They work while drones sleep. They say good things of their town, while knackers are butting around trying to ram a hole in the foundation of success. They keep everlastingly at it—they are the boosters that boost. If you haven't already got your hat off to them, take it off.

One can scarcely pick up a paper these days without reading of the death of some one caused by being run down by an automobile. It is high time there was some stringent laws laid down governing the handling of the 'go devils.'

The President's visit to Birmingham drew large crowds to that city Tuesday. Birmingham laid herself out to give the president some idea of Birmingham's importance in the industrial world.

When a woman wears shoes with heels so high that she has to walk down hill backward, then it's time to hang the head in a sack.

Don't go up against the world on a diet of apple sauce.

You Are Right.

Did you know that there were lots of people in every town and community that were so wrapped up in themselves and their own affairs that it is impossible to interest them in anything that does not promise something for them?—Dothan Siftings.

LOOK

TO FARMERS

We have just received for seedling purposes some of the celebrated

TEXAS RUST PROOF OATS

You know what they are:
The best on earth.

You are aware that

Our Grocery Stock is New,

Come in and talk it over.

We want you

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Will pay highest market price.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY,

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor - and - Builder,

Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES.		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 44,750 71	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 50,000 00
Overdrafts.....	483 05	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....	2,578 09
Banking house.....	5,092 00	Individual deposits subject to check.....	39,531 25
Furniture and fixtures.....	2,050 00	Savings deposits.....	918 81
Other real estate.....	3,000 00	Interest bearing deposits.....	1,350 00
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	12,737 61	Cashier's checks.....	84 05
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....	5,053 42	Notes and bills rediscounted.....	14,296 25
Currency.....	8,101 00	Checks payable.....	8,500 00
Gold.....	2,945 00
Silver, nickels and pennies.....	1,958 89
Checks and cash items.....	4,490 38
Total.....	$ 87,250 00	Total.....	$ 87,250 00

STATE OF ALABAMA, Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier, of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Witness my hand and the seal of my office this 19th day of October, 1905.
W. L. FARLEY, Cashier.
Attest:
W. B. Browne, } Directors,
W. G. Parker, }
J. T. Leeper. } W. W. WALLACE, Notary Public.

Statement of the condition of the

MERCHANTS' AND PLANTERS' BANK OF MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

located at Montevallo, Ala., at the close of business
October 7, 1905.

RESOURCES.		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 38,107 02	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 15,000 00
Demand loans.....	750 00	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....	3,307 93
Banking house, furniture and fixtures.....	3,400 00	Individual deposits subject to check.....	39,531 25
Overdrafts.....	42 80	Cashier's checks.....	117 23
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	6,515 72
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....	4,374 36
Currency.....	6,300 00
Gold.....	150 00
Silver, nickels and pennies.....	546 00
Checks and cash items.....	212 88
Profit and loss.....
Total.....	$ 58,086 10	Total.....	$ 58,086 10

STATE OF ALABAMA, Before me came Wm. Lyman, Cashier, Merchants' and Planters' Bank, of Montevallo, Ala., who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Witness my hand and the seal of my office this 11th day of October, 1905.
WM. LYMAN, Cashier.
Attest:
C. L. MERRONBY, } Directors,
D. L. WILKINSON, }
JNO. H. McMATR. } M. A. RHODES, Notary Public.

GREAT REDUCTION SALE

TO CONTINUE UNTIL FURTHER NOTICE.

SHOES.

$5.00 patent leather shoes to go in this sale at $3.95
 $4.00 $1.50 patent leather shoes to go in this sale at 3.45
 $3.50 patent leather shoes to go in this sale at 2.95
 All other shoes cut in like proportion.

HATS.

$3.50 hats to go in this sale for 2.35
 $2.50 hats to go in this sale for 1.85
 $1.75 hats to go in this sale for 1.25
 $1.25 hats to go in this sale for .95

SUITS.

Suits, values up to $15.00 to go in this sale for 8.75

Suits, values up to $10.00 to go in this sale for 6.50

GUNS.

$5.00 single barrel guns for 3.75
 $20.00 double barrel guns for 12.50

TOBACCOES.

Buckeye, Cherry Red, and Brown's Mule tobaccos, double thick per plug 10c
 Liberty Bell, Schnapps, Hickory and Sweepstakes, per pound 35c

SOAPS.

4 bars of Octagon Soap for 15c
 6 bars of Lenox Soap for 20c
 5 bars of Big Deal Soap for 20c
 4 boxes Celluloid Starch for 15c

Prices reduced on everything in stock. Come in and let us save you money. Fair dealing to all. ALL GOODS IN THIS SALE FOR CASH.

J. H. ABERCROMBIE & SON.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Oct. 26, 05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1901 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,
 Russell M. Cunningham,
 of Jefferson.

The Mogul of the Sanctum
 Sanctum Throws Down the Gauntlet to the Taxpayers.

The temperate, conservative, and apparently well considered criticism of the Commissioners' Court, contained in a report by a minority of the Grand Jury, has called forth an inspired(?) editorial in the Advocate, reeking with billingsgate, of which that sheet keeps, always, a good supply.

The Sentinel is of the opinion that the issue made by the minority report, must be fairly and squarely met; that it cannot be pushed aside so flippantly as the Advocate attempts. To say that $35,000.00 (conservatively estimated), cannot be expended for the building of a court house in Shelby county without additional taxation, and that it cannot be done without the imposition of a rate to the full, fearful limit of the Constitution, is almost a self-demonstrative proposition; and that is what the minority of the Grand Jury has called the attention of the Commissioners' Court, and those who are much more interested than they, to. For this manifestation of interest and concern in the taxpayers of the county, by citizens selected for, and charged with just duties of investigation and suggestion, the Advocate attempts to hold these conscientious gentlemen up to ridicule, contempt and derision.

This explosion of the ominous silence heretofore maintained by the Advocate on this subject—a silence ominously adhered to by the majority of the Grand Jury, who wholly beg the question; ominously preserved in the sanctum sanctum of the "present administration," so far as the ear and confidence of the interested public is concerned, brings the matter before those who are to pay the bills as a live issue; and The Sentinel believes they will begin to have something to say about it that will indicate to the "present administration," that they should have been consulted in a matter of such grave and vital importance to them. They are not going to visit their remarks and judgment upon "Messrs. Griffin and Posey," either, who, unfortunately for the people, compose the minority of the court. Nor can the Advocate, which has always been so loud in its claims as a defender of the people's rights, shift the responsibility for present conditions to their shoulders by its low-flung innuendoes, much as it would like to.

The Advocate, as usual, garbles and distorts quotations, reverses and shuffles figures, and misstates facts, to suit its purposes. The minority of the Grand Jury said: "The tax rate authorized for county purposes, we are advised (see the Commissioners' minutes), is barely sufficient to meet such purposes." Such has been history and experience since the "present administration" came into power:

such is the condition today, as shown by the Treasurer's report; such is the solemn declaration of the Commissioners' Court itself. Consolidating the Treasurer's "cash on hand," in both General and Special funds, he shows $3,181.72, while the indebtedness he places at $12,156.70, leaving the county in the lurch, according to this showing, by, approximately, $8,000.00. It is well known that this indebtedness, or a large part of it, is brought forward from last year—the day having been insufficient for the evil thereof—and is evidenced by interest-bearing warrants. It would seem from this showing, that the "legal adviser of the Big Six" is pretty well sustained by the figures furnished by the county Treasurer. Not alone does the "legal adviser" and the "Big Six" know something of the tax rate: it is a painful reality to every one who pays taxes in this county that the rate has doubled since the "present administration" began its reckless career, and we say recklessly advisedly.

The mogul has become so familiar with big figures, of late, notwithstanding they burden the wrong side of the ledger, that he looks contemptuously upon "little $25,000.00" as to "absurd and ridiculous" to be noticed. Chilton county built its court house referred to, some ten years ago, for $13,000.00, and, until now, it has well answered all purposes. With an expenditure, now, of $5,000 or $8,000, it will have provided all the additional room needed—as much, no doubt, as the "marble palace" of Shelby county will contain—and still they will be well within the limit of the "little $25,000.00." So much greater is Shelby! She must, forsooth, enclose the same space with marble walls (which will cost the taxpayers in the neighborhood of $20,000), furbelowed with columns, pillars and niches; surmounted with shining pinnacles and gilded dome, and furnished, no doubt, with quartered mahogany. "Kickers and grumblers" are expected to look in their jeans for the "little" sum to provide all this magnificence for their high-falutin' servants, but must not chirp their dissent; because the mogul is "willing to trust the commissioners," the taxpayers must not even grunt nor make a wry face, but "look pleasant, please." To recommend economy and safety to the "present administration" is "petty" and "silly"; to ask some measure of protection to those who have to pay for the extravagance of their agents and servants, is "prejudice" and "spite." This is the bald position of the Advocate, the loudly acclaimed "defender of the people's rights."

Let's take a look at the conditions pointed out by the minority of the Grand Jury: The levy of county taxes for this year, 1905, is as follows:

1st. For expenses of the county, $\frac{1}{2}$ of one per cent., or fifty cents on the hundred dollars—the Constitutional limit "for County purposes."

2nd. For balance on jail, and bridge over Kelly's creek, an indebtedness amounting to $10,500.00, exclusive of interest, one-fifth of one per cent., or twenty cents on the hundred dollars. (And bear in mind that in levying this special tax, the immaculate Commissioners' Court wrote in its minutes this language, at which the mogul now takes such umbrage when practically repeated by the minority of the Grand Jury: "And, whereas, the general levy of one-half of one per cent., heretofore provided for, will not raise more than sufficient funds to meet the other expenses of said county of Shelby, for the current year, and whereas, said county has no other funds to pay said debts," etc.)

3rd. Ten cents on the hundred dollars, special school tax (which is to continue four years, instead of three as stated by the minority of the Grand Jury).

Hence, we have a county rate of taxation of 80 cents on the hundred dollars. Twice the rate formerly levied under Democratic administrations, and, confessedly, "barely sufficient" to meet the purposes.

The only possible way to add, constitutionally, to this rate, was to contract for a public building, and this the Commissioners' Court proceeds to do; not to a reasonable extent, but as if the people of Shelby county had money to burn. Alas! for us, the Constitution authorizes a levy of 25 cents on the hundred dollars additional for this purpose. We have in view, therefore, for a long series of years, a possible and highly probable total county rate of $1.05 on the hundred. Add to this the State rate of 55 cents, and we may reasonably expect to pay, as the result of progressive(?) ideas of the "present administration," $1.70 on the hundred dollars, taxes in this county for years to come, "unless," as the minority report of the Grand Jury says, "the roads and bridges are to be entirely neglected in the future."

It may be that "the Commissioners do not contemplate levying more than one-fifth of one per cent" for the court house—the Advocate seems to have such a tip from the contemplators. It is also true, and not to be forgotten, that in the recent past this court protested that it did NOT contemplate building a court house at all; that the present substantial Temple of Justice was ample and sufficient for twenty years at least. We think the minority of the Grand Jury may rely upon it, that the contemplation of the Commissioners, and the assurances of the Advocate—the loudly acclaimed defender of the people's rights—are sufficiently discounted in the public's estimation. And its promises may be taken cum grano salis.

The Sentinel is ready to accord to the minority of the Grand Jury, in sounding the note of alarm, a high sense of duty to the public.

The Sentinel believes the question of building a court house, at something like half the cost of the one contracted for, or even \$50,000, should have been submitted to the people, and bonds issued to pay for it, at a rate of interest not to exceed 5 per cent., as limited by law, instead of building it by the ipse dixit of the Commissioners' Court, at \$85,000.00 or upwards, with warrants bearing 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., or more.

The Sentinel believes in the exercise of perfect good faith towards the people on the part of communities and public servants, as well as everybody else, and The Sentinel believes in the untrammelled right of the sovereign to call his servants to account for bad faith, broken promises and extravagance.

The minority of the people will be found with the minority of the Grand Jury.

Farmers' Union Mot.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana:

Please allow me space in your paper for a report of a meeting of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America, Shelby County Division, Oct. 20th and 21st which met with Campbranch local in delegated form.

Sixty-two delegates and twelve officers being present, also many other Union men from various parts of the county. The meeting was principally a harmonious one—very few breaks and wrangles.

An excellent dinner was prepared for the first day of the session by the good ladies of the community, and same was very much enjoyed by delegates and visitors.

One of the most important features of the meeting was the dividing of the county into four districts for business purpose, with Vincent, Columbiana, Montevallo and Pellham as business centers. A committee was then appointed to establish the district lines, and other business assigned them by the Union. Said committee is called to meet in Columbiana Saturday, October 28th, 1905.

The next County Union meeting will be held with Kingdom Valley local on Friday, December 5th, and continue until business is completed.

Now to the committee on districting the county I would suggest that as soon as the district lines are established that the committeeman from his district call a meeting for the purpose of perfecting his district organization, and transacting such other business as should come before a district union, the committeeman acting as presiding officer until permanent officers are elected.

Now to the non-union man I would say: it is high time you were getting on the inside and begin to prepare yourselves for the great fight that is now on between the oppressed and the oppressor. Get ready for the great emergencies that will confront us in the future. Don't stand back because some one said: "They won't stick; they can't be organized for business purposes," etc. The authors of such "rot" are the kind that will not stick, and if they get in at all it is in hopes of benefitting his own pocket-book and not his country and friends. Yours for the great cause.

W. E. FINLEY, Co. Sec.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

B. B. Comer has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Alabama, and says he will make an active canvass in every county in the State.

Mr. Comer is a good man, a good citizen, but in the speeches he has made over the State it is clearly shown that he has but one idea in connection with the Governorship—the regulation of railroad freight rates in Alabama. He is not broad enough for Governor of a great State like ours; he is too erratic; makes a hobby of railroad freight rates, and has almost ridden the life out of the subject. There is no doubt now that as a candidate for president of the railroad commission he had his eye upon the seat of Chief Executive of Alabama. He promised great reform in railroad rates if he was elected to the head of the railroad commission, but no reform came. Now he says "elect me Governor, give me a legislature to my way of thinking" and there will be something doing. In other words, Mr. Comer wants to be elected judge to try a case in which he is prejudiced against the defendant, and then wants the people to elect a jury equally prejudiced with himself to pass judgment upon the same case. Never in the world will Mr. Comer see a legislature to his "way of thinking" for he is too radical and unreasoning. His "way of thinking," if carried out, we believe, would be ruinous to the best interests of the State. That there is need of freight rate regulation the most optimistic will admit, but the commission for this regulation we do not believe will be given to a man with such extreme views upon the subject as has Mr. Comer.

On the other hand in Russell M. Cunningham The Sentinel believes the people have an ideal candidate. His ability to fill the office of Governor has been tested and it was not found wanting, for during the illness of Governor Jelks he presided over the affairs of the state with a master hand. He has demonstrated, thoroughly, his capacity, his statesmanship, his patriotism, his splendid judgment and general fitness for the duties of the high office he was called upon to execute for eleven months. Dr. Cunningham is in the prime of life; blessed with a vigorous constitution and physical hardihood; graced with charming manner and magnetic attributes. He has strength, endurance, energy, vim and determination, guided by an intellect that does full credit to those qualities. His honesty is simple, rugged; visible in every feature, and in every act, public or private, and he is the incarnation of sincerity and truth.

He is a forceful orator, possessing all those qualities which so readily and surely attract the people—there is nothing demagogic about him. He is ripe in experience, mature in judgment, strong in body, tireless in energy, patriotic in purpose, pure in principle. In short, he combines in himself the material of which the right kind of public servants are made. He believes in the regulation of railroad freight rates in Alabama, but he is not a one idea, a one thought man. There are other grave matters in this State which require a thoughtful, careful, judicious, fearless man to deal with, and The Sentinel believes the Democrats will nominate and the people elect Russell M. Cunningham for next Governor of Alabama.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

"CRITERION"

OVERCOATS

are the Best in the World.

We would be glad to show you what we have. We can suit you in price, and guarantee the goods.

The Best for the Money.

About That Stove?

We are now showing the largest and most complete line of stoves ever seen in Shelby county. If you want a good Range, we have it; if you want a good Cooker, we have it; and if you want a Heater, we can please you.

Milner & Christian.

ALABAMA STATE FAIR

AT BIRMINGHAM.

OCTOBER 23—NOVEMBER 2—TEN DAYS.

Including Magnificent

HORSE SHOW

CONTINUING SIX NIGHTS.

Five or More Races Each Afternoon

Witness some of the most noted Running, Trotting and Pacing Horses in the World.

Splendid exhibits of

LIVE STOCK

AGRICULTURAL AND Mineral Products, Machinery and POULTRY.

Balloon Ascension and Bomb-Bursting Parachute Leap Each Day. Reduced Rates on all Railroads.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE.

R. M. WILLIAMS, Sec'y, Birmingham, Ala.

The Best Doctor.

Rev. B. C. Horton, Sulphur Springs, Tex. writes, July 19th, 1902. "I have used in my family Ballard's Snow Liniment and Horehound Syrup, and they have proved certainly satisfactory. The liniment is the best we have ever used for headache and pains. The cough syrup has been our doctor for the eight years." Sold by William Bros.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana, Ala.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Supplement.

Columbiana, Ala., October 26, 1905.

Vol. 31, No. 8.

HOME OF WASHINGTON.

HOW WOMEN PAVED THE WAY FOR RESTORATION OF MT. VERNON

Historic Place is Now Exactly as it Looked During the Lifetime of Great Statesman-General—Thousands Visit it Annually.

The bell is tolling, the band playing "Nearer My God to Thee" and the passengers know, even before they raise their eyes to the fair sweep of Virginia's shore line, that the steamer is passing Mount Vernon. A pretty custom—the tolling of the bell and the playing of the fine old hymn. A hush falls on the crowded decks, and one feels the thrill of patriotism stirring the hearts of the people.

WASHINGTON AND LAFAYETTE.
From a Painting at Mount Vernon.

But do the thousands who annually sail down the Potomac to visit the stately home of George Washington know that to a woman's initiative is due the restoration and preservation of the beautiful Mount Vernon of to-day?

Away back in 1853 this home was in a rapidly deteriorating condition. John Augustine Washington, a son of General Washington's nephew, was the owner of the estate. The descendants of Washington evidently did not inherit the clear business sense of their illustrious ancestor, for in General Washington's time the farm yielded a handsome income. Now the fields were ly-for future generations this home of General George Washington.

In this connection it is interesting to know that during the ten-day annual meet of the Board of Regents in the month of May a banquet is given to the Governor of Virginia. After the feast is ended and the toasts are drunk, the entire association conduct the Governor about the house and grounds, that he may know, by personal observation, that the pact entered into so long ago is being faithfully kept.

It is the custom of the ladies of the association to live at Mount Vernon during the yearly session. At this time the old home wears an air of unwonted gaiety. The kitchen gives out the most appetizing odors, and stimulated to unusual activity by tales of the old days, the corp of Virginia servants are anxious to show their fitness for the honor of "servin' de ladies." Even the brick oven, a relic of colonial days, is called into use, the beautifully browned bread, pies and cakes attesting its superiority.

Thirty States Represented.

The Mount Vernon Ladies' Association is a most exclusive body. It is composed of a regent, who is president of the association, and a vice-regent from each of the States of the Union. Thirty States are now represented. The women are justly proud of the work that has been and is being accomplished, and so value their places in the council that it has become a custom for the office of vice-regent to descend from mother to daughter or other near relative. When a vacancy occurs in the council the Governor of the State is invited to nominate some prominent woman; but should the name not receive the favorable consideration of the regent and vice-regents no appointment is made until one acceptable to all is proposed.

Miss Cunningham, the first regent, lived at Mount Vernon from 1868 to 1873, when she resigned on account of ill health. She died the following year. The present regent is Mrs. Justine Van Rennselaer Townsend, of New York.

During the Civil War, though in the very midst of the conflict, Mount Vernon escaped serious injury. This was mainly due to the heroism of Miss Tracy, the secretary of the association, who took up her abode at Mount Ver-

STEM INDUSTRIAL CRASH.

STANDARD OIL MAGNATE PRE-DICTS CRISIS AND SUGGESTS PALLIATIVE MEASURES.

Would Have Nation Begin Work of Vast Internal Improvements. Ex-Premier Meline of France Also Sounds Warning.

J. H. SHANNON.

That the land is the source of all real wealth, has been said by philosophers time out of mind, and now with the urban districts draining from the country much of the flower of its manhood the cry is going up from the lips of legions of wise men, "Back to the Land!" All manner of colonization projects are being devised and tried for the purpose of diverting foreign immigration from the cities to fields and to relieve the pressure of congestion in the over-grown centers. One feature of the ominous flow of people to the cities is the phenomenal development of manufactures. There may come a time when manufactures will so overbalance agriculture that there will not be enough basic wealth produced to afford a profitable market for the factory-made goods. When the industrial situation shall become so unbalanced, a commercial crash of stupendous magnitude must ensue.

J. D. ROCKEFELLER AND HIS NEW WIG.

As Helpless Babes.

Then the city-trained men who know not how to make bread out of the soil will clamor for work, curse the economic condition of the period, denounce the state, threaten the republic with all sorts of fantastic theories, and there will be acute friction between the few rich and the multitude of poor. Gradually men will drift back to the land and learn to make their living with the plow and reaper and a satisfactory equilibrium between agriculture and manufactures will once more be reached. Before this result is attained, there will be intense suffering. Families that are in comfortable circumstances will know the meaning of misery, and families now affluent will fall into beggary. All this is not a dream. Men of clearest vision see it coming.

Rockefeller's Prophecy of Panic.

It is what Mr. John D. Rockefeller sees when he predicts, as he did in a recent interview "an industrial crisis of world-wide extent and unprecedented severity."

Mr. Rockefeller says the crisis will be brought on by overproduction in all lines. The Standard Oil magnate impends will be precipitated by overproduction of manufactured goods. He says "Consumption must have its bounds, and so with the consumption of manufactured articles. When a man has filled all his requirements in clothes and furniture a mere lowering of prices, which is all that mechanical improvements generally mean nowadays, can no longer attract him. Therefore, when the output is not restrained the market necessarily becomes choked."

Mr. Rockefeller is specific as to the time when the crash is to occur. It is likely that he errs in this, because predictions as to periods of depression and readjustment are seldom fulfilled as to dates. Crises as a rule come unexpected and the immediate reason is most apt to be due to over-expansion of credit, and overproduction of securities than to actual overproduction of goods; but when to the cause of over-expanded credits is added overproduction of manufactures and a top-sided industrial system, recovering from the crash is more difficult.

Day of Distress Near.

The richest man in America is positive, however, that the crash will come about 1907-year after next—and so sure is he that the trouble is on its way, that he is already weaving a plan to provide work for those who will be thrown out of employment, and thus ameliorate the panic. He is certain that the number of men who will need help will be about 7,000,000, and when is added to those men the number of dependents, the total is appalling. Mr. Rockefeller thinks this vast army of unemployed should be set to work by the government on internal improvements, the building of new roads, improvement of old ones, dredging of streams, irrigating land, etc. He says:

Vast Plan of Construction.

"There is enough labor today needed on the public highways to employ all the idle or surplus labor for a century. The improvement of the roads, the dredging streams, and especially of the Mississippi, where annually millions of damage is done by the overflow, the irrigation of arid lands, the preservation of forests and the drainage of the swamps are the great public problems that should be occupying the public mind. Municipal, state and national laws should be enacted now for the building of roads, so that when the industrial storm comes it will not be too late to breast it."

JULES MELINE.

It makes no difference whether Mr. Rockefeller be right or wrong in his forecast of a gathering storm, his plan for the employment of surplus labor is a practical and profitable one and his enumeration of road building, river improvement, irrigation, forest preservation and swamp draining, as well as his great national problems is philosophic. The work needs to be done, and eventually it must be done, if the United States is to progress. Waste is national loss—waste by flood and drought as well as waste by fire. Every acre of land should be made to pay. The government promotes research and experimentation in agriculture, with a view to increasing the effectiveness of tillage; there is no reason why it should not give countenance and support to reclamation of land and the enhancement of the fertility of land already under culture. It is the land—the farm, which is the pedestal of the republic.

There should be no effort to minimize the worth of manufactures—processes that work up the raw products of the earth into serviceable forms. The ores from which are obtained the metals of commerce are as much a product of the land as corn, wheat and cotton—not as primarily important, but quite as necessary to man in his present highly organized social state. It is difficult to draw the line between some of the basic manufactures and agriculture, for the iron furnaces and steel mills build the railroads and bridges which give farmers a short-cut to markets.

French Statesman Also Predicts Panic.

But the point is, that where manufactures develop out of proportion to the growth of agriculture, the world is being turned wrong side up. Mr. Meline in declaring that the overproduction of manufactures will lead to an industrial crash, says: "There is room for everyone under the sun, but on condition of sharing up the good things of the earth, instead of concentrating upon one department of activity."

THE TARIFF PROBLEM.

REVISION AND ANTI-REVISION SENTIMENTS IN WASHINGTON.

Speaker Cannon Between Two Fires Question to be a Live One During the Next Session of Congress.

It is rather amusing to those who are on the inside of the political arena in Washington to observe the manner in which discussions of the tariff are conducted throughout the country. In an academic way the theories of the tariff are talked over. But to the men on whom the real work of revising the tariff would devolve there are very different considerations to influence them. They openly declare that the tariff ought to be revised, but they say the danger to business interests would be so great that they fear undertaking it. They insist that a struggle over the schedules would last six months, and that during that time the business interests would be suffering stagnation that would afflict the country very sorely.

This view is scouted by the revisionists as one that has no standing with men who believe in doing things. They claim that if such considerations are to prevail there never could be a revision of the tariff.

So Easy To Revise.

Not long ago the difficulties in agreeing upon changes in the Dingley over the revision of the tariff. He declared that it would be an easy job.

As Simple as Can Be.

"What would you do with the tariff?" he was asked.

"Why," he replied, "it's as simple as can be. All you have to do is to lower the tariff on woolen goods and to make a big reduction in the shoe schedules. Practically that would satisfy every one, and if you did no more the country would be pleased."

The Illinois representative was informed that he had been preceded by a member from Massachusetts who thought that all that would be necessary would be to put coal, hides and wool on the free list.

"Hides on the free list!" exclaimed the Illinois speaker. "Not while I have the strength to stay here to fight it."

"Now you see what an easy thing it is to revise the tariff," said the speaker.

"If I was God," again remarked the speaker in his quaint style, "I would make some changes in the tariff. I would put them into effect before anybody knew what they were to be made. Then there would be no unsettling of business and at least some people would be happy."

Question an Absorbing One.

What alarms so many prominent protectionists is what they claim is the danger of unsettling the business conditions of the country. The theoretical adjustment of the tariff according to the principles of protection

From the Washington Post.

"Ordinarily my experience has been that bears were not greatly hurried when I suddenly came upon them."—Theodore Roosevelt in Scribner's for October.

schedules were illustrated by representatives who called on Speaker Cannon. It happened that one day a prominent Massachusetts member called to impress the speaker with the easy manner in which the tariff might be revised.

"You see," declared the Massachusetts member, "we all make too much over the difficulties in revising the tariff. It would really be very simple. We would only have to put hides, wool and coal on the free list and the country would be practically satisfied. We might do more, but that would really be enough. There could be no difficulty in coming to an agreement on that—merely a matter of a few weeks."

The speaker listened intently as he always does listen to advice. But trailing on the heels of the Massachusetts member came a representative from Illinois who also wanted to revise the tariff. He started in the same as his predecessor. He thought there was altogether too much fuss made in having very little effect on them. In fact the protectionists do not even care to discuss that phase of the question. A revision of the tariff with the declared purpose to simply lower the schedules they say would have the same effect on the country that they claim would follow an attack on the tariff principles by the free-traders. They claim that merchants would not buy goods when lower tariff rates might still further reduce the price they would have to pay. That conditions lasting six months they fear would upset all business conditions. They say it might mean panic.

But they are likely to have their views very forcibly contested by the tariff revisionists next winter. The revisionists and the men who believe in the principles of reciprocity are banding together to give battle in the halls of Congress. The citadel is now distinctly in the control of the stand-patters and it is to be seen what power the revisionists will develop in contesting their ascendancy.

House in which Washington Lived.

The Kitchen as it was a Hundred Years Ago.

ing untiled and useless, and the house and outbuildings were showing signs of the passing of the years. The glory of that splendid home was departing.

A Woman's Work.

To the great credit of John Augustine Washington it is related that he refused absolutely to consider propositions advanced by private companies and individuals to purchase the estate, to be converted later into a pleasure resort. Think of the desecration—a vaudeville performance on that magnificent stretch of lawn, waiters bearing their burdens of food and drink through those stately halls, the daily uproar of irreverent crowds.

And then came Miss Ann Pamela Cunningham, of South Carolina. She visited Mount Vernon in 1853 and was shocked and grieved at the fate in store for the historic spot. She conceived the plan of rousing the women of her beloved southland to the true state of affairs and enlisting their co-operation in the raising of a fund of $200,000, the price asked for the house outbuildings, wharfage, garden and some two hundred acres of farmlands. So she went to work, and it must be remembered that fifty years ago it took no small amount of bravery for a woman to inaugurate and carry on an undertaking of such magnitude. But after five years of effort the whole of the $200,000 was in hand. It was found impracticable to confine the propaganda to the Southern States, so the North was invited to assist, which she did in generous measure.

At the close of 1858 the Mount Vernon estate was purchased and the title passed to the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association of the Union.

Freed from Taxation.

A charter was secured from the State of Virginia, granting exemption from taxation, the association in return binding itself to the task of restoring to its original condition and preserving

OLD FASHIONED GARDEN AT MOUNT VERNON.

cles similar in design and construction, is generally understood. But every woman should know and remember that to the loyal, patriotic women of the land belongs the credit of saving from ruin and obliteration the fine old home of the Father of his country.

does not stand alone as a prophet of impending evil. Essentially the same prediction is made by Senator Jules Meline, once premier of France, and a man of keen perception, penetration and of broad understanding. This statesman says that the crisis which

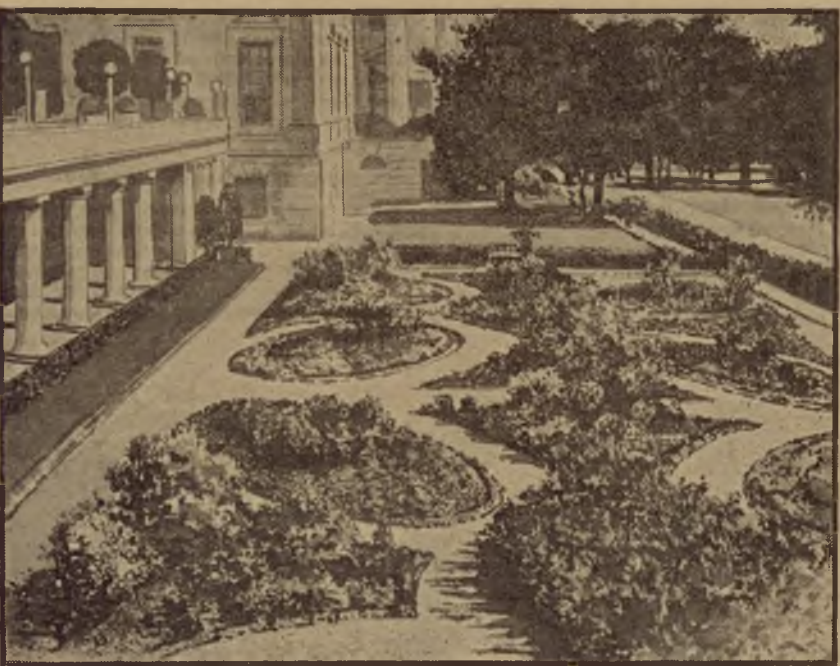

ATTRACTIVE FLOWER BED.

OLD-FASHIONED GARDEN A FAVORITE SPOT OF MRS. ROOSEVELT.

This Corner of the White House Grounds, With Its Blaze of Color, Attracts the Sight-Seeing.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Old Fashioned Garden, as the generous collection of posies west of the south veranda of the White House is called, has been a continuous mass of bloom and color during the summer and fall, quite different from any of the other Government flower displays. There are many of these, surrounding the different departmental buildings, those of the Department of Agriculture being particularly elaborate and ornate, but it is the opinion of summer visitors to Washington that the old-time corner of the mistress of the White House is the most pleasing of all. At least it seems to strike the majority of fancies, for it recalls the scenes and times of earlier days. This part of the White House grounds has always been devoted to flowers, but until Mrs. Roosevelt's advent it has been rather given up to the latest fads of horticulture than to a display of the familiar blooms of the old-time flower garden.

The changes in the White House a couple of years ago were officially known as the "restoration," but have, perhaps, been more generally termed the "mutilation." It seemed necessary that something should be done; there was talk of reconstructing the White

A FAVORITE SPOT OF THE PRESIDENT'S WIFE.

House, but the niggardly appropriations made by Congress prevented any extensive change or improvement. There has, however, been nothing but approval for the changes in Mrs. Roosevelt's garden. The location is an ideal one, somewhat sheltered and secluded, and when the President and Mrs. Roosevelt gave the garden party last spring to the International Railway delegates there were many words of praise for the charming effect of the hundreds of climbing roses, displayed in full bloom and fragrance, their vivid coloring contrasting well against the walls of the east and west terraces.

Special Floral Pets.

Particular pets of the President's wife are hardy shrubs and annuals, too, but all of the kind with which men and women who loved flowers a half century ago loved to surround themselves and with each of which for the older generation there lingers some poetic or sentimental fancy. Hollyhocks, jessamine, phlox, dahlias, China asters, lavender, rosemary, columbine, clematis, peonies and smaller shrubs and flowers have contributed generously to the riot of color and bloom which has pervaded this nook during the season. The mistress of this garden delights to pick up new plants which are yet old, and following her various visits to Arlington, Mount Vernon and other places have come many packages of new favorites to find an unused corner in this old-fashioned garden.

Does Sugar Make Strength?

Various reasons have been assigned for the increase in stature and strength of the modern maiden, who has most certainly grown uncommonly tall and proportionately muscular during the past few years, says an English writer. It cannot be that outdoor sports, gymnastic exercise and so on, have stretched her out and made her as strong as she is, because her brothers have had precisely the same advantages, and they have not developed at the same rate. It seems to me, therefore, that the secret lies in the fact, that of recent years girls have become far greater consumers of sweets than ever were their mothers and grandmothers.

Time was when we should never have dreamt of having sweets on our luncheon, dinner and tea tables. Now it would be quite extraordinary were one not to offer these dainties. And, what is more, women are not merely content to eat sweets at our meals, but they consume them at all times and in all places between meals. It was recently said that boxes of bonbons play a conspicuous part in modern love-making, "sweets to the sweet" being apparently the text by which every young man of the day guides himself through the devious paths of courtship. The great Russian wrestler who is shortly to enter again into contest with the Turk, Madral, tells us that the more sweet stuff one eats the stronger one grows. Sugar is the secret of strength, he declares.

Only a Portion of Russia.

In order to appreciate the size of Siberia one must imagine the placing of all of the States and Kingdoms, principalities and empires, etc., of Europe, excepting Russia, and all of the United States, including Alaska, in the territory occupied by that portion of Russia, and then would still have a small amount of land uncovered.

In British Columbia as in England the rule of the road is "Keep to the left and you're sure to be right."

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

American System of Public Education Far Less Practical Than That of Germany.

The general public school education of the country is complacently believed by the majority of people to be the best in the world. There are some, however, who insist that much of our education is impractical and does not fit the youth of the country for the actual hard knocks of life, and that our school system should include a much greater preparation of industrial work.

An examination of German educational methods places the United States at an apparent disadvantage in this regard. An instance of this is seen in a series of newspaper articles published in Frankfurt, Germany, by Mr. Heinrich Back, the director of the Frankfurt Industrial School, who has been twice sent by the German Government to study the industrial schools of this country. Mr. Back expresses surprise that we have not provided in our school system for training our citizens in special directions, instead of leaving the establishment of trade, industrial and technical schools to the enterprise of individuals or the generosity of philanthropy. The result is that a comparatively small number of these schools are found in certain favored parts of the United States, while in the major portion of the country little opportunity is offered boys to obtain practical and thorough instruction and to increase their value to the nation by converting themselves into trained workmen.

The German Government, on the other hand, maintains in every part of the empire good trade, industrial and technical schools, drilling the youth of the country and sending them out, each

GREAT CANALS OF MARS.

RECENT PHOTOGRAPHS ESTABLISH APPARENT ARTIFICIAL CONSTRUCTION.

The Camera's Eye, More Sensitive than the Human Optic, Establishes New Data—Interesting Scientific Discoveries.

Astronomers and scientists in general are deeply interested in the modest announcement made by Professor Percival Lowell and his associates at the Lowell Observatory in Arizona recently that after several partial successes and some complete failures the greater canals of the planet Mars had at last been photographed.

Hitherto the general public has been compelled to accept or to reject the existence of the Martian canals on the word of the stargazing fraternity. But with the accomplishment of the Harvard observers in Arizona everyone will now have an opportunity to see the actual photographs in proof of what has long been considered as more or less of a theory.

While several photographs were taken of the canals some weeks ago, it was not until a few days ago that the solar photographers were ready to announce the complete success of the undertaking. Professor Lowell, in the following account of the achievement, is unreserved in his belief that the Martian canals closely correspond to the familiar waterways of the same general classification on this planet.

Up to the present time human knowledge of Mars has been largely theoretical—the principal facts regarding the planet being that it is 141,500,000 miles from the sun and approximately 47,000,000 miles from earth. The Martian year has 687 days. Mars is 4280 miles in diameter, the earth being 7918, Jupiter 86,500 and the sun 863,400 miles.

"To photograph the canals of Mars," says Professor Lowell, "has for many years been a purpose of the observatory established and maintained by Harvard College in Arizona. The first attempt to meet with an even approximate success was made in 1901, when a more or less satisfactory print was made of the Mare Acidallum, or Lake of Acid.

"Yet, encouraging as that pioneer effort was, no canal could then be detected on the negative with absolute certainty. To-day we can state as positive and final that there are canals on Mars—because the photographs say so, and a photographic negative is nothing if not truthful.

"In my firm belief, it is only a question of time, possibly of months, maybe a few years, when we shall be able to determine the exact nature and probable purpose of the canals of our planetary neighbor. Meanwhile we have a number of excellent negatives which have served to bring us a bit closer to Mars than ever in the past.

"The negatives thoroughly confirm the eye in showing not only the existence of the canals, but reveal them as continuous lines of tens and even hundreds of miles in length. Of course it is yet impossible to say positively whether the Martian canals are artificial or natural creation, or exactly of what composition is the liquid or molten substance in them. But so far as we can at present conceive they appear as corresponding to our familiar waterways classified under the heading of canals.

Value of Advertising.

Once, beset with pain and trouble,
When the day was dreary and dark,
And I felt most weary sinking
Of my liver, lungs and heart.

In the papers I was scanning,
Advertisements by the score,
Trusting there to find some doctor
In whose ears my woes I'd pour.

Then there flashed across my vision
As it writ in living light;
Tell, oh, tell, old Doctor Cartin!
Tell, before you sleep, this night.

All your woes and all your troubles,
All your aches and every pain
He can soothe you, he can cure you;
Put new life in every vein.

And when all your troubles vanish,
And your liver works all right,
And your lungs resume their functions
And your heart with joy is bright.

Then you'll sing loud Hallelujahs,
And you'll pay your bill in gold,
Thankful that to Dr. Cartin
All your troubles have been told.

And you'll know that lucky Fortune
Made you know, at any rate,
That it pays for all to keep their Advertisements up to date.

A Few Afterthoughts.

The negro who demanded $5,000 from a New York life insurance company is to be prosecuted. This man is evidently unfamiliar with the New York methods. He should have applied for the gift through a syndicate.

A mining engineer in Guadalajara, Mexico, has found a petrified apple, 16 feet underground. This is almost as startling as the seedless apple fake.

There were 137,000 pounds of Mocha and Java coffee imported into the United States in the last six years. It seems strange that during that time grocers throughout the country have sold 3,500,000 pounds of pure Mocha and Java.

A hunting article in Scribner's Magazine, contributed by the President, says: "Ordinarily my experience has been that bears were not flurried when I suddenly came upon them." Surely the President was disguised.

The German who has built a house entirely of cork must be an Irishman.

A clever counterfeit of the ten-dollar "Buckeye" note is being passed in New York. Another indigestible security, only it has the misfortune to be technically illegal.

Hall Caine has concluded that he will not write a novel on American millionaires. He was probably unable to find one who would make a good hero.

One Purman got five years in prison for stealing a bag of wheat. He should have taken the precaution to do his business through the Chicago Stock Exchange.

Columbia University proposes to abolish hazing by expelling the hazers. The Board of Directors are to be congratulated on having thought out a bright idea.

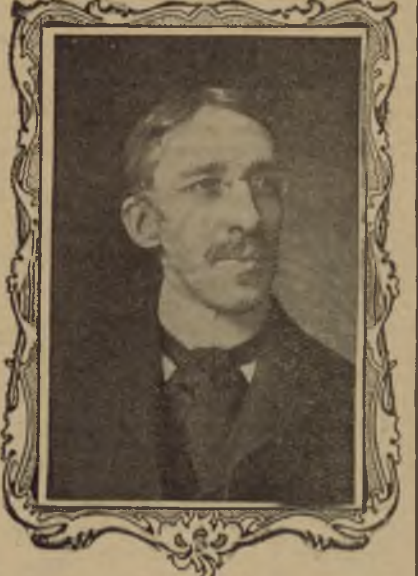

IMPLEMENT MAKERS MEET.

SHOW GREAT EXPANSION OF FOREIGN AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY TRADE.

Pass Resolutions For Land Law Reform—Against Giving Inter-State Commerce Commission Power to Fix Railroad Rates.

A recent meeting of the National Association of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers at Niagara Falls brought forth a number of interesting and important facts relative to the great progress which has been made in recent years in the making of all classes of farm and working implements and also the great expanse of this class of trade abroad.

Since 1899, when our exports in this line for the first time shot ahead of those of Great Britain, the United States has been easily the heaviest exporter of agricultural implements and machinery in the world. Manufacturers claim, and their efforts to secure foreign markets seem to substantiate it, that exports play a most important part in the successful conduct of agricultural implement manufacturing. The last census puts the annual value of this class of production at $101,000,000, and it is estimated that the present year's production is greater. This has grown from $6,000,000 in 1850. The increase in exports, however, has been far greater as we have, one after another, captured foreign markets. In 1870 we exported only a million dollars' worth of foreign implements; in 1900 we were at the $16,000,000 mark, and the high water mark was reached in 1904 with $22,700,000, or over one-fifth of the product.

Courtesy Washington Star.

JUDGE PETER S. GROSSCUP.

Much Work Ahead.

The Niagara meeting, however, brought forth the fact that there are many fields as yet unconquered by our implement makers. In sharp contrast with the brilliant success achieved by American harvesting machinery in Russia, American plows are practically unknown in that vast agricultural country. The plows used are mostly German or of local make, while the American types of light, strong plows, capable of doing almost twice the work of the Russian plows, and which have swept everything before them in South Africa and Australia, have thus far, for some reason, failed to gain an entry into Russia.

American Manufacturers Foremost.

It seems that the American implement makers are a progressive set and the secret of their phenomenal success has been in their good organization and the close study they have made of the wants of the foreign peoples. The American manufacturer has made a study of conditions and has thus beaten the Britisher with his "take it or leave it," and the German plan of making an exact imitation of the native or local implement.

The National Association of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers is an influential body and its annual meetings are participated in by some of the heaviest manufacturers in the world. It takes up, in addition to its regular business, the various broad questions of the day as they may have some direct or indirect bearing upon the prosperity of their industries. Among other questions discussed at the recent meeting were the ten-hour labor day, certain phases of the tariff, the parcel post question, ship subsidy, the railroad rate question and the repeal of the land laws. The principal discussion, as noted by the daily reports, centered around the railroad rate and land law questions and parcel post, although there was, of course, no dissent to the view that everything possible should be done to expand foreign trade.

Questions of Legislation.

Judge Grosscup of Chicago, who recently attained fame in his beef trust decision, auarressed the association upon the evils which he said would result in case the Interstate Commerce Commission was vested with power to act as both prosecutor and court, as they would if they were given power to fix railroad rates. He took strong ground against all rebates and discriminations and declared that it would be wise to replace the present machinery by a government bureau empowered to investigate all complaints, with a court of transportation to adjudge the various points raised.

Resolutions were adopted embodying this idea.

The association also indorsed the report of President Roosevelt's Public Land Commission advising the repeal of the Timber and Stone Act and changes in the Desert Land Act, and the Commutation Clause of the Homestead Act to prevent land frauds. The interest of the association in this matter and in the government irrigation work is active, since irrigation and home building on millions of acres of Western lands will furnish an unparalleled market.

The proposed parcel post legislation came in for a scoring as being inimical to independent manufacture and destroyer of the thousands of retail and even wholesale dealers throughout the country with whom the farmers do business directly and tending to further concentrate manufactures in a few great centers, and create monopolies.

SINGULARI NDIANS OF NORTH WEST.

The Marriage Contract a Complicated Document.

Many peculiar customs exist among the Kwakiute Indians who live along the coast of British Columbia. These Indians are divided into numerous tribes or clans, entry into one of which is obtained only through most exacting laws. Marriage among them is considered a purchase which is conducted on sound business principles. But the object sought is not only the woman, but also the right of membership in her clan for the future children of the couple. The privileges of the clan are not given as a present to the son-in-law, but he becomes entitled to them by paying a certain amount of property for his wife. The wife is given to him as a first installment of the return payment. The cost of the clan, its privileges, and a considerable amount of other property besides, are given later on, when the couple have children, and the rate of interest paid by the wife's tribe increases with the number of children. For one child, 200 per cent. of interest is paid; for two or more children, 300 per cent. After the entire payment is made the marriage is annulled, because the wife's father has redeemed his daughter. If she continues to stay with her husband, she does so of her own free will. Oftentimes, however, to avoid complications, the husband makes a new payment to his father-in-law in order to have a claim to his wife.

A RATTLER STORY.

Where a Miss Was as Good as a Mile.

"Being no devotee of hunting, I seldom carried anything but my revolver, while my partner, an enthusiast for any game from bear to plover, great or small, as I was the reverse, seldom stirred from the tent without his double-barrelled shotgun," said the old timer from Nevada.

"As small game was fairly plenty in that part of the Sierras Jim generally took the right-of-way, lest it might be frightened away before he had an opportunity to shoot. This afternoon, however, we were merely going a short distance up the mountain back of our tent to see that our horses had not strayed too far. The gun was taken as a matter of habit, but the prospect of meeting anything for 'Jim' to shoot was so slight that I pushed on ahead and was climbing the steep mountain side, my body inclined far forward with my head naturally but a short distance from the ground.

"A sudden sharp gun shot report roared in my ear, and I felt the wind of the blast as the charge almost grazed my cheek.

"Devilish careless, Jim," I said, angrily as I wheeled around. "Don't make game of your best friends without at least a slight warning, and don't fear but that after such a startling hint I'll always let you take the lead, though not even a chipmunk is in sight."

"The color rushed from my face and was succeeded by a blush of shame as Jim quietly pointed to the mangled body of a six-foot rattler, whose head had been shattered into a shapeless mass.

"Well," said Jim, smiling good naturedly, "your two heads were about two feet apart. A bit too close, I thought."

Agents Wanted

To Canvass for the

United States
Senator Number

NOW PUBLISHED.

The issue contains portraits of the

NINETY MEMBERS

two from each State in the Union. This collection was made from recent exclusive sittings for the

BOSTON BUDGET

The Pictures

12 x 8 inches in size

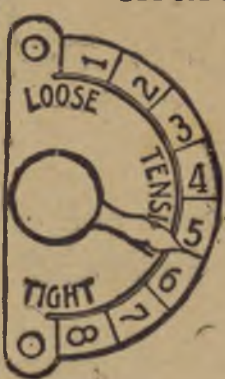

are protected by copyright and can not be reproduced legally elsewhere. The group forms the most valuable collection of statesmen ever offered to the American people. The number will be of unvalued value to individuals, schools and libraries.

Price 50 Cents Delivered

For terms and other particulars address

The Budget Company,
220 Washington Street,
Boston, Mass.

A Tension Indicator

IS JUST WHAT
THE WORD IMPLIES.

It indicates
the state

of the tension at a glance.
Its use means time saving
and easier sewing.

It's our own invention
and is found only on the

WHITE

Sewing Machine.

We have other striking
improvements that appeal to the careful buyer. Send for our elegant H. T. catalog.

WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO.
Cleveland, Ohio.

PENSIONS.

Over one Million Dollars
allowed our clients during the last six years.

Over one Thousand claims allowed through us during the last six months. Disability, Age and Increase pensions obtained
in the shortest possible time.

Widows' claims a specialty.
Usually granted within 90
days if placed with us immediately
on soldier's death. Fees
fixed by law and payable out of allowed pension. A successful experience of 25 years and benefit
of daily calls at Pension Bureau are at your service. Highest references furnished. Local Magistrates pecuniarily benefited by sending us
claims.

TABER & WHITMAN CO.,
Warder Bld'g, Washington, D. C.

Gleanings in Bee Culture

teaches you about bees, how to handle them for honey and profit. Send for free copy. Read it.
Then you'll want to subscribe. 6 months'
trial 35c. Don't delay but do it to-day.

A. I. Root Co., Medina, Ohio.

Mason & Hamlin
PIANOS AND ORGANS
STANDARD OF THE WORLD

Foster's Ideal
Cribs
Accident Proof

EXCAVATION WORK.
With Greatest Economy
use the
Western Elevating Grader
and Ditcher.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION.
Western Wheeled Scraper Co.
AURORA, ILL.

Send for Catalog.

PHOTOGRAPHERS Throw Your Bottles and Scales Away

DO YOU KNOW that dirty bottles and scales cause you trouble?
Obviate this by using our Developers, put up READY TO USE.
Simply empty our tubes into the developing tray and add the water—we don't charge you for the latter. Large quantities of developer made up at one time oxidize and spoil. With our developers you only make up enough for immediate use.

Send 25 cents for half a dozen tubes sufficient for 24 ounces of developer for Velox, Azo, Cyko, Rotox, or other papers, or 60 ounces of Plate and Film Developer—a Developer which will not stain the fingers or nails, and is non-poisonous. We have a Sepia Toner for gaslight papers, 6 tubes, 25c.

NATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHIC CHEMICAL COMPANY
11th St. and Penn Ave.,
Washington, D. C.

THE LEGEND OF TAHOE

The old Indian woman glanced furtively at the distant sky line, and then centered her gaze upon the deep crystal waters of the lake. The Ong? she said. I will tell you of the Ong. The Ong was a huge bird, greater than the houses of the white men. Its body was like the eagle's, and its wings were longer than the tallest pines. Its face was that of an Indian, but covered with hard scales, and its feet were webbed. Its nest was deep down in the bottom of the lake out in the center, and out of the nest rushed all of the waters which fill the lake. There are no rivers to feed the lake, only the waters from the Ong's nest. All the waters flow back near the bottom, in great under-sweeps, and after passing through the meshes of the nest are sent forth again. Every plant and bird and animal that gets into these under-currents, and sometimes even the great trout are swept into the meshes of the nest and are there held fast to furnish food for the Ong.

He ate everything, he liked everything, but best of all he liked the taste of human flesh. No one ever heard or saw anything of such poor warriors around the council fire. All day long he had been sitting alone on the jutting cliffs which overhang the water, far away from the laughter and shouts of the camp, eagerly, prayerfully watching the great lake. Surely the Great Spirit would hear his prayer and give him the moment he longed for, yet he had been here for days and weeks in unavailing prayer and waiting.

The afternoon was well-nigh spent, and the heart of the young brave had grown cold as stone. In his bitter despair he sprang to his feet to defy and curse the Great Spirit to whom he had trusted, but ere he could utter the words his very soul stood still for joy. Slowly rising from the center of the lake, he saw the dreaded Ong. Circling high in the heavens like a vast shapeless thunder-cloud, black as the night the monster swept, now here, now there in search of prey. The young brave stood erect. When the Ong was nearest, he waved his arm to attract its notice. He had not long to wait. With a mighty swoop and an awful rushing noise the bird dashed to earth, and as it swept upward, the young brave was seen by all to be mortals as were drowned in these waters, for their bodies were carried to the Ong's nest and no morsel ever escaped him. Sometimes he would fly about the shores in quest of some child, or woman or hunter, yet he was a great coward, and was never known to attack anyone in camp, or when two or more were together. No arrow could pierce his feathers, nor could the strongest spear do more than glance from the scales on his face and legs, yet his craven's heart made him afraid, for his toes had no claws, and his mouth no beak.

THE GREAT ONG.

Late one fall the Washoe Indians were making their final hunt before going to the valleys and leaving the lake locked in its winter snows. The Chief's daughter was sixteen years old, and before leaving the lake he must select the greatest hero in the tribe for her husband, for such had been the custom of Washoe chiefs ever since the tribe came out of the Northland. Fairer than ever Indian maiden had been was this daughter, and every unmarried brave and warrior in the tribe wished that he had performed deeds of greater prowess, that he might be certain of winning the prize. That last night at the lake, around the big council fire, each was to smoke the pipe and recount to the Chief the noblest achievement of his life, and when all were heard, the Chief would choose, and the women join the circle and the wedding take place. For many years the warriors had looked forward to this event and the tribe had become famed because of acts of reckless daring performed by those who hoped to wed the Chief's lovely daughter.

It was the morning of the final day, and much game and great stores of dried trout were packed ready for the journey. All were preparing for the wedding festivities, and the fact that no one knew who would be the bridegroom among all that mighty band of warriors, lent intensest excitement to the event. All were joyous and happy, except the maiden and the handsome young brave to whom she had given her heart. In spite of custom or tradition, her love had long since gone out to one whose feet had been too young to press the war path when last the tribe gave battle to their hereditary foes, the Plutes. He never had done deed of valor, nor could he even claim the right to sit with the

SIX HUNDRED DOLLAR BILLS.

How An Innocent Man was Suspected.

A little story was told at the New Willard Hotel in Washington the other day by a New Yorker who was traveling on a Pullman car between St. Louis and his home, which goes to show the danger of convicting a man on circumstantial evidence. The principal figure in this incident was not convicted, but had it not been for a fortuitous circumstance it might have gone hard with him.

"It seems that one of the occupants of the car on getting out of his berth to dress missed his vest, which was a rather serious affair, inasmuch as it contained in an inside pocket a roll of money which consisted of six brand-new $100 bills.

"A little later he picked up the garment on the floor, but on searching, the roll of money was gone. It was a clear case of robbery, and the man naturally raised an excited outcry, which drew the attention of all his fellow-travelers. Early in the game the proposition to search everybody in that coach was made and adopted. He but a single dissenting voice. One man stood out fiercely and indignantly against it, and said that he would never consent to such an indignity, but would oppose it with all the force he could employ.

"This man was at once an object of suspicion, and many whispers directed at him went around. Every other individual aboard voluntarily submitted to being searched, yet nothing was seen of the stolen bills. At this point some amateur Sherlock Holmes cornered the porter, and by adroit questions and threats made that rascally employe own up to the theft, and also made him disgorge $5000 in handsome notes that appeared to be right from the Printing Bureau. The owner of the money was overjoyed and all hands congratulated him on recovering his money.

"About this time the obdurate gentleman who had resolutely declined to be searched secured the floor. 'Now, my friends,' said he, 'I will tell you why I risked your suspecting me of the theft,' and what did this man do but go down in his hip pocket and fetch up a roll of money that he counted out in our presence, and, as sure as I am a living man, in this roll there were just six—no more and no less—brand-new bills, each of $100 denomination. Positively there was no way of telling them from the bills that had been recovered. Then we all knew why he had declined to be investigated."

Brief Thanks to the Ladies.

Jonesboro (Ark.), Evening Sun.

The members of the Citizen's Band ask the ladies who gave the supper for the benefit of the band on Wednesday night, August 9, to please accept their sincere thanks. It is the wish of every member that when these good ladies have done all the good deeds here that God would have them do, that they be gathered home to join the heavenly band, where all be joy, happiness, and good music, which all who live as these good ladies have lived shall enjoy, and may the influence of these good ladies ever guide the members of the Citizen's Band to a higher stand of morality and fame, and may we never cease striving until we have reached the topmost round of the ladder of fame, when God, in His wisdom, shall call us home, and when we have played our last tune here on earth, may we be gathered with these good ladies around God's throne, where we can play on God's instruments of gold, where our music will be sweeter, through the ceaseless ages of eternity.

and the darkness crept over the lake, and into the darkness the Ong vanished.

The women had been long in their huts ere the council fire was kindled, and the warriors gravely seated themselves in its circle. The loss of a young brave could not be allowed to interfere with so important an event as the marriage choice, and from most of their minds he had vanished. It was not so very unusual for the Ong to claim a victim, and besides, the youth had been many times warned by his elders that he should not go hunting alone as had been his habit of late.

But while the warriors were working themselves up to a frenzy of eloquence over their bygone deeds of daring, an Indian maiden was paddling a canoe swiftly and silently toward the middle of the lake. Nona, the Chief's daughter, understood no more than the rest why her lover had not been dropped into the lake, nor why the Ong had acted so queerly, but she knew that she could die with her lover. She took her own frail canoe because it was so light and easy to paddle, though it was made for her when a girl, and would scarcely support her weight now. It mattered nothing to her if the water splashed over the sides; it mattered nothing how she reached her lover. She kept saying his name over softly to herself. "Tahoe! My own Tahoe!"

When the council had finished, the old women went to the Chief's hut to bid his daughter come and hear the decision her father was about to render. Their consternation was great, nor did the tribe rest until the rosy dawn tinged the Washoe peaks and disclosed to the warriors the vast body of the Ong floating on the waters above its nest, and beside it a tiny, empty canoe. But gently approaching the shore was the stranger craft that ever floated on water. It was one of the Ong's great wings, and the sail was the tip of the other wing! Standing upon it clasped in each other's arms, was the young brave Tahoe and the daughter of the chief. In the shouts of the tribeshouts in which warriors and women and children mingled their voices with that of the great Chief, Tahoe knew that he was the hero, and that Nona was his bride. The decision was rendered, but the Ong's nest still remains, and to this day the drowned never rise in Lake Tahoe.

CHICKAMAGUA ANNIVERSARY.

One of the Great Battles of the Rebellion—Tragic Death of Post-Soldier General Lytle.

Forty-two years ago the latter part of September was fought and won by Rosecrans the great battle of Chickamagua.

Chattanooga, the objective point of the campaign, has been well considered the very gateway of the entire South. Bragg, in command of the Confederate force, was outwitted and outmaneuvered, and the town of Chattanooga fell into Federal hands, entirely by strategy.

Chattanooga was then but a poor, struggling village, never having been even heard of by one in a thousand of those who composed the Northern army. It is now a wealthy, prosperous city of over 60,000 inhabitants and the home of many Northern families. An electric line runs from the city to Chickamagua Park every 30 minutes.

The celebration of the anniversary of the battle, from the 19th to the 23d of September, where the tales of the campfire and the picket line were once more recounted, has been of surprising interest to thousands of old veterans and their quondam foes.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL WM. H. LYTLE.

The battle of Chickamagua, which followed Chattanooga, was most desperately contested on both sides.

Bragg was reinforced by a veteran corps from Virginia, under Longstreet, and Buckner's Corps from East Tennessee, until his forces outnumbered Rosecrans by over 12,000, and yet the Northern army, by wise and vigorous marching day and night over mountains and through passes, and by the concentration of widely scattered forces, inflicted such terrible losses that Bragg was incapable of any but the most cautious following when Rosecrans fell back to occupy Chattanooga, for which he had been contending.

Among the many brave officers on both sides who gave up their lives for their beloved causes there was none braver, none more mourned than the Union Brigadier-General, Wm. H. Lytle. About to give the order to charge, he was struck in the head by a bullet and fell dying in the arms of his aid.

His poem of "Anthony and Cleopatra," generally believed to have been composed the night before the battle, but which, as a matter of fact, was an earlier production, has been classed as one of the most masterly lyrics in American poetry.

I Am Dying Egypt, Dying.

I am dying Egypt, dying,
Ebbes the crimson life-tide fast,
And the dark, Plutonian shadows
Gather on the evening shades.
Let thine arm, oh! Queen, support me.

Hush! thy sobs and howl thine ear,
Hearken to the great heart secrets,
Thou, and thou alone, must hear.

Though my scarred and veteran legions
Bear their eagles high no more,
And my wrecked and shattered galaxies

Strew dark Actium's fatal shore;
Though no glittering guards surround me,
Prompt to do their master's will,
I must perish like a Roman—
Die, the great Triumvir still.

Let not Caesar's servile minions
Mock the lion thus laid low;
'Twas no foeman's hand that slew him.

'Twas his own that struck the blow.
Here, then, pillowed on thy bosom,
Ere his star fades quite away,
Him who, drunk with thy caresses,
Madly flung a world away!

Should the base plebeian rabble
Dare assail my fame at Rome,
Where the noble spouse, Octavia,
Weeps within her widowed home;
Seek her—say the Gods have told me,
Altars, Augurs, circling wings,
That her blood with mine commingled.

Yet shall mount the throne of kings.

And for thee, star-eyed Egyptian!
Glorious sorceress of the Nile,
Light the path to stygian honors
With the splendors of thy smile.
Give the Caesar crowns and arches,
Let his brow the laurel twine;
I can scorn the Senate's triumphs,
Triumphing in love like thine.

I am dying Egypt, dying!
Hark! insulting foeman's cry:
They are coming—quick, my falchion!
Let me front them ere I die.
Ah! no more amid the battle
Shall my heart exulting swell;
Isis and Osiris guard thee,
Cleopatra! Rome! farewell!

Nursery Nonsense.

Two magpies sat on a garden rail
As long ago as a week;
And one little magpie wagged his tail
In the other little magpie's beak.
Then doubling like a fist his little claw hard
Said the other "Upon my word,
This is more than flesh and blood can stand
From magpie or other bird."
So they picked and they scratched each other's eyes
Till all that was left on the rail
Was the beak of one of the little magpies,
And the other little magpie's tail.

COFFEE

DOES

HURT

Make the trial yourself—leave off
Coffee 10 days and use

POSTUM

FOOD COFFEE

in its place.

That's the only way to find out.

Postum is a sure builder and when you cut out the coffee and use Postum instead, you get a taste of health, for the aches and ails begin to leave. You may THINK you know, but you don't until after the trial. Remember

"There's a Reason."

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

THE RACYCLE SPROCKETS

Like No. 2 Grindstone are Hung Between the Bearings

No. 1 (Bicycles) No. 2 (Racycle)

Which Stone will Turn Easier?

The Racycle Rides Further with one-quarter less work

MIAMI CYCLE & MFG. CO.
MIDDLETOWN, OHIO.

OLDSMOBILES

THE CAR

for 1905

THAT GOES

Highest Workmanship.

Lowest Prices.

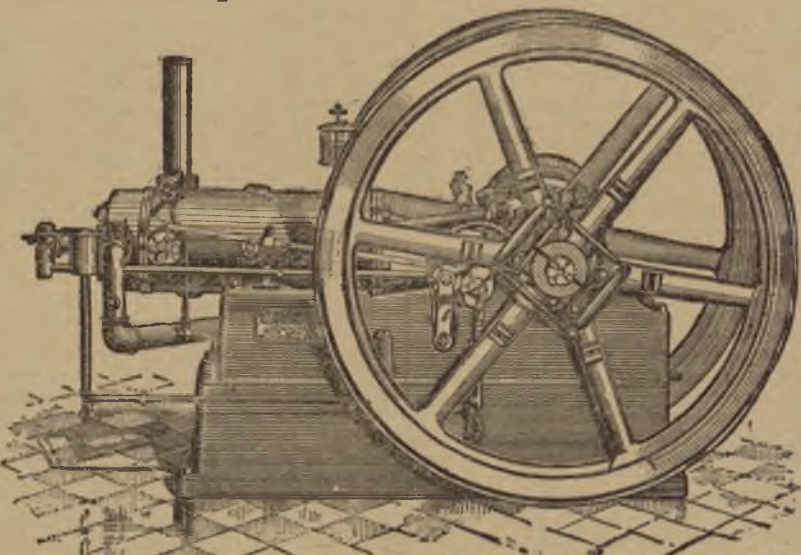

Cars for Immediate Delivery.

Olds Motor Works
DETROIT, MICH.

International Harvester Co.

GASOLINE ENGINES

When equipped with an I. H. C. gasoline engine, the farm, the dairy, the mill, the threshing machine, or the husker and shredder can be operated more economically than with any other power. Farmers who have water to pump, wood to saw, feed to grind or corn to shell, can do this work at a minimum cost with I. H. C. engines.

I. H. C. HORIZONTAL ENGINE

I. H. C. gasoline engines are made in the following sizes: 2, 3 and 5 H. P., vertical type, stationary; 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, stationary; and 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, portable.

WRITE FOR GASOLINE ENGINE BOOKLET.

International Harvester Co. of America
(Incorporated)

7 Monroe Street

Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.

Basket-Willow Growing

INDUSTRY BEING FOSTERED BY DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

BY ELLIOTT MITCHELL.

Secretary Wilson's statement that there are no bad acres in the United States is again brought to light through the efforts of the Department of Agriculture to induce more general attention to the culture of the basket willow. There are very many farms in this country which contain some low land, and through which runs a small stream. This portion of the farm is too often allowed to run to waste, dense growths of weeds and scrub prospering in the rich, moist soil, and the locality rarely visited by the farmer except when in search of some stray cattle which have come down to the brook for a drink.

Although introduced in this country as early as 1840, willow growing in America occurs only in restricted localities throughout a relatively small portion of the country. On account of the isolation of these groups of growers with little or no connection, and because the growers are not in touch with basket makers, there has been little chance for improvement.

bundles of these cuttings should then be kept in running water until small leaves or sprouts appear, when they will be ready to peel.

Pretty White Willows.

Willows thus peeled are of a fine white color, while those which undergo steaming or boiling for the removal of the bark are of a dark color, being stained by coloring matter contained in the bark; but experience has shown that the articles made of boiled willow are much more durable than those made from the white rods of spring peeling. The operation is so simple that old persons incapable of arduous labor can make fair wages doing this sort of work.

And yet, the farmer may ask, is there a market for willow ware in this country? The United States consumes the largest amount of willow ware of any country in the world. From one district in Germany alone, as far back as 1893, in spite of the panic existing at that time, $230,000

Chemist Wiley on Pure Food.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the chief of the Bureau of Chemistry of the Department of Agriculture, has just returned from a tour of the British Isles, France and Germany, where he has been studying the preparation of food products—packing, shipping, and human consumption of foods. Dr. Wiley is a pure food man. He believes that we should all have pure food, or at least know what it is adulterated with, and he is one of the most active advocates in the country of national pure food legislation.

"The question of pure food," he said, "is one that should be better understood, and more actively engaged in by people generally. We have secured legislation enabling us to prevent the importation of impure and harmful foods, but the people are apparently careless in regard to domestic manufacture. There is one feature of the pure food investigation which appeals to me beyond all others—the effect of impure foods on invalids. People who are under the care of a physician, and are compelled to eat prepared foods should know at least what they are getting. If the foods which they buy as 'pure,' are found upon analysis to contain ingredients which have proven harmful to them, they should have some recourse at law to punish the maker of this fraudulent food. A simple instance is sufficient to illustrate the point. There is at this time a great demand for gluten flours. They are recommended for certain diseases, and there are various preparations on the market which are sold at high prices. Many of the so-called gluten flours contain but a small percentage of pure gluten; they are 'filled' with chalk and starchy substances, and are not at all what is claimed for them. This is one example; a hundred others could be named."

WILLOW IN THE PIT, SPROUTED, READY FOR PEELING.

GIANT KANSAS CORN.

Exciting Experiences of Boy Lost in Field of Growing Grain.

A report which seems to have come from the Portland Exposition states that a great object of curiosity there is a corn stalk of mammoth size reaching almost up to the very roof of the agricultural building. The history of the stalk is perhaps as marvelous as the object itself.

It appears that prior to the last hot wave which swept over the country, a farmer in Kansas sent his fifteen-year-old son out to take a look over the corn field and notify him of the prospects. In order to do this the son went to the implement shed which this wise farmer had provided and procured a ladder with which he climbed one of the cornstalks. After surveying a fine growth of corn for miles around, the boy started to climb down, but in his excitement at the prospects of the golden harvest which his father would reap, he had failed to notice the rapidity of the growth of the stalk which he had ascended. As quickly as he stepped down, so much more rapidly the stalk seemed to grow, and he was no nearer the bottom than when he started.

PEELED WILLOWS.

His father, noting the absence of his son, saw that it would be useless for him to hunt through the jungle of waving corn, so he climbed to the top of his windmill and his anxious eyes beheld his boy waving his red bandana in despair. Hastily summoning his neighbor and his other two sturdy sons, they proceeded with axes to chop down the wicked stalk. Their axes, however, failed to find the same mark twice, so rapidly did the stalk shoot upward. Night came on without their accomplishing anything and the boy was left to what appeared to be a terrible fate. Like most Kansas boys, however, he was awake to all his opportunities, and existed for a long time on the raw corn, having consumed so much that he later notified his parents by means of a message written on one of the dried corn leaves that he was getting so fat there was danger of the stalk breaking with his weight. He wrote that he believed a more balanced ration would relieve his fears, suggesting the planting of beans at the base of the cornstalk as an expedient.

However, before the beans could secure enough growth, the drought came on and stopped the growth of the stalk and the boy was enabled to climb down, thus saving his life. As mementos of the occasion, the lad gathered up the corn cobs which he had thrown down from his lofty seat, amounting to something over four bushels and a peck, and on these he has been working, turning them into corn-cob pipes which he is exhibiting at the Truth Bureau of the Portland Exposition.

Prior to 1789 the Speaker of the House of Commons was paid a salary of 5 pounds a day and a fee of 5 pounds on every private bill passed.

CONTROL OF CANAL MATTERS.

Transfer to the State Department Under Secretary Root.

It seems to be generally accepted that the control of all matters in connection with the construction of the Panama canal is to be transferred from the War Department to the State Department. Under the law the work is to be performed under the direction of the President, and he originally intrusted it to Secretary Taft on the general ground that all national engineering works were properly the business of the War Department. It is now realized that Secretary Taft has a great deal more than his proportionate share of the government work and responsibility, and it is with a view of relieving him of a portion of his official burdens that the President suggested the advisability of the transfer of the Panama Canal work to the State Department.

From Washington Post.

Secretary Root's acceptance of the trust would enable Secretary Taft to devote more of his time to the consideration of important questions affecting the government of the Philippines and the business of the army generally. It is known that Secretary Taft has no personal ambitions in connection with the Panama canal work, and is entirely willing, as a matter of general expediency, that its supervision should be transferred to Secretary Root as the head of the State Department.

Secretary Root, however, with all his ability for hard work, is understood to have no hankering after the canal job.

THE FLOOD OF NOAH.

Geology Proves the Foundation of the Biblical Account.

There are Biblical doubters who scoff at the idea that there ever was a great flood, yet the testimony of the geologists, to say nothing of Ignatius Donnelly's theory of the submerged continent of Atlantis, proves that at one time the entire earth's surface was covered with water. Professor Wright of Oberlin, who has made geology a life study, brings us new light upon the subject. In writing on the subject of the "Contributions of Geology to the Creditability of the Flood" he states that the level of the land changes constantly. The highest mountains were once below the sea-level, as is proven by the finding of sea-shells on the summits of the highest peaks. All of Central Asia was once covered by water and is now drying up. In fact the drying out process has been going on for thousands of years. The Turkestan and Siberian low-lands were once submerged, while evidence is shown that the Desert of Gobi was once a body of water equal to the Mediterranean in size and depth.

The valley of the Jordan in ages back was covered with water to a depth of from 1,000 to 1,400 feet, while changes of level and climate in Asia seem to prove that the Deluge once passed over the entire country.

Uncle Sam's "Conscience Fund."

The conscience fund of the Treasury is not, as is popularly supposed, an idle fund which is added to from time to time, lies dormant, and is never used. Contributions to this so-called fund are turned into the regular government receipts and on the books appear under the heading "To Account Conscience." This account was opened by the United States government in 1811. It would not be fair to infer from this fact that the American conscience had its awakening at so late a date in the country's history, but that year witnessed the first return to the government, as the result of the "still, small voice," of money of which it had been defrauded some time before.

President Madison found on his desk one morning an unsigned letter in which the writer confessed to defrauding the government of $2, for which his conscience had made him suffer sorely. This amount was enclosed with the request that it be turned into the National Treasury, the writer expressing the hope that this full restitution and repentance would restore a clear and easy conscience. Contributions have since been received varying in amounts from a 2-cent postage stamp to ten thousand dollars or more.

Up to date the amount received from those who have defrauded the government and become conscience-stricken is over $400,000.

A Very Accurate Description.

Hon. George S. Legare, a member of Congress from South Carolina and a graduate of a Washington law school, has a sense of humor and enjoys a good joke even at the expense of the members of his profession. He does not uphold the "smart" lawyer and tells of a case in his native city of Charleston where a pettifogging attorney was cross-examining an old negro witness.

After asking the old darkey a number of catch questions in an endeavor to confuse him, he finally asked the witness his occupation.

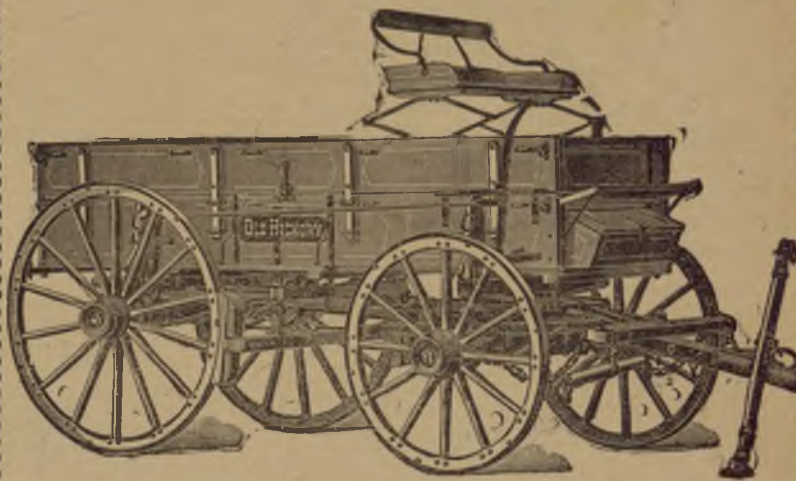

"Use a calphentah, sah."
"What kind of a carpenter?"
"Dey calls me a jack-leg calphentah."
"What is a 'jack-leg' carpenter?"
"He's a calphentah 'what ain't a fust-class calphentah, sah!"
"Well, explain fully what you understand a 'jack-leg' carpenter to be," insisted the lawyer.

"Boss, 'deed Ah claim to goodness Ah dunno how ter 'splain any mo' 'bout a jack-leg calphentah 'cep'tin' hit am jes' de same diffunce as dey is betwix' you an' a fust-class lawyah, sah!"

NO OTHER WAGONS APPROACH

In Perfect Adaptability Under all Conditions to

The Strong Old Hickory

MANUFACTURED BY

Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Co.
LOUISVILLE, KY.

LARGEST PRODUCERS OF FARM WAGONS IN THE WORLD

Kirk's

AMERICAN CROWN

SOAP

is a green soap, consistency of paste, a perfect cleanser for automobile machinery and all vehicles; will not injure the most highly polished surface. Made from pure vegetable oils. If your dealer does not carry American Crown Soap in stock, send us his name and address and we will see that your wants are supplied. Put up in 12 1/2 and 50 lb pails.

James S. Kirk & Company
CHICAGO, ILL.

BOOKS BOOKS

We have published some good ones specially suited for farmers. Books that will help every farmer to make more out of his farm. Write for our catalogue.

WEBB PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Paul Minn.

Well Drilling Machines

Over 70 sizes and styles for drilling either deep or shallow wells in any kind of soil or rock. Mounted on wheels or sills. With engines or horse powers. Strong, simple and durable. Any mechanic can operate them easily.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE
WILLIAM BROS., Ithaca, N. Y.

Repeaters

are the original solid top and side ejectors. This feature forms a solid shield of metal between the shooter's head and the cartridge at all times, throws the empties away from him instead of into his face, prevents smoke and gases from entering his eyes and lungs, and keeps the line of sight unobstructed. The MARKLIN action works easily and smoothly, making very little noise. Our new automatic recoil-operating locking device makes the MARKLIN the safest breech-loading gun ever built. 20-page catalogue, with illustrations, cover in nine colors, mailed for three stamps. The MARKLIN Fire Arms Co., New Haven, Conn.

A Quarter of a Century of unfailing service

proves the
ABSOLUTE RELIABILITY
of the

Remington

TYPEWRITER

WYCKOFF, SEAMANS & BENEDICT
337 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

Sandwich

SELF FEED FULL CIRCLE TWO HORSE

HAY PRESS

The Baler for speed. Bales 12 to 18 tons a day. Has 40 inch feed hole. Adapted to bank barn work. Stands up to its work—no digging holes for wheels. Self-feed Attachment increases capacity, lessens labor, makes better bales and does not increase draft.

Send for Catalogue

SANDWICH MFG. CO.,

124 Main Street, Sandwich, Ill.

SILOS

Pine, Fir, Cypress and Yellow Pine.
Write for Catalogue.

Eagle Tank Co., 281 N. Green St.,
Chicago, Ill.

IF YOU WANT A JACK

Send for our Jack Catalogue. Sure to contain the description of exactly what you want.

Hydraulic Jacks our Specialty

Watson-Stillman Co.,
46 Dey St., N. Y. City.

The Missoula Nursery

Producers of Northern grown acclimated trees and the best varieties for planting in Northern States.

Every Variety of Standard Fruit

Thoroughly tested Apples, Pears, Plums, Cherries and Trees Ornamental, Small Fruit Plants, Shrubs, Vines and Roses.

THE EVERBEARING STRAWBERRY

A SPECIALTY OF

FLOWERING PLANTS AND SHRUBS

Cut Flowers and Floral Designs. Also Vegetable Plants shipped by express. Catalogue and Price List Free.

Mail orders have prompt attention.

MISSOULA NURSERY CO.

MISSOULA, MONTANA.

American Baskets Made in Richmond, Virginia.

Peeling Green Willow for Basket Work.

While this is not true of the conditions in western New York, the trade there demands only the cheapest grade of the steamed willow. But steam-peeled rods have a dark color, and hence cannot be used for fine baskets.

Willows Grow on Corn Land.

The general idea is that willows will grow only on very swampy ground, but experience shows that all serious attempts made on well-drained soil, even though of poor quality, have been successful. The ground is prepared just the same as it would be for corn or wheat. Willow planting generally is done in the autumn; should be in rows, the sets or cuttings, according to older methods being placed about ten inches in length and planted in the ground until about only an inch and a half protrudes above the ground. Almost without exception through the country, willows are planted from 9 inches to a foot apart in rows 2 1/2 feet to a yard distant from one another, thus allowing from about 14,000 to 23,000 to the acre. This method of wide planting is followed for several reasons, it of course being cheaper to plant fewer cuttings, and the cost of cultivation being reduced, the wide rows allowing for the use of a plow. It is also understood and held by the higher authorities that the more shoots from a stool or stump, the greater the yield. Where the cuttings have been planted on meadow or corn land, the first year the rows are hoed two or three times, and later run through with a light plow. In later years only the plow is used. On bottomland, however, they are only cultivated once, and therefore only grassed with a sickle.

A WILLOW SWAMP.

To Produce Straight Rods.

The Department of Agriculture has found that though there may be objection to close planting on account of increased cost and greater amount of cultivation necessary, both a heavier yield and longer, more even-sized and better rods are obtained—straighter, less branched, and less tapering. While a yield of four tons of green rods per acre may be obtained in twelve years where the holts are planted in rows three feet apart, with a distance of one foot between holts, over six tons are obtained from an acre planted 2x9 inches, in only ten years. The Department also advises that the cuttings should be not less than twelve inches in length, and planted with the buds pointing upward, and that when placed in the ground each cutting should be perfectly perpendicular. When willows are planted close together all weeds and grass, the foes of the willow, should be kept out.

Osiers should be cut the first year, even if no valuable material can be obtained, for if this is delayed until the second year, there is apt to be a tendency to branch, so that less valuable material can be cut. This cutting should be done during the winter, from November 1 to March 1, and as near the ground as possible. The poultry lower this winter than they have been for some time, owing to the heavy grain crops. Fattening cattle on corn at 50 cents a bushel, he said, is not a profitable performance, and that is what the farmer has been doing for the past three years; but with this year's grain crops, the farmer should find at the end of the season that his margin of profit is greater, and in the due course of events, meats should be cheaper.

MAKING WILLOW HAMPER.

To Make Old-Fashioned Yeast.

Boil two ounces of the best hops in four quarts of water for half an hour; strain and let the liquor cool down to the warmth of new milk, then put in a small handful of salt and half a pound of sugar, beat up one pound of the best flour with some of the liquor and then mix well all together. Let this mixture stand until the third day, then add three pounds of potatoes, boiled and mashed, let it stand a day longer, stirring frequently and keeping it near the fire in an earthen vessel, then strain and put in bottles and it is ready for use. The advantage of this yeast is that it ferments spontaneously not requiring the aid of other yeast. If well cooked and kept in a cool place, it will keep six months or more. It has been thoroughly tested and never fails to make delicious light bread.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Phone 20

Call us up

FIRST and best of fall goods, prove their worth in every way. Values that you cannot fail to see. Made for you the way you want it. Satisfaction is a part of the bargain. Come here first and you'll go no further. We don't sell what we can't recommend. 'Nuff said.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months.....50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

This is the fourth and last week of Circuit Court for this term.

Hon Webb Shortridge, of Bessemer, was in the city several days last week.

Big and little John Pearson, of Bridgeton, are in the city attending court.

Judge Peters visited his children in Montevallo last Friday and Saturday.

If you think it is an easy thing to do, just try to rent a house in Columbiana.

Clarence Smith was down from Wilsonville last Sunday to see his friends.

We know of two or three business changes to occur about the first of the new year.

Contractor-Saxon & Johnson are pushing the work on L. E. Christian's new home.

Mrs. Edgar Cary and Miss Tabor Cary returned to their home in Keystone last Friday.

J. H. Fulton, of Saginaw, was among the callers at The Sentinel office last Thursday.

Mrs. I. W. Bailey, of Calera, was visiting her mother, Mrs. Weaver, a day or two last week.

There was a big crowd in town all day Saturday, and our merchants enjoyed a fine trade.

Philip Shriner and Minor Hendrick, of Montevallo, were in the city last Sunday visiting friends.

J. M. Kidd, of Vincent, was in the city this week attending court. We acknowledge a call from him.

The Sentinel has a nice order for commercial stationery from Montevallo's new druggist, J. R. Irby.

T. J. Weaver is soon to begin the erection of a five room residence. W. W. Albright has the contract.

Mrs. M. T. Wood, who visited a week with her sister, Mrs. Mansfield, in Anniston, returned home last Thursday.

Quite a number of our people went over to Shelby to hear Helen May Butler's band. They report the music fine.

Mr. Possum and his whole family have been kept on the move during the past week, dodging the hunters and dogs.

The new cottages in course of erection on East College street are but a fore-runner of the building fever in Columbiana.

Some of our northern friends must have left the refrigerator door open last Friday. Result: a wind with a Manitoba temperature.

The Sentinel received a pleasant call from Burr Nabors, of Maylene, Monday. He had been summoned to serve on a special jury during this week of court.

The Queen Insurance company of America certainly wastes no time in settling claims against it for loss by fire. Within ten days after Mrs. McCauley's residence burned in Montevallo, the adjustment had been made and she had received her money. J. M. Reynolds is the agent for this company at Montevallo, and if you are in need of insurance it might be to your interest to see him.

The Sentinel's job department has recently printed the by-laws of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias lodges of Columbiana, and now has in press the by-laws of the Montevallo Masonic lodge. We are especially prepared for this kind of work.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Farley recently made a trip to Birmingham to confer with an oculist regarding an affection of Mrs. Farley's eyes. Her friends will be glad to know that the trouble is only a local one, brought on by a severe cold.

Rev. G. T. Harris, who is holding a protracted meeting in Shelby, writes The Sentinel to announce that there will be services in the Methodist church here next Sunday morning and night. All are cordially invited.

R. E. Bowdon, of Keystone, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of this county, was in town attending court last Thursday and Friday. He dropped into The Sentinel office one day and chatted a little while.

Miss Annie Finley has been quite sick at the home of W. L. Farley for the past week, but we are glad to state she is improving. Her place in the bank is being supplied by Mrs. H. M. Roberts.

The attention of our readers is called to the change in the advertisement of Thompson & Riddle on the first page. The farmers will be especially interested in what they have to say.

Mrs. S. V. McCauley, Miss Ethel Earley and Mrs. H. E. Whitaker will go to Birmingham Friday for a visit with Mrs. T. F. Vest and to attend the State Fair for a few days.

Milner & Christian have a change in their advertisement this week. You'll be interested when you read it, and especially so if you need a stove of any kind, make or description.

A little bird furnishes the information that there is to be another wedding during the holidays. It is said that one of our girls is to be taken away from Columbiana.

Harry Roberts was unfortunate in losing his fine bird dog, Sancho, last Wednesday. While crossing the Waxahatchie bridge it was struck by a Southern train.

Mrs. A. B. Milner, after a pleasant two weeks' visit in the city with her mother, Mrs. M. E. Mason, returned to her home in Collinsville last Thursday.

J. S. Walton, living on route 2 out of Columbiana, was a caller last Saturday and renewed his subscription for another year.

W. F. Jackson, of Shelby, and J. S. Elliott, of Vincent, are among the new subscribers to The Sentinel during the past week.

Mrs. C. L. Moroney, of Montevallo, was a guest at the home of her sister, Mrs. M. E. Parker, the fore part of the week.

Death of Mrs. German.

Mrs. Lydia Annie German, mother of J. B. German of this place, died in Bessemer last Thursday night after and illness of some three months. Mrs. German had lived to the ripe old age of 78 years and 11 days. She was a good christian woman, and a consistent member of the Methodist church. South, having allied herself with that church when she was a little girl. Five years ago, with her husband, Mrs. German removed from Creswell to Bessemer. She was born in Autauga county, and came to Shelby county some ten years ago. Through all her illness she was complaining, and when it was seen that she would not recover she said she was ready to go. She was conscious to the last, and bade her children an affectionate good bye, and then passed into a sleep from which she did not awaken. A husband, five sons, three daughters and many friends mourn the death of this good woman. She was buried in Bessemer and the funeral was largely attended.

A negro named John Daniels made an attempt to kill both his wife and step-daughter last Sunday, but was frustrated by the latter who jerked the gun from his hand which he was going to use and smashing him over the head with it. A warrant was sworn out for his arrest, but when the officers reached the place the negro had made his escape, and nothing has been heard of him since.

Latham & Bird purchased on Monday the brick building which is occupied by their drug store, and are now doing business under their own vine and fig tree. The Sentinel congratulates the firm on acquiring so good a piece of property. They have also added the silent salesman show cases, and the store presents a down to date appearance in every respect.

T. F. Atkinson and J. O. Dorrough were visitors to Birmingham Tuesday to help swell the crowd that will be there to see President Roosevelt.

Kept On Ice.

There is nothing so palatable as Fresh Oysters when they are right off the ice. That is the way you will find them when you buy of us. Better leave your order for a hundred.—Roberts & Robertson.

Cures Chills and Fever.

G. W. Wirt, Nacogdoches, Texas, says: "His daughter had chills and fever for three years; he could not find anything that would help her till she used Herbine. His wife will not keep house without it, and cannot say too much for it." 50c. Sold by William Bros.

Fresh Sausage.

We can fill your order for fresh sausage which we keep on ice. You know it is the right kind.—Roberts & Robertson.

Saved His Life.

J. W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, June 14th, 1902: "I want to tell you I believe, Ballard's Snow Liniment saved my life. I was under the treatment of two doctors, and they told me one of my lungs was entirely gone, and the other badly affected. I also had a lump on my side. I don't think that I could have lived two months longer. I was induced by a friend to try Ballard's Snow Liniment. The first application gave me relief; two fifty cent bottles cured me sound and well. It is a wonderful medicine and I recommend it to suffering humanity." Sold by Williams Bros.

All Are Helping.

The Commercial Club of Columbiana is carrying a big advertisement in the Sentinel soliciting the farmers to bring their cotton to Columbiana and setting forth the advantages of their town as a market, and besides this a large per cent. of the merchants are inviting the trading public to come to that town to make purchases by running advertisements in the columns of their home paper. It takes advertising to make towns grow as well as to increase business.—Russellville Times.

The Commercial Club of Columbiana is doing all it can to draw trade to this city, and in the effort the club is ably seconded by the business men of the town. Concerted action by those who are interested in the growth and development of Columbiana is having its effect, for there is more business activity here now than at any previous period within the history of the place.

Another railroad is all that Columbiana needs to put her on an equal footing with other towns in this section, and when the proper time comes a strong effort will be made to secure the Birmingham Columbus & St. Andrews Bay road.

The business men of Columbiana are beginning to realize that a liberal use of printer's ink in the way of advertising is one of the necessary essentials in the make-up of a successful business, and while a few are trying to get along on the old plan of "advertising does not pay," most of them believe in it, and it is only a question of time until every business man will have to use the columns of his home paper in self-defense if he expects to do other than a hap-hazard business.

No town of like population in the State has a more progressive lot of business men than Columbiana, and they are enlarging their stocks of goods and otherwise widening their business and increasing an already large patronage, and The Sentinel is willing to help them in any way within its power. A wide-awake, progressive business fraternity is the foundation, the backbone, the sinew of the successful town, and all this is found in Columbiana, and the Commercial Club is not the least factor by any means. All are willing to help boost our town.

Given Two Years.

The jury in the case of State of Alabama vs. Edgar Cary, charged with assault to murder, returned a verdict of guilty as charged, and on Friday morning Judge Pelham gave him the minimum sentence—two years in the penitentiary.

Attention Old Soldiers.

Judge Longshore requests The Sentinel to say that he has received the Confederate pension warrants for 1905, and they are ready for distribution.

Dr. Oliver, mayor of Calera, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office last Friday.

The Chicago Glee Club, which appeared at the Academy on last Wednesday night, was greeted by a large and appreciative audience. The best numbers given, although all were good, were "Remember Now Thy Creator," "When the Little Ones Say Good Night," and the trombone quartette, "Annie Laurie." Mr. Dixon as the old hoosier farmer in sketches of James Whitecomb Riley, was also a good number, and was highly appreciated by the audience.

NOTICE:—Those whose insurance notes are due will please remit promptly to me by P. O. Order, or pay to W. L. Farley at the bank and greatly oblige.

T. A. Leathers,
Division Agent,
Columbiana, Ala.

Lands for Sale and Rent.

I desire to sell about 1,000 acres of land, light sandy soil, in parcels from 40 to 323 acres each. There is as much as 300 acres of hard and yellow pine timber. Will sell at a bargain. All land being in beat 8, Shelby county, Ala., except 123 acres in beat 1 within one and a half miles of court house at Columbiana, Ala. For further information in regard to land and prices, call on or write.

Walter E. Lester.

R. F. D. No 2, Box 35.
Columbiana, Ala.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main Str. Ottawa, Kans., writes, "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

BIG REMOVAL SALE

WITH THE

COLUMBIANA MERCANTILE CO.

BEGINNING AT ONCE AND CONTINUING UNTIL

JANUARY 1, 1906.

This big company will have to vacate the corner store on January 1st, and move their goods into their own room adjoining the corner. Now in order to do this their HUGE STOCK consisting of everything in the mercantile line will have to be reduced and that AT ONCE. They are, therefore, putting the knife to every department. This will be, without doubt, the opportunity of a lifetime for those who want goods at a bargain. We hope the people of the community and county at large will take advantage of it.

WATCH the Big Signs on the building, then come inside and be convinced. REMEMBER, we will pay you more for your produce and Cotton than any other merchants in this section, proving that we are the "working man's friend and the farmers' protector." This is not foolish talk; come and see for yourself.

Yours to serve,

Columbiana Mercantile Company,

Wholesale and Retail

GOSSIP OF THE STREET

TOLD BY THE LISTENER.

They bumped up against each other on the street the other day, and when the fireworks caused by the collision had abated somewhat, one of them remarked: "Hello! They tell me you are a candidate for High Jack of Smokey Hollow." "Yes," was the reply, "and I'm buying votes now; come in and have a three-fer," and with a flourish that would have dazed John D., he of Standard Oil fame, he flipped a piece of silver across the showcase and called for Old Virginia cheroots. If this candidate keeps up that pace he will have to call on the big insurance companies for a contribution to his campaign fund. Strange the extravagance a love for office breeds in some people.

"Old Coon Town's certainly coming to the front," said a prominent attorney of Birmingham who was in Columbiana last week. "And I am glad of it, for there is no reason why it should not be one of the best country towns in central Alabama. The Listener agrees with the gentleman's reference to the improvement going on in Columbiana, but vigorously protests against the appellation of "Coon Town." Such a name might apply to Alabama City, but it is an injustice to Columbiana and a reflection upon our people.

"Did you bring any cotton to town?" asked a buyer of a farmer a few days ago. "Nops! Ain't got none but ten cent cotton, and You're not payin' the price. I've raised some hogs and corn this year, and as long as I have pork and hominy for Molly and the babies, won't sell my cotton for less than ten cents." When offered 8.95 for it he kind o' laughed, then said: "Say did you ever raise any cotton?" "No," was the reply. "Thought not," said the upcountry farmer, "for you don't look like a man who figures to lose in a bargain, and when a farmer sells cotton for less than nine cents he's a loser on his crop. I have several bales for the man who will pay ten cents—nary a cent less gets it," and he took another half moon out of his plug and moved on.

"The most pitiful sobbing I ever heard in my life," said a visitor at the White House last week, "came from the jail a few nights ago, when a young man convicted of assault to with intent to commit murder, was visited by his wife and sisters. It seemed to me that a heart of stone would have softened could it but have heard." A great pall of gloom has indeed fallen upon the bride of little more than a year, and two sisters, the latter tender in years, but aged in bitter experiences and great

"A Thing of Beauty
Is a Joy Forever!"

"The Hats are Beautiful!"
And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

The Prettiest Line of Novelties
In the way of
Belts and Fashionable Neckwear
ever shown in Columbiana.
Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

SAXON & JOHNSON,
CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS.

Dealers in Shingles - - - - Estimates Furnished
We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

sorrow. They are indeed in sore distress.

"Shelby county will have one of the finest court houses in the South when it is completed," said a man who stands pretty close to the board of County Commissioners, "and among the most costly. The cost of marble finish which is to be given it is apparently small at first thought, but to what sum will $7,500 have grown in twenty years—when this debt becomes due? I am in favor of a court house, but I fail to see what benefit will come to the taxpayers for this expenditure of about twenty thousand dollars which they will have to pay." It is very apparent that a majority of the Commissioners have given not only a marble court house to the taxpayers, but have given them the marble heart as well.

"It is surprising," said a commercial traveler a few days ago, "at the business activity which has come to Columbiana within the past few months." After a puff of his cigar, he continued: "I can remember, and not so very long ago, either, when all Columbiana had a bad case of the blue devils over the court house situation—but now, how different. All seem to be prosperous and happy. Such is the result of a long contested question.

On the second page of this issue will be found the advertisement of J. H. Abercrombie & Son. They are advertising a reduction sale, and are offering some good bargains.

Non-Resident Notice.
State of Alabama, Probate Court,
Shelby County.
In the matter of the application of T. E. Christian to sell real estate for division among joint owners:
That said T. E. Christian having this day filed in said court his petition for the sale of certain real estate described in his petition for division among the joint owners thereof, to-wit: T. E. Christian, W. L. Christian, non-resident who resides in Cincinnati, in the State of Ohio, Walter Christian, a minor who resides in Shelby County, Ala., and Miss Roscoe Christian, who resides in Shelby County, Ala., alleging that said property cannot be equitably divided among them. The 24th day of November, 1905, was appointed for the hearing thereof, and it is ordered that notice be given by publication for three successive weeks in the (Columbiana Sentinel), a newspaper published in said county, at which time said non-resident and all other parties interested may appear and contest the same if they see fit.
A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

Montevallo News Items.

The A. G. I. S. is laying a new water main from the upper spring.

The Southern Bell Telephone Co. is erecting poles and wires preparing to putting in the long promised local exchange.

John R. Irby, who recently purchased the drug store of J. W. Bandy, has taken charge and is pushing the business. Mr. Bandy has become a commercial tourist.

Have you ever thought how much of power, opportunity, comfort and convenience flows unused through Montevallo every day, hour and minute, going to waste? Shoal creek should be harnessed.

R. F. McKibbin is the busiest man in town just now, trying to gin all the cotton brought to him. The hum of his machinery is heard from early morn till far into the night, and he awakes each morning to see freshly loaded wagons lined up for attention.

The public school of Montevallo has outgrown its present quarters. It behooves the citizenship to put on its thinking cap and devise ways and means to erect a suitable school building. It can be done, or—to use the Russian General's phrase—"if it can't, it must be done."

L. N. Nabors has recently purchased the Shriners warehouse, and, with the assistance of Geo. W. DeShazo, helps the farmers to hold their cotton for the sine qua non. There has been no happier revelation in commerce than this recently discovered ability of the farmer to fix his price on his chief production.

Prof. Albert Harris, of Vanderbilt University, gave the initial public entertainment of the season at the A. G. I. S. on Saturday night of last week, and was much enjoyed. Many have paid him the high compliment of saying that he has surpassed every reader who has appeared here. He began by reciting "Moo Cow Moo," and followed up the good humor excited, with scene from "Midsommer's Night Dreams," closing with scenes from Booth Tarkington's "Mon-sieur Beaucaire."

Wilsonville Items.

Brindly Nivens was at home over Sunday.

Let us be thankful for the beautiful fall morning.

A. J. Taylor, of Farmer, spent Saturday night and Sunday in our midst.

John Millstead, of Selma, spent several days last week with his family here.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Smith, on October 12th, a fine son, and now you can see a large, broad smile on the face of the father as soon as he comes in sight.

Mrs. O. E. Black visited her sister, Mrs. E. Williamson, in Talladega last week.

Jim Kimbrough, of Goodwater, spent a day or two with his father's family last week.

Miss Myrtis Pope, of Fayetteville, has been spending several days with relatives here.

Mrs. W. J. Tinney, of near Sterrett, was visiting relatives in our community last week.

We are glad to see our old citizen and friend W. W. Carter, on our streets this morning.

Will Smith has been visiting his father's family. Col. W. T. Smith, for the past two weeks.

R. N. Wilson, who works in Birmingham, is spending a few days with his family here.

The openings at our millinery parlors were well attended, and the displays were very pretty.

Jim Pykes and family, of Ironaton, are visiting the families of Jim Evans and John Millstead.

Miss Pernie Pope, who has been spending several months at Denver, Col., returned home last week.

Elder Joe McPherson and wife, of Nashville, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Elam. Bro. McPherson preached two very fine sermons at the Christian church Sunday morning and night. The congregation was small in the morning because of the rain, but at night it was larger. The theme of his discourse was "How to become a christian, and the duty of a christian."

We are sorry to see our friend J. H. Roberson leave the drug store here. Dr. Roberson and wife came from Ensley over a year ago and during this time has been working in Pope's drug store. He is a good citizen, a competent drug man, and has made many friends who will regret to learn that he has severed his connection in the drug business. We hope that he will remain with us. Dr. Ellis, of Birmingham, fills the vacancy made by Dr. Roberson and will be glad to wait upon the patrons and make you feel at home when in town.

One day last week J. R. Black sold his place here to Jim Spearman. Twelve months ago Mr. Black bought the place paying $1,500, and sold it for $2,400. This speaks well for Wilsonville, showing that property is increasing in value instead of decreasing. Hurrah for Wilsonville! We expect to see her another New York some day. We have four fine churches, a fine school, six good substantial business firms, a splendid and well kept hotel presided over by Mrs. I. E. Taylor, two gins and blacksmith shops, and thickly settled with good christian people, surrounded by a fine farming country, with as clover, good, industrious, substantial farmers as you will find in the State, and why should our town not grow? There is no reason. I say again, Hurrah for Wilsonville!

Sues for $20,000 Damages.

Huntsville.—Edmond Carter, administrator of Charles Smith, is suing the Oak Extract Company of Decatur for the sum of $20,000 in the United States Court. The suit states complainant claims that one of the boats of the defendant company ran Smith down while he was fishing in a skiff and drowned him.

Dogs Attack Horse.

Tuscaloosa.—Several dogs who were attracted by a restless horse hitched on Greensboro Avenue on Saturday made for the animal which became more excited breaking loose dashed down the street with the dogs in close pursuit. They tore many ugly gashes in the horse which was a very valuable one.

To Meet in Decatur.

Decatur.—The annual meeting of the Alabama Commercial and Industrial Association will be held in this city November 7 and 8. Already the local commercial bodies are making preparation for the entertainment of the visitors and this promises to be one of the grandest meetings of the association ever held.

Killed by Falling Rock.

Russellville.—Thomas Lee, an employe of the Sloss Sheffield Company, was killed at the mines, one mile from town, late Saturday afternoon.

He was walking near the steam shovel when a large rock fell on him, breaking his neck and a leg. He was 23 years old, and leaves a wife.

Old Soldiers Fare Well.

Tuscaloosa.—The Confederate veterans of Tuscaloosa County fare better perhaps, than those of any other county in the State. Besides the regular State pension of $60, $50, $40 and $30, according to the class they received this year $10.70 and next year will go as high as $12.50. This amount comes from the dispensary fund set apart for the old veterans of the county.

Shot Brother.

Athens.—at Rowland, five miles south of here, last Wednesday William Dowd, a railroad man shot and fatally wounded his younger brother, Edward. The shooting took place at their old home, and it is said to have resulted from the displeasure of William over the division of their father's estate during his absence, he having been

SHIELD BRAND

FITS
WELL
WEARS
WELL
CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERYT, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

gone for thirteen years until last Saturday, when he returned home.

He went to the old home last night and found his brother packing the household goods, preparatory to moving his widowed mother to Decatur to reside with him.

Saying that he was going to kill him, William opened fire on Edward with a forty-five revolver, the ball entering the back, tearing off a part of the backbone and emerging at the breast. Wm. Dowd left the wounded man alone, going to the home of a sister, and informed her what he had done.

The Lid on in Huntsville.

Huntsville.—For the first time within memory, the lid was on in Huntsville Sunday, and it was impossible to obtain a loaf of bread or any article of confectionery or fruit. Several bakers and confectioners were assessed nominal fines at the last term of court on conviction of remaining open on Sunday, and they have agreed among themselves to lay themselves liable no more.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 1, 1905.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:30am	iv. Mobile	4:35pm	10:40am
11:00am	8:45pm	iv. Selma	4:30pm	2:00pm
4:30pm	10:40am	iv. Meridian	4:25pm	4:25pm
9:40am	1:40pm	iv. Chattanooga	4:20pm	4:20pm
11:00am	1:40pm	iv. Knoxville	4:15pm	4:15pm
6:40pm	1:40pm	iv. Bristol	4:10pm	4:10pm
6:00pm	1:40pm	iv. Bristol	4:05pm	4:05pm
1:00pm	1:40pm	iv. Bristol	4:00pm	4:00pm
6:00pm	1:40pm	iv. Bristol	3:55pm	3:55pm
12:00pm	1:40pm	iv. Bristol	3:50pm	3:50pm

No. 2 and No. 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and New York. One car serves meals en route.

No. 19	STATIONS	No. 47
7:30am	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10am	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40am	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10am	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40am	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10am	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40am	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
8:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
9:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
10:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
11:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
12:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
1:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
2:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
3:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
4:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
5:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
6:40pm	iv. New Orleans	8:30pm
7:10pm	iv. New Orleans	8:3

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 9.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor.
W. L. Farley, Clerk.
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnson, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Thursday nights. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Dugan, Pastor.

BAPTIST—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 149, A. F. & A. M. Meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abernethy, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. A. P. Longshore, C. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

MCMILLAN & HAYNES,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,
Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,
Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,
Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST,
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

The cold weather has accomplished one thing: it has driven the elbow sleeves from the streets.

Mark it down: If Mr. Comer is elected Governor there will be little if any railroad building in Alabama in the next four years.

Mr. Comer shudders at Cunningham's "environments." If he shudders now he will be throwing all kinds of fits after the primaries when Cunningham is nominated.

In wanting to pass upon the qualifications of men who may be candidates for the legislature, Mr. Comer becomes a dictator, and Americans have no use for that kind of an individual.

Mr. Comer says "the man who can do you the most good, the man who knows most about railroad rates should be in the Governor's chair." And then he modestly says: "I am a candidate."

Mayor Vandiver, of Talladega, says that county will give five hundred majority for Comer. Mayor Vandiver is known all over the State as a great joker, and the above statement is his latest joke.

We greatly admired the Geo. Gould family until we recently saw a picture of Mrs. Gould taken with her $5,000 bull dog. There is no income in the world large enough to justify the expenditure of $5,000 for a bull dog.

The sharp-stick people who are always after some one are now after Postmaster General Cortelyou, and there is some hope that they will get him. He is chairman of the Republican National committee, and the people think that he should retire as postmaster general till he has disproved the charge that he received money from the insurance companies during the campaign. He announces that he will not retire.

Burton, the notorious senator from Kansas, says he will resign his seat if the charges against him are dismissed—a tacit admission of his guilt. We do not believe that Burton will be given any such privilege, but that he will be fired as he deserves to be.

Magazines may be a little higher in "tone" than newspapers, but they have as many faults as the newspapers. Some of the magazines refuse patent medicine advertising, but they print advertising for schemers that is a good deal more dangerous than patent medicine advertising.

Sharp Financier.

Mr. Comer being one of the richest men in the South was abundantly able to pay for his announcement; but he was too smart to let any of his hard earned cash jingle in the pockets of the newspaper men. The distinguished candidate gave it out that he would make his announcement at Talladega on Saturday, and behold the town was full of newspaper editors and staff correspondents, and the announcement went forth through all the papers of Alabama without the slightest cost to Mr. Comer. He is a financier, and we are not surprised at his classification as one of the richest men in the South.—Talladega Mountain Home.

TAXPAYERS.

There is Room Here for You to Reflect.

Charleston, Ill., Oct. 14.—Because it has cost nearly $300,000 to "repair" a $3000 courthouse, Coles County, one of the richest in the State of Illinois, is practically bankrupt and is now at a point where it is necessary for the county to live by its wits.

There is little, if any, money in the treasury, and the medium of exchange in county matters is warrants which, by recent rulings, may be years in becoming actual money.

Back of the present state of affairs is a county-seat fight between Mattoon, in the western part of the county, and Charleston, where the county seat has been since the county was organized.

The Mattoon adherents say the county can go to the demdition bow-wows before they will vote for bonds to pay for a courthouse in Charleston and the east siders say that they will make property in the west end of the county look like 30 cents an acre before they are through with the fight.

Before the strife is over it is possible the Federal courts will be called upon to adjust the difficulties of Coles County and we will have the spectacle of a rich county in bankruptcy, managed by Uncle Sam as receiver—an absolutely unique condition.

At the September meeting of the County Board a rule was made that the county officials must not appropriate the receipts of their officers for salaries, but must take their turn with other warrant holders in getting the real circulating medium for their services. As many of the office holders are west siders, that faction is the sufferer to the extent of paying its adherents.

At that meeting the tax levy for the coming year, which is approximately $50,000, was anticipated to the extent of about 75 per cent and taken by a local bank and an Indiana trust company.

During the past week judgments have been entered in the Circuit Court on old claims which aggregate close to $100,000 and it is now up to the Board of Supervisor to do something or have the county declared bankrupt.

By a recent decision of the Supreme Court, involving some old claims, the debts were declared just and a writ of mandamus was issued directing Sheriff Baird to compel the supervisors to pay the claim or go to jail.

When they were threatened with imprisonment the members of the board simply leaned back in their official chairs and said:

"How can we get blood from a turnip? The county has not the money and what can we do?"

The original contract for "repairs" called for an expenditure of $88,900 and all of the building which had been the scene of the famous debates between Lincoln and Douglas back in the fifties that was left in the plans for "repairing" was a steel vault which had been put in short time before the contract was let.

Now, nearly ten years later, the cost has grown so that what could have been settled originally for $150,000 has increased to a debt of $300,000, which must sometime be paid.

The question of how it shall be paid, however, seems as far from settlement as ever. The west siders will not issue, because they feel they have been deceived, and the east siders, who have the reins of county government, are doing all they can to harass their opponents.

When the daily papers give several columns gratis to the announcement of a man for State office they call it news, but when the same matter is furnished to weeklies in supplement form some of these same dailies call it anything but news. Since when were the daily papers appointed to censor the matter to be handled by the weekly papers? We think it is the business of the publisher of the weekly paper as to whether or not he wants to, or is willing to handle such matter without any "butt in" advice from those who have no concern in the matter. The manager of the daily papers would think it the highest piece of presumption should the weekly papers undertake to say what should be put in a daily paper and what should not be used.

"Just say for me," said a farmer last Saturday, "that the fine public roads in this county we have been hearing so much about are a nightmare to the man who has to travel them just after a rain." And continuing, he said: "It appears to me that it is during bad weather that we need good roads, for when it is dry there are no mud holes nor swamps through which to pull the life out of our teams." Respectfully referred to the good roads artist on the Advocate.

Newspaper advertising pays the advertiser, and it pays the customer. The big department stores in Chicago sell ten five cent cigars for a quarter; less than wholesale price. These big stores print big advertisements in the newspapers every day and they are generally read, not only by shoppers, but by curious people, who wonder how low prices can become. In spite of their big advertising bills, these stores undersell all competition. The advertising result in an enormous trade, and a lower per cent of expense.

A farmer coming to town last Thursday hauling two bales of cotton on his wagon got stuck in one of the many almost impassable mud holes in Shelby county's "excellent" public roads and had to dump one bale before his team could pull the wagon out of the "beauty spot." And all this within three miles of Columbiana. Fine roads, aren't they?

Mr. Comer says Cunningham is a sincere man, but because of his "environments" he is not a safe man for Governor. In other words: Comer says Cunningham would be influenced regardless of his honest and sincere belief. We don't believe it, neither do we think Comer believes his own statement.

From the time President Roosevelt struck Dixie Land on his recent tour, until he left it, he was given a practical illustration of what true Southern hospitality is. And we believe he returns to Washington with a broader view of the South and the Southern people.

Farmers from up about Harpersville, who visited Columbiana last week, said they had to turn out of the road a number of times to dodge the numerous mud holes in the "excellent" public highways so freely boasted of by "the judge."

During the past week farmers have been coming into their own in price on cotton. As high as 10.10 has been paid in Columbiana during that time.

A great many people have made the mistake of supposing that a dishonest man can get all he wants and then act honestly afterwards.

LOOK

TO FARMERS

We have just received for seeding purposes some of the celebrated

TEXAS RUST PROOF OATS

You know what they are: The best on earth.

You are aware that

Our Grocery Stock is New,

Come in and talk it over.

We want your

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Will pay highest market price.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.

All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.

Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY.

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor = and = Builder,
Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES.	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 44,756 71	Capital stock paid in..... $ 20,000 00
Overdrafts..... 44 65	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 3,578 63
Banking house, furniture and fixtures..... 2,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check..... 30,529 25
Other real estate..... 3,000 00	Savings deposits..... 1,350 00
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 12,727 61	Interest bearing deposits..... 81 81
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,053 42	Cashier's checks..... 84 00
Currency..... 6,101 60	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 14,292 25
Gold..... 2,045 00	Checks payable..... 8,500 00
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 1,508 80
Checks and cash items..... 4,400 38
Total..... $ 87,230 03	Total..... $ 87,230 03

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank of Shelby County, Ala., who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest: W. B. Browne, } Directors,
W. G. Parker, }
J. T. Leeper, }

Statement of the condition of the

MERCHANTS' AND PLANTERS' BANK OF MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

located at Montevallo, Ala., at the close of business
October 7, 1905.

RESOURCES.	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 38,100 00	Capital stock paid in..... $ 15,000 00
Overdrafts..... 750 00	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 3,307 93
Banking house, furniture and fixtures..... 2,400 00	Individual deposits subject to check..... 30,529 25
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 6,915 72	Cashier's checks..... 117 73
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 4,374 58
Currency..... 6,309 86
Gold..... 150 00
Silver, nickels and pennies..... 500 00
Checks and cash items..... 212 88
Total..... $ 58,040 10	Total..... $ 58,040 10

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came Wm. Lyman, Cashier, Merchants' and Planters' Bank, of Montevallo, Ala., who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 11th day of October, 1905.
Attest: C. L. MURPHY, } Directors,
D. L. WILKINSON, }
Jno. H. McMAH. }

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Nov. 2, 05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 12, 1901 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor, Russell M. Cunningham, of Jefferson.

Gee, Gosh!

The "proxy" editor of the Advocate tears his shirt to pieces and throws the fragments away in the last issue of that sheet, trying to defend the make-believe public road system in Shelby county, and his laborious and frantic effort has caused a ripple of incredulity to creep over the face of all who have seen it.

He says: The editor of this paper "has never seen fifty miles of the roads in Shelby county." Does the proxy editor of the Advocate pretend to say there are fifty miles of good roads in Shelby county? As to whether or not we have seen fifty miles of these make-believe roads cuts no figure as to the deplorable condition of the so-called public roads. We have been told within the past week, by parties who were attending court, that in every direction the roads are "simply awful."

Just a little ways out of Wilsonville, on the Harpersville road, there are places that within the past week have been impassible, and dangerous to attempt to drive through them. We have been told by at least a half-dozen people who came to court last week, and who drove over the road, that the public road between Montevallo and Calera is in a terrible condition, and some of these same people tell us, and it is a well known fact, that it is an impossibility for farmers to haul any kind of a load over the road leading through the Perry settlement in beat 4; in the same beat, on the road leading from Montevallo to Dogwood there are places that is not only a disgrace but an imposition on the taxpayers who pay their money to have the roads kept in at least fair condition. The road to Helena and Keystone, from Columbiana, by the way of Longview, is a misnomer—and is a practical illustration of the mismanagement of the present administration—an administration which delights in building hundred thousand dollar court houses, and then orders a fifty cent load of poles thrown into a bad place in the public roads.

"The road plow has been at work nearly all the year grading the roads in Cahaba Valley and is now working toward this Valley, and in a short while will have nearly all the public roads in the county worked," and this "proxy" editor of the Advocate might have employed Judge Longshore's words, used many times during the last campaign, "to scrape the dirt to the middle of the roads in the summer, to be washed away in the winter." The Sentinel has made no effort to discredit the work of Mr. Mahan, the road plow man, for he is working under orders from the "present administration" and the controlling power of the "present administration" said in his speeches all over this county last year that hundreds of dollars were being spent in this county to operate a road plow which "scraped the dirt to the middle of the road in the summer, to be washed away in the winter." Who discredits Mr. Mahan's work—The Sentinel, which said nothing about him or his work, or Judge Longshore, who took the above swiping shot at Mr. Mahan and his road plow work? And in doing so the head of the "present administration" not only discredits Mr. Mahan's work, but admits that the "great idea" of the "present administration" in working the roads as Mr. Mahan is ordered to do isn't worth a darn to the traveling public.

Mr. Mahan is making good dry weather roads, but they are not worth a continental when the rainy season comes—the time of year when the farmers are using the roads more than at any other, hauling their cotton and other products to market. It is good roads in the rainy season which the farmer needs—almost any kind of a cow-path is traverseable in dry weather.

The assertion of the "proxy" editor of the Advocate that the Shelby county roads are in excellent condition, is about as near the truth as when he says the editor of The Sentinel "has never seen fifty miles of the road in Shelby county." Yet we have driven over the road between Columbiana and Montevallo dozens of times; have driven over the roads between Columbiana and Harpersville; have driven over the roads between Columbiana and Keystone and Helena; have driven over the roads between Montevallo and Dogwood and Helena, and to other points, yet we have not, according to the "proxy" editor of the Advocate, seen fifty miles of the roads in Shelby county.

Ye gods and little fishes! As a monumental prevaricator andortionist of the truth the "proxy" editor of the Advocate takes the biscuit, and then swipes the oven in which it was baked.

Good roads in Shelby county? Gee, gosh!

No Doubt.

Comer is going to run for Governor and if he should be elected it would be like his present position—can do nothing, wants more power, and before his time was out he would be wanting to run for something else. The way politicians do want to serve the dear people is something awful.—Columbia Breeze.

Hon. R. M. Cunningham opened his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Governor at Union Springs last Friday, and during the course of his speech he gave Mr. Comer something to think about for some time to come Bee Bee will have to spring something else to take the place of Cunningham's "environment," which he said would prevent the latter from carrying out his sincere convictions if elected Governor. Bee Bee's statement is a libel on one of Alabama's most upright and honorable men, and Cunningham's friends will resent it.

If Mr. Comer was really sincere in his desire to regulate railroad freight rates in this State why does he not ask the people to elect two men in sympathy with him as associate railroad commissioners. He would have a cinch on the railroads then, while as Governor he can do more than any other man unless he can have a prejudiced Legislature behind him, and that he will never have. Mr. Comer just wants to be Governor that's all.

There is something doing down in Baldwin county where Judge Browne is trying to hold court at Daphne, while the sheriff and circuit clerk, who live at Bay Minette, refuse to go to Daphne. Judge Browne is entering a fine against the sheriff and clerk for each day's absence, and has issued a warrant to the coroner for the arrest of the sheriff. Interesting proceedings are look for.

"Make me Governor and I'll do things," says Mr. Comer. He said the same thing when he was a candidate for President of the Railroad Commission, but he has made such a fumble since being elected that the people are not going to take his word for it this time.

The Montgomery Journal says: The Columbiana Sentinel hoists the name of Cunningham at its mast head and of course will earnestly espouse his cause." Now, will Editor Hood tell us where the Journal stands?

Well Defined.

A "buttinski," says the Prattville Progress, is a man whose own business is of such small importance that he amuses himself by assisting in the affairs of others.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 N. Main Str. Ottawa, Kans., writes, "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stops the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c $1.00. Sold by William Bros.

Cotton is rolling into Columbiana, and merchandise is going out—a kind of reciprocity pleasing to both buyer and seller.

Constipation.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaints have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. here is a cure for it. Herbine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M., Bronson, Fla. writes, Feb. 12, 1902: "Having used Herbine, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." 50c a bottle. Sold by Williams Bros.

The poor man may not get money when he needs it, but he is always sure to need it when it comes his way. That's us.

Best Liniment on earth.

Henry D. Balwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis. writes, "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

They are having a time and a half around St. Petersburg now—riot and rebellion, rapine and assassination.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kans., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him."

That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

Crenshaw county is running a close race with some of Kentucky's counties in the matter of tragedies.

Neuralgia Pains.

Rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yields to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment.

It penetrates to the nerves and bone and being absorbed into the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

Another Judge Necessary.

The Shelby county Bar recently adopted the following resolutions:

Whereas, the necessity for an additional District Judge for the Northern and Middle districts of Alabama is imperative, it being impossible for one Judge to dispose of the business of the courts in said districts, or even in the Northern District, therefore be it

Resolved by the Bar of Shelby county, Alabama:

First: That we favor the passage of an Act of Congress providing for an additional United States District Judge for the Middle and Northern Districts of Alabama, to reside in the Northern District; and that such Judge and the Judge of said courts residing in the Middle District have equal powers in each of said districts, dividing the business between them.

Second: Resolved, further, That we consider the above plan not only the best, but the only practical mode of obtaining relief; and we earnestly request our Senators and Representatives in Congress to do all in their power to procure the passage of such an Act of Congress; and that a copy of these resolutions be published and sent to them.

W. B. Browne, D. R. McMillan, W. W. Wallace, J. L. Peters, Jno. J. Haynes, J. I. Abercrombie, James Kay, G. B. Walker, E. S. Lyman, J. B. Loener.

The public roads in Shelby county in many places are next to impassible. Must be a mistake: the good roads artist on the Advocate says the roads in Shelby county are the best ever. Of course, according to that, the farmers knows nothing about it.

Wilsonville News Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horsley, of Columbiana, are visiting relatives here for a few days.

Miss Olive Densler, who has been visiting in Birmingham, returned home last Friday.

The many friends of Mrs. J. W. Millstead are glad to know that she is greatly improved and able to be up.

Miss Olive Nelson, and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bird, of your city spent a few days last week with their sister, Mrs. F. M. Wilkins.

We were sorry indeed to hear on last Monday morning of the death of Mrs. John Hughes. She had been quite sick for some days.

Quite a crowd of Wilsonville people attended the State Fair last week to see the President. Among them were Mrs. I. E. Taylor, L. B. Riddle, Vernon Hebb, Tom Taylor and J. F. Pope and wife.

There was no preaching in town Sunday, the Christian minister being unable to get here; we were very sorry but hope to have the pleasure of hearing him in the near future.

School is progressing rapidly. We now have three teachers—Miss Perdie Holland being third assistant. The building is to be painted real soon which will greatly add to its looks.

On Sunday last Mrs. Jim Ray was brought from her home in Farmer to the home of her mother, Mrs. W. S. Tinney. Mrs. Ray is quite ill, but we hope for her a speedy recovery. Her old neighbors and friends will find her at the home of her mother.

We were somewhat surprised last Sunday night on going to prayer meeting and not finding our ministers present, both being at their homes in sight of the church. Often on Sunday we receive severe scoldings from our ministers in regard to "church duties," not attending church services as we should, and living within hearing distance of the bells, etc. A poor rule that does not work both ways. "As you sow, so shall you reap."

Miss Lena Sommerville left Saturday for Talladega where she joined her brother to spend a few days and visit other points.

REP. VAN WINKLE.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, } In Chancery. Shelby County, } Sixth District North-Eastern Chancery Div. Cora Simpson, complainant, vs. Sam Simpson, defendant. IN this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of J. J. Haynes that the Defendant, Sam Simpson is a Non-resident of Alabama and resides in Little Rock, Arkansas, and further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is over the age of twenty-one years. It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel a newspaper published in the County of Shelby once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Sam Simpson to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 2nd day of Dec. A. D. 1905, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him. Done at office, in Columbiana, Ala. this 25th day of Oct. A. D. 1905. J. R. WHITE Register.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

Do you know that the Railroads spend 50 CENTS OF EVERY DOLLAR they receive on Labor, Fuel and Taxes?

Their pay-roll last year was more than $775,000,000.

They Paid More than $57,000,000 in Taxes.

American Railroads Pay Higher Wages,

Employ more people, give better service and charge less for it than European roads charge. Many interesting things which every citizen should know are found in a small pamphlet entitled

"WHAT ARE THE FACTS."

Drop us a postal card and we will send you a copy free.

RAILROAD RECORD, ATLANTA, GA.

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP, LEGROY & TINNEY, Proprietors.

Blacksmithing and General Repairing. Horse Shoeing a Specialty. Special attention given to horses with deformed feet. Try us and be convinced.

J. W Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

TO THE PUBLIC!

WE have purchased J. H. Abercrombie & Son's store building and stock of goods and as the stock is large we are going to reduce it. There will be a great reduction in prices, and you will save yourself money by coming to see us.

LOW PRICES PREVAIL.

We are now overstocked in Tobaccos and a special reduction price will prevail on this line until the stock is reduced. This opportunity will hardly present itself again.

WATCH FOR IT!

Look out for our big Furniture advertisement; something sensational in both goods and prices. Anything you want that we have not in stock, we will make a specialty in ordering for you. We guarantee goods to be as represented. Give us first call and you will save money. Uniform treatment to all.

Milner & Christian.

"A Thing of Beauty Is a Joy Forever!"

Our millinery may not wear forever but the ladies all exclaim

"The Hats are Beautiful!"

And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

We have in stock

The Prettiest Line of Novelties

In the way of

Belts and Fashionable Neckwear

ever shown in Columbiana.

Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

Bring your Job Work to this office. Only best stock used and work satisfactory to you.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Phone 20

Call us up

FIRST and best of fail goods, prove their worth in every way. Values that you cannot fail to see. Made for you the way you want it. Satisfaction is a part of the bargain. Come here first and you'll go no further. We don't sell what we can't recommend. 'Nuff said.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months......50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

C. P. McLane, of Saginaw, was in the city a day or two last week.

Why go around looking for trouble? There's no salary attachment to it.

J. L. McConaghy, of Montevallo, was in the city last week attending court.

Dr. D. L. Wilkinson, of Montevallo, was a witness in circuit court here last week.

W. A. Thompson and sister were visitors to the State Fair a couple of days last week.

H. C. Martin, the genial railroad agent at Calera, was in the city on Wednesday of last week.

D. W. Shivers, mail carrier on route 2 out of Montevallo, was attending court here last week.

G. F. Harper and John M. Fancher, of Montevallo, were in attendance at circuit court last week.

Some men don't have time to accomplish much. They are the busiest people in the world doing nothing.

J. W. Johnston and J. H. Abercrombie were among the number who went to Birmingham on President day.

Why not use some of that cotton money to pay up your subscription to The Sentinel? The printer will appreciate it.

Prof. J. Alex. Moore, secretary of the Alabama Girls' Industrial School, was a witness in circuit court here last week.

G. W. Davis, of Shelby, was a witness in circuit court last Thursday. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call from him.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Carter entertained a party of young people at their home last Friday night, and a pleasant time is reported.

With each succeeding term of court there is the same old professional bench warmer waiting for something to come his way.

Dr. A. B. Horn, formerly of Montevallo but now of Union Springs, was in Columbiana last week, a witness in circuit court.

The business world judges a business man by the stationery he uses. The Sentinel will furnish you the best at reasonable figures.

Miss Rosser Christian and mother are visiting friends and relatives in Birmingham and Woodlawn and also seeing the sights at the State Fair.

Rev. and Mrs. S. L. Harris, of Montevallo, and daughter, Mrs. J. D. Rhodes, of Birmingham, were witnesses in circuit court here last week.

Dr. Lacy, formerly of Montevallo, but who is now in the mercantile business at Avondale, was in the city last week a witness in circuit court.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kroell, and Miss Mary Kroell, of Montevallo, were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Erlick while in the city last week.

A letter to The Sentinel from C. L. Meroney, of Montevallo, last Friday, says that 89 bales of cotton were sold in that town up to noon of that day.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle spent a delightful afternoon with Mrs. Henry Milner one day last week. Mrs. Simon Friedberger will next entertain the Circle.

J. H. Pennington, a prominent merchant of Wilsonville, was in the city last Wednesday and Thursday, having been summoned as a special juror in circuit court.

The one thing all our merchants prize will come to them if they advertise. Through the home paper they should make their say, and the almighty dollar will come their way.

The advertisement compositor on the Columbiana Sentinel is an artist in his business. That paper is among the neatest weeklies published in the State.—Huntsville Tribune.

J. R. Hatcher, of Harpersville, was in the city last week to serve on a special jury in circuit court. He called at The Sentinel office and renewed his subscription for another year.

Dr. W. S. DuBose has gone to Attalla where he will make his home this winter with his daughter, Mrs. L. M. Dyke. The kindly face of the genial doctor is missed from Columbiana.

The Sentinel received a pleasant call last Thursday from Dr. E. G. Givhan, of Montevallo, who was in town as a witness in circuit court. He left with us a nice order for commercial stationery.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Reynolds, of Montevallo, were in the city last Wednesday and Thursday Mrs. Reynolds being a witness in circuit court. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call from them.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co. talks of their Removal Sale in a new advertisement in this issue of The Sentinel. This firm expects to remove from the corner building on the first of January next, and a "mark down" price has been put upon all merchandise.

It is worthy of note that at a church service in this city last Sunday at least one-half of the congregation was made up of the young men of our town, and it is the same nearly every Sunday. Few towns in Alabama of the size of Columbiana have so good a record.

It is regretted by all our people that Mrs. E. Porter and daughter, Miss Alice, will remove to Piper where they go to keep house for their son and brother, John Porter, who recently lost his wife. These good women carry with them the best wishes of all our people.

A. P. Bradley, of Wilton, road supervisor in the employ of the Southern Railway, was in the city last Friday, having been summoned as a witness for the state against Fred Steele, a negro boy, charged with obstructing a train on the Southern. The prisoner pleaded guilty to throwing a switch, and he was given a ten years' sentence by Judge Pelham.

Popular Court Officials.

The Sentinel doubts very much if there is a circuit Judge in Alabama who is more popular in his circuit than is Judge John Pelham of the Seventh Judicial Circuit, and especially is he well thought of in Columbiana, not only by the members of the bar, but by all our citizenship. In the court room, through his impartial, conscientious administration of the law, he wins the admiration of all, whether spectator or interested party, and socially he is a genial, affable, polished gentleman. Associated with Judge Pelham in upholding the law in this circuit is Solicitor Borden H. Burr—a young man of ability, courage and convictions. He is a vigorous prosecutor, yet not unkind nor vindictive. Mirrored in his not unpleasant countenance is an earnest, sincerity of purpose which bespeaks a heart that wishes only justice should be done. While not as well known here as Judge Pelham, yet he is a close second to that gentleman in his popularity among our people. Judge Pelham has a good record as an administrator of the law, and Solicitor Burr is making one as a prosecutor. With one exception the criminal docket was cleared up this term of court.

Abercrombies Sold Out.

On Monday of this week the stock of J. H. Abercrombie & Son was being invoiced, the same together with the store building having been sold to Milner & Christian. The stock is one of the largest in Columbiana, while the building is probably the best in the city. Milner & Christian have come into good property. They will stay in their old quarters and use the Abercrombie room for a warehouse.

The Sentinel has not learned the future intentions of Messrs. Abercrombie except that they will probably remove to Birmingham. Our people will regret their departure for they are good business people and genial, cordial citizens. The Sentinel wishes them well wherever they may go.

By reference to the advertisement of Latham & Bird in this issue of The Sentinel it will be seen that Santa Claus has arranged to make his headquarters at The City Drug Store before and during the Holidays. This firm will have on display in short time, a beautiful stock of holiday goods, and you are invited to call and select that Christmas present.

F. M. McEwen, of near Wilsonville, was a caller at The Sentinel office Friday and renewed his subscription for another year. Mr. McEwen is a populist, and during his call said he had often been asked why he took this Democratic paper. He said he believed in subscribing to and reading the county papers, "and, then, you are making a good paper of The Sentinel."

W. B. Browne, J. T. Leeper, W. W. Wallace, Dr. Acker and T. J. Weaver all had business in Birmingham last Monday. Of course they will take in the circus just because they happen there on that day.

Leeroy & Tinney have an advertisement in this issue. They have opened a new blacksmith shop and ask a share of the patronage of the public.

A twelve-pound girl arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Leroy on Monday night of last week.

Max Lefkowitz was in Anniston the fore part of the week.

A VERY PRETTY HOME WEDDING.

Mr. Henry D. Latham and Miss Mary C. Finley Married.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Finley, two miles west of Columbiana, at 12.30 last Wednesday, Miss Mary Cuni Finley and Mr. Henry D. Latham were united in marriage, the Rev. O. P. Bently, of Wilsonville, performing the ceremony.

The parlor and reception hall had been most beautifully decorated for the occasion, and it was a pretty scene from which these young people should start upon a voyage together for future years.

At 12.30 the sweet tones of "Hearts and Flowers," rendered by Mr. W. W. Wallace and Mrs. Elizabeth Hanson upon violin and organ filled the rooms, and when the tones of Lohengrin's wedding march pealed forth the attendants, Miss Irene Puckett and Mr. Taylor Finley, entered the parlor followed by the maid of honor, Miss Lallage Longshore, and best man, Mr. O. O. Bird, and as they separated at the door the bride and groom presented themselves. Facing the minister and a number of friends these two took upon themselves vows so long as they both shall live. The ring ceremony was used which is always pretty and interesting.

After the ceremony and they had received the congratulations of those present, the couple with a number of friends were driven to the Southern depot. Here Mr. and Mrs. Latham departed for a visit with the parents of the groom at Montevallo and to take in the State Fair at Birmingham, and are now at home to their friends in this city.

The bride is a lovely, sweet girl, and has a large circle of friends which have come to her because of her many womanly graces and kindly disposition. The groom is a young business man of Columbiana, a partner in the drug firm of Latham & Bird. He is a conscientious, christian man, genial and pleasant in his relations with all whether business or social.

The Sentinel binds its wishes with those of their numerous friends that their future may be of golden promise that in time may be fully realized.

They received a number of handsome presents from admiring friends.

Acquitted.

John Kroell, who was under indictment charged with murder of Walter S. Cary in Montevallo nearly four years ago, was tried last week before Judge Pelham in the circuit court, and the jury, after a consultation of about forty minutes, brought in a verdict of acquittal. Solicitor Borden H. Burr prosecuted, and Browne & Leeper appeared for the defense.

Dr. J. M. Fine & Co., Opticians.

Will be at the Central Hotel Nov. 4th and 5th. Eyes examined free of charge with the latest improved instruments. Nervous headache positively cured with glasses scientifically fitted. Difficult eyes a specialty.

Cole & Rogers Shows

As heretofore stated the Cole & Rogers Show will visit this city on Monday Nov. 6, 1905, and give two performances, one in the evening and one at night. A grand Street Parade will also be given at 12.30 on the day of the Show. These Shows differ from the ordinary, as they contain everything new. The Show throughout will be highly entertaining, and the many Clowns will keep the fun up to the top notch.

The Acrobats, Gymnasts, and the Tumbling Feats, are said to be some of the best obtainable. Adv.

John S. Pitts was a visitor to Birmingham Monday. His little son Jack wanted to go to the circus, and—well Mr. Pitts was a boy himself once upon a time.

F. L. Trent, of Harriman, Tenn., and Miss Jessie Trent, of Meriden, Conn., were in Columbiana last week attending court.

Uncle John Cromwell visited his daughter in Bessemer last week, and incidentally took in the State Fair.

A Big Show Coming

The Cole & Rogers Colossal Show will exhibit here in Columbiana Nov. 6, 1905. The Troupe is composed of first class Male and Female Performers, and the Funny Clowns are the best on the road.

The patrons of this show in every city and town in which it has pitched its tents have been highly pleased with the performance. The Acting is superb and is interesting to the Old and Young alike. Adv.

WE PLEAD

GUILTY

WHEN we are charged with inaugurating the greatest sale in the history of Shelby county, and the verdict of the jury—the people—is that we are offering greater values for less money than ever before given by any firm in this section. The will of the people is supreme, and from which there is no appeal, therefore must be a true verdict.

January 1st, Next,

We will be compelled to remove from the corner building which we now occupy, and it is absolutely necessary that we reduce our immense stock, hence the inauguration of this

Great Removal Sale.

Do you want to save money? Do you want to supply yourself and family with winter clothing and underwear at prices so low they cannot be duplicated in this section. If you do, attend this great sale and we will make good.

The goods must be sold, and sold before January 1st next. Somebody is sure of bargains and why not you? Regardless of cost goods must move.

The stock is new and bought before we decided to give up this building. If you want good bargains this is the time to get them. Visit the sale now.

Ladies, you are especially and cordially invited to visit our store during this sale. There are many bargains in which you are interested, and we particularly want to show you our line of Dress Goods and Ladies' Coats.

Columbiana Mercantile Company,

Wholesale and Retail

The City Drug Store

makes the following

Announcement!

SANTA CLAUS has made arrangements with us whereby our drug store is to be made his headquarters for distributing Holiday Goods in Shelby County, and in a few days we will have on display the finest holiday line ever shown here. Watch for it; then come to see it and bring the children.

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

J. W. Thompson, who lives in this city, brought to The Sentinel Tuesday morning, a sweet potato which beats the record so far as we have seen this season. It weighs four and three quarter pounds, and is apparently perfectly sound. Mr. Thompson informs us he has what is known as the Winter Rescue Grass growing in his garden spot at home and he would like for all who are interested in hay grass to come and see it growing now. Mr. Thompson is now 87 years old and is strong enough to walk to town frequently.

Considerable cotton has been marketed in Columbiana during the past week, the price going at one time to 10.25. A good many of the farmers are holding their cotton for eleven cents. The Sentinel predicts that cotton will drop below eight cents before Christmas, and that it will be worth 12.50 in March.

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

SAXON & JOHNSON, CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS. Dealers in Shingles. Estimates Furnished. We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana, Ala.

H. W. Nelson was among those who went to Birmingham Monday to attend the Fair and see the circus.

Milner & Christian have a change in their advertisement in this issue. Having bought the Abercrombie stock of goods they are talking bargains to you right.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor.
W. L. Farley, Clerk.
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays morning and night. Prayer meeting Thursday nights. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duglison, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school 9:30. G. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 140, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abercrombie, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF Pythias, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

MILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.

Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

There is a word that stands for hell so effectively that if a man got out of humor and said "Oh, Russia!" he is guilty of being profane, for Russia has been just about that.

Tom Watson does not want any reform by Bryan or Debs, and thinks the only reform worth a copper cent is the brand which has the name of Watson blown in the bottle.

There is always something new under the sun, and here is a new one from Dr. Mary Willard: She says if women are permitted to vote, race suicide would cease. Now wouldn't that jar you?

The recent industrial edition of the Anniston Hot Blast makes and excellent showing for Anniston—the Brooklyn of the South. The worth to Anniston of such an edition cannot be computed in dollars and cents.

Some German Professor says the bite of a girl is as dangerous as the bite of a snake. We can't say. No snake ever bit us. And when we lied to the doctor about why our lip had to be sewed up, he said he didn't think it would amount to much, and it didn't. That's all we know about it.—Geneva Reaper.

The Selma Times wants Tunstall, of the railroad commission, to be a candidate for re-election, not that the Times would support him, but it wants to see just how deep the people will bury Tunstall politically. Here's betting that Tunstall will not be a candidate, although it will be hard for him to pull away from the public seat from which he has been sucking so long.

Thanksgiving.

The fact that November this year has five Thursdays has created considerable discussion as to whether Thanksgiving day this year will fall on the fourth or the fifth Thursday of the month. Calendar and almanac makers differ as to the date, some designating November 23, others November 30. The history of the event and the precedent established by the proclamations of various presidents fix the last Thursday of November as the day. Thanksgiving day in the United States originated in 1621 in Massachusetts. At first the practice of observing a day of thanksgiving in the autumn of every year was confined to New England. But it has now become national, the president designating by proclamation the last Thursday in November as a day for national Thanksgiving. President Lincoln set the precedent for making the event an annual one, nationally, when he named the last Thursday in November, 1863, "a day of thanksgiving and praise."

The newspaper reports put into the mouth of President Roosevelt, in recording his conversation with the venerable widow of Stonewall Jackson, on his recent trip to the south, the slang expression, "By Jove!" If he is correctly reported this incident does the President no credit. On all occasions nearly he impresses us as a rattling, ill-balanced, undignified man for the high position of president.—Roanoke Leader.

The Birmingham Ledger wants to see Judge Thomas G. Jones a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet. The President might do worse.

Comer Organs Mixed.

In his formal announcement at Talladega, says the Thomaston Post, Mr. Comer was quoted as having said that he "must" have a secretary of state, auditor, etc., of his own choosing. The Montgomery Journal hastened to repudiate this version of the matter, whether advisedly or not we do not know. Now comes the Selma Times, however, one of the first and most untiring of Mr. Comer's organs, with this interpretation:

"B. B. Comer does not mince words. He is out after all the state officers, in the interest of the people. He wants to be governor and then he wants a railroad commission and a legislature in sympathy with his ideas. He is right. This state has been ruled long enough by a few peanut politicians, appointed on the commission by railroad influences. We wonder if Col. Tunstall will have the tenacity to go out after his job before the people? We hope so. When he does he will find out how he stands. The Tunstall influence will have to take a back seat when Comer comes into his own, the governorship. They will die game, but die they must, politically."

And so it goes. The Journal says he didn't and the Times says he did. In fact, the latter puts it even more strongly than did Mr. Comer himself, for it tells us that he "is out after all the state offices." If the Times, therefore, is correct, it would appear that The Post was not far wrong last week when it ventured the prediction that Mr. Comer would undertake to dominate all branches of the state government, in the event of his election. That may not be a bad idea as the Comer influences view the matter, but we respectfully submit that it is somewhat at variance with the notions of those old forefathers who, in setting up the government, thought it wise to separate the executive, legislative and judicial departments.

The Sentinel is in receipt of a copy of the published minutes of the Alabama Press Association at Coden. The work was done in the job department of the Opelika News and it is as neat and bright as one of Uncle Sam's new dollars. We are glad that Secretary Pepperman gave this work to a member of the Association, and it should be done every year even if it costs a little more money. The Opelika News is to be congratulated upon the neat job done.

Here is a specimen of Comer's inconsistency: "As a manufacturer I would like to buy cotton at five cents per pound, but as a producer I would like to sell it for twenty cents per pound." Mr. Comer uses five hundred bales of cotton as a manufacturer to where he produces one bale. And this from the man who wants to be Governor of Alabama. What of his "environments?"

Harry Martin is to good a newspaper man to be heedlessly butting his head against a stone wall and it looks very much like that is what he is doing in lambasting Congressman Clayton the way he is. From appearances it would seem he is wasting time and powder.

Geo. T. McEldery, of Talladega, has announced his candidacy for associate railroad commissioner. And he went all the way to Birmingham to do it. There are two good papers in Talladega county, too.

To most of us it seems only a little way from violets chrysanthemums.

Mr. Comer would like to buy the farmers' cotton for about half what it costs to make it—five cents; says so himself. But if he has any to sell he would like to get twenty cents for it. The Jim Dandy meal man is a financier all right enough.

Friend Doster, of the Prattville Progress, is being urged by the people of his county to be a candidate for the legislature. The people of Autauga will have to go a long ways before they find a better man for the place.

Fully Fitted.

The Advocate believes that Dr. Cunningham is better fitted for the office just at this time than Mr. Comer. He has had nearly one year's experience and has shown that he was not found wanting.

While both stand on the same platform so far as the railroads come into this campaign, that is the freight reduction, Mr. Comer makes that his only plan k, while Dr. Cunningham has several, all of them good for the state, and good for the people of the state. Therefore as we have before stated, it is our wish to see Dr. Cunningham elected this time. He is the logical candidate, was considered when he was elected as lieutenant governor as the possible incumbent at the next election. He has done nothing to detract from his competency for the office, but on the other hand has shown by his every act that he is fully fitted for the high office and we think he should be elevated to it at the election next year.—Greenville Advocate.

Forty continuous years of newspaper life, and all that time with the same paper. That is the record of General J. B. Stanley, of the Greenville Advocate. For two score years has his been the guiding hand of that paper—one of the best weeklies in the State. There is a warm spot in the heart of every member of the Alabama Press Association for General Stanley, and although he has spent an ordinary lifetime in newspaper work, here's hoping the fates will be kind to him, and that he may serve full another lifetime in the editorial chair of the Advocate.

There is a whole lot of credit due Editor W. H. H. Judson for the exploiting and promoting edition of the Bessemer Weekly, recently issued. It holds up the advantages of the Marvel City, its great industries and prosperity in fine engravings and interesting word pictures that reflect as if from a mirror. The people of Bessemer are a long way in the debt of Editor Judson for this splendid effort, and it will be a long time, if ever, before they can square the debt.

The President has returned to Washington and the big stick is in the air: No member of his cabinet is allowed to talk. What is to be given out to the press must come from the President and no one else. In other words the lid is down tight so far as any talking by the cabinet member.

We know that Lieutenant-Governor Cunningham will do, for he made a most enviable record while acting Governor, and appears to us to be the logical candidate and Mr. Comer admits that the Doctor's platform is just as good as if he (Mr. Comer) had written it himself.—Ashland Standard.

The editor appreciates the many compliments he has received from our people because of the improvement in The Sentinel since it is being printed all at home.

LOOK

TO FARMERS

We have just received for seedling purposes some of the celebrated

TEXAS RUST PROOF OATS

You know what they are:
The best on earth.

You are aware that

Our Grocery Stock is New,

Come in and talk it over.

We want your

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Will pay highest market price.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY,

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor - and - Builder,

Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 44,738 71	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts.....	434 05	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....	2,678 66
Banking house, furniture and fixtures.....	5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check.....	30,531 37
Other real estate.....	2,000 00	Savings deposits.....	918 81
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	15,737 01	Interest bearing deposits.....	1,330 00
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....	5,035 42	Cashier's checks.....	84 03
Currency.....	6,101 63	Notes and bills rediscounted.....	14,240 25
Gold.....	2,015 00	Bills payable.....	8,500 00
Silver, nickels and pennies.....	1,306 89
Checks and cash items.....	4,430 38
Total.....	$ 77,230 01	Total.....	$ 87,230 00

STATE OF ALABAMA.) Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier, of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest: W. B. Browne, W. G. Parker, J. T. Leeper. W. W. WALLACE, Notary Public.

Statement of the condition of the

MERCHANTS' AND PLANTERS' BANK OF MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

located at Montevallo, Ala., at the close of business
October 7, 1905.

RESOURCES.		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 31,107 02	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 15,000 00
Overdrafts.....	730 00	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....	3,307 63
Banking house, furniture and fixtures.....	2,400 00	Individual deposits subject to check.....	30,571 75
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	6,015 72	Cashier's checks.....	117 22
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....	4,374 58
Currency.....	6,300 00
Gold.....	150 00
Silver, nickels and pennies.....	540 00
Checks and cash items.....	212 88
Profit and loss.....
Total.....	$ 58,086 60	Total.....	$ 58,086 60

STATE OF ALABAMA.) Before me came Wm. Lyman, Cashier, Merchants' and Planters' Bank, of Montevallo, Ala., who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 11th day of October, 1905.
Attest: C. L. MERONEY, D. L. WILKINSON, Jno. H. McMath. Wm. LYMAN, Cashier. M. A. RHODES, Notary Public.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Nov. 9, 1905.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered at the post office at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,
Russell M. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

Begs the Question.

The "proxy" editor of the Advocate throws a half a dozen fits in the last issue of that sheet and says The Sentinel is disturbed because of the criticism(!) by that paper of the minority report of the recent grand jury. The minority report of the grand jury criticised the "present administration" of this county for its extravagance and the great indebtedness which the so called "present administration" is heaping upon the taxpayers. The boss buster of the "present administration" does not not like to be criticised—objects to the acts of that body being drawn into the lime light, and that is "the milk in the coconut."

The minority of the grand jury "considered that they were on the grand jury for a purpose," says this "proxy" editor of the Advocate. They were, and mark it down in blazing letters that once in his lifetime the "proxy" editor of the Advocate has spoken the truth. They were there for a purpose, impressed upon them by oath to do their duty. A part of that duty was to inquire into the condition of the county. This was done and the "Big Six," as these reputable men are dubbed by the Advocate, had regard for the solemn oath which they had taken and reported to the court conditions as they found them. For doing their sworn duty these men are made the dumping ground of the spew and billingsgate of the "proxy" editor of the "peoples" Advocate. In the minority report of the grand jury it was stated that the Commissioners were extravagant in the contracts relative to the new court house, and nine-tenths of the people of the county think the same. That's what's hurting the "proxy" editor of the Advocate.

The majority of the people will be found with the minority of the Grand Jury.

Not a cheep has come from the Advocate—the great self-proclaimed defender of the people's rights!—relative to the great debt which now confronts the people by the building of a new court house. It appears to be so "reliably" informed on court house matters, will it tell why the "present administration," if it wanted to tote fair and honestly with the taxpayers—those who have to pay the bills—did not give out the nature of the contract? for what amount that contract calls for the taxpayers to pay? the contract price for the court house? how much in addition to the original contract is the "marble luxury" to cost taxpayers? who of the Commissioners voted for the "marble luxury" and who against it? how much the "present administration" has contracted to pay Mr. Smith for getting Shelby county warrants cashed, and why anything should be paid for such a service? whether or not a portion of the Commissioners protested against the extravagance which has been indulged in? These are some of the things the taxpayers have a right to know of. One good substantial farmer has said to us within the past week—"what is our Commissioners' Court for if a man has to be paid a thousand or twelve hundred dollars, or more, for getting money on Shelby county warrants? That looks very much like discounting the warrants." And yet the "peoples" Advocate, the loudly self-proclaimed defender of the people's rights, defend's all this (at so much per), and says the people have confidence in the "present administration." If that be true, then the "present administration" flagrantly abused and prostituted that confidence when it levied and collected from the people of this county, for several years, an illegal tax which the railroads refused to pay, did not pay, and were upheld in that refusal by the courts and the law. This is but one illustration of the manner in which the confidence of the people has been basely betrayed by the "present administration"—an administration that heralded from the hilltops and through the valleys the great reforms it was going to bring about in the interest of the people—demagoguery, pure and simple. Every voter will do well by paying his poll tax.

Wilsonville News Items.

Claude Tinney, of Birmingham, is visiting his father's family.

Miss Kate Gwin returned home Saturday from a visit with relatives in Selma.

We are glad to know that Mrs. J. M. Ray is able to be up from her recent spell of sickness.

Miss Hutchings and Dr. H. A. Griffith, of Ensley, visited the family of Dr. J. B. Boyer last Sunday.

Rev. C. D. Brooks preached his last sermon for this conference year to the people of Wilsonville last Sunday.

Osie Tinney, Oscar Tinney, W. T. Tinney and family from near Sterrett, spent Sunday with Wm. Tinney and family.

H. E. Smith is having a new room added to his residence on Harpersville street. J. H. Robertson is doing the work.

We are glad to hear that Mrs. G. W. Riddle is improving from her recent spell of sickness, and hope she will be up in a few days.

We regret to learn that old Mr. R. Albright, in the Fourmile neighborhood, is critically ill at present, with no hopes at this time for any improvement.

Miss Mary Edwards, of Bessemer, is visiting her brother, W. H. Edwards. Miss Mary looks well, and it seems like old times to see her in our midst.

Dr. Ellis will leave this, Monday, evening for a few days' stay in Birmingham. Clarence Smith will fill his place in the drug store during his absence.

Miss Lena Somerville is visiting with her brother W. B. Somerville, of New York, who is visiting in South Alabama. We hope Mr. Somerville will visit Wilsonville before he returns to New York.

We welcome in our midst as neighbors Mr. Simpson and family of Piedmont. Mr Simpson is renting and is now occupying the A. L. Jackson house, known as the old Densler place. Mr. Simpson is bridge foreman for the Southern R'y.

We were glad to have the pleasure of shaking hands again with our old friend, Justin C. Jackson, of St. Marks, Fla. Claude made a flying trip last week to St. Louis to buy mules and stopped on his way home with us for a few days. He looks natural and seems to be at home; in fact he is one of our boys anyhow. He leaves today for his home in Florida. Next time we hope he will bring his family with him.

RIP VAN WINKLE.

From Sterrett.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana.

The Cricket will come out of his hiding place and chirp a little again. Crickets have to keep pretty close to their quarters when it is cold, and they are usually about the hearth. Crickets get on better and have an easier time than some people. They do not have to worry to get an education for it is given them; they are comforted by the labors of the people—being enabled to warm at their good fires without molestation. It is nice to be a cricket.

And the Russian people have been given enlarged liberties. This is wonderfully grand. And the Chinese are seeking for a modern constitution, and Japan is Americanizing herself, and the United States of America is the leading nation of the world. Surely this is progressing some and speaks well for this age. The Cricket sees much to be accomplished yet. We are all far from perfection, truth and peace. Why is there so much confusion and difference in the world—politically, intellectually and religiously? Verily, ignorance seems to be the prime cause. We are short in knowledge of equity and justice. We are all too far from God to be united with love, truth and peace. Verily, there is lots to do in the world yet. All nations, kindreds, people and tongue to be united in charity, truth, righteousness, knowledge, peace and God.

General health of this community is very good.

Our school, which is in charge of Prof. C. W. Chesser, is progressing very nicely.

Quite a number of our citizens took in the fair and circus at Birmingham, and got to see the illustrious and strenuous "Teddy;" one also got acquainted with a strange pickpocket and will not have to redeem the time.

Cricket.

Jordan Says Hold.

Harvie Jordan, president of the Southern Cotton association, has issued the following:

Farmers and merchants of the south are warned against cotton buyers, who are now busy at many interior points trying to induce spot-holders to sell them their cotton at market prices and agreeing to pay any additional advance that may accrue within the next sixty or ninety days. If you deliver up your cotton on that basis and the buyers get enough of the staple in their hand to fill their orders there is but little chance for the markets to advance.

The only way to force an advance quickly is to refuse to part with the cotton until satisfactory prices are offered. No middling cotton should be sold at interior points for less than 11 cents per pound. The cotton is short and all who hold will be rewarded as they should be.

Again don't lend your cotton to local mills on the promise of settlement at any time within the next few months. With the staple in the hands of the spinners prices can never advance.

Again, notify warehousemen to whom you ship your cotton for storage that under no circumstances must your cotton be loaned or sold to exporters until you are ready to sell it. All kinds of tricks and devices are being resorted to now by buyers and spinners to induce farmers to part with their cotton. Every man who is led into any of those trades is unwittingly playing into the hands of the buyers and against his own interest and that of his neighbors.

Hold your cotton like grim death. Tie up the spot market and stand firm for higher prices, and the victory will soon be yours and the continued prosperity of the south assured.

Cotton Is Exempt.

State Auditor J. M. Carmichael yesterday gave the assurance that no County Tax Assessors this year are listing cotton for taxation and all holders of the staple will have no encumbrances whatever in the campaign now being waged for higher prices all over the South.

"There are many articles of property exempt from taxation, said Judge Carmichael yesterday, but perhaps the following is more important to the people of Alabama at this time than any other. Provided that cotton and other agricultural products and pig iron shall be exempt from taxation in the hands of the producer, or in the hands of a purchaser, purchasing the same for prompt shipment, and pig iron shall be exempt for twelve months after its production."

The Auditor in this was quoting from the revenue code of Alabama. The special act of the code making these exemptions was passed by the Legislature of 1898-99. It is seen that cotton can be held forever so far as State taxation is concerned and there will not be any effort to make assessments on the staple while the growers hold it. It will be recalled that one Tax Assessor last year in the State was attempting to levy a tax on the cotton belonging to the farmers of his County when he received immediate orders from State Auditor Sowell to follow the law as laid down in the statutes.

Since the farmers have become very familiar with this admirable feature of the exemption laws there has been no fears on the part of the holding campaign leaders that there would be any loosening of the growers on suspicion of having to stand for taxes on cotton while in their hands. This does not apply to the broker who buys and keeps the cotton in the warehouse any length of time unnecessary to prompt shipment.—Montgomery Advertiser.

Another Judge Necessary.

The Shelby county Bar recently adopted the following resolutions: Whereas, the necessity for an additional District Judge for the Northern and Middle districts of Alabama is imperative, it being impossible for one Judge to dispose of the business of the courts in said districts, or even in the Northern District, therefore be it

Resolved by the Bar of Shelby county, Alabama:

First: That we favor the passage of an Act of Congress providing for an additional United States District Judge for the Middle and Northern Districts of Alabama, to reside in the Northern District; and that such Judge and the Judge of said courts residing in the Middle District have equal powers in each of said districts, dividing the business between them.

Second: Resolved, further, That we consider the above plan not only the best, but the only practical mode of obtaining relief; and we earnestly request our Senators and Representatives in Congress to do all in their power to procure the passage of such an Act of Congress; and that a copy of these resolutions be published and sent to them.

W. B. Browne,
D. R. McMillan,
W. W. Wallace,
J. L. Peters,
Jno. J. Haynes,
J. L. Abercrombie,
James Kay,
G. B. Walker,
E. S. Lyman,
J. T. Leeper.

Notice of Application for Pardon.

State of Alabama, }
Shelby County, }
I, W. M. May, Clerk of the } Court, do hereby certify } that an application will be } made on or before the 15th day of } December, 1905, to the Governor of } Alabama for the pardon of Edgar } Cary, who was convicted } of an assault with the intent to } murder, at the Fall Term of 1905, of } the Circuit Court of Shelby County, }
Alabama. }
This the 9th day of November, 1905. }
EDGAR CARY. }
10-2

Administrators' Sale.

UNDER and by virtue of an order of sale granted by the Probate Court of Shelby County, Ala., on Oct. 30, 1905, the undersigned as Administrators of the estate of C. H. Strain, deceased, will on Monday, the 13th day of December, 1905, within the legal hours of sale, in front of the court house in Columbiana, Ala., sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described lands belonging to said estate for the purpose of paying the debts of the same to-wit:

sec. 26, of sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, nels. 1/2 of sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, also about 1/2 of an acre in the northwest corner of sec. 24, of nels. 1/2 of sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, 167 feet east and west, and 13 feet north and south, sw. 1/4 of nels. 1/2 of sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, and nels. 1/2 of sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, and all that part of the southeast quarter of sec. 21, tp. 21, R. 1 East that lies south of Reeswax Creek, containing in all 175 acres more or less, and situated in Shelby County, Ala.

WM. STRAIN, Sr.,
MAGGIE BRITT,
Administrators.

Notice of Final Settlement.

J. E. Davidson, } Probate Court,
deceased, }
Estate of } Shelby County, Ala.

THIS day came John L. and Clara B. Davidson, administrators of said estate, and filed their statement of accounts, vouchers and evidence, for a final settlement of their administration; it is ordered that Monday, the 27th day of November, 1905, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, } In Chancery,
Shelby County, } Sixth District North-
Eastern Chancery Div.
Corn Simpson, complainant,
vs.
Sam Simpson, defendant.

IN this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of J. J. Haynes that the Defendant, Sam Simpson, is a Non-Resident of Alabama and resides in Little Rock, Arkansas, and further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.

It is therefore ordered, by the Register, that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in the County of Shelby once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Sam Simpson to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 2nd day of Dec. A. D. 1905, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office, in Columbiana, Ala. this 23rd day of Oct. A. D. 1905.

J. R. WHITE Register.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

TO THE PUBLIC!

WE have purchased J. H. Abercrombie & Son's store building and stock of goods and as the stock is large we are going to reduce it. There will be a great reduction in prices, and you will save yourself money by coming to see us.

LOW PRICES PREVAIL.

We are now overstocked in Tobaccos and a special reduction price will prevail on this line until the stock is reduced. This opportunity will hardly present itself again.

WATCH FOR IT!

Look out for our big Furniture advertisement; something sensational in both goods and prices. Anything you want that we have not in stock, we will make a specialty in ordering for you. We guarantee goods to be as represented. Give us first call and you will save money. Uniform treatment to all.

Milner & Christian.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

Do you know that the Railroads spend 50 CENTS OF EVERY DOLLAR they receive on Labor, Fuel and Taxes?

Their pay-roll last year was more than $775,000,000.

They Paid More than $57,000,000 in Taxes.

American Railroads Pay Higher Wages,

Employ more people, give better service and charge less for it than European roads charge. Many interesting things which every citizen should know are found in a small pamphlet entitled

"WHAT ARE THE FACTS."

Drop us a postal card and we will send you a copy free.

RAILROAD RECORD,
ATLANTA, GA.

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP,

LEGROY & TINNEY, Proprietors.

Blacksmithing and General Repairing. Horse Shoeing a Specialty. Special attention given to horses with deformed feet. Try us and be convinced.

"A Thing of Beauty
Is a Joy Forever!"

Our millinery may not wear forever
but the ladies all exclaim

"The Hats are Beautiful!"

And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

We have in stock

The Prettiest Line of Novelties

in the way of

Belts and Fashionable Neckwear
ever shown in Columbiana.

Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

Bring your Job Work to this office. Only best stock used and work satisfactory to you.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Phone 20

Call us up

FIRST and best of fall goods, prove their worth in every way. Values that you cannot fail to see. Made for you the way you want it. Satisfaction is a part of the bargain. Come here first and you'll go no further. We don't sell what we can't recommend. 'Nuff said.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Copy one year $1.00
Copy six months .50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Hon. E. S. Lyman, of Montevallo, was in the city last Thursday.

O. O. Bird was a visitor in Birmingham last Wednesday and Thursday.

Those who are advertising in The Sentinel can almost see their business grow.

W. E. Riddle was a State Fair visitor at Birmingham a day or two last week.

Miss Rosa Gilbert is the new cashier at the Columbiana Mercantile Company's store.

If good weather continues, brick laying will begin on the new court house in a little while.

Jas. N. Robertson was in Birmingham several days last week attending the State Fair.

Dr. C. T. Acker visited at the home of R. J. Griffin, near Helen, a day or two last week.

The Sentinel has been informed that the old court house has been sold. To whom we did not learn.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Carter, of Shelby, were in the city last Saturday on a shopping expedition.

Mrs. Jennie M. Wilson has returned from a visit with her daughter Mrs. W. S. Hyatt, in Tallade ga.

Whether it is a five dollar circus or a million dollar circus—the crowd flocks to town just the same.

Miss Emmie Abercrombie is home from Woodlawn after a visit of several weeks with her sister, Mrs. Jones.

There was something on the street here last Saturday that gave one the shivers—a man wearing a straw hat.

E. L. Crumpton, living on rural route No. 1 out of Columbiana, was among the subscribers to The Sentinel last week.

The town was full of people Monday, but it was not a good crowd for the merchants—the circus was the magnet.

The Sentinel learns that Postmaster Abercrombie will begin the erection of a residence on East College street in the near future.

Mrs. Howard Latham arrived in the city last Sunday for a short visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chapman.

Hon. D. R. McMillan and daughter Margaret and Mrs. Henry Milner were visitors to Birmingham last Wednesday and Thursday.

E. L. Ray and J. Martin, of near Wilsonville, are among those who have renewed their subscription to The Sentinel during the past week.

The Commissioners' Court was in session last Wednesday and Thursday. The regular panel of jurors for the next year was drawn.

Miss Olive Nelson entertained a few of her young friends at the home of her parents last Friday night. The young people report a very pleasant time.

B. C. Bynum, the court house contractor, has purchased a residence just this side of the depot and has removed his family here from Montgomery.

Our people have every reason to be proud of Columbiana's public school. It has increased in membership almost every week since the opening day last September.

Did you ever see a man too poor to go to a circus? He will manage to scrape together enough money—the price of one of the little yellow paste boards which will admit him.

W. E. Riddle will remove his family to Columbiana next week, and will occupy the Liles house now occupied by Arthur Millstead. Arthur will remove to the home of Mrs. German.

Rev. C. C. Heard, the new pastor of the Baptist church, together with his family, have arrived in the city and are located in the residence of O. O. Bird. Our people are glad to have them with us.

Ed. Strickland, who had one of his fingers badly smashed by a falling rock about three weeks ago while at work on the rock crusher, is able to be at work again. Unfortunately for Ed. the finger will always be stiff.

The Bullock County Breeze is now being published twice-a-week, and at the same subscription price. Editor Lawrence is making a good paper of the Breeze, and from its advertising columns we infer the business men appreciate his efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Latham returned from their visit to Birmingham last week. For the present they are stopping with Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Finley. They expect to occupy one of the Brooks' cottages on College street just as soon as it is finished.

It was thought that two policemen had escaped from some metropolitan force and dropped into Columbiana last Monday, but it proved to be our two marshals who had just received their policeman's chapeaus. We are getting quite citized, thank you.

Cotton was selling in Columbiana last Saturday for 10.50. That begins to look like the farmer was going to get a fair price for his product. The prediction is made that it will drop to eight cents before Christmas and go as high as 12.50 by the middle of February.

It is a noticeable thing that the advertisers in The Sentinel are the firms doing the bulk of the business in Columbiana. One old gentleman said to us Saturday that the advertisements in The Sentinel were read every week by the members of his family because of their attractiveness.

The many friends of Dr. T. G. Nelson, who has been seriously ill at the home of his brother, H. S. Nelson, for the past several weeks, will be glad to know that he is very much improved and was able to be out for a drive last Sunday. It is hoped he may continue to improve until he is fully restored to good health.

Miss Edna Mae McNeal, vocal teacher of Shelby, is visiting in the city.

Our local sportsmen have been getting a few birds during the past week. It is no effort at all for some of them to go out for two or three hours, shoot and bring home a couple of dozen partridges.

A petition is being circulated, almost universally signed, asking Governor Jelks to pardon Edgar Cary. We are told that nearly all the members of the jury which convicted him have signed the petition.

Mrs. S. V. McCauley, Miss Ethel Early and Mrs. H. E. Whitaker returned from Birmingham and Woodlawn last Thursday where they had been visiting friends and relatives and taking in the sights of the State Fair.

J. K. Milner and family, who have been yellow fever refugees in this city for the past two months or longer, will leave for their home in Gulfport, Miss., this week. Mr. Milner says he will be glad to get back to his business again.

There is more or less shooting of revolvers on the street near the Southern depot every night, and the dangerous gun practice should be stopped before some innocent person stops a stray bullet. We are told it is done by negroes on their way home.

A great crowd of farmers was in town last Saturday, and our merchants were kept on the go from early morning until late at night. Cotton was bringing 10.50 and much of it was brought to town and sold, and in turn the farmers purchased a great many winter supplies.

Since the yellow fever has been quenched at Gulfport, J. R. Hill and family, who have been visiting relatives in Columbiana for the past two months, have returned to their home in that city. Advice from them since their return home say that not a case of the fever has been in Gulfport.

We notice in some of our exchanges an almost verbatim copy of some of the advertisements in The Sentinel, with change of names of course. And in a number of instances the display is as near like The Sentinel as possible to make them. A compliment, we think, to our ad. compositor.

Dr. Walton, president of the Presbyterian school for girls in Talladega, preached two excellent sermons in this city last Sunday at the Presbyterian church. Our people all will be glad to learn that Rev. Mr. Duglinson, pastor of the church, has almost entirely recovered his usual good health, after an illness of two or three months with typhoid fever.

Jno. L. Nivens, of near Coalville, was in the city Thursday and while here renewed his subscription to The Sentinel and ordered it sent to his brother in Texas. And, by the way, he left for Texas on Tuesday of this week for a visit with his brother who lives at Homer. While here Mr. Nivens took occasion to say that it was almost impossible for a team to draw an empty wagon over some of the public roads just north of Coalville, and that in many places between here and Coalville they are in bad shape.

Edward Wallace, of Tennessee, was in the city last week visiting relatives.

Judge J. L. Peters Sundayed with his children in Montevallo.

Complimentary to Miss Bell.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Erick entered at their comfortable home last Friday night in honor of Miss Maude Bell, of Lineville, who is in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. Jno. J. Haynes.

The program of the evening was in the nature of a missing word contest, and there was a lively contest between the guests. There was also plenty of music during the evening, and about 10 o'clock delicious refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Erick are delightful entertainers, and the evening with them will be most pleasantly remembered for a long time by those who enjoyed their hospitality. Among those present were: Misses Maude Bell, Janie Wallace, Rosser Christian, Carrie Rowe, Lallage Longshore, Lillie Mae Liles and Gertrude Gordon, and Messrs. O. O. Bird, Edward Wallace, W. W. Wallace, Lucius Roberts and Jas. N. Robertson.

Two Killed in Wreck

The flagman failed in his duty and the engineer and fireman are dead, two engines demolished and several cars smashed into splinters as the result.

This is the story of a railway wreck which occurred on the Southern at Jenifer early Thursday morning. Freight train number eighty, north bound, rounded a curve at Jenifer, and in the absence of any warning, crashed into and side-swiped a switch engine. The fireman, Wm. Richardson, jumped but met death in the fall; the engineer E. W. Munn, was found in the debris of his engine, dead at his post. His mangled body was pinioned between his seat and the boiler. The two men on number eighty were the only ones injured. Flagman Lankford, who belonged to a train crew that was delayed at Jenifer on account of a "dead" engine, and whose failure in his duty is said to have caused the wreck, has fled. The switch engine that was run into had come down from Anniston to pull the train with the "dead" engine into Anniston. Messrs. Munn and Richardson, who were killed, were residents of Selma, where they both had families.—Talladega Mountain Home.

You seldom, if ever, go to a man's house without an invitation, do you? And if you are invited you appreciate it, don't you? Well, the business man who advertises his wares in the home papers, and invites you to call and see what he has is the man who will treat you as a guest when you call. The Sentinel most cordially commends to the public those business men who are using its columns to tell what they have for sale. They have taken especial pains to purchase a stock of goods which they believe is needed by the people of this section, and every one of them will guarantee the goods they sell you to be just as represented. It is worth considerable to you to deal with that class of business men.

Dr. J. M. Frie & Co., Opticians.

Will be at the Central Hotel until Saturday. Eyes examined free of charge with the latest improved instruments. Nervous headache positively cured with glasses scientifically fitted. Difficult eyes a specialty.

It is the opinion of the legal fraternity throughout the northern and middle districts of Alabama that one judge is incapable of transacting the business of the courts in those districts, and for that reason Congress will be asked to pass an Act providing for an additional United State District Judge for those districts. In another column in this issue will be found resolutions passed by the Shelby County Bar favoring the passage of such an Act.

W. L. Christian is to build a cottage on the lot adjoining that of L. E. Christian, and it will be occupied by his mother. Saxon & Johnson have the contract. It might not be out of place to say that Mr. Christian, who has been with the Louisville & Nashville railroad at Cincinnati, is now located at Pineville, Ky., and is with the Pine Bluff railroad.

The farmers in Randolph county are in better financial condition than we have ever known them before. Comparatively few of them will be in debt when the year's business is wound up.—Roanoke Leader.

And what the Leader says of Randolph county is also true of the farmers of Shelby. And we also notice that some of the farmers who left this county a year or two ago for Texas, Mississippi and Louisiana, are coming back.

Philip Erick made a flying trip to Bessemer last Monday.

WE PLEAD

GUILTY

WHEN we are charged with inaugurating the greatest sale in the history of Shelby county, and the verdict of the jury—the people—is that we are offering greater values for less money than ever before given by any firm in this section. The will of the people is supreme, and from which there is no appeal, therefore must be a true verdict.

January 1st, Next.

We will be compelled to remove from the corner building which we now occupy, and it is absolutely necessary that we reduce our immense stock, hence the inauguration of this

Great Removal Sale.

Do you want to save money? Do you want to supply yourself and family with winter clothing and underwear at prices so low they cannot be duplicated in this section. If you do, the attend this great sale and we will make good.

The goods must be sold, and sold before January 1st next. Somebody is sure of bargains and why not you? Regardless of cost goods must move.

The stock is new and bought before we decided to give up this building. If you want good bargains this is the time to get them. Visit the sale now.

Ladies, you are especially and cordially invited to visit our store during this sale. There are many bargains in which you are interested, and we particularly want to show you our line of Dress Goods and Ladies' Coats.

Columbiana Mercantile Company,

Wholesale and Retail

The City Drug Store

makes the following

Announcement!

SANTA CLAUS has made arrangements with us whereby our drug store is to be made his headquarters for distributing Holiday Goods in Shelby County, and in a few days we will have on display the finest holiday line ever shown here. Watch for it; then come to see it and bring the children.

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

SAXON & JOHNSON, CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS.

Dealers in Shingles - - - - - Estimates Furnished

We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana: Ala

Mrs. J. P. Roberts and two of her children went over to Sylacauga last Saturday for a short visit with relatives and returned Monday. Thompson & Riddle are soon to have in a fine stock of shoes. Watch for their advertisement which will tell you all about the day.

People sympathize with old age, but laugh at those who try to fight it off

If a pretty man does not make an impression at least every hour, his heart is broken.

Constipation.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaints have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Herbine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M., Bronson, Fla. writes, Feb. 12, 1902: "Having used Herbine, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." 50c a bottle. Sold by Williams Bros.

How would you like to be a letter and be able to buy a ticket to New York for two cents?

There should be more cutting out of "Might have been," and a substitution of "It is going to be."

Best Liniment on earth.

Henry D. Balwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis. writes, "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

People's noses get blue in November, and don't begin to whiten until the following June.

We are no prophet; we can never tell anything about weather until it arrives.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kans., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him."

That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

It seems that all a man has to do in these eventful times is to announce that he is a reformer, and the fool shouters try to do the rest. But some day the shouters will stop yelling long enough to size up the reformers, and then there will be something happening.

When a farmer has't anything to kick about, town people have no way of finding out how things are in the country.

Every man's kin abuse him, but if President McCurdy's do, it is without reason, and they ought to be ashamed.

Five sixths of the year 1905 is gone, and the other installment is riding in an automobile full head on.

There appears to be some hope for Russia after all. The people of the "little father" want freedom and seem likely to get it.

Neuralgia Pains.

Rheumatism, lamago and sciatic pains yields to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment.

It penetrates to the nerves and bone and being absorbed into the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

Harpersville Items.

Jack frost has come.

Cotton picking will soon be over.

Our school is progressing finely.

T. J. Martin has moved to Wilsonville.

The gin here took a rest last week.

D. Cater has been quite sick the past week, but is better now.

Mr. Roosevelt has come and gone, and the world continues to move just the same.

The Farmers' Union will have public speaking at Cresswell, Saturday, November 4th.

Let me congratulate you, Mr. Editor, on your paper. All home print, and brim full of news.

Uncle John Jones went over the river a few days ago. Another trip and then—

Mr. McCall, of Talladega county, has bought the Borum farm one mile east of town.

The bird hunters are out in full force now, while the "possum" hunters are heard early and late.

Mr. Calvin Simmons and Miss Rilla Dickerson were married at the home of the bride's father, near Weldon, a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. G. M. D. Ray were called to Ensley last week to see their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Emmett Ray, who is very sick.

Rev. Mr. O'Neal filled his last appointment at the Methodist church on the fourth Sunday.

Mr. O'Neal is a good preacher and an all round good man, and we regret to see him leave this circuit, but wish him well wherever he may be sent.

Wade Posey, who has been sick so long with typhoid fever, has fully recovered from his sickness and gone back to Birmingham where he is employed as book-keeper for S. Bethen & Co., general insurance agents.

Dan Walker is fireman at the gin now, and there came very near being a blow up one day last week. Had it not been for John Lee, who was standing near, the engine, gin and Dan would have gone to another country. Fortunately there was not much damage done. Dan lost his hat getting away.

Our Bob went over to Birmingham last week to see the President, but it seems that Bob failed to have a chat with "His Honor," but came back home contented with the fact of knowing that he saw the President of this mighty country even if he did not get to speak to him or touch the hem of his garment. JAKF.

Selma Times Rebuked.

The esteemed Selma Times laments that "this state has been ruled long enough by a few peanut politicians." Will our contemporary be good enough to give us the name of the brand of politicians that are trying to oust the alleged "peanut" fellows, asks the Thomaston Post? We are not advised exactly as to what a "peanut politician" is; neither did we know that any of the pushcart fraternity had broken into the statehouse. It is a fact generally known of men, however, that politicians of some sort have so "ruled the state" that material, religious and educational progress in Alabama has been second to that of no state in the union; that Alabama is a mighty good state to come to and a mighty good state to live in after one gets here; that there is more work at remunerative wages than there are workers to take it; that people are not tumbling over one another to get out of the state and away from the oppressions of "peanut politician" rule; that an Alabamian does not have to hang his head in shame when he goes abroad; the capital is not

SHIELD BRAND
FITS SHIELD BRAND WEARS
WELL WELL
CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERYT, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

afraid to come in and develop our vast latent resources; that our state institutions are not humiliated and cramped by a narrow and niggardly policy; that the administration of state affairs is directed upon a lofty plane; that violence and lawlessness are neither condoned nor tolerated by the executive head of affairs; that scandals do not prevail in high official places; that the rate of taxation is not burdensome; that the state treasury is literally running over with money, and, finally, that a newspaper that makes extravagant assertions and assaults the King's English is not only forgiven but even respected and loved.

Following up the yellow fever scourge in Pensacola, that city sustained a loss by fire one day last week amounting to several hundred thousand dollars.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1905.

No. 21	No. 16	STATIONS	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	2:30am	Ar. Selma	8:55pm	8:00am
1:00am	5:45pm	Ar. Birmingham	4:30pm	2:00am
6:30am	10:00am	Ar. Jacksonville	6:20am	0:35pm
8:40pm	12:15pm	Ar. Jacksonville	6:50pm	3:00pm
11:10pm	1:45pm	Ar. Jacksonville	7:20pm	5:30pm
6:40pm	4:10pm	Ar. Jacksonville	7:50pm	8:00pm
6:00pm	3:40pm	Ar. Jacksonville	8:20pm	1:00pm

Nes. 22 and 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. A. L. C. car serves meals en route.

No. 16	STATIONS	No. 15
7:30am	Ar. Selma	8:55pm
8:00am	Ar. Birmingham	4:30pm
8:30am	Ar. Jacksonville	6:20am
8:40pm	Ar. Jacksonville	6:50pm
11:10pm	Ar. Jacksonville	7:20pm
6:40pm	Ar. Jacksonville	7:50pm
6:00pm	Ar. Jacksonville	8:20pm

No. 16	STATIONS	No. 15
7:30am	Ar. Selma	8:55pm
8:00am	Ar. Birmingham	4:30pm
8:30am	Ar. Jacksonville	6:20am
8:40pm	Ar. Jacksonville	6:50pm
11:10pm	Ar. Jacksonville	7:20pm
6:40pm	Ar. Jacksonville	7:50pm
6:00pm	Ar. Jacksonville	8:20pm

STATIONS	No. 16	No. 15
Ar. Birmingham	4:30pm	6:20am
Ar. Selma	7:20am	8:55pm
Ar. Jacksonville	4:00pm	7:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	4:45pm	7:50pm
Ar. Jacksonville	4:57pm	8:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	5:10pm	8:20pm
Ar. Jacksonville	5:45pm	8:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	6:00pm	8:50pm
Ar. Jacksonville	6:30pm	9:00pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:00pm	9:30pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:30pm	10:00pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:00pm	10:30pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:30pm	11:00pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:00pm	11:30pm

STATIONS	No. 16	No. 15
Ar. Jacksonville	6:10am	6:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	6:40am	6:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:10am	7:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:40am	7:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:10am	8:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:40am	8:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:10am	9:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:40am	9:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:10am	10:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:40am	10:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:10am	11:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:40am	11:40pm

STATIONS	No. 16	No. 15
Ar. Jacksonville	6:10am	6:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	6:40am	6:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:10am	7:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:40am	7:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:10am	8:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:40am	8:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:10am	9:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:40am	9:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:10am	10:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:40am	10:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:10am	11:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:40am	11:40pm

No. 16 carries Pullman sleeping car from Jacksonville to Jacksonville. Dining car Birmingham to Jacksonville. Dining car Jacksonville to Jacksonville.

STATIONS	No. 16	No. 15
Ar. Jacksonville	7:10pm	7:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:40pm	7:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:10pm	8:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:40pm	8:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:10pm	9:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:40pm	9:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:10pm	10:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:40pm	10:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:10pm	11:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:40pm	11:40pm

No. 15 carries Pullman sleeping car from Jacksonville to Jacksonville. Dining car Birmingham to Jacksonville. Dining car Jacksonville to Jacksonville.

STATIONS	No. 16	No. 15
Ar. Jacksonville	6:10am	6:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	6:40am	6:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:10am	7:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:40am	7:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:10am	8:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:40am	8:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:10am	9:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:40am	9:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:10am	10:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:40am	10:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:10am	11:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:40am	11:40pm

No. 15 carries Pullman sleeping car from Jacksonville to Jacksonville. Dining car Birmingham to Jacksonville. Dining car Jacksonville to Jacksonville.

STATIONS	No. 16	No. 15
Ar. Jacksonville	6:10am	6:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	6:40am	6:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:10am	7:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	7:40am	7:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:10am	8:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	8:40am	8:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:10am	9:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	9:40am	9:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:10am	10:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	10:40am	10:40pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:10am	11:10pm
Ar. Jacksonville	11:40am	11:40pm

No. 16 carries Pullman sleeping car from Jacksonville to Jacksonville. Dining car Birmingham to Jacksonville. Dining car Jacksonville to Jacksonville.

The Alabama Division or Lodge No. 9,

OF THE

National Union Fraternal Life Association

PROVIDES

$1,000 IN CASE OF DEATH

(When the Division is Full)

$1,000 IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

(Total Disability)

Paid Up Membership in Twenty Years.

The Orphan Children of Members Educated Free of Cost. This in Addition to Money Coming to Them by Death of Parent.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.

Dr. A. T. Rowe, President,.....	Columbiana	C. W. O'Hara, minister.....	Columbiana
W. E. Harrison, Treasurer.....	Columbiana	H. E. Whitaker, Ed. of Sentinel.....	Columbiana
J. W. Johnston, merchant.....	Columbiana	F. A. Church, mason.....	Wilsonville
Jno. R. Dyke, Circuit Clerk.....	Columbiana	S. J. Spearman, merchant.....	Wilsonville
A. P. Longshore, Probate Judge.....	Columbiana	W. A. Stone, farmer.....	Columbiana
R. F. Cox, Sheriff.....	Columbiana	G. E. Abbott, blacksmith.....	Shelby
J. O. Dorrough, Supt. of Ed.....	Columbiana	Emory L. Barber, farmer.....	Shelby
Jas. Finley, farmer.....	Columbiana	Terrell Bice, merchant.....	Shelby
Jno. J. Haynes, attorney.....	Columbiana	S. Z. T. Champion, farmer.....	Sterrett
J. L. Peters, attorney.....	Columbiana	W. A. Brasher, tax collector.....	Columbiana

For membership, further information and Agency Contracts, call on or write J. W. Harrall, Division Manager, Columbiana, Ala.

This is a Home Company, managed by Home People. The Money is kept at Home in the Bank, Under Bond, Ready for Death Claim in Advance.

COST The membership fee is only $5.00, paid but once. At the end of six months, and each six months thereafter, $1 00. Nothing more to pay until a death occurs in the above Division; then each member pays $1.25 for each death.

WOMEN are accepted on equal terms with men. Only 1,000 persons can join. While organizing, will admit healthy persons between ages of 16 and 50 years. After division is full, no one can join until there is a vacancy—then none over 40 years.

Good organizers for other counties can secure good money-making contracts by addressing

ROBT. H. JONES, Gen'l Superintendent,
615 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Bring your job work to The Sentinel office—the best work.

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line

is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the

Chicago & North-Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways.

W. B. KNISKERN,
P. T. M. C. & N. W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.
Please mail free to my address, California booklets, maps and full particulars concerning rates and train service.

FILL IN THIS COUPON
AND MAIL IT TO-DAY.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 11.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

alone, lest it be worsened by departures from tried and proved policies.—New York Times, Oct. 16, 1905.

Election Echoes.

There were some startling surprises in the State elections last Tuesday, and grafters generally got it in the neck.

Pattison, the Democratic candidate for Governor in Ohio, was elected by a nice majority, and the Republican boss Cox, who has dominated politics in Cincinnati for more than a decade was rebuked with the worst defeat ever given any man, and he has given out a signed statement that he is "forever out of politics." Last year Ohio gave Roosevelt 230,000 plurality—somewhat of a change.

Virginia gave 35,000 plurality for the Democratic ticket.

In the Salt Lake City municipal election Mormonism was given a decided black eye—every Mormon candidate being defeated.

The most sensational election held in New York City for years showed that the people there are for reform in the management of municipal affairs. McClellan, the Democratic candidate for mayor, was elected. Jerome was re-elected district attorney.

Pennsylvania, which in a national election generally gives a half a million majority for the Republican ticket, the Democrats elected the State Treasurer, and in the city of Philadelphia Mayor Weaver's campaign against the grafters who have nearly bankrupted that city, was endorsed to that extent that every candidate on the reform ticket was elected. The grafter got jolted good and hard. Philadelphia gave Roosevelt last year a plurality of 180,834.

The Indian Territory wants joint statehood by a big majority as was determined at the election last Tuesday.

New Jersey, not knowing any better, gave its usual beastly Republican majority.

Fair Price for Cotton.

The southern planters have a practical monopoly on the world's cotton supply at the present time, and there is no doubt in the mind of intelligent persons that they will continue to have it for a generation to come. They have in times past, by one means and another been denied an adequate return for their industry and the staple it produced. They are making an earnest effort to provide against possibility of their being similarly victimized in the future. Should they seek to abuse their fortune they would be at much fault, but they are entitled to fair remuneration for what they have to sell. Concert of action on their part during the last year has brought them a rich reward without working serious injury to others and there appears to be no reason why they should not duplicate these results in the years to come. It is not likely that the millions of planters in the South will ever be able to band themselves together so closely as to become a robber cotton producing trust, capable of tyrannizing over the world, but a spirit of co-operation between them may be taught which would further their own interests and the interests of their customers. As we understand it, the southern cotton planter asks a fair price for his staple not an extortionate one; and this, whatever it may be, he is justly entitled to receive.—Charleston News and Courier.

The people, we must think, would welcome a reconstructed and old-fashioned Democratic party, standing for a strict construction of the constitution, for a moderate tariff, and a check to centralizing tendencies. Principles such as these are the only justification for the existence of the Democratic party. There are millions of voters who would give their votes for a genuine Democrat on a straight, old-fashioned Democratic platform.—Mobile Herald.

Mr. Comer, in his speech announcing his candidacy, boldly declared, in substance, that he was both a manufacturer and a cotton planter. As a manufacturer he would wish to buy cotton at 5 cents a pound, as a planter he would wish to sell at 20 cents. There is nothing remarkable in his wish to sell the raw staple at 20 cents, since it has heretofore, at times, gone above that price, and was still cheaper than any substitute to be found for clothing the great masses of the people. But it is strange that any fair-minded manufacturer should wish to buy his raw material at little more than half the cost of production. With such a policy in extensive practice the cotton industry would soon become a memory.

The policy enunciated by Mr. Comer is wholly at variance with all sound theory of public economy. It betrays a feeling dominated by avarice, with a rare flexibility of judgment and conscience, and fatal absence of the more liberal qualities of mind that should characterize one seeking the governorship of the great and prosperous State of Alabama.—Talladega Mountain Home.

Alabama's State Fair is said to have been the best ever given, and those who were behind it are to be congratulated on having made such a success of it. We are told that especially the exhibits made by the few counties represented were exceptionally good, and we hope if the fair is continued from year to year as it should be, that every county in the State will bring forth and display its best products. A State Fair is the best way in the world to advertise a State.

The Talladega Reporter says Mr. Comer said in his recent Talladega speech that if elected Governor he would repeal the present newspaper libel law. This law is regarded as one of the best of any State, and the very fact that prevented Mr. Comer from squeezing a sum of cool cash from several newspapers which did him no intentional injury, will make it more popular than ever.—Huntsville Mercury.

If Mr. Comer is consistent in his madness why does he not resign as president of the railroad commission now that he is a candidate for Governor? Evidently he wants to retain his seat on the commission as it is not at all probable he will ever be Governor.

Say young man, you with the swollen caput and 'chesty' bearing, did it ever occur to you that there is hardly blank paper enough in the world on which to print the sum total of what you don't know?

Here is a good motto for the voters of Alabama just at this time: A square deal for the railroads, a fair deal for the people, and a fair man for every deal.—Talladega Mountain Home.

They say there is no chance for a young man these days. What's the matter with getting into the legislature and saying "shoo" to the life insurance companies.

It is a question which nags a boy the more: Don't or Do.

TO FARMERS

LOOK

We have just received for seeding purposes some of the celebrated

TEXAS RUST PROOF OATS

You know what they are: The best on earth.

You are aware that

Our Grocery Stock is New,

Come in and talk it over.

We want your

COUNTRY PRODUCE.

Will pay highest market price.

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.

All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.

Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY.

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor = and = Builder,
Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts	$ 44,756 71	Capital stock paid in	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts	481 65	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	2,578 60
Banking house	5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check	30,531 25
Furniture and fixtures	2,900 00	Savings deposits	918 81
Other real estate	3,000 00	Interest bearing deposits	1,339 00
Due from banks and bankers in this State	12,237 61	Cashier's checks	84 69
Due from banks and bankers in other States	5,053 42	Notes and bills rediscounted	14,230 25
Currency	6,401 00	Gifts payable	8,500 00
Gold	2,045 00
Silver, nickels and pennies	1,268 89
Checks and cash items	4,450 36
Total	$ 87,259 06	Total	$ 87,259 06

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier, of Columbiana Savings Bank, County of SHELBY. Bank who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest: W. B. Browne, J. W. G. Parker, J. T. Leeper, Directors, W. W. WALLACE, Notary Public.

Statement of the condition of the

MERCHANTS' AND PLANTERS' BANK OF MONTEVALLO, ALA.,

Located at Montevallo, Ala., at the close of business
October 7, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts	$ 36,107 92	Capital stock paid in	$ 15,000 00
Demand loans	739 00	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	3,307 93
Banking house, furniture and fixtures	2,490 00	Individual deposits subject to check	30,571 75
Overdrafts	42 30	Cashier's checks	117 23
Due from banks and bankers in this State	6,915 72
Due from banks and bankers in other States	4,374 58
Currency	6,500 00
Gold	150 00
Silver, nickels and pennies	246 00
Checks and cash items	212 88
Profit and loss	1,000 00
Total	$ 58,086 10	Total	$ 58,086 10

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came Wm. Lyman, Cashier, Merchants' and Planters' Bank, of Montevallo, Ala., who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 11th day of October, 1905.
Attest: C. L. MERONEY, D. L. WILKINSON, Jno. H. McMath, Directors, M. A. RHODES, Notary Public.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor.
W. L. Farley, Clerk.
Councilmen—S. Pitts, J. W. Johnson, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duglison, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 149, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abernethy, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. A. P. Longshore, C. C. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

MILLAN & HAYNES,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,
Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,
Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,
Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

Southern Growth.

The report of the Southern Railway Company is an interesting document. Tape readers, of course, will fasten eagerly upon the statement that its net income and surplus overcharges each increased about million dollars. Truly this is an encouraging statement, but interest in it is narrow compared with facts affecting the territory which the railway serves. Thus we learn that "along the lines of the Southern Railway Company during the year ended June 30, 1905, there were completed and put in operation 46 textile mills, 34 furniture factories, 38 iron industries, 6 tanneries, 77 stone quarries and coal mines, 13 cottonseed oil plants, 8 fertilizer works, and more than 500 smaller industries. Over 250 previously existing plants were enlarged during the year and 54 new industries were under construction at the close of the year."

All this along the lines of only 7,000 miles of railway! What must have been the growth along aggregated 200,000 miles and more in the United States? And what do these dull figures mean in men and money? Every mill required capital and operatives. Captains of industry translate such facts into terms of immigration and investment which spell wealth not for the railway primarily, but for the community. Nor is this the top of the boom in the opinion of the men on the spot. The report continues: "Underlying conditions are favorable to further increase in industrial development along and adjacent to the company's lines." This is what the cotton crop is doing for the South and its railways in a yellow fever year.

The permanence of growth of this sort is its most important characteristic. All wealth comes from the soil, but it does not come equally in all years. In business, too, there are fluctuations, but with a difference. When a mill is built, when an immigrant settles, it is something like insurance of permanent addition to the resources of the district, as well as the railway. Thereafter their interests are indissoluble. The mill may make more or less money; but, like the railway, it cannot be removed. Nor do settlers upon the soil move easily. Their roots are set deeper than the forest king's. They can only prosper by finding a market for their products, and for that they are dependent upon railways. But they must get a dollar before the railway can get a share of it. It is a maxim of railway administration that no railway can prosper in the adversity of its customers, and that their prosperity must precede the railways. No money is made upon passengers and freight which are not carried, and no railway traffic moves unless there is profit in it for the shippers as well as for the carrier. Yet there are those in influential places who seek to antagonize these hand-in-hand interests. It is portentous to think of damage to railway investors through damage to railways. It is calamitous to think of the results to communities if railway enterprise is paralyzed by confiscatory or numbing legislation. The Southern Railway and its tributary region are doing so well together that it is prudence to leave well

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Nov. 16, 05.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,
Russell M. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

Quite a Joke.

The Advocate perpetrates quite a joke in its last issue when it quotes, in a vain effort to maintain its assertions that the roads in Shelby county are magnificent, three men who are prejudiced in favor of the "present administration," and those who know the exact facts in regard to the "not a hundred yards of the road" between Wilsonville and Harpersville "but what is in a splendid fix" laugh a broad laugh at the evidence offered by the Advocate. It would indeed be strange if Judge Longshore would not endorse his own writing, and Mr. Robertson always pushes a joke along, while the "environment" of the other individual should be taken into consideration.

The statement, however, places two of the gentlemen in a most ridiculous light and "environment" disqualifies the other. The road mentioned is just as stated by The Sentinel, and our information comes from farmers who travel the road every week more or less. Another fifty cent load of poles might help some, but the "present administration" is so taken up with building hundred thousand dollar court houses that the public roads of the county have little interest to them.

"The Sentinel is seeking to have the road plow discontinued in order to force the taxpayers of the county to work the road with pick and shovel," says the proxy editor of the Advocate. The Sentinel is doing nothing of the kind, but when Judge Longshore says "hundreds of dollars are being spent every year to operate a road plow to draw the dirt to the middle of the road in summer to be washed away in the winter" it appears like money thrown away to keep up that kind of road building, but may be the Judge didn't mean it, but was just talking hot air. Eleven dollars a day to operate a machine which does not do more substantial work than Judge Longshore says is being done by the road plow is an expensive luxury to the taxpayers. And we are told that $3,300 was what it cost to operate this plow last year. Mr. Mahan is not to be blamed in the least, for he has a good job, and is only carrying out the orders of the "present administration" in working the roads in the summer to have his work nullified by the rains in the winter, as Judge Longshore says. And in that admission the Honorable Judge repudiates the "present administration's" conception of what good roads are.

The Advocate, the loudly declared an self-appointed defender of the people's rights, likes to jolly the farmers in its peculiar and unique, original way, but it insults them when it says the public roads of Shelby county are in good shape.

B. B. Comer says that he wants to be Governor "so that he can regulate freight rates on the railroads. We have a very clear recollection of Mr. Comer saying, a year ago, that he wanted to be president of the railroad commission so that he could regulate freight rates. In all probability in years Mr. Comer will want to go to the United States senate so that he can regulate freight rates. He's ambitious, you know, and there is just enough of the demagogue about him to try to make the people believe he is a coming Moses if they will but push him up the political ladder. But the people are onto Bee Bee.

The Opelika News devoted about a page to the announcement of B. B. Comer for governor. It will be remembered that the News was very much worked up because some of the weekly papers used a supplement containing the announcement of Hon. R. M. Cunningham for the same place, even going so far as to say the matter was an infringement of the postal laws, and jacking up those who used it for doing something for nothing. The inference to be gathered is: that the Opelika News must have gotten so much per from Mr. Comer for so much of its valuable space. If it didn't then the News is not very consistent in its views. We suppose, however, with the News it makes a whole lot of difference whose ox is being gored.

The commissioners of Hale county have ordered an election to see whether or not that county shall issue bonds to build a new court house. It is quite evident that the commissioners in Hale think the taxpayers of that county should have a say as to what amount should be expended in building a court house. In this county the "present administration," by its acts, say the people shall be allowed no voice in the matter except to foot the bills. That has been the course of this great reform(!) administration ever since it came into power in this county. The people be durned.

President Jordan has issued a call for the re-organization of the Cotton Growers Association—beats and counties to re-organize the first week in January, the State Association will be re-organized on the 3rd of January. The Cotton Growers Association has done wonderful things for the producers this year, and it is thought that a re-organization with some new ideas inculcated in it will be even more beneficial to them. Beat and county organization will, therefore, take notice.

It has been proven within the past two weeks that Columbiana is one of the best cotton markets in this section of the country. Eleven and a quarter cents has been paid for cotton here within the past week. Cotton was sold here last Friday that came from Chilton county. The advertising of the Columbiana Commercial Club is having its effect.

It is noted that a number of the daily papers devoted considerable space to the announcement of Hon. H. B. Gray for lieutenant governor. If the weekly papers were to do the same in the form of a supplement it would be neither news nor business, but a gratuitous circulation of matter which should be paid for.

Hon. S. H. D. Mallory, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, says he favors some restrictions as to who shall vote in the Democratic primary. He doesn't like the idea of permitting men to vote in the primary who will not support the nominees. And Mr. Mallory is correct in his views.

Women in Irondale, Ill., a town of 6,000 people, are raising a popular subscription to deport the town's only idle man. They propose to send him just as far as the money they collect will pay fare, and there will be no return ticket.

Dr. Cunningham says Comer is shooting a gun which is loaded with hot air. He seems to be pretty well acquainted with Bee Bee, and the people are also finding out the erudient president of the railroad commission.

An article in the Advocate last week about the good roads in Shelby county is considered a great joke, and a very unwholesome one by the farmers.

WOULD HURT ALABAMA.

The State Industrial Association Opposes the Government Making Rates.

Decatur, Ala., Nov. 8th.—At its annual meeting here today, the Alabama Industrial and Commercial Association adopted a resolution putting this body on record as opposed to legislation granting the Interstate Commerce Commission power to fix rates.

The resolution is as follows:

Whereas, representing as we do collectively the commercial organizations of the State of Alabama, the first on the roll call of the Nation, the first in developing mineral wealth and the first in the noble impulses and aspirations of her citizens, and

Whereas, we realize that we are fast developing and that we can see in the not distant future that we will be among the first in the race of commercial supremacy and that attainment of that result will necessitate a continued development of the vast resources which lie hidden in the depths of our hills, yet unattained on the surface of our plains and in the hearts of our woodland.

Whereas, we deplore that methods which have recently been employed, as we think, will stifle the continuation of prosperity and the growth of the entire country, especially the South, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the Alabama Commercial and Industrial Association, in annual meeting assembled, do desire to express our appreciation of the patriotic stand taken by such a vast majority of the delegates at the recent Interstate Commerce Law Convention held in Chicago, in declining to become parties to such means as were contemplated to lessen the possibility of the natural growth of the country, and minimize that greatest developer, the railroads of our country, whereby those agencies for good would be at the mercy of a political faction rather than under the control as is now the case of their rightful and loyal owners.

Resolved, further, that while no state in the union respects more than does Alabama the wish of the President of the United States, whose accomplishments will henceforth shine on the pages of history and no conquest more complete than his "Conquest of the South", we think he does not wish to be an advocate of any policy which will have a detrimental or retarding effect upon any section of the country, and while we coincide with his ideas to do away absolutely with every form of discrimination of the railways by any method by which they are wrought, we do not think he contemplates anything that will stop the onward march of prosperity in this the greatest nation of the earth.

Wilsonville News Items.

Johnnie Gwin, of Maplesville, spent last Sunday with his father's family.

Mrs. J. E. Pope and little daughter Mildred spent a few days last week with relatives in Oxford.

Messrs. Thompson and Cameron, two of Uncle Sam's government surveyors, have been in our midst a few days at Drummers' Home.

W. W. Wallace and Arthur Leeper passed through our town Saturday on their way home from a few days' hunt. We did not learn what success they had.

Clay Davis, also one of Shelby county's boys, who now makes Anniston his headquarters, was shaking hands with friends and customers here one day last week.

We were glad to see Sam Wallace on our streets Saturday. Sam has been on the sick list for quite a while, but we are glad to see him improving and hope he will soon be entirely well again.

John M. Kytte, traveling salesman for Beck Grocery Co., spent one day last week in our midst. John is one of our boys, and has many friends as well as relatives here who are always glad to see him.

Miss Lena Sommerville, returned home last Friday from her visit to South Alabama. Her brother, W. B. Sommerville, of New York, did not accompany her home, but extended his visit on down into Florida.

Rev. Mr. Stevenson, of Piedmont, preached a very interesting and instructive sermon at the Presbyterian church last Tuesday night. Bro. Stevenson is undecided as to whether he will take this church under his charge or not.

The K. of P. lodge had a very interesting meeting last Thursday night. Tuesday night was regular meeting night, but they gave away for preaching at the Presbyterian church. The Knights have just completed their new room which is nicely arranged, and is a credit to the members.

The livery stable here changed hands one day last week, R. G. Weldon selling out to Jim Robertson, W. T. Taylor and J. F. Pope. The stable will be moved in a few days from the old stand to the ware house near the gins, as soon as the necessary changes can be made to convert the same into a stable.

Rufus Albright, one of Shelby county's oldest and best citizens, died at his home in the Fourmile neighborhood last Monday night, after two years of great suffering and sickness. Mr. Albright was known throughout the county, having lived here the greater part of his life. He was in some respects somewhat eccentric, but as a whole he was a very superior man; always attending to his own business; never meddling with other people's affairs; a well-wisher for everyone. He was a member of Methodist church, and at one time in the more active part of his life, was a local preacher. He has now gone to enjoy his eternal reward. His body now rests in Old Chapel cemetery. Peace to his ashes.

Our town has been quite full of preachers for several days. The Protestant Methodists of Alabama have been holding their annual conference at Union church, ten miles north of here, and a large portion of the ministers left the railroad here and went up in private conveyances. They seemed quite jolly. We love to see this in ministers, as the love of God makes sunshine.

Reuben Wilson came home last week from his work in Birmingham. He is on the crippled list, as he got one of the men to push some lumber over on him so that he could have an excuse to come home awhile.

Mrs. J. Wilson Kytte was called by telegram Saturday to the bed side of her father who lives in Georgia. Her father is nearly one hundred years old, and in all probability is now in his last sickness.

We are glad to see Jim Kimbrough at home for a few days. He has been working at Goodwater for some time.

RIP VAN WINKLE.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. church, South, will meet at the Methodist parsonage on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

Rev. G. T. Harris and J. R. White will leave for Athens next Tuesday to attend the annual conference of the Methodist church.

Do not forget when you go to pay your property tax to hand the Tax Collector the amount of your poll tax for as many years as you are in arrears. If you do not know whether you owe for one, two or three years, ask the collector.

Notice Shelby Co. Division.

The few who have lapsed will only have ten days to pay he $1.15, and be reinstated without extra cost.

T. A. Leathers,
Division Agent.

The good roads so much talked of by the "present administration" sheet are yet to be built in this county. It thinks more of building hundred thousand dollar court houses.

Administrators' Sale.

UNDER and by virtue of an order of sale granted by the Probate Court of Shelby County, Ala., on Oct. 30, 1905, the undersigned as Administrators of the estate of C. H. Strain, deceased, will on Monday, the 4th day of December, 1905, within the legal hours of sale, in front of the court house in Columbiana, Ala., sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described lands belonging to said estate for the purpose of paying the debts of the same to-wit:

Sec. 26, tp. 21, R. 1 East, ne 1/4, sec. 26, tp. 21, R. 1 East, also about 1/2 of an acre in the northwest corner of sec. 26, tp. 21, R. 1 East, 165 feet east and west, and 135 feet north and south, sw 1/4 of sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, and nw 1/4 of sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, and all that part of the southeast quarter of sec. 21, tp. 21, R. 1 East, that lies south of Beeswax Creek, containing in all 176 acres more or less, and situated in Shelby County, Ala.

WM. STRAIN, SR.,
MAGGIE BRITT,
Administrators.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, } In Chancery.
Shelby County, } Sixth District North-
Corn Simpson, complainant, } Eastern Chancery Div.
vs. }
Sam Simpson, defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of J. J. Haynes that the Defendant Sam Simpson is a Non-resident of Alabama and resides in Little Rock, Arkansas, and further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.

It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel a newspaper published in the County of Shelby once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Sam Simpson to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 2nd day of Dec. A. D. 1905, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.

Done at office, in Columbiana, Ala. this 25th day of Oct. A. D. 1905.

J. R. WHITE Register.

Notice of Application for Pardon.

State of Alabama, }
Shelby County, }
To W. O. H. May Concern:
TAKE notice that an application will be made on or before the 15th day of December, 1905, to the Governor of Alabama for the pardon of Edgar Cary, who was convicted of an assault with the intent to murder, at the Fall Term of 1905 of the Circuit Court of Shelby County, Alabama.
This the 8th day of November, 1905.

EDGAR CARY.

Notice of Final Settlement.

J. E. R. Davidson, } Probate Court,
deceased, }
Estate of } Shelby County, Ala.

THIS day came John I. and Clara B. Davidson, administrators of said estate, and filed their statements, accounts, vouchers and evidences, for a final settlement of their administration; it is ordered that Monday, the 27th day of November, 1905, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

J. W Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

TO THE PUBLIC!

WE have purchased J. H. Abercrombie & Son's store building and stock of goods and as the stock is large we are going to reduce it. There will be a great reduction in prices, and you will save yourself money by coming to see us.

LOW PRICES PREVAIL.

We are now overstocked in Tobaccos and a special reduction price will prevail on this line until the stock is reduced. This opportunity will hardly present itself again.

WATCH FOR IT!

Look out for our big Furniture advertisement; something sensational in both goods and prices. Anything you want that we have not in stock, we will make a specialty in ordering for you. We guarantee goods to be as represented. Give us first call and you will save money. Uniform treatment to all.

Milner & Christian.

Notice of Application for Pardon.

State of Alabama, }
Shelby County, }
To W. O. H. May Concern:
TAKE notice that an application will be made on or before the 15th day of December, 1905, to the Governor of Alabama for the pardon of Edgar Cary, who was convicted of an assault with the intent to murder, at the Fall Term of 1905 of the Circuit Court of Shelby County, Alabama.
This the 8th day of November, 1905.

EDGAR CARY.

Notice of Final Settlement.

J. E. R. Davidson, } Probate Court,
deceased, }
Estate of } Shelby County, Ala.

THIS day came John I. and Clara B. Davidson, administrators of said estate, and filed their statements, accounts, vouchers and evidences, for a final settlement of their administration; it is ordered that Monday, the 27th day of November, 1905, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.

A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

"A Thing of Beauty Is a Joy Forever!"

Our millinery may not wear forever but the ladies all exclaim

"The Hats are Beautiful!"

And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

We have in stock

The Prettiest Line of Novelties

In the way of Belts and Fashionable Neckwear ever shown in Columbiana.

Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

Bring your Job Work to this office. Only best stock used and work satisfactory to you.

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP,

LEGROY & TINNEY, Proprietors.

Blacksmithing and General Repairing. Horse Shoeing a Specialty. Special attention given to horses with deformed feet. Try us and be convinced.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr,

Columbiana: Ala

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Vol. 31, No. 11.

Columbiana, Ala., November 16, 1905.

Supplement.

HISTORIC GUNSTON HALL.

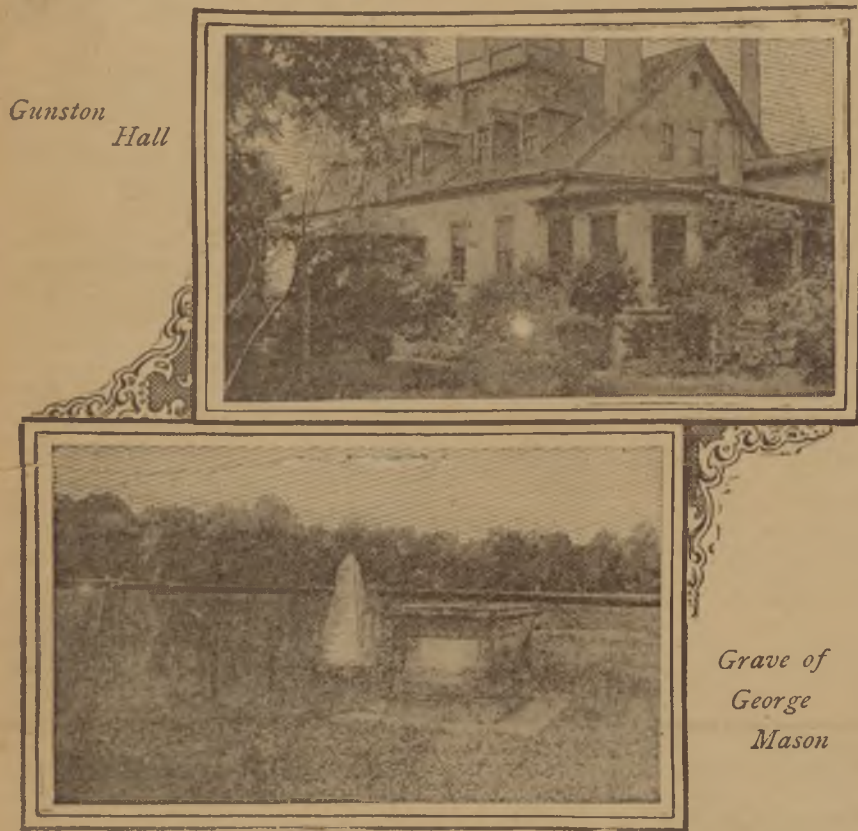

VIRGINIA HOME OF THE FAMOUS
GEORGE MASON PURCHASED BY TOM WATSON.

American History Made Beneath Its Broad Verandas—Has Been Restored to its Original Beauty.

Tom Watson, of Georgia, author of a "Life of Thomas Jefferson," is reported to have bought Gunston Hall, Virginia, 15 miles from Washington, and which was from 1750 to 1792 the home of George Mason, friend and adviser of Thomas Jefferson, George Washington, James Madison and Patrick Henry. The house is preserved and a few rods from it is the grave of Mason. The pyramidal piece of granite shown in the picture stands above his grave and is inscribed:

GEORGE MASON,
Author of the Bill of Rights and
First Constitution of Virginia.
1726-1792.

Gunston Hall is on a ridge commanding a fine view of the Potomac river, a mile distant. It is about five miles below Mount Vernon and three miles below the ruins of Belvoir, the home of the first Fairfax in Virginia. Gunston Hall was probably without equal in that part of Virginia at the time of its building, and is as well preserved as any other colonial house in Virginia. It is eighty feet long and forty feet wide and is built of bricks twice the size of those made now. To the right of the north entrance is the room which was occupied by Jefferson on his frequent visits to Mason. On the river portico is where Mason and Washington played at draughts by the hour.

Several years after the war Gunston Hall in dilapidation was acquired by Colonel Edward Daniels, a Northern man. The place was partially restored by him. Colonel Daniels in the days of reconstruction was the editor of the Richmond Journal and was once a candidate for the House of Representatives, but was defeated. He was a close friend of President Grant, and Daniels really controlled the patronage of the State of Virginia. A spry old gentleman who has personally known a hundred celebrities of other generations, he lives on land adjoining Gunston Hall and which was a part of the estate. Gunston Hall passed to Joseph Specht, of St. Louis, and by him was completely restored and beautified. He died three years ago and the place continued in possession of his heirs and in charge of a colored overseer.

Early Opposed to Slavery.

George Mason was the Sage of Gunston. It was he who after conference and correspondence with Washington drew up the non-importation resolutions offered by Washington and adopted by the Virginia House of Burgesses in 1769. One of these resolutions pledged the signers to buy no slaves imported after November 1, 1769. Mason was the author of a tract styled "Extracts from Virginia Charters and Some Remarks upon Them," supporting the contention that the British Parliament had no right to tax the American colonies. This tract had a wide vogue in pre-revolutionary times.

Mason and Washington attended the citizens' meeting at Fairfax Court House, Virginia, in July, 1774. Washington was moderator of the meeting. Mason presented twenty-four resolutions in advocacy of non-intercourse with the mother country. These resolutions were adopted, and were also adopted by the Virginia convention at Williamsburg in August, 1774. It was that body which elected Peyton Randolph, Richard Henry Lee, George Washington, Patrick Henry, Richard Bland, Benjamin Harrison and Edmund Pendleton delegates to the First Continental Congress, and that Congress substantially adopted the Mason resolutions.

Favored Election of Presidents by the People.

Mason after once declining election, and once refusing to serve after election to the Constitutional Convention of 1787. In that great body he opposed slavery, saying it was a source of "national weakness and demoralization." He advocated the direct election of the President by the people and for a term of seven years with ineligibility for re-election. He opposed the requirement of a property qualification for voters and also opposed the plan to make slaves equal to freemen for purposes of representation in Congress. He refused to sign the Constitution as adopted, and fought against its ratification by Virginia.

In the Virginia convention to ratify the Constitution Mason led the opposition and standing with him were Patrick Henry, James Moore, Benjamin Harrison and William Grayson. The leaders for ratification were John Marshall, Edmund Randolph, Richard Henry Lee, George Washington and James Madison, yet so great was Mason's influence that in 168 votes, the majority for ratification was only ten and this majority was obtained only after the required number of States had already adopted the Constitution.

Of a Famous Family.

The first American Mason was George Mason, great-grandfather of Mason of Gunston. He was a commander of a troop of horse at the battle of Worcester, where he fought in the Stuart cause, as did Colonel John Washington, a near relative of John and Lawrence

A NEW CABINET OFFICE.

LIKELIHOOD OF CREATION OF DEPARTMENT OF INSULAR AFFAIRS.

Field Covered by Secretary of War Considered Too Wide—President May Suggest Change to Congress.

Since the war with Spain, the enormous growth of the business of the War Department has given rise to an oft expressed opinion in high government circles that the time is fully ripe for the creation of another executive department to handle the control of the island affairs of the government. It is predicted that the President will make some such suggestion in his forthcoming message to Congress.

Following the Spanish War, the War Department naturally took control of the island possessions that came to the United States as a result of that conflict. These islands, Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines, fell to the care of the War Department as long as they were under military rule, but when civil government took the place of martial law they were still left with the War Department.

Kept From State Department.

It would seem natural for them to belong to the Department of State, but they have been purposely kept from the province of that department in order that foreign powers might not have a chance to say anything about them. The bureau of insular affairs was created to attend to questions affecting our island possessions, but this bureau has been under the immediate control of the Secretary of War, and out of reach of foreign representatives.

With the turning of Cuba over to the Cubans and the passing of Porto Rico to the State Department and Guam and Tutuila to the Navy Department, matters became even more involved.

Burden Too Great.

Almost of greater importance, at present, than the Philippines, is the canal zone. Secretary Taft tried to shift this burden to the shoulders of Secretary Root, but failed in his attempt. He is now preparing to make a visit to the isthmus to see how the work on the big ditch is progressing. Mr. Root declared that the bureau of insular affairs was better equipped to handle canal affairs than any other department of the government.

However, when Secretary Taft left for the Philippines and it was understood that Mr. Root would become Secretary of State, it was said to be Secretary Taft's wish that the canal matter be transferred to Mr. Root and there has been much speculation during the summer and fall as to who would eventually oversee this big job. On one hand it has been realized that Secretary Taft has had a great deal more than his proportionate share of government work and responsibility, and again it was understood that one of the arguments used by the President to induce Mr. Root to re-enter the Cabinet was the President's personal desire that he should undertake the direction of the canal work. His acceptance of the trust would have enabled Secretary Taft to devote more of his time to important Philippine government questions and the business of the army generally. It seems to have been decided, however, that Mr. Taft is to continue permanently as the Panama canal builder, this decision having been reached at a recent Cabinet meeting.

These questions, together with questions relating to the general staff, the reorganization of the army, and other internal affairs, have made the Secretary by far the hardest worked man in the Cabinet.

Taft Travels Far.

This is proved, if in no other way, by the immense amount of traveling done by Secretary Taft in the past year. He has been to Panama, to the Philip-

COL. CLARENCE R. EDWARDS,
Chief of Bureau of Insular Affairs and Possible New Cabinet Officer.

ippines, to Hawaii, to China and Japan. He has just left Washington for his second trip to the isthmus. Through his connection with the affairs of the Philippines, he has become involved in questions wholly outside the regular line of the War Department.

These are some of the reasons which lead the President and his advisers to consider the creation of another department to take complete control of island and colonial affairs. Whether Congress will consent to this at the coming session, or will move postponement, cannot be foretold, but the chances are that, within a reasonable time, the War Department will be relieved of some of its heavy burdens.

There is no pie or pudding, father,
But I will give you this;
And upon the blacksmith's toll-worm
brow,
She printed a childish kiss.

ROOSEVELT IN DIXIE.

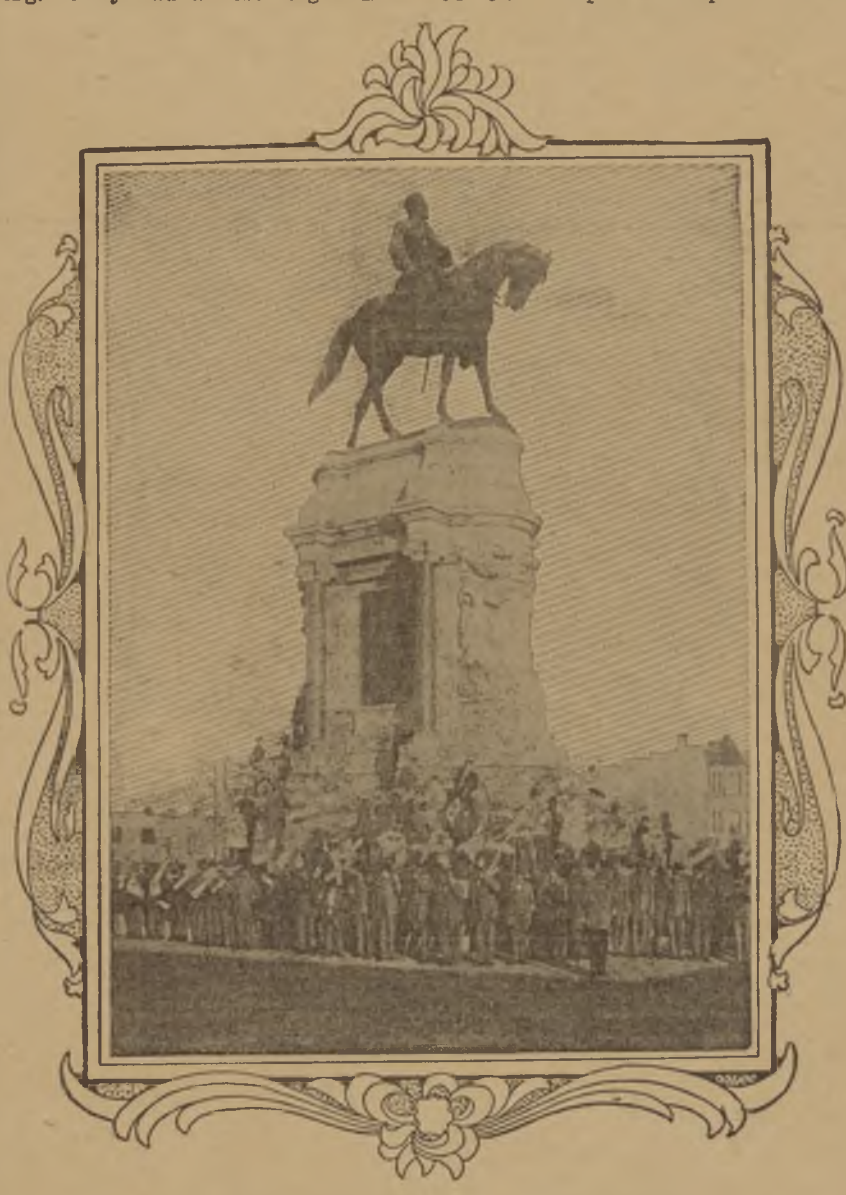

President Speaks to the Followers of Lee.

President Roosevelt's recent tour through the South was one continuous ovation from the people of Dixie. In fact his visit has been heralded as being as triumphant as the return of any Roman emperor. Dixie was captured by the Rough Rider President.

At Richmond, the old Confederate Capital, the greeting extended to him was unusually cordial. After much parading and speech-making, the President was taken for a drive through the residence section. In the center of this section is the great equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee. At this point occurred a scene of the President's visit which will probably be remembered when all others have faded into oblivion.

Surrounding the Lee monument is an iron fence, inclosing a circle of lawn. The crowd was thickly grouped around this circle. Inside, standing upon the base of the monument and wandering about upon the lawn were seventy-five broken, tottering old men, clad in gray and carrying small Confederate flags. Many hobbled upon crutches, and nearly all leaned upon canes. Here and there an arm or a leg was missing. The voices of the old men were low, and they paid no heed to the crowd around them. They were waiting for the President of the United States, he was to drive past the monument. From time to time a little, old man climbed upon a pedestal and stood, like the very incarnation of the Lost Cause, shading his eyes and gazing toward the coming of the great, the powerful, the world-renowned successor of Lincoln and Grant.

It was such a sight as this which greeted the President when his carriage dashed up to the monument. Before the old men realized it, the President was facing them and shouting, "Come closer." With confused exclamations the old men hobbled forward, with small pretense of marching. They had almost forgotten the old marching orders in their confusion. They simply huddled forward to the fence. The line was not reformed. Then the President spoke to the South, ignoring the crowd behind him. He spoke only to the wearers of the gray. He spoke as the President of a reunited country. His voice seemed as the voice of a nation speaking to the followers of Lee.

STATUE OF GENERAL LEE AT RICHMOND.
Group of Confederate Veterans Waiting to See the President.

The veterans devoured every vigorous syllable of the President's address. They returned his earnest gaze with looks of unmistakable good will and loving friendship. Somewhat abruptly the President stopped, waved his hat. It was to them like the balm of Gilead, and shouted, "Good-by, and good-luck."

"Good-by, good-by," they shouted, and a moment later President Roosevelt was out of sight.

Expert Naval Testimony.

When Dick Thompson, of Indiana, was called to the Cabinet as Secretary of the Navy it is said that he had never even been on a large vessel. One of his earliest visits was made to an informal inspection on a large man-of-war, lying at the Navy Yard. He climbed up on the deck, was escorted around the vessel, admired and complimented the beauty and cleanliness of it all and finally peered down the hold. He looked back at the officer, took off his glasses, wiped them, looked down again and then finally turned to the commander and exclaimed, "Why the thing's hollow!"

THE STRENGTH OF JAPAN.

GARDEN FARMS THE FOUNDATION OF NIPPON'S POWER.

30,000,000 People Sustained in Comfort on Only 19,000 Square Miles of Cultivated Land.

(From "Chicago," The Great Central Market July, 1905).

"A hundred years hence, leaving China out of the question, there will be two colossal powers in the world, beside which Germany, England, France, and Italy will be as pygmies—the United States and Russia."

If any one had told Emile de La-veleye, when he made this prophecy, some years ago, that within a few years the power of Russia on the sea would be annihilated, and her land forces defeated again and again by the pygmy nation of Japan, would he have believed it?

No, neither he nor any one else, at that time, would have credited it.

The incredible, the unbelievable, has actually happened. There is no result without a cause. What is the underlying cause of this marvelous strength of Japan?

It is not in battle ships or siege guns nor in torpedo boats or field artillery—not in arms or armor—not in munitions of war or equipment for battles on land or sea. Russia had all these, and yet she has suffered crushing, humiliating, and overwhelming defeat. What, then, is the secret of Japan's strength?

Efficiency of the Unit.

It is in just one thing, and that is men!

It is in the efficiency of the unit. It is in the physical and mental power—in the health, strength, and intelligence of the Japanese people as a whole, and as a consequence, of every individual soldier and sailor.

And this physical and mental efficiency of an entire people—the entire citizenship of the Japanese nation measures everything by a money wage—a totally false and deceptive standard of measurement of the best thing that human life affords.

In the United States two hundred and fifty thousand of our people are being annually destroyed by the great white plague, tuberculosis.

In Japan the disease is practically unknown.

Why? Because the Japanese breathe fresh air.

What would the Japanese think if they were told that their people could not have fresh air because they did not have more money?

Or could not have exercise because they could not afford to belong to athletic clubs?

Or must go without food because they lacked money to buy it at a butcher or a grocery store, when every Japanese gardener has the land from which he knows how with his own labor to get all the food he needs for the abundant nourishment for himself and family.

The Garden Farm.

Of the 45,000,000 population of Japan 30,000,000 are farmers, or more correctly speaking, gardeners. The Japanese farm is a garden, irrigated and fertilized, and scientifically and intensively tilled.

And a recent writer, describing the life of the Japanese farmer, says:—

"Measured in money, he is not rich. But he dwells in a comfortable and inviting home, purged of every taint of dirt and dust. The transparent paper walls of his house, made of bark from his mitsumata shrubs, flood his dwelling with light and keep out the wind. He enjoys good food served in dainty, but inexpensive dishes made of native woods. Even in the homes of the poorest, there are no visible signs of poverty. There is no squalor in agricultural Japan. The humblest peasant farmer is clean, industrious and comfortable. The area of fence corners abandoned on many American farms to wild mustard, fennel, and pig weed, would furnish comfortable living to a whole family in rural Japan. Some idea of the trifling cost of living in agricultural Japan was given by an American who has spent fifteen years in the Empire. Frequently he takes a vacation in the farming regions. He has good food, sleeps on clean and comfortable quilts in impeccable houses is carried about in country carts, and at the end of two weeks finds that his total expenses have not exceeded ten yen, or five dollars."

And from the garden farms—the Home Acres—of agricultural Japan have come the soldiers who have faced death to drive the Russians from Manchuria and leaped into eternity in order that they might wipe the menace of the Russian Navy from the seas that wash the shores of their Home Land.

A Nation of Home Acres.

It is an old saying that a man will not fight for a boarding house, but the Japanese have proved that they will fight like demons to defend the institutions of a nation of Home Acres.

We instinctively think of the victories of Japan as the victories of her leaders.

We are naturally hero-worshippers.

But there again, we are superficial.

Our military men were lauded in their praises of the mastery way in which Kuropatkin played the game of war.

And Rojestvensky must have the credit due him for sailing his fleet four thousand miles and planning so efficiently to provide it with coal and provisions.

But Oyama and Togo had the men, and every Japanese soldier and sailor is not only a hero but a leader. If every officer in the Japanese army and navy above the rank of Captain were stricken dead tomorrow, their places would be filled, and Japan would continue to prosecute the war to final victory. The secret of her power lies in the fact that in intelligence, in mental and physical strength, in individual initiative in patriotism, in all that goes to make up a fighting unit, every Japanese soldier and sailor is an Oyama or a Togo in embryo.

You might destroy every ship that Japan possesses, destroy all her arms and munitions of war, take away even the clothes on their backs, and transport every soldier in her army and every sailor in her navy back to the shores of Japan as naked as the day he were born, and leave the nation to its own devices, and in a few years they would completely reproduce their naval and military power and be stronger than ever.

But destroy the men of Japan and substitute for them the dull-witted peasantry of Russia or the enemic factory operatives of England, and you have destroyed Japan.

Men Before Battleships.

True to his warlike impulses and instincts, President Roosevelt catches up the echo from the great naval battle which has just been fought, and calls on the country for more battle ships.

Rojestvensky had battle ships. He had more of them than Togo. But he didn't have the men. And he couldn't get them. Russian institutions could not produce them.

Now, would it not be wise for the people of this country to wake up to the fact that the foundation of our strength as a nation is not in an army or a navy, but in our citizenship.

And also wake up to the appalling fact, powerfully portrayed by Robert Hunter in "Poverty," his recent book, that we are deliberately following in the footsteps of England and degenerating our citizenship by crowding our working people into cities where they live in an unhealthy environment and are weakened by poor food and inadequate nourishment.

The lesson to be learned by this un-

BULL DOG SUSPENDERS

80 cents everywhere. Will Outwear Three Ordinary Kinds. Made in Light and Heavy Weights, for Men and Youth. Extra lengths, same price. With more elastic, warranted non-rusting metal parts, and absolutely unbreakable, soft, pliable Bull Dog leather ends, they are POSITIVELY THE BEST SUSPENDER MADE. If you dealer cannot supply you, we will, postpaid, for 50 cents. HEWES & POTTER, Largest Suspenders and Belt Makers Dept. 64, 87 LINCOLN ST., BOSTON, MASS. In the world's Valuable Booklet, "Dress and Suspenders Styles," free on request.

tion from Japan has not yet been learned, and when President Roosevelt fails to see it, and demands only more battle ships, as the lesson of the great sea fight which has just been fought, he unfortunately diverts the minds of the people of this country from facts of supreme and overshadowing importance, which should be burned into the public mind as by a stroke of lightning from every victory won by the Japanese.

That lesson is the profoundly important fact that the Japanese man, the unit of her national strength, is the product of a mode of life and an environment which combines the physical strength which comes only from the rural life—from living next to nature—with the mental activity and keenness which come from constant contact with his fellowmen—the community life.

A Nation of Gardeners.

The Japanese are not a nation of farmers, as we understand the word. They are a nation of gardeners. There is neither isolation nor congestion in their life. They dwell, the great majority of them, not in great cities, but in closely settled rural communities. The ranch and the tenement are alike foreign to the life of the Japanese.

The great principle that must control our own national development henceforth is that the land shall be subdivided into the smallest tracts from which one man's labor will sustain a family in comfort, and that every child, boy or girl, in the public schools should be so trained in those schools that it will know how to till such a tract of land for a livelihood.

In other words, let us reproduce in this country the conditions so well described in an article from the Book-lovers' Magazine for August, 1904, from which we quote the following:—

"While Japan is cannonading its way to rank with Christian powers as a nor military equipment, nor manufacturing skill. Western nations will fail fully to grasp the secret of the dynamic intensity of Japan today, and will dangerously underestimate the formidable possibilities of the Greater Japan—the Dai Nippon—of tomorrow, until they begin to study seriously the agricultural triumphs of that empire. For Japan, more scientifically than any other nation, past or present, has perfected the art of sending the roots of its civilization enduringly into the soil.

"Progressive experts of high authority throughout the Occident now admit that in all the annals of agriculture there is nothing that ever approached the scientific skill of Sunrise husbandry. Patient diligence, with knowledge of the chemistry of soil and the physiology of plants, have yielded results that have astounded the most advanced agriculturists in Western nations."

The Safe Foundation.

The creation of the conditions above described under which the people of a nation are rooted to the soil in homes of their own on the land, is not only good statesmanship and the highest patriotism, but it is the only safe foundation for an enduring national structure.

To ignore and neglect this foundation while we build battleships, equip armies and annex islands and dig isthmian canals, is as fatal a mistake as it would be to build a twenty-story skyscraper in Chicago without any foundation but the mud of Lake Michigan.

We need not muster out our armies, nor dismantle our battleships, nor evacuate the Philippines, nor stop work on the Isthmian Canal, but the fact remains, as clear as the sun from an unclouded sky at noonday, that the attention of our people as a nation is riveted on our naval and military affairs and schemes of foreign exploita-

For, in fact, they are undeveloped. We have, as yet, hardly more than tickled the earth over this immense area.

Our Own Country.

When we compare Japan, with its dense population, its wealth, its revenues, its trade and commerce, its national strength, with any section of our own country equal to it in area and natural resources, we are amazed at the great possibilities of future development in our own country.

The entire population of Japan is about forty-five million, of which thirty million is a farming population, and this vast population of thirty million farmers and their families is sustained on nineteen thousand square miles of irrigated land. There is no agriculture in Japan but irrigated agriculture. They have learned that water is the greatest fertilizer known to nature, and save and utilize it with the same care that they use every other available process for the fertilization of their fields.

Nineteen thousand square miles is an area about one hundred and thirty-five miles square, and in a square in a corner of the State of Illinois, the comparative size of which to the rest of the State is shown on the accompanying map, is sustained a nation which, to the amazement of all other peoples on the earth, has sprung to the front as one of the great world powers.

Source of Power.

And the Home Acre farms or gardens—the rural homes of Japan—are the source of that national power.

Commenting on this, the author of the article in the August 1904 Book-lovers' Magazine, quoted from above, says in that article:—

"From what its advanced agriculture has made its plains to yield, Japan has fed and clothed and educated its multiplying masses, fast nearing the floods of the Mississippi and its tributaries will be led out through a not work of canals, large and small, and stored in reservoirs, and every drop devoted to beneficial use, a use that will be so valuable that its value for navigation will count for nothing in comparison. It may be a great many years before this will happen, but it is certain to come. In no other way can the vast population with which this country will team within a few hundred years be provided with the food to sustain it.

Japan, from her total area of 147,655 square miles, of which only 19,000 are cultivated, collected an annual revenue before the war with Russia amounted to $124,433,725, and her exports began of $121,433,725, and her exports amounted to $124,208,923.

The average population per square mile of Japan is 299.76, but only one-seventh of her territory is actually under cultivation.

A Thousand Miles Square.

A section of our own country contained within a square extending one thousand miles north from New Orleans and one thousand miles west from Pittsburg, and containing one million square miles, if as densely populated as Japan, would sustain a population of 300,000,000; but a much larger proportion of this great square in the center of the United States could be intensely farmed than in Japan, where only one-seventh of the total area is cultivated.

On the 19,000 square miles of land in Japan that is actually farmed, they sustain 30,000,000 farmers. It is a safe estimate that at least one-half of the thousand mile square central section of the United States above described could be as closely cultivated as the productive fields of Japan. Those Japanese fields sustain over fifteen hundred people to the square mile. At the same ratio of population, our own thousand mile square central section would sustain 750,000,000 of farming population alone.

A population of over fifteen hundred to the square mile sustained by agriculture seems to the ordinary mind incredible; but on the island of Jersey, off the English coast, a population of over thirteen hundred to the square mile is sustained by out of door agriculture in a climate by no means best adapted to intensive farming.

It must be borne in mind that we are talking now of the possibilities of future development, and the facts and figures above given will no doubt be looked upon as utterly chimerical by the average reader.

Degeneracy in England.

Bear in mind however, again, that they are based only upon the assumption that we in this country should attain to a point of development already reached by the Japanese people, and on which rests their national strength.

It is true that our development during the last half-century has not been towards the land. We have followed in the footsteps of England, rather than Japan; and while, in fifty years, Japan has restored the land to her people and rooted them to the soil in homes of their own, England has done the contrary. She has driven her yeomanry from the farms to the cities, where they have become factory operatives, and degenerated physically and mentally to such a degree that the degeneracy of her citizenship now presents itself to the statesmen of England as a most appalling problem.

We are doing the same thing, but we are not, as yet, feeling the effects of it so severely because we have still a larger proportion of our people on the land.

Back to the Land.

We have much to do to reverse the tide of population, and turn it from the cities back to the land—from the tenement to the garden. It must not be imagined that it is necessary, in order to accomplish this, that the workers in our cities or in our factories should quit their present employment and become farmers. All that is necessary is that the facilities for rapid transportation afforded by our trolley system should be availed of to plant every factory family upon at least an acre of land.

Let that be done, and the problem is practically solved no matter how the acre be used for nothing but to raise chickens and keep a goat. The children of the family will have fresh air and sunshine and pure milk, and will grow up to be healthy men and women.

The lever with which we must move our population back to the land must be the public school system.

Gardens and Handicraft.

Every child in the public schools, boy or girl, must be trained from its earliest days of school life to cultivate the ground and make things grow in a garden, and to raise poultry, and do all that needs to be done to provide the food for a family from an acre of land.

Add to this a training in simple sloyd work and home handicraft, cooking and sewing and making things for the home, and you will have created the impulse in the minds of the multiplying millions of our children which will lead them to shun the bricks and the asphalt, the slums and the tenements, as they would shun the plague, and flee from them far enough into the country to have an acre at least for a home and a garden.

Create this impulse in the minds of our children, the millions upon millions of them who are attending, and will attend, our public schools, and they will find a way to solve all the rest of the problem, how to get the land, and how to get back and forth to it, if they continue to work in the city or the factory.

Some will say that school gardens cannot be provided for city children. That is a mistake. The only difficulty in the way of it is a mere custom or habit, easily modified.

The terms of school of all city schools should be changed. There should be a short winter term, during which the time should be given to instruction from the books and in handicraft within doors.

There should be a summer term of equal length during which the schools would be transferred to the suburbs, and work in summer school gardens. The children should be taken back and forth to these summer school gardens at public expense, as they are now taken to and from the consolidated rural schools on the trolley lines in some of the New England states.

The vacation, which would not need be so long, should be divided between a spring vacation and a fall vacation, intervening between the winter term and the country summer term of each school.

Building a Strong Citizenship.

Of course, many will hold up their hands and say this is impossible.

England finds it impossible, as the result of her system of great landed estates, to provide her people with homes on the land, and in consequence her ruin as a nation is only a question of a comparatively brief time.

Japan, on the contrary, put forth her hand and solved the very problem which, to England, seems impossible, and behold the results in her strength and power as a nation.

It is only a question with us, as a people, whether we will follow the lead of Japan, and profit by her lessons, or follow the lead of England and share in her eventual ruin.

The influences which are destroying England are at work steadily and insidiously in this nation, and though it will take longer for them to work our ruin, it is sure to come if we do not find a way to root the great majority of our people to the land in homes of their own, as Japan has done, and as we can do, unless we are as blind and as impotent in dealing with our national problems as seems to be the fate of England.

In the carrying out of this great patriotic purpose of building a strong citizenship by building rural homes on the land, we are, at the same time, doing that which will create the greatest possible commercial prosperity, and develop to the highest attainable point, not only the resources of the Middle West, but of our entire country.

The Olive in America.

The annual output of olive oil in California is about 150,000 gallons; of pickles 230,000 gallons. The imports to the country of oil amount to about 1,250,000 gallons per year and of pickles to 2,116 gallons. The olive was introduced into California 135 years ago, which is a bad showing for use of native olive oil, especially when it is acknowledged to be the superior of all foreign oils.

EXCAVATION WORK.

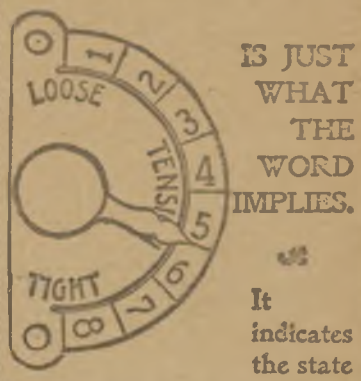

With Greatest Economy use the Western Elevating Grader and Ditcher.

ROAD CONSTRUCTION. Western Wheeled Scraper Co. AURORA, ILL.

Send for Catalog.

A Tension Indicator

IS JUST WHAT THE WORD IMPLIES. It indicates the state of the tension at a glance. Its use means time saving and easier sewing. It's our own invention and is found only on the WHITE Sewing Machine.

We have other striking improvements that appeal to the careful buyer. Send for our elegant H. T. catalog.

WHITE SEWING MACHINE CO. Cleveland, Ohio.

PENSIONS.

Over one Million Dollars allowed our clients during the last six years.

Over one Thousand claims allowed through us during the last six months. Disability, Age and Increase pensions obtained in the shortest possible time.

Widows' claims a specialty. Usually granted within 90 days if placed with us immediately on soldier's death. Fees fixed by law and payable out of allowed pension. A successful experience of 25 years and benefit of daily calls at Pension Bureau are at your service. Highest references furnished. Local Magistrates pecuniarily benefited by sending us claims.

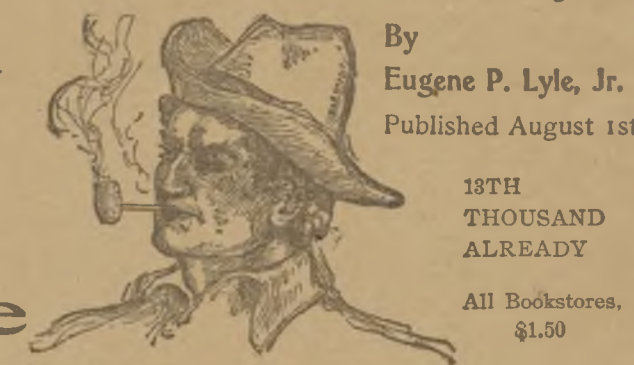

TABER & WHITMAN CO., Warder Bld'g, Washington, D. C.

Foster's Ideal

Cribs Accident Proof

Every reader of this paper should have this book. Cut off the coupon and mail to us with $1.50.

Illustrated by Ernest Haskell

The Missourian

The romantic adventures of John Dinwiddie Driscoll (nicknamed "The Storm Centre" at the Court of Maximilian in Mexico, where his secret mission comes into conflict with that of the beautiful Jacqueline. The best romantic American novel of recent years.

"Has what so few of its class possess, the elements of reality," wrought by infinite pains of detail, verisimilitude, suggestion."

—St. Louis Republic.

"A remarkable first book, of epic breadth, carried through unsparingly. A brilliant story."—N. Y. Times Saturday Review.

"There is no more dramatic period in history, and the story bears every evidence of careful and painstaking study."—N. Y. Globe.

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.

133-137 East 16th St., New York.

Cut off here and mail to us with $1.50. DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & COMPANY, 133 East 16th Street, New York. Dear Sir:—I have just received your copy of "The Missourian." Name Address City State Zip

THE MIDDLE WEST.

The black square in the above map represents the total area of cultivated land in Japan, supporting thirty millions of agricultural people.

first-class fighting nation, it is not neglecting its fields of rice, genge, millet and muji, its groves of mulberry and bamboo, its priceless plots of tea and mitsumata shrubs, and its multi-million gardens of berries, vegetables, lion gardens of flowers.

The thousands of patriots that have marched to the front have not thinned the ranks of the mightier hosts tilling the soil. Thirty million farmers are gathering ample harvests in the diminutive fields of Japan.

Husbandry Dignified.

"For twenty-five centuries the Sunrise sovereigns have dignified husbandry as the most important and most honorable industrial calling in the empire, and now more than sixty per cent of the Mikado's subjects till with incomparable skill the limited soil of his islands.

"The same diligent genius that enables a landscape gardener in Japan to compass within a few square yards of land a forest, a bridge-spurred stream, a water-fall and lake, a chain of terraced hills, gardens and chrysanthemums, hyacinths, peonies and pinks, a beetling crag crowned with a dwarfed conifer, and through all the dainty park meandering paths, with here a shrine and there a dainty summer house, has made it possible for the farmers of the empire to build up on less than nineteen thousand square miles of arable land the most remarkable agricultural nation the world has known. If all the tillable acres of Japan were merged into one field, a man in an automobile, traveling at the rate of fifty miles an hour, could skirt the entire perimeter of arable Japan in eleven hours. Upon this narrow freehold Japan has reared a nation of imperial power, which is determined to enjoy commercial preeminence over all the world of wealth and opportunity from Siberia to Siam and already, by the force of arms, is driving from the shores of Asia the greatest monarchy of Europe.

Roots in the Soil.

The secret of the success of the little Daybreak Kingdom has been a mystery to many students of nations. Patriotism does not explain the riddle of its strength, neither can commerce, tion, to the disregard and neglect of the vastly more important problem of building men at home, and creating a citizenship which will be an enduring national foundation forever, and enlarging our home markets, which will be unaffected by any foreign complications or trade disturbances.

The attention of our people of late has been so much absorbed by the problems of our export trade, that we overlook the fact that the United States today manufactures annually a product aggregating in total value the combined manufactured product of the three other greatest manufacturing nations of the world, England, France and Germany, and we consume ninety-two per cent of our entire annually manufactured products at home.

Create Farm Homes.

And if every farm in the United States were cut in two, and a new home created on it so that the number of farm homes, and the capital invested in, and labor devoted to agriculture throughout the entire United States, were thus doubled, the result would be an enlargement of our population, our home market for manufactures, and our power as a nation, almost beyond the power of the imagination to picture to the mind.

It is to the development of its vast agricultural resources and the creation of a closely settled population of farmers and gardeners, who will cultivate the soil by the most intensive methods, that the Middle West must look if it is to achieve its full destiny in wealth, power and population.

The resources of the great territory extending westward from the crest of the Alleghany Mountains to the one hundredth meridian—the edge of the arid region—and from the sources of the Mississippi River on the north to its outlet to the Gulf on the south, are so largely agricultural that it offers the ideal section of the earth for the development of a nation along the lines of Japanese development, with a preponderating rural population.

There is no other section of the world's surface where latent agricultural resources of such inexhaustible richness and extent lie practically undeveloped.

fifty million figure; it has stacked up gold in its treasury, has created a great merchant marine, has captured a growing share of European commerce, has already outmarshaled commercial America on the Pacific, has crowded its cities with roaring factories, and has given costly and triumphant equipment to its aggressive fleets and regiments. And it has accomplished all this out of the profit of harvests gleaned from a farm area scarcely large enough to afford storage room for the agricultural machinery in use in the United States."

Could there be a more striking proof of the oft-quoted words of David Starr Jordan, that:—

"Stability of national character goes with firmness of foot-hold on the soil."

Comparison of Areas.

Now compare Japan and its development with the possibilities of development in the Middle West.

The area of all the islands comprising the Empire of Japan is 147,655 square miles; of this only 19,000 square miles is available for agriculture, for every available acre in that country is cultivated.

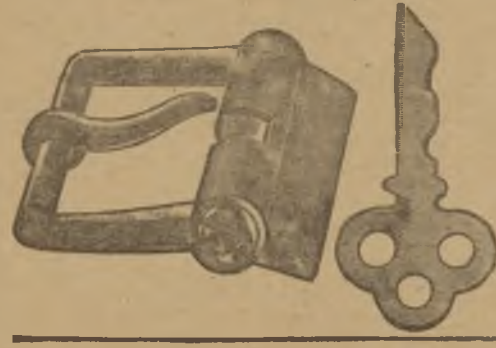

The total combined area of Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana is 146,300 square miles, and it is safe to say that considerably more than half of this area—probably more than two thirds—is capable of as close a cultivation, and of sustaining as dense a population per square mile as the cultivated area of Japan.

The water with which to irrigate it now runs to waste. The water which Chicago turns into her drainage canal, instead of producing agricultural wealth by irrigating the lands of Illinois, produces law suits with St. Louis because it runs to waste past that city to the Gulf of Mexico.

The time will come when irrigated agriculture in the Middle West will absorb every drop of water falling within that territory.

And when the irrigation canals and the irrigated farms of the Middle West will dry up the Ohio and the Mississippi rivers, just as irrigation in the West has dried up Tulare Lake in California, and is rapidly drying up the Great Salt Lake in Utah, the

The Newest and Best STRAP LOCKS are the LYNCH PERFECTION YALE PRINCIPLE

TO THE TRAVELER these Locks Are Necessities—Not Mere Luxuries

On straps they strengthen and make safe the trunk, suit or other traveling case, or lock telescope at any fullness. With chain fasten bicycle, horse or automobile or secure umbrella, bag, or coat to car seat or other permanent object. They are small, simple, durable, unpickable.

LOCKS—3 varieties—50 cents each; with leather trunk strap, 7 ft. $1.00, 8 ft. $1.25, 8 ft. heavy $1.50, 8 to 10 ft. double $2.50—with best 1½-inch webbing 7 to 10 ft. $1.00—with telescope, suit case, traveling case or mail bag strap or with chain 75c. By mail prepaid on receipt of price.

LYNCH MFG. CO., Madison, Wis., U.S.A.

Market Ferry Grammar School boasted of a French professor—one John Henry, English by compulsion, French by birth and training. Everybody could see that by his manner, his dress, his tall, furry French hat, his silver buckled French shoes. He was a diminutive, courtier-like gentleman, rather shabby by his pittance of a hundred pounds a year, but none the less proud of his ancestry. We believed him to be of royal blood. Yet we did not show respect, even for his attainments. Indeed, with his insignificant stature and his absent-mindedness, he was something of a butt for raw jokes. I remember so well the winter (for it led me to her who has become the light of my life) when he strayed thoughtlessly into the midst of a snow-ball fight between classes on the school green, both sides joined in the attack, and the old professor was well-nigh unconscious when I rescued him, set him in a hansom, and took him to his home.

A tiny cottage, on a corner near the outskirts of town, where the river drive swept into our little park—how often I remembered it in after days. There Adelaide and her father spent their quiet, happy life. The professor was absorbed in his books; the daughter moved quietly around the house, or attended her flowers. So it was when I called a few nights later to inquire as to Mr. Henry's condition. The Christmas holidays were on. I had ample leisure. And what a team love and leisure make.

For two years more old Market Ferry was heaven. I think I did myself credit in certain studies, although the professor told me blandly that I was so well posted in certain others that he would not find it necessary to examine me, which explanation my parents swallowed without hesitation. If I failed in any I must confess my greater interest at the little cottage. I spent a good many hours studying a pair of eyes and a pretty face and the kind of voice that makes you think.

I graduated with two precious possessions; a heart and a diploma. I next dooryard, and gave their tribute to another. The vines had come up and run to seed twice since we picked their blossoms. Neighbors said the professor and his daughter left suddenly. Some one heard him exclaim to some one else—"I go back to my kingly rights. I am a monarch." That was all. Something clutched at my throat. I was hardly fifteen. Do you wonder I cried a little?

I went to Paris and studied the great newspapers for months past. One morning I found in a year old American New York Herald, reference to the little kingdom of Barrataria, an island in the northern seas. The writer told of great fetes in the little town of a thousand souls over the return of its king, driven out during a revolution some years before. Then my heart went sick, for there was a picture of little Adelaide, as the king's daughter, wearing a quaint lace headdress with gold ornaments around the ears. The old love rekindled. I packed my grip and departed for Barrataria on the night train.

Barrataria consisted of a city of some four thousand souls, on a two-hundred-acre island, reached by long, heavy bridges from the mainland. It was an elevated plain, built up solid with residences and warehouses. Its people were well-to-do. Many of them dried shiploads of herring and sole, storing their packages of fragrant fish under open sheds, or in loosely built frame barns. Others operated big steamship lines, spending their days at business and their resting hours in Barrataria. Others were gentlemen of leisure and gamblers. They came from several near-by provinces. And presently they were intermarrying and rearing sons with more money than brains. It is no wonder that the voters—the native born—were turbulent. When I arrived a new party had been organized; some kind of an anti, or may be a liberal. Anyhow the little town was broken up into cliques, and they were at one another's throats. Opposite the City Hall, Government troops sat on known in Barrataria and attracted some attention. I represented myself as a distant relative of the royal family on an important mission, and after bribing the guard, was permitted to send in my card. Presently the guard returned, and bowing low, entreated me to follow him. I passed through the marble halls of the palace, and was ushered into a dimly-lighted drawing-room. And in a few minutes entered Adelaide, my own, my darling, holding out both hands and smiling her greeting. I took her to my heart. I covered her dear face with kisses. And when we were quieted, I told her how I had found her and why I had come. She insisted that it was no use—that it only made her lot harder to bear. She had been ordered by the king to wed Trastamara, "the gambler," though she loathed him. "Oh, Gregory," she sobbed, "if we could only be back in the little cottage in Ferry."

All the bitter sweet of those days—the hunger for my sweetheart, the infrequent glimpses of her dear face, the haunting fear of Trastamara's schemes. For two weeks I remained at the hotel, while the revolution smoldered, and I racked my brains for a method of rescuing Adelaide. Then my plan formed, I sat still and awaited the crucial moment.

It was the night of the annual Grand State Ball. With a somewhat doubtful heart, I entered the palace in full uniform, with a short Scottish sword. Before many minutes I was summoned by Adelaide's Chamberlain to meet her in the dancing-hall, and thither I went for a brief dance with my beloved. Near by her, guarding her jealously, stood Trastamara, a dark-browed desperado. I had learned—though he knew it not—that he had several hundred trusty followers, in the palace and out, ready to rush to his call. He had planned to carry out his scheme that night. I knew all this, and I, alone and almost empty-handed, was there to balk him.

After our dance, I had an opportunity to draw Adelaide into the conservatory. I abjured her to go with me back to England—to leave the place with all its bickerings and plottings, and be my bonnie English wife. "But father," she faltered; "they would tear him to pieces if they found me gone. And yet, Gregory dear, I believe he would go if he had a chance. He is so feeble, so sick of it all. If you could talk with him."

Suddenly Adelaide's eyes grew big and dark with fright. My back was to the door, and I had one hand on her waist, smoothing her dear hair with the other. I turned, and my heart chilled. There, peeping between the great leaves of a palm, grinning hatefully, was Trastamara. He disappeared.

The next moment there was a hubbub in the hall. "The King!" I heard them cry. "The King!" "Come with me quick," said Adelaide, in an excited whisper. "It is our only chance!" And taking me by the arm, she drew me into the ball-room and up on to the stage. The crowd approached us on tiptoe with excitement, for Trastamara had undoubtedly spread the news. In the front came the king, with brilliant robes and jeweled crown. How old and feeble he looked. How worn and tired. But he had lost none of his proud anger of old days. Raising his mace, he called aloud: "That man is an interloper. He has designs on the body of the king! Put him out! Banish him! Away with him!"

I turned to Adelaide. She stood there tremulous, her eyes shining like stars, an adorable creation. On sudden impulse I threw one arm about her and kissed her passionately before them all. Then, facing the crowd:—"The princess is my affianced wife!" I cried. "Let him who dares put foot on this platform!"

I drew my sword just in time. Brave as a lion. Trastamara leaped upon the platform and came at me snarling. He held a short knife in his right hand, and circled for an opening. "Dog!" I cried. Letting out with my sword I fetched him a mighty stroke across the temple, and he rolled back into the crowd. There was now a babel in the hall. The possibility of defense was at an end, for I heard orders outside and knew that soldiers were approaching. A door stood open behind us. I took Adelaide by the shoulders and pushed her through it. "To the south gate," I whispered in her ears. "For your life, darling!"

Down the stairs we ran lightly. Behind swept the king, the courtiers, and the crowd of gay dancers. Old John Henry had thrown aside his long robes and his crown, and was sprinting after me in excellent style. At the bottom of long flight of stone steps, we opened a massive door, and found ourselves at the great southern gate of the palace. A two-horse carriage stood outside. "It is my own," cried Adelaide. "It has been waiting since noon. We are saved!"

The door of the palace closed with a secret spring, but not soon enough to keep back old John Henry. He slipped through, looking very odd in his short tunic and bare head—shorn of his kingly habiliments. But it slammed in the face of the crowd, and we three were alone.

Adelaide leaped into the carriage. With a smothered oath John Henry jumped after her. He had no thought but to capture his daughter. The soldiers could take care of me. But this was exactly what I wanted. I slipped in beside Adelaide, closed the door, called to the driver to make across the southern bridge at top speed, and we were off without a single pursuer.

A moment later the king came at me with knotted, blood-thirsty fingers. He was in a fearful rage. I met him half-way with my fist beneath his chin. He doubled up like a jack-knife and knew no more until we were on the mainland, in a fast train for Paris, reeling off the miles between Hell and Heaven.

Henry took it unkindly, but in time he became grateful to me for saving his life. For it was really planned that night to make way with him and to turn Adelaide over to Trastamara.

Adelaide's chickens have come back, singing; the vines curl up with delight; and the flowers bloom themselves to death, all for the lady in the little cottage. Old Henry is in his heaven—the library; Adelaide is in hers, the nursery. I am busy and contented. I have fought the good fight; I have won my queen.

Preservative For Stone.

The Hungarian chemist, Brun, says he has discovered a liquid chemical compound which renders certain kinds of matter proof against the effects of time. He says it doubles the density of nearly every kind of stone and renders it water proof.

COURT NOTES.

The Strange Mystery of the "Haunted Room" Revealed to Lord Glamis.

Lord Glamis, son of the Earl and Countess of Strathmore, came of age September 22, and the secret of the "Haunted Room" was communicated to him by his father. This has been an invariable practice on such occasions from time immemorial. What secret the "Haunted Room" contains is supposed to be passed on to every heir as he attains his majority. Thus its precise nature is in the possession of never more than two persons at the same time. Conjecture and traditions say, however, that in the long ago, when the Lindsays and Ogilvies were at feud a number of the latter clan were imprisoned and died in that particular chamber. That the room has some uncanny peculiarities appears to be beyond a doubt, for the late Lord Strathmore had it walled up after visiting the apartment one night to determine the origin of certain weird noises which, it is said, had for a long time disturbed and puzzled him. "The Earl opened the door with a key," wrote a correspondent to a Dr. Lee, "and dropped back in a dead swoon into the arms of his companions; nor could he ever be induced to open his lips on the subject afterward." The experiences of a lady visitor at the castle are quoted in the book, "Haunted

MRS. ARTHUR PAGET.

Homes and Family Legends." "Suddenly," so the story runs, "a cold blast stole into the lady's room, extinguishing the light by her bedside. She saw a tall, mailed figure pass into the dressing-room. Immediately thereafter there was a shriek from her child in an adjoining room. Her maternal instinct was aroused. She rushed into the dressing-room and found the child in an agony of fear. It described what it had seen as "a giant," who came and leaned over its face."

The operation Mrs. Arthur Paget underwent recently at the hands of Sir Alfred Fripp was a very delicate and wonderful one, though thoroughly successful. More than a year ago Mrs. Paget fell down an elevator shaft and fractured her thigh. The bone failed to mend and in spite of an operation and a special course of treatment under Prof. Haffa, the great Berlin specialist, Sir Alfred Fripp took a photograph of the injured bones by means of the Roentgen rays, which showed that the fracture was as bad as ever. It was necessary to make an incision so that the fractured bones could be reached. These were screwed together with ivory, and it is confidently believed that in a few months' time they will knit and become strong enough to bear the weight of the body. In spite of the agony extending over thirteen months which Mrs. Paget has endured, she is able to drive out every day in an open carriage. Mrs. Paget recently visited the new ward at Charing-Cross Hospital, built from the proceeds of a great charity bazaar she organized, and called the Minnie Paget ward. It contained many fracture cases, and Mrs. Paget cheered the sufferers greatly by her hopeful conversation, which was appreciated even more than the gifts of fruit and flowers she bore to each patient.

Of Abdul-Hamid's two predecessors, the one was assassinated, the other went mad and was deposed. These two tragic events have made the Sultan immensely suspicious. Always keeping watch against conspirators, he regards as his most faithful and useful servants the men who spend their time in discovering his enemies, in finding out their plans, and in preventing the execution of these plans. The best rewarded will be he who has given his Majesty the most exhaustive information.

As everybody wants to obtain such reward, all keep busy collecting information. Constantinople is a perfect paradise for the secret police. In all classes of Ottoman society you encounter the secret agent; and the very highest dignitaries gladly furnish the Sultan with confidential information.

Van Calava.

Encouragement to Young Writers.

To young and ambitious writers, who become discouraged at the non-acceptance and non-appearance in print of their accepted articles it will be interesting to know what Edward Clarence Stedman writes in a current magazine, that Mr. Fields of the Atlantic Monthly once advised him that he had lots of stuff, which had been in an unpublished state for five years. Stedman adds that one of his famous "South Sea Idyls" remained in their office for seven years before it found its way into print.

The Green Prevailed.

A green little boy in a green little way A green little apple devoured one day, And the green little grasses now tenderly wave O'er the green little apple boy's green little grave.

The oldest tombstone in New York is in Trinity Churchyard. It is inscribed, "Richard Clemide, 1681." The remainder of the inscription has been worn away from the stone by wind and rain.

The great rock of Gibraltar is crumbling and the rotting masses of the rock must be continually bound together with huge patches of masonry and cement.

COFFEE DOES HURT

Make the trial yourself—leave off Coffee 10 days and use

POSTUM FOOD COFFEE

in its place.

That's the only way to find out.

Postum is a sure builder and when you cut out the coffee and use Postum instead, you get a taste of health, for the aches and ails begin to leave. You may THINK you know, but you don't until after the trial. Remember

"There's a Reason."

Get the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in each pkg.

STOP YOUR RUNAWAY

You Can Do It EVERY TIME With A GEER SAFETY REIN

PRICE, COMPLETE, $5.00 Expressage Prepaid

No more Smash-ups; No more Lives Lost; Can be buckled on, in a minute, to any Bridle!

WORKS INDEPENDENTLY OF THE DRIVING REINS.

Write for descriptive circular, free on application, to THE GEER MANUFACTURING CO., 49 EXCHANGE PLACE, NEW YORK. Will Stop any Horse or Money Refunded.

Gleanings in Bee Culture

teaches you about bees, how to handle them for honey and profit. Send for free copy. Read it, then you'll want to subscribe. 6 months' trial 25c. Don't delay but do it to-day.

A. I. Root Co., Medina, Ohio.

Mason & Hamlin

PIANOS AND ORGANS

STANDARD OF THE WORLD

PHOTOGRAPHERS Throw Your Bottles and Scales Away

DO YOU KNOW that dirty bottles and scales cause you trouble? Obviate this by using our Developers, put up READY TO USE. Simply empty our tubes into the developing tray and add the water—we don't charge you for the latter. Large quantities of developer made up at one time oxidize and spoil. With our developers you only make up enough for immediate use.

Send 25 cents for half a dozen tubes sufficient for 24 ounces of developer for Velox, Azo, Cyko, Rotox, or other papers, or 60 ounces of Plate and Film Developer—a Developer which will not stain the fingers or nails, and is non-poisonous. We have a Sepia Toner for gaslight papers, 6 tubes, 25c.

NATIONAL PHOTOGRAPHIC CHEMICAL COMPANY
11th St. and Penn Ave., Washington, D. C.

International Harvester Co. GASOLINE ENGINES

When equipped with an I. H. C. gasoline engine, the farm, the dairy, the mill, the threshing machine, or the husker and shredder can be operated more economically than with any other power. Farmers who have water to pump, wood to saw, feed to grind or corn to shell, can do this work at a minimum cost with I. H. C. engines.

I. H. C. HORIZONTAL ENGINE

I. H. C. gasoline engines are made in the following sizes: 2, 3 and 5 H. P., vertical type, stationary; 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, stationary; and 6, 8, 10, 12 and 15 H. P., horizontal type, portable.

WRITE FOR GASOLINE ENGINE BOOKLET.

International Harvester Co. of America
(Incorporated)

7 Monroe Street

Chicago, Ill., U. S. A.

"KISSED HER PASSIONATELY BEFORE THEM ALL."

think I far out-valued the heart, for there never was another like it, and none ever will be. But at my paternal home, Charter's Court, there was blood on the face of the moon, and a leather strap awaiting the youthful scion. So I deviated and spent a blissful month in France, pending a reduction of the tempest. For I had told them of my engagement to Adelaide, and my desire to marry her immediately and bring her home. "It will blow over," I said to myself, laughing at love letters from Adelaide, and writing her a stream of tender replies. Then I got mad. For she told me her father, old Henry, had thrown a fit when she spoke of her contemplated co-operative association. I chased back to Ferryby and dropped in at the house about tea time. I ate a formal supper. Old Henry's manner chilled me to my spurs, and I could think of nothing but army gossip, for I had graduated into an organization of prospective army officers.

Then I broke loose and told him what I wanted, while Adelaide discreetly withdrew. He was a stone post to my entreaty; my demand, my storm. So as I had put pride beneath my heel, and could not give her up, I offered him a home, an annuity, an indefinite leave of absence, with pay and expenses—any old plan that would give a fair exchange for his sorrow. He shook his head. He even swore at me in French. And then he called her in and made her dismiss me, though she did it in tears.

From India to Africa, from ice to equator, I moved about through English Army Stations. We were on a tour of England's outposts—one of the first school trips of the young officer. I attained new grades and donned new uniforms. I added stars and bars, cords and fringe. I had become a real soldier. I even got into some scrimmages with the blacks in Egypt—a gang of robbers who inhabited an abandoned city. And after five years knocking about, I returned to England. But my heart was still at the little cottage, and thither I went on the first train. It was empty. Adelaide's chickens inhabited the knapsacks and laughed about the possible end. They were a brave, rollicking, fitful class—these young students and merchants of the town. They could form instant attachments. But they could forget as easily. Hence their present bitterness.

It took a passport and an international secret badge and password to get in at all. Then, weary to death after a three-day rail and boat voyage, I went to bed in the only hotel.

Toward morning I was awakened by gun firing. I arose and dressed immediately. There was skirmishing to the south, where the island ran off in a long neck of land. Then I heard marching in the street near by, and the rumble of cannon. It was none of my business, really; but Adelaide or no Adelaide, a British Army Officer cannot rest supinely in the midst of civil war, even though it be merely opera bouffe. So I went among them, as a citizen, discreetly leaving my uniform in my portmanteau.

In the dark—for it was not yet morning—I mixed with the crowd and caught the drift of the revolution. They were tired of old John Henry—now gracefully styled Enrique XVII. For a time his return to Barrataria was the occasion of festivities and brilliant ceremonies. Now they wanted a younger man. There was Trastamara, Adelaide's distant cousin. He was of royal blood and full of fire. Why not make him king? And I found by questioning that Trastamara, the gambler and sport of the island, was laying wires along devious paths to accomplish just that end, forcing the abdication of John Henry and—how it floored me—taking Adelaide as his queen. I ground my teeth. Sooner than see that sweet angel Trastamara's wife I would wet my sword in the villain's blood and carry off the prize myself.

I saw that action was necessary if I were to accomplish anything, and the next day, early in the afternoon, attired in full uniform, made my way to the palace. It was surrounded by the King's guards, with instructions to admit only the appointed. My highland garb, with kilt and sperran, tartan and feather bonnet, was un-

Growing Seeds for Market

Good Seeds Are Half the Battle

GUY ELLIOTT MITCHELL

One of the most thriving businesses in the United States today and which seemingly carries on its work regardless of the fluctuations of stocks on the great exchanges, is the growing and selling of seeds. From small beginnings in the colonial period this business has grown so that now its value in measured by the tens of millions. The first beginning of this business commenced in small shops where a few boxes of seed shared a corner with codfish or a shelf with calicoes or books. To-day it has come to claim for itself immense warehouses and business establishments, having interests which extend to every portion of the globe.

The Pilgrims probably were the first introducers of seeds into this country, for they brought with them seeds of the plants cultivated by them in their

BEATING OUT HEMP SEED IN KENTUCKY.

English and Dutch homes. These of course were of such plants as were considered necessities of life—corn barley and peas, while fruit trees were also set out.

Early records show that in 1763, Nathaniel Bird, a book-dealer of Newport, R. I., advertised garden seeds just arrived from London. The following year an announcement was made by Gideon Welles that he had some choice Connecticut onion seeds for sale. In New York city hemp and flax seeds were advertised for sale as early as 1765. Boston, however, being the commercial center in the early days, was the chief city for the sale of garden seeds. In 1767 out of twenty-six advertisers in the Boston Gazette, six were dealers in seeds. Dur-

Harvesting Sorghum Seed in Nebraska.

A Few Pumpkins For Seed

ing the War for Independence the advertising of this commodity apparently ceased, although it is hardly believed that there was not a time but what one could purchase seeds in any of the large cities of that period.

A Pioneer Seedsmen.

In 1784, David Landreth commenced operations in Philadelphia; Bernard McMahon, in that same city in 1800, while in 1805, Grant Thorburn began to sell seeds in New York. By 1830 the population had increased from about three million in 1790, to ten and a half millions. To meet the growing demand for vegetables and flowers, these ten and a half millions required more than three and a half times as many seeds as were used in 1790. Dealers established themselves in the principal cities and crossed the mountains.

Along with the reaching out for trade came the increasing size and prominence of the catalogue. The earliest seed catalogues were mere lists not intended for general distribution. Thorburn probably issued the first seed catalogue as early as 1823, shortly after the civil war the catalogue became more prominent. Its size was increased and a few illustrations appeared. Novelties were not as numerous twenty years ago as they are today; they were not given so much attention either. Today there is not an important catalogue but gives considerable space to novelties. Seedsmen are on the alert for novelties; they are the money makers. The modern catalogue, with its profusely illustrated pages while in a sense the seedman's agent, is a text-book of horticulture. Millions of these books find their way into rural homes and become the basis by which the amateur gardener derives a knowledge of varieties and even methods of growing plants under varied conditions.

Seed Growing a Big Industry.

The seed trade has changed quite as much as has the catalogue, first with its woodcut engravings, to excellent half-tones and color plates. The barrel of peas first sold in Newport has grown to hundreds of bags, and the few thousand packets to millions. The modern seed house has every mechanical contrivance to aid in making the business economical and systematic. From the cellar to the mailing room everything is so arranged that orders may be filled with accuracy and dispatch. During the late summer and early fall catalogues are prepared for mailing, and seeds packed in readiness for distribution. While one hundred letters a day was considered a large business thirty years ago, some houses now receive over six thousand daily during the busy season.

FIELD GROWN LILIES FOR BULBS.

Of course to supply this enormous trade much attention must be paid to the growing of the seed. The present development of garden-seed growing began when David Landreth established a small seed farm at Philadelphia in 1784. During the Civil War grown in this country for at least fifty years. The amount raised, even at the present time, is not sufficient to meet the trade and the greater part of the flower-seed sold is imported from Europe.

Importance of Seed Testing.

Since the days of tradition a great deal of attention has been paid to seed testing for quality of germination. Seeds have been floated or have been heated until they popped; they have been broken and the fracture noted; they have been cut and judged by the appearance of the inside. Various experiment stations of the United States have, for a long time, paid much attention to practical seed testing. The Department of Agriculture for nearly eight years has conducted a trial ground in connection with its seed laboratory where studies of varieties are made. Samples are also planted of the vast quantities of seed sent out for Congressional distribution. The Department has in fact done much to purge the country of dishonest seed dealers, and a large force is constantly employed securing seeds from dealers and testing them, both with regard to their germinative quality and their truthness to name. There is great opportunity for adulteration, and many farmers are apt to consider they are saving money if they can get seeds at a reduced rate, finding out when it is too late that they have been swindled with false varieties or that perhaps 50 per cent. of their seeds fall utterly of germination.

A CLOVER SEED STORE-HOUSE.

Personal Seed Tests.

The average farmer, however, would do well to carry on a little seed testing establishment of his own each year, and this course is advocated by the Department of Agriculture. In

A CALIFORNIA ONION PATCH.

CARRY A BIG STICK.

Cane Preferred to Revolver by Detectives.

"President Roosevelt's epigram—'Speak softly and carry a big stick', has been quoted all over the world," said an expert fencing master, who has taught sword practice in a dozen of the world's capitals. "And it is good advice literally as well as figuratively. Do not provoke quarrels; avoid them if you can. But be prepared for a tight corner. Many night policemen and detectives carry stout canes in preference to revolvers. The stick is always ready in all weathers. The revolver must be carried in the pocket, and only an expert can flash it on the instant. When you are in a situation where your stick is needed do not figure on using it as a club. An agile man can dodge the sweep of a stick, and knife you before you recover your guard. Carry the stick with the tip somewhat in advance, grasping it firmly six inches or more below the knob or handle. If you are confronted by an adversary give him a sudden, hard thrust with the small end. The stomach is a most vulnerable point, and if you catch him fairly the chances are ten to one that he will double up like a jack-knife. Before he recovers you can withdraw the stick and hand him one on the head or the back of the neck that will put him out of business for some time to come.

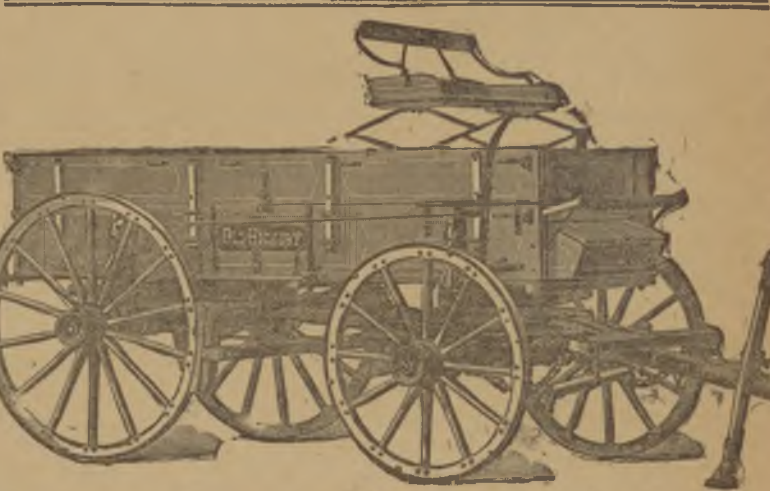

Seeds Germinate Quickly.

Most seeds will germinate in from three to ten days. The apparatus required is very simple—a pan, some cotton flannel or cotton batting, a little

NO OTHER WAGONS APPROACH

In Perfect Adaptability Under all Conditions to

The Strong Old Hickory

MANUFACTURED BY

Kentucky Wagon Manufacturing Co.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

LARGEST PRODUCERS OF FARM WAGONS IN THE WORLD

Kirk's A Quarter of a Century

AMERICAN CROWN

SOAP

Is a green soap, consistency of paste, a perfect cleanser for automobile machinery and all vehicles; will not injure the most highly polished surface. Made from pure vegetable oils. If your dealer does not carry American Crown Soap in stock, send us his name and address and we will see that your wants are supplied. Put up in 12½, 25 and 50 lb. pails.

James S. Kirk & Company
CHICAGO, ILL.

BOOKS—BOOKS

We have published some good ones specially suited for farmers. Books that will help every farmer to make more out of his farm. Write for our catalogue.

WEBB PUBLISHING CO.,
St. Paul Minn.

Well Drilling Machines

Over 70 sizes and styles for drilling either deep or shallow wells in any kind of soil or rock. Mounted on wheels or sills. With engines or horse powers. Strong, simple and durable. Any mechanic can operate them easily.

SEND FOR CATALOGUE

WILLIAM BROS., Ithaca, N. Y.

Repeaters

are the original solid top and side ejectors. This feature forms a solid shield of metal between the shooter's head and the cartridge at all times, throws the empties away from him instead of into his face, prevents smoke and gases from entering his eyes and lungs, and keeps the line of sight unobstructed. The MARLIN action works easily and smoothly, making very little noise. Our new automatic recoil-operating locking device makes the Marlin the safest breech-loading gun ever built. Large catalogue, 300 illustrations, cover in nine colors, mailed for three stamps. The Marlin Fire Arms Co., New Haven, Conn.

Send for Catalogue

SANDWICH MFG. CO.,

124 Main Street, Sandwich, Ill

SILOS

Pine, Fir, Cypress and Yellow Pine. Write for Catalogue.

Eagle Tank Co., 281 N. Green St., Chicago, Ill.

IF YOU WANT A JACK

Send for our Jack Catalogue. Sure to contain the description of exactly what you want. Hydraulic Jacks our Specialty

Watson-Stillman Co.,
46 Dey St., N. Y. City.

The Missoula Nursery

Producers of Northern grown acclimated trees and the best varieties for planting in Northern States.

Every Variety of Standard Fruit

Thoroughly tested Apples, Pears, Plums, Cherries and Trees Ornamental, Small Fruit Plants, Shrubs, Vines and Roses.

THE EVERBEARING STRAWBERRY

A SPECIALTY OF

FLOWERING PLANTS AND SHRUBS

Cut Flowers and Floral Designs. Also Vegetable Plants shipped by express. Catalogue and Price List Free. Mail orders have prompt attention.

MISSOULA NURSERY CO.

MISSOULA, MONTANA.

HOW THE ELEPHANT GOT HIS TUSKS.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Phone 20

Call us up

FIRST and best of fall goods, prove their worth in every way. Values that you cannot fail to see. Made for you the way you want it. Satisfaction is a part of the bargain. Come here first and you'll go no further. We don't sell what we can't recommend. 'Nuff said.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months......50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

The tax assessor and tax collector were at home over Sunday.

J. W. Harrell and family are now occupying the home of Mrs. E. Porter.

The Sentinel received a call from Prof. J. S. Laverty, of Talladega, last Friday.

There is a street fair headed this way. Nothing like a diversion whenever we can get it.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams, of Shelby, were in the city on Thursday of last week.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle will meet with Mrs. Max Leffkovits next Tuesday afternoon.

We wonder why it is bad luck to spill the sugar, instead of the salt: The sugar costs more.

The Sentinel learns that Philip Erlick will build him a fine home early in the springtime.

Last Friday night was really the first touch of winter. Considerable ice was made at that time.

Most men have the same experience. The only difference is: some men talk, and some don't.

Williams Bros' have recently had a new floor put in their drug store which adds to its appearance.

J. I. Abercrombie has contracted with Saxon & Johnson to build him a residence on East College street.

Thanksgiving note: Cranberries are a luxury which come high this year, but with turkey they must be had.

The Mayor's court was a busy place on Tuesday morning of last week—an aftermath of the so-called circus.

There would be considerable more building this winter than there will be because lumber cannot be had.

"The way of the transgressor is hard" was practically demonstrated at a recent session of the mayor's court.

FRESH OYSTERS are received at Roberts & Robertson's every Tuesday and Friday. Remember the dates and file your order.

A loafer is a menace to a community, and the habitual loafer is almost necessarily a person of inferior character.

We have your receipt ready for that dollar you were going to give us on your subscription when you sold your cotton.

November 30th has been designated by the president as Thanksgiving day. The turkeys have gone to the woods.

B. C. Bynum, who has the contract for Shelby county's new court house will also make a bid to build Clay county's new court house. That county will expend $40,000 for that purpose.

A two-for-a nickel circus can draw larger crowds of people than a half a dozen revival meetings. Had you ever noticed it?

Robert Rengau, who has been attending school here, has gone to his home near Ma lene and will not return again this winter.

FRUIT of every kind may be had of Roberts & Robertson. Just what you want for your Thanksgiving dinner. Phone them your order today.

Rev. G. T. Harris preached his last sermon here this conference year last Sunday night. The conference meets in Athens this year.

Clark Studivant, who is now in the employ of the Columbiana Mercantile Co., has ordered The Sentinel sent to his mother at Shelby.

Harry Roberts and Henry Chapman were out hunting one day last week, and returned with forty-one birds. That's pretty fair shooting.

The City Drug Store has a change of advertisement in this issue of The Sentinel. The subject is jewelry, and especially for the holiday trade.

Mrs. H. M. Roberts and babe, and Mrs. Joe P. Roberts and children have gone to Oxford for a visit with Rev. T. K. Roberts and family.

John J. Haynes has ordered The Sentinel sent to his father at Lineville. We would like to see Mr. Haynes, senior, become a resident of Columbiana.

GRAPES, delicious, fine are on sale at Roberts & Robertson's. Take some of them home to your wife, your children or sweetheart. They'll enjoy them.

The City Drug Store is putting on airs—having recently added a lot of fine new show cases, and doing some painting until now it looks trim as a pretty girl in a new gown.

W. W. Wallace visited with his mother near Klein several days last week. He was accompanied by J. T. Leeper and the two of them enjoyed a day's hunt while they were gone.

Eva Bartlett Macey Concert Co. at Columbiana Academy on the 23 of November.

Girls should never complain of the way their wedding notices are written up: So many poor cooks and poor managers get married that a paper deserves credit for not telling the truth in such cases.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Glenn, who moved to Louisiana last year, have returned to Columbiana. Mr. Glenn will go to Ensley where he has employment. Miss Ethel Glenn has also returned from Louisiana for a visit with friends.

Some merchants try to do business without the aid of printer's ink. The receipts in their cash box show their lack of judgement in this matter. The money expended for advertising is never thrown away, for it works for the advertiser all the time.

R. R. Smith, of near Lynch, came in last Thursday and renewed his subscription to The Sentinel. He says the roads out in his section of the country are in bad condition, notwithstanding a claim to the contrary, and that is the general complaint from nearly every section of the county.

Some envious individual has said that too much time and pains is spent in "setting" the advertisements in The Sentinel. If our efforts in that direction meet with the approval and appreciation of those who pay for the advertisements we are satisfied. A handful of type thrown into a space in a jumble and heterogeneous mass does not count for much, and in most cases is money wasted when payment is made. Time spent in the interest of a patron, whether in "setting" an advertisement, turning out a job of stationery or in doing anything else is time well spent—not wasted.

Prof. Laverty, a former teacher of piano in the blind school at Talladega, was in the city several days last week visiting at the home of Jno. S. Pitts. Prof. Laverty is blind, but that in no wise deters him in his effort to gain a livelihood, for he is a dealer in musical instruments and has a store in Talladega. While visiting here he turned several pianos.

Three or four farmers told us in one store last Saturday that The Sentinel was right in its contention that the roads of the county are in a bad shape. An article in the Advocate last week, quoting several parties as to the roads being in such excellent condition, caused considerable merriment.

Do not miss hearing the Eva Bartlett Macey Concert Co. on Nov. 23, at the Academy, Columbiana.

C. L. Meroney, a prominent merchant and vice-president of the Merchants' and Planters' bank, of Montevallo, was in the city a few hours last Monday, and while here made this office a pleasant call and left an order for some commercial stationery. He reports that 1,400 bales of cotton have been bought at Montevallo thus far this season.

I. P. Vincent, of beat 2, was in town last Saturday and dropped into The Sentinel office long enough to renew his subscription for another year. Mr. Vincent says the roads out in his section of the county are in pretty bad shape—that there is plenty of room for improvement.

In this issue will be found a change in the advertisement of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. The removal sale of this firm, we are told, is proving to be a great success, and this week the advertisement tells you of many good bargains in the sale you may have overlooked.

The attention of the town council is called to a very bad place in the street just east of Henry Miller's home. A bad accident was narrowly averted their last Saturday. The driveway is only about seven feet wide, with a high bank on one side and a deep ditch on the other.

Our merchants are preparing for the holidays, and the display of goods for the Christmas tide will be greater than ever before in Columbiana.

The Sentinel is requested to say the Rev. C. C. Heard, pastor of the Baptist church, will preach in the Presbyterian church in the forenoon of Thanksgiving day.

Engineer Charlie Brooks, who has been laying off for some time, will return to his engine on the Louisville & Nashville railroad in a few days.

WAIT! WAIT! WAIT!
FOR THE

GIGANTIC - REMOVAL - SALE

The $50,000 Stock of the Columbiana Mercantile Company has been placed in the hands of

THE AMERICAN SALVAGE CO.

to be sold in Ten Days' time, beginning

NOV. 22, AT 9 O'CLOCK

and last TEN DAYS only.

It will pay you to come a hundred miles to attend this sale, for you will be able to dress up your whole family for what it usually costs to dress up one, so wait and meet your friends. Thousands will be there from far and wide to reap the fruits of the Greatest Sacrificing Sale of the age.

Mark the date, and mark it well; let nothing keep you away. Beginning NOVEMBER 22, at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Watch for the Big Circulars.

Columbiana Mercantile Company,

Columbiana, Alabama.

To Our Subscribers.

Quite a number of our readers are due us from one to three years' subscription. The amount that each owes is small, but in the aggregate it means several hundred dollars to us. We have carried you, and at the same time have had to pay cash for the white paper upon which your copy of The Sentinel is printed, and now we want a settlement.

We have made new improvements in the paper nearly every week since we came into possession nearly two years ago, and these improvements have cost us cold cash. If all were to pay us between now and January 1st, next we might be able to get that power press we have determined on having, and that would mean a still better paper for you. Now don't you think you ought to come across with what is due us? We have no desire to add costs to the amount due, but they must be paid, and we much prefer you do it of your own volition.

Of course the newspaper man and family do not need anything to live on, that's a preposterous idea, but it takes money to buy white paper, and you must pay up.

Cure for Pneumonia.

Owing to the prevalence of pneumonia, and the great mortality therefrom during winter and spring, several boards of health in Northern New Jersey have been taking measures of protection. The health board of Washington, Warren county, has published a remedy which is said to be a sure cure for pneumonia, and other health boards are looking into the matter with a view of having the tidings spread broadcast for the good of the public. This is the remedy: "Take six or ten onions, according to size, and chop fine, put in a large spider over a hot fire, then add the same quantity of rye meal and vinegar, enough to form a thick paste. Stir thoroughly, letting it simmer five or ten minutes. Then put it in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs and apply to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. In about ten minutes apply another, and thus continue by reheating the poultices, and in a few hours the patient will be out of danger."

S. Simon Casimir, of Birmingham, is a new clerk for the Columbiana Mercantile Co.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

County Court.

The following have been drawn to serve as jurors in County Court for the term beginning Nov. 20th. C. Frost, M. L. Lucas, S. V. Horton, G. W. Harris, J. W. Alexander, J. H. Avery, G. H. Porter, J. C. Johnson, S. H. Tempin, Geo. T. Bird, R. A. Borum, W. S. Esco, W. H. Stranor, H. M. Alexander, N. T. Eddings, B. Pickett, W. L. Morris, Frank Arnold, Elsie Simmons, B. F. Dawson, Bob Allen, J. W. Dodson, W. A. Stone, J. G. Frost.

Jim Vest, who is running a train out of Wilton on the Southern, was in the city a short time last Monday.

For the past week fires in the house have been very acceptable.

Milner & Christian expect a stock of furniture in a few days.

Thompson & Riddle are opening up a new stock of shoes.

SAXON & JOHNSON,
CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS.
Dealers in Shingles - Estimates Furnished
We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

Practical Arithmetic.
A teacher received the following from a complaining parent a few days ago.
"Sir—Will you please for the future give my boy some easier ones to do at nites. This is what he brought home two or three nites ago; if fore gullins of here will fill thirty-to pint bottles, how many pint and half bottles will nine gullins fill? Well we tried and could make nothing of it all, and my boy cried and said he wouldn't go back without doing it. So I had to go and buy a nine-gallon keg of fore, which I could ill afford to do, and then we went and borrowed a lot of wine and brandy bottles, besides a few we had by us. Well we emptied the keg into the bottles and there were nineteen, and my boy put that down for an answer. I don't know whether it is rite or not, as we split some in doing it. And then, I think its the teacher's place to help their pupils, and not tell them to take it home and work it out themselves. We are not paid for doing the teacher's work anyhow."

Just because talk is cheap, is no reason why anyone should use a lot of it.

We regret that Uncle Sam has no orders out barring perfumed letters from the mails.

Neuralgia Pains.

Rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yields to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment.

It penetrates to the nerves and bone and being absorbed into the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

This is the season when the grocer gets even with the tasters by putting a barrel of cranberries out in front.

When a man says he can't afford it, he has done better in life than most men if he has a wife and daughters who agree with him.

Best Liniment on earth.

Henry D. Bulwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis. writes, "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

It is strange that to say a girl looks like a ghost is not considered a compliment; ghosts are angels.

The average man isn't satisfied until he has bought a cyclopedia that is so big it has so many things in it he can't find anything.

Constipation.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaints have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary. There is a cure for it. Herbine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M., Bronson, Fla. writes, Feb. 12, 1902: "Having used Herbine, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." 50c a bottle. Sold by Williams Bros.

The old do not have much sympathy for the young in their trouble, regarding it as good luck enough to be young.

It has occurred to every girl, no doubt, that the reason she may never marry a millionaire is that she never meets one.

Mary had a little lamb, that time had passed away. No lamb could follow up the gait that Mary goes to-day. For now she rides airshod wheel in skirts too short by half; no lambkin share her airy flight, but you can see her calf. But is there one who can complain or cry in woe, "Alas!" so long as Mary's calf's all right, the lamb can go to grass. —Columbia Breeze.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kans., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him."

That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

The printer has just as much right to carry a catalogue of a mail order house into a local store and demand prices, as has the merchant to bring in prices from mail order printing houses. The thing works both ways. If it is fair for one, it is fair for the other. If one demands that he meet competition, the other should do the same thing, says The Centerville Press.

The appointment of Mr. Frank V. Evans of Birmingham as immigration agent at Ellis Island, New York, is a capital idea. He will represent the Industrial and Immigration Association and the State at large and his duties will be to secure good and acceptable immigrants to maketh eir homes in Alabama. The movement to direct the tide of immigration to the South is beginning to assume practical shape when the States place agents at the ports of entry and the influx of a good element of farm and industrial laborers will fill a much-needed want. —Huntsville Mercury.

The man who labors hard all the week enjoys Sunday and the rest and recreation it brings him more than any other man on earth. Life to the man of leisure becomes dull and monotonous and as all days are alike to him he loses that boon to the laboring man; an occasional day of welcome variety. The man who labors hard for his daily bread gets more real pleasure out of life than the man of leisure, however well blessed he may be in the good things of earth. The shifting scenes of pleasure strewn oasis-like along the laboring man's pathway bring him more real rest and enjoyment than the average man of the world gets out of his leisure.

In this week's paper there are advertisements that it will pay you to read, for the very simple reason that they will point out to you the place where bargains are to be found. If, by taking a few minutes to carefully read an ad you can save a few dollars in a day's shopping, then you will be well paid for the trouble of reading. The merchants who advertise in these columns are all reliable and responsible business men who handle in their stores just what they advertise, and they will sell you goods at just the figures they are offered to you at through their advertisements. It always pays to read the ads. any way, for first and last many a dollar may be saved that way. Read them and then go spend your money with your home merchants. This you may do, and at the same time feel assured that you are getting as good values as are to be had any where in the state for the same money.

All married women have a great deal to say about the lack of "the ring of sincerity" in a man's voice.

A man has conducted his business honorably all right, if his sons can take it up when he quits and go on with it.

It is a wonder that some statistician has never found out how soon after a wedding the word "rights" begins to appear.

Country Girls.

The cities are crowded with girls who are trying to earn a living as stenographers, clerks, etc., says an exchange, but not all of our girls are going to the cities, and not all of them are teaching school or making hats and dresses. We have many girls in the country villages and on the farms, broad-minded, intelligent girls, girls who are up-to-date in something besides fashion, and they are as much in style with their dresses and hats as the girls of the city. It is a mistake, too, to

SHIELD BRAND
FITS SHIELD BRAND WEARS
WELL SHIELD BRAND WELL
CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERYT, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

believe that she runs to extremes in her style and manner any more than does a city-bred young woman.

Many believe that the girl on the farm is far behind in everything the girl of the city in all that goes to make up modern life. But we find by observation that ninety-nine of every hundred girls in the country are intelligent readers, and the homes are well supplied with books, papers and magazines. They are not only readers, but are well informed on current events, and no class of people are more interested in the subjects discussed in papers and magazines than the young people who live in the country.

Are you a subscriber to The Sentinel? If not, why not?

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1905.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	8:50am	lv. Natchez, ar.	8:50pm	8:00am
1:10pm	4:45pm	lv. Selma, ar.	4:30pm	2:00pm
8:30am	10:45am	ar. Birmingham	6:30am	4:00pm
9:40am	11:50am	ar. Chattanooga	7:40am	5:10pm
1:10pm	2:20pm	ar. Knoxville	11:50am	12:10pm
6:00pm	7:10pm	ar. Bristol	1:10pm	1:20pm
1:50pm	3:00pm	ar. Lynchburg	3:00pm	3:10pm
6:50am	8:00am	ar. Washington	8:00pm	8:10pm
12:40pm	1:50pm	ar. New York	12:40pm	1:50pm

No. 22 and 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.

No. 419	STATIONS.	No. 419
7:30am	lv. New Orleans	8:10am
9:10am	lv. Mobile	9:50am
11:45am	lv. Jacksonville	12:25pm
1:45pm	lv. Savannah	2:30pm
3:45pm	lv. Charleston	4:30pm
5:45pm	lv. Columbia	6:30pm
7:45pm	lv. Augusta	8:30pm
9:45pm	lv. Savannah	10:30pm
11:45pm	lv. Jacksonville	12:30am
1:45am	lv. Mobile	2:30am
3:45am	lv. New Orleans	4:30am

No. 22 and 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	8:50am	lv. Natchez, ar.	8:50pm	8:00am
1:10pm	4:45pm	lv. Selma, ar.	4:30pm	2:00pm
8:30am	10:45am	ar. Birmingham	6:30am	4:00pm
9:40am	11:50am	ar. Chattanooga	7:40am	5:10pm
1:10pm	2:20pm	ar. Knoxville	11:50am	12:10pm
6:00pm	7:10pm	ar. Bristol	1:10pm	1:20pm
1:50pm	3:00pm	ar. Lynchburg	3:00pm	3:10pm
6:50am	8:00am	ar. Washington	8:00pm	8:10pm
12:40pm	1:50pm	ar. New York	12:40pm	1:50pm

No. 419	STATIONS.	No. 419
7:30am	lv. New Orleans	8:10am
9:10am	lv. Mobile	9:50am
11:45am	lv. Jacksonville	12:25pm
1:45pm	lv. Savannah	2:30pm
3:45pm	lv. Charleston	4:30pm
5:45pm	lv. Columbia	6:30pm
7:45pm	lv. Augusta	8:30pm
9:45pm	lv. Savannah	10:30pm
11:45pm	lv. Jacksonville	12:30am
1:45am	lv. Mobile	2:30am
3:45am	lv. New Orleans	4:30am

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	8:50am	lv. Natchez, ar.	8:50pm	8:00am
1:10pm	4:45pm	lv. Selma, ar.	4:30pm	2:00pm
8:30am	10:45am	ar. Birmingham	6:30am	4:00pm
9:40am	11:50am	ar. Chattanooga	7:40am	5:10pm
1:10pm	2:20pm	ar. Knoxville	11:50am	12:10pm
6:00pm	7:10pm	ar. Bristol	1:10pm	1:20pm
1:50pm	3:00pm	ar. Lynchburg	3:00pm	3:10pm
6:50am	8:00am	ar. Washington	8:00pm	8:10pm
12:40pm	1:50pm	ar. New York	12:40pm	1:50pm

No. 419	STATIONS.	No. 419
7:30am	lv. New Orleans	8:10am
9:10am	lv. Mobile	9:50am
11:45am	lv. Jacksonville	12:25pm
1:45pm	lv. Savannah	2:30pm
3:45pm	lv. Charleston	4:30pm
5:45pm	lv. Columbia	6:30pm
7:45pm	lv. Augusta	8:30pm
9:45pm	lv. Savannah	10:30pm
11:45pm	lv. Jacksonville	12:30am
1:45am	lv. Mobile	2:30am
3:45am	lv. New Orleans	4:30am

No. 22 and 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	8:50am	lv. Natchez, ar.	8:50pm	8:00am
1:10pm	4:45pm	lv. Selma, ar.	4:30pm	2:00pm
8:30am	10:45am	ar. Birmingham	6:30am	4:00pm
9:40am	11:50am	ar. Chattanooga	7:40am	5:10pm
1:10pm	2:20pm	ar. Knoxville	11:50am	12:10pm
6:00pm	7:10pm	ar. Bristol	1:10pm	1:20pm
1:50pm	3:00pm	ar. Lynchburg	3:00pm	3:10pm
6:50am	8:00am	ar. Washington	8:00pm	8:10pm
12:40pm	1:50pm	ar. New York	12:40pm	1:50pm

No. 419	STATIONS.	No. 419
7:30am	lv. New Orleans	8:10am
9:10am	lv. Mobile	9:50am
11:45am	lv. Jacksonville	12:25pm
1:45pm	lv. Savannah	2:30pm
3:45pm	lv. Charleston	4:30pm
5:45pm	lv. Columbia	6:30pm
7:45pm	lv. Augusta	8:30pm
9:45pm	lv. Savannah	10:30pm
11:45pm	lv. Jacksonville	12:30am
1:45am	lv. Mobile	2:30am
3:45am	lv. New Orleans	4:30am

No. 22 and 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	8:50am	lv. Natchez, ar.	8:50pm	8:00am
1:10pm	4:45pm	lv. Selma, ar.	4:30pm	2:00pm
8:30am	10:45am	ar. Birmingham	6:30am	4:00pm
9:40am	11:50am	ar. Chattanooga	7:40am	5:10pm
1:10pm	2:20pm	ar. Knoxville	11:50am	12:10pm
6:00pm	7:10pm	ar. Bristol	1:10pm	1:20pm
1:50pm	3:00pm	ar. Lynchburg	3:00pm	3:10pm
6:50am	8:00am	ar. Washington	8:00pm	8:10pm
12:40pm	1:50pm	ar. New York	12:40pm	1:50pm

No. 419	STATIONS.	No. 419
7:30am	lv. New Orleans	8:10am
9:10am	lv. Mobile	9:50am
11:45am	lv. Jacksonville	12:25pm
1:45pm	lv. Savannah	2:30pm
3:45pm	lv. Charleston	4:30pm
5:45pm	lv. Columbia	6:30pm
7:45pm	lv. Augusta	8:30pm
9:45pm	lv. Savannah	10:30pm
11:45pm	lv. Jacksonville	12:30am
1:45am	lv. Mobile	2:30am
3:45am	lv. New Orleans	4:30am

No. 22 and 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.

No. 22 and 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.

No. 22 and 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Send Colorado booklet and rates.

Name _____

Address _____

Leave about _____

Destination _____

Address
JOHN SEBASTIAN,
Pass. Tref. Mgr., Rock Island System,
CHICAGO.

Then go to
Denson & Dawson
at Montevallo, A. a.
for your
Dry Goods, Hats, Clothing, Shoes, Groceries,
Feed Stuffs, Cook and Heating Stoves, Trunks,
Harness, Saddles, Hardware, Furniture.

—We also sell—
The Celebrated Barbour Buggies and Virginia Wagons
the best that rolls on four wheels. We also carry a swell Line of Fancy Candies. Come to see us; we will save you money.
DENSON & DAWSON.

The Alabama Division | or Lodge | No. 9,
OF THE
National Union Fraternal Life Association
—PROVIDES—
$1,000 IN CASE OF DEATH
(When the Division is Full)
$1,000 IN CASE OF ACCIDENT
(Total Disability)
Paid Up Membership in Twenty Years.

The Orphan Children of Members Educated Free of Cost. This in Addition to Money Coming to Them by Death of Parent.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.

Dr. A. T. Rowe, President, Columbiana	C. W. O'Hara, minister, Columbiana
W. E. Harrison, Treasurer, Columbiana	H. E. Whitaker, Ed. of Sentinel, Columbiana
J. W. Johnston, merchant, Columbiana	F. A. Church, mason, Wilsonville
Jno. R. Dyke, Circuit Clerk, Columbiana	S. J. Spearman, merchant, Wilsonville
A. P. Longshore, Probate Judge, Columbiana	W. A. Stone, farmer, Wilsonville
R. F. Cox, Sheriff, Columbiana	G. E. Abbott, blacksmith, Shelby
J. O. Dorrough, Supt. of Ed., Columbiana	Emory L. Barber, farmer, Shelby
Jas. Finley, farmer, Columbiana	Terrell Bice, merchant, Shelby
Jno. J. Haynes, attorney, Columbiana	S. Z. T. Champion, farmer, Sterrett
J. L. Peters, attorney, Columbiana	W. A. Brasher, tax collector, Columbiana

For membership, further information and Agency Contracts, call on or write
J. W. Harrall, Division Manager, Columbiana, Ala.

This is a Home Company, managed by Home People. The Money is kept at Home in the Bank, Under Bond, Ready for Death Claim in Advance.

COST The membership fee is only $5.00, paid but once. At the end of six months, and each six months thereafter, $1 00. Nothing more to pay until a death occurs in the above Division; then each member pays $1.25 for each death.

WOMEN are accepted on equal terms with men. Only 1,000 persons can join. While organizing, will admit healthy persons between ages of 16 and 50 years. After division is full, no one can join until there is a vacancy—then none over 40 years.

Good organizers for other counties can secure good money-making contracts by addressing

ROBT. H. JONES, Gen'l Superintendent,
615 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga.

Bring your job work to The Sentinel office—the best work.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Phone 20

Call us up

FIRST and best of fall goods, prove their worth in every way. Values that you cannot fail to see. Made for you the way you want it. Satisfaction is a part of the bargain. Come here first and you'll go no further. We don't sell what we can't recommend. 'Nuff said.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months.....50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

The tax assessor and tax collector were at home over Sunday.

J. W. Harrell and family are now occupying the home of Mrs. E. Porter.

The Sentinel received a call from Prof. J. S. Lavery, of Talladega, last Friday.

There is a street fair headed this way. Nothing like a diversion whenever we can get it.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Williams, of Shelby, were in the city on Thursday of last week.

The Ladies' Sewing Circle will meet with Mrs. Max Lefkowitz next Tuesday afternoon.

We wonder why it is bad luck to spill the sugar, instead of the salt. The sugar costs more.

The Sentinel learns that Philip Erlick will build him a fine home early in the springtime.

Last Friday night was really the first touch of winter. Considerable ice was made at that time.

Most men have the same experience. The only difference is: some men talk, and some don't.

Williams Bros' have recently had a new floor put in their drug store which adds to its appearance.

J. L. Abercrombie has contracted with Saxon & Johnson to build him a residence on East College street.

Thanksgiving note: Cranberries are a luxury which come high this year, but with turkey they must be had.

The Mayor's court was a busy place on Tuesday morning of last week—an aftermath of the so-called circus

There would be considerable more building this winter than there will be because lumber cannot be had.

"The way of the transgressor is hard" was practically demonstrated at a recent session of the mayor's court.

FRESH OYSTERS are received at Roberts & Robertson's every Tuesday and Friday. Remember the dates and file your order.

A loafer is a menace to a community, and the habitual loafer is almost necessarily a person of inferior character.

We have your receipt ready for that dollar you were going to give us on your subscription when you sold your cotton.

November 30th has been designated by the president as Thanksgiving day. The turkeys have gone to the woods.

B. C. Bynum, who has the contract for Shelby county's new court house will also make a bid to build Clay county's new court house. That county will expend $40,000 for that purpose.

A two-for-a nickel circus can draw larger crowds of people than a half a dozen revival meetings. Had you ever noticed it?

Robert Rengan, who has been attending school here, has gone to his home near Ma lene and will not return again this winter.

FRUIT of every kind may be had of Roberts & Robertson. Just what you want for your Thanksgiving dinner. Phone them your order today.

Rev. G. T. Harris preached his last sermon here this conference year last Sunday night. The conference meets in Athens this year.

Clark Studivant, who is now in the employ of the Columbiana Mercantile Co., has ordered The Sentinel sent to his mother at Shelby.

Harry Roberts and Henry Chapman were out hunting one day last week, and returned with forty-one birds. That's pretty fair shooting.

The City Drug Store has a change of advertisement in this issue of The Sentinel. The subject is jewelry, and especially for the holiday trade.

Mrs. H. M. Roberts and babe, and Mrs. Joe P. Roberts and children have gone to Oxford for a visit with Rev. T. K. Roberts and family.

John J. Haynes has ordered The Sentinel sent to his father at Lineville. We would like to see Mr. Haynes, senior, become a resident of Columbiana.

GRAPES, delicious, fine are on sale at Roberts & Robertson's. Take some of them home to your wife, your children or sweetheart. They'll enjoy them.

The City Drug Store is putting on airs—having recently added a lot of fine new show cases, and doing some painting until now it looks trim as a pretty girl in a new gown.

W. W. Wallace visited with his mother near Klein several days last week. He was accompanied by J. T. Leeper and the two of them enjoyed a day's hunt while they were gone.

Eva Bartlett Macey Concert Co. at Columbiana Academy on the 23 of November.

Girls should never complain of the way their wedding notices are written up: So many poor cooks and poor managers get married that a paper deserves credit for not telling the truth in such cases.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Glenn, who moved to Louisiana last year, have returned to Columbiana. Mr. Glenn will go to Ensley where he has employment. Miss Ethel Glenn has also returned from Louisiana for a visit with friends.

Some merchants try to do business without the aid of printer's ink. The receipts in their cash box show their lack of judgment in this matter. The money expended for advertising is never thrown away, for it works for the advertiser all the time.

R. R. Smith, of near Lynch, came in last Thursday and renewed his subscription to The Sentinel. He says the roads out in his section of the country are in bad condition, notwithstanding a claim to the contrary, and that is the general complaint from nearly every section of the county.

Some envious individual has said that too much time and pains is spent in "setting" the advertisements in The Sentinel. If our efforts in that direction meet with the approval and appreciation of those who pay for the advertisements we are satisfied. A handful of type thrown into a space in a jumble and heterogeneous mass does not count for much, and in most cases is money wasted when payment is made. Time spent in the interest of a patron, whether in "setting" an advertisement, turning out a job of stationery or in doing anything else is time well spent—not wasted.

Prof. Lavery, a former teacher of piano in the blind school at Talladega, was in the city several days last week visiting at the home of Jno. S. Pitts. Prof. Lavery is blind, but that in no wise deters him in his effort to gain a livelihood, for he is a dealer in musical instruments and has a store in Talladega. While visiting here he turned several pianos.

Three or four farmers told us in one store last Saturday that The Sentinel was right in its contention that the roads of the county are in a bad shape. An article in the Advocate last week, quoting several parties as to the roads being in such excellent condition, caused considerable merriment.

Do not miss hearing the Eva Bartlett Macey Concert Co. on Nov. 23, at the Academy, Columbiana.

C. L. Meroney, a prominent merchant and vice-president of the Merchants' and Planters' bank, of Montevallo, was in the city a few hours last Monday, and while here made this office a pleasant call and left an order for some commercial stationery. He reports that 1,400 bales of cotton have been bought at Montevallo thus far this season.

I. P. Vincent, of beat 2, was in town last Saturday and dropped into The Sentinel office long enough to renew his subscription for another year. Mr. Vincent says the roads out in his section of the county are in pretty bad shape—that there is plenty of room for improvement.

In this issue will be found a change in the advertisement of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. The removal sale of this firm, we are told, is proving to be a great success, and this week the advertisement tells you of many good bargains in the sale you may have overlooked.

The attention of the town council is called to a very bad place in the street just east of Henry Miller's home. A bad accident was narrowly averted their last Saturday. The driveway is only about seven feet wide, with a high bank on one side and a deep ditch on the other.

Our merchants are preparing for the holidays, and the display of goods for the Christmas tide will be greater than ever before in Columbiana.

The Sentinel is requested to say the Rev. C. C. Heard, pastor of the Baptist church, will preach in the Presbyterian church in the forenoon of Thanksgiving day.

Engineer Charlie Brooks, who has been laying off for some time, will return to his engine on the Louisville & Nashville railroad in a few days.

WAIT! WAIT! WAIT!

FOR THE

GIGANTIC - REMOVAL - SALE

The $50,000 Stock of the Columbiana Mercantile Company has been placed in the hands of

THE AMERICAN SALVAGE CO.

to be sold in Ten Days' time, beginning

NOV. 22, AT 9 O'CLOCK

and last TEN DAYS only.

It will pay you to come a hundred miles to attend this sale, for you will be able to dress up your whole family for what it usually costs to dress up one, so wait and meet your friends. Thousands will be there from far and wide to reap the fruits of the Greatest Sacrificing Sale of the age.

Mark the date, and mark it well; let nothing keep you away. Beginning NOVEMBER 22, at 9 o'clock, A. M.

Watch for the Big Circulars.

Columbiana Mercantile Company,

Columbiana, Alabama.

To Our Subscribers.

Quite a number of our readers are due us from one to three years' subscription. The amount that each owes is small, but in the aggregate it means several hundred dollars to us. We have carried you, and at the same time have had to pay cash for the white paper upon which your copy of The Sentinel is printed, and now we want a settlement.

We have made new improvements in the paper nearly every week since we came into possession nearly two years ago, and these improvements have cost us cold cash. If all were to pay us between now and January 1st, next we might be able to get that power press we have determined on having, and that would mean a still better paper for you. Now don't you think you ought to come across with what is due us? We have no desire to add costs to the amount due, but they must be paid, and we much prefer you do it of your own volition.

Of course the newspaper man and family do not need anything to live on, that's a preposterous idea, but it takes money to buy white paper, and you must pay up.

Cure for Pneumonia.

Owing to the prevalence of pneumonia, and the great mortality therefrom during winter and spring, several boards of health in Northern New Jersey have been taking measures of protection. The health board of Washington, Warren county, has published a remedy which is said to be a sure cure for pneumonia, and other health boards are looking into the matter with a view of having the tidings spread broadcast for the good of the public. This is the remedy: "Take six or ten onions, according to size, and chop fine, put in a large spider over a hot fire, then add the same quantity of rye meal and vinegar, enough to form a thick paste. Stir thoroughly, letting it simmer five or ten minutes. Then put it in a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs and apply to the chest as hot as the patient can bear. In about ten minutes apply another, and thus continue by reheating the poultices, and in a few hours the patient will be out of danger."

S. Simon Casimir, of Birmingham, is a new clerk for the Columbiana Mercantile Co.

A Beautiful Stock of Jewelry
for Holiday Trade.

The accompanying illustration shows but a few of the many handsome things we have to offer the trade.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

County Court.

The following have been drawn to serve as jurors in County Court for the term beginning Nov. 20th. C. Frost, M. L. Lucas, S. V. Horton, G. W. Harris, J. W. Alexander, J. H. Avery, G. H. Porter, J. C. Johnson, S. H. Tomplin, Geo. T. Bird, R. A. Borum, W. S. Esco, W. H. Stranear, H. M. Alexander, N. T. Eddings, B. Pickett, W. L. Morris, Frank Arnold, Elisha Simmons, B. F. Dawson, Bob Allen, J. W. Dodson, W. A. Stone, J. G. Frost.

Jim Vest, who is running a train out of Wilton on the Southern, was in the city a short time last Monday.

For the past week fires in the house have been very acceptable.

Milner & Christian expect a stock of furniture in a few days.

Thompson & Riddle are opening up a new stock of shoes.

SAXON & JOHNSON,
CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS.

Dealers in Shingles - - - - Estimates Furnished

We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

Practical Arithmetic.

A teacher received the following from a complaining parent a few days ago.

"Sir—Will you please for the future give my boy some easier somes to do at nites. This is what he brought home two or three nites ago; if fore gallins of bere will fill thirty-to pint Lottles, how many pint and half bottles will nine gallins fill? Well we tried and could make nothing of it all, and my boy oried and sed he would t go back without doing it. So I had to go and buy a nine-gallon keg of lore, which I could ill afford to do, and then we went and borrowed a lot of wine and brandy bottles, besides a few we had by us. Well we emptied the keg into the bottles and there were niteen, and my boy put that down for an answer. I don't know whether it is rite or not, as we spilt some in doing it. And then, I think its the teacher's place to help their pupils, and not tell them to take it home and work it out themselves. We are not paid for doing the teacher's work now.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 12

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted. That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

"Just Keep Your Hat On!"

WAIT!

STOP!

THINK!

Then go to

Denson & Dawson

at Montevallo, A'a.

for your

Dry Goods, Hats, Clothing, Shoes, Groceries,
Feed Stuffs, Cook and Heating Stoves, Trunks,
Harness, Saddles, Hardware, Furniture.

—We also sell—

The Celebrated Barbour Buggies and Virginia Wagons

the best that rolls on four wheels. We also carry a swell Line of Fancy Candies. Come to see us; we will save you money.

DENSON & DAWSON.

Governor Jelks has issued a proclamation setting aside November 30th as a day of thanksgiving.

The coming spring will see lots of building in Columbiana—a number of residences and several business houses.

Are the members of our Commercial Club becoming sleepy? There has not been a meeting of that body for several weeks.

What has become of Rosson, who said he was a candidate for Secretary of State? Haven't heard anything of him for a coon's age.

The talk of a knitting mill for Columbiana has been again revived. There is no better point in Alabama for such an enterprise.

It has always been said that Philadelphia was a sleepy town, but the result of the recent election demonstrates that it is a pretty live town.

The Cincinnati Enquirer says it was not with the Democrats this year. Possibly that is the reason the Democrats won in Ohio at the recent election.

Birmingham is furnishing her quota of candidates for office: Two for Governor, one for state auditor, and two who would like to go to the United States senate.

And still the cry goes up about the bad roads in Shelby county. Farmers are beginning to inquire what becomes of the money which is collected to improve the roads?

The Republicans over the State seem to be very much interested in seeing Comer nominated for Governor. That is another item why Comer should not be nominated.

Now every state university admits women as do most of the endowed institutions. Of 480 colleges for men 330 admit women and of those that do not eighty are Catholic institutions.

There is one plank of Geo. McElderry's platform which we like: That of compulsory education. And it's bound to come, although Mr. McElderry is not the father of the idea by any means.

A great many years ago our ancestors wore their eyes out reading the bible by tallow dips; now, we have the best improved lights, and do you hear of anybody going blind because of bible reading?

The Montgomery Journal says that there is every indication that there will be a third candidate for Governor, and intimates that it may be ex-Governor Joe Johnson. We don't believe Johnson will ever be in the race.

The Opelika News says there is a "nigger in the woodpile" in the talk of a late primary. Evidently the News does not want the young men to vote in the primary who may become of age before the first of next July.

The finger prints of Santa Claus can be seen in a good many of the stores in Columbiana. Holiday goods are coming out of their hiding places, and the little folks are living in anticipation of what old Santa is going to leave them.

Harvie Jordan, president of the Cotton Growers' Association, is out in a circular letter to the farmers advising them to hold their cotton for fifteen cents. He wants to secure pledges on not less than two million bales, and says if he can get these pledges cotton will go to fifteen cents in a very short time.

A LIFE TO LIVE.

Written for The Sentinel.
What in life we do
Will linger long and fast,
Yet in the final day
We all must meet the task.
Shall it be an open book
For the public to read and think o'er and o'er?
Or shall the chapter be closed
Not to open any more?
We should live a life of benefit,
For others shine the brighter;
Then when burdens fall on them,
We can make their troubles lighter.
Oh, that all may read and find
As in this life we live,
A blessing, a comfort for others,
And to others give.
May this our aim in life forever be,
Full of self-sacrifices for friends
And may they see,
As we live out our stay here below
We along the path of others
Will some flowers strow
Then brighten the hours of every sad heart,
We can bid their sorrow and gloom depart;
Life is short, is passing fast
Let us up and doing, like heroes meet our task.

Not dreaming all the day and night,
But like a valiant soldier
Let us be in the thickest of the fight.
Then surely the angels of God on high,
Some sweet day will draw feelingly nigh.
May they anchor every soul on earth
Back to the God who gave them birth;
May heaven then be our home,
No matter how long here below we roam.
Then let the song of our lives,
While on this earth we roam;
That we have on the path of others
Some sweet flowers strown.

When on our lives others may chance to look,
Why not let them appear as an open book;
When they read it through may they find
The sweetest character that ever shined.
When our battles are all fought in this life,
May none be fought as the battles of strife;
In the end may peace and joy abound,
Let us send a thrill of love for others
The spacious world around.

Vincent, Ala.

R. P. TUCKER.

Comer is beginning to get vinegary—says Cunningham is not sincere, and if elected Governor the people would get no relief from the excessive railroad rates. About the only man who can make the railroads come to taw, in the estimation of Mr. Comer, is Bee Bee.

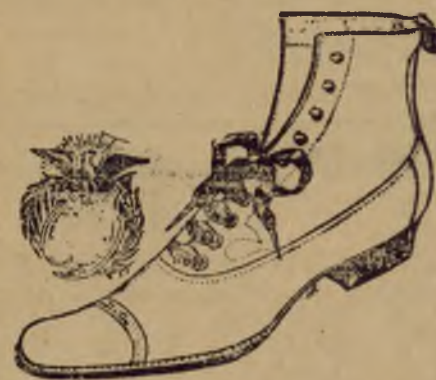

There is no better cotton market in Shelby county than Columbiana; and the highest price paid for cotton in the county this season has been at this place—eleven and a quarter cents. Farmers are coming here with their cotton from as far as Lemison in Chilton county.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kans., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him."

That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

It is regrettable to hear that so many farmers have ceased to cure their own meat and are depending, just like us poor city folks, on packing house products, says The Florence Times. Is it possible that we are threatened the calamity of seeing the country-cured ham and bacon go out of fashion and be added to the list of lost arts? Heaven forbid! Some years ago all farmers had their smoke-houses and raised their own meat. In those blessed days nobody heard of the "cured-while-you-wait" abominations of this age, but now it is hard to get old time luxuries anywhere. We should think it a good custom to revive on a large scale, for purposes of profit alone, to say nothing of once more being able to enjoy that inimitable tidbit—the country-cured ham. The latter, properly put up, will double the price of the packing-house product among the well-to-do in all the large cities and the patent process breakfast bacon cannot compete with that smoked and cared for as in the earliest days. We have suffered enough by modern innovations without being asked to give up the most cherished dish of our childhood—the inimitable country ham, side meat, shoulder and "streaked middling."

Top
Notch,
Scalper,
Vindicator.

WORN FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

A new stock of the
FAMOUS SELZ SHOES.

has just been received by us.

The Shoe with a world wide reputation.
A Shoe which never fails to make the feet glad.

Guaranteed to be as Represented.

There's no Better. They are Best.

We would
also remind you that
O O O O O O O O O O

Our Grocery Stock

is new and fresh

And contains
nothing but the very
O O O O O O O O O O

Best in That Line.

Farmers

Get Your Seed Oats

At our
Store

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest,
Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY,

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor - and - Builder,
Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts	$ 44,750 71	Capital stock paid in	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts	481 63	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	2,527 00
Banking house	5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check	39,251 00
Furniture and fixtures	2,000 00	Savings deposits	71 00
Other real estate	3,000 00	Interest bearing deposits	1,250 00
Due from banks and bankers in this State	12,727 61	Cashier's checks	14 25
Due from banks and bankers in other States	5,055 42	Notes and bills rediscounted	14 25
Currency	6,101 00	Cills payable	8,500 00
Gold	2,043 00
Silver, nickels and pennies	1,298 80
Checks and cash items	4,400 38
Total	$ 87,250 66	Total	$ 87,250 66

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.
W. L. FARLEY, Cashier.
Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest: W. B. Browne, J. T. Leeper, J. W. WALLACE, Notary Public.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor
W. L. Farley, Clerk
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Thursday night. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duglison, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. P. A. Church, W. M.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

MILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.

Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 47.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

It is said that leather has advanced about thirty per cent, in price. If it keeps on going up some of us will have to go barefooted.

It is only a question of time until the outrageous fee system of this State will have to give way to something in which there is not so much chance to hold out by those interested.

Every exchange that comes to our office speaks well of Colonel Garber and his ability to serve the State as Attorney General. Here's hoping he will have no opposition for the office.

Order Goods by Mail.

Our great Mail Order system brings the wonderful resources of "The Greatest Store South of the Ohio" to your door. An experienced shopper fills your orders quickly and conscientiously. If we do not carry what you want we will get it for you, if possible. Give our Mail Order business a trial.

Free Car Fare Both Ways

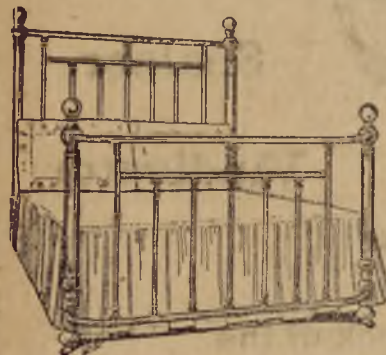

If you come to Birmingham to shop The Merchants' Association, of which we are leading members pays your fare up to fifty miles in both directions, if you buy $30.00 worth of goods. If you live over fifty miles from the city we will allow you $3.00 to pay car fare and also 1 per cent on all purchases, over $30.00.

Loveman, Joseph & Loeb

Birmingham, Ala.

The South's Greatest Department Store and Mail Order House.

SPECIAL FURNITURE BARGAINS.

BRASS BEDS
2 inch posts—5-8 inch filling.
4 ft. 6 in. wide—5½ ft. high.
Swell front. Best English Lacquer finish. Regular $20.00
$35.00 bed—special at $20.00

DRESSERS.
Shaped French Bevel Mirror, 20x28 inches. Base 42 inches wide, Serpentine front. Two large and two small drawers. $20.00 value—special $14.50

CHIFFONNIERS.
Shaped French plate mirror, 22x14 inches. The base 33 inches wide. Five drawers—Serpentine front—good brass trimmings. $14.50

WASHSTANDS
Base 30 inches wide, one large, two small drawers, and cupboard $8.00

FREIGHT PAID ON FURNITURE TO ANY PART OF ALABAMA.
Watch Next Week's Advertisement for More Bargains. Mention This Paper When Sending Orders.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Nov. 23, 05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,
Russell M. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

To Reorganize.

The various branches of the Southern Cotton Association in districts, counties, divisions and states will soon be reorganized and new officers will be chosen to serve for the ensuing year.

President Harvie Jordan, of the Southern Cotton Association, makes the following announcement incident to this reorganization, which will be read with interest by cotton growers all over the south:

"The annual reorganization and reelection of all the officers of the Southern Cotton Association in all of the cotton growing counties and and parishes is near at hand. The election of officers and delegates for all the civil subdivisions, township, militia districts and school precincts, as they are differently termed in the several states, will take place on the first Saturday in December 9, or the following Saturday. These delegates will then perfect their county organization by the election of officers and the selection of from one to three delegates to represent their county or parish at the different state meetings. The state meetings will be held at the different state capitols on January 3, and the delegates so chosen by the county organization on December 9 will elect their state officers for 1906, and also the members of the executive committee of the Southern Cotton Association on the same basis of representation as for 1905. The executive committee of the national organization so chosen will meet at Hot Springs, Ark., on the third Tuesday in January, 1905.

It has been proven within the past two weeks that Columbiana is one of the best cotton markets in this section of the county. Even and a quarter cents has been paid for cotton here within the past week. Cotton was sold here last

Nellie Gwin, Emma Bentley, Ollie Densler and Meta Bolin.

We have a nice butcher shop in our town now, so we can get fresh beef or pork at any time. It is operated by Frank Beard who will be pleased to wait upon you at any time.

Rip Van Winkle.

Charlie Greer to Marry.

The editor of The Sentinel is in receipt of the following invitation: "Mrs. Orlean Hanna requests the honor of your presence at the marriage of her daughter Irene to Mr. Charles H. Greer, on Wednesday morning, November twenty ninth, nineteen hundred and five, nine o'clock, at home, Greensboro, Ala."

Mr. Greer is editor of the Marion Standard, also president of the Alabama Press Association, and every newspaper man in Alabama is his friend. The Sentinel extends congratulations in advance of the happy event.

Best Liniment on earth.

Henry D. Bulwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shillsburg, Wis. writes, "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

Harpersville Items.

The hens are on a strike.
Mrs. Simmons has returned from Montgomery.

Dentist Johnson was in town a few days ago.

Miss May Bell Stephens, of near Anniston, entered school here two weeks ago.

Your 'devil' made me say that T. J. Martin had moved to Wilsonville, when it should have been Vincent.

Miss Emily Tooney, of Fayetteville is attending school here.

That prince of merchants, J. F. Pope, of Wilsonville, is in our beat every few days looking after his interests.

M. A. Jennings, of Vincent, was in our community last week, bird hunting.

Walter Robertson, of Birmingham, was here a few days last week bird hunting.

Some few of our people are at tending County Court at Columbiana this week.

From what we can learn some of the boys who have gone from here to the different colleges are making fine marks in playing foot ball and running foot races.

Mr. Thomas Merritt, one of the oldest citizens of our beat, died at his home near here one day last week. He made a good soldier in the civil war; was a good man and neighbor, and was a member of the Methodist church. He was buried at the Harpersville cemetery, Rev. R. A. Kidd conducting the burial services.

Mrs. H. L. Campbell, a very estimable lady, died at the home of her husband in Vincent a few days ago of typhoid fever. She numbered friends by the score. She was buried at Childersburg by the side of her brother who died about six weeks ago of the same fever. Rev. R. A. Kidd conducted the funeral services.

Geo. W. Davis, aged about fifty years, died at his home on Kelley's creek, two weeks ago of pneumonia. He was buried at Macedonia, and that man of God, Rev. R. A. Kidd, conducted the funeral service. He was a clever gentleman, and will be missed in the community in which he lived. To all we extend sympathy.

JACK.

Notice Shelby Co. Division.

The few who have lapsed will only have ten days to pay he $1.15, and be reinstated without extra cost.
T. A. Leathers,
Division Agent.

J. Q. Wade, formerly of this city but now of Clanton, had his gin destroyed by fire a short time ago. The loss was total, as he had no insurance on the plant.

C. D. Davis, of Delaware, Ohio, was in the city over last Sunday visiting his brother, W. F. Davis, agent for the Southern R'y. Mr. Davis is advertising Ballard's Snow Liniment, and left here Monday for Florida. He hopes to return here for the holidays.

J. H. Nabors, of Silaria, was in town last Friday, and while here paid The Sentinel a pleasant call. He is thinking of removing to Columbiana. Mr. Nabors has been a subscriber to The Sentinel ever since the paper was established, more than thirty years ago, and says it is better now than ever before.

WANTED:—Two or three good men owning horse and buggy to engage in a business paying from five to eight dollars profit daily. Work limited to Shelby and Bibb counties, the writer having purchased Patent Rights for these two counties. For particulars, address, enclosing information concerning past and present employment, Lock Box 46, Aldrich, Ala.

A. L. Henderson, who is employed in the immigration department of the Southern railway, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office last Saturday. Mr. Henderson says that a great many Northern people are locating along the line of the Southern railway, and sees no reason we should not have some of them down in this section. He was looking up locations for several plants of different descriptions.

The Montgomery Advertiser

will be issued Dec. 17th, 1905.

This will be one of the greatest papers ever issued in the South. Will contain over 100 pages. Every page will be a gem. You cannot afford to be without this splendid paper.

Fill out order blank below and send 5 cents. Address, THE ADVERTISER, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Name, _____
Postoffice, _____
State, _____

Administrators' Sale.

UNDER and by virtue of an order of sale granted by the Probate Court of Shelby County, Ala., on Oct. 30, 1905, the undersigned Administrators of the estate of C. H. Spain, deceased, will on Monday, the 4th day of December, 1905, within the legal hours of sale, in front of the court house in Columbiana, Ala., sell at public outcry, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described lands belonging to said estate for the purpose of paying the debts of the same to-wit:

sec. of sec. of Sec. 26, tp. 21, R. 1 East, n.½ of n.½ of Sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, also about 3 of an acre in the northwest corner of sec. of n.½ of Sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, 165 feet east and west and 125 feet north and south, sec. of n.½ of Sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, and n.½ of n.½ of Sec. 28, tp. 21, R. 1 East, and all that part of the southeast quarter of Sec. 21, tp. 21, R. 1 East, that lies south of Boswell Creek, containing in all 174 acres more or less, and situated in Shelby County, Ala.

WM. STOKES, N. C. MAGGIE BRITT, Administrators.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama,) In Chancery.
Shelby County,) Sixth District South-
Cora Simpson, complainant, Eastern Chancery Div.

vs.
Sam Simpson, defendant.
[N] this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of J. J. Hyman that the Defendant Sam Simpson is a Non-resident of Alabama and resides in Little Rock, Arkansas, and further that in the belief of said affiant, the Defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.
It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel a newspaper published in the County of Shelby once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him the said Sam Simpson to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 3rd day of Dec. A. D. 1905, or in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.
Done at office, in Columbiana, Ala., this 25th day of Oct. A. D. 1905.
J. R. WHITE Register.

Notice of Final Settlement.

J. E. R. Davidson) Probate Court, deceased,) Shelby County, Ala.
Estate of

[T]his day came John I. and Clara B. Davidson, administrators of said estate, and filed their statement of accounts, vouchers and evidences, for a final settlement of their administration; it is ordered that Monday, the 27th day of November, 1905, be appointed a day on which to make such settlement, at which time all persons interested can appear and contest the said settlement if they think proper.
A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

TO THE PUBLIC!

WE have purchased J. H. Abercrombie & Son's store building and stock of goods and as the stock is large we are going to reduce it. There will be a great reduction in prices, and you will save yourself money by coming to see us.

LOW PRICES PREVAIL.

We are now overstocked in Tobaccos and a special reduction price will prevail on this line until the stock is reduced. This opportunity will hardly present itself again.

WATCH FOR IT!

Look out for our big Furniture advertisement; something sensational in both goods and prices. Anything you want that we have not in stock, we will make a specialty in ordering for you. We guarantee goods to be as represented. Give us first call and you will save money. Uniform treatment to all.

Milner & Christian.

Neuralgia Pains.

Rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yields to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liniment.

It penetrates to the nerves and bone and being absorbed into the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

"A Thing of Beauty
Is a Joy Forever!"

Our millinery may not wear forever but the ladies all exclaim

"The Hats are Beautiful!"

And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

We have in stock

The Prettiest Line of Novelties

in the way of

Belts and Fashionable Neckwear

ever shown in Columbiana.

Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

SAXON & JOHNSON,
CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS.

Dealers in Shingles Estimates Furnished
We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

SHIELD BRAND
FITS
WELL
WEARS
WELL
CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

EVERY & EVERY, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Wait! Wait!

Don't buy Holiday Goods until you see our stock, then you will buy of us. It will be open for your inspection in a few day.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Copy one year.....$1.00
Copy six months.....50c

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be, I tell it as 'twas told to me."

W. W. Carter, our market man, was in Wilsonville, Monday.

W. J. Weldon, of Wilsonville, was in the city last Sunday.

Hon. E. S. Lyman, of Montevallo, is in the city attending court.

H. E. Smith, of Wilsonville, was in the city a few hours last Monday.

Geo. W. Weaver is among The Sentinel's new subscribers this week.

Clarence Smith, of Wilsonville, was a visitor to Columbiana last Friday.

Mrs. T. P. Roberts, of Oxford, is in the city for a visit with her children.

Mrs. W. E. Davis will visit relatives in Montevallo the latter part of this week.

Mrs. H. W. Nelson, is in Montgomery on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Haygood.

Henry Alexander, of Calera, has been in the city this week, attending county court.

J. T. Leeper visited his mother and brother in Birmingham several days last week.

Miss Driscoll Vincent, of Vincent, is a guest at the home of Mrs. Jno. S. Pitts.

Walter Lucas, of Montevallo, orders The Sentinel sent to Ben Gentry, Cappell, Texas.

Two or three communications are held over till next week because of a lack of space this week.

E. B. Teague, of Birmingham, is in the city, called here by the serious illness of Dr. Thomas Nelson.

Mrs. L. N. Bowdon, of Calera, visited her mother, Mrs. Jennie L. Wilson, several days last week.

There is a change in Roberts & Robertson's advertisement in this issue, relative to their holiday goods.

The many friends of Mrs. Jno. J. Haynes will be glad to learn that she has almost recovered from a serious illness.

W. A. Lyon, living on Route 2 out of Columbiana, has the thanks of The Sentinel for some exceedingly nice turnips.

A delightful time awaits those who go to hear the Eva Bartlett Mace company at the Academy tonight (Thursday).

The Misses Ola and Ella Weaver, of Wilsonville, were in the city last Sunday, visiting at the home of George Weaver.

W. E. Riddle has moved his family to Columbiana, and they now occupy the Liles cottage, recently vacated by Arthur Millstead.

GRAPES, delicious, fine are on sale at Roberts & Robertson's. Take some of them home to your wife, your children or sweetheart. They'll enjoy them.

Invitations have been received in Columbiana announcing the approaching nuptials of Miss Beile Bice and J. R. Glenn which are to occur in Shelby on November 29th. These young people have numerous friends in this city who extend congratulations in advance.

FRESH STERS are received at Roberts & Robertson's every Tuesday and Friday. Remember the dates and file your order.

R. E. Bowdon, Superintendent of the Keystone Lime Works, was in the city Monday on business connected with County Court. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call from Mr. Bowdon.

FRUIT of every kind may be had of Roberts & Robertson. Just what you want for your Thanksgiving dinner. Phone them your order today.

Miss Annie Finley, who has been ill with an attack of fever for several weeks, is sufficiently recovered to resume her duties in the Columbiana Savings bank.

The many friends of Dr. Thomas Nelson will regret to learn that he is very low at this writing (Tuesday), but hopes are entertained that he will ultimately recover.

Lucious Roberts, who is now in the employ of the Birmingham Railway Light and Power company, was in the city a day or two this week visiting friends and relatives.

J. M. Baldwin, jr., of near Shelby, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office last Friday. Mr. Baldwin is the carrier on the new rural route out of Shelby recently established.

Fire destroyed a four room tenement house for Judge Longshore last Saturday night. It was occupied by a negro, and the contents were totally destroyed. The loss to Judge Longshore is about $250.

LOST, strayed, stolen or shot, on Friday, Nov. 10, 1905, one very tame pet duck from the yard of Mrs. W. W. Wallace, Klein, Ala. Any information concerning said duck will be appreciated by the aforesaid party.

The Sentinel has an unusual number of writers on its staff this week, and they take up considerable space in telling the public about the bargains they have to offer. Every advertisement will be found interesting to our readers.

The dropping of a match in some cotton came near destroying the city of R. A. O'Hara & Son last Thursday. Prompt action of those at the gin and a number of others who had been called there by the steam whistle of the gin prevented a disastrous fire.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of The City Drug Store in which Latham & Bird announce their holiday opening for Saturday, December 2nd. All of their holiday goods will be on display that day, and a cordial invitation is extended the public to come and see what they have. The Sentinel guarantees you will enjoy the visit.

The fourth page of this issue will be found interesting to those who are looking for bargains. The whole page is devoted to the big sale of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. which is now on. The goods of this firm must be sold within the next ten days, and you can judge whether or not it will pay you to attend this sale.

Rev. Joseph Duglinson, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, and who is still recovering from a long spell of typhoid fever, came down from Talladega last Thursday and visited two or three days. He is improving every day, but will not resume his duties as pastor until after the beginning of the new year. Rev. Mr. Duglinson has many friends here, and all were glad to see him.

Chas. Elliott and family, who last year moved to near Homer, La., returned to Columbiana on Wednesday of last week. In conversation with the editor of The Sentinel Mr. Elliott said he did not know when he left Shelby county a year ago that he was leaving so good a thing, and says he is now back to stay. From forty acres of ground, all planted to cotton, Mr. Elliott got but four bales. No wonder he became back, and we know his many friends here are glad he has returned.

Montevallo News.

Mrs. H. E. Wheeler and little son are in Birmingham visiting relatives.

Sam Allen and Harry Reynolds, of Blocton, are visiting at the home of Captain Reynolds.

Your correspondent regrets to chronicle the illness of John H. McMath, who, however, is improving. Miss Clara Belle Raney, of Montgomery, has been the guest for some time of Mrs. H. Chay Reynolds.

The friends of Oscar Harrison all sympathize with him in the sudden death of his little boy last week, near Dogwood.

Mrs. McAlpine, of Talladega, was here last week visiting her daughter, Miss Laura McAlpine, matron at the dormitory.

Mrs. Narcissa Hatch, for the past week the guest of her sister, Mrs. D. W. Shivers, has returned to her home in Gallion.

A. F. McNeil and family, of Marion, Ohio, who have spent most of the year with Mrs. S. E. Nabors, have gone to Citronello for the winter.

Rev. and Mrs. John A. Peterson, who have been visiting the families of Capt. H. C. Reynolds and Dr. E. M. Peterson, have returned to their home in Tuskegee.

A movement is on foot to build an oil mill, waterworks and electric light plant, and there is no reason why it should not succeed. Local capital is interested in the project.

W. E. Aldrich Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and Central Chapter R. A. M., have moved from Aldrich to Montevallo, and will share the hall of Central Lodge, which is to be enlarged and improved.

The telephone exchange, including Montevallo, Aldrich and Wilton, was connected up last week and turned over to the local manager Saturday morning. It works like a charm, and is strictly up to date.

Services at all four churches, Sunday, were well attended. Revs. J. T. Beard and H. E. Wheeler occupied their regular pulpits; Dr. E. M. Peterson preached at the Baptist, and Rev. Geo. Duglinson at the Presbyterian church.

Dr. Peterson and Miss Mary Haley, of the faculty, and a number of the pupils representing the student body of the Girls' Industrial School, attended the Young Women's Christian Association conference in Birmingham last week.

Parks & Trent, of Springfield, Ky., advertise that they will have a car load of horses from the Blue Grass State in Montevallo, December 7th. This promises to be a rare opportunity for lovers of the noble beast to supply their wants. Mr. Parks of the firm is a brother to Montevallo's clever dentist.

Walter Killough and Miss Rosalie Thornton were married at the residence of bride's parents near Montevallo last Wednesday evening. Mr. Killough is an engineer on the Southern, and Miss Thornton is the accomplished daughter of Rev. J. G. Thornton. The friends of the young couple who extend their best wishes are legion. Wilton will be the future home of Mr. and Mrs. Killough.

KNITTING MILL AND ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Are Assured to Columbiana, to Be in Operation Early in the New Year.

For some time the town council has been negotiating with G. A. Mattison of Talladega, with a view to having him put in a knitting mill at this place, and The Sentinel believes it is safe in saying that the negotiation between Mr. Mattison and our council has terminated successfully.

In a recent letter to Mayor Browne, Mr. Mattison says he hopes to have the mill running inside of four months. He is now negotiating for the machinery, and hopes to have something definite in a few days as to when the machinery can be had. In all probability, if our people give the proper encouragement, Mr. Mattison will also put in an electric light plant.

The plant is to be located in the old canning factory building, and is in every way adapted for a knitting mill.

The installation of a knitting mill and a probable electric light plant is a good starter in the new year for Columbiana, and is only a forerunner of what may be expected for our town within the next twelve months. The coming of this plant means the coming of others, for one is a breeder of more.

Our people should lend every encouragement to Mr. Mattison in his proposition to put in the electric light plant, and then waterworks will come just as sure as sunshine.

Our Advertisers.

That The Sentinel is a good advertising medium our readers have but to glance over the paper to be convinced. Of the twenty-eight columns embodied in the paper our advertisers utilize nineteen and a half to advertise their wares. And, by the way, our advertisers are doing the business, too. Had you noticed it? Aside from this, we have this week, turned down a half-page advertisement from a Birmingham firm. The people appreciate an all home print paper, and especially so if an effort is made to please them.

Miss Linnie Seal, of Florida, is in the city visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Harrell.

Brutal Murder.

On a Friday afternoon, just as the sun was sinking into the west, it was discovered by the cook at the home of Mrs. Wallace, near Klein, that murder had been committed among the barn-yard fowls. That "Jake," the pet duck, last scion of his race, and beloved by all, had been foully dealt with. He was a gentle creature, feeding from a child's hand ever. Circumstances go to show that this innocent fowl was killed while reposing under his own vine and fig tree. It seem the guilty parties, for fear the fowl would escape them, tied a string to his left leg, and one held him while the other party poured the contents of a "breach-loading gun" into his vitals. Peace to poor "Jake's" ashes.

W. W. Wallace and J. T. Leeper are under suspicion of committing this "fowl" deed.

Interesting Case.

The following item is taken from the Columbiana correspondence of the Montgomery Advertiser, of last Sunday:

"A suit is pending in the Probate Court which possesses some rather novel features. Some year ago or more, Mary Brasher filed in the court a petition setting forth that she was the widow of Newton Brasher, deceased, and praying that the homestead of the decedent was all the property that deceased was possessed of, and that the property was worth less in value than the law exempted to the widow. The court set apart the homestead regularly and the widow has been in possession of the same ever since. A motion was filed recently in court by the heirs of Newton Brasher, setting forth that Mary Brasher is not the widow of Newton Brasher; that at the time she and Brasher were married she had a living husband to whom she had been legally married, and from whom she had never been divorced, to-wit, Sam Young; that therefore, the marriage was absolutely void, and asking the court to vacate and set aside the decree allotting the homestead.

"Now comes the said Mary, and after denying all of the material allegations of the motion, alleges that the said Sam Young, at the time she married him, had a living wife, to-wit, Katy Chapman; that her marriage to Sam Young was void, and that being void, her marriage to Newton Brasher was legal. Considerable interest is manifested in the case."

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP,

LEGROY & TINNEY, Proprietors.

Blacksmithing and General Repairing. Horse Shoeing a Specialty. Special attention given to horses with deformed feet. Try us and be convinced.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HOBBSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana, Ala.

DEC. 2. SATURDAY DEC. 2.

HOLIDAY OPENING!

AT THE

CITY DRUG STORE.

PIANO TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

With each One Dollar Purchase you will get a Ticket on this handsome present.

We cordially invite you and your friends to attend our grand Holiday Opening on December 2, 1905. Our entire line of Holiday Goods will be on exhibition on that date and we assert that it is the most complete assortment that will be seen here this year. Our stock offers every advantage that appeals to the economical holiday buyer. We give here a mere outline of our stock:

For Children.

Toys, Dolls, Horns, Toy-Stoves, Balls, Rattles, Toy-guns, Tools, Games, Watches, Automobiles, Candles, Brushes, Doll Furniture, Jewelry.

For Men.

Shaving Sets, Toilet Sets, Collar & Cuff Boxes, Cigar Cases, Smoking Sets, Fountain Pens, Necktie Boxes, Watch Boxes, Military Sets, Cutlery, Jewelry.

For Ladies.

Vases, Books, Stationery, Fancy China, Manicure Goods, Albums, Mirrors, Cut Glass, Hand Bags, Candelabra, Rings, Lamps, Pictures, Atomizers, Toilet Sets, Perfumes.

In the above we have mentioned but a very few articles, and we invite you to come and see for yourself and be convinced. Remember the date, Saturday, December 2nd.

GOODS WILL BE LAID AWAY.

Goods on which you may make a small payment will be laid aside for you, and purchases made here for out of town friends will be carefully packed and shipped at your request. Gifts for friends in town delivered at your request.

HOT DRINKS FREE.

Our hot soda outfit is in full operation, and all kinds of delicious hot drinks will be served to the ladies and children that day free. A String Band will furnish music from 8 to 10 at night. Come and receive a hearty, cordial welcome.

THE CITY DRUG STORE,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

The Alabama Division | or Lodge | No. 9,

OF THE

National Union Fraternal Life Association

PROVIDES

$1,000 IN CASE OF DEATH

(When the Division is Full)

$1,000 IN CASE OF ACCIDENT

(Total Disability)

Paid Up Membership in Twenty Years.

The Orphan Children of Members Educated Free of Cost. This in Addition to Money Coming to Them by Death of Parent.

OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS.

Dr. A. T. Rowe, President, Columbiana	C. W. O'Hara, minister, Columbiana
W. E. Harrison, Treasurer, Columbiana	H. E. Whitaker, Ed. of Sentinel, Columbiana
J. W. Johnston, merchant, Columbiana	F. A. Church, mason, Wilsonville
Jno. R. Dyke, Circuit Clerk, Columbiana	S. J. Spearman, merchant, Wilsonville
A. P. Longshore, Probate Judge, Columbiana	W. A. Stone, farmer, Columbiana
R. F. Cox, Sheriff, Columbiana	G. E. Abbott, blacksmith, Shelby
J. O. Dorrough, Supt. of Ed., Columbiana	Emory L. Barber, farmer, Shelby
Jas. Finley, farmer, Columbiana	Terrell Bice, merchant, Shelby
Jno. J. Haynes, attorney, Columbiana	S. Z. T. Champion, farmer, Sterrett
J. L. Peters, attorney, Columbiana	W. A. Brasher, tax collector, Columbiana

For membership, further information and Agency Contracts, call on or write J. W. Harrall, Division Manager, Columbiana, Ala.

This is a Home Company, managed by Home People. The Money is kept at Home in the Bank, Under Bond, Ready for Death Claim in Advance.

COST The membership fee is only $5.00, paid but once. At the end of six months, and each six months thereafter, $1.00. Nothing more to pay until a death occurs in the above Division; then each member pays $1.25 for each death.

WOMEN are accepted on equal terms with men. Only 1,000 persons can join. While organizing, will admit healthy persons between ages of 16 and 50 years. After division is full, no one can join until there is a vacancy—then none over 40 years.

Good organizers for other counties can secure good money-making contracts by addressing

ROBT. H. JONES, Gen'l Superintendent,

615 Austell Building, Atlanta, Ga.

GIGANTIC Removal Sale.

Columbiana Mercantile Company's $50,000 stock has been placed in the hands of the American Salvage Company to be sold in ten days' time, beginning on Wednesday, November 22nd, at 9 a. m., sharp.

THE $50,000 STOCK OF THE COLUMBIANA MERCANTILE CO.

Has been placed in the hands of the American Salvage Co., to be sold in ten days' time. The doors are closed Monday and Tuesday, and will not open until Wednesday, November 22, at 9 o'clock, sharp.

Columbiana's largest, best and most dependable stock at the mercy of the people for ten days, beginning Wednesday, November 22nd, at 9 a. m., sharp.

A sale without a parallel in the memory of man or woman. $50,000 worth of dependable Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Groceries and Hardware must be sold in ten days' time regardless of the cost of the raw material.

IT'S MARVELOUS. We challenge competition here and everywhere to produce such matchless bargains to equal the offerings of this occasion. This challenge will never be met—all prices we quote for this marvelous sale are BELOW FACTORY COST—nothing reserved—our entire stock of clean, up-to-date, stylish merchandise is at your mercy for ten days, beginning Wednesday, November 22nd.

It will pay you to come A HUNDRED MILES to attend this sale for you will be able to dress up your whole family for what it usually costs to dress up one. Meet your friends—thousands will be there from far and wide to reap the fruits of the greatest sacrificing sale of the age.

The American Salvage Company Shows no Mercy to Cost Prices.

No matter how much you may expect, no matter how cheap these standard goods appear in print, the values you will find will be greater. Use good common sense with which nature endowed you. Come and see with your own eyes and be convinced.

The American Salvage Co. guarantees every statement herein made to be bona fide and just as represented. Thousands upon thousands of dollars will be lost by this firm, but, the stock must be sold in TEN DAYS, beginning WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Ladies Ready-to-Wear Dept.

Involving thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of dependable, up-to-the-hour styles for women.

100 ladies' skirts in all colors and styles for dress or walking purposes, beautifully plaited in latest way, regular values up to $8.00. Sale price..... 3.48

Another lot of elegant skirts in various shades that can't be bought in all this land under $4.00 each. Sacrifice Price..... 1.68

150 ladies' skirts, regular values up to $3, in blues, grays and blacks as long as they last, Sacrificing Price..... 1.28

50 ladies' new style cravenettes, in all colors, worth $12.50, In this Sale..... 6.48

One lot of strictly swell ladies' long coat jackets, regular values up to $15, Sale Price..... 8.98

Over 50 long coat jackets, in light shades, strictly swell, worth $12.50, In this Sale..... 6.98

One lot of light blue Kersey jackets formerly sold at $5.00, Sacrifice Price..... 2.48

250 very swell jackets in a grand assortment at $1.68, $1.98, 2.98, and $3.58.

50 children's box coats and reefers, worth $2.50, Sacrificing Price..... 1.18

One big lot of misses' jackets, regular values up to $6.00, Sale Price..... 2.48

And hundreds of others in proportion.

Men's Clothing at Sensational Prices.

We show no mercy to prices in this department; hence, the prices quoted here will bring hundreds of customers for miles around.

100 men's black clay worsted, silk lined suits. Others ask $10 for them, our regular price $7.50 American Salvage Co's Sale price..... 3.98

200 men's fancy mixed and black suits in a beautiful range of colors, splendidly tailored, regular values $10 American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 4.98

175 suits, regular values $15 comprising a grand assortment of black, blue and fancy chevrons unmercifully sacrificing prices, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 8.98

Sensational Sale of

Men's Pants

200 pairs of pants made of all wool filled jeans, regular value $1.25, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 89c

150 pairs of good working pants, worth $1.50, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 98c

212 pairs of men's fine dress pants, nice, neat patterns, actual values up to $2.50, Sale Price..... 1.48

119 pairs fine dress worsted pants, cut the latest way, made of imported fabrics, regular values up to $5 American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 2.48

Sensational Sale of Boys'

Knee Suits and Pants.

One big lot of boys' knee pants all sizes, regular values 50c, Sale Price..... 23c

One lot boys' nice knee suits, made of good chevrot, regular values up to $1.75, Sale Price..... 97c

212 boys' suits, made of splendid quality fabrics, strongly sewed, all ages from 4 to 16 years, regular values $2.50, Sale Price..... 1.39

145 boys' extra fine quality knee suits, handsome range of patterns, regular values up to $5, Sale Prices..... 2.49

Men's Furnishing

Goods at Sensational Prices

Lowest prices ever quoted in the State of Alabama.

200 dozen men's fine white and colored bordered handkerchiefs, always sell at 10c each, Sale Price..... 4c

150 dozen men's handkerchiefs, actually worth 21½c, Sale Price..... 5c

200 dozen boys' suspenders, Sale Price..... 3c

Men's suspenders, worth 15c, Sale Price..... 9c

Men's suspenders, worth 25c, Sale Price..... 19c

Men's Guyot suspenders, sell round the world 25c, Sale Price..... 15c

65 dozen men's heavy undershirts and drawers, sell for 50c, Sale Price..... 24c

100 dozen men's percale and madras shirts, worth 75c, go in this Sale at..... 39c

Sensational Sale of Men's Hats

One great lot of strictly up-to-date felt hats in nice shapes that you will pay anywhere else $2 for, Sale Price..... 98c

Our entire line of elegant Knoxall hats, in all shades and shapes, which are the standard the world over at $2, $2.50 and 3, Sale Price..... 1.68

SHOES! SHOES!!

For men and women and children at less than factory cost. The American Salvage Co. has cut to the bottom in this department.

225 pairs of ladies' nice Sunday shoes, several different sizes, regular values 1.50, Sale Price..... 97c

500 pairs ladies' elegant quality vici kid shoes, regular values up to 2.00 a pair, Sale Price..... 1.23

300 pairs of extra fine hand turned ladies' shoes, made of best grade vici and patent kid, regular values 2.50 and 3.00 a pair, Sale Price..... 1.58

200 pairs standard made shoes, regular values up to 3.50 Sale Price..... 1.98

300 pairs ladies' shoes, America's strictly ultra styles, regular price 4.00, Sale Price..... 2.79

200 pairs Hill City brogans, worth 1.25 a pair, Sale Price..... 96c

200 pairs of men's satin calf shoes, regular values 2.00 Sale Price..... 1.29

200 pairs of men's elegant high grade shoes, regular values 2.00 Sale Price..... 1.98

250 pairs of sample shoes, ranging in values up to 3.00 in this great Sale..... 1.23

Dress Goods In All the Wanted

Styles at Sensational Prices

Double width worsted in all colors, worth 25c per yard, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 12c

50 pieces cassimere, in all colors, worth 35c per yard, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 19c

25 pieces voiles and panama cloth, values up to 85c per yard, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 47c

25 pieces cotton panama cloth, something new, worth 25c per yd., American Salvage Co's Price..... 12c

Sensational Sale of Outings

100 pieces of outing in all colors, sells everywhere at 6c per yard, Sale Price..... 3c

50 pieces fleece flannelette in all colors, worth wholesale 10c per yard, Sale Price..... 6c

100 pieces of the very heaviest and best outings made, sold for 12½c, Sale Price, a yard..... 8c

Table Linens and Towels at Sensational Prices

One lot of towels, worth 10c. Go at..... 4c

One lot of splendid huck towels, worth 20c, Go at..... 10c

25 pieces of toweling, best grade, in this Sale, per yard..... 4c

Turkey red and unbleached damask, regularly at 40c per yard, selling 21 Sale Price..... 21

68-inch bleached damask, worth 60c per yard, Sacrifice Sale..... 37

72-inch bleached satin damask, worth $1.00, per yard, beautiful quality, Sacrifice Price..... 59

Sensational Hosiery Prices.

200 dozen pairs men's and women's hose, in blacks and grays, worth 10c a pair, Sale Price..... 4c

190 dozen women's and misses' hose, worth 15c a pair, Sale Price..... 7c

160 dozen men's black, tan and fancy hose, worth 20c a pair, Sale Price..... 9c

150 dozen ladies' and men's elegant quality imported hose, black and fancy shades, regular values 18c 35c a pair, Sale Price..... 18c

Ladies' and Children's Underwear

at Sensational Prices

65 dozen ladies' heavy fleece lined, ribbed vests and pants, worth 40c, This Sale..... 21

10 dozen ladies' union suits, worth 75c, This Sale..... 44

Children's union suits, worth 50c, This Sale..... 27

Embroideries and Laces at Ridiculous Prices

3,000 yards of Embroideries worth 8c, Sale Price..... 3c

5,000 yards of embroideries, worth 12½c, dainty patterns, good widths, Sale Prices..... 7c

One good lot of extra wide embroideries, cambric or swiss, regular values 25c per yard, Sale Price, 12½c per yard..... 12c

5,000 yards of torchon or val. laces, worth 10c, Sale Price, per yd. 5c..... 5c

Staple Department

at Absolute Loss

20,000 yards of standard dress calicoes, in indigo blues, silver grays, and turkey reds, positively worth 7c 41 per yard, Sale Price..... 42

1,000 yards of nice, soft bleaching, Sale Price..... 5

2,000 yards of 36-inch standard brand bleaching, sells at 10c per yard, This Sale, per yard..... 6c

20,000 yards of standard gingham, worth 7½c, per yard, Sale Price..... 5

25 pieces of cotton flannel, worth 8c per yard, Sale Price..... 6

35 pieces of the very heaviest grade of cotton flannel, regular values up to 12c per yard, Sale Price per yd. 8 Good 10c values in mattress ticking, 62 Sale Price..... 62

20 pieces of good feather ticking, worth 15c, Sale Price..... 10

50 pieces of good, heavy cotton checks, worth 10c, This Sale, per yard..... 64

Notion Department. Lowest Prices

Standard grade spool cotton, per spool..... 2c

Hooks and eyes, black and white, worth 5c, go at..... 2c

Paper of pins, go in this Sale..... 1c

Best brass pins, worth 5c, Sale Price..... 3c

Pearl shirt and dress buttons, all sizes, worth 10c, This Sale..... 4c

One big lot of feather stitched braid worth 10c, This Sale..... 3c

200 dozen ladies' handkerchiefs worth 5c, This Sale..... 2c

One lot of ladies' belts, worth 35c, This Sale..... 10c

Sensational Sale of Mattings

in Colors.

25 rolls of mattings that always sell at 18c per yd., Sale Price..... 11c

Another lot, selling regularly up to 35c per yard, Sacrifice Price..... 22c

Sensational Sale of Furniture.

50 oak beds, regular values 3.00 and 4.00, Sale Price..... 2.18

25 oak beds, nicely carved, splendid quality at 5.00 Sale Price..... 2.98

A limited lot of golden oak bed-room suits, worth 25.00, This Sale..... 14.98

A limited lot of dressers, regular values up to 10.00 Sale Price..... 5.68

One lot of best folding bed springs, worth 2.00, Sale Price..... 1.58

All other kinds of furniture too numerous to mention, reduced proportionately.

Buggies to be Sacrificed by the American Salvage Company

Splendid run-about buggies, worth $42.50, Sale Price..... 28.48

Another lot of nice top buggies, standard values at $55.00 Sale Price..... 44.48

Rock Hill buggies, standard the world over at $70.00, Sale Price..... 57.48

Studebaker's wagons at the lowest prices ever heard of in this section.

Sensat'al Grocery Prices

One full lb. package of soda, 32c

One full lb. package of Arm & Hammer soda, Sacrificing Price..... 42c

Briton snuff, Hot Scotch and Garnett, 10c size, in This Sale per box..... 7c

Arbuckle & Co's best coffee, in This Sale..... 13c

25 pounds best Y-C sugar at..... $1

18 pounds of standard granulated sugar at..... $1

1,000 pounds of good, green coffee, to go in This Sale at per lb. 10c..... 10c

Grapevine mint, worth 50c per lb. in this Sale..... 33c

And thousands of other kinds of groceries to go likewise.

Sensational Sale of Comforts and Blankets.

75c and 85c blankets and comforts, Sale Price..... 49c

125 blankets, worth 1.50, Sale Price..... 89c

50 splendid heavy comfort and blankets, white and gray, worth 2.00, Sale Price..... 1.39

100 fine wool blankets, worth 4.00 and 4.50 Sale Price..... 2.79

Sensational Sale of Rugs.

200 rugs that always sell at 1.25, nice new patterns, Sale Price..... 58c

68 rugs, splendid quality, beautiful design, regular values up to Sacrifice Price..... 94c

Extra large, handsome Axminster rugs regular values up to 7.00, Sale Price..... 3.78

SENSATIONAL SALE OF RIBBON AND MILLINERY.

No. 5 all satin ribbons, sell at 6c per yard, Sale Price..... 3c

Regular 7½c quality silk ribbon, Sale Price..... 4c

Regular 12½c quality of silk and satin ribbons, good widths, Sale Price..... 7c

200 ladies' walking and trimmed hats, regular values up to $1.50, Sale Price..... 69c

200 strictly swell ladies' trimmed hats, regular values up to $4.00, Sale Price..... 1.95

100 dozen ladies' handkerchiefs, worth 10c, Sale Price..... 4c

100 dozen ladies' embroidered handkerchiefs, worth 15c, Sale Price..... 7c

150 dozen ladies' embroidered handkerchiefs, handsome quality, worth 25c, Sale Price..... 12c

Mark the date,
and mark it well.
Let nothing
keep you away.

All goods to be just as represented, all purchases made during this sale not proving satisfactory, will be exchanged or money refunded. This stock must be closed out in ten days time, therefore the purchasing power of your money is doubled at

Columbiana Mercantile Company's Store,
Columbiana, Alabama.

Beginning Wednesday, Nov. 22, at 9 a. m., under the auspices of the American Salvage Company.

The American Salvage Company has complete charge of this sale and must close out this stock in Ten Days' time, beginning on Wednesday, November 22nd, at 9 o'clock, sharp. Remember the date.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 13.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

IF you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

"Just Keep Your Hat On!"

WAIT!

STOP!

THINK!

Then go to

Denson & Dawson

at Montevallo, A. A.

for your

Dry Goods, Hats, Clothing, Shoes, Groceries,
Feed Stuffs, Cook and Heating Stoves, Trunks,
Harness, Saddles, Hardware, Furniture.

—We also sell—

The Celebrated Barbour Buggles and Virginia Wagons

the best that rolls on four wheels. We also carry a swell Line of Fancy Candies. Come to see us; we will save you money.

DENSON & DAWSON.

SOUTHERN MILLS.

Their Trade Keeps Growing.
The Railroads Help Them.

Pell City, Ala.—The South is now spinning more cotton than the northern mills spin. The North has more spindles but the South is using the greatest number of bales. Southern mills are pushing their trade in every direction and in the West are making steady inroads upon the markets which New England has always considered as hers.

Mr. G. W. Pratt, President of the Pell City Manufacturing Company, says the growing consumption of cotton by southern mills is a strong factor in keeping up the price of cotton. Mr. Pratt's mill is the largest consumer of raw cotton in the Birmingham district.

Mr. Pratt says that three years ago when he came to Pell City it contained fifty-seven persons, now his mill employs over 600 and there are several other large factories supporting a population of over 2,000 representing an invested capital of about a million and a quarter dollars.

"All this has been made possible by the intelligent co-operation of the railroads," said Mr. Pratt, "a thing which would be made impossible if the railroads were to be subjected to a government rate-making power which would practically control their incomes. I did not come here for my health but to make money. The railroads have enabled me to do it. I found them ready to grant reasonable rates and Pell City became a shipping point. I did not attempt to dictate rates to the railroads. I could no more tell how much it costs the railroad to carry my goods than they could tell how much it costs to make a yard of goods. To fix rates so as to meet the special condition of business can be done only by the man who handles the traffic.

"I think that any government interference in rate making is decidedly unwise. Moreover I am opposed to centralization of power in any way and that is what fixed rates by a government commission means. A man appointed through political influence, as these commissioners would be, would know about as much about making rates as I do of running a manerie. I believe the railroads are entitled to a fair income on their investment. I have no kick coming."

T. M. Dennis, of Polham, says those who talk about good roads in Shelby county have something lacking in their upper story. He says he would like to see the "present administration" compelled to ride the roads between Columbiana and Polham in a lumber wagon so that it might get a little good sound sense pounded into its brain.

The foreign engineers who were invited by the President to confer with engineers of this country in relation to canal matters, think the chief executive has not acted in good faith with them, and are indignant because he refuses to accept their opinion as an honest expression.

Birmingham has had a number of disastrous fires within the past few weeks, and the loss aggregating many hundred thousands of dollars. The frequent occurrence of fires would have one to believe that firebugs have it in for Birmingham.

Oh, my! It is said that a new style of doing the hair of ladies is on the way, and that the poupdour is to be larger than ever. This will cause some women who are short on hair to contract the borrowing habit.

The Advocate, which poses as a holier than thou sheet, insults every farmer in Shelby county, and willfully perverts when it says the public roads of this county are in good shape.

It is said the squirrels are making their nests unusually warm this year—said to be a sign of a very cold winter.

Dopewit is being talked of as the man with the shortest memory—regarding insurance matters.

McCurdy is willing to give up half his salary if permitted to hold his job.

When the proper time comes, Hon. John B. Knox, of Anniston, will be in the mixing for United States senator.

On Tuesday of last week, cotton went up over a hundred points inside of an hour—reaching eleven and a half cents.

What has become of the old fashioned man who wore red woolen socks, and sat in front of the fire at night with his shoes off?

Mrs. Sydney J. Bowib, wife of our Representative in Congress, is said to be the handsomest woman in Washington, and among the most popular.

The fight by the Opelika News and the Ozark Tribune against the return of Clayton to Congress is not as successful as those papers would like to see it.

Cured Consumption.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Clearwater, Kans., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said that he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him."

That was six years ago. Since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

An increase in the membership of the fire department, and more apparatus for fighting fire, is the slogan which Birmingham people and press are singing now.

Harvie Jordan feels good over the way cotton prices have been acting during the past week, and wants the farmers to hold what they have on hand for fifteen cents.

The fact that Comer is becoming a crank upon the subject of reduction of railroad freight rates to the exclusion of any other subject, is becoming more and more apparent to the people every day.

D. J. Mender, of Marengo county, will probably be a candidate for lieutenant governor. We may be wrong, but we have been under the impression that Jefferson county was furnishing the candidates for State office.

J. A. MacKnight, who has had charge of Shelby Springs for the past season, announces that he is a candidate for Governor subject to the voice of the people. From that statement we infer he is an independent candidate.

Constipation.

Health is absolutely impossible, if constipation be present. Many serious cases of liver and kidney complaints have sprung from neglected constipation. Such a deplorable condition is unnecessary, where is a cure for it. Herbine will speedily remedy matters. C. A. Lindsay, P. M., Bronson, Fla. writes, Feb. 12, 1902: "Having used Herbine, I find it a fine medicine for constipation." 50c a bottle. Sold by Williams Bros.

Headstone Bears Peculiar Name

In Elmore county, near Wetumka, a small marble headstone is erected to the memory of Mary Etta Emma Retta Dena Rotta Cream of Tartar Sweet Potato Carolina Bostwick daughter of John and Lucy Cathin, born in Social Circle, Ga., 1844 died at Wetumka Ala., August, 1893.

Old inhabitants recall the fact that Mary Etta Emma Retta Dena Rotta etc., was a small negro slave called Carrie for short.

Another grave which attracts attention in a country, burying grounds near Wetumka marks the resting place of a young woman and bears the statement that:

"God takes the good, too good to stay; He leaves the bad, too bad to make away."

Your poll tax must be paid if you expect to have a voice as to who shall be your next county officers. Better pay it now, and not put it off till the last hour.

Our subscription list is growing right along—and we have received subscribers during the past week who never took the paper before.

Remember to pay your poll tax, and if you are due for more than one year, pay it all or you can't vote.

Top
Notch,
Scalper,
Vindicator.

WORN FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

A new stock of the
FAMOUS SELZ SHOES.

has just been received by us.

The Shoe with a world wide reputation.

A Shoe which never fails to make the feet glad.

Guaranteed to be as Represented.

There's no Better. They are Best.

We would
also remind you that oooooooooooo

Our Grocery Stock

is new and fresh

And contains
nothing but the very oooooooooooo

Best in That Line.

Farmers

Get Your Seed Oats

At our
Store

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest,
Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY.

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor - and - Builder,
Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES	LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts..... $ 41,759.71	Capital stock paid in..... $ 30,000.00
Overdrafts..... 441.45	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid..... 2,578.00
Banking house..... 2,651.20	Individual deposits subject to check..... 30,331.25
Furniture and fixtures..... 2,000.00	Savings deposits..... 1,350.00
Other real estate..... 3,050.00	Cashier's checks..... 81.00
Due from banks and bankers in this State..... 12,727.01	Notes and bills rediscounted..... 11,290.25
Due from banks and bankers in other States..... 5,005.42	Checks payable..... 8,560.00
Currency..... 6,101.63
Gold..... 2,915.66
Silver, medals and tokens..... 1,230.80
Checks and cash items..... 4,490.38
Total..... $ 87,250.00	Total..... $ 87,250.00

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.

Attest: W. B. Browne, J. W. G. Parker, J. T. Leeper, Directors. W. W. WALLACE, Notary Public.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor
W. L. Farley, Clerk
Councilmembers: J. B. Pitts, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Dunham, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 10, A. F. & A. M., meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. A. F. Church, W. M. W. A. Abernethy, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, meet on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting knights invited. A. F. Church, W. M. W. A. Abernethy, Sec.

PROFESSIONAL.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phone No. 17.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

One thousand dollars for filling four teeth is a pretty stiff price, yet that is what a New York dentist charged an English prince recently for that work.

The farmers of the county give the Advocate the horse laugh when it talks about the good roads in Shelby county. The good part must be in hiding somewhere.

The fifty cent administration organ, for courtesy's sake called a newspaper, continues to say the roads of Shelby county are in fine shape. But that is in keeping with the administration of affairs in this county.

The Sentinel is one price to everybody—one dollar per year.

Thanksgiving Sale of Linens AND Domestics

Bought when cotton was selling on a 7 1-2 cent basis—this immense stock of fine linens offers the greatest bargains of the year to shrewd housekeepers. The difference between the 7 1-2 cent cotton and the present price of 11 cents represents what you save by buying at this great sale.

Full bleached linen table cloths with napkins to match, worth $7.50, at..... $5.00
Bleached and silver bleached table damask, 72 in. wide, regular $1.25 yard value, at..... 95c
Marseilles bed spreads, size 77x88 ins $2.50 quality, at..... $1.69
11-4 grey blankets, worth $3.75 a pair at..... $2.98
California wool blankets 10-4 size, worth $6.00 a pair—special at..... $4.50

MORE BARGAINS TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

Sea Island Domestic, special at 1-2c.
Bleached sheeting, yard wide, special at 6c.
Bleached sheeting a yard wide, special at 7 1-2c.
Full of the linen sheeting, yard wide, special at 8c.
Longside sheeting, a yard wide special at 8c.
Masonville sheeting, yard wide, special at 8 1-2c.
Pepperell bleached sheeting, 8-4, special 20c.
Pepperell bleached sheeting, 9-4, special 22 1-2c.
Pepperell bleached sheeting, 10-4, special 24c.
Utica sheeting, 9-4, special at 22 1-2c.

SANFORD'S AXMINSTER RUGS

Six 9x12 Feet

SPECIAL PRICE $16.50

The regular price of these fine Axminster Rugs is $20.00. The colors are mostly in desirable Oriental effects. In reducing the price to $16.50 for one week we are offering you the greatest rug values ever given in Birmingham.

Sanford's Axminster Rugs, 8x6 feet, worth $5.00, at..... $3.00
Sanford's Axminster Rugs, 27x54 in. worth $3.00 each, at..... $2.00

Loveman, Joseph & Loeb.
Birmingham, Alabama.

None of Your Business.

Vincent, Ala., Nov. 23rd.
Editor Sentinel, Columbiana.

I have been wondering why the Advocate, which seems to know so much about the intentions of the present administration, does not answer the questions asked about the new court house some two or three weeks ago? It looks very much like a shin-plaster had been placed over its mouth to ease its conscience in its deceptive manner towards those who have to pay the bills contracted by the Commissioners' Court. The people up in this section of the county would like to see what kind of answers the Advocate can make to those queries.

If I remember rightly, those questions were about as follows:

1. What kind of a contract was made for the court house?
2. What amount does contract call for the taxpayers to pay?
3. What is the contract price for the court house?
4. How much in addition to the original contract price are the marble trimmings to cost?
5. Who of the Commissioners voted for the marble trimmings, and who voted against this folly?
6. How much is to be paid for getting Shelby county warrants cashed to pay for the marble mansion?
7. Why Shelby county should pay anything for getting her warrants cashed?
8. Who of the Commissioners protested against this extravagance?

The taxpayers up here are interested in seeing what answers the Advocate can make to these questions—questions in which they are interested because they have the bills to pay.

Taxpayer.

Our "Taxpayer" correspondent should be able to deduct from the silence of the administration organ that it is none of his business. All "Taxpayer" is expected to do is to pony up his share of the tax and not kick on the acts of the great "deform" administration which now has its double-edged knife into the vitals of the county and its people.

Wilsonville News Items.

The Tax Collector and Assessor were in our town Monday, on their last round, attending to county business.

Rev. C. D. Brooks is attending annual conference at Athens.

I. G. Gwin, one of our boys, now of Maplesville, was married to Miss Hattie Bolding of Maplesville, last Sunday morning and came to Wilsonville in the evening to visit his father's family. I. G. is a steady young man, attentive to business, and we hope for them a bright and happy future. We have not had the pleasure of meeting the bride, but we understand she is an accomplished young lady and one of Maplesville's belles. Johnnie Gwin and Miss Bolding, of Maplesville, accompanied the bride and groom and are in our midst for a few days.

J. F. Pope and W. T. Taylor returned from the west last week with 53 fine mules. Up to date they have sold over half of them. We do not know the exact number sold.

It is not quite one month until Christmas, but from the pretty weather we are having it looks more like summer was approaching than winter.

Will Open This Week.

The doors of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. have been closed for a few days, but they will open again this week, and the Big Sacrifice Sale will continue for ten days as advertised, and with more bargains than ever before offered. Wait until the doors open and you can get the same goods for less money, more goods for same money than at any other store in this section. Remember, the doors will open again this week, affording you an opportunity to buy goods for the Holidays at never before heard of prices.

Miss McGee, of Birmingham, is with her sister, Mrs. C. D. Brooks, while brother Brooks is at Conference.

Jack Taylor, accompanied by his mother, and his two nieces, Misses Gladys and Jewel Taylor, paid Talladega town a visit last Friday, returning home Sunday.

Miss Kate Gwin is at present on a visit to South Alabama.

RIP VAN WINKLE.

In Memoriam.

On Tuesday morning, November 7th, at her home at Vincent, Ala., Mrs. Maggie Campbell, wife of Mr. Hugh Campbell, and daughter of Wm. D. Hagan, a prosperous planter of Childersburg, Ala., passed to her Eternal Rest. She was buried in the Childersburg cemetery November 8th, and followed to the grave by a large and beautiful floral parade. She was thirty-five years old. How true that "In the midst of life we are in Death." A husband, father two sons, six brothers and one of whom is J. D. Hagan, of Birmingham, Ala., and three sisters, are left to mourn her loss.

Throughout her illness she was calm and peaceful, and expressed a willingness to go wherever the great King of Kings should call her.

Among her last words were those to her two sons: "Be Good Boys." Being of a sunny, cheerful disposition she made many warm, personal friends. To know her was to love her. Faithful and true in all relations of life, she was a benediction to her home and community.

At the time of her death she was a consistent member of the Missionary Baptist church at Harpersville. Her Christian life was an exemplary one. May the God of all Grace give comfort to the bereaved ones and hope in a Resurrection and in a happy reunion hereafter.

"Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord."

R. A. KIDD.

It's too bad, but one of our best exchanges invariably uses the expression "widow lady" when referring to a widow.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, In Chancery,
Shelby County, Sixth District South-
Eastern Chancery Div.
Cora Simpson, complainant.

VS.
Sam Simpson, defendant.
[N]otice is hereby given to the defendant, Sam Simpson, a Non-Resident of Alabama and residing in Little Rock, Arkansas, and further, that, in the belief of said affiant, the defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.
It is therefore ordered by the Register, that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel a newspaper published in the County of Shelby once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring him to appear in court to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 2nd day of Dec. A. D. 1905, or, in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against him.
Done at office, in Columbiana, Ala. this 25th day of Oct. A. D. 1905.
J. R. WHITE Register.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

TO THE PUBLIC!

WE have purchased J. H. Abercrombie & Son's store building and stock of goods and as the stock is large we are going to reduce it. There will be a great reduction in prices, and you will save yourself money by coming to see us.

LOW PRICES PREVAIL.

We are now overstocked in Tobaccos and a special reduction price will prevail on this line until the stock is reduced. This opportunity will hardly present itself again.

WATCH FOR IT!

Look out for our big Furniture advertisement; something sensational in both goods and prices. Anything you want that we have not in stock, we will make a specialty in ordering for you. We guarantee goods to be as represented. Give us first call and you will save money. Uniform treatment to all.

Milner & Christian.

Neuralgia Pains.

Rheumatism, lumbago and sciatic pains yields to the penetrating influence of Ballard's Snow Liment.

It penetrates to the nerves and bone and being absorbed into the blood, its healing properties are conveyed to every part of the body and effect some wonderful cures 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

"A Thing of Beauty
Is a Joy Forever!"

Our millinery may not wear forever
but the ladies all exclaim

"The Hats are Beautiful!"

And Their Verdict is Satisfactory Always.

Seeing is to Believe.

We have in stock

The Prettiest Line of Novelties

In the way of
Belts and Fashionable Neckwear
ever shown in Columbiana.

Prices Very Reasonable.

T. J. WEAVER & CO.

SAXON & JOHNSON,
CONTRACTORS & BUILDERS.

Dealers in Shingles - - - - - Estimates Furnished
We Guarantee Satisfaction in Our Work.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Nov. 30, 05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1901
at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,
Russell M. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

Deception as Usual.

As usual, the Advocate practices deception (its stock in trade) upon the people, and on the public roads question that is the only argument(!) it indulges in. For instance: in its last issue the proxy editor of the Advocate tells the following unqualified falsehood:

"The Sentinel in speaking of the interview with Mr. Robertson in reference to the road from Wilsonville to Harpersville says that 'environment disqualifies him,' that may be true from The Sentinel's standpoint."

And The Sentinel never said anything of the kind. In the issue of November 16th, The Sentinel did say:

"It would indeed be strange if Judge Longshore would not endorse his own writing, and Mr. Robertson always pushes a joke along, while the 'environment' of the other individual should be taken into consideration."

It is very evident that the opinion of "the other individual" does not carry much weight or the Advocate would not have willfully violated all professional ethics by purposely misquoting The Sentinel. Deception, misrepresentation, prejudice and falsifying appears to be the only argument the proxy editor(?) of the Advocate has in stock.

"The splendid roads we have in this county now were not built by a Democratic administration, and therefore they are no good," says the Advocate. This county has no good roads now to speak of, therefore they have not been built by any administration, much less the "deform" administration now in power. Neither did a Democratic administration ever levy an illegal tax upon the levy of this county and make them pay it, while the rich railroad corporations of the county were excused from paying because the courts and the law said the levy was illegal. This outrage was perpetrated upon the people of this county for three or four years by the present "deform" administration. Thousands of dollars were wrested from the taxpayers of this county in direct violation of law, supposedly to build good roads. Taxpayers, you paid that illegal tax, and you know whether or not the good roads have materialized. And it may not be out of place to say that in all probability the taxpayers are to be made pay another tax which the railroads may be excused from paying. And it will not be for public roads this time.

We have heard all our lives about the mud hen, but never a one time have we heard of the mud rooster.

SHIELD BRAND
FITS WELL WEARS WELL
CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERTY & AVERTY, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

Where You Get Good Things to Eat.

Wait! Wait!

Don't buy Holiday Goods until you see our stock, then you will buy of us. It will be open for your inspection in a few day.

Roberts & Robertson

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months..... 50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

W. H. Shrader and family, of near Shelby, were in the city last Friday.

Jas. N. Robertson was in Birmingham on a business mission last Thursday.

J. G. Frost, of beat 4, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office last Friday.

Judge J. L. Peters, who has been on the sick list for the past week, is able to be out again.

Wait! The doors of the Columbiana Mercantile Co will open again this week.

E. B. Nelson, of Empire, was in the city over Sunday visiting his family. He returned Monday.

W. A. Thompson made a business trip to Birmingham last Wednesday, returning home Thursday.

Alphonse Verehot, of Pratt City, was in the city over Sunday visiting at the home of Jno. H. Robertson.

W. C. Ray, of near Wilsonville, called at this office last Friday and renewed his subscription to The Sentinel.

GRAPES, delicious, fine are on sale at Roberts & Robertson's. Take some of them home to your wife, your children or sweetheart. They'll enjoy them.

Miss Rosser Christian, of this city, was one of the attendants at the Bice-Glenn wedding at Shelby last night.

J. D. Rhodes, of Birmingham, was in the city last Thursday on business connected with the Probate office.

Last Friday and Saturday were muddy, disagreeable days. However, our merchants all had a busy day Saturday.

There will be a change in one of our business firms on December 1st. The Sentinel will tell you about it next week.

As a trading point Columbiana is becoming better and better every day. A fair deal with the trading public is the cause.

FRUIT of every kind may be had of Roberts & Robertson. Just what you want for your Thanksgiving dinner. Phone them your order today.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Abercrombie have been visiting friends and relatives in Birmingham and Woodlawn for some time.

John Ingram, formerly of Aldrich but now of Ensley, sends The Sentinel a dollar and says to keep on sending his paper.

The Sentinel would like to have a correspondent at every postoffice in the county. Send us the news from your neighborhood.

The family of J. K. Milner left for Gulfport, Miss., last week, they having left that city last September on account of yellow fever.

There will be a beautiful display of holiday goods at the City Drug Store next Saturday, and Messrs. Latham & Bird will be glad to see you.

F. S. Hitchcock, of Vincent, is among the number who have paid up and renewed their subscription to The Sentinel during the past week.

FRESH OYSTERS are received at Roberts & Robertson's every Tuesday and Friday. Remember the dates and file your order.

J. A. MacKnight, of Shelby Springs, was in town last Thursday. Mr. MacKnight would like to be governor of Alabama, and there are others.

Louis Horton, a prominent farmer living on rural route No. 1, out of Columbiana renewed his subscription to The Sentinel last Thursday.

Prof Laverty, of Talladega, was in the city a few hours last Friday. He is agent for the Lester piano—and has sold several of them in Columbiana.

COTTON! The Columbiana Mercantile Co. will open this week. Then the price of cotton will go up in Columbiana. Watch it.

A number of young people from both Shelby and Wilsonville were in the city last Thursday night, drawn here to hear the Eva Bartlett Macey company.

Thompson & Riddle are advertising that popular shoe—the Selz. They have a fine stock—just received, and would like to have you call and see what they have.

The Sentinel takes pleasure in recommending its advertisers to the public. Through their advertising they invite you to call, and that you will be treated right we will guarantee.

Because of the wreck on the Southern near this place last Thursday morning, the north and south passenger trains used the L. & N. track from here to Calera, by the way of Shelby.

The Sentinel has no special subscription rate for a few—it is one dollar a year to everybody. When we cut the price of our subscription rate then we want to get out of the business.

There is nearly a mile of the public road just this side of Calera that is hardly passable. A serious accident at this place will cause something to be doing by the present administration.

Sam Wallace, of Klein, was in town last Friday and Saturday. The numerous friends of Mr. Wallace will be glad to know that he is recovering rapidly from an illness of several weeks.

J. F. Allen, of Montevallo, was in the city last Saturday attending court. Mr. Allen and his brother operated a meat market at Montevallo which was destroyed in the recent fire at that place. He places their loss at about $150.

The Eva Bartlett Macey Company gave one of the most delightful entertainments at the Academy last Thursday night that was ever given in Columbiana. Each member of the company is a star, and contributed a share toward entertaining an appreciative audience. The Sentinel but voices the sentiment of all that these entertainers will again visit our city.

L. I. Robson, of near Montevallo, was in the city last Thursday, and while here renewed his subscription to The Sentinel. He was accompanied by his brother who recently came to this county from Conecuh county. Mr. Robson says that on reference recently to the bad condition of the road leading through Perry settlement out of Montevallo is true in every respect—that it is almost impossible to draw a load over this road in its present condition.

Our people deeply sympathize with the sufferers of the Montevallo fire, and especially so with Hon. E. S. Lyman who lost his law library, said to be one of the best and most complete in this section of the State, besides many valuable papers and records which can never be replaced. His abstract book, worth several hundred dollars, was also burned.

Rev. Joseph Duglinson will preach at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. It is also communion day. This will be Rev. Mr. Duglinson's first sermon since recovering from an illness of some two or three months, and all our people will be glad to hear him again.

State Senator W. R. Oliver, of Calera, was a passenger on one of the freights in the collision last Thursday, and says when the two trains came together he was thrown the full length of the passenger room in the way car. He escaped with a few bruises.

Prof. J. S. Laverty and son, of Talladega, were in the city Monday delivering two pianos—one at the home of Rev. C. C. Heard, and one at the home of The Sentinel man.

WAIT! The Big Sacrifice Sale of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. will be on again this week and continue for Ten Days. Wait for it, watch for it; it will bring big bargains to you.

Rev. H. M. Millstead made a trip to Montgomery last Friday on business connected with the application for pardon of Edgar Cary.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wilkins, of Wilsonville, were in the city Monday, visiting Mrs. Wilkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Nelson.

Mrs. S. R. Thomas, who has been seriously ill for the past four weeks, is improving, and it is hoped she will soon be as well as usual.

Miss Driscoll Vincent, who has been visiting at the home of Mrs. J. S. Pitts, returned to her home in Vincent Monday.

Miss Robbie Wallace, of Klein, is in the city visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. A. Parker.

A merry go-round is in town and is picking up all the spare nickles.

Great Crowds of People.

The opening of the Big Sacrifice Sale of the Columbiana Mercantile Co., under the auspices of the American Salyage Co., Wednesday of last week, was attended by great crowds of people from all sections of the county, and at times the crowd in the store became such a jam the doors had to be closed until some of those inside would depart. Twelve clerks were kept busy all day, and even then many visitors could not be waited on. The Sale had been largely advertised, the effects of which was seen in the large crowds which came to the opening.

The doors have been closed for a few days, but will be open again this week, and will continue ten days as advertised.

MONTEVALLO HAS DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.

Big Slice of Business Center
Victim of Flames.

CITIZENS BATTLE NOBLY

But High Wind Makes Efforts
Without Avail—Origin Incendiary.

A disastrous fire occurred at Montevallo, Tuesday night of last week, destroying the store and office building of E. S. Lyman and two buildings belonging to F. W. Rogan, being the large store building occupied by Mr. Rogan on the corner of Broad and Shelby streets, and a smaller adjoining building occupied by Allen Bros. as a meat market. These lots, strewn with ashes and debris, tell a sad story of loss.

The fire originated in the Lyman building, and when discovered about 2 o'clock, a.m., the stairway and its region was fiercely burning. Ross Crider, who slept in one of five rooms which took up the second floor, was awakened by the roaring and crackling of the flames, and on opening his door was confronted by them in all their fury, and they would have embraced him. Harriedly closing the door, seeing that escape was impossible by the stairs, he hurried to the window and dropped to the ground, happily without injury, with only his night clothing on. Citizens began to assemble, and various alarms were being given about this time, but it was realized that no means at hand could do anything towards saving the building.

Davies & Jeter, whose stock of furniture and heavy goods filled the lower room, succeeded in getting out about $150.00 worth of sideboards before the ceiling began to fall. In the meantime forces were at work to prevent the catching of buildings across the street which were in imminent danger, and had to be kept soaked with water. Burning brands were falling on all buildings to the westward whither a brisk wind was blowing. Rogan's two buildings got the full force of the heat and were soon blazing. Most of the goods in his front room and all the belongings of the Southern Express company were saved, but there was no time to get at the cof- fins and undertaker's supplies with which the rear was stocked. These buildings burned with amazing rapidity. Soon attention was riveted on the Baptist church, east of the fire, which seemed certainly doomed. Directly the roof of the bell tower was seen to ignite and burn slowly. The first thought was to cut the pillars upon which the roof is supported and let it fall off the tower, but better counsel prevailed. J. H. Killingsworth and Wm Cross, assisted by linemen of the Telephone Company, Louis Allen, colored, and others, cut through the ceiling over the bell, got up under the roof and with rare coolness and courage broke through the roof and quickly extinguished the then well started flames. They were watched by a breathless, anxious crowd beneath, the property of many of whom hanging on the success of their efforts. If the church had burned it would have meant the loss of everything on the block, and perhaps Captain Reynolds' home.

Citizens, as usual, worked nobly, among them several ladies. Mr. Rogan had about $1,200 insurance. His loss considerably above that amount. He will rebuild with brick. Allen Bros. lost their butchers' tools and $50.00 worth of hides. In the Lyman building Davies & Jeter placed their loss at $1,200, no insurance; J. H. Davies, individual household goods, $800.00, no insurance; J. W. Vasser had his household goods stored in one room, loss probably $1,000, and it is thought he had no insurance. Ross Crider lost all his personal effects, but generous people of the town have about made his losses good. E. S. Lyman is perhaps the heaviest loser: the building, law library and furniture (worth $4,000 or $5,000), and valuable papers. His insurance was only $650.00. Mr. Eiland, the barber, places his loss at about $100.00. Mrs. Henry Wilson also lost a number of books, and also W. W. Prestidge, Esq., of Ensley, who had left his part of the late Judge Shortridge's library containing some rare volumes, in Mr. Lyman's care. The large plate glass front of the Merchants' and Planters' bank was cracked in many places, as well as C. L. Meroney & Co's, and Denson & Dawson's windows; paint and rosin were drawn from the Baptist church and Morgan Bros. store front. All these losses fully covered. Adjust-

DEC. 2. SATURDAY DEC. 2. HOLIDAY OPENING! AT THE CITY DRUG STORE.

PIANO TO BE GIVEN AWAY.

With each One Dollar Purchase you will get a Ticket on this handsome present.

We cordially invite you and your friends to attend our grand Holiday Opening on December 2, 1905. Our entire line of Holiday Goods will be on exhibition on that date and we assert that it is the most complete assortment that will be seen here this year. Our stock offers every advantage that appeals to the economical holiday buyer. We give here a mere outline of our stock:

For Children.	For Men.	For Ladies.
Toys, Dolls, Horns, Toy-Stoves, Balls, Rattles, Toy-guns, Tools, Games, Watches, Automobiles, Candies, Brushes, Doll Furniture, Jewelry,	Shaving Sets, Toilet Sets, Collar & Cuff Boxes, Cigar Cases, Smoking Sets, Fountain Pens, Necktie Boxes, Watch Boxes, Military Sets, Cutlery, Jewelry,	Vases, Books, Stationery, Fancy China, Manicure Goods, Albums, Mirrors, Cut Glass, Hand Bags, Candelabra, Rings, Lamps, Pictures, Atomizers, Toilet Sets, Perfumes,

In the above we have mentioned but a very few articles, and we invite you to come and see for yourself and be convinced. Remember the date, Saturday, December 2nd.

GOODS WILL BE LAID AWAY.

Goods on which you may make a small payment will be laid aside for you, and purchases made here for out of town friends will be carefully packed and shipped at your request. Gifts for friends in town delivered at your request.

HOT DRINKS FREE.

Our hot soda outfit is in full operation, and all kinds of delicious hot drinks will be served to the ladies and children that day free. A String Band will furnish music from 8 to 10 at night. Come and receive a hearty, cordial welcome.

THE CITY DRUG STORE,
LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

ers were on the ground Friday, and all claims promptly and satisfactorily adjusted. Altogether it was the most disastrous fire Montevallo has ever known.

It is not known how the fire originated, but the indications are that it was incendiary, and designed to prevent discovery thefts from the building. Mr. Davies had a quantity of silver stored in his room of which no trace could be found in the debris.

Mrs. Elizabeth Shortridge, widow of the late George D. Shortridge, and mother of W. W. Shortridge, Esq., now of Ensley, died in Austin, Tex., last Thursday at the age of 88. She was born about half a mile from Main street, near the Aldrich road, in the first house erected by her father, Edmond King, in 1817, and was the first child to be born in Montevallo. She spent most of her life here and was greatly beloved by all. The older people who knew her, hear of her death with regret.

W. M. Nabors, eldest son of J. C. Nabors, fell under the wheels of a passenger train at Calera, Tuesday of last week, while attempting to board it, and had both feet crushed to a pulp. He was brought to Montevallo and the amputations were made by Dr. Tally, of Birmingham, who happened to be here, assisted by all the local surgeons. The injured man is doing well, and is still tall enough, if he had a structure to stand on. He was originally six feet, seven.

Mr. Ben Isler, father of Mrs. R. O. Camp, died at Wilton, Wednesday morning last. He had been in bad health for some time and death came as a relief to him. He was a native of Georgia, and had been living at Wilton for several years where he was highly regarded.

John Rice, one of the old citizens of the community, and an ex-Confederate soldier who gave four years of good service to his country, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thos. Lucas, in Chilton county, Sunday, the 19th, inst.

J. H. McMath, who was dangerously ill last Tuesday, has, to the delight of all, been steadily improving since, and will, doubtless, soon be out.

In the wealth of your good dinner today, it will taste much better if you will remember some one who is possibly not so fortunate as yourself. There are many people whose paths do not go in places of plenty, and they will appreciate a substantial dinner from you.

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP,
LEGROY & TINNEY, Proprietors.
Blacksmithing and General Repairing. Horse Shoeing a Specialty.
Special attention given to horses with deformed feet. Try us and be convinced.

BIRMINGHAM
Title and Guaranty Co.
Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.
J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.
W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr., Columbiana: Ala

FATAL WRECK ON SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Engineer Hutchins is Instantly Killed in Collision.

A wreck occurred on the Southern last Thursday morning, two miles west of Columbiana, in which engineer Frank V. Hutchins, of Selma, was instantly killed. The engine which Mr. Hutchins had charge of was pulling freight train No. 72, in charge of Conductor McDonough. Just after crossing the Waxahatchie bridge the engine of this train broke down and engineer Hutchins had gone underneath it in an effort to remedy the break. While under the engine at work the local freight came around the curve, running about thirty miles an hour, and engineer Pierce had barely time to jump when his train dashed into the caboose of the train ahead. The collision shoved the standing train ahead and the wheels of the dead engine passed over engineer Hutchins, crushing the life out of him, and mauling his body in a horrible manner. Aside from a few bruises sustained by a brakeman and fireman of the rear train no one else was injured.

Conductor McDonough says that when the engine of his train broke down he sent his flagman back to guard the rear, knowing that the local was following his train, but engineer Pierce says he saw no flagman, and as he came around the sharp curve saw the standing train little more than fifty yards away. He threw his lever to reverse and then jumped, and although somewhat bruised saved his life. We have heard of no explanation made by the flagman who had been sent to the rear by conductor McDonough. Some three or four cars were crushed like so much paper, while others were completely telescoped. The remains of engineer Hutchins were taken to Selma on the afternoon passenger train. He was one of the oldest and most popular employees of the Southern and had been running on this division for about fifteen years. He was a member of Selma Lodge, No. 157, B.P.O. Elks, and an Odd Fellow, and was a prominent member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. He leaves a widow and five children, four sons and one daughter, all grown.

Passenger trains 15 and 16 used the L. & N. track between Calera and Columbiana, by the way of Shelby, as it was late in the night before the track, where the collision occurred, was gotten clear.

J. E. Adams, of Weldon, was in the city Monday, and while here paid The Sentinel a pleasant call. In speaking of the public roads Mr. Adams said the roads out in his section of the county are in a worse condition than he has ever seen them—many places parties driving a team have to leave the roads to get by.

Dr. W. C. Williams, of Shelby, was in town Monday morning. Miss Rosser Christian returned home with him to attend the Bice-Glenn wedding.

H. S. Latham, of Montevallo, accompanied by a little granddaughter, Kathryn West, of Birmingham, were in the city Sunday and Monday visiting relatives.

GIGANTIC Removal Sale.

Columbiana Mercantile Company's $50,000 stock has been placed in the hands of the American Salvage Company to be sold in ten days' time, beginning on Wednesday, November 22nd, at 9 a. m., sharp.

THE $50,000 STOCK OF THE COLUMBIANA MERCANTILE CO.

Has been placed in the hands of the American Salvage Co., to be sold in ten days' time. The doors are closed Monday and Tuesday, and will not open until Wednesday, November 22, at 9 o'clock, sharp.

Columbiana's largest, best and most dependable stock at the mercy of the people for ten days, beginning Wednesday, November 22nd, at 9 a. m., sharp.

A sale without a parallel in the memory of man or woman. $50,000 worth of dependable Dry Goods, Clothing, Shoes, Groceries and Hardware must be sold in ten days' time regardless of the cost of the raw material.

IT'S MARVELOUS. We challenge competition here and everywhere to produce such matchless bargains to equal the offerings of this occasion. This challenge will never be met—all prices we quote for this marvelous sale are BELOW FACTORY COST—nothing reserved—our entire stock of clean, up-to-date, stylish merchandise is at your mercy for ten days, beginning Wednesday, November 22nd.

It will pay you to come A HUNDRED MILES to attend this sale for you will be able to dress up your whole family for what it usually costs to dress up one. Meet your friends—thousands will be there from far and wide to reap the fruits of the greatest sacrificing sale of the age.

The American Salvage Company Shows no Mercy to Cost Prices.

No matter how much you may expect, no matter how cheap these standard goods appear in print, the values you will find will be greater. Use good common sense with which nature endowed you. Come and see with your own eyes and be convinced.

The American Salvage Co. guarantees every statement herein made to be bona fide and just as represented. Thousands upon thousands of dollars will be lost by this firm, but, the stock must be sold in TEN DAYS, beginning WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, AT 9 O'CLOCK.

Ladies Ready-to-Wear Dept. Involving thousands upon thousands of dollars' worth of dependable, up-to-the-hour styles for women. 100 ladies' skirts in all colors and styles for dress or walking purposes, beautifully plaited in latest way, regular values up to $8.00. Sale price..... 3.48 Another lot of elegant skirts in various shades that can't be bought in all this land under $4.00 each. Sacrifice Price..... 1.63 150 ladies' skirts, regular values up to $3, in blues, grays and blacks as long as they last, Sacrificing Price..... 1.28 50 ladies' new style cravenette, in all colors, worth $12.50, in this Sale..... 6.48 One lot of strictly swell ladies' long coat jackets, regular values up to $15. Sale Price..... 8.98 Over 50 long coat jackets, in light shades, strictly swell, worth $12.50, in this Sale..... 6.98 One lot of light blue Kersey jackets formerly sold at $5.00. Sacrifice Price..... 2.48 250 very swell jackets in a grand assortment at $1.68, $1.98, 2.98, and $3.58. 50 children's box coats and roofers, worth $2.50, Sacrificing Price..... 1.18 One big lot of misses' jackets, regular values up to $6.00, Sale Price..... 2.48 And hundreds of others in proportion.	119 pairs fine dress worsted pants, cut the latest way, made of imported fabrics, regular values up to $5 American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 2.48 Sensational Sale of Boys' Knee Suits and Pants. One big lot of boys' knee pants all sizes, regular values 50c, Sale Price..... 23c One lot boys' nice knee suits, made of good chevot, regular values up to $1.75, Sale Price..... 97c 212 boys' suits, made of splendid quality fabrics, strongly sewed, all ages from 4 to 16 years, regular values $2.50, Sale Price..... 1.39 115 boys' extra fine quality knee suits, handsome range of patterns, regular values up to $5, Sale Prices..... 2.49 Men's Furnishing Goods at Sensational Prices Lowest prices ever quoted in the State of Alabama. 200 dozen men's fine white and colored bordered handkerchiefs, always sell at 10c each, Sale Price..... 4c 150 dozen men's handkerchiefs, actually worth 21½c, Sale Price..... 5c 200 dozen boys' suspenders, Sale Price..... 3c Men's suspenders, worth 15c, Sale Price..... 9c Men's suspenders, worth 25c, Sale Price..... 19c Men's Givot suspenders, sell round the world 25c, Sale Price..... 15c 65 dozen men's heavy undershirts and drawers, sell for 50c, Sale Price..... 24c 100 dozen men's percale and madras shirts, worth 75c, go in this Sale at..... 39c Sensational Sale of Men's Hats One great lot of strictly up-to-date felt hats in nice shapes that you will pay anywhere else $2 for, Sale Price..... 98c Our entire line of elegant Knoxall hats, in all shades and shapes, which are the standard the world over at $2, $2.50 and 3, Sale Price..... 1.68 SHOES! SHOES!! For men and women and children at less than factory cost. The American Salvage Co. has cut to the bottom in this department. 225 pairs of ladies' nice Sunday shoes, several different sizes, regular values 1.50, Sale Price..... 97c 350 pairs ladies' elegant quality vici kid shoes, regular values up to 2.00 a pair, Sale Price..... 1.23	300 pairs of extra fine hand turned ladies' shoes, made of best grade vici and patent kid, regular values 2.50 and 3.00 a pair, Sale Price..... 1.58 200 pairs standard made shoes, regular values up to 3.50 Sale Price..... 1.98 300 pairs ladies' shoes, America's strictly ultra styles, regular price 4.00, Sale Price..... 2.79 200 pairs Hill City brogans, worth 1.25 a pair, Sale Price..... 96c 250 pairs of men's satin calf shoes, regular values 2.00 Sale Price..... 1.29 250 pairs of men's elegant high grade shoes, regular values 2.00 Sale Price..... 1.98 250 pairs of sample shoes, ranging in values up to 3.00, in this great Sale..... 1.23 Dress Goods In All the Wanted Styles at Sensational Prices Double width worsted in all colors, worth 25c per yard, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 12c 50 pieces cassimere, in all colors, worth 35c per yard, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 19c 25 pieces voiles and panama cloth, values up to 85c per yard, American Salvage Co's Sale Price..... 47c 25 pieces cotton panama cloth, something new, worth 25c per yd., American Salvage Co's Price..... 12c Sensational Sale of Outings 100 pieces of outing in all colors, sells everywhere at 6c per yard, Sale Price..... 3c 50 pieces fleecy flannelotte in all colors, worth wholesale 10c per yard, Sale Price..... 6c 100 pieces of the very heaviest and best outings made, sold for 12½c, Sale Price, a yard..... 8c Table Linens and Towels at Sensational Prices One lot of towels, worth 10c, Go at..... 4c One lot of splendid huck towels, worth 20c, Go at..... 10c 25 pieces of toweling, best grade, in this Sale, per yard..... 4c Turkey red and unbleached damask, regularly at 40c per yard, selling Sale Price..... 21c 68-inch bleached damask, worth 60c per yard, Sacrifice Sale..... 37c 72-inch bleached satin damask, worth $1.00, per yard, beautiful quality, Sacrifice Price..... 59c Sensational Hosiery Prices. 200 dozen pairs men's and women's hose, in blacks and grays, worth 10c a pair, Sale Price..... 4c	100 dozen women's and misses' hose, worth 15c a pair, Sale Price..... 7c 160 dozen men's black, tan and fancy hose, worth 20c a pair, Sale Price..... 9c 150 dozen ladies' and men's elegant quality imported hose, black and fancy shades, regular values 35c a pair, Sale Price..... 18c Ladies' and Children's Underwear at Sensational Prices 65 dozen ladies' heavy fleecy lined, ribbed vests and pants, worth 40c, This Sale..... 21c 10 dozen ladies' union suits, worth 44 75c, This Sale..... 27c Children's union suits, worth 50c, This Sale..... 27c Embroideries and Laces at Ridiculous Prices 3,000 yards of Embroideries worth 3c, Sale Price..... 7c 5,000 yards of embroideries, worth 12½c, dainty patterns, good widths, Sale Prices..... 7c One good lot of extra wide embroideries, cambric or swiss, regular values 25c per yard, Sale Price, 12½c per yard..... 12c 5,000 yards of torchon or val. laces, worth 10c, Sale Price, per yd. 5c Staple Department at Absolute Loss 20,000 yards of standard dress calicoes, in indigo blues, silver grays, and turkey reds, positively worth 7c 41 per yard, Sale Price..... 4c 1,000 yards of nice, soft bleaching, Sale Price..... 5c 2,000 yards of 36-inch standard brand bleaching, sells at 10c per yard, 1 This Sale, per yard..... 6c 20,000 yards of standard ginghams, worth 7½c, per yard, Sale Price..... 5c 25 pieces of cotton flannel, worth 8c per yard, Sale Price..... 6c 35 pieces of the very heaviest grade of cotton flannel, regular values up to 12c per yard, Sale Price per yd. 8 Good 10c values in mattress ticking, 61 Sale Price..... 6c 20 pieces of good feather ticking, 10 worth 15c, Sale Price..... 10c 50 pieces of good, heavy cotton checks, worth 10c, This Sale, per yard..... 6c Notion Department. Lowest Prices in History of Merchandising Standard grade spool cotton, per spool..... 2c Hooks and eyes, black and white, worth 5c, go at..... 2c	Paper of pins, go in this Sale..... 1c Best brass pins, worth 5c, Sale Price..... 3c Pearl shirt and dress buttons, all sizes, worth 10c, This Sale..... 4c One big lot of feather stitched braids worth 10c, This Sale..... 3c 200 dozen ladies' handkerchiefs worth 5c, This Sale..... 2c One lot of ladies' belts, worth 35c, This Sale..... 10c Sensational Sale of Mattings in Colors. 25 rolls of mattings that always sell at 18c per yd., Sale Price..... 11c Another lot, selling regularly up to 35c per yard, Sacrifice Price..... 22c Sensational Sale of Furniture. 50 oak beds, regular values 3.00 and 4.00, Sale Price..... 2.18 25 oak beds, nicely carved, splendid quality at 5.00, Sale Price..... 2.98 A limited lot of golden oak bed-room suits, worth 25.00, This Sale..... 14.98 A limited lot of dressers, regular values up to 10.00 Sale Price..... 5.68 One lot of best folding bed springs, worth 2.00, Sale Price..... 1.58 All other kinds of furniture too numerous to mention, reduced proportionately. Buggies to be Sacrificed by the American Salvage Company Splendid run-about buggies, worth $42.50, Sale Price..... 28.48 Another lot of nice top buggies, standard values at $55.00 Sale Price..... 44.48 Rock Hill buggies, standard the world over at $70.00, Sale Price..... 57.48 Studebaker's wagons at the lowest prices ever heard of in this section. Sensational Grocery Prices One full lb. package of soda, 32c One full lb. package of Arm & Hammer soda, Sacrificing Price..... 42c Briton snuff, Hot Scotch and Garnett, 10c size, in This Sale per box..... 7c Arluckle & Co's best coffee, in This Sale..... 13c	25 pounds best Y C sugar $1 18 pounds of standard granulated sugar at $1 1,000 pounds of good green coffee, to go in This Sale at per lb. 10c Grapevine mint, worth 50c per lb. in this Sale..... 33c And thousands of other kinds of groceries to go likewise. Sensational Sale of Comforts and Blankets. 75c and 85c blankets and comforts, Sale Price..... 49c 125 blankets, worth 1.50, Sale Price..... 89c 50 splendid heavy comfort and blankets, white and gray, worth 2.00, Sale Price..... 1.39 100 fine wool blankets, worth 4.00 and 4.50 Sale Price..... 2.79 Sensational Sale of Rugs. 200 rugs that always sell at 1.25, nice new patterns, Sale Price..... 58c 68 rugs, splendid quality, beautiful design, regular values up to Sacrifice Price..... 84c Extra large, handsome Axminster rugs, regular values up to 7.00, Sale Price..... 3.78 SENSATIONAL SALE OF RIBBON AND MILLINERY. No. 5 all satin ribbons, sell at 6c per yard, Sale Price..... 3c Regular 7½c quality silk ribbon, Sale Price..... 4c Regular 12½c quality of silk and satin ribbons, good widths, Sale Price..... 7c 200 ladies' walking and trimmed hats, regular values up to $1.50, Sale Price..... 69c 200 strictly swell ladies' trimmed hats, regular values up to $4.00, Sale Price..... 1.95 100 dozen ladies' handkerchiefs, worth 10c, Sale Price..... 4c 100 dozen ladies' embroidered handkerchiefs, worth 15c, Sale Price..... 7c 150 dozen ladies' embroidered handkerchiefs, handsome quality, worth 25c, Sale Price..... 12c
---	--	---	--	---	--

Mark the date,
and mark it well.
Let nothing
keep you away.

All goods to be just as represented, all purchases made during this sale not proving satisfactory, will be exchanged or money refunded. This stock must be closed out in ten days time, therefore the purchasing power of your money is doubled at

Columbiana Mercantile Company's Store,
Columbiana, Alabama.

Beginning Wednesday, Nov. 22, at 9 a. m., under the auspices of the American Salvage Company.

The American Salvage Company has complete charge of this sale and must close out this stock in Ten Days' time, beginning on Wednesday, November 22nd, at 9 o'clock, sharp. Remember the date.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 14.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

FROM NASHVILLE TO PENSACOLA.

Another Great Railroad Soon to Cross Alabama.

COLUMBIANA SHOULD BE

At Once Interested in this Road and Try to Get it to Come Through This Town.

Huntsville, Nov. 29.—Satisfactory progress is being made by the special committee of business men in taking subscriptions to the capital stock of the Nashville and Huntsville Railroad. Huntsville and Madison County were called on for $100,000 in subscriptions and the greater part of this amount is now in sight. President J. H. Conner of the Nashville and Huntsville, states that there is now no longer any doubt that the new line will be built from Nashville to Huntsville, Birmingham and Pensacola.

The enterprise has the backing of some of the strongest financial institutions in the country. The new road will be a great thing for Huntsville, as it will bring the city in close touch with the mineral section of the State and start an industrial boom at once, at the same time furnishing an outlet for the farm products grown in this rich section.

The above telegraphic dispatch should be of peculiar interest to Columbiana and her people, and doubtless will be.

The contract to build this road from Nashville to Huntsville has already been made, and work is to begin in the early spring on the grading. Our readers can see, by reading the above, what great interest Huntsville is taking in this road, and the great need to Columbiana of a direct route both north and south should awaken our people to the opportunity that may present itself in the above road to give us better railroad facilities than we have at present. Columbiana is easily on the line of this road from Birmingham to Pensacola, and the matter should at once be investigated, and if possible, learn what requirements would be asked of us to secure it to Columbiana.

The Sentinel would suggest that a meeting of the Commercial Club be called at once, and a committee appointed to investigate—get into correspondence with the promoters of this road, and if possible get an audience with them for a conference.

With a new railroad Columbiana's growth would be marvelous—nothing could prevent it becoming one of the best towns in central Alabama, and The Sentinel believes that the quicker we act the better our chances are of getting this road, as other towns have already commenced pulling the strings, and we should not sleep on our rights. Make a try for it anyhow.

The lid was off at Bradford, Pa., a few days ago, and $10,000 gallons of booze were consumed in a distillery fire. Now don't say "good", for the same concern has over two million gallons left, and the insurance people will probably get even by pushing up the rates down South.

Everybody favors economy in public affairs, but when a newspaper calls attention to these things, it must prepare to fight, and fight alone.

So much money is being sent to the persecuted Jews in Russia that soon they should be able to buy out the Czar and kick him in to the sea.

There is so much trouble in the world that yours is of the tea, twenty and thirty cent kind.

They Are! They Are!

The railroad advocates are awfully anxious to make believe that Comer is trying to dictate to the voters of the state as to who they shall vote for. Of course, Comer has not done or said anything tending to show that he wants to dictate. That is simply a play on the part of the corporation representatives to try and work up prejudice in the minds of the people against Comer. It won't work, however. The people are thinking and reading some, too, as well as the corporation representatives.—Opelika News.

True, Mr. Comer has not mentioned the candidates for the legislature and state officers by name, but he has as effectually dictated these as if he had done so. He has, without equivocation, told the people just what they must do—give him a Comer legislature and state officers in sympathy "with the cause." The only objection to the last work in quotation is that he doesn't spell it correctly. It should be "caws." But the news is entirely right about the people reading and thinking. Yes, they are, and in this is the surest hope of sending Mr. Comer to minding his own private business. The people reading? They are! they are! They are reading The Reaper and learning things.—Geneva Reaper.

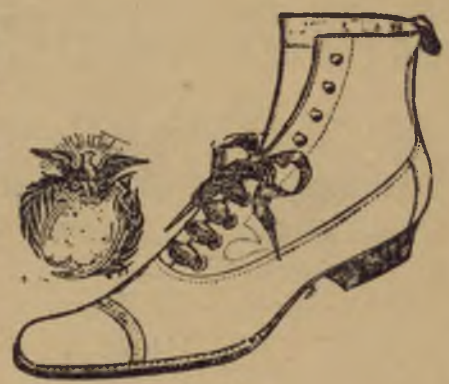

Right You Are.

The Sentinel says Columbiana is drawing trade this year from territory that never before contributed anything to the business of that town, and attributes such a good condition of affairs to the advertising campaign conducted by the Columbiana Commercial Club.—Talladega Mountain Home

Business men have told us that trade has come to Columbiana this fall that never came here before, and say also that this new trade has said that the advertisement of the Columbiana Commercial Club was one of the reasons that induced it to come here. A judicious use of printer's ink is not money thrown away, and why some men endeavor to do business with the public without advertising is unexplainable.

It has been demonstrated many times in many places that the yield of any of our field crops can be doubled and trebled by thorough culture, liberal fertilization and careful selection of seed. Why is this not done? Every farmer, whether landlord or tenant, can do it and thereby make farming pay without additional labor or increase of cost. It is time every farmer in Alabama should do away for once and all with loose, slipshod, extensive farming and come down to improving the fertility of his lands, diversify and rotate his crops and adopt the intensive system. This suggestion, followed by every farmer in the state, would place Alabama foremost of all her sister commonwealths in agricultural wealth and production. Let the farmer's institute an agricultural club of the state, set the ball in motion, and begin it now. Once in operation, like revolutions, it would go ever forward.—Florence Times.

A girl has out-of-school duties to her father as well as her mother. Father toils early and late. Some of them get little good of their home excepting Sunday, that blessed rest day which comes once a week to give freedom from business and opportunity not only for the worship of God, but for loving companionship in the household. When your father comes in at night fagged and weary with the long day, his heart warm and his face lights up with a smile if his daughter is ready to welcome him, to give him the easiest chair and to entertain him with her story of the day.

WORN FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

Top
Notch,
Scalper,
Vindicator.

A new stock of the
FAMOUS SELZ SHOES.

has just been received by us.

The Shoe with a world wide reputation.

A Shoe which never fails to make the feet glad.

Guaranteed to be as Represented.

There's no Better. They are Best.

We would
also remind you that
O O O O O O O O O O O

Our Grocery Stock

is new and fresh

And contains
nothing but the very
O O O O O O O O O O O

Best in That Line.

Farmers

Get Your Seed Oats

At our
Store

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY,

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,
Contractor = and = Builder,
Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 44,756 71	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts.....	484 65	Undivided profits, less current ex-
Banking house.....	5,000 00	penses and taxes paid.....	2,578 66
Furniture and fixtures.....	2,000 00	Individual deposits subject to
Other real estate.....	3,000 00	check.....	39,531 25
Due from banks and bankers in		Savings deposits.....	918 81
this State.....	12,727 61	Interest bearing deposits.....	1,350 00
Due from banks and bankers in		Cashier's checks.....	84 69
other States.....	5,035 47	Notes and bills rediscounted.....	14,298 25
Currency.....	6,101 00	Checks payable.....	8,500 00
Gold.....	2,045 00
Silver, nickels and pennies.....	1,508 80
Checks and cash items.....	4,490 38
Total.....	$ 87,250 66	Total.....	$ 87,250 66

STATE OF ALABAMA,) Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings County of Shelby,) Bank who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.
W. L. FARLEY, Cashier.
Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest:)
W. B. Browne,) Directors,
J. T. Leeper.) W. W. WALLACE, Notary Public.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor
W. L. Farley, Clerk
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, E. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Thursday nights. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duglison, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 140, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abercrombie, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF Pythias, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. A. P. Longshore, C. C. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, - - - Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,
Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,
Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,
Attorney and
Counsellor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, - - - ALA.
Office at residence near L. & N. Depot. Phons No. 47.

The Delineator for December.

For colorwork, presswork and general beauty and usefulness, the December Delineator is conspicuous among the Christmas magazines. Eight paintings by J. C. Deyendecker, illustrating and interpreting the 23d Psalm, is the most extensive color feature of the number, but a painting by Alphonse Mocha, accompanying a poem "The mother of Bartimeus", by Theodosia Garrison, is fully as notable, an art work. The short fiction of the number comprises stories by Hamlin, Garland, John Luther Long, Gilbert Parker, and Alice Brown. The opening chapters of a new serial—a woman's club story—"President of Quex," are given; it is said to be in the nature of a reply to "The Evolution of a Club Woman" which created great interest in the magazine last year. There is also the continuation of "At Spinster Farm," article on Brass and Copper Utensils in "The Collector's Manual" and the Child at Play in "The Rights of the Child." A series of illustrated papers under the title, "Some Heroines of Shakespeare—by their Impersonator," also begins in this number with Elenor Robson on Juliet.

In sinking a deep well, near Anniston recently, a strata or vein of black onyx was gone through. Samples were sent both to New York and Baltimore and pronounced to be very fine by experts, worth $5 per cubic foot. Large moneyed interests are investigating the property quietly, and if as represented a company will be formed to mine and polish it.

Nan Patterson has gone to Port Rico with her husband where they will operate a hotel.

Did you ever notice that when your judgement gets in its work, it is too late to do what you say it would?

Russia and insurance are making the telegraph as dull lately as a congressional report, and that is putting it pretty strong.

The pictures of "Sleeping Beauty" in the fairy tales will have to be printed over, for according to the fashion magazines she is now wearing pajamas.

It is wiser to place your business before your pleasure, or the result may be that you will have no business and in the end no means for pleasure.

When a patent medicine won't sell any other way, the manufacturer says it is good for men, and prints testimonials from women who use it on some "loved one," but who has since passed away.

Six Republican members of the committee met in Washington a few days ago, when it developed that they were not of one mind on freight rate control. Some of them will join the Democrats, and others will report in line with Roosevelt's ideas.

Can you blame him when his job depends in it? Chairman Shonts, of the Panama canal commission, delivered an address in Washington recently, in which he predicted that the work would be successful, and that "the prospects are brighter now than ever before."

Loveman, Joseph & Loeb. Loveman, Joseph & Loeb.

We Want Your Mail Orders.

An experienced shopper will fill them—quickly and intelligently. Our up-to-date Mail order system places all the resources of this great store right at your door. Take advantage of it to do your Christmas shopping.

Reduction Sale of Fine Suits & Coats

A Red Letter Sale that includes every long coat suit in our magnificent stock, with special prices on some of the leading models of the season.

$67.50 and $60 suits reduced to... $47.50
$50 and $55 suits reduced to... 35.00
$40 suits reduced to... 29.95
$35 suits reduced to... 24.95
$30 suits reduced to... 19.95
$20 suits reduced to... 14.95

The materials are all the choicest chevots, broadcloths, venetians, worsteds, etc. Every fashionable color included—plum, black, Alice blue, navy, gray and checks and mixtures.

The coats are from 32 to 60 inches long, single and double breasted, made in the latest style with all the hall-marks of elegance that characterizes the Loveman, Joseph & Loeb garments.

We have not selected a few of the unsaleable garments; instead every long coat suit in stock is reduced and the price cuts are deep, too.

Women's Waists Underpriced

Included in this great reduction sale are some of the choicest waists in our magnificent stock.

Tulle silk waists worth $7 at... $4.95
Tulle silk waists worth $5 at... 3.95
Tulle silk evening waists worth $14 at... 11.95
Nun's Velling waists worth $12 at... 9.95
Nun's Velling waists worth $11 at... 8.75
Nun's Velling waists worth $8 at... 5.95

Loveman, Joseph & Loeb

BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA.

The Talladega Mountain Home announces Hon. John A. Rogers, of Sumter, as candidate for associate railroad commissioner. Mr. Rogers seems to be in favor of giving the commission power to correct abuse, to prevent discrimination against one town in favor of another, to prevent harassing delay in the settlement of claims, and to secure for Alabama as good rates as are enjoyed by her surrounding sister states.

A little strange that Comer agitators are clamoring for an early primary. Nor so strange, either, when it is becoming more apparent that the people are thinking, and because they are thinking each succeeding day lessens the chances—if he ever had any—of Mr. Comer's nomination.

During the past week a severe storm has been raging on the great lakes accompanied by considerable loss of life and property.

It is wiser to place your business before your pleasure, or the result may be that you will have no business and in the end no means for pleasure.

Death of a Good Woman.

Mrs. Mary S. Strickland, mother of A. W. Strickland of this city died in Centerville last Saturday, and was buried in Columbiana Sunday afternoon, Rev. H. M. Millstead conducting the services at the cemetery.

Mary Sophronia Strickland was born in Tennessee in 1823, where she grew to womanhood and was married to Jas. H. Strickland. To them was born ten children, five of whom are living—four sons and one daughter. In 1875, with her husband, she came to Shelby county. Since the death of Mr. Strickland in 1899 the deceased had divided her time among her children in this county and a daughter in Bibb county. When quite young she embraced christianity and united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church, and was faithful to her God and her church up to the time of her death.

The children who survive her are A. W. Strickland of Columbiana, E. S. Strickland of Brookwood, Tusculosa county, Mrs. N. A. Oglesby of Centerville, S. B. Strickland near Montevallo, and Jas. N. Strickland who lives on Yellow Leaf. To these and other relatives is extended the deep sympathy of our people.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to return sincere thanks to my many friends and neighbors of Vincent for the many acts of kindness, and expressions of sympathy extended me during my wife's illness and death, and in this time of sore bereavement what human help and sympathy can do has been done for me most lavishly, and I pray God's blessing upon every heart that bears this sorrow with me.

Very truly,

Vincent, Ala. Hugh L. Campbell.

Best Liniment on earth.

Henry D. Balwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis. writes, "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Ballard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

Glory of the Immortal Life.

Is a wonderful work, and will commend itself to all who are interested in a candid discussion of the great question of life—"If a man die, shall he live again?" It is beautifully written, and the tone of the book is the highest and in such a perfectly Biblical manner with such sweetness and choice language, it answers the great question of the soul, that in reading it one cannot but feel inspired to a higher and holier life. It clearly proves the reality of a future life, and vividly portrays the glories of that eternal home for which Jesus aids us to prepare. And as a channel of consolation for the bereaved and sorrowing. It is a work of pure merit.

The beautiful half-tone engravings, the faces of Christ, of the Disciples, and all others portrayed, possess a charm of attraction which is readily felt and admired by all who study of them. At the close of the work is a new method for the study of the Old Testament history and is of great value to those who desire in an easy manner to become familiar with the various subjects of which it treats. It is invaluable to the home—many thousands finding it uplifting in private reading and helpful when called to comfort those who mourn the loss of loved ones. It cannot fail to do good in the home.

This work can be ordered from the agent, F. A. Tonnant, or at the law office of J. L. Peters.

HIS NARROW ESCAPE.

The late Denis J. Swenio, for many years chief of the Chicago fire department, was known over all the United States as one of the most successful of fire fighters. He never asked his men to take any risks that he was not willing to take himself, and he was covered with the scars of wounds received in the performance of his duty.

A fierce fire broke out in the downtown district one day, and, as usual, he was one of the first to appear on the scene. It was a stubborn blaze, and while the firemen were fighting it from a point of vantage there was an explosion that blew the chief and several of his men out through an open doorway. A moment later the roof fell in. The chief picked himself up from the sidewalk. Half his hair was singed off, his face was blackened and covered with scratches and bruises, both hands were bleeding, and he limped as he hunted for his helmet.

"Boys," he said, "we got away from there just in time. If we had stayed in that room a second longer we might have got hurt."

The Word "Stunt" Gaining Caste.

The word "stunt," as meaning a specific task or performance, is making very rapid progress toward respectability and good standing in the language. But a few years ago it was seen in print only in the sporting columns of newspapers, and then always in quotation marks. Now it has broken into Harper's Magazine and even the Atlantic Monthly, though in the latter case with an explanation which seems to read into it a meaning that does not really belong to it. Already nearly everybody drops it from the tongue without even the hint of an apology, and it seems in a fair way very soon to take a permanent and undisputed place in all the dictionaries. Those who are fastidious in the matter of language may lament and protest, but their lamentations and protests in similar previous cases have had little effect. The English language is growing all the time, and sometimes, like the most carefully trained rosbush, for example, it asserts an irrepressible tendency to grow a little wild.—Providence Journal.

Even Mansfield Smiled.

Richard Mansfield is a stickler for every little point in the presentation of his plays, yet now and then the unexpected happens in such a way as to provoke a smile from one who is not considered the most humorous of actors. In the final scene of "A Parisian Romance" Mansfield as Baron Chevalier falls dead at supper amid the talking and music. The doctor in the play calls out: "Stop the music! The baron is dead!" and the curtain falls.

On one occasion Mansfield was playing a one night stand in a small country town where the music of the local orchestra was atrocious. At the supper scene Mansfield fell dead as usual, but the actor who was playing the part of the doctor cried out:

"Stop the music! It has killed the baron!"

Even Mansfield smiled.

Marion Harland's Age.

Marion Harland (Mrs. Edward Payson Terhune) is credited by cyclopedias with seventy-two years of age and nearly forty titles of books. She concedes the latter, but of the former she says: "Why will my friends (and cyclopedias) persist in making a septuagenarian of a woman who never means to rise sixty? When I tell you that I went to a dinner party last night, arose this morning at 7 and have a 'first mail' of 142 letters; that I go this afternoon to a club tea and afterward to another dinner; that I walk two and three miles daily and can read the daily papers without glasses, you will see how amiable I am in forgetting that 'seventy-two years of age.'" Mrs. Terhune has recently prepared and delivered a new lecture, with the happy title, "Looking Westward: the Fine Art of Growing Old."

The Chinaman's English.

A Philadelphia man who has a Chinese cook is reported by the Philadelphia Press as much puzzled by the "pidgin" English used by the Celestial. "He says 'top-side' for upstairs and 'no hab got' for 'I have not' or 'they are not,' and 'one piece' for a single individual, and all sorts of other funny things," explained the employer. "For instance, the other day I got home and told him to go upstairs and tell my two daughters I wanted to talk to them. This was the answer he gave me when he came down: 'Two piecee gail topside no hab got; one piecee gail drivee; one piecee gail walkee-walkee.' From which I eventually made out that neither of my daughters was at home, one being out driving, the other out walking—but he's a great cook anyhow."

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

TO THE PUBLIC!

WE have purchased J. H. Abercrombie & Son's store building and stock of goods and as the stock is large we are going to reduce it. There will be a great reduction in prices, and you will save yourself money by coming to see us.

LOW PRICES PREVAIL.

We are now overstocked in Tobaccos and a special reduction price will prevail on this line until the stock is reduced. This opportunity will hardly present itself again.

WATCH FOR IT!

Look out for our big Furniture advertisement; something sensational in both goods and prices. Anything you want that we have not in stock, we will make a specialty in ordering for you. We guarantee goods to be as represented. Give us first call and you will save money. Uniform treatment to all.

Milner & Christian.

Caughing Spell Caused Death.

Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1st, 1901.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25, 50c and $1.00.—Sold by William Bros.

WANTED.—Two or three good men owning horse and buggy to engage in a business paying from five to eight dollars profit daily. Work limited to Shelby and Bibb counties, the writer having purchased Patent Rights for these two counties. For particulars, address, inclosing information concerning past and present employment, Lock Box 46, Aldrich, Ala.

Remarkable Curer.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed. C. Nud, Iowaville, Sedwick Co., Kan., going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me.

I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm sold by William Bros.

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

Lester Pianos.

Ivers and Pond Pianos.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

It will only cost you two cents to get out prices on Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines and small musical instruments. As we employ no agents, and sell direct from the factory, we can save you at least 25 per cent and all goods can be examined before paid for.

First class, reliable pianos sold at $25 cash and monthly payments of $10. Organs $10 cash and $5 per month. New Drop Head Sewing Machines $18 cash, f. o. b. Talladega. Also talking machines and records.

J. S. Lavery & Son.

STORES AT

Talladega, Ala.,

Pianos and Organs Tuned and Repaired,

Radle Pianos,

Gadsden, Ala.,

Pianos and Organs Tuned and Repaired,

Crown Organs.

Administrator's Settlement.

State of Alabama, Probate Court, Shelby County, 5th day of Dec. 1905. Estate of John W. Nash, deceased. This day came Wesley Ozley, Administrator of the estate of John W. Nash, deceased, and filed his account, vouchers, expenses and statement for a final settlement of the same, as an insolvent estate. It is ordered that the 1st day of January, 1906, be appointed a day for making such settlement at which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same (they claim proper) and that notice of this order be given by publication in the Columbia Sentinel for three successive weeks.

A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

Nan Patterson has gone to Porto Rico with her husband where they will operate a hotel.

Non-Resident Notice.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of W. B. Browne that the defendant Annie Tyson, is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and that she resides at Woodstock, in the State of Georgia, and further, that in the belief of said plaintiff, the defendant is over the age of twenty-one years. It is therefore ordered, by the Register, that publication be made in the Columbia Sentinel, a newspaper published in the county of Shelby, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Annie Tyson, to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 7th day of January, A. D. 1906, or in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against her. Done at office in Columbiana, Ala., this 7th day of December, A. D. 1905. J. R. WHITE, Register.

Hamner Grocery Company,

(Successors to Roberts & Robertson.)

Will fill your orders for anything in

Staple and Fancy Groceries

All the Celebrated Brands of Canned Goods

and Cereals

Always on Hand.

Christmas Goods

On hand in abundance at prices that will startle you. Presents suitable for all ages and classes.

REMEMBER

Your orders will receive prompt attention, will be filled to your satisfaction, and will be appreciated.

PHONE 20.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One year, in advance, $1.00
Six months, in advance, .60

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be, I tell it as 'twas told to me."

The town has been full of visitors for the past week.

Mayor W. B. Browne was a Birmingham visitor last Thursday.

W. T. Taylor of Wilsonville, was in town a few hours last Friday.

Max Lefkovits and Philip Erick were in Birmingham last Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Chas. Reynolds, of Jemison, was a visitor at the home of Dr. A. T. Rowe on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. W. A. Abercrombie has returned from a visit with friends and relatives in Birmingham.

Postmaster and Mrs. J. L. Abercrombie visited with friends in Wilsonville on Thanksgiving day.

Most of our merchants observed Thanksgiving by closing their places of business a portion of the day.

W. B. Browne and Max Lefkovits were in Birmingham last Wednesday and Thursday on business.

There was no school Thursday and Friday, and the student body enjoyed their short vacation very much.

Dr. C. T. Acker and Hon. J. T. Leeper were visitors to Montgomery last Saturday, to attend Masonic Grand Lodge.

Misses Carolyn and Dinnie Rowe went down to Jemison last Friday for a short visit with relatives, returning Sunday.

The Sentinel boys took a vacation Thanksgiving, but the old man had to remain at the wheel most of the day.

There were several hunting parties on Thanksgiving day, and the birds and squirrels were made to take to the woods.

Jas. N. Robertson visited with his brother Henry, who is attending the Marion Military Institute, on Thanksgiving day.

Rev. and Mrs. T. K. Roberts, of Oxford, were in the city over Thanksgiving, visiting relatives. Rev. Mr. Roberts has been returned by the Conference to Oxford for another year.

It's a wise turkey that put himself on short rations before Thanksgiving, for it grants him a lease on life a few days longer.

Mrs. S. V. McCauley departed Tuesday for Biloxi, Miss., where she goes to spend the winter with a sister, Mrs. Jack Elder.

Read the change in the advertisement of the City Drug Store in this issue. You will find a nice line of holiday goods there.

The thermometer fell from warm to freeze last Wednesday, without any apparent effort, and overcoats and wraps were in demand Thursday morning.

Columbiana people, and especially the Methodists, are gratified that Rev. G. T. Harris has been returned to this charge by the Conference for another year.

Mrs. W. S. Hyatt, of Talladega, visited her mother here a day or two last week, and then they went to Calera to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bowdon.

There was a continual downpour of rain last Saturday, and in the afternoon it became almost a flood, followed by a cold wave Sunday—really the first real touch of winter.

"You are giving us the best paper Shelby county ever had," writes a good woman of Harpersville to The Sentinel. Such encouraging words are liable to make our hat band tighten.

Columbiana people did well; more than a hundred dollars were raised for the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist orphanages at the Thanksgiving service held in the Presbyterian church.

Rev. Joseph Danglinson preached his first sermon last Sunday at the Presbyterian church after an illness of several months. A large congregation was present to greet the young pastor whom all love and admire.

Miss Annie Longshore, who is attending the Girls' Industrial School at Montevallo, was at home last Sunday for a short visit. She was accompanied by two of her class mates—Miss Brownie Poole and Miss Vandiver.

L. Gordon informs The Sentinel that he has been appointed agent to receive any contributions made in this place for the suffering and outraged Jews of Russia. He will receipt for all contributions, and be grateful for any that may be made.

Miss Maude Bell, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jno. J. Haynes, for the past weeks, was called to her home in Linville last Wednesday by a telegram announcing the serious illness of her mother and sister. Miss Bell made friends during her visit here.

Last Saturday was a most miserable day, but notwithstanding this fact the holiday opening of Latham & Bird was attended by a large number of visitors. The store was elaborately trimmed with holly, ferns and flowers, which entwined in and about the pretty display of holiday goods presented a beautiful scene. Owing to the downpour of rain throughout the entire day there were not as many ladies and children as would have been had the day been pleasant, yet quite a number braved the elements and added their presence to the cheer within despite the gloom without. Messrs. Latham & Bird are to be congratulated upon the beautiful display made.

L. B. Riddle, of the firm of Pennington, Riddle & Co., of Wilsonville, was the city last Wednesday and Thursday visiting relatives, while here he called at The Sentinel office to have some printing done announcing the closing out sale of his firm. From the circulars printed the people will have an opportunity to secure bargains at almost their own prices, and the sale will continue through the holidays if all goods are not sold before that time. The announcement is made that the sale will Monday morning, December 11th, and bargains hunters are invited to be present.

There was a reunion of the Roberts family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Roberts in this city on Thanksgiving day, and it was a joyful one. In the happy gathering were Rev. and Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. T. C. Roberts, of Oxford, J. R. White and family, A. M. Elliott and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Roberts and J. P. Roberts and family. A pretty feature of the reunion was the christening of J. P. Roberts' baby boy. It was a happy gathering and one long to be remembered by those who were present.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of the Hamner Grocery Company. The public will find the new management just as desirous of pleasing the public as was its predecessors, and The Sentinel bespeaks for the new firm a continuation of the patronage extended Messrs. Roberts & Robertson.

Rev. John Milner, who has charge of a church at Roswell, Ga., was in Columbiana several days last week visiting some folks. He returned to Roswell last Friday. The many friends of Rev. Mr. Milner will be glad to know that he is in better health than he has been in a long time.

Atkinson, Bird & Co. is the name of a new firm in town, and is composed of T. F. Atkinson, Geo. Bird, J. S. Bird and J. O. Dorrough, the last three named having purchased an interest in the establishment of T. F. Atkinson.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of J. S. Laverty & Son, dealers in musical instruments, Talladega. The Sentinel takes pleasure in recommending this firm to all who may wish for anything in their line.

There is a change in the advertisement of Denison & Dawson on fourth page of this issue, and the people around Montevallo will probably find it interesting.

Hon. B. S. Lyman, of Montevallo was in the city Monday and Tuesday on legal business. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call.

Cured Paralysis

W. F. Baily, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites and skin eruptions. It does the work—Sold by Williams Bros."

Mrs. J. S. Pitts is in Vincent, having been called there by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. McGraw.

Rufus Lester is in Montgomery attending the Grand Lodge of Masons.

Death of Dr. Nelson.

Our people were more than grieved to learn of the death of Dr. T. G. Nelson which occurred in Birmingham last Sunday. He was born and reared in Columbiana, and The Sentinel hopes next week to give a biographical sketch of his life, the data for which is not now at hand. He was beloved by all who knew him, and his death is deeply regretted.

He was buried in this city Monday afternoon, and the services, conducted by Rev. G. T. Harris and Rev. C. C. Heard, were largely attended by those who had known the deceased in his lifetime.

Mrs. Elizabeth King Shortridge

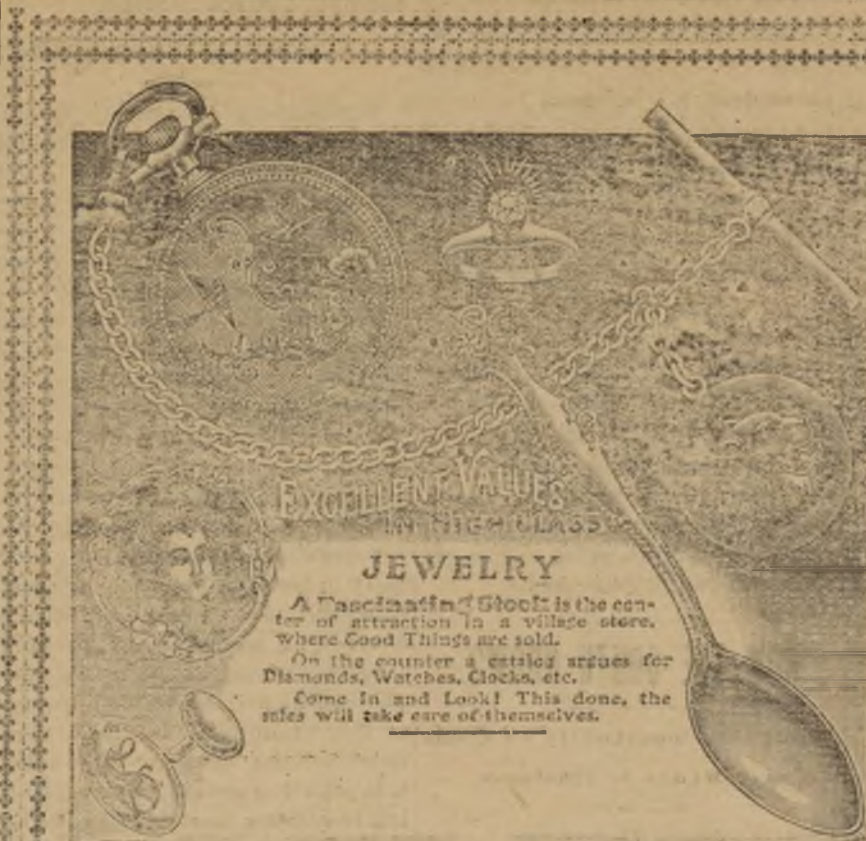

Born October 17, 1817, at Montevallo, Ala. Died November 23, 1905, at Austin, Texas.

The tidings of the passing away of this aged lady, in Texas, brings a sense of loss to the friends of her earlier years in Alabama. The history of her family is closely woven with that of her native town, from a very beginning as Wilson's Hill, Elizabeth King being the first white child born in this town. Her childhood, youth and married life here, add richly to that best heritage of any people; the imperishable riches embodied in the memory of noble lives. Her father, the late Edmund King, was one of the founders of the Montevallo Baptist church, which was indebted to him for the lot upon which stood the old brick church. He was one of the most extensive land owners the county ever had, and the frequency of his deeds of gift to churches in this community illumine the records of the county as memorials of his generosity. The records of this church make frequent mention of Mrs. Shortridge's brother, Rev. Shelby King, whose gifts in speaking of divine things, called forth resolution urging him to consecrate himself wholly to the work of a minister of the Gospel. Mrs. Shortridge united with this church in 1833; her husband, the late Judge Geo. D. Shortridge, being also a member of the same.

Of a large family reared in this home, in which were welcomed three nephews—Paul, Burwell and George Lewis, prominent Alabamians,—not one remains in Montevallo. One son, Col. W. W. Shortridge, of Ensley, Ala., and two daughters, Mrs. Lou Gaines, wife of the Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, and Mrs. Lelia Soderberry, of Jefferson, Texas, survive the beloved mother. Two sons, Eli and Frank, than whom the annals of the Confederacy furnish a no more notable example of daring and courage, she gave to the cause of the South. Frank was a member of Col. Jno. P. West's company, Second Alabama, Cavalry, and was killed in a skirmish near Atlanta, shortly before the fall of that place. Newton Edgings, now in Montevallo, and the late Hon. B. B. Lewis were among those detailed to enter lines of the enemy with a flag of truce, and learn the fate of their comrade. They were told, with many expressions of admiration by the Yankee captain, how Mr. Shortridge refused to surrender, fought to the death, and went down with sublime defiance, a victim to the cruel ethics of war, and led them to the grave where he had been buried with honors by his foes.

It is noticeable that Mrs. Shortridge's neighbors of the old Shelby home, in recalling her life here, make frequent references to the benevolence of her character. The writer said to one of them: "tell me some special incident of her kindness to the poor." The light of grateful memory shone in her face, as she answered: "I will tell you of her kindness to me." Then followed the story, so sadly common in our fair southland in the sixties; of the widowed mother trying to support the family with the needle. There was not sawing enough to keep both the mother and herself, the elder daughter, busy. With the opening of the cotton factory came an opportunity for work, and she obtained a position there. On meeting two of her young friends soon afterwards, one of them spoke as usual, making kind inquiry as to how she liked her work; the other passed with averted look, and without speaking. In a few days, Mrs. Shortridge, with a number of her aristocratic friends, visited the factory. Coming to the part of the room where she was at work, the stately lady placed an arm gently about her, stooped and kissed her, and spoke words of hearty approval of the step she had taken. In bringing the story to a close, she said: "I do not know, but I have always believed that this visit to the factory was for me; that Mrs. Shortridge had heard of the slight I had received, and planned the visit to show her friends how she proposed to treat the girl who dared to go out into the world to make a support for herself, rather than leave the burden entirely upon her mother. At any rate mother was reconciled to my position. After this, the girl who had passed me by in silence before, was as kind as others, and no lady in Montevallo refused to speak to me because I worked in the factory."

Perhaps this generation of working girls, who may take any suitable place in the industrial world, knowing that they have the respect of the best men and women in so doing, can never fully realize what they owe to those women of the "Old South," who surrendered the prejudices of generations, and, like Mrs. Shortridge, cheered the

A Beautiful
Line of Jewelry
For the Holidays.
We Suit You
in Anything
in that line.
Have You Seen
Our Holiday Stock?

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana, Ala.

caught with orange blossoms and carried bride's roses. The maid of honor wore a pretty costume of white crepe de chene over pink trimmed with acoline. Mrs. S. J. Harrell, matron of honor, wore gray crepe de chene trimmed with rose applique and carried white chrysanthemums. The flower girl, little Agnes Busby, of Ensley, wore pink silk tissue. The bridesmaids, Miss Rosser Christian, of Columbiana, Miss Ethel Glenn, of Blackburn, La., and Miss Lucie Wade, of Shelby, were gowned in white tissue with pink girdles and carried pink carnations. The ushers, Mr. Hick Bice and Denny Blackford, and the gentlemen attendants, Mr. Joshua Glenn, of Ensley, and Mr. O. O. Bird, of Columbiana, the groom and best man, were all in evening dress.

The newly wedded pair are of Shelby's best young people; the bride being a most charming woman with a most pleasing grace and personality; the groom is employed in the mercantile establishment of the Shelby Iron Co., and has the high regard and esteem of his employers and of all his associates. They were recipients of many handsome presents, souvenirs which will keep bright in memory the occasion of November 20, 1905. The Sentinel joins with their many friends that the future will be replete with only that which will contribute to their happiness.

A Word to the Public.

We have purchased the entire stock of staple and fancy groceries of Roberts & Robertson, and will continue the business at the same stand. We are making a specialty of this line, and will endeavor to keep on hand everything that can be found in an up to date grocery establishment. Table luxuries of all kinds, ALWAYS FRESH. Goods guaranteed to be as represented, if not we will deem it a favor if you will return them. GOODS DELIVERED PROMPTLY. Call on us for Xmas goods; we have a nice line for you to select from. Keep your eye on our advertisements and profit thereby.

Thanking you in advance for your patronage, we are Sincerely yours,
PHONE 20. HAMNER GROCERY CO.

Card of Thanks.

Language fails to express thanks to the good citizens of Columbiana for their noble deeds during our recent affliction. God bless you, each and all.
Sallie May Lawrence.

Heart Flattering.

Undigested food and gas in the stomach, located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart palpitation. When your heart trouble you in that way take Horbine for a few days. You will soon be all right. 50c a bottle.—Sold by Williams Bros.

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

Death of Mrs. Lawrence.

While not unexpected, yet the death of Mrs. Rachel M. Lawrence, which occurred last Thursday has touched the hearts of all, and especially the older residents of the town.

Rachel M. Elliott Lawrence was born near Columbiana, Sept. 26, 1828. Her earliest recollection was some time after her parents came to this city. Being the only daughter of her parents she was to them "beautiful as a dream" and the pride of the household. In 1842 she was married to Dr. Thomas Pelle Lawrence, and the fruit of that marriage was seven children, three of whom survive the mother. Her life was one of the most active, and in days of affluence she delighted to comfort those about her. When wealth was swept away seemingly by the hand of fate, she labored to educate her children. She was always cheerful even under the darkest cloud of adversity. She never complained, but fully trusted in him who "doeth all things well." She would often say "the Lord will never forsake us. In early childhood she became a Christian and was a faithful member of the Methodist church. To her children she was always beautiful. Beautiful life, beautiful death, and heaven will be far more beautiful. And in this thought do the grieving ones find great comfort.

The deceased was buried Friday, the services being conducted by Rev. G. T. Harris, pastor of the Methodist church.

Edgar Cary Paroled.

The people throughout Shelby county will be glad to know that Edgar Cary, who was convicted of assault with intent to kill, at the last term of the circuit court in this county, has been given an unconditional pardon by Governor Jinks, and that he was released on Monday of this week.

The petition for a pardon was signed by nearly a thousand people of this county, by every member of the trial jury, and personal letters written the Governor by the trial Judge, Jno. Pelham, and by Solicitor Bordon H. Burr. Edgar will resume his former position with the Keystone Lime Co., with whom he was employed at the time of his conviction.

To Policy Holders.

The Division is now full. If by carelessness you allow your policy to lapse by not paying assessment of only $1.15 you would have to pay membership fee again to be reinstated, and perhaps I would write some one else to take your place before seeing you. So act promptly.
T. A. Leathers.
Division Agent.

W. T. Taylor, of Wilsonville, was in the city Tuesday, and renewed his subscription to The Sentinel.

Judge A. P. Longshore was in Birmingham Monday and Tuesday.

Alabama News.

A hunter shot a blue pheasant on Lookout mountain near Gadsden. This is quite a rare bird in that part of the south.

The Madison Manufacturing company's cotton mill and properties in Huntsville has been sold by the receiver to Capt. Milton Humes for $57,500.

A Jewish colony has been established in Jackson county three miles from the Southern railway. The colony has twelve families from the crowded east side of New York.

The three-year-old daughter of James Stallings, of Henderson, was killed by being run over by a wagon. A loaded country wagon ran over her, killing her almost instantly.

Mrs. Jasper Newman, of Birmingham, while crossing the street in front of her residence, was struck and thrown down by a North Highland car. She was not seriously injured.

Mr. Tant, of McFall, Calhoun county, was instantly killed at his home one day last week by a bale of cotton falling upon him. Mr. Tant was about 60 years old, and the father of several children.

Application for a charter was filed in Birmingham by the Birmingham Land company, capitalized at $10,000. Griffith R. Hash is president of the company, and Julian H. Bingham is secretary-treasurer.

At Pratt City the council voted to give J. M. Dewberry and associates a franchise to build an electric railway through the city. The road is to be built from Birmingham to Gadsden and Tuscaloosa.

Arrangements are being made for postal clerks to be put on the "Newsboy" train which runs from Memphis to Huntsville. Heretofore only mail pouches were handled on this train by the baggage master.

The Montgomery Traction company has bought the lines of the Montgomery street railway. Not long ago $600,000 was refused for the system from the same people and the presumption is that the price is in excess of that figure.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Ellerd, of New Georgia, near Graves Mines, happened to the horrible accident of having one of his legs torn forcibly from his body by being caught between the spokes and hub of a buggy wheel.

The question of consolidating Decatur and New Decatur is now being discussed very freely. Sixty days ago the Business Men's league of Decatur appointed a committee to investigate the consolidation, and their work was very satisfactory and met with the approval of the majority.

Under a new contract, made by the commissioners court of Colbert county, the county will receive $19 each for its convicts the next year. The contract was made with the Tennessee Coal Iron, and Railway company, and is the highest rate ever received by that county for its convicts. The new contract provides that boys and women shall be taken at the same rate. Heretofore they have been worked for their maintenance.

Always save your egg shells and use them for the purpose of cleaning bottles and cruets. Store them in a box, and when you wish to wash the bottles crush the shells up very fine, partly fill the bottles with them, pour hot soapsuds over them, and then shake well. Rinse out in clear water, and your bottles will be bright and clean.

Reed Smoot, mormon, will receive his verdict this winter at the hands of the United States senate. The opinion of the senate committee on elections is being prepared by its chairman, Julius Caesar Burrows, of Michigan. It is understood that this opinion will be unfavorable to Smoot.

The United States has no use for the Isle of Pines and does not want it. The revolutionary movement is believed to be a land agents' scheme. The land has been sold at big prices to Americans on the representation that the isle was to be annexed. It is fit only for grazing purposes.

Norway decides to remain a monarchy and elect Prince Charles, of Denmark, king by a vote of 257,710 to 68,852. The comparatively small vote in the negative was a surprise, for it was believed that the Republican sentiment in Norway was stronger than this ballot indicates.

HOW THE SOUTH GROWS.

What the Opportunity to Compete Means to Business.

From the Columbus Enquirer-Sun.

The South's farm products have increased in value from $660,000,000 in the early eighties to $1,700,000,000 at present. In five years more the Southern farmers will be producing two billion dollars worth of products annually.

The South's mineral, lumber and other industries are also expanding rapidly. For many years her natural resources were slow in developing. But when some of the big brained railway men began to help the mills, furnaces, fruit and vegetable growers and other interests to meet the competition in the North, our section went ahead by leaps and bounds.

An Alabama merchant who has had large business interests for twenty years, says:

"We had to have commercial facilities. We obtain them through the railroads. The railroad men saw it was to their interest that the country should develop and they gave all the assistance in their power to that end. They built roads, made tremendous outlays, and then gave the shippers such rates as would enable them to compete at points all over the country and outside of it on terms of practical equality with producers in other sections. We can now sell our cotton and its manufactures, and our iron, from Maine to California, and from the lakes to Mexico. We are able to export by way of New York and even of Seattle and San Francisco. We are increasing our shipment for the export trade to Savannah and Pensacola. "The opening of the Panama Canal will further uplift this section. It will put us close to one of the great sea-routes of the world.

"Our commercial conditions as they are, represent factors that we know; we know with whom we are dealing when the railroads are permitted to manage their own affairs as heretofore. Government regulation of rates as proposed by measures soon to be again discussed in Congress, would on the other hand upset the whole present state of affairs. Control by a federal commission would mean rigidity. We would stand still, and progress would be impossible.

"On a business footing, railroad man and shippers can adjust matters to meet the need of the hour.

"I wish it distinctly understood, however, however that I am in favor of doing everything possible to do away with the system of secret rebates. In that respect I believe much good can be done by the strict enforcement of present laws. Giving new powers to the Interstate Commerce Commission will be of no benefit in this section."

Best Liniment on earth.

Henry D. Balwin, Supt. City Water Works, Shullsburg, Wis. writes, "I have tried many kinds of liniment, but I have never received much benefit until I used Bullard's Snow Liniment for rheumatism and pains. I think it the best liniment on earth." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Williams Bros.

Card of Thanks.

I desire to return sincere thanks to my many friends and neighbors of Vincent for the many acts of kindness, and expressions of sympathy extended me during my wife's illness and death, and in this time of sore bereavement what human help and sympathy can do has been done for me most lavishly, and I pray God's blessing upon every heart that bears this sorrow with me.

Very truly,

Vincent, Ala. Hugh L. Campbell.

A great many men imagine they could be governor if the office really sought the man.

The name of a pie does not always indicate what is between the lids.

Comer Shows Temper Down at Union Springs

Our report of Mr. Comer's speech here last Friday was not intended as a "roast" in any sense. The roasting was all done by Mr. Comer. He roasted everybody and every thing except the old soldiers, whose emotions he wished to arouse.

We only told some of the things he said and did, and his manner of saying and doing them; also the impressions they made on us. We did not contradict any of his statements; we gave him credit for saying many good things, but his irritability and lack of self-control, his vituperation and abuse of everybody opposed to his views, his conceit in assuming all knowledge concerning the issues of the campaign, and charging ignorance upon the part of his honorable opponent and his followers, his lack of respect for the old man who asked him a civil question, his continuing to address most of his remarks to said old gentleman (who sat immediately at his left) in a domineering and menacing manner; shaking his first and pointing his index finger directly in the face of his interrogator; charging him with ignorance and telling him to study and inform himself; said gentleman being an old soldier, and be it said to his credit, behaved himself much better than did Mr. Comer; all these things were to our mind so unbecoming; so entirely out of harmony and keeping with our idea of the conduct that should characterize a candidate for the office of governor, that force of any arguments he may have made in his rambling talk, (for such it was) was lost upon us.

We concede others the right to their own opinions.

If we were inclined to write "a roast" we would not want a better subject than Mr. Comer.

Now let's not get excited like Mr. Comer did. Let's keep our heads and tempers under control and see where our differences are.

We are all agreed that unjust discriminations in freight rates should be adjusted. Dr. Cunningham and Mr. Comer are agreed this far.

Dr. Cunningham favors the legislature conferring more power on the Railroad Commission, as provided in the Constitution of Alabama, while Mr. Comer contends that the Railroad Commission has no power and that the Legislature cannot give it any; therefore the rate issue must be settled and the rates fixed by the legislature itself. We favor Dr. Cunningham's method for the reason that we believe that the constitution gives the legislature authority to confer more power on the Railroad Commission, and for the further reason that we believe three competent men on the commission can come nearer doing the thing right than the legislature as a whole can; where there will necessarily be such a diversity of opinions, and so many would have a voice in the matter who know nothing about the subject of freight rates or the conditions to be considered in fixing them. Mr. Comer claims to know it all, but he cannot delegate his wisdom to the legislature.

Mr. Comer is intoxicated with an idea, and is allowing his zeal to run riot with his judgement. He is his own worst enemy.—Union Springs Herald.

Damns the Court and the Country.

Macon, Ga., Nov. 27.—Henry M. Turner, the leading Bishop in the African Methodist Church, made an impassioned attack upon the government and the United States supreme court in his annual address to the Macon Conference held here. He declared that no man hates the nation more than he does, and he referred to the United States supreme court as a damnable institution, which has raped the negro of every vestige of human or manhood's rights. In concluding his address, which stirred his auditors to a high pitch of excitement, he challenged Thomas Dixon, Jr., to meet him on any platform in the country and offered Dixon a bonus of $500.

Among other things, the Bishop said: "I am not pleased with this nation. No man hates this nation more than I do. When I go to say my prayers, I have a struggle to get to the place where I am willing for God to allow the United States supreme court to have part in my prayer. That damnable institution which raped the negro of every vestige of human or manhood's rights—the men that compose that body may get to heaven the best way they can, but very little help God will grant them from any request that I make.

"The negro will never be anything in this country but a scullion until he shows his manhood. Go to Africa and build up a great na-

SHIELD BRAND FITS WELL WEARS WELL CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERYT, Shelby, Ala.

R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

tion that will command the respect of the civilized world."

When some one is prosecuted for drinking liquor in the hallways of some public building then, possibly, there may be less of such business.

The Montgomery Advertiser

will be issued Dec. 17th, 1905.

This will be one of the greatest papers ever issued in the South. Will contain over 100 pages. Every page will be a gem. You cannot afford to be without this splendid paper.

Fill out order blank below and send 5 cents. Address, THE ADVERTISER, MONTGOMERY, ALA.

Name, Postoffice, State,

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1905.

No. 21	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00am	3:50am	at Mobile	4:30pm	8:10am
1:00pm	8:45pm	at Selma	4:30pm	2:00pm
5:30am	10:00am	at Birmingham	6:20am	0:35pm
8:40am	1:00pm	at Chattanooga	6:30pm	4:30pm
1:10pm	4:40pm	at Jacksonville	2:10pm	2:10pm
5:40pm	8:40pm	at Bristol	9:20am	9:20am
6:00pm	9:00pm	at A. A. Biville	1:15pm	1:15pm
1:40am	7:40am	at Lynchburg	3:00am	3:00am
6:50am	10:50am	at W. B. Biville	10:00pm	10:00pm
12:40am	4:40am	at N. York	3:20pm	3:20pm

No. 12 and 11 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. (See car service cards on route.)

No. 12	STATIONS.	No. 11
7:30am	at New York	9:30pm
9:00am	at New York	7:30pm
8:00am	at New York	6:40pm
10:30am	at New York	5:40pm
11:40am	at New York	4:30pm

No. 10	STATIONS.	No. 9
7:30pm	at New York	8:30am
1:40pm	at New York	8:30pm
3:30pm	at New York	6:30pm
4:30pm	at New York	11:00am
6:00pm	at New York	11:00am
8:30pm	at New York	4:30pm
10:30pm	at New York	4:30pm
11:40pm	at New York	2:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm
6:40am	at New York	1:30pm
8:40am	at New York	1:30pm
10:40am	at New York	1:30pm
12:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
2:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
4:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
6:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
8:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
10:40pm	at New York	1:30pm
12:40am	at New York	1:30pm
2:40am	at New York	1:30pm
4:40am	at New York	1:30pm

Hamner Grocery Company,

(Successors to Roberts & Robertson.)

Will fill your orders for anything in

Staple and Fancy Groceries.

All the Celebrated Brands of Canned Goods

and Cereals

Always on Hand.

Christmas Goods

On hand in abundance at prices that will startle you. Presents suitable for all ages and classes.

REMEMBER

Your orders will receive prompt attention, will be filled to your satisfaction, and will be appreciated.

PHONE 20.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Copy one year, $1.00
Copy six months, .50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

The town has been full of visitors for the past week.

Mayor W. B. Browne was a Birmingham visitor last Thursday.

W. T. Taylor of Wilsonville, was in town a few hours last Friday.

Max Lefkowitz and Philip Erick were in Birmingham last Saturday, returning home Sunday.

Chas. Reynolds, of Jemison, was a visitor at the home of Dr. A. T. Rowe on Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. W. A. Abercrombie has returned from a visit with friends and relatives in Birmingham.

Postmaster and Mrs. J. I. Abercrombie visited with friends in Wilsonville on Thanksgiving day.

Most of our merchants observed Thanksgiving by closing their places of business a portion of the day.

W. B. Browne and Max Lefkowitz were in Birmingham last Wednesday and Thursday on business.

There was no school Thursday and Friday, and the student body enjoyed their short vacation very much.

Dr. C. T. Acker and Hon. J. T. Leeper were visitors to Montgomery last Saturday, to attend Masonic Grand Lodge.

Misses Carolyn and Dinnie Rowe went down to Jemison last Friday for a short visit with relatives, returning Sunday.

The Sentinel boys took a vacation Thanksgiving, but the old man had to remain at the wheel most of the day.

There were several hunting parties on Thanksgiving day, and the birds and squirrels were made to take to the woods.

Jan. N. Robertson visited with his brother Henry, who is attending the Marion Military Institute, on Thanksgiving day.

Rev. and Mrs. T. K. Roberts, of Oxford, were in the city over Thanksgiving, visiting relatives. Rev. Mr. Roberts has been returned by the Conference to Oxford for another year.

It's a wise turkey that put himself on short rations before Thanksgiving, for it grants him a lease on life a few days longer.

Mrs. S. V. McCauley departed Tuesday for Biloxi, Miss., where she goes to spend the winter with a sister, Mrs. Jack Elder.

Read the change in the advertisement of the City Drug Store in this issue. You will find a nice line of holiday goods there.

The thermometer fell from warm to freeze last Wednesday, without any apparent effort, and overcoats and wraps were in demand Thursday morning.

Columbiana people, and especially the Methodists, are gratified that Rev. G. T. Harris has been returned to this charge by the Conference for another year.

Mrs. W. S. Hyatt, of Talladega, visited her mother here a day or two last week, and then they went to Calera to spend Thanksgiving with Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bowdon.

There was a continual downpour of rain last Saturday, and in the afternoon it became almost a flood, followed by a cold wave Sunday—really the first real touch of winter.

"You are giving us the best paper Shelby county ever had," writes a good woman of Harpersville to The Sentinel. Such encouraging words are liable to make our hat band tighten.

Columbiana people did well; more than a hundred dollars were raised for the Methodist, Presbyterian and Baptist orphanages at the Thanksgiving service held in the Presbyterian church.

Rev. Joseph Dangleton preached his first sermon last Sunday at the Presbyterian church after an illness of several months. A large congregation was present to greet the young pastor whom all love and admire.

Miss Annie Longshore, who is attending the Girls' Industrial School at Montevallo, was at home last Sunday for a short visit. She was accompanied by two of her class mates—Miss Brownie Poole and Miss Vandiver.

I. Gordon informs The Sentinel that he has been appointed agent to receive any contributions made in this place for the suffering and outraged Jews of Russia. He will receipt for all contributions, and be grateful for any that may be made.

Miss Maude Bell, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jno. J. Haynes, for the past weeks, was called to her home in Lincolnville last Wednesday by a telegram announcing the serious illness of her mother and sister. Miss Bell made friends during her visit here.

Last Saturday was a most miserable day, but notwithstanding this fact the holiday opening of Latham & Bird was attended by a large number of visitors. The store was elaborately trimmed with holly, ferns and flowers, which entwined in and about the pretty display of holiday goods presented a beautiful scene. Owing to the downpour of rain throughout the entire day there were not as many ladies and children as would have been had the day been pleasant, yet quite a number braved the elements and added their presence to the cheer within despite the gloom without. Messrs. Latham & Bird are to be congratulated upon the beautiful display made.

L. B. Riddle, of the firm of Pennington, Riddle & Co., of Wilsonville, was the city last Wednesday and Thursday visiting relatives, while here he called at The Sentinel office to have some printing done announcing the closing out sale of his firm. From the circulars printed the people will have an opportunity to secure bargains at almost their own prices, and the sale will continue through the holidays if all goods are not sold before that time. The announcement is made that the sale will Monday morning, December 11th, and bargain hunters are invited to be present.

There was a reunion of the Roberts family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Roberts in this city on Thanksgiving day, and it was a joyful one. In the happy gathering were Rev. and Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. T. C. Roberts, of Oxford, J. R. White and family, A. M. Elliott and family, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Roberts and J. P. Roberts and family. A pretty feature of the reunion was the christening of J. P. Roberts' baby boy. It was a happy gathering and one long to be remembered by those who were present.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of the Hamner Grocery Company. The public will find the new management just as desirous of pleasing the public as was its predecessors, and The Sentinel bespeaks for the new firm a continuation of the patronage extended Messrs. Roberts & Robertson.

Rev. John Milner, who has charge of a church at Roswell, Ga., was in Columbiana several days last week visiting home folks. He returned to Roswell last Friday. The many friends of Rev. Mr. Milner will be glad to know that he is in better health than he has been in a long time.

Atkinson, Bird & Co. is the name of a new firm in town, and is composed of T. E. Atkinson, Geo. Bird, J. S. Bird and J. O. Dorrough, the last three named having purchased an interest in the establishment of T. E. Atkinson.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of J. S. Laverty & Son, dealers in musical instruments, Talladega. The Sentinel takes pleasure in recommending this firm to all who may wish for anything in their line.

There is a change in the advertisement of Denson & Dawson on fourth page of this issue, and the people around Montevallo will probably find it interesting.

Hon. E. S. Lyman, of Montevallo was in the city Monday and Tuesday on legal business. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call.

Cured Paralysis

W. E. Bail, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites and skin eruptions. It does the work—Sold by Williams Bros."

Mrs. J. S. Pitts is in Vincent, having been called there by the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. McGraw.

Rufus Lester is in Montgomery attending the Grand Lodge of Masons.

Death of Dr. Nelson.

Our people were more than grieved to learn of the death of Dr. T. G. Nelson which occurred in Birmingham last Sunday. He was born and reared in Columbiana, and The Sentinel hopes next week to give a biographical sketch of his life, the data for which is not now at hand. He was beloved by all who knew him, and his death is deeply regretted.

He was buried in this city Monday afternoon, and the services, conducted by Rev. G. T. Harris and Rev. C. C. Heard, were largely attended by those who had known the deceased in his lifetime.

Mrs. Elizabeth King Shortridge

Born October 17, 1837, at Montevallo Ala. Died November 23, 1905, at Austin Texas.

The tidings of the passing away of this aged lady, in Texas, brings a sense of loss to the friends of her earlier years in Alabama. The history of her family is closely woven with that of her native town, from its very beginning as Wilson's Hill. Elizabeth King being the first white child born in this town. Her childhood, youth and married life here, add richly to that best heritage of any people; the imperishable riches embodied in the memory of noble lives. Her father, the late Edmund King, was one of the founders of the Montevallo Baptist church, which was indebted to him for the lot upon which stood the old brick church. He was one of the most extensive land owners the county ever had, and the frequency of his deeds of gift to churches in this community illumine the records of the county as memorials of his generosity. The records of this church make frequent mention of Mrs. Shortridge's brother, Rev. Shelby King, whose gifts in speaking of divine things, called forth resolution urging him to consecrate himself wholly to the work of a minister of the Gospel. Mrs. Shortridge united with this church in 1839; her husband, the late Judge G. O. D. Shortridge, being also a member of the same.

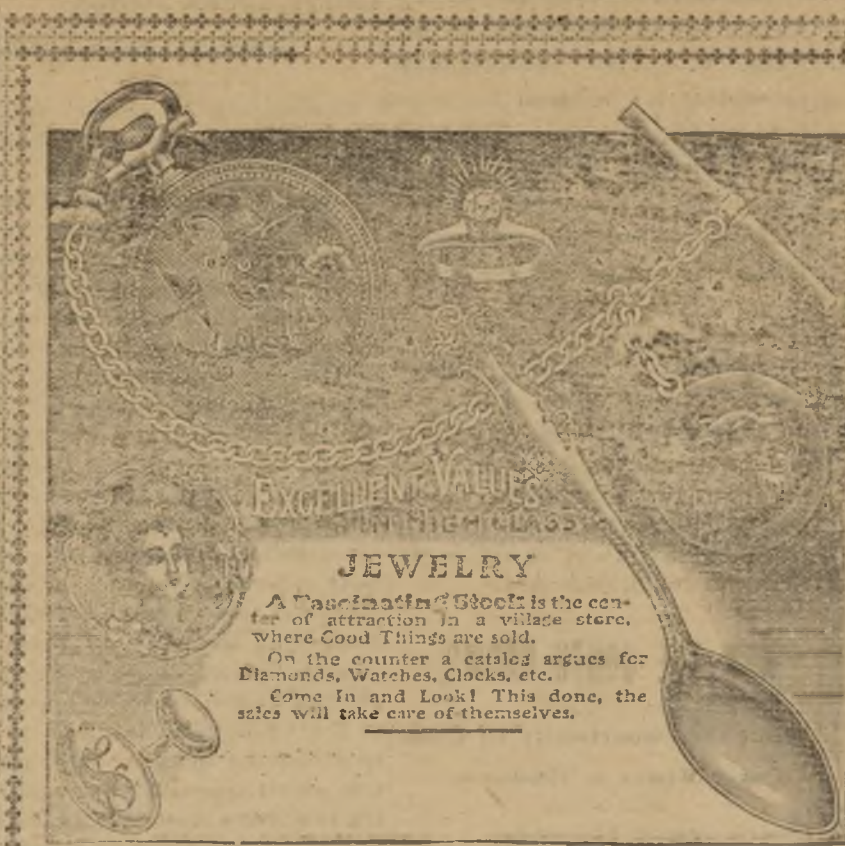

Of a large family reared in this home, in which were welcomed three nephews—Paul, Burwell and George Lewis, prominent Alabamians,—not one remains in Montevallo. One son, Col. W. W. Shortridge, of Ensley, Ala., and two daughters, Mrs. Lou Gaines, wife of the Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court, and Mrs. Lella Sedberry, of Jefferson, Texas, survive the beloved mother. Two sons, Eli and Frank, than whom the annals of the Confederacy furnish a no more notable example of daring and courage, she gave to the cause of the South. Frank was a member of Col. Jno. P. West's company, Second Alabama Cavalry, and was killed in a skirmish near Atlanta, shortly before the fall of that place. Newton Eddings, now in Montevallo, and the late Hon. B. B. Lewis were among those detailed to enter lines of the enemy with a flag of truce, and learn the fate of their comrades. They were told, with many expressions of admiration by the Yankee captain, how Mr. Shortridge refused to surrender, fought to the death, and went down with sublime defiance, a victim to the cruel ethics of war, and led them to the grave where he had been buried with honors by his foes.

It is noticeable that Mrs. Shortridge's neighbors of the old Shelby home, in recalling her life here, make frequent references to the benevolence of her character. The writer said to one of them: "tell me some special incident of her kindness to the poor." The light of grateful memory shone in her face, as she answered: "I will tell you of her kindness to me." Then followed the story, so sadly common in our fair southland in the sixties; of the widowed mother trying to support the family with the needle. There was not sewing enough to keep both the mother and herself, the elder daughter, busy. With the opening of the cotton factory came an opportunity for work, and she obtained a position there. On meeting two of her young friends soon afterwards, one of them spoke as usual, making kind inquiry as to how she liked her work; the other passed with averted look, and without speaking. In a few days, Mrs. Shortridge, with a number of her aristocratic friends, visited the factory. Coming to the part of the room where she was at work, the stately lady placed an arm gently about her, stooped and kissed her, and spoke words of hearty approval of the step she had taken. In bringing the story to a close, she said: "I do not know, but I have always believed that this visit to the factory was for me; that Mrs. Shortridge had heard of the slight I had received, and planned the visit to show her friends how she proposed to treat the girl who dared to go out into the world to make a support for herself, rather than leave the burden entirely upon her mother. At any rate mother was reconciled to my position. After this, the girl who had passed me by in silence before, was as kind as others, and no lady in Montevallo refused to speak to me because I worked in the factory."

Perhaps this generation of working girls, who may take any suitable place in the industrial world, knowing that they have the respect of the best men and women in so doing, can never fully realize what they owe to those women of the "Old South," who surrendered the prejudices of generations, and, like Mrs. Shortridge, cheered the fatherless and brotherless girls of the stricken land with genuine christian sympathy, as they yielded, one after another, the sacred, and hitherto unguessed rights of the Southern woman to live, love and work in the shelter of her home.

The test of true nobility is sympathy and solicitude for, and an unselfish, helping hand extended to the lowly and needy. These were prominent characteristics of Mrs. Shortridge. She cheered, ministered to and befriended all, and with one accord they now rise up and call her blessed. Let us ever cherish the memory of and try to emulate this true nobility so beautifully exemplified in the life she lived.

H. L. Montevallo, Dec. 2, 1905.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana: Ala

caught with orange blossoms and carried bride's roses. The maid of honor wore a pretty costume of white crepe de chene over pink trimmed with acoline. Mrs. S. J. Harrell, matron of honor, wore gray crepe de chene trimmed with rose applique and carried white chrysanthemums. The flower girl, little Agnes Busby, of Ensley, wore pink silk tulle. The bridesmaids, Miss Rosser Christian, of Columbiana, Miss Ethel Glenn, of Blackburn, La., and Miss Lucie Wade, of Shelby, were gowned in white tissue with pink girdles and carried pink carnations. The ushers, Mr. Hick Bice and Denny Blackford, and the gentlemen attendants, Mr. Joshua Glenn, of Ensley, and Mr. O. O. Bird, of Columbiana, the groom and best man, were all in evening dress.

The newly wedded pair are of Shelby's best young people; the bride being a most charming woman with a most pleasing grace and personality; the groom is employed in the mercantile establishment of the Shelby Iron Co., and has the high regard and esteem of his employers and of all his associates. They were recipients of many handsome presents, souvenirs which will keep bright in memory the occasion of November 23, 1905. The Sentinel joins with their many friends that the future will be replete with only that which will contribute to their happiness.

The Sentinel joins with their many friends that the future will be replete with only that which will contribute to their happiness.

A Word to the Public.

We have purchased the entire stock of staple and fancy groceries of Roberts & Robertson, and will continue the business at the same stand. We are making a specialty of this line, and will endeavor to keep on hand everything that can be found in an up to date grocery establishment. Table luxuries of all kinds, ALWAYS FRESH. Goods guaranteed to be as represented, if not we will deem it a favor if you will return them. GOODS DELIVERED PROMPTLY. Call on us for Xmas goods; we have a nice line for you to select from. Keep your eye on our advertisements and profit thereby.

Thanking you in advance for your patronage, we are Sincerely yours, PHONE 20. HAMNER GROCERY CO.

Card of Thanks.

Language fails to express thanks to the good citizens of Columbiana for their noble deeds during our recent affliction. God bless you, each and all. Sallie May Lawrence.

Heart Flattering.

Undigested food and gas in the stomach, located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart palpitation. When your heart trouble you in that way take Herbine for a few days. You will soon feel all right. 50c a bottle.—Sold by Williams Bros.

The bride was gowned in white silk trim and lace, wore a veil

Death of Mrs. Lawrence.

While not unexpected, yet the death of Mrs. Rachel M. Lawrence, which occurred last Thursday has touched the hearts of all, and especially the older residents of the town.

Rachel M. Elliott Lawrence was born near Columbiana, Sept. 26, 1828. Her earliest recollection was some time after her parents came to this city. Being the only daughter of her parents she was to them "beautiful as a dream" and the pride of the household. In 1842 she was married to Dr. Thomas Pelle Lawrence, and the fruit of that marriage was seven children, three of whom survive the mother. Her life was one of the most active, and in days of affluence she delighted to comfort those about her. When wealth was swept away seemingly by the hand of fate, she labored to educate her children. She was always cheerful even under the darkest cloud of adversity. She never complained, but fully trusted in him who "doeth all things well." She would often say "the Lord will never forsake us." In early childhood she became a christian and was a faithful member of the Methodist church. To her children she was always beautiful. Beautiful life, beautiful death, and heaven will be far more beautiful. And in this thought do the grieving ones find great comfort.

The deceased was buried Friday, the services being conducted by Rev. G. T. Harris, pastor of the Methodist church.

Edgar Cary Pardon.

The people throughout Shelby county will be glad to know that Edgar Cary, who was convicted of assault with intent to kill, at the last term of the circuit court in this county, has been given an unconditional pardon by Governor Jelks, and that he was released on Monday of this week.

The petition for a pardon was signed by nearly a thousand people of this county, by every member of the trial jury, and personal letters written the Governor by the trial Judge, Jno. Pelham, and by Solicitor Bordon H. Burr. Edgar will resume his former position with the Keystone Lime Co., with whom he was employed at the time of his conviction.

To Policy Holders.

The Division is now full. If by carelessness you allow your policy to lapse by not paying assessment of only $1.15 you would have to pay membership fee again to be reinstated, and perhaps I would write some one else to take your place before seeing you. So act promptly. T. A. Leathers, Division Agent.

W. T. Taylor, of Wilsonville, was in the city Tuesday, and renewed his subscription to The Sentinel.

Judge A. P. Longshore was in Birmingham Monday and Tuesday.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 15.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

MR. COMER AS

A LETTER WRITER.

"I Will Hammer Railroads,"
He Writes.

ADVISES THE PEOPLE TO

"Keep On Kicking." And This Man Wants the People to Elect Him.

Montgomery Advertiser, 5th.

The Alabama Railroad Commission sat four hours continuously yesterday but the members talked more than they transacted business. It seemed to be a field day for disputes of the jurisdiction and legal powers of the tribunal.

An interesting feature of the session was the reading to the Commissioners by Secretary Griffin of official letters written by President Comer to persons who had petitioned the Commission for improved railroad facilities in which he intimated that the remedy lay at the polls. In one instance, he said he would continue to "hammer" the railroads and advised his correspondent to do the same.

To Mr. W. L. Haskew, of Dickinson, where an agency is wanted from the Southern Railway, was addressed one of these salty letters. The President wrote Mr. Haskew that the Commission had not the authority to order an agency at any place in the State and commented severely on the manner of birth of some of the railroad laws of the State. The letter follows:

"Mr. W. L. Haskew,
"Dickinson, Ala.

"Dear sir:
"It has been developed that under the law the Railroad Commission has nothing to do with the question of agents at stations, in other words, if your station had no agent at all under the law we could not enforce them to appoint one.

"You will agree with me that this is a funny law, but all of our railroad laws are funny, and came from having too many railroad lobbyists in our State House. If the people of Alabama will elect a legislature and have some reasonable laws governing their relations and business with railroads it would relieve the people of the State of a great deal of trouble and annoyance in their transactions with the railroads.

"It looks like all our railroad commission laws were framed to have the least done for the people. I am sorry of this fact and that we can not do anything for you.

"Any time I can be of service to you please let me know, but the main thing you can do for yourselves is to elect a legislature instructed to establish reasonable laws governing your relations with the railroads.

Yours very truly,
B. B. Comer,
President."

A similar letter was written to G. W. Brooks, heading a petition for a depot at Sacho, Mr. Brooks' address is Pike, Ala., as appears from the letter:

"G. W. Brooks, Pike, Ala.
Dear Sir—"Yours of 11th instant, received and noted. I am sure that the railroads would not meet your views along the line you write me, but you keep building stores and I will keep hammering on them and between us I think we will get it after a while.

"I am going to write Mr. Moise again and see if I can not interest him in the matter, but you people keep kicking for it, keep writing the commission about it and keep complaining to the railroads; that is the speediest way to the depot."

Yours very truly,
"B. B. Comer,
"President."

Pay your poll tax or you can not vote in the next election. It is absolutely necessary that you pay all your poll tax if you expect to vote.

The Birmingham News resents the imputation that the south is too poor to properly educate its children. It says: "The south is amply able to educate its own children. All that is needed is to arise, public sentiment in the south to the value of education as a factor in the development of the country, and the creation of a high citizenship. This thing of depending on others to do for us what we can do ourselves is not only unwise, but harmful as well. The wholesome influence of self-reliance must not be underestimated. The value of local pride, of the consciousness of having performed our duty must be kept in mind. The interest which self-help stimulates in a great cause should not be lost sight of. This lesson is being rapidly learned by the southern people, and they are putting it into practice by local taxation for education.

The Sentinel management has carried a number of its readers for from one to four and five years. We believe in a square deal, and if we cannot get it voluntarily, then we must do the only thing that is left for us to do—put the accounts in the hands of a collector. It takes white paper upon which to print your paper, and it takes money to pay for that paper. We are not sending The Sentinel to anybody just for accommodation—we are not seeking that kind of glory. So pay us what you owe.

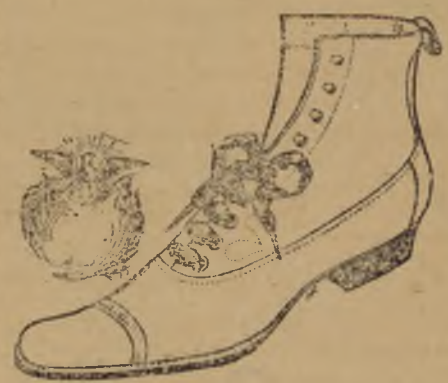

Keep the plows going for next season's crops whenever the land is in order and the teams are not otherwise engaged. All land intended for corn should be plowed deep in the fall so as to have the benefit of winter freezes. The cotton yield may be largely increased by bedding in the fall and winter and rebedding when ready for planting. No single factor is of more importance in production than a proper condition of the soil. The looseness, friability and freedom from clods in the land previous to the seeding of the crop is essential to a satisfactory yield.

The Sentinel is not prepared to agree with Congressman Wiley that the importation of coolies will solve the labor problem in Alabama. We believe that when Chinamen are imported to work in Alabama's fields and factories it will be a blight on the State, and retard the coming of a desirable class of white immigrants. Let us make haste slowly on the Chinese labor question.

The Annual Industrial Review of the Birmingham Age-Herald of December 2nd contains a great fund of information about the most progressive city in the South—Birmingham. It is a valuable cyclopedia of Birmingham's growth and prosperity, and is a great advertisement of that city. The Age-Herald is to be congratulated upon its most complete review.

We are in receipt of a little booklet, Birmingham today and tomorrow gotten out by the Birmingham Realty company giving a great deal of information concerning that city and district. This booklet will be mailed free to any one who will send their address to Birmingham Realty Company.

During his Union Springs speech, an old man in the audience asked Mr. Comer a question, and for his "termerity" Mr. Comer roasted the old man in a most unmerciful manner. The people do not want that kind of a man for Governor.

Top
Notch,
Scalper,
Vindicator.

WORN FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

A new stock of the
FAMOUS SELZ SHOES.

has just been received by us.

The Shoe with a world wide reputation.

A Shoe which never fails to make the feet glad.

Guaranteed to be as Represented.

There's no Better. They are Best.

We would
also remind you that
o o o o o o o o o o o

Our Grocery Stock

is new and fresh

And contains
nothing but the very
o o o o o o o o o o o

Best in That Line.

Farmers

Get Your Seed Oats

At our
Store

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY,

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,
Contractor - and - Builder,
Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES
Loans and discounts	$ 44,750 71	Capital stock paid in	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts	484 35	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	2,578 50
Banking house	5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check	30,401 25
Furniture and fixtures	2,000 00	Savings deposits	918 81
Other real estate	3,000 00	Interest bearing deposits	1,250 00
Due from banks and bankers in this State	12,727 61	Cashier's checks	34 69
Due from banks and bankers in other States	5,055 42	Notes and bills rediscounted	14,294 25
Currency	6,101 00	U.S. payable	8,500 00
Gold	2,015 00
Silver, nickels and pennies	1,368 80
Checks and cash items	4,490 38
Total	$ 87,250 66	Total	$ 87,250 66

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank of Shelby County, Alabama, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Witness my hand and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest:
W. B. Browne, J. T. Leeper, Directors.
W. W. WALLACE, Notary Public.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor
W. L. Farley, Clerk
Committee—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duglison, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 140, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abercrombie, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS. meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. A. P. Longshore, G. C. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office opposite court house
in Lester building Phone no 47.

Only three more weeks in which to write it 1905.

Only eleven more days until Christmas, and the little folks are watching and counting every day.

The public roads in Shelby county are growing worse and worse each day, but the tax for road purposes goes on just the same. What becomes of it is a question that the taxpayers know nothing about.

We would like to have all that is due us on subscription to The Sentinel paid by January 1st. It is justly due us, and while we prefer that subscribers pay it voluntarily, yet we insist it must be paid if we have to add costs to the amount for collection.

Cunningham is no quitter, and the persistent publication of a rumor that he is to withdraw from the race for Governor is done for no other purpose than to injure him. Comer organs are responsible for the story and shows to what straits they are put to keep the president of the railroad commission in the running.

Harry Martin, editor of the Ozark Tribune, has announced himself a candidate for congress to succeed Hon. H. D. Clayton. Editor Martin is a fine fellow, a good newspaper man, and while it is doubtful that he will defeat Mr. Clayton for the nomination, yet he will keep that gentleman busy from now until after the primary.

The turkey that escaped being a Thanksgiving offering, will be cooped and fed with Force until Christmas.

Do not forget to pay your poll tax if you wish to vote next year—one of the most important of elections.

For the several awful railroad wrecks which occurred during the past few days some one should be held criminally responsible.

Theodore Price, the New York cotton bear leader, has thrown up his hands and acknowledges he has been beaten. However, Theodore will bear watching. He's a slippery fellow.

The coming year promises to be one of the greatest in building and public improvement within the history of Columbiana. A number of residences are already planned, together with several business houses.

Columbiana has been a good cotton market this season, and The Sentinel is informed that the highest price for cotton this season, of any market in the county has been paid in Columbiana. That is the effects of the advertising done by the Commercial Club.

Comer says the government of Alabama is controlled by the railroads. Let's see: The State is paying more to the old soldiers and the public schools than ever before within its history; through a refunding of the State debt a much lower rate of interest has been obtained; and there is about a million dollars in the treasury. Well that's a pretty good showing for railroad control—better call it a prosperity wave. Mr. Comer should close down his calamity news bureau.

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

Holiday Goods of Every Kind

Only Two Weeks Before Christmas
Can't Begin Buying Too Soon

THE grand old spirit of Christmastide fills the store. That wonderful spirit which has come down the ages as a golden inheritance from our fathers—which makes all of us children and all solicitous for the happiness of others.

Gifts for children—gifts for nearest and dearest of kin—gifts too for those upon whom fortune has not smiled, but who should not be forgotten at this happy season.

Buy them gifts—select them early. This week is the best time. You will feel happier at Christmas if you have none of the worries which come to those who put off and put off.

Gifts for Men

Silk Handkerchiefs,
Linen Handkerchiefs,
Neckwear,
Fancy supporters,
Kid gloves,
Wool gloves,
Silk mufflers,
Wool mufflers,
Sweaters,
Smoking Jackets,
Bath robes,
Dressing robes,
Silk umbrellas,
Fancy hosiery,
Dress shirts,
Full dress protectors,
Suit cases,
Hand snichels,
Trunks,
Lap robes,
Pajamas,
Umbrellas,
Clear cases,
Cigarette cases,
Flasks,
Cuff and cuff boxes,
Cuff pouches,
Toilet sets,
Shaving sets,
Smoking sets,
Cigar jars,
Tobacco jars,
Tea cases,
Handkerchief boxes,
Alcohol lamps,
Razor Straps,
Imported razors,
Manicure pieces,
Shaving mirrors,
Gillette safety razors,
Cuff lengths,
Watch fobs.

Clear cutters,
Watch rings,
Stick pins,
Key holders,
Stands,
Collar buttons,
Watch chains,
Clothes brushes,
Military brushes,
Hat brushes,
Combs,
Soap dishes,
Ash trays,
Cold cream jars,
Cosmetics.

Gifts for Women

Fur coats,
Fur scarfs,
Fur muffs,
Brush and comb trays,
Powder boxes,
Desk sets,
Work baskets,
Hat pin holders,
Bonnet sets,
Watches,
Lockets,
Rings,
Brooches,
Stick pins,
Chains,
Fobs,
Pearl pins,
Beauty pins,
Hat pins,
Cuff lengths,
Thinblades,
Dog collar bracelets,
Crosses,
Mounted combs,
Neck beads,
Dog collar beads,
Watch pins.

Woven purses,
Fancy buckles,
Vanity boxes,
Waist sets,
Fancy supporters,
Fancy pendants,
Opera glasses,
Sweaters,
Vacuators,
Combs,
Perfume bottles,
Card receivers,
Mirrors,
Puff boxes,
Salve jars,
Desk sets,
Manicure sets,
Bonnet brushes,
Ink stands,
Pin trays,
Picture frames,
Nankin rings,
Whist brooms,
Thumbtacks,
Embroidery scissors,
Shoe horns,
Shoe books,
Pin cushions,
Tooth powder bottles,
Talcum boxes,
Toilet articles,
Brushes.

Gifts for Children

Fur sets,
Comb and brush sets,
Slippers,
Leggins,
Suspenders and stone rings,
Birthday rings,
Watches,
Heart lockets,
Pendants.

Cuff buttons,
Cuff pins,
Neck beads,
Stick pins,
Purses,
Bracelets,
Miniature crosses,
Waist sets,
Napkin rings,
Pin cushions,
Hat pins,
Hat marks,
Gloves,
Pajamas,
Nickwear,
Handkerchiefs,
Mufflers,
Umbrellas,
Bath robes.

Gifts for Infants

Mugs,
Plates,
Trays,
Neck beads,
Baby pins,
Chains and rings,
Miniature crosses,
Food pushers,
Saucers,
Bonnets,
Powder boxes,
Celluloid sets,
Bottlers and comforters,
Baby shoes,
Mittens,
Baby veils and holls,
Dresses,
Coats,
Caps,
Fur Sets.

Loveman, Joseph & Loeb

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Dec. 14, 05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904, at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,
Russell M. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

A Correction.

An article in last week's issue of The Sentinel—"Mr. Comer Loses His Temper," should have been credited to the Bullock County Breeze. Union Springs, instead of to the Union Springs Herald.

Shelby County's Good Roads.

Montevallo, Dec. 11, 1905.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana.
On my way from your town to the Kingdom Valley the roads are in a deplorable condition; they are worse than down here and are very near impassable. What will they be when winter rains come on in earnest? People in that section will have to stay at home or walk the mountains.

The bridges in your city are the worst I ever saw; they are not safe to drive over.

On my return home I came back with J. G. and C. S. Frost, and a half mile beyond Frost's Mr. Mahan worked one week cutting a ditch through a hill to keep the water out of some fields. If the water goes off through that ditch it will have to run up hill to do it. The land owners paid half the expense for making this ditch, and the county the other half.

It is high time the Commissioners were taking some steps to make the public highways of Shelby county in a travable condition.

Respectfully yours,
J. B. Denson.

Meeting of Co-operative Union. December 8-9, 1905.

The Shelby County Division of the Farmers' Educational and Co-operative Union of America held its regular fourth quarterly meeting with Kingdom Valley Local, December 8th and 9th. Quite a large and yet very enthusiastic crowd of delegates and spectators were present, representing twenty one locals in Shelby county. The prime motive with them seemed to be business that would be beneficial to the farming class of people.

The first item subject to publication was the election of officers, to wit:

Hosea Pearson, president; J. E. Hill, vice-president; W. E. Finley, secretary; J. T. McGibony, chaplain; J. M. Allen, door-keeper; J. M. Leonard, conductor; J. D. Stripling and J. H. Winslett, lecturers.

Executive Committee—W. T. Smith, Dr. H. B. Lane, C. M. Wooten.

Committee on Good of Order—C. S. Archer, A. M. Waldrop and R. A. O'Hara.

Committee on Credentials—T. M. Duncan, E. M. Holland, T. W. Johnson.

Second—Selected Ebenezer for next place of holding County Union. Time, Wednesday before second Sunday in February.

Third—The following resolution was presented and adopted: "Resolved, That this county Union return its heartfelt thanks to the good people of Kingdom Valley for the kind and hospitable manner in which the have entertained this County Union."

Yours for business,
W. E. FINLEY,
Co. Sec. Treas.

Wilsonville News Items.

Rev. O. P. Bentley is spending a few days with H. A. and J. C. Jackson in Florida. W. T. Tinney and wife, of near Sterrett, are also visiting the Messrs Jackson in Florida. A. L. Jackson and wife left here about ten days ago to visit their brothers in Florida. As none of them have returned home I guess they are having a big time on their camp hunt, and if so, there is no telling when they will return.

G. W. Riddle and F. E. Mason made a flying trip to Birmingham last week. Eugene Wilkins visited his brother F. M. Wilkins a few days last week, leaving here for Selma where he is now engaged as assistant express messenger on the Southern railway.

R. G. Weldon spent a few days in Montgomery last week. He happened to put up at the same hotel where a New York millionaire stopped. Upon registering he came next and seeing that the millionaire registered his name and valet, of New York, Mr. Weldon took up the pen and quickly wrote "R. G. Weldon and grip, Wilsonville, Ala."

The health of our community is remarkably good for this season of the year.

Elder Bradley, of Dixon, Tenn., will preach at the Christian church next Sunday morn and night.

Rev. Mr. Stevenson, of Piedmont, will preach next Sunday morn and night at the Presbyterian church. The cold weather has proved very disastrous to the hogs in our community; a great many of them dying from throat trouble.

Some of these days, by consent of our editor, I want to give a little communication on dogs, as my subject. (All right, Rip; let it come.) The merchants have opened up their Christmas goods, so now is the time to come to town and make your selections.

Miss Daise Black, of Ashland, is visiting her brother, Dr. O. E. Black.

RIP VAN WINKLE,

The Sentinel asks the forbearance of some of its correspondents until after the holidays, when our advertising harvest will diminish somewhat. We have several communications that are too lengthy for the space at our command just now.

Tribute to Dr. Nelson.

Dr. Thomas G. Nelson was born and reared near Columbiana, and died in Birmingham on December 3, 1905.

It is difficult to understand why such a noble character should be cut down in the morning of his manhood. But God's providence is past finding out, but we know our Heavenly Father is too good to err, and too wise to make a mistake.

Dr. Nelson graduated when a very young man from the Southern University, Greensboro, Ala. He then decided to study medicine. For two years he was a student at a medical college in Baltimore, and then for a year at a medical college in Ohio. After having received his diploma he came home at once and entered upon the practice of his profession. In July, 1894, he located at Harpersville and remained there eight years. He had a large practice, and was most successful. At this time his health failed and he removed to Abertant, Tuscaloosa county, hoping the change would benefit him physically.

As a physician he was a decided success. It was never too cold nor too stormy for him to look after the sick, and it was through his unflinching attention in all kinds of weather that brought to him failing health. Often I have known him to visit patients when really he would be in more pain than they.

The first year of his practice he boarded in our home, and he was most devoted and attentive to his patients, for he was ambitious to succeed as a physician. I remember very distinctly his having a very sick patient. One afternoon he had just returned from making a call. I passed the door of his room; I saw him on his knees, and heard him pleading with God in behalf of that patient, and it impressed me very much. I have often heard him say, when called to see a very sick patient, that he never diagnosed the case without first asking God's help and guidance.

Dr. Nelson's faults were so few they were easily overlooked, while his virtues were so many I cannot do him justice. He was a true, faithful christian; he loved the church; was true to its doctrines and loyally responded to all her claims; was charitable to all denominations, and the poor and distressed always had his aid and sympathy. His devotion to the Sunday school was pathetic and beautiful. As Superintendent and teacher he had few superiors; he gave true and valuable instructions to his pupils, ever sowing the seed of righteousness and love. In church work he was as modest as a woman, yet in the discharge of his duty he hesitated not. He was a steward for a number of years, and in his faithfulness rendered most valuable service. He was always ready to help the preacher.

Oh, we are grieved at his departure, but his labors and cares are ended, and his work is done. His temples will never again throb with pain; he will spend no more sleepless nights. Through his long illness he was patient and submissive. He was conscious to the end and met death so quietly and sweetly—his Saviour was with him.

I extend profound sympathy to his bereaved wife and precious little children, and dear aged mother (whom he had loved so tenderly), brothers and sisters. Your loss is his gain. If you will follow him as he followed his Lord, you will in the sweet by and meet him in that beautiful home where the weary are forever at rest.

Della Thompson.

Harpersville, Ala.

Married Fifty Years.

That's a long time, isn't it? Fifty years ago on the 12th day of this month, in a two-story log cabin standing on the lot now occupied by Sheriff Cox, in the presence of friends and relatives, Judge McClannahan said the words which joined in marriage Mr. J. B. Elliott and Miss Elizabeth E. Brasher. On the next day they went out to Fourmile where a sumptuous dinner had been prepared, and as Mr. Elliott puts it, "we found there a pen in which were sixteen fat hogs, a lot of corn in a crib, a granary full of wheat and a yard full of chickens, and we decided to stop there for a while, and there we lived until 1890 when we came to Columbiana."

Nine children have been born to these worth people, six of whom are still living. They have lived for nearly three-quarters of a century, and fifty of these long years has each been a help and a comfort to the other. Although the hair of each has become silvered by the frosts of many winters they are still quite strong and enjoying better health than is usual with people so advanced in years.

The Sentinel joins with the friends of Uncle Jeff and Mrs. Elliott that they may yet be spared many years to bless and comfort those about them with their presence.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES.

A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

New Invoice of

Elegant Furniture

Has just been received by us

and we cordially invite your inspection of this stock (new and up to date)

Before You Buy Elsewhere.

Get the worth of your money when you buy Furniture, for it is something you cannot afford to buy at every change of the moon. Our Stock is New--Prices to Suit.

Consult your own interests, and fit up your home with new, pretty furniture, and make the heart of the good wife glad. We can aid you. In our stock is a very Nice Line of Kitchen Safes.

Come, inspect what we have.

Milner & Christian.

Administrator's Settlement.

State of Alabama, Probate Court, Shelby County. 5th day of Dec. 1905. Estate of John W. Nash, deceased. This day came Wesley Ozley, Administrator of the estate of John W. Nash, deceased, and filed his account, vouchers, receipts and statement for a final settlement of the same, as an insolvent estate. It was ordered that the 1st day of January, 1906, be appointed a day for making such settlement at which time all parties in interest do appear and contest the same if they think proper, and that notice of this order be given by publication in the Columbiana Sentinel for three successive weeks.

A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

14-36

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, In Chancery. Shelby County. Sixth District North-South. Robert Tyson, complainant, vs. Annie Tyson, defendant.

In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of W. B. Browne that the defendant, Annie Tyson, is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and that she resides at Woodstock, in the State of Georgia, and further, that in the belief of said affiant, the defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.

It is therefore ordered, by the Register, that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in the county of Shelby, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Annie Tyson, to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 7th day of January, A. D. 1906, or in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.

Done at office in Columbiana, Ala., this 7th day of December, A. D. 1905.

J. R. WHITE, Register.

To Policy Holders.

The Division is now full. If by carelessness you allow your policy to lapse by not paying assessment of only $1.15 you would have to pay membership fee again to be reinstated, and perhaps I would write some one else to take your place before seeing you. So act promptly.

T. A. Leathers,
Division Agent

Lester Pianos.

Ivers and Pond Pianos.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

It will only cost you two cents to get out prices on Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines and small musical instruments. As we employ no agents, and sell direct from the factory, we can save you at least 25 per cent and all goods can be examined before paid for.

First class, reliable pianos sold at $25 cash and monthly payments of $10. Organs $10 cash and $5 per month. New Drop Head Sewing Machines $18 cash, f. o. b. Talladega. Also talking machines and records.

J. S. LaVerty & Son.

STORES AT

Talladega, Ala., Gadsden, Ala.,
Pianos and Organs Tuned and Repaired,
Radle Pianos, Crown Organs.

FOR SALE NOW AT SHELBY SPRINGS.

One fresh grade Jersey cow, and calf one week old; six young hogs; new spring cots, sheets, pillow slips, bed-spreads, blankets, several bedsteads, folding couches and other articles of furniture. New Rogers' silver knives, forks and spoons. Lamps, kitchen utensils. New disc plow, new Jones mowing machine, one Sure Hatch Incubator. All can be bought at sacrifice prices. First come, first served. Apply to MRS. LEILA B. MACKNIGHT, Shelby Springs Hotel.

For next few days only. Cut this out. This notice may not appear again.

Hamner Grocery Company,

(Successors to Roberts & Robertson.)

Will fill your orders for anything in

Staple and Fancy Groceries.

All the Celebrated Brands of

Canned Goods
and Cereals

Always on Hand.

Christmas Goods

On hand in abundance at prices that will startle you. Presents suitable for all ages and classes.

REMEMBER

Your orders will receive prompt attention, will be filled to your satisfaction, and will be appreciated.

PHONE 20.

Sam Lefkovits, of Bessemer, is in the city visiting his brother Max.

J. F. Norris, of the Advocate, was in Birmingham several days the latter part of last week.

W. W. Wallace spent several days with his mother at Kinston last week, returning to Columbiana Friday.

The Sentinel family is under obligations to Mrs. S. V. McCauley for a nice box of fresh fish, coming from Biloxi, Miss.

Among the patrons of our job department during the past week were the Hamner Grocery Co., E. S. Lyman, Sam Wallace and Rev. C. C. Heard.

Advertisers continue to use a large part of the space in The Sentinel, the best evidence in the world that it is the best advertising medium in this section of the country.

Rev. G. T. Harris preached his first sermon of this conference year at the Methodist church last Sunday to a large congregation. All are glad he has been returned here for another year.

J. R. White, Harry Roberts and Henry Chapman appear to be the crack bird hunters of Columbiana. They always come back with a good sack of game whenever they go to the woods.

It was enough to give a man the chills to hear the organ on the merry-go-round playing "In the Good Old Summer Time," when it was cold enough to drive a man to flannels and a good fire.

In this issue will be found the advertisement of Atkinson, Bird & Co., grocers. This firm will be pleased to serve you in anything in their line and will guarantee satisfaction to their customers.

Come, Come, Come!

Only a few days left of the great American Salvage Company's mighty avalanche of majestic bargains, at the Columbiana Mercantile Co.

The Columbiana Mercantile Co., Columbiana's largest and best merchants, entire stock to be closed out by the American Salvage Co., Sale closes Saturday night, Dec. 16th.

J. A. MacKnight informs The Sentinel that he has given up the management of Shelby Springs, and that he will remove his family to a farm near Calera. In another column will be found an advertisement of a sale of household goods and furniture by Mrs. MacKnight.

E. H. Roscoe, living on rural route No. 2 out of Columbiana, is among those who have renewed their subscription during the past week. Mr. Roscoe likes the change of The Sentinel from a patent to an all home print, and says not to stop his paper unless he orders us to do so.

Wm. Sessions, of near Montevallo, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office last Thursday, and renewed his subscription to The Sentinel for another year. Accompanied by J. B. Denson, Mr. Sessions was on his way to the Kingdom to attend a meeting of the Farmers' Union.

With all the lumber manufactured in this section of the country it seems a little strange that it is almost next to impossible for any one to buy enough with which to build a house. Several parties in Columbiana are having work delayed on their homes because lumber is apparently so scarce.

The numerous fires over the State should admonish Columbiana that we have very poor fire protection. The establishment of a waterworks system would materially decrease the price of insurance here. Think about it, and then see if we cannot do something toward getting a system of waterworks for our town.

Milner & Christian have a change in their advertisement in this issue and call your attention to a recent shipment of furniture they have just received. No old stuff, but all new and up to date in styles and quality. If you are in the market for good furniture at a price that will suit your purse, call to see them.

Pretty Good Hogs.

The Sentinel is informed that J. A. Cunningham, a prosperous farmer of beat 4 and living near Montevallo, killed three hogs last week which dressed—one 345, another 480, and still another 540 pounds—an aggregate of 1,335 pounds of dressed hog. That is pretty good hogs, and is a suggestion that what one farmer can do others ought to do.

STORE NOW OPEN

BY ORDER OF THE

UNITED STATES COURT.

The Great American Salvage Company will sacrifice the entire stock of seasonable, high grade merchandise of the Columbiana Mercantile Company. Values beyond the pale of ORDINARY EXPRESSION. $50,000 worth of seasonable merchandise to be distributed into the homes of the people by the American Salvage Company by Saturday night, Dec. 16th.

Only a Few Days More Time in which to reap the harvest of the great American Salvage Company's mighty avalanche of majestic bargains. This gigantic Removal Sale of the Columbiana Mercantile Company will end Saturday night, December 16th. Read these few extra special matchless bargains. Hundreds of others equally attractive, some better, await your inspection:

500 yds silk, worth $1.00 and $1.25, American Salvage Company's price..... 59c
36-inch black taffeta silk, sold the world over at $1.50 and $1.75, American Salvage Co's price..... 89c
500 pairs ladies fine shoes, worth $2.00 and $2.25, American Salvage Company's price..... 97c
Outings..... 31c

Best outing..... 8c
2,000 yards of dress prints at..... 4c
73-cent standard gingham..... 5c
Heavy cotton flannel..... 6c
100 long coats, jackets, in light shades, strictly up to date, worth $12.50, Am. Salvage Co's price..... $6.98
50 ladies' new style cravettes, worth $12.50, American Salvage Company's price..... $6.48

100 Men's fine Suits worth From $10 to $15.00
American Salvage Company's price $4.98.

Men's Overcoats.

Big lot of men's overcoats, worth $12.50, American Salvage Co's price..... $6.48

Buggies.

Splendid runabout buggies, worth $42.50, only a few left, American Salvage Co's price..... $28.48
Another lot, worth $55.00, American Salvage Company's price..... $44.48

Shoes, and Boys' Suits.

150 pairs men's and boys' shoes, worth $2.00 to $3.00, American Salvage Company's price..... $1.29
Boys' suits, worth $2.50 to $3.00, this sale..... $1.19

Groceries.

Arbuckles & Co's best coffee, Amer. Salv. price..... 13c
25 pounds Y. C. Sugar at..... $1.00

Columbiana Mercantile Co.

Under the auspices of the
AMERICAN SALVAGE COMPANY.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy one year..... $1.00
One copy six months..... 50c

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

Chapman Pitts, of Birmingham, is in the city.

Max Lefkovits was in Birmingham last Wednesday and Thursday.

Rev. Joseph Duglinson was in Calera and Montevallo several days last week.

H. E. Smith, of Wilsonville, was in the city a few hours last Saturday.

W. B. Browne and A. P. Longshore were in Birmingham Monday and Tuesday on business.

J. W. Harrell, formerly of this city, is now employed in Bessemer as ticket agent for the Frisco railway.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chapman visited with relatives and friends in Montevallo several days this week.

H. Pearson, of Farmer, was a caller last Thursday and renewed his subscription for another year.

A number of young people enjoyed a tacky party at the White house last Friday night, and they seem to have had a good time.

Jas. Lacey, of Maylene a former student in Columbiana's Graded School, is a guest at the home of Chas. Brooks for a short time.

Don't Miss It.

The Gigantic Removal Sale at the Columbiana Mercantile Co.

T. S. Millsap went up to Birmingham and East Lake last Friday on a business mission, to be gone for several days.

Milner & Christian paid 11.90 for cotton last Friday. There is every indication that cotton will go to 15 cents by the first of March.

Despite the bad roads there was a large crowd of farmers in town last Saturday, and all our merchants enjoyed a good trade.

The Gigantic Removal Sale at the Columbiana Mercantile Co. will close Saturday night, December 16th. Wait not, but come now.

The Sentinel wants all its delinquent subscribers to pay us what is due between now and the 1st of January next. It's an honest debt, and you should pay it.

It is said that a formerly of Columbiana man made $75,000 in cotton futures a few days ago. Whether the rumor comes from a reliable source we are not able to say.

Store Now Open.

More goods for same money, same good for less money, at the Columbiana Mercantile Co.

Miss Linnie Seale, who has been visiting here for the past two weeks departed for her home in Miami, Fla., last Saturday. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. J. W. Harrell and two children, who will visit there until after the holidays.

REMEMBER THIS

"Low Prices not an Accident With Us."

There is no

Strange and Startling Reason for our low prices. The reason is: Our goods are always fresh and the best the market affords. Then, again, we are not sleeping when market prices are low; we take advantage of fluctuation of the low market. This is why you can always purchase here. Prices we quote do seem unreasonably low to those who have been paying much more for the same goods elsewhere, but we give everybody a chance to test us by giving your money's worth or your money back. Come and be convinced.

Best Goods at Lowest Prices

ATKINSON, BIRD & CO.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

Store Open Again.

After having been closed for about ten days the store doors of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. are open again, and the great sale under the management of the American Salvage Co. is again in full blast.

Tac advertising of this sale throughout this section has brought great crowds of people to town and they are still coming. As Mr. Evans, representative of the American Salvage Co. says, the stock must be sold out by Dec. 16th, and that means next Saturday night, so if you are looking for bargains in merchandise, or for holiday presents, this sale presents an opportunity which will not come to you every day in the week. There is an old saying that opportunity knocks at a

Very truly yours,
Roberts & Robertson.

Dr. J. C. Walker, of Maylene, was in the city Tuesday to attend the meeting of the County Medical Society. The Sentinel acknowledges a pleasant call.

J. A. MacKnight, of Shelby Springs, was a pleasant caller at The Sentinel office Monday.

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

BIRMINGHAM

Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana: Ala

man's door but once in a lifetime, and if that be true this opportunity is now knocking at your door. There is a large number of clerks in the store, and you will be waited upon just as soon as you arrive.

The American Salvage Company and the Columbiana Mercantile Company cordially invite you to attend this sale, and in doing so they believe, and safely promise that you will save money by doing so.

Remember, the sale closes next Saturday night, December 16th.

In Macon County.

The taxpayers have about come to the conclusion that it will be better for the commissioners to issue bonds to complete paying for the court house rather than pay the high rate of interest and the special tax. Beyond any question the easiest and best way is to issue bonds.—Tuskegee News.

We Need People.

Alabama has been a state for eighty-five years. In all that time people have been coming here at will. The state has never made any law to prevent people coming, nor has it ever made any qualification for immigrants. These things are known to all men.

An effort is now being made to induce farm immigrants to come to Alabama, and, incidentally, to induce immigrants who will do any kind of work. Many good men and several good papers actually grew excited about it. One not familiar with the facts would have thought that some one wanted bad people to come. The excitement was a little ridiculous, of course, but people delight in that kind of excitement.

Alabama needs farmers, needs people who are willing to work for farm wages. She needs people to buy her waste lands. She needs white people. The state wants to progress and will do so.—Birmingham Ledger.

Roosevelt vs. Whitney.

What! Is Teddy Roosevelt, the hero of San Juan Hill, ex-Governor of New York, and President of the United States, and the man who invaded the South and subjugated her people more completely in ten days than did Grant and Sherman in four long years of blood and carnage, afraid to grant an interview to one of the most prominent citizens of the government? We hope not. But when there is a misunderstanding between gentlemen, and one party seeks an interview that the matter may be settled honorably to both, the one who refuses is suspected of standing on untenable ground. The word of Mr. Roosevelt unsupported is no more entitled to belief than is that of Mr. Whitney. They are simply American citizens, and no man can boast of greater honor. But American citizens sometimes make honest mistakes, and if they are citizens without blemish the one will not directly or indirectly cast a reflection on the veracity of the other with giving him a chance to right himself if he has unwittingly misrepresented him.

No man has the right to dodge behind the dignity of the presidency to insult a fellow citizen, high or low and if Mr. Roosevelt attempts it he will find himself discredited by the fairminded people of the government of which he is the head, and sink from the exalted position of a popular president to the most despicable of cowardly creatures, honored by none save administration pimps and the Crums and Coxes of the Mississippi variety.—Roanoke Leader.

Will Write History.

Hon. Chas. P. Lane, of Huntsville, is going to write a political history of Alabama embracing the years from 1865 to 1905. In a recent interview, Mr. Lane said: "Should a democrat write it, they would say it was partisan. Should a 'carpet bagger' write it, they would say it was unfair. I believe I can be just in writing the history of the state I love. I believe my people will believe it, and will aid me in fairly and truthfully, fearlessly presenting the true conditions, the causes and the effects, and I will here add that the ratification of the present constitution of Alabama, which I earnestly supported, was a mere correction after years of experiment of the mistakes made in granting unqualified unrestricted suffrage to a class who had no conception of the duties of citizenship."

The Trespass Law.

At this season of the year this law is much abused. The law requires that to hunt on a man's land you must first have permission from him to do so. Now is this law carried out? When you go bird hunting do you go to a man and ask permission to shoot birds on his property? No, you take the law into your own hands. You ride over his land when you please and shoot what you please, regardless of his wishes or consent. And there is where you tread on dangerous ground. There is where you not only violate the law, but also the law of right and justice. Every man who owns property has the right to say who shall go on it and for what purpose. And every man who enters upon another's land is bound by the law of justice and right, to first get permission from the owner of that land. Let the hunter respect the law and the wishes of the land owner. Let the land owner demand his rights by the law of justice, and let every violator of the trespass law be brought to the bar of justice.—Manning (S. C.) Farmer.

Heart Fluttering.

Undigested food and gas in the stomach, located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart palpitation. When your heart trouble you in that way take Herbine for a few days. You will soon be all right. 50c a bottle.—Sold by William Bros.

Modern Schoolhouses.

The State Department of Education is now preparing for publication in booklet form a series of plans and specifications of modern and model school buildings. This book will contain the plans for a one-room, two-room, three-room and four-room school building, also the architect's specifications for the construction of these buildings, the amount and the cost of lumber, lime, brick, etc., for the different buildings, and other complete information in regard to the structure. These plans are being prepared to assist the rural schools to erect buildings with all modern conveniences, proper ventilation, and proper arrangements of rooms at the least possible cost. The plans will also pay special attention to light and other details that are overlooked in the erection of a small building. The books will be distributed to all teachers, parish superintendents, etc., and if followed will give the country schools of the State uniform buildings at a moderate cost.—Ruston (Miss.) Age.

Remarkable Curer.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed. C. Nud, Iowa. "Sedwick Co., Kan., going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me."

I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm sold by William Bros.

Mr. Comer promised the people if they would elect him president of the railroad commission he would regulate freight rates. The people took him at his word and did their part, but Mr. Comer fell down on his promise. Now he makes the same promise if the people will elect him Governor. Mr. Comer tacitly admits he will fail again, for he says, "I have an ambition to go to the United States senate," to regulate freight rates, no doubt. But the frost of public disapproval will nip Mr. Comer's senatorial "ambition."

The Sentinel would caution the people of Columbiana about putting fictitious values upon their property. No other one thing will hurt the growth of a town more. Fictitious value of a business lot prevented the building of a fine store building some few months ago in Columbiana.

The secretary of war will order sent to Jeff Faulkner Confederate Soldiers' Home at Mountain Creek, four old cannon for ornaments to the grounds. It is believed this is the first time the government has made such a donation to a Confederate home.

Synopsis of President's Message.

President Roosevelt's message to the Fifty-ninth Congress completely sustains expectation in regard to rate legislation and railroad supervision. The message urges the creation by congress of an administrative commission, with affirmative power, to control freight rates.

This body shall not initiate rates, but act as a court of appeal, deciding whether a rate is reasonable, and if not, to fix a maximum reasonable rate, with heavy penalty for non-enforcement. Decisions are to be carried out without delay. Rebates of all kinds are to be abolished.

There should be publicity in the accounts of all common carriers engaged in interstate commerce, and a system of examination by government officials similar to the methods now conducted by national bank examiners.

The recommendation on rate legislation points out the existence of harmful corporations contains an earnest denial of hostility toward railroads, and predicts that regulation will result in benefit to the best class of railroad men and shippers.

The President calls for an investigation into the child labor situation, and the condition of women in industry, declaring these to be important sociological problems.

Congress is asked to consider the advisability of government supervision of insurance. Contributions by corporations for political and legislative purposes should be prohibited.

Wasteful and unbusiness-like methods have been found in the departments. The right sort of economy is urged.

A "golden rule" between nations is advocated in connection with the call to The Hague peace conference. Only that nation is prepared for peace that knows how to fight.

The number of army posts should be decreased with a corresponding increase of the number of men at each post. Promotions should be awarded more by merit and less by length of service.

The navy is in fair condition, but the standard should be maintained, especially by the addition of easily maneuvered warships.

The message touches upon naturalization laws, breaches of public trust, criminal laws, public lands and irrigation, Mississippi levees, merchant marine, Jamestown ter-centennial and pensions.

The President declares the time has come for the government to care for the graves of Confederate dead.

Immigration should be encouraged, especially for the South. The only standard of admission to the United States should be the fitness to become an American citizen. The Chinese coolie class is excepted in a body for this reason.

The operation of the civil service commission is commended. Right of removal without notice should be allowed.

Reference is here made to a revision in copyright laws, legislation against adulterated foods, abatement of smoke nuisance, preservation of Niagara Falls, life-saving pensions, and the Indian question.

An immediate appropriation for the Panama canal should be made and the work carried through as quickly as possible.

The state department should be given more money.

Government Control of Railroads A Failure in Australia.

From the New York Herald.

Just at the present moment, when the subject of municipal and government ownership of public utilities in this country is absorbing so much attention, the utterances of Mr. W. J. Sowdon, editor and proprietor of the Adelaide (South Australia) Register, Journal and Observer, who is commissioner of his government sent here and to other countries, are illuminating. Mr. Sowdon is a member of the board of Governors of the National Public Library, Museum and Art Gallery Commission. He is also president of the National reform political organization.

"We have had a sad experience with government ownership," said Mr. Sowdon, who is quartered at the Manhattan. "Nearly all of our public utilities are administered by government, with the result that politics dominate them and the public service is woefully mis-administered. Not all of the tramways are in the hands of the government, but with the slovenly example of the government railroads

SHIELD BRAND

FITS SHIELD BRAND WEARS WELL WELL CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERYT, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsouville, Ala.

and government tramways to copy we find ourselves in a sad way.

To begin with, the service is controlled by the premiers of the various provinces, who represent the dominant political parties and run the railroads largely as personal political properties. The roads do not pay properly, the tariffs on passengers & goods are high compared with yours, and the employees, having life posts, are not amenable to discipline or public sentiment."

Cured Paralysis

W. F. Bailey, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites and skin eruptions. It does the work—Sold by Williams Bros."

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1905.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	8:00am	Mobile	8:00pm	8:00am
1:00am	8:45pm	Seale	8:45pm	8:45pm
2:30pm	10:00am	Irma	9:15pm	9:15pm
3:45pm	11:15am	Chattanooga	10:30pm	10:30pm
5:15pm	12:30pm	Atlanta	11:45pm	11:45pm
6:30pm	1:45pm	St. Louis	1:00pm	1:00pm
7:45pm	2:30pm	St. Paul	2:15pm	2:15pm
8:30pm	3:15pm	Chicago	3:00pm	3:00pm
9:15pm	4:00pm	St. Paul	3:45pm	3:45pm
10:00pm	4:45pm	Chicago	4:30pm	4:30pm
10:45pm	5:30pm	St. Paul	5:15pm	5:15pm
11:30pm	6:15pm	Chicago	6:00pm	6:00pm

No. 22 and No. 16 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. (Dining car serves meals en route.)

No. 45	No. 47	STATIONS	No. 46	No. 48
7:45am	8:00am	Mobile	8:00am	8:00am
9:15am	9:30am	Seale	9:30am	9:30am
10:45am	11:00am	Irma	11:00am	11:00am
12:15pm	12:30pm	Chattanooga	12:30pm	12:30pm
1:45pm	2:00pm	Atlanta	2:00pm	2:00pm
3:15pm	3:30pm	St. Louis	3:30pm	3:30pm
4:45pm	5:00pm	St. Paul	5:00pm	5:00pm
6:15pm	6:30pm	Chicago	6:30pm	6:30pm
7:45pm	8:00pm	St. Paul	8:00pm	8:00pm
9:15pm	9:30pm	Chicago	9:30pm	9:30pm
10:45pm	11:00pm	St. Paul	11:00pm	11:00pm
12:15pm	12:30pm	Chicago	12:30pm	12:30pm

No. 23	No. 17	STATIONS	No. 18	No. 24
7:00pm	8:00am	Mobile	8:00pm	8:00am
1:00am	8:45pm	Seale	8:45pm	8:45pm
2:30pm	10:00am	Irma	9:15pm	9:15pm
3:45pm	11:15am	Chattanooga	10:30pm	10:30pm
5:15pm	12:30pm	Atlanta	11:45pm	11:45pm
6:30pm	1:45pm	St. Louis	1:00pm	1:00pm
7:45pm	2:30pm	St. Paul	2:15pm	2:15pm
8:30pm	3:15pm	Chicago	3:00pm	3:00pm
9:15pm	4:00pm	St. Paul	3:45pm	3:45pm
10:00pm	4:45pm	Chicago	4:30pm	4:30pm
10:45pm	5:30pm	St. Paul	5:15pm	5:15pm
11:30pm	6:15pm	Chicago	6:00pm	6:00pm

No. 25	No. 19	STATIONS	No. 20	No. 26
7:00pm	8:00am	Mobile	8:00pm	8:00am
1:00am	8:45pm	Seale	8:45pm	8:45pm
2:30pm	10:00am	Irma	9:15pm	9:15pm
3:45pm	11:15am	Chattanooga	10:30pm	10:30pm
5:15pm	12:30pm	Atlanta	11:45pm	11:45pm
6:30pm	1:45pm	St. Louis	1:00pm	1:00pm
7:45pm	2:30pm	St. Paul	2:15pm	2:15pm
8:30pm	3:15pm	Chicago	3:00pm	3:00pm
9:15pm	4:00pm	St. Paul	3:45pm	3:45pm
10:00pm	4:45pm	Chicago	4:30pm	4:30pm
10:45pm	5:30pm	St. Paul	5:15pm	5:15pm
11:30pm	6:15pm	Chicago	6:00pm	6:00pm

No. 27	No. 21	STATIONS	No. 22	No. 28
7:00pm	8:00am	Mobile	8:00pm	8:00am
1:00am	8:45pm	Seale	8:45pm	8:45pm
2:30pm	10:00am	Irma	9:15pm	9:15pm
3:45pm	11:15am	Chattanooga	10:30pm	10:30pm
5:15pm	12:30pm	Atlanta	11:45pm	11:45pm
6:30pm	1:45pm	St. Louis	1:00pm	1:00pm
7:45pm	2:30pm	St. Paul	2:15pm	2:15pm
8:30pm	3:15pm	Chicago	3:00pm	3:00pm
9:15pm	4:00pm	St. Paul	3:45pm	3:45pm
10:00pm	4:45pm	Chicago	4:30pm	4:30pm
10:45pm	5:30pm	St. Paul	5:15pm	5:15pm
11:30pm	6:15pm	Chicago	6:00pm	6:00pm

No. 29	No. 23	STATIONS	No. 24	No. 30
7:00pm	8:00am	Mobile	8:00pm	8:00am
1:00am	8:45pm	Seale	8:45pm	8:45pm
2:30pm	10:00am	Irma	9:15pm	9:15pm
3:45pm	11:15am	Chattanooga	10:30pm	10:30pm
5:15pm	12:30pm	Atlanta	11:45pm	11:45pm
6:30pm	1:45pm	St. Louis	1:00pm	1:00pm
7:45pm	2:30pm	St. Paul	2:15pm	2:15pm
8:30pm	3:15pm	Chicago	3:00pm	3:00pm
9:15pm	4:00pm	St. Paul	3:45pm	3:45pm
10:00pm	4:45pm	Chicago	4:30pm	4:30pm
10:45pm	5:30pm	St. Paul	5:15pm	5:15pm
11:30pm	6:15pm	Chicago	6:00pm	6:00pm

No. 36 carries Pullman Drawing Room Sleeping car Birmingham to Atlanta, Birmingham to Brunswick and Atlanta to Jacksonville.

No. 38 carries Pullman Sleeping car Birmingham to Atlanta and Atlanta to Macon; Dining car Birmingham to Atlanta.

No. 13	No. 15	STATIONS	No. 14	No. 16
7:00pm	8:00am	Mobile	8:00pm	8:00am
1:00am	8:45pm	Seale	8:45pm	8:45pm
2:30pm	10:00am	Irma	9:15pm	9:15pm
3:45pm	11:15am	Chattanooga	10:30pm	10:30pm
5:15pm	12:30pm	Atlanta	11:45pm	11:45pm
6:30pm	1:45pm	St. Louis	1:00pm	1:00pm
7:45pm	2:30pm	St. Paul	2:15pm	2:15pm
8:30pm	3:15pm	Chicago	3:00pm	3:00pm
9:15pm	4:00pm	St. Paul	3:45pm	3:45pm
10:00pm	4:45pm	Chicago	4:30pm	4:30pm
10:45pm	5:30pm	St. Paul	5:15pm	5:15pm
11:30pm	6:15pm	Chicago	6:00pm	6:00pm

No. 15 carries Pullman Sleeping car Rome to Chattanooga, Chattanooga to Salisbury and Salisbury to New York without change.

No. 2	No. 4	STATIONS	No. 3	No. 5
7:00pm	8:00am	Mobile	8:00pm	8:00am
1:00am	8:45pm	Seale	8:45pm	8:45pm
2:30pm	10:00am	Irma	9:15pm	9:15pm
3:45pm	11:15am	Chattanooga	10:30pm	10:30pm
5:15pm	12:30pm	Atlanta	11:45pm	11:45pm
6:30pm	1:45pm	St. Louis	1:00pm	1:00pm
7:45pm	2:30pm	St. Paul	2:15pm	2:15pm
8:30pm	3:15pm	Chicago	3:00pm	3:00pm
9:15pm	4:00pm	St. Paul	3:45pm	3:45pm
10:00pm	4:45pm	Chicago	4:30pm	4:30pm
10:45pm	5:30pm	St. Paul	5:15pm	5:15pm
11:30pm	6:15pm	Chicago	6:00pm	6:00pm

No. 2 Pullman Sleeping car Chattanooga to Cincinnati and Louisville. Dining car.

No. 2 Pullman Sleeping car Chattanooga to Cincinnati and Louisville. Dining car.

No. 28 "Washington & Southwestern Limited" Solid vestibule train Atlanta to New York carrying Pullman Sleeping car from New York to New York. Dining car serves meals en route. Pullman Observation car Atlanta to New York. Pullman Observation car New York to Atlanta.

No. 30 carries Pullman Drawing room Sleeping car Birmingham to Richmond and Atlanta to New York. Dining car Spartanburg to Washington.

Daily. Except Sunday.

J. N. HARRISON, D. P. A., Birmingham, Ala.
E. B. ORR, T. P. A., Birmingham, Ala.
H. H. SPEER, C. P. A., Washington, D. C.
S. H. HARDWICK, T. P. A., Washington, D. C.
W. H. TAYLOR, G. P. A., Washington, D. C.
C. A. BENSOTER, A. G. P. A., Chattanooga, Tenn.

See This Out?

Well, it's just the Overall for working men and can only be had at a few places. So can a great many other things of equal values only be found at a few places.

Now at our store many of these, and more can be found.

Denson and Dawson.

Clothiers, Shoers and Feeders of the whole family. Come to see us.
Montevallo, Ala.

CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold? Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence? Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment? Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line

is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River. Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the

Chicago & North-Western, Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Railways.

W. B. KNISKERN,
P. T. M. C. & N.-W. Ry., Chicago, Ill.
Please mail free to my address, California booklets, maps and full particulars concerning rates and train service.

FILL IN THIS COUPON AND MAIL IT TO-DAY.

When you want job work done in a workman-like manner come to The Sentinel office. Good stock furnished, and satisfaction guaranteed in every particular. Give us a trial order.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 16.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor
W. L. Farley, Clerk
Councilmen—J. S. Pitts, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday nights. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Duglison, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 110, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abercrombie, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS, meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. A. P. Longshore, C. C. O. O. Bird, K. of K. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

MILLAN & HAYNES,

Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,

Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,

Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,

Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law,
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.

COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office opposite court house building. Phone no. 47.

Congressman Bowie has introduced a bill to increase the pay of rural route mail carriers from $60 to $70 per month.

There are rumors of many candidates for county offices in Shelby county but as yet none of them have jumped into the lime light.

An effort is being made to induce ex-Governor Johnson to become a candidate for Governor, but it's dollars to doughnuts that he cannot be induced to come out.

Cunningham says he is not a quitter, but that he is in the race for Governor to a finish. The correspondent of the Montgomery Journal should now take a vacation and go to the woods.

The railroad rate question in congress is going to cause the fur to fly in some quarters. Senator Foraker, of Ohio, has his fighting clothes on, and will fight any effort to get a rate bill enacted.

It is said that the Democratic State Committee will hold a meeting early in January, and that the date of the primaries will be fixed at that time. It is believed by many that the primaries will not be called before some time in August.

The Chinese are becoming rambunctious over the exclusion act, and have issued an ultimatum that if the law is not modified that the boycott will be continued on American goods. It remains to be seen whether or not congress will consider the chinks' demands.

As yet Colonel A. M. Garber, of Talladega, has the field all to himself in the race for attorney general. It is possible there may be another candidate, but if the Democrats over the State feel as they do in Shelby no other candidate need to get into the race. Shelby county is for Colonel Garber.

Mayor Ward of Birmingham says there will be no fireworks discharged within the city limits of Birmingham during the holidays. We hope that Mayor Smith of Gadsden will do likewise. At least keep the fireworks out the business section of the city and not endanger millions of dollars worth of property to satisfy the whim of a few.—Gadsden Times-News.

The Crumpacker scheme to cut down Southern Congressional representation seems to have at last died a natural death. This was evidently a last dizzy, staggering reel of a sectionalist to keep up prejudice. It's absurdity and viciousness was so patent that a reputable following could not be obtained. Our doubt President is credited and no doubt did stamp his disapproval of it. Mr. Crumpacker should now crawl in a hole.—Huntsville Tribune.

On the first day of December in this section roses were in full bloom with profusion and beautiful of tint and fragrance to equal April. Green apples the size of walnuts were to be seen in many orchards while some truck growers report digging the third crop of Irish potatoes.—Marion Standard.

Pay Your Poll Tax.

The daily and weekly newspapers are making appeals to the people to qualify themselves to vote by paying their poll tax. The Greensboro Watchman puts it very pointedly. It says:

"If you wish to vote in the primary election for nomination of candidates next year, do not fail to pay your poll tax by the first of February, 1906. No person failing to pay this tax will be allowed to participate in the primary or in the election.

"Persons who may have neglected the payment of the tax for any year since the adoption of the new constitution, 1901, 1902, 1903, or 1904, must pay for such years as they may be delinquent in order to render themselves qualified voters."

The Watchman has given the law on the subject, told those who wish to vote in the coming primaries and elections how to do it, and here is an appeal, brief but pointed, to the pride, manhood and patriotism of the people. It is from the Opelika News:

"Every white man who has the good of the country at heart should qualify and become a voter. Pay your poll tax before it is too late."

Those who voluntarily disfranchise themselves by refusal, or neglect, to qualify themselves to vote will get little sympathy from the mass of patriotic voters of the state.

It is not a question whether this requirement of the new constitution, that one shall pay his poll tax before he is entitled to vote, is right or wrong. That is no longer an issue. It is the organic law of the state and cannot be changed as can a statutory provision. It must remain as a part of the organic law until another constitutional convention, or until an amendment is adopted to the constitution changing this feature, and as the feature is one that was adopted in self-defense by the white people of Alabama, and to get rid of an obnoxious and ignorant negro vote, the law is likely to stand for a generation, if not longer, or permanently. Therefore, every man who loves his state, who wants to participate in his party's primaries and the general elections, should have sufficient pride and patriotism to see to it that his poll tax is paid.—Montgomery Journal.

Too Unsafe.

Despite the fact that the editor of this paper and Dr. Cunningham fail to agree on many questions, he is just enough to triumphantly declare that Alabama would not be ashamed of him if he were elected her chief magistrate. He has dignity and he is a gentleman. A great State like this wants that type of man as a ruler, and not a demagogic blatherskite and ignorantly incompetent, who reckless utterances have already stamped him as a man unsafe to be trusted with office of any sort. This refers to President of the Railroad Commission Braxton Bragg Comer.—Hartsville Enquirer.

Lane Speaks Out.

The Montgomery Journal is advising the republicans how they can build up a party in Alabama. The old recipe for cooking a rabbit was first to catch the rabbit. The recipe for building a republican party is a little like that, for the first thing is to get the republicans willing to have a republican party in Alabama.—Birmingham Ledger.

The Ledger is eminently right. The democrats of Alabama are today very much more anxious than the republicans of this state should have a republican party, than the republicans now working in the lead are. The fact is our so-called leaders are neither patriots, nor statesmen, they are machines men and small bodied at that.

They can ill afford to see the gentlemen mass file into republican camps, for with this element they can not jingle. The coming of this class means their going. How is it possible for a man of self respect, principle, who prides himself upon his manhood to stoop and follow such leadership? A pity it is, that our president, who is a manly man, can not understand that when a man has no strength, no character, no-esteem at home, that he should not have it in Washington, that men are unpopular alone with their neighbors who know them for good reasons. We would be glad to see the day come when the republican party of Alabama could be brought before this people with a manly clean man at the head of its state ticket, a man who has a good name and character and who would fight like a wild cat to maintain it. This is the only order of man whom any one in this country respects. A coward would stand as much chance to win our respect and confidence in Alabama at the head of a republican ticket as would a sheep. And any man who is a bad man, a dodger, a a trickster, a rascal, who has no conviction, is a coward and for him no man save his own ilk entertains respect.—Huntsville Tribune (rep.)

Major John G. Harris, of Montgomery, has issued an address to the press of Alabama announcing his candidacy for associate railroad commissioner. In this address he favors as low freight rates as is given any other Southern State; a speedy payment of all claims due individuals by railroads; is opposed to all discriminations and rebates; as quick delivery as possible of all loaded by railroads, and exact justice and equity to all parties concerned and all interests involved. Major Harris was at one time State Superintendent of Education, and filled the duties of that office with honor to himself and credit to the State.

Colonel Samford, who it was thought at one time would be a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor or attorney general, has announced that he will not be a candidate for any State office. This leaves the field clear for Col. Garber for attorney general, and it is not likely there will be any other candidate for that office.

Williams is proving himself a leader in discipline as well as in oratory. By keeping members off committees because they violated the caucus action Mr. Williams has the support of perhaps every democrat except those directly affected and will gain instead of lose popularity.—Gadsden Journal.

Remember to pay your poll tax if you expect to vote in the election of next year, at which time Representatives to congress, sheriff, representative to the legislature and county superintendent is to be elected. Every white man who is subject to the poll tax should pay it any way.

The rains of the past week have done the good(?) roads of Shelby county no good. But, then, they were about as bad as they could well be before the rains came.

It appears that all the big men in Birmingham want to be a candidate for some State office. That looks a little porkish.

Pay your poll tax so that you may have all the rights of a free born American citizen.

Top
Notch,
Scalper,
Vindicator.

WORN FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

A new stock of the

FAMOUS SELZ SHOES.

has just been received by us.

The Shoe with a world wide reputation.

A Shoe which never fails to make the feet glad.

Guaranteed to be as Represented.

There's no Better. They are Best.

We would
also remind you that oooooooooooo

Our Grocery Stock

is new and fresh

And contains
nothing but the very oooooooooooo

Best in That Line.

Farmers

Get Your Seed Oats

At our
Store

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY.

Montevallo, Ala.

W. W. ALBRIGHT,

Contractor - and - Builder,

Blacksmithing and Wood-Working Shops.

Will appreciate your patronage. Satisfaction guaranteed.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts.....	$ 44,758 71	Capital stock paid in.....	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts.....	481 00	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid.....	2,578 00
Banking house.....	5,300 00	Individual deposits subject to check.....	39,531 25
Furniture and fixtures.....	2,000 00	Savings deposits.....	918 81
Due from banks and bankers in this State.....	3,000 00	Interest bearing deposits.....	1,359 00
Other real estate.....	12,727 61	Cashier's checks.....	84 69
Due from banks and bankers in other States.....	5,075 42	Notes and bills rediscounted.....	14,538 25
Currency.....	6,191 00	Checks payable.....	8,500 00
Gold.....	2,045 00
Silver, nickel and pennies.....	1,508 80
Checks and cash items.....	4,490 38
Total.....	$ 87,230 66	Total.....	$ 87,230 66

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier, of Columbiana Savings Bank, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest:
W. B. Browne, J. T. Leeper, Directors,
W. G. Parker, W. W. WALLACE, Notary Public.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Dec. 21, '05

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,

Russell H. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

Notice to Subscribers.

There are a number who owe from one to three and four years on their subscription to The Sentinel. We want to start this new year square with all of you, and ask you to pay up. To all who do not pay within the next week we shall send statements of what they owe, and we insist on payment. If you are going to make us a Christmas present, just pay what is due on your subscription, if anything, and you will satisfy us and be doing what you should do.

We do not want to give any accounts to a collector, but we shall do so if satisfactory arrangement is not made with us about payment.

If you are subject to poll tax and do not pay it, you are a man in name only.

If the farmers would only realize the fact they can fix the price of cotton and get it, too.

It looks very much as if Oklahoma and Indian Territory are to be admitted as one State.

"The Sober Side of Christmas" is the subject of an essay. Nothing is said about the other side.

A five-foot dude in a six-foot overcoat is a spectacle to make a horse laugh, says the Prattville Progress.

My! What a paper the Christmas edition of the Montgomery Advertiser is! One hundred pages filled with matter interesting to every reader who likes newspaper reading. A great deal of matter, too, was furnished by Alabama writers, and it was in every sense of the word an Alabama paper. The advertisements were among the handsomest we have ever seen, and the arrangement and display of each was pleasing to the eye. There were many beautiful half-tones in the edition, and these and the engravings were made in the engraving department of the Advertiser. The edition is the most complete of any paper we have seen in a long time, and the Advertiser, and those who help to build it are deserving of the congratulations of the reading public.

Death of Sweet Little Girl.

The following, which was published in the country correspondence of the Advocate last week, is sent The Sentinel from Wilsonville with the request that we publish the same:

We are indeed sorry to chronicle the death of Corine, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Blackberry, which occurred at their home Friday morning at 11 o'clock. She was like a flower from the pits as soon as the cold hit it was gone. She wasn't ill but a few days, but the great Rider saw fit in his great love to take her home. Her little voice is hushed in silence, and her little chair is vacant, but we know she has gone where sickness, death and farewell do never come. Corine was the joy of her parents, pride of her relatives and was indeed a lovely little girl. She was apt to learn and quick to obey, but this little flower is not cut down forever, it will rise again in that morning and forever bloom for the one it was made. Weep not for her dear ones, for she can't come back to us, but we can live so we can go to her in that land of immortality and love where parting is no more.

Her remains were laid to rest in Walton cemetery Sunday morning to await that summons when the dead in Christ shall rise and the morning shall break eternal bright and fair. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. A. C. Maser. We extend heartfelt sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Blackberry in their sad hour of bereavement. May the Good Man above smile on them and make their sad hours bright is the prayer of a friend

Ingratitude of Man.

God—Angel—Man—Devil.

Written for The Sentinel.

When man is well and healthy, and everything is working smoothly with him, he is the most independent of all of God's creation. He sometimes is so much so that he seems to lose sight of the fact, the great truth, that he even owes God any thanks or gratitude for his very existence, for his daily sustenance or his prosperity. He speaks of his health and his accumulations and gives himself the credit for it all. He is inclined to look at himself as a big I and his fellowman as a little u. He regards himself as a hero among men. Perfectly independent. He does not even feel or want to feel like he is under any obligations to his God or his fellowman. These are his feelings when things are all his way. It matters little to him whether the cause of God prospers, or his fellowman starves to death—just so he is doing well and his healthy and prosperous.

There is another side to look upon: Take a man when he suddenly becomes sick and is suffering, and how soon, oh, how soon, he forgets his independence, and how often and with all the earnestness of his very soul do you hear him call upon God to have mercy on him, and relieve him or his family as the case may be, and to again restore health to the suffering one. Calls upon God! whom he has for years, perhaps, failed to recognize as having anything to do with him in any way. He is not altogether satisfied with his petitions to God, and for fear that He (God) will not answer and give relief, he sends a messenger in post haste for a doctor, and when the doctor, perhaps worn and weary, comes into his room and diagnoses his case and gives the proper remedies to give relief, either permanent or temporary, you can see in his very countenance that he regards him (the doctor) as being an angel sent as it were from God. Himself, to his bedside to administer to him in his sufferings, and to help restore him or his family again. As he improves day by day, you will hear him sing praises of the doctor and tell him how grateful he feels to him for his promptness in his attentions to him, (although it may be at a great sacrifice upon the part of the doctor to wait upon him as closely as he does) and pledge him, perhaps, at each visit that he will never forget him, or cease to love him; and so far as pay is concerned—that is a small item; why he will just pay him any amount that he charges, for he feels then that he owes his life entirely to him. As he improves day by day a change in his feelings comes over him. He now forgets God and leaves Him out of the case, but still praises the angel of relief (the doctor) and feels that he cannot love him enough, nor even pay him enough (just as soon as he gets well) for his faithfulness and kindness and ability in restoring him to health. He is then discharged by the physician, after being cautioned how to take care of himself, and as he takes the doctor by the hand to say good bye, he blesses him and his soul fills to overflow with gratitude, and he promises a quick remuneration for his services, and a whole life of love and good will to his faithful physician who, in his judgment, then saved him from the grave. Yes, you will hear him tell it to others, that there is no question about it, that he knows the doctor saved him from the grave.

We now look on down further in the pathway of life, after he has improved sufficient to feel like he is on the safe side, and the picture again begins to change. At first he meets his "old doctor," as he calls him, and is glad to see him; will stop and pass a few moments in conversation with him in a general way, but not often will he speak of his spell of sickness himself. On a little further down, as the time for a settlement draws near and his health has returned, he begins to evade any possible chance of having to meet the once loved, once honored doctor. In this opinion, the Angel of Mercy (the doctor) has changed again, and now he is nothing more nor less than a man. For a while, yes, for a while, he looks upon him as a very clever man, and as long as he does not say anything about his account he will still occasionally take time to stop and pass a few words with him in a general way, but this time with considerable coolness. The doctor cannot help but notice the indifference and it hurts him, but seldom does he say anything about it. No one but the doctor and his faithful wife know anything of the hardships that he has to endure, and both of them suffer together in order for him to give his services to his patients. Many, yes, many times his faithful wife has to go through with numerous hardships in keeping up the odds and ends about home in order to let her husband give his time and his attention to his patients, and often is it the case that she gets up in the dead hour of the night and prepares him something to eat upon his coming home, when he has passed the day in riding and administering to the sick without a morsel to eat from breakfast till midnight; and then, perhaps, before he can get to sleep or rest any, is called again and has to leave and be gone for another day, leaving all the outside work about home on her shoulders, besides her household duties. She passes on through life helping her husband in this way administer to suffering humanity, and then dies to receive her reward, for she scarcely gets one word of praise in this cold, wicked world. May Almighty God abundantly bless the doctors' wives in this world and through eternity.

We have now passed on down the journey of life, and finally the time comes when the doctor has to ask his patrons for a settlement in order to procure provisions and the necessities of life for his family, and it is then that he is looked upon by the majority of his patrons as having changed again, and now he is no longer even a man, but he is now the very devil himself. He ought not to be even recognized, and they not only refuse to pay him for his once faithful service, even after having pledged him without having been asked to do so—that by the eternal he would pay him just as soon as he got well; he is not satisfied with not paying his bill, but he must take it upon himself to say everything mean that he possibly can about him, and if he does not know anything mean to tell, a great many of them will manufacture something themselves and then tell it for the truth. He feels terribly hurt, and it is a shame and a disgrace for him to even be asked for a settlement and besides he was charged entirely too much; and besides, again, the doctor only made him sicker than he was, and did him no good, and to tell the truth about it, he injured him and don't deserve any pay. He did not feel this way about it when he was sick and, perhaps, asking the doctor to come back just as soon as he could, and if left to him he would keep him there all the time. He feels now, as he is well, that he is under no obligations to him; not even enough so to try to pay the honest debt made by his own request, for he knows if he should need help again, he can change and send for another, and so it goes, and if perchance they cannot procure the services of another, they send back for their old physician again knowing that it is hard for him to refuse to go and administer to suffering humanity, and they take advantage of his tender feelings and soak him again. I am thankful to say that all men are not like this.

A few more lines, brother Editor, and I am through with this subject for the present:

Lives of great men oft remind us
That honest work can't stand a chance;
The more we work, we leave behind us
Bigger patches on our pants.

On our pants, once new and glossy,
Now are seen patches of different hue;
All because our patrons flinger
And won't pay what is due.

So, let us be up doing,
Send in your bill to be it ere so small;
Lest when the winter breezes strike us,
We shall have no pants at all.

Most respectfully,
J. B. BOYER.

Wilsonville, Ala.

A WOMAN'S HEART.

A woman's heart is a curious thing!
You may bruise and break it and roughly fling
The balance away as a useless thing;
But the sunshine and warmth of a kindly word

Will nourish the tendrils broken,
And newness of life is within it stirred.
By a word so gently spoken.

O! woman's heart is of priceless worth,
The tenderest love within has its birth.
Go search and you'll find there is naught on earth

That rivals the wealth of her loving heart,
When once it is freely given;
That can comfort the sad, such joy impart,
Though with grief her own is riven.

But woman's heart is a foolish thing!
With never a doubt all its wealth 'twill bring
And freely bestow. To its idol will cling Though the world may condemn. Ah, a woman's heart!

To reason will never listen;
She will perill her soul, scorn every art,
And barter her hopes of heaven.

Will stand unwearied, thro' night and day,
By the bed of pain; will tenderly lay
Her own life down; through years will watch and pray

For the soul of one, who could never know,
Could ne'er believe, except in part,
All the strength of love, all the joy and woe,
That lie concealed in a woman's heart.

The Democratic State Committee has been called to meet in Montgomery on the 8th of January for the transaction of such business as may come before it.

Knock out the infamous fee system in Alabama and every county in the State will be the gainer in dollars and cents and, incidentally, better officials.

Machinery is Purchased.

Mr. Mattison, of Talladega, who is to put in a knitting mill in Columbiana, writes Mayor Browne that the machinery has been ordered and in a few weeks it will begin to arrive. The company has been organized, and an effort will be made to have the mill in operation within the next sixty or ninety days. We are told, too, that the capacity of the mill has been doubled from what was at first intended, and will give employment to about one hundred people.

There is a well defined rumor that the L. & N. railroad is to extend its Shelby-Columbiana branch out through the coal fields northwest of this place, and tapping the main line some six or eight miles south of Birmingham. The L. & N. is also making preparation to enlarge its depot facilities here and otherwise improve its property. Our people will all be glad to learn of these industrial features of which our town so much stands in need.

Public Installation.

Shelby Lodge, No. 50, Knights of Pythias, of this city, will have a public installation of officers at the Academy on Friday night of this week, to which a cordial invitation to the public is extended.

The officers to be installed are Prof. S. Dowell, C. C.; Dr. C. T. Acker, V. C.; W. W. Wallace, Prelate; H. E. Whitaker, K. of R. S.; E. A. Saxon, M. of A.; Dr. W. P. Hammer, I. G.; T. F. Atkinson, O. G.; J. W. Johnston, Master of Exchequer.

Commending Rev. C. C. Heard.

At a regular Conference of the Rockford Baptist church, held in Rockford on Oct. 15th, 1905, the following resolutions, commending Rev. C. C. Heard, the new pastor of the Baptist church in this city, were adopted:

Whereas it has been our fortune to have as pastor for the last four years the Rev. C. C. Heard, and it has been our pleasure to have him and his family during the same length of time as citizens among us.

And whereas by force of circumstances we are called upon to release our claims upon him and his family in order that he may go to other fields.

Now therefore be it resolved: First, that our church has sustained a great loss and one not easily filled. That the community has lost one of its most valuable citizens.

Second, we heartily commend Brother Heard to the flock or flocks over which he has been called to preside and unto which he will minister. And we commend him and his family to the community which is so fortunate as to have them in their midst.

The above resolutions were read and adopted in conference.—R. A. Suttle, Clerk.

Santa Claus

Has left a big lot of Christmas goods with Thompson & Riddle, and especially is the line to take the eye of the little folks. And at the same time, when you go there to get your present for the little ones, this firm can supply you with everything in the way of candies, nuts and fruits. Do not fail to call and see them. They have the goods you want and at way down prices.

Rip Van Winkle.

On Tuesday night, Dec. 19th, Eiler's big metropolitan production of the famous and well known drama Rip Van Winkle be presented at the Academy in Columbiana.

This is an elaborate production and the electrical effect are grand. The company travels in its own special car, carrying its own orchestra and band consisting of over twenty people.

The drama is one which made Joe Jefferson famous, and it will be presented here in the same manner, costumes and scenery which made it so attractive to the people when played by Jefferson.

The prices of admission are: children 25 cents, and adults 50 and 75 cents. Come early and avoid the rush. adv.

Dispensary tea made the legs of a number very wobbly last Thursday and Friday. It seems to be the delight of some people to make a show of themselves when they get loaded.

In this issue will be found an advertisement of the Mobile Mardi Gras. The dates are the 25th, 26th and 27th of February, and a great time is promised to all who may attend.

Administrator's Settlement.

State of Alabama, Probate Court, Shelby County, 5th day of Dec., 1905. Estate of John W. Nash, deceased.

THIS day came Wesley O. Nash, administrator of the estate of John W. Nash, deceased, and filed his account, vouchers, expenses and statement for a final settlement of the same, as an insolvent estate. It is ordered that the 1st day of January, 1906, be appointed a day for making such settlement as which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same if they think proper, and that notice of this order be given by publication in the Columbiana Sentinel for three successive weeks. A. D. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

New Invoice o

Elegant Furniture

Has just been received by us

and we cordially invite your inspection of this stock (new and up to date)

Before You Buy Elsewhere.

Get the worth of your money when you buy Furniture, for it is something you cannot afford to buy at every change of the moon. Our

Stock is New--Prices to Suit.

Consult your own interests, and fit up your home with new, pretty furniture, and make the heart of the good wife glad. We can aid you. In our stock is a very Nice Line of Kitchen Safes.

Come, inspect what we have.

Milner & Christian.

Non-Resident Notice.
State of Alabama, In Chancery.
Shelby County, Sixth District North.
Robert Tyson, complainant,
versus
Annie Tyson, defendant.
In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by the affidavit of W. R. Browne that the defendant, Annie Tyson, is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and that she resides at Woodstock, in the State of Georgia; and further, that in the belief of said affiant, the defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.
It is therefore ordered, by the Register, that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in the county of Shelby, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Annie Tyson, to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 7th day of January, A. D. 1906, or in thirty days thereafter, a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.
Done at office in Columbiana, Ala., this 7th day of December, A. D. 1905.
J. R. WHITE, Register.

Letters of Administration.
State of Alabama, Shelby County.
Estate of William Hall, deceased.
Letters of administration upon the estate of said deceased, having been granted to the undersigned, on the 21st day of November 1905, by the Honorable A. P. Longshore, Judge of the Probate Court of Shelby County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.
GEORGE E. HALL, Adm'r.
Administrator's address,
Box 936, New Haven, Conn.

Non-Resident Notice.
Probate Court, Shelby County.
Estate of C. H. Strain, deceased.
Whereas the administrators of said estate, to-wit, Wm. Strain, Sen., and Maggie Britt, did on December 4, 1905, report that said administrator Wm. Strain did buy at a sale had by him on said day, the real estate belonging to said estate, and that he had paid in full the purchase money so bid by him, to-wit, Twenty-Two Hundred and Thirty Dollars, and asking that titles be made to him, it is ordered that Monday, January 23, 1906, be set as a day to hear said report, and that notice thereof be given the heirs of said C. H. Strain, deceased. And it appearing that Wm. Strain is a non-resident, residing at Groveton, Texas, and that John Strain is a non-resident and lives at Graceland, Fla., it is ordered that publication be made in the Columbiana Sentinel, a newspaper published in Shelby County, Ala., notifying them to appear on said day and contest said report, if they see fit and that a copy of this publication be mailed to each of them at their respective addresses.
Witness my hand this December 4, 1905.
A. P. LONGSHORE, Judge of Probate.

According to the report of the commissioner of education there are 18,589,991 children in schools of all kinds in this country.

Lester Pianos. Ivers and Pond Pianos.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

It will only cost you two cents to get out prices on Pianos, Organs, Sewing Machines and small musical instruments. As we employ no agents, and sell direct from the factory, we can save you at least 25 per cent and all goods can be examined before paid for.

First class, reliable pianos sold at $25 cash and monthly payments of $10. Organs $10 cash and $5 per month. New Drop Head Sewing Machines $18 cash, f. o. b. Talladega. Also talking machines and records.

J. S. Laverty & Son.

STORES AT

Talladega, Ala., Gadsden, Ala.,
Pianos and Organs Tuned and Repaired,
Radle Pianos, Crown Organs.

BIRMINGHAM Title and Guaranty Co.

Abstracts of Titles, Certificates of Titles, Guaranteed Titles, General Title Business, Best Equipment, Superior Work, Prepared for thorough investigation of Titles.

J. K. BROCKMAN, Gen'l Mgr.

W. J. HORSLEY, Local Mgr.

Columbiana: Ala

N. R. Evans, who has been managing the sale of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. for the American Salvage Co., has returned to his home in Atlanta.

Postmaster F. F. Crowe, of Montevallo, was in the city on Wednesday of last week, and while here paid The Sentinel office a pleasant call.

Hamner Grocery Company,

(Successors to Roberts & Robertson.)

Will fill your orders for anything in

Staple and Fancy Groceries.

All the Celebrated Brands of

Canned Goods
and Cereals

Always on Hand.

Christmas Goods

On hand in abundance at prices that will startle you. Presents suitable for all ages and classes.

REMEMBER

Your orders will receive prompt attention, will be filled to your satisfaction, and will be appreciated.

PHONE 20.

A quiet wedding occurred at the home of Rev. C. C. Heard last Wednesday night, when Miss Ethel Glenn was united in marriage to Mr. W. H. Bice, of Shelby. These young people are well known in this city, and have a large circle of friends here and in Shelby who wish them all the joy and happiness in the world. They will make their home in Shelby.

The Shelby show, which was to have given performances in this place last Thursday, arrived on time but the cold, heavy rain put it out of business, and it did not try to give a performance. It left Friday morning for Shelby. Several members of its band severed their connection with the show Friday morning.

The Butterworth Concert Company is the next attraction in the Lyceum course, and the date is Monday night, January 8th, at the Academy in Columbiana. This company has the reputation of being excellent entertainers, offer a very pleasing program, and no doubt will be greeted with a big audience.

You cannot make a better Christmas present to a friend, and one that would be more appreciated, than a year's subscription to The Sentinel. Fifty-two two times during the year would that friend be reminded of the fact that you had remembered them on Christmas.

Miss Ethel Early, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. S. Dowell, for the past four or five months, will leave for home in Aulander, N. C., today. During her visit in Columbiana Miss Early has made many friends among our people, all whom regret her departure.

If all the people of his race were as industrious and energetic as Jim Neely, the negro shoemaker, they would be more prosperous and get into less trouble. Jim is a good shoemaker, is unassuming and attends strictly to his business.

The weather of the past or ten days has been a business killer, and for that reason the Columbiana Mercantile Co. will extend its big sale for another week. Read the new advertisement of this firm and you will find out all about it.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Reynolds, of Montevallo, will leave this week for a trip through Old Mexico. The trip is to be made with the hope that it will be beneficial to Mrs. Reynolds, who has been in poor health for some time.

Bear in mind the date of the Butterworth Concert Company which is to be at the Academy on the night of January 8th. This is one of the Lyceum course attractions, and it comes well recommended.

Mrs. B. T. Johnson and children left last Friday for Greensboro, where they will visit relatives until after Christmas. Mrs. Johnson will visit her brother whom she has not seen for five years.

There is a change in the advertisement of the City Drug Store in this issue. This firm is making a drive on their holiday goods and now is the time to see them about that Christmas present.

Rev. S. R. Lester, of Birmingham, was in the city a day or two last week, visiting his nephew, Rufus Lester. Rev. Mr. Lester has charge of the Methodist church at Smithfield this year.

The latter part of last week was covered with about the worst weather we have seen in a long time. It rained for two or three solid days, making the roads in a horrible condition.

The Misses Zemma and Clara Pitts, who are attending Shorter College, Rome, Ga., will be home for the holidays, and will be accompanied by two of their school friends.

The Sale at the Columbiana Mercantile Co. has been extended to the 23rd of December, and their advertisement in this issue tells you all about what they are offering.

Joe Peters and Willis Lyman, who are students at the Marion Military Institute, will come up to spend the holidays with home folks at Montevallo.

Christmas is near at hand and the small boy is looking at the fireworks in the shop windows with longing in his eyes.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Edick will move into the E. B. Nelson property about the first of the new year.

Calvin Weldon and Jim Taylor, of Wilsonville, were in the city a few hours last Friday.

SALE CONTINUES.

Friends not to be deprived of advantages on account of bad weather.

The inclement weather deprived many of our friends from visiting the sale of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. in person, and were thus denied the right to get the values a Dollar could under no consideration heretofore offer.

Mail after mail asked us to extend the sale, and as we are the "Working man's friend and Farmers' protector" we decided to continue the sale one week longer, and have slashed prices more than on previous occasions. We will offer the balance of our high grade merchandise at values beyond the pale of ordinary expression. $50,000 worth of seasonable merchandise to be distributed by Saturday, Dec. 23, 1905.

Only a Week Longer

In which to reap the harvest of the Columbiana Mercantile Co. The Gigantic Removal Sale must end Saturday, December 23. Read these few extra special matchless bargains. Hundreds of others equally attractive, some better, await your inspection:

500 yds silk worth $1, and $1.25, this sale..... 59c
36-inch black taffeta silk, sold the world over at $1.50 and $1.75, this sale..... 89c
500 prs ladies fine shoes worth $2 and $2.25..... 97c
Outings..... 3 1/2c
Best outing..... 8c
2,000 yards of dress prints..... 4c
7 1/2-cent standard gingham..... 5c
Heavy cotton flannel..... 6c

Men's Overcoats.

Big lot of men's overcoats worth $12.50 at..... $6 98

Buggies.

Splendid runabout buggies worth $42.50, at..... $28 48
Another lot worth $55.00, at..... $44 48

Shoes, and Boys' Suits.

150 pairs men's and boys' shoes worth $2 and $3 at..... 1 29
Boys' suits worth $2.50 to $3, at..... 1 19

Groceries.

Arbuckle & Co's best coffee at..... 13c
25 pounds Y. C. Sugar for..... $1 00

100 Fine Suits worth from $10 to $15,

To close out in this sale at $4.98.

COLUMBIANA MERCANTILE CO..

The Store that put Columbiana on the Map.

Pay highest price for Cotton and all Country Produce.

Next Monday is Christmas.

School closes Friday for one week.

Fireworks at the Hamner Grocery Co.

A. H. Avery, of Shelby, was in the city last Thursday.

Do you owe for subscription? If so, pay up and start even again.

Sam Wallace, of Klein, was in the city last Thursday and Friday.

Mayor W. B. Browne visited his son Chester in Tuscaloosa last week.

Hamner Grocery Co. have a full line of fireworks for the holidays.

When a man is loaded, you always know it; with a gun, it's different.

Make yourself a present of a receipt for you poll tax. It will be money well invested.

Leave your order at the Hamner Grocery Company for fresh oysters for the holidays.

Chester Browne, who is attending the State University, will be home to spend the holidays.

Do the right thing by all of your friends, and you haven't anything but the core of the apple left.

Pr. Wm. C. Williams, of Shelby, was in the city last Thursday and honored The Sentinel with a call.

Public installation of Knights of Pythias officers at the Academy next Friday night. All are invited.

If you can't decide what to give us for a Christmas present, just pay up your subscription and let it go at that.

Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Vest and son Bernie of Birmingham will be visitors at the home of The Sentinel man during the holidays.

The Sentinel wishes for all a merry, merry Christmas. Make the most of it for there will not be another for twelve months.

Holiday Goods at Cost!

We have had a large stock of Holiday Goods, and so far we have had the busiest holiday season this store has ever had. Still we find that our stock is not yet exhausted. Rather than carry these goods over, we have decided to sell every item in this line

Holiday
Goods
At Cost.

at cost, this sale beginning Thursday, Dec. 21. Remember that these are brand new goods, the pick of this year's productions, and well worth the price for which they will be sold. Come to see us. Don't put it off.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

AUCTION SALE

AT SHELBY SPRINGS.

Saturday, December 23, 1905.

Sale begins at 10 o'clock, A. M., and continues until everything is sold at your own price.

One fresh grade Jersey cow, and calf one week old; six young hogs; new spring cots, sheets, pillow slips, bed-spreads, blankets, several bedsteads, folding couches and other articles of furniture. New Rogers' silver knives, forks and spoons. Lamps, kitchen utensils. New disc plow, new Jones mowing machine, one Sure Hatch incubator, one garden swing, Worthington Steam Pump, one 2-seat surrey, platform scales, diabes, glasses, bed room crockery, ewers and basins, slop jars, etc. Lot of pipe tools.

Mrs. Leila B. MacKnight,
Shelby Springs Hotel.

Cut this out; it will not appear again.

YOUR WANTS

In the Grocery line it is our pleasure to supply. We are confident of our own ability to do this, and that you will be satisfied with our goods and prices we have no doubt because the first is the best, and the last is the lowest. We can make good.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS

We have a choice line of Candies, Nuts and Fruit, without which the Holiday time of the little folks is completely spoiled. No delay whatever in filling orders; tell us your wants and we'll do the rest and save you money.

We invite your patronage.

ATKINSON, BIRD & CO.

RATES ON COTTON

Present System Gives Farm Wider Markets in Which to Sell.

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 12.—Some idea of the amount of business furnished to this city by the cotton grower is given by data recently put together. There were brought into this city by railroad last year, from Sept. 1, 1904 to Aug. 31, 1905, 204,357 bales of cotton. There were moved from Montgomery by railroad 187,919 bales. Of these about 65,000 went to the Gulf ports and some 110,000 to the Atlantic ports for export, while about 12,000 went to Southern mills. Only 1900 bales left the city by water. Dependent to such a large extent for this business upon transportation furnished by the railroads, the subject freight rates naturally is one of much importance to this city and the surrounding farming country that supplies the cotton. Upon the trade furnished by the farmer, Montgomery relies. The farmer is the customer of the merchandise brought here for distribution and in the long run it is the farmer who pays the freight on the raw cotton shipped. It is, therefore, eminently necessary for the prosperity of Montgomery to have rates on raw cotton that will enable the city to compete successfully with other cotton marts.

Mr. J. P. Ferrall, one of the largest cotton buyers in this city, in discussing this subject recently, admitted that rates on raw cotton are fair. The same opinion was expressed by other leading buyers and warehousemen of this city.

Attention was called to the fact that granting to the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to fix freight rates would in the opinion of the best informed students of the subject, mean the application of rates fixed at so much per mile per weight, whereas at present the railroads fix the rates without regard to distance and thus equalize the advantages of shipping points at unequal distances from markets. The Montgomery dealers above referred to were undividedly of the opinion that such fixing of the rate on the mileage basis would greatly restrict the area to which Montgomery could ship, limiting it to those points nearer to this city than to other shipping points. The effect would be to cut off the farmer in this section of the country from a large portion of his present markets. The same injurious result it was pointed out, would follow in all cotton growing districts under similar conditions.

Vulcan did a great service for Birmingham by announcing to hundreds of thousands of people attending the St. Louis Exposition that the Birmingham district is the great industrial centre of the South. Vulcan has been worth thousands of dollars to Birmingham. It is only fair that the business men of this city who reaped so much profit from the big Iron Man should respond to the appeal of the Commercial Club to raise the money to pay the debt on Vulcan. Let every business man of Birmingham contribute to this movement.—Birmingham News.

Congressman Taylor wants work down on Mobile Bay, from the outer bar to the city wharfs that will make Mobile a great city. Up this way we are all for Wash Taylor and Mobile.—Birmingham Ledger.

Montgomery has put the ban on selling toy pistols to the young boys of that city. Every town in the State should emulate the example of Montgomery—to go and do likewise.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1st, 1901."

Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25, 50c and $1.00.—Sold by William Bros.

Advertisers continue to use a large part of the space in The Sentinel, the best evidence in the world that it is the best advertising medium in this section of the country.

NEW ENGLAND THRIFT.

The proportion of men and women who retire on small competencies is doubtless greater in Massachusetts than in any other state in the Union, unless it be Pennsylvania, which is the other state of Dr. Benjamin Franklin's residence. But a man who has been the most robust respect for the thrift of the people of Massachusetts must be surprised to learn from the report of the state's bureau of labor statistics that there are more than 45,000 such persons—28,000 men and 17,000 women. Two-thirds of them are native born too.

These persons who have retired on competencies are apparently not, as a rule, the owners of large fortunes. Indeed, most men of large fortunes, it is safe to say, do not retire till physical infirmities compel them. In the list are an amazing number who were farmers—more than 3,500—whereas less than 3,300 were merchants. Even the retired blacksmiths number 359, and there are 1,076 "laborers" on this list.—World's Work.

How Russia Expands.

The progress of Russia is like the spreading of ink over blotting paper. There is no natural barrier in Persia to throw her back or head her off, such as the mountainous frontier of India. But the prospect of Russian absorption of Persia is not practical politics today. Neither is it practical politics nor healthy patriotism to hound on Great Britain to occupy, finance, protect or claim rights in every country which lies upon her road to India or Africa or America or the south seas. Such a policy is merely suicidal. We can barely govern efficiently our present possessions. Fresh large responsibilities in Persia, in China and ultimately in Turkey would simply weigh us down to the gunwale and finally sink us.—London Outlook.

Light From Microbes.

Professor Han Molisch of Prague has reported to the Vienna Academy of Sciences the discovery of a lamp lighted by means of bacteria, which he claims will give a powerful light and be free from danger, thus being valuable for work in mines and powder magazines. The lamp consists of a glass jar, in which a lining of saltpetre and gelatin, inoculated with bacteria, is placed. Two days after inoculation the jar becomes illuminated with a wonderful bluish green light, caused by the innumerable bacteria which have developed in the time. The light will burn brilliantly for from two to three weeks afterward, diminishing in brightness. It renders faces recognizable at a distance of two yards, and large type is easily legible by it.

The Boss Janitor.

A janitor in a New York apartment house must be a mechanical Proteus. The first class janitor not only gets his rent free and a good salary, but he has an assistant to take care of the hall, the stairs, the front steps, the cellar and the sidewalk. The boss janitor merely supervises these details and devotes most of his working time to fixing locks, putting in broken windows, looking after the steam heating apparatus and the electric dynamo, making general repairs and saving the landlord many a dollar by avoiding the employment of the plumber, the glazier and the carpenter, who charge by the job and charge high.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

What Ailed Him.

Anxious Neighbor—Silas, what th' doose is th' matter of that boy o' yours? Ev'ry day he seems t' have a change o' plans and occupation. Father Hornhand—Nothin' serious. He's keepin' track o' them newspaper articles on how t' succeed. Ev'ry one tells a different way, an' he's tryin' 'em all. Soon as he gets over it a little I'm goin' t' put 'im t' plow in th' hillside lot, where th' broom sedge is thickest. That'll give 'im a chanst t' find out what a fool he's been.—Baltimore American.

Heaven Via California.

It is noted that many of the immigrants who are now seeking homes in the west travel in Pullman cars. That is a sign of American progress. From the Atlantic to Ohio the travel was in wagons; from Ohio to Kansas it was in immigrant cars; from Kansas to this point they come in Pullmans. When the time comes for migration from California the people will take wings and go to heaven.—San Francisco Call.

Marked Down.

Mrs. Stiggins—Well, you are the greatest dunderhead I ever did see yet. The idea of buying an excellent mattress for goose feathers! Mr. Stiggins—It isn't my fault, it is that the dealer is a cheat? The bed was marked down, you know.—Boston Transcript.

Cured Paralysis.

W. F. Bailey, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites and skin eruptions. It does the work.—Sold by Williams Bros."

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

CONDENSED STORIES.

How the Elder Booth Got the Skull He Used in "Hamlet."

The elder Booth acquired a skull for use in "Hamlet" in an odd manner, according to a story in Seen and Heard. The tragedian, somewhat in his cups, was traveling near Louisville when he took a horse from a field and rode off with it. Horse stealing at that time was a capital offense in Kentucky, and the greatest horse thief was a man named Fontaine. Booth was soon overtaken and when asked where he got the animal said:

"I captured him in a field back there."

"Indeed," said one of the farmers. "And what might your name be?"

"My name is Fontaine," said Booth, without a smile.

"Fontaine!" ejaculated both men simultaneously. "Then you are the very man we want. Come back to town with us."

"Certainly," said Booth in the most good natured manner, and, wheeling the horse, he rode back to Louisville with his captors.

The city jail was then in charge of a Colonel Thomas, who knew Booth well. "We have brought you Fontaine, the horse thief, and claim the reward," said the farmers proudly, addressing the jailer.

"Where is he?" they were asked. Booth was produced. "Why, what does this mean, Mr. Booth?" asked Thomas.

"I haven't the slightest idea," said the great tragedian, with the utmost simplicity. "I met these two men with this horse, and they insisted upon giving it to me. I guess they stole it. I think one of them is Fontaine."

The rusties were about to be locked up when, by the most singular coincidence, a man rushed to the prison door on horseback and shouted out the information that the real Fontaine had been taken into custody. Booth made Fontaine's acquaintance in jail, and the horse thief, who was executed later, left by will his skull to the actor.

Was Ready to Say "Goodby."

While Henry Drummond was calling on a friend on his last visit here he was introduced to a party of American girls.

"How very formal you are here when you are introduced!" he said. "Now, in England we always shake hands. What do you do here when you say goodbye?"

"Oh, we kiss," said the youngest of the party, a charming girl of sixteen.

"Ah, that's charming," responded Professor Drummond. "Suppose we say goodbye right now."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Reed and Robson.

That the great heart and mind of Thomas B. Reed took in more than his own branch of endeavor was illustrated by a conversation the late Stuart Robson had with him last winter. As Mr. Robson told it:

"I was in the elevator of the Shoreham in Washington when Mr. Reed entered. I recognized him from pictures I had seen, and I fear my curiosity got the better of my politeness, for I could not keep from staring at him. Caught in the act, I lowered my eyes and pretended to be looking at a little girl with her doll.

"But Mr. Reed smiled and said: 'Take a long look at me, Mr. Rob-

"TAKE A LONG LOOK AT ME, MR. ROBSON." son. I've been looking at you off and on for many a year, and it's but fair. It honors men of my calling to meet one of yours, for one realizes that if we politicians could distribute as much happiness to mankind as you player fellows do the world would be a great deal the better for it."

Heart Fluttering.

Undigested food and gas in the stomach, located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart palpitation. When your heart trouble you in that way take Herbine for a few days. You will soon be all right. 50c a bottle.—Sold by William Bros.

H. E. Smith, of Wilsonville, was in the city a few hours last Saturday.

SHIELD BRAND Fits Well WEARS Well CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

EVERY & EVERY, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsouville, Ala.

We too often elect men to fill offices because of the fact that they are honest, clever good citizens and without any consideration whatever of their qualifications and fitness to fill the office and do the work required.—Gurley Herald.

Remarkable Curer.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed. C. Nud, Iowa. "Sedwick Co., Kan., going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me."

I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm sold by William Bros.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1905.

No. 31	No. 16	STATIONS	No. 15	No. 71
7:00pm	5:30am	Mobile	6:55pm	8:10am
1:00am	6:45pm	St. Louis	4:30pm	2:30am
6:30am	10:00am	Ar. New Orleans	6:30am	4:30am
9:40am	1:00pm	Ar. Chattanooga	6:30pm	6:30pm
11:10pm	3:00pm	Ar. Knoxville	2:10pm	9:00am
8:41am	5:30pm	Ar. Bristol	9:00am	1:00pm
6:01pm	1:00pm	Ar. New York	1:10pm	1:10pm
1:00am	6:30am	Ar. New York	10:00pm	2:00am
12:30pm	10:00am	Ar. New York	5:30pm	5:30pm

No. 22 and 23 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and New Orleans. Dining car serves meals en route.

No. 18	STATIONS	No. 47
7:30am	Mobile	8:00pm
9:10am	Ar. New Orleans	7:30pm
6:00am	Ar. Chattanooga	6:10pm
10:30am	Ar. Knoxville	5:40pm
11:40am	Ar. Bristol	4:30pm

STATIONS		No. 26	No. 38	No. 54	No. 64
Ly Birm gham	6.10am	5.10 m	1.3
Pell City	7.20am	6.10am	12.35am
Aniston	8.30am	7.10pm	1.45am
Edwardsville	9.40am	8.10pm	2.55am
Frithurst	10.50am	9.13am	4.05am
Tallapoosa	12.00pm	10.22pm	5.55am
Bremen	1.10pm	8.41pm	7.16 m
Douglasville	2.20pm	9.49pm	8.34am
Lithia Springs	3.30pm	10.60pm	9.43am
Atlanta	4.40pm	11.13pm	10.40am
	5.50pm	12.20pm	11.50am

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

Established in 1875.

COLUMBIANA, ALABAMA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1905.

VOL. 31, NO. 17.

TO FARMERS OF SHELBY COUNTY:

NATURALLY, you are interested in Cotton—in finding the market where you can obtain the highest price at the least cost to you.

Columbiana the Place.

The merchants of this town have perfected a plan that will enable them to offer you a better cotton market this season than ever before in the history of the place. They are determined to give you the very highest price possible for your cotton, so you can feel confident when you leave home, that you will receive every cent that your cotton would bring in any local market in this section.

WAREHOUSE—FREE STOCK-YARD.

If you desire to store your cotton, J. R. White owns one of the best brick warehouses in the State, and is prepared to offer you the lowest terms on storage and insurance which guarantees your cotton to be protected in every way. He also owns a splendid stock-yard and stalls for taking care of your teams, and a house in which you can camp, the use of which is absolutely free or charge to you. Should you desire your cotton ginned here, R. A. O'Hara & Son have one of the best gins in the county, and guarantee you prompt and fair treatment.

UP-TO-DATE MERCHANTS.

OUR merchants carry full and complete lines, and if you desire to purchase goods of any description they will supply you with anything you desire at prices that no market in this section will meet. These are facts that cannot be successfully controverted.

That you give the cotton market of Columbiana a fair trial is all that we ask. If you will do this we have no apprehensions as to the result.

COLUMBIANA COMMERCIAL CLUB.

CITY DIRECTORY.

TOWN COUNCIL.

W. B. Browne, Mayor
W. L. Farley, Clerk
C. H. Phipps, J. W. Johnston, A. P. Longshore, R. F. Cox, W. W. Wallace.

CHURCHES.

METHODIST.—Preaching the second and fourth Sundays, morning and night. Prayer meeting Thursday nights. Sunday school, 9:30. G. T. Harris, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN.—Preaching on the first Sunday, morning and night. Prayer meeting Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. Joseph Douglass, Pastor.

BAPTIST.—Preaching every third Sunday morning and night. Prayer meeting on Wednesday night. Sunday school, 9:30. C. C. Heard, Pastor.

SECRET ORDERS.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 140, A. F. & A. M. meets Monday night after second Saturday, and last Saturday in each month. Visiting brothers invited to meet with us. F. A. Church, W. M. W. A. Abercrombie, Sec.

SHELBY LODGE, No. 50, KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS. meets on the first and third Monday nights. Visiting Knights invited. A. P. Longshore, C. C. O. O. Bird, K. of R. S.

PROFESSIONAL.

McMILLAN & HAYNES,
Attorneys-at-Law,
Columbiana, Ala.
Office up-stairs, bank building.

BROWNE & LEEPER,
Attorneys-at-Law, Solicitors
IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

J. L. PETERS,
Attorney-at-Law,
AND SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY.
Columbiana, Ala.

EDWARD S. LYMAN,
Attorney and
Counselor-at-Law.
Montevallo, Ala.
Special facilities for making Abstracts.

Dr. W. P. HAMNER,
DENTIST.
COLUMBIANA, ALA.
Office opposite court house
in Lester building Phone No 47.

SENATOR MORGAN.

He Will Make The Fight of His Life This Winter.

Washington, D. C. 18th, "The grand old man" is the way his conferees speak of Hon. John T. Morgan, U. S. Senator from Alabama. His intellect is recognized by all to be one of the strongest and clearest in the American Senate. His logic is irresistible in debate but in a political body which divides everybody on party lines, it may almost be asked: What is logic between opponents?

Great interest is taken in Senator Morgan's position this winter on the question of rate making by the Federal Government. It is currently reported that he will make the fight of his life on this issue. He declares that if the government adopts the policy favored by the President, the railroads will soon absolutely control the government. They will become the whole thing. State railroad commissions will lose all power to regulate freight rates. The power of the states will be overshadowed.

Rates are likely to vary according to conditions, says the Senator. A rate which is just, on a crooked, costly mountain road, would be extortionate over a railroad built at a third of the cost per mile through a level fertile country. Therefore it would not be practical to make uniform rates for all roads.

In a recent letter to the Manufacturers Record of Baltimore, Senator Morgan gives his solution of the rate question in a few words as follows—

The Real Opportunity of Congress. "If the Government would control freight and passenger rates on the railroads, the most conspicuous opportunity and the plainest line of duty is to increase the competition wherever it is possible, by improving the navigation of the watercourses, all of which belong to the people.

"With the aid of a strong and earnest move in making such improvements, and with the protection of the penal laws to suppress interference with the justice, safety and freedom of commerce, and with the shelter of the strong citadel of trial by jury in the state and federal courts, the people will secure to themselves reasonable freight rates on state and interstate commerce and the politicians will lose sight of the subject.

If men had as much patience with the baby's faults, as they have with their own, what model nurses they would be.

Every time a girl speaks to her brother, it is with the intention of taking another bunch of conceit out of him.

It is pretty safe to say that you don't know what you are going to get, and you do know that you won't like it.

Become confidential with any old man and you will hear how some of his family are trying to rob him of his money.

There are a few people in the world who have so much trouble that they are in a nightmare all the time.

You owe everything to your mother: the day you were born every one else was willing to give you away.

People are so sensitive that you can't give them soap without offense unless it costs a dollar a cake.

There isn't any on earth as lonesome as a man who is lonesome when his wife is around.

Occasionally love affairs drag on so that Cupid disappears, and Father Time takes his place.

It is a sign of the most extreme old age if one exhibits good sense in Christmas buying.

Is Comer Sane?

Mr. B. B. Comer, candidate for governor of Alabama makes a statement which condemns him as being either unfit to be at large, or unfit for citizenship.

Dr. Cunningham in his opening campaign speech at Union Springs recently, said that if elected governor he would administer the office within its constitutional and statutory limitations. That is to say he would not go outside of the law.

Mr. Comer's comment on this was that any man who made such a statement wasn't fit to be governor. That is to say, only a man who would disregard the law is fit to be governor. Mr. Comer reiterated this amazing statement in his joint debate with Dr. Cunningham at Russellville.

Mr. Comer's oath of office reads, as does the oath of the governor: "I solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States, and the Constitution of the State of Alabama so long as I continue a citizen thereof."

There it is. But because Dr. Cunningham declared he would adhere to the conditions of this oath, Mr. Comer says he is unfit for the office of Governor.

Will you look at it, people? Mr. Comer admits that he would violate his constitutional and statutory limitations. He would violate his oath.

Again, people, will you look at it? Let us go over it again:

Dr. Cunningham said he would be guided by his constitutional and statutory limitations—that he would keep within the law.

In reply to this, Mr. Comer said that a man who would do that was unfit to be governor. Which is to say that he wouldn't be guided by his constitutional and statutory limitations—that is, he would not keep within the law. But his oath of the office confines him to his constitutional and statutory limitations. Yet he says that any man who announces that he would be guided by these limitations is unfit for office.

What sort of man have we here running for Governor? Mr. Comer would be a law unto himself. He is a dangerous man, or would be if in authority. A bull in a china shop wouldn't be a marker.

To sum up, Mr. Comer has confessed himself one of three things: He is either too ignorant to know what Dr. Cunningham meant by "Constitutional and Statutory limitations" (which we prefer to believe), is not mentally sound, or is unfit for citizenship; this latter for the reason that while his oath requires him to support the constitution of his State as long as he continues a citizen thereof, he says to his rival and to the people that a man who will do that—support the constitution of his State by respecting its limitations—is not fit to be governor.

Any act in deliberate violation of the constitution of a state is treason against the state; if against the constitution of the United States, it is treason against the United States. A man cannot remain a citizen of either and not support its constitution.

Question: Where does Mr. Comer stand?

Another question: Is Mr. Comer sane?

As one of the jury of the people of Alabama, The Reaper would from the evidence decide that Mr. Comer is more fit for the asylum than for public office.—Geneva Reaper.

A man never realizes how many people want to treat him until he has sworn off.

Subscribe for The Sentinel.

All the papers in the country are now getting that manilla wrapped periodical from Washington which, for courtesy's sake, is called the Congressional Record.

It is announced that hazing is to be stamped out of the naval academy at Annapolis. The people will believe this story when the announcement is carried into effect.

The salary of the President of these United States is a mere bagatelle when compared with the salaries paid presidents of some of the life insurance companies.

The announcement is made by the president and Mrs. Roosevelt of the engagement of Miss Alice Roosevelt to Hon. Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio. The marriage is to occur in February.

Chas. A. Peabody has been elected president of the Mutual Life Insurance company at a salary of $50,000 per year. Quite a difference between that $150,000—the salary of former president McCurdy.

It takes Booker T. to do the president's so called referees in Alabama a job. Thompson, Scott, et al. should take issue with the manager of the negro incubator at Tuskegee and see if they are, or are not.

The front cover of the Christmas number of the Ladies' Home Journal is supposed to represent the birth of the Savior in the manger. It may be an art manager all right, but a farmer would never be able to use one just like it.

The Centerville Press says "the weekly newspapers need a trust to handle foreign advertising." Not a bit of it, brother. Ask a fair price for your space, stick to the figures and you will get the price. Just form a little trust of your own the principal ingredient of which is backbone.

The intimation of Comer that the press of Alabama has been bought with railroad passes will come up to bother that gentleman before this campaign is over. Let's see: Wasn't Comer once mixed up in a Jim Dandy meal business to his discredit? Get out of your glass domicile, Mr. Comer.

In having fourteen murders in forty days Jefferson county has achieved a notoriety that no other county in the State envies. Men have been shot down in that county, apparently without cause, and a number of the assassins have thus far escaped. And yet the sheriff of Jefferson county gets a salary anywhere from $18,000 to $25,000—for what?

Representative Bennett, of New York, has caught the Crum-packer idea after that gentleman had thrown it aside. Bennett wants to cut down the representation in congress of all the States that have disfranchised the negro. According to his schedule Alabama should have but five instead of nine representatives. Bennett is one of the "new ones" and is seeking a little cheap notoriety.

All praise to that sheriff at Columbia, Tenn., who says not a professional seat warmer in the court room at each term of court shall ever sit on a jury if he can prevent it. There are counties in the world where the professional seat warmer never fails to get a chair among the "chosen twelve" and ten times out of ten you will find the favored one a political henchman of the sheriff. Such jurors don't give a tinker's darn whether the ends of justice are met or not.

Top
Notch,
Scalper,
Vindicator.

WORN FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN

A new stock of the

FAMOUS SELZ SHOES.

has just been received by us.

The Shoe with a world wide reputation.

A Shoe which never fails to make the feet glad.

Guaranteed to be as Represented.

There's no Better. They are Best.

We would
also remind you that
O O O O O O O O O O

Our Grocery Stock

is new and fresh

And contains
nothing but the very
O O O O O O O O O O

Best in That Line.

Farmers

Get Your Seed Oats

At our
Store

THOMPSON & RIDDLE.

The Prettiest, Latest Millinery.

Hats, Turbans,
Collars, Belts, Purses,
Handkerchiefs.
All the Pretty New
Novelties which will
Delight the Ladies.
Come to see me before
Making a purchase.
Will save you money.

MRS. M. WOOLLEY,

Montevallo, Ala.

STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION OF THE

Columbiana Savings Bank,

Located at Columbiana, Ala., at the close of business
Oct. 7, 1905.

RESOURCES		LIABILITIES.
Loans and discounts	$ 44,756 71	Capital stock paid in	$ 20,000 00
Overdrafts	484 65	Undivided profits, less current expenses and taxes paid	2,578 66
Banking house	5,000 00	Individual deposits subject to check	30,531 25
Furniture and fixtures	2,000 00	Savings deposits	918 81
Other real estate	3,000 00	Interest bearing deposits	1,850 00
Due from banks and bankers in this State	12,737 61	Cashier's checks	84 69
Due from banks and bankers in other States	5,033 49	Notes and bills rediscounted	14,236 25
Currency	6,101 09	Checks payable	5,500 00
Gold	2,045 00
Silver, nickels and pennies	1,308 80
Checks and cash items	4,496 38
Total	$ 87,259 60	Total	$ 87,259 66

STATE OF ALABAMA. Before me came W. L. Farley, Cashier of Columbiana Savings Bank of Shelby County of Alabama, who being duly sworn, says that the above and foregoing statement is a true condition of said Bank, as shown by the books on file in said Bank.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1905.
Attest:
W. B. Browne, J. T. Leeper, J. W. Wallace, Notary Public.

Jealousy is like enmity: The less said about it the better.

Almost every woman complains that her husband's family "eat funny."

Our idea of a thoroughly good husband, is one who puts his wife in his air castles.

Even the man who thinks he will go to heaven wants to pick his company.

Even after a man is dead, a bunch of flowers in his hands looks out of place.

"This chimney," every woman says, when she lights the lamp, "needs cleaning."

The Greatest January Silk Sale

EVER HELD IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.

50,000 yards of the finest black and colored silks to be offered at one-half and less than one-half of regular prices. :: :: ::

Sale Starts Tuesday, Jan. 2nd.

The January silk sale has always been a great event in this store—but this year we have planned to make it the greatest and most successful silk sale we have ever conducted. Circumstances lent themselves fortunately to our plans. The manufacturers co-operated as never before—our importations are larger, the goods of better quality and the prices more favorable.

And after months of the most careful preparation we are ready to launch on next Tuesday the biggest event in silk selling which the people of the South have ever known.

Make your plans at once—make up your minds to come early—People from every county in Alabama will be here, and their fares will be paid by the liberal shopping inducement offered during this sale.

Come the first day. If you can't do so be sure and come before the end of the first week.

SPECIAL TABLES AND SPECIAL PRICES:

Table No. 1—30 silks at 10c
Table No. 2—50c silks at 20c
Table No. 3—50c silks at 30c
Table No. 4—75c silks at 40c
Table No. 5—80c silks at 50c

Table No. 6—$1.00 silks at 60c
Table No. 7—$1.25 silks at 70c
Table No. 8—$1.50 silks at 80c
Table No. 9—$1.75 silks at 90c
Table No. 10—$2.00 silks at $1.10

No discounts. No goods returned after once sold. No C. O. D. except on deposit. No goods sent on approval. The reductions in this sale are so thorough and genuine that our friends cannot expect us to extend the privileges allowed on regular goods.

Loveman, Joseph & Loeb.
BIRMINGHAM, ALABAMA

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

By H. E. WHITAKER.

COLUMBIANA, ALA., Dec. 28, 1905

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY

Entered as second class matter, Apr. 13, 1904 at the postoffice at Columbiana, Ala., under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Office over Columbiana Savings Bank.

Telephone No. 17.

For Governor,

Russell M. Cunningham,
of Jefferson.

1906.

Before The Sentinel again greets its large family of readers a new year will have been born, and as we take a look backward over the record of the now almost dead year, possibly we can see opportunities that we should have taken advantage of—opportunities which may never again come to us. Let each of us, then profit by the past and be alive, not only to our own interests, but to the welfare of our town and the community surrounding it.

The new year holds out glowing promise to Columbiana. The hosiery manufactory soon to be established here, the almost certainty of waterworks and electric lights during the year, and a half a dozen other enterprises which have "a hankerin' after" location here—all of which we can secure if we hustle. The hustler will always lead; the laggard is the one who must subsist—if he does at all—upon the crumbs dropped from the efforts of the hustler. But above all things, don't throw cold water—don't be a knocker, let the other fellows do that, and there are always some of this class in every town. If anything is proposed that will aid in upbuilding Columbiana, or any other part of the county, inject a little bit of chloride of hustle into your system, get a good, strong hold on the rope and pull, and pull hard. That is the kind of spirit that makes a town, or builds up a community. If you have any personal grievances, bury them when the welfare of the town and community is on the scales, and when the town begins to widen out, and the community to build up, just "come a walkin' down the line," and ten to one you'll forget all about digging up those old grievances, if you ever had any. Don't take it for granted that what we say about this is true, but make a personal investigation, and in one year you will see Columbiana's population and business doubled.

To those who have been our patrons during the year 1905, we hope to have you on the list for 1906, and with the sincere wish that you will have a most successful year in the coming one, we wish all a Happy New Year.

Two Good Bills.

Representative Bowie has introduced the two following bills in the lower house of Congress, and their merit is shown on their face, and will be a knocker for the "blind tiger."

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

"That hereafter no special tax stamps shall be issued to retail or wholesale dealers in spirituous, vinous, or malt liquors in any county, district, town, or city where the sale of such liquors is prohibited by the laws of the State or municipality in which the said prohibition territory is situated, and it shall be the duty of collectors of internal revenue to refuse to issue such special tax stamps to any person, firm, or corporation within such prohibited territory."

The other bill introduced by Mr. Bowie requires revenue collectors to give evidence in certain cases.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled.

That it shall hereafter be the duty of collectors of internal revenue to furnish to prosecuting attorneys or other proper officers of the State or county or city courts with the names of persons to whom special tax stamps for retail or wholesale dealers in liquor have been issued when such information is called for by said officers in their official capacity, to be used in prosecutions under State or municipal law prohib-

ing the sale of such liquors, and such information shall be given by the said collectors under oath if required by said officers.

Both these bills have been referred to the Committee on Ways and Means, and it is earnestly hoped that both will become a law.

Democratic Committee.

Notice is hereby given that there will be a meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Shelby County, in Columbiana, on Wednesday, January 3, 1906. It is hoped that every Committeeman in the county will be present at this meeting as there are matters of importance to be attended to.

R. E. BOWDON, Chm.

Notice to Subscribers.

There are a number who owe from one to three and four years on their subscription to The Sentinel. We want to start the new year square with all of you, and ask you to pay up. To all who do not pay within the next week we shall send statements of what they owe, and we insist on payment. If you are going to make us a Christmas present, just pay what is due on your subscription if anything, and you will satisfy us and be doing what you should do.

We do not want to give any account to a collector, but we shall do so if satisfactory arrangement is not made with us about payment.

Remarkable Cures.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed. C. Nad, Iowaville, Sedwick Co., Kan., going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me.

I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm sold by William Bros.

Veterans to Be Honored.

Calera, Ala., Dec. 20.

Editor Sentinel, Columbiana. I most respectfully ask you to publish the names of those comrades of Confederate Veterans who have applied through Camp, No. 1481, for Crosses of Honor to be presented on the 19th day of January, 1906, which is Gen. R. E. Lee's birthday anniversary. The ceremony will be performed by a representative of Pelham Chapter, No. 67, U. D. C., Birmingham, Ala. Other speakers will be on hand. The names are:

W. L. Blankenship, Co. C, 30th Ala. Regt. Inf.

Eli Bearfield, Co. C, 30th Ala. Cavalry.

Zac Crowson, Co. I, 63rd Ala. Regt. Inf.

Newt Eddings, Co. B, 2nd Ala. Cavalry.

E. Findley, Co. B, 2nd Ala. Cavalry.

A. J. Gentry, Co. G, 18th Ala. Inf.

W. H. Hand, Co. C, 34th Ala. Inf.

J. G. Harris, Co. C, 10th Ala. Inf.

D. R. Leonard, Co. C, 31st Ala. Inf.

J. W. Ozely, Co. C, 31st Ala. Inf.

Brazeale Pickett, Co. D, 30th Ala. Inf.

A. G. Mills, Co. H, 24th Ala. Inf.

J. W. Sessions, Co. F, 37th Ala. Inf.

W. L. Shaw, Co. G, 14th Ala. Regt. Inf.

C. C. Walker, Co. I, 42nd Ala. Regt. Inf.

T. J. Wells, Co. I, 12th Ala. Regt. Inf.

Very respectfully,
C. C. Oliver, Adj.

Camp No. 1481, U. C. V.

Heart Fluttering.

Undigested food and gas in the stomach, located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart palpitation. When your heart troubles you in that way take Herbine for a few days. You will soon be all right. 50c a bottle.—Sold by William Bros.

Commissioner's Sale.

Under and by virtue of a commission issued to me on the 23rd day of December, 1905, by the Probate Court of Shelby County, I will proceed to sell for cash in front of the Court House in Columbiana, Ala., on Monday, the 22nd day of January, 1906, for distribution among the joint owners thereof, to-wit: Emma Reid, Vela Irene Roper, Eva Lee Roper, William Houston Roper and Little May Roper, the following described real estate to-wit: The east half of the northeast quarter of Sec. 8, T. 30, R. 10, E. 1, East, less ten acres in the northeast corner, being seventy acres, more or less, situated in Shelby County, Ala.

W. E. KIDDER,
Commissioner.

RATES ON COTTON

Present System Gives Farmers Wider Markets in Which to Sell.

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 12.—Some idea of the amount of business furnished to this city by the cotton grower is given by data recently put together. There were brought into this city by railroad last year, from Sept. 1, 1904 to Aug. 31, 1905, 204,357 bales of cotton. There were moved from Montgomery by railroad 187,919 bales. Of these about 65,000 went to the Gulf ports and some 110,000 to the Atlantic ports for export, while about 12,000 went to Southern mills. Only 1900 bales left the city by water. Dependent to such a large extent for this business upon transportation furnished by the railroads, the subject freight-rates naturally is one of much importance to this city and the surrounding farming country that supplies the cotton. Upon the trade furnished by the farmer, Montgomery relies. The farmer is the customer of the merchandise brought here for distribution and in the long run it is the farmer who pays the freight on the raw cotton shipped. It is, therefore, eminently necessary for the prosperity of Montgomery to have rates on raw cotton that will enable the city to compete successfully with other cotton marts.

Mr. J. P. Ferrall, one of the largest cotton buyers in this city, in discussing this subject recently, admitted that rates on raw cotton are fair. The same opinion was expressed by other leading buyers and warehouse-men of this city.

Attention was called to the fact that granting to the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to fix freight rates would in the opinion of the best informed students of the subject, mean the application of rates fixed at so much per mile per weight, whereas at present the railroads fix the rates without regard to distance and thus equalize the advantages of shipping.

In this issue will be found an advertisement of the Mobile Mardi Gras which comes off on February 25, 26 and 27.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1904.

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	lv. Mobile, Ar.	3:55pm	8:10am
1:10am	6:45pm	lv. Selma, Ar.	4:35pm	2:05am
1:30am	10:45pm	ar. Birmingham, Ar.	4:55pm	2:30am
9:40am	ar. Chattanooga, Ar.	5:15pm	2:55pm
11:40am	ar. Knoxville, Ar.	5:35pm	3:20pm
6:00pm	ar. Bristol, Va.	5:55pm	3:45pm
1:50am	ar. Lynchburg, Va.	6:15pm	4:10pm
6:52am	ar. Washington, D. C.	6:35pm	4:35pm
11:45am	ar. New York, N. Y.	6:55pm	5:00pm

No. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Asheville, Birmingham and New York. (See car service cards on route No. 15.)

No. 11	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:30pm	5:55am	lv. New Orleans, Ar.	3:55pm	8:10am
1:40am	6:45pm	lv. Meridian, Ar.	4:35pm	2:05am
3:25pm	9:35am	lv. Memphis, Ar.	4:55pm	2:30am
4:25pm	10:35am	ar. Uniontown, Pa.	5:15pm	2:55pm
5:00pm	11:05am	ar. Marion, Ar.	5:35pm	3:20pm
5:30pm	11:35am	ar. Selma, Ar.	5:55pm	3:45pm
6:00pm	12:05pm	ar. Montgomery, Ar.	6:15pm	4:10pm
6:25pm	12:35pm	ar. Birmingham, Ar.	6:35pm	4:35pm
6:50pm	1:05pm	ar. Chattanooga, Ar.	6:55pm	5:00pm
7:15pm	1:35pm	ar. Knoxville, Ar.	7:15pm	5:25pm
7:40pm	2:05pm	ar. Bristol, Va.	7:35pm	5:50pm
8:10pm	2:35pm	ar. Lynchburg, Va.	7:55pm	6:15pm
8:40pm	3:05pm	ar. Washington, D. C.	8:15pm	6:40pm
9:10pm	3:35pm	ar. New York, N. Y.	8:35pm	7:05pm

No. 22	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:00pm	5:55am	lv. Birmingham, Ar.	3:55pm	8:10am
1:10am	6:45pm	lv. Selma, Ar.	4:35pm	2:05am
1:30am	10:45pm	ar. Birmingham, Ar.	4:55pm	2:30am
9:40am	ar. Chattanooga, Ar.	5:15pm	2:55pm
11:40am	ar. Knoxville, Ar.	5:35pm	3:20pm
6:00pm	ar. Bristol, Va.	5:55pm	3:45pm
1:50am	ar. Lynchburg, Va.	6:15pm	4:10pm
6:52am	ar. Washington, D. C.	6:35pm	4:35pm
11:45am	ar. New York, N. Y.	6:55pm	5:00pm

No. 11	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:30pm	5:55am	lv. New Orleans, Ar.	3:55pm	8:10am
1:40am	6:45pm	lv. Meridian, Ar.	4:35pm	2:05am
3:25pm	9:35am	lv. Memphis, Ar.	4:55pm	2:30am
4:25pm	10:35am	ar. Uniontown, Pa.	5:15pm	2:55pm
5:00pm	11:05am	ar. Marion, Ar.	5:35pm	3:20pm
5:30pm	11:35am	ar. Selma, Ar.	5:55pm	3:45pm
6:00pm	12:05pm	ar. Montgomery, Ar.	6:15pm	4:10pm
6:25pm	12:35pm	ar. Birmingham, Ar.	6:35pm	4:35pm
6:50pm	1:05pm	ar. Chattanooga, Ar.	6:55pm	5:00pm
7:15pm	1:35pm	ar. Knoxville, Ar.	7:15pm	5:25pm
7:40pm	2:05pm	ar. Bristol, Va.	7:35pm	5:50pm
8:10pm	2:35pm	ar. Lynchburg, Va.	7:55pm	6:15pm
8:40pm	3:05pm	ar. Washington, D. C.	8:15pm	6:40pm
9:10pm	3:35pm	ar. New York, N. Y.	8:35pm	7:05pm

No. 22 carries Pullman sleeping cars between Birmingham and New York. (See car service cards on route No. 15.)

No. 11	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:30pm	5:55am	lv. New Orleans, Ar.	3:55pm	8:10am
1:40am	6:45pm	lv. Meridian, Ar.	4:35pm	2:05am
3:25pm	9:35am	lv. Memphis, Ar.	4:55pm	2:30am
4:25pm	10:35am	ar. Uniontown, Pa.	5:15pm	2:55pm
5:00pm	11:05am	ar. Marion, Ar.	5:35pm	3:20pm
5:30pm	11:35am	ar. Selma, Ar.	5:55pm	3:45pm
6:00pm	12:05pm	ar. Montgomery, Ar.	6:15pm	4:10pm
6:25pm	12:35pm	ar. Birmingham, Ar.	6:35pm	4:35pm
6:50pm	1:05pm	ar. Chattanooga, Ar.	6:55pm	5:00pm
7:15pm	1:35pm	ar. Knoxville, Ar.	7:15pm	5:25pm
7:40pm	2:05pm	ar. Bristol, Va.	7:35pm	5:50pm
8:10pm	2:35pm	ar. Lynchburg, Va.	7:55pm	6:15pm
8:40pm	3:05pm	ar. Washington, D. C.	8:15pm	6:40pm
9:10pm	3:35pm	ar. New York, N. Y.	8:35pm	7:05pm

No. 11 carries Pullman sleeping cars between Chattanooga and Louisville. Dining car. (See car service cards on route No. 15.)

No. 4	No. 38	STATIONS.	No. 40	No. 36
7:00pm	5:55am	lv. Birmingham, Ar.	3:55pm	8:10am
1:10am	6:45pm	lv. Selma, Ar.	4:35pm	2:05am
1:30am	10:45pm	ar. Birmingham, Ar.	4:55pm	2:30am
9:40am	ar. Chattanooga, Ar.	5:15pm	2:55pm
11:40am	ar. Knoxville, Ar.	5:35pm	3:20pm
6:00pm	ar. Bristol, Va.	5:55pm	3:45pm
1:50am	ar. Lynchburg, Va.	6:15pm	4:10pm
6:52am	ar. Washington, D. C.	6:35pm	4:35pm
11:45am	ar. New York, N. Y.	6:55pm	5:00pm

No. 36 carries Pullman sleeping cars between Birmingham and New York. (See car service cards on route No. 15.)

No. 38 carries Pullman sleeping cars between Chattanooga and Louisville. Dining car. (See car service cards on route No. 15.)

J. W. Johnston

Has one great hobby, and that is SHOES. A good shoe is desired by everyone, and to get the very best has been Mr. Johnston's aim. The best is the cheapest in the end, and when you come to think of it, they cost but little more, if any, than a poor shoe. Money is none to plentiful and you want all you can get for your dollars.

Johnston Sells Groceries, too.

New Invoice of

Elegant Furniture

Has just been received by us

and we cordially invite your inspection of this stock (new and up to date)

Before You Buy Elsewhere.

Get the worth of your money when you buy Furniture, for it is something you cannot afford to buy at every change of the moon. Our

Stock is New--Prices to Suit.

Consult your own interests, and fit up your home with new, pretty furniture, and make the heart of the good wife glad. We can aid you. In our stock is a very Nice Line of Kitchen Safes.

Come, inspect what we have.

Milner & Christian.

Non-Resident Notice.

State of Alabama, } In Chancery,
Shelby County, } Sixth District North.
Robert Tyson, complainant,
versus
Annie Tyson, defendant.
In this cause it is made to appear to the Register by her affidavit that said Annie Tyson is a non-resident of the State of Alabama, and that she resides at Woodstock, in the State of Georgia, and further, that in the belief of said affiant, the defendant is over the age of twenty-one years.
It is therefore ordered, by the Register, that publication be made in the County of Shelby, once a week for four consecutive weeks, requiring her, the said Annie Tyson, to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by the 7th day of January, A. D. 1906, or in thirty days thereafter, after a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.
Done at the office in Columbiana, Ala., this 7th day of December, A. D. 1905.
J. R. WHITE, Register.

Non-Resident Notice.

Probate Court,
Shelby County.
Estate of C. H. Strain, deceased.
Whereas the administrators of said estate, to-wit, Wm. Strain, Sen., and Maggie Britt, did on December 4, 1905, report that said administrator Wm. Strain did buy at a sale had by them on said day, the real estate belonging to said estate, and that he had paid in full the purchase money so bid by him, to-wit, Twenty-Two Hundred and Thirty Dollars, and asking that titles be made to him, it is ordered that Monday, January 22, 1906, be set as a day to hear said report, and that notice thereof be given the heirs of said C. H. Strain, deceased. And it appearing that Bee Strain is a non-resident, residing at Groveton, Texas, and that John Strain is a non-resident and lives at Graceville, Fla., it is ordered that publication be made in the County of Shelby, Ala., notifying them to appear on said day and contest said report, if they see fit, and that a copy of this publication be mailed to each of them at their respective addresses.
Witness my hand this December 4, 1905.
A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

Letters of Administration.

State of Alabama,
Shelby County.
Estate of William Hall, deceased.
Letters of administration upon the estate of said decedent, having been granted to the undersigned, on the 21st day of November, 1905, by the Honorable A. P. Longshore, Judge of the Probate Court of Shelby County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.
GEORGE E. HALL, Adm.
Administrator's address:
Box 85, New Haven, Conn.

The pleasant weather of last Thursday and Friday brought out the holiday shoppers in great droves, and our merchants did a fine business.

Lester Pianos.

Ivers and Pond Pianos.

Hamner Grocery Company,

(Successors to Roberts & Robertson.)

Will fill your orders for anything in

Staple and Fancy Groceries.

All the Celebrated Brands of

Canned Goods
and Cereals

Always on Hand.

Christmas Goods

On hand in abundance at prices that will startle you. Presents suitable for all ages and classes.

REMEMBER

Your orders will receive prompt attention, will be filled to your satisfaction, and will be appreciated.

PHONE 20.

COLUMBIANA SENTINEL.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.
One copy one year.....$1.00
One copy six months..... 50

Telephone No. 17.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"I know not how true the tale may be,
I tell it as 'twas told to me."

No Paper Next Week.

In order that the employees of The Sentinel may enjoy the holiday time there will be no issue of The Sentinel next week. The office, however, will be open in the afternoon of each day for the transaction of business, and that we may be able to give you that receipt for the subscription you are going to pay.

May all enjoy the holiday festivities to the fullest extent, is the wish of The Sentinel.

Happy New Year to all.

Mr. O. O. Bird visited friends in Montevallo Christmas.

Mr. W. E. Riddle lost a valuable mule last Friday night.

Miss Olive Nelson is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wilkins, in Wilsonville.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Latham visited relatives in Montevallo on Christmas.

Mr. Joe Bird has gone to Columbus, Ga., for a short visit with relatives.

Mrs. Goldberg, of Talladega, is in the city a guest of Mrs. Max Lefkowitz.

W. W. Wallace and Jim Robertson were doing Birmingham several days last week.

Mr. B. C. Bynum made a trip to Montgomery last Saturday, and returned yesterday.

A number of Christmas jugs have arrived, and the jugs are expected to arrive later.

Mrs. H. E. Whitaker goes down to Montevallo today to visit with friends for a few days.

E. B. Teague, of Birmingham, was in the city for a few days' visit last week with friends.

Mr. Jno. S. Pitts and two of his children spent Christmas day in Birmingham with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Bowdon came up from Calera last Sunday for a short visit with Mrs. Jennie L. Wilson.

Christmas was a beautiful day, the sun shining warm and bright, and everybody was in a happy, sunny mood.

D. S. Shaw, living on route 1 of Wilsonville, was a caller at The Sentinel office last Friday and pushed his subscription over into 1906.

Mrs. T. F. Vest and son Bernio, who have been visiting Mrs. H. E. Whitaker for the past week, will return to their home in Woodlawn today.

Saturday was an unusually busy day—Santa Claus was getting ready to depart on a journey from which he will not return for a year.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parker, Miss Janie Wallace and W. W. Wallace spent Christmas with their mother at the old homestead near Klein.

Mr. A. H. Verchot, of Pratt City, was in the city over Christmas visiting at the home of Mr. Jno. H. Robertson. Mr. Verchot will hereafter read The Sentinel.

If the credit system was cut out entirely everything we have to buy would be cheaper, and the workingman would have more cash at the end of the year.

Whenever away from home always have a good word to say for Columbiana. Every resident of the town should be an individual bureau of general information regarding our town.

The family of Mayor Browne enjoyed a Christmas tree at home on Christmas morning, and Mr. Browne says he is glad that holiday comes but once in each year, especially so if his children persist in getting him up long before day as they did this time.

Lon Sterrett, a negro, was shot and instantly killed last Saturday night just a little ways west of the Southern depot, and Will Sterrett and Charlie Harvey, two negroes, are in jail charged with doing the killing. Will Sterrett admits killing the negro but claims it was accidental. As near as can be learned the trio had been drinking and became involved in a scuffle over the possession of a shotgun which they claim was accidentally discharged.

Rip Van Winkle was in town on Tuesday night of last week, and despite the fact that it rained very hard all the evening he was greeted by a large audience. Harry Horn portrayed the character of "Rip" and was a favorite with the audience from his first appearance. Much of special scenery carried by the company was not used for the reason, they said, that the stage was not large enough to carry it, but the play as a whole was very good. The support of Mr. Horn was not what it should be, a part of it being very weak. The illustrated songs were excellent as was also the moving pictures. An excellent feature of the entertainment was the band and orchestra, and the music furnished was worth the price of admission. The next attraction at the Academy is the Butterworth Concert company which comes on the night of January 8th.

A Kindly Act.

On Saturday before Christmas Mrs. B. C. Bynum and Miss Bynum sent $100.00 to the Methodist Orphanage at Summerfield—one dollar each to the seventy-seven little children who are being cared for there, and $23.00 to the matron, Miss Sudie B. Hunt. The act was indeed a kindly one, and no doubt the Christmas time for the little people and the good matron at the orphanage had an added brightness through the remembrance of Mrs. Bynum and Miss Bynum.

Resolutions.

The following resolutions were adopted at the last meeting of the Shelby County Medical Society: Whereas, The Shelby County Medical Society has heard with sorrow of the death of the lamented Dr. Thos. G. Nelson, who was once an honored member of this Society, therefore be it Resolved, That this Society extend to the family and friends of the deceased our sincerest sympathy in their sad bereavement.

J. H. GUNN, Sec.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1st, 1901."

Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25, 50c and $1.00.—Sold by William Bros.

PUBLIC INSTALLATION

Of the Officers of Shelby Lodge, No. 50, K. of P.

The public installation of the officers of Shelby Lodge, No. 50, Knights of Pythias, at the Academy last Friday, was attended by quite a number of our people.

At eight o'clock the curtain was raised showing the retiring officers and the officers elect sitting on the stage. Retiring Chancellor Commander A. P. Longshore announced that the program would open with a prayer by Rev. G. T. Harris, which was followed by a piano solo by Miss Mildred White. Here the representatives of the Grand Lodge made their appearance, being Jno. S. Pitts, Deputy Grand Chancellor; O. O. Bird, Deputy Grand Prelate; and W. F. Davis, Deputy Grand Master at Arms.

The following officers elect were then presented to the Deputy Grand Chancellor, and after having been pledged by the Grand Prelate, were duly installed: S. Dowell, C. C.; C. T. Acker, V. C.; W. W. Wallace, Prelate; H. E. Whitaker, K. of R. S. and M. of F.; J. W. Johnson, M. of E.; E. A. Saxon, M. of A.; A. S. Lyles, M. of W.; W. P. Hamner, I. G.; T. F. Atkinson, O. G.

At the close of the installation ceremonies the presiding officer, Chancellor Commander Dowell, made an address, reciting the purposes of the order of Pythianism what prompted its organization, and the great good it had done for mankind. He told the pretty story of Damon and Pythias—an exemplification of the friendship which is included in the order of Pythianism. It was an excellent effort, and marked attention was given the speaker by the audience and knights. After the benediction by Rev. Mr. Harris, the Knights with a number of friends adjourned to the White House where the hotel was turned over to the visitors by Mr. and Mrs. Millsap, and where the dining room had been prepared for an oyster supper. Shelby Lodge is indebted to Mr. and Mrs. Millsap for their kindness during the evening. All seemed to enjoy themselves until about 11:30 when waiting carriages carried guests of the lodge to their different homes.

The Sentinel is of the opinion that the services of the installation left an impression with the audience that they had never before experienced, and we believe all who were present have a more exalted opinion of the order of Knights of Pythias.

Pythianism is well known for the good it has done and is doing throughout this and other countries. It is indeed young when compared with other secret orders, but in a few years it has grown to be a giant in the good work it is doing for the elevation of mankind. Since that day in 1884, when a handful of men at Washington D.C., and met instituted there Washington Lodge, No. 1, pythianism has been on the top-most wave, and today its Castle Halls, built upon Friendship, Charity and Benevolence, dot every State and Territory in the Union, and even to faraway Hawaii. Its nobility of character and its teachings have made myriads of men better, and has brought happiness to many homes. It could not do otherwise when the hand of the Almighty, its Great Chancellor Commander, is the guiding spirit which controls its every action and prompts it to good deeds.

Shelby Lodge is growing nicely and has upon its roster some of the best men of our town and community.

Mr. A. H. Avery, of Shelby, who was in the city one day last week, informed The Sentinel while here that Shelby was soon to have the long distance telephone by the way of Calera. Now if Columbiana can only secure the connecting link between here and Shelby, we too, can talk to the outside world with some satisfaction. Our present connection with the long distance line is not at all satisfactory, but Mr. White informs us that he and Mr. Davis hope to make different arrangements in the near future whereby we may have excellent service. The fault of the poor service over the long distance does lie at the door of the local company, as it has done all that is possible under existing circumstances to make it better.

Mrs. Jno. S. Pitts and children have gone to Vincent to attend a family reunion of her people, which always occurs on the birthday of her mother, Mrs. McGraw.

We have had a large stock of Holiday Goods, and so far we have had the busiest holiday season this store has ever had. Still we find that our stock is not yet exhausted. Rather than carry these goods over, we have decided to sell every item in this line

Holiday
Goods
At Cost.

at cost, this sale beginning Thursday, Dec. 21. Remember that these are brand new goods, the pick of this year's productions, and well worth the price for which they will be sold. Come to see us. Don't put it off.

The City Drug Store,

LATHAM & BIRD, Proprietors.

Honor Roll.

The following is the honor roll of Harpersville school for month ending Dec. 18th, 1905:

Tenth Grade—J. C. Borum.
Seventh Grade—Hancel Caldwell.

Sixth Grade—Mary Kyle Caldwell, Mary Posey, Willie Caldwell, Frank Myatt, Effie Myatt, Emily Looney.

Fifth Grade—Bennie Weathers, Myrtle Atkinson, Lonnie Lee Hatcher, May Dooby, Nettie Bell Dooby.

Fourth Grade—Beverly Lee, Al. Luta Cater, Carmie Downs, Rose Bud East, Rubbie Hatcher, Leon Kidd, Pearl Russell, Isaac Stone, Jennie Stone.

Third Grade—James Hatcher, Mallory Darby, William Borrough, Fannie Cater.

Second Grade—Effie East, T. J. Floroy, Carter Florey, Mathew Barber.

First Grade—Joe Lee, Jessie Connell, Annie Connell.

C. H. FLOREY,
Principal

In Memory of Corine.

Corine Blackerby departed this life December 1, 1905. She was sick but a short time when the death angel snapped her precious life away. She seemed like a flower that had sprung up in the morning just ready to open into fragrance and beauty, when the noon-day sun shone out and blighted papa's and mama's fondest hopes and expectations. Corine was but six years old, but we know she has gone to Him who said: "suffer little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven." So I say to the parents, weep not for her, for if we do our blessed Master's will while living here, we will meet our loved ones some sweet day.

We had a darling little girl.
We loved her, oh, so well;
But now she's gone to a better land
There with her Jesus to dwell.

We used to be very happy
With our darling little Corine;
But some sweet day we'll see
Happier days than ever we've seen.

When papa came home at night so tired,
Corine was his greatest delight;
And oh, the pain it gives me now
To think never more will I kiss her good night.

Little Corine was always
Full of mirth and fun;
But now she's gone where Jesus is,
And her joy has just begun.

Oh, the bliss to be with her
We really did not know
Until one day Jesus came
And said with her Corine must go.

When mama combed her hair
And looked into her bright eyes,
How little did I think
She'd soon be beyond the skies.

Corine loved her little dolls,
Loved mama and papa, too;
But now she's gone to be with Jesus,
And to him we'll all be true.

Corine often talked of Flora,
And of Uncle Jimmie, too;
Now she's gone to be with Flora,
And some day we'll go there, too.

Corine had her little faults
Like any child you know,
But we miss her, oh, so much
Just because we loved her so.

The little chair is vacant now,
Her place no one can fill;
But when we say our prayers at night
We know it is the Lord's will.

For her we did everything
That human power could do;
And then we had to give her up—
It was so hard for us to do.

So we'll do what good we can
While here we stay below,
And when we come to die
To heaven we will go.

JAS. H. WALTON.

The little people had a time on the merry-go-round on Christmas day.

YOUR WANTS

In the Grocery line it is our pleasure to supply. We are confident of our own ability to do this, and that you will be satisfied with our goods and prices we have no doubt because the first is the best, and the last is the lowest. We can make good.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS

We have a choice line of Candies, Nuts and Fruit, without which the Holiday time of the little folks is completely spoiled. No delay whatever in filling orders; tell us your wants and we'll do the rest and save you money.

We invite your patronage.

ATKINSON, BIRD & CO.

COME TO THE

Merry Mardi Gras

—AT—

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 25, 26, 27, 1906.

Three days of fun, frolic and Amusement. Brilliant Illuminations. Unique Individual Masking. Grand Civic and Military Parades. Startling Mythological Parades.

Order of Myths, Infant Mystics, Knights of Revelry, Merry Evening Maskers, Comic Cowboys, Public Reception and Coronation of Emperor Felix and his Queen, Open Air Concerts by Famous Military Bands, Illuminated Parades. Cheap rates on all Rail and Water Lines.

Died.

On December 13th, 1905, the death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mooney and claimed for its victim their daughter, little Mabel, who was eleven days old. She suffered for many days, but now she has no more pain. We look no more on her delicate face. It was sad that she should depart from us, yet while her death was our loss it was Mabel's gain. The home is sad without her, but she is resting sweetly in that bright abode for the blest. Weep not for her; it is God's way; His will be done.

Little Mabel has gone from earth to heaven. Come to lean on Jesus' breast; We have lost our little Mabel. Yet we know her soul's at rest.

Though we weep for her in silence,
God who doeth all things best
Said unto our little Mabel,
Come to Me and be at rest.

So ye loved ones cease your weeping.
Weep no more, God knows best;
But prepare to meet your Mabel,
And forever be at rest.

Our sympathy is extended the bereaved ones; we know they are sad. A father, mother, two brothers and three sisters mourn for her. Her remains were laid to rest in the Wilsonville cemetery, Rev. Lindsey conducting the funeral service.

Slumber sweetly while above thee
Angel eyes are bending now;
And the stary pinions waving
Lightly fan thy placid brow.
While my lonely watch I keep;
Thou art dreaming, sweetly dreaming,
Sleep on, darling, peacefully sleep.
S. L. and J. R. F.

Wilsonville, Ala.

A letter addressed to Santa Claus was received at the Columbiana postoffice one day last week, and Postmaster Abercrombie was up a stump as to who the Santa Claus of this town is. It is to be hoped who ever receives it that the little tot who is supposed to have written it was not disappointed in receiving something nice for a Christmas present.

G. W. Shaw, of Calvary, was a pleasant caller at this office last Wednesday, and renewed his subscription to The Sentinel for another year.

Sevier Wilson, of Longview, was in the city last Friday.

Alabama News.

Bob Poore, a negro, of Rock Springs, was tried and convicted in the Gadsden city court and given a two year sentence for manslaughter.

There are now about forty vacant schools in Marion county. There is a good demand for teachers and many of the schools are wanting them.

At Wedowee, the county seat of Randolph county, a negro, Ed Castleberry, shot and killed City Marshal, William Satterwhite almost instantly.

Two negroes entered a grocery store near the southern depot at Gadsden and robbed the cash drawer of $76 while the clerk was absent for a few minutes.

The safe of the postoffice at Morris, in the northern part of Jefferson county, was blown open with dynamite. The exact amount of money and other valuables carried away by the robbers is not given.

The annual show of North Alabama Poultry and Pet Stock Association opened at Huntsville Dec. 5. The show was considered the best ever held and contained an unusual variety of fancy domestic fowls.

Five fine mules belonging to Eck Blout were roasted to death in a fire that destroyed a big barn on the Baldridge place in Huntsville. Mr Blout's loss was $1000; insured for $500. The barn was worth $800.

Using an old blanket as a rope Ira Brown, alias William Jones, a 14-year old, negro, made his escape from the Jefferson county jail at an early hour Friday morning. He was convicted of grand larceny in the criminal court several days ago and was to have been sentenced by Judge Weaver tomorrow. A reward has been offered for his recovery.

A slag train on the Frisco railroad went through a forty foot trestle Wednesday morning, about 3 o'clock, between Pratt City and Adamsville, twelve miles west of the city, and two men were killed and two others injured. The men killed were not connected with the railroad, but were stealing a ride en route to Indian Territory. Fourteen cars and a caboose went into the ravine.

A new industry for the manufacture of gas fixtures, tanks, etc., will probably be located in Birmingham within the next month or so. The gentlemen who are interested are Chicagoans and have great faith in the future growth of that city. They have been there several days looking over the field and have secured options on land upon which to establish their plant.

J. F. Maddox, of Collinsville, DeKalb county, is the champion pumpkin raiser in this section. He reports a vine which bore an aggregate weight of 563 pounds. The largest weighed fifty six pounds, two fifty-three pounds and two fifty-four, one forty-five one forty-two, one thirty-seven, one thirty-five, one thirty-three, two twenty-two each, one twenty-eight and one twenty-three.

Coughing Spell Caused Death.

"Harry Duckwell, aged 25 years, choked to death early yesterday morning at his home, in the presence of his wife and child. He contracted a slight cold a few days ago and paid but little attention to it. Yesterday morning he was seized with a fit of coughing which continued for some time. His wife sent for physician but before he could arrive, another coughing spell came on and Duckwell died from suffocation.—St. Louis Globe Democrat, Dec. 1st. 1901."

Ballard's Horehound Syrup would have saved him. 25, 50c and $1.00.—Sold by William Bros.

Elks Will Entertain.

Manila.—Acting Governor General Ide will invite Wm. J. Bryan on the latter's arrival here from China to be the guest of the Order of Elks. Mr. Bryan will be lavishly entertained by the Elks and will deliver a lecture to them on their topic of the "Prince of Peace."

A Few Suggestions.

You may have discovered that you could not set the world on fire; but that is no reason why you should sit by with folded hands and let some outsider come in and feed his furnace with your fuel.

There are no
If's
And's or But's
About it. There is only one way to overcome this mail-order competition and that is to advertise.

An advertisement in your local paper telling the people that you want their business, backed up with facts and figures, will pay you a most handsome profit on the investment.

Tell the people what mail order houses charge for an article and then tell them what you will sell it for. Don't be afraid to quote prices. They are the most convincing talk you can make.

Sentiments may have some weight with some people, but not with the big majority of people. Quality for quality price is what decides.

Take some standard article and make a good price on it; then tell the people about it.

It may cost you a per cent in the way of profit; but you will have made one of the longest strides you ever made in creating the impression and convincing the people that you can, and really do meet catalogue competition. Make it read as though it was an every-day occurrence with you.

The catalogue houses have made their great reputation in taking some standard article like Uneeda Biscuit and cutting the life out of it to create the impression that they sell everything on the same margin, while you know very well the relative of profit on some other items.

They take advantage of humanity's child-like faith coupled with their inability to compare qualities and prey upon it.

Give a man a glass of lemonade; then bindfold and give him a glass of sweetened water, at the same time suggesting to him that it is lemonade and he will think it is.

Give a man a good bargain in something that he is familiar with; gain his confidence, and the rest will be easy selling.

Try it
Not tomorrow.
But now.—Iowa Trade Journal

Cured Paralysis

W. F. Baily, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites and skin eruptions. It does the work.—Sold by Williams Bros.

Railroads Admit Rebate.

Milwaukee, Wis.—The Erie railroad and the Chicago and Erie, in their voluminous answer to the government's complaint in the rebate case filed today, admit an agreement with the Milwaukee Refrigerator Transit company, whereby the latter was to receive the commission of 12½ per cent on the net amount of business given to the railroad for transportation, but denied that the commissions were given in anything but good faith or with any intention to violate the law.

Subscribers List Started.

Atlanta.—The subscription list to Atlanta's industrial exposition, to be held in Atlanta in 1910, was opened today with a subscription by the Atlanta Journal and its employees of $10,000. The city of Atlanta proposes to secure by private subscription $500,000 toward the exposition.

To Fight Whisky Houses.

Jackson, Miss.—(Special).—The attorney for the prohibitionists for the state has served notice of war to the knife on the whisky houses, especially of Kansas City. They were charged with selling whisky like a "blind tiger," and with shipping on bogus orders. There will be a vigorous prosecution of the John Sharp Williams bill to forbid such shipments.

To Have Liquor Fight.

Florence.—There is much talk on the streets of a dispensary for Florence to displace the prohibition which has been in force for the past two years. A number of the merchants favor the measure in order to reduce the privilege tax, which was raised when the revenue from the saloons was cut off. A new City Council has just been installed, and the advocates of the dispensary claim that they will have a majority when the vote is taken. The question will probably come up at the next meeting of the council, which takes place January 2, 1906.

The history of liquor legislation in Lauderdale county dates back for several years, and has been the cause of a number of bitter political fights. A dispensary bill for Lauderdale county was passed by the state legislature and after the system had been inaugurated it was found to be defective and the saloons were again opened. When the next legislature convened in 1903 dispensary candidates were elected by a large majority over their opponents, who favored open saloons, and another dispensary bill was put through, but the City Council took matters into its own hands and on January 1, 1904, a prohibition ordinance was passed which has been in effect ever since. There is little prospect that the City Council will revoke the dispensary ordinance passed by its predecessor, but Florence is on the eve of another bitter liquor fight.

Heart Fluttering.

Undigested food and gas in the stomach, located just below the heart, presses against it and causes heart palpitation. When your heart trouble you in that way take Herbine for a few days. You will soon be all right. 50c a bottle.—Sold by William Bros.

RATES ON COTTON

Present System Gives Farmers Wider Markets in Which to Sell.

Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 12.—Some idea of the amount of business furnished to this city by the cotton grower is given by data recently put together. There were brought into this city by railroad last year, from Sept. 1, 1904 to Aug. 31, 1905, 204,357 bales of cotton. There were moved from Montgomery by railroad 187,919 bales. Of these about 65,000 went to the Gulf ports and some 110,000 to the Atlantic ports for export, while about 12,000 went to Southern mills. Only 1900 bales left the city by water. Dependent to such a large extent for this business upon transportation furnished by the railroads, the subject freight-rates naturally is one of much importance to this city and the surrounding farming country that supplies the cotton. Upon the trade furnished by the farmer, Montgomery relies. The farmer is the customer of the merchandise brought here for distribution and in the long run it is the farmer who pays the freight on the raw cotton shipped. It is, therefore, eminently necessary for the prosperity of Montgomery to have rates on raw cotton that will enable the city to compete successfully with other cotton markets.

Mr. J. P. Ferrall, one of the largest cotton buyers in this city, in discussing this subject recently, admitted that rates on raw cotton are fair. The same opinion was expressed by other leading buyers and warehouse-men of this city.

Attention was called to the fact that granting to the Interstate Commerce Commission the power to fix freight rates would in the opinion of the best informed students of the subject, mean the application of rates fixed at so much per mile per weight, whereas at present the railroads fix the rates without regard to distance and thus equalize the advantages of shipping.

Non-Resident Notice.

Probate Court,
Shelby County.
Estate of C. H. Strain, deceased.
Whereas the administrators of said estate, to-wit: Wm. Strain, Sen., and Maggie Britt, did on December 4, 1905, report that said administrator Wm. Strain did buy at a sale had by the on said day, the real estate belonging to said estate, and that he had paid in full the purchase money so bid by him, to-wit: Twenty-Two Hundred and Thirty Dollars, and asking that titles be made to him. It is ordered that Monday, January 22, 1906, be set as a day to hear said report, and that notice thereof be given the heirs of said C. H. Strain, deceased. And it appearing that Wm. Strain is a non-resident, residing at Groveton, Texas, and that John Strain is a non-resident and lives at Graceville, Fla., it is ordered that publication be made in the Columbian Sentinel, a newspaper published in Shelby County, Ala., notifying them to appear on said day and contest said report. If they do not and that a copy of this publication be mailed to each of them at their respective addresses.
Witness my hand this December 4, 1905.
A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

Letters of Administration.

State of Alabama,
Shelby County.
Estate of William Hall, deceased.
Letters of administration upon the estate of said deceased, having been granted to the undersigned, on the 21st day of November 1905, by the Honorable A. P. Longshore, Judge of the Probate Court of Shelby County, notice is hereby given that all persons having claims against said estate will be required to present the same within the time allowed by law, or that the same will be barred.
GEORGE E. HALL, Adm.
Administrator.
Box 956, New Haven, Conn.

SHIELD BRAND
FITS
WELL
WEARS
WELL
CLOTHING

If You Want a Suit or an Overcoat for yourself or your boy and want the Best for the Least money, you can buy the SHIELD BRAND with confidence, for you will get what you want.

—FOR SALE BY—

AVERYT & AVERYT, Shelby, Ala.,
R. G. WELDON CO., Wilsonville, Ala.

Administrator's Settlement.

State of Alabama, Probate Court,
Shelby County, 5th day of Dec. 1905.
Estate of John W. Nalish, deceased.
THIS day came Wesley Ozley, Administrator of the estate of John W. Nalish, deceased, and filed his account, vouchers, evidences and statement for a final settlement of the same, as an insolvent estate.
It is ordered that the 1st day of January, 1906, be appointed a day for making such settlement at which time all parties in interest can appear and contest the same if they think proper, and that notice of this order be given by publication in the Columbian Sentinel for three successive weeks.
A. P. LONGSHORE,
Judge of Probate.

Remarkable Curer.

"I was much afflicted with sciatica," writes Ed. C. Nud, Iowaville, Sedwick Co., Kan., going about on crutches and suffering a deal of pain. I was induced to try Ballard's Snow Liniment, which relieved me.

I used three 50c bottles. It is the greatest liniment I ever used; have recommended it to a number of persons; all express themselves as being benefited by it. I now walk without crutches, able to perform a great deal of light labor on the farm sold by William Bros.

SOUTHERN RAILWAY.

Condensed Schedule in Effect June 11, 1904.

No. 21	No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	No. 21
7:30pm	2:30am	lv. Mobile, Ala.	8:30pm	8:10am
1:10am	6:45pm	lv. Selma, Ala.	4:30pm	2:05am
5:30pm	10:05am	ar. Birmingham, Ala.	6:30am	9:35am
9:40pm	1:00pm	ar. Chattanooga, Tenn.	10:30am	6:30pm
1:10pm	4:40pm	ar. Knoxville, Tenn.	2:10pm
5:40pm	10:40pm	ar. Bristol, Va.	9:50am
6:30pm	11:40pm	ar. Washington, D. C.	1:15pm
1:50am	12:40pm	ar. New York, N. Y.	3:40pm
6:30am	1:40pm	ar. New York, N. Y.	10:00pm
12:40pm	2:40pm	ar. New York, N. Y.	4:30pm

No. 22 and 21 carry Pullman sleeping cars between Mobile and Atlanta, Birmingham and New York. Cafe car serves meals en route.

No. 18	STATIONS.	No. 17
7.30am	lv. New Orleans, La. ar	9.20pm
9.10am	lv. Akron, Ohio ar	7.30pm
9.40am Greensboro, N.C.	6.44pm
10.37am Marion, N.C.	5.48pm
11.45am	ar. Selma, Ala. lv	4.30pm

No. 16	STATIONS.	No. 15	Time
7:30pm	lv. New Orleans, La.	8:30am	8:41pm
1:40pm	7:30am	lv. Meridian, Miss.	8:05pm
5:20pm	9:20am	lv. Memphis, Tenn.	5:30pm
4:20pm	10:20am	ar. Union, Ala.	5:25pm
5:05pm	11:05am	ar. Marion, Ala.	4:40pm
8:30pm	11:40am	ar. Marion, Ala.	5:40pm
.....	2:10pm	lv. Selma, Ala.	5:40pm
.....	2:50pm	lv. Selma, Ala.	5:40pm
.....	2:50pm	Montevello, Cal.	5:20pm
.....	2:50pm	Calera, Ala.	5:20pm
.....	2:42pm	Columbianna, Ind.	5:30pm
7:45am	7:45am	Calera, Ala.	6:40pm
7:25am	7:25am	Talladega, Ala.	8:40pm
8:25am	4:40pm	Anniston, Ala.	7:50pm
8:25am	4:40pm	Anniston, Ala.	7:50pm
9:08am	5:30pm	Piedmont, Ala.	6:30pm
9:38am	5:50pm	Cave Springs, Ala.	5:50pm
9:38am	5:50pm	Cave Springs, Ala.	5:50pm
7:50pm	6:20pm	ar. Atlanta, Ga.	7:55am

STATIONS.	No. 26	No. 38	No. 36	No. 98
Lv Birmingham	6:10am	5:10pm	12:5 pm
Pell City	7:20am	6:19pm	1:18 pm
Akron	4:08pm	8:20am	7:19pm	1:45am
Adrian	4:45pm	9:07am	7:56pm	2:33am
Edwardsville	5:57pm	9:18am	8:10pm	2:53am
Fruthturst	5:59pm		8:22pm	3:55am
Tallapoosa	5:34am	6:40am	8:41pm	3:16 m
Bremen	6:05 am		9:04pm	3:48 am
Douglasville	7:05am		10:00pm	4:30am
Lithia Springs	7:25am		10:13pm	4:40am
Atlanta	8:20am	11:53am	11:00pm	5:30am

STATIONS.	No. 45	No. 47	No. 47	No. 23
lv. Atlanta	6.10am	4.15pm	11.35pm	6.15pm
Little Springs	6.55am	5.01pm	12.20pm	7.15pm
Douglasville	7.00am	5.05pm	12.25pm	7.30pm
Bremen	7.58a	6.08pm	1.27pm	8.30pm
Talpoosa	8.18	6.22pm	1.47pm	9.10pm
Fruihristur	8.38am	6.26pm	2.06pm	9.27pm
Edw. rsdville	8.50am	6.53. m	2.18pm	9.38m
Hefflin	9.07am	7.00pm	2.26pm	9.50pm
An. lerson	9.42am	7.50pm	3.09pm	10.30pm
Pell City	10.38am	8.52p	4.10pm
Birmingham	11.45am	9.05pm	5.20pm

STATIONS.	No. 30	No. 38
Lv Birmingham.....	5.1 pm	6.10am
Lv Anniston.....	7.00pm	8.10am
Lv Atlanta.....	11.50pm	12.15pm
Ar Macon.....	2.10am	2.30pm
Ar Jersup.....	6.40am
Ar Jacksonville.....	9.35am
Ar Brunswick.....	9.15pm

No. 36 carries Pullman Drawing Room Sleeping car from Atlanta to Birmingham and New York. Dining car serves meals en route. Pullman Library Observation car Atlanta to New York. Dining car serves meals en route. Pullman Library Observation car Atlanta to New York. Dining car serves meals en route.

car Birmingham to Atlanta.
STATIONS.	No. 15
lv. Rome.....	7.10pm
Ar Chattanooga.....	8.55pm
Ar Knoxville.....	4.41am
Ar Hot Springs.....	4.32am
Ar Asheville..... (Cent.Time).....	5.05am
Ar Salisbury..... (East Time).....	11.55am
Ar Greensboro..... (East Time).....	12.51pm
Ar Washington.....	9.50pm
Ar New York.....	5.12am
No. 15 carries Pullman Sleeping car Rome to Chattanooga, Chattanooga to Salisbury and Salisbury to New York without change.

STATIONS.	No. 2	No. 4.
Lv Chattanooga	9:55am	10:40pm
Ar Cincinnati	7 44pm	8:15am
Ar Louisville	8:10pm	8:50am
Ar St. Louis	7 32: m	4 56pm

No. 4 Pullman Sleeping cars Chattanooga to Cincinnati and Louisville. Dining Car.

No. 2 Pullman Sleeping cars Chattanooga to Cincinnati
STATIONS.	No. 40	No. 38	No. 36
Lv Birmingham		6.10am	5.10pm
Lv Atlanta (east. tms)	1.15pm	1.00m	1.00am
Ar Charlotte	1.00pm	8.13pm	9.20am
Ar Danville	2.05pm	12.0pm	1.20pm
Ar Lynchburg	4.15pm	1.55am	3.54pm

Ar Charlottesville.....	9:02am	3:37am	5:40pm
Ar Washington.....	9:04am	6:42am	9:40pm
Ar Baltimore.....	12:05pm	7:52am	11:25pm
Ar Philadelphia.....	2:20pm	10:15am	2:56am
Ar New York.....	4:53pm	12:43pm	5:43am

No. 38 "Washington & Southwestern Limited"
Solid Vestibule train Atlanta to New York, carrying Pullman Sleeping car Birmingham to New York. Dining cars serve meals en route. Pullman Library Observation car Atlanta to New York. Pullman Club car Atlanta to Washington. No. 36 carries Pullman Drawing room Sleeping car Birmingham to Richmond and Atlanta to New York. Dining car Spartanburg to Washington.

*Daily. †Daily Except Sunday.

No. 25 "Washington and Southern Limited" Solid Vestibule train Atlanta to New York, carrying Pullman Sleeping car Birmingham to New York. Dining car serves meals en route. Pullman Library Observation car Atlanta to New York. Dining car serves meals en route. Pullman Library Observation car Atlanta to New York. Dining car serves meals en route.

See This Cut?

Well, it's just the Overall for working men and can only be had at a few places. So can a great many other things of equal values only be found at a few places.

Now at our store many of these, and more can be found.

Denson and Dawson.

Clothiers, Shoers and Feeders of the whole family. Come to see us. Montevallo, Ala.

Opportunities in California

The trade in the Orient is opening up. Our exports to Japan and China multiplied during the last year.

There will soon be a tremendous increase in the trade of the Pacific Coast cities with the Far East.

Big opportunities for the man who lives there. Why not look the field over?

Only $62.50, Chicago to San Francisco or Los Angeles and return, May 1, 2, 3, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 29, 30, 31, June 1, August 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14, 1905. Tickets good for return for 90 days.

Rate for a double berth in a comfortable tourist sleeper from Chicago to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, and many other points in California, only $7. Through train service from Union Passenger Station, Chicago, via the

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul,
Union Pacific and Southern Pacific Line

This is the route of The Overland Limited, leaving Union Passenger Station, Chicago, 6.05 p. m., and The California Express at 10.25 p. m. The California Express carries tourist sleeping cars to California every day. Both trains carry through standard sleepers.

Complete information sent free on receipt of coupon with blank lines filled.

W. S. HOWELL,
Gen'l Eastern Agent, 38 Broadway,
NEW YORK CITY,
or
F. A. MILLER,
General Passenger Agent,
CHICAGO.

Name	Street address
City	State
Probable destination	CALIFORNIA

When you want job work done in a workmanlike manner come to The Sentinel office. Good stock furnished, and satisfaction guaranteed in every particular. Give us a trial order.